

Everybody talks about the weather, and here of late the subject has certainly been something to talk about.

The past several months have been marked by unusual sieges of the elements, and the weather pattern for the High Plains area has been far from normal to say the least. A cold, wet spring, heavy downpours during July, and now one of the worst hail storms in history at the outset of a fall harvest season.

I don't know just what the cause of all these disturbances is, but one thing I have noticed is that we here on the Plains aren't the only ones who have been experiencing unusual outbursts from Mother Nature.

During the past couple of years, I have been what you might call a world traveller, visiting several far-off places as a guest of Uncle Sam. One thing that was prevalent most everywhere was what people termed "weather unlike what we've ever had before."

Some of it was of the turbulent variety and some was a bit milder than what the various regions had been accustomed to.

In Korea, the winter of 58-59 was mild and balmy in comparison to what it had been for as long as anyone could remember. There was only one good snow (that one was in January) and the remainder of the winter months were much like a typical winter in West Texas or Eastern New Mexico—a far cry from the bitter cold and snow that so many of the Korean war veterans tell about.

The weather in Korea was like that up until spring when, wham!—there came one of the worst floods in the nation's history. The Han river overflowed its banks, thousands were left homeless and many people lost their lives.

The weather that year caused many a Korean to mutter, "I've never seen anything like that before."

Then came Japan. I arrived there in the late spring, at the start of what was the "rainy season." But, for some reason, puzzling to the oldtimers, it just didn't rain very much.

Later, though, when the season was long past, the rains came. A person couldn't go anywhere without being caught in a down-pour. Then, a few months after that, came what was called "the worst typhoon in history."

Typhoons were nothing out of the ordinary for the islands of Nippon, but there had never been one like that. More lives were lost and more people were left homeless than during any typhoon the country had ever had.

Those are the only personal experiences I've encountered regarding unusual-type weather, but, according to the newspapers, nature has been unleashing its wrath in almost every corner of the world.

It's a turbulent, uneasy world we live in today, what with one world crisis after another. The Khrushchevs, Castros, and for that matter, we self-centered, indifferent, pleasure-seeking Americans are trying to make this world something it shouldn't be.

As I said before, am not sure I know what the reason for all these turbulent outbursts of the weather is, but it does look like Mother Nature is just joining in with the times.

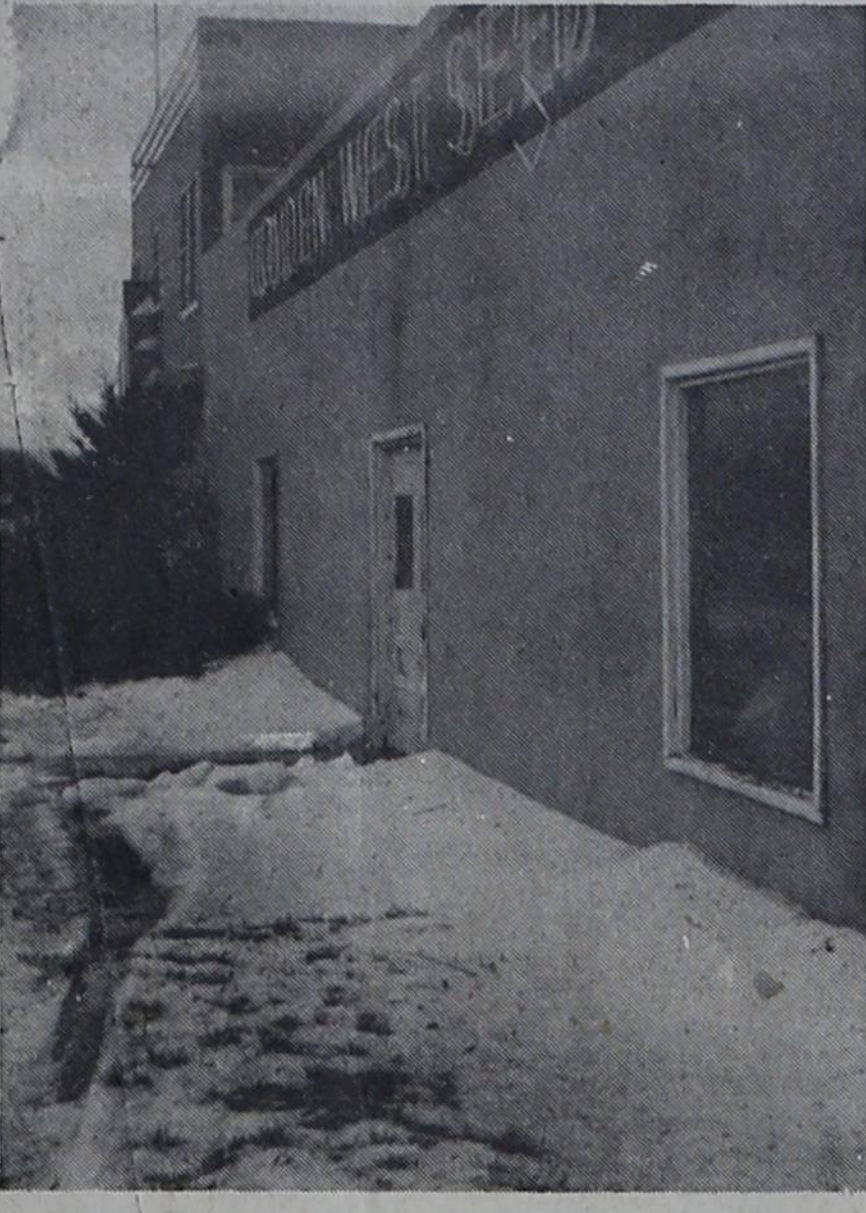

The word is out that Harry Truman is really a Republican in disguise. At least, the former president seems to be drawing more voters into the Republican fold than he is into his own party.

Voting Begins

Absentee voting for the November 8 general election starts today (Thursday) and will continue through Friday, November 4, announces Hugh Moseley, Parmer County clerk.

Persons who will be out of town on that day or for some other reason unable to make it to the polling place that day may now pick up their ballots at the clerk's office in Farwell. They can also be obtained by mail.

Hail -- "Never Saw Anything Like It"

HAIL THAT LOOKED LIKE SNOW was from six to eight inches deep at many places in Texico following the hail storm Saturday morning. Here, the hail stones from a bank next to the Golden West Seed Co. The storm, started about 5:30 stripping leaves off the trees, knocking out windows and damaging several roofs.

A devastating hail storm lashed the Texico-Farwell area early Saturday morning, and when questioned about the storm this week most Twin City citizens said they'd never seen anything like it before.

"We've had lots of rain at this time of year, and plenty of early damaging freezes, but I don't remember ever seeing anything like this," was a typical comment following the deluge of hail that riddled maize and cotton crops and severely damaged several buildings in Texico.

The hail was widespread over eastern Curry County and Parmer County, with crop damage extending from Clovis east to Texico-Farwell, north toward Pleasant Hill and east to the Hub. The heaviest barrage was received in Texico and in an area northwest and northeast of town.

Damage to crops ranged from slight to almost total in places. Farmers won't know just how severe the damage is until they return to the fields and start cutting their maize again. (A more complete report on the farm damage can be found in the Farm and Home section.)

Possibly the brunt of the storm was felt by the residents in the Texico city limits. The storm rode into the area on the heels of a cold front, pounded the community for about 45 minutes, dousing widespread damage to homes and businesses. Following the storm, which started at 5:30, hail was six to eight inches high.

The roof of Stone's Variety Store was a complete loss and water that poured into the west side of the building damaged "several hundred dollars" worth of merchandise, according to Ruby Stone, owner.

Other buildings on Main Street receiving damage were Rip's Western Wear, the Texico Hotel Cafe, the City Hall, and Golden West Seed Co. A big plate glass window on the north side of the hotel cafe was knocked out.

Morgan Billington reported severe damage to his home in the north part of Texico. He estimated that damage to the roof of his home was 75 per cent. Also, two windows were knocked out and the pelleting hail beat off the dash on the north side of the house.

Several other Texico residents reported windows being knocked out and roof damage to their homes. Also, most of the trees in Texico were stripped of their leaves.

Few people in town can recall a storm as severe as this one, but Riley Boss, one of the old-timers of the area, says that there was a bad one about this time of year in 1922. "This one was more widespread, but the one in 1922 was a lot worse," Boss says.

The one in 1922 was confined to a narrow strip west of Texico, Boss recalls, and some of the hail stones were as big as golf balls. All the crops in the area were stripped completely and there were also some hogs killed by the hail stones, according to Boss.

He does say, however, that the storm Saturday morning was the worst one of recent years.

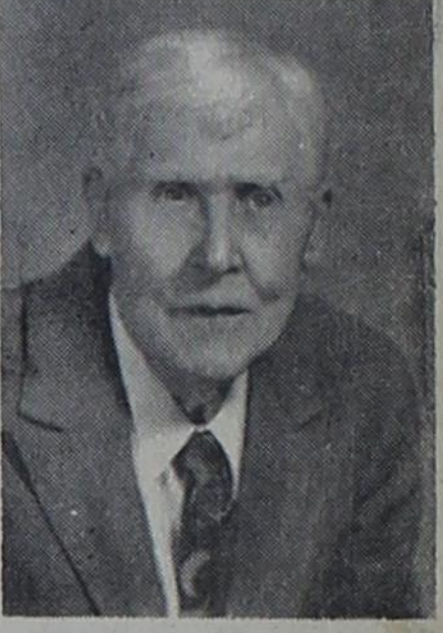

Rain that accompanied the hail and continued to fall here for three days, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, totaled a little over five inches.

Perry M. Owens

P. M. Owens Dies Monday

Perry M. Owens, 91, one of Texico's early settlers, passed away at his home early Monday morning. He had been bedfast for seven years and four months as a result of an accident in which he received a broken hip.

Mr. Owens was born Jan. 8, 1869, in Rusk County, Texas. In 1900 he came through this country with a trail herd going to Portales. He liked the country and in 1905 he and his father came to Texico and homesteaded on the present property, about four miles southwest of Texico.

While living on this farm, which was originally in Roosevelt County, Mr. and Mrs. Owens have lived in two counties, a territory and a state. Their present home, which was built in 1912, is located only fifty yards from the location of their original home.

Mr. Owens married Miss Anna Boss of Texico on Feb. 3, 1907. To this union one child was born, Perry Jr. They took in a niece and reared her from infancy. She is Mrs. Walter C. Baldock Jr. of Clovis.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anna Owens, and son, Perry M. Owens Jr., both of the home; his niece, Mrs. Baldock; and three grandchildren.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m. (cst) at Roberts' Rose Chapel in Clovis with Ebb Randol of the Farwell Church of Christ officiating. Burial was in the Texico Cemetery under the direction of Roberts Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Wesley Enggram, Russell Johnson, Andy House, Olney Baldock, James Gillean and John R. Hadley. Honorary Pallbearers were T. J. Randol, W. C. Baldock Sr., A. W. Skarda, W. J. Matthews, Joe Blair, and Sam Randol.

Wolverines Top Seeded In Tourney

The Texico Wolverines will take a 5-2 won-lost record into the East Plains Athletic Conference football tournament which starts Friday at Clovis.

Coach Paul Frederick's team has the best record in the conference and will be top-seeded. The Wolverines face San Jon in the first round, a team they have beaten once and lost to once.

Texico is the defending champion but will be hard-pressed to regain the title this year. All of the teams are evenly balanced and any one of the top five seeded teams could walk off with the title.

Behind Texico the seeded teams are Logan, Grady, San Jon and House. Both San Jon and Grady have beaten Texico, the only losses suffered by the Wolverines in two seasons.

Things Look Up For Steers, But--

For the first time in six weeks, things are looking up in the Farwell Steer football camp.

Three mainstays in the lineup, who have been out with injuries, are on the mend and one of them will be returning to action Friday night when the Farwell team takes on Hale Center, a possible darkhorse for the conference crown.

Jim Cain, 185-pound tackle, who has been sidelined with a back injury since the Morton game, will be back to bolster the left center of the line. Also, quarterback Benjy Dial and Leon Lovelace began working out this week and will probably see limited action against the Owls. Both have been out with leg injuries.

This will be the nearest the Blue and White team will have been to full strength in four weeks, and it couldn't come at a better time. In spite of poor 1-6 won-lost record, Hale Center will be a formidable foe for the Steers.

Coaches Dempsey Alexander and Dan Truelove were of the opinion this week that the Owls

Phillips First In Contest

Bunk Phillips, who was last year's winner of the two tickets to the cotton bowl, broke into the winner's circle for the first time this year when he picked 9 of 10 games last week to win the top money in the Farwell Businesses football contest.

Phillips was the only person to pick nine winners in what was a fairly easy week for most of the contestants. Twenty-five entries had eight games picked correctly, and it took the tie-breaker score to determine the second and third-place winners.

Maxine Williams was off on the Farwell-Kress score by only two points, so she won second-place money. She picked the score to be 38-6 and the actual count was 36-6. Finishing a close third was Bill Moss, who guessed the score to be 38-7.

Kansas and Oklahoma tied, so everyone missed on that game. Another game that crossed up the majority of the contestants

Brown Bags Bighorn

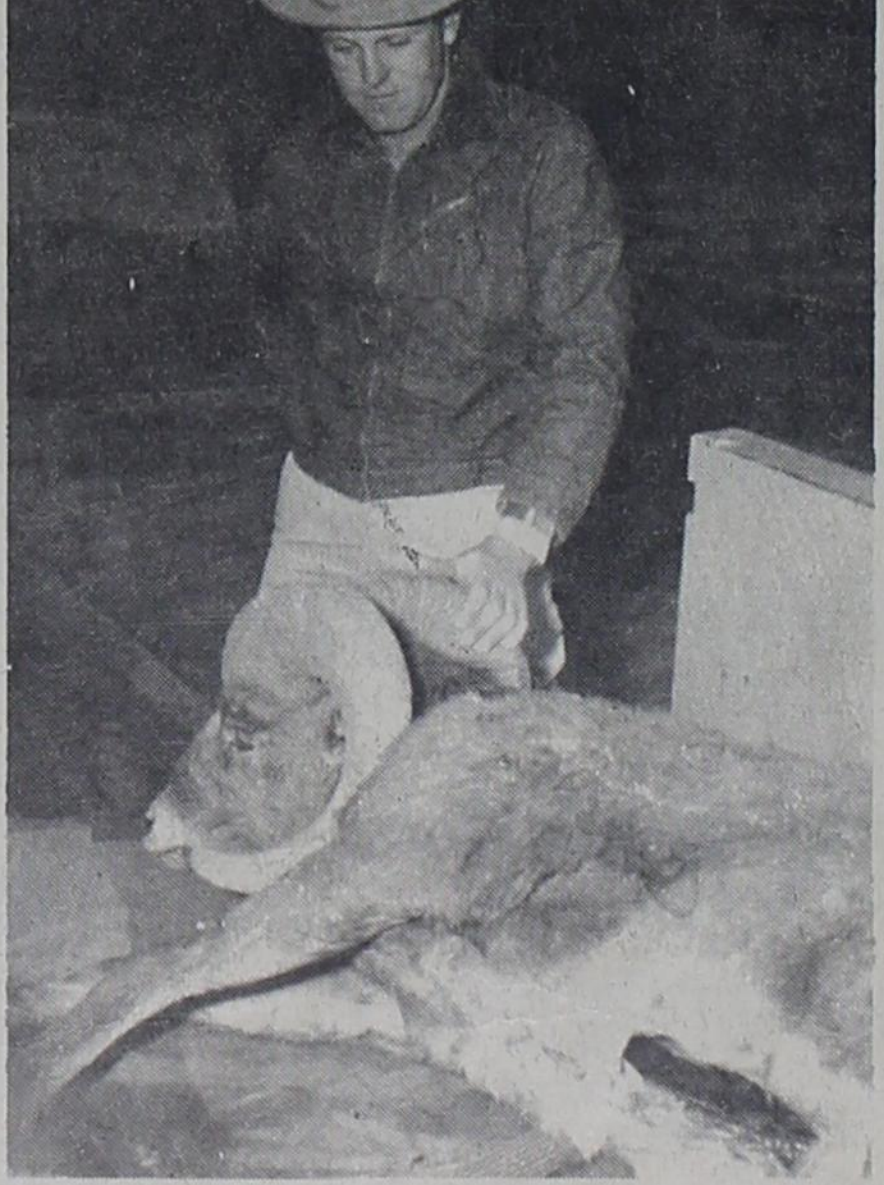

The season was only 45 minutes old Saturday morning when Dee J. Brown bagged one of the first Bighorn sheep to come out of Sandia mountains near Albuquerque.

Brown, who farms south of Texico-Farwell, was one of 20 New Mexico hunters to get a permit to hunt one of these rare animals. He and a Hobbs man were the first ones to get their animals as the season opened during a heavy snowstorm.

The two men came upon a pair of animals simultaneously and both of them got their rams with one shot. The one bagged by Brown weighed 260 pounds, the horns on the animal were 14 inches in diameter and 32 inches in length.

Brown says that the Bighorn sheep were originally a native of the mountain area around Albuquerque, but the animal became extinct in the late 1800s. A breeding program was undertaken to restore the sheep to the area in 1880 and a herd has gradually been built up.

Last year was the first time that the state of New Mexico had an open season on the animals. Twenty permits were issued then, but only two animals were killed during the season which was in December. Brown's was the third one to come out of the area in two years.

HORNS A PLENTY is what this animal has. Bagged by Dee J. Brown in the Sandia Mountains near Albuquerque Saturday morning, this rare specimen is a Bighorn Sheep. Brown killed the animal during a snowstorm 45 minutes after the season opened.

Texico Paper Wins First

A first place trophy and two certificates of excellence were awarded to members of the Texico Journalism Class who went to the annual Journalism-Day at Texas Tech College in Lubbock last Saturday.

The trophy was given on the school newspaper with certificates being awarded on the newspaper and yearbook. The awards were based on work done during the 1959-60 school term. Peggy Teel and Gale Hadley were editors of the paper last year and the yearbook editors were Phyllis Kelley and Gayle Potts Neeley.

Charles A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, gave the keynote address to the 272 students and sponsors from 25 area schools.

Four panel discussions with audience participation filled the afternoon. Subjects discussed in these panels were "Layout, Themes and Covers," "Selling Your Product," "Censorship and Getting Along With Your Audience," and "Getting the Pictures You Need."

Awards were presented at a banquet in the student union building and were given in three divisions and three classes of school papers and three divisions of school yearbooks. Texico's award was given by the Slaton Slatonite.

Students attended the Texas Tech vs Baylor football game as guests of the college.

Those attending from Texico were Leslie Dyer, Bobby Hapke, Kenneth Murdick, Jean Hadley, Carmelita Doshier, Carol Brown, and sponsors, Mrs. Jimmie Allman and Mrs. Johnny Green.

MEMBERS OF THE TEXICO JOURNALISM CLASS who attended J-Day at Texas Tech and their sponsor, Mrs. Jimmie Allman, are shown looking over the trophy and certificates which they were awarded at the meeting. County Drivers Have 10 Mishaps

The Highway Patrol investigated 10 rural accidents in Parmer County during the month of September, according to Sergeant Roger W. Sosebee Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks have accounted for no deaths, three injured, and property damage of $3,915.00.

This brings the total for the year in this county to five persons killed, 33 injured, and a property damage of $69,050.00.

"Darkness hides danger," Sergeant Sosebee said. "That is the reason traffic accidents increase during October's shorter days and longer nights. At sundown, long shadows and fading light makes it increasingly difficult for drivers to spot traffic hazards and stop in time. Make it a habit to turn on your driving lights at the first hint of dusk and always use them properly."

"With winter approaching, it is important that all owners of automobiles have their cars safety inspected at one of the approved inspection stations to determine that all parts are in top condition," the Sergeant continued.

Mrs. Brittain Speaks To Club On Responsibilities To Youth

The Farwell Study Club met in regular session Monday, at 8 p.m. Club president, Mrs. Audrey Terrell, was in charge of the business session. By way of opening the meeting, she asked Mrs. Clytie Dial to lead the group in repeating the club collect. Secretary Genie Murray read the minutes of two previous meetings and later read the roll call to which members answered with a "happy thought for the day" or a favorite anecdote, or verse of scripture.

During the evening, several motions were made and voted on by members attending. It was decided to discontinue plans for the chuck wagon supper which was to have been on Friday, October 21, due to a conflict. There will be no chuck wagon supper this club year, but another plan will be announced later by the chairman of the finance committee.

A call meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m. Monday, October 31, in the home of the president, Audrey Terrell. All members are asked to make note of the date. The attendance of all is requested for important business. The meeting will be dismissed after some 30 or 40 minutes.

The usual husband's night and dinner with games of "forty-two" will be held at the November 21 meeting. The social committee will serve as hostesses at this time.

Gleaners Meet With Mrs. Sprowls

"Crowns of Womanhood" was the title of the devotional brought by Mrs. Joe McWilliams to the Gleaner Sunday School Class at their meeting Oct. 11 with Mrs. Mem Sprowls as hostess.

During the business meeting the group discussed improving the church cabin at the Baptist camp. Secret pal gifts were exchanged.

The hostess served refreshments of German chocolate cake, coffee, pop, and Holloween candy to Mesdames Bruce Blair, Joe McWilliams, U. L. Lesly, Clytie Dial, Jack Gray, Dora Johnson, R. T. Langston, Raymond Martin, Dale McCuan, Em Walker, Joe Reed, and Otis Huggins.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Hattie Boling, club counselor. She reported such news from the current periodical for federated club women as seemed of particular interest locally and then introduced Mrs. Lucille Brittain who spoke on the subject of "Youth." She preferred to use the title "Am I the Right Kind of Mother?" As one who has had wide and varied experience in direct contact with youth at various ages, she proved especially capable in discussing this subject so near to all who had the privilege of hearing her.

Mrs. Brittain urged the members as parents to give their young people responsibilities. Other goals that should be strived for, she said, were that parents help them attain and keep "self-respect, self-restraint, and a well-integrated personality."

Quoting from an editorial, the speaker reminded the group that "We are inclined to be against more things than those that we are for." She also likened people to a river which is broad and deep until it overflows its banks and then it becomes "shallow!"

In closing her remarks, Mrs. Brittain quoted a statesman who said, "Help us to stand for something lest we fall for anything."

When the meeting was adjourned, the hostesses, Mrs. Hattie Coffey and Mrs. Nina Glasscock, served a dessert plate with coffee. They were assisted by Misses Mary Lee and Martha Coffey.

Sunbeam Class Has Work Day

The Sunbeams of the Farwell Baptist Church spent a good part of the afternoon Oct. 17 polishing the silverware for the church.

Preceding this the group had a Bible study and sang songs.

Refreshments were served to Roy Dunn, Stephen Franse, Polly Dollar, Gwen Rundell, Ronnie Langston, Johnny Franse, Terry Craft, Mrs. Ralph Franse, and the teacher, Mrs. R. T. Langston.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK HAMMOND

Miss Carpenter Becomes Bride Of Frank Hammond

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Carpenter of Lazbuddie was scene for the Oct. 16 wedding of Miss Sussie Carpenter, daughter of the H. W. Carpenters, and Frank Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hammond of Farwell.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was officiated by Bro. Ebb Randol of the Farwell Church of Christ. Vows were exchanged at 3 p.m. before an altar decorated with candelabras containing white candles and flanked by arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, roses and baskets of fernery.

Traditional recorded wedding music was played in the background.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Jimmy Briggs of Friona. She was attired in a rose chiffon dress and carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white pique de soie Chantilly lace featuring a fitted bodice, complemented with elbow length sleeves and accented by a bouffant skirt. The scalloped neckline was touched with tiny seed pearls and dipped to a V in the back. Her veil was of imported illusion veiling and flowed from a crown of seeded pearls.

For something new the bride carried a white Bible and on it rested her bouquet of white stephanotis. She carried a handkerchief of her late grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Carpenter Sr., for something old. Her veil was borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Briggs, and completing tradition she wore a blue garter.

Mrs. Neil Ross of Lubbock, sister of the bride, presided over the guest book. Fred Magness, Farwell, served as best man and John Herington, Farwell, cousin of the bridegroom, was candlelighter.

The bride's mother, dressed in a navy ensemble, and the bridegroom's mother, wearing a two-piece brown suit, each had a corsage of roses.

At the ensuing reception in the Carpenter home, the serving table was laid with a white cut work cloth and featured a tiered wedding cake decorated in rose and white and topped by miniature bride and groom figurines. It was served by Mrs. Beth Carter. Miss Katherine Smith presided over the cut-glass punch bowl from which rose colored punch was served.

Members of the house party were Miss Katherine Smith of Lazbuddie, Miss Linda Kay Murphy of Midland, Miss Darlyne Morris of Earth, and Mrs. Beth Carter of Canyon. For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Mrs. Hammond traveled in a gold wool sheath dress with brown accessories.

The bride was a 1958 graduate of Lazbuddie and was attending college at West Texas State at Canyon where she was a sophomore. The bridegroom attended school at Farwell and a mechanics school at Kansas City. He is presently employed at Karl's Auto Clinic in Farwell. After returning from their wedding trip the couple will reside in Farwell. Approximately 52 relatives and close friends were present for the wedding and reception.

COMING OR GOING STOP & EAT

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

We've put the air conditioner in the garage and have turned up the furnace a time or two in early mornings lately. Fall is truly here. "I love this time of year," commented Irene Dyer this week. Autumn does sort of steal the scene in this area.

Of course, things have changed. Other than rummaging through the cedar chest and digging out sweaters, coats, and long-sleeved shirts to replace the short pants, T-shirts and bathing suits, we don't have the mammoth job our grandmothers did in getting ready for winter weather.

We keep the furnace turned to a set temperature, maybe add a blanket to the summer weight bedding and we're ready for winter.

We do get the new undershirts for the boys and heavier socks and winter caps, but most mamas don't put longhandles on the kids and thank goodness, the old brown toneless ribbed baggy stockings that we wore as a child, are no longer in vogue. There are replacements, but the styles now are much more attractive.

Estellene Billington says her sister, Loucile Foster, likes California very much. She is teaching in Barstow. Loucile was a little surprised when she attended a faculty function and dressed for the occasion in cotton dress, hose and heels. Upon her arrival, she found the other teachers attired for the desert climate, wearing thongs and sports clothes, mostly shorts. So far, she says she is teased quite a lot about being from "Texas."

We want to express our appreciation to all you wonderful readers who have been so helpful in assisting our new society editor, Bettie Baldrige. This is Bettie's first attempt at so reporting, and with your help she is doing a fine job. How well we remember a few years back when we were new in town and were trying our hand at that job. You readers were wonderful and we know that Bettie now appreciates your help as much as we did then.

They say that a husband is a fellow who waits until Christmas Eve to do his Christmas shopping, but buys his football tickets in July.

When Ronny saw an extremely tall building in Lubbock last week, he immediately wanted to know if that was the ENTIRE state building. Then we had to give him some details on the Empire State building.

Our five-year-old is a junior sized cowboy who really takes his games seriously. When he plays alone, he usually carries the dialogue for both the good guys and the bad guys. At times, it's terrific.

But we interrupted his game this week to ask him to pick up the pieces of a cookie that Baby John had dropped.

Going about our work, this is what we heard:

"Hey Sheriff, come quick, come quick." (In high voice)

"Just a minute!" (Deeper voice)

"Sheriff, hurry! What are you doing?"

"I'm picking up the cookie that John dropped on the floor."

"Hurry sheriff, some mean men robbed the bank."

"Okay, here I come, thanks for telling me."

Off he galloped after depositing the cookie crumbs in the wastebasket.

An airline was conducting a training flight for new personnel and, during the take-off, the trainee flight engineer noticed suddenly that one of the engines was belching billows of black smoke.

For a moment he was panic stricken, but he quickly recovered. With the wrench that he had in his hand, he reached out and tapped the pilot on the shoulder.

"We're on fire," he said.

The pilot soon had the plane safely back on the ground. The ground crew was explaining to the ground crew how calmly and cool-headedly he had spotted the trouble; how quietly he had called the pilot's attention to it without panic or excitement. As he was talking, he saw the pilot being carried from the plane on a stretcher.

"What's the matter with him?" the trainee engineer asked.

"Broken shoulder," somebody said.

Enraged because her husband had left his money to someone else, the widow went at once to the monument maker to have the inscription on his tombstone changed.

"Sorry," said the man, "but you ordered 'Rest in Peace' and it can't be changed now."

"Well, then," said the widow, "just add underneath 'Till We Meet Again'."

Demonstration Club To Organize

There will be a meeting Oct. 25 at 9:30 (cst) in the home of Mrs. Paul Skaggs, Texico, for the purpose of organizing a home demonstration club. Mrs. Lillie Mae Daughtrey, extension agent from Clovis, will be present to assist.

Anyone who is interested in joining this club is invited to be present.

Local Men Attend School Meetings

Buck Doran, superintendent of Texico School, and John Hadley, president of the local school board, attended a school board clinic at the Sacramento Elementary School in Alamogordo on Monday. This clinic is for the southern half of New Mexico and the one for the northern section was held Tuesday at Santa Fe.

Dr. Dan Davies from Columbia University was the instructor. The morning session was devoted to school board policies. After a briefing on basic information, those present were divided into small groups and given problems for which they were to write school board policies.

School accidents, school contests that originate outside the school, and student marriages were examples of the problems that they worked on.

The afternoon session followed the same procedure as in the morning but was devoted to school board agendas. The workshop lasted from 8 a.m.

to 8 p.m. During the dinner meeting in the evening, Dr. Davies summed up the days work. One of the aims of these meetings is to get every school board in New Mexico to get a good set of school policies. He noted also that there is a sharp distinction between school board policies, administrative rules, and by-laws.

The men left Saturday morning in order to be able to visit with their children, Gale Hadley and Ursel Doran, at New Mexico State and Mr. Doran's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Dunlap at Alamogordo. The Dunlaps have a new daughter, Margaret Elaine, who was only one week old at the time they were there.

The men also visited Mr. and Mrs. Agrie Jones, former Texico residents, and Dr. Leroy Pinnell.

Paul Harrison and Buck Doran attended a district board meeting at Grady on Oct. 10. The Grady club ladies served a chicken dinner at noon after which Fern Stout and Davenport Beasley spoke on "School Board Responsibilities for Curriculum and Instruction." A round table discussion was held on the subject and involved all members present.

Four Men Fined For Drunkeness

The Farmer County Sheriff's Department reports four arrests during the past week. All four of the men were picked up in Bovina and charged with drunkeness.

Arrested Friday morning were Homer Suterland, 42, Tulla, and Clip Mahan, 37, Friona. They were tried by J. R. Thornton in justice of peace court and fined $17.50.

Saturday morning, Sheriff Chas. Lovelace picked up two men, Ralph Cunningham, 48, and George Crook, 53, both from Oklahoma City. They were also tried by Justice Thornton and each fined $23.50.

Phillips First--

was Arkansas' upset of Texas. With only three weeks remaining in the contest, the standings remain the same as they were the previous week. Still on top is Loyd Smith, who has named the winners in 54 of the 70 games. Tied for second, with scores of 53, are Maxine Williams and T. J. Kittrell.

Contestants who have scores of 50 or better are Dempsey Alexander, 51, and Bobby Hart and James Norton, 50.

USDA fire prevention specialists urge families to work out a simple emergency plan that is understood, and even rehearsed periodically, by all members of the family. They also recommend having fire-fighting equipment such as rakes, axes and hoes handy.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kellum, parents of Mrs. F. E. Autrey, have moved from Amarillo to 512 Hutson in Texico.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hester and family moved from Clovis to the Hendrix place in Texico. Dorothy Greer to Ben Smart's rent hose on 7th.

Rites Held For Obenshain Baby

Graveside services for Gary Lee Obenshain, stillborn son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Obenshain of Farwell, were held Wednesday morning at the Bovina Cemetery with Rev. J. R. Woods, pastor of the Oklahoma Methodist Church, conducting the services. Roberts Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. The baby was born Monday at Clovis Memorial Hospital.

Survivors include his parents, one brother, Dwayne of the home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oris Hubbell of Farwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Obenshain of Rogers, Ark.; great-grandparents, C. E. Foster of Clovis, Mrs. Ella Dutton, Rogers, Ark., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hubbell, Helena, Okla.; two great, great, grandmothers, Mrs. Maggie Foster, Farwell, and Mrs. E. M. Reed Sr. of Elk City, Okla.; and several aunts and uncles.

Fire Destroys Crocker Home

The Walter Crocker home at Pleasant Hill was destroyed Sunday morning by fire of undetermined origin. The Crocker family had been living in a Trailer house located about ten feet from the house. They noticed the blaze about 7 a.m. Sunday morning.

Although it was too late to save the house, the Texico fire department was called in an effort to save the trailer house.

Since the family had been living in the trailer house, they saved most of their clothes. The house was completely furnished however and they lost all the furnishings and appliances, including a deep freeze full of meat.

A shower will be held for the Crockers Saturday night at 7 p.m. (mst) at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

Things Look Up--

The coach said there were several occasions when he thought the team looked good in last week's game but he said he wasn't too well pleased with the overall performance.

However, on Tuesday of this week Alexander said that the team looked better in practice than they had in a long time. "They were hitting hard and spirit was high," he said.

Even though Dial will probably see some action Friday, Alexander said that he would start Tommy Williams at the quarterback slot. Williams, who has been filling in for the injured Dial, showed real improvement in last weeks game, the coach pointed out.

Speculating on the game with Hale Center, the coach said it would be "wide open" and he was anticipating a close game. The return of injured personnel could be the key to the game, he said.

Meet The Teachers

MRS. BEATRICE HINDMAN

What do you know about the teachers who have such a large part in molding the lives of your children? Little Johnny or Susie usually do not come up with much information, so this week The Tribune is starting a series on the new teachers at the Farwell and Texico Schools.

The newest addition to the Farwell staff is Mrs. Beatrice Hindman. October 7 was her first day to be at the school. She has twelve years of teaching experience, ten of which were in Texas, one at Dora, N. M., and last year she taught at Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Hindman has her BS degree from the University of Oklahoma and in 1958 received her MA from ENMU.

Her husband, George, is a professor at ENMU where he teaches accounting. They have one daughter, Elizabeth, who is a senior at Portales where they reside.

Mrs. Hindman has taught home economics but most of her teaching experience has been with the second grade, which she is currently teaching at Farwell. She says that her favorite grade is the second.

MRS. RUBY ISAACS

Her hobbies are sewing and reading.

This is the 33rd year for Mrs. Ruby Isaacs to teach. The majority of those years were spent at Hobbs, but she has also taught at Eunice N. M. She started her teaching career at Eunice and taught there for five years before going to Hobbs. Last year she returned there and taught a class for special children.

Mrs. Isaacs, a widow, lives at Portales. She has one son, Franklin, who is a teacher at Lovington.

She received her Bachelor of Arts at ENMU.

Mrs. Isaacs states that her four grandchildren are her hobby.

This is Mrs. Isaacs fifth week to be teaching at Farwell. She has a first grade class. She states, "I am glad to be back teaching the first grade again and am enjoying it more than I ever dreamed I would again." As this is her first teaching experience in Texas she says it is quite different but she enjoys it.

Steers Bound Back, Whack Kress, 36-6

Displaying some of their early-season offensive form, the Farwell Steers bounded back last Friday night, beating the Kress Kangaroos, 36-6, in a District 3-A conference opener for both clubs.

A pair of hard-running backs, fullback Jerry Lovelace and halfback Carroll Huggins, led the Farwell scoring parade after the visiting Kangaroos had taken a 6-0 lead in the first quarter.

The Steers got off to a shaky start, fumbling after they had taken the opening kickoff and moved to the Kress 34. The Kangaroos wasted little time in putting together a scoring drive utilizing two long pass plays and several short gains on the ground to score midway through the first quarter.

They held the lead until early in the second quarter when the Farwell's sputtering offense came to life. Lovelace shot off tackle and went 67 yards to score. Quarterback Tommy Williams plunged over for extra points to put the Farwell team outfront 8-6.

Moments later the Steers mustered their only sustained drive of the night, taking the ball on their own 46 and moving for their second touchdown in 10 plays. Lovelace capped the drive by plunging over from the four and Huggins went around end for the extra points.

In what was the finest run of the night, Huggins got into the scoring picture early in the second half by intercepting a Kress pass on the 10 and returning it 90 yards for the third Farwell touchdown.

Huggins eluded several tacklers near the point of interception and then followed a wall of Steer blockers down the right-hand side of the field for the score. Halfback William Dannheim carried the ball for the two extra points and the Steers had a safe lead, 24-6.

Final two touchdowns for the Steers came in the last quarter. Williams, on a keeper, was off and running around left end when he lateraled to Huggins who scampered the remainder of the distance to paydirt.

Lovelace added the final touchdown late in the period when he shot over left tackle, broke to the right and then outran the entire Kress secondary to the end zone.

It was the first district win for the Steers, who along with Sudan, took the lead for the crown with 1-0 records.

While not an impressive win, the Steers did show some of the prowess that gave them five straight wins, prior to the losses against Sundown and Plains. A couple of bright spots in the Steer attack were the performances of Tommy Williams, who was filling in for the injured Benjy Dial, and freshman Danny Lindop, who made a good showing both on offense and defense.

The Kangaroos had little trouble penetrating the Farwell defense, and statistically, the game was much closer than the

TURBULENT WEATHER INFLECTS HEAVY DAMAGE

STRIPPED BY HAIL was this cotton patch between Farwell and Bovina, an area which received the brunt of a devastating hail storm early Saturday morning. Luckily, this field was an exception in the county but there was wide-spread damage to both cotton and maize fields.

A week of turbulent weather, marked by devastating hail, winds and heavy rains has inflicted extensive damage to grain sorghum and cotton crops through much of Farmer County and eastern Curry County.

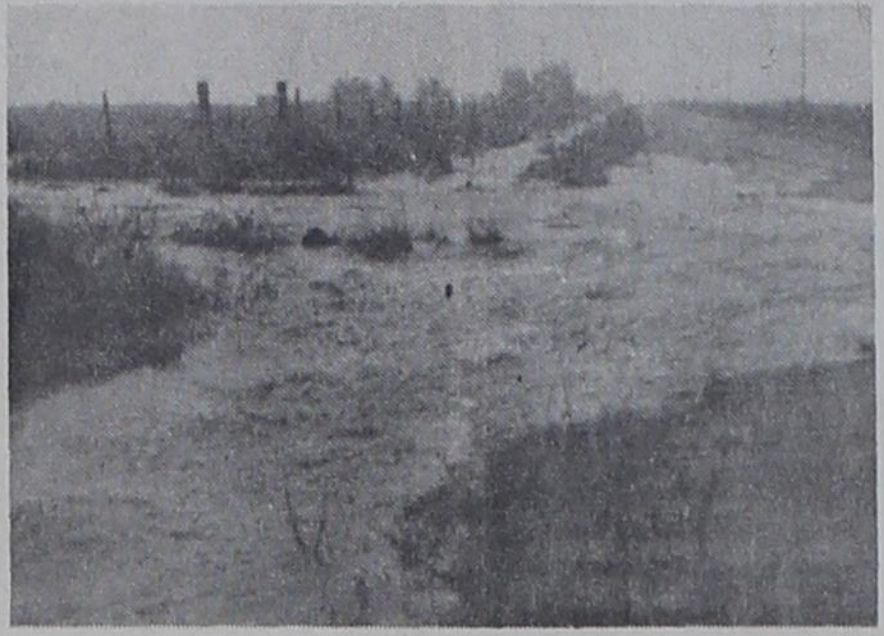

The heaviest damage came early Saturday morning during a violent hail and electrical storm that riddled crops over a wide area, from Texico-Farwell north to Pleasant Hill and east to the Hub community.

Hail was spotted but also widespread in this region, with crop damage ranging from slight to total. Some of the heaviest losses were reported north of Texico-Farwell, near Bovina, and at the Hub. At places, hail stones were from six to eight inches deep following the storm.

Farmer County Agent Joe Jones estimated Monday that "several thousand" acres received hail damage in the county. Since the amounts of hail did vary throughout the area, it is impossible to estimate just how much of a financial loss the storm would mean to the county.

The storm was a severe blow to the farmers, who were just getting started harvesting bumper crops. Only a small percentage of the maize crop in the county had been cut when the hail came. Combines had just started cutting several fields, which were yielding upwards to 7,000 and 8,000 pounds.

The extent of the damage cannot be determined until farmers can get back into the fields and start cutting again. Through Monday of this week, rain received since Saturday morning ranged from three inches to better than five, thus making this year reminiscent of 1957 when continued rains forced farmers off the combines and much of the grain could not be harvested until long after

WATER RUSHING DOWN THE BAR-DITCH and flooding both dirt and paved Farm-to-Market roads was a common sight Monday as rains continued for the third straight day. The rains have been general and have measured better than five inches in many places.

STANDING IN A FLOODED FIELD and checking hail damage to his maize crop is Truman Kittrell, who farms near Texico-Farwell. Kittrell started cutting this field Friday afternoon and it was averaging better than 5,000 pounds. The hail came early Saturday and inflicted damage, which Kittrell estimates at 50 per cent. Other fields in this area, north of the Twin Cities, were damaged as much as 80 and 90 per cent.

by the condition of the seed cotton when it reaches the gin. For this reason, cotton should be produced, harvested and handled so that it reaches the gin as dry, loose and clean as possible, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton work specialist.

Picking early in the morning or late in the afternoon when cotton is very moist should be avoided. Loss of color associated with delay in ginning of high-moisture seed cotton accounts for a large part of grade difference between cotton harvested during high-moisture periods and dry periods. To get the best possible prices for cotton, the farmer should harvest it dry and keep it dry, the specialist points out.

Small capacity transport vehicles have no place in the cotton field, Elliott continues. Four-wheel, large-capacity, wood-slatted or wire-sided trailers are recommended.

Another quality reducer, which is closely associated with small transports, is tramping the seed cotton in the trailer. Even the most elaborate and expensive ginning systems cannot remove all of the small "pin and pepper" trash that is ground into the cotton by tramping.

Seed cotton should be harvested as clean as possible to permit the use of less gin machinery in obtaining a good grade. Pickers should be cautioned not to allow green leaves, excessive trash, dirt, colored rags, grass and other foreign objects to be mixed in seed cotton.

"Remember," Elliott concludes, "You can help maintain quality in cotton by harvesting seed cotton when it is dry and by keeping it loose and clean."

at 8 p. m. "All farmers who might be interested in acquiring sugar beet acreage are urged to be present at the meeting," says Prentice Mills, manager of the Farmer County ASC office.

Representatives from Hereford, who have been working on the acquisition of additional sugar beet acreage for this area, will be on hand at the meeting. The possibility of sugar beets becoming another major crop for this area was first brought up when the United States started having difficulties with Cuba, this country's major supplier of sugar. President Eisenhower cut Cuba's sugar quota by 25 per cent, and since that time, there has been much interest in raising the sugar beet allotment.

which agriculturalists believe can produce a high quality beet. At Thursday's meeting, farmers will be brought up to date on the subject and the discussion will be centered around what steps can now be taken to bring about an increased sugar beet allotment.

Is Vegetable Growing A Gamble?

The cost of living index in Bolivia jumped 15 fold between 1945 and 1955; in Paraguay, over the same period, the increase was 30 fold.

When the statement "Growing Vegetables is a gamble," is made could this be a case of the culprit blaming the victim? Is the business itself a gamble, or are the farmers actually the gamblers? Clyde Singletary, extension horticulturist, says that the only way to learn the answers to these questions is to take a close look at the vegetable business. With few exceptions, most vegetables are staple food items of most American families. Per capita consumption of most vegetables is increasing each year along with rapid growth in our population. Vegetable surpluses are temporary—in many cases lasting only a few days or weeks. These surplus problems can, however, be damaging to growers. The vegetable industry, particularly as it relates to consumption, appears quite stable, continues Singletary. Week-to-week price fluctuations occur, but averages over a period of years are fairly stable. If consumption is always positive, why should there be this attitude that growing vegetables is such a gamble? Could it be that some farmers are blaming the industry when they should be blaming faulty production practices? Singletary says that yield per acre, quality yield, speculative growing, concern for product after harvesting and knowledge of competition are the main factors in determining profit or loss. Careful analysis of the vegetable situation in Texas reveals that low yields per acre is the most important factor affecting income of growers. Consumers are quality conscious, thus quality is one of the most important tools of bargaining. Speculative growing is another income reducer. Planting without planning can lead to disaster. Another common fault of some vegetable producers is the apparent desire to drop all responsibility for their products as soon as they leave the field. Growers need to be as concerned about the product from the field to the consumer as from seed to harvest, says the specialist. Singletary concludes by saying that producers need to know their markets. That is, they must know how much of what will be needed at a certain place at a certain time.

Will you harvest crops or accidents this year? Machine harvesting can be extremely dangerous if it is done in a hurry, or if the equipment is not in the best possible condition. Be sure the seats, controls and steps are in good repair. Keep the shields and safety guards in place. Wear the right clothes for the job. Also, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council points out, children are definitely out place around harvesting machinery. Prevent accidents and reap the rewards of safer farming. It's a paying proposition, says the Council.
