MUCH PLEASURE -- was expressed by Randy Walker early this week when notified that he was first place weekly award winner in the football contest. Randy again expressed his pleasure when he was presented with a check for $5.00 for his award by Benny Haney, manager at Capitol Food. In offering congratulations, Haney reminded Randy to tell his mother to always come to Capitol Food for the best in fresh vegetables and fruits as well as top buys in other grocery items.

One Week Left In Contest --

Mahaney Three Games Ahead

William Dannheim, Sr. gained one game on C. L. Mahaney in the merchants' football contest last week, but is still lagging three games behind the contest leader with only one week left in the contest. Mahaney has a total of 75 games for the past 11 weeks and Dannheim has 72 games called right. Buck Gregory is in third place with 70 games right.

At end of this week, the contest will draw to a close and excitement is high among the leaders of the contest who are vying for a grand prize of two tickets to the Cotton Bowl and $50 expense money.

Randy Walker, who called seven games right and missed the tiebreaker score by 15 points, is first place weekly award winner in the contest. Second place winner for the 11th week is Butch Everett (seven games right and off 20 points on tiebreaker score), Warlick Dollar is third place weekly award winner, also calling seven games right and missing on the tiebreaker score by 21 points.

'Tis A Small World

"'Tis a small world after all," witnessed Mrs. Pat Worley in a letter to her mother, Mrs. H. R. Crook, this week. It seems that Mrs. Worley, the former Gari Lynn Crook, recently picked up a paper in her home (Charleston, W. Va.) and while idly scanning the pages noticed a familiar name in the news.

The name was none other than that of her former classmate at Farwell High School, Benjy Dial. Dial was in Charleston with the Philadelphia Eagles pro football team to complete the current season as quarterback. Following completion of the final game, Dial will return to Philadelphia to resume workouts with the Eagles with whom he has been playing this season.

Mrs. Worley and Dial began school in Farwell and were graduated from the school in the same class in 1961. Shortly after graduation, Gari Lynn was married to Pat Worley and since that time has made her home in Charleston.

Take Holiday

Students in both local schools are taking a brief holiday this weekend but will return to classes as usual on Monday morning.

Students in Texico were dismissed at 2 p.m. on Wednesday and Farwell students were dismissed at 3 p.m. on the same day. Following the Thanksgiving holiday, Texico students will begin their third six weeks grade period. Students in the Farwell school are mid-way in their second grade period.

Exes Reunion Saturday

All ex-students of the Farwell, Oklahoma Lane and West Camp schools are asked to remember that Saturday, Nov. 25 is time for the bi-annual reunion of exes.

The reunion this year, an informal affair, will be held in the Farwell school cafeteria beginning at 7:30 p.m. this Saturday. Charlie Phillips, Amarillo disc-jockey and a 1952 graduate of Farwell school, will furnish entertainment for the function. Other persons participating on the program will be exes of the three schools, according to Maxine Williams, secretary of the Exes Association.

No local invitations were sent; however, all local exes are asked to be present and also to spread the word to any out-of-town exes whose addresses might not have been available.

Classes ending in "7" will be honored guests at the social hour. Consider this your invitation and plan now to be present.

Write Santa Letters

A message arrived at the office of the State Line Tribune early this week from Santa Claus at the North Pole stating that as always he wants all of the boys and girls to send letters telling him of their Christmas wishes to the Tribune, Box 255, Farwell.

The letters will be published in the Tribune (Christmas issue) and then sent to Santa at the North Pole in plenty of time for him to supply all Christmas wishes of area small fry. The letters should be mailed as soon as possible in order that they have time to reach Santa early.

Oh yes, Santa said, "Rudolph and all of the other reindeer are in fine shape for the Christmas Eve visit to children the world over."

Remember now, get in those Christmas letters to the Tribune office soon!

Clayton Backs Standard Time

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake has revealed he is asking Governor John Connally, in a letter this week, to include a bill to exempt Texas from Daylight Saving Time in the upcoming special session of the Legislature.

Clayton stated that people of Texas, after having tried Daylight Saving Time for one year, disapprove of the advanced time.

A poll taken shows a general disapproval all across the state. In addition, several polls taken in this area of Texas indicates a great majority of the people here do not like Daylight Saving Time, Clayton points out.

He said that he feels Texans have given Daylight Saving Time a fair trial, but after receiving an expression from the people in his legislative district by polls, along with personal contact, that he would support any action to exempt Texas from the time change in the future.

According to W.M. Roberts, school superintendent, and Mathis, Edwards has held many welding short courses in various parts of the state which have met with much success.

Town Buys Fire Fighting Equipment

At the meeting of the Texico town council last week, a bid was accepted from Artesia Fire Equipment Co. on 2,000 feet of fire hose and eight air packs for the Texico Fire Department.

Bill Christian, chairman of the Texico Chamber of Commerce, met with the Council to request that the town council assist with purchase of street signs for the town. Residents had contributed toward the purchase also. The request was granted. Signs are to be installed at the corner of each street in the town.

Morgan Billington, water superintendent, was granted permission to have the water tower inspected (no cost to town) and also to do repair at the water pumphouse.

A building permit was granted to A. A. Gonzales for addition of two rooms to his home at 604 South Florence. All bills for the month were approved for payment.

Yule Card Deadline Set Dec. 8

Deadline for turning in your names for the "giant" greeting card to be carried in the Christmas issue of the Tribune is Dec. 8, according to Mrs. Neil Stewart, chairman of the fund drive.

Patrons of Farwell school are asked to contribute the amount they would ordinarily spend in sending greeting cards to local friends to the library fund for the school. Names of all contributors will appear on a large "greeting" card in the Christmas paper.

You may stop by Security State Bank and leave your contribution with Mrs. Marilyn Edwards or City Cleaners and leave your contribution with Mrs. Stewart. Workers are making a canvass of the town and school district soliciting funds for the library fund.

A Thought For Thanksgiving

Before you get caught up in the hustle and bustle of Christmas, please take a few minutes to contemplate the current holiday -- Thanksgiving. I suspect that many of us look forward to Thanksgiving with only the mouthwatering turkey, dressing, and cranberries in mind, forgetting those early principles which started the whole thing.

It may be true that the Pilgrims were not quite the idealistic, sin free people that we like to think as having founded this great nation, but it is true that out of their early struggles and hardship, America grew. That's the important thing to remember. Many of us sometimes wonder what is left to give thanks for. Our cities are in turmoil, American soldiers are dying in a foreign land, the dark cloud of nuclear destruction hangs constantly overhead, and worst of all, the cost of living continues to rise. Why we ask, why should we be thankful for the misery and violence that runs rampant in the country today? I will tell you. Most of the misery and violence in the nation today is the result of the principles that America was founded upon! Before I am tarred and feathered, let me explain.

One of the principles, basis to the conception of a democracy, is that a man is entitled to what he earns and nothing more. For many of us, this is a fair proposition, but there are some who are content to live as parasites, as leeches on the working majority. Most of the violence in the streets can be directly traced to this group. Much of this could be eliminated by adherence to another well-known doctrine, "To each according to his need." Are you willing to trade opportunity for peace in the streets? I'm not. Let us be thankful then for our system of government, realizing that while street violence may be a by-product, opportunity for those who are willing to work is still the chief commodity produced.

Now you may ask, "Why should we be thankful for war?" We should not of course be thankful for war as such, but we should be thankful that the determination to keep America free still exists. War is a symbol of this determination. We could of course end war, by the simple expedient of capitulating to the enemy, but what kind of peace would this be? Are you willing to accept this "peace"? I am thankful that the majority of people in America are not.

What about the nuclear bomb? Should we be thankful that man has at last invented a means of self-extermination? Before you pass judgment on this, consider for a moment an alternative view. The hydrogen bomb is the only thing that stands between us and a mass of would be conquerors many, many times our number. It is our equalizer. Without it, we could not hope to hold off the infinitely large forces of Asia. Let us be thankful that such a powerful means of defense has been placed in our possession.

As for the cost of living, I repeat a current adage - "The cost of living has not affected its popularity much." Nuff said? All things considered, we are still the most fortunate group of people on earth. For the most part, our stomachs are full, our living facilities are certainly adequate, our closets overflow, and most important, we are free. Let us remember, as we sit down to stuff ourselves this Thanksgiving, that the same cannot be said of much of the world.

No Injuries Result From Accident

Three vehicles were involved in a minor accident at the intersection of Highway 70-84 and Ninth Street in Farwell Tuesday morning. Damage was minor and no one was injured. The accident allegedly occurred when a car driven by Mrs. Emma Stewart heading south started across the highway and was hit broadside by a pickup truck driven by Dave Taylor of Clovis. THE SEASON FOR... COLDS AND FEVER. THE COMMON COLD... one of the few viruses that man has not conquered with a cure. The only thing that we have come up with so far, are medicines to give us relief. Perhaps, some day, someone will come up with the solution. There are many spiritual things that we do not know the answers to. These things we must accept on faith. "The secret things belong unto the Lord our God; but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children forever, that we may do all the words of this law." Deuteronomy 29:29 God has revealed himself, his son, and his commandments, these are the major things. Attend church Sunday, learn more of God's will for your life.

Parmer County Uses Great Plains Conservation Program

By Jerry Isbell
Conservation Service
Frona, Texas

If you are a farmer or rancher, you know that your farm or ranch is different from anyone else's. You run your farm or ranch different from anyone else because your land and its problems are different from others.

In one way, however, you are probably like all other farmers and ranchers - you continually make plans about how to run your operation. You are continually seeking new and better ways to solve your farming and ranching problems. Many landowners have been finding help in solving their problems through the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Great Plains Conservation Program was designed by congress in 1956 to provide a means of minimizing hazards of farming and ranching brought on by erratic climate. It is a special program for an urgent need for a specific region. When a farmer or rancher is interested in going into the Great Plains Conservation Program, he develops a complete long range plan for making needed changes in his land use or his cropping system needed to conserve the soil and water resources. He enters into an agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out the plan according to a schedule that is acceptable to the producer - but within 10 years.

Improved pastures such as this one are being established in Parmer County with assistance from the Great Plains Conservation Program.

All cost sharing for the entire job - ranging from 50 to 80 per cent of the cost - is earmarked when the agreement is signed. Cost sharing is paid as the producer completes each step of his plan.

Several farmers and ranchers in the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District are carrying out their plans with assistance from The Great Plains Conservation Program. On farms, landowners are planting irrigated pastures, installing concrete irrigation pipelines, leveling land, and constructing waterways for protection from flood water. One of the most recent Great Plains Plans developed is on W. M. Pool farm located nine miles East of Farwell. Pool plans to install underground irrigation pipeline and construct about 8,000 feet of parallel terraces to conserve water and reduce erosion.

For further information regarding The Great Plains Program, contact The Soil Conservation Service or one of the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors.

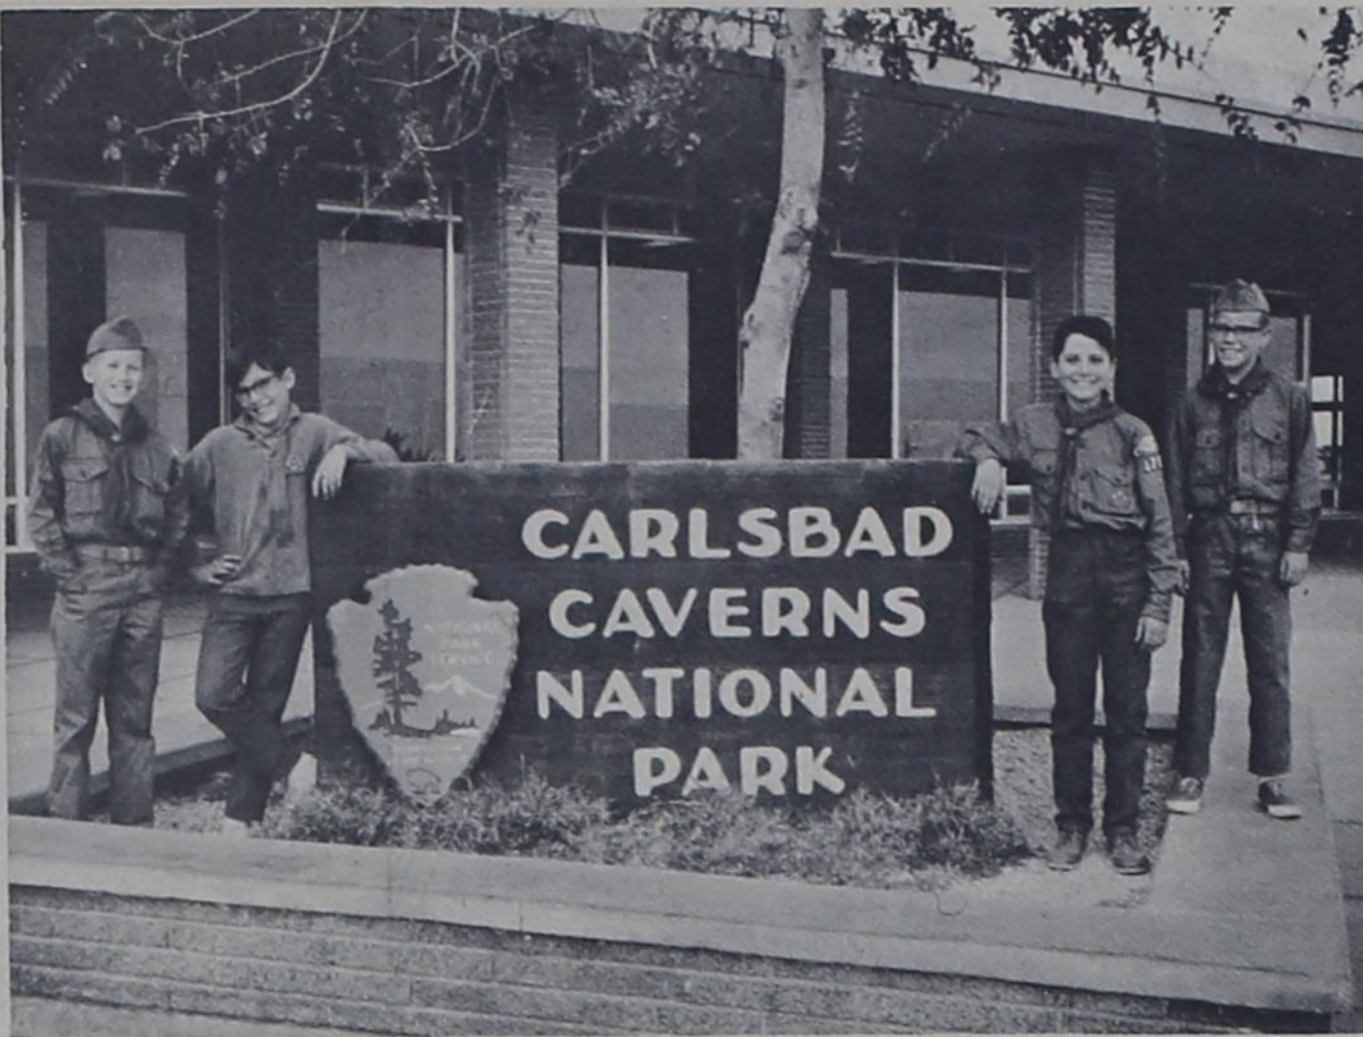

Wolves Lose Two Games

Texico Wolverines played a fine game against Dora on Friday night even though they lost the game 74-56, stated Coach Charles Coburn. On Saturday night they were thrashed by a Logan quintet 65-48.

In the Friday night game, rebounding was evenly scattered among team members and three players hit in the double figures. Manuel Martinez had 25 points to lead scoring; Lynn Hughes had 10 points, and Doug Autrey had 15 points.

In the Logan game, Hughes had 10 points and Autrey had 11.

The Wolves will meet Grady at Grady, on Dec. 1 in the first game following the Thanksgiving holiday. On Dec. 2 they will host the Ft. Sumner Foxes.

NEW TENDERFOOT SCOUTS -- Four new Tenderfoot scouts were among 18 boys and four adults who visited Carlsbad Caverns Sunday. Scott Watkins, Randy Harrison, Randy Stovall, and Greg Taylor are some of Texico-Farwell Troop 179's newest members. The troop camped overnight Saturday on the Pecos River at Carlsbad.

Mills Explains Dollar-A-Bale

By Prentice L. Mills
ASCS Office Manager

The ASCS Office has nothing to do with administering the dollar-a-bale check-off for cotton, but the office has had a number of questions concerning it asked. Some of the questions and answers are as follows:

Q. Who will collect the dollar per bale? A. Payment will be made by the cotton farmer to the collecting handler.

Q. Who is a collecting handler? A. The "collecting handler" is any person, firm or association who buys a bale from the producer or who accepts a bale under an oral or written contract or agreement for marketing of the cotton. This applies regardless of whether the cotton is marketed or whether it is put in the loan program. The collecting handler also includes the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office or any person who advances the loan value of the cotton to the producer on a Form A loan.

Q. When is collection made? A. When the collecting handler makes the first payment to the producer - by check, credit to the grower's account, or transfer of any kind.

Q. What about a bale owned by more than one producer? A. If more than one producer shares in the proceeds received from a bale, each is obligated to pay that portion of the dollar equivalent to his proportionate share of the proceeds.

Q. How about cotton bought in the field? A. Any person who buys cotton in the field or who buys seed cotton or unbaled lint from the producer shall be the collecting handler and collect when the cotton is ginned. He's required to give the producer a receipt. When a bale is ginned that contains cotton bought from more than one producer, the handler collects each producer's proportionate share of the assessment and gives each producer a receipt so indicating.

Q. What if a collecting handler fails to collect on a bale? A. Failure of the handler to collect doesn't relieve him of his obligation to remit the assessment to the Cotton Board.

Q. How about procedures for reporting and forwarding collections? A. Each calendar month is a reporting period. Payment and collecting handler reports shall be mailed to the Cotton Board within 10 days after the reporting period. The remittance shall be by check, draft or money order payable to the Cotton Board. A separate report is required on each gin from which cotton is handled and will be submitted in duplicate.

Q. What information is provided in the collecting handler's report. A. It lists producers from whom the handler was required to collect the dollar per bale, their addresses and total number of bales from each grower.

Q. What kind of receipt does the producer get? A. Receipt for payment of the assessment may be a part of the invoice or settlement sheet the collecting handler gives the producer or it may be made on a separate form.

Q. In the event a producer doesn't want to participate, how does he go about getting a refund? A. He must apply directly to the Cotton Board for a Southern Union, with some 2,000 employees, serves more than 360,000 customers in over 100 cities and towns in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. Western Gas has about 220 employees and provides gas service to approximately 55,000 customers in various parts of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Steers Take Dimmitt

The Farwell Steers began their basketball season on Friday night by taking a win from the Dimmitt Bobcats (1967 state runnersup) by the score of 67-58. Kyle Sheets hit the basket for 21 points for the winners followed by Lewey Bradshaw and Lawrence Bryant, who had 11 points each. Bryant led in rebounding with 17 rebounds.

Coach Vernon Scott expressed himself as well pleased with the team's first effort. "They hustled good and their shooting percentage was good," he commented, adding, "they had way too many fouls."

On The Farm In Parmer County

By RONNY McNUTT
County Agent

PHEASANT SEASON TO OPEN
You hunters need to get your guns oiled up for the pheasant season which will be open December 1-7 in Parmer County.

Bag limit is two cocks per day and possession limit is four. County Wildlife Sub-Committee and County Game Association met in October and decided to continue the "Pheasant Tail Feather Contest" again this year. Members of this sub-committee are: Jack Patterson, chairman, Arlin Hartzog, Bud Crump, Melvin Sachs, Gary Brown and C. L. Lillard. The three longest feathers turned in to each designated measuring headquarters in Friona, Bovina and Farwell will receive awards. Awards are $15 for first place, $10 for second and $5 for third place in each of the towns.

In addition to local awards, a plaque will be given by the County Game Association to the person turning in the longest tail feather in the county. Measuring headquarters in Farwell will be at Farwell Hardware, Contact Bud Crump in Bovina concerning headquarters in this area, and contact Gary Brown or C. L. Lillard concerning headquarters in the Friona area.

Residents of Parmer County do not need hunting license to hunt pheasant in this county. However, out-of-county persons must have a hunting license. Cost of license is $3.15. Make sure that you have permission to hunt on a person's land before the season opens.

COUNTY BRUCCELLOSIS RECERTIFICATION

According to Claude Johnson with the State Animal Health Commission, Parmer County cattle owners may not have to get their cattle up for Brucellosis recertification testing in the near future.

Johnson indicated the "Market Cattle Testing Program" or as it is sometimes known "Back Tagging Program" will take the place of on-premise testing for this year.

The MCT program provides brucellosis tests at auction markets and packing plants at no extra cost or handling for the producer. Under present regulations, if during a three year period 15 per cent of the cattle in a county is back tagged and found negative to test of blood drawn at slaughter houses, on-the-premise testing is not required to maintain that county's modified-certified brucellosis status.

Also, during this three year period, if an individual rancher has 15 per cent of his herd back tagged and tested and found negative to test of blood obtained at the slaughter house, he would not have to have his cattle re-tested on the ranch even though it became necessary to test other herds in the county for recertification.

TOUR FARM -- Children from one of the Clovis Kindergartens toured the Martin Goodwin farm, northeast of Clovis, recently where they saw cattle, horses, goats, lambs, kittens and, last but not least, "turkeys waiting for the Thanksgiving axe." Children starting in awe at the turkeys are Charlotte Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burns; Tracy Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reid; and Louis Wooten, son of Maj. and Mrs. Louis A. Wooten.

refund application, which must be filed within 90 days after the date of his assessment. The receipt given him by the handler, or a copy or other evidence of payment, must accompany the refund application.

Q. How does the warehouse receipt figure into the record keeping? A. Each gin is assigned a code number. The warehouse first receiving the bale for storage after ginning enters the gin code number on the warehouse receipt.

Q. What records are required of the ginner? A. During active ginning operations, each gin must submit a monthly report. This shows the number of bales ginned during the month and must be mailed within five days after the end of the month in which the cotton was ginned. An end-of-the-season report also is required.

Q. What goes into the end-of-season report? A. It contains an alphabetical list of producers, their addresses and number of bales ginned for each. It's filed within 10 days after the close of the year's ginning operations but no later than March 20. A supplemental report is necessary for operations after March 20.

Q. How long should records be retained in the files? A. For at least two years beyond the marketing year of their applicability. The handler must retain one copy of each report made to the Cotton Board and such books and records as are necessary to verify these reports.

For complete details any interested person may contact The Cotton Board, P. O. Box 4948, Memphis, Tennessee, 38104.

"Form A" cotton loans are available to cotton producers at their gin office and can be obtained thru their ASCS office.

At Home In Parmer County

By CRICKET B. TAYLOR
County HD Agent

The County Family Living Committee met Wednesday of last week with Mrs. James Mabry, chairman, and county home agent.

Plans were complete for the Parents Educational Seminar on child development to be held January and February.

Outstanding resource people and teachers in the field of child development have been secured for the four meeting series. Parents with children under 10 years will be interested in future announcements of the time and place for the seminar.

Home demonstration club members, who missed the annual luncheon, really missed a treat—especially the five Bovina students who entertained with songs and their ukeleles. Carl Harris was among this group and he had many good wishes from the group for his appearance December 24 on Ted Mack Talent Show in New York.

NEW LEAFLET AVAILABLE

A small new leaflet entitled "Harvest Turkey Recipes" and instruction on safety and best ways to thaw turkey, is now available at the County Extension office. It is free, and a real handy guide for preparation of turkey for roasting, baking or cooking in foil, the number of servings to expect from one turkey, and time tables for the various methods of cooking.

Another excellent bulletin on "All Time Favorite-Turkey" at a small cost is available also. If you want to learn the art of carving—this has step by step method in addition to many recipes.

Really, turkey has come a long way since grandma's time—indeed it has. We don't have to run it down, chop of its head, scald, and pick it or even dress it. It's all ready, but the thawing. The proper method for this to insure safety and good results in the cooking is an important "know how." Come by the office and pick up a copy.

Happy Thanksgiving to all! Play it safe—thaw that turkey properly to avoid danger of food poisoning and if you are going places—drive carefully.

Report From The Sheriff's Office

Two Clovis men, Jerry Don Rogers and Gary Ray Fickel, have been arrested following a break in at Johnny's Enco last Tuesday night. Rogers is still in custody; however, Fickel has been released on a $750 bond.

The two allegedly took some $149 in cash and receipts at time of the break in. Entry was gained through a back window at the station.

In other news from the sheriff's office, a man has been returned to Parmer County from Amarillo to face a charge on non-support of minor children.

The man, Santos Esquivel, appeared before Judge Loyde Brewer on Monday morning and was released under his own recognizance. The trial will be heard at a later date.

Norman Petty, left, Clovis recording artist, talks with C. M. Lowry, Clovis manager for Mountain States Telephone Co., while in the background the "Fireballs" with Doug Roberts, a Farwell boy who now lives in Clovis, on the drums, get set for a recording session at the Petty Studio which, according to Monitor magazine, is a "Sound Idea."
