

Gas Line Chances Discussed At Texico

Thirty farmers met at the Texico School auditorium Monday night and discussed the possibilities of a natural gas line for irrigation wells south of Texico.

Travis Binion, representative of the W&R Construction Company of Lubbock, met with the group and discussed the contracting of the job. Binion has spent quite some time working with the group, mapping out a plan for the gas line.

The group, known as the Farmers Gas Line Association, has been working on the line for around six months, according to Leroy Faville, secretary of the board of directors. "We have discussed it with several other contractors, but this has been the most favorable," Faville said.

The farmers have been asked to raise half of the money and plans are being made to finance the remainder. The raising of the money is all that is holding up the beginning of the construction, and Faville is confident that this will be done in the near future.

According to Faville, the main line will start at the Johnny Lewis farm and extend to the Dick Doshier place, where it will branch off. It is to go as far south as the Ebb Randol farm, west to the Sam McLarty farm, and east to Joe Blair's farm. Tentatively, 30 wells are planned for the line.

By-laws were set up for the organization at the Monday meeting and tentative dates were set for the annual meeting of the association and monthly meeting for the board of directors. The annual meeting is scheduled for the second Tuesday in February and the directors meetings are set for the second Tuesday of each month.

The board of directors include Faville, Blair, president; Sam Randol, treasurer; Edward Engram, D. J. Brown and W. J. Matthews.

Ground Observers Have Weather Alert

Members of the local Ground Observers Corps were called out for a special weather alert last Tuesday during the rain.

The alert was called by the Air Defense Headquarters of Oklahoma City, according to Wilfred Quickel, chief observer. Starting at 4:30 in the afternoon Tuesday, various local members were on duty until 12:45 the following morning.

The reason for the alert was for the spotting of any tornadoes or hail storms that might be approaching this area, Quickel stated.

Participating in the alert were Wilma Limer, Hugh Moseley, Lex Huggins, Mem Sprows, Carrol Huggins, John Armstrong, Jimmy Armstrong, Johnny Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham Jr., and Quickel.

A practice alert is scheduled for this Saturday from 1-5 p.m. in the City Auditorium (formerly the Legion Hall), Quickel says. There is a possibility that the date will be changed to June 16 for the same hours.

Busy Month Recorded At Texico Court

Sixty-five cases were tried in the police magistrate court of Sam N. Lewis in Texico during the month of May. "It was one of the busiest months I have had in quite some time," says Lewis.

Included in those cases were 55 for speeding, three for violations of New Mexico Corporation Commission laws, three for operating a vehicle without driver's license, one for illegal passing at yellow line, one felony, bound to district court, where man failed to provide for family, and one case involving a man using a trailer without a license plate.

Fines assessed totaled $1,043 and ranged from $10 to $25 plus court costs, says Lewis.

10 County Men At Cotton Meet

Ten Parmer County men attended a Farm Bureau meeting in Lubbock last Wednesday morning, to hear authorities discuss the present cotton situation, and plans for alleviating the surplus situation by market expansion to give cotton farmers a chance to continue their production at a volume and price that would yield a profit.

John Lynn of Washington, D. C., legislative director for American Farm Bureau, discussed the Bureau's seven-point cotton program aimed at solving some of the problems of profitable production and marketing that face producers today. He said that current legislation provided for export for five million bales of CCC cotton at 25½ cents per pound, which would provide some relief, temporarily. It is necessary, Lynn said, that we go further than this, and spend more money on research and marketing if we are to have a continually improving market.

Concerning net income for farmers, Lynn pointed out that in 1947, a peak agricultural year, U. S. farm gross income was $33 billion and net income was $17 billion; in 1955 the gross income was still $33 billion, but net income was down to $10½ billion, which indicated that what the farmer has to pay has hurt him vastly more than what he is able to receive for his production. He said he was leaving immediately to take up Farm Bureau's fight in Washington against legislation being introduced that would place a minimum wage of $1.25 per hour base pay and a maximum eight hour day—thirty-two hour week on farm labor of all classes. This provision, he said, would put just

FARWELL, TEXAS THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1956 NUMBER 35

Wheat Allotment 102,700 in County

Parmer County's share of the nation's reduced wheat acreage for next year (1957) has been set at 102,700 acres. This is a reduction of 5.6 percent from 1956 when the allotment was 108,404 acres.

Jim Whitfield, office manager of the ASC, said the allotment was received at the county office last week. Individual allotment notices will be in the mail by June 15, he believes.

A national referendum will be conducted on July 20, in which farmers will determine whether they wish to continue under marketing quotas and acreage allotments.

The wheat picture, taken as a whole, shows a declining interest in the commodity in the eyes of Parmer County farmers. This slackening of interest began in the late war years, and was intensified with the development of irrigation and the introduction of cotton to much of the county's cultivated acreage.

However, a revival of interest in wheat production has been noted recently, especially during the past two years, when farmers with reduced cotton allotments and reduced prices for grain sorghums, have come to look upon their wheat allotment with more favor.

First Wheat Arrives In Parmer County

Parmer County's first load of 1956 wheat was received by Tri-County Elevator at Black Tuesday morning. The wheat, grown by J. M. Wright, weighed 60 pounds to the bushel and made 33 bushels per acre, according to Pete Braxton, elevator manager. Of the Early Wichita variety, the wheat was from a 135-acre patch of irrigated land. Moisture content was 12.46 percent.

Wright received a $25 premium from the elevator for its being the first load.

The second reported load of wheat in the county arrived at Sherley Grain Company in Bovina Tuesday around 7 p. m. Henry Ivy of Lazbuddie is the man who brought it in, says Joe Moore of Sherley Grain. Ivy also received a $25 premium as it was the first load in Bovina.

The dryland wheat was cut from a 320 acre field that is averaging 10 bushels per acre. Moisture registered 11.64 and the wheat weighed 60 pounds to the bushel, Moore said.

In Friona, the first load was received at 8 o'clock yesterday morning by Friona Wheat Growers. H.

A. Hyde, who has 390 acres of dryland Early Wichita wheat southeast of Friona, brought it in.

Averaging six bushels to the acre, the moisture content was 14.45 percent, and it tested 59 pounds to the bushel, according to Arthur Drake, manager of Friona Wheat Growers.

The wheat in the county is a little earlier than in 1955. A year ago the first load in the county was harvested on June 15, and delivered to Farwell. Up to Wednesday afternoon of this week, no wheat had been delivered to Farwell, but two loads of barley had been received by the Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator.

Bert Williams brought in the first barley from the West Camp community and it tested light, weighing 42 pounds per bushel, says Johnnie Williams, manager of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman.

A load of barley was also received at the Lariat Elevator. Walter Kaltwasser delivered the load from two miles north of Lariat. Moisture content was light and it weighed 46 pounds per bushel, says Clarence Harriman, of the elevator.

Chances Good For First Street Paving

The possibilities of paving the remainder of First Street in Farwell are good, according to Wilfred Quickel, secretary for the City of Farwell.

The paving is to be done on a voluntary basis, and at present, the okay has been given on all but six lots. The property owners are not under contract, but all except the owner of the six lots, have expressed the desire to have the remainder of the street paved, says Quickel.

The paving would include the four blocks from Avenue C to Avenue G.

Grahams in Kentucky For National Conclave

Publisher and Mrs. W. H. Graham Jr. left early Wednesday morning for Louisville, Kentucky, where they will attend the convention of the National Editorial Association.

Making the trip with them is Mrs. W. H. Graham, owner of The Tribune. The two young sons of the Grahams, Ronny and Hal, went with their parents to Silvertown, where they were left to stay with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Dudley.

The Tribune was notified last week that it had placed in the top three in the nation in service to agriculture during the past year. Whether the rating is first, second, or third, will not be known until the Grahams receive the award. Last year The Tribune placed third.

This is the first time the Grahams have ever attended a national convention. They expect to return Monday.

N. W. Peyton New Texico Councilman

In a meeting of the Texico City Commission Monday night, N. W. Peyton was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Les Means. Means resigned at the last meeting. His term will expire on the first Monday in May, 1958.

Peyton will serve with Mayor Ira S. (Scotty) Levins, and Councilmen Joe Helton, Judge Stone, and Olan Schlueter.

Various other business was discussed at the meeting which Mayor Levins said was "not as busy as usual."

In a suit, the town of Texico versus Lewis Pierce, Sam Lewis, police magistrate, appeared before the council and announced his withdrawal from the case. Lewis disqualified himself when Plaintiff Pierce presented an affidavit saying that he did not feel he could receive justice from the present judge.

Lewis pointed out that there was no legal way a police magistrate in the State of New Mexico could be disqualified. However, he disqualified himself, saying that "My conscience would not permit me to try a man if he felt he could not get justice in my court."

After his withdrawal, Lewis said that he contacted Judge V. S. Sullivan of Clovis, asking him if he would try the case. Sullivan accepted and Pierce gave his approval, Lewis says. The council approved Sullivan, and the date of the trial, to be set by Sullivan, will be announced later.

Other business discussed included a new ordinance for speed limits in the residential districts of Texico. The council voted on 30 miles per hour in the residential district and 15 miles per hour in the school zone.

Also approved was the hiring of F. E. Autrey to haul a load of salt from the Potash Mines of Carlsbad, to spread on the sewer ponds north of town. The salt is for the purpose of killing the weeds.

Roy Tidwell of Farwell appeared before the council and asked for permission to sell Spudnuts in Texico. Permission was granted. Also, the council approved the selling of old fire hose. Stanton Thigpen, That beats nothing, but sometimes we wonder how much.

In its present state, the Legion Hall is neither adequate nor satisfactory. (Continued On Last Page)

Rains Continue Over Texico-Farwell Area

Averaging one shower per day from Friday through Monday, rainfall in the Texico-Farwell area for the past three weeks has totaled more than 2½ inches, according to the readings of a rain gauge at Roberts Seed Company in Texico.

This 2½ inches has just been in Texico-Farwell and the amounts have probably ranged from one to four inches over various parts of the area.

Last Friday night, a light sprinkle occurred in town, and .10 was recorded both Saturday and Sunday nights. Clouds were threatening Monday, but only a trace fell.

Farmers over the area, both irrigation and dryland, have welcomed it, although it is slowing up the grain sorghum planting.

Prize Winners Named At Border Opening

Winners of the three prizes awarded at the grand opening of Border Service Station No. 1 Saturday have been announced by Alton Berry, owner. They are Mrs. Everett Spurline, six quarts oil; Stafford Bradshaw, seat covers; and Mrs. Ray Burk, Oklahoma City, floor mats.

Coffee and doughnuts were served to approximately 150 persons Saturday, says Berry.

Ronny Ferguson Co-Manager Of Printing Department

Ronny Ferguson, backshop employee of The Tribune, became co-manager of the Tribune's commercial printing department (Hi-Plains Printing Service), June 1. Ferguson joins Richard Hapke in the management. Hapke, who became news editor of the Tribune last week, has been the manager for the past year.

"The addition of Ferguson to the printing department will enable Hi-Plains Printing to give better service to the businesses and individuals of this area," Hapke says. Ferguson has been an employee of the Tribune since September, 1954.

Bond Election Date To Be Set Next Week

The date for the city bond election, calling for funds for the purchase of a fire truck and equipment, a garage to house the truck, a remodeling program for the City Auditorium (formerly the Legion Hall), and several other items, will be set next week, announces Wilfred Quickel, secretary for the City of Farwell.

The date was to be announced this week, but legal work still has to be completed before the date can be set, Quickel says.

NOT MUCH—Pat Patrick of Roberts Seed Company checks his rain gauge following Sunday night's shower. All that it measures is .10. However, that was just one shower in several the Texico-Farwell area has had in the past three weeks. Total recorded by the Roberts Seed Company gauge has been slightly over 2½ inches.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Too Many High School Graduates Take The Easy Way Out

Local high schools have just graduated another crop of seniors, who will now begin seeking a vocation, trade, or certain path of life in which to follow. This is a time of decision for a graduate. Will it be to help dad on the farm, become a laborer, go on to college, or what?

We're afraid that too many will overlook the advantages of a college education. "Why go to college, when dad is going to give me so many acres to farm," might be the solution of one, while another might say, "Why go to college when I can earn $60 a week working as a 'gas pump jockey'?" Also, one could say, "I can't go to school, because Mom and Dad can't afford to send me, and I won't be able to work enough part time to pay my way through."

These are just several of numerous reasons high school graduates will give for not going on to an institution of higher learning. To them, they are legitimate reasons, but little do they stop to think of just what a college education can do.

On completion of high school, a graduate many times thinks he "knows it all". The conclusion of high school is a major accomplishment to some and they feel that there is not much more they can learn.

One semester or year in college will prove to him that he doesn't know a thing, and should give him an incentive to learn more. To an individual who wants to make something of himself, one semester in college is all he needs to understand the value of a college degree.

To the one who is going to be a farmer, he can find better and more efficient ways to produce his crops, and the laborer can find a vocation that will afford him a much better opportunity to be successful in life.

To the one who thinks he cannot afford to go to school, college may be more of a challenge, but the benefits he will receive will be far greater than those of one who goes through with no worries whatsoever. He may have to lighten his load and take an extra year or so to finish, but his appreciation will be far greater than that of the one who had no monetary troubles.

In college today, there is more social life than ever before. While everyone enjoys a certain amount, it is over-emphasized in colleges today. The one who cannot afford to participate is far better off than the one who does. In many social fraternities of American colleges today, the ability to consume more alcoholic beverages than the next Frat brother is the dominating goal.

When working one's way through college, much social life has to be eliminated, but as far as gaining knowledge is concerned, social life plays no part.

In this day and age many more people are obtaining a college education than ever before, and when the better jobs are passed out, the person with only a high school education will have to take a back seat. Demands are great for specialists in certain fields but only people with degrees in these fields can fill them.

A college education today helps an individual to better understand the problems of the world as well as those of his fellow man. Above all, it helps him to better fill his capacity, as he takes his place in the American way of life.

After the program, handicraft made by the children was on display in the church basement.

Mrs. Howard Whitener was general principal of the school, and departmental superintendents were Mrs. Ansel Doolittle, intermediate; Mrs. R. A. Burris, junior; Mrs. Frank Doshier, primary; Mrs. Rita Dollar, beginner; and Mrs. Ed Henry, nursery.

Ruth Class of the church met Tuesday night and the Golden Circle Class held its regular meeting Monday night. Companion Class of the church will meet tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Ansel Doolittle.

Brotherhood meeting was held Tuesday night and WMU met Wednesday afternoon at the church.

FARWELL BAPTIST CHURCH Rev. E. J. Keith, Pastor

Attendance the past two Sundays has been low with several families of the church being out of town, reports Rev. Keith, and he urges that everyone attend church this Sunday.

At the Wednesday night services at the church last week, David McDonald and Lt. Elvin Rawls were baptized. Jackie Williams was baptized last Sunday.

Rev. Keith reports that work on the church's camp cabin at the Plains Assembly Grounds near Floydada is progressing nicely and that it is hoped the cabin will be completed for the first activity there this year which is Association of the Royal Ambassador Conclave on June 18-19. District youth camps will be held there during July.

AVOID THESE HAZARDS

Avoid the following 10 home hazards and live safer and longer. Tripping over objects, unlabeled medicine, using makeshift ladders, handling loaded guns, slippery surfaces, careless use and storage of knives, careless storing of poisons, inadequate wiring and faulty extension cords, adds to disorder, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

Three additions were made to the church by letter in Sunday's services. R. L. Douglas Jr. and daughter, June Gay, and Bobbye Richardson all became members of the Texico Church.

Attendance for Sunday School was 148. Sixty-three were present for training union.

No regular meetings of the organizations of the church were held last week because of the Vacation Bible School which was in progress at the church. Enrollment of the school was 142 and the average attendance was 124.

Mrs. Morgan reports that the school was a real success and that much interest was shown. A good crowd was present Friday night for commencement exercises at which each department presented a portion of the program.

IT'S SWITCHCRAFT

- that's what it is!

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo!

IT TAKES a new word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick — with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time — with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflo can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflo's newest marvel. It's something the engineers call "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure — you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

So why not come in and see — and feel — the difference they make? You'll soon know why owners find it's the best Buick yet — and the best buy yet, by far.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

To the Editor

want any kind of state control of our irrigation water. I will go further and say that we don't want any kind of control until it's proven absolutely necessary, and I further agree with you that we should get all the facts obtainable before we get any kind of action taken that will force controls upon us.

And let's not be like the official I once read about who said that he didn't want to be bothered with any facts, that his mind was already made up. Also, we should be very diligent in obtaining these facts, since to prolong the time could be very serious, neither should we act hastily since this could also be very serious, neither should we criticize without the facts since this too could result in untimely, unneeded and unwanted controls.

The inability to control our thinking and our criticism is one of our most serious problems and causes more inconveniences to the criticized than in generally warranted. From time immemorial the farmer has been criticized for just about everything that can be listed in any existing language.

He has been criticized for producing too little to producing too much, for being shiftless to being greedy and wanting it all, for doing nothing to killing himself trying to get rich, for driving his children like slaves to raising them with a silver spoon in their mouths, for not sending them to school to making undue sacrifices to send them to college, for not being satisfied with programs that other people set up for him and for being greedy and selfish in wanting an equal share in the national economy and also for thinking that the water which is under his land might belong to him.

Just name it and the farmer has been criticized for it. This is all a part of nature and represents a psychological resentment built up through the ages, because of the dependence of all the people upon the farmer for their very existence. It's a fact, without the farmer we would all perish from the face of the earth and do it very soon. This dependence creates within us a resentful desire to find fault with the source of our very existence and sometimes causes us to make a mountain out of a mole hill.

This is the attitude we must be very careful about when we have the urge to condemn some farmer because we see some water running out of his field before we have stopped and discussed with him the reason why. It could be that he is having one of the many uncontrollable problems that go with irrigation. We have about 2200 wells in the county and from a percentage standpoint, someone will be having trouble at any given time during the season when they are all running.

The more I watch for the facts about the value of the tail water, the more convinced I become that the tail water loss is not our greatest loss of water. I believe that evaporation is the thief we should watch and do something about. Simple arithmetic plus a few experiments reveal that there are over 500 irrigation wells running day and night and not one drop of this water ever irrigates a single row of crop land. The concrete tile people will agree with this figure.

Now if we should see 500 wells pumping water into the barrow ditches in Parmer County all at the same time the criticism would be unbearable, yet we are pumping

I've heard very little about it. I recall a statement that I heard the late Hop Graham Sr., make once, "that if we could impound all the water that falls on the Plains and store it underground we would need never fear running out of water." I can always agree with Hop that a constructive program of conservation and recharge is the most effective answer to our water problems.

Hop, I sincerely appreciate your keeping this irrigation water problem alive. Maybe somebody will come up with a good constructive idea that will develop a high standard of benefits for all.

I may argue with you but I am still for you.

Sincerely yours,
O. W. Rhinehart

June Christian Wed To Benny Darnell

In a lovely afternoon ceremony at the Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church on Sunday, May 27, Miss June Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Christian, became the bride of Benny Darnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Darnell of Clarendon.

Rev. Vernon Willard, pastor of the church, read the double-ring ceremony as the couple stood before a white kneeling bench in front of a white arch entwined with greenery and interspersed with white irises. Flanking the kneeling bench on either side were stands of white candelabra holding tall white tapers.

Arrangements of white irises, stephanotis and carnations backed by potted ferns completed the wedding setting. The family pews were marked with large white satin bows.

David Willard played nuptial selections at the organ prior to the entrance of the wedding party and accompanied Miss Lillie Ellison of Bovina who sang "Because" and "Thou Art." At the close of the ceremony, Miss Ellison sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt at the kneeling bench.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louise Christian. Mrs. Dot Christian, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Barbara Darnell, sister of the groom, were bridesmaid and bridesmaid, respectively.

All of the bride's attendants were attired in identically styled ballerina length dresses. Of orchid taffeta, the dresses featured full skirts with net overskirts attached at the waist. Shoulder stoles of net were attached to the dresses around low scooped necklines. They wore small headpieces of orchid taffeta and net trimmed with tiny flowers.

Phyllis Christian, sister of the bride, and Gwendolyn Christian, niece of the bride, were flower-girls. They wore dresses of the same style and color of the other attendants and carried white baskets of white rose petals.

Ringbearers were LaNelle Christian, niece of the bride, and Mike Grissom, cousin of the bride.

tian, brother of the bride, and La-Von Jones, cousin of the bride, Wendol and Donald Christian, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress of lace and tulle fashioned with a full skirt featuring alternate tiers of lace and tulle. The square yoke of tulle was set off with lace, and the round stand up collar was also of lace.

Her tiered veil of illusion, trimmed with dainty lace, fell from a close fitting headpiece of matching lace. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids and stephanotis.

For something old, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding ring. Something new was her wedding ensemble, something borrowed were pearl earrings which belonged to her mother, and something blue was a garter given her by her aunt, Mrs. Loucile Foster.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Christian wore a dress of pink linen and carried white accessories. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. Darnell, wore a blue linen dress with white accessories and a white gardenia.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Harold Carpenter registered the guests and members of the FHA Chapter of Clarendon served.

MASSEY-HARRIS

The First Name in Self-Propelled Combines

90 SPECIAL

The biggest Self-Propelled Combine you can own... with 45 new improvements.

61 SEALED BEARINGS in the 90 Special mean longer machine life... less servicing time in the field. Massey-Harris sealed bearings require no servicing for their entire life... give an estimated 3,000 hours of trouble-free service.

NEW DYNA-AIR CHAFF CONTROL PUTS MORE GRAIN IN THE TANK. The secret of new Dyna-Air Chaff Control lies in one word—"Flotation." A scientifically governed flow of air across the entire width of each sieve keeps the chaff in a constant state of suspension... floats chaff back over the screens and out of the machine in a loose layer—separating more clean grain.

CONSTANT POWER STEERING*—brings new handling ease to the operation of the 90 Combine. Farmers, custom cutters, and rice growers will appreciate the smooth, responsive hydraulic action that eliminates the shocks and jolts of ordinary steering... the fatigue of fighting the steering wheel all day. *Optional equipment.

Let us prove the difference on your farm.

10 County Men At Cotton Meet

about any farmer out of business.

Dr. M. K. Horn, economist with the National Cotton Council, emphasized that price lowering was not an inclusive solution to the cotton marketing need. It may have a part, he said, but more important is a program of research for more uses, promotional advertising and marketing methods. While synthetics, which are presently taking some of the cotton markets, are spending $60 million per year on research and marketing, the cotton industry is spending only about $14 million. This situation, said Horn, should be corrected, H. L. King, TFB director for District II, of Brownfield, explained Farm Bureau's recommendation for cutting the state acreage reserve from ten per cent to two per cent.

"We have got to eliminate features of our acreage allotment program that tend to keep west Texas farmers and east Texas farmers fighting among themselves while they should be working together to improve the overall cotton situation," said King.

Men attending the meeting from Parmer County were Gilbert Kaitwasser, Jack Patterson, J. T.

factory. Extensive remodeling will be necessary before the building will be suited for municipal use. In the meantime, wouldn't several thousands of dollars spent on fixing up the Legion Hall go a long way toward the construction of a new building?

A new city hall would, besides serving a multitude of useful purposes, be something to which the community could point to with justifiable pride.

Like we started out to say, these sentiments of the writer do not appear to be a reflection of the way most people in town feel. Too many of us still have horse-and-buggy ideas about what is needed to make this town grow and prosper.

Being scared of paying local taxes isn't the way to get the job done.

And on the subject of local taxes: Did you know they are different from your state and federal taxes? Had you ever stopped to consider that local taxes are for YOUR community—and not for the greasy-palmed bureaucrats to squander in fantastic money-spending schemes? Listen, the money you pay in Farwell and Texico locally-assessed taxes—every cent of it—can be traced to tangible improvements right here at home.

That money hasn't been sent to Washington and returned to you minus "handling charges" of about 50 percent. It is invested in the community by hard-working, tax-paying local citizens who don't get a dime for their efforts and they spend it as wisely as they know how.

As a taxpayer, you can see for yourself what local taxes are going for. You don't have to survey a bunch of government statistics and try to make up your mind if it's worth it. Just remember these facts the next time you pay your local taxes—or are asked if you would favor a raise in them to help build the town.
