

Summer Slates Series Of 'Happenings' For Youth

School is out! Summer is here, officially, as today (Friday) marks the beginning of the summer season. Although the temperatures in the area have stated the arrival of summer several weeks ago, the season is heralded today.

For youngsters out of school, with an abundance of time on their hands, sometimes summer initiates boredom and lethargy; however, many opportunities exist for Farwell and Texico area youngsters to pass the time in gainful activity as well as leisure amusements.

Of the organized activities, Little League participation perhaps attracts the most takers. A full schedule of regular activity will culminate for the Major League on July 4th and for the Minor League on July 2.

Highlighting the post-season will be one of the area tournaments on July 11-12-13, hosted by Texico-Farwell, and the District Tournament on July 20, also hosted by Texico-Farwell. At this District Tournament, one-half beef will be awarded a lucky person by the Little League coaches, who are sponsoring this fund-raising project.

Other area youth, whose inclinations lie in other directions, are busy participating in various kinds of 4-H projects, assisting their parents with the harvest season by working in numerous farm- and ranch-related jobs, and other youngsters are aiding their parents in their respective businesses.

Still, many youngsters find amusement in swimming daily at the Texico Municipal Swimming Pool and the Farwell Country Club and even a hardy few try their talents and abilities on the tees at the club. Several area youngsters registered for the West Texas Chapter PGA Junior Golf Tournament held at the Club on June 12.

Many youngsters devote a week during the summer to attending the Vacation Bible Schools, scheduled by most churches in the area, and sev-

Participating in the one-day tournament were entries from Muleshoe, Coleman, San Angelo, Friona, Amarillo, Pampa, Abilene, Dalhart, Canyon and Farwell. Boys entering from Farwell included John Scott, Steve Scott, Rowdy Chandler, Stanley Goldsmith, and J.D. Reeves.

The purposes of the junior tournaments are to promote the interest of golf to youngsters and also to establish a scholarship fund. The junior tournament was open to West Texas area residents between the ages of 12 and 18, providing the 18-year-olds have high school eligibility.

The Tournament of Champions for all youngsters who have won junior tour events in the area will be held Aug. 7-8 at Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland. Winners from each area will have expense-paid trips, according to Joe Lamberson, golf professional at Farwell Country Club.

Boys State - -

Delegates Learn About Government In Action

by Steve Harrington and Sammy West

(EDITOR'S NOTE - Two Texico High School students recently returned from attending New Mexico Boys State at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell. The delegates were Steve Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moreland Harrington, who was sponsored by the Texico-Farwell Lions and Rotary clubs, and Sammy West, son of Eddie West, who was sponsored by the Texico Riding Club.)

The New Mexico Boys State of 1974 took place the week of June 8 through 14, with Texico sending two delegates to this year's session.

Boys State began at noon on June 8, leaving enough time for the 500 delegates from all around the state to arrive. It was held at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell.

The main purpose of Boys State is to familiarize the future leaders of our country with government campaigning, primaries, elections and the operation and function of each office after election.

Boys State is set up in such a way that it resemble our actual government as much as possible. The state was divided into two parties - the Federalists and the Nationalists. Boys State gives any citizen the opportunity to run for any office he feels he is qualified to run for.

Sammy, representing the Nationalist Party, ran for City Police Judge and was appointed a city policeman. Steve of the Federalist Party was elected to the city council, was appointed as a state policeman, and ran for Federalist Party state chairman. As chairman he had to work with the Federalist candidates for the state offices and had the pleasure of getting his candidate for governor of Boys State elected.

Those running for an office had to announce their candidacy by giving a speech at the different campaigns at city, county and state levels.

Boys State was divided into eight cities with approximately 60 boys in each city. Two cities made up one county, with the four counties making up the entire Boys State. The progression of politics from city level to state level was quite evident and was very educational for the boys.

by Charlotte Smith and Elizabeth Pierce

(EDITOR'S NOTE - Charlotte Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith of Pleasant Hill, and Elizabeth Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce of Texico, returned home June 15 from attending New Mexico Girls State at Highlands University in Las Vegas.)

We enjoyed the company of 286 other delegates from across the State of New Mexico.

It was a fun-filled week of interesting and educational experiences including elections of city, county and state officials. We observed government in action and familiarized ourselves with the workings of the political system as set up in New Mexico and the United States. We also had a Santa Fe tour.

There were many interesting speakers such as Governor Bruce King, Lieutenant Governor Robert Mondragon, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, Jerry Apodaca; and U.S. Senator Pete Domenici, who addressed the girls during the week.

We were both sponsored by the Texico Woman's Club.

The officers were inaugurated during a banquet ceremony and the week was ended by a candle-lighting service on Friday night, June 14, at which the colors were retired for another year.

We both ran for mayor of our respective cities. Elizabeth ran for governor of the Nationalist Party, and was appointed director of the Bureau of Revenue, License Division. Charlotte ran for the Supreme Court on the Nationalist Party and was appointed chairman of the State Highway Department.

Residents, former residents and anyone interested in a good time is invited to attend the old-fashioned Fourth of July picnic. Each family should bring a picnic lunch. Drinks will be furnished.

Little League Coaches Sponsor Half-Beef Give-Away July 20

Coaches of the Texico-Farwell Little League Association have scheduled a give-away to take place at the July 20 session of the Little League District Tournament. Tourney play will be in the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ball Park.

According to Jim Walker, president of the association, one-half beef, cut, wrapped and delivered will be awarded to the person with the winning ticket.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from Little League and Pee Wee League coaches, Walker and several parents of players for a $1 donation to the local Little League Association. Walker emphasized that persons need not be present to win and there is no age limit for persons donating.

Proceeds from ticket donations is to be used by the local association to purchase a pitching machine to aid local baseballers in both batting and fielding techniques. Anyone desiring tickets may contact Jerry Owen, Don Weems, Bill Boling, Bill Stone, Johnny Atkinson, Joe Hughes, Eddie Smith, Mitchell Turnbough, Domingo Rojas, Lewis Foster, Richard Deel, Betty Castleberry or Jim Walker.

Walker, the coaches, players and sponsors urge all area baseball fans to come out and support the Texico-Farwell Little League and Pee Wee League as the final games of the 1974 baseball season are played. Play is scheduled for Thursday and Monday evenings at the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ball Park with games beginning at 6:30 p.m.

BOYS STATE -- Texico Boys State delegate Steve Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moreland Harrington, is pictured at the New Mexico Port of Entry. He and Sammy West, son of Eddie West, returned home from the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell on June 14.

eral have volunteered their services as assistants and helpers.

Four area youngsters spent the early part of their summer vacation attending Boys State at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell and Girls State at Highlands University in Las Vegas. Steve Harrington and Sammy West were Texico's delegates to Boys State and Elizabeth Pierce and Charlotte Smith represented Texico at Girls State.

For many a youngster, summer hours are whiled away by riding bicycles and motorcycles. A group of youths at Oklahoma Lane have formed the Oklahoma Lane Bicycle Club and have scheduled meetings weekly on Saturdays at 6:30 p.m. at the Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church.

Youngsters, who are interested in rodeoing and working with their horses, take the summer as an opportunity to participate in area competitions and to practice refining their techniques. Five youths from Texico entered the New Mexico High School Rodeo Finals in Albuquerque and a Farwell girl and a Curry County girl are in Bozeman, Montana, to participate in the national finals for NIRA.

The 1974 Parmer County 4-H Horse Show held Monday at the roping arena in Farwell attracted some 14 participants from the area, and several of the youngsters will compete in the District I 4-H Horse Show in Amarillo June 26 and 27.

Vacations and short trips with their families afford many youngsters the opportunity to visit relatives and to see various parts of Texas and New Mexico and other areas.

When the school bells toll in August announcing the opening of area schools, one thing is for sure. No matter what the boys and girls of Farwell and Texico did during the summer, a certain comment is, "I can't believe that summer vacation is over. It passed by so quickly."

And another comment, whispered by mothers throughout the area, "Thank goodness!"

Memorial Services Set

Word has been received by Rev. and Mrs. W.T. Perry that an aircraft piloted by Major M.S. Shore, II, USMC, was lost in the Pacific Ocean, about 90 miles south of Hawaii on Tuesday, June 11.

According to a report by his wingman, no sign of ejection was noted, and it is presumed that Major Shore died in the crash.

Major Shore is the son of Colonel Moyers Shore, USA Ret., of Bard, N.M. The Shore family are close personal friends of the Perrys.

Memorial services for Major Shore were to be conducted in Denver, Colo., today (Friday).

HOSPITAL NOTES

Joe Magness of Farwell returned home from the hospital June 15 and, according to Mrs. Magness "is allowed a limited amount of company." Hospitalized since May 21, Magness will be confined to his home for a while.

Texico head coach Bucky Walters returned to his home Wednesday morning following surgery Monday at Clovis Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Walters reports that he "is getting along just fine" and is able to have visitors.

Marriage Licenses Issued

Three marriage licenses were issued during the past week by the County Clerk's office.

Licenses were issued to Travis Eugene Graves and Andres Sue Hart, Kim D. Rundell and Nancy Darlene Hutto, and Euligio E. Benavidez and Della Valencia.

These selected questions and responses pretty well reflect the basic conservatism of the "Old West". However there was one question that came close to being "even Steven" and that was a question on retaining daylight savings on a year-around basis. The responses: Yes: 48.0%, No: 50.7%, No Response: 1.3%.

This is understandable in view of the fact that all of the answers came from residents of the Mountain Time Zone rather than the Central Zone under which we operate.

Speaking of time, today (Friday) is the longest day of the year according to the Texas Almanac. We will be treated to 14 hours and 19 minutes of time between sunrise and sunset. We don't know how much daylight this works out to, but it surely will make for a short night on these old baldies.

Until the 30th of June, the time of sunset will be lengthened until approximately 9:05 p.m. for the latest date at which Old Sol goes under the horizon. To compensate for this, dawn is delayed by several minutes so total sunrise-sunset time is still greatest on June 21st, the first official day of summer.

This means that we have missed the "Spring Rains" but hopefully will receive "Summer Showers".

UHF Programming Soon To Be Available In Farwell Area

The Clovis Evening Lions Club has been issued a license by the Federal Communications Commission for a translator to transmit station KOB an NBC affiliate, in Albuquerque, into the Clovis area.

Harry Smith, who stepped down Thursday as president of the Club, stated that the signal should cover an area of approximately 30 to 40 miles in range. Farwell residents will be able to pick up the signal on Channel 55 UHF, with the use of a UHF antenna on home television sets.

KOB is in the process of negotiating with other Albuquerque stations to bring their signals into the Clovis area.

The Lions became interested in bringing this service to the area to give residents additional programming oriented to New Mexico, stated Smith. The license was obtained May 22 from the FCC. Construction must be begun by July 22 and completed by May 22, 1975. Smith anticipates service by Sept. 15 of this year, as all equipment has been ordered.

The translator and tower will be located approximately one-half mile north of Barry Elementary School in Clovis. The tower will be 356 feet high and have a 100-watt transmitter.

Know Hazards Of Home Lawnmower

The lawnmower should be regarded with respect, advises the Texas Safety Association, because it is probably the most dangerous piece of common household machinery.

According to TSA, a basic knowledge of the principal hazards involved in the use of mowers could prevent many painful and disabling injuries each year.

If you are not thoroughly acquainted with the instruction manual accompanying your machine, be sure to read it through when you take the machine out of storage this spring.

Before starting to mow, check for cracks, loose nuts or bolts and parts that need replacing. Most rotary mowers are equipped with a shield in the back. If the shield is damaged or missing, replace it before using the machine.

Also check to be sure a "catcher" is installed over the grass exhaust to reduce the force of objects thrown by the machine.

Fill the gasoline tank before beginning a mowing job—never during operation or when the engine is hot.

Stones, sticks, wire and other debris should be cleared from the lawn before the mowing job begins. These objects can become deadly projectiles when propelled by the mower blades.

When starting the mower, stand firmly and make sure your feet are well away from the blade.

Attempts to adjust the blade often lead to injury. Attempting an adjustment while the blade is rotating is asking for trouble. Always make sure the motor is at a dead standstill with the ignition wire removed from the sparkplug before tinkering with the blade.

Lightning Tips

In Texas, spring means thunderstorms and thunderstorms mean lightning. The Texas Safety Association, noting that lightning is the thunderstorm's worst killer, says the first rule of lightning safety is to stay indoors.

Also, advise safety experts, stay away from electrical appliances while the storm is overhead. Avoid open doors or windows, fireplaces, radiators, stoves, metal pipes and sinks, and don't use the telephone.

If lightning catches you out of doors, stay away from metal objects. Keep clear of fences, telephone or power lines, pipelines or structural steel fabrication. It is also unsafe to handle flammable material in open containers during lightning storms.

Seek shelter in buildings when possible, and remember that automobiles offer excellent lightning protection. Otherwise the best course is to lie low in a cave, ditch or canyon. If such protection is not available, simply crouch in the open.

Stay away from trees, poles and hills. The worst place to be is under a tree on a hill.

Get out of the water and off small boats.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60633

THE HOPE OF GLORY

We are taught in Romans 5 that the believer in Christ receives justification, peace with God, access to God and the "hope" or anticipation of sharing His glory some day. God wants His children to enjoy this coming glory; to live in eager anticipation of it.

How much there is to humiliate us here in this life! God created man in His own image and likeness, but man sinned and fell from his exalted position. To Adam God said: "Cursed is the ground because of thee; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life."

Since that dreadful day man's life has been a constant struggle. Everything tends to go wrong rather than right. Each has his share of trouble, sorrow, sickness and then — death, the greatest humiliation of all, when in sickness and pain, or at best in utter weakness, he must give up this life itself.

Sin and the fall! This is what modern science and philosophy fail to face up to. Most popular scientists and philosophers today hold that man has come up from the slime pit and the ape to modern man; that man is improving all the time. But the truth of God's Word is that man has fallen through sin and is growing worse morally and spiritually until now he can kill more of his fellowmen faster than he ever could before.

But it is this fact, this fact of sin and the fall that God has so graciously provided for. He took all the suffering and shame, paid all the penalty for our sins and then rose from the dead so that we might rejoice in the hope, the eager anticipation, of glory to come!

As St. Peter puts it in I Pet. 1:3: "He hath begotten us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead."

As men gathered round the cross one awful day, they shook their heads at Christ and said, "Shame! Shame!" As a result the universe will one day look upon redeemed sinners and say: "What glory!" And so we believers in Christ "rejoice in hope (in eager anticipation) of the glory of God."

The offering, which was contributed by participants in the church's Vacation Bible School, will go to the Good Samaritan Home in Houston.

St. John's Lutheran Church To Aid Good Samaritan Home

Offerings received during the Vacation Bible School at St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat will be given to the Good Samaritan Home in Houston, according to Rev. Martin M. Platzer, pastor. Those attending Bible School gave offerings that totaled $68.75.

The Good Samaritan Home is a residence for the mentally retarded. It is supported by Lutherans throughout the nation, but principally by three core districts - Texas, Oklahoma and the Southern districts. These regions are administrative areas of the Lutheran Church.

The programs of Good Samaritan Home go beyond actual residency and training programs for the residents. Community and congregational services will also be offered in what will ultimately be a total program for the retarded, their families and professional and non-professional workers.

Vacation Bible School at St. John's ended June 15 at 3:30 p.m. with the closing service, which included a presentation of the various classes as well as songs and a sermonette by Rev. Platzer.

County Vandalism - -

Break-In Reported At Allsup's 7-11

Parmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace this week reported a burglary at Allsup's 7-11, 701 Ave. A, Farwell. The incident was discovered about 5:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 10, by store manager Dorothy Hapke, when she went to open the store.

According to Sheriff Lovelace, entry was gained by breaking the glass in the front window. The newspaper rack in front of the store was used as a shield against the broken glass.

Items reported missing included cigarettes, 10 pocket knives, two men's wrist watches, two pistols that shoot blanks, two boxes of ammunition and the two cash registers had been emptied. The two watches were valued at approximately $50 and $29.

Two suspects in the case have been arrested. Marty Dupuy, 17, of Albuquerque was picked up by Sheriff's officers on Thursday, June 13, at 105 Ave. A in Farwell, and his cousin, Rocky Dupuy, 17, of Farwell was picked up at 116 San Andres on Friday, June 14.

The two youths were arraigned and bond set at $1,500 on each. They were bound over for grand jury action. Marty Dupuy was released on bond and Rocky Dupuy is still in custody.

Following the arrests, Sheriff Lovelace reported the recovery of nine pocket knives, 10 cartons of cigarettes and both pistols.

Several instances of vandalism last Tuesday night, June 11, were reported in an area between Friona and Bovina. Eight different farmers reported damage to tractors, irrigation motors and several maintainers suffered busted glass.

According to Sheriff Lovelace, approximately $4,000 to $5,000 in damages were incurred during these series of vandalisms.

Tom Beauchamp, who is in charge of land belonging to Ray Carter, reported Monday that irrigation bowls were taken from beside a well located four miles north of Bovina on Highway 1731.

Alternators and other parts were taken from irrigation motors belonging to W. E. Buske and Mike Riethmeyer, north and east of Friona. The incident was reported to the Sheriff's office Monday.

Soil Conservation Applies To Farmer, City Dweller

When you think soil conservation you generally think farmers and ranchers. Leon Grissom, chairman of the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District says "Taint necessarily so". Soil conservation includes city people with their erosion and soils problems.

Just recently M.C. Osborn was considering a site for a home. He contacted the local SCS and was given information about the soil on which he was going to build. He found that the soil type would effect the type of foundation he would need. He also found out that galvanized pipe would corrode rapidly and that properly laid plastic pipe would be better. He also found that septic tanks had particular problems, too.

"It is not only the farmer or rancher that we can assist now," said Grissom, "but about anyone having soil problems or questions." He suggested seeing the SCS in Friona.

Growth In Infancy

A child's first two years of life mark striking, radical changes, one authority points out.

She's Mrs. Jane Fleischer Moss, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"During his first two years, a child changes from a helpless newborn -- lying flat on his back -- to a high-powered pedestrian who investigates and conquers everything in reach.

"Physically, he grows almost 12 inches -- and gains at least 15 pounds -- during this time."

This physical growth also affects a child's total growth pattern. Physical changes bring on different sleeping, eating and elimination habits, the specialist noted.

"For example, when activity increases, sleeping hours decrease.

"Also, as he grows, he learns control over his body -- a continuous process covering many years."

Personal care affects an infant from the time he's born.

Mrs. Moss emphasized that a child isn't born a social person -- he learns. Social growth, she explained, involves interaction between infant and people in his environment.

"Personal care an infant receives from the time he's born is an important part of social growth.

"During the first several weeks of life, a newborn reacts with self-contained indifference when satisfied -- and with undirected, tearful rage if not satisfied, when his whole world seems wet and hungry.

"At this time, people and things seem the same to him. Later he learns to distinguish between them.

"Soon he begins to study people's faces -- and before long, he actively demands company.

"After six or seven months, an infant learns that some people are friendly -- others strangers -- and reacts to them early.

"Some early forms of behavior include imitation, timidity, rivalry, social cooperativeness and resistant behavior."

Emotional development comes through experiences, sensations and personal social adjustment, the specialist continued.

"Learning begins -- and continues -- from time of birth," she noted.

"Children learn through imitation, repetition and sensory perception -- as naturally as they breathe.

"However, learning takes place by degrees -- depending on maturity and readiness of the child's body, especially his brain and nervous system."

Opening Daughter's Mail

Eighteen-year-old Phyllis stalled so long in paying for a dress that the store's collection department decided to get tough. They fired off a nasty letter to Phyllis' home, where she lived with her parents.

But instead of paying the bill, she filed suit against the store for defamation of character.

"I was so mortified," she told the court. "My parents opened the letter and read all those awful things about me."

However, the court said the store could not fairly have expected the letter to be read by anyone else. Denying Phyllis' claim, the court said it is simply not customary nowadays for parents to open the mail of an 18-year-old girl.

When should you assume that a letter you send may be read by someone other than the addressee? This question, which is sometimes crucial in a defamation suit, is usually answered on the basis of "reasonable foreseeability" -- as in the above case.

Thus, different circumstances may bring a different answer. In another case a store wrote a letter to a 14-year-old boy, accusing him of theft and threatening to send him to prison. He showed the letter to his parents, who promptly brought a defamation suit on their son's behalf.

In its defense, the store argued that the boy had only himself to blame for making the contents known to others. But the court held the store liable anyhow. The court said that with a boy so young and a letter so menacing, it was reasonably foreseeable that he would show it to his parents.

One correspondent tried something tricky. He wrote several scurrilous letters to a neighbor, but mailed them to the addresses of other people on the block -- and he left the envelopes unsealed.

Each of the recipients peeked at the contents before passing the letter along. This was grounds, a court ruled afterward, for holding the letter writer liable for making his statements public. The court felt he had not only expected but actually counted on human curiosity to work just as it did.

"The doctor who delivered me gave me my unusual German name," says Douise (Mrs. Jerry) Ellison. (That's right, it is spelled with a "D".) Born in England, Ark., our homemaker moved with her family to Bovina when she was in the fourth grade. She has two sisters and five brothers.

She and her husband met on a double date, she recalls. "I was with his best friend, and next time we switched dates." They were married on September 26, 1959. The couple lived in Clovis until July of 1972, when they moved to Farwell.

Her husband is in partnership in an electric and mechanical company. The Ellisons designed and built their own home here in Farwell, moving in before it was completed. She says it still isn't finished, although it is not noticeable.

Douise is a person of many interests. She enjoys landscaping, tennis, and bowling, and thinks she would like to paint if she only had the time. She and her husband had always enjoyed playing tennis after dark when it was cool until they moved to Farwell. Since there are no lights on the courts here, they have had to discontinue this practice. She is a member of the Wednesday Morning Coffee League (bowling) and the Pleasant Hill Extension Club. Since it took a whole year to hook the rug that is in front of their fireplace, our homemaker is not too fond of crafts. "What I really like to do is to go to Lubbock and Amarillo to musical programs!" she exclaimed.

Both Douise and Jerry enjoy designing and making furniture. Jerry has done some lamps and a beautiful china closet for their home, and Douise designed a large credenza which is in their upstairs hall. I must say, all these things are very professionally done. Her main love is her drapery business, Ellison's Drapery, which she conducts with the help of her friend and neighbor, Mrs. Elnora Kube. There is a special workroom in the upstairs part of their home for this purpose.

The Ellisons have two children. Timmy Lynn, who is an

Serves As Sponsor

Mrs. Joyce Hargrove, David and Steve returned June 15 from Lake Lavon Baptist Encampment, north of Dallas, where she served as a sponsor for a youth retreat.

Thirty high school youth from First Baptist Church in Clovis attended the retreat. The trip was made on the First Baptist Church travel bus.

The group departed from Clovis June 10 and returned June 15. On June 14 the group enjoyed a day at Six Flags Over Texas.

Returning with the Hargroves was Mrs. Hargrove's niece, Tandy Keene, four, of Mineral Wells, who will be visiting for two weeks.

Relatives Visit Craft Family

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lewis and son John of Hawthorne, Calif., arrived in Farwell Monday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craft. Mrs. Lewis is Mr. Craft's sister.

The Lewis family departed in mid-week for a trip to Berwick, Pa., where they will visit with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Max Lewis.

En route back to California the Lewises will stop again in Farwell to visit the Crafts. Both families plan to attend the "Texas" production at Palo Duro Canyon at that time.

Good Nutrition by Dorothy M. Rathmann, Ph.D.

Carbohydrate More Important Than You Think

Fad diets that emphasize low carbohydrate have led to confusion about our need for this nutrient.

The major role of carbohydrate (sugars and starches in the foods we eat) is to provide the body with energy. Although all three major nutrients (protein, fat and carbohydrate) help satisfy the body's energy needs, most of our calories should come from carbohydrate. One carbohydrate, dextrose, is so important a nutrient that if the body does not have enough it will manufacture a supply by breaking down protein.

To date, no Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) has been established for carbohydrate, but most of us require at least 100 grams (or 400 calories) daily.

An active person may quickly deplete his supply of carbohydrate and therefore should include some carbohydrate in most meals.

Preferably, everyone should eat enough carbohydrate to provide at least half of the body's total energy needs. Or to turn it around, half of the calories we use should come from carbohydrate sources.

Can a clothes dryer be vented into an existing chimney?

No clothes dryer, gas or electric, should be connected to a chimney, flue or vent serving another appliance. The moisture from clothes dryers should be exhausted outdoors to keep the air inside the house from becoming moisture saturated.

Is it true that clothes dryers cause white clothes to turn yellow?

Discoloration of clothes is usually due to improper laundry procedures, such as soap or detergent buildup caused by inadequate rinsing. The heat of any dryer will cause discoloring if proper laundry procedures are not followed. To avoid yellowing, do not overload the washer, use the recommended measured amount of soap or detergent in the wash water and be sure the clothes are thoroughly rinsed.

Preferably, everyone should eat enough carbohydrate to provide at least half of the body's total energy needs. Or to turn it around, half of the calories we use should come from carbohydrate sources.

DOES YOUR FERTILIZER CONTAIN SULPHUR?

You used to take sulfur for granted. You can't afford to anymore. Environmental controls have reduced the amount of sulfur in the air. You don't get carry-over you once did from sulfur dust insecticides and fungicides.

How can you economically furnish sulfur to your crop? Use Smith-Douglass Pelleform. It gives you not only nitrogen, phosphorus and potash but sulfur... plus Trel, Smith-Douglass' exclusive formula of trace elements. And it's all combined in every clean, green pellet. Pelleform's easy handling, even spreading.

Rely on Pelleform Bermuda Booster to produce high-yielding pasture. The sulfur in Bermuda Booster is important to cattle. The Texas Plant Food Institute Newsletter reports that sulfur helps control nitrate accumulation to minimize losses from grass tetany and nitrate poisoning.

Pelleform comes in a special analysis for peanuts. Extra amounts of calcium and potash help produce good yields of firm, heavy, high-quality nuts.

You'll like Pelleform. It's the kind of complete and balanced fertilizer you need to make money from farming today. Talk to your Smith-Douglass man!

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

On The Farm In Farmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

Because corn uses more water than most major crops grown in West Texas, precise irrigation practices play an important role in boosting yields.

Leon New, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, states that irrigations during high water use stages of plant growth contributes heavily to high corn yields. Only slight increases are obtained by watering during stages when the plant's water use is less.

"It is important to keep the plant's seasonal water use pattern in mind when planning irrigations," New advises. "This can boost yields and at the same time cut pumping costs."

Water use is low during the plant's vegetative growth when the first five to six leaves are unfolding. It is best to have only moderate soil moisture to support plant growth at this time. Usually, preplant irrigation or early rainfall is adequate for this early stage. Any irrigation normally contributes little to corn yields and tends to encourage shallow rooting and excessive vegetative growth.

In fact, lush plants grown under high soil moisture levels early in the season often require more water later and compete for moisture that is important in producing top corn yields.

The plant's water use increases rapidly after six to eight permanent leaves have appeared, he says. Plants are likely to be about knee-high but will grow four or five feet during the following five to six weeks.

Cattlemen who are faced with grub infestations in their stock should consider control measures.

In the High Plains region heel flies have laid their eggs on cattle and the grub larvae have penetrated the skin, beginning their migration through the body. Since these larvae are more effectively controlled when they are small, cattlemen should be stepping up their treatments now.

Cattle grubs damage the animals in a number of ways. Cattle infested with grubs may produce less milk which in turn results in less weight gain of calves. The affected animals are more restless and excitable, generally causing a breakdown in the normal health of the cattle. Grubs usually reach the back of the animal in late summer, fall or winter, forming breathing holes through the skin and developing a "cyst" just under the skin. This penetration damages the hide and depreciates the value of the animal on the market.

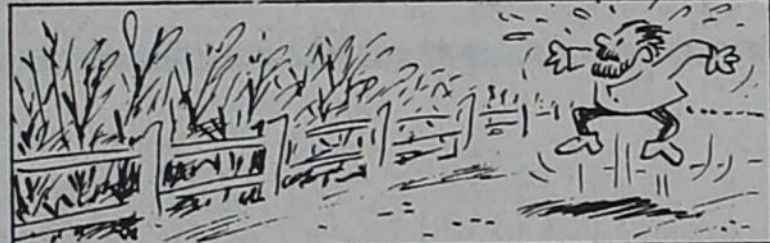

Although cattle grubs can be killed after they reach the animal's back, earlier control is best, particularly in beef cattle.

Systemic insecticides, which are administered as sprays, dips, pour-ons or feed or mineral additives, are distributed through the animal's body by the circulatory system, destroying the grubs by contact action.

Grubicides suggested for control are coumaphos (Co-Ral), crufomate (Ruelene), prolate, trichlorfon (Neguvon), fampur (Warbex), Fenthion (Tiguvon) and ronnel. All of these grubicides are animal systemics.

Treating for grub control and drenching the animals should not be done on the same day. Sick animals or those under stress should not be treated.

The label on treatment containers should be checked carefully before application for instructions on treating various cattle breeds. Precautions and directions should be adhered to strictly.

Peasants of Germany and Bohemia have adhered to the custom of leaping high, for as high as they can leap, that's how high their crops will grow!
