Jacks And Stallions Available to Farmers

AUSTIN—In order to help meet the growing demand for saddle and draft horses and mules, Texas farmers and stockmen who need a stallion or jack should make application immediately to the Jack and Stallion Division of the State Department of Agriculture, Austin.

The department issued that statement today with the announcement that there are now several of the state-owned jacks and stallions available. The stallions include Belgian, percheron and saddle types.

The animals may be leased by farmers or stockmen for $30 yearly, with the remuneration to be derived from breeding fees. The fee limit is $10. The animals will be delivered to the leasor free of charge by the department.

Curtailed supplies of rubber and gasoline is expected to bring about a greater demand for horses and mules, and thereby increase the demand for the services of the state-owned jacks and stallions. It is estimated that the state animals have already increased the wealth of the state by about $3,000,000 although since its creation in 1934, the Jack and Stallion Division has never cost the people of the state a penny for its upkeep and administration.

Things Men Should Do When Entering Service

The Red Cross Home Service Committee has requested that the following be brought to the attention of all persons who are going into the armed forces and all persons who are now serving and still in the United States:

1. It is very important, as well as practical, every soldier grant a power of attorney. This eliminates frantic and sometimes useless efforts to reach a soldier by letter, wire or telephone when it is necessary to make an important decision involving the soldier's business or personal affairs.

2. Before leaving home or immediately after arriving at camp, every soldier should make arrangements for his allotments—the amount to be paid and the person or persons to whom the money is to be sent.

3. While insurance is not compulsory, every soldier who wishes to carry insurance should make arrangements as soon as he arrives at camp to take out his policy, designate the beneficiary and decide upon how much insurance he wishes to carry, and then advise the beneficiary of his decision.

4. The army requires that every soldier give an emergency addressee. This is the person who is notified in case any emergency arises which requires the notification of a close relative or friend. This can be any person the soldier wishes, but he must decide when he leaves home or immediately after arriving at camp whom he wishes to have notified.

Pity those who have no children. The only way to be sure of friends in your old age is to raise your own.

DATE ON COTTON LOANS EXTENDED INDEFINITELY

COLLEGE STATION—All 1941 cotton loans have been extended for an indefinite period. Maturity date previously was July 31, 1942.

The new plan, under which the Commodity Credit Corporation will continue to carry the loans, permits producers to repay their loans and obtain possession of the pledged cotton or sell their equity after July 31, 1942, in the same manner as prior to the maturity date of the notes.

Lending agencies holding Certificates of Interest in 1941 cotton producers' loans will be permitted to carry certificates after July 31, 1941, under terms of agreement with CCC. The certificates will bear interest at 1 per cent per annum.

Cooperative marketing associations also will be permitted to continue loans held for their members under 1941 CCC cotton Form G, after July 31, and the rate of interest to the associations on advances made to members will be the same as for lending agencies, according to P. C. Colgin, state AAA commodity loan specialist.

The new agreement for lending agencies and amended cotton Form G will be forwarded to lending agencies and cooperative marketing associations by Commodity Credit Corporation, Colgin said.

H. J. R. NO. 1

A JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49, a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

Paint Supplies Are Rapidly Diminishing

COLLEGE STATION—Before long, paints of many types are going to become scarce.

Mrs. Bernice Celaytor, specialist in home improvement for the A. & M. College Extension Service, says shortages will be felt especially in paints, varnishes, and enamels for interiors. The reason is these require natural or synthetic resins. For some time synthetic resins have been earmarked for exclusive war use, and lately the War Production Board has ordered a 50 per cent cut in the amount of natural resins manufactured for civilian purposes.

Here are some of the specialist's suggestions for choosing and using interior paints to the best advantage. Semi-gloss paint, which washes well and is not too harsh in appearance, is suitable for kitchens and bathrooms. Flat paint gives a "soft" appearance and is best for large areas such as walls and ceilings. It soils less quickly than gloss paint, but will not stand up as well under washing.

Calcimine is the cheapest wall paint available. Though it cannot be cleaned it can be washed off entirely and a new coat applied. The specialist cautions, "Don't use calcimine on smooth woodwork or on walls which have been covered with oil paint." The coating eventually will chip off and make later re-painting far harder.

Enamel should be used only on very smooth surfaces, for it makes holes, chips, and scars more noticeable. Homemakers who want to avoid the trouble of sandpapering and planing uneven surfaces, should use a gloss or semi-gloss paint instead of enamel.

duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

WAR COMES FIRST

The weight of war on the telephone lines grows heavier every day. We can't build new lines and switchboards to carry the load because copper, aluminum, rubber and other materials needed for telephone equipment are vital war materials as well. What facilities we have must serve as fully as possible.

Telephone subscribers themselves hold a great part of the answer. Here are some ways in which you can cooperate:

- 1 Limit long distance usage to necessary calls and be as brief as possible. The longer lines, particularly those to the Pacific Coast states and east of the Mississippi River, are especially busy, and calls to these areas should not be made unless they are very important or relate to the war effort.
- 2 If your call is delayed please do not ask the operator for reports unless necessary. Such requests tie up switchboards.
- 3 Please do not call "Information" until you have referred to the telephone directory. Other calls such as for "time of day" should be avoided unless they are necessary.
- 4 We cannot always give you the type of equipment you desire. In some cases we can furnish no new local service, and in general only party-line service. Considerate use of party-line service is neighborly and particularly helpful at this time.
- 5 Long telephone conversations not only tie up the two lines that are connected but also the central office equipment that is common to many lines. Please use the service moderately. A long unnecessary conversation may delay a call essential to the war effort.

We are confident of your continuing cooperation in this emergency.

There has always been a lot of reasons why poultry should receive attention on our farms. Today there is even more reason for us to consider that poultry and eggs make up a big part of our farm production. Poultry ranks fourth in total income produced on Texas farms in 1941. The only crops or livestock which exceeded poultry were cotton, beef cattle and dairying. Eggs, like milk, are one of the most complete foods consumed by men. Today's methods of drying eggs make them a product which is easy to keep on storage without refrigeration and make them easy to transport to places where needed by our armies and our allies.

The first thing to consider in poultry is large production. Of course, there is still a place for the small farm flock but with today's high prices every farm should have from 75 to 500 laying hens. Good production means better care of hens and better marketing as well as a means of demanding a better market thru mass handling by dealers.

In spite of good egg prices which farmers and poultrymen are receiving now they are losing a good margin of profit by improper handling of eggs before they reach the produce house. At some egg-breaking plants the losses from bad eggs run as high as 5%. This loss, of course, is passed back to the producer by lower prices which means a loss of $3,000.00 per day to Texas poultrymen. Good eggs can be produced in warm weather only by killing or selling all male birds, keeping clean nests, gathering eggs two to three times per day, and by keeping the eggs cool until marketed. None of these items requires much trouble or cash. It is simply a matter of care and attention. If you are going to take the time to produce eggs, then take enough time and make your poultry

Demonstration Club Notes

By Special Staff Reporters

Rhea Club

Friday night, July 31, the families of Rhea community gathered at the school house to enjoy an outdoor supper. After the fire was built and the kettle set up the men collected in groups on the outside edge of the firelight, while others went into the building to play "42" and dominoes.

The women had the center of the stage around the kettle and after many jokes were told and tears shed from the smoke, young and old went called to supper of fried chicken and potatoes and all that goes with it.

It was our first get-together since harvest and each one enjoyed it immensely.

Lakeview Club

The club met Tuesday, July 28 at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. T. A. O'Brien for their social meeting. After necessary business was disposed of an hour of fun and game contests was enjoyed, with prizes going to the best singers and quickest thinkers.

Visitors present were Mesdames E. H. Cummings, Mercer and Fields, and Miss Dorothy Sue Cummings; members included Mmes. Joe Pittman, Owen Ford, D. O. Robason, Ralph Durstine, C. A. routine adequate to produce the type of eggs which must be produced to sell good. That boy who is now in the army and who may have been your son, your brother, your nephew, or maybe your neighbor's boy needs good eggs to eat. He has plenty of bad eggs to fight.

The Parmer County Commissioners met in session here Monday. The minutes reveal that only routine matters, such as payment of current bills and approving the minutes of the previous meeting, were taken up.

DRYING CORN

By Elsie Cunningham
Home Demonstration Agent
When one talks about food this time of year corn is sure to come into the conversation. Americans who don't like corn are few and far between. Whether it is white or yellow, grows on long ears or short, is served on the cob or off, corn is a favorite food with most people.

Right now there's fresh corn straight from the fields. But before long and all too soon the season will have passed, so if you want corn later you must do something about it now.

Canning, freezing or drying are good ways to preserve corn. Most housewives are well acquainted with canning methods and I'll not discuss putting corn in the freezing locker this time. If you need information about canning or freezing just drop me a card.

Now that the war has brought a shortage of canning equipment, the old art of DRYING food is coming to the fore and adding science to it. This method can be used by every homemaker in Parmer County in her Food for Freedom program.

There are two ways to dry corn—by controlled heat or by the sun. You need special equipment for drying by controlled heat. If you don't have it you may dry by the sun, even though it does take longer.

Any good table corn, picked when it's just right to eat, is right for drying. Work quickly, corn should never be allowed to stand around after it is taken from the field.

First, husk the corn and remove any blemishes it may have. You don't have to silk it because the silks separate easily from the kernels when they're dried. Steam the corn until the milk is "set"—this will require about 10 minutes.

You'll find a pressure cooker ideal for steaming corn, but if you don't have one any steamer, large kettle or deep container that has a tight cover will do. Steam the corn in a wire basket or colander set above the boiling water level.

When through steaming or boiling the corn, drain it, cool and cut from the cob. Then spread it on your drying trays, about 1/2 to 3-4 inches deep and dry the corn at 130 to 140 degrees Fahrenheit if you have controlled heat. Stir it while it's drying to separate the kernels. When it is thoroughly dry it should be hard, brittle and semi-transparent—and the kernels should break cleanly when you crush them.

As soon as it's really dry, seal the corn in moisture-proof containers. Then store in a cool, dark, dry place. And examine it once in a while. If there's any sign of moisture, reheat and reseal in containers.

Now about equipment. Controlled heat gives the best results for drying. You can control heat in the oven of your stove, above the stove with an oil heater or by the use of light bulbs. (You can get full instructions at my office if you are interested in drying by controlled heat.)

You can dry a small lot of corn by sun quite successfully on wire trays or screens, or slat trays covered with thin cloth which let air circulate under the corn as well as over it. Or spread corn on clean boards, heavy paper or clean cloth held in place by laths.

Corn happens to be particularly easy to dry and does not require any fancy equipment, in fact, it dries quite satisfactorily in a flour sack. Put a small amount—about a quart—in a flour sack, fasten the ends securely, pin it over the clothes line—one pint in each end of the sac. Give it a shake two or three times each day as you pass. Be sure to take it in at night or whenever it looks like rain. I would not recommend that you try this nonchalant method with fruits, though.

Dried corn is quite a delicacy and, "believe it or not", it's hard to get and expensive. Recently, I was sauntering around in a specialty food store and found dried corn sold in that store at 75c per pound. Let's be exclusive in 1942 and have some home-dried corn.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR FRIENDS

Don't make the mistake of neglecting your best friends during these days of rush and scarcity of labor.

We should keep in mind that our chickens and cows have played an important part in good times and bad times in the past and they will continue to do it when they are given the proper care and attention.

We could be accused of having a selfish motive in this suggestion—we do want to buy your cream, eggs and chickens.
