

Germans Just Over Border Are Becoming Alarmed.

Washington, —The American offensive at their very doors and stories of a long-range gun about to be turned loose on their towns is giving the war a new aspect to the Germans. An official dispatch from France today says there are evidences of excitement everywhere across the German border and quotes the following from the Mulhausen Tageblatt:

"The American offensive in upper Alsace and the long-range gun supposed to be intended to reduce to ashes the towns of this country is madly alarming the inhabitants. Even people of a high rank tremble at the news like little children listening to ghost stories. Of course, the evacuation of Mulhausen and the whole of Alsace is again in question and it is said that all measures for the actual evacuation of the Grand Duchy from Baden to Friburg have already been taken."

The German papers remind those who spread such rumors of the punishment they may incur and say there is not the slightest reason for anxiety, but at the same time continue to publish the reports.

"Win The War" Is Washington's Sole Aim, Says Peden.

Houston, —"Washington's definite and positive program is to win the war next year," said State Food Administrator Peden, who has returned from Washington, where the 48 food administrators held a conference with Herbert Hoover.

Hoover has just returned from Europe, where he attended food conference of the allied nations.

By ending the war in 1919, Peden says, we can not only save possibly millions of lives but billions of treasure. He urges that every thought and every energy must be concentrated upon the one major operation.

Moving Picture Actors Make Films For Liberty Loan

Washington, Sept. —Moving picture stars in special screen acts will furnish probably the most distinctive advertising feature of the Fourth Liberty Loan, which opens Sept. 28. Plans for the campaign, show that thirty-five different productions averaging 370 feet of film each, have been prepared and will be released during the three weeks' drive by leading film exchanges so that each of the 17,000 movie theaters in the country will have a new four-minute Liberty Loan feature every three days.

The actors and their managers paid for the film productions, contributing services and materials of an estimated value of $1,000,000, and the Government paid for the 4,000 duplicate films of about $50,000, or about $3 for each theatre in the country.

The plays include some comedy theme, most of them teach the lesson of bond buying in tensely dramatic stories.

$5.00 Premium For The Biggest Maize Heads.

F. J. Doose offers Five Dollars ($5.00) for five of the largest maize heads grown in this part of the country.

Mr. Doose has heard the farmers discussing as to who has the largest maize heads this year, and, of course, each one thinks his is the larger! So Mr. Doose will give them a chance to decide the matter.

The premium will be awarded Saturday afternoon, September 28, at Mr. Doose's office in the rear of J. H. Nabors' store.

THE BOY OVER THERE

Home's looking lonesome and trouble to spare,
But you think of a boy Over There!
And it's help to the heart with the crosses to bear—
That thought of a boy Over There!
Rain for the eyes when we saw him depart,
But he's fighting the battle with Home in his heart!
Wide waste of waters and far ways to roam,
But he's fighting for Home.

There's a woman a-dreaming when shadows fall drear—
Dreams of a boy Over There;
And there's Light in the dream and the Light is a prayer
Of Love for a boy Over There.
Of Love that went with him and made the way
bright—
Strength of the battle and sword in the fight!
And the dream and the prayer find their way o'er the foam
Where he's fighting for Home.

Home's looking lonesome—the cross and the care,
But—a boy's Over There!
And it's great to be glimpsing the glory he'll wear
With the boys Over There!
That's the heal for the hurt—that's the peace and the pride:
—He came when his country called sons to her side!
And not from the Love of a Mother they roam
When they're fighting for Home!

A Letter From Rupert Paul.

Camp Dix, N. J.,
Mon. Sept. 9, 1918.

Dear Parents:
I will try to write you a few lines to say that I am well and feeling fine.

Well, I went to Atlantic City yesterday, and sure had a time. We started from here at 7:30 in the morning, arrived there before 10 o'clock. That place is 91 miles from here. The ticket cost $3.40 for a round trip. It was raining when we left here so I borrowed a rain coat before starting. This was a slow rain and kept falling all day.

The people of the city met us at the train and showed us around town until noon. The best hotels in the U. S. gave us our dinner, so you may know we had something to eat. I am sending a clipping from today's Philadelphia paper, it tells about our taking dinner in Atlantic.

I was talking to a man on the Million Dollar pier, he asked me where we boys ate, when I told him he could hardly believe it. He said only millionaires stay there they charge $12.00 per day and up for board.

After dinner we looked out for ourselves. Every place was open for us soldiers. I liked the Steeple Claste pier best, as it had the most amusements. Everything funny. Yes, it was better than any show there.

We also saw the ocean but could not see very far because the weather was so bad. There was a few bathers, altho the water was rough.

I also saw the rolling chairs. The fellows charge 75 cents and $1.00 per hour for pushing them. All the young men have gone to war there. The people sure treat the soldiers fine. They gave us our supper and took us to the train in cars.

Every body that went yesterday sure was well pleased with the trip. All the boys that I saw said they had the best time of their lives, and I say we did.

Our Individual Part.

Some observers think that the most characteristic thing about the American soldiers in France, something which astounds the enemy and excites the admiration of our allies, is the capacity of the American soldiers to do individual thinking and fighting. The German fights successfully only in mass formation, in organized bodies, while every American soldier has an initiative and independence of action which gives him remarkable efficiency in open fighting. They are not senseless cogs, but each is an individual working unit in a great fighting machine.

Every American at home should feel an individual responsibility and do his or her individual part in winning the war. There is not an American citizen who can not help win the war. The Fourth Liberty Loan drive, which begins September 28, offers a great opportunity for concerted action and for individual action, and the loan will be a tremendous success if each American will do his or her individual part as each American soldier in France does his part. Our soldiers deserve such support from the people at home.

Dollar-a-Gallon Gas.

While we in America shudder at every half cent increase in the price of gasoline and tax our inventive brain to produce some effective substitute for that useful power producing liquid, Maori natives in far-away New Zealand buy $1 a gallon gasoline without a change in the expression of their stoical oriental countenances, push up the throttle of their trucks and speed away to a distant ranch for another load of wool.

What care these natives for the price of gasoline, for they have proved that motor trucks of the right kind are far cheaper than oxen or burros for transporting the products of the far inland ranches to the seaboard. It is estimated that 80 per cent of all the motor trucks used on these islands are used in transporting wool. Some of the ranches are as much as ninety miles inland and the roads nar-

"A GOOD FRONT."

A famous self-made man once declared that if he were out of a job and had only $20, he'd spend the "twenty" for a new suit of clothes, because he knew how important it was to make a favorable first impression—that is, he would put up a "good front."

And that's all right. But another man—who lived a long time ago—but whose influence will probably be felt long after the self-made man has been forgotten, made this observation:

"If I had two pence, I would buy bread with one and with the other I would buy white hyacinths for the good of my soul." The difference between the two men was that the one was concerned chiefly about the outer man, while the other was careful about the inner man.

Both bits of advice are valuable and both are necessary. But the old sage who advised that the inner man be built up first was the wiser of the two, for the soul of a man is of greater importance.

You can't hide a starved soul by putting up a good front—it's bound to show thru.

And, to those who see, it makes a man look hungrier and more pitiful than he who wears a shiny coat and dines on a crust of bread.

Tune—"Old Black Joe." Words by A. J. T.
Gone are the boys, for o'er the sea they dwell;
Gone are the days, of which we like to tell;
Gone are the fears, for Sammies guard the road,
The sound of Truth keeps singing now,
De-moc-racy.
CHORUS.

Raise your voices high,
And join our Dem-o-cratic singing
De-moc-racy.

This is the land of freedom and the blest;
Where he profits most who serves his fellow best.
Come, join in the song, and sing triumphantly,
Now swell those Heavenly voices singing,
De-moc-racy.

Come, join this host, and do not lag behind,
Raise heart and voice, with feelings most divine,
Send, to the skies, this sound triumphantly
And join those Angels voices singing,
De-moc-racy.

Responsibility for Good Service

IT IS tremendously important in these days of stress that the public be given good telephone service. It is vital to the Government's progress.

The responsibility for telephone facilities rests with the company; but the public has a partnership in the responsibility for good telephone service.

There are three human factors involved in a telephone call, represented by the person calling, the operator and the person called. The quality of the service depends upon the cooperation of all three.

The operator can make the connection but no words can be heard at one end of the line if they are not properly spoken into the transmitter at the other end of the line; if they are not spoken distinctly to an attentive listener.

The public can serve the service by answering promptly, speaking distinctly into the transmitter, and listening attentively.

AN ITALIAN ORCHESTRA

Will Give a Concert Here Soon.

Victor's Neapolitan Troubadours, a spectacular novelty orchestra, has been secured as one of the numbers on our Lyceum course. The orchestra is composed of five accomplished Italian musicians each a soloist on one or unusual combinations. Their offerings are of both classical and popular music and they aim to please the tastes of even the most varied audience without lowering the dignity of their selections. They play some descriptive numbers that are wonderful in their initiative effects.

In addition to their many instrumental combinations they also offer vocal solos, trios and quartets. Some of their numbers are selections from well-known operas.

The company is organized and coached by Calefaty and Leonard C. Victor of Italian band fame. Care has been exercised in selecting the indi-more instruments. There are both string and brass instruments making possible the use of orchestrations of both types.

Their appearance on the platform is somewhat striking in their beautifully embroidered colored uniforms. Their coats and knickerbocker trousers are of green velvet trimmed in gold braid and fringe. Their blouses are white with red sashes, instead of belts, and white hose and low shoes. They are indeed a well-groomed organization and present a stage picture pleasing to the eye.

The program is varied and novel, introducing many novel instruments and viduals and the character of the men is above reproach. Their programs are executed with snap and enthusiasm and just carry you off your feet. One surprise follows another in quick succession and we wonder how many different things they can do. One might think they would tire working so continuously, but there seems to be no limit to their supply of pep and they continue to come before us smiling and apparently enjoying each number with us.

This is one of the big numbers on the course and you should buy your admissions early if you haven't a season ticket.

CANNON BALL MOTOR COMPANY

THE LARGEST ORGANIZATION OF ITS KIND IN THE WEST.

MAP SHOWS LOCATION OF CANNON BALL MOTOR COMPANY

A Stateline location with advantages of freight rates over two large states viz: Texas and New Mexico and being centrally located in the Southwest, far removed from the Eastern Automobile Center, near the base of the largest field of supply makes TEXICO the most favored location to establish an Industrial Center.

On the right is shown a picture of the administration building of the Cannon Ball Motor Company, with a group of visitors who visited its home office on April 12th 1918. This is beyond question one of the most modern three story brick buildings in the middle southwest, comprising 23 office rooms and clerical apartments including cafe, barber shop, demonstration rooms, company garage, etc., with all modern conveniences and facilities. This building and its equipment represents a cost of more than $60,000 and is fully paid.

That the Cannon Ball Motor Company is making wonderful progress is evidenced by the illustration shown on this page. Our Six-Sixty, "Star of the Highway" models are now finished and will be on our demonstration floors in a few days. Designs are complete and truck models as illustrated below are being rushed to completion. Contract has been let for the construction of the first unit of the factory building at Texico and actual work will soon be under way.

With administration building complete! With factory building now going under construction; with three distinct designed and modeled cars actually manufactured and on our floor; with truck model almost complete; with more than 2,000 stockholders; with enough Bills Receivable to erect, equip and operate a large plant and with one of the most efficient working organizations that any company has ever acquired, and all of this has been done within a period of ten months. It is conservative to state that such wonderful progress has never been equalled in the industrial field.

We have now had ninety-nine (99) additions and began the new year by baptising two and receiving one by letter. Now why is it that we can make such a report in the face of such unusual financial conditions? The church has more than doubled the pastor's salary and yet reports "paid up."—There is just one answer—"God is with us!"

Look For Big Foreign Trade.

American automobile manufacturers believe that their export sales will be greatly stimulated, especially after the war is won, as a result of the establishment of a Federal bureau to encourage international commerce with the Orient.

This new bureau is similar to the Government Trade Commission that has accomplished such splendid results in furthering our commercial relations with the Central and South American republics in the last four years.

Texico School Notes.

School is still growing, with good attendance and punctuality.

Palma Mordicai, one of Texico's former students was a pleasant visitor last week. He leaves soon to attend school in Texas, where he will be under military training.

Rev. L. L. Thurston was a welcome caller last week. Always glad to have patrons call at the school.

Miss Madge Nichols, the music teacher ha. arrived and began work Tuesday.

The grammar school boys are jubilant over their victory in ball game Friday with Farwell boys. Score 14 to 12.

The grammar school girls have organized a ball team and thrown their hats into the ring.

The spirit of King Solomon still remains in the 8th grade.

Maurice and Maurine Wright were absent Monday on account of the sale at their home.

Pupil: "Wonder what we will do if we freeze to death?"

Teacher: "Perhaps you will thaw out in yonders world."

Sam Haynes beat out a race track around the diamond Friday.

The Texico High School boys are organizing their teams. They expect to enter the athletic field this season and put Texico on the map.

The High School girls anticipate a large share of that honor with the boys. Now watch them.

Mr. Hungate's smiling face was seen in the Texico school Monday. Come again, Mr. Hungate, you are a welcome visitor.

Louie Paul is reported absent this week.

Oh! how those teachers and students will smile when they get into the new building.

The students expect an excellent domestic science teacher—judging from the time it takes to choose one—

"O! those heel-hurts," cries the ball team.

DO YOU KNOW?

Who saw free comedy Sunday?

Who walked home with Teddy B.?

Who has not ceased to laugh and talk since school began?

Who can't get thru the door?

Why the pupils are pounding their teachers with sweets?—

("Cause they're sour.")

Who went buggy riding Sunday?

That teachers like good things to eat?

That our "wireless" is performing fine. Not neutral, but mutual.

BUSY BODY.
