County Jail Is Certified

The Parmer County Jail recently became the first in this area to be certified by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards. On hand this week to complete the final inspection for the certification was Supervising Inspector Joe Slater.

In a statement to the Parmer County officials Slater said, "On behalf of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards I am proud to present this Certificate of Compliance for the Parmer County jail."

"Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts and the four County Commissioners, Sheriff Charles Lovelace and his able staff are to be commended on this splendid accomplishment.

This is not due to one person; rather it is the combined efforts of all working together to achieve this result.

"The taxpayers should be proud to have elected officials of this caliber who are able to achieve this result with minimum costs.

"Having achieved compliance and with continued operation at this level, these people can be assured that frivolous complaints and lawsuits will not be looked upon favorably by the Federal Courts. Your compliance with the laws of the State of Texas serves to protect you as these rules and statutes have been tested and upheld on numerous state conventions are from county delegates," she said.

Painting Classes

May is National Senior Citizens Month and groups across the nation are honoring this active segment of the population. The Texico-Farwell Community Senior Citizens group has many regular activities. The ladies creating art works above are Maureen Caywood, left, and Ann Cooper. Art classes are held at the community building every second and fourth Monday night at 6:30 p.m. [MDT].

There are usually eight to 10 men involved in the potluck dinners. According to Mrs. Caywood, they don't have many activities planned especially for men but she hopes to plan more as their facilities permit. They hope to have more room when the new fire station is finished and they can expand into the present fire station. "We have a pool table that I'm sure the men would

There are two cleaning ladies and one boy who does yardwork, all for low income persons. "They just don't have enough hours in the day to help all the people who need help," said Mrs. Caywood.

Officers of the LTD Committee are John Getz, president; Lewis Cooper, vice-president; and Tony Mendoza, secretary-treasurer.

The following organizations are asked to please have representatives present for this initial planning session: City of Farwell, City of Texico, Farwell Chamber of Commerce, Texico Chamber of Com-

The Committee is made up of representatives of all civic, social and city groups in Texico and Farwell.

Officers of the LTD Committee are John Getz, president; Lewis Cooper, vice-president; and Tony Mendoza, secretary-treasurer.

The following organizations are asked to please have representatives present for this initial planning session: City of Farwell, City of Texico, Farwell Chamber of Commerce, Texico Chamber of Commerce, Farwell Jaycees, Farwell Study Club, Texico Woman's Club;

Rabies Clinic Set Next Week

A Rabies Clinic for Texico-Farwell is scheduled for Friday, May 9, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. (MDT) at the Texico City Hall. Dr. G.H. Kendall of Clovis will be in charge of the clinic for dogs and cats.

Fees for vaccinations will be reduced for the clinic. The prices will be $4 for rabies shots and $7 for distemper shots.

Rabies is a serious disease that can be transmitted to humans. Both Texico and Farwell have city ordinances requiring that all pets be vaccinated and wear registration tags. In Farwell the registration for dogs and cats is $2 each. In Texico the registration for dogs is $1.

Pet owners are urged to take advantage of the reduced prices and the convenience of the rabies clinic to have their pets vaccinated.

Certificate Of Compliance

The Parmer County jail recently was awarded a Certificate of Compliance by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards. The award was presented by Supervising In-

Sheriff's Dept. Has Busy Week

Parmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace was in Lovington, N.M., Tuesday to return two men to Parmer County for trial. The two, Robert Julian, 55, of Grand Junction, Colo., and Millard Bergland, 31, of Aberdeen, S. Dak., are charged with the February 26 burglary of the Hubert Gohlke home in the Oklahoma Lane community.

Since the two would not waive extradition, they were returned here on a Governor's Warrant. The men are under indictment by the grand jury and their trials have been set for sometime in May.

In other activity, sheriff's department officials investigated the death of L.W. Rosenkrans, 82, who was found dead at his trailer home in Bovina on Sunday. Mrs. Frances Euler, justice of the peace at Friona, ruled that there was no evidence of foul play. The man was believed to have been dead a week to 10 days when neighbors discovered his body.

Joe Martin of the Lubbock Development Company, the firm constructing the new telephone building in Farwell, reported that 46 bags of cement were taken from the construction site in Farwell sometime Monday night. The cement, valued at $184, had only been moved to the site sometime Monday and was stolen Monday night. According to Sheriff Lovelace, it was thought a pickup was used to transport the cement and that the vehicle made two trips to the site.

Billie Foster, who lives at the Hagler apartments in Farwell, reported that a blue 10-speed bicycle was missing from her home. The theft was reported April 24.

Clarence Martin who lives three miles west of Friona reported that six batteries had been taken from his irrigation wells and that welding equipment including cutting torch and gauges and a portable grinder had been taken from a toolshed at his home. Estimated value of the equipment was $450.

On Tuesday the sheriff's department transported Roger Huron, 37, of San Antonio, and Roy Threet, 26, of Clovis, to the state penitentiary at Huntsville. Huron was sentenced to five years and Threet received 20 years.

PURELY PERSONAL

by John

The rush of events over the past weekend has astounded and amazed the American people. It certainly has produced some red faces in many quarters. In fact, we hesitate to put these thoughts on paper because by the time they are read we may have the red face.

The President's abortive attempt at freeing our hostages in Iran raises many more questions than there are answers for at this time. So rather than speculate on answers as to the whys of the failure, let's devote some thought to the future. Up to this point we had rather "bought" the idea that the so-called government of Iran could not take charge of our people held captive because the extremists in the embassy would kill them if the soldiers of the Iranian government were to try to do so.

This we believe has been knocked into a cocked hat. The hostages could not have been dispersed to several other spots around the country without the abatement of the government in the process.

Therefore, we feel that it is time to go eyeball to eyeball with President Bani-Sadr and Prime Minister Ghotzadeh and tell them to produce our people forthwith or they and all those connected with their government will be held accountable in the final resolution.

It is time to let them know that we look upon the extremists and the government officials as equally culpable in this transgression of moral and international law.

Very probably this will not produce any results so the next order of speculation concerns future moves of the United States. A very fruitful avenue might be to exploit the unrest within Iran concerning the present rulers.

There must be a sizeable segment of the population that does not agree with the present policies of the present regime. A clue to this is the rather small force we dispatched toward Tehran and the length of time it was expected to remain in the country. This can only be reasonably explained by the presence and expected help of considerable local residents in sympathy with the United States. We certainly should have been playing this angle to the hilt long before this time in the course of events.

Assuming that there is such unrest within the country we then could issue an ultimatum, and distribute it to the masses of the people, saying that devastation would be wreaked upon selected targets unless the people prevailed upon the government to follow our wishes in resolving the captive problem.

At this juncture it does not look like our captive people will be returned alive so we must proceed upon that assumption; and with ample forewarning raze selected targets. This we believe is preferable to any further land actions. Firstly, now it would be difficult for anything less than a full scale invasion to successfully topple the present mad men in charge.

Secondly, we are sure Russia would not stand still if we landed several combat divisions and tried to physically occupy the country; therefore our actions must be two-fold, namely topple the present regime and assure Russia that we have no territorial ambitions in that part of the world.

Aerial retaliation is the only logical answer to fulfill both requirements.

This raises two more additional questions. Do we have the intestinal fortitude to defend the rights of this country and the sanctity of international law and, more to the point, do we have the weaponry to carry out such a campaign??

To the detriment of future generations of Americans we

According to Clayton, they are planning an open house beginning Monday and continuing throughout the week. "I would like to invite everyone to come by, see our new office, visit with us and have coffee and doughnuts," said Clayton.

 enjoy but we don't have room to set it up now," said Mrs. Caywood.
 She would also like to start a group of women to come to the community building and bring whatever they would enjoy working on. "Just a time to get together, help each other and enjoy the fellowship," she said.
 Mrs. Caywood says that the Center also has a lending library. "It's not very big at this time but we hope to enlarge it when we have more room. I have brought some of my own books down here and several other people have promised books to us too," she commented.
 The special activities planned in commemoration of the month include a Senior Citizens Day picnic in the Farwell Park on May 17. This will include a bazaar and bake sale to help make money to enlarge their community building.
 At the picnic, a Senior Citizens King and Queen will be crowned. There will be two men and two women each from Farwell and Texico and one man and one woman at-large nominated for this honor.

Voting will be 5c per vote and voting containers will be placed in businesses around the Twin Cities.
 The Senior Citizens also plan to have the mayors of both cities sign proclamations in their honor.
 They would also like to have a Senior Citizen visit each club in the cities and talk to them about their group and what the organization is doing.
 This group is an active and vital part of our community. They deserve the support and interest of each and every citizen.

FIRE CALLS

Only one call has been reported from either the Farwell or the Texico volunteer fire departments since the last report.
 The Farwell ambulance was called to the Chevy Chase Apartments on April 25 at 9:45 p.m. and transported a 15-year-old girl to Muleshoe hospital.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By SETH RALSTON
County Agent

Evergreen owners won't be surprised to hear bagworms are among the most economically important pests of many woody ornamentals in Texas.

Although there are at least 16 species of bagworms in Texas, the most damage is done by the evergreen bagworm. It is probably the most important species of bagworms economically, say Dr. Robert Crocker, researcher with the Texas Agricultural Station, and H.A. Turney, entomologist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, based at Dallas.

"Although the evergreen bagworm seems partial to evergreen ornamentals such as arbor vitae and junipers, it will also attack plums, sycamores and a bewildering range of other Texas plants if conditions are right," contend Crocker and Turney.

Control of the pest often receives natural assistance from various native parasites and predators. Of the several hundred bagworms that may complete development on any tree, most or all may be destroyed by parasites in the spring, say the entomologists. Pest management research at Texas A&M Research and Extension Centers has identified two types of wasps as parasites which destroy many bagworm eggs in Texas, Crocker and Turney report. Of those pests escaping parasitism, many fall prey to mammals, birds, and predatory insects.

There are essentially three means of controlling bagworms when parasites and predators are not adequate, say the entomologists. The first is handpicking bags from the infested plant. Where only a few low-growing plants are involved, hand-picking is best, maintain the entomologists.

The second means of controlling bagworms is through the use of chemical insecticides. Effective insecticides on the market include Sevin and Malathion, say Crocker and Turney. Control is usually more complete if the insecticide is applied following egg hatch in the spring and early summer when the bagworms are young. Older and larger bagworms are more difficult to kill.

Bagworms can also be controlled by disease-causing sprays. Dipel and Thuricide are commercially prepared formulations of a bacterium. When a bagworm eats a leaf treated with the bacterium, the worm's gut is immediately paralyzed and feeding ceases, the entomologists explain. Death results after hours. The bacterium affects only insects (primarily butterflies and moths) and is not disease-causing in man or warm-blooded animals, they add. All insecticides should be used strictly according to label instructions, advise Turney and Crocker. A given active ingredient may be formulated for sale in several concentrations so the user must pay strict attention to package directions, warn the experts.

"Use pesticides as soon as possible after mixing," advises the entomologists. "Many sprays should not be stored for more than a few hours in diluted form."

Commissioners Court Purchases New Grader

Parmer County Commissioners Court in regular meeting on Monday passed a motion to pay the trade difference of $70,621 for a six-wheel drive motor grader for precinct two to Deckard Equipment Company of Amarillo. The newly-purchased piece of equipment was delivered Tuesday.

In other county action, the commissioners voted to pay an $85 therapy session bill for Parmer County foster child Dora Fields. They also approved a motion to pay, on a one-time basis, the utility bills in the amount of $80.92. Judge Porter Roberts said, "This is for a hard-working lady in Friona who is having a hard time and needs some help."

The commissioners voted to transfer $30,000 from Farm-to-Market Fund to a Certificate of Deposit to mature June 6 for precinct four. They also voted to transfer $20,000 from FM Funds to a CD to mature June 6 for precinct two.

Soil conservation work in eleven different places was ratified and approved by the commissioners court.

A report was heard from Seth Ralston, county extension agent, on several meetings, shows and schooling he has attended.

The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for

City Employees --

Farwell Approves Salary Increases

In the regular meeting of the Farwell City Council Monday night, three city employees were given raises after much deliberation by council members.

The three city employees to receive salary increases were Dee Hammitt, water superintendent; Janie Bowery, city clerk; and John Johnson, sanitation superintendent. Hammitt's salary was raised from $11,760 to $13,000 per year. Mrs. Bowery's salary was raised from $10,800 to $11,500 per year and Johnson's salary was raised from $8,400 to $9,000 per year. These three salary increases will cost the city an additional $2540 per year.

In other city business, a public hearing was held regarding the proposed sewer grant for the new city waste water treatment plant. John Kelley, engineer with Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Inc., a consulting engineering firm in Lubbock spoke to the public hearing.

According to Kelley, the Environmental Protection

Agency has had construction grants available for the past few years to assist municipalities in construction of such facilities as Farwell is planning. The EPA grants are to enable improvements to be made to insure clean water.

Kelley stated that the grant application is completed in three parts. Step I will take a good look at the existing system and conditions, and study any problems involved in the present system. This step is estimated to cost about $38,000 of which the EPA grant will pay 75 percent, leaving $9500 to be paid by the city. This portion will take approximately one year, to be completed about June 1981.

Step II includes the preparation of the plans. This step is completed at a cost of approximately $30,000 of which the EPA grant will pay 75 percent, leaving $7500 to be paid by the city. The preparation of the application of this grant will require about three months, plus another year for the grant to be approved. Step II projected completion date is October 1982.

Step III is the actual construction phase of the project. The total cost of this project is projected to be about $200,000, of which the EPA grant can pay as much as 85 percent, depending on the innovation of the construction. If the EPA grant pays 80 percent, the city would be required to pay $30,000. The total completion date of the entire project is predicted to be about June 1984.

Kelley pointed out that even though the EPA has an excellent record of following through on any project to the end, there is no assurance that subsequent steps will be followed and approved by them. On the other hand, if at any time during the three steps the city elects to drop out of the program it may do so.

According to Kelley, the city's present sewerage system was constructed in 1951 and was planned for fewer people than the city has now. With any more growth, the system will become even more inadequate. The main thing that Kelley's firm wants to know from the city at this point is how they plan to pay for this project. According to City Clerk Janie Bowery, the City Water, Sewer and Garbage Fund will be used to finance the project.

The present city water system was also a source of discussion at the meeting. The present water system was also a source of discussion at the meeting. The present water system was constructed in 1931 and according to Hammitt, one of the four water wells is no longer working. It was decided that the city would get estimates on the cost of installing a new well. Mrs. Bowery said that she would check into whether or not they needed a permit from the Water Conservation District. The city will later advertise for bids on the construction of the well.

In other action, the council passed zoning variances for Jerry Ellison, James Shober, Smokey Gast and Mrs. Harlin Obenshain. The public hearing regarding these zones variances will be held at the next city council meeting on May 12.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Linda Cain-DeWitt Burton

Linda Joann Cain and William DeWitt Burton, both of Muleshoe, were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony on Friday, April 4, at the home of the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Symcox at Oklahoma Lane.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Janice Snell of Muleshoe and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burton of Lazbuddie.

Officiating at the ceremony was James Williams, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

The living room of the Symcox home was the setting for the ceremony which was attended by family members and close friends.

A wall arrangement of six white candles, centered with a white wedding bell suspended from the ceiling, formed the background for the ceremony setting. Flanking the background arrangement were two large Boston ferns in tall stands.

Taped music featuring traditional wedding selections was played.

The bride, given in marriage by Vernon Brown, wore a formal length gown of white satin featuring a lace inlay bodice, an A-line skirt trimmed with a lace border, and a full length attached train. Her full length veil of tulle was edged in lace and was attached to a caplet of white daisies. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath with white and blue streamers.

In carrying out bridal tradition, for something old she carried pennies minted in the year's of the couple's births; something new was her trousseau which was designed and made by Earlene Burton, sister of the bridegroom. For something borrowed she wore pearl earrings belonging to her aunt, Judy Murray. Something blue was a garter which was a gift from her cousin, Lisa Hillock.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Lisa Hillock of Clovis. She wore a formal length gown of blue with white accents. Bridesmaid was Frances Brown of Amarillo who wore a formal length gown of white with a blue overlay. Each of the bridal attendants carried a small cluster bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath with white and blue streamers.

Katrina Cain, sister of the bride of Muleshoe, was flower-girl. The bride's brother, Jimmy Cain of Muleshoe, was candlelighter, and another brother, Gary Cain, also of Muleshoe, ushered guests to their places.

Donald Jones of Muleshoe served as best man and groomsmen was Scott Bass of Amherst.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of blue with white lace sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore a formal length gown of blue print organza.

The reception was also held at the Symcox home where the bride's table was covered with white and centered with an arrangement featuring a silver pitcher holding white silk daisies and flanked on either side with white tapers in crystal holders encircled with rings of blue silk flowers.

The two-tiered wedding cake of white was decorated with blue and featured doves and cherubs. It was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was made by the bride's aunt, Gloria Hutchins of Farwell.

Crystal and silver appointments, and white napkins inscribed "Linda and DeWitt, April 4, 1980," completed the table decor.

Presiding at the table were Earlene Burton, Ruthie Burton and Mary Burton, sisters of the bridegroom, all of Muleshoe.

Special guests for the wedding included Mrs. Opal Cain of Clovis, grandmother of the bride; Lorene Quisenberry of Plano, aunt of the bridegroom; Rosie Williamson of Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hillock, Leonard, Jay and Ted of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Millard Murray of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Franse, Jarrod and Julie of Farwell; and Tammy Berry of Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip the couple is at home in Muleshoe where the bride is a junior at Muleshoe High School. The bridegroom is a 1979 graduate of Lazbuddie High School and is employed with the Texas Highway Department.

Roxanne Cherry, Bruce Mayfield Married In Candlelight Ceremony

Roxanne Cherry of Clovis and Bruce Mayfield of Farwell exchanged wedding vows in a candlelit ceremony on April 5, at 6 p.m. in the Kingswood United Methodist Church in Clovis. The Rev. Wayne McLeMore, a close friend of the bride's family, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Sluder of Clovis and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mayfield of Oklahoma Lane.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of white silk organza with a defined V-yoked bodice featuring a U-shaped chiffon inset with venice daisy lace frosting. The inset ended at the neckline in a high ruffled lace collar. The dress was designed with sheer full sleeves trimmed with venice lace and miniature daisies, ending with deep tight cuffs. The full hoop skirt hemline had a wide flounced ruffle topped by venice lace merging into a chapel train. Her waist-length veil was attached to a white lace Juliet capulet and featured identical daisy venice lace along the border.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother, Floyd Cherry, and her step-father, Chuck Sluder, carried an arm bouquet of daisies, white roses, and miniature blue carnations accented by babies breath with blue and white lace streamers.

For something old the bride wore the pearl earrings and blue garter that her mother had worn in her wedding. Her wedding dress was borrowed from her sister-in-law, Kathi Cherry, and her silver sandals signified something new. The bridegroom was attired in a pale blue tuxedo, with tails, which was trimmed in royal blue velvet.

The couple exchanged their vows in front of an altar centered by a fan-shaped candelabra with 45 royal blue tapers offset by a floral arrangement of white gladioli and blue carnations. Baskets of greenery were placed at each side of the altar.

Bridal attendants included Lori Harrington, maid of honor; and Beth Kelley and Kelly Dobbs, bridesmaids. They wore identical formal sleeveless gowns of royal blue quiana featuring empire waistlines, topped by matching capes. The attendants carried bouquets of white silk daisies and blue carnations accented with babies breath and white and blue satin streamers.

Andrea Lofton, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Lofton of Comanche, Tex., served her cousin as flower girl. She wore a royal blue long dress with puffed sleeves, made by her grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Holmberg, and she carried a wedding basket containing white daisies and miniature blue carnations.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother, Byron Mayfield, as best man. Groomsmen were Randy Gerles of Farwell, and Josh Ensor of Abilene. Ushers and candlelighters were Ricky and Tad Mayfield, cousins of the bridegroom from Bovina. His attendants wore midnight blue tuxedos with matching trim.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sluder selected a burgundy crepe knit long dress with a matching chiffon cape. The mother of the bridegroom wore a peach quiana floor-length gown featuring a floral print chiffon cape. Both mothers accented their dresses with white silk cymbidium orchid corsages.

The bride presented her mother with a single white rose as she walked to the altar, and during the recessional she presented an identical rose to her new mother-in-law.

Wedding music was provided by Sheryl Day who sang "One and Only" and by a trio featuring the Day family, Janie Day, Sheryl, and Deanne Richardson, who sang "The Wedding Song." They were accompanied by Sammy Brown, pianist, who also played traditional wedding music.

Registering guests for the wedding and reception were Kathi Cherry and Ann Jolly.

The reception following was at Colonial Park Country Club. Schree Rucker, Cindy Taylor and Kerri Donahey served at the bride's table which was covered by a white satin cloth. Table appointments included a silver punch fountain, crystal serving dishes, and a bouquet of white daisies and blue carnations and royal blue candles.

The table was centered by a three-tiered cake with the top tier supported from the lower layers by white filigree columns. Decorated with clusters of blue roses, the cake was topped with a bride and groom figurine under a wedding bell which had also been used on the wedding cake of the bride's parents.

Pam Norton and Phyllis Mayfield, sisters of the bridegroom, served coffee and chocolate sheet cake decorated with chocolate roses at the bridegroom's table which was covered with a white pleated cloth.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Cherry, the bride's grandparents from Bellwood, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayfield from Plainview, Tx.; the groom's paternal grandparents; and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Holmberg, the bride's grandparents. Each grandmother was presented a beige silk feathered dogwood blossom corsage. Each grandfather was presented with a matching boutonniere.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Lofton, Andrea, and Ryan of Comanche; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lofton, Michael, Deaune, and Angela from Ruidoso; Kathi Cherry and Brian of Las Cruces; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Blanton and Boothe, of Nashville, Tenn.; Teresa Mayfield of Abilene; Jay Knight of Longview; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Gaw of Abilene; Mrs. Bertha Westerman of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Monte Barton of Sulphur, Okla.; and Josh Ensor of Abilene.

For their wedding trip to Ruidoso, the new Mrs. Mayfield wore a winter-white quiana knit dress. The street-length dress featured a blouson bodice and cupped sleeves, and she added a corsage of blue and white carnations and white roses.

A 1979 graduate of Farwell, Mayfield is engaged in farming with his father near Muleshoe. The bride will graduate from Texico High May 23. The couple is living at Route 1, Muleshoe.

The couple was honored at several pre-nuptial parties including a shower at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church, a pounding shower given by the bride's classmates, and at a brunch and shower at the Church of Christ in Farwell. The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner on the night prior to the wedding at their home at Oklahoma Lane.

Homemakers Attend Sourdough Bread Workshop

Egyptians, prospectors, chuck wagon cooks and the Oklahoma Lane Extension Homemakers all have something in common! SOURDOUGH! The homemakers had a Sourdough Bread Workshop on Thursday, April 24.

A month ago, members started brewing the sourdough starter. This is made from yeast, flour and water and is easier than what the Egyptians started with. Members met in the kitchen of the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church, Thursday, to turn their "sponge" into wholesome sourdough bread products. Sourdough whole wheat muffins, bread and cinnamon rolls were turned out by Lynne Mahaney, Susan Franse, and Beverly Foster. County Extension agent Laura Jacobs assisted the group with their project.

While the bread was rising a short business meeting was conducted, and a program on the history of sourdough bread was given. The Oklahoma Lane Extension Homemakers meet the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. For more information, contact the Extension office at 481-3619.

As with all programs sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, this program is open to all people regardless of age, socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Bread Bakers

Members of the Oklahoma Lane Extension Homemakers met recently in the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church kitchen to turn the sourdough they had created into sourdough bread products. Laura Jacobs [center], county extension agent, advises club members Lynne Mahaney [left] and Susan Franse on their creations.

Miss Russell, a member of the Clovis FHA, is currently the New Mexico FHA/HERO president. In her talk, she compared the thorns on a rose bush to the problems which sometimes exist in an organization.

Awards were also presented during the evening. Rhonda Tharp was cited as the 1979-80 Best Chapter Member; and Best Freshman honors went to Sharlet Taylor. These awards are given on the basis of points earned by supporting the chapter with work and attendance. The Best Initiate award went to Anna Flores.

Top salesmen awards were presented to those who had sold the most pecans during the chapter's money-making project last November. The Best Salesperson Award went to Darlene Duncan who sold over 300 pounds. The runnerup was Sharlet Taylor who sold over 200 pounds.

Other awards went to chapter members who had each sold over 90 pounds. Receiving those prizes were Cindy Taylor, Karen Flowers and Rhonda Tharp.

Appreciation awards were presented to Mrs. Danalee Sluder and Mrs. Donna Donahay who accompanied the Texico delegation to Las Cruces for the State FHA/HERO Convention in March.

Mrs. Kendale Burch, chapter advisor, was presented a bouquet of long-stemmed roses. Then she presented chapter officers with the guards for their pins to represent their offices. She also presented the graduating members of the chapter with copies of the Betty Crocker Cookbook.

Seniors receiving cookbooks were Kerri Donahay, Roxanne Mayfield, Cindy Taylor and Beth Kelley.

This year's officers included: Laura Horne, president; Cindy Taylor, vice-president; Rhonda Tharp, secretary; Jo Hill, treasurer; Kerri Donahay, historian and reporter; and Darlene Duncan, parliamentarian.

Following the presentation of awards, several chapter members presented the Rose Ceremony. As each member placed a portion of the rose on an easel she explained the significance of that part as it is related to the growth of an FHA member and chapter. The ceremony also explains the role FHA/HERO plays in the community.

The meal of roast beef, creamed potatoes, green beans, coleslaw and lemonade pie was prepared by FHA members and served by members of the Texico FFA.

Firemen Present Program For ESA Sorority Members

Members of the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department presented the program at the Monday night meeting of Theta Rho chapter of ESA sorority at the home of Judy Jones.

Prior to the firemen's presentation sorority members made final plans for the Founder's Day dinner scheduled for May 12. They also presented a gift to Vonceil Cunningham, chapter member, who is moving to Brownfield. The meeting then adjourned out-of-doors where Fire Chief Joel White and firemen Lee Hutchins and Mike Norris presented the program.

The firemen were introduced by Robin Gregory who pointed out that White and Norris are Certified Emergency Medical Technicians and that Hutchins is a Certified Emergency Care Attendant.

They then demonstrated how quickly a person trapped in a vehicle can be removed from the vehicle by using the "Jaws of Life" rescue tool. In the demonstration they removed the top of a car, moved the steering column, cut the door posts and demonstrated how the car could be raised.

In a question and answer period following the demonstration ESA members pointed out that purchase of the rescue tool had been made possible through private donations and fund-raising efforts and sale of tickets for a painting donated by Mrs. Gregory.

Dot Christian furnished refreshments for the meeting which was attended by the guests and following members: Jeannie Norris, Robin Gregory, Diane Atkinson, Margaret Aycock, Dot Christian, Vonceil Cunningham, Lillie Christian, Gwen Corn, Wessie Edwards, Dardanella Helton, Altha Herington, Judy Jones, Jan Marsh, Rosa Roberts, Tommie Snodgrass, Caren Spearman, Nell Walling, La-Moin Williams and Maxine Williams.

Texico Girls Win EPAC Track Meet

Discus Competitor

In the EPAC track meet last week-end in Texico, Ricky Foreman is pictured competing in the discus event, placing third. The event was won by Joe Martinez of Texico with a throw of 130'10". The Wolverine varsity boys were barely beaten in overall score, 80-81 by Tatum. [Photo by Steve Kittrell]

Texico Wolverine varsity girls won the EPAC track meet last weekend in Texico with a score of 77 points. The Texico varsity boys came in second with a score of 80 points, being barely beaten by Tatum with 81. Texico junior high boys won their division with a score of 98.

According to Texico track coach Roy King, they were able to qualify almost all of the students they needed to qualify for the state track meet.

"We ran better times this year than we did last year," said King. "Two track meets in a row helped because the kids were able to run every weekend," he said.

Texico will compete in the District track meet in Tatum this weekend. Coach King says that the same girls will run in the district meet as competed in the EPAC meet. "I think it will be a battle for first place between Tatum and Texico," King commented.

Texico will compete in the State track meet in Albuquerque on May 9 and 10.

'Passport For Adventure' - -

Program Helps Kids To Help Themselves

A Monday afternoon visit with Tom O'Neill of Kansas, as he and his "Passport for Adventure" group stopped in Farwell for a short while, shed light on what may be a little known program to Texico-Farwell residents.

"Passport for Adventure" is an intense program of individual and group counseling for fifth and sixth graders and their parents. During the 55-day program the boys or girls, in groups of 12, go on three two-week camping trips to national forests or other wilderness areas. They spend five days at home between trips. The group that stopped in Farwell Monday was enroute from Carlsbad, N.M., where it had been on one of these two week trips, to home base in Kansas. There are normally five of these programs carried out in a year.

During the home visits, parents and children alike have a chance to adjust gradually to the new things they are learning about themselves and each other.

The program is for children who are normally referred to the program by teachers because they are having problems in their school and/or home life.

These problems such as little or no school progress, extreme shyness, constant misbehavior in class, bullying, rejection by other children, carelessness about personal cleanliness, loneliness, boredom, reluctance to participate in family and school activities, or inability to communicate are the areas in which the counselors work when they have the children on these trips.

"Passport for Adventure" places a child in a totally new environment, far from the situations where he or she experienced repeated failure at home, according to O'Neill. In place of the child's teachers and parents are three young adults with camping skills and professional training and experience in youth counseling. They will both challenge and support the child in trying difficult tasks like backpacking, canoeing down a river, climbing a mountain, rappelling a cliff, planning and preparing meals, finding fuel for cooking and warmth, learning to survive, and having fun away from the security and comfort of home.

Suddenly the child who seemed unable to follow even simple direction at school finds himself accomplishing things few youngsters his age have achieved. The cycle of failure which he has learned to accept at home is broken. He begins to see himself as a successful and worthwhile person, which is the main objective of the program.

The youngsters often begin to look better to fit their newfound self-respect; take responsibility for the hygiene and appearance; are willing to cooperate with other children and with adults. They make friends and join in group activities and learn how to solve many of their own problems.

Performance in school often improves for the youngsters as well. On the "Passport" camping trips, the children see that math, spelling, reading, geography, history and science all have meaning and value in the real world. All of these are used as they read and write letters, plan menus and budget for food, choose sites for camping trips and locate them on maps, learn about the history and wild life of the places visited. A new attitude toward themselves make them want to be more productive students, say the program sponsors.

Parents of the children are provided with weekly parent meetings, held while the children are camping. These meetings are aimed at giving parents skills to more effectively cope with the problems which cause them stress in their homes as well as provide them with the opportunity of sharing with other parents who have similar home and family problems. They are taught new methods for building a satisfying family life by learning new self-awareness, better ways of communicating, new problem-solving methods and reassurance about themselves as effective parents.

"Passport for Adventure" is a division of the St. Francis Homes for Boys and Girls, with national offices in Salina, Kansas. The administrative office recruits a local board of directors in each community sponsoring a program. This board provides leadership for funding, continuity of the program and evaluation of results. Funds are supplied by participating families, according to their ability, and partly from grants, private contributions, church and civic groups, and funds such as United Way.

Local school officials, convinced of Passport's effectiveness, agree to release the children for the 55 days required, and plan to help the child make up the necessary work when he returns.

Participants are evaluated before, after, and again several months later. Results of this and other research show that Passport does have a lasting positive effect on family life and school behavior.

O'Neill stated that the program has been in existence for about 10 years, and at the present time the percentage of success is around 66 percent. The group he was with as they traveled through Farwell had already been on a two-week trek to Arizona and was just finishing up the one in Carlsbad. "After their five-day stay at home this time, we are going for two weeks in Arkansas," said O'Neill.

Bovina Seniors

Set Trap Shoot

The senior class of Bovina High School is sponsoring a trap shoot to help finance their senior trip. The shoot will be held on Sunday, May 4, at the Larry Scott farm, two miles east of Bovina.

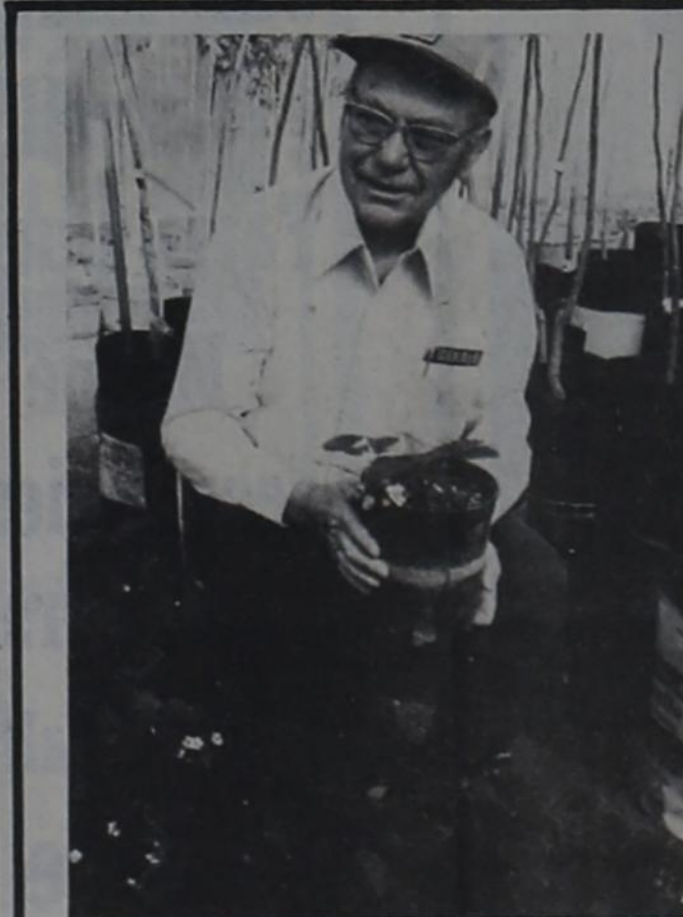

Starting time will be 2:00 p.m. All interested parties are invited to compete.

Adventure Group

Recent visitors in the City of Farwell was a group of girls and their sponsors who were enroute from Carlsbad, N.M. to Kansas. The group which is on a "Passport for Adventure" tour stopped briefly in Farwell Monday afternoon to have a snack in the City Park. They had been camping in the Carlsbad area for two weeks and had started their trek home, using Farwell as a pit stop. Bus driver and counselors for the 12 girls were Tom O'Neill, Zona Boldt and Beverly Dilsworth.

Steerette Golfers Competing At State

Farwell Steerette golfers are in Austin competing in the Class A State golf tourney this weekend. First round was to be played Thursday with the final round set for Friday.

The Steerettes, state runners-up last year and regional winners this year, are heavily favored to take the 1980 state title. Steerette Lisa Hughes was state medalist last year, and in this year's regional play another team member, Janene Berry, took medalist honors; so the toughest competition of the local golfers will be among their teammates.

Steer Golf Team Places 14th In Region

The Farwell boys golf team traveled to Odessa last week to compete in the regional golf meet, placing 14th overall in two days of play. The Steers' two-day total was 782, with a 381 the first day.

The cafeteria was decorated with spring flowers, butterflies and bumble bee cut-outs.

During the business meeting Steve Smith presented the blue ribbon the club had earned for their window display during the recent 4-H Week. The club tied for first place with the Blacktower 4-H Club.

Members were also reminded that there will be no regularly scheduled May meeting. In lieu of this meeting club members were urged to attend the Curry County Supreme Lamb and Pig Sale on Friday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the Curry County Fairground. ## Pleasant Hill Baptist Men Host Fellowship

The Men's Brotherhood group of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church held its regular meeting Monday night. The wives and families of the men were invited to attend a chili supper. According to Bob Reid, minister, "there was lots of good food and fellowship."

Jim Walker of Farwell was guest speaker for the meeting. He provided films on the missionary program in Guatemala which is sponsored by the local Baptist churches in this area.

The missionaries from this area at the present time are Mr. and Mrs. Bo Bartley, former Farwell residents. The program was begun through a series of crusades here. The people saw a need and expressed a growing concern for the children of the area, reported Walker.

A piece of land was donated by the government of Guatemala near the city of Flores. They are now in the process of building a children's home, with all work being done by hand. The local people are doing all the work themselves.

According to Reid, the average wage for these workers is $3.50 per day. They are also digging their own wells. The people plan to build a chapel and a school for the children when they are through with this project.

There were approximately 30 persons present for the chili supper. Other guests included Jo Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Monk and Ralph Franse of the Farwell Baptist Church.

Shade Trees Need Careful Fertilization

Shade trees seldom need to be fertilized more than once every three years except in extremely sandy soils or where poor lawn maintenance is followed, says Seth Ralston, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Ralston says fertilizer recommendations are usually based on trunk diameter, making no allowances for confined root zones. This can result in overfertilization, damaging some trees.

The safest method of computing fertilizer amount is to determine the number of square feet in the tree's branch spread. Then apply two pounds of actual nitrogen for every 1,000 square feet of branch spread.

For example, a 36-foot branch spread covers about 1,000 square feet. Therefore, 24 pounds of 8-8-8 are required to supply the necessary actual nitrogen amount (24 x .08 = 1.92). If 16-20-0 is used, 12 pounds would be needed (12 x .16 = 1.92).

However, if the root zone is confined due to buildings, curbs, walks, or streets, compute fertilizer application on actual root zone area, says Ralston.

If the root zone is 12 feet by 20 feet, or 240 square feet, only 1/4 as much fertilizer is needed as in the above example.

To compensate for the reduced root area, make one fertilizer application in late winter or early spring and a second application in late fall.

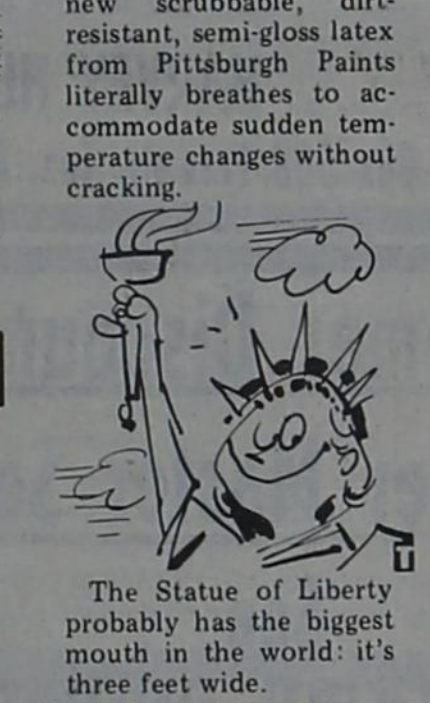

Ralston recommends spreading the fertilizer evenly beneath the branch spread. There is seldom any need for drilling holes into the soil if fertilizer is thoroughly watered in after application.

For more information, obtain a copy of the fact sheet L-1097, "Fertilizing Woody Ornamentals," available at the county Extension office.

Supermarket Saver

by Donna Caubarreaux

Using Cents-off Coupons Can Save On Your Grocery Bill

A total of "$77,000,000,000.00 is slated for cent-off coupons this year by the nation's manufacturers," stated a representative from Nestle Company Coffee Division at a recent Refunders Convention in Houston, Texas.

Are you getting your share of this 77 billion dollars? If not, you are throwing away your money at the checkout counter instead of cashing in on the profitable hobby of refunding.

If a supermarket in your area gives double cents-off days you can easily double your savings at the checkout stand. One supermarket in Houston tried to increase their business on their "slow" days by trying "double cents-off days" and quadrupled their business. The program was so successful that they continued "double cents-off" EVERY day.

Rules on using cents-off at your supermarket are very simple. (1) Check the expiration date, if it is expired, throw it away. A helpful hint is to circle the date in red so it will be easy to spot and save time at the checkout. (2) Use cents-off coupons ONLY on the product specified on the coupon. Do not embarrass yourself by attempting to ask the clerk to "accept a cents-off for a different product than listed on the form. It is against the law and considered fraud!" (3) Give the proper coupon with the right product at the point of purchase. Don't hand a wad of coupons to the checkout clerk after you have umpteen bags of groceries already bagged! Put yourself in their place and be extra courteous. (4) Figure out how much you saved, try it for a month or two and see if you are becoming a "Smart Shopper."

For a sample refund bulletin that lists several hundred refund offers, send $1.00 to Shopper's Bonus, P.O. Box 109, Marksville, LA 71351. For a free listing of over forty refund bulletins, send a long self-addressed stamped envelope to the same address.

Here are some offers to try. Bake-It-Easy $1.00 Refund, P.O. Box 55219, Houston, TX 77055. $1.00 cash refund, send four Bake-It-Easy proof of purchases. Offer expires 12/31/80.

"Rosie Deal," P.O. Box NB268, El Paso, TX 79977. Four 25c coupons on Coronet products, send four Coronet product labels. Limit one per family. Offer expires 12/31/80.

Colgate Cuis Cost, P.O. Box 556, Young America, MN 55399. Write to this address for a form that is required for a $3.00 cash refund offer. Expires 7/31/80.

Kennel Club To Continue With Dog Show As Planned

In response to the many inquiries received following recent publicity concerning Parvovirus, Mrs. Nancy Thompson, chairman of the Clovis-Portales Kennel Club Match Committee, has released the following statement: The AKC Sanctioned B-OB match scheduled for Sunday, May 4, will be held as planned. This decision was reached after closely checking with all available area veterinarians following the receipt of many calls asking if we intended to continue in the face of the "Parvo" scare.

As a maximum of three cases of Parvovirus have been tested and therefore confirmed by the veterinarians available for comment, and in view of the fact that the AKC estimates that between 92 and 95 percent of all show dogs have now been vaccinated with the Dellen Parvovaccine, the club sees no reason to cancel the match.

Area veterinarians are emphatic in stating that no epidemic and nothing approaching an epidemic exists here. Following publication of an article stressing the need for immunization, many concerned dog owners immediately took steps to obtain such immunization, leading to the hope that Parvo will never constitute a serious threat to the area.

The Kennel Club joins veterinarians in urging dog owners to seek immunization for their dogs, be they pet, field or show dogs, not only for the Parvovirus but for the Distemper, Hepatitis and Leptospirosis which are prevalent this time of year.

"Inflation Fighting Garden" Guidelines

Gardeners all over are looking at their backyards as a potential site to help fight inflation during 1980.

"Vegetable gardening is sweeping the country," says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Not since 1974 has there been such an interest in converting backyard areas into productive vegetable gardens."

"Although the grocery bill is probably not the ideal place to cut costs because many things have increased at a higher rate than food, it's the one place where many families feel they can actually do something about the high cost of living," notes Cotner.

If you plan on having a vegetable garden this year, the horticulturist offers these guidelines for an "inflation fighting garden."

Determine which vegetables you want to grow in your garden. Plant only those crops which your family likes most and which you feel will be relatively high priced at the grocery store. If your garden is small, do not plant crops requiring a lot of space.

Locate your garden where it receives plenty of sunlight, is well-drained, and is free from competition with existing trees and shrubs.

Make a garden plan. Note where crops will be planted and how much space each needs. Plant taller-growing crops on the north side of the garden. Group remaining vegetables according to their maturity rate.

Have your garden's soil tested to determine what type of fertilizer and how much to apply. Your local county Extension agent can help you take a soil test.

Plant only recommended varieties. Check with successful gardeners, local nurseries and garden centers, and your county Extension office on varieties best suited for your particular area.

Do a good job in preparing your garden soil before planting. Work the soil to a depth of 8 to 10 inches -- the deeper the better. Add liberal amounts of organic matter such as compost, grass clippings, hay or similar material.

Use healthy, vigorous, disease-free transplants where possible. Check at local nurseries and garden centers or grow your own.

Follow recommended cultural practices. Keep your garden weed-free and try to keep an even supply of moisture. Add fertilizer if needed during the growing season, and use a mulch to control weeds and conserve moisture.

Inspect your garden closely for insects and diseases. Your "shadow" in the garden will prevent many potential problems before they start. If you do have problems such as diseases and insects, use recommended chemical according to label directions.

Harvest your garden vegetables at their peak of quality. Do not let crops such as squash, green beans and okra overmature on the plant or yields will drop.

Finally, keep a record of your garden activities during 1980. A record of varieties planted, amount and type of fertilizer used, and planting and harvesting dates will go a long way toward insuring a successful "inflation fighting garden," believes Cotner.

Cottonseed flour gives junk food a protein punch

COLLEGE STATION — Junk foods do not have to be filled with junk, claims a nutrition researcher at Texas A&M University.

Such delights as cookies, pies, cakes and candies can be healthy if given the protein punch of glandless cottonseed now being developed at Texas A&M.

"A cookie fortified with glandless cottonseed flour can have 40 percent more protein content," says Rhonda Simmons of Texas A&M's Food Protein Research and Development Center.

To get the 40 percent protein punch, the glandless cottonseed flour is substituted for 25 percent of the all purpose flour in a cookie recipe.

1. Who are the Animal Weather Forecasters? Your pets! Yes, dogs and cats have a long-standing reputation for being able to tell what the weather will be. For example, there's an old New England saying that goes, "When eager bites the thirsty flea, clouds and rain you soon shall see."

The Pennsylvania Dutch believe that if a cat sleeps with her head lower than her body, a storm is due. If the cat washes her face, she knows it is going to rain.

2. Ever wonder what happens to bees during the winter? They survive the cold weather by congregating in large clusters. The bees in the center do a dance. And after warming up, they change places with the wallflowers on the outside of the crowd.

It's an exhausting job. Humans have it easier. According to the CertainTeed Home Institute, by simply adding the proper amount of fiber glass insulation to our attics, we can retain our home heating much longer and the only dance we need do is one for joy, when we see our lowered fuel bills. (Savings vary. Find out why in the seller's fact sheet on R-values. Higher R-values mean greater insulating power.)

3. What living creature has the most dramatic instinct for forecasting the weather? It's the leech! If you put a leech in the bottom of a glass jar, the leech will remain quiet during calm weather. However, 24 hours before a storm, the leech will know it and will start a climb upwards!

eyes and answers
Weston A. Pettey, O.D.

PREVENTION
Dear Dr. Pettey: Is there anything I could have done to prevent my children becoming nearsighted? All three had to put on glasses when they were about twelve years old.

You didn't say whether or not you and your spouse are nearsighted but it would be my guess that at least one of you is myopic. Although it does not hold true in every case, many offspring of nearsighted parents do become myopic themselves. The genes do seem to be involved in such cases.

However, some humans become myopic for other reasons: Long-time, concentrated, intensive eye work at close ranges (especially on flat surfaces) can induce myopia. Body chemistry imbalances are strongly suspect as a cause in some instances. Some believe excessively large pupils cause nearsighted blur. Others think the actual length of the eyeball is a factor also. So many cases becoming myopic at about the age of puberty make many of us feel fairly certain that hormonal imbalances are another culprit.

In view of all that, I can't say you could have done anything to prevent your children's nearsightedness. But before the next generation comes along, perhaps some preventive measures may be discovered.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAH BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

PAUL NOT ONE OF THE TWELVE APOSTLES

Occasionally the Lord's apostles are charged with acting arbitrarily in choosing Matthias to take Judas' place. It is said that they first chose two candidates and then asked God which of these two He would have to fill the vacant position. Paul, according to some, was actually God's choice for Judas' place. But this charge is not based upon the record of the Scripture.

- The apostles, with Peter as their chief, had been given authority to act officially in Christ's absence (Matt. 16:19; 18:18,19).
- They acted upon the Scriptural declaration that another apostle should be chosen to fill Judas' place (Psa. 109:8, cf. Acts 1:20).
- Their action was bathed in many days of united prayer (Luke 24:49, cf. Acts 1:12-15), and when two candidates were found they again prayed and left the final choice in the hands of God (Acts 1:24-26).
- Probably only two [Matthias and Joseph Barsabas] were eligible, for only those could qualify who had followed Christ continuously from the day of His baptism by John until His ascension to heaven (Acts 1:21,22, cf. Matt. 19:28, "Ye which have followed Me").
- Paul would not have been eligible, for He had not even seen Christ during His earthly ministry (1 Cor. 15:8).
- The conclusive proof that the eleven acted in the will of God in this matter is found in the fact that the Scripture clearly states that Matthias "was numbered with the eleven apostles" (Acts 1:26) and that "THEY WERE ALL FILLED WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT" (Acts 2:4). Men out of the will of God are not filled with the Holy Spirit.

Thus Paul stands separate and distinct from the twelve as the apostle of the present dispensation of grace (Eph. 3:1-3).

Lazbuddie Band Takes Bus Trip To Six Flags

by Janet Wilke

The 40-plus member Longhorn band enjoyed a few days off as they traveled to Six Flags Over Texas to participate in the Six Flags Music Festival and have a good time.

Bandsmen have been saving up from their own allowances, and Band Boosters and band members have been busily engaged in fund-raising in order for the band to participate in this festival, the first for a Lazbuddie band group.

On April 23, bandsmen loaded a chartered Continental Trailways bus for Arlington, and with a good send-off from schoolmates and parents, the band was on its way.

Excitement was at an all time high as the band arrived at Arlington about 5:30 p.m. Everyone changed into nice clothes for a trip to Fort Worth and Colonial Restaurant.

After a sumptuous meal of barbecue and all the trimmings, the members came back to their motel and went to bed, hoping to be ready for their contest on April 24.

After rising and eating breakfast, bandsmen then loaded their bus on the morning of April 24, to travel to the University of Texas at Arlington to present their part of the contest.

The band played two of its three contest numbers for Judges Richard Floyd of Baylor, Jack Evans, and Donald McGinnis of Ohio State. The Lazbuddie group participated in the Class A contest, since there is no Class B contest for the small bands.

One group who performed after the Longhorns was the Sudan band, who has for many years had a fine band reputation.

After the results were tabulated, Lazbuddie had a third division, which at Six Flags is considered average. The neighboring Sudan group also received a third division. Earlier in the year, at UIL contest, Sudan had edged out Lazbuddie with a first division. But on April 24 in Arlington, the bands were on equal grounds, and the Longhorn Band proved they too could compete with the best.

After lunch that day, the Lazbuddie kids went back to the motel and donned their swimsuits for a dip in the pool. The weather was so warm that the sponsors had some trouble getting the kids out of the pool.

At 4:30 p.m., the troupe left for Six Flags. After a wait at the gate, the students were everywhere, during each other to try such rides as the Shock Wave and the Judge Roy Scream. Most of the sponsors were too conservative to try such excitement, and opted for such rides as the train, and maybe the merry-go-round.

At 11:00 p.m., the park closed and the kids and sponsors alike were ready for a little shut-eye. After all, they would once again be at Six Flags the next day.

The day of April 25 was filled with much anticipation and fun, as the bandsmen started off the day at the Southwest Historical Wax Museum, then ate lunch at the Six Flags Mall. While the group was at the Museum, there was plenty of hair-raising scenes of some of the bad men of yesteryear, who met their untimely demise at the end of a hanging rope, but most of the band shrugged off the sites and went on about their business.

At the Six Flags Mall, students dined in style on Mexican foods, hamburgers, or their various choices from Wyatt's, while they also got a look for souvenirs.

Back at the motel, most of the bandsmen stayed the remainder of the afternoon in the pool. But, then again, so did the sponsors.

After throwing in the band director's wife, the rebels then went after all the sponsors, and succeeded in baptizing them in the motel pool with all of their clothes on. No one was safe, as the band students also attempted to throw in the bus driver, Joe Taylor. But, Taylor remained dry. How he did that was a mystery to the sponsors and the band director, too.

Six Flags the second time around was a bit on the cool side. Winds got up during the night, so many of the band members were busily looking for a warm place to stay. With most of the bands playing that day, there were several more students there than previously.

But, all had a good time, despite the cold.

Early to bed, the kids got up early to pack and get ready for the trip home. Although the band had a good time at Six Flags, they were, for the most part, ready to come home.

After a stop in Seymour for lunch, it was back on the bus for three more hours and finally home to Lazbuddie, to tell friends and family of their experiences and fun in Arlington.

Sponsors for the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gregory, along with the band director and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilke.

It all was an experience that none of us will soon forget.

Texas twisters can hit anytime, weathermen warn

COLLEGE STATION — Although the peak tornado season in Texas traditionally runs April through June, experts at the State Climatologist's Office at Texas A&M University remind Texans that tornadoes are a year-round concern.

The climatologists' reports indicate an average of 109 tornadoes touch Texas soil each year. The state ranks at the top nationally in number of storms sighted — 1,425 of the 8,560 total for the decade occurred here. Because of its size, however, Texas ranks 11th in number of twisters per 10,000 square miles.

Some South American Indians believed they could improve the corn crop by not drinking while it was growing.
