Friends Gather For Station Open House

Friends, colleagues, and dignitaries all took part in last Saturday's ceremonies celebrating the opening of the new Texico $80,000 plus Fire Station.

Approximately 150 persons attended the festivities, including the department's first fire chief, Ira Selman, and U.S. Senator Harrison Schmitt.

The department was presented with gifts from various organizations and friends, including the Farwell Firemen who gave their neighboring unit a set of stainless steel tableware for use in the department's new kitchen.

Other gifts presented to the Texico volunteer firemen included two clocks, one from the department's dispatch clerk Nadine Edge and her husband Garland, and one from the Firemen's Auxiliary Service Team (FAST). The clock from the auxiliary was adorned with a metal fire chief's head and a plaque that read "To TVFD From FAST, March 29, 1981."

A special touch for the open house activities was a large cake provided by the ladies auxiliary. The cake, which was baked by Phyllis Arnold of Clovis, was in five layers and was made as a replica of the new fire station. It was iced in the colors of the new building and was decorated with the bay doors, entrance and other markings on the actual building. Four toy fire trucks were in front of the cake and on the top were the words, "To TVFD From FAST, March 29, 1981."

Members of the auxiliary served the cake along with punch, coffee and tea throughout the afternoon's activities.

Friends of the department, Gloria and Lee Hutchins of Farwell, presented the Texico firemen with a set of cup towels printed "TVFD, March 29, 1981," and a group of fire department photographs from past years.

The auxiliary ladies also presented Mr. and Mrs. Edge with a housewarming gift of a macrame planter and plant.

New Sign In Farwell

Members of Farwell's GFWC Study Club recently installed a new sign in the city of Farwell, near the highway in front of Farwell Fertilizer. The sign is to show travelers that Farwell has a General Federated Women's Club [GFWC] Chapter. Shown at the "sign plant-

who purchased the sign and donated it to the club. Farwell's GFWC chapter was organized in 1929 and became federated in 1930. The GFWC is the largest non-denominational, non-partisan organization of volunteer women in the world.

Cash, Items Taken - -

Burglars Strike Rose Drug Store

Approximately $2300 in cash and merchandise was stolen from Rose Drug Monday night during a burglary that occurred at the Farwell drug store. According to the store's owner, Pudge Rose, no drugs were stolen "as far as we can tell." Rose keeps all controlled drugs under a separate lock and that lock had not been tampered with, he said.

The burglars entered the building through the roof, cutting a hole and dropping to the floor.

According to a report issued by Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan, items missing from the place of business included $88 in cash, 1 Norelco razor, 1 Kodak camera, 55 Timex wrist watches, 2 pocket watches, 3 Zippo lighters, 2 small AM-FM radios, and 2 small calculators.

Rose estimates the burglary to have occurred somewhere between 9:45 p.m. Monday night and 8 a.m. Tuesday morning.

The cutting of the roof was the only damage incurred during the robbery, and it was being repaired at presstime. The only other trace of the intruders was the scattering of empty watch boxes. The thieves took out all the watches from their boxes and left the empty containers on the floor. Sheriff Morgan said he has no suspects in the incident at this time.

This is the second burglary to a Farwell business in two weeks. The last one was at Art 'N Such.

In other action this week with the sheriff's office, Irene Ramone of Bovina reported that her home had been burglarized. Although a complete list of the missing items was not available at presstime, Sheriff Morgan said that among the stolen items was a 12-gauge shotgun and rifle. R.L. Douglas east of Bovina,

$25 Prize Offered - - Deadline Monday For BTD Theme

Monday is the deadline for area citizens to offer suggestions for a theme for the 1981 edition of Border Town Days, and maybe win the $25 prize for the best theme.

The BTD Committee will have its first meeting of the year Tuesday night, April 7, in the Jaycee Community Building and are hopeful that more persons will turn in proposed themes for the celebration.

Keeping in mind that the theme should be appropriate to the Twin Cities and should be able to be depicted in floats and decorations for the parade, put your minds to work and submit a catchy theme for the July festivities.

Ideas should be turned in to the office of the State Line Tribune not later than 5 p.m. on Monday, April 6. These ideas will then be submitted at the first meeting of the committee Tuesday night.

reported that one and one-half tons of red top cane bales had been taken from his fields sometime since November 1. Douglas placed an approximate $150 value on the missing bales.

Someone tried to gain entrance into the Tri County Tire store the night of March 25 by working with the lock, according to Sheriff Morgan. "If they got inside there is nothing missing, and there is no indication that they got in," said Morgan.

Pudge Rose of Farwell reported missing a spare tire off his pickup, valued at $100.

Reception Visitors

ing. With the senator are Ira Selman, seated, the first fire chief of Texico Volunteer Fire Department; and standing, from left, Vane Doshier, assistant fire chief; Lewis Cooper, fire chief; and John Hadley, mayor of Texico. Over 150 persons attended the event which was sponsored by members of the Fireman's Auxiliary Service Team.

by John

We are writing this late Monday afternoon. We understand that the president will be O.K. following the assassination attempt and that the functions of government will continue under well-defined previous plans. We are grateful for the apparent survival of the Chief Executive of the United States.

It is difficult to comment upon such a tragic event but we fully expect that the gun control proponents will soon be in full voice. Yet we still feel that disarming the public is not the answer to violent crime. The right to own and bear arms is constitutionally guaranteed and should not be abridged. Our answer to crime is swift, sure and stern legal action.

We believe that society must protect itself by making the commission of a crime so unattractive that only the truly mentally demented would undertake it.

This does not mean, as we commented last week, that we resurrect Devil's Island or the chain gangs, but surely certain and lengthy tours in the slammer would help. Also, appeals through numerous courts should be curtailed while nit-picking judges should be fired.

In this respect we would also comment that crimes of terror wherein large groups of innocent people are put in danger for some political purpose should be severely dealt with. To help in decreasing international terrorism this government should take stern measures toward any other government aiding or abetting such acts. There again, before we can have any international credence we will have to improve our internal administration of justice.

We would put the control of crime in America just under the control of inflation as a national priority.

On a more cheery note we will comment that the hearty willow tree has taken on a very noticeable green hue well before our more numerous elms. It won't be long before green is our predominant color.

It is a time of the year on the Golden Spread that can be savored and enjoyed by all.

We keep up with our "year ago" papers to see what went on and in the April 4th issue last year we published a picture of a fat four inch snow that sneaked in and fell right straight down. We sure wish we could publish a like picture this year.

There have been some pretty smart old boys, and girls, all down through history. One of the smart old boys was Voltaire. In 1764 he opined that, "In general, the art of government consists in taking as much money as possible from one class of citizens and giving it to the other."

A body would almost think he uttered those words after reading today's newspapers.

A group of Boy Scouts visiting the FBI office stopped to view the pictures of the 10 most wanted men. One boy pointed to a picture and asked if that really was the photograph of the most wanted person.

The FBI agent escorting the scouts assured him it was.

"Then why," the lad asked with true scout logic, "didn't you keep him when you took his picture?"

The winner ate a tree

What's the most outrageous thing you'd be willing to do for a prize of $10,000? This query was put to numerous citizens in Illinois in the form of a contest. The winner was a fellow who volunteered to eat a tree. And he did so. An 11-foot sack of birch chips untreated in any way. Except for the leaves. He put french dressing on them.

Q. "What's the average sentence for a first offender, whatever the crime?"

A. If that first offender is sentenced at all, said sentence averages 36 months. But the actual time served only averages 19 months.

Birds, too, get tuberculosis.

Q. "Of all the new babies, what proportion are born to unwed mothers?"

A. About seven out of every 100.

SCORCHED BUTTER

In making toffee, the Scots scorched butter and added sugar, and that scorching came to be known as scorching. It's where we got the word butterscotch, roundaboutedly Roundaboutedly? It'll do.

Q. "Where do you take the pulse on a dog?"

A. Inside the leg on the femoral artery. Large dogs have a pulse beat of 70 to 80 per minute, smaller dogs up to 120 per minute.

Q. "Has it been customary among any of the Africans to eat elephant meat?"

A. Among the Wataveta tribes of East Africa, it has been. Understand it's pretty tough. The English colonials down that way developed a saying: "You cook it from Monday morning to Friday night and chew it from Friday night to Monday morning."

MARSHMALLOWS

Q. Why are marshmallows called that?

A. Because the first of them were made from roots of mallow herbs that grew near marshlands in France. In 1884, it was. Incidentally, mostly you see that word misspelled "marshmallows," do you not?

Q. "How often do you find a marriage in which the wife is more than 10 years older than the husband?"

A. About one marriage in every 100 around here.

Host Open House

mobile home provided to them by the city of Texico. The home is located next door to the new fire station. Senator Schmitt addressed the group and spoke of small town togetherness, telling those present that it is small towns that can "get together and accomplish."

Schmitt also paid special recognition to the department's first chief, Ira Selman. On display was a special photo arrangement made by members of the FAST team which featured pictures from past years of the volunteer firemen and their equipment. Scrapbooks were also available for viewing.

The refreshment table was decorated with a floral arrangement and the "fire station cake," and another floral arrangement, given by the Farwell Fire Department, was also displayed.

Schmitt; fire chief Lewis Cooper; assistant fire chief Vane Doshier; former fire chief Selman; Betty King, state coordinator for Sen. Schmitt; Frank and Si Jones, members of the first volunteer fire department in Texico; and Texico city clerk, Marie Christian.

When the formal festivities ended, members of the department were honored with a private party hosted by members of FAST and the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department. A covered dish meal was served to those attending. Cooks for the evening were Joe White, Mike Camp, Smokey Gast and Robert White.

The new fire facility is Texico's newest building. Construction began in early September of 1980 and the first FHA loan payment was made in January of 1981. The $80,000 loan is to be paid from state funds allotted annually to the department from the State of New Mexico. The new facility was constructed by A&M Building Systems of Clovis.

One Car Accident Sends Two To Hosp.

A one-car accident involving a driver and two passengers occurred Saturday morning at 3:30 a.m. CST one tenth of a mile east of Farwell, sending the driver and one passenger to the Clovis High Plains Hospital.

overturn one-half turn and land on its top. The vehicle came to a rest in the east bound lane of traffic, the report showed. Tennen and a front seat passenger, Ann Homsten of Albuquerque, were taken by Farwell ambulance to Clovis High Plains Hospital with what the report indicates were "B" injuries, or "evident minor bruises, lacerations or abrasions."

The back seat passenger, Debbie Trujillo, also of Lackland AFB, was not injured in the accident. Tennen was issued a citation for driving at an unsafe speed.

April 10 Is Deadline For Proving Yields

Notice of 1981 grain and cotton program yields were mailed to farm operators on March 26, says Prentice L. Mills, ASCS County Executive Director. Farmers are reminded that the final date for proving feed grain or wheat yields is 15 days after the date of mailing shown on the yield notice which is April 10.

"The base years for proving 1981 yields are 1978, 1979 and 1980," said Mills. "Acceptable production evidence must be furnished for each farm in which the operator had an interest in all years."

Mills also pointed out that a timely acreage report must have been filed for the commodity for each of the base years.

"Production evidence must show the commodity, buyer, or storer, year of production and farm on which produced," he said. "Producers are always encouraged to report production for each of their farms each year." The director said that a farm's 1981 actual yield will be considered zero if the crop acreage is not reported by the final certification date or production data is not timely furnished.

Producers must report small grain acreages by May 15 to be eligible for disaster protection and deficiency payments. Wheat and barley are covered by disaster protection, and the first requirement to insure this protection is to file an accurate and timely acreage report.

"Wheat and barley that fail because of disaster must be reported and it must be appraised by ASCS personnel before it is destroyed or put to any other use," Mills said. "For wheat or barley to be eligible for low yield payment, it should have been grazed after about May 15."

Mills stated that this is generally thought to be a reasonable "take-off" date, "that is, if a normal wheat or barley crop is to be expected."

Another date to remember is May 31 as it is the final date to place 1980 crop corn, grain sorghum or cotton under CCC loan.

For further farm program information, the public is invited to contact the local ASCS office.

Farwell Council Talks Street Repair Project

A short meeting was conducted by the Farwell City Council Monday night. The seal coating project for the city's streets, scheduled for this summer was discussed as well as upcoming tax assessments to city residents.

The city fathers decided to postpone seeking bids from area contractors for the seal coating project until after Saturday's election. After that time they will decide how many streets will receive the new seal coating.

City clerk Janie Bowery reported to the council that she had called a few contractors seeking current price information for the seal coating project and the price was the same as last year, 67 cents per square yard.

The city places new gravel and tar on one fifth of the streets in town each summer, making the complete rounds once every five years. Mayor Walter Kaltwasser commented that he would like for the council members to "drive the roads" and then determine which ones need the new seal coating.

In other action, the council voted to allow Patsy Nance, chief appraiser of the Farmer County Appraisal District, to send out tax assessments, and to pay her one percent of the levy for her services.

Mrs. Bowery advised the council members that the tax appraisal value is needed by May 1, and also added that the city's delinquent taxes won't amount to much, "but there will be some," she said.

Members then discussed a bill received from the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for programming received in this area. Councilman Fred Chandler questioned exactly what programming had been received by this area and asked Mrs. Bowery to investigate whether or not the local senior citizens group had received any funds from this organization.

"Please check into what we have contributed," said Chandler, "and if we haven't, we should do something as I just read where they are asking for financial help and volunteer help," he said.

Attending Monday's regular bi-monthly meeting were Mayor Walter Kaltwasser, councilman Fred Chandler, city clerk Janie Bowery, employees Jackie Doshier, John Johnson and Robert Bergner. Absent was councilman John Curtis.

Commissioners Court Has Lengthy Agenda

The payment of bills, designation of county monies into CD's and other county business was discussed at a lengthy Farmer County Commissioners Court meeting, conducted March 23.

County treasurer Benna Felts advised the board members that all CD's needed to be renewed by March 31 as the bank depository contract ends on that date.

It was voted by the members to invest $100,000 of General Fund money in a 90-day CD, $25,000 in a 60-day CD and $820,500 of the Permanent School Fund in a two-year CD.

The largest bill to be approved for payment by the court was in the amount of $2,146.46 covering parts and installation of a two-way radio in the State car of Weldon Moody of the Texas Highway Department.

Other bills to be approved for payment by the commissioners included two boarding care bills for four Farmer County children, the county is to be reimbursed for one of these bills; a bill for an autopsy ordered by Mrs. Frances Euler, justice of the peace in Friona; doctor's bill for an indigent child; annual Panhandle Regional Planning Commission dues in the amount of $420.36; and the quarterly payment to the County Appraisal office in the amount of $1,874.14.

The court voted to split equally among the four precincts the county's revenue sharing funds. The funds will assist on the costs of maintenance of county roads.

Appointed to the County Child Welfare Board were Don Spring and Mrs. Tom Caldwell, both of Bovina, and Mrs. John Blackwell of Friona. The three had expressed an interest in working on the newly-formed Board.

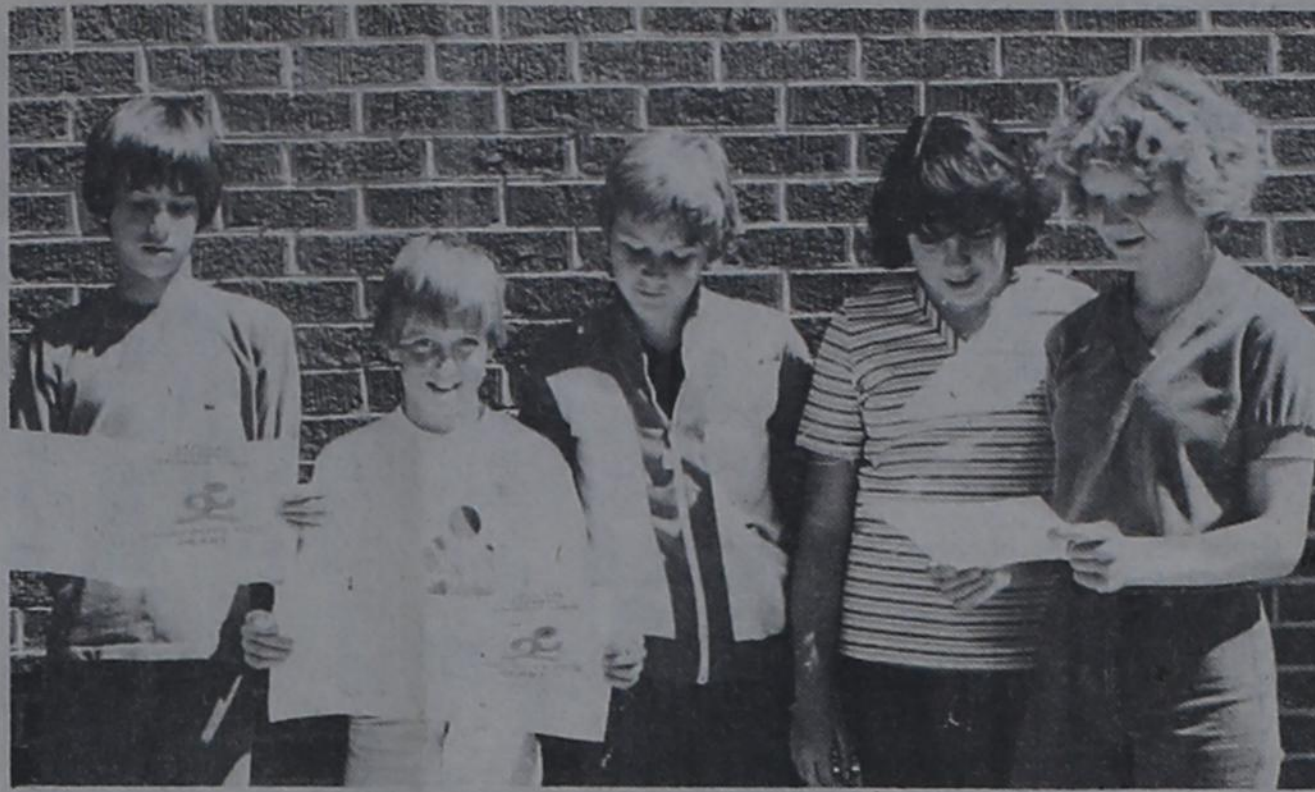

The contract between the County and the Friona State Bank serving as the County Depository had been returned from the State Comptroller's Office and the commissioners court approved the Friona State Bank as the county's depository for the ensuing two years. The following Soil Conservation work was approved and ratified:

Precinct 1 - Joe Douglas, $70. Precinct 3 - James Haseloff, $70; Bill Martin, $35; Richard Haseloff, $122.50; Ed Nichols, $87.50; Henry Bass, $105; Jerry Engelking, $35.

The county treasurer expressed an uncertainty about the transfer of funds from the Right-of-Way Fund to the Farm-to-Market Fund, so the court voted to conduct a called meeting of the Commissioners Court on March 30 at 11 a.m. where all legal questions could be resolved concerning this transfer of funds.

Since members of the Commissioners Court are to appear in District Court on April 13, the regular meeting day, it was decided to conduct its next regular meeting on April 10 at 11 a.m.

Swine Short Course Focuses On Profit, Loss

COLLEGE STATION - Opportunities and techniques which could help pork producers make a profit instead of a loss in view of current feed prices, will be explored at the Annual Swine Short Course at Texas A&M University April 5-7.

The short course is part of the Texas Animal Agricultural Conference being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The impact of various production factors on profit and loss; practical aspects of herd health, reproduction and maintenance; conversion of hog biomass to alternate fuels; opportunities for computerizing swine production records, and the potential for farrowing cooperatives in Texas are among the topics featured in the two-day program.

In conjunction with the short course, the Texas Pork Producers Association and Texas Pork Producers Board will hold a directors' meeting at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 5, and the annual meeting and banquet of TPPA at 6 p.m. Monday, April 6.

The banquet speaker will be Orville Sweet of Des Moines, Iowa, executive vice president of the National Pork Producers Council.

Conference sessions will be held in the Rudder Tower and the Memorial Student Center on campus, said Dr. T.D. Tanksley Jr., professor and Extension swine specialist in the department of animal science.

Registration forms may be obtained from county Extension agents or from Tanksley, Room 212 Kleburg Center, Department of Animal Science, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 77843. Advance registration received by Tanksley by March 25 is $25; registration at the door is $30. The fee includes the TPPA banquet, a breakfast and a copy of the proceedings.

The swine short course is sponsored by the Extension Service in cooperation with the Department of Animal Science at A&M, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Pork Producers Association and Texas Pork Producers Board.

Five Area - -

Telephone Cooperative Building New Facility

Five Area Telephone Cooperative, Inc. is in its 25th year and is probably the most important one since it was founded. The Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association, through loans from REA, started the telephone cooperative in 1956 and annexed it into its operation as a telephone division. The Telephone Cooperative was given its name for the area that was certified to it to serve.

The area certified at that time was, and still is, areas and communities of Lazbuddie, Lariat, Needmore, Maple, Bula and Lehman. The Cooperative's namesake was taken from the counties it serves, which include Farmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb and Cochran. Line extensions were constructed in Hockley county later on.

In January, 1980, the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association and the Five Area Telephone Cooperative, Inc. separated their operations.

Through the decision of both Cooperatives' Board of Directors it was felt that these two entities should be under different operations and management. Upon the approval of this decision plans were immediately placed in motion for new office and warehouse facilities for Five Area Telephone.

Property was purchased from Bailey County directly behind the Civic Center and Coliseum for the new home of the Telephone Cooperative's operations. Construction is in progress on the warehouse which will be used as office space until an office building can be built. Plans are to move by May with construction beginning on the office facilities sometime this year. "We look forward to being a part of the community and stand ready to serve our members and communities," says Hubert Kidd, manager.

"For your information, with the new line construction and the completion of new office and warehouse facilities, we have no immediate plans for rate increases," the manager adds.

Officers and directors of the telephone cooperative are: Jack Angeley, president, Lazbuddie; Delbert Watson, vice-president, Needmore; Robert Byrd, secretary-treasurer, Lariat; Richard Black, director, Bula;

Also, Robert L. Jones, director, Lazbuddie; Bob Foley, director, Maple; and Rex Griffiths, director, Lehman.

Portraying Area Homemakers

Teresa King has been a third grade teacher at Parkview Elementary School in Clovis for four years, taking this year off on maternity leave following the birth of her daughter, Heather, now 15 months old.

The new mother is also the wife of Texico's girls' basketball coach Roy King. They have been married a little over two years.

Teresa is a Clovis native, having been reared there, and graduated from Clovis High School in 1967. She obtained her bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Eastern New Mexico University.

Currently the educator is in the final steps of earning a masters degree, also from ENMU. Her degree will have an emphasis in Special Education, and she says her future goal is to become a diagnostician. "I enjoy working one to one with kids," she says. "I enjoy children and the interaction with children that teaching provides."

She and her coach husband were married in Clovis after being introduced by a friend. Roy is a native of Caneyville, Kentucky, and the Kings have travelled to his hometown three times in the last two years.

Although they didn't know each other then, Teresa and Roy began their teaching careers at the same time. Roy also obtained his bachelor's degree at ENMU, following a tour in the United States Air Force. He is currently half way through obtaining his master's degree.

An interesting note is that of all the members on Roy's high school basketball team, all have turned to coaching as a profession and all have careers in the educational field. "I guess their coach made a good impression on them," reflects Teresa.

As for being a coach's wife, Teresa says, "It's an enjoyable lifestyle," and states that she hopes Heather will enjoy going to the games when she's older.

"When we were first married it was really exciting because I went to all of the games," she says, "but after Heather was born I couldn't be quite as involved and was unable to attend all of the games."

But even though she did not attend all of the games this season, she did not feel completely left out. "I'm an independent person and I have my own projects that always need to be done," she says.

When she isn't taking care of Heather, or attending the games, or studying for her masters degree, Teresa spends her free time doing oil painting, a hobby for which she has won awards. "When I first started college I began as an art major, and then I thought about becoming an elementary art teacher, but the career fields seemed so limited," she remembers.

Last year one of her paintings won a blue ribbon first place at the Curry County Fair.

She also enjoys doing crewel work. "I like doing anything I can do with my hands," the artist comments.

Teresa has spent the last few months substitute teaching at Texico elementary, but will return to Parkview in the fall when the new school year begins.

This week's feature homemaker has agreed to share the following recipes with us.

1/2 tsp. orange flavoring
1 tsp. vanilla

POOR MAN'S LOBSTER

2 1-pound blocks frozen haddock filets, thawed enough to cut (about 1 hour at room temperature)

Add fish chunks, reduce heat to moderate and simmer 15-20 minutes, until fish is opaque in center. Choose a broiler proof skillet or dish large enough to hold the fish in a single layer and melt the butter in it.

Remove fish from liquid with a slotted spoon and add to butter; sprinkle fish with paprika and spoon butter over it.

Broil 3-5 minutes, spooning butter over fish once. Garnish with toast triangles and lemon.

An airline pilot can tell at a glance exactly how much fuel has been used. So can your meter reader.

Flying a modern jetliner is a tricky job. There are scores of meters and dials a pilot must monitor to make sure his plane is operating the way it should. It looks complicated — and it is.

But every pilot is trained to read an instrument panel quickly and accurately. With just a glance he knows his speed, how high he's flying, and exactly how much fuel he's used.

The point we're making is this: once you're properly trained to do a job, even the most complicated task can be done quickly and accurately.

Your gas company meter reader has been trained to read your meter quickly and accurately too. Sometimes from as far away as fifty feet with the aid of a telescope.

Here's how he does it. Each dial on your meter has an arrow that moves either clockwise or counterclockwise as you use gas. By reading the lowest number on each of the four dials, left to right, you get a reading you can compare with the figures on your last month's gas bill. That reading tells you how many cubic feet of gas you've used.

Reading your gas meter may seem difficult at first glance. But it is easy when you know how to do it.

Incidentally, the reading on this meter is 5874.

Today and tomorrow, we're delivering energy you can live with.

Steerette Golfers Win Farwell Invitational

Farwell Steerette golfers won their second tournament of the season Tuesday, winning the Farwell Invitational at Farwell Country Club. The Steerettes, shooting a 383, took the tournament by a 31-stroke margin over the Tulia A team which shot a 414.

Farwell's Janene Berry was the tourney medalist with an 87 and two other Steerettes were in the top four, Robin Vinton taking second with a 94 and Sharmy Christian placing fourth with a 98. Third place medalist was Hicks of Tulia who shot a 95.

Team scores were Farwell, 383; Tulia A, 414; Tulia B, 454; Vega, 480; and Dimmitt, 519.

"This is the best score our team has shot on our course since I've been here," said a pleased coach Mike Martin. "The girls played very well team wise. The team is playing very good right now and I can see where we can still take 10 strokes off this score."

Martin said that Farwell's course is the second toughest course that his girls will play on this year. "The hardest is the Ross Rogers course in Amarillo, the course we'll play on this weekend at the Amarillo Relays," he said.

However, Farwell is the defending champion of the Amarillo Relays, Janene Berry is defending medalist from that tourney, and Robin Vinton is defending third place medalist. "The chances are very good that we'll win this weekend; however, Guymon has a good, strong team," he said.

Other individual Farwell scores in Tuesday's action were Tammy Obenshain, 104; Cydney Ford, 121; and Kay Geuther, 134. "Kay is improving with each game, she did very well Tuesday," said Martin.

A Chat With Coach

and Steerette Janene Berry was the tourney medalist shooting 87. Vinton took second place with a 94, and Sharmy Christian was fourth place medalist with a score of 98. Farwell plays in the Amarillo relays this weekend. The defending relays champions will play on what coach Martin refers to as their toughest course but feels the "chances are good" to win the event.

Farwell Thespians Named To UIL All-Star Cast

Although they did not win the District UIL One-Act play competition, Farwell's drama students did place two participants on the All-Star Cast, and one received honorable mention, according to Don Malone, high school principal.

For their performance in "Of Winners, Losers and Games," actors Lawrence Gobble and Rocky Ford were named to the All-Star Cast, and Cheryl London received honorable mention to that cast.

Winning the annual event were Vega and Bovina, and Springlake-Earth was named alternate.

Win Ribbons At Bovina

Three Steerette runners brought home ribbons from last week's Bovina Relays, according to their coach, Vester Joiner.

Johanna Mesman placed second in the two mile run and third in the mile run, and Jane Ward placed sixth in the hurdles event to earn winners' ribbons in the meet.

One of those making it to the semifinals was Leslie Castleberry, who captured third place in the tourney. ## Farwell Principals Attend Conference

by Jerry Dee Owen

Promises In Education '81 was a conference designed to help educators examine 49 educational projects during a two-day session in Austin on March 17th and 18th. The conference was sponsored by the Texas Education Agency and the Regional Education Service Centers. Don Malone, Farwell, high school principal, and Jerry Dee Owen, Farwell junior high school principal, attended these sessions in Austin.

Twenty-seven National Diffusion Network Programs and 22 Demonstration Programs in School Improvement were presented at the conference. The NDN Programs were validated by the U.S. Department of Education. All are proven effective; many have been adopted by Texas public schools. The DPSI Programs have been designed, developed, and proven effective in Texas public schools. All have been validated by the Texas Education Agency.

The majority of the programs attended dealt with individualized instruction in the areas of mathematics, language arts, science, and social studies.

What does individualized instruction mean for our schools during this decade? In its simplest form, individualized instruction organizes experiences around the individual needs of students, whether alone or in groups. It provides experiences compatible with each student's particular learning style, and incorporates the student's skills and abilities with his or her acquired knowledge and desired goals. The teacher's role is vital. The instructor works constantly to realize the potential of each learner by analyzing, motivating, and counseling.

Any of the 49 validated programs can be adopted by school districts, and a contact person from our local service center will provide help to install these programs into the school curriculum. The ideas are out there and ready to roll our way.

On the last day of the conference, the group heard Governor William Clements. Governor Clements spoke on the ten priorities and legislation set forth by an education committee for the 1980's.

These priorities included such issues as: (1) basic curriculum, (2) improving student learning, (3) student behavior, (4) teacher-training and competency, (5) master-teacher programs, (6) appropriations for Texas schools, (7) school operations and, (8) bi-lingual education re-evaluations. We have an opportunity to provide better lives for our children; and in turn, an ever-better state.

A quote from the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education states that, "Texans are well served by their schools - many goals of public education are being achieved. Yet, the schools can and must improve. The public, the policy makers, and the educators must be dedicated to reaching consensus and generating the will to act on important issues. Through combined efforts, education will be improved for all the students of Texas."

Our schools provide the basic building blocks for meaningful careers and satisfying lives. The Governor challenged everyone in Texas to work together for the cause of better education.

Texico Threesome Attends Workshop

Three students at Texico High School were among the 1211 young home economics students who attended the New Mexico Association of Future Homemakers of America/Home Economics Related Occupations Annual Leadership Meeting in Albuquerque, March 19-21.

Valda Cavallero, Tammy Adkins and Dana Morris joined teenagers from all over the state of New Mexico at the three-day meeting, with the student-developed theme, "Somewhere Over The Rainbow."

Those attending "explored the value of families of all varieties and how to prepare for the social changes of today and tomorrow," said Kendale Burch, FHA-HERO advisor.

Activities during the conference included idea boosters on lifestyles, careers, education, the family, habitats, energy, and product safety.

Weekend Sports Schedule

All four Texico track teams will participate in the Buffalo Relays Saturday in Melrose, beginning at 9 a.m. MST.

Farwell's high school girls and junior high school girls will host the district track meet Saturday on the Steer track. Field events begin at 9 a.m. CST and preliminaries begin at 10:30 a.m. CST. Six schools will compete in the event. Springlake-Earth is defending district champion.

Farwell tennis teams are to compete in the Amarillo Relays Tennis Tourney Friday and Saturday.

FFA Judging Teams In District Meets

Texico FFA Judging teams have competed in two judging contests in recent weeks - Melrose and District competition at Portales this past week. In addition, eight FFA members who own livestock attended a one-day Livestock Evaluation hosted by Texas Tech University in Lubbock on March 16.

At the symposium, the Texico FFA members were one of only three school groups who attended the program scheduled in conjunction with National Agriculture Week, while most of the audience of approximately 100 people were businessmen, ranchers, farmers, and university students.

Jeff Day, a Texico FFA member, won a prize of two pounds of meat for correctly evaluating a group of market hogs during a contest where every member of the audience participated.

The seminar program consisted of panels of experts - usually a breeder, a livestock judge, and a buyer, who debated and explained their reasoning on selecting the best types of animals.

Texico members who attended the all-day program included Day, Ronnie Duns-worth, Doyle Duncan, Ricky Lebow, Montie Powell, Danny Reid, Tobin Tate and Kevin West, accompanied by Eddie West, advisor.

On Friday and Saturday of last week, FFA judging teams competed in poultry, livestock, dairy, meats and horse judging in District IV competition at Portales, competing against FFA teams from approximately 30 schools.

In the horse judging contest, Tobin Tate was high individual in the district. Texico does not have a team competing in the horse contest this year.

If you're one of the many producers doing constant battle with wheat root rot - the cavalry's coming! ... particularly for you early planters gaining wheat pasture for cattle. The cavalry will be carrying new heavy artillery called Imazali, a compound which has nearly completed its journey through the government labyrinth. Used in Europe for several years with good success, the fungicide will be the first totally new wheat seed treatment released in 10 years. Imazali does not leave a detectable chemical residue in plants, although it has a systemic action which means it protects the inside of immature plants as well as the outside. Tests indicate the substance controls root rot infection in seedlings by 80 to 100 percent for a two to three month period after planting. The new addition to the arsenal should be available as late as next year or as early as this fall.

Fearless Leader, Hardy RA's Brave Winds For Camp-Out

by Mark Ryburn

The Pioneer chapter of the Royal Ambassadors of the First Baptist Church of Farwell took part in a camp-out Friday night, March 27.

The group had planned to camp at Oasis State Park southwest of Clovis, but the site had to be changed due to the high winds.

Oblivious to all hardships, the RA's decided to go ahead with the expedition, but the campsite was changed to one mile north of Farwell.

The fateful events of that night are recapped as follows: The four hardy RA's, Mark Bristow, Mark Cole, Wesley May and Brent Stephens, and their not-so-hardy leader, yours truly, met at the FBC Farwell at 5:30 p.m.

Prepared for the inclement weather, these pioneers came equipped with the necessary survival gear such as tents, sleeping bags, and feather pillows.

Arriving at the campsite, the guys, under the guidance of their experienced leader, set up their tents. Everything went smoothly except the experienced leader's tent ripped in several places and fell down.

With the help of his trusty companions, the not-so-experienced leader finally got his tent set up.

The RA's then sharpened their directional skills with a scavenger hunt. Directions were given to each camper and he was to follow them to a waiting reward. This was to teach the young men how to read and follow directions.

Following directions with precision, the RA's ran around like a bunch of chickens with their heads cut off searching for the rewards. After numerous wrong turns and dead ends, the reward was finally found by Brent Stephens.

The RA's then cooked their supper consisting of hamburger, potatoes, and onions wrapped in foil and placed in the hot campfire coals.

The result was a surprisingly edible meal, (except when you took a bite of ashes thinking they were part of the meat patty!)

After dinner it was noticed that necessary provisions were running low, so the RA's set out to hike to town, (about three miles round trip).

On the return trip, with bag of Starburst fruit chews and hot links in hand, the wind really started to howl. Walking cheerfully into camp, the Pioneers found that the experienced leader's tent had blown down again. After setting the tent back up, they sacked out for the night.

The wind really blew that night, but the leader's tent didn't blow down again, however, the tent of Mark Bristow and Brent Stephens blew down four or five times and the zipper on Wesley May's tent ripped open.

Despite these adversities, the RA's slept well. Filled with energy from a restful night's sleep, the RA's awoke at 4 a.m. and dragged their tireless leader's sleeping bag outside with the leader still in it. (Any men interested in becoming RA leaders may contact Mark Ryburn at 481-9540.)

The Pioneers then built a fire and cooked a breakfast of bacon and eggs. After breakfast, the tents were taken down (which was easy because most had already fallen down) and loaded on the bus.

With a smile on his face and a gleam in the one eye that was open that early, the tireless experienced leader headed the bus for home.

CHRIST IN US

It has been well said that if there is anything good in any man it is because it was put there by God. And something good - a new nature - has been imparted by God to every true believer.

While there is still within us "that which is begotten of the flesh," there is also "that which is begotten of the Spirit," and just as the one "cannot please God," so the other always pleases Him.

Adam was originally created in the image and likeness of God, but he fell into sin and later "began a son in his own likeness, after his image" (Gen. 5:3). It could not be otherwise. Fallen Adam could generate and beget only fallen, sinful offspring, whom even the law could not change. But "what the law could not do, in that it was weak because of the flesh, God, sending His own Son, in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin condemned sin in the flesh that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit" (Rom. 8:3,4).

As Adam was made in the likeness of God, but fell, so Christ was made in the likeness of sinful flesh - though without sin - to redeem us from the fall, that by grace, through the operation of the Spirit, a new creation might be brought into being, a "new man, which, after God is created in righteousness and true holiness" (Eph. 4:24).

Thus in addition to our fallen Adamic nature true believers, through faith, have also become "partakers of the divine nature" (1 Pet. 1:4). This is the "inner man" of which Paul speaks in Eph. 3:16, and this "inner man" delights to do God's will (Rom. 7:22).

The Adamic nature, which Scripture calls "the flesh," is that which was generated by a fallen begetter - even in the believer. It is sinful in itself. It cannot be improved or changed. But "that which is born (or begotten) of God" always pleases Him. It was begotten by the Spirit of God Himself. This is why Paul says:

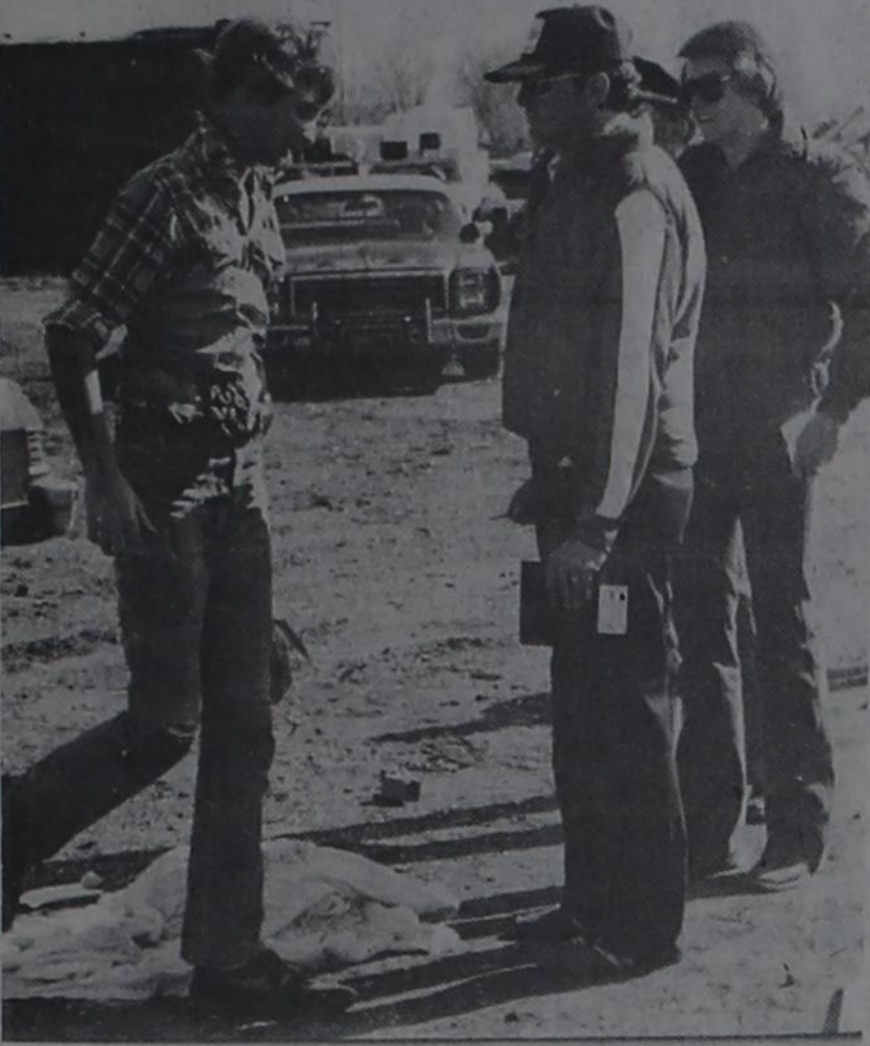

"So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit. If so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you..." (Rom. 8:8,9).

EMT Training - -

Texico Boys In Simulated Accident

Simulated Accident Scene

Taking part in a simulated car accident for the first aid training of Advanced Red Cross workers and EMT First Responders were four Texico students, including Opie Kelley, left. Kelley's father, Richard, center, was one of the instructors of the course taught to members of the Clovis Police Department, Curry County Sheriff's Department and the Sheriff's Posse as well as the New Mexico Mounted Patrol. The Texico youth were involved in five separate "simulated" auto accidents and were made up to look like real accident victims. The three other "victims" were Brad Steward, Joe Steward and Scott Elliott. [Photo courtesy of Texico School.]

by Mary Sobin
Probably the last thing a patrolling law official wants to hear over the radio is "10-45" at First Street and Hull.

"10-45" means accident with injury. Sirens sound, gas pedals are floored and hearts race as the person heading to the accident prays for the best.

The victim of the accident is also praying that those arriving on the scene will have the knowledge and capabilities necessary to treat wounds and shock. This takes quite a lot of training, involving both instructors and other people who act as accident victims in training exercises.

Four Texico students, all freshmen, recently took part in such an exercise. Brad Steward, Opie Kelley, Joe Steward and Scott Elliott were involved in a simulated car accident consisting of two cars and a pedestrian at a Clovis car salvage lot.

The four were made up to look like real accident victims with such injuries as bulging eyes, open intestines, broken bones, fractured jaws, and facial and other body lacerations, for the Practical Training Exercise given to Advanced Red Cross persons and Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) First Responders.

According to one of the class instructors, Richard Kelley, members of the Curry County Sheriff's department, the Curry County Sheriff's Posse, the Clovis Police Department traffic division, and three members of the New Mexico Mounted Patrol took part in the exercise.

"They all knew it was a training exercise," said Kelley, "but none knew it would be as real as it was. Some were really shaken."

The Texico students explained that they were asked to behave as real accident victims.

"We were told ahead of time whether we were to be dead or alive," said one. "So we'd moan and groan just like we were really hurt."

The kids took part in five simulations with three "students" from the training class at each simulation.

The "accident" they were to have been involved in occurred when "driver" Opie Kelley, along with five passengers, hit another vehicle, then a pedestrian, throwing one of his passengers out of the car and onto the other vehicle.

For his injuries of a bulging eye and open intestines, Kelley was treated with a small box placed over the eye and a plastic bag over the intestines. The rest were treated for their burns and other injuries in the normal manner.

"We watched them to see if they could treat the basics," said the instructor. "Everyone is taught about things to check for first."

Simulated blood was made from Karo syrup and red food coloring. "It was real sticky," the boys said. "Once when I turned my head the blood ran from a face cut into my mouth," said Joe Steward.

Burns were made from plastic sleeves slipped over a hand or leg, and facial plastic was put on their faces to simulate the appropriate wounds.

The boys also witnessed the famous Hurst tool, "The Jaws Of Life," in action as members of the Red Cross and EMT used it to cut the car open.

Instructor Kelley also explained that a simulated gas tank explosion took place with smoke bombs being thrown under the car.

"Everyone did great," he said, "This class scored the highest on the written exam with a 94.13 percent average. The lowest grade given was 88."
