Upon his arrival in San Francisco, Capt. E. J. ("Mike") Moran, of the cruiser Boise, hurried to his home in San Rafael where he was greeted by his two children, Michaela, 13 (left), and Moore, 11, whom he has seen for only ten days in the last two years. Captain Moran's light cruiser settled for six Jap warships in the Solomon waters.

Carthon Phillips Reveals Narrow Escapes With 19th in South Seas

A little leaner, a good deal browner and definitely more mature from experiences of the past year, S-Sgt. Carthon Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Phillips of Farwell, is home on furlough after having participated in some of the more serious engagements of the current war.

A member of the famous 19th group of the Army Air Forces which has three times been cited by the President for gallantry in action, Carthon has seen service in Java, the East Indies and New Guinea in his duty as assistant flight surgeon with the Flying Fortresses.

Just six days before Pearl Harbor was attacked on Dec. 7, 1941, the 19th visited in Honolulu. When news of war came, they were some 1,000 miles, Carthon estimates, from the Hawaiian Islands on a ship manned with only light guns.

At Fiji, Carthon relates, they picked up a convey and went on to Australia without accident. But from there the story takes on a more grim aspect. From Australia the 19th was sent to Java where, as Carthon puts it, "we were badly bombed and strafed" and quoting from the Dec. 7, 1942 issue of Time magazine: "For a while the war was Japan v. the 19th"

Evacuate Java When it appeared certain that Java could not be held, evacuation plans were laid and in capacity as assistant flight surgeon the Farwell had was due to go out by plane for Australia. "However, I was ranked out of my seat and had to leave by boat." The large convoy of evacuees from Java struck a terrific typhoon in the Indian Ocean and "having a faster ship and a smarter captain, we got away from the rest of the convoy. The next day the rest of the convoy was sunk. We had a bombing attack and a sub attack before getting through," he recalls.

In the meantime, the plane on which he was due to make the trip to Australia had landed at Broome, Australia and in attempting to get out before a Japanese attack the next morning was shot down some 15 miles off the coast, only one survivor being picked up. "My captain was killed there," Carthon adds. After safe arrival in Australia, the 19th was reorganized and has since been carrying on extensive activities in the war zone in that area. Recently a number of the war-weary boys were relieved to return to the States.

Friend is Killed During his time "down under," Carthon reports that he happened on only two boys whom he had known back home—one a college friend from Tech who was a bombardier and who lost his life in action three days after Carthon visited with him.

MARCUS SELLS TO MALONE Another business deal was closed the first of the week which means the passing of another business firm, brought about by the war. Andy Marcus has sold his ice and produce business to Elton Malone, who has operated the Ford Produce Co. Malone took over on Monday. Marcus, who is registered with the Bailey county board, is expecting his call to military service within the next few weeks.

In consolidating the two businesses, Malone has moved his equipment to the location formerly occupied by Marcus.

Unrationed Gas Draws Crowd

Returning home from a holiday trip to Albuquerque Monday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Triplett were amazed to see people scurrying here and fro on the road just west of Santa Rosa.

The reason: A large gasoline line transport truck had skidded off the highway and overturned with the result that unrationed gas flowed freely down the hillsides for several minutes.

Triplett reports that as he approached the scene he observed scores of people rushing toward the overturned truck with "buckets, cans, dishpans and everything" to capture a share of the precious fuel. Cars piled on the highway till a small traffic jam resulted, he added.

Cold Weather Brings Light Snow Saturday

Following a balmy Christmas Day that saw many local people out in their shirt sleeves, a severe cold spell swept down on this region Saturday afternoon that sent the mercury tumbling. A light snow fell during Saturday night.

Reports now show that this immediate section was on the western edge of a snowstorm that reached heavy proportions to the east and northeast, with heavy snows being reported at Hereford, Vega, and regions in the upper Panhandle. The mercury dropped to the lowest point of the year Sunday night with local readings at 14 degrees above zero.

HAVE YOU RENEWED?

If you have neglected to renew your subscription to The Tribune, this is just a reminder that now is a good time to attend to that matter. Renewals have been pouring in during the past few weeks and many new names have been put on the list—but there are many yet whose paper will be stopped shortly after the first of the year unless renewed by that time. No Christmas special is being offered this year and all subscribers will be charged the regular rate of $1.50 per year.

Every man starts life as a baby—and the smart ones outgrow it.

Belief that a Farwell flyer and his cousin have been lost in the mountains of New Mexico or Arizona began to mount today as the hours passed with no report from the boys since they took off from an airfield at Roswell, N. M., Saturday morning, enroute to their base at Williams Field, Ariz.

Second Lt. James R. Caldwell Jr., 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Caldwell who live four miles south of Bovina, and his cousin, S-Sgt. Maxwell W. Caldwell, 26, of San Antonio, were aboard the two-motored training plane when it left the Roswell field with the Farwell boy at the controls. The Caldwell family here received a message from Army officials at Williams Field on Monday, stating that the flyers were long overdue at their base.

No further word has been received here as to the fate of the two.

Here For Christmas

The parents of the Farwell flyer stated that their son and his cousin were returning to their base after spending Christmas day in the Caldwell home where they had enjoyed Christmas dinner with members of the family. They had flown from Williams Field to Lubbock, where they set the plane down and proceeded to Farwell by automobile in company with Bedford Calawell, brother of the local boy.

Returning to Lubbock Saturday morning, they took off by plane at 8:22 a. m. CWT and landed safely at Roswell. They refueled and got the all-clear weather report from their base. They left Roswell at 9 a. m. MWT and headed west—and there the trail ends.

Army officials at Williams Field have notified the Caldwell family here that a search is being made for the flyers, and have promised to notify them of any developments.

Two Ranges To Cross

Two high ranges of mountains lay in the path of the flyers between Roswell and Williams Field. The White and Capitan mountains must first be cleared 100 miles west of Roswell. Further west lie the even higher elevations of the Black Range along the New Mexico-Arizona border.

Parents of the Farwell flyer expressed belief late Tuesday afternoon that the young men may still be found alive, having been forced down in some inaccessible region where communication with the outside world must be made by carrier on horseback.

Junior Caldwell entered the service on Sept. 27, 1941, when he enlisted in the Air Corps at Lubbock.

TEACHER ABSENT

Mrs. Clyde Barton teacher in the Farwell high school, has been called to Albuquerque, where her husband is confined in a sanitarium. Mrs. J. T. Carter is substituting for Mrs. Barton during her absence.

DRAFT BOARD TO MEET

Mrs. Bessie Lee Henneman, clerk of the local draft board, today announced a meeting of the board to be held Friday afternoon, Jan. 1st.

New Ration Books On "Point" System

War Ration Book Two, which will be issued sometime in January over the entire nation, will differ a good deal from the current ration book now in use.

With the issuance of Book Two, "point" rationing will be in effect on all commodities under rationing regulations, except coffee, sugar and gasoline.

Putting it in its simplest version—and even that isn't simple—point rationing means that goods which are particularly scarce will require more coupons, or one with more points, than some item which is easier to get.

That sounds foggy, but the following illustration may help: Tenderloin steak, being relatively scarce, may have a high point value and require a larger number of coupons than the lowly hamburger, which is available in larger quantities and consequently has a lower value. Thus, in exchange for a ration coupon worth eight points, the housewife may be able to obtain one pound of tenderloin, or four pounds of hamburger. These point values are used for illustration only; point values for rationed foods have not yet been made.

Values To Be Set Before the new ration books are issued, a point value will be set on each item affected and an official list released. These point values will be based on available supplies and will vary as surpluses of particular items increase or decrease.

Only exceptions to the rule are sugar, coffee and gasoline, which will continue to be rationed by single coupons specifying certain allotments.

In point rationing, one set of coupons covers a whole group of commodities. For instance, a week's meat ration coupons enables the buyer to choose between beef, pork, lamb or mutton.

Books Will Be Changed

The coming ration book will contain four pages of blue stamps and a like number of red stamps. Each page will have 24 stamps, lettered A to Z, and numbered 8, 5, 2, or 1. The number designates the value of the stamp in points, the letter indicates the period in which they are valid. (Why the use of two colors was not explained in official releases.)

No date other than "early next year" has been set for issuance of the new books.

LEVY GOES ON BILLS

B. N. Graham, secretary of the Texico-Farwell Waterworks, today called attention to the 10-cent levy which will appear on all water bills mailed out this week. A meter assessment of ten cents has been charged against all water meters in Texico and Farwell to create a small fund to defray the operating expenses of the Texico Volunteer Fire Department, it was announced last week in this paper.

The most attractive filling station we know of is the dining room.

TWO SELECTIONS ACCEPTED

Marvin Key and Irvin McLaughlin, Parmer county selectees, have been accepted for military service and will report at an early date. Key was inducted from here and McLaughlin was accepted at Fresno, Calif., as a transfer from the Parmer county board.

An additional eight boys were inducted through the local board for December, but were transferred to other boards and no report of acceptance or rejection has been received at the local office.

New Officers Will Take Oath Friday

The Parmer County Commissioners Court will convene in special session here Friday for the purpose of approving the bonds and administering the oath of office to three new officials in this county who were elected at the November general election.

The three new names on the official roster after January 1 will be two new justices of the peace and one county commissioner.

George McLean of Friona will be sworn in to succeed D. H. Meade as justice of the peace, and Jess Newton will assume the office of justice of the peace in the Farwell precinct, succeeding B. E. Nobles. Neither Justice Meade or Justice Nobles were candidates for reelection.

T. E. Levy will take over the office of county commissioner of precinct No. 3, succeeding Ed McGuire, who lost the nomination to Levy in the July primary.

Bonds for all county officials who were reelected will be passed on at Friday's session of the Commissioners Court, it was announced.

Plan To Attend Annual Conference At Austin

County Judge Lee Thompson, ex-officio county superintendent of schools, announced today that plans were under way for all school superintendents of Parmer County to attend the annual Conference of Superintendents at Austin next week-end.

Those planning to make the trip are Judge Thompson, J. T. Carter of Farwell, W. O. Cherry of Bovina, O. B. Ginn of Friona, H. D. Bentley of Oklahoma Lane and R. E. Everett of Lazbuddy. They will make the trip by auto each passenger furnishing one tire.

Judge Thompson said that State Supt. L. A. Woods had stressed the importance of attending the meeting, due to the many new problems facing the schools the coming year, which will be discussed. The group will leave here Wednesday, returning home Sunday.

Control of public education in Texas is vested primarily in local administrative units, consisting of approximately 998 independent and 5,581 common school districts.

1942 Local News Passes in Review

1942: A year which saw more and more boys leave home for service, a year wherein ration books and empty toothpaste tubes became the things you forgot when you went to town, a year of booming defense plants and harassed small businessmen, a year that had the shortest month in history, February, when one day had only 23 hours—and tomorrow (Thursday) night 1942 passes into history.

In reviewing the year's events, irrespective of how small or big the town, the current conflict in which American boys are fighting is first and foremost in the minds of all.

Along this line are two highlights which come first to memory: the fall of Corregidor and the invasion of Africa. Then too, the historic fight now being made on Guadalcanal is apt to be an important topic at every gathering.

Rationing Second in Interest

Tire rationing, tube rationing, car rationing, sugar rationing, farm machinery rationing, gasoline rationing, coffee rationing, and the promise of more yet to come is undoubtedly second in interest.

Trips to the ration office have become a thing of regular occurrence—in fact, a lot of people are wondering what they did in town before they had the office to visit and make their pleas for more of this or that restricted item.

Tragedies At Home

Swinging back to news at home, Texico-Farwell and Parmer County grieved over ten tragic deaths during 1942. Rex McElroy, Parmer sailor, was the first casualty of the war, being reported lost in action in March. Lt. A. C. Potts Jr., of the marines, was also reported killed in action, just three weeks ago.

Tom Adkins, former mechanic now in service, and Ensign C. D. Gault of Bovina have also been reported "missing" and are believed lost.

Three men met death through the infliction of gun wounds, Dick Hunter, Frank Avery and I. W. Barnhouse, while two deaths resulted from car accidents. Guy (Pete) Kyrker was killed instantly in a collision, and Willis Wayne Hedgecoke, an infant, died from the result of injuries in a crash. Another tot met his death under the wheels of a tractor in a sad accident, being Herschel Dwayne Rundell.

A near tragedy was averted just recently when Emma Jean and Peggy June Rogers were saved from asphyxiation by gas.

Citizens Are Patriotic

Local citizens demonstrated their cooperativeness in drives for scrap rubber—124,938 lbs.—and scrap metal—252 tons—while at the same time more than going over the top in the Parmer county quota of war stamps and bonds for the year. Little Paula Sue Arnold lugged 21 lbs. of pennies to the Texico postoffice to buy a war bond.

USO contributions were generous, too, and home demonstration women of the county sponsored a successful drive to equip a recreation room at the Clovis army camp. With a population of 6,000, Parmer hung up a record by issuing 250 Red Cross first aid cards of all grades, and home nursing classes were likewise conducted.

Not to be outdone by the men, three women went into the forces of the WAACs during the year. Mrs. Myrtle Nichols and Katherine Vassery of Bovina pulled a sister act on recruiting officers, and not long after, Ernestine Richey of Texico joined the ranks of the women's army.

Office Personnel Changes

Personnel in a number of local offices changed so often that many were hard put to know who was doing what. Frank Seale resigned as FSA head to enter the navy and was replaced by Jess Coleman, who also enlisted, with Earl Fine as successor. Keltz Garrison left the Triple A (Continued on Back Page)

Retail Services May Now Be Curtailed

The OPA has authorized the curtailment of many peacetime retail services without reductions in ceiling prices, and John Armstrong, chairman of the Farmer County Ration Board, stated that merchants wishing information along this line may secure bulletins explaining the new ruling.

OPA makes it clear in the bulletin that it regards many peacetime retail practices as costly and "excess baggage" in war times.

The new supplementary order which cuts across all regulations at the retail level, allows curtailment or discontinuance of deliveries that must be eliminated, changed or curtailed so that the retailer can comply with any order of the ODT and deliveries of reasonably carryable packages, except such emergency purchases as prescriptions and sick-room supplies. The order further permits the discontinuance of sales on approval, acceptance of articles returned by customers, gift wrapping, gift packaging, lay-away and will-call privileges, free telephone calls; services performed without relation to a specific sale, such as instruction classes, style shows, store decorations, free concerts or refreshments and air conditioning.

However, for the protection of the consumer, the order states specifically that the retailer cannot without a compensating reduction in ceiling price, eliminate alteration or remodeling services, nor repair, maintenance or installation services customarily sold with an article by way of guarantee.

Similarly the order provides that if delivery of non-carryable packages is eliminated, the ceiling price must be reduced by the amount of net cost to the consumer of having delivery made by the most usual and reasonable method of transportation. A retailer who charged extra for delivery may drop delivery if he also drops the charge.

The man who gets along best in this world is the one who can look happy when he isn't.

Factors Suggested For Bacon Buying

For the convenience of Mrs. Housewife, district headquarters of the OPA have suggested several factors for her to consider in "bringing home the bacon".

According to OPA, there are three grades—A, the best, B and C—in both sliced and slab bacon, and also according to OPA, there is approximately 5c per lb. difference between grade A sliced bacon and grade C, and approximately 4c per lb. between grades A and B, while the difference in slab bacon is 4c between grades A and B.

Apparently OPA is not aware of the fact that the majority of butchers in markets are unable to obtain anything but sliced bacon—except on rare occasions—and all of it, whether fat, lean or medium, comes delivered to them priced Grade A.

May File Non-Hiway Gas Applications Now

Attaches at the office of the Farmer County Ration Board announced today that operators of tractors and persons wishing gasoline for "non-highway" use might file applications for such rations now.

Up to this time, the forms have not been on hand at the local office, Mrs. Webb Gober, clerk, said in making the announcement.

Any person operating a business wherein the use of gasoline for other than driving purposes is required may file an application for the "R" book.

Reclaimed Rubber Tires OK'd by OPA

West Texas motorists purchasing new passenger car tires of reclaimed rubber are amply protected both in price and in information on the grade of tire they are purchasing, Howard Gholson, district manager of the OPA, said today.

A label showing maximum retail price and indicating the tire is grade 3 for rationing purposes must be attached to each casing by manufacturers and private brand distributors of reclaimed rubber tires.

The only tires now being manufactured for passenger cars are of reclaimed rubber. They may be sold only to persons who obtain certificates from ration boards. Under the mileage rationing program all motorists are eligible for tires, but the rationing system still is based on the quota plan. Most essential mileage will be taken care of first.

Station Operators May Mail Coupons

To save filling station operators unnecessary driving a plan has been worked out whereby they will no longer be required to call in person at the offices of the county ration boards to exchange retail gasoline coupons for a bulk purchase certificate.

Under new rules, the transaction may be made by mail if desired. A self-addressed envelope should accompany each group of coupons for use by the board in mailing back the exchange certificate to the applicant. When the certificate is received by the licensed distributor or his agent, it must be signed by him before it is valid.

Officials have advised use of registered mail, as under present regulations there is no procedure for replacement of coupons lost by a licensed gasoline distributor.

Great Demand For Farm Products In '43

Citing a recent statement by economists that 1943 is expected to bring the greatest demand ever known for farm products, and stating that next year's production difficulties will be tremendous, Earl L. Fine, RR supervisor of Farm Security Administration this week urged farmers to begin planning their program of operations immediately.

Shortage of manpower already is a critical problem in many farming areas, Fine states, and will be much more critical next year. As the nation increases the army and steps up industrial output it is inevitable that greater problems will face agriculture.

Farmers in Parmer county and throughout the United States, Fine said, should forestall many hardships and disappointments by developing basic farm and home plans during the winter months.

The FSA, he stated, expects to receive applications for loans during the next two months from many Parmer county farmers. Under a directive of the Secretary of Agriculture this agency has the responsibility for getting into full production the manpower and resources of all farm operators who are unable to achieve their full output through their own efforts or through existing normal channels of assistance.

Fine said that FSA loans are available to eligible borrowers for practically all farming needs, including purchase of capital goods such as cows, hogs, sheep and other livestock.

He further advised applicants to first contact the regular credit agencies because FSA is not in competition with any public or private lending agencies.

The Parmer FSA office is in the courthouse in Farwell and Mr. Fine will be glad to discuss any phase of the program with county farmers.

office and John Martin took his place, Garlon A. Harper, former assistant county agent, returned here as agent when Lee McElroy entered the services.

A change in pastors was made at the Methodist church, with Rev. E. J. Sloan going to Alamogordo and Rev. Paul H. Tripp taking over the pulpit. Mildred Rogers and Bess Dow, familiar fixtures in the local bank and Texico postoffice, respectively, have gone on to other cities to work.

Big Harvests
Storage facilities throughout the area were strained by bumper wheat, row crop and soy bean yields and the Commodity Credit Corporation imported loads of prefabricated bins for use in storing the excess.

A destructive hailstorm ripped through the eastern edge of the county just at wheat harvest time and took down a good deal of the crop, and farmers were pushed to manage harvesting with the shortage of labor occasioned both by the draft and big-money jobs.

Carl G. Davis came here to establish the Davis Mercantile, Sterlyn Billington built and moved into new quarters, the AAA office moved to a downtown location, and Andy Marcus sold his produce business to Elton Malone.

Several businesses closed due to war pressure including that of Paul Roberts merchant, in Texico, and the Jones Bros. Wrecking Yard also in Texico. On the other hand a new warehouse was erected at the Roberts Seed in Texico.

Cpl. Chester Cranfill, marine who had spent several months in Iceland, S-Sgt. Carthon Phillippe, who has seen service over the Pacific and Champ Porter, who had been in Australia came home to visit and relate uncensored bits of news.

Clubbers Take Honors
Donald Watkins, Oklahoma Lane 4H clubber and Bill Dotson, Bailey county club boy, won trips to the 4H Congress in Chicago. Leon Grisom and Watkins took first in district 2 on 4H dairy judging and the Texico FFA poultry judging team, Loyle Dean Brooks, Chester Rierison and Clarence Summers, were first place winners in the state contest.

The Santa Fe RR has almost completed a double track between here and Clovis, the eighth annual junior stock show for Parmer was held at Friona, the "Victory Day" show was held in Bovina, and Texico-Farwell was featured on a radio program over KGNC.

Gas rationing brought on something new—other than walking—the assessment of taxes by mail. The Texico fire department received a new truck and just recently a meter assessment on water users was voted, to assist in financing the department.

Help in Harvest
Both Texico and Farwell schools were closed during the rush of harvest time, with students, both big and little, swarming the cotton patches.

The Texico school received 200 new chairs for use in the auditorium and Spanish was instituted in the grade curriculum at Farwell.

Julian Thornton was the first Parmer county boy to receive his wings in the Army Air Force during the war. R. H. Wilkerson and John Foster Beale have been reported Jap prisoners.

Sports Picture
Rationing also had a sobering effect on school sports during the fall season, with football dropped at Farwell and a limited basketball schedule set up on both sides of the line.

The Texico girls' cage team, last spring, came through with the New Mexico title, while in volleyball they captured both grade and senior honors in Curry. The Farwell boy cagers took second in the district, and the Texico grade boys won second at the county track meet.

The Passing Parade
Familiar faces absent from the scene include W. H. McDaniel, N. C. Dixon, Mrs. Fannie Dycus, R. H. Young, Mrs. Mary Etta Cassady, J. T. Hulsey, Mrs. Mary Jane Williams, Rev. Clint McMillan, J. M. Crow; Fredrick William Jersig, R. D. Looney, Mrs. Gordon McCuan, Mrs. D. K. Roberts, A. J. Pipes, Mrs. Sarah Alice Norton, Mrs. Laura Jensen, J. A. Jones, Mrs. D. Bilbrey, Rev. Henry W. Carter, J. W. Rose, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Snell, Byron Wilburn Park, J. H. Drager, C. W. C. Gallmeier and Carl McGuire. These are in addition to those listed above.

Social Calendar
On the social side of the ledger are recorded a number of wedding anniversary celebrations reported locally through the year. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lindsey celebrated their silver anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Foster marked up 50 years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hunter, 43 years, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham, 26 years.

Flora Lee Williams was chosen queen of the Junior Prom at Lubbock Tech and Helen Jo Hunton (formerly White) was named Girl of the Year at ENMC, Portales.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

By GARLON A. HARPER
County Agricultural Agent
Texas A. & M. Extension Service

The control of the cattle grub is one step which should be taken immediately by all farmers of Parmer County who own either beef or dairy cows. Heretofore we have been inclined to pass over the grubs in the backs of our cattle with the idea that they did little damage and that there was nothing we could do about them. The cattle grub does a lot of damage—and can be controlled easily.

It has been estimated that if we would effectively control this pest we could produce the needed increase of beef and milk products without increasing the number of cattle raised. Grubby cattle use 15% more feed to produce the same weight than cattle which do not have grubs. Of all cattle received on the Fort Worth stockyards, 42% are infected with grubs. The average loss on a grubby animal to the packers is $3.80. This loss is passed back to the shipper in a lower price. In the future packers will advise shippers of the grub infestation of animals they buy from them.

The heel fly lays eggs around the feet and legs of the animals in the spring. These eggs hatch out and spend about nine months burrowing through the tissues of the animal. Along in December they reach the back where they may be felt as "bumps" or knots along the top of the back. This is the time to get them. They cut small holes through the hide and later drop out of the holes when mature. After dropping out of the back of the animal the grub enters the ground and after six weeks hatches out as a mature fly ready to lay about 600 eggs on some other animal.

Control measures are simple. 5% rotenone (Derris root or cube) mixed in equal parts with wettable sulphur and dusted over the back of the animal from a fruit jar will kill approximately 95% of the grubs. The first application should be made in December and two other applications should follow at 30 day intervals. This dust method of application will appeal to farmers having a small number of cows.

For larger herds spray application consisting of 5 lbs. rotenone, 10 lbs. wettable sulphur and 100 gallons water will work well. This spray should be made from a pressure spray of about 200 lbs. pressure and applied with a stinging stream. The application can be made with the cattle moving through a chute, without ever stopping as they move through. This 100 gallons of spray will treat 30 to 40 animals. The dust mixture of 1 lb. rotenone and 1 lb. wettable sulphur will treat 25 to 37 animals. The cost per animal of either treatment will be only a few cents per animal.

Of Interest to Farmers

By John Martin, Administrator Parmer County AAA

War crops Designated
Peanuts for oil and soybeans for beans head the list of farm crops designated as war crops for Texas, the state AAA office has announced.

Other war crops grown in Texas include American-Egyptian cotton, tomatoes and peas for canning and dry edible beans, and others that may be announced later. Production goals for these war crops will be set up for individual farms. Failure to reach at least 90% of goals will result in deductions from AAA production adjustment (commodity) payments at the rate of $15 for each acre by which the war crop goal for the farm is not reached.

Although the AAA requires that at least 90% of the allotments of basic crops (cotton, wheat, rice and peanuts) be planted for the farm to earn full production payments, either war crops or essential crops over and above the normal acreage may be substituted acre for acre for the basic crops to earn payments. The full list of essential crops has not been announced, but it will include corn, oats, grain sorghums, barley and certain other crops.

Peanuts planted in excess of allotments will qualify as war crops to meet production goals and to substitute for cotton.

To encourage full use of all available crop land under the 1943 program, production adjustment payments will be made to cooperating farmers. Rates of payments, based on normal yield of allotted acres, include: cotton 1.1c per lb.; wheat, 9.2c per bu.; rice, 3.2c per bbl.; and allotment peanuts 5.5c per 100 lbs.

In addition to the crop production adjustment payments, farmers also will be able to earn a production practice payment by carrying out specified agricultural practices that improve soil, help prevent erosion and increase yields of needed war crops.

Plan Farm Production Sign-up
Agricultural leaders from all over Texas met in College Station recently to study plans for the 1943 production goal sign-up.

In the near future, sub-district meetings will be held at various points in the state to acquaint county USDA war board members with details of the 1943 production program. County war boards and county and community AAA committees will conduct the sign-up campaign in January, contacting every farmer in the state.

The farm plan work sheet which will be filled out for every farm will show the number of war units of farm production each is producing. It also will show prospective or immediate needs for fencing, machinery, fertilizer and credit for the farm. At the same time interviewers will take a farm manpower inventory of each farm. This inventory will disclose labor needs on the farm or any excess of labor supply. Information obtained on manpower will be used by the war board in helping solve labor shortages and in informing Selective Service boards concerning deferment of essential farm workers.

The work sheet sign-up and the farm plan sign-up must be completed by February 1.
