By Mike Pomper

I'd like to share this with you

Normally, I try to keep my column somewhat upbeat. It's so easy to criticize and complain; much harder to do the opposite. And I like a good challenge.

But, today, I think I'll take the easy way out. It must be the weather or something.

As you know, I've spent a bunch of years in the journalism profession, dealing with English and grammar, etc. (although sometimes it may not appear so).

Anyway, there are certain words and phrases that drive me out of my tree. For example, I always shake my head when someone asks me if I've "put the paper to bed."

I want to go on record, right now, that I have never slept with a paper. There may have been a time when I sort of drowsed off on the couch with a newspaper nearby. But I have never put a paper to bed.

Then there's the word "share" that has become a major part of our speech nowadays. When I was younger, people talked to each other; today, they share.

I liked it better when people talked with each other, frankly. But, I guess, if you have to share something you have to do it. So you go ahead and share; as for me, I plan to talk with folks.

I'll never forget when I was a young reporter in Indiana. I had written an article about a school social worker and thought it was pretty well done. But word came through the grapevine that the lady was very miffed about what I had

So when I saw her a few days later I asked what the matter was.

"You did a very poor job with that article," she replied.

"Why? What was wrong? I thought it was accurate," I said. "Well...you wrote that I 'talked to people.' I NEVER talk TO people. I talk WITH people," she answered. "Oh," I said. Then there's that phrase made famous by John Dean during the Watergate hearings - "point in time." It used to be that we did something at a given point. Now, we do it at a given "point in time." Except for me, that is. I still do things at a given point.

Of course, you probably have your pet phrases and words that you could add to this column. None of these come even close to the geat cliches in the world of sports.

My favorite is the word "hoop." Most of us think in terms of the noun, i.e., the hoop on the backboard. But when I began my sojourn as a sports writer many, many years ago, it was also used as a verb - "he hooped the bucket."

Every now and then, when I was in a good mood, I used that phrase in a basketball story. But not too often.

And, in my stories you didn't score a run; rather, you "tallied" them. There were more runs tallied in my stories than you could shake a stick at.

You learn to be careful when you write for a living. For example, have you ever read a story about "pom pom" girls? According to the dictionary, "pom pom" is a rapidfire, automatic antiaircraft cannon. As for those gals you see at the football games, they are "pom pon"

Then there are the innuendoes. This is an area where, I feel, the public has a legitimate grievance against so-called "investigative reporters." For example, look at these two ways of stating your innocence:

"I'm not guilty," he said.

"I'm not guilty," he claimed. Get the drift? By changing the verb in the explanation, you sure can change the mood, can't you? This is done far more often that it should, unfortunately.

Speaking of mood-settings, my favorite is "however." That little, old paranthetical phrase sure can adjust one's thinking in a flash. For

"He's a good, old boy and deserves his riches; however, he beats

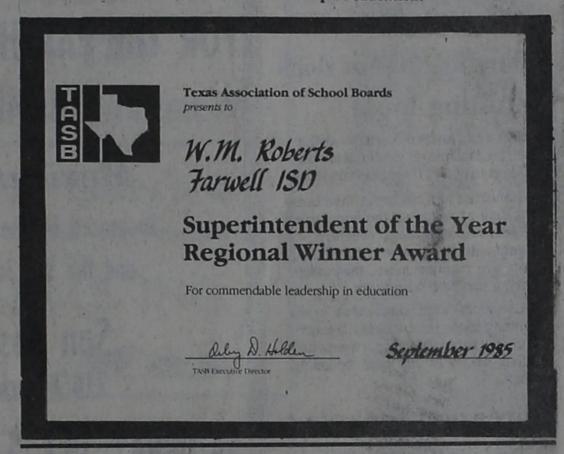

That "however" is a tricky, tricky word. However, I never use it.

Roberts honored

Each year, the Texas Association of School Boards and the Texas Association of School Administrators gives out a Superintendent of the Year award at its convention. They pick a winner from 20 regional winners. Willie Roberts, former longtime Farwell superintendent, was named this year's Superintendent of the Year for Region 16, which comprises 26 counties in the Panhandle and 72 school districts. The award was given at last weekend's convention in San Antonio. Above. Roberts receives the award Tuesday from Georgia Lee Rundell, who was his secretary for 26 years. Below is the award Roberts received "for commendable leadership in education."

Old gym renovated

The Old Farwell Gymnasium has, ceiling, rewired lights and the west been renovated.

The junior high boy's dressing room on the south side had the old lockers torn out. They tore out the divider and enlarged it. They put in a new ceiling with six inches of insulation.

They tore out the old showers and replumbed them. They put in new lighting and rewired it. Also, doors and windows were replaced.

The windows now have burglary guards. They had to be made special because of their unusual size. New non-mildew carpeting and east walls were repaired.

The old basketball goals were put on the east side. They took the glass backboards from the high school gym and bought new ones for that gym. They now have four new basketball goals.

The court was recentered for longer out-of-bounds lines. The dressing rooms on the west have been repainted and a new ceiling put in. The old shop was redone.

The gym floor is now level, they jackhammered the old ramp on the

Open House planned

An open house is scheduled today [Friday] from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Farwell School "old gym," which has been renovated. National 4-H Week celebration scheduled

In Parmer County, some 200 4-H members are planning special activities and events in observance of National 4-H Week, Oct. 6-12, according to County Extension Agents Janette Pierce and Gary Patterson.

Some of the planned activities for Parmer county include a County 4-H Project Fair and Achievement Banquet Oct. 5 in the Warwell Community Center. 4-H youth will enter exhibits in the areas of foods (fresh and preserved), clothing, arts and crafts, horticulture, crops, poultry and rabbits.

These exhibits will be open for public viewing from 1 to 2 p.m. and again at 6:00 Saturday afternoon. In addition to the project fair, 4-H youth and their leaders will culminate the 4-H year with an Achievement Banquet to begin at 7 p.m. Saturday evening.

The Parmer county 4-H'ers are among nearly 4.5 million young people across the country who will participate in the week-long celebration using the theme "4-H For Youth, For America."

"What we do for our youth today, we do for America tomorrow," said Patterson in explaining the theme. "Through 4-H, young people can acquire knowledge and develop life

Lazbuddie falls to Sudan

It was one of those proverbial games that were closer than the score indicated.

For the record, Lazbuddie fell to Sudan last Friday night 19-8. The Longhòrns are now 1-3 going into tonight's (Friday) game against Clovis sophomores at home in Parents Night action.

In the first half, which ended as a scoreless 0-0 tie, Lazbuddie had two strong opportunities to score but weren't able to take advantage of them, said Coach James Bartosh.

On one, an end zone interception stopped the Longhorn threat. On the other, a dropped pass by a Longhorn who had gotten behind the secondary occured, the coach said.

Meanwhile in the first half, Sudan reached the Lazbuddie five twice, and the Longhorn defense stopped them each time.

The game stayed scoreless until 1:30 was left in the third quarter when Sudan tallied.

In the fourth quarter, Lazbuddie punted from deep in its own territory. Sudan got good field position, then broke a long TD run for a 13-0 lead. Sudan then intercepted a Longhorn pass and returned it to the Lazbuddie 15. Sudan's third TD ensued, upping the score to 19-0. An interception by Longhorn Guy Brockman then set up his team's lone TD. Lazbuddie then hit paydirt on a 20-yard pass from Tim Lust to Paul Gonzalez. A Lust-to-Brockman pass was good for the conversion, making the score 19-8.

Statistically, Lazbuddie had 10 first downs, 16 net yards rushing and 126 through the air. Lazbuddie hit on 14 of 25 pass attempts. Quarterback Lust was good on 13 of 24 passes for 111 yards.

Horn of the Week was picked as this week's "Horn of the Week" by Coach James Bartosh. Today's feature marks the beginning of a weekly series for Lazbuddie in order to honor its outstanding football players. Bartosh noted that Lust completed 13 of 24 passes for 111 yards against Sudan.

Where did they go?

Normally, State Line Tribune subscribers get their newspapers any time between Thursday and Saturday.

But Bovina readers didn't get their Sept. 27 issues until Monday of this week.

The paper is printed each Thursday morning and delivered to the post offices in Texico and Farwell between 11 a.m. and noon.

Subscribers in the two cities, therefore, can pick up their papers after noon Thursdays. Rural route customers have their papers delivered Friday.

Subscribers out of this area usually get their papers Saturdays. But, according to the Bovina postmaster, there must have been a mix-up with the papers going there last week since they didn't arrive until Monday. Papers going from Farwell to Bovina must be routed

Kim Magness, Gary Alles wed

Kim Magness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Magness of Farwell, and Gary Alles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alles of Evansville, Ind., were united in marriage August 31 in an afternoon ceremony in Good Shepherd Catholic Church in Evansville. Officiating at the double-ring service were the Rev. W.T. Perry of Farwell and Father Kenneth Herr of Evansville.

Baskets of white mums and gladioli along with arrangements of palm ferns flanked the altar which was decorated with a unity candle and seven branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Tina Kern, organist and soloist, sang, "To Me," "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," and "Wherever You Go," for the prelude. While the mothers were being seated she sang, "Sometimes;" during the lighting of the unity candle she sang, "Because;" and at the close of the ceremony she sang, "The Wedding Song."

The bride was presented in marriage by her parents and was escorted by her father. She chose an Alfred Angelo gown of white silk overlaid with Chantilly lace featuring a fitted princess bodice with v-shaped lace yoke. The yoke was outlined with a lace ruffle that ended in short flounce sleeves. The high neckline was enhanced by reembroidered lace motifs. The A-line skirt featured a flounced hemline outlined with lace ruffle with a Matron of honor was Kris Spearman of Clovis, sister of the bride. Maid of honor was Karen Magness of Clovis, also a sister of the bride. Bridesmaid was Mary Jane Alles of Evansville, sister of the bridegroom, and bridesmatron was Cherie Franklin of San Antonio.

The bridal attendants wore long dresses of turquoise fantasia fashioned with off-the-shoulder bodice and cropped waist. A ruffle around the scoop neckline formed short cap sleeves and matched the ruffle at the skirt hemline and the gathered ruffle bustle. They carried clutch bouquets of turquoise and mauve carnations with matching stream-

Attending the bridegroom as best men were his brother, Jack Alles, and Jim Will, both of Evansville. Groomsmen were Bill Mahan and Steven Goans, also of Evansville. Ushers were Kirk Magness of Odessa, brother of the bride, and Brett DeVault of Huntingburg, Ind.

The bridegroom, his attendants, and the fathers of the bridal couple, wore tuxedos with black and dark gray stripped pants, light gray vests, dark gray coats with black trim, and gray and black ascot ties. The bridegroom wore a white rose boutonniere and the other attendants wore mauve carnations and baby's breath.

Flower girl and ringbearer were Tiffany and Todd Spearman of Clovis, niece and nephew of the bride. Tiffany wore a dress identical to that of the other bridal attendants and carried a white wicker basket trimmed with turquoise ribbon and streamers and holding mauve and turquoise flowers.

Todd was dressed identically to the other male attendants and carried a satin pillow with lace and ribbon trim.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress of jade knit and chiffon, and the bridegroom's mother wore a long dress of deep pink knit with lace bodice. They each had a corsage of white roses with accents of mauve.

Marcia Alles, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, registered guests at the church.

Following the ceremony, a reception buffet and dance were at Resurrection Church. After the buffet dinner, guests were served cake, punch, nuts and mints from a table covered with white lace over

Farwell turns back Bovina

By DeAnn Curtis

Farwell notched its third win of the season in spoiling the Bovina Mustangs' Homecoming last Friday night, 35-12.

The Steers are now 3-1 on the season. They have their Homecoming against Sudan tonight (Friday) at Steer Stadium at 8 p.m.

The game was played without the regular referees because, apparently, the referees lined up for the game had been given the wrong date. So four persons were picked, including Johnny Actkinson from Farwell, to officiate the game.

Farwell received the kickoff and after a couple of runs, Blake Kelley raced 55 yards for the Steers' first TD with 10:48 left in the first period. Kelley also scored on the two-point conversion as Farwell went ahead, Bovina fumbled on its own 33 yard line with Farwell recovering. After several rushes, an apparent TD run by David Woods was called back due to a penalty.

Farwell and Bovina then traded possessions before the Steers scored again, on a touchdown run by Kevin Owen. David Woods scored the conversion and the first quarter ended with Farwell leading 16-0.

In the second quarter, Eric Williams intercepted a Bovina pass and raced in for Farwell's third TD. The extra-point kick failed.

Eddie Longley also intercepted a Bovina pass but Farwell fumbled the ball away. After regaining possession, the Steers scored again when Kelley rushed for a TD. Jesse Anzaldua kicked the extra point as

Farwell JV loses

The Farwell Junior Varsity lost to Dimmitt, 31-8, Sept. 26.

Coach George Langan said, "The kids played pretty well." "In the first three minutes, Dimmitt scored. We got the ball and were unable to drive. Dimmitt got the ball back and scored again," said

With good direction from the wishbone, quarterback Damon George, the Steers took the ball six yards and scored. The two points were bootlegged by quarterback George. The Steers continued to play good football and at halftime the score was 13-8 in Dimmitt's

Farwell, and in Clovis with Monte and Kris Spearman and Karen the Steers went on top, 29-0.

Near the end of the quarter, Bovina scored its first touchdown of the season, narrowing the score to

In the third quarter, Farwell scored for its final time on a Kevin Owen run.

Leonard Hillock blocked a Mustang punt and Jason Schilling ran for an apparent TD which was called back due to a penalty.

With about two minutes left in the game, Bovina scored its second touchdown. The point-after failed due to a tackle by David Rubio. Coach Monte Barns reported,

"Our kids played real well in the first half. We rushed for 422 yards for the night."

Four Farwell players ended up with injuries. Danny Rubio and Jesse Anzaldua both have hyperextended elbows. Carey Stancell has a hyperextended knee. Steve Jaime dislocated his shoulder and will be out the rest of the season, said Barnes.

"Sudan is a good football team. They are tall, and have a lot of speed. They also have a lot of participation. They will be tough," said Barnes, looking ahead to tonight's game.

Farwell gained 422 yards on the ground and 60 yards passing. They had 17 first downs.

Statistics showed: Kelley, 12 carries for 199 yards; Owen, 14 for 93; Bobby Ford, 9 for 43; Woods, 10 for 56; and Williams caught one pass for 60 yards.

Farwell Junior beats Dimmitt

Farwell Junior High defeated Dimmitt 12-0 Sept. 26 here.

In the first quarter Shawn Stewart made a 60 yard touchdown run.

In the third quarter, Bruce White made a seven yard touchdown run. "The outstanding offensive player was Shawn Stewart. He ran the ball very well and had a 50 yard touch-down run called back," said Coach

"The outstanding defense player was Darren Haseloff, who had two interceptions.

"The boys played hard. We had some turnovers that hurt us, but luckily we came out on top. Our defense looked pretty good. Our of-fense was sluggish. We found out where we need to work and where we need improvement.

"It was a good win. It got us started off on the right foot. There are a lot of areas we need improvement on, but I feel that will come with practice and hard work. We have a real good group of boys."

Elephant charged, Howard came a-running

-(Editor's note: Vashti Fowler, of Farwell, sent us this letter from the Rhodes family, now in Africa. Howard Rhodes formerly pastored at Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church. Fowler thought the community would like to know how the family is doing.)

Dear Vashti,

I am sorry I was unable to visit with you during my short stay in the states. I came by, but evidently was Letter To The Editor

My flight back to Malawi went

Houston, Texas, to Amsterdam, Holland, to Lilongwe, Malawi. Howard and the kids met me in Lilongwe. We stayed there a week as it was the beginning of our annual meeting for Baptist Mission in Malawi. Meeting went well. Plus good fellowship with fellow missionaries. Our treasurer for the mission went back to states on furlough and resigned. So Howard was elected as treasurer for the mission. He will still preach, teach, and disciple, but his primary task will be treasurer as it is a full time assignment. He has since gotten involved in it and loves it. PTL! Plus he is good at it.

We purposefully take the long way around so we can avoid Mozambique as it is still having problems! Guerrilas. Anyway, as we enter each country we have to pile out of car, fill out entry forms for each person, present passport, wait in line, be approved, fill out customs forms, wait in line, get gate pass, buy insurance for traveling thru the country, return to car, let them go through our luggage, pile back into car and drive on. We do this each time we depart a country AND each time we enter the next country.

Anyway, the trip down was pretty uneventful, except when Howard stopped to get a picture of an elephant alongside the road. When he got out I slid under the driver's side and left the passenger side door open. It's a good thing! Elephant charged and Howard came a runring. Didn't know he could run that fast! He didn't even have time to shut the door before I took off. Sure hope the picture turns out well.

Jal stops Wolverines

A strong Jal team stopped the Texico Wolverines, 34-6, at Jal last Friday night.

"Jal has a real good ball team. They probably will be the state champs in their 2-A class," said Texico Coach David Lynn.

It was the big play that helped Jal the most. Off of three plays, they gained 140 of their total 314 yards. Lynn said, "It was good for us to play this game. We found a few areas we need to improve on." The loss dropped Texico's record to 3-2 as the Wolverines open their district play tonight (Friday) at Springer. "We will need to win this week," said Lynn.

Against Jal, Texico was unable to score but once -- in the third quarter when Charlie Bibbs ran back a kickoff for 75 yards and a touchdown at the 9:40 mark. The pointafter pass try failed.

Meanwhile, Jal, after a scoreless first quarter, put six points on the board in the second quarter when Brian Beckham scored on a 58-yard run. Later in the same quarter, David Madera took in a two-yard pass for a second TD. The half ended with Jal ahead, 12-0.

At the beginning of the third quarter, Mark Brown scored on a 63-yard scamper, followed by a successful two-point conversion on a pass from Brown to Madera.

Mason nominated for FFA degree

Sean Mason of Lazbuddie has been nominated to receive the American Farmer degree, highest degree presented by the National FFA Organization.

Sean was nominated for the legree by the Texas FFA Association. The nomination was approved at a recent meeting of the National FFA Board of Directors in Alexandria, Virginia, virtually assuring the awarding of the degree. One of 658 FFA members nominated for the American Farmer degree, Sean will receive the degree in a special ceremony Nov. 15, at the 58th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, pending a Tinal vote of 114 student delegates representing nearly half a million FFA members.

Travel awards will be presented to American Farmer degree recipients to offset their travel expenses to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City. At the convention each American Farmer degree recipient will be presented a gold key and certificate. The travel awards and gold keys are co-sponsored by J I Case, Cyanamid Agricultural Division; NA-CHURS Plant Food Company; the nation's Federal Land Banks; the nation's Production Credit Associations; and Pioneer Hi-Bred International

The American Farmer degree is much sought after because it is only presented to approximately one member in 600 of the 434,090 member organization. It is presented only by the National FFA Organization to members who have demonstrated exceptional agricultural and leadership achievements.

Sean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mason of Lazbuddie and is currently farming in partnership with his dad and other 2 brothers, Shane and Sheldon.

He earned the American Farmer degree on the basis of his supervised farming program which consisted of breeding sheep, breeding cattle, show lambs and swine and other farming operations. He was also very active in judging contests. Rick Copp was his high school instructor and FFA advisor.

To qualify for the American Far-mer degree, FFA members must have advanced through a system of degrees unique to the FFA organization. FFA members begin as Greenhands and after one year of membership may be advanced by the local chapter to the degree of "Chapter Farmer". The third degree, that of "State Farmer" is presented by the State FFA Association to not more than three percent of the State's FFA membership in any one year. Only students who have earned the State Farmer degree are eligible for the American Farmer degree

Texas taxes still low, says Sarpalius

There was a time when Texans took their state's economic health for granted. Who could blame us? We were living in a boom state; it seemed everyone was making money. Even the state itself was getting richer without raising taxes.

Reality arrived about two years ago when someone realized our oil and gas production was declining and with it the tax revenue that kept our State Treasury rolling in money. Hard times, comparatively speaking, were upon us, and we weren't sure how to handle them.

Oh, the Legislature moaned and groaned a bit, but we at first just hoped the problem would go away. We made it through the 1983 regular session without raising taxes and went home confidently patting ourselves on the back. Our jubilation, as it turned out, was shortlived.

The summer of 1984 saw us back in Austin, passing a needed (if flawed) school-reform package and raising taxes by more than 140 million to pay for that package. Suddenly, Texans seemed to lose all confidence in state government's ability to manage itself in a fiscally responsible manner. Opportunistic politicians likened Texas lawmakers to the tax-and-spend liberals that dominate Congress.

Since then, though, a funny thing has happened. The state's image has begun to rebound. First, we made it through the 1985 regular session without raising taxes. Then, last week, the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations released a report that should remind all Texans how lucky we are.

According to the report, state and local taxes in Texas are the seconlowest in the nation, a whopping 34 percent below the national average. Only Nevada, which raises most of its money through taxes on gambling casinos, ranked lower at 37 percent below the national average.

The good new didn't end there, either. The report indicated that Texas' economic activity still was 30 percent above the national average despite our depressed oil and gas economy.

And, of course, the report re-

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports minded us that Texas is one of only six states without a personal income tax. The others are Florida, Nevada, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming.

Even a few surprises can be found in the report. Of all the nation's big energy states, Texas has the lowest severance taxes on oil and gas production. The report estimated Texas' low severance taxes saved energy producers $517 million.

Only one tax was reported at being above the national average, and that was the tax on alcoholic beverages. Our liquor tax average $17 per person compared to a median $13 nationwide.

.There indeed is much comfort to be taken from the report. It seems Texas isn't in the dire straits some would have us believe. Still, we shouldn't be overconfident about the report. There are hidden warnings there, warnings we should take very seriously.

We must remember our good fortune comes from a policy of fiscal conservatism. Yes, we raised taxes in 1984, but it was to fund a specific project. Only history will tell whether the decision was a wise

Routine tax increases, like those implemented in other states, must never become the norm in Texas. We've raised taxes once this decade, and, barring disaster, once should be more than enough. Cutting costs must remain our first order of business.

Reports as encouraging as the one from the intergovernmental relations council serve to remind us of our good fortune and our wise state planning. That, more than anything, would be a signal to continue our present course and try to never turn to new taxes for solutions to fiscal problems.

Craig to direct Spelling Bee

James Craig, principal of Farwell Elementary School has been named by the Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas State University, Canyon, to direct the Parmer County Spelling Bee.

The Amarillo newspaper and WTSU are sponsoring the National Spelling Bee for the 38th year for students in all public and parochial Winners from 46 counties will meet on the WTSU campus on April 26 and name the 1986 district champion. This student will represent the area in the National Spelling Bee, sponsored by the Scripps Howard Newspapers, in Washington, D.C., during the last week of May.

All expenses for the 1986 area champ and one parents will be, provided by the Amarillo Globe-

Gene Parker, director of placement, WTSU, serves as bee coordinator.

"We've worked with this program for 10 years and believe it serves to further our efforts in education. The young people who come to our campus as county finalists are outstanding and we encourage all schools in our four-state area to participate," Parker said. "The benefits are great."

The booklet, "Words of the Champions," containing more than 3,000 total words -- an increase of 500 new words from 1985 -- is used in most schools and county bees. The booklet, priced at 50-cents each, is available from Jeane Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166.

Interested students and school officials are encouraged to contact either Parker or Mrs. Bartlett for additional information.
