Appear on Farm Bureau Program

Hammond Boosts "Soil Fertility Bank" At Bureau Session

Farmers from over a five-county area gathered in the Friona high school auditorium Tuesday night to hear several important speakers discuss current farm problems.

Highlighting the session was the appearance of State Farm Bureau President Walter Hammond, who presented the TFB's "soil fertility bank" plan as a means of relieving problems which farmers now face.

To begin the program, Aubra Ellison, Parmer County FB head, spoke for a few minutes about what he called "fundamental principals" of Farm Bureau.

He used a Biblical text for his theme, saying, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make ye free." Ellison explained the democratic principals of his organization, and stressed that the heart of this democratic philosophy is, "the majority must rule."

Hub King, District II director of which Parmer is a member, spoke briefly, and then Harold West, director for District 12, discussed grain sorghums.

West, who is a producer in the Costal Bend sorghum area of Texas, and a member of the board of directors of an elevator there, took a cue from Ellison's remarks in saying, "There aren't any of us directors who are 100 percent for our program—but that's the program you gave to us, and we will abide by it."

He then launched into the sorghum program, pointing out that the government has recently sold 6,000,000 bushels at $1.80 cwt. for export. This was much less than had been paid for it by Commodity Credit.

On the other hand, said West, CCC cannot sell stocks for domestic consumption at less than 105 percent of parity, and there are feed buyers at the present time who would like to buy—except that the law has priced sorghums out of their reach.

West claimed that although sorghums have substantially the same feeding value as corn, buyers are taking the corn and letting the milo accumulate. "We're going to have to get a market for milo," he said.

The director then made a statement which was reiterated from time to time during the evening, and that was, "We shouldn't suffer a fifteen percent drop in price supports, and then lose another five percent in changing over to a new parity formula in the same year."

Twelve cents per hundred were lost in the parity structure change, and then another 15 percent was sliced off the support price.

Turning to markets again, West said, "I want to do to corn what soybeans have done to cottonseed."

Two Oklahoma Men Held in Burglary

Two young men from Paul's Valley, Okla., have been charged with breaking and entering the Watkins' Texaco Service Station in Farwell last Thursday night. They were to have been arranged and their bond set today.

The two are Joe Bailey, 17, and Warran Mershon, 20, who were apprehended in Paul's Valley and returned to Parmer County Tuesday. Sheriff Chas. Lovelace reports that the two also are wanted in connection with a series of burglaries in Curry County.

The service station was entered through a broken west window, and $35 in cash removed.

A burglary occurring the same night involving the Nickel's Gin of Farwell resulted in the loss of a 2-way radio valued at over $400 and 50 pounds of frozen meat. In addition, some carpenter tools were stolen.

Sheriff Lovelace says no connection between the two crimes has been established.

Two DWI's Fined In County Court

Two men charged with driving while intoxicated pled guilty and were each fined $100 and costs in county court during the past week.

Burley Dean Hollingworth, 29, Maysville, Okla., was picked up near Friona last Monday by Deputy Jim Roberts. John Shepard, 52, Amarillo, was picked up Thursday night.

George Washington laid the cornerstone of the White House.

Farmers in Readiness As Planting Time Nears

Trees have put forth their leaves, the shadows of day have become shorter, and farmers all over the Plains feel a sense of excitement coursing through their veins. It's planting time once again.

Even though faced with many perplexing problems for their 1955 crops, farmers don't seem to be the least inclined to "hold back" their work, and within a very few days, thousands of acres of seedbeds will be completed.

In and around Parmer County this year, it's the same old "stand-by" crops which are taking most of the farmer's time, but some newcomers are on the scene, too.

The two main crops of the area, this year as in past years, will be grain sorghum and cotton. Without a doubt.

Although prices for grain sor-ghums are not promising, and although cotton allotments have seriously curtailed the acreage which can be devoted to that crop, the raising of both will be the two major sources of farm income this year.

Around 200,000 acres of grain sorghum were grown in Parmer County last year, and with an average county-wide yield of from 2750-3000 pounds per acre, a prodigious amount of this crop was produced.

Possibly greater production this year than last is hinted, however, as planting season approaches. Diverted cotton acreage will most likely go into grain sorghum, and, in addition, many new irrigation wells will supply water for milo fields never before under irrigation.

There are from 1800 to 2000 irrigation wells now in Parmer County, says Joe Jones, county agent, and even with a lower price for feed, "We will have more irrigated land in grain sorghum this year than last."

Most land preparation and pre-watering has already been or is being taken care of, and farmers are ready to move into the field with their planting equipment.

In fact, eagerness to "get started" some times costs farmers of this area money, warns the county agent, for the reason that they start their crops sooner than is advisable.

Most sorghum varieties don't "make" early in the year, which means that even though the plants come up early and start growing, they sort of "stand still" at one stage in their growth, instead of pushing steadily through to a finish.

This is because sorghums are sensitive to light of night and day, and will not grow best during increasing day length, says Jones. Starting the crop off too early in this manner results in unnecessary use of irrigation water—an expensive factor. Farmers who start very early usually have one more watering to pay for than those who start later, and the crop yields and maturity dates are often almost identical.

30 Blocks Paving Possible in Farwell

Discussion on a street paving program for streets inside Farwell city limits and the publishing of a brochure by the public relations committee were the main topics brought before Farwell Chamber of Commerce members at a meeting Tuesday night.

Plans were made to set up a special committee in connection with the present committee on the paving project. President Bob Brooks says that the special committee has not yet been appointed. The chamber plans to appoint one person living in each block to contact other residents of the block on the paving.

The appointee will make frequent reports to the chamber of commerce on the general attitude of citizens to the paving program of the respective blocks.

Brooks says that there was a note of optimism about the project and that there is a slight possibility of getting perhaps as many as 30 streets paved.

Public relations committee will soon begin research work on a brochure to be submitted to the chamber of commerce for its OK before publishing. Brooks mentioned that the function was a matter of extreme importance at the present time.

Wilfred Quickel, manager, gave a report on the meeting of the agriculture committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which he attended in Lubbock recently.

Brooks, who also attended the meeting, reported on the industrial development committee meeting.

RETURNS TO SCHOOL

W. M. Roberts, who recently underwent surgery to have two appendix removed, returned to his duties as principal of Farwell High School on Monday morning.

Roberts returned to his home from the hospital last Tuesday and his condition has been reported as good during his recovery.

Farwell Mile Relay Team Wins Region

Farwell mile relay team edged out Sundown in the final event to win first place in class B mile relay competition at the Region I Interscholastic League meet held in Lubbock last weekend. Time for the Farwell team was 3:42.3.

The team will enter the State Interscholastic League Meet in Austin starting on Thursday, May 5.

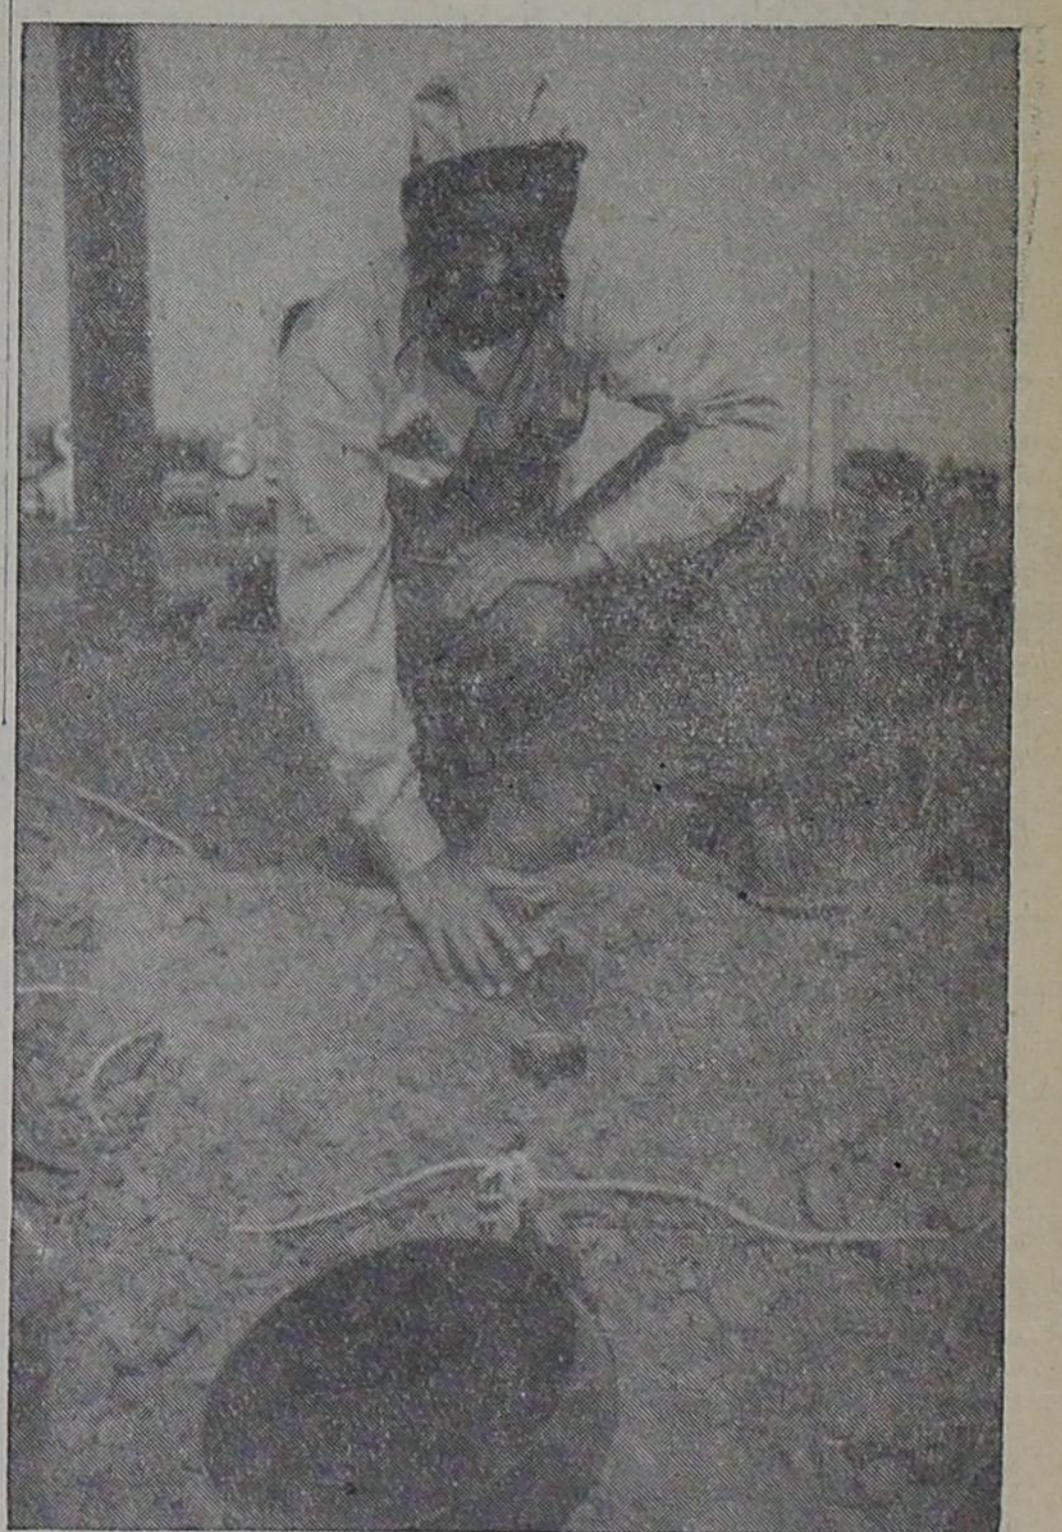

Members of the mile relay team, Truitt Hardage, Doyle Ford, Don Pool and Don Geries, accompanied by track coach, Calvin Murray, will leave Farwell Wednesday morning to enter the state event preliminaries on Thursday.

Alternate for the team who will also go to Austin is Robbie Foster. Foster placed third in the 220 yard dash in regional competition.

Only first and second place winners of Regional events are eligible to enter state competition.

The 440 relay team had the second best time in the preliminary event, but in the final contest the local team placed fourth with Springlake, Sundown and Hale Center winning the first three places, respectively.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

This gadget which is imbedded in an irrigation ditch takes the wind out of the sails of some enthusiasts about their wells. It is a Sparling meter, which measures the output of an irrigation well. This installation on the James Mabry well measured out at 730 gallons per minute when the pump was lifting an even eight-inch pipe of water. Melvin Swartz, SCS technician, who is shown checking the gauge, explains that the water passing through the instrument turns a set of propellers, the speed of which is registered on the dial at the top.

How people can manage to go fishing this time of year is beyond us. All the people we know have more to do than they can possibly take care of, but still, when the old bug bites, you "jus' gotta go."

We don't have the five columns of space here that would be necessary to tell of all the excursions we have heard discussed recently—we only want to comment on a trend.

It appears to us that every year, fishing enthusiasts stray farther from home. Just last week we heard two fellows talking about "driving over to Lake Mead" just as though they were speaking of an afternoon picnic.

For those of you who don't get around anymore than we do, we would like to remind you that Lake Mead is that little pond at the tail-end of the Colorado River in the southwest corner of the United States.

Lots of people simply refer to it as Boulder Dam.

In this day and age, if you complete a fishing season without at least one trip into Mexico—well, brother, "you just ain't been fishin'"—that's all.

The itinerary of a typical Plains line-wetter read about like this: Jan. 15—Gulf of Mexico. March 21—Baja, California. May 21—Colorado trout stream. July 1—open for invitations. August 15—Lake Titicaca, Bolivia, to cool off. Nov. 1—most any big lake in Northern Mexico.

The thing that really gets us about all this running around is the way that different anglers from different parts of the country sort of keep things in balance. Instead of everybody wanting to run off to Lake Mead at one time, which would result in a lot of overcrowding, the case is that half of the Southwest bait-casters will hit out for Lake Mead just about the time half of the addicts in Southern California decided that Possum Kingdom is THE place to catch fish!

Real estate men are worse than tax assessors for seeing all objects viewed in terms of the dollar mark. Just ask a real estate broker what the current value of a pregnant pussy cat is, and he'll be able to tell you within 15 cents in the twinkling of an eye.

But the boys were sure stumped last Sunday when the wind stopped blowing and that dusty haze settled in. Asked what the value of the mixture of real estate and atmosphere would be per cubic foot, one said, "Well, I dunno. It's too thick to breathe and too thin to plow."

Nobody gets a bigger bang out of reading the colored comic strip, "Blondie" than we do. However, we have given up on the practical aspects of one of Dagwood's favorite pastimes, reading in the bathtub.

As you no doubt recall, many a daily or weekly strip starts off with a scene of Dagwood lounging in the tub, paper or magazine in hand.

If you have ever tried this, however, we imagine that your experience is something akin to ours. We can't keep from getting our reading material all wet.

We have tried getting all situated, and then reaching over at the last moment to get the magazine or paper, but no sooner would we get started than we'd see the need to scratch an itching spot which was submerged—or some calamity such as that—and everything would get all wet.

Newspapers aren't so bad about this, except that they have the tendency to fall apart after continual soaking, and the first thing that you know, you're afloat in a sea of pulp. Turning pages, of course, is out of the question when the paper is waterlogged.

Magazines printed in black and white are more satisfactory, but we do prefer those printed in three or four colors. The colored mags don't do so good when bathed in hot water. Take our word for it.

We didn't have a thing to do with it.

Let everybody know this before we say that the clerk's office at the courthouse has discontinued supplying us (and everybody else) with the "courthouse records."

County Clerk Hugh Moseley says there isn't enough demand for the service to justify its continuance, as it was costing the county money to keep it up.

We were willing to continue publication of the records since our readers seemed to want them, even though the space and expense which they required was considerable. Anyway, if you have any complaints, Hugh will be glad to hear 'em—we guess.

IS MUCH IMPROVED

Murray Dial, who recently underwent surgery, is reported to be "feeling much better" this week. Although he still has seven treatments which he will receive in Lubbock, he is reported as being much improved since last week.

Whether or not in agreement with current Farm Bureau policy, every person in the area truly interested in the future of agriculture should have attended the FB-sponsored meeting Tuesday night at which time they could have chosen to listen or to make their own opinions heard.

The same goes for the Farmer's Union-sponsored program in Hereford tomorrow (Friday) night. Most of us don't realize—or don't care to realize—that such meetings are watched closely by agricultural leaders, and from them can spring far-reaching farm philosophies.

It is admitted that neither of the two meetings are for the purpose of creating direct action, through resolutions or special committees, such as have been recent gatherings of grain sorghum producers. But just the same, whenever big farm problems are talked publicly, there are people who listen to what is said, and the opinions gathered oftentimes are lasting ones.

To have men such as Walter Hammond and Harold West visit this part of the Plains is an opportunity, and it is our opinion that farmers hereabouts "missed the boat" by not turning out in droves. Apparently, only one man Tuesday evening understood the principle of open discussion at a public meeting—and had the courage to express himself. We appreciate Arlin Hartzog's frankness, and so does Walter Hammond, it might be added. How much better it was for him to say what he did at a public meeting than to cast stones at people's

They have spent millions and it looks like it will pay off. These companies furnished to the National Foundation at cost, enough vaccine for first and second grade children.

To pay for their investment, they will have a customary mark-up to wholesale drug companies for vaccine to give the rest of the country's potential customers. The wholesaler will have his service charge to cover delivery to the retail outlets and the retailer will have his 10 percent markup to the doctor who gives the shots.

The doctor will make his charge for shots to the patients just as he would smallpox, mumps or any other shot. How anyone can complain about a free enterprise system which made the whole thing possible in the first place is beyond my comprehension!

There are people who would like to see socialized medicine, no doubt, as they could become dead-beats and leeches on the paying customers. The following article is quoted from a report by Dr. Thomas Tyndall of Beaumont, who recently returned from Europe.

Letters To The EDITOR

Dear Sonny,

I noticed a letter in last week's paper stating how we were being driven to socialized medicine due to the shocking price of polio vaccine. The party writing was better informed than the hospital personnel and doctors because no manufacturer has been able to tell us the date, amount, or price of vaccine which we will eventually receive.

We have heard rumors on the street but how or where parties receiving such information were informed is anyone's guess.

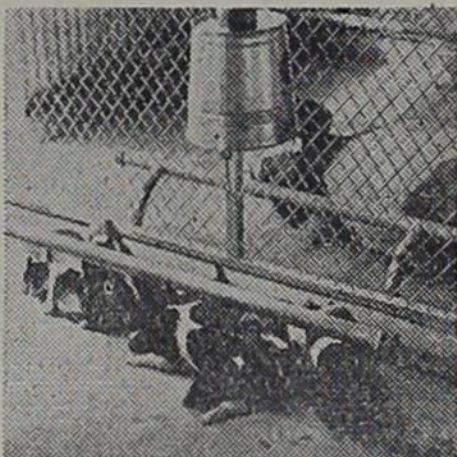

I have no doubt this vaccine will be expensive though, because of the fact that five pharmaceutical companies took the calculated risk of mass production before knowing if the product would ever be marketed.

Experience shows that 30% of all pigs farrowed on Texas farms are lost before weaning. Chilling and mashing by the sow are the number 1 and 2 enemies of hog profits. But both can be reduced, if not completely eliminated, by the use of a simply constructed electrically heated pig brooder.

The reflector type 250 watt infra-red lamp is most commonly used. If even one pig is saved per year, you will pay for your heat lamp several times. But what is more important, the life giving heat that these lamps give will get your entire litter off to a faster, healthier, more profitable start.

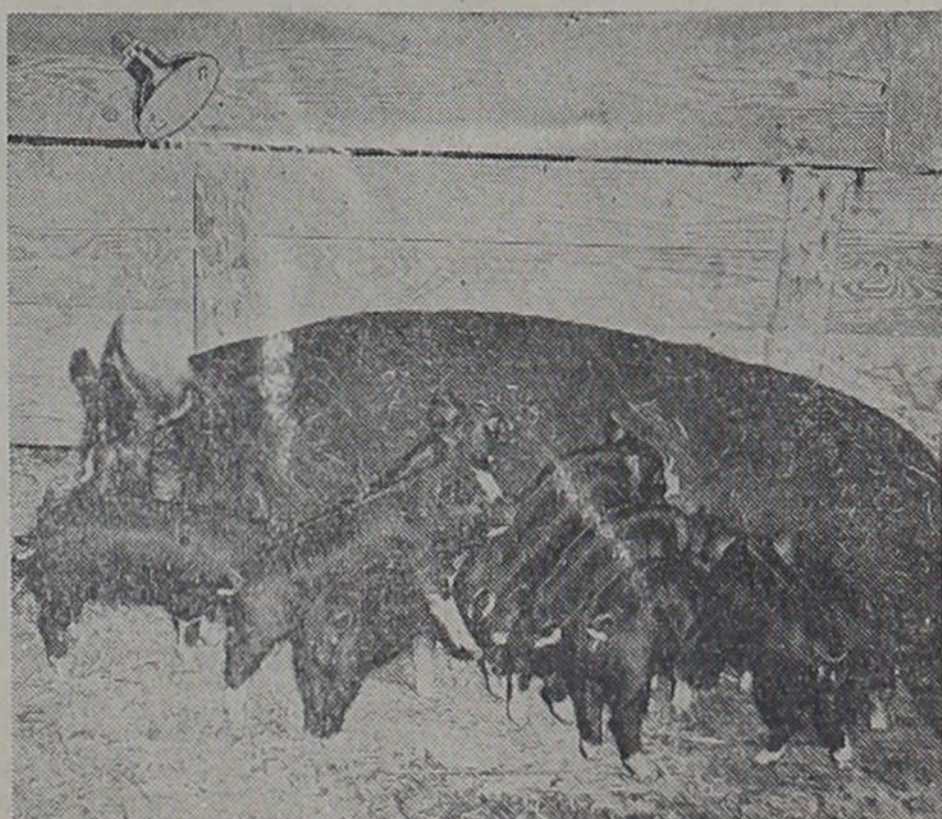

A 250 watt infra-red heat lamp is mounted inside this bucket. A discarded bucket will give the needed protection for your heat lamp and you can build this simple fixture in your spare time. Instructions are available in your County Agricultural Agent's office.

The lamp should be turned on several hours before the pigs arrive so that the heat can be adjusted.

The little pigs soon learn to lay down in the spot where the heat is just right. The heat lamps keep the floor dry and the pigs warm. Mike and Mack Shurbert raised these fine Chester Whites under the heat lamps. Mack showed the Grand Champion barrow at the 1954 National Western Livestock Show at Denver.

Heat lamps with their life giving heat are the guardians of the little pigs that make good. These Berkshires belong to Tommy Hewlett, west of Amarillo. Tommy's Berkshires were in the 1954 Stock Shows and they will again be winning blue ribbons this year.

From England I went via boat-train to Paris where the International College of Surgeons was meeting. There I saw more surgery, attended more lectures, made ward rounds and went through an inspection tour of Paris' new $17,000,000 Medical School (a Marshall Plan project, and truly a magnificent institution). After this five-day meeting was over, we toured on through France, Switzerland, Italy, and then back to Paris for the second time before I sailed back to the U. S. A.

The doctors in Great Britain dress shabbily, wear old clothes, need shoes half-sole, appear dejected and whipped. They seemed to like the American doctors, but at first it was hard to start a conversation with them. They had something to tell us and finally it came out. Here is their story as I see it:

They are unhappy, dissatisfied; are cognizant of the fact that Socialized Government is getting stronger, that Mr. and Mrs. John Bull love it, and that the British doctor has to submit to his ill fate.

It is propagandized by the Government of Great Britain that penicillin is still in the experimental stage, and is too dangerous for General Medical use. Hospital Charts revealed spiking temperatures and no anti-biotics were prescribed. Codeine and aspirin were the only drugs on many of these charts showing fever of 101 to 103°. When penicillin is ordered the patient has to be critically ill. Out-patients cannot have it ordered on them or patients treated in the home. In the hospital when it is ordered, the request by the Specialist in charge of the patient has to be counter-signed by the Hospital Administrator.

The Hospital Administrator's job is a political one—the position is by appointment by the Government. Now he is complete boss of, say a two hundred or three-hundred bed hospital having the Staff Doctors as his employees. He tells them when and where to move, fires and hires them—to gain prestige or favor from the Government he might cut down on the hospital expenses but at the same time he will be cutting down on the patients' much needed medicine. Truly he is just a political figure-head over a group of professional men whose jobs and purposes he knows nothing about.

The waiting list in most cities in Great Britain for T&As is around 15 months. Possible mastoid complications from infected throat and ears? That's too bad! No hospital beds!

Mid-wives deliver 85% to 90% of the babies in Great Britain, and only call on a specialist when they get into trouble. It's a known fact that the less the Mid-wife calls in a Specialist the better reputation she has in the community—so—she lets them rip and tear. I saw in Woman's Hospital in London cystoceles and rectoceles galore along with other conditions caused by poorly handled deliveries. What does the doctor of Great Britain think of this? "Dr. Tynall, I am resigned to my fate. If the public wants it, by golly, let them have it."

One Birmingham, England, surgeon chatted with me at a luncheon. He said, "The British doctor has hit a new low in prestige now. They consider us just as they do a postal clerk, or any other Government worker. The doctor-patient relationship is gone. The better class people in my city don't associate with doctors any more since the Government Medicine took over. Young men of good quality, personality and intelligence have quit taking up medicine and dentistry—they actually have to draft them into medical and dental schools. Their opinion, "Why should they study for seven years and be treated as they are?"

The lousier the doctor is the less patients he has to take care of. Being gruff and unfriendly pays off in Government Medicine because the gruff doctor gets the same pay, and does not have to work nearly so hard. A good, kind doctor is worked to death and has all his sessions filled all the time, sometimes booked up for weeks ahead—I mean weeks ahead. Simply because the Government won't let a doctor work over his allotted number of sessions per week. The law is eight to eleven sessions per week no matter who you are. Each session is a three-hour working period, and if the doctor can't get to the particular patient who wants to see him, the patient will have to wait until this doctor's next session appears, or see another doctor.

The General Practitioner in Great Britain has turned out to be a glorified traffic director. He gets paid for his sessions whether he treats a patient or refers him, so

T. V. Theme For Banquet

Juniors and seniors of the Texico School were guest stars at a television show Friday night in the form of their annual junior-senior banquet.

Toastmistress for the occasion was Sue Reid, junior president. Offering the invocation was Anita Tharp, also a junior. Various parts of the program were presented as shows from T. V.

"Suspense" was the title of Allen Kelley's part. A toast to the seniors by Shirley Doshier was given with the wish that seniors might "Strike It Rich." In response to this, senior class president, Kenneth Reid, spoke on "Tonight."

Musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, provided entertainment for the evening. A girls' trio composed of Susan Levins, Barbara Caldwell, and Bobbye Richardson, accompanied by Patricia Watson, sang "Lonesome Road," followed by a solo, "At Last," by Miss Richardson.

Featured in clarinet numbers were Alex Brown, Dick Lockhart, Mikala Faville, and Patricia Patterson. Following two numbers by this group, Jerry Johnson gave a trumpet solo, which concluded this part of the program.

After dinner speaker for the evening was T. G. Peters, secretary of Clovis Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on experiences ahead of the students in life. He emphasized that experience is the best teacher, and each new experience prepares a person for the next step in life.

Menu consisted of pineapple juice, tossed green salad, chicken fried steak, creamed potatoes, green peas, hot rolls, orange sherbet, iced tea or coffee.

Plans for the banquet were under direction of junior sponsors, John Adams and C. B. Stockton.

Pat's Diary May 10, 1965

By Patricia Watson

Dear Diary: Tonight, exactly ten years from my high school graduation, has indeed been a momentous occasion. I was privileged to attend a reunion, where I saw all my senior classmates. I hadn't realized we'd turn out to be such celebrities!

There was John Peterson, mayor of Texico, presenting the key to the city to Shirley Stover, rapidly becoming the best known actress on Broadway.

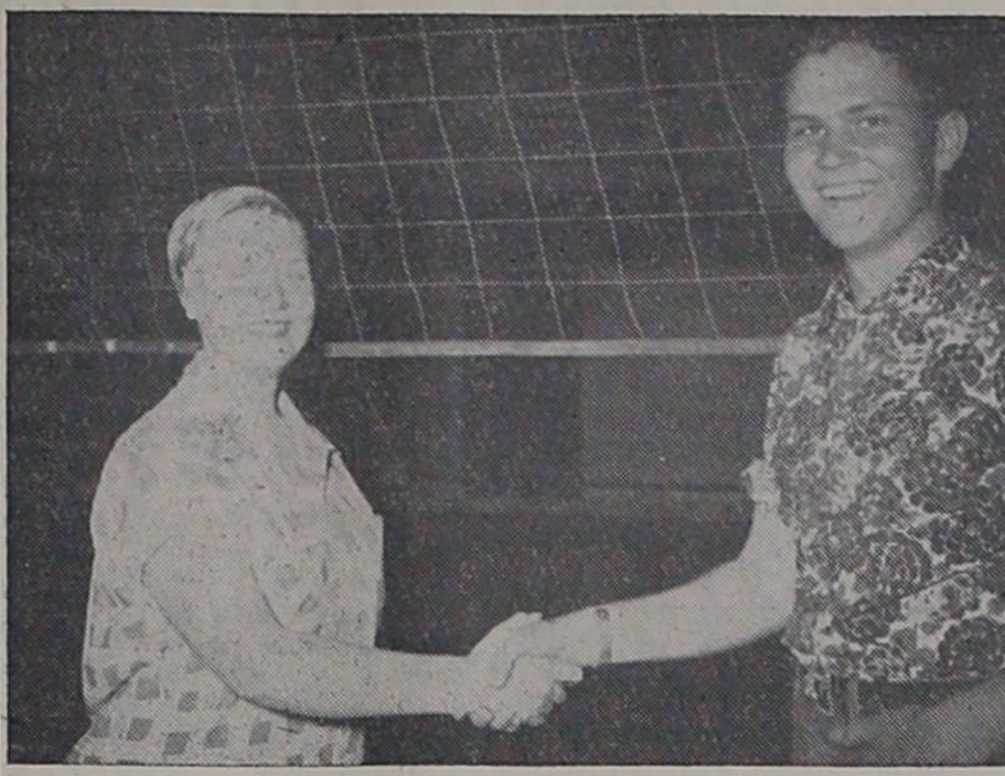

Agatha Autrey's little girl was the very first student to enroll in the new Texico Elementary School. Teacher Georgeina Weisler, was about to quit her profession to become a housewife. From the size of her ring, we think she must have caught a millionaire!

Darrell Harris had just won a prize for the best cake of the year. Seems he's become head chef at the Texico Hotel. His brother, Rex, owns the hotel now. These two make quite a pair!

Imagine our surprise to hear Ronald Hutson, editor of the Texico Gazette, making that thrilling speech. And there was his head reporter, Naomi Hapke, taking notes of the entire meeting.

The great scientist pair, Kenneth Reid and Allen Lockhart, have at

LOCKHART NEW PRESIDENT

Congratulating and giving some advice to the newly elected student council president, Dick Lockhart, is former council prexy, Bobbye Richardson. Dick was voted president in an election held last week.

Lockhart Is Student Council President

After a week of hot campaigning, Dick Lockhart was elected student council president for the 1955-56 term on Friday, April 22. Sue Reid and Anita Tharp were close on Lockhart's trail with Sue coming in second in the race and Anita third.

The voting began after an assembly for the candidates and their campaign managers to give short campaign speeches. An afternoon of play followed, at which time the high school and 8th grade classes competed against each other.

The juniors were the winners of the afternoon's games which consisted of a volleyball game, a relay in which Kenneth Reid and Jimmy Moss ran against twenty high school girls, and other races.

The day's activities were brought to a close when refreshments were served to the junior and freshmen classes, winners of a clean locker contest conducted throughout the year, and the announcement of the winner of the student council election.

There was Mr. Frederick, still trying to pound math into the students' heads and coaching basketball at the same time. Oh, yes! Mrs. Jones has now retired and is writing a new, entirely different shorthand book.

Well, that seemed to be it, and after the speeches, everyone came around to congratulate W. T. and I on the arrival of the fourth little Watson.

WHAT A DAY!

Honor Roll Is Released

Honor roll for last six week's school term was released this week. Those included on the honor roll are, ninth grade—Karen Brehm, Jerry King, Bobby Patterson, Ann Reed and Aubrey Green; tenth grade—Betty Crawley, Carolyn Curd, Mikala Faville, Susan Levins, Dick Lockhart, Verlene Thigpen and Nina Standaland; seniors—Allen Lockhart, Ronald Hutson, Kenneth Reid, Bobbye Richardson, Nadine Thornton, Georgeina Weisler and Patricia Watson.

Seventh grade—Joanne Brown, D'Rene Danforth, Don Johnson, Lena Mae Steele, Charles Stockton, Connie Tharp and Crayton Weisler; eighth grade—Darlene Day, David Lockhart, Anita Moss, Teddy Roth, Monte Singletery, Lois Maitlen, and Peggy Standaland.

FIFTH GRADERS PLAN FIELD TRIP TO CLOVIS

Room mothers of the fifth grade are making plans to sponsor a field trip to Clovis Friday for the fifth graders. They will go in a train to Clovis and after they arrive will go through the Santa Fe Shops. They will eat their lunch in the park and go through various business houses during the afternoon.

A new girl, Gail Loflin, from Clovis is now enrolled in the class, which makes 51 in the fifth grade.

The pupils have made geography booklets on the United States which included maps with the names of the states and capitols on it.

Honor Students Named for Junior High

With a tie for top honors, David Lockhart and Monte Singletery were named as co-valedictorians of the eighth grade class last week.

Also named was Anita Moss as salutatorian with Bobby Stover and Teddy Roth receiving special recognition for having averages ranging in the 90's.

Bobby and Teddy will read the class will and history in the graduation exercises on Wednesday, May 11, at the high school auditorium. Averages of these students were made on work done in the last two year periods.

SECOND GRADERS RECEIVE POLIO SHOTS TUESDAY

A beautiful bouquet of fragrant smelling flowers brought by Eilan Caillouet, classmate, was an added attraction in the second grade room this week. Flowers seem to start the day off right and these children are doing their best not only because school is nearing the close, but because they have accepted it with a very enthusiastic attitude since the beginning of school.

The group was given the first shot of the polio vaccine, Tuesday, April 19. There are a series of shots to be given at other dates not specified. The children didn't mind the shots quite so bad because they were given a treat. The nurse gave them suckers, which they enjoyed tremendously.

To the second grade, reading is one of the most important and interesting subjects they take. They are making booklets of a story in their reader. They chose "The Story of a Clown" for this particular time and turned out some very nice work.

"The front covers of the booklets were colorful and interesting," says Mrs. Stockton, teacher. They drew pictures and wrote stories about the pictures they had carefully chosen. Another thrilling experience was exchanging booklets with each classmate.

Because of the mumps, Cynthia Spence has been absent and the children want her to hurry and get well.

A majority of the children visited with their relatives during the Easter holidays. According to reports given they enjoyed themselves immensely.

Last Will and Testament of The Seniors of '55

By Bobbye Richardson

The senior class of 1955 would like to take this opportunity to say, "So Long." Also, the class would like to will certain of their outstanding characteristics to the ones who remain.

Jimmy Reed leaves his tall tales to Doyle Webster.

Johnny Peterson leaves his scholastic ability to Betty Crawley. Naomi Hapke bequeaths her command of the English language to Mrs. Allman.

Kenneth Reid leaves to Molly Barnes his singing ability.

Allen Lockhart gives his way with girls to Weldon Bell.

Darrell Smith leaves his height to Connie Bakkerud.

Howard Leavell leaves his knowledge of parliamentary procedure to Allen Kelley.

To the sophomore class Ronald Hutson leaves his sportsmanship.

Jerry Johnson gives his quietness to Leon McDaniel.

One Man's Opinion

By Bobbye Richardson

John Smith, typical American, walked down the walk to his little house on the corner of 4th and Elm. He took his mail out of the mail box. Bills, bills, and more bills.

"What I wouldn't give for a million dollars," he thought.

Then another thought came to him. "Just what would you give for a million dollars, John?"

"Would you be willing to give your wonderful wife?"

"What about that son that you took on that fishing trip last weekend?" "If you had a million dollars you wouldn't have time for such as that." "You'd be to afraid somebody would cheat you out of it while you were gone." "Would you sacrifice that friendly atmosphere in your home for the cold one of a mansion where the butler comes to greet you instead of a (Hi-Dad,) from your teen-age daughter?"

"Oh yes, if you had a million dollars you couldn't go to the small church you do now, you'd have to go somewhere so you could see the most influential people or else you might not go at all."

John walked into his lovely little home.

"Hi, Dad," said his daughter, Mary Ann.

That night as John offered thanks at the table, this is what he said, "I thank you Lord that you didn't make me a millionaire."

PATER

"Through the years we'll never forget you, and we'll never feel at rest, until we've pledged allegiance to our good old THIS." These words from our school song can certainly express the feelings of most graduates this year, we think. Guess there must always come a time to part, but seems the closer we come to the time when we leave our high school days behind, the more we realize what these years have meant to us. We've just been wondering where everyone will be ten years from now. You know, life is really a mystery, isn't it?

Ever try looking for a needle in a haystack? Well, we've never tried that exactly, but it's just about as bad, looking for a small mistake in payments for senior announcements. Oh brother! We're still tired over that one.

Say, juniors, thanks so much for the banquet. It was surely nice, and something we seniors will have to remember from our senior year. Everyone looked especially nice, all decked out in their best. Surprises us to see just how nice every student always looks at an affair of that kind.

There was certainly a lot of "hot" campaigning in this student council election. Seems the slogan, "All's fair in love and war" was really put into effect! When the final votes were counted, placing Dick on top by a slight margin, everyone was certainly a good sport about the decision. Congrats, Dick!

We'd like to thank faculty members for presenting corsages and boutonnières to the seniors for the banquet. It was so thoughtful of them.

Well, kids, guess that is good bye. It has surely been fun bringing you "Pater" each week, and we, the paper staff, just hope you have enjoyed the Tale this year as much as we've enjoyed writing it for you. Thanks are due to Mrs. Allman for her patience and help on each issue we put out. We just couldn't have done it without her. We'd also like to take this opportunity to thank Jeanne and Sonny Graham for printing our paper.

It's surely sad to know that these will be the last articles we'll ever write for our school, but guess all good things must come to an end. As this is our last issue for 1955, we'll say "so long," and "may the good Lord bless and keep you till we meet again."

Eighth Graders Feted at Banquet

Highlighting a busy year for the eighth grade students of Texico was a banquet given in the school lunch room, Tuesday.

Banquet decorations carried out the class colors of pink and white with place-cards of paper dolls with faces of students and guests appearing on them.

The program included the invocation given by Mack Crawley; welcome by Raymond Hadley; response by Jerry Reid; group songs led by Darlene Day and the singing of the class song, led by Jo Martin.

Special guests were the class teachers, and their husbands and wives. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danforth, Paul Frederick, high school principal and Superintendent and Mrs. Agrie Jones.

Those serving on banquet committees were Mrs. Hugh Tucker, Mrs. Wayne Martin, Mrs. Anson Bowers and Mrs. E. F. Ferguson, cooks; Mrs. Glenn Singletery, Mrs. John Hadley and Mrs. Frank Doshier, waitresses; and Mrs. John T. Lockhart, Mrs. Stanton Thigpen and Mrs. A. L. Cross, who took the responsibility of cleaning up after the banquet.

TWO FOURTH GRADERS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

The fourth graders celebrating birthdays this week are Rosie Arnold and Peggy Griffen.

Fourth graders are happy to have all the boys and girls back in school after many absences because of illness.

Vernon Thigpen enjoyed a visit to Palo Duro Canyon and the Museum at Canyon last Sunday. He gave a very interesting report on his trip.

England's sea power came into being with the defeat of the Spanish Armada.

The first United States Census was taken in 1790.

Texico Places 3rd in County Track Meet

Texico, taking part in the county track meet held at Clovis Monday afternoon, placed third among other schools participating. Junior boys placing in the meet were Pendergrass, 2nd in discus and 3rd in shot; Bowers, tie for 2nd in the pole vault; Autrey, third in the discus and 3rd in shot; Bowers, tie for 2nd in the pole vault; Autrey, third in the discus and Moore, 5th in high jump.

The 400 relay team composed of Spears, Lockhart, Stover and Hadley came in fourth.

In the high school division Allen Kelley placed first in shot, 4th in discus, 5th in the 100 yard dash and 5th in the 220 yard dash.

Jimmy Moss came in first in the half-mile and tied for 5th in the high jump.

Joe Glaze tied for 5th in the high hurdles. The medley relay team, consisting of Leon McDaniel, Allen Kelley, Allen Lockhart, and Jimmy Moss won first place.

Texico FHA Club Takes Field Trip

Taking an all day field trip was on the agenda for the regular FHA Club meeting, April 20. Approximately thirty girls along with their sponsor, Mrs. Jimmie Allman, visited the Farmer Electric Co-op in Clovis.

In the morning, Mrs. Cricket Taylor talked on the value of using electrical equipment. She stated that electric ranges are economical, automatic, accurate and provide instant measured heat.

Mrs. Taylor demonstrated how to prepare an oven meal and the use of the deep well and the broiler. The food she prepared in the demonstration was served to the students at lunch.

In the afternoon, the club members saw a movie on kitchen furniture arrangements, which was very entertaining and instructive.

THIRD GRADERS SHOW SAFETY IN DECORATIONS

Third grade students are reminded of April showers when they enter their room. They have made posters of children carrying umbrellas and strolling along in the rain to decorate their room. Because of the showers, grass is green and flowers are blooming. The children were careful to observe safety rules in making their posters. The umbrellas were placed so that the children could see where they were going.

One group of posters reminds children to play outdoors. They have been enjoying the nice spring weather during recess periods.

Willard Richardson entered the third grade last week. He had been attending school in Portales. The children and teachers are very happy to have him in their school.

The third grade room is proud of a perfect attendance record for last week. Many students had been absent the previous month because of measles, mumps and flu.

FIRST GRADERS HAVE NEW EXPERIENCE

Students being greeted by nurses and doctors in uniforms this past week were the first graders. The purpose of meeting these people was very important to the children because the doctors had with them the shots for the prevention of polio. The children seemed to enjoy this new experience very much, but best of all was the reward they received. Each child was given the privilege of choosing a lolly-pop of the color he liked best. Three students missed the shots because of absences, but they will be eligible to receive the shots at a later date.

Harvey Winkles celebrated his 7th birthday April 20. Refreshments of ice cream cones and cake were served to all his classmates by his mother.

NEW PUPIL ENROLLS IN SIXTH GRADE

Donald Loflin was welcomed back to the sixth grade after attending school here last year. He had been in school at Clovis this year.

Pauline and Eugene Servantius went to Anton the weekend of the 17th.

The sixth graders also put up pictures of scenes on "Spring in the Desert."

Many pupils have been absent from school; perhaps they have spring fever.

We know that spring is here, because we've seen an abundance of boys happily flying kites. Too, walking to the shop last week, we saw at least three hopscotch patterns on the sidewalk, and all the children in the neighborhood have been trying their luck on skates.

And then there was the day last week when the father in the household suffered a slight case of nose-bleed, and the young son is a distressed tone stated "daddy all broke."

Ask The Teen-Agers
If you want to know what's wrong with your town, ask the teenagers, suggests the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. They'll pinpoint your faults for you in a way that will make you squirm. But you'll probably find their criticisms sound.

Further, says the Chamber, their complaints will give you clues about what to do with teen-agers themselves. Juvenile delinquency undoubtedly could be cut by putting the teen-agers' suggestions into effect.

These conclusions are based in a unique survey conducted by the Independence (Iowa) Chamber of Commerce in the town's two high schools. The Chamber asked 160 juniors and seniors for frank answers to 24 questions about the community. The students were asked for their opinions on how to improve recreational and social facilities in Independence, what they thought of retail stores and whether they intended to remain in their home town, making it their home.

Students made it clear they needed more social facilities. They asked for more selection and variety in stores, new lighting and color schemes, new store fronts and fewer "pouncing" clerks. About 50 per cent asked for a store specializing in teen-agers' clothes.

The most revealing answers dealt with their plans after graduation. Seventy-three said they expected to leave Independence, 13 expected to stay and 11 were undecided. As in other small towns, the chief reason for the plans to leave was lack of job opportunities.

The Independence Chamber reports that it has taken to heart the teenagers' view. It is formulating plans for the development of present business and industry and to obtain new industry. Other improvements are in the works, too.

The National Chamber suggests that other towns might get similar results from consultation with their high school youngsters.

The seven-year-old son of a television comedian came home with his report card.

"Well, son," asked the radio star, "were you promoted?" "Better than that, pop," chirped the kid happily, "I was held over for twenty-six weeks."

SANTA FE MAGAZINE

Francis Fields served the most delicious dessert at the last ESA meeting and all the members were so impressed that we asked her for her recipe to be used in this column. Not only is the dessert delicious, it makes such a pretty arrangement.

Francis is a housewife-school teacher, and a very lovely one. She and her husband, Kenneth, have been a welcome asset to the community during their stay here, and we regret to lose them next year when they take up their teaching duties elsewhere. But Farwell's loss will be Friona's gain.

HD Council Meets Monday in Friona

Seventeen members and eight visitors were present for the Parmer County Home Demonstration Council meeting at the Legion Hall in Friona Monday. The Hub Club was hostess for this meeting.

Club reports included plans of various clubs for observing National Home Demonstration Week—May 1-7—and activities of various clubs in carrying out club goals.

The Bovina club recently contributed nineteen blankets and thirty-two shirts to the nursery at the Parmer County Hospital; the Midway club sent two boxes of books to the children's TB Hospital in Amarillo. The Northside, Lazbuddie and Parmerton clubs are assisting Girls' Town. All clubs have selected community service goals.

Mrs. Dick Rocky, county chairman for the Texas Home Demonstration Association, distributed programs of work report sheets and requested that these be returned to her at the May council meeting.

Delegates who attended the District I meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Spearman earlier this month reported on the business and program of this meeting. These included Mrs. Rocky, Black; Mrs. T. E. Sherley, Friona; and Mrs. John W. Hand, Lakeview.

Outstanding phases of the program included opportunities and responsibilities of clubs in civil defense address on mental health.

The Deaf Smith County clubs issued an invitation for the district meeting to be held in Hereford in 1956.

Rev. Carrol M. Jones, Progress, and Raymond Euler were guests at the meeting. Rev. Jones showed slides and presented information regarding the Texas Friendship for Korea program which is sponsored by the Texas CROP Committee in striving to obtain project materials for 4-H club boys and girls in Korea. Clubs will have an opportunity to assist with this program if they desire.

contribute to the work being done in this area for the CROP shipment of goods to be sent to Korea in June.

4-H clubs in this county are sponsoring the present program because the shipment of goods to be sent to Korea are, for the most part in the program, under the supervision of County Agents Corinne Stinson and Joe Jones.

The same type program as presented to the Farwell students will be given in the Friona schools on April 29, Rev. Jones encourages all patrons and interested citizens to attend one or both of these assemblies so that they can get an idea of what type of goods are needed for the program.

He is especially interested in securing sewing machines to be included in the shipment from Texas. Anyone having an old type machine that they would like to donate is requested to take it to any sewing machine dealer in Clovis. The dealer will repair the machine and send it to the proper authorities for shipping. Rev. Jones is also anxious to get castor bean and h加里 seed from this part of the country.

Individuals or organizations wishing to contribute to this program should notify either of the Parmer county agents. Goods must leave here by May 16 to be packed for the shipment which will leave Houston on June 15.

Rev. Jones will travel on the ship to Korea to take pictures of the actual handling of the program. Extra films for this project will be appreciated. Those desiring to contribute to this phase of the program should also contact one of the county agents.

Among a great list of items to be shipped to the foreign country from Texas are 500 pigs, 250 heifers, 250 sheep, 350 milch goats and a large number of rabbits and baby chicks.

The shipment will also include 90 bales of cotton secured from this section of the country.

Additional needed supplies are flower and garden seeds, forage seeds—corn, alfalfa, grain sorghum, legumes, pasture grasses; hatching incubators, (two to five hundred egg capacity), shovels and hoes, soil test kits, and vitamins.

FARWELL BAPTIST NEWS
Submitted By Mrs. E. J. Keith

There were 139 present for Sunday School and 82 in training union. Both worship services were well attended.

The young people's program was truly an inspiration to all present. We take our hats off to our young people—they are very capable of taking over when the occasion arises.

Jerry Henson, Glyn Hardage and Morris Reed brought some inspiring messages. Special music was beautifully rendered and Irene Hardage did a nice job of playing the piano. Jerry Andrews and Gerald Hardage directed the congregational singing like "old timers."

The choir was wonderful—filled with young people at both services. And, of course, we couldn't have done without the ushers who so ably took care of the people during the services.

We are certainly proud of our young people!

Dr. T. F. Boushy of Wayland College in Plainview, will fill the pulpit on Sunday, May 1, in the absence of Rev. Keith who is conducting a revival in Kansas at the present time.

Rebecca Class will have a business meeting and social with Mrs. Jack McManigal on May 2 at 8 p. m.

Tierra Blanca Worker's Conference meets with the First Baptist Church in Canyon on Thursday, May 5, at 9:30 a. m. It is to be a Vacation Bible School clinic and all workers are urged to attend.

naturally he refers as much of his work as he can. If a General Practitioner appears the least bit conscientious with his practice he will immediately bog down with it, so you see—it really pays to be lousy in Government Medicine.

I have mentioned the "session" in my paper, but I haven't mentioned the professional income of a British Doctor yet. The greatest number of sessions one can have is eleven per week, and the least number of sessions is eight per week at three hours a session. The most salary a physician makes is three thousand, and the least is usually one thousand pounds. A pound being equal to $2.60 a very high income tax comes out of the above mentioned salary.

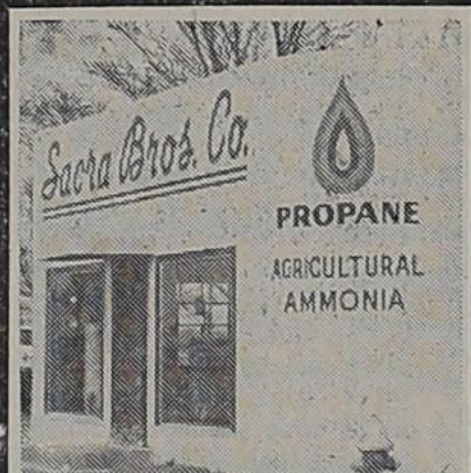

The public is overwhelmingly for Government Medicine because they are kept in ignorance of the high morbidity and mortality that is going on. The doctors see and know all about this rotten business, but they can't do anything about it because every time they speak up some government official says, "Sit down, you damn Capitalist." Gentlemen, now you can see why the physician of Great Britain were reluctant to tell us this story.

I purposely did not mention medical practice in other countries I visited because it would cause my paper to be too long, but I would like to mention that ALL of the European countries have some form of government or state-controlled medical practice. The United States is the only country left where the citizens have free choice of physicians; where the physicians are not bossed by a state official; and where research work is not restricted by the Government.

CARING FOR INDOOR IVY

Here are a few hints if that ivy in your living room is literally withering on the vine. Don't water it too frequently. Wait until the soil is almost dry and then give the plant a thorough soaking—about every week or ten days. Try washing leaves gently to free them from dust and grime. And, if possible, keep ivy away from the direct rays of the sun and in a cool humid place.—CHANGING TIMES

Conservation News Briefs
 By Dick Barber

The land leveling project for El Rancho Milling Co., is coming along on schedule. Two big earth moving machines have been busy making the necessary cuts and fills. Every trip they make each machine moves from 8 to 10 cubic yards of soil. Some of the borders have been completed except for checking and touching up the small irregularities. When each border is leveled it is plowed and irrigated. After it has had time to dry it is planed and checked. The small irregularities will then be touched up and the job will be completed.

A. J. Acuff plans to irrigate part of his row crop this year on a partial contour. This will be done on the steeper land in order to give the water a chance to penetrate better. This is probably the best way to irrigate steep land, although a fast ditch will be necessary in most cases.

More local irrigation farmers are deciding that 160 acres is too much for one well to irrigate properly. Some have decided that about 100 acres properly irrigated will earn them more profit than 160 acres or more when they can't get over it often and thoroughly enough.

Leon Marks has a small patch of rye and vetch that he is using for sheep pasture. The sheep are grazing the rye and leaving the vetch at the present time. Even if they never eat the vetch it will still be worthwhile for its soil building qualities. A legume such as vetch, clover, alfalfa, cow peas, etc., is the cheapest known method of improving soil conditions. We need a lot of it in Curry County. A legume crop for seed might make someone more money than grain sorghum or wheat.

Pre-irrigation is getting underway. We have wondered why some one doesn't try irrigating grain sorghum the same way they irrigate wheat. The land could be bedded, irrigated, and cultivated until the proper planting time.

Grain sorghum could then be drilled and treated the same as wheat from then on. This should be especially good on steep land because water would run slower through a drilled crop. It would also eliminate the necessity for cultivation which often damages feeder roots. One or two spraying to kill weeds might be necessary. How about trying a few acres this way?

We learned long ago that the best way to make a fire with two sticks is to be sure one of them is a match.

Steers' Four-Game Winning Streak Ended by Portales

Vardeman, of the Portales nine drove in three runs with a homer in the first to beat out the Farwell team 4-3 and to end the Steers' four game winning streak, in a game played in Portales, April 26.

The Steers outthit the Portales team seven to five with Truitt Hardage getting a home run in the third with the bases empty.

Carpenter went all the way on the mound for Farwell getting six strike outs for the afternoon. Corbin was starting pitcher for Portales being relieved by Dunnaway in the fourth.

In a game played in Farwell recently the Steers racked up 12 runs to beat the Portales team 12-9.

On April 19, Farwell took a game from Friona 23-6 and on April 15 the Steers beat the Bovina team 7-6 to give them a four game winning streak.

Carpenter, who pitched the entire game for the Steers, got six strike outs against the Lazbuddie nine on April 22.

Farwell won the game 19-6 with Billy Watts, James Roberts, Bert Williams and Donnie Carpenter the leading hitters. Watts, who hits in the number five slot, had a perfect afternoon of hitting, getting two for two. Roberts hit four for five, getting a single, a double, a triple and a home run. Carpenter, who got three for four, hit a single, a triple and a home run to increase his season average.

Williams, who has been hitting good all season, also got three for four. Williams has also been outstanding in defensive play in his slot as right fielder. Truitt "Mr. Grass" Hardage has also done some fine playing in his centerfield position, according to Coach "Smokey" Cates.

Cates remarked that he was very proud of the baseball team and that he thought the group was one of the finest defensive clubs in this part of the country.

The Steers will meet the Bovina team here on Friday afternoon (tomorrow).

Three Judging Teams Enter Area Contest

Farwell FFA dairy cattle, poultry and meats judging teams will enter Area I and II Annual judging contest to be held at Texas Tech on Saturday, April 30.

Included on each team are three members, making a total of nine Farwell boys entering the contest.

he inquired, "What is the Farm Bureau doing on the grain sorghum problem?"

Several statements followed, with the FB president finally asking, "Just what is it you want me to do?"

Hartzog said, "I want you to go tell Mr. Shumann (AFBF president) that grain sorghums should be put back to eighty-five percent of parity, because our last year's crop moved out (into market channels) within a fourteen-month period of time."

Hartzog's point was that there is no surplus problem in grain sorghums as is the case with some other commodities.

Hammonds replied by saying that he was bound by instructions (in the form of resolutions) which would prevent him from being able to do that.

West reported that the government owns 64,000,000 bushels of grain sorghum at the present time. Penrod Anderson, Bovina elevator operator, asked West if that amount was not approximately 25 percent of the past year's crop. West said he did not know.

PLANTING TIME—

earlier is out the extra time and money it takes to cultivate his crop. Since he cannot expect to get a bigger yield or harvest much earlier, Jones asks, "What is the advantage of planting earlier and being out the expense and risk of having your crop on the ground longer?" (Late May and early June plantings should be plenty early for any sorghums grown here).

Cotton Planting Time, Too
The cotton planting season for this part of the Plains usually lasts from May 1 until June 1, although it is advisable to get the cotton into the ground "as early as possible."

This is quite a contradiction compared to recommendations for feed, but Jones says there's logic behind it. The High Plains is considered a marginal area for cotton so far as length of growing season is concerned, and the man who plants earlier has the best opportunity to take advantage of its greatest length. Around May 10, seems to work out pretty good.

"Both 1953 and 1954 were very good years for growing," reminds the agent, "but we can't depend on the weather to be as considerate every year." Older growers are especially mindful of the early freezes of 1951 which made cotton a rather unprofitable venture.

Farmers in and around Parmer County can usually plant up until around June 1 with comparative safety, believes the county agent.

Cotton is sensitive to heat and cold, and plants don't seem to do much when planted very early, but after about May 20, they really "take off."

Last year, Parmer County planted 56,000 acres of cotton—their full allotment. Some was hailed out, but over 50,000 bales were produced. This seems conservative in view of the report issued last week from the Lubbock classing office which officially reported county ginning at 46,495 bales.

Several gins situated just outside the county line undoubtedly would have pushed the mark to over 50,000. There were 10 gins doing business in the county in 1954, and there will be 13 or 14 this year. That will likely reduce the amount which has been going out of the county.

This year, the cotton allotment is somewhere in the neighborhood of 45,000 acres. Farmers will be shooting for the same production on reduced acres, and cotton will have obvious priority over every other crop on the farm.

Most farmers will fertilize, give it water the instant it needs it, and care for the crop as they would a member of the family. Given a good break with the weather, farmers might meet their goal, but the county agent warns:

"Everything we can do doesn't mean we'll beat 1954, unless the weather works with us."

Minor Crops
Some newcomers are crying for attention in Parmer County this year. One which sprang from nothing is an oilseed crop, Sesame. One of the oldest crops cultivated by man, Sesame is making its first cash crop run in this area.

Estimations on the acreage which will be devoted to it range from 1500 to 2000 in the county. Planting is scheduled for the last half of May, and harvest will occur in September.

Sesame's importance is expected to grow in the area as controls on other crops continue.

Potatoes have been raised on a few farms in Parmer County for a number of years, and this year enjoyed a modest increase in both acreage and growers.

Combining the Friona-Black-Summerfield and the West Camp-Lariat-Oklahoma Lane area, around 1200 acres are expected to be produced. This figure may have revised upward, however.

Just at planting time, when the late hard spring freezes occurred nation-wide, interest in potatoes on the Plains took a spurt when talk got into circulation that crops in the South had been severely damaged.

This was hoped to greatly improve the price outlook for High Plains spuds.

More farmers than ever before will be planting silage crops in the next few weeks. Owners of livestock are seeing the need for an increased supply of home-grown feed, and silage is one of the cheapest and most satisfactory.

Two high-yielding varieties which will get top consideration this year are Honey Drip and Atlas Sorgo. Both produce more tonnage per acre than corn.

"It is not uncommon," says Jones, "to have instances of Honey Drip which yield up to twenty tons per acre. Good Atlas Sorgo yields run about sixteen tons, and the average is between ten and fifteen. Silage, believes the agent, is one place where fertilizer pays handsomely. Feedwise, a ton of silage can be expected to carry a beef cow and calf from 60 to 70 days.

As previously mentioned in The Tribune, corn is attempting a comeback in Parmer County this year as a cash crop. The local support rate of $1.23 per bushel has attracted the interest of quite a few farmers.

Something that often is overlooked in local agriculture is the fact that Parmer County is one of the major sweet sudan seed producing areas of the nation.

Because of a high, dry climate, farmers of this area are able to produce a very high quality seed that tops the market in demand.

Some local grazing is done on sudan, but for the most part, it is harvested and the seed sold to beef-producing areas.

The sudan market proved to be good last year, and for this reason, it is normal to expect the acreage to go up. Price fluctuation of this uncontrolled crop is considerable, and the outlook for this year is unknown.

Farmers are generally highly pleased to be able to sell for 10 cents a pound, and will continue to sell with a profit down to seven or six cents. Around five cents, the market hits the "borderline" between making or losing money.

Another minor crop that will be going in this spring is alfalfa. Although Parmer County is not a major hay-producing area, there are reports of several alfalfa fields which will be seeded this spring.

Low prices and the high cost of production in this area have done much to discourage production of this forage crop.

One Vacancy Unfilled On Texico Faculty

The faculty for Texico Schools for the 1955-56 term is complete with all members returning to teach there except band director, George Hill, who has resigned at Texico to accept a position in the school system at Jal, N. M., according to Superintendent Agrie Jones.

At the present time, no replacement has been made for the position vacated by Hill, said Jones.

FB MEETING—

as he pointed out the need for increased sales promotion.

Before retiring, he once again stated, "The program we're back of is the program you fellows wrote."

President Hammond was next on the program, and also taking a cue from Ellison's remark, he said, "There are a lot of people in this country who don't want you to know the truth (about the farm program)."

He then immediately launched into a plan on which he has been working, called the "soil fertility bank." It has the endorsement of the Texas Farm Bureau and the American Farm Bureau as well except that AFBF included an acreage control provision.

He discussed farm surpluses and offered the new plan as an answer. "Our farm machine is too big," he said. "We need to shut down part of the plant."

(Although not discussed in detail at the meeting, the soil fertility plan is based on the theory of having all farmers lay aside whatever percentage of their land is determined to be contributing to the national surplus of all farm commodities combined.

(Thus, if it is decided that all agricultural produce in the U. S. is exceeding the demand by 10 percent, Hammond's plan would call for every farmer to take out of production 10 percent of his total land.

(Crop rotation would theoretically eliminate the possibility of unproductive land upsetting the program—Editor).

"Don't you think it would be better to cut all your acres ten percent than to cut your cotton thirty percent, and your wheat 30 percent?" asked Hammond.

The FB chief then stated, "The government can support the price of everything we produce in this country under this plan," and not lose money.

This plan would eliminate, he maintained, cases of where men plant cotton for no other reason than to preserve their allotment.

Making only one reference to the flexible or "sliding" support price system now in effect, Hammond said, "I didn't get the sliding scale up, and I can't explain it."

Back to grain sorghums, the president said, "It first was the intent of the USDA to set grain sorghum supports at 60 percent of parity. We (the Farm Bureau) got 70."

An extended question and answer session followed the speeches, with several Bureau members taking the floor to ask questions or make explanations. Hammond, Ellison, and West took turns answering questions from the speaker's stand.

One member, Arlin Hartzog, also president of the newly-formed Parmer County Grain Producers' Assn., made some of the most pointed remarks from the floor of the evening.

Speaking directly to Hammond,

POPPIN' OFF... WITH POP

The man who claims he never made a mistake in his life generally has a wife who did.

Mrs. Worthmore and her French poodle were shopping one day, when she noticed that the man standing next to her at the counter was looking fearfully at the puppy frisking about his legs. "My, my," she said, "don't be afraid of Felix, he won't bite you."

"Madam," said the man, "I wasn't afraid he'd bite, but I noticed him lifting his hind leg and I thought he was going to kick me."

Sympathy is what one woman offers another in exchange for details.

The days are getting hotter, folks, and that gives your car a good chance to act up. Keep it running smoothly with Pan-handle gas—none better at any price!

Tom O'Brians Will Celebrate Golden Anniversary in May

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Tom O'Brian Sr. will gather in the home of their daughter, Mrs. E. L. Fairchild, Sunday, May 8, to participate in the observance of the O'Brian's golden wedding anniversary.

The Fairchild home is located nine miles east and one south of the Hub community, south of Friona. The open house is to be from 2:30 until 5:30 in the afternoon.

No invitations are being sent to local people, and everyone is invited to attend.

Observing 50 years of wedded bliss are "Tom" and "Mabel," who first came to their Parmer County home from Oklahoma in 1928. They have a colorful history behind them as pioneers in this part of the Southwest.

Thomas Allen O'Brian was born in Lyons, Kansas, the son of the Andy J. O'Brians. He knew farm life from his birth. Mabel Fones was also born in Lyons. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Fones.

It was inevitable that the two should some day meet (Lyons was a city of about 2000 persons), and sure enough they did—on Decoration Day of 1901.

Both were attending a Methodist Church social at the time. Tom was a little backward at romancing at first, and today recalls that, "I didn't even have a good time that night, because I was so bashful."

As time passed, however, Tom bolstered up a little, and within four years had "argued" Mabel into marrying him. In those days, most entertainment for the younger set consisted of parties and church-goings, so Tom had plenty of chances to get over his point.

On Wednesday, May 3, 1905, Tom and Mabel stepped to the altar of their home near Lyons to exchange wedding vows. Rev. W. T. Danner, pastor of the local Methodist Church, officiated at the ceremony.

This was quite an event, naturally, for both Tom and Mabel, but the husband-to-be hadn't lost his sense of humor, and nearly threw the wedding party into a panic when he pretended not to have brought along the marriage license.

"I told the preacher I didn't know we needed a license to get married, and that was just a few minutes before the wedding. It sure scared everybody," says Tom.

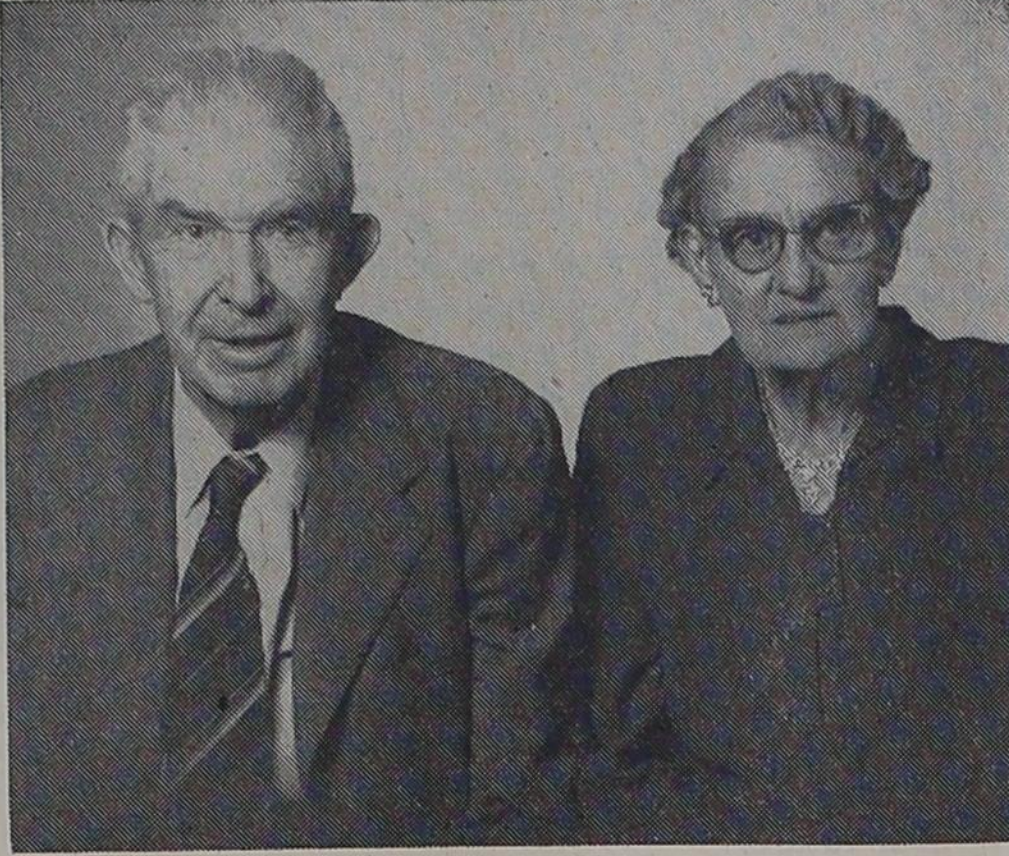

Rev. Danner survived the shock, however, and is today still living. He has been invited to come to the open house, but because of his advanced years, it is not known whether he will be able to attend.

The first calamity to beset the newlyweds occurred the first night of their wedlock. They had taken up residence in a home of their own on a farm about five miles from Lyons.

Apparently, construction had been advanced a little too hastily, and the paper on the ceiling tumbled down on the young couple. To this upsetting condition was added another misfortune at the breakfast table the next morning.

They had been given a new pitcher as a wedding present, and Mabel had filled it with syrup. She was dismayed to find syrup running all over the breakfast table, and it turned out that there was a small hole in the pitcher.

The O'Brians laughed these inconveniences off and got into the business of farming in earnest. They had 160 acres in cultivation, and raised corn and wheat. They had a few cows (bought on time) and a separator (also bought on time), and although they had little money to spend, they "always had plenty to eat."

They lived in Kansas for six years, and three children were born during the time. Those included Kenneth, Russell and Marian. The latter, in spite of the spelling, was the first girl in the family.

In 1911 the O'Brians hit out for Oklahoma in search of a farm of their own, and settled on a quarter section in Grant County, near Medford.

Asked how things went while they lived in Oklahoma, Tom says, "Oh, sometimes things were pretty good, and sometimes they weren't so good."

One thing he does remember vividly, however, and that is how it used to rain in Oklahoma. "We raised alfalfa hay without watering it," he says. That feat cannot be duplicated in Parmer County today.

Two children, Tom Jr., and Julia, were born while the O'Brians lived in Oklahoma.

In 1928, the family set their sights on Texas, and struck out for the Lone Star State in August. Asked why he wanted to come to Texas, Tom replied, "We had to find something for the boys to do."

The journey to Texas is remembered well by all the family. The move took two trips, and both were adventurous. The first one got off to a bad start.

Tom and the boys had started out in their 1927 Model T Ford, and hadn't even gone one way when they had a breakdown. The car wasn't the only thing that was "broke," says Tom, and he had to borrow $25 from a friend to get it repaired.

There were no paved roads in those days, and the 400-mile trip proved to be an arduous one. Bows were placed over the back of the open-type car, and a wagon sheet was stretched over them for a protective canopy.

With no brakes, except what could be used by "gearing down" the motor, the trips had their exciting moments.

The O'Brians made Hereford their unloading point, but moved into the Lakeview community southeast of Friona.

Tom bought a quarter-section of land, and set up farming once again. They missed several years, and things got pretty rough. In 1929 the wheat yielded well, but it sold for only 18 cents per bushel, remember the O'Brians.

"I told 'em if we'd stay long enough it would rain," said Tom, and sure enough he was right—after many years.

In fact, it wasn't until 1947 that the O'Brians really "hit it" with a good dryland wheat crop, coupled with good prices.

Their farm home on Highway 86 proved to be a stopping point for all kinds of traveling folk. "All the tramps stopped at our place," says Mrs. Fairchild.

One well-remembered visitor was forced in by circumstances. The time was a Sunday afternoon in 1936 when one of the Plains' most memorable "dusters" boiled up out of the northwest.

As the ominous cloud approached, a stranger drove up, ran out of his car, and came panting into the house. "Is there room enough in there for me?" was his frightened inquiry.

The O'Brians took him in during the storm.

Things have changed a great deal since the O'Brians first came to Parmer County. Their farm is now irrigated, and Tom Jr. does all the farming. He lives only a few hundred yards from his parents.

Tom and Mabel spend most of their time around the old homestead, and their hours are shortened by a television set which furnishes diversion. Tom is not able to be active to any extent.

When reminiscing about their own youth, they were asked if young folks today seem any different from those of over a half-century ago. "Kids aren't any worse today than they were in those days," believe the O'Brians.

Proof of this belief can be seen in the enjoyment the couple derive from doting over their 11 grandchildren: eight girls and three boys.

Their son Kenneth lives a short distance northeast of the O'Brians. Russel also lives in that vicinity, and Julia (Mrs. Fairchild) lives to the southeast. Mrs. George Larke (Marian) lives in Berkeley, Calif.

Ware's To Expand Into Friona Location

Assurance of another large department store for Friona was made with the announcement that Ware's of Littlefield and Kerrville will expand into this city.

Kenneth Ware, manager of the Littlefield store, said this week that the cost of the store (merchandise and fixtures) will run in the neighborhood of $50,000.

The building for the new store will be erected by Sloan Osborn of Friona, and it will be located between Dilger's Cleaners and Houser Grocery.

This brick structure, which will be 50 x 120 feet, will be modern in design and cost around $30,000. A lease agreement has been reached between Ware's and the Friona investor.

Ware told The Tribune that he estimated that "It will probably be around July or August before we 'get going.'"

The new store, which also will be known as Ware's, will offer a general line of dry goods, including men's and ladies' wear, piece goods, and shoes—"all popular priced merchandise," according to Ware.

Engineer Will Be In Friona For Commission Meeting

M. R. Smith, Jr., an engineer from Lubbock will be present at the city commission meeting in Friona on May 2. He will discuss the bonds which the city is obligated for, at that time.

Barring obstacles, bids will be let on some of the bonds which were voted for at an election which was held last month.

The planning and zoning commission will present their zoning plans at the May 2 meeting, also.

The inside of the store will harmonize with the modern all-glass front of the building by featuring all-new merchandise and new fixtures.

No manager of the store has been selected yet.

Seventy Boys Try Out for Little League Baseball

With baseball season here again and many baseball enthusiasts on hand, Friona has four teams of Little League players who are ready for that unknown umpire to say, "play ball."

The boys are excited about getting a chance to play and most parents and other citizens are happy because the boys will have something to keep them occupied during the summer months.

Little Leaguers include boys between the ages of eight and twelve, and so far approximately 70 youngsters have turned out for the sport.

Sponsors are Herring Implement Company, Reeve Chevrolet, McCaslin Lumber and Benger Air Park.

First Little League game will be played on May 24, but a schedule of games has not been drawn up as yet.

Managers are Leo Reed for Reeve Chevrolet; Weldon Dickson for McCaslin Lumber; Henry Lewis for Herring Implement; and Bill Woodley for the Benger Air Park team.

ATTENDS MEDICAL MEETING

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Spring are in Ft. Worth this week where Dr. Spring is attending a medical meeting. Their daughter, Susan, is staying with the Johnny Bengers while the Springs are away.

Friona Indians Take Win over Umbarger

The Friona Indians played Umbarger in Friona last Sunday to start off the first game of the season. The Indians won by a score of 9-5.

The manager, John Renner, says that experience was the determining factor in winning and that most all of the players saw some action during the game.

Stan Barrett pitched for the Indians and Veazy, Barnett and Oliver were leading hitters for the afternoon.

The roster for the team and their positions are as follows: Lindley Davis, pitcher; C. H. Veazy, 3rd base; Jimmy Oliver, 2nd base; F. L. Oliver, rf; John Renner, catcher; Bill Woodley, 3rd base; Stan Barrett, pitcher and ss; Jack Looper, outfield; David Patterson, outfield; Shirley Cook, outfield; Doyce Barnett, outfield; Cotton Renner, 2nd base; and Homer Linderman, 1st base.

Other team members are L. A. Jones, Glenn Reeve, Truitt Johnson, Wright Williams, Fabian Renner, W. H. Long and Danny Mack Bainum.

Schedule of future game is as follows: in the first round of play; May 1, Hereford, there; May 8, Olton, here; May 15, Bovina, here; May 22, Lazbuddie, there; May 29, Nazareth, here; June 5, Dimmitt, here.

In the second round of play, Indian games include June 19, Umbarger, there; June 26, Hereford, here; July 3, Olton, there; July 10, Bovina, there; July 17, Lazbuddie, here; July 24, Nazareth, there; and July 31, Dimmitt, there.

June 12, is the date set for the playing of games which were cancelled.

Sunday, the Friona Indians will meet the team in Hereford for a game starting at 2:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hadley and family of Borger visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lea.

May Is Paint-Up, Fix-Up Month

The month of May has been set aside by the Friona Chamber of Commerce as Paint-up and Fix-up month. The chamber hopes, in co-operation with the service stations in Friona, that stickers having to do with this project, can be placed on every car in the city. Mrs. Henry Lewis is in charge of the advertising and she has already ordered the stickers for the passenger cars in the city. Two large posters will be placed on the city trucks.

From May 1 through June 30 the chamber wants to encourage the citizens of Friona to paint-up, fix-up and clean-up their homes and businesses. On June 30, the clean-up committee will tour Friona and judge the homes in two divisions—houses built after January 1, 1954 and homes built prior to that time. First and second prizes will be awarded in each division. The homes will be judged on the general appearance of the yard and house. Those on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. "Pudge" Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anthony.

The business firms will not be awarded any prizes but the chamber thought that they should be recognized for their improvements since January 1, of this year. Some of the firms will be picked as having done the most toward improving their property.

May 18 will be the special clean-up day. "Pudge" Kendrick is chairman of a committee who will try and contact all available trucks in the community. These will then congregate downtown along with the city trucks and will tour the alleys from there, picking up any trash left for them.

Anyone having an "eyesore" or anything which they would like to get rid of, is asked to put it in boxes or in the trash barrel by the alley and they will pick it up on this day, May 18!

Dillie Kelley, chamber president, says that the city has agreed to level the alleys with a grader in the months of May and June.

A. W. Anthony has been named as being in charge of the city park. It is hoped that the ground can be leveled, the lawn fertilized and the trees will be trimmed. Mrs. "Pudge" Kendrick hopes to encourage the Girl Scouts in planting flowers in the park. Kelley hopes to get the Lions Club and other civic organizations to aid in the beautification program.

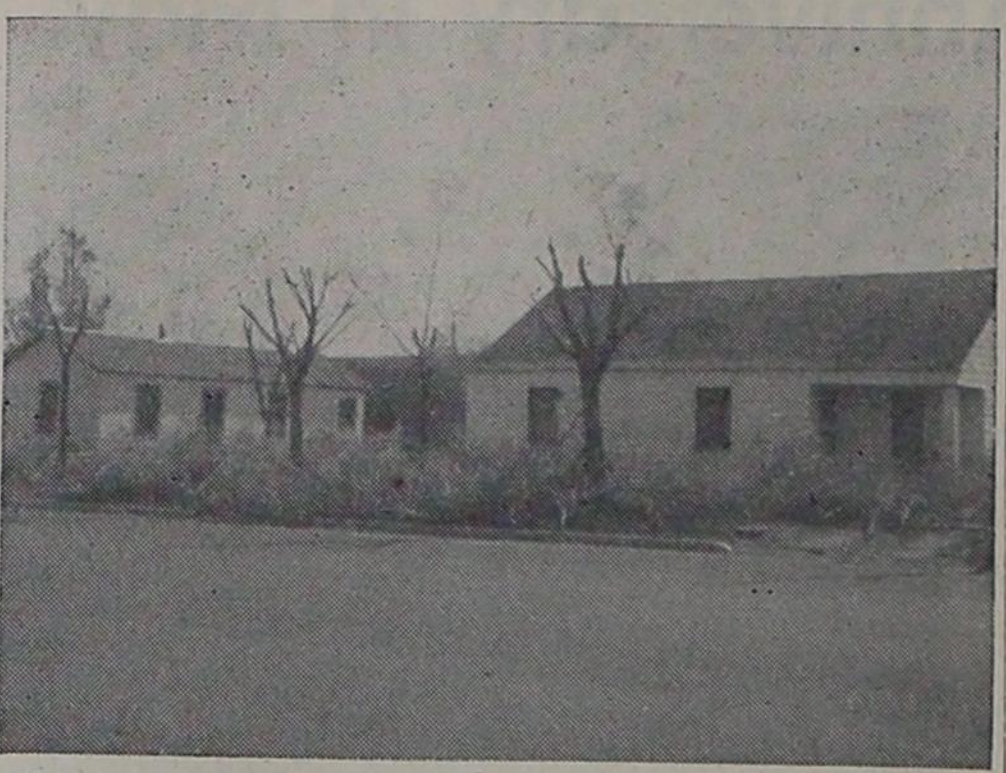

The clean-up committee asked the Chamber of Commerce to make a recommendation to the city commission to check into the city ordinances and see if there is any way that livestock and chickens could be kept out of the city limits. The committee would like this done for the sake of sanitation and health.

Firemen Take Tests On First Aid

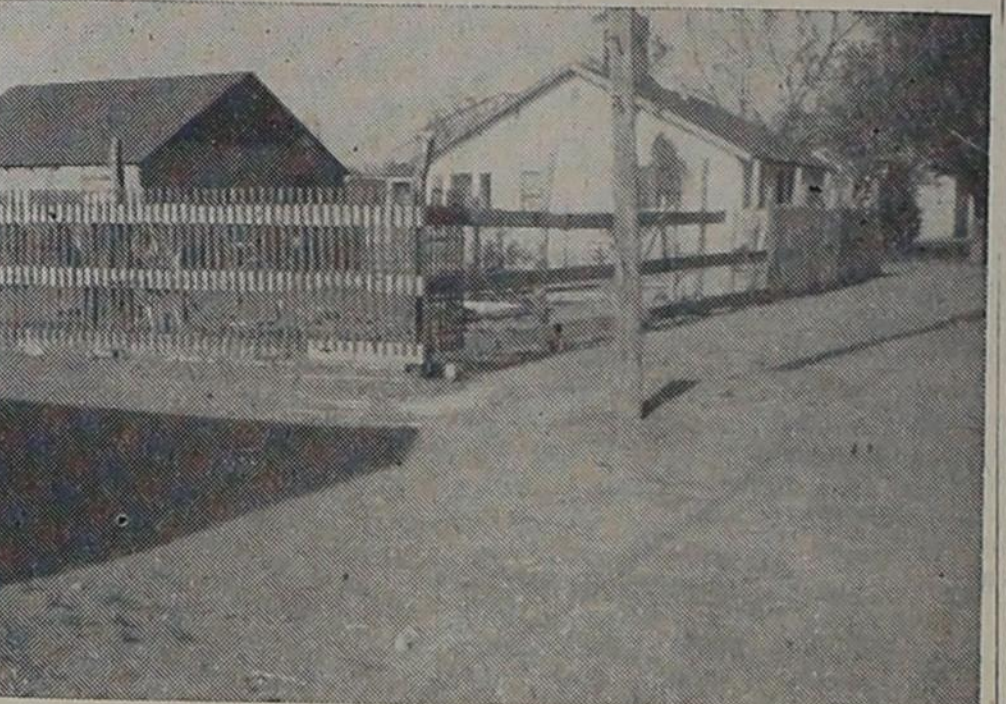

Friona Fire Department met Thursday evening at the fire station but adjourned early to go to the high school to take the tests on the first aid instruction which has been in progress for some weeks. Approximately 37 were present.

Captain Calvin Maynard of Amarillo, said that no one made 100% on the test but everyone did pass it. The test was originally scheduled for Friday but it was changed because the Boy Scouts, who have been attending the course, were going to leave immediately after school for Camp Don Herrington for their annual field day.

The final lesson in the course was given on Monday of this week.

This is the yard of Mrs. Helen Williams of Friona who got ahead of the clean-up campaign. She decided that the trees in her yard needed to be trimmed, so she had it done. She hopes to be able to paint her home in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lloyd of Friona decided that their fence was getting worn out, and the picture above shows part of the work that Mr. Lloyd has done. He says that he has been working on it for some time, and hopes he can finish before too long.

Citizens Put $2500 Into Baseball Field

Baseball is the "word" around Friona these days and the businesses and the citizens have done much to see that the baseball field was built, although there is still some work to be accomplished. So far, four teams of Little League guers have been organized, also six softball teams and a hardball team. There are some firms in Friona who would be interested in sponsoring a couple of ladies teams if enough show interest in this idea.

The sponsors of the softball teams are Piggly Wiggly, Texaco Service Station, Reeve Chevrolet, Herring Implement, Mills and Fleming Gin and Farmer County Implement Company. (Sponsors of ther teams are mentioned in separate stories in this edition.)

The game between Umberger and Friona was played on the new regulation field in Friona. The field is located about one half mile north of Cunningham's Laundry on the highway. Local enthusiasts plan to remove the lights from the high school football field and install them on the baseball field. (The high school plans to buy new lights for the football field.) The lights will be installed by Southwestern Public Service but it is not known when they will get time to do the job, as they have a back-log of work at the present time.

John Renner, manager of the hardball team, says that there are not any bleachers as yet, but it is hoped that merchants and individuals will help in having some installed in the near future. Anyone interested in helping with this project may contact Dillie Kelley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, for further details. The money for some of the work on the field was collected by a group of high school boys. These boys canvassed the outlying communities of Friona and collected approximately $700. The rest of the financing has been done by the business houses in Friona. So far, about $2500 has been spent on the baseball field.

The hardball team has all of their equipment and uniforms which were donated by local firms. It is hoped that local businesses will purchase advertising signs to be placed on the outfield fence.

The officials of hardball, other than Renner, are W. L. Edelman, chief umpire; Leo Reed, base umpire; and Glenn Reeve, director.

Study Club Committee Plans Buffet Supper

The social committee of the Modern Study Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dalton Caffey to plan their annual buffet supper to be held on May 17.

Members present were Mrs. Steve Struve, Mrs. Sloan Osborn, Mrs. O. J. Beene, Mrs. Wesley Foster and Mrs. Dalton Caffey.

Concert Association Will Present Four Concerts

The board of directors of the Friona Town Hall Concert Association met last Wednesday evening for a progress report on their membership drive and also discussed the four concerts to be presented in Friona.

It was announced at Wednesday's meeting that more members are needed to enable the concerts to appear in Friona. The membership drive had originally been scheduled to close at the end of last week. It was decided to continue the drive for another week, until May 1, so that the needed members could be secured, says Mrs. H. K. Kendrick.

Concerts hoped to be presented are the Metropolitan Ensemble which consists of six Negro entertainers. They are known for their vocal renditions of ballads and hymns of their own race.

The second concert will be the Irish actors, Dermont McNamara and Helena Carroll, who give interpretations of famous Broadway plays. They have appeared on television on the Philco Hour, Lux Video Theater and Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town."

Number three on the list of expected appearances is the Alard String Quartet who play principally, chamber music. This group took their training at the University of Texas. They are now taking an advanced correspondence course with the Chicago Preparatory School of Music.

The last program selected by the association will feature Nora Wain, a noted newspaper woman and authoress. Miss Wain, who is an expert on the Far East, has written articles for the Saturday Evening Post and the Atlantic Monthly.

She has more recently had a book published entitled "Return to the House of Exile." She got the inspiration for the book while living in China and Japan before and during World War II. She spent six months, during the war, on the Manchurian border where much of the front line action was taking place.

Miss Wain is in the Orient at the present time to gather material for the sequel to her above mentioned book. The sequel will be titled, "The House of Exile." She will return to the United States in February of next year and will appear in Friona some time next spring.

She also speaks and writes in five different dialects, not including Chinese and Japanese which she writes and speaks fluently.

Mrs. O. J. Beene, one of the chairmen for the membership drive, announced that the association was especially interested in obtaining new residents in Friona as members.

Family membership is $10 for the year and single membership is $6. Tickets may be obtained at the State Line Tribune in Farwell, the Bovina Drug Store, Bovina, Bi-Wize Drug, City Drug and Friona Star in Friona.

Coffey Explains Functions of Teen-Twenty Club

Some of the by-laws of the Friona Teen-Twenty Club were explained by Leon Coffey, president, last week.

The club was started by a group of young men who were interested in seeing entertainment provided for the youth of Friona and surrounding area.

On October 23, 1954, the Teen-Twenty Club was begun. It has grown since that time to a present membership of approximately 65 young people.

"The organization is a private club and anyone known to be a troublemaker is not allowed to join," says Coffey.

Officers other than Coffey are Arnold Fangman, vice-president; Letha Fay Day, secretary; and Weldon Thompson, sergeant-at-arms.

The club sponsored dances once each week, but because of low attendance, dances are now held twice monthly. There are at least two couples acting as sponsors at each dance.

Sponsors are selected by members of the club appointed by the president. Parents or other citizens wishing to help sponsor one of the dances, which begin at 8 every other Saturday night, are asked to contact any of the officers listed above.

Requirements for becoming a member of the Teen-Twenty Club are that one must live in Friona or its school district. Membership dues are $1 and the dance admission is 75c per person. Admission is charged in order to cover the expenses of the band which has been secured on a permanent basis.

Although the string band is from Lazbuddie, there is lots of local talent among its members, says Coffey.

Only members of the club may attend the dances, he adds.

"I would like to thank the American Legion for the use of the hall and also the sponsors who have assisted us in the past," says Coffey.

Any parent who would like to attend one of the dances to observe how the club operates, is welcome, Coffey said.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hall and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall and Eddie and Mrs. W. W. Camp and Louis Dean of Canyon spent the weekend in Kingfisher, Okla., visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Waldo.

The occasion was to celebrate the birthday of Edward Hall and Mrs. Camp, twin son and daughter of Mrs. Waldo, and Mrs. Waldo's grandson, Louis Dean Camp.

Mrs. Waldo is the former Mrs. Minnie Hall.

Final Results Given On Red Cross Drive

"Pudge" Kendrick, chairman of the recent Red Cross Drive, recently announced the final tabulations of the Red Cross Drive in Farmer County.

Final amounts for each community are as follows: Bovina collected $140; Farwell, $339.72; Lazbuddie, $117; Black, $150.40; Hub, $71.35; Oklahoma Lane, $81.50; Friona, $553.71; Rhea, $80; Also, Lakeview, $110 and Lariat, $20.

Although some of the communities were short of their goals, there were others that went over the top which gave the county a total of $1663.68 collected for Red Cross work in this area. Kendrick says that he thought the drive was very successful.

He also said that Rose Lange, welfare chairman, was the only person in the county allowed to review and give financial assistance to needy persons. If, for instance, a case occurs in Farwell that needs attention, they should call Mrs. Lange at Friona for aid in determining the actual assistance needed in the particular case.

"A portion of the money collected in the drive will be sent to the National Red Cross and the rest of it will remain in Farmer County to take care of those in need," says Kendrick.

"If, at any time, the county should be low on finances, the local chapter may call on the National chapter for aid," he adds.

Bids Will Be Let Soon On Post Office Building

Leo McLellan, postmaster at Friona, says that he hopes bids can be let on the Post Office building within a few days.

As soon as the plans and specifications are sent to McLellan and he can get them out to prospective bidders the bidding will begin.

McLellan says that he doesn't know whether Friona will be able to have a new building or if the old one will have to undergo a repair job. He says that this will depend on what the low bid is and who gets the contract.

He adds that the tendency now is to build the post office off the main street, not only because of parking problems, but because the buses bringing the mail have trouble when they have to stop on the main street of a town.

"Not too many years from now all the mail will be transported by bus and it will be quite inconvenient if the post office is on the main street. Whether the Friona post office will be able to move depends again on the bidder and where his lots are located," says McLellan.

Scrap Lumber Fire Causes $50 Damage

Firemen were called on Monday afternoon to extinguish a pile of scrap lumber which caught on fire at the corner of Fifth and Prospect in Friona. The lumber was the property of Elroy Wilson. Chief Bainum believes that the fire was accidentally started by a group of youngsters who were seen playing close by with matches.

Bainum said that there had been quite a bit of good lumber piled there but none of it was salvaged before the fire destroyed it. Damage is estimated at $50 or more.

BOVINA BUTANE SERVICE PRESENTS KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawkins and their daughter, Janie Lou, of Bovina, are our neighbors for this week. The Hawkins' live about a half mile out of Bovina on the 80 foot road.

Mrs. Hawkins, nee Donalita Hastings, was born and received her schooling in Bovina. Her mother, Mrs. Tom Hastings, who was a school teacher for some years, resides in the city of Bovina. Her father is deceased. Donalita has one sister, Mrs. J. T. Swim, Jr., of Roaring Springs and two brothers, Dean Hastings, Wynoka, Okla.; and Gordon Hastings of Lubbock. She adds that her mother has lived in Bovina since 1908.

All of the Hastings' children were born and reared in Bovina. They all lived there until they married.

Donalita says that her hobbies are art and sewing, although, she adds, "I haven't done much art work since Janie came along. I thought for awhile that I would be able to get back to it when Janie started to school this fall, but by that time there will be another little one running around our home."

Charles was also born and received his schooling at Bovina. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawkins who live just south of Charles' place. They moved to Bovina in 1917.

Charles has one sister and three brothers. His sister is Royleene Hawkins who teaches a grade school class at Tucumcari, N. M. His brothers are Harold Hawkins, who lives southwest of Charles, Erith Hawkins, who is a student in high school at Bovina, and Gene Hawkins, a ministerial student in Ft. Worth. Gene plans to be a Baptist minister.

Charles was in the Navy for three and a half years and it was after he was discharged that he started courting Donalita, although he had known her all his life.

Donalita became Mrs. Charles Hawkins on February 8, 1947 in Portales, N. M. and their daughter Janie Lou was born on January 1, 1949.

The Hawkins' have lived at their present location for about four years. They farm a 1/2 section and have two irrigation wells, both of which are on natural gas. One of the wells was put down last year and the other this year. Prior to that they did dry-land farming.

The Hawkins are members of the Bovina Baptist Church where Donalita serves as director of young people in the WMU and Charles is a member of the Brotherhood organization.

All of the Hawkins' home appliances are run on Butane and he also has his tractor and pick-up on this fuel. Charles says that they have never run out of fuel since doing business with Bovina Butane Service. Charles did have a well on Butane and he says that Gene kept close watch on it to see that it also, had enough fuel to keep going. Charles also has a trailer-tank filled with Butane for use in the field when his tractor gets low on fuel. Charles adds that he has been very happy with the service from Bovina Butane and he knows that they will keep up the good work.

Senior class of Lazbuddie High School will present its annual play Thursday night, April 28, in the grade school auditorium. The play is to start at 8 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The cast includes: Betty Lou Maxwell, Louise Ham; Bernadine, Glenda Hall; Connie Maxwell, Wanda Hunt; Wilbur Maxwell, David White; Janet Maxwell, Clara Jean Jesko; Hercules Nelson, Jimmie "Scopo" Ivy; Aunt Mary, Jean Gammon; John Maxwell, Robert Ivy; Mrs. Jennings, Betty Floyd; J. C. Mallory, Jim Gordon; Grover Jennings, Joe Briggs; Louie, Virgel Merriott; Gertrude, Imogene Trieder; Gladys, Marlene McDonald; and Clara Smith, Mary Gosner.

The plot of the play revolves around the activities of the Maxwell family. Probably, no people in history have had anything to contend with like a certain couple named Maxwell. Granted, the pioneers had Indians to enliven their day and the Martins had the Coys to keep them alert.

But the Maxwell's have Wilbur, Connie and Betty Lou to bring them "year-round offspring fever." Need we say more?

Their latest nonsensical gauntlet of misadventures starts when 15 year old Betty Lou has a poem printed in the school paper. Since grandmother Maxwell's maiden name was Barrett, Betty Lou just knows she's a descendant of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. So, she and best friend, Bernadine Smith, write to a firm that traces family trees. The reply arrives, but is intercepted by Mr. Maxwell, who gasps when he reads that his ancestors include Jack the Ripper, Bluebeard, Lady MacBeth and a gal named Sarah the Sparrow, who exterminated some thirteen husbands, and a low-brow twosome named Lester the Leech and Stern Face Stella. It adds that the mental change usually comes about forty. Mental change?

Needless to say, poor Pop is now imagining everything, and the awesome antics of his offspring only tend to make him believe they are all "touched."

Wilbur and pal, Hercules, have decided to be magicians; so they prepare for a magic show by hooking strings on the furniture and controlling it from the closet. All goes well until Pop walks in and sees the chairs hopping, pictures rocking and magazines bouncing across the room. It's his hit him! He's cracking up! He endeavors to find comfort in his family, but Wilbur is the only one who will listen to him. Pop tells him everything, giving the lurid details of their purple ancestors.

Is Wilbur impressed? Oh yes. And what does he do? Since they're magicians, the boys decide to commute with the skeletons in the family closet.

Gertrude and Louie, a couple of "none too bright would-be robbers" enter, hide in—you guessed it—the closet, and are discovered by the boys who proclaim them two skeletons in the family closet, namely Lester the Leech and Stern Face Stella. They even go so far as to unearth Lady Macbeth and Sarah the Sparrow.

By now everyone's frantic, including dazed mother, distraught father, his dumfounded boss, astonished Mrs. Jennings—society's number one matron—perplexed Aunt Mary, and the Maxwell's always unpredictable offspring. When finally a letter arrives setting everything straight. The family is so mixed up that the audience will wonder if anyone is still rational.

The senior class sincerely hopes that everyone in the community will attend the play entitled "It's Great To Be Crazy" by Donald Payton. The class thinks that you will really enjoy yourselves if you come out and see it.
