Tribune Celebrates 70th Anniversary

by Mary Sobin
News Editor

This issue of the State Line Tribune marks the 70th Anniversary of the local publication, and for those who have been reading about various big city and small town newspapers across the country "folding" due to financial hardship... a 70th anniversary is something that should not go unnoticed.

In a 1940 issue of the paper, the Tribune placed an advertisement that read "An old printer once said, 'our duty is to make the printed word speak great truths more clearly.' This is our ideal! We have built our business on honest and efficient craftsmanship which makes no compromise with half truths." This policy still holds true today for the Tribune publishers, John and Joann Getz.

The paper has always been a weekly publication, serving the people of Texico and Farwell, as well as Lazbuddie, Rhea, Bovina and Friona.

Although the paper began with competition like the now defunct "Texico-Farwell News" and "The Texico Trumpet," the State Line Tribune has continued through the years, outlasting all other local press publications.

Benjamin Franklin Fears was the Tribune's first full-time publisher and editor, beginning in 1911. He added a "new" second-hand flatbed press to his printshop in 1913 which enabled him to print a whole double page without folding it, which was considered an enormous feat in those days.

Fears continued with the newspaper, lucky enough to survive the famous 1913 "Hamlin Block" fire, until 1922 when he sold the Tribune to the Autrey Brothers.

In 1923, however, another fire succeeded in destroying the newspaper building, then located in the old Haynes Grocery Building on Second Street in Farwell. The 1923 fire took with it all old copies of the local paper printed up until that time.

In 1926 the paper was purchased by W.H. "Hop" Graham, who had been the publisher of the "Melrose Messenger." Graham, with his family, continued to run the Farwell weekly publication for nearly 40 years.

A move to the current location, across from the Parmer County courthouse, took place soon after the Grahams arrived as the flooring in the Haynes building would not support the linotype machine that "Hop" brought with him from Melrose.

The linotype machine was a first ever in Parmer County, and was to be only one of many "firsts" in printing capabilities to be introduced by the State Line Tribune.

When Hop Graham arrived in Farwell to publish the Tribune, he brought with him many seasoned years of journalism and publishing background, and printing the Tribune became a family affair, with everyone, including Mrs. Graham and the three Graham children assisting in "getting the paper out."

The paper continued to grow and flourish under the direction of Graham, with new subscribers and advertisers "coming aboard" each week.

It was in 1953 that the Tribune saw many new changes, including that of a new publisher.

Hop Graham died in May of 1953, at age 62, following a two-year illness. But before his death, the longtime newspaperman saw his paper proclaimed by the Parmer County Commissioners Court as "The Official Publication of Parmer County" and it remains so today.

It was also in 1953 that a new printing press arrived, weighing in at a hefty 14,000 pounds. An article in the February 13, 1953 issue of the local paper heralds the press arrival, but gives a sad adieu to the old press, and reads as follows:

"Today marks the retirement of the most faithful employee the Tribune ever had. The grumbly old Campbell printing press, in service since 1885, is being replaced by a bigger, faster, C.B. Cottrell.

"The Cottrell isn't exactly shop-shiney itself, but it doesn't quite date back to carpet-bagger days.

"Conversion to the newer press will make for a bigger, better-looking Tribune in the future, which will mean that Tribune subscribers will get even more than ever for their money.

"The old press, which like its brothers and sisters, is called a 'country' Campbell. This nickname was given the machine because it saw so much service in small town 'country' printshops all over the nation."

New equipment was, and still is, a point of pride for the newspaper business.

Upon Hop's death, the publisher duties were taken over by his son, W.H. "Hop" Graham, Jr.

It was also in 1953 that two new Tribune employees arrived on the scene, two yankees who found they liked the newspaper business so much that they would keep at it for awhile.

Sheriff's Dept. Busy With Thefts

Reports of many thefts top the sheriff's investigations this week, making for an active week for the Parmer County Sheriff's department.

The home of Kim Rundell on Star Route in Bovina was broken into on September 4. Missing were a Remington 12 gauge shotgun, a Wards 12 gauge shotgun, 15 boxes of 12 gauge shotgun shells, 1 clock radio, and 1 small jewelry box. Sheriff Bill Morgan said the missing items were valued at $560.

Joe Schilling of Route 1 Farwell reported that approximately 270 gallons of gasoline had been stolen from his property, placing the value at $300.

On the night of August 31, Frank Baca told sheriff's authorities that he parked his van on the Pleasant Hill highway on the edge of Bovina and said that someone had broken into it.

Baca said missing was a CB radio, spare tire, and a set of speakers. Morgan said the items were valued at $200. Sometime between August 28 and September 2 Lawrence Widner of Bovina had two Chester White Gilt hogs, and 1 red Duroc Gilt, weighing 225 pounds each, taken from a pen located northwest of Bovina. Value of the hogs is placed at $550.

Don Murphy of Bovina reported that a saddle and bridle were stolen from his barn and values the missing items at $225.

Siren Blares, ENMR Responds

Many Farwell residents thought the sky was falling last week as the emergency alarm sounded its roar every few minutes, sending the volunteer fire fighters to the fire station each time, and making area residents wonder just what was going on!

City employee Dee Hammit explains that some old buried telephone cable, made from lead, had cracked, and when the rains started coming, the cable got wet and not only set the fire alarm to its high pitched blare, it also caused the computer at the sheriff's department to go on the fritz, burglar alarms around town to go off, and telephones to be out of order.

But Hammit, who has been working closely with the ENMR telephone cooperative in its efforts to replace cable around town, said the repairman for ENMR "got right on it and worked night and day" to replace the badly worn cable, and soon things were quieted down again.

ENMR and Brooks Construction replaced the cable, and Hammit points out that this particular cable was not on the cooperative's agenda of items to be repaired and was a surprise to the telephone company, as well as an additional cost.

First Week's Winner

Mark Williams of Farwell (right) accepts his $7.50 check for being the first place winner in the 23rd annual Tribune sponsored Merchant's Football Contest from his grandfather, Johnie Williams of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman grain elevator, a contest sponsor. Williams was only one of seven contest entrants to pick 10 correct games, but his tiebreaker was closest to the correct score, sending him to the weekly top spot. Second place winner was Thad Phillips who, also with 10 perfect predictions, won $5.

The contest enters its second week with this issue and it is not too late to enter and still be eligible for the two grand prize tickets to the Dallas Cowboys-Philadelphia Eagles game slated for December 13 in Dallas.

With Tiebreaker - -

Mark Williams Winner Of Contest's 1st Week

It was a weekend full of football upsets, and Twin Cities gridiron fans watched the TV scoreboards with anticipation to see how badly or just how well they had done in predicting the first week of pigskin matches in the Tribune's 23rd Annual Merchant's Football contest.

Mark Williams of Farwell led a pack of seven, all of whom guessed 10 games correctly, with a three-point spread in his tiebreaker, to make him $7.50 richer this week by taking first prize. Second place winner was Thad Phillips of Farwell, also with 10 correct guesses, but with a tie-breaker point spread of nine. Phillips won $5 for his efforts.

Other contest entrants who also guessed 10 games correctly included Mike Woods, James Craig, Lynn Burton, E.R. Coffman, all of Farwell, and Vicky Lynn of Texico, who all had greater tiebreaker point spreads than the top two guessers.

Of those who guessed 10 accurately, the most missed games were Hart vs. Anton, Amherst vs. Springlake-Earth, and Memphis vs. Vega.

Those who called nine games correctly in the contest's first week, which is usually considered the most difficult to predict, were Johnny Curtis (last year's second place contest winner); William Dannheim, Sam Drager, Richard Engelking, Lee Nell Eubank, Peggy Goetsch, Gwen Hughes, Jack Kirkland, Sue Kirkland, David Lynn, and Donnie McDonald;

Also, Dorothy Quickel, Bill Roberts, W.M. Roberts, Mrs. W.M. Roberts, L.C. Riddam, J.T. Stantons, Beulah Williams and Don Williams.

There were many newcomer entrants in the contest's first week, and many who are old die hards who have entered the contest every year for many, many years.

Greeting contest entrants this week was a brand new contest box complete with its own mini-field made out of real (almost) astro-turf. The box was made by and donated to the Tribune by Doug Sobin of Clovis, who designed the box out of pine. The football field on top of the box is complete with white yard lines, a miniature gold football, goal posts and the words "Texico" and "Farwell" in the end zones.

For those who missed entering the first week of the contest, there are still 11 weeks left and the chances are still good at the shot for the two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys vs. Philadelphia Eagles game set for mid December in Dallas.

The game tickets, along with overnight lodging and $50 bucks in cash, will be awarded as a grand prize to the contest winner, that person being the one who tallies up the most

Computer Vs Class

Probably the most unique newcomer to the annual pigskin predicting game is the Texico high school computer. That's right, the computer. Math instructor Ronnie Warmuth at Texico High School has worked out a very "scientific" program for the computer, and in addition, his math classes are having their own contest with the computer, to see just who can out guess the other.

For their first try at it, the math class won this week, with six correct guesses. The computer fell behind not only the math class, but a whole bunch of other contest entrants, with only five perfect guesses. (Imagine this, the computer, being cold-hearted and unfeeling picked Carrizo over its own employer! It was wrong, too.)

This will be one aspect of the contest that the Tribune will follow carefully.

Other "group" entrants included the Texico varsity cheerleaders, who had four good guesses, and the Texico journalism II class, who topped in with six.

Who Will Win?

Members of Ronnie Warmuth's Texico High School math class have taken on the "challenge of the computer" and are trying to out-wit the "mechanical genius" by out-guessing it in the 23rd Annual Tribune Sponsored Merchant's Football Contest. In making up the program for the computer, instructor Warmuth takes into consideration such things as area sportscasters and sports writers predictions; Texico football boys' predictions, and past playing performance for the teams. The class, on the other hand, is not divulging their "know-how" strategy, and after one week in the contest, the human mathematicians are ahead of the computer by one game. Shown with the computer are Jeff Dunsworth, [seated] and standing, from left, Norma Moser, Janie Esparza and instructor Warmuth who said following this week's results, "I guess I'll have to change a few things, that's for sure!" This week the computer had five correct guesses compared to the math students' six perfect predictions.

Pep Rallies Announced

Twin Cities high school students and sports fans will again hit gymnasium floors and bleachers to cheer, holler and yell for their favorite football team.

At Texico, a Wolverine pep rally is set for Friday at 1:15 MDT in the school gym to boost the varsity football squad in anticipation of tonight's home game against Lubbock Christian High School. All Wolverine fans are invited to attend.

Steer fans will gather at Farwell at 3:30 CDT in the school gym to lend their support to the varsity gridiron team before they depart for Amherst where they will tackle the Bulldogs.

Texico gametime is 7:30 p.m. MDT at Wolverine Stadium. Farwell's game will kick off at 8 p.m. CDT at Amherst.

Helping Jerry's Kids

Twin Cities youngsters took part in the door-to-door campaign on Labor Day raising money for the nationally televised Jerry Lewis-Muscular Dystrophy telethon. Local kiddoes then took the money to the Farwell Jaycees

David, Jeremy and Corey raised over $100 in donations with their neighborhood collections, boosting the total Jaycee collected amount to $686. Nationally the telethon raised over 30 million dollars.

We have seen it all. Last Saturday morning the Lubbock Avalanche Journal banner headline proclaimed "Unwelcome Rains Move Across Area."

To term any rain on these parched baldies as "unwelcome" boggles the imagination. Yet, sad to say, there is an element of truth in that term at this time. We really need lots of sunshine and hot days in the weeks ahead to dry the corn and mature the cotton crop. The odds are greatly in favor of our returning to our normal hot and dry weather.

The Tribune football contest got off to its usual roaring start with many old time contestants reentering the lists and quite a few new names appearing on the entry blanks.

It is such things as this contest that drives home to us the realization of the constant change of our rather small community. As we sit here from day to day it appears as if time stands still. Yet as we compare yearly events with past years it is all too painfully apparent that truly "time marches on."

A news story last week carried the remarks of President Reagan as he spoke to the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners union. It quoted the President as saying in defense of his decision in firing the striking air controllers, "We cannot as citizens pick and choose the laws we will or will not obey."

In pursuit of the law the President fired the strikers.

In the same article a few paragraphs down the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Charles T. Manatt, drew thunderous applause when he declared, "This is the most anti-union, anti-labor administration in Washington since Calvin Coolidge was President more than 50 years ago."

We are glad that Mr. Manatt is the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee and not the President. If he were the President it sounds very much like enforcement of the law of the land would go out the political window.

We commend to Mr. Manatt the writings of one Judge Riley J. Simpson on the rule of law. We will quote to him and our readers only a small portion of this incisive article.

Says the judge: "Punishment or the fear of punishment is another important tool. If disregard and violation of the law is gone unpunished, then the law becomes but a nicety for the good to observe. But it loses its basic purpose: to protect people and their property.

If a man is insecure in his home or his property is unsafe from the unlawful who fear no punishment, then he is not a free man. He becomes a slave of fear. Or he may fight might with might, which takes us back to the lawless eras of our past. And the weaker become prey for the stronger.

"THE LAW THEN IS OUR PROTECTOR FROM DEPRIVITY OF OUR FELLOW HUMAN BEINGS. IT IS THE GIVER OF SECURITY AND THE HOPE OF PEACE IN OUR HOME."

Read the Judge's words over several times and reflect what they mean to the citizens of this country as opposed to say the current situation in Iran. Then re-read the words of Reagan and Manatt and choose whom you want to enforce the laws of the land.

Speaking of economics, the following quotation may be of interest:

"The budget should be balanced - the treasury should be reduced - the arrogance of officials should be tempered and controlled lest we become bankrupt - the people should be forced to work and not depend on government for subsistence."

If this sounds like an American economist or consumer advocate, it would be no surprise. But not so - It was written by the Roman Emperor, Cicero, who lived more than 2000 years ago.

Tribune Celebrates 70th Anniversary . . .

working for the Tribune as advertising salespeople. Eventually Joann began working in the bookkeeping department, and John continued to pound the pavement in search of Tribune advertisers.

About five years later, Hop got rid of the old press and linotype machines and started a new business in addition to his Tribune responsibilities called "Plains Publishers."

This publishing business was housed in Friona, and all Tribune composition and printing was done there, as well as that for other Panhandle newspapers.

Several years later the plant closed, and the Tribune's typesetting was done in Bovina, with the printing done in Hereford. Printing of the Tribune is still done in Hereford today, while all composition work takes place at the Farwell office.

In 1965, the Grahams moved to Lovington, N.M., and the Getzes leased the Tribune from them, becoming the co-publishers, and it was in 1968 that John and Joann purchased the paper.

It seems that every time the Tribune acquired a new publisher, it also acquired new equipment, and with the Getzes this was also true.

Four years after taking over the paper, John and Joann took a leap forward into the age of computerized typesetting, and purchased two new "hot-off-the-assembly-line" photo typesetter machines, one for body text and one for headlines.

The two new machines made the Tribune the first newspaper this side of Dallas to have computerized typesetting.

The May 12, 1972 issue of the Tribune was the first in which the new way of typesetting was used, and a page-one article promised readers that "with the computerized method comes an easier to read type-style in the body text of the paper, and a whole different look in advertisements."

The computers also opened up a new small business for the Tribune, that of setting text books and magazines. Publisher Getz said at the time, "This gives us the typesetting capabilities equal to any printing shop on the High Plains and we hope to expand the scope of our publishing business as a result of this retooling."

The new machines were so new to this area that they carry the serial number of 90.

The pride given to the Tribune by both the Grahams and current publishers, the Getzes, is evidenced by the many awards of excellence given to the paper during its years of publication.

Today the front office walls are filled with awards for column writing, news writing, general excellence, appearance, advertising and service to agriculture. In the back rooms, awards still hang dating back to the 40's and 50's.

While all the old Tribunes from 1911 to 1923 were destroyed in the 1923 town fire, copies of all other Tribunes dating from 1924 to 1939 were also destroyed by fire . . . but it wasn't the kind of fire to call the fire boys out for!

The way the story goes: Hop sent an office boy to the back of the plant with instructions to "burn all the trash and paper back there." You guessed it. The hard-working lad scooped up ALL the paper back there, and the only thing that remained of old Tribunes was black ashes.

It was from that point on that the Tribune was sent off each year to be bound in hard cover books. And those bound editions, dating back to 1940, are kept in a safe place at the Tribune.

The old issues are a real pleasure to review, their cracked and yellowed pages bringing an immediate smile, especially when reading old advertisements!

EVERYTHING was advertised in those days, including this one for Doan's Pills, which read "to help with modern life, with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking . . ."

(Remember, this is 1940 we're reading about!)

A real favorite of mine while looking through these old papers was "Wanted! Women 38-62 years old, who are restless, moody, nervous, fear hot flashes, dizzy spells, to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Famous in helping women go smiling through 'trying times' due to functional 'irregularities', try it!!"

Of course, the most fun to read are the food ads, which I decided to compare in 10 year increments.

The 1940 prices were: five bars of Crystal White soap, 19 cents. Ten pounds of potatoes, 19 cents. Three boxes Kellogg's corn flakes, with cream pitcher, 25 cents. Ten pounds of sugar, 53 cents. One pound White Swan coffee, 28 cents.

Prices for 1950 jumped a little to: large box of Tide, 30 cents. Two bars Camay soap, 15 cents. Ten pounds of potatoes, 44 cents. Ten pounds of sugar, $1. One pound of coffee, 74 cents.

In 1960, prices were up once more to one pound coffee, 69 cents. Ten pounds of sugar, 98 cents (the only one to drop), 29 cents and T-bone steak at 89 cents a pound.

Prices in 1970 were T-bone steak, $1.09. Potatoes, 10 pounds, 59 cents. Tide, $1.09 and pork chops, 49 cents.

And we all know what happened in 1980.

Today the Tribune continues to strive to excel in community journalism, bringing its readers week after week of Texico and Farwell news, including items of interest from surrounding communities as well.

A newspaper cannot survive on its own, it takes advertisers and subscribers to keep the paper "on the press," and we thank everyone who has supported us through the years. Without all of you, there wouldn't be a State Line Tribune.

Twin Cities Folk Set For Swim

A lot of people have been getting out their scuba diving gear and fins due to the excessive amount of rains that have continued to make their descent on the Twin Cities and surrounding area. And with fall bringing its usual nip in the air, those scuba diving folks can also be seen getting out their wet-suits for warmth. The weather of the past week has not been exactly what the doctor, or the ready-to-harvest farmer ordered, but if a current stationary weather system stays where it is now, Cannon AFB weather forecasters say that this weekend's weather promises fair skies with temperatures "warming up" to mid-80s.

For the week, Fred Chandler at Sherley-Anderson-Pitman grain elevator in Farwell reports that two inches were received here. Lonnie McFarland at Sherley-Anderson in Lariat says that area received a whopping 5.2 inches and says that West Camp reported six to eight inches.

Walter Curd in Texico recorded 1.9 inches for the week.

Happy Day, Mr. Gobble

Students at Farwell Elementary School got together and made their principal, David Gobble, a huge birthday cake out of birthday cards in celebration of his special day last week. Each student in the elementary school made a special card for the principal, and teacher Nelle Craig put them all together in the shape of a giant cake, complete with paper candles in the school's hallway. What better way to say "Happy Birthday, Mr. Gobble!"

Farwell School Board Has Meeting

The Farwell school board met Monday night conducting a regular business meeting. Members voted to grant permission to the gymnastic class sponsors to use the high school auditorium in February for a money-raising project. The gymnastic sponsors will have use of the auditorium at no charge.

Transfer of students to the Farwell ISD was approved, including Daniel, Virginia and Ruth Terragas from Bovina, and Michael, Isela, Jorge, Melva and Jaime Mendoza from Lazbuddie.

The school board policy handbook was approved as updated by the board, as well as the amended school budget.

The senior class was granted permission to use school facilities for a homecoming dance provided the occasion is properly supervised by adults. Enrollment was reported to the board as high school, 133; junior high, 108; and elementary school, 242.

Those attending were Wilbert Kalbas, Joe Hughes, Bill

Martin, Edward Corn, Caroline Anderson and Richard Hasehoff. School board member Billy Mayfield was absent. Also present were W.M. Roberts, James Craig, Don Malone and David Gobble.

Letter To The Editor

Mr. John Getz
Editor
State Line Tribune
Farwell, Texas, 79325

Dear Editor,
I am writing to you to make public my concern over the condition of the rural roads in Parmer County. In the past I have written to my County Commissioner, Mr. Archie Tarter. In my letter to Mr. Tarter, I also enclosed a picture of the road in front of my parents' home (which I doubt he has seen since election day). I was totally ignored. Worse than not responding to my letter is the fact that the condition of our roads continues to deteriorate. After the rainy spells we have experienced recently, the road graders have just made a quick pass over the roads, not even filling in all of the washed-out holes in the roads, piling up barriers of dirt along the sides of the road, with no attempt to build up the roads or clean out the bar-ditches, which are clogged with a year's growth of weeds or more. Eventually, we will have a canal instead of a road, unless maintenance is drastically improved.

There are three major reasons why this situation should be corrected at once: (1) Public safety is threatened. Blind corners are created by the overgrown ditches, and they will be increasingly dangerous as traffic increases with farmers bringing their crops in from the fields. If someone needed to go to the hospital during or after a rain, their chances of getting there are slim. (2) The condition of the roads causes excessive and needless wear and tear on vehicles. (3) A well kept system of roads with bar-ditches to carry run-off water requires much less work after a rain than a road that has to carry all of the water.

One final note: being elected county commissioner means more than getting a salary - it means having responsibility. It is time to live up to that responsibility.

Sincerely,
John Gulley

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Ennen of Las Cruces, formerly of Farwell, and Mrs. Rosa V. Cook and the late Ralph G. Cook of Stone Mountain, Ga.

Rev. Royce Denton of Silverton, Tex., uncle of the bride, presided at the ceremony.

Focal point of the wedding setting was an arch covered with greenery and peach bows and centered with a white wedding bell at the top. Baskets of greenery and seven-branched candelabra flanked the arch. Peach colored bows marked the family pews.

Tex., provided traditional selections at the organ and accompanied Janet Moore of Las Cruces who sang "Two Trusting Jesus" and "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

Pleasant Hill Service Unites Beth Kelley, Robert Thornton

Beth Kelley and Robert Thornton were united in marriage in a candlelight double-ring ceremony on Saturday, Aug. 1, at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Kelley of Texico, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thornton, also of Texico.

Bro. Bob Reid led the couple in the exchange of vows. The altar setting was centered with a spiral candelabra holding blue tapers, with an altar arrangement of white gladioli and blue carnations. On each side was a nine-branch candelabra holding blue tapers. Palms were interspersed throughout the decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a bridal gown of dacron polyester organza designed with a full skirt with an attached chapel train that was trimmed with Venise lace and motiss. The long, sheer sleeves were trimmed with a row of Venise lace and motiss. Venise motiss also enhanced the bodice of the gown. The chapel length veil of bridal illusion edged with lace fell from a small band of lace. Atop a white Bible, the bride carried a cascade of white roses and blue baby carnations accented by baby's breath and white ribbon.

In keeping with bridal tradition, something old was a linen handkerchief that belonged to her great-grandmother; her veil was new; something borrowed was her wedding dress belonging to her sister; and something blue was the traditional blue garter that had been made for her by Nita Chandler.

Serving their sister as maid of honor and matron of honor were Diane Kelley of Lubbock, and Elaine Cain of Texico. Other bridal attendants were Roxanne Mayfield of Muleshoe and Lori Harrington of Texico. The attendants wore long dresses of light blue polyester overlaid with light blue floral sheer. The dresses were sleeveless with low-round necklines and gathered skirts with self ruffles at the neckline and hemline accented with light blue ribbon sashes at the waist. They carried long stemmed blue carnations with baby's breath and white satin ribbons.

Flower girl was Misty Barnes of Texico. She was attired in a light blue polyester dress overlaid with a solid light blue organza. Her dress had short puffed sleeves with a low-round neckline with self ruffles at the neckline and hemline accented with a light blue ribbon sash at the waist. She carried a lace basket of blue and white pixie carnations.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo and wore a white rose boutonniere.

Craig Chambers of Portales, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Mike Smith and Quinn Alexander of Portales, and Ron Kirby of Texico. They wore identical blue tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

Candlelighters were Kayla Thornton, sister of the bridegroom, and Martin Singleterry, friend of the bride, both of Texico. Martin wore a blue tuxedo and Kayla wore a long blue dress identical to that of the flower girl.

Ringbearer was Lance Teague, cousin of the bride from Bovina. He was dressed in a blue tuxedo and carried a white lace pillow.

Serving as ushers were Dwayne Kelley of Odessa, brother of the bride, and Doug Thornton of Texico, brother of the bridegroom. They wore blue tuxedos with white boutonnieres.

As the bride entered, she presented her mother with a long stemmed red rose and as she was leaving, she presented her new mother-in-law with a long stemmed red rose.

The bride's mother selected a floor length dress of blue polyester knit with lace bodice and matching lace jacket. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother chose a floor length dress of lilac polyester knit with pleated skirt and chiffon sleeves. She also wore a corsage of white carnations.

Wedding music was provided by pianist, Mike Teague of Bovina, cousin of the bride, and organist, Julia Ann Moody of Bovina, also a cousin of the bride. "I Honestly Love You" was sung by Lori Kelley, Odessa, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Kelley and Randy Cain, Texico, brother-in-law of the bride, sang "The Wedding Song" together. Following the ceremony, Randy Cain sang "We've Only Just Begun" as the bride and bridegroom lit the unity candle.

Serving at the registration table was Jana McGough of Albuquerque, cousin of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The table was covered with white lace over light blue. The bride's cake was a three-tiered white cake supported by Grecian pillars. Below the pillars was a lighted fountain. Six small heart-shaped cakes with doves on top surrounded the base of the fountain along with pixie carnations and greenery. The cake was decorated with an eyelet design and fresh flowers. On top, the bride and bridegroom were encircled by two clear swans with a white satin bow and fresh pixie blue carnations. Blue sherbet punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Serving at the bride's table were Christi Allen, Teresa Turner, Leslie Elliott, and Pam Southard.

The bridegroom's table, draped to match the bride's, was enhanced by a silver service and complemented by a large hexagon-shaped chocolate cake with the bride and bridegroom's names inscribed on top. Serving at the bridegroom's table were Lisa Reid and April Coffman.

Assisting with hostess duties at the reception were Dona Teague, Kay Singleterry, Wilma Barnes, Nancy Barnes, Fern Sanders, Lola Richardson, and Kay Kelley.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents the evening preceding the wedding.

The couple was honored with a shower on June 27 in the home of Mrs. Carlene McLain. On July 14, a bridal shower was given at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church. And on July 17, they were honored with a shower from the Prince Street Baptist Church.

Following a wedding trip to various places in New Mexico and Texas, the couple is at home at 2028 S. Avenue I in Portales. They are both 1980 graduates of Texico High School and are currently attending Eastern New Mexico University. The bride is employed at the ENMU Computer Center and the bridegroom is employed by Jack Whitfield Construction in Clovis.

father and given in marriage by her family and parents, the bride wore a formal length gown of ivory English net with an empire bodice and long sleeves. The skirt front was adorned with alencon lace. Her chapel-length train and veil of silk illusion complemented the gown.

The bride carried a silk cascade of ivory roses and rosebuds, and aqua carnations which was accented with baby's breath, lily of the valley, and ivory lace streamers.

For something old the bride wore the pearl earrings her mother wore on her wedding day; something new was her veil; something borrowed was her wedding dress belonging to De De Williams of Longmont, CO. The bridegroom was attired in an ivory tuxedo with tails. He wore an ivory shirt with an ivory silk ascot tie. His boutonniere of an ivory silk rose completed his attire.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents for the wedding party and immediate family members at a Clovis restaurant the evening preceding the wedding. Decorations and accessories for the tables were provided by the bridegroom's mother.

The bride's parents hosted a barbecue for relatives and close friends of the couple after the wedding.

Courtesies given to the couple preceding the nuptials included a miscellaneous shower given by college friends of the bride in Portales, and a miscellaneous shower at the Methodist Church in Farwell given by friends of the bride's family. A miscellaneous shower was held in the home of Anita Harvey and hosted by the friends of the bridegroom's family in Artesia and a pounding was given by the bridegroom's friends in Artesia at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Green.

Punch, mints, and nuts were served from crystal appointments.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth with an aquamarine underlay. The chocolate cake was decorated as a softball glove and ball. Hors d'oeuvres, fudge, and coffee were served from silver appointments. Mrs. Meadors of Clovis made both cakes.

Servers were Christi Allen, Pam Cardwell, Tonye Harrington, Cindy Rogers, and Teresa Turner, college friends of the bride. Hostesses for the reception were Jerri Campbell, Jane Harrington, and Janice Turner.

THE NEW ENERGY FRONTIER: Coal, America's new energy frontier. Black Thunder Coal Mine near Gillette, Wyoming, sits on part of 50 billion tons. Tapping this huge new reserve of raw energy is a job that takes a combination of resources and pioneering spirit. The kind that fuels booms of opportunity. And we're here helping.

Last year, 3 million tons of this coal was used as fuel to make electricity at Southwestern Public Service power plants. Coal is being used more now because other fuels cost too much.

In Wyoming alone, there's enough coal that some areas of Black Thunder won't be mined until the year 2013. That's a lot of electricity. Coal. It's good to know there are some things you can depend on.

Texico Has Sweet Victory Over Carrizozo

Victory was extra sweet for the Texico Wolverines last week, as the varsity squad proved that when you do it right, you just can't fail.

Their 22-6 win over Carrizozo opened the football season for the Green and White and their coach David Lynn is extremely proud. "It was sweet. I feel real good about it," he said, pointing out that the Grizzlies never scored on the Texico defense, but only when the Wolverine offense fumbled the ball, the only fumble of the game, and lost the pigskin to the Carrizozo team.

"They just picked it up and took it from 40 yards out to the goal," but, he says with glee, "We kept them from scoring the two-point conversion in what I'd say was probably one of the big plays of the game. Jerry Wimberly and Kent Harding just went in and stopped it, keeping the tally at 6-6. That was an important play," the coach said. The Carrizozo score did not come until the 4th quarter.

The two teams kept each other from scoring during the first half, but Lynn points out that part of that was Texico's own fault. "We were inside the 15 twice. Moving the ball was not the problem. We would drive to the 8 and then someone would jump offside and set us back. But we had a big talk at halftime and changed all that," he said.

Texico scored early in the third quarter for their first 6 points with a 1 yard run by Todd Gerles. The team tried to run for the two-point conversion but failed. But mighty Texico broke loose in the 4th quarter, grabbing 16 big points to take the game.

"We had the ball the entire second half. Carrizozo ran only 17 plays from scrimmage," recalled the coach.

Following the one Carrizozo score and kickoff to Texico, the Green and White took the pigskin and drove it down to the goal where Earl Bibbs ran 5 yards to obtain the second TD. Then with three minutes left in the game, Willie Bibbs took the ball 27 yards and punched it in for the 3rd Texico touchdown. Both two-point PAT's in the 4th quarter were good, run in by Gerles and the score stood 22-6.

The twosome of Kent Harding and Jerry Wimberly proved invaluable for Texico as Harding connected with three of the nine Wimberlythrown passes adding another 26 yards to the Texico stats.

In the turf grabbing department, Earl Bibbs took the ball 37 times for 256 yards. Todd Gerles carried 12 times for 44 yards and Willie Bibbs garnered 39 yards in four carries.

Receiving the weekly Big Lick Award for their part in the season gridiron opener are defensive players James Robinson and Lynn Tubbs and offensive players Todd Gerles, Earl Bibbs and Kent Harding.

Tonight the team will host Lubbock Christian High School at Wolverine Stadium. Texico lost to the Lubbock team in the final minute of the game last year by a score of 8-7.

"Their personnel is basically the same," coach Lynn said. "But they have a real fast sprinter, Doug Condor, who is their all purpose man." Lynn cited a "pretty good sized offensive line with some quickness" as Lubbock's strong point, saying the squad runs a wing-T offense and a split-6 defense.

Lynn also pointed out that the Lubbock squad lost their opener last week to Nazareth, 17-0.

Texico Lady Spikers Take 1st Dist. Win

The Lady Wolverines began their 1981 volleyball season with two victories and one loss last Thursday against the Lady Coyotes in Dora.

The varsity squad, in the season's first district game, "did not play as well as I think we can," according to coach Mike Littlejohn, but managed to take two consecutive games in the match for the important district win.

The first game was won by the Green and White 15-6 and the girls then stopped a Coyote rally in the second game to win with a score of 15-12.

Littlejohn cites serving as his team's strong point during the match, but says, "We didn't have enough set and spike like we wanted."

Players Tracy Dobbs, Ruth Scott and Jill Jesko were given praise by their coach for their outstanding serving ability during the match.

Dobbs had 12 out of 14 serves, nine of them aces. Scott rallied with 12 out of 14 also, six of them aces. And Jesko had eight out of nine serves, three being aces.

Opening the season with a district game was not exactly what the coach ordered. "I was not thrilled to open a district game, but now that it's over I feel real good that we have one out of the way."

The junior varsity team "lacked experience" said Littlejohn, explaining why the girls were turned away two out of three games in their match. After dropping their first game 6-15, the Texico girls made a comeback in the second game to win 15-8. However, they could not stop from being overpowered in the third game, and lost 7-15, losing the match.

"The girls lack team cohesion," said their coach who added that they still need to work together as a team a little while longer to gain their experience.

A Bit Of Advice

Before departing for Carrizozo, Wally Wolverine took head football coach David Lynn aside after the Texico pep rally and gave him a bit of advice on how to handle Grizzlies. The "Wolverine-to-coach" information must have worked because the Texico gridiron squad brought home a victory last Friday night, defeating the Carrizozo Grizzlies 22-6. Tonight the Green and White will take on Lubbock Christian at the Texico stadium, and naturally Wally Wolverine will be there to give advice when needed!

Cowboys Overpower Steers In Season's First

A group of Cowboys moseyed on in to Farwell last Friday, rustled up some Steers and placed a brand right between the eyes of each and every one of them that read "30-0."

"They (Plains) wanted to win the game," explains Steer head coach Bruce Dollar about Farwell's loss to the Cowboys. "They had a lot more poise at game's end than we did. And some of our people were not doing what they were supposed to do," the coach added grimly.

The Blue and White played a respectable first half of football, but following halftime the line turned into a sieve and the cowboys ran through every hole they could time and time again.

It was a game riddled with penalties for both sides, (135 yards for Plains, 105 for Farwell), fumbled balls, pass interceptions and sloppiness on both sides. But Plains pulled together in the second half, and Farwell did not.

While Dollar says he "can't explain" what caused the 30-0 defeat, the coach did have high praise for players Brent Green, Richard Armstrong and Claud Gobble.

It was Green who had two pass interceptions and completed one pass himself. Another bright spot was Armstrong who Dollar says, "Played as hard as he could play the entire game, both on offense and defense." And about Gobble the coach said, "He blocked real well. He did his job."

Quarterback Alan Eubank "got knocked down a lot, but held his poise real well," according to Dollar. Eubank also had a good night in stopping the Plains ball.

Farwell ran the opening kickoff to the 24-yard line, and on their first two plays the Blue and White moved the ball 8 yards before finally gaining a first down.

While Farwell had great difficulty in moving the ball and gaining precious turf, the team had great luck in recovering Cowboy fumbles. "But we never took advantage of anything we got," recalls Dollar, adding, "We let several opportunities slip by."

Opportunity first came knocking following the Steers' first punt after failing to gain required yardage. Plains fumbled the punt, and Farwell player Jimmy Bernal recovered it, putting the Farwell squad on the Cowboy 38, and sending the fans to their feet.

But four plays later, Farwell once again brought out the punting team. Plains again had "fumble fingers" when receiving, but managed to recover the ball, and in their next series of plays gained one first down after another.

Number 21 kept popping up a lot in moving the Plains ball. It was Martin Huerta who was the big yard gainer and ball mover for the Cowboy team, and it was a number the Steers should have learned to watch out for.

But they did not, and Huerta not only gained several yards and first downs for his squad, but he also managed to cross the goal line a total of three times. All three of the Huerta TD's were called back due to penalties, but that didn't stop the mighty Number 21, and he kept moving the pigskin for the remainder of the game.

In fact, Plains was able to move the ball each time they had possession. Farwell did keep the powerful opposition from scoring the entire first quarter, but the Blue and White defense deteriorated with the passing of the clock.

The first Plains TD came only four minutes into the second quarter.

Following this, Farwell made a feeble attempt at moving the ball towards six points. But, for every yard gained, they lost one to penalties, and eventually were forced to punt again.

Once again the fans' hopes were sent soaring as on a second down and ten play, David Daniel recovered a Cowboy fumble, putting the Steers on the Plains 46. But it was to be the same song, second verse; incomplete passes, penalties, and an intercepted pass, that gave the ball back to Plains.

However, this happened when Farwell was still on its toes, and Brent Green was quick to intercept the first ball thrown by Plains, giving the Blue and White one more chance.

The ball was handed back and fourth in this way for several plays with each team giving up the ball to fumbles, interceptions or punts before the halftime buzzer sounded.

And Farwell departed the field still able to hold their heads up because the score was a respectable 7-0.

But soon into the third quarter Plains took their second TD, running for the two point conversion, making the score 15-zip.

Green's second interception of the night came a series of turnovers later when he retrieved a Plains pass on a second and 21 play. But his efforts were quickly shattered as Farwell fumbled the ball on the first play and Plains was once again in control.

At the end of the third quarter, the score was 15-0, and the Steers could still have a bit of self respect. But in the fourth quarter the team allowed 15 more points to be scored against them.

The next Plains touchdown came with 6:52 left in the game. Their PAT kick was ruled no good, but Farwell was penalized five yards for off-sides and the Cowboys took their second chance at PAT and ran for two points, sending their side of the score board into the 20's. Farwell was now losing 23-0.

A clipping penalty kept the Plains goal-crossing from counting, and Raymond Sierra took the next opportunity to intercept a Plains pass. But Farwell just could not manage to get that pigskin to move, being penalized 15 yards for an illegal receiver, then having an incomplete pass and eventually giving up the ball on a punt.

Plains was next up and took the ball right across the goal in five plays, sending the score to 29-0, kicking the PAT and with 2:57 seconds left in the game, putting the final tally at 30-0.

Tonight (Friday) the Steers travel to Amherst to take on the Bulldogs, a team that caused quite an upset last week when they beat defending District 3-AA champions Springlake-Earth. "They are a very good team. Very fast," comments Dollar. "Farwell beat them 49-0 last year and I'm sure Amherst remembers that real well."

But Dollar is hoping that his squad is over the "first game jitters," and will recover from their devastating loss to Plains enough to play well against Amherst. Does the coach have any special game plan in mind? "Yeah. To win."

Farwell JV Defeats LCHS JV In Opener

The varsity Steers may have started off their season badly, but their little brothers on the junior varsity squad opened up their gridiron year with a 28-6 victory over Lubbock Christian High School JV last Thursday in a game played on Steer turf.

"The boys played well. They really got after it," said their coach, Vester Joiner.

Roger Robertson scored the Blue and White's first TD with a 15-yard run in the first quarter. Paul Fulcher ran for the two-point conversion and the score went to 8-0 real early.

The Steers were held scoreless in the second quarter, but following a halftime pep talk, Fulcher ran five yards for another TD. The extra point

Lazbuddie Longhorns Tripped Up By Sudan

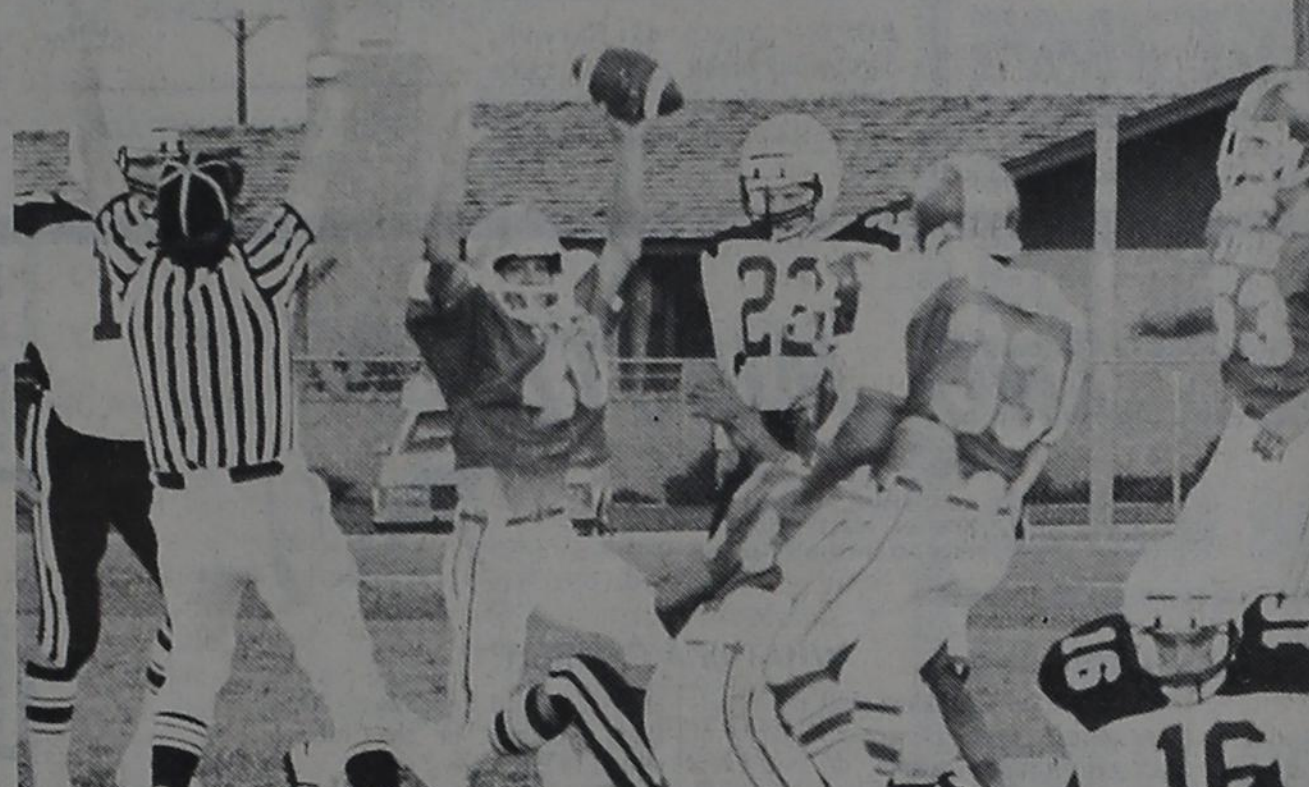

Lazbuddie Longhorns traveled to Sudan last Friday night for their first gridiron clash of the new season, but according to coach Terry Campbell, "Sudan had a real good option game, and we did not cover their option," and consequently the Longhorns lost their opening bid 14-0.

"Except for two plays by Sudan, we played very well," the coach said. "It's always a disappointment to lose a game, but the kids' attitude is still healthy. And we learned a lot."

Mark Lust, Ricky Dale and Jimmy Garcia for playing well during the season opener.

Tonight the Longhorns will travel to Anton for a game at 8 p.m.

We Got It!

Steer Jimmy Bernal shows his excitement at recovering a Plains fumble by raising the pigskin high into the air. The referee seems a bit confused and is either raising his hands in dismay, calling for a time-out, or thinks a touchdown has just been made. The fumble occurred after Farwell punted to Plains, and quick on his feet, Bernal was the first on the scene to grab back the ball for the Blue and White. Farwell lost the season opener to Plains 30-0 in front of a home crowd. Tonight the local team travels to Amherst to take on the Bulldogs, a team that beat defending district champions Springlake-Earth last week.

Nobody makes them tougher. Valley gearboxes.

That's why thousands are used on center pivots other than ours.

When gearboxes on other make center pivots wear out, they turn to Valley* for replacements by the thousands. Here's why:

- Withstands 60,000 in.-lbs. of torque.
- Low gear ratio moves the system with less strain.
- Built-in expansion chamber keeps out condensation. Not an add-on so it can't be knocked off.
- Special gear tooth design spreads the load, reducing friction.
- Big, tough bearings and double-lip seals.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. BEREAH BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60633

WHAT IS A CHURCH?

Do you know that most people, even the great majority of religious people, do not even know what a church is? Ask the average man on the street what a church is and he will probably reply: "A church? Well, anybody knows that! A church is a building where people go to worship!" But this is not correct.

The word translated 'church' in our Bibles simply means assembly, so a church is not a building, but the assembly of people who meet in the building. And a church is not necessarily a gathering of worshippers. The riotous mob that had gathered at Ephesus in Paul's day is called a "church" (Gr. ekklesia) in Acts 19:32, and this passage states that this assembly, or church, was "confused, and most of them did not know where they were come together." So a church is simply an assembly, not a building.

The church of which the Bible has most to say is "the Church of God, which He hath purchased with His own blood" (Acts 20:28). St. Paul calls this church, again and again, "the Body of Christ," or "the Church which is His Body."

We do not join this Church by water baptism or any other religious rite; we join it by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Referring to believers in Christ, Paul declares: "By one Spirit are we all baptized into one Body" (I Cor. 12:13), and in Rom. 12:5 he says "Ye being many are one Body in Christ."

Many sincere people have had their names on the rolls of religious organizations for years before learning this great truth, that the true Church, the Church of God, the Body of Christ, is not a building, but the company of those who have come to trust Christ as their Savior.

We sincerely hope the reader belongs to this one true Bible Church—and also attends a local church, an assembly of believers in Christ who love and study the Word of God, so as to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (II Peter 3:18).

RAs Learn Aeronautics And The Plane Facts

by Mark Ryburn

Faster than a speeding tortoise
More powerful than an RA
Able to soar over small pebbles with a single sputter.

Look! Up in the sky!
Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No
it's...
Plane Jane???

What Edsel Ford did for automotive design, the First Baptist Church of Farwell Pioneer RAs have done for radio-controlled model aeronautics.

With the help of master mechanic and model airplane construction specialist Joe Stanton, the RAs painstakingly assembled a radio controlled (RC) model airplane, named Plane Jane.

The objective: to send an RC airplane into the air and return it safely to earth.

The outcome: The RAs sent the RC aircraft into the air and it returned. You will notice the outcome did not state that the plane returned safely.

A minor construction flaw caused the landing gear to fall off on the landing. Luckily, no one was injured and the damage was limited to ripping the polyurethane covering on the fuselage and breaking the propeller in half.

Due to the overwhelming success with Plane Jane, the RAs are considering building a real airplane. Applications for test pilot are now being accepted.

RAs And Plane Jane

mechanic. The boys flew their flying creation, dubbed "Plane Jane" in Clovis recently and discovered, among other things, the law of gravity.

Officers Elected To FBC Brotherhood

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church in Farwell held a breakfast Tuesday morning at the church, with chef Bill Adams treating the member's tastebuds to eggs, ham, melonballs, sour dough rolls, coffee and juice.

Election of officers took place and according to one member who attended, "it was a hard fought campaign. Eeking out narrow victories were Ronald Byrd, president; Ralph Franse, vice-president; and Mark Williams, secretary-treasurer."

The member also reports that "Mark Ryburn was electd RA director by acclamation. All the winners were ecstatic except Ryburn. He was muttering some jibberish about 'another year with the RAs' and 'railroaded', as they led him from the breakfast in his straitjacket."

The Brotherhood conducts a breakfast the first Monday after the first Sunday of each month. All men and boys are encouraged to attend.

FIRE CALLS

Texico volunteer fire department reported receiving no emergency calls this week, but the Farwell volunteer firemen were kept busy with nine emergency calls.

The Farwell truck was sent to 200 First Street on September 4 at 2:30 p.m.

Also on September 4, the ambulance was dispatched to 200 Third Street at 3:21 p.m.

On September 5 the firemen were sent to one mile east of Clay's Corner to Bill Hunt's corn dryer at 9:30 a.m.

On September 6 the ambulance was sent to the First Baptist Church in Farwell at 8:07 p.m.

The ambulance was dispatched to 602 6th Street on September 7 at 5:16 p.m.
