Pictures To Be Made At Tribune Office May 11

The State Line Tribune is asking area residents to cooperate in a picture-taking project next week. The Tribune seeks to obtain as many pictures of local persons as possible. These pictures will be placed in the newspaper file and used whenever possible in connection with news stories.

A professional photographer, Winston Lucas of Irving, has been engaged to make the sittings. He is well known in the Southwest for his portrait work.

The picture taking will be divided into two groups. Pictures of youngsters will be made from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. As a special incentive to encourage participation, The Tribune is awarding a $20 prize to the three youngsters judged the best in the contest.

All kiddo pictures will be published in the newspaper shortly after the contest is over.

The second division is for adults. Pictures will be made from 3 until 7 the same day.

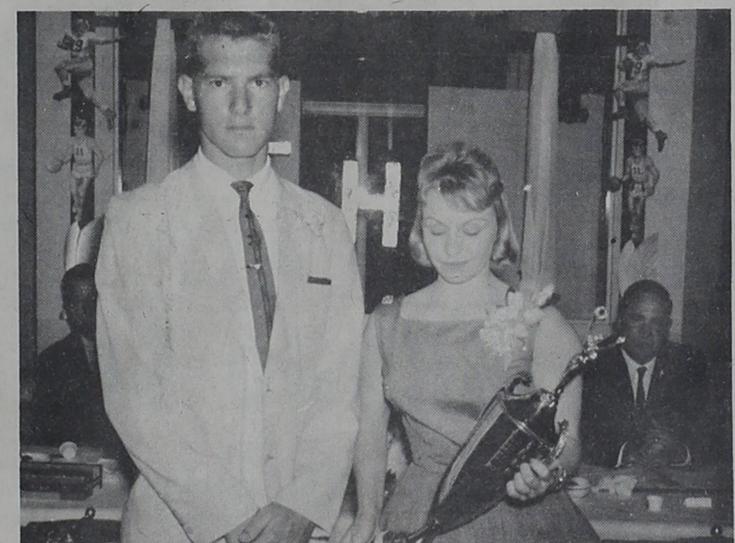

There will be no charge to any person who has his picture made. Prints of the sittings will be shown by Lucas, and if extra prints are desired, then these may be ordered by the individual. However, no obligation to make any purchase is involved in the sittings.

The photographs will be made in the office of The Tribune.

Coach Dempsey Alexander presents the outstanding football player award to the outstanding football player, Benjy Dial.

The American impression of an incorrigible liar is a sleazy fellow who sneaks furtive glances from the corners of his eyes. He won't look at you when he talks.

Well, this may be true. At least it appears to be in the modern-day version of the American melodrama, the TV western. You can spot the villain when he delivers his first line.

But I'm not convinced this is an accurate slice of life. At least not for me it isn't. I have decided, after some attempts at it myself, that it takes a good bit of courage to tell a good, respectable falsehood.

The spineless, slinking bum that is our mental prototype couldn't deliver a bang-up lie worth taking note of. He just wouldn't have what it takes.

I found out at a very early age that there is more to this lying stuff than just making it up and spitting it out to suit the occasion. It takes some real plotting to tell a lie that will do you any good, and this is where the hard work comes in.

I think the hardest thing to get over when you are trying to get to be a respectable liar is getting caught up with. This is really tough on the beginner. Every youngster can testify to this.

Mama always told me that if I told stories I would get bumps on my tongue. I got bumps on my tongue from eating too many tomatoes, too, and decided this wasn't an unbearable thorn in the flesh, but the bumps that bothered me were the ones Hop placed on my bottom with a few well-aimed licks with a brass line gauge. This sort of thing nips young liars in the bud pretty quick.

Today it's fashionable to lie about a lot of things, of course. The income tax is probably the most common meeting ground for liars in this country.

Now you can sort of see some point to lying about your income tax. Saving money and all that. But the thing I can't figure out is why everybody wants to lie about things that don't seem important anyway.

The first thing you'll think of along this line is the well-known tendency of anglers to fabricate fabulous tales of their catches; or their almost-caughts.

But do you know anybody who ever told you the truth about their car's gas mileage? This used to be a pretty good game, but since the compacts have hit the road, it's the national habit. The compacts all make 30 miles to the gallon (or better), and you can't find a full-size car that comes below 20 to save your life.

I believe white lies are okay. At least some of them ought to be. Life would be pretty thorny if we never told any white lies. For example:

"How do I look in my new hat, Dear?" "Wonderful. Just Wonderful." (You look like a witch.)

"Do you mind if I bring a friend?" "Of course not. Was about to suggest it myself." (Ye gods, not old Yattity-Yattity all evening again.)

"Congratulations. You played a really swell game." (Blast you, I'll get even the next time you're opposite me.)

"Don't bother to cook, Honey. Let's go out tonight." (If we have leftovers one more time so help me I'll leave her.)

And things like that.

I guess I haven't the stuff that really successful liars are made of. I don't get any credit for this, because I HAVE tried. When I am all wound up to tell a good one I feel as if my cranium were made of clear plastic and the object of my intended prevarication can look right inside and see what's fixing to come out.

This makes me clammy-handed, full of stutters, and liable to commit revealing errors outside the chosen plan. That's the tough part, like I said. The plan. If you don't stick to it you'll trip yourself up. And my memory has never been good enough for me to remember the details from one story to another. Invariably I spill the beans.

I believe it's a better policy to take the coward's way out. Honesty, I mean. Cross my heart.

The annual event will be held at the vacant lots across the highway from Farwell Fertilizer Co., at the east edge of Farwell.

King Speaks At Athletic Banquet

J.T. King, head football coach at Texas Tech, was the featured speaker at the annual athletic banquet held Saturday night at the school cafeteria.

Loyalty, discipline, respect and desire are the most important items it takes to make an athlete, Coach King told the audience, "you cannot buy loyalty, and being a member of the team will call for sacrifices. You must be loyal to your school to make the sacrifices.

"Discipline comes high on the list for a good athlete. When a player shows up late or skips a class he is disciplined. No one can make you do anything you do not want to do. An athlete learns self-discipline. He must learn to be a good winner as well as a good loser," the coach continued.

A good athlete learns respect, not only for the coaches and teachers but for his teammates and competitors. Last but not least the Tech coach pointed out that, "Desire is a necessity for a player. If a player has desire, he will be in the upper half of his class, because there are no grades given to players as there were in the past," he concluded.

Following the speech by the Lubbock coach, awards were presented to the outstanding athletes in the Farwell school system. Basketball Coach Calvin Murray presented the outstanding basketball player award to Tommy Williams. Williams also received the principal's award for the athlete having the highest scholastic average, presented to him by Coach Dempsey Alexander.

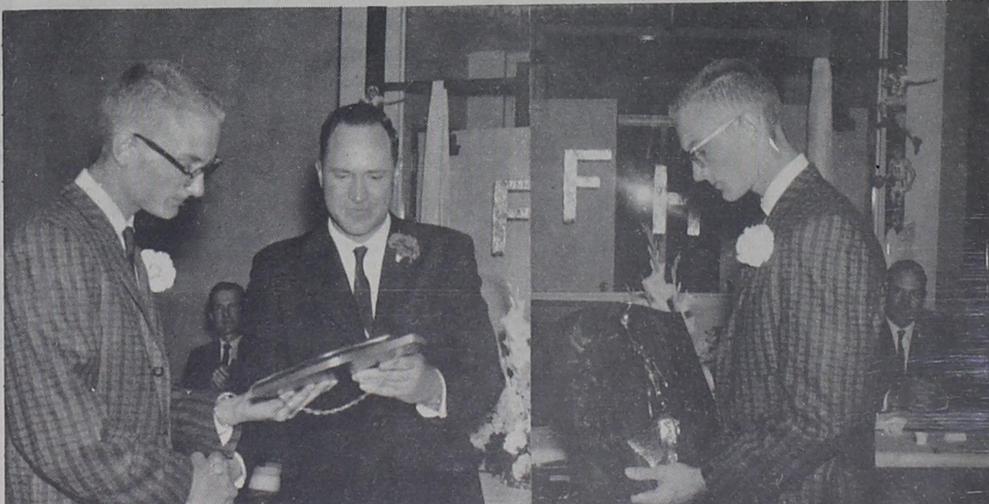

Jean Reed was named outstanding girl basketball player and was presented an award for that honor by Coach R.B. Tucker.

Benjy Dial was named the outstanding football player for the year, receiving the award from Coach Alexander. The coach also presented the "hardest blocker and tackler" award to Jerry Lovelace and Floyd Trantham who tied for the honor. Other dual honors went to Dial and Emalee Tucker. They

Life Is Worth Your Living

By Robert O. Tomlinson

Our God is sufficient for living these days, or any day. For God is physical power, we are sheltered by forces which no man has measured. All power comes from God. God is intellectual power. The thinker has to follow along lines God has already thought out. God knows everything there is to be known about ether waves, He sets them in motion, not one operates independently of Him. The problems of life are no more difficult for Him. God is moral power. Moral forces are the most powerful of all with which man has to deal. God knows the power and weakness of evil and the strength of right. He always throws His weight on the side of the right. We can depend upon Him to do right. But God is our personal helper as a Father that loves each and everyone. How can a parent of a large number of children give love and care to each one individually? Love finds a way. So love finds the way for God to help each. Great ideas come, or great inspiration floods the soul, or unusual strength or courage comes at a time of need; all this is God our helper. The same God who strung the stars in the sky is also bending over each of us and endeavoring to help us. As we trust Him, give ourselves over to Him, we find that life is worth living.

School Bands Plan Concert

The Farwell High School and junior bands will present their joint spring concert Friday, May 5, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Those who attend the concert will hear a wide variety of music from the two organizations and from the high school stage band.

The high school band will present two overtures from their recent Interscholastic League competition, marches, popular selections, Latin American music and a trombone trio accompanied by the band. Sylvia Smith, Jimmy Terrell and Tony Gregory will star in the trombone trio.

The junior group composed of members of the fifth and six grades will present "Playground Scene," "Emperor Waltz," "Cowboy Suite," and "Valse Bluette."

The stage band will perform three selections in modern style. Tickets are now on sale by band members or can be purchased at the door.

Two Convicted Of Car Theft

Raymond Henderson and Bobby Geffington, two 20-year-old youths from Lamb County, were convicted in district court last week for car theft and sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary.

The theft occurred a couple of years ago and the two men had previously been indicted by the grand jury.

They were never tried in Parmer County because they were convicted of another felony in Lamb County and placed on probation.

The pair was arrested and brought to Farwell to face charges after they failed to comply with some of their probationary requirements.

Both Henderson and Geffington were taken to Huntsville to begin serving their terms last week after they plead guilty to the charge and were sentenced by District Judge E. A. Bills.

Last-Minute Change Makes Feed Bill More Attractive

SIGNING UP for the new feed grains program at the ASC office Tuesday morning was George Douglas, who farms near Boyina. Filling out the papers is Mrs. Jo Schell. Farmers started signing up for the program Monday morning. Deadline for signing up is May 31.

Parmer County grain sorghum producers this week were given a new incentive to sign up for the one-year emergency feed grains program with a last-minute directive from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A new order, released only Sunday, permits grain sorghum and corn growers not satisfied with their average yield index, to produce production records on the last two year's crops and have the index elevated to a "more realistic figure."

This zero hour change in the new feed grains program came as a welcome surprise to most of the farmers, and according to Prentice Mills, Parmer County ASC office manager, will probably result in almost 100 per cent participation in the new program.

Under this new measure, the 4,267 pound county productivity index which had been established by the Agricultural Marketing Service, will have little bearing on the amount of grain a farmer will be able to sell at the government price support.

The change will also increase the payments a farmer will receive for laying out either 20 per cent or 40 per cent of his established acreage, since payments are based on the yield index.

As an example, here's the way the last-minute change in the program will work:

Say that a farmer's average yield index on grain sorghum had been established by the county ASC committee at the 4,267 pound county average. If the farmer can produce production records, (i. e. elevator receipts) showing that his average yield was 4,600 pounds (or higher), his index will be raised accordingly.

"We will no longer be held to the 4,267 pound figure as a county average," Mills explains. "Quite likely the county average yield will be more like 4600 or 4700 pounds," he adds.

There was no reason given for the change in the program, but Mills indicated that it was probably due to widespread dissatisfaction with the averages established.

Even though the 4,267 pound average for Parmer County was the highest on the High Plains, most farmers here felt that the average was much too low. The same was probably true all over the country.

In order to qualify for this change in the individual farm index, farmers must report to the ASC office in Farwell with their production records no later than May 14, Mills says. However, deadline for signing up for the program will still be May 31.

Farmers started signing up for the program Monday, but due to the last-minute change there were only 21 contracts signed on the first day. Reason for this small number was due largely to the fact that most of the farmers who went to the ASC office to sign up returned home for their production records after being informed of the new measure.

Mills says that the new measure will probably affect about 40 per cent of the farmers in the county.

Training Course Conducted

A special leader training "Selection, Use, and Care of Electric Skillet" was conducted Friday afternoon, April 28 at 2:00 in the Friona State Bank Community Room. Leaders of the home demonstration clubs will present the same demonstration to their respective clubs during May club meetings.

In the training of the twelve volunteer leaders Miss Ettie Musil, county home demonstration agent, stressed the advantages and disadvantages of an electric appliance. Many of the same features to consider in purchasing an electric skillet could be used in selecting any automatic, electrical appliance.

Look for shape, size, metal, features, and ease of cleaning and storage of electrical appliances. Homemakers should ask themselves, "How often will I use it, is it large enough for size of my family, is it well constructed free from flaws, and will it cook as I expected it to?" These and other questions were discussed during the training.

The following leaders attended the training: Mrs. W. H. Long and Mrs. T. I. Burleson, Jr. of Hub, Mrs. Preston Martin and Mrs. W. T. Magness of Oklahoma Lane, Mrs. Elmo Dean and Mrs. Carl Schlenker of Rhea, Mrs. Kenneth McLeilan of Friona, Mrs. Harvey Blackstone and Mrs. Dean Powell of Lazbuddie, Mrs. John Terry of Northside, and Mrs. Helen Fangman and Mrs. H. H. Elmore of Black.

Quite a bit of indigestion is caused by people having to eat their words.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

What happened to the warm days of Spring? For a while we thought Spring was really here to stay and then what happens! Shiver, shiver. It's almost cool enough to get the woolen sweaters out of moth balls or summer storage.

According to the calendar Spring is here just the same. Have you been spring cleaning? Do you hate to launder cotton shag rugs because they seem to look so shaggy and matted afterwards?

First decide whether your washer can take your rug. Specialists say any rug of more than five pounds dry weight probably is a bit heavy for a washer and dryer regardless of size. Better send heavy ones and those larger than three by five to a laundry.

If you decide you can wash your rug in your washing equipment, do so before the rug becomes very soiled. Vacuum it thoroughly first. Use hot water if the rug is quite soiled, warm water if it's not so dirty. Use the soap or syndet (synthetic detergent) you like for colored cottons.

Place one rug or two smaller ones in the washer. Be careful how you load some machines. Balance the load. With one rug you may have to add bath mats or bath towels for balance. A wash period of six to eight minutes should be enough. Rinse well to remove every bit of washing compound. Any left will increase future soiling.

A dryer fluffs shag rugs beautifully. Overdrying has a tendency to mat the pile, so check the drying time carefully. Rugs can be successfully dried on a line, too, whether they are washed in an automatic or non-automatic machine. With a wringer type machine, loosen the rollers before you pass the rug through.

A fabric softener added to a last, clear rinse water makes shag rugs more fluffy. For added safety to the back of small rugs spray the non-skid rubberized solution available.

Is getting youngsters dressed for school always quite an ordeal? It is a hurry-up affair in many families. Time is important but so is training the child to become independent, responsible and neat in dressing himself and caring for his clothes. Do they ask, "What can I wear this morning?"

Here are some tips that will help. First of all, help children arrange their school clothes separately from party, church and miscellaneous clothes in their own closet. Separate shirts from the trousers or slacks for the boys. Blouses together, skirts together, and dresses together makes a well planned or arranged closet for the girls, too.

Another help for hurry-up dressing encourage the children to arrange matching socks, ribbons and ties on hangers with dresses or shirts. You could even help them to plan what they will wear each day the night before. Everything will be ready to go in the morning.

Now is the time to check your chrysanthemums for aphids. They suck the tender new leaves on chrysanthemum plants as they do on the roses. Usually the brown or black aphids attack the chrysanthemum and the greenish aphids like the roses. Spray both aphids with 1 or 2 tablespoons of malathion in each gallon of water according to directions on the insecticide.

Be careful not to allow the mist of the spray to blow on your skin or your clothes. Wash your hands and face if the mist or spray comes in contact with your skin. You can't be too careful while handling insecticides or fungicides.

You'll never be popular if you spend all your time taking advantage of your right of free speech.

The above picture of WAC 700 was taken in January 1961. During the second week in March, this hybrid sorghum was harvested with a combine in the normal way. More than 65% of the grain was saved.

WAC 700 is resistant to head smut and in addition has good standing ability, and is high yielding.

In one test block near Hereford, it yielded over 9,000 lbs. per acre. In several tests in this area, WAC 700 yielded over 8,000 lbs. per acre under irrigation.

WAC 700 is 5 to 6 days later in blooming than RS 610 and is approximately 10 inches shorter in height.

WAC 750 is being released for the first time this year. It is a red seeded variety which is in the maturity range of 6-0. It has a good stalk and under ideal growing conditions it has exceptional high yield potential. We recommend that you try this hybrid if you are an irrigation farmer. Our tests in Mexico showed this seed to be very pure.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

By James E. Edwards Are Good Shoes Better

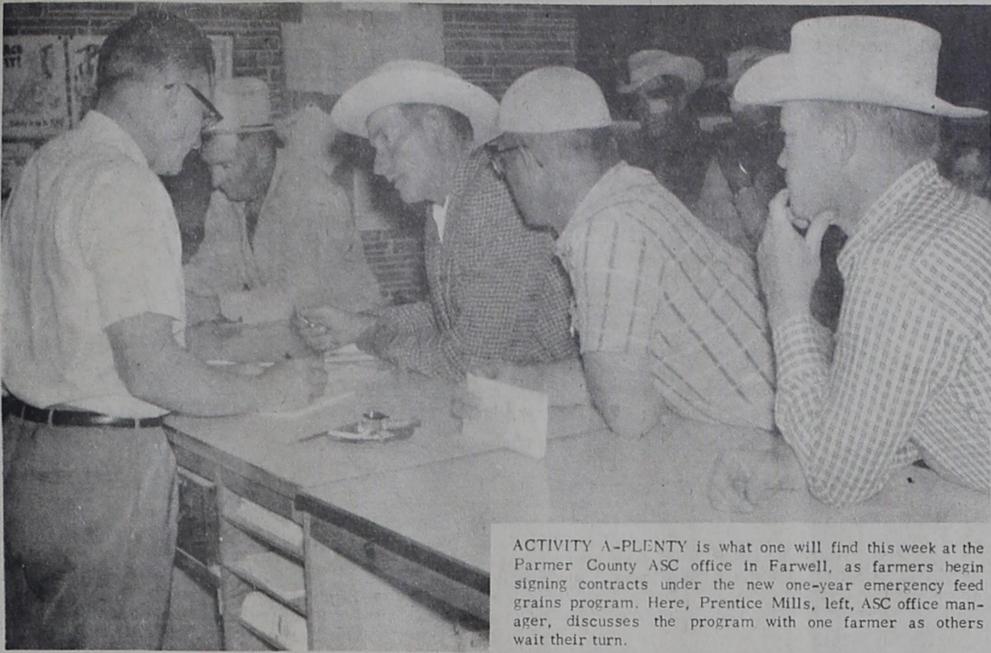

Values Than Cheap Shoes Per Dollar?

There isn't much difference. When we buy something cheap we think (we hope) that we are saving somebody else's profit. Ironically, the best dividend paying stocks of shoe companies on the market are the stocks of companies that make cheap shoes.

The leather market is so highly competitive that the only way the factory can save a significant amount on materials is to use inferior leather.

There are no secrets in the shoe business. As in every line of merchandise you get what you pay for.

ACTIVITY A-PLenty is what one will find this week at the Farmer County ASC office in Farwell, as farmers begin signing contracts under the new one-year emergency feed grains program.

270 Cattlemen Sign Petitions

First step toward getting Farmer County certified a Type II Brucellosis Control Area were completed last week when petitions signed by 270 cattlemen were mailed to the Texas Animal Health Commission.

state to send personnel into the county to test cattle for the disease and declare the area free of brucellosis.

Lee Thompson, county tax assessor-collector, certified that the 270 signers represented more than 75 per cent of the cattlemen rendering cattle for taxes, and that the petitioners owned more than 51 per cent of the cattle in the county as reflected by the tax rolls.

After a 90-day waiting period, during which time a hearing will be held for protests, actual work on getting the area declared free of the disease will get under way.

A state veterinarian and his crew will come to the county, probably around August 1, with a mobile laboratory to run blood tests on cattle.

Cattle to be tested will include:

- 1) All registered cattle
2) All dairy cattle
3) All cattle in herds of 20 or less; and
4) 20 per cent of all commercial herds.

If a reactor is found among the 20 per cent of a commercial herd, each animal in the remainder of the herd will also be tested.

Efforts by interested cattlemen to get this area declared free of brucellosis were taken because a price differential from $2 to $6 has many times been noted between this area and certified areas which are participating in a brucellosis eradication program.

Cattlemen point out that there is little of the disease in the Farmer County area, but the market is still affected.

Results Released On District 4-H Contest

Results have been announced of the District 4-H Method Demonstration Contest which was held on the West Texas State College Campus, Saturday 29 beginning at 9:30 a. m. Approximately 200 4-H club boys and girls, parents, Extension Agents, and special guests attended.

First and second place teams in the Senior Division in each of the Awards Programs will compete with teams from each of the 12 districts in the state. Four-H Roundup to be held in College Station on the Texas A&M College Campus June 6

Brucellosis is a disease that causes cattle to suffer a reduction in milk production, and it also results in abortions and sterility.

Swine producers fare little better with this disease, according to C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian of Texas A&M College. Infected sows abort or give birth to weak litters, and sows frequently become sterile following abortion.

Brucellosis, commonly called Bang's disease, is a highly contagious disease and humans may also contract it by drinking unpasteurized milk of a contaminated cow.

NEWS FROM THE
FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"Under the guise of providing 'social justice' for the weak, we are being sold on the idea that the use of force is good—that the end justifies the means."

"I am convinced that the great need of today is for a moral and spiritual revival which will turn our minds from the temptation to solve problems by setting force against force and return to God's way by helping individuals increase the power and purpose of their own lives."

Charles B. Schuman, president of the world's largest general farm organization, American Farm Bureau Federation, concluded his editorial with the above words in the May Nation's Agriculture.

Christian principles such as the above, continuously promoted by Mr. Schuman, are the things that make the membership respect and love him. He is not a flowery speaker, but a man of Christian principles. The extent to which Uncle Sam is extending authority over county government was recently pointed up by a county survey of budgets in the state of Virginia.

For example, one county—King George—(adjacent to the county in which this editor lives) has completely lost its power over local institutions because more than fifty per cent of its expenditures were derived from federal sources.

Each dollar King George county got from Uncle Sam had a string attached—the right of the federal government to control its use.

This is not an isolated case. Many other local governments are on the brink of federal domination resulting from the great game of "dollar matching."

This is a quote from Glenn Martz in the Washington News Beat, April, 1961.

Nell Davis is notifying you farmers who have not filed for tractor gas tax refund in the last year that we will discontinue your file unless you specifically request us to continue it. Your secretary is glad to maintain the filing and notification procedure for all who want it.

Most all cotton has been planted and, of course, the weather will determine just how much will be replanted. If the cold weather continues, much of the cotton already planted will be affected by the complex of seedling disease. How severe the disease complex will be depends on seed quality and how long it is before the soil temperature reaches 70 degrees.

Seedling cotton grows little when soil temperatures are below 70 degrees. Should your seedling cotton be diseased there is little you can do except cultivate to aerate a compacted soil and hope for hot weather. You should remember some of the seedling diseases cause permanent damage to the top root that affects the cotton all year.

Don't underestimate the value of vigorous seed of a disease resistant variety and a warm soil for getting cotton off to a good start. Most of you can plant your cotton in two places and select the better later. This has proven to be a very wise thing to do in some instances in the past. Some have made the mistake of making both plantings too early and getting in trouble with them both. Getting and holding a good stand of cotton is more important this year than in years past, the feed grains program being the reason for this.

It takes soil fertility and water to produce a good wheat crop. Most everyone has supplied the plant food, so don't limit your production by failing to supply the needed moisture. Wheat, wind, and temperature could take out four-tenths inch of moisture a day for the next several days. It will be a good idea to know what is happening to your wheat moisture. One of the best ways to find out is to do some soil probing or digging and take a look.

Those of you who are producing small grain for certification should get your applications in to Mr. Gene Cupp, 2814 34th St., Lubbock, Texas, within the next few days. This is very important so they can plan their inspection work and not hold you up at harvest.

Some of you may miss putting on your pre-planting fertilizer for one reason or another. If so, be sure to get it on your cotton before the first watering, or to put it another way, do your fertilizing job in June. In case of corn or grain sorghum, get it on before the plants pass the ten leaf stage. Good results have been obtained on these crops from sidedressing alone, when ap-

Wolverines Dominate EPAC Meet

Texico's Wolverines, paced by three triple winners, dominated the fifth annual East Plains Athletic Conference track meet Saturday by amassing 133 1/2 points to runner-up Tatum's 72 1/2.

Halsell rewrote two records that he set last year by throwing the shot put 50 feet, 8 1/2 inches, and pole vaulting 11 feet, 5 inches. His old records were 48-8 in the shot and 10-9 in the pole vault. The Texico strongman also won the discus with a throw of 123 feet, 5 1/4 inches, and was fifth in the javelin.

Winsper set a new record in the broad jump by leaping 22 feet, 3/4 inches, bettering the old mark of 21 feet 1 1/4 inches.

In the sprints, Winsper tied the record in the 220-yard dash, by clicking off a 22.5, and he won the 100-yard dash in 10.5.

The senior speedster also ran the anchor leg on Texico's winning 440-yard relay team.

In all, the Wolverines had 13 men placing in the meet. Other than those mentioned above, Texico lads who won ribbons were as follows:

Leon Kelley--fifth in broad jump, second in the 100-yard dash, and second in the 220-yard dash.

Thigpen--third in javelin. Jackie Dyer--tie for fourth in high jump.

Victor Harrington--tie for fourth in discus; fourth in 180-yard low hurdles.

Hal Ed Helton--fifth in 100-yard dash.

Mile run--Singleterry, second

Walker--fourth in 440-yard run.

Tipton--fifth in 440.

Uncle Ray's "Hot Air"

Little Frederick was saying his prayers one night. His mother overheard this gem: "And please make Tommy stop throwing things at me. By the way, I've mentioned this before."

"What's the matter, John? You look kind o' weather-beaten this morning."

"That's exactly what I am. I bet $5 it would rain yesterday, and it didn't."

I don't bet on the weather I have lived in West Texas too long, but I will bet that you will like the service we give you.

Why Should I Get a Second Phone When My House is as Small as it is?

That's a good question—and it came up recently when we asked an independent research organization to visit with one hundred active housewives about extension phones. "In a house as small as mine," one lady said, "what can I do with two phones that I can't do just as well with one?"

This prompts us to ask: Who lives in a "small" house? The fact is that so long as you're making beds, washing dishes, picking up toys, fixing meals and getting children ready for school, you're not living in a "small" house. (If you're still wondering, think about how tired you get toward the end of a busy day!)

Which brings us to the point. Because a second phone can save you some steps and some time, make your life more pleasant and your work a little easier, why deprive yourself?

Cost? All of the luxurious features of an extension can be yours at the down-to-earth price of a few pennies a day.

A second phone brings you privacy, too, so you can ignore the confusion in the rest of the house when you want to phone a friend.

Next time you're in another part of the house when the phone rings, think how helpful it might be to have an extension. And when you're ready to order, just call our business office or ask a telephone serviceman if you spot his truck in your neighborhood.

Presenting the Bell Chime!

You get three distinctive rings, including a melodious chime. Call us for details.
