Wave of the future

Wave of the Future
Well, it's arrived, folks, the wave of the future. Right here at the ol' State Line Tribune.

I've been in newspapering for 25 years and the fourth technological change has just arrived. I'm getting too old for all this upheaval.

When I began in the business, we used what was called hot type. Metal bars were melted down in 2000 fahrenheit temperatures and cast into lead lines. Then, about 22 years ago, a breakthrough was made and newspapers went to "cold type." The old metal machines were done away with and a punched tape was used by early computers.

A few years later came another change. The tape was discarded and replaced by photographic film. Thus, a story was typed in a computer which placed the images on film. This film was pushed through a chemical processor which developed it—a lot like that which you would use for your camera.

This latter process is used by most newspapers but the past 18 months have seen the development of a new system which makes it obsolete: it's called "Desktop Publishing."

And we bought a Desktop Publishing system last Friday.

Oh, boy! I sure hope I can figure it out. The wave of the future has arrived in the Twin Cities, and it's one of the few new systems in the area. There's one in Canyon, Texas, but I don't know of any others—yet.

The system, put out by a Kansas company, includes three basic units: a laser writer, a computer and a screen. We've bought two computers and two screens since we have two people typing at the same time.

Under the old method, the reporter would write a story on plain paper. It would be edited and then given to the typesetter to retype it on photographic film in the computer.

Thus, the same story would be typed twice. With the new method, the reported types the story directly into the computer. The story is edited while in the computer. Then a button is pushed and it goes through the laser writer, ready to be pasted up on the page.

So you can see that a step is eliminated. The job of a typesetter has been made obsolete by the new technology. That's unfortunate but it happens all the time in industry today. You have got to keep Yes, you're right.

There are different types of printing in today's newspaper stories. Please bear with us. We are trying different things with our new computer; it's similar to a shakedown cruise.

In a couple of weeks, we will run samples of the different kinds of type available to us and then get feedback from our readers. When we go over completely to the new computer, in about six weeks, we will be back to one kind of typeface throughout the paper.

We appreciate your indulgence.

The new computer system is able to produce stories, advertisements, commercial printing jobs and headlines. In other words, it can do it all. It eliminates four machines we currently use: a typesetter, a headliner, a processor, and a waxer.

And it also means we will be going with one less person. I'm lucky in that we don't have to lay off anyone. Jenine Foster, our reporter, is leaving in June; her husband, Bobby, has taken a job in Dallas.

When Jenine leaves, my wife Judy will become our reporter. Our typesetter, Betty Jean Castleberry, will become our advertising representative. And me—well, I'll just continue doing the same old things.

The reason I jumped ahead and bought this system is a financial one: these are tough economic times and if this enables us to save money, then there is no really no choice, is there? And the savings will ensure the future of this newspaper for many, many years to come. (We hope.)

Another neat thing about this new system is that it uses regular 8 1/2 x 11" paper. No longer will we have to buy special (and expensive) photographic film and chemicals to

Corn grit processing plant considered

The Farwell Chamber of Commerce asked that this letter be printed:

Dear Sir:

For several years the Texas Corn Producers Board has been working on the feasibility of construction of a corn grit processing plant within the seven county check-off area.

Just recently the Texas Corn Producers Board, in cooperation with the Texas Department of Agriculture, has completed a 3rd feasibility study for a 5,000 bushel per day processing plant to be located in the check-off area. The Texas Corn Producers Board has always believed that a superior quality of corn grits can be produced from the corn grown on the High Plains of Texas, provided strict specifications and quality control is maintained on the corn.

Our feasibility study definitely bears this out. The underlying reason for pursuing the feasibility of construction of a corn grit processing plant was to provide a market for the production of a corn grit processing plant was to provide a market for the producers in the

Farwell Junior High boys win district track meet

The Farwell Junior High Boys track and field team won the District Track meet at Sudan by one point with Farwell 99 points and Kress 98.

Coach Gary Cates said, "It was close throughout the day. With two events left, we were tied with Kress. We still had the mile run and the mile relay left to run. Casimiro Muniz won the mile, putting us 9 points ahead. Kress came back into the meet with the best time in the mile relay, so we had to get at least third place in order to win the meet."

Here are the results:

Sprint relay - Shawn Stewart, Clint Cole, Darren Haseloff and Monty Delgado, placed second with a time of 48.72. "This was their fastest time of the year. They cut 6 seconds off of their time from the first of the season."

110 high hurdles - Stewart, first with a time of 16.8. "This was his fastest time ever." Kirk Fly placed sixth and Chad Byrd, seventh.

100 meter dash - Clint Cole, fourth, 13.1.

400 meter dash - Delgado, third, 58.27. "This was his best time all year."

300 meter hurdles - Kirk Fly, third, 49.86. "This was his best time all year."

200 meter dash - Clint Cole, fifth, 26.9.

800 meter dash - Muniz, third, 2:21.

Mile run - Muniz, first, 5:25. "This was his best race all year. He won it by 20 yards and put us nine points ahead at the last."

seven county check-off area.

The 5,000 bushel per day processing plant would only take care of approximately 4% of the corn produced in the check-off area. The Texas Corn Producers Board would like to insure, however, that each producer in the area have a fair share of providing corn for the proposed plant, as well as each present elevator or handler of corn to have an opportunity to construct the corn grit plant.

The feasibility report is predicated on adjacent storage and drying facilities. The estimated cost of a 5,000 bushel per day grind facility would be $5,000,000. If your firm or association would be seriously interested in constructing, owning and operating the proposed corn grit plant, please contact me, and arrangements will be made for you to view the feasibility study.

Sincerely,
Carl King

"It's not a lot of fun just to go out and run, but in order to win that's what they had to do and they did it and ended up with a district win."

"I have enjoyed coaching these boys and will hate to lose my eighth graders, but we have a good bunch of seventh graders coming up and they have done a real good job this year."

process our stories and headlines. Our new laser printer uses tone, which is changed periodically and is cheaper than our past chemicals.

Even though the Tribune is one of the first papers in Texas to buy this new system, within 2 or 3 years, most small papers will have time. The economics of the situation will cause it.

Even though I'm optimistic about all these future computers, as a hedge, I think we'll keep our old machines—just in case. Also, we will continue to use the old machines for the next few weeks while we train on our new system—for better or for worse.

All I can say is that I hope this is the last technological change I see in newspapering in my lifetime. All these upheavals are about to do me in. But, as I write this column, my 11-year-old son is busily producing stories on the new system in different measurements and column sizes—all at the flick of a button.

If he can do it, so can I!
 I hope.

Cornea total sets record

The Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 2-T1, Inc. in Amarillo helped collect a record number of corneas for transplant in the United States and Canada in 1986, according to figures released by the Eye Bank Association of America (EBAA) today.

The EBAA report shows that in 1986 the 103 eye banks in the U.S. and Canada supplied 31,340 corneas for transplants to help restore sight. In addition, 29,089 eyes and corneas were used for research and teaching programs. Another 7,387 corneas were provided for epikeratophakia, a surgical procedure that corrects refractive errors for patients with high degree of vision loss.

Locally, the Hi-Plains Eye Bank collected 51 eyes and corneas in 1986. 21 were supplied for transplant, and 3 eyes were used for research and teaching. "We are very pleased with the local and national trends" Virgil James, President of the Eye Bank said. "I feel it is due to the education of the public, and the required request law that is being passed in many areas."

"The amount of eye donations obtained in 1986 was a 22 percent increase over the previous high collected in 1985." Jay H. Krachmer, M.D., EBAA chairman of the board, pointed out as he released the report. "However, despite this progress, between 3,500 and 5,000 Americans still are waiting for transplants because of a shortage of donations."

Donor cards and other information on corneal transplants and eye banking are available through the Lions Hi-Plains Eye Bank by calling (806) 359-5101 or locally by calling Porter Roberts, (806) 481-3383, days or (806) 247-2264 nights.

Coach Cumpton summed up the results: "The boys and girls performed well at the district track meet. We ran our best times in every event and threw farther than we had all year in the throwing events. They came through with their best performances at the district. I was especially proud of some of the freshmen and sophomores that really came through with outstanding performances. We qualified one boy to the regional track meet.

Ramon Sanchez got second in the mile and the two mile. His times were excellent. If our younger kids continue to improve, we will be very competitive next year."

The Farwell Junior High Girls track and field team placed fifth in the District meet at Sudan with 40 points.

Here are the results:

Ramone Sanchez of Farwell High placed second in the 1600 and the 3200 meter runs at the District meet in Sudan qualifying him for the Regional track meet at Levelland, May 1 and 2.

200 meter dash - Stewart, second, 28.40.

These teams and individuals made the finals at Sudan April 16:

Amy Murray made the finals in the intermediate hurdles.

Heather Burton, Mary Ann Ancira, Katrina Stewart and Rosa Lara made the finals in the quarter mile relay.

Katrina Stewart made the finals in the 100 meter and the 200 meter dash.

Coach George Langan spoke of the outlook for next year when he said, "We only had four eighth graders on the track team this year, the rest were all seventh graders. I thought the seventh grade girls performed exceptionally well for their size and inexperience. They should mature and become a little stronger and should be able to compete very well next year."

"Working with these kids has been the greatest experience of my life as a coach. I have enjoyed my job at Farwell for the last two years and I think the students show a lot of determination and spirit. I'm really going to miss them a lot. The coach who will be here next year will be getting a great group of kids."

The Texico Junior High boys field and track team placed fourth with 49 points in the Tatum Relays.

second, 4:16.01.

Mile relay - Parmer, Edwards, Orosco and Martin, third, 4:07.22.

Coach Michael Littlejohn said, "I felt like these young men competed very well. Most of their times were a lot better than before. Considering we were running against Portales' freshmen, eighth, seventh and Jal's junior high both of which have extremely talented teams, I thought we did very well. Tatum was third, 17 points ahead of us, but I think we can make up those points and beat them at EPAC."

The Texico Wolverine boys track and field team scored 20 points in the Tatum Relays.

There will be two more qualifying meets with one at Clovis, April 24 and the other at the EPAC meet at Tatum, April 25.

The District meet will be at Tatum May 2.

Coach David Lynn said, "We are still running pretty well at this point, but we need to bring down our times."

The Ladies Auxiliary have a Bean and Cornbread Dinner planned for Tuesday, the 28th of April, at the Community Center. The time for all of you to join us will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. for the best cornbread, pinto beans, coleslaw, fruit cobbler, relish and hot peppers around.

For those of us who can't eat the hot peppers they have drinks to cool our burning throats!

Our ladies have a very special reason for having this bean and cornbread luncheon. Their goal is to earn enough money to buy a commercial size washer for our laundry. We have so much laundry we need an oversized washer to keep the large items, [comforters, blankets, pillows], caught up. It looks like a clothes mountain in the laundry room every morning!

Do, please, plan on joining us at the Community Center, Tuesday, the 28th for lunch between 11 and 1:00.

See you there!
