Stover is lead male rock group vocalist

Rusty Stover of Farwell is the new lead male vocalist for the rock music group, "Metal Rose".

Stover has been singing with the group for about 2½ months, but the rock group has been together for about 2 years.

Doug Clark, a senior at Clovis High School, plays the base guitar and is a backup vocalist. He works part-time at K-Mart.

Allen Faulkner of Clovis is a guitarist and backup vocalist. He attends Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

Chris Faulkner is a junior at Clovis High School and is the drummer and backup vocalist.

Keith Riley of Clovis is a guitarist and backup singer. He attends ENMU.

Allen Faulkner and Riley are also very versatile on many different instruments and play the piano. They are members of a jazz band at ENMU.

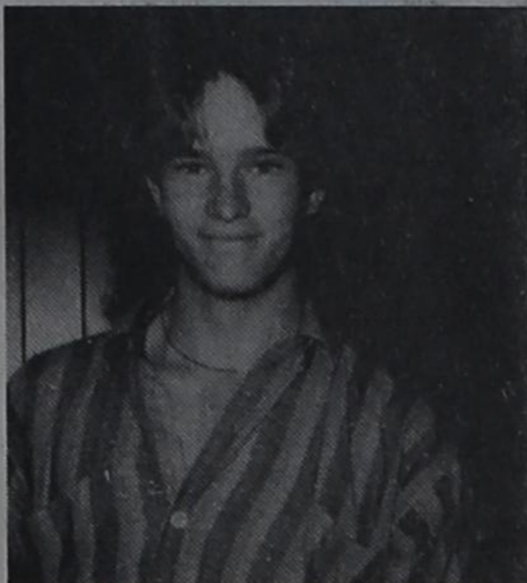

Stover has had some musical training, playing a cornet in the Farwell High band, but said that he would like to take some vocal training and learn to play the guitar.

The group is thinking about adding a keyboard to the band later. Right now the band has about $15,000 worth of top quality equipment and a good sound system.

The group was in concert March 21 at the Roy Walker Community Center in Clovis. They joined the Christian rock group, "Rapture" from Albuquerque, in providing the entertainment for the concert.

A special video of the group was made at the Clovis concert. Other engagements are being scheduled.

The group has recorded four songs with Purdue Recording Studios in Amarillo. Stover was not with the band at this time, but they plan to make another recording late this summer.

Stover said that everybody in the group pitches in and helps to write the lyrics and the music to their songs. Here are some of the songs they have composed: "Reaction to Her Reaction"; "American Boy"; "Losing Time"; "Shoot For The Sun"; and "In Your Face".

The group's tapes are on sale at the "Town Crier" and "Baldocks Music Note" in Clovis.

Stover said the band's goal is to make it all the way to the top. He said the group would like to tour in the immediate area, no further than Amarillo and Lubbock, at the present time.

Stover said that he would like to make a career of singing with the band, but that he might like to back up his career by getting a degree in computers.

Stover is the son of Jerry and Colleen Stover of Farwell. He graduated from Farwell High last year and his family has lived in the Farwell area for about six years. He has one sister, Michelle, a junior at Farwell High.

Border Town Days planning begins

Monday marked the first official meeting of this year's Border Town Days Committee.

This year's annual extravaganza will be held July 23-25 and will feature a three-day rodeo sponsored by the Farwell Arena Association.

Last year's BTD officers were re-elected: Curtis Smith, president; Mike Pomper, vice president, and Ann Cooper, secretary.

The theme for 1987 will be New Mexico's 75th Anniversary. Mrs. Cooper has a state flag ready to be flown at the gazebo during the Day in the Park but she is looking for a New Mexico flag with the 75th Anniversary logo on it.

Several committee appointments were made:

Othena Smith, with help from Pam Bernier and Gladys Hardage, will be in charge of the Merchants Giveaway.

Janie Bowery will handle the arts and crafts exhibits.

ESA and Beta Sigma Phi sororities will be in charge of the park concessions. Efforts will be made to move the concession stands a bit further back to allow more room for the audience near the gazebo.

Weldon Smith, last year's parade marshal, will again be asked to handle the lineup, along with the Texico-Farwell Lions Club. Pomper is again in charge of the parade.

The float contest will be handled by Shondra McIntosh. She will be ask for help from last year's workers, including Martha Curtis, Frances Kube and John Getz.

Dental hygienist joins clinic

Nancy Burgin has joined the staff of the Farwell Dental Clinic as a dental hygienist.

Mrs. Burgin is a native of Clovis who has been working in Houston the past five years. She attended New Mexico University and has a degree in dental hygiene from Amarillo College. She has been doing dental hygiene work for eight years.

Her job includes cleaning teeth, fluoride, nutritional counseling and pit and fissure sealants.

She will work at the Farwell Clinic each Tuesday and Wednesday.

Her father is a dentist, Dr. O.T. Rozzell of Clovis.

Temporary Texico marshal named

Mike Reeves of Clovis has been contacted by the City of Texico to serve as temporary City Marshal until the position can be filled.

Reeves started out with the Clovis Police Department when he was only 16 and became a patrolman at the age of 18. He worked for the Clovis Police Department for five years before resigning.

Reeves has taken numerous advanced law enforcement classes and college criminal justice courses. He attended Eastern New Mexico University and the New Mexico Law Enforcement Academy.

Reeves will work at Texico for a few months and then he will be going on to Law School at Texas Tech.

The post has been open since Dave Wheeler resigned in March.

Personal property tax to be dropped

Farwell voters okay higher sales tax

Very few Farwell voters went to the polls Saturday but those that did approved a one-half of one percent increase in the city sales tax.

The vote was 37-16 in favor of the tax change.

The Farwell City Council last year endorsed this increase, which takes effect Jan. 1, 1988, because it will allow the city to eliminate the personal property tax now being charged.

The council indicated that the change in the tax structure would be fairer for city residents.

On the Farwell city ballot, the three incumbents were unopposed. Mayor Chris Gikas got 50 votes. Councilmen Curtis Smith and Ysleta Kittrell got 52 votes each.

There was a race for the two Farwell School Board posts, since Joe Hughes was not seeking re-election.

Ed Corn, the other incumbent, led the way with 126 votes. Also elected was Roberta Johnson with 68 votes.

Others running were Steven Kaltwasser, 63; Mark Williams, 40; Bruce Billingsley, 63; Vista London, 16, and Jerry Stover, 14. One hundred and eighty-two votes were cast.

The five persons on the ballot for the five posts on the Farwell Hospital District Board all were elected handily. They were Steve Breckenridge, 152; Patrick Riley, 151; Jimmie Mace and Jerry Monk, 146 each, and LaMoin Williams, 144. Ralph Franse received three write-in votes, and several had one vote each.

The two incumbents on the Lazzbuddie School Board were unopposed for re-election. They were Jerry Engelking, 72 votes; and Melvin Morris, 69.

Fund-raiser planned for Burton

The community of Farwell, along with the Farwell School System, organizations and area churches have banded together to show their appreciation for the Lynn Burton family in their time of need.

Burton, Farwell High School principal, has been in Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital in San Antonio since February and has undergone surgery twice.

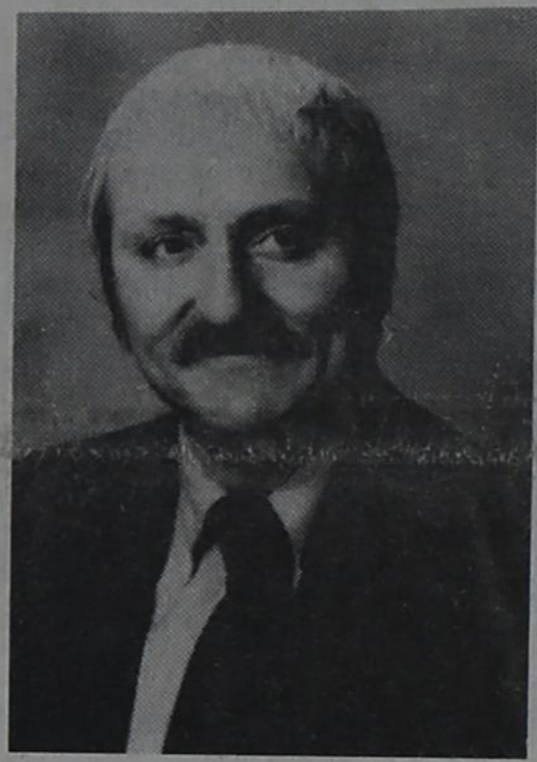

The community is undertaking several projects to help the Burton's with some of their hospital and other expenses and to show their appreciation for Burton's years of service to the school and community.

Farwell Elementary School is having a canned food drive to help restock the Burton's cabinets.

The Baptist Church has made a donation toward helping the family. The Trinity Church in Clovis, of which the Burton's attend, is helping with food and canned goods as well as Christian support.

Other churches are also contributing.

Several families and individuals have volunteered to help work on the Burton's yard and to clean the house.

A special benefit dance for the Burton family, sponsored by the Farwell High School Student Body, will be held April 10 from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Farwell Community Center. The public is invited and a variety of music will be played.

Food for the concession stand will be provided by all four classes at the high school.

The charge for admission will be $3 at the door. Any donations will be accepted.

An appreciation roast dinner will be served April 12 from noon to 3 p.m. at the Farwell School cafeteria.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Farwell school staff, students and faculty as well as any volunteers.

The menu will consist of rolled chuck boneless roast, potatoes and gravy, salad, green beans, rolls with butter, dessert and coffee or tea.

Carryout orders will be available. The cost of the meal will be $4 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. Donations will be accepted.

If anyone would like to help with the Sunday Roast Dinner, call Vickie Jones, 481-9420 or Sherry Curtis, 481-9509.

A bank account has been opened at Farwell Security State Bank for donations to the Burton Family in the name of Lynn and Cheryl Burton.

'A cry for help'

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

April is National Child Abuse Prevention month. The Parmer County Child Welfare Board asks you to take time to listen to "A Cry for Help."

Some children can't or won't cry for help when they need it ... even when their lives may be in danger. They are the thousands of victims of child abuse and neglect whose suffering may go unchecked for years, often permanently impairing their health and development and sometimes costing their lives. Such children may be too young, too terrified, or simply too confused to tell anyone about it.

But even without being told, you can spot the symptoms of abuse and neglect if you know what to look for in a child's appearance and behavior AND in the parent's or caregiver's behavior. When you think you've seen evidence of abuse or neglect it is essential that you report it. The law requires that you make a report to the Texas Department of Human Services (364-1266) or a law enforcement agency.

Your phone may be that child's only cry for help. Persons making reports are protected by law from liability and identities are kept confidential. The Abuse Hotline number is 1-800-252-5400 and may be called 24 hours from anywhere in the state. The number is listed in the phone book.

There are three kinds of child abuse, physical, sexual, and emotional. There are also several kinds of "Child Neglect." Physical neglect is failure to provide enough food, clothing, shelter or medical care. Failing to provide adequate education, guidance or supervision is also neglect. Emotional neglect is failure to give children the love and

In 1985 investigations confirmed that 59,863 children were abused or neglected. Victims of child abuse and neglect range in age from infants to adolescents. More than half are under 7 years old. These figures reflect only reported cases. Figures also show 409,196 of the state's children are in danger of being abused and neglected. A comparison of these figures shows few children are being brought to the department's attention.

People who abuse and neglect children can be found at every social or economic level and in all ethnic and religious groups. Their victims are mostly their own children or those of a close friend or relative. Some abusers were abused by their own parents.

There are many signs of child abuse and neglect. Some are obvious while others are not as obvious. When subtle clues recur or appear in combination with other signs you should suspect and report it.

Another very important issue concerning the abused and neglected child is the two budget proposals being considered in Austin. The Governor's budget would reduce Department of Human Services by 65%. The House and Senate Budget would result in a reduction of 27% of funding. When asked, DHS made a 13% budget cut just last year.

The choices that would be necessary if these cuts are imposed would not be in the best interest of the children of Texas.

Out of the 95 children who are the responsibility of this Region, a 27% cut would necessitate a limit of 75 children. A 65% cut would result in a limit of 50 children in foster care. With this cut, most services to abused or neglected children living in their own homes would be discontinued. Special schools would be out of the question. A 65% reduction

Fiske: Good Samaritan

Virgil Fiske, the Church of Christ minister in Farwell, was a Good Samaritan recently.

The incident started when he saw a pair of feet, belonging to a young boy, sticking out of a trash can in the alley behind his home. The boy jumped out, ran and was stopped by Virgil. A woman's purse had been found in the trash can by Virgil.

The boy got away. Virgil returned to the trash can and searched the purse for identification. The owner was found and she said $130 that had been in the purse was missing. She was distraught over its loss.

Virgil and a sheriff's deputy then worked together to try to find the boy. They succeeded but he denied taking the $130. Then the purse owner remembered that the money was in a bank envelope, rechecked the purse, found the envelope and the money within.

The boy no longer lives in this area.

Thanks, Virgil, for helping a lady recover some very needed funds.

Special note for persons who buy single copies of the State Line Tribune:

Allsup's is removing newspaper racks from inside all their stores. That means after April 15 that Tribunes will not be sold at the Allsup's store in Farwell.

Tribunes can still be purchased at Town & Country in Texico, Luce's Spur Restaurant in Texico, Capitol Food in Farwell and Farwell United Drugs, or at the newspaper office, 404 3rd St., Farwell.

And, of course, you can subscribe (by calling 481-3681) and have the newspaper delivered to your post office box each week.

Cara Mirabella, the new administrator at the Farwell Convalescent Center, passed on this letter she received this week:

"I would like to say thank you so very much for the loving care and attention you gave my Mother, Mrs. Wilma M. White, during her recent stay there. Your facility and the personnel there are "top notch" and is meeting a critical need in our area.

Mother is presently in her home in Clovis and seems to be doing very well, and she has nothing but high praise for all of you and the care she received while regaining her strength from a recent illness. (Se would even like to have your recipe for the vegetable soup and the barbecued ribs!!! She said that they were the best she had ever eat -- compliments to the Cook!)

Here's why the railroad tracks between Texico and Farwell haven't been fixed yet:

The holdup for a long time was the fact that New Mexico hadn't approved funds for the project. Now, New Mexico has okayed the $10,000 -- but it can't be spent until after July 1.

Thus, the project won't be done until after that date. How much after that date remains to be seen.

This weather lately has been crazy. Some days it gets warm, others cold.

At least, it's the same all over the nation. And it could have been a lot worse.

I realize that weathermen and meteorologists have all the latest scientific information available to make their forecasts. Why is it when that I believe they are way off base so often?

I'm sure it must be me. But doesn't it seem that the forecasts often are far off the actual weather that arrives the next day? I just don't understand it.

The baseball season is about to be upon us and it's time for my annual prediction:

The Cubs will win the pennant.

Homestead law controversial

AUSTIN - This session, like countless sessions before, the Legislature finds itself debating a bill that would change Texas' homestead laws to allow more secondary mortgaging of homes.

The issue is a perennial one, the kind of issue that never passes into law and never dies. The notion of expanding the homestead law has enough of a constituency to merit a hearing before the Legislature each session and an opposition just strong enough to make sure the proposed expansion never becomes law.

In fact, the whole homestead question may be the classic perennial issue, for the battle is rooted in the very heart of Texas history and both sides can present equally convincing arguments that serve only to foster indecision in the Legislature.

Texas' homestead laws were designed more than 100 years ago to make land acquisition relatively easy for those settling the state and to make it equally difficult for said pioneers to lose their newfound land. The days of westward expansion are long-since past and with them the portion of the homestead laws that deal with land acquisition. Still on the books, however, is the provision in the law that forbids second mortgages on homesteads for any purpose other than home improvement.

Strict limitations on secondary mortgages have served the state's economy well these last 150 years. They have kept people from gambling excessively with the essentials of their livelihood and that in turn has kept the state moving in a positive economic direction. Few would argue that our homestead law on the whole has been a positive force in Texas history.

There are some, though, who wonder whether our homestead law is becoming archaic, a dinosaur that now serves only to hinder economic growth. The world of finance, these doubters say, has changed, and people need to keep all their options open if they are to get ahead these days.

Attempts have been made the last several sessions to do away with the limitation on secondary mortgages. Proponents of the move argue the law now unfairly is restricting homeowners from taking advantage of financial practices that are common in other states.

One familiar scenario offered by these proponents is that of the young entrepreneur looking for a way to finance a new business. This person has limited assets and an average credit rating; the only thing of real value is the person's home.

In, say, Massachusetts, that person could use the home as a collateral to obtain a loan for the proposed business. That business may boom and eventually become a real asset to the local and state economy. The business would have remained a figment of the entrepreneur's imagination had the homestead not been available for use in obtaining the loan.

Such a scenario makes a strong case for allowing more secondary mortgages. It makes Texas look a little backwards financially. The change in the law certainly doesn't prey on people because they are adults who can make their own choices about when to use a homestead as collateral.

But, as always, there is another side. Opponents offer up equally strong scenarios of secondary mortgages being used to prey on the elderly, of the mortgages being used by unscrupulous financiers to "rob" people of their homes.

They cite instances in other states where salesmen have sold essentially worthless items to the elderly and forced them to put up their homes as collateral on the expensive purchases. Stories are told of bankers who force farmers to put up homesteads instead of crops in return for production loans. Have a bad year - like many farmers currently are having - and you've lost your home.

Clearly, it will not be easy during this or any session to decide whether to change our homestead laws. We must weigh the economic advantages of opening new financing options against the strong consumer protection offered by the current law.

We still remain undecided, but we can assure you any proposed change in the homestead law must have certain safeguards built in before we could even consider offering our support.

The change must allow secondary mortgages only through banks, savings and loans or similar financial institutions. The professionals at these institutions can help consumers guard against unwise investments. And, there must be provisions to prevent a financier from demanding a homestead as collateral if other acceptable collateral is available. Such a provision would protect farmers and other borrowers.

Even then, we can't guarantee support for the law, for as always the wishes of our district come first.

Sorority visits Lubbock

Members of Alpha Rho Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi have had a busy Spring social season.

On March 24, they hosted Delta chapter of Clovis to an oriental meal served on tables on the floor of the Farwell Fire Hall. The meal was followed by charades. Members dressed in oriental costumes to add to the fun.

The last weekend in March, members visited Lubbock. While there, they visited Laura Jacobs Wallace who was the Parmer County Extension Agent for Home Economics when she lived here. She is preparing to move to Dallas where her husband will work in a printing firm.

On April 2, the chapter was entertained by a chapter in Clvis. They were served lasagna dinner, and then they played "Scruples."

In addition to the social events, Alpha Rho Lambda has also participated in the Parmer County distribution of surplus commodities.

Martinez wins shot put

The Texico Varsity boys track and field team placed 12th in the Texico Invitational track Meet April 4.

Texico scored 12 points in the meet with 16 teams in competition. Here are the results:

Shot Put - Jesse Martinez, first, 49 feet 7 1/2 inches.

120 yard high hurdles - Keith Harrison, third place, 17.94.

Discus - Jesse Martinez, fifth, 108 feet.

Coach David Lynn said, "The weather was the big factor in this meet, but I thought we had a pretty good meet. About 73 teams were in competition in the whole meet with more participants than Texico has ever had before."

Concert slated

Rex Nelson Singers and Squire Parsons will appear in concert via satellite April 11 at 6:30 p.m. MDT at the First Baptist Church of Texico.

Squire was nominated as Favorite Baritone Singer of the Year for four consecutive years by the Singing News fans. The Rex Nelson Singers have been on several TV shows and were featured on P.M. Magazine.

FSB reports record earnings

James F. Gibson, President of First Savings Bank, announced record earnings for the bank, for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1986.

Net income is reported to be $4.9 million which represents an earnings per share of $10.77.

First Savings Bank converted from a federally chartered mutual savings and loan association to a federally chartered stock savings bank in August 1986. In that sale 455,000 shares were offered and sold at a price of $10 epr share. The Bank's common stock is traded in the over-the-counter market on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System (NASDAQ) under the Symbol "FSBC".

Texico restaurant to open

The newest business in Texico is the "Chat N Chew" drive-in restaurant owned and operated by Billie and Vonnie McIntosh. It opens April 27.

The "Chat N Chew" has a 1950's motif and is decorated with memorabilia which include posters from Elvis Presley movies, Phillip Morris ads poster, The Three Stooges, the original "Leave it to Beaver" series, a couple of calendars that date back to the 1950s, and many other posters.

Decor also includes a Juke Box that dates back to 1959 with some of the original records; a baseball pinball game from 1953, ceiling fans from the early 60's and a snack bar and soda fountain from 1953.

Most of the decor and equipment came from the "Bi-Wise" Drug Store in Friona and dates back to 1953. This includes the bar, soda fountain, kitchen equipment, tables and chairs, booths and other fixtures.

The McIntoshes built the drive-in themselves, including reupholstering and restoring all of the furniture and equipment.

The McIntoshes searched antique shops, auctions and flea markets to obtain a lot of the things.

Vonnie says that she wanted to do something like this since she was 15. She has worked in the drive-in business since she was a teen.

The McIntoshes said the place got its name from Billy's old hangout in Kentucky. It too was called the "Chat N Chew."

The McIntoshes plan to have old-fashioned drinks and snacks, like the vanilla Coke, fizzes, sodas, cherry limes, lemonade, banana splits and sundaes.

They also plan to offer homemade foods, Mexican Food, and old-fashioned hamburgers.

The restaurant will seat 36 people. There will be call-in service, window service and car hop service. All of the help will dress in the 50's era clothing.

The cook, Cecilia Chavis, has 15 years of experience in the fast food business. The McIntoshes plan to have activities for different age groups, including a "Sock Hop."

One of the main attractions at the grand opening May 2 will be an "Antique Car Show" with cars coming from throughout the area, including Lubbock, Amarillo and Clovis.

Parade lasted 4½ minutes

(Editor's note: Loretta Gonzales, the Texico girl spending a year in school in the Philippines as part of a Rotary exchange program, will be writing letters for publication every couple of weeks.)

Dear Texico and Farwell,

Hi! Hope everything is fine in Texico and Farwell. Here in the Philippines things are back to normal.

Just recently, I spent a week in the province of Ilocos, which is where ex-president Marcos lived during his childhood. A province is split up into barrios which are usually very "laid back." Knowing this I was somewhat hesitant about going because in most cases there is no electricity; people use an outdoor pump for water; and above all no fans. However, there are also plenty of the minor drawbacks such as mosquitos, food and unclean water. It was an invitation and I was obliged to go.

My host parents had also grown up in the barrio Agoo La Union, which is in Ilocos, and wanted me to view a native fiesta in their barrio, so I went. Surprisingly, it wasn't at all what I had seen in other barrios or provinces I had been to. The barrio was modern and had pretty much what you needed to lead a fairly easy life. When I say modern I mean "Third World" modern. I was told all of this was due to the fact that Marcos had grown up in Ilocos. As a result he had the roads paved; the stores weren't shacks; and the water was clean. They even had a museum, and one of the oldest and most beautiful churches I've seen. Oh, and, of course, they had an Imelda Garden.

LORETTA GONZALES

The Fiesta of San Jose and San Juaquin consisted of a mini-parade that featured nine beauty contestants along with other parade entries. The entire parade lasted about 4½ minutes. Afterwards there was the beauty contest which was modeled after the Miss U.S.A. pageants with native dancers done by the children of the barrio during intermission.

In previous years during the swimsuit portion the contestants were only allowed to wear shorts. This year they were given the opportunity to wear swimsuits, and the crowd went wild. Everyone crowded around the little stage so tight I could barely breathe. In the barrios, events of this nature are extremely rare.

The following day there were parlor games and bingo for the public to enjoy. In the midafternoon there was a mass honoring the two saints with a dance afterwards.

I really enjoyed myself, and believe it or not, I met over 75% of the people living in Agoo. I was treated like a queen, and I enjoyed every bit of it.

During the month of March I also went to an Opera at the CCP, the Cultural Center of the Philippines, which starred Irma Ponce Enrile Potenciano. She is the daughter of the former Minister of National Defense, Ponce Enrile. I have never witnessed an actual opera so it was - I guess you could say interesting!

I also was invited to go on a yacht and tour Manila Bay by night. The tour was actually a dancing party, so I guess you could say I'm living life to its fullest. Although my experiences here have been really special, I can't wait to come home and see all of you again.

Mahal,
Loretta

Home day care improved through study

An Extension Service pilot program has shown that Texas women in the business of caring for children in their homes can improve their knowledge and skills through a study-at-home course.

Thirteen Parmer county home day care providers were among 500 in Texas who participated in the study conducted by the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) home economics program.

Those participating were Sally Whitesides, Lyna Coleman, Evelyn Goldsmith, and Carrie Garms of Farwell; Susan Kerby, Ella Jo Stormes, and Vida McKay of Bovina; and Frances Fallwell, Pearl McLean, Sue Sutter, Debbie Gregory, Debbie Stevens and Janice Stowers of Friona.

"Concern over the quality of child care is a statewide issue that prompted development of an Extension program to reach these family day care providers with education and training," said Janette Pierce, Parmer County Extension Home Economist. "Reaching family day care workers is difficult, since they work all day and have family responsibilities in the evening," she added.

Tests before and after the four week study period determined providers' knowledge improved in all the child care subject areas. Seventy-six percent of providers in Texas achieved a final score that qualified them for three continuing education units from Texas A&M University and 72% made one or more changes in child care practices. Parmer county was 1 of 11 counties in which providers formed a network among themselves after participating in the program.

More than 708,000 Texas children are in licensed or registered day care and it's estimated that a large number are cared for in facilities not currently registered. With a majority of children under 3 in family day care homes, upgrading the quality of child care will have a long term impact on the future of our state.

According to Pierce, TAEX is now in the process of implementing the program throughout the state. It may be offered again in Parmer County as early as June. Interested people should contact home economist, Janette Pierce, at the Parmer County Extension Office in Farwell for more information.

Meeting reset

The Texico Booster Club meeting has been rescheduled for April 13 at the Texico Ed Complex.

Sunday School class meets

The Friendship Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church of Farwell met on April 6 in the home of Estellene Billington with Dorothy Donaldson as co-hostess.

President Julia Symcox was in charge of the business meeting. Estellene Billington opened with a prayer.

Edith Crawford gave the secretary and treasurer's reports.

Bonnie Williams gave the devotional, "Trust in the Lord." Ruby Edwards dismissed in prayer.

Ladies present were, Ruby Edwards, Gladys Hardage, Sallie Chandler, Edwina Owen, Bonnie Williams, Julia Symcox, Pearl Gerie, Elsie Hardage, Irene Stephens, Elsie Tarr, Edith Crawford, hostess, Estellene Billington and co-hostess, Dorothy Donaldson.

Philippine slides shown

Visiting in the home of Bro. and Mrs. Harvey Hudnall of Farwell last week were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Warrick, and J.W. from San Antonio. They also visited Mrs. Cordelia Heath.

They later went to Portales to see friends they knew when they lived there in the 1970's. They also visited with Mrs. Warrick's sister, Mrs. Sue Harmon.

One afternoon, Warrick's mother, Mrs. Jennie Warrick of Tucumcari, came to visit. That night Bro. Hudnall showed slides he had taken while on a crusade in the Philippines in February. He was in revivals at two churches during the crusade. Jennie Warrick spent the night with Mrs. Heath.

On the Warrick's return trip home, they stopped in Lubbock and spent the night with friends they knew when they lived in Lubbock.

There was snow on the ground and freezing temperatures while the Warricks were in Farwell. They were glad to get home where the temperature was 85°.

Recipe of Week

CARMEL CRISPIES

- 1 cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup light corn syrup
- ½ cup butter
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup pecans, chopped
- ½ cup almonds, sliced
- ½ cup peanuts
- ½ cup walnuts, chopped
- 3 to 4 cups crispy rice cereal

Combine sugar, corn syrup, and butter in an 8-inch glass measure. Bring to a boil on high setting in microwave; then boil for 2½ minutes. Remove and stir in baking soda, cream of tartar, and salt; stir to mix well. In a double-lined brown paper bag, lightly spray bottom inside with a spray pan coat. Place nuts and cereal in bag. Pour hot caramel mixture over nuts and cereal; mix and shake well to coat evenly. Place bag with mixture in microwave and cook 2 minutes, shaking well after each minute. Spread on baking pan and allow to cool. Cut into bars to serve.

Farwell Convalescent Center Chit Chat

BY LYNNE GANN
Activity Director

Our summer activity calendar is in the planning stages. Some of the ideas included:

- *Trips to the zoo.
- *Rides in the country.
- *Picnics on the patio.
- *Cuddling cute animals who may visit the center.
- *A walk in the park or around the block.
- *Planning a flower bed.
- Planting, care of beds.

In order for us to do the things listed above we have to have helpers. Someone to help push a wheelchair, hold a hand, or simply be there to help residents get in and out of the cars or van.

National Volunteer Week is April 26th thru May 2nd. We are Blessed that our Volunteers help lasts all year!

We appreciate all the time and patience you had in summers past. May we ask for maybe a couple of hours a month of your time. It's worth more than gold - It's a smile - a hug - a Thank You for an afternoon otherwise spent sitting in a chair. Please contact me - Lynne Gann.

How to keep record books

"Record Books again?" It's that time of year to start working on record books.

This year the Pleasant Hill Pals are ready. At their meeting March 23, Bruce Hendricks and Shannon Wootton talked about record books. They talked about the skill of putting them together and the satisfaction when they finished. They also talked about the awards. They said, "Remember, be neat! No one likes a messy record book."

They also discussed the two kinds of covers one can get for their record books. It was noted that there are two kinds, a yellow paper cover and a green hard back cover. The yellow ones are free, but the green one cost $1.

The boys also talked about the order in which one organizes record books. It was noted that the information that is put into the record books is important and that one should be sure to use pictures.

The youths were told that they should write in their record books any talks or demonstrations they had given and how many people were present at the meeting. They told the youths to write down the exhibits and what place they received and to write the goals, money spent on projects and things they learned through exhibits and their projects.

Also included should be tours, judging trips and special responsibilities. Clippings should be cut from the paper and shingled to a hard type of paper. One should underline their name in red. They said that tabs and dividers were a must and one should always keep records current. The main point they asked the youths to remember was "Don't Wait," but get the book done early.

The members also discussed 4-H Week April 6-11.

Terry Whitener, Kelly Cooper and Dara Jenkins met to plan the club's window display. The county theme this year is "4-H-Picture The Possibilities." The display will be in Woody's Department Store in Clovis.

The club discussed having a box supper April 11. The Pleasant Hill Pals are responsible for the decorations and cleanup. The box supper is a major fund raiser for the club. The children's meal will cost $5 and under, and the adult's meals will be $20 and under.

At the next meeting, the first year members will recite the 4-H pledge and every member will be asked to pay their $2 dues. It was decided that the dues would be counted as a club fund raiser.

The members discussed the "Senior This Is Your Life," program. They also discussed the concession stand duty for the livestock show at the fair grounds.

Rodeo participants were asked to remember the first-aid programs April 4 at the fairgrounds.

After the meeting, Chad Barnes led games and the Barneses served refreshments.

Losing-weight programs set

Are you losing your shape? Worried about your weight? Regaining the weight you lost?

If so, the program "Be Fit - Not Fat" can help you, says Janette Pierce, Parmer County Extension Agent - Home Economics. She will show you the "whys" and "hows" of being fit and not fat. The four-part series can help you to:

- *Learn to choose a balanced diet of lower calorie foods.

- *Identify changes to make in your life.

- *Learn about fitness.

- *Eat out and not gain weight.
- *Maintain control.

Pierce announces a series of free four programs on April 13, 20, 27 and May 4 at the Farwell Community Center. Each day there will be a program for the working person at 12:15 to 12:45. Bring a brown bag lunch, refreshments will be provided. The same program will again be offered each day at 2 p.m.

For more information, interested persons should call the Parmer County Extension Office at 481-3619.

Auxiliary donates $1,000 toward nurses' station

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Farwell Convalescent Center met April 6.

Among the things discussed were the Bake Sale, noting that at the next sale more items will be brought in order not to run out.

Plans were made for projects for the next three months which included providing an Easter Lilly for the Chapel, Easter Eggs and baskets for residents, corsages and boutonnieres for Mother's and Father's days, a cookout on May 10 for residents, and an Ice Cream Social for residents on June 23. Mary Mesman asked that any members having an illness or death in their family to contact her.

Several new projects were discussed. The Center has been doing a great deal of remodeling in order to make the family more comfortable. Needed is a new nurses' station, which would be somewhat smaller, creating more room in the lobby. The Auxiliary voted to donate $1,000 toward the purchase of the new station.

It was also voted that money from the memorial fund would be given to brighten things with new wall hangings and plants to be purchased as renovations in different areas are completed. Plans are being made for the future to help with the purchase of a new, large-load, heavy-duty washer and new drier for the laundry.

A Cornbread and Beans Dinner with homemade cobbler is in the works to help raise more money for the nurses' station and laundry appliances, to be held at the Community Center.

The Beauty Shop needs more volunteers. Anyone interested in helping (you don't have to be an Auxiliary member) is asked to contact Nan Preston. They especially need volunteers who can give permanents.

Nan also mentioned that anyone wishing to use the Beauty Shop to give a relative resident a perm is welcomed too, free of charge, if they bring their own perm. If the Beauty Shop provides one, there will be a $7.50 charge.

The next meeting will be July 6 and 4 p.m. at the Center.

Williams named Student of the Month

Clay Williams of Farwell has been named Student of the Month by the Socorro, N.M., Lions Club.

The award is based on community and campus service, academic excellence, and other accomplishments or awards. Williams is a senior computer science major at New Mexico Tech.

Williams, the son of Don and Maxine Williams of 901 4th St., is a 1981 graduate of Farwell High School.

In addition to maintaining an overall grade point average of 3.88, Williams is vice-president of the math honor society and a resident assistant in a dorm. He enjoys his job as resident assistant because "I like to be able to help with the problems people encounter."

Recently, Williams helped organize a Study Contracting and Methods group (SCAM) at Tech. He explains that the group is to help students who may be having academic problems but who don't need tutoring. Students who participate in SCAM sign a contract to study with a partner on a regular basis.

Williams will be graduating from Tech in May. He plans on continuing his studies at Tech on a part-time basis. Besides working on his master's in computer science, Williams will be employed by M.I.T. at the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico.

Karen Lovelace goes from hobbyist to florist shop owner

Karen Lovelace is the owner of "Karen's Special Occasions" and has ran this business for about five months after buying it from Joe and Gwen Hughes.

Mrs. Lovelace previously worked as a dental receptionist for Dr. J.R. Ivin.

A Farwell High graduate, Mrs. Lovelace has three daughters, Tammi, 23, Traci, 20 and Kristi, 16. Kristi attends Farwell High School.

Mrs. Lovelace says that she has loved doing crafts, paintings, and flower arranging as a hobby for years. When asked if she would like to buy the florist shop, she knew that was what she really wanted to do. Mrs. Lovelace's skills God-given natural talents and she has not received any formal education for these skills until now.

She has taken some community courses on design at Eastern New Mexico University in Clovis and is taking courses in Weddings and Design.

Mile Medley Relay - Jeff Actkinson, Rubio, Dickey Sosa and Sanchez, fourth, 4:12.

220 yard dash - Roy Perales, fourth, 25.28.

2 mile run - Sanchez, third, 11:40.53.

Mile relay - Woods, Chisom, Perales and Lara, second, 3:59.00.

The Farwell boys competed against 16 other teams.

The Farwell Varsity girls placed 12th with 6 points.

Here are the results:
Long jump - Dana White, third, 12 feet 11 inches.

100 yard dash - Dana White, third, 12.63.

The Farwell girls competed against 15 teams.

Coach Rex Cumpton said, "Times improved greatly since our last meet. We were not able to run last week because of the weather and workout weather has not been very good. This group has really been working hard and you can tell it by the meet results. Except for a couple of unfortunate events, we would have won the meet with our boys. We run at Melrose on the 11th and the district meet is the 16th."

Two marriage licenses were issued by the Parmer County Clerk's office last week.

Marriage licenses were issued to Jimmy Henry Aragon and Norma Jeanne Cooper, and Randy Lee Richards and Glenda Kathryn Yohn.

Spotlight on Business

rangements, fresh plants, blooming plants and some special orders. She also uses her own craft ideas in creating her arrangements and has balloon bouquets.

Mrs. Lovelace says that she does most of the work herself, spending 10 hours at work each day.

She says that she gets extra help during busy times and holidays from Diane Actkinson. Robin Gregory helped her during the Valentine season and Michelle Stover makes her deliveries. Mrs. Lovelace says there are a lot of times that she couldn't have managed if it had not been for the help of Gwen Hughes. "She's always there to pitch in when I need her," said Mrs. Lovelace.

Underground water situation improves

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 has recorded another first in its 36-year history, documenting an average net rise of more than one-half foot in the water levels of observation wells penetrating the Ogallala Formation throughout the District's 5.2 million acre service area.

The High Plains Water District recorded a "0" average net change in the water levels of observation wells through its 15-county service area from 1985-1986. The recorded net rise this year further indicates a reverse in the trend of water-level changes from a decline in water levels to stabilization of the aquifer.

In Parmer County, the 97 observation wells measured show an average annual change from 1987 to 1987 of 0.38 of a foot decline. The 10-year average annual change from 1977 to 1987 shows a decline of 2.00 feet. The five-year average annual change from 1982 to 1987 shows a decline of 1.29 feet.

Throughout the District's service area, the five-year average annual change from 1982 to 1987 shows a total decline of one foot, which equals an average annual decline of 0.20 of a foot. The 10-year average change in water levels from 1977 to 1987 throughout the District's service area shows a total decline of 7.4 feet. This equals an average annual decline of 0.74 of a foot to the five-year average annual decline of 0.20 of a foot shows a 73 percent reduction in the decline rate.

"The most important thing about a zero net change, such as that we had last year, or a net rise, such as what we have this year, in the measured water levels is that the amount of water in the aquifer is not changing significantly. The aquifer is stabilizing," states Don McReynolds, Director of the Geohydrologic Division at the High Plains Water District.

"Most of the time, the amount of water-level change is a direct result of the amount of pumping that has occurred," notes McReynolds, "As long as the agricultural economy remains in its present condition, it is likely that this trend of decreasing declines will continue."

Texico health fair held

The Texico Educational Complex and the Elementary School were abuzz with activity April 3 when the school sponsored a Free Health Fair in conjunction with their kindergarten registration.

Approximately 33 pre-school age children attended the Health Fair Activities which included screening for kindergarten pre-readiness, physical development and vision. Health and immunization records were reviewed and tours through the Sertoma Hearing Van were sponsored.

"We had an exceptionally good response to our Child Find Health Fair," stated James Pierce, superintendent. "We would like to thank RCC-6, the Sertomas, the Texico Special Education Department, other faculty and staff members and the students for their assistance with our Health Fair. We would also like to thank our patrons and other parents for coming out and joining us."

George Herrington, elementary school principal said, "We had a good turn out for kindergarten registration. A pre-registration survey in October indicated approximately 24 prospective kindergartners. During Friday's registration, 14 were enrolled."

Herrington urges parents to come in and register their kindergartners even if they missed Friday's registration.

We wanted electricity but nobody would serve. Then...

Deaf Smith Electric Delivered!

And believe me it was the brightest day of our lives. Our rural area was not considered profitable for electric service and we had to make-do the best way we could. Then Deaf Smith Electric delivered power to our place and our lives were transformed.

We own the system, we enjoy a marvelous electric service, and we share in $5½ million in capital credits. Deaf Smith was, is and will be the greatest friend possible for rural people.

If you want to see the future, take a look at the past.

Camp, Chris Garcia, Amanda Riley and Logan Nicolas.

Funds raised for heart unit

Seventy-eight students raised $1,720.25 for the American Heart Association and improved their health at the same time.

The students, under the direction of Judy Howard at Farwell Elementary, raised the money by finding sponsors who would donate money for each minute the students jumped rope. Jumping rope improves cardiovascular conditions. The top six students were Klay Camp, Logan Nicolas, JoAnna Anzuldua, Amanda Johnson, Chris Garcia, and Amanda Riley. Camp received a trophy for raising the largest amount of money. The fifth grade raised the most money of the classes that participated.

Easter to be celebrated

Several churches in the area will celebrate the Easter holidays with services scheduled this week and next.

The Texico Baptist Church will have a Passover Service April 12 from 5:30 to 8 p.m., MDT. A nursery will be provided and everyone from 2 up will be asked to participate.

Texico Baptist will also observe Easter with an Easter Contata April 19 at 6:30 p.m. with David Gilliland, the church music director, directing the adult and youth choirs.

The Farwell Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church will have a Catacomb service on Maunday Thursday, April 16.

The Farwell First Baptist Church will have Good Friday services April 17 at 7 p.m.

The Farwell Baptist and Methodist churches will have a joint "Sunrise Service" April 19 at the Farwell City Park with Rev. Pat Riley directing. Doughnuts and coffee will be served following the service.

The Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church will host its annual Easter Egg hunt April 12. They will have a joint communion service, Maundy, Thursday, April 16, with the Bovina Methodist Church. A special Easter Sunrise service will be observed April 19 with breakfast served afterwards, and church services at 9 a.m.

Team roping to be sponsored

The Farwell Arena Association held its first meeting April 6.

They voted to have a membership drive and hamburger fry April 12 at 2 p.m. CDT at the Farwell Arena. A team roping, barrel races and egg hunt will be sponsored by the association April 19 at the arena with the egg hunt scheduled at 1:30 p.m. CDT.

Practice roping will begin April 15 at 8 p.m. Members may rope all they can rope for $5. For non-members, the cost will be $10.

The association has a Play Day scheduled for all the kids, whether they have a horse or not, May 31 at the arena. For more information, call 482-3210.

Cookies donated

In conjunction with National Library Week last week, Tasha Rucker, Paige Lewis and Codie Burch, members of the Texico FHA/Herio Organization, made and donated 20 dozen cookies to the Clovis Carver Library.

This was one of the FHA's community projects.

Christian elected

The Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe held its annual Stockholders meeting March 31.

Donald Christian and Jimmy Pitcock were elected to the board of directors for 3 year terms. Other directors are James Glaze, Jim Claunch and William Bromowsky.

The Federal Land Bank will reduce its interest rates for long term mortgages on June 1, according to William C. Liles, President of the Muleshoe Association. The Land Bank's new variable rates will be 10.25 percent on farm and ranch loans and 10.50 percent on rural residence loans. The decrease represents a one-half of one percent reduction on farm and ranch loans and a three-quarters of one percent reduction on rural residence loans.

Liles also announced a new loan program he said the Federal Land Bank plans to initiate within the next 60 days. The program carries an even lower interest rate for loans to buy rural real estate. He added that the lower interest rate will be available only for a limited time.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe has almost $29 million in loans outstanding to approximately 560 farmers and ranchers who are Land Bank members in a two-county region including Bailey and Farmer Counties.

FSB announces stock dividends

James F. Gibson, President of First Savings Bank, announced that the bank's Board of Directors declared a $0.25 per share cash dividend and a 25% stock dividend on the bank's common stock. The cash and stock dividends will be payable May 22, 1987 to shareholders of record as of May 15, 1987.

This is the bank's first dividend payment since converting from mutual to stock form in August 1986. The bank is primarily engaged in the business of attracting deposits from the general public and using such deposits, together with other funds, to make investments and loans. At Dec. 31, 1986, First Savings Bank had assets of $183 million and three offices located in Clovis and Portales.

The bank's common stock is traded in the over-the-counter market on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System (NASDAQ) under the Symbol "FSBC".

Ski trip taken

Eighteen United Methodist Youth and four sponsors traveled to Taos, N.M., March 20-22 for a ski trip. The sponsors were Mark and Robin Howard; Charles Christian and Greg Howard.

The group left Friday for what turned out to be a fun-filled trip and arrived home Sunday at midnight.
