Owning One's Own Home is the First Step on the Road to Happiness and Prosperity

ROGERS WINS IN A CLASSY GAME WITH LITTLEFIELD SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon there was a fine ball game played on local grounds between the Rogers, New Mexico team and the Littlefield organization. The final score was 9-6 in favor of Rogers. It was one of the best games of the season, several classy plays being pulled off by members of both teams.

H. Mueller and Britton composed the battery for the locals, while Carey and Miller controlled the destiny of the visitors. Steen from Littlefield, and Creek from New Mexico, were umpires.

Littlefield ran in two scores in the first inning, and it was not until the fifth that the visitors were able to make a home touch. The locals held Rogers to 6-4 until the ninth inning. In this inning the visitors got to Mueller for 5 home runs. Littlefield started to rally in the ninth, but poor base running defeated their objective.

The playing of these two teams revealed their evenly matched qualities. The attendance was good, for which the local boys are indeed grateful. The gate receipts were sufficient to meet the necessary expenses.

Another game has been scheduled with Rogers at Portales, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 1.

Olton To Play Here

A ball game between Olton and Littlefield is slated for next Saturday, to be played on local grounds.

Olton will be here with a strong team, and a tight game is anticipated. The last game played at Olton, while unsatisfactory to both teams, yet it revealed the similarity of strength and efficiency of both teams.

Local fans desiring to see a good game should not miss this one.

The Jug Club

Magzie was hostess to the U. G. club Thursday afternoon. A short business session was followed by a social hour. Delicate refreshments were served by Mutt, Jeff, Mrs. Katzenjamer, Hans, Fritz, Mary Jane, Ernest, Brown, Skeezix, Tillie the Towel, Jiggs, Helpful Henry, Abner the Agent and Ignatz.

It is hoped to have another joyable meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Jiggs.

Baptist Revival

The revival services of the Missionary Baptist church begin next Sunday morning, meeting being conducted by Rev. J. W. Saffle, of Plainview.

School Per Capita $12.00

The State Board of Education by unanimous vote has fixed the per capita apportionment for the public schools for the ensuing scholastic year at $12, based on a total of 1,255,000 scholastics, which is a decrease of 32,000 over last year's total.

Last year's per capita apportionment was originally fixed at $10 but this was increased in February to $13 when the Legislature passed an emergency appropriation of $3,000,000 for the public schools.

To Vote School Tax

Petition is being circulated among the voters of School District No. 5, in Cochran county, which includes Ligon which has for its purpose the supplementing State School funds by a local tax amounting to 50 cents per $100 property valuation.

It is reported the petition is receiving very favorable consideration by the citizens of that district.

Lin Barbecue Postponed

The barbecue and dance slated for August 27 has been postponed indefinitely on account of the Tec. celebration to be held in Lubbock August 28.

New Settlers Arrived

W. Kelsey and family arrived this week from Runnels county. They made the trip through their auto, shipping a carload of household goods and farm machinery ahead of them. Mr. Kelsey recently purchased a fine tract of 177 acres just south of Littlefield. He is camping on the land now, and will put up a building, barn, dig a well and make other improvements as fast as he can obtain labor.

John Barry and sons, Pierce Harrold, of Hico, arrived this week with a carload of household goods and farming implements and are moving their belongings onto the three laborers' land recently purchased of J. Brannon in Bailey county. They will at once build a house, dig a well and make other improvements looking forward to establishing their new home.

Various and numerous are the ways people become attracted to Littlefield and vicinity. Last week Peter Handley, hailing from North Texas, passed through this town and was so favorably struck with the quality of its location and the quantity of its development that, upon returning home, he wrote A. P. Dugan for literature, maps, etc., descriptive of the vicinity. Needless to say, he received them on return mail.

The Littlefield Grain Co. have a carload of hogs on the Fort Worth market this week.

Chris Coler has finished the interior redecorating of the Presbyterian manse, and is this week applying paint to the exterior.

R. W. Jones, editor of the Junter, Texas, Star, was a Littlefield prospector this week. This is Mr. Jones' first trip to Littlefield, and he is very enthusiastic regarding its future possibilities.

Coolidge Boys First Children in White House Since Young Roosevelts

With the arrival of the Coolidge boys, the White House echoes youthful voices for the first time since the young Roosevelts left the executive mansion. Above—President Coolidge, with Mrs. Coolidge and their sons, Calvin, Jr., and John.

Jupiter Pluvius Paid Welcomed Visit to Littlefield Friday Eve.

Friday afternoon and night Littlefield and vicinity were visited with a fine rain, estimated at between three and four inches. For the first three hours it came down in sheets and torrents, then having disgorged the distended clouds of the superabundance of condensed vapor, it settled to a steady down pour lasting three or four hours longer.

For several weeks the need of rainfall has been more or less felt in various sections of Lamb county. Most of the cotton has continued to flourish during the dry weather, but some of the feed stuff had begun to show signs of needing moisture.

A week ago the air was filled with flying dust, but today the mud balls upon the horses feet and spatters across the fliver windshield. A week ago the canyons were dry, but now they are standing in water, and the bull frog never ceases his melodious chime. Fields plowed and dusty have suddenly become green and fragrant, and the farmer, gazing out at his back door, smiles in perfect content.

From the barnyard is heard the lowing of cattle, the squealing of pigs, and the contented cackle of "biddie." The cowboy yell and the Indian war-whoop, which once broke the deathlike stillness of these South Plains have given place to the song of the milkmaid and the whistle of the plow boy.

Where once the coyote relentlessly pursued the jack rabbit and cottontail, the faithful collie now drives home the cows. The great blue dome which during the past few weeks stretched o'er head unbroken by a single cloud, became hazy and obscure. The brown and grey mottled carpet of grass stretched across these prairies and tacked down here and there with a "eat-claw" or mesquite bush, has suddenly turned to emerald green, and the hot breath of the plains, now tempered by the cooling ozone is fragrant with odors sweeping out from fields of alfalfa and blossoming orchards.

New settlers out here from "back east" shade their eyes and look up toward the heavens just as they did in days of yore. The weather is the chief object of conversation nowadays—it is responsible for all these delightful changes—it has rained. Jupiter Pluvius, stopping off for a few days visit, has left behind his richest blessings, amounting to multiplied thousands of dollars, and he is heartily appreciated.

Even the merchants smile and look content, because they know there will be more goods to sell since the fine rain of last week. The man with the long face now wears a smile that his, h will not shade. The doleful

Cogdill—Morris

The Leader is in receipt of formal announcement of the marriage of Ben F. Cogdill to Miss Fay Morris, which occurred at Post, Texas, August 14.

Mr. Cogdill is one of the representative business men of Littlefield, being local manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., lumber yard. He has been a citizen of our town only about two months, but during this brief time has won for himself a high place of esteem in local circles.

The bride is one of the talented and popular young ladies of Post City, the marriage being the culmination of several years ripening acquaintance between the contracting parties.

They will be at home this week in Littlefield, occupying the bungalow soon to be vacated by F. A. Butler upon the completion of his own home.

The Leader takes particular joy in joining the many friends of Mr. Cogdill in their best wishes of happiness and prosperity to the newlyweds.

Model Chix Farm

E. C. Cundiff has just closed a deal for 44 acres of fine land west of town and adjoining the school house, which he will convert into a model chicken farm.

Mr. Cundiff now has one of the finest flocks of birds to be found anywhere on the South Plains, specializing principally at present in Rhode Island Reds. On the new place he will have modern hatcheries and other up-to-date equipment for accommodating his purposes, carrying a line of the most popular breeds of chickens.

With the Movies

At the school house Saturday night will be shown a feature reel of Wallace Reid's, entitled "Excuse My Dust,"—five reels of go-getting interest. Also, a travelog, "Along the Rio Grande."

prophets of calamity have suddenly taken their departure. The reputation of the South Plains country has been sustained. Everyone is happy—it has rained.

Kitchen Warming

It was a large crowd that assembled in the basement of the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening for the "kitchen warming." The admission was some article of use and value in the new kitchen recently completed, and the articles received were all useful and represented considerable financial outlay.

Basement croquet and other popular indoor games were enjoyed by the guests. A feature of the evening was some fine male quartette music rendered by local talent. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Sunday School Party

Monday afternoon Mrs. H. J. Jordan entertained the members of her Sunday school class in the Presbyterian church basement. There were twelve of the kiddies present, and they had the time of their lives.

It was a "sense-able dark eyed party." The youngsters being blindfolded in a row and instructed to taste, touch and smell of the good things prepared by the teacher in the refreshment line. Candle races, trip to Jerusalem and other enjoyable games were played.

Give Birthday Party

Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Timian, the J. U. G. girls gave a birthday party to the honor of Miss Lena Timian. Aside from about 10 "jugs" being present, there were also Mesdames Sam Bell, W. C. Squires, W. C. Lichte and A. A. Timian.

After an hour of celebrating the anniversary event, delicious ice cream, fruit and caramel cake was served the guests.

Editor Missed Service

The editor offers his sincere apology for not being able to fill his announced appointment at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning. Friday afternoon he received a telegram announcing the serious condition of Mrs. Mitchell, who that morning had undergone an operation and was then in the Baptist hospital at Waco. The message was of such nature he felt necessary to respond at once, and drove to Sweetwater that night in order to catch the train for Waco. We are glad to report that Mrs. Mitchell is now out of danger, recovering nicely and hopes to return home before school starts. Perhaps we may have an opportunity at some future date to meet the congregation that responded so generously last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shields were in Plainview Monday.

Indications now are that the majority of Littlefield will turn out to the Lubbock celebration the 28th, and that this noted seaport will become a closed event during that day.

An informal bunch of very formal young people, some 35 in number, enjoyed a swim last Monday evening, in one of the numerous lakes adorning the prairies surrounding Littlefield. Following the dip about 20 of them repaired to the Douglas home to enjoy dancing and music.

You Cannot Serve Truth and Repose, Because Truth is Ever Ahead

The Calling of Coolidge

Harding has gone. Coolidge has come. Harding's humanity to man has made countless thousands mourn his passing. No kinder man ever occupied the White House. No gentler soul ever left his mate.

John H. Perry

The eyes of the Nation now turn to Coolidge. The people wish him well. They pray his stewardship may make for peace, happiness and prosperity. They will judge him by his acts.

What sort of a man is he? Will he be nominated by his party next spring?

Coolidge is cool, calm, calculating. He is honest. He is stern. He is intensely ambitious. A college graduate of fair ability, thro' a period of law with a small amount of practice and small fees. He turned to politics and public office. He has held office most of his years since maturity.

Born a poor boy on a farm, he is a typical Yankee. How will America accept him?

He is an admirable listener. His greatest gift is silence.

What a part it has played in the history of American politics. Charles Hughes would have been elected President had he not made a speaking tour and "talked himself out" of the election.

Woodrow Wilson, during a period of profound silence, was judged by millions of all nations as a superman—and then he began to talk—and an "idol of the universe" was shattered.

Warren H. Gaudy, politically wise, knew that if he stayed close by his own "front porch," and spoke little, that he would defeat Cox overwhelmingly, and he did.

Calvin Coolidge since his election to the Vice Presidency has strayed far from his confines one time. Out to a vast agricultural fair in Minnesota. After remaining about ten minutes of speech the crowd decided they didn't want to hear speeches, and rudely voiced their demands "to trot out the ponies."

Doubtless Coolidge profited politically by that experience. The only thing that will outweigh silence for President Coolidge will be the actual "delivery of the goods," as required by a more and more exacting public. And here's a few of the things about which they will want "to be satisfied."

What are you going to do to stop the threatened coal strike and another winter of freezing families?
What are you going to do to help the farmer who has to pay profiteering prices for what he buys, and sells his products for less than the cost of production?
Are you going to advocate America's entry into a League of Nations or a World Court?

Upon his action on these and dozens of other public questions will depend the Republican nomination of Calvin Coolidge next spring, or at least, his election or defeat in the fall of 1924.

The sixteen millions of good American readers who see and scan this article in this and several thousand sister papers marketing every state in the Union will watch and wait and judge and vote according to the dictates of their conscience—and mayhaps—the wishes of their wives.

Good Roads and Competition

Community building is beset with more puzzling problems than one might suppose. Perhaps one of the most difficult of solution being the problem created by the extension of good roads.

The world admits good roads spell the development of America, the spread of education and a better understanding among neighbors. There has been much difference of opinion, however, as to whether villages are first built by stores attracting residents or by increasing residents attracting stores. Whichever theory may be correct the fact remains that the growth of any community depends very largely on the prosperity of its trading section.

Some villages are so situated geographically that good roads simply open up an easy avenue for trade to go out of town. Then there is an element of danger in such thoroughfares which must be balanced of course by the advantages derived by the farmer.

The lesson of course is obvious. The extension of good roads never can be halted, nor is it wise that they should be. But their building means that local merchants must come to know more of merchandising, that they must take the home-town folks more into their confidence and show them conclusively they can trade at home advantageously.

The competition in the small town is not between store-keeper and storekeeper, but between town and village, between city and town. The little fellow has his place, but he must awake to his responsibility.

Philosophy triumphs easily over past evils and future evils; but present evils triumph over it.—Rochefoucauld.

It is the part of a wise man to keep himself today for tomorrow, and not to venture all his eggs in one basket.—Don Quixote.

DAY OF GRACE

The day of grace, or the period of grace, is that period marked by the Cross of Calvary and the morning of the resurrection. Grace began to pour out its stream of God's favor and benevolence on Calvary's brow, when Christ died for men.

When the angel shouts, the dead in Christ shall rise first, and on the morning of the resurrection, when Christ begins His reign, the day of grace will end. Between these two events the Church is operating, presenting the gospel of grace to a lost world. Not one knows when Christ is coming. Therefore every one in the Church should work incessantly; work while it is day; work while the day of grace lingers; work while opportunity affords; work while life lasts. The period of time in which we can work is very short. 27-116 of the average Christian is forty-five years. He must do his best work in the last twenty. When the Christian dies his opportunity to be useful is gone. If he has not preached and worked during that period, then he must pass into the presence of Christ with empty hands, unfinished work, and lost souls who might have been touched by him. This is a very sad picture, but how much more sad is the picture of the sinner dying before he is saved. His day of grace ended in darkness. There is no chance for him beyond the grave.

The general period of grace will end with the coming of Christ; but each sinner's day of grace ends the moment his breath leaves his body. He will never be given another chance. He has sinned against light, against God, against opportunity, against the Church, against himself. He is dead, lost, damned; his day of grace ended; he neglected to be saved; he is lost. There is no picture in the English language so sad as that.

Turn, sinner, turn; why will you go? God, your maker, who you WERE!

DON'TS FOR MONDAY

Here is a list of don'ts for Monday which seem to have no particular reason for being formed except to break the chain of repetition:
— Pay no bills on Monday.
— Borrow nothing on Monday.
— Keep all you take in on Monday.
— Pay cash for all you buy on Monday.

Woman's Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held Tuesday, Aug. 21, at the home of Mrs. Harry Wiseman. Sept. 4th Mrs. R. D. Burrough will have charge of the lesson, and Mrs. H. Wiseman the devotional service. Mrs. T. L. Tarkington will open her home for that afternoon.
