

Littlefield To Host Highway Convention

Several guests from Colorado, North Dakota, Mexico and Texas are expected to attend the International Parks and Highway 385 Association Convention which gets underway in Littlefield Thursday.

Reservations from those states have already come in to the state Highway 385 Association President Bill Payne, in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Registration will get underway at 2 p.m. Thursday, at the Crescent House Restaurant, and the election of state

U.S. Highway 385 officers will get underway at 4 p.m.

Interested area citizens are invited to attend the three-day meeting.

Registration will again be open at the Crescent House Restaurant at 8 a.m. Friday.

Election of international 385 officers will be conducted at 9 a.m. Friday, followed by a business session and a steak dinner at 12 noon.

Speaker for the noon meal will be

Oscar L. Crain, district engineer of the Texas Highway Department at Lubbock (District 5).

Crain began his career with the Texas highway Department in 1931 as a roadman and later served as an instrumentman and chief paving inspector. In 1936 he became junior resident engineer and in 1941 was promoted to resident engineer. He became assistant district engineer in 1953; district administrative engineer in 1957; and was promoted to the office of district engineer in February, 1958.

Another business session will begin at 1:30 and the afternoon session will adjourn at 4:30.

Closing out the day's activities will be a social hour, which begins at 6:30.

Saturday morning, another business session will begin at 9 a.m., and a noon luncheon will begin at 12.

New officers will meet at 1:30 to discuss plans for the upcoming year.

"Highway 385 is one of the main feeders for tourism through Littlefield," Payne states.

Persons wishing to take out memberships in the organization are asked to contact Payne in the C-C office.

A display of the history of the highway will be on view at the convention. The organization was formed in 1937, when members began trying to get a U.S. number. The number was designated in 1958, and it wasn't until 1965 when the road was completely paved from Canada to Mexico.

MOST CROPS IN GOOD SHAPE

Weather Plagues Farmers

Some replanting of cotton and grain sorghum is underway over the county, but most farmers and farm officials report that the crops are looking exceptionally good for this time of year.

Sudden and spotted clouds to the east and south of Littlefield late Sunday afternoon forced a number of farmers in the Spade and Fieldton areas and to the southeast of Littlefield to replant.

There was some hail damage Sunday, despite efforts to seed the clouds. Some listening to the pilots talk over their multi-band radios said the pilots were having trouble because the clouds were so spotted.

Hail covered the ground in places in the Spade community Sunday evening, making some replanting necessary. A number of farmers said Thursday's high winds blew out freshly-planted acreage and spot planting from blowing dust is area-wide.

Showers Thursday resulted in measurable moisture at several points over the county and some light hail. Littlefield, Anton, Whitharral and other adjoining communities received only a trace of moisture Thursday. But some Otton producers reported half-inch hail stones, and rainfalls of .40 and more.

Springlake and Earth reported .20 of an inch of rain and some marble size hail fell in the Springlake area.

The ASCS office begins its summer measurement service June 5. Eight hundred farmers signed up to have their crops measured before the May 1 deadline. Producers satisfied with the ASCS measurement figures may certify after their crops are measured.

WITH SOME ACTIVE INFLUENCE, Ray Keeling, right, is "persuaded" to buy tickets to the June 6 breakfast, sponsored by the Community Improvement Committee. Dr. Bill Armistead, co-chairman of the committee, also talked him into selling a few too. Tickets may be purchased from several members of the committee, members of "We, The Women", and other interested citizens at $1.25 each.

Stabbing Leads To Arrest Of Five Young Persons

Five young persons have been jailed in connection with a stabbing at an after graduation party at the Littlefield Country Club.

David Cristan, 21, of Littlefield, was stabbed in the chest about 1:30 a.m. Saturday. Cristan was brought to the Littlefield Hospital and hospital attendants notified authorities.

The victim was transferred to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for

Dog, Cat Owners Reminded Of Clinic

Dog and cat owners are reminded that Thursday is the day for a licensing and vaccination clinic in Littlefield.

Dr. Howard M. Head will be in the fire station at the Littlefield City Hall from 1 to 5 p.m. to administer the vaccine. Vaccination will be $3 for each animal.

All dogs within the city limits must be vaccinated and licensed annually. Licensing of female dogs is $3 and licensing of males and spayed females is $2 each. City dog tags will be issued during the clinic.

Persons who live outside the city limits who want to bring their pets in for rabies vaccination only may do so.

treatment of a punctured lung, and hospital personnel listed him in "fair" condition at press time Saturday.

Another Littlefield man, Manuel Rangel, 21, and four Lockney residents were all filed on by Lamb County sheriff's officials in connection with the incident.

The sheriff's office said the stabbing apparently resulted after a "gang" fight erupted outside the Country Club. Sheriff E.D. McNeese said none of those involved were connected with the school, and added that none had any business being there.

The four from Lockney told officers their girl friends invited them. Arrested about 2 a.m. were Arturo Martinez, 17, Rudolfo Martinez, 18, Robert Molina, 19, and David DeLao, 21. Rangel, who was with Cristan when he was stabbed, and believed to be involved in the fight, was questioned by authorities about 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Festivities Days Planning Session Scheduled Tuesday

All clubs and organizations in Lamb County are invited to have a representative attend a planning session for the 1972 Festivities Days Tuesday, May 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the XIT Room of Security State Bank.

Hubert Henry will serve as over-all chairman of this year's Festivities Days.

Organizations are invited to indicate how they plan to participate in this year's activities, and representatives are asked to bring suggestions to be considered.

Girl On Bicycle Struck By Car

A 14-year-old Sudan girl, Cheryl Harvey, is listed in serious condition in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital after being struck by a car while riding her bicycle Friday morning.

The accident occurred two miles north of Sudan on F 303 about 10:30 a.m. Cheryl was riding her bicycle south, and Jerry Wayne Summers of Dimmitt was southbound in his car, and Summers attempted to pass the girl. The driver of the car had crossed the center line of the pavement when the bicycle rider apparently crossed the center line, too, according to Highway Patrolman Weldon Parson. Cheryl and her bicycle and the car collided in the middle of the west bound lane, Parson said.

Absentee Voting To Close Tuesday

Only one day remains for absentee voting in the second primaries.

Absentee voting continues in the county clerk's office in the Lamb County Courthouse through 5 p.m. Tuesday. The clerk's office will be closed all day Monday in observance of Memorial Day.

There are four run-off races on the Democratic ballot: Ralph Yarbrough and Barefoot Sanders for United States senator; Mrs. Frances Farenthold and Dolph Briscoe for governor; Wayne Connally and Bill Hobby for lieutenant governor; and James (Jim) Wilson and Robert S. Calvert for comptroller of public accounts.

There is only one race on the Republican ballot and that is between Al Fay and Hank Grover for governor.

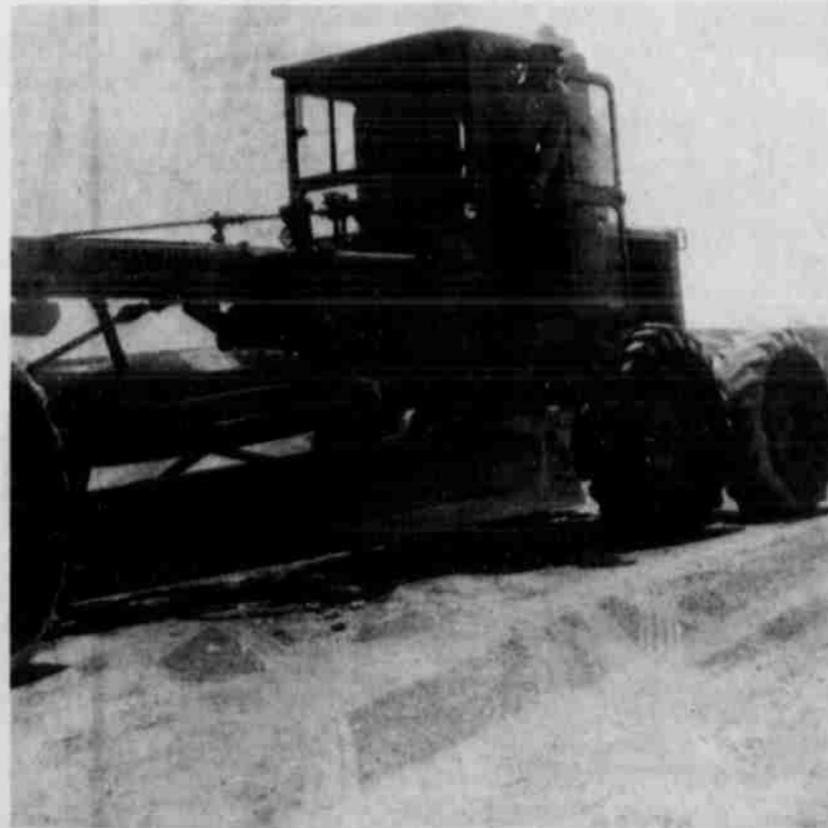

There is a law forbidding voters to switch parties during the primaries. A fine of $200 to $500 can be imposed on any person who voted in the Republican party in the first primary and votes in the Democratic primary in the second primary, or vice versa.

Heroin Hotline Is Toll-Free

Any citizen who knows of anyone who is selling heroin may report information on heroin pushers by making a toll-free telephone call.

President Nixon established the "Heroin Hotline" last month to provide American citizens a quick and convenient way to stop drug traffic. The number to call is (800) 368-5363.

The telephones are manned around the clock, seven days a week, at a center in Washington. Trained operators on duty are under the supervision of experienced Federal agents. Callers need not identify themselves, and the rights of all callers will be fully protected.

J. P. "PICKET" RAY has just about completed the road improvements at Bull Lake following the city of Littlefield take over of the lake. Hundreds are expected to use the lake over the Memorial Day weekend. The new entrance road, complete with a large sign declaring "The City Of Littlefield Welcomes You to Bull Lake" is ready for the first big lake crowd since the lake became a Littlefield city park.

Miss Thompson Weds Gary Lee Britt

Before church decorations of a candelabra with tapers and an arrangement of spring flowers interspersed with greenery, Miss Judy Ann Thompson became the bride of Gary Lee Britt Saturday afternoon, May 20, in First United Methodist Church of Littlefield.

Officiating for the reading of the double ring nuptial vows was Rev. David Hamblin, pastor.

Additional adornments of bows centered with an orchid were alternately placed on the pews of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Thompson of Lubbock are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Britt are the groom's parents.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Charlotte Hinds of Littlefield, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length wedding gown of white antique satin. The bodice of her gown was fashioned with a scooped neckline, full-length puffed sleeves that gathered at the wrists and were edged with wide gathered ruffles of scalloped Venise lace. Her bouffant skirt featured shirred overlays of antique satin bordered with the Venise lace. The chapel-length train of silk illusion was trimmed with the same lace, adorned with tiny seed pearls, and caught to a Christian Dior bow. For "something old" the bride wore a cameo which was worn by her great-grandmother. Her bridal bouquet was a large mum encircled with orchids and gathered scalloped Venise lace.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Lubbock. Following a honeymoon trip to northern New Mexico and Colorado, the couple will reside in Austin, where both will be juniors at the University of Texas.

Property Values

WHEN WE CLEAN-UP, paint-up, fix-up and keep-up our houses, business buildings, offices, vacant lots, alleys and streets, we are doing more than making a pleasant physical environment.

This is perhaps sufficient justification for such personal and community endeavor, but there are other very good reasons for doing so.

WE ARE PROTECTING our property values which may mean preventing value decline; and, in some instances, we increase the value. Both purposes are worthy.

One fact is well known: these values are not self-sustaining. We must not disregard our privilege and obligation of stewardship.

OUR EDUCATIONAL opportunities, our benevolent services, our church opportunities, our police and fire protection, our municipal services; and many other aspects of our personal and family life are unalterably tied to property values.

Let no one be mistaken, our community improvement or lack of such will make a big difference in everything essential to our well-being.

"BUT I OWN NO PROPERTY", many will say. "How does all of this concern me?" Surely we know that an improved community benefits all citizens.

Better appearance and better environment will always help. This is not all, however: all of us, property owners and non-property owners, are affected by the community economy. When we protect and increase our property values, we are building a sounder economy base.

LET US NOT WITHHOLD our interest and labor just because there are some persons who will profit without any effort on their party.

This view is much too narrow to build the kind of community all of us desire.

WE CANNOT AFFORD to neglect our community needs, and what is best for us; just because there may be some persons who choose to do nothing. We have too much to lose.

We are moving in the right direction in Littlefield, and substantial progress is being made. We must be faithful in our stewardship.

ABOUT THE SIZE OF IT

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Our Work

By BOB WEAR

OUR WORK IS MORE than a means of livelihood. It is a very important part of our living experience, if we will let it be.

If we refuse to let it be so, we are denying ourselves one of the greatest sources of personal satisfaction.

WHEN OUR WORK IS HONORABLE, and we see it for all it is; we can easily recognize its value in meeting our great need for a sense of self-fulfillment.

This includes the good feeling of accomplishment, together with the rewarding realization that we are being useful.

WORK IS A GREAT BLESSING, and our work is one of our greatest blessings. It is a big mistake for us to view our work with disdain; to complain about it, to find fault with it, or to resent it.

There is perennial nobleness and even sacredness in work. Were he ever so benighted and forgetful of his high calling, there is always hope in a man who actually and earnestly works.

MUCH HONORABLE WORK has been downgraded by the use of artificial standards of relative job importance.

The status-symbol craze has been used to create a hurtful imbalance in the appropriations for the control program at the special legislative session. Congressmen have been asked for more federal aid to increase sterile fly production to the maximum level at the production plant in Mission and for fly drops in outbreak areas.

Ranchers and farmers have been urged to report all suspected cases of screwworm outbreak in their animals to county agents. Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association joined in the warning to livestock producers.

general views of various kinds of work. Many essential services are in short supply because the work involved is not properly regarded.

MANY PEOPLE UNDERESTIMATE the importance of their work, and some are ashamed of what they do.

It is not uncommon for people to apologize for their job and its seeming insignificance. This should not be so; and would not be so, if we would stop the artificial discrimination in all areas of essential work and services.

Some work is more important than other work, but all essential work is important.

WE MUST APPRECIATE and be thankful for our work, the work we do day after day. This will help us be efficient, and give us the basis for continuing improvement.

No man can do anything well who does not esteem his work to be of importance. -Emerson

WITH A FAULTY attitude toward our work, we have no way to establish a meaningful living pattern. Does it really matter that our work is considered humble?

If it is essential work, it can be viewed as important and appreciated accordingly. It contributes something to others, and provides our livelihood. Therefore we can work joyfully and with justified pride.

WE MAY WISH that we had greater abilities, but this must be a transient concern.

We must learn to be happy doing our best at the time, without the distraction of wishing for what can never be. Let us be happy in the knowledge that we can improve, and are improving our working skills.

WORK IS A BLESSING, and "our work" is a special blessing to be highly regarded.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
By BILL BOYKIN
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

STATE AGENCIES received a recent warning to renew efforts to recruit minority group and women employees "before they are confronted with ultimatums and deadlines" from Washington and federal courts.

The agencies were reminded by the Governor's Committee on Human Relations staff that jurisdiction of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has been extended to cover local and state governments.

EEOC will be giving "very critical examinations" to state employment practices. Committee on Human Relations Director James R. Ray wrote the agencies and departments.

Federal law goes farther than the state statute making it unlawful to discriminate against a person because of race, religion, color or national origin. The U. S. law also bars discrimination on the basis of sex.

Each state agency, advised Ray, will have to submit a detailed action plan to prove non-discrimination.

In other words, you will not be able to prove non-discrimination without a federally-approved plan for recruitment of minorities and women for all levels of employment in your agency or department. "The state units of government were told.

Historically, the main concern of EEOC has been with numbers of quotas, and claims of recruitment difficulties have been summarily rejected as valid excuses," the Human Relations Committee staff maintained.

"Significant steps" were applauded within the state government during recent years to achieve equal employment opportunities.

However, department heads were placed on notice they must be sure each house "is in order and can stand the test of non-discrimination" in federal court.

W. OPINIONS
County taxing bodies do not have authority to levy a fee on a mixed-beverage late-hours permit and a caterer's permit for the first three years of a permit. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

"Creation of a salary grievance committee for public employees in each county is constitutional.

"The county tax assessor-collector is generally immune from liability on claims of third parties where title is issued in good faith and within the scope of his official authority under the certificate of title act.

"A Midland County domestic relations court judge is entitled to the same salary as that paid the 142nd district court judge.

POVERTY AREAS
Fifty-one counties are now designated as poverty areas for Hill-Burton hospital construction aid. Those counties may receive up to 90 per cent of money for constructing hospitals and related facilities from the federal program.

The original 13 counties designated were Starr, Zapata, Kinney, Jim Hogg, LaSalle, Dimmitt, Willacy, Presidio, Brooks, Real, San Jacinto, Houston and Duval.

Added to the list under the new interpretation were Maverick, Falls, San Saba, Robertson, Red River, Kenedy, Fayette, Lavaca, Grimes, Hidalgo, Lee, Trinity, Irion, Leon, Edwards, Mason, Goliad, Llano, Shelby, Franklin, Marion, Hamilton, Rains, Cottle, Hudspeth, Burleson, Motley, Camp and Coleman.

TFU says it is imperative that Gov. Preston Smith ask increased state

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to nominate my husband for sainthood. After nearly 20 years of marriage I fell in love with another man [also married]. The other man's wife found out about it and raised such a stink that my husband gave up a thriving professional practice to move as far away as possible from that little community.

The other woman divorced her husband, but my husband stood by me. I am trying to make it up to him by being the best possible wife in every way. My man is one in a million. FORGIVEN IN WINONA

DEAR ABBY: So, women want men who are "understanding, compassionate and forgiving?" Well, I was married for 26 years. Then my wife left me saying, "I simply can't stand a man who is so understanding, compassionate and forgiving."

We've been divorced for five years, and since then I have treated women like dirt and they love it! EX-SAINT

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a saint with a triple halo. He not only forgave me, but at a great financial sacrifice he secured psychological counseling for me. Even as I write this I am struggling to keep from making a phone call to let "the other man" know that my husband will be out of town and I'll be available.

Counseling is expensive, but when I look at my beautiful family I realize it's worth holding my marriage together for. Besides, believe it or not, no woman ever had a better husband. STILL FIGHTING IN SEATTLE

DEAR ABBY: The saint you are searching for is living in Houston. I was the unfaithful wife. He caught me with his best friend but he didn't get mad and try to kill anybody. He calmly walked away and came back the next day to talk things over. This wonderful man was big enough to say, "Maybe it's partly my fault. If I had paid you more attention you wouldn't need anybody else."

We both decided that we'd try to make a go of our marriage. This happened 31 years ago, and God willing, we will celebrate our 50th this June. HAPPY IN HOUSTON

DEAR ABBY: If you are looking for a saint, look no further. I am married to him.

This man was a fighting Marine whose wife gave birth to a baby in his absence that couldn't possibly have been his. He forgave her, raised that boy as if he were his own and he never once mentioned it again. HIS WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to nominate myself for sainthood. My wife left me for another man. Three weeks later he kicked her out and I took her back. She got herself $3,000 in debt, gambling, and I paid it off. The only time she ever said "no" was when somebody asked her if she had enough. We're still married. A GLUTTON FOR PUNISHMENT

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the 28-year-old mother of four who tacked a poster on her door with "rules" to keep visitors away.

Well, I'm a 38-year-old mother of six, and I'm amazed that anyone would want that much privacy. We're newcomers who live in the country, and I'm stuck out here with six kids, two dogs and three cats. I'm so hungry for company, I'm ready to go out on the road and hang down some strangers.

Please print my "poster" in the paper for all to read:

- You may smoke inside, outside, on the roof, or anywhere you wish, just don't burn the house down.
- If you're hungry, help yourself to anything you can find. And if you can't find anything, ask one of the kids. They'll fix you a peanut butter and brown sugar sandwich.
- If you're here around mealtime, grab a chair and join us.
- If you want to stay overnight, bring a sleeping bag and we'll move some clutter from the corner to make room for you.
- Bring your kids. We have so many, a few more won't make any difference.
- We can't lend you any money, but go ahead and ask anyway. It will make us feel good to know we appear that prosperous.

GUESS I (FOR ONE) didn't really appreciate JOHN CONNALLY while he was the governor of our state. 'Course, everybody's wonderin' just what he and Nixon's up to, nowadays.

DISASTER ASSESSED

Governor Smith said after a helicopter tour of flood-ravaged Hays, Comal and Guadalupe counties he will press for a federal disaster declaration and all necessary aid for those areas as well as Caldwell and Webb counties.

Smith said he was "shocked and dismayed" by the amount of the damage. He had already stated he would ask that portions of South Central Texas be designated a disaster area, and Sen. Lloyd Bentsen urged the White House Office of Emergency Preparedness to expedite the request. Preliminary estimates place private property damage in the five counties (where at least 16 died) at $15 million, damage to public facilities at $2.5 million.

Husbands can forgive and forget, too

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: An unfaithful wife who had been caught in the act, wrote in part: "What's with men anyway? Are understanding, compassion and forgiveness qualities that only women possess? If you know of one man who'd be willing to sit down with an erring wife, discuss the problem, forgive her and suggest they start over, please nominate him for sainthood."

Well, my husband qualifies. He caught me in the act, not once, but three times [with the same man] and each time he forgave me, and now we have a stronger marriage than ever. MARRIED TO A SAINT

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether this qualifies me for sainthood or not, but I did catch my wife with another man, and I forgave her. All she said in her defense was, "Well, now we're even."

DEAR MIDGE: You sound like the kind of person like to know. I'll bet you won't be hungry for company.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for printing a letter which I know that I am not alone in this world. [A woman poster on her front door to discourage unwanted company. Some time ago I placed a sign on MY door which said "DO NOT DISTURB. NIGHT WORKER!"]

It didn't help. People still rang my bell, knocked doorknob, beat on the door and yelled, "ANY HOME?" Some even went around to look in the window. When I realized that I needed something other than put up another sign, "ADMISSION $1.00--NO ONE ADMITTED FREE."

That sign did the job. Nobody bothered me after. Now I notice two other signs just like mine in the neighborhood. LONE WOLF IN JASPER

MRS. W. H. BERRY can't just sit and twiddle her thumbs, so she keeps busy with hand work. The past few years she has made dozens of articles and more than 100 garments from double knit scraps. This table cloth is one of six she has pieced and briar stitched, and she holds a pair of shorts she made for her daughter.

Mrs. Berry's 'Scraps' Conversation Pieces

Rachel Berry just can't sit and watch tv without something in her hands to keep her busy.

The last three years she has pieced together, briar stitched, and created from polyester double knit scraps at least 100 shirts, house coats, short sets, and jump suits, plus six table cloths and six bedspreads.

Where does she get all those double knit scraps? She trades scraps, people give them to her, and she pools her scraps with her mother and sister. Forty to 45 colors and designs goes into one pant top shirt. "It takes a lot of different colors and designs to make them pretty," Mrs. Berry said.

She doesn't try to keep up with the time it takes to piece them. It just takes a lot of getting up and down, because she presses each seam open as it is sewn together. It's the pretty briar stitching that takes the time.

Mrs. Berry estimates about a day to piece a shirt, a week to do a table cloth and two or three weeks to do a bedspread.

Considering all the other things she does, Mrs. Berry must have more hours in her day than the average person. She rides her bicycle from three to 15 miles every day. She does decoupage, ceramics, paper-mache candlesticks (at one time she and her sister had 35 ready to paint at one time), "I've made 35 or 40 afghans," she concluded, "and gave one to everybody who'd have it."

Mrs. Berry confesses she doesn't like to cook and is happier out of the kitchen than in it. But she has some favorite recipes she is sharing with the readers. She especially likes this broccoli casserole and says this cranberry salad is one of the best she's ever eaten.

CRANBERRY SALAD
2 cups cranberries
1 cup sugar
4 cups miniature marshmallows
1 pint of whipping cream
1 can of crushed pineapple
Grind or chop cranberries, cover with sugar and set aside for two hours. Whip cream (or use prepared whipped cream), add marshmallows and pineapple, and let this mixture blend while the cranberries and sugar dissolve. Add to cranberry mixture and pour into mold.

RICE-BROCCOLI CASSEROLE
1/2 c. onions, chopped
1/2 c. celery, chopped
1 c. rice
1 pkg. chopped broccoli
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 small jar Cheese Whiz
Saute onions and celery. Cook rice and broccoli separately. Mix vegetables add soups, and Cheese Whiz. Place rice in casserole, pour vegetable mixture over it and sprinkle with paprika. Bake 375 for 10 minutes before serving.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

MIRACLE of light

Just who among us can fathom the miracle of light? The ministries of the sun are many. A single ray can be concentrated to explosive intensity. The sun gives off a burning heat we could not do without. Light, warmth, growth, health and healing are daily ministries of the sun. The earth becomes sour and barren without it. In this same manner man limits his strength and usefulness when he turns away from God. Let us wait and pray in the sanctuary of His church, for in such waiting and worship, God promises to bless man's soul as does the sunlight bless the earth. We should strive to capture the rays from God like the prism does the sunlight, and direct it to good and wholesome uses. Then, they who wait upon the Lord may run and not grow weary. They may walk and not faint (Isaiah 40:31).

Those who want to be in the club may do so by those so inclined, pay "42" and dormitory after the meal and the program.

The club is unique, no dues, no obligations and no regulations. It passed occasionally to change to pay for the tea, ice and bread and meals, but members pressed.

Legislative and administrative rules and regulations affecting farmers, many of which are still being formulated, are a clear indication that agriculture in the years ahead will be faced with significantly more aggressive government control over both "inputs" and "outputs."

This is the comment of Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, following Texas Department of Health hearings in Austin May 18 on proposed flammability standards for children's sleepwear under the Texas Hazardous Substances Act. "Fireproofing" requirements for apparel, imposed by both state and federal government, is one of the areas referred to by Johnson in which government regulatory powers will increasingly affect agricultural "outputs."

JCG presented testimony at the flammability hearings urging that requirements, in addition to protecting children from unnecessary fire hazards, should (1) be practical from the standpoint of garment manufacturers, (2) cause no undue increases in the cost of sleepwear to consumers, and (3) should not be prejudicial to the use of any given fiber.

Texas and federal standards on flammability can and will have an effect on cotton consumption," Johnson said after the hearing. "and this is only one of several regulatory activities of state and federal levels that is going to affect the business of growing and merchandising cotton in the immediate future. In fact, our ability to cope with this trend toward more strenuous regulation of our affairs will have much to do with our success or failure in the farming business."

Government is also getting involved with byssinosis, a lung ailment common to long-time workers in textile mills, often compared to "black lung disease" among coal miners. Incomplete studies indicate byssinosis may be connected with cotton dust in mills, and it is proposed that victims be paid disability benefits by the federal government and that textile plants reimburse the government on the basis of their yearly tonnage of cotton consumed.

The effect such action could have on use of cotton fiber is obvious. Studying the matter of cotton-dust-related problems is a joint committee of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, the National Cotton Council and Cotton Incorporated. Johnson is a member of the committee, representing Cotton Inc.

Agricultural "inputs" coming under additional government regulation include agricultural chemicals such as insecticides and herbicides, and farm labor.

Late last month hearing examiner Edmund Sweeney of the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) recommended that essential uses of DDT be continued. He made the decision after seven months of testimony, much of which sought to prove that DDT causes severe environmental damage. EPA Administrator William Ruckelshaus has until June 15 of this year to accept or disregard Sweeney's recommendation.

Also under fire from environmentalists are such pesticides as lindane, benzene, hexachloride, endrin, aldrin and dieldrin. All are important to agricultural production.

Relations between farms and farm workers, another vital agricultural input, either is or soon will be influenced by government from at least three directions: current and pending minimum wage and overtime laws, proposed legislation which will encourage unionization, and the federal Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

The House of Representatives in Washington recently passed a bill raising the agricultural minimum wage from $1.30 to $1.70 per hour within two years. The Senate Labor Committee has under consideration a bill which would jump the minimum wage farm workers to $2.25 an hour in three annual steps.

Two proposals related to unionization of farm labor are being considered in Washington. One would bring farm workers under the National Labor Relations Act along with industrial workers. The other would establish a separate Farm Labor Relations Board. Numerous efforts are being made to get changes made in the altogether impractical Safety and Health Act, which, for example, requires that a lone worker in the middle of an alfalfa field must be provided with bathroom facilities.

"There is almost no limit to the regulatory laws that are on the books or in the making," Johnson concluded, "and much depends on whether agricultural interests can exercise the necessary influence to keep these laws and their administration practical and reasonable."

Council Promotes Campaign To Increase Cotton Yields

These 11 points are "a natural" if you're shooting for "Better Yields of Quality Cotton for Profit and Market Growth," the National Cotton Council is reminding cotton farmers:

1. Choose varieties suited to your area — to produce high yields of quality cotton.
2. Plant at the best time on properly prepared seedbeds — to obtain a fast-growing stand of cotton seedlings.

3. Fertilize as recommended — to produce maximum profitable yields.
4. Control diseases — through use of recommended fungicides and resistant varieties.
5. Control weeds — by using proven combinations of herbicides and cultural practices.
7. Irrigate properly — by timing applications of water for efficient production.

8. Use harvest aids — to improve efficiency and processing quality.
9. Harvest efficiently — harvest losses and cotton quality.
10. Gin for quality — preserve the inherent quality of Nature's Fiber.
11. Time operations — and apply materials — to make the difference in profit and loss.

The Council is urging the U. S. Department of Agriculture Extension services in states, and regional groups on a campaign to increase cotton yields to maximum profitable levels to alleviate the critical shortage.

USDA May Lose 2 Major Agencies

Although President Nixon has promised to defend and preserve the U. S. Department of Agriculture as an independent arm of government, farm leaders point out that he now wants to strip the department of the Rural Electrification Association (REA) and the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

Under the President's plan, the two agencies would be folded into a new Department of Economic Opportunity and the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and parts of the Commerce and Transportation Departments, along with the Office of Economic Opportunity and the Appalachian Regional Commission.

With "strangers" in credit and rural extension running the new agencies, charge opponents, the USDA would lose much of its already diminishing

Trailer Law May Be Changed

Texas House Speaker Rayford Price moved to relieve operators of most small trailers from controversial "trailer brake" provisions of the Texas Rules of the Road Act (senate Bill No. 183) passed during the last regular session of the Legislature.

Price announced appointment of a special interim committee to draft amendments to the act for submission at the forthcoming special session of the Legislature. Among changes which he personally favors, Price said, are those which would exempt trailers having a gross weight of 10,000 pounds or less from the "brakes on all wheels" requirements, and specifically authorize self-activating "surge brakes" for this same class of trailers. He further recommends enactment of a "grandfather" clause exempting trailers manufactured prior to effective date of the act.

As presently written, the new law requires brakes acting on all wheels of trailers weighing more than 3,000 pounds and those weighing less than that figure when the gross weight of the trailer and load exceed 40 per cent of the gross weight of the towing vehicle. It also requires for the first time that trailer brakes must be activated by the same device that operates the brakes on the towing vehicle.

Cotton Ginner Training Offered

The Texas Employment Commission has announced approval of a training project under the Manpower Development Training Act to train cotton ginners. The course will start June 19 and will run for 16 weeks until October 20. Training will be conducted by the Texas State Technical Institute at the Rolling Plains Campus in Sweetwater.

Roy Wilson, Manager of the Littlefield Office of the Texas Employment Commission reports that recruitment is now underway for candidates to take the training. Selection of candidates will be made from the unemployed and the underemployed, without regard to race, creed or color.

Candidates for this training must be able to perform hard physical work. Wilson announced that veterans will receive preference in referral to the ginner training. He asks that applicants interested should visit the Texas Employment Commission Office at 425 XIT Drive in Littlefield for further information.

TURN ROW COMMENTS

EMIL MACHA

While driving throughout the rural areas, one will note that the farmers have really been busy. Many have completed their planting and some of the crops are coming up.

The crops seem to be a bit earlier than last year, especially in the non-irrigated area. As a matter of fact, our crops are about three weeks earlier than last year.

It's amazing how fast this vast area can be planted. Today you see four, six and eight-row planters and on occasions some farmers have 12 row rigs.

It has come a long way since the old horse and mule days. It seems like just a few years ago we were tilling the soil with a pair of mules or horses. Some of the bigger farmers had four and six horse teams.

I can recall how we farmed as much as a half section with horses.

Farmers didn't have as many problems then. It seemed that the newly broken sod just didn't require as much work. You listed, planted, knifed or harrowed and maybe cultivated once and you were laid by.

Today, the more mechanized we get, the more problems we have — such as more weeds and non-cooperating elements of the weather. It kinda makes you wonder if those were the "good ole days".

Due to mechanization, farming has contributed a lot to the economy of the area. Have you ever driven by a farm home and noted the amount of vehicles that are on rubber tires? Counting cotton trailers, tractors, pickups, trucks, various farm implements, cars — and maybe a boat — an average farmer uses a minimum of 80 tires. We have 1,605 farmers in Lamb County. That is a minimum of 128,400 tires used by county farmers alone, plus what the city dwellers use. That's almost enough to put in our own tire factory.

Getting to the more serious side of life, it's a real pleasure to note at various churches how the farmers take time to stop and spend an hour or so a week visiting with the Lord.

Littlefield is planning its 1972 Festivities Days for next August. It sure would be nice if we could tie in an Agriculture Expo with it.

This would give the agriculture and agri-business people a chance to display the basics of what contributes so much to our economy.

The Leader-News realizes the importance of agriculture and the need to get the farmer and the agri-business people together, and is making an effort to offer our readers a farm section. We hope this section will be of interest, and hope Mr. Businessman and Farmer can better communicate through this service.

CHIEF BATTER John Lee fouls the ball during his time at bat in the Chiefs versus Tiger peewee game. Mike Williams is the catcher for the Tigers.

Chiefs Win Over Tigers In Opener

Littlefield's Peewee season opened Thursday with the Chiefs scalping the Tigers, 9-6.

The Chiefs got their nine runs in the first two innings and were blanked the remainder of the game as Tiger pitcher, Randy Healey, tightened the Chiefs attack.

Kerry Rainbolt was the winning pitcher and led the winners in hits with a two-run double. Jerry Jones got a double and a single. Randy Kemp connected for a base hit.

Jimmy Sexton got the only hits for the Tigers by connecting with a double and a single.

Other pitchers for the Tigers besides Healey were Allen Jones and Eric Sawyer.
