Heffington 4th To File For Trustee

Jackie Heffington filed Thursday afternoon as a candidate in the upcoming school board election, making four candidates for two places.

Incumbent board members Buddy Bingham and Flannery Newton are running for reelection.

Sid Hopping, school secretary and tax assessor-collector, said persons may file in his office until 5 p.m. March 4.

Heffington, 24, is a 1965 Littlefield High School graduate and has lived in Littlefield since 1955. He attended North Texas State University and Texas Tech one semester each before going into the armed service. He is manager of Heffington Gulf and Atex Self-Service.

Heffington said he filed because he feels it is time to have younger persons on the school board who will be closer to the students.

He stated, "The minute we put our minds on something good, we will go right by trouble and not be affected by it."

Rev. Wyatt's wit and humor kept his audience in laughter, but the seriousness of life, as it is often involved with trouble, was brought to mind.

Entertainment for the night was provided by "The Golden Tones", a high school trio; and by a duet, Marie Slover and Nancy Howard, who were accompanied by Mary Kate Belew.

Little Ol' Tamale-Maker Sells Half, Eats Other Half

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

"You like 'em hot tamale, I make 'em hot," Fred Aguilar said. Fred has a hand in making 15 to 18 dozen hot tamales twice a week.

To make 'em hot, Fred adds ground cayenne pepper. "That stuff's hot as the dickens!" he said. "Hot as the dickens!"

Making hot tamales is a family job. Fred's wife, Consuelo, and their two daughters spend hours making the hot tamales every week. About half of the tamales are for the Aguilar family, and the other half is sold, or, as Fred puts it: "We make 15 dozens to 18 dozens, and eatie half and sellie half."

Although Fred considers the actual tamale making women's work, he helps wash the corn shucks. Then when the tamales are cooked, he can be seen about town in his little red Falcon delivering hot tamales to customers at various businesses. "Some like tamale pretty good hot," he said, "some like 'em medium." Selling a few dozen tamales supplies money for hamburger meat for the next batch. And speaking of the hamburger meat, Fred shakes his head and declares, "It's too much a fat. You know, too much a fat."

Fred says making tamales is a little work.

To work the shucks, Fred washes them twice, first in hot water, then in cold water. Then masa harina (finely ground cornmeal), water and the chili blend powder is mixed together and put on the corn shucks. The hamburger meat cooked with a little garlic is added and the hot tamale is folded up in the shuck and refrigerated over night or frozen for cooking later. The tamales are steamed one and one-half hours.

"We keep some (nine or 10 dozen) at home to eat," Fred said. "We got a too much a grandkids."

Fred moved to Littlefield on April 2, 1926. This spring will make 46 years he has lived here. He worked for the railroad until 1950 when he started working at the lumber yard that is now Higginbotham-Bartlett.

MAKING HOT TAMALES is a "little work" according to Fred Aguilar, center, daughter Cande Sannora and Mrs. Aguilar, who is about to check a pot of steaming tamales. They make dozens of tamales twice each week and "keepie half and sellie half."

Form Available To Stop Sex Ads

For persons who have received sexually oriented advertisements in the mail, there is now teeth in a postal law to prohibit any more mailings.

Littlefield Postmaster George Thompson said the local post office has application forms for postal patrons who wish to take advantage of the new law that enables one to list his or her name with the Postal Service stating they do not wish to receive any sexually oriented ads by mail. Children under 19 years of age may be listed on the form, too.

The Postal Service will compile a reference list of such names and make the list available, at a fee, to mailers. The law prohibits commercial solicitation of names on the reference list.

Thirty days after a name has been added to the list, any mailer who sends that person a sexually oriented advertisement subjects himself to both civil and criminal legal action by the U. S. government.

Local postal employees will assist those wanting to file for protection under the new law.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

Let's make St. Valentine's Day unanimous. Let's say "I love you" to at least one other person. It is a bright and good day in the Christian calendar. Every one of us is the better man because he dares to love. The heart and the cross belong together. You cannot truly love without honoring the principle of sacrifice. Saint Valentine was a Christian martyr, beheaded by Claudius, emperor of Rome about the year 50 A.D. He loved enough to surrender his life in the service of God. The heart and the cross tell us that God is love, that he loved enough to give all for us. Will St. Valentine succeed in winning you and me to a genuine love for God that will not count the cost? The best text for St. Valentine's Day is John 3:16.

Black-Vrubel Vows Solemnized

SPADE—Schelia D'Aun Black became the bride of Larry Wayne Vrubel in a double ring ceremony Saturday, Jan. 30, at the Bethel Baptist Church of Portales, N. M.

Officiating for the wedding ceremony was Rev. Millard Puckett, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church.

Mother of the bride is Mrs. Loy McGee of Lubbock, and her father and stepmother are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Black of Portales, N. M. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Vrubel of Spade.

The altar of the church was centered with a kneeling bench covered with white satin, flanked by candelabra trees, with white gladiolas worked in behind them. A stand, to the right of the kneeling bench, featured a memory candle, with two swirl candelabras on each side, and two baskets of gladiolas on the outside.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embossed peau de soie adorned with embroidered lace and tiny seed pearls accenting the front. Her long sleeves, edged in tiny seed pearls, tapered to a point at the wrist. The circular train fell from a Christian Dior bow at the back, and her bridal veil of illusion was caught by a Dior bow. Mrs. R. T. Black of Spade, grandmother of the bride, fashioned her bridal gown. The bride carried a bouquet of glamelias with Lily of the Valley worked in, and white streamers entwined with stephanotis.

A pearl necklace, an old family treasure was her "something old"; "something new" was her wedding gown; "something borrowed" was a pearl ring, a gift from the maid of honor, Reita Victor; and for "something blue" she wore the traditional garter, given to the bride by her mother.

Attending as bridesmaids were Karyn Vrubel of Spade, sister of the groom; Kyla Black of Portales, N. M., sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid; and Mrs. Frank Mitchell of Portales, N. M. They were attired in floor-length royal blue peau de soie dresses, with short puffed sleeves, designed in the same fashion as the bride's. Their blue tulle, chin-length veils were caught from a Dior bow in the hair. Nosegays featuring one white carnation surrounded by blue carnations and white streamers completed their attire.

Kyla Black, junior bridesmaid, carried three long-stemmed red roses, which she presented to the bride's mother and stepmother as she entered, and to the groom's mother as the bride and groom left. Miss Black wore a carnation wristlet.

Candlelighters were Nancy Henson of Littlefield and Dwayla Victor of Portales, N. M. They wore street-length dresses designed like the other attendants. White carnation wristlets completed their costumes.

Charla Carpenter of Amherst, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress and carried a white lace basket.

Miss Christie Adams of Spade registered the guests.

Musical selections of "A Time For Us" and "We've Only Begun" were presented by Kendra Jones, pianist and Faye Johns, soloist, both of Portales, N. M.

Miss Dwayla Victor of Portales, N. M. read a poem, "How Do I Love Thee", by Elizabeth Barrett Browning as the couple lighted the unity candle.

Serving the groom as best man was Mike Nicholas of Spade. Groomsmen were Raymond Sewell and Bob Adams, both of Spade. The guests were seated by Frank Mitchell of Portales, N. M. and Gary Hodges, cousin of the groom of Arlington. Ring bearer was Todd Carpenter of Amherst, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. McGee, mother of the bride, wore a mint green two-piece suit with black accessories. The bride's stepmother was fashioned in a celery green dress with bone accessories to complete her costume. Mother of the groom was attired in a pastel blue dress with a long torso, pleated skirt, jeweled buttons, and white accessories.

home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Victor of Portales, N. M. Hostesses were Mrs. Bennie Victor and Miss Lou Wall.

The house was decorated with baskets of gladiolas, and the serving table featured the traditional three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with shell and stringwork, and royal blue roses on each layer, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Martha Stephens of Portales, N. M. and Cyd McKinnon of Littlefield served the wedding cake, sherbet punch, nuts and mints.

For their wedding trip to Cloudcroft and Ruidoso, N. M., the new Mrs. Vrubel wore a powder blue double knit dress with white accessories and the corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live south of Portales, where both will be attending Eastern New Mexico University.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Floyd High School in New Mexico. She is a freshman at Eastern New Mexico University. The groom is a 1968 graduate of Spade High School and is a junior at E.N.M.U., majoring in agri-business.

Out-of-town guests were grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Black of Spade; grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Ellen Will; mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Loy McGee and girls of Lubbock; Mrs. LaJean Adams, Gary Hariston, Debra McCoy and Miss Bennie Mills, all of Spade; Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKinnon and Cyd, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vasek, Mrs. Sedell Black and boys, and Mike Brandt, all of Littlefield; Mrs. John Craig of Lubbock; Richard Houck of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter of Amherst; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Hart of Borger.

SHAMROCKS ARE LUCKY AND UNLUCKY

Everyone knows the leaves from a four-leaf clover are accepted as a token of good luck, while the five-leaf clover is said to be exactly opposite.

The yellow rose is said to denote jealousy. The sturdy and dependable ivy leaf indicates trustfulness--maybe this is the reason ivy is so popular in wedding decorations.

We love to decorate for weddings. Whether yours is to be an elaborate one or a simple gathering, we will be happy to handle the floral arrangements.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Strange Things

By PEARL BRANDON

STRANGE THINGS are happening upon the earth. Earthquakes in divers places and young men going to the moon. Old men are dying and babes are born.

This week I read the story of the ashes and fragments of a city being found that perhaps lived 4,000 years before Christ. This was a thriving city of 100,000 people.

THEY HAD an amazing culture for that age with factories, pottery kilns, weaving centers and facilities for working with stone, wood and metal.

Semi-precious stones were mined for jewelry. The city was located in a rich agricultural in a great river valley.

Then a catastrophe came and changed the riverbed and the city died. What became of the 100,000 souls that lived within the city?

SOME OF THEM perhaps wondered away to live in other places and others perished with the city.

I also read an article on plans for a permanent laboratory on the ocean floor to photograph and chart the bottom of the sea. Some day cities may be built there on the ocean floor.

WHEN I THINK of the generations gone by, I see them as tiny human beings scrambling around for a short span of days, like ants upon the earth, or in our time as gnats flying in space looking for the moon, hardly making a ripple in time.

The 90th Psalm says the Lord has seen our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever had formed the earth and the world; "even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God."

HE SAYS a thousand years in his sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

He also said the days of our lives are three-score and ten; and if by reason of strength they should be fourscore, yet in their strength labor and sorrow, for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

WHERE DO WE fly to?

Jesus said in Matthew that He shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

THE SAME psalmist that wrote of the Lord being so high and lifted up, also said, "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." He noteth the fall of the sparrows and loves even me."

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

SOMEONE ASKED ME where I get all my material to write about. It's very simple. I get it from a vacuum—the one between my ears.

No, really, I'm just like any other person. I only know what I read and hear.

YOU HAVE TO BE very systematic in your reading of the news media.

Now, you take my case, I usually, rise pretty early in the morning. The first thing on my list is to shave that strange looking face that I dimly see in the bathroom mirror.

This serves to bring just a little consciousness to my addled brain. I then stumble to the kitchen and pour myself a cup of coffee. (The pot is prepared the night before, and hooked into the timer on the stove.)

AFTER A SWIG or two of the hot stuff, I go out and look for the paper. Usually, unless there's snow on the ground, I go out barefoot, and dressed in pants and undershirt. If the temperature is down in the twenties, this can be shocking as well as refreshing.

By the time I make about three trips, (in case the paper's late) I'm awake enough for my eyes to focus. Having found the paper, (it may have been there all the time) I sit with the coffee and begin my systematic research.

(ON THURSDAY and Sunday mornings, I read the local paper first, turning directly to Hominy Grits—I just can't wait to see what I wrote.)

Now, to the system;

FIRST, I scan the headlines to see what major catastrophe has befallen us while I slept.

Really, sometimes I think the papers are hardput to come up with a real shocker for headlines. Perhaps, I've been shocked for so long that I'm gettin' numb. It can happen, you know!

NEXT, I TURN to the comics. I've been waitin' some 30 years for Dick Tracy to get killed. So far, he's managed to escape. Then there's Buzz Sawyer, who's always getting into trouble.

These, to say nothing of the "winless" Dagood which somehow reminds me of home—Ma and Pa Smith and the others—S funny—I never laugh!

From there, I turn to the editorial page to note what the editor and other columnists are griping about. Now THERE can be some real laughs!

THAT GIRL, columnist is so pro-democrat it's hard for me to trust her. I never know just what Buchwald is drivin' at, therefore, I don't spend much time with him. The hard-hittin' Tully, and, Taylor I like.

Usually I spend a little time with the Plainsman (Tho, not so much of late) Mr. Lawrence is so serious and dry, I take him in small doses.

AFTER THIS I turn (not without foreboding) and scan the obituary sheet. If I don't see MY name mentioned, I eat my breakfast and go to the job!

After a hard day at the mill, what with all manner of things going wrong, and a small inoculation of tv news at nite, my thoughts are sufficiently scrambled, and my mood is just about right to sit down to the ol' typewriter!

SHUX, YOU DON'T have to be smart to write, just crazy!

Repeating Blunders

NOW OUR BEST friends are trying to tell us.

The president of France, George Pompidou, is trying to warn us that the Vietnamese war is spreading to all of Indochina. That the onetime-front war may soon involve the United States on four fronts. And he, the French president, demands that we respect the neutrality and independence of those countries.

FRANCE SPEAKS from experience.

South Vietnamese troops are yet unable to fight their own war in their own country, yet here we are holding their hands and loading their guns and egging them on to march off into neighbor nations to try to fight their wars.

SINCE OUR incursion into Cambodia widened the war in that direction, Congress has lowered the boom: No more American troops or advisors in Cambodia or in Laos.

Yet our President and our Pentagon continue to support invasions by South Vietnamese troops into those neighbor nations. Maybe there's a more polite word for it than "subterfuge" but what else can you call it? When South Vietnamese forces are fighting elsewhere, American troops must fill in for them back in South Vietnam. So there is increased involvement of Americans, increased fighting involving Americans; probably there are more Americans killed, wounded and captured.

UNLIKE THE Cambodian invasion which has so demonstrably boomeranged, the United States "supported" the invasion of Laos under an umbrella of secrecy.

We of the news media, for most of a week, got most of our news about the fighting front from Japanese sources and from Russia's Izvestia.

It was from our enemies that we learned what Washington was withholding from us.

Now the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which got no briefing in advance, is considering new and tighter checkreins on presidential prerogatives.

WHILE SEPARATE hearings on the Hill are preoccupied with the semantics of recent and proposed restraints, Americans west of the Potomac are getting the whole picture in a more comprehensive perspective.

What Americans are inclined to forget is that internecine war has been a way of life in Indochina for generations.

WE'RE OVER THERE trying to insure safety, security and self-determination for Indochinese when Saigon—right now—is statistically a safer place to be than is New York City!

Every day in every way we see President Nixon struggling to extricate us from this quicksand in the same way that Johnson did. And all the while—instead of forward marching out—backing deeper and deeper in.

PERHAPS IT IS appropriate for us to remind ourselves that France pulled altogether out of Indochina after Dien Bien Phu.

France, in the generation since, has enjoyed improved world prestige and a more stable internal government than any time since Napoleon.

THE PHILOSOPHER

New Plan

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has a few moon thoughts this week, more or less.)

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper I picked up off the road near this Johnson grass farm yesterday, because I thought it was my ecological duty to do it, interest in trips to the moon is lagging, in fact, it said, people are getting bored with them.

I'm afraid this is true because I heard several people around here say they didn't have time to watch the recent landing or the splash-down live. "We can catch it later on the evening news," they said. This means there's a real crisis in the space program. It's as though a football fan skipped the televised game with the offhand statement he could get the score in tomorrow's paper. We can't let it happen.

To keep the space program going I have figured out two possible solutions. (1) To keep people glued to their tv sets during a moon walk, put on some sort of sports event up there. Alan Shepard's golf antics on the moon attracted more attention than anything else, so why not send up a golf team, or better still two football teams?

What quarterback wouldn't love to thrill the fans by throwing a three-mile-long bomb? They could pick up rocks during the half. How about an interplanetary pole vault record of 350 feet?

What do you suppose would be the longest home-run hit on the moon? You get the idea. We've got to do something to keep this television series from being canceled.

(2) On a more serious side, as you know, to send the latest team to the moon to get 100 pounds of rocks cost $800,000,000.

That figures out at 8 million dollars a pound. Clearly, moon rocks are the most precious substance man possesses, and rather than turn them over to a bunch of geologists to argue about, why not really utilize them? Why not base our monetary system on them? Why not go off the gold standard and get on a moon-rock standard?

A few more trips and we'd have enough rocks to more than equal all the gold in Fort Knox, with less than one-tenth of one per cent of the storage problem. You could keep the whole lot in two or three suitcases.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Problem Solving

By BOB WEAR

A PROBLEM—FREE living experience seems to be the wish and expectation of many persons.

While it is readily admitted that most of us could do very well with fewer problems, we must remember that we are being unrealistic in we expect living to be accomplished without problems.

In fact, we are very near the truth in saying that living is problem solving.

MAKING PROBLEMS for ourselves is an uncalculated experience. When we do this, we are running the risk of becoming overburdened with them. This is just exactly what is happening to many persons today.

Foolish choices, laziness, self-indulgence, bad associates, neglected duties, and slighted opportunities are some of the more common causes of unnecessary problems.

RETENDING THERE are no problems is one sure way to render ourselves less capable of solving them.

Actual problems are never made less demanding by our pretense. Of course, it is also a mistake to exaggerate them, and otherwise make them bigger than they are.

It is also foolish to imagine problems which do not even exist.

RESENTING PROBLEMS is one certain way to lessen our capability of solving them. We may not like some of our problems; no reason why we should; but we must not resent them.

Resentment is usually found among the people who are not prepared for living. They have, for one reason or another, never learned how to come to grips with life.

This condition can be corrected.

RUNNING AWAY is never the solution to problems. It is one certain way to create more problems. Running away leaves existent problems unsolved, and makes solution less likely by the addition of more problems.

It is not always easy to face up to our problems, and keep working for solutions; but running away is not the answer. In the strictest sense, no one actually gets way from his problems by running.

THERE MUST BE problems, because the human experience would not be possible without them.

It would be some other-world experience. For living as human beings, we need the challenge of problems to solve. This is part of the process by which we grow strong and wise.

Perhaps it should be said that the proper response to this challenge enables us to become strong and wise.

THE PROBLEM—FREE life style which many are trying to follow today

DOWN TO EARTH

News Again

JIMMY R. ALLEN

IN A WORLD of secularization in which God has been elbowed out of the center of things some strange things are developing. Some observers are predicting an upsurge of religious fervor and point to evidence that the downward trend of religious interest is changing.

Alluding to the Bible's account of Abraham pleading with God to spare ancient Sodom and Gomorrah, one observer states, "it is as if God has found the required quota in our modern Sodom and is able to postpone his day of reckoning."

SIGNS OF RELIGIOUS interest are evident among the jaded and empty youth drug culture in California. LOOK magazine recently added its account of the Jesus Movement to other reports of young people responding enthusiastically to the claims of Christ.

While many churchmen are inclined to shrug this off as hyper-emotionalism, there is no escaping the potential impact of a real upsurge of idealism and dedication on the part of a vital segment of American youth.

THE SHIFT IN YOUTH music in the secular world is also of interest. The topic of religion now tops the list in a reflection of a spiritual search.

While "Jesus Christ Superstar" has, as one minister put it, "some atrocious theology," the very fact that it was written indicates a vast yearning to which commercial interests are now appealing. The number one song in several areas of the United States is Judy Collin's version of "Amazing Grace."

THE SHIFT OF MOOD about religion is also reflected in churches and church conventions.

While dire predictions of Christianity's demise and the death of God, along with detailed critiques of the church were much in vogue a few months ago, that note now is being rejected.

Churchmen are sensing a quickening of challenge. They are rejoicing in every sign of advance. They are looking deeper than statistics and hoping that statistics will be changed before the movement is through.

A VITAL QUESTION remains stirring of religious fervor organized Christian groups? Will the shifts of religious retreat from the progress already getting church groups to face the of challenges in an unjust and society? The answers to these are yet to be spelled out.

A CRUCIAL ELEMENT is organized religious groups can be enough and sensitive enough to Can they become channels for wave of religious enthusiasm losing their realization of responsibility a society which needs changing? It is the same basic problem faced by all institutions, government otherwise. Can institutions be change in style without losing their?

THE ANSWER to this question decisive one, crucial for Christianity. However, men of faith are quite out that God is in no danger of business. If He has to search instruments to use, He will do so. The nature and future of our society, however, very much at stake is the renewal of spiritual values accomplished.

1970 RECORD BEST The Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program reported the lowest number of cases in its history for 1970. Officials credit the successful "Getting sterile flies to target areas as cases were confirmed; careful use of the screwworm spread and sterile fly drops; cooperation of owners in reporting cases and a bad year for many species of flies let up on the part of stockmen admitting samples of worms to animal wounds is advised by officials."

Mayfield Gets WTSU Post

Gene Mayfield, head coach at Littlefield High School from 1964 through 1967, was named director of athletics and head football coach at his West Texas State University alma mater this week. His period of initial employment extends through December 31, 1975 at an annual salary of $25,000. His 17-year head coaching career at three high schools began in 1954 at Littlefield. In four seasons, his teams won 32 and lost 12, with five of the defeats coming in 1955, his second year in coaching. From Littlefield, Mayfield went to Borger High for seven years and four titles, then to Odessa Permian High for six illustrious years including a state championship and going to the state finals twice more in 1968 and 1970. In his 17 years of high school coaching his teams won 166 games and lost 35.

Fund Raising Tournament Set

Coca Cola is sponsoring its 2nd annual invitational basketball tournament this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18, 19 and 20, to raise funds for the Littlefield Baseball Associations. Donations of sandwiches and items for the concession stand will be accepted by Mrs. Edwin Coffman.

Youth Basketball Sign-Up Tuesday

Parents of boys in Littlefield Elementary I and II are invited to a meeting Tuesday night at the XIT Room of Security State Bank to sign-up their youngsters for the youth basketball program. Any boy born prior to Sept. 1, 1962, and on or after Sept. 1, 1958, will be eligible to participate in this year's play. Although the local program will not be a part of the national "Little Dribblers" this year, the association hopes to join that plan later. Meanwhile, the local program will operate under the same rules used by "Little Dribblers." The junior high school gym is being made available to the local basketball association at no charge by the Littlefield school board.

Area Basketball Roundup

ANTON WINS CROWN, SPADE, BULA GIRLS VIE

One more area team has been added to the list of crown receivers for a district championship. The Anton Bulldog varsity boys of loop 5-B topped the Lazbuddie Longhorns in a district playoff, 46-39. Tommy Gilbert was the high scorer for the Bulldogs with 12 points, as the Anton squad hit 48 per cent of their field goal attempts. The other top scorers for Anton were Darrell Hill and Terry Belcher with 10 each. The win will pit the Bulldogs against the 6-B district winners, the Three-Way Eagles, in the South Plains College Dome March 1. The coaches of the respective schools will meet to make the bi-district arrangements. The Bulldogs will take a 20-4 record for the season and a 10-1 loop mark into the game. Other teams playing for bi-district are the 5-B and 6-B girls' loop winners. Spade's girls' team will represent the 5-B winners and the Bula girls will represent the 6-B loop.

The Spade and Bula girls will be matching off for the fourth straight year for the bi-district title and the right to go on to the regional tournament. In 1968 the Spade girls topped Bula, 60-55, and met Follett in the first round of the regional tourney. Follett beat Spade, 64-46. In 1969 Spade topped Bula, 67-54, for the right to continue. In the 69 tourney the Klondike girls topped Spade for the semifinal play, 60-37. Spade then played Lakeview and won third place by 71-59. Last year the Spade girls topped Bula with the same team they now have, 63-59. The Spade girls were edged out, last year, for the regional title by a determined Follett team, 50-47, and came home with second place. Again the Spade and Bula girls will square off for bi-district. The meeting grounds will be the South Plains Texan Dome, at 8 P.M. Tuesday. Admission prices will be $1.50 for adults and $.75 for children.

THE COTTON SMITH house was built in 1915 from "pre-cut" material purchased from Sears-Roebuck Company by Mr. "Cotton" Smith. It was built just east of Littlefield on the south side of the Spade highway where it remained until it was moved to Littlefield in the mid 40's. Smith was called "Cotton" because he was reportedly the first to plant cotton in Lamb County in 1918. Shorty Yohner moved into this house in 1921 and lived there until 1925, farming some 800-900 acres of land surrounding it. Wheat was first planted, but he switched to grain sorghum when he discovered this was not a good wheat country. Yohner reported that in 1930 such a large snowfall was recorded that drifts blocked the road east of the house for one-half mile for a period of some six or seven weeks. The house now stands at the corner of 9th Street and Westside Avenue. (Sketch by Rev. Benny Goss)

Union Supports Market Act

The Texas delegation to National Farmers Union Convention, Feb. 24, will give first priority attention to support of extension of the Agricultural Market Agreement Act of 1937 to all farm commodities.

The state organization's Executive Committee, meeting at Austin last week, adopted a resolution supporting the need for federally-sanctioned bargaining authority.

The resolution stated that the new farm program would inevitably result in over-production of basic commodities which would result in excessive supplies of red meat.

This over-production will remove any opportunities that farmers might otherwise have had to bargain through marketing or bargaining associations.

"In the absence of a workable farm program, it is essential that farmers gain control over the prices for which they must sell their products by a legal system of commodity-by-commodity bargaining.

"Our delegates to the National Farmers Union convention will be charged with the obligation of supporting the broadening of authority to use marketing orders and agreements. This means that we are urging the National Farmers Union to diligently pursue as a priority objective the extension of the Agricultural Market Agreements Act of 1937 to all farm commodities," the resolution stated.

Several of the directors told the board that some of the U.S.D.A. policies administering the new farm program are creating hardship and discord among farmers. One board member, David Samuelson of Manor, pointed out that state ASCS pressure on the county farmer-elected committees to permit transfer of cotton bases outside the county has been extremely heavy.

According to Samuelson, in some counties where the farmers have voted in the past conclusively against transfers out of the county, county ASCS committees have bowed to state ASCS demands by permitting transfers.

POINSETTIAS POISONOUS?
No, says a report from Ohio State University. Recent research showed that rats which had been fed on extremely high doses of the leaves, bracts and flowers of the poinsettia is not toxic to laboratory rats. No human toxicity was evaluated.

TOKYO-Okinawa will revert to Japanese control in 1972.

WATER LEGISLATION was doubtlessly the subject of conversation between State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake and Texas Farmers' Union Vice President Joe Rankin of Ralls, at the Farmers Union Legislative reception in Austin. Clayton is executive vice-president of Water, Inc. and considered an expert in the field of water conservation.

Bible Studies Set By Baptists

The First Nationwide Bible Conference ever held by the 11.4-million-member Southern Baptist Convention is expected to draw 6,000 people to Dallas from throughout the country Mar. 15-18.

A number of the world's leading Bible scholars will address the meeting in Dallas' Memorial Auditorium.

Besides the messages by Bible scholars, there will be a choice of 45 expositions on portions of the Bible during morning sessions and a choice of 40 Bible-oriented explorations of contemporary concerns during the afternoons. "Christian Hope in a Time of Crisis" is the conference theme. Evangelist Billy Graham will be one of the speakers for the evening sessions.

Those who register will receive a kit of study materials and a reserved seat for each of the sessions. The registration fee is $10.

Registration forms and information may be secured from the Texas Baptist Sunday School Department, 406 Baptist Building, Dallas 75201, or from the Sunday School Department, Baptist Sunday School Board, 127 9th Avenue North, Nashville, Tenn. 37203.

Crop Demonstration Reports Available

A concise report on results of field demonstrations and research on cotton, grain sorghum and soybeans on the South Plains is now available to area producers.

Titled "Field Crop Demonstration and Research Summary," the report contains information on demonstration and research results conducted during the last three to four years.

The data was compiled from crop demonstrations conducted by the 20-county agricultural agents in Extension District 2 as well as from research conducted by personnel at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

The performance of 22 cotton varieties is summarized in the report, including data on each variety, yield, staple length, fiber strength, micronaire, and the comparative performance of these old and new varieties.

With regard to fertilizer response on irrigated cotton, 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre gave excellent response where soil tests indicated a low level of phosphorus. No real response was observed from phosphorus where soil tests showed a medium or above level of the nutrient.

Twenty-seven grain sorghum hybrids are evaluated in demonstrations throughout the South Plains. In addition to yield, the number of days required by each hybrid to reach 50 percent bloom is also recorded.

In a three-year summary of soybean variety demonstrations in Hale, Floyd and Swisher counties, 10 varieties were evaluated. Maximum yields depend on the proper planting time and available moisture during critical stages of growth.

Copies of the report are county Extension office available from any District 2 the A&M Center at Lubbock.

FHA Upgrading Is Introduced

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price introduced two bills Monday which are the remainder of a package designed to upgrade the operations of the Farmer's Home Administration.

The legislation follows that introduced during the last Congress by Price and recently signed by President Nixon.

One of these would transfer funding of the FHA operating loan program from direct appropriations of tax funds to the agriculture credit insurance fund which allows private investors to provide these funds with government guaranteed repayment.

The second bill would increase the present operating loan ceiling from $35,000 to $50,000.

"I would like to stress that if both of these bills are adopted and funding of the operating loan program is transferred to the private money markets, then raising loan limits would cost the taxpayer nothing," Price said.

"Transferring the funding of the operating loan program from the federal budget to the private money market has the full support of the Nixon administration. Increasing the outside limits on operating loans would give the FHA greater flexibility in meeting the credit needs of this nation's hard-pressed farmers," he added.

Price noted that the chairman of the House Agriculture Committee has promised early hearings on these proposals.
