CORNELIUS ROBINSON Forced His Retirement

LAH RODGERS
 Last day the passenger train ran in Littlefield is a sad day for Cornelius Robinson.

July 19, 1968, "Mr. Banker" Robinson, or "Robby" as he was known to the Santa Fe train crew, was forced into retirement after 24 years, four months and 15 days working as chuck car conductor.

Robinson came to Lamb County "that year." "That was the coldest weather in my history," he said, "must have been about the fall of 1930." Robinson worked for Mr. Dave Ozment at Amherst for years during the Thirties and early forties.

Robinson and the Amherst banker had the same first names of Cornelius, and Boyd at Amherst nicknamed "Banker." "I made five people in the Flats when they were only three."

Robinson made five people in the Flats when they were only three. "Until we got here there were only three."

Robinson made five people in the Flats when they were only three. "Until we got here there were only three."

"I'd take them to the lounge or go to the diner with them and buy 'em some milk or candy. Oh boy, that was swell. They liked that."

Young children traveling alone were left in his care. He woke them up in time to get them off at the right stop and kept them standing right there beside him until an adult showed up to get them. If no one was there when it was time for the train to pull out, he turned them over to the station master.

"High balling" the conductor during freezing weather and driving rain are among his memories, too. He still has the lantern he used to signal the conductor. His railroad watch is another treasured keepsake.

The biggest train he attended was 23 cars, and there were times when they unloaded 750 people at Lubbock.

Robinson was on the train that carried President Eisenhower west out of Clovis. The president had "Mr. Gurly's" private car. Gurley was president of Santa Fe.

"Oh, boy, that car looked like the White House itself," Robinson said. "It had television and everything."

Robinson was 66 when he retired. He is 69 now. "I've never been drunk or laid out," he said. "You last a long time when you stay off that old whiskey and stuff."

UNSEASONABLY WARM February days have allowed fruit trees to burst out in bloom. Lynn Timian, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Timian, 112 E. 18th, sniffs apricot blossoms in his back yard. Some fruit trees in full bloom were snapped late this week when temperatures dipped below the freezing mark.

Approval of the airport insurance policy was postponed until figures could be worked out.

An ordinance to correct the tax roll will be brought up for adoption at the next meeting, March 16. Minute action was taken to delete some delinquent taxes which have been carried on the books for a long length of time.

Councilmen instructed the city manager to request for street lighting, and to hire a full-time secretary in the office.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Hypercriticism

By BOB WEAR

ONE OF THE MOST BANEFUL, and most widespread practices of our time is hypercriticism.

There doesn't seem to be any particular desire to be helpful or constructive.

THIS KIND OF CRITICISM is not helping anybody, not even the critic.

We had better take a good look at the workings of destructiveness which thrive on this derogatory approach to life.

LEGITIMATE CRITICISM is made less effective by the enormity of hypercriticism.

In fact, the social atmosphere becomes so polluted that an accurate perspective is impossible.

THIS TOTAL DISREGARD for truth, for integrity, for responsible behavior and for justice hurts everybody.

It threatens everything that is of value, and the things that are most needful to human well-being.

MUCH OF THE CRITICISM in the political arena is improperly motivated, and belongs in this "hypercritical" classification.

It is not made with a high regard for honesty and for facts. It is not made for the purpose of accomplishing something worthwhile.

DO YOU EVER get the feeling that everything is wrong, that nothing is right?

This prevailing widespread "hypercriticism" is a gross exaggeration of the bad and the undesirable.

THE HUMAN SCENE will never be perfect, and is not likely to be as hopeless as some predict.

Of course, we have problems and there are many improvements most of us would like to make.

CAPTIOUSNESS is movement in the wrong direction, because this is the action which stresses faults and raises objections.

Justified, constructive criticism is helpful, but the present-day "hypercriticism" is destructive and discouraging.

Visit Your Schools

Littlefield and area residents have an opportunity to visit public schools during the week of March 6-10.

From the physical aspect alone, many schools have changed from a multi-storied warehouse to a one-story complex.

Texas Public Schools Week is a for Texans to go back to the schools while actual classes are in session.

It is not only an opportunity challenge for every parent to visit his child's public school during this week.

This, then, is the trend in education — to use not only the best ideas in all fields but to contribute to a better educational system.

It is logical to assume that educational teaching methods have pace with the progressive changes in school architecture.

PHILOSOPHER

Reporters' Reports

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm—has been listening to the reporters' summaries of their trip to China.

A lot of columnists who didn't get to make the trip to China have been complaining that nobody has found out what actually took place over there.

For example, on his return, Walter Cronkite, in summing up some of his impressions which didn't include what went on at the summit talks since he couldn't find out any more than you and me what went on there.

He pointed out also how 200,000 Chinese turned out one day to shovel the snow off Peking's streets.

Well, I'll tell you. If 200,000 New Yorkers tackled their streets some morning it'd make a difference too.

But what I wanted to know, and television reporters never thought is, what would those 200,000 able Chinese have been doing if they were shoveling snow?

Also, the reporters and the other too couldn't get over the immensity of ancient Chinese Wall, the 20,000-foot-thick monstrosity running thousands of miles over mountains through valleys and built over 2,000 ago by 300,000 slaves.

If you'll give me 300,000 slaves work for a bowl of rice a day, and other slaves who're growing delivering that rice at the same pay, no telling what I could build.

But that was ancient China. How modern China? I don't know a thing it, same as the reporters who're there, but there must be some people there who, looking out the window beneath their warm cover on a morning, sure hate to see if snow.

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter, exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soil... a time for our souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Sainly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

Time to the Church
The Church is You
 From a combination of men, women and children, the church is the body of Christ. Let us go into the heart of the church. Let us support the program of service to humanity. Let us be a faithful work in a daily bible study and attend church regularly.

TEXAS CATTLE INDUSTRY

Former Pep Priest Has New Book Out

Former Pep priest, Rev. Stanley Crocchiola, who writes under the pen name of F. Stanley, has published a new book, "The Texas Panhandle, From Cattlemen to Feedlots."

The book, which is just off the press, covers well over 700 pages and weighs four pounds in its mailing wrapper.

"I spent more time in getting notes and writing this book than I have on any other," said Rev. Stanley, a leading Southwest historian and author.

"All together, I collected notes for 20 years or so, with intense researching for three years. The assembling and typing took me 13 months," the father said.

"Of course it takes me a while to type, since I use only two fingers," he chuckled.

Rev. Stanley said he intended to use this book as a gauge for his future books on the Panhandle. He chose the Panhandle history because "so little has been written about this area and its history is so rich."

"From Cattlemen to Feed Lots" is a general overview of what happened to the cattle ranches and the rebirth of the industry in the feed lots today.

The book begins in 1880 when the big ranches were forced to sell out because of the railroads and nestors. The ranchers fought the railroad until 1887, when the first train crossed the Panhandle.

The big era of the railroad came to the Plains during the period following 1887. Many trains existed only on paper, but the contractors were funded anyway, Rev. Stanley said.

"If oil had been found back then, the whole story of the Panhandle would have been different," the priest said. "But gas wells were tapped first, and oil wasn't important until 1926.

"The feed lot concept was first tried in South Texas in 1888, but it didn't catch on until the end of World War II," he added. "The pressure for beef animals in the 60s sparked the spread of feed lots from Iowa to California, like wildfire."

Rev. Crocchiola, writing under the pen name of F. Stanley, has written and published in limited editions 36 books and 107 pamphlets. The price of his new book covers only the costs of printing because all of his books are published on a non-profit basis.

Rev. Stanley still works on a 6 a.m. to midnight schedule which includes his priestly duties, painting, research and writing, and plenty of time for reading.

"I like to read four or five books at a time, many newspapers including the New York Times, 28 magazines a month and then there's my painting, too," he said.

Rev. Stanley teaches free painting classes three times a week to adults and children of Nazareth and Dimmitt. "Four or five of my Nazareth students are already selling paintings," he beamed.

But he chose to forego artwork in his huge new book.

City Hall Undergo Over-All Remodel

Littlefield is still on a remodeling and improvement binge, judging by improvements that burst out all over during the past year.

Leading the face-lifting activities is the building which houses the city administrative offices. City hall was built in 1930, and used in that capacity, except when used temporarily by county officials while the new Lamb County Courthouse was built in 1954. Modernization and decoration of the red brick building started in April, 1971.

The program is to extend over a 2-year period with $30,000 budgeted for the improvements. Most of the first floor has been completed. Walls are paneled light oak; ten and a half foot ceilings have been lowered to nine feet, acoustical tiles have been installed in the ceiling.

The building includes the fire department with areas which include fire truck storage and sleeping quarters for the men; the police department, with chief of police's office and dispatch room; water department billing and collection office, accounting, building inspector, tax assessor and collection, city secretary, city manager, city council chamber, municipal court, jail, the Chamber of Commerce, store room, and coffee bar and rest-rooms.

Building permits for the past fiscal year of the City of Littlefield showed a sharp rise. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1970, the figure was $110,000. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1971, they reached $286,185.

Municipal sales tax collections showed a good increase according to Pat D. Bradley, city manager. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1970, they were $84,584.54 while the latest period ending Sept. 30, 1971 showed a total of $96,097.71.

There were no fatal accidents in the city of Littlefield in 1971. In 1970, there were five deaths from automobile accidents. In 1970 there were 198 investigated accidents and in 1971 there were only 186.

The city suffered less than half the fire losses in the past year. At the end of September, 1970, losses were $55,050; in 1971 for the same they were $27,220. Improvements included $25,000 spent by the city on the

Civil Case Jurors Rule For Church

The 12-member jury returned a verdict in favor of the church Thursday of this week after three days of testimony and almost five hours of deliberation.

The West Texas District Church of the Nazarene brought suit against Southern Lloyds for a claim that the wind storm in April of 1970 caused extensive damage to the church auditorium here.

At the time of the damage, jurors found that the damage could have been repaired for $16,590. Because of the lapse of time, church officials say now that the building is irreparable. District Judge Pat Boone Jr. said he has taken the judgement under advisement.

Larry Sanderson was foreman of the jury. Other jurors were Douglas Parish, Mrs. Pat Fuentes Jr., J.R. Scott, Mrs. Thomas F. Hodge, M.J. Cotter, Sena Stevens, John D. Burnett, W.A. DeBerry, Mrs. Sherman Rushing, Buster Owens Jr., and Mrs. George B. Williams.

Anton Reaches Region I-B Finals

GRACE (25) gets set to work the ball in for Anton as Alan James Elisha Thomas (15) and Leroy Medlock (31) get into position. The 27-2 game advanced to the finals by edging McAdoo, 65-64, and easing past 42-40. Saturday night's championship game will be in the L-N.

Anton's Bulldogs reached the finals of the Region I-B tournament at Levelland's South Plains Dome by nipping Channing, 62-60, in an overtime battle Saturday morning.

The Bulldogs, now 28-2, were to play the winner of Sands-Hedley in the 8 p.m. finals Saturday for the championship and a trip to the state Class B tourney.

Anton won its first-round game over McAdoo, 65-64, in a battle that was not decided until the final minute.

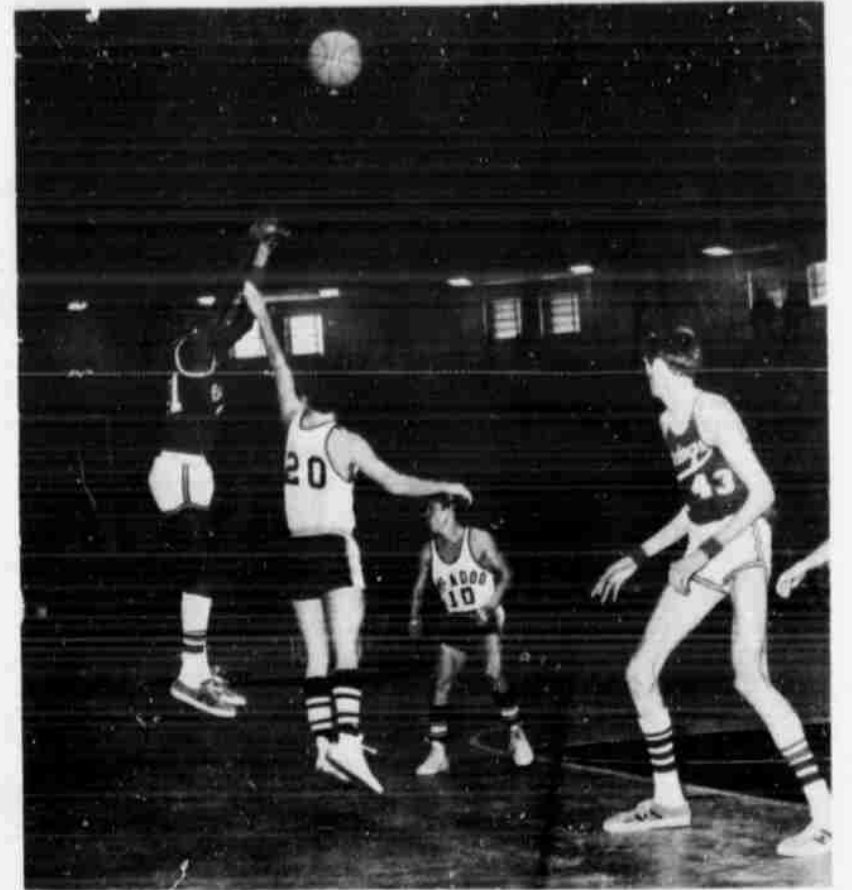

The Bulldogs had a 15-12 first quarter lead, and a 27-25 lead at intermission, but were tripped up in the third stanza as McAdoo edged past them for a 45-44 score going into the final period of play.

Opening minutes in the last quarter saw until the score reached 53-53. The Bulldogs then exploded and took a 10-point lead with 2:06 left in the game. The Eagles came back and had the Bulldogs trailing by a point when Mark Grace tied the game and then gave Anton the win when he hit two from the free throw line with 56 seconds left in the game.

McAdoo had the ball as time ran out, but could not get a shot off.

Terry Belcher took high point honors by sinking 23 points for the winners. Alan James and Mark Grace each bucketed 13, Leroy Medlock hit nine and Elisha Thomas seven.

McAdoo was paced by Ruben Osuna with 21. Jimmy Neff hit 19 and Alan Neff 15.

ANTON BULLDOG Leroy Medlock (31) shoots from the outside for two of his nine points in the Bulldog's opening game in the Region 1 Class B playoffs Friday against McAdoo. # Livestock Sale Brings $21,000

The sale of 142 4-H, FFA and project animals brought a total of $21,006.46 to the Littlefield area. The animals were sold by Amherst, Littlefield and

Saturday, Feb. 26, at the close of the Annual Littlefield Area Junior Livestock Show and Sale. The grand champion beef of the show brought $1.10 per pound and was purchased by First National Bank of Sudan. That animal was a 1,184-pound Angus steer which was raised by Jim Fields as a Sudan 4-H project. Brad Walden's 1,158-pound reserve grand champion Hereford-Angus Cross steer brought 55 cents a pound, and was purchased by Littlefield area merchants.

The grand champion lamb was purchased by Baccus Chevrolet at Sudan for $1.75 per pound. It was a 106-pound Hampshire, raised by Troy Wayne Moss of the Sudan 4-H Club.

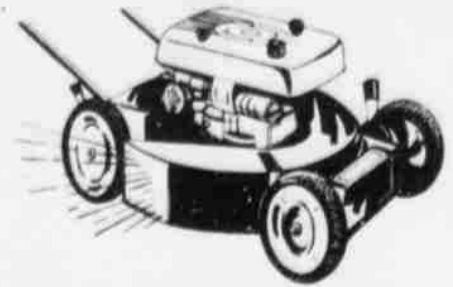

Stephanie Carter's 9-pound reserve grand champion Hampshire lamb was bought at $2 per pound by First National Bank of Amherst. Stephanie is a member of the Amherst FFA club.

The grand champion swine was purchased by Gebo's at $1.65 per pound. The 200-pound Duroc gilt was raised by Ricky Stamps of the Littlefield FFA. Byers Grain and Feed purchased the reserve grand champion swine, a 207-pound Hampshire gilt, at $1 per pound. The gilt was raised by Gary Lichte, a Littlefield 4-H'er.

Average prices paid the contestants above the market price for all animals were: $70 per steer; $45 per lamb; and $45 per pig.

What Profit A Stock Show?

A Demonstration Of Belief In Youth

EDITOR'S NOTE: This copy of the "Farm Journal" was submitted to Associate County Agent Bobby Brunson by Mrs. Bula Graham of the Littlefield community. It is reprinted in its entirety.

I wasn't trying to disrupt the stock sales yard. I simply was trying to help my high school son get a picture of his father. But the man galloping on horseback shouted as he thought me deaf as well as dumb: "Lady, get out of the alley, or you're going to get another voice bawled over your loud speaker!" "Thirteen! Alley one! Pen down!"

I grabbed my purse, camera, the Future Farmer's small notebook, and started to scramble. "You can't leave now!" someone yelled. "They're running down the alley!"

Just in time, we shinned up the fence. Thirteen head of wild steers raced by, their hooves fanning my ankles.

I made three other attempts to get out of the way; each time, a bunch of cattle hustled toward us, and we had to seek the fence top again. I vent to my exasperation screaming at my 5-year-old: "Help me, if you ever join the 4-H, don't you expect help from me!"

It didn't mean it, of course he didn't. And so will the Future Farmer's other younger member. And I shall remain deep in baby chicks, fat steers, and fat lambs — all those projects necessary to the raising of a boy into a man.

He was the boy who has earned merit badges, medals, ribbons, or a trip to a national meet — or, for that matter, a boy who hasn't won anything, but who is ready to begin next year — and I can show you a mother should look like a general in a chest full of ribbons.

My Mom's ribbons and medals are not so tangible. They are the pride she wears (right on her sleeve) in the accomplishments of her boy; they are her own realization that it's necessary for her to help and encourage that boy, as it is for me to lead him and make him behind his ears.

Sometimes I wish I were the boy whose chief concern is Fair time tolls around is Grandma's vinegar cruet in the antique section. Sometimes I envy the grassed poise of my city friends who can stroll past the bulls, assuming that their combs always shine, and that steers' tails are naturally curly.

But I am a little bit sorry for them, too. They've missed the biggest part of the show, known only to those who enter by the back gates armed with buckets and brushes.

I have taken many projects in my stride in the course of our son's 4-H and FFA career. Scouting, too, I have mastered the Morse code, and I have taken the Five-Mile Hike and eaten aromatic stew out of a can. We — Dad and I — have applauded our son's victories, and helped him starch his spine to stand up in defeat. But often I have wished that I had never met Doris.

Perhaps, subconsciously, I feel inferior to Doris because of her pedigree. My ancestry is a conglomeration of nationalities; but Doris is untainted by any intermingling of blood lines except the best Holstein-Friesian.

She wasn't a very impressive calf the day she made her debut in our family, shivering cold and unable to stand. But as of today, she has a fistful of

Bula GA's Recognized

BULA—Mrs. Johnnie Hall, Girls Auxiliary leader, presented the GA's in a special program Sunday evening at the Baptist Church, in recognition of the girls' completing their required work.

Theme for the program was "What the World Needs Now is Love", with the recording of the music being played softly in the background.

Program opened with Mrs. Hall's reading the Love chapter of the Bible, 13th Chapter of 1 Cor. She also showed slides of different nationalities of people. Ashel Richardson and daughter, Margaret, sang a special, "The Love of God".

The altar was centered with one huge burning candle and as each candidate came down the aisle carrying a single white candle, they lit it from the burning candle on the altar, and as they received their collars and badges presented to them by Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Dewitt Tiller, each girl quoted John 3:16, and then placed their candle on the altar.

GA's receiving recognition were Ida and Oralia Davila, Elnora and Ruby Peacock, Janice Tiller, Dora Black and Tammie Green.

Ronnie Green, pastor of the church, gave the benediction.

ribbons — Junior Grand Champion, twice Grand Champion, and Reserve Grand Champion.

Our life has not been simple, nor dull, since Doris entered it. For one thing, the will power of a mule is mild compared with that of a cow if it decided not to climb into a trailer. The only way I want to cope with that situation is to get behind the offender and whop her with a stick.

But Doris must not be struck, nor scolded, nor yelled at — it would make her nervous. She must be tempted with grain or the best quality hay held temptingly before her. Doris must be coaxed and cajoled, praised and patted, until getting into the trailer becomes her own idea. But once at the fair, she again performed brilliantly.

But as I watched the other youngster's prize animals being auctioned off, I did not feel a part of the bustle and noise of the sales yard. Men were there, with strident voices, and they belonged. So did the boys and girls scrambling around the enclosures, giving final brushings and pattings to their animals. The white-shirted, cigar-smoking business men in the buyers' section belonged there — but not I. Nevertheless I wanted to see this thing through.

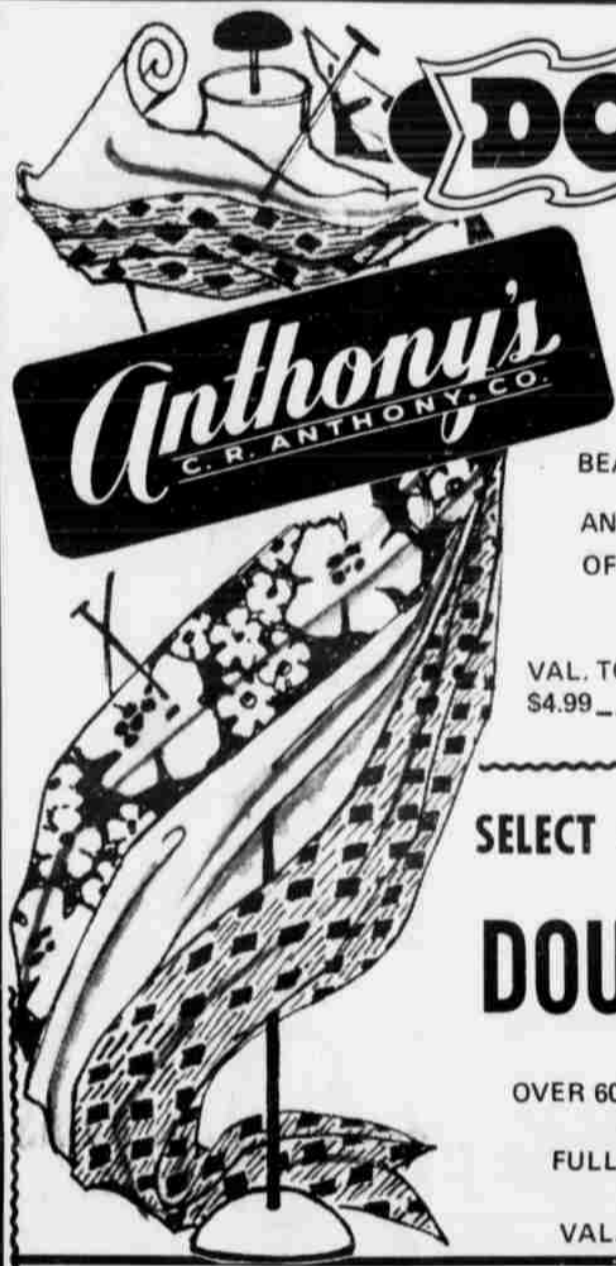

Then the bidding began, and I saw a girl weeping into the sleek neck of a steer just sold to the butcher. I saw a boy's face brighten until it glowed incandescently as quarter by quarter, the price mounted on his fat lambs.

I listened as, again and again, the bidding climbed — Going once, going twice. SOLD to the Bank and Trust. SOLD to F. W. Woolworth Company. SOLD to Barlow Warehouse!

What profit, I wondered, is there in a business man's paying more than the market price for a pig or calf? The realization flooded over me that herein lies the profit: This is the American way of showing that our young people are our priceless possession. This is our way of saying to them: "It isn't easy to be young, to learn good sportsmanship and good business practices — whether you win or lose. But we believe in you, and we want to help."

And suddenly I was proud to be a part of it. Sometimes it's nerve-racking, fatiguing, and downright inconvenient to be the unsung helper behind the scenes of my son's projects. But it's also tremendously rewarding — a manly son is blue ribbon enough for any Mom!

CORNELIUS ROBINSON Fast Passenger Train Forced His Retirement

...day the passenger train ran Littlefield is a sad day to Corne-lison.
July 19, 1968, "Mr. Banker" or "Robby" as he was known to the Fe train crew, was forced into retirement after 24 years, four months and 15 days working as chuck car operator.
Robinson came to Lamb County "that winter." "That was the coldest weather in history," he said, "must have been about the fall of 1930." Robinson met Mr. Dave Ozment at Amherst
24 years during the Thirties and early Forties.
Robinson and the Amherst banker had the same first names of Cornelius, and the Amherst banker had the same nickname "Banker."
Robinson made five people in the Flats when he was here," he said. "Until we got here there were only three."
Robby's more than 24 years of experience on passenger trains were on the 75 and 76 which ran from Clovis to Littlefield.
Evening he'd get aboard the 76 and ride back from the 436 mile trip the next morning on the 75.
Robinson had take a 20-car train to hold all the passengers and paper cups he dispensed.
Robinson's fondest memories are of the children who tagged after him on his trips. "Oh, law! Them's the little rascals," he said. His eyes shined with a remembering smile.
Robinson had after them kids. They wanted to see him and tote the cups and tissues.
"I couldn't hardly get out of there. I sure did like them."
Robinson had thousands of kids from the chuck car through the cars and let 'em look right out the window. They were the sweetest little kids you ever saw.

"I'd take them to the lounge or go to the diner with them and buy 'em some milk or candy. Oh boy, that was swell. They liked that."

Young children traveling alone were left in his care. He woke them up in time to get them off at the right stop and kept them standing right there beside him until an adult showed up to get them. If no one was there when it was time for the train to pull out, he turned them over to the station master.

"High balling" the conductor during freezing weather and driving rain are among his memories, too. He still has the latern he used to signal the conductor. His railroad watch is another treasured keepsake.

The biggest train he attended was 23 cars, and there were times when they unloaded 750 people at Lubbock.

Robinson was on the train that carried
President Eisenhower west out of Clovis.
The president had "Mr. Gurly's" private car. Gurly was president of Santa Fe.
"Oh, boy, that car looked like the White House itself," Robinson said. "It had television and everything."

Robinson was 66 when he retired. He is 69 now. "I've never been drunk or laid out," he said. You last a long time when you stay off that old whiskey and stuff."

Council Corrects City Tax Roll

extended coverage insurance for the city office, and decided to draw up an ordinance to correct the tax roll, during a regular session Thursday night.

The council will correct the tax roll will be up for adoption at the next to delete some delinquent taxes which have been carried on the books for a length of time.

to request for street lighting, and to file until Oct. 1 when the new fiscal year begins. The city has budgeted $21,900 that lighting should be limited to emergency.

Gas Company, concerning the increase of gas rate increase of one million cubic feet, (.1 of a cent) to be effective for meter readings on or

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Hypercriticism

By BOB WEAR

ONE OF THE MOST BANEFUL, and most widespread practices of our time is hypercriticism. From all areas of the human experience, it seems that "habitual fault-finding" increases daily.

There doesn't seem to be any particular desire to be helpful or constructive. The "undue criticism" seems to be an end in itself, and oftentimes the critics seem to revel in their efforts to outdo each other.

THIS KIND OF CRITICISM is not helping anybody, not even the critic. Of course, the critic would not be so vocal and energetic if it were not for the people who receive his criticisms with feelings of great delight.

We had better take a good look at the workings of destructiveness which thrive on this derogatory approach to life.

LEGITIMATE CRITICISM is made less effective by the enormity of hypercriticism. This means that we lose one of the more useful ways for correcting the wrong things, and upholding the right.

In fact, the social atmosphere becomes so polluted that an accurate perspective is impossible. People are often heard to say to each other, "I don't know what to believe, or what to think."

THIS TOTAL DISREGARD for truth, for integrity, for responsible behavior and for justice hurts everybody.

It threatens everything that is of value, and the things that are most needful to human well-being. It may very well be the biggest adverse influence upon individuals, and is probably the most discouraging one of all.

political arena is improperly motivated, and belongs in this "hypercritical" classification.

It is not made with a high regard for honesty and for facts. It is not made for the purpose of accomplishing something worthwhile. Some of it is for the dishonorable purpose of destroying someone's character and ruining his good name. The motivation is often selfishness and greed. This hurts all of us, because it damages our way of life.

DO YOU EVER get the feeling that everything is wrong, that nothing is right? This is not an uncommon feeling, but it is not a feeling based on truth.

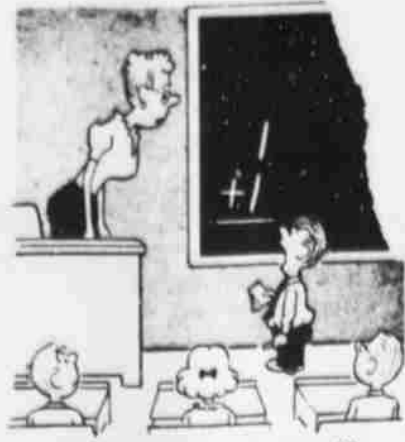

This prevailing widespread "hypercriticism" is a gross exaggeration of the bad and the undesirable. It even covers up much that would be encouraging and helpful to all of us, and this helps to make the bad seem worse.

THE HUMAN SCENE will never be perfect, and is not likely to be as hopeless as some predict.

Of course, we have problems and there are many improvements most of us would like to make, but the free-wheeling criticism, with the accompanying discouragement and destructiveness, is not helping us.

CAPTIOUSNESS is movement in the wrong direction, because this is the action which stresses faults and raises objections and is designed to confuse and complicate.

Justified, constructive criticism is helpful, but the present-day "hypercriticism" is destructive and discouraging.

HOWNY GETS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

THIS UNSEASONABLE warm weather is causing me some frustration. Had curled up in the ol' lounge in front of the tube for a little nap, then some eager-beaver down the block cranked up a lawn mower!

I'd known that some of the citizens were havin' thoughts of spring. I'd already seen the onion plants out in front of a local store.

IT'S BAD ENOUGH for a guy to try to alibi his laziness, even in cold weather, but when these unthoughtful people start rushin' the season, it's doubly so.

So, come on fellers! Cool it!

FOR THE SAKE OF YOU youngsters who've been exposed to the "New Jesus Movement," may I suggest that the Bible has NOT been REWRITTEN!

Dear Editor: The library staff wishes to publicly thank Girl Scout Troop No. 433 for a book donation. This was given in completion of "My Treefoil badge."

WHEN YOU LOOK at the goings on down Abilene way, you're reminded that "politics makes strange bedfellows." Alas! So does greed!

GUESS I'M a little mean, but, can't help but wonder if the welfare department has thought of includin' a generous supply of the "pill" with their staples?

SEEMS THAT the more I hear outta Smith and Barnes, the more I'd like to hear something about that feller Briscoe.

WELL, WELL! Seems we've gotten a pretty nice size bunch signed up for the schoolboard election. I'm sure most of the fellas knew what they were doin', but it's rumored that feller Blevins had gotten mixed up and thought he was standin' in line at the Post Office window!

WIMMEN! — BOUNCED UP from the table this mornin', sayin' "Gotta go make myself pretty, and go to work!" Without even lookin' up, the bitter-half says, "Shall I call your boss and tell him you're going to be late?"

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW... The price of gold is going up and I ain't got a bit!

'S funny, here I'd thought we were tryin' to curb inflation, and the government is raisin' the price of this metal, "TO DEVALUE THE DOLLAR."

Either I'm settin' on my horse backward, or his head's on the wrong end!

I'd always thought that inflation consisted of "devalued" money, or the over abundance thereof. Looks like "Phase II" musta got into reverse!

Visit Your Schools

Littlefield and area residents have an opportunity to visit public schools during the week of March 6-10. This is an annual celebration called Texas Public Schools Week and affords interested parents a chance to see, during classroom time, the many changes which have taken place since they were in the public schools.

From the physical aspect alone, many schools have changed from a multi-storied warehouse to a one-story complex. On the other hand, there is a return to the "one-room" schoolhouse but with a vast difference. The one room has become a honey-comb cluster of hexagonal spaces without walls between classrooms — where pupils and teachers can and do rearrange themselves depending on the lesson at hand. These unusual concepts of school architecture are the outgrowth of the new educational trend which allows students to learn at their own individual rates.

Texas Public Schools Week is for Texans to go back to the schools while actual classes are in session. At first hand, exactly what the developments are, in educational purpose they are serving.

It is not only an opportunity challenge for every parent to visit his child's public school during this week.

This, then, is the trend in education — to use not only the best ideas in all fields but to contribute to a better educational system. It is logical to assume that educational teaching methods have pace with the progressive school architecture. Reading, Science, Mathematics have taken the place of three "R's" in importance. Utilized new teaching concepts have baffled many parents and aroused degrees of curiosity.

Reporters' Reports

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm — has been listening to the reporters' summaries of their trip to China, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editor: A lot of columnists who didn't get to make the trip to China have been complaining that nobody has found out what actually took place over there, if anything, but they were looking for the big things when they should have been looking for the little things.

For example, on his return, Walter Cronkite, in summing up some of his impressions which didn't include what went on at the summit talks since he couldn't find out any more than you and me what went on there, said he couldn't get over how clean the streets of Peking were, and contrasted them with the streets of New York and other big cities where I understand it's considered unsanitary for children to play hop-scotch.

He pointed out also how 200,000 Chinese turned out one day to shovel the snow off Peking's streets.

Well, I'll tell you. If 200,000 New Yorkers tackled their streets some morning it'd make a difference too.

But what I wanted to know, and television reporters never thought of, is, what would those 200,000 Chinese have been doing if the shoveling snow? Don't they have jobs?

Also, the reporters and the other too couldn't get over the immense ancient Chinese Wall, the 20,000-foot-thick monstrosity running thousands of miles over mountains through valleys and built over 2,000 ago by 300,000 slaves.

If you'll give me 300,000 slaves work for a bowl of rice a day, and other slaves who're growing and delivering that rice at the same pay, no telling what I could build a paved highway to every hamlet in the country and a rock fence around every farm and ranch, provided someone furnish the wheelbarrows and the oxen.

But that was ancient China, the modern China? I don't know a bit, it, same as the reporters who were there, but there must be some people there who, looking out the window beneath their warm cover of a morning, sure hate to see it snow.

TEXAS CATTLE INDUSTRY

Former Pep Priest Has New Book Out

Former Pep priest, Rev. Stanley Crocchiola, who writes under the pen name of F. Stanley, has published a new book, "The Texas Panhandle, From Cattlemen to Feedlots."

The book, which is just off the press, covers well over 700 pages and weighs four pounds in its mailing wrapper.

"I spent more time in getting notes and writing this book than I have on any other," said Rev. Stanley, a leading Southwest historian and author.

"All together, I collected notes for 20 years or so, with intense researching for three years. The assembling and typing took me 13 months," the father said.

"Of course it takes me a while to type, since I use only two fingers," he chuckled.

Rev. Stanley said he intended to use this book as a gauge for his future books on the Panhandle. He chose the Panhandle history because "so little has been written about this area and its history is so rich."

"From Cattlemen to Feed Lots" is a general overview of what happened to the cattle ranches and the rebirth of the industry in the feed lots today.

The book begins in 1880 when the big ranches were forced to sell out because of the railroads and nestors. The ranchers fought the railroad until 1887, when the first train crossed the Panhandle.

The big era of the railroad came to the Plains during the period following 1887. Many trains existed only on paper, but the contractors were funded anyway, Rev. Stanley said.

"If oil had been found back then, the whole story of the Panhandle would have been different," the priest said. "But gas wells were tapped first, and oil wasn't important until 1926. "The feed lot concept was first tried in South Texas in 1888, but it didn't catch on until the end of World War II," he added. "The pressure for beef animals in the 60s sparked the spread of feed lots from Iowa to California, like wildfire."

Rev. Crocchiola, writing under the pen name of F. Stanley, has written and published in limited editions 36 books and 107 pamphlets. The price of his new book covers only the costs of printing because all of his books are published on a non-profit basis.

Rev. Stanley still works on a 6 a.m. to midnight schedule which includes his priestly duties, painting, research and writing, and plenty of time for reading.

"I like to read four or five books at a time, many newspapers including the New York Times, 28 magazines a month and then there's my painting, too," he said.

Rev. Stanley teaches free painting classes three times a week to adults and children of Nazareth and Dimmitt. "Four or five of my Nazareth students are already selling paintings," he beamed.

But he chose to forego artwork in his huge new book.

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter, exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soul... a time for our Souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Sainly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

Church Slates Revival Meeting

The Assembly of God Church will begin a six-day revival meeting today, and the services will continue through Friday night.

Services are slated at 7 p.m. nightly at the church's location on the corner of Hall Avenue and College Avenue.

Rev. A. R. Aman of Granbury will serve as the evangelist, and Calvin Price, the church's music director, will lead the singing.

Special musical numbers will be presented every night, according to the pastor, Rev. J. C. Amburn, who also extends an invitation to the public to attend the services.

This is also the time to let us know if you want an addition in this year's directory. One for your wife. Or a separate nearly-grown-up daughter. All it takes is a call.

Cattle Feeding Leads

Expansion Of Small Grains

Expanding cattle feeding operations on the High Plains has renewed interest in production of small grains in this area and has led to expansion of small grain variety tests at the High Plains Research Foundation.

Fifteen wheat varieties, including standard types, experimental selections, and hybrids, were planted November 3 on the Foundation Farm at Halfway.

Winter and spring types of triticale will be tested in small grains production this year. Two winter-types were planted October 10 and at least 10 winter and spring varieties will be planted later this season to provide data on planting dates.

In order to observe small grains on larger acreage, eight types, including two wheat, two of rye, two wintergraze, were planted in the Foundation Research and Planning Farm east of Delano, acre blocks.

Joe Wright, Farm agronomist in charge grain studies, indicated future plans at the Foundation for additional acreage of these variety possible cultural studies.

City Hall Undergoes Over-All Remodel

Littlefield is still on a remodeling and improvement binge, judging by improvements that burst out all over during the past year.

Leading the face-lifting activities is the building which houses the city administrative offices. City hall was built in 1930, and used in that capacity, except when used temporarily by county officials while the new Lamb County Courthouse was built in 1964. Modernization and decoration of the red brick building started in April, 1971.

The program is to extend over a 2-year period with $30,000 budgeted for the improvements. Most of the first floor has been completed. Walls are paneled light oak; ten and a half foot ceilings have been lowered to nine feet, acoustical tiles have been installed in the ceiling.

The building includes the fire department with areas which include fire truck storage and sleeping quarters for the men; the police department, with chief of police's office and dispatch room; water department billing and collection office, accounting, building inspector, tax assessor and collection, city secretary, city manager, city council chamber, municipal court, jail, the Chamber of Commerce, store room, and coffee bar and rest-rooms.

Building permits for the past fiscal year of the City of Littlefield showed a sharp rise. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1970, the figure was $110,000. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1971, they reached $286,185.

Municipal sales tax collections showed a good increase according to Pat D. Bradley, city manager. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1970, they were $84,584.54 while the latest period ending Sept. 30, 1971 showed a total of $96,097.71.

There were no fatal accidents in the city of Littlefield in 1971. In 1970, there were five deaths from automobile accidents. In 1970 there were 198 investigated accidents and in 1971 there were only 186.

The city suffered less than half the fire losses in the past year. At the end of September, 1970, losses were $55,050; in 1971 for the same they were $27,220. Improvements included $25,000 spent by the city on the

Civil Case Jurors Rule For Church

The 12-member jury returned a verdict in favor of the church Thursday of this week after three days of testimony and almost five hours of deliberation.

The West Texas District Church of the Nazarene brought suit against Southern Lloyds for a claim that the wind storm in April of 1970 caused extensive damage to the church auditorium here.

At the time of the damage, jurors found that the damage could have been repaired for $16,590. Because of the lapse of time, church officials say now that the building is irreparable.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr. said he has taken the judgement under advisement.

Larry Sanderson was foreman of the jury. Other jurors were Douglas Parish, Mrs. Pat Fuentes Jr., J.R. Scott, Mrs. Thomas F. Hodge, M.J. Cotter, Sena Stevens, John D. Burnett, W.A. DeBerry, Mrs. Sherman Rushing, Buster Owens Jr., and Mrs. George B. Williams.

CORNELIUS ROBINSON

Last Passenger Train Forced His Retirement

WILLIAM RODGERS

Last day the passenger train ran from Littlefield is a sad day to Cornelius Robinson.

July 19, 1968, "Mr. Banker" Robinson, or "Robby" as he was known to the Fe train crew, was forced into retirement after 24 years, four months and 15 days working as chuck car driver.

Robinson came to Lamb County "that year." "That was the coldest weather in my history," he said, "must have been about the fall of 1930."

Robinson worked for Mr. Dave Ozment at Amherst 12 years during the Thirties and early forties.

Robinson and the Amherst banker had the same first names of Cornelius, and the banker at Amherst nicknamed Robinson "Banker."

Robinson made five people in the Flats when he came here, "Until we got here there were only three."

Robinson had Robby's more than 24 years of experience on passenger trains were on the 75 and 76 which ran from Clovis to Littlefield.

When he'd get aboard the 76 and the 75 back from the 436 mile trip the next morning on the 75.

Robinson would take a 20-car train to hold all the passengers and paper cups he dispensed.

Robinson's fondest memories are of the children who tagged after him on his trips. "Oh, law! Them's the little rascals," he said. His eyes lit up with a remembering smile.

Robinson talked after them kids. They wanted to know and tote the cups and tissues, but he couldn't hardly get out of the car. "I sure did like them."

Robinson carried thousands of kids from the back of the chuck car through the trees and let 'em look right out the window. They were the sweetest little things you ever saw.

Council Corrects City Tax Roll

Littlefield city councilmen discussed the extended coverage insurance for the city office, and decided to draw up an ordinance to correct the tax roll, during a regular session Thursday night.

Correction of the airport insurance policy was postponed until figures could be worked out.

City manager instructed the city manager to correct the tax roll will be set up for adoption at the next council meeting on March 16. Minute action was taken to delete some delinquent taxes which have been carried on the books for a long length of time.

City manager instructed the city manager to request for street lighting, and to set up until Oct. 1 when the new fiscal year begins. The city has budgeted $21,900 for street lighting this year, and councilmen feel that street lighting should be limited to emergency.

City manager discussed a letter from Pioneer Gas Company, concerning the proposed increase of gas rate of one mill per cubic foot, (.1 of a cent) to be effective for meter readings on or after April 15.

City manager authorized the city manager to work out an agreement with a tax consultant to help with the selection of personnel in that office, and to hire a full-time secretary in the office.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Hypercriticism

By BOB WEAR

ONE OF THE MOST BANEFUL, and most widespread practices of our time is hypercriticism. From all areas of the human experience, it seems that "habitual fault-finding" increases daily.

There doesn't seem to be any particular desire to be helpful or constructive. The "undue criticism" seems to be an end in itself, and oftentimes the critics seem to revel in their efforts to outdo each other.

THIS KIND OF CRITICISM is not helping anybody, not even the critic. Of course, the critic would not be so vocal and energetic if it were not for the people who receive his criticisms with feelings of great delight.

We had better take a good look at the workings of destructiveness which thrive on this derogatory approach to life.

LEGITIMATE CRITICISM is made less effective by the enormity of hypercriticism. This means that we lose one of the more useful ways for correcting the wrong things, and upholding the right.

In fact, the social atmosphere becomes so polluted that an accurate perspective is impossible. People are often heard to say to each other, "I don't know what to believe, or what to think."

THIS TOTAL DISREGARD for truth, for integrity, for responsible behavior and for justice hurts everybody.

It threatens everything that is of value, and the things that are most needful to human well-being. It may very well be the biggest adverse influence upon individuals, and is probably the most discouraging one of all.

political arena is improperly motivated, and belongs in this "hypercritical" classification.

It is not made with a high regard for honesty and for facts. It is not made for the purpose of accomplishing something worthwhile. Some of it is for the dishonorable purpose of destroying someone's character and ruining his good name. The motivation is often selfishness and greed. This hurts all of us, because it damages our way of life.

DO YOU EVER get the feeling that everything is wrong, that nothing is right? This is not an uncommon feeling, but it is not a feeling based on truth.

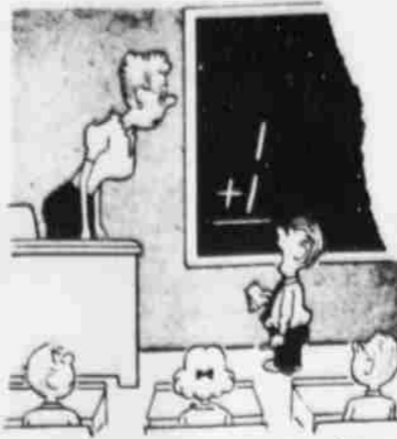

This prevailing widespread "hypercriticism" is a gross exaggeration of the bad and the undesirable. It even covers up much that would be encouraging and helpful to all of us, and this helps to make the bad seem worse.

THE HUMAN SCENE will never be perfect, and is not likely to be as hopeless as some predict.

Of course, we have problems and there are many improvements most of us would like to make; but the free-wheeling criticism, with the accompanying discouragement and destructiveness, is not helping us.

CAPTIOUSNESS is movement in the wrong direction, because this is the action which stresses faults and raises objections and is designed to confuse and complicate.

Justified, constructive criticism is helpful, but the present-day "hypercriticism" is destructive and discouraging.

"Mind if I refer to my notes?"

HOWNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

THIS UNSEASONABLE warm weather is causing me some frustration. Had curled up in the ol' lounge in front of the tube for a little nap, then some eager-beaver down the block cranked up a lawn mower!

I'd known that some of the citizens were havin' thoughts of spring. I'd already seen the onion plants out in front of a local store.

IT'S BAD ENOUGH for a guy to try to alibi his laziness, even in cold weather, but when these unthoughtful people start rushin' the season, it's doubly so. So, come on fellers! Cool it!

FOR THE SAKE OF you youngsters who've been exposed to the "New Jesus Movement," may I suggest that the Bible has NOT been REWRITTEN!

KEEP WAITIN' AROUND for the Supreme Court to rule the income tax unconstitutional. Better hurry it up, fellas!

DEAR EDITOR

'Thanks' To Troop

Dear Editor: The library staff wishes to publicly thank Girl Scout Troop No. 433 for a book donation. This was given in completion of "My Treefoil badge."

They had to do a service project to do the completion and we are grateful that the girls chose the library for their project. Mrs. Travis Altman is their leader and we also wish to thank her for encouraging her girls to think of the library.

the fun that feller Howard Hughes seems to be havin'.

WHEN YOU LOOK at the goings on down Abilene way, you're reminded that "politics makes strange bedfellows." Alas! So does greed!

GUESS I'M a little mean, but, can't help but wonder if the welfare department has thought of includin' a generous supply of the "pill" with their staples?

SEEMS THAT the more I hear outta Smith and Barnes, the more I'd like to hear something about that feller Briscoe.

WELL, WELL! Seems we've gotten a pretty nice size bunch signed up for the schoolboard election. I'm sure most of the fellas knew what they were doin', but it's rumored that feller Blevins had gotten mixed up and thought he was standin' in line at the Post Office window!

WIMMEN! — BOUNCED UP from the table this morning, sayin' "Gotta go make myself pretty, and go to work!" Without even lookin' up, the bitter-half says, "Shall I call your boss and tell him you're going to be late?"

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW... The price of gold is going up and I ain't got a bit! 'S funny, here I'd thought we were tryin' to curb inflation, and the government is raisin' the price of this metal, "TO DEVALUE THE DOLLAR."

Either I'm settin' on my horse backward, or his head's on the wrong end!

I'd always thought that inflation consisted of "devalued" money, or the over abundance thereof. Looks like "Phase II" musta got into reverse!

LIVE AND LEARN, I reckon. Still seems like a heckuva way to run a railroad!

Visit Your Schools

Littlefield and area residents have an opportunity to visit public schools during the week of March 6-10. This is an annual celebration called Texas Public Schools Week and affords interested parents a chance to see, during classroom time, the many changes which have taken place since they were in the public schools.

From the physical aspect alone, many schools have changed from a multi-storied warehouse to a one-story complex. On the other hand, there is a return to the "one-room" schoolhouse but with a vast difference. The one room has become a honey-comb cluster of hexagonal spaces without walls between classrooms — where pupils and teachers can and do rearrange themselves depending on the lesson at hand. These unusual concepts of school architecture are the outgrowth of the new educational trend which allows students to learn at their own individual rates.

Texas Public Schools Week is an opportunity for Texans to go back to the schools while actual classes are in session. At first hand, exactly what the developments are, in educational purpose they are serving.

It is not only an opportunity for every parent to see his child's public school during the week.

This, then, is the trend in education — to use not only the best ideas in all fields but to contribute to a better educational system.

It is logical to assume that educational teaching methods will pace with the progressive school architecture. Reading, Science, Mathematics have taken the place of the three "R's" in importance. Utilized new teaching concepts have baffled many parents and aroused degrees of curiosity.

PHILOSOPHER

Reporters' Reports

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm — has been listening to the reporters' summaries of their trip to China, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editor: A lot of columnists who didn't get to make the trip to China have been complaining that nobody has found out what actually took place over there, if anything, but they were looking for the big things when they should have been looking for the little things.

For example, on his return, Walter Cronkite, in summing up some of his impressions which didn't include what went on at the summit talks since he couldn't find out any more than you and me what went on there, said he couldn't get over how clean the streets of Peking were, and contrasted them with the streets of New York and other big cities where I understand it's considered unsanitary for children to play hop-scotch.

He pointed out also how 200,000 Chinese turned out one day to shovel the snow off Peking's streets.

Well, I'll tell you. If 200,000 New Yorkers tackled their streets some morning it'd make a difference too.

But what I wanted to know, and television reporters never thought of, is, what would those 200,000 Chinese have been doing if they shoveling snow? Don't they have jobs?

Also, the reporters and the other too couldn't get over the immensity of the ancient Chinese Wall, the 20,000-foot-thick monstrosity running thousands of miles over mountains through valleys and built over 2,000 years ago by 300,000 slaves.

If you'll give me 300,000 slaves to work for a bowl of rice a day, and other slaves who're getting paid delivering that rice at the same pay, no telling what I could build a paved highway to every broad country and a rock fence around farm and ranch, provided someone furnish the wheelbarrows and so forth.

But that was ancient China. In modern China? I don't know a bit, same as the reporters who were there, but there must be some people there, looking out the window beneath their warm cover-ups in the morning, sure hate to see it snow.

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter, exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soil... a time for our Souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Sainly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

The Church is the Church in You. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support the program of service to humanity. Be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader, and attend services regularly.

TEXAS CATTLE INDUSTRY

Former Pep Priest Has New Book Out

Former Pep priest, Rev. Stanley Crocchiola, who writes under the pen name of F. Stanley, has published a new book, "The Texas Panhandle, From Cattlemen to Feedlots." The book, which is just off the press, covers well over 700 pages and weighs four pounds in its mailing wrapper.

"I spent more time in getting notes and writing this book than I have on any other," said Rev. Stanley, a leading Southwest historian and author.

"All together, I collected notes for 20 years or so, with intense researching for three years. The assembling and typing took me 13 months," the father said.

"Of course it takes me a while to type, since I use only two fingers," he chuckled.

Rev. Stanley said he intended to use this book as a gauge for his future books on the Panhandle. He chose the Panhandle history because "so little has been written about this area and its history is so rich."

"From Cattlemen to Feed Lots" is a general overview of what happened to the cattle ranches and the rebirth of the industry in the feed lots today.

The book begins in 1880 when the big ranches were forced to sell out because of the railroads and nestors. The ranchers fought the railroad until 1887, when the first train crossed the Panhandle.

The big era of the railroad came to the Plains during the period following 1887. Many trains existed only on paper, but the contractors were funded anyway, Rev. Stanley said.

"If oil had been found back then, the whole story of the Panhandle would have been different," the priest said. "But gas wells were tapped first, and oil wasn't important until 1926. The feed lot concept was first tried in South Texas in 1888, but it didn't catch on until the end of World War II," he added. "The pressure for beef animals in the 60s sparked the spread of feed lots from Iowa to California, like wildfire."

Rev. Crocchiola, writing under the pen name of F. Stanley, has written and published in limited editions 36 books and 107 pamphlets. The price of his new book covers only the costs of printing because all of his books are published on a non-profit basis.

Rev. Stanley still works on a 6 a.m. to midnight schedule which includes his priestly duties, painting, research and writing, and plenty of time for reading.

"I like to read four or five books at a time, many newspapers including the New York Times, 28 magazines a month and then there's my painting, too," he said.

Rev. Stanley teaches free painting classes three times a week to adults and children of Nazareth and Dimmitt. "Four or five of my Nazareth students are already selling paintings," he beamed.

But he chose to forego artwork in his huge new book.

Cattle Feeding Leads

Expansion Of Small Grains

Expanding cattle feeding operations on the High Plains has renewed interest in production of small grains in this area and has led to expansion of small grain variety tests at the High Plains Research Foundation.
Fifteen wheat varieties, including standard types, experimental selections, and hybrids, were planted November 3 on the Foundation Farm at Halfway.
Winter and spring types of triticale will be tested in small grains production this year. Two winter-types were planted October 10 and at least 10 winter and spring varieties will be planted later this season to provide data on planting dates.
In order to observe small grains on larger acreage, eight types, including two wheat, two of rye, two varieties, one barley, wintergrazer, were planted the Foundation Research and Demonstration Farm east of Plains, acre blocks.

Joe Wright, Farm agronomist in charge grain studies, indicated future plans at the Foundation for additional tests of these variety in possible cultural triticale.

City Hall Undergoes Over-All Remodel

Littlefield is still on a remodeling and improvement binge. Judging by improvements that burst out all over during the past year.

Leading the face-lifting activities is the building which houses the city administrative offices. City hall was built in 1930, and used in that capacity, except when used temporarily by county officials while the new Lamb County Courthouse was built in 1954. Modernization and decoration of the red brick building started in April, 1971.

The program is to extend over a 2-year period with $30,000 budgeted for the improvements. Most of the first floor has been completed. Walls are paneled light oak; ten and a half foot ceilings have been lowered to nine feet, acoustical tiles have been installed in the ceiling.

The building includes the fire department with areas which include fire truck storage and sleeping quarters for the men; the police department, with chief of police's office and dispatch room; water department billing and collection office, accounting, building inspector, tax assessor and collection, city secretary, city manager, city council chamber, municipal court, jail, the Chamber of Commerce, store room, and coffee bar and rest-rooms.

Building permits for the past fiscal year of the City of Littlefield showed a sharp rise. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1970, the figure was $110,000. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1971, they reached $286,185.

Municipal sales tax collections showed a good increase according to Pat D. Bradley, city manager. For the year ending Sept. 30, 1970, they were $84,584.54 while the latest period ending Sept. 30, 1971 showed a total of $96,097.71.

There were no fatal accidents in the city of Littlefield in 1971. In 1970, there were five deaths from automobile accidents. In 1970 there were 198 investigated accidents and in 1971 there were only 186.

The city suffered less than half the fire losses in the past year. At the end of September, 1970, losses were $55,050; in 1971 for the same they were $27,220. Improvements included $25,000 spent by the city on the

Civil Case Jurors Rule For Church

The 12-member jury returned a verdict in favor of the church Thursday of this week after three days of testimony and almost five hours of deliberation.

The West Texas District Court of the Nazarene brought suit against Southern Lloyds for a claim that the wind storm in April of 1970 caused extensive damage to the church auditorium here.

At the time of the damage, jurors found that the damage could have been repaired for $16,590. Because of the lapse of time, church officials say now that the building is irreparable.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr. said he has taken the judgement under advisement.

Larry Sanderson was foreman of the jury. Other jurors were Douglas Parish, Mrs. Pat Fuentes Jr., J.R. Scott, Mrs. Thomas F. Hodge, M.J. Cotter, Sena Stevens, John D. Burnett, W.A. DeBerry, Mrs. Sherman Rushing, Buster Owens Jr., and Mrs. George B. Williams.
