RODGERS
 May 1 Bicentennial Celebrations for Lamb County and the area are really shaping up, says Hubert Henry. Tickets for the party are now on sale and are distributed to participating organizations.

been rolled into one giant celebration. All of the activities usually associated with Festivities Days, plus the annual big Band Barbecue and many more events will be combined and moved up to April 30 and May 1. As usual, one of the main attractions will be the drawing for some spectacular prizes. Because this is America's bicentennial year, this year's free trip will be to Boston where America's heritage is rooted. The grand prize will be a trip for two to Boston for four days and three nights. The trip will be all inclusive including plane fare and accommodations. In addition, two 23-channel citizen band radios plus antennae will be given away. Marty Mangum is the ticket sales chairman. All organizations selling tickets will receive 10 percent of the sales gross. For further information contact Mangum or the Chamber of Commerce office. Tickets will be available for a $1 donation. Besides the barbecues, parade, beauty pageant, dances, art festival and other activities, May 1 is also the day for the May 1 voting primary when thousands will exercise their right to choose their precinct, county, district and senatorial officials. Too, this is the target date for the grand opening of several new businesses in Littlefield. The new shopping center on S. Phelps and Marshall Howard Blvd. will be open by that date and hope to have their grand opening celebration in conjunction with the Bicentennial Celebration. The shopping center houses a large TG&Y, the Country Boy Grocery, and K-Bob's Restaurant. Tri-County Savings will be open by May 1 and plans call for a grand opening celebration that Saturday. Bicentennial Celebration activities get underway on Thursday night, April 29, when the Littlefield Circle Eight Square Dance Club will hold one of the biggest square dances yet in the new County Ag and Community Building. Square dancers from all over West Texas will be present to start off the celebration. Then Friday night, April 30, the annual Beta Sigma Phi-sponsored Miss Lamb County Beauty Pageant will be held, and a new Miss Lamb County will be chosen to reign during the Bicentennial year. Artists from all over the area will bring their paintings, sculptures, arts and crafts for a big art show and sale in the Community Building during the Bicentennial Celebration.

Deedee Davis and Sarah Tollett are chairmen for the art show. Jana Stehlik is heading a committee to provide a museum for the special celebration. Anyone who has antiques they would like to display may contact Mrs. Stehlik for further information. Tentative plans call for an old fiddlers contest in conjunction with the celebration. Details will be announced later. Jim Jones is chairman for the booths and kiddie rides. Various carnival attractions will be provided for the children. In addition, there will be booths for selling ice cream, baked goods, and hand crafts. Bingo and other activities will be sponsored by various organizations. There will be activities all day long Saturday. All of the Littlefield bands along with members of the Band Boosters will have their big barbecue, concerts and head the parade.

Enough barbecue will be prepared to feed the population of the county for the noon meal and at supper. Tables will be set up outside under the trees in LaGuna Park. The three Littlefield bands will take turns giving concerts during the serving hours. The Littlefield bands will lead a parade down Phelps Ave. Saturday afternoon. Herschel Randall and Susan Head are parade chairmen. Randall See BICENTENNIAL, PAGE 2

Cloud seeding awaited in cloud seeding controversy

Two days of testimony on cloud seeding, Royston, general counsel for the board, said he will probably make a recommendation within a month to the Texas Water Development Board. Lanning will present a finding of fact on the question of whether the programs of Better Weather Incorporated (BWI) and the Plains Weather Improvement Association (PWIA) will significantly dissipate clouds and prevent natural courses of development of rain are to be conducted to the material detriment of persons or property in the area where the cloud seeding operations are conducted. If Lanning finds that the program is not detrimental, he will recommend that the TWDB issue a permit. If he finds that the program is dissipating clouds and preventing the natural course of rainfall, he will recommend that the board not issue the permits. The final decision is up to the TWDB, and is expected within 60 days. This question went to the judge Thursday after two days of testimony at the TTU law department. Eight farmers presented testimony that the cloud seeding program is detrimental to their interests. Proponents of the cloud seeding presented testimony from several expert witnesses. Dr. Pierre St. Amand is a civilian who is a senior Navy executive and one of the U.S. Defense Departments top weather modification experts. Dr. St. Amand said there is little chance the cloud seeding would decrease rainfall, but he indicated that cloud seeding decreased hail from 36 to 42 percent. Dr. Donald Harrigan with the TTU meteorology department said his department studies showed no evidence that the program decreased rainfall. Dr. St. Amand said it was his opinion that there was no way seeding with silver iodide could scientifically or physically break up a thunderstorm. He added that the average thunderstorm had the power of 20,000 tons of TNT a minute, and that all clouds dissipate by natural process eventually. Dr. St. Amand said the program had reduced hail dramatically, and that rainfall had not been reduced, but, if anything, rain increased because the clouds spread out to make it rain longer.

It was Dr. St. Amand's opinion that droughts beget droughts and that the whole world's weather patterns are changing dramatically and for the worse and that the world will receive less and less rainfall if something isn't done to stop pollution. William Alexander was the monitor for the BWI program here in 1975. Alexander was appointed by the Texas Water Development Board through Texas A&M College. Alexander said he found no deviation from the '75 permit. Alexander said there was no seeding out of the target area. On occasion he said he received calls from outlying areas reporting clouds were being seeded when the planes were on the ground or ac-

Library Follies offer 'many splendid things'

The Library Follies Thursday night offers something for everyone. The curtain will rise at 7:30 p.m. in the Littlefield Junior High Auditorium. Good old vaudeville may suffer a set back after officials from the American Cotton Growers Denim Plant perform a can-can routine. All will be attired in "something" made of denim, complete with fluffy white bunny tails. The fact that one of the members weighs around 300 pounds hasn't stopped their plans. A couple of groups of Littlefield square dancers will whirl and twirl to the musical, magical antics of master of ceremonies Kip Cutshall. There will be lineup of Dancing Dolls and belly dancers from Tu Tu's dance studio. Ann Owens studio will present piano ensembles. Plenty of surprises are in store for those attending. All proceeds will go into a fund to build a convenient new library. Price of admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the hidden talents of their neighbors and support the Lamb County Memorial Library Corporation.

City police distributing crime prevention stickers

The crime prevention unit of the Littlefield Police Department is currently working with area businessmen in an effort to reduce commercial burglary by marking Littlefield businesses with numbered dayglow stickers. The numbered stickers provide quick positive identification of the buildings by city police, which cuts down on response time and provides officers with a method of checking all city businesses several times a night by the use of a numbered code. The crime prevention unit encourages area businesses and citizens to report any suspicious activity or information on any crimes under investigation to the city police department at 385-4411.

Irrigation rates open to consumers

Notices for summer irrigation rates for city water users will be mailed with the next water billing, and sign-up deadline has been set for April 15. The first billing on the irrigation rate will be included in the May 1 water bills, and is to continue through the Oct. 1 billing. Charges for water under the irrigation rates include:

Not exceeding 15,000 gallons of total usage, $8.10; 45 cents per thousand for the next 10,000 gallons; 40 cents per thousand for the next 20,000; and 35 cents per thousand for all over 45,000 gallons. Persons wishing to go on summer irrigation rates are asked to return the special form to city hall.

City adopts water changes, authorizes property transfer

During their regular meeting Thursday night, Littlefield city councilmen adopted changes in the water and sewer extension policy and authorized Mayor J. E. Chisholm to sign a deed transfer on property exchange with Mr. and Mrs. Merle Beard. In recommending several changes to the council regarding the water and sewer extension policy, City Manager Jim Blagg stated:

"While considering the water and sewer extension policy at our last council meeting, the question of refunds to a subdivider or developer for water and sewer mains that lie totally within the development was raised. At the instruction of the council, I surveyed the cities of Hereford, Muleshoe, Levelland, Brownfield and Canyon to determine what policies cities in our area were following. With only one exception, that being Hereford, none of the cities surveyed refunded to developers any of the cost of water and sewer mains lying totally within a subdivision or development. The city of Hereford refunded one-half of the cost of water lines on a front footage basis as the lots were developed. Two of the cities refunded the developer the cost of fire hydrants and the city of Canyon refunded one-half the cost of a lift station if the station would serve others in the area. As we consider the establishment of a water and sewer extension policy there are a few changes in the ordinance as presented that I believe are worthy of consideration. One is that I believe the city should consider refunding to a developer a portion of the cost of a lift station unless the lift station would serve only that subdivision. The ordinance as proposed provides a 10-year time limit on refunds. The majority of the towns surveyed had a 5-year limit on all types of refunds and I believe perhaps we should consider lowering our time limit to five years. Councilmen decided on a five-year limit for refunds, and decided to accept half the cost of a lift station, unless it serves only the subdivision—then the promoter of the subdivision would absorb the total cost. Absent from the meeting Thursday night were councilmen James Shotwell and Chester Harvey. The deed transfer resolution deals with the securing of property, including the city shop and three lots See CITY, PAGE 2

HISTORICAL DRAWINGS BY JOSEPH BOGGS BEALE (1841-1920)

"MOLLY PITCHER"

"Molly Pitcher" became a heroine of the American Revolution on June 28, 1778, in the battle of Monmouth. Molly was married to John Hays, an enlisted man in the 1st Pennsylvania Artillery. She followed her husband's regiment, helping with the cooking and washing for the men. She followed the troops into battle and carried water to them in a picher, earning both her nickname and her place in history. When her husband fell from a heat stroke, she assumed his position as a fighting soldier for the rest of the battle. From the collection of American National Insurance Company, Galveston, Texas.

A Woman's View

PEARL BRANDON

ONCE WHEN Jesus was here on earth He was teaching His disciples many things, such as how to give alms and do good deeds and also how to pray.

He told them not to be like the hypocrites that prayed loud prayers on street corners or in public places just to be heard by men.

He also told them not to do their good deeds publicly, or sound a trumpet before they dropped some money in a beggars cup.

THEN HE SAID for them to pray for the kingdom of God on earth to be like it is in heaven.

I have often wondered about this Heavenly Kingdom. Where is God's perfect kingdom? It must be out there in space some where, with it's new Jerusalem and it's gates of Pearl and Streets of Gold.

God doesn't create things, usually, instantly, but takes long ages to bring about His plans.

I FULLY BELIEVE that in God's plan there is a place for every human being that ever lived. You say to me, "How can that be? Surely not those who commit evil deeds."

I say "why not?" He chose Judas who betrayed Him to be crucified. Poor Judas after He had betrayed Him and received the 30 pieces of silver went back to the chief priests and other Jewish leaders and threw down the money and said, "I have sinned, for I have betrayed an innocent man." Judas then went out and hanged himself. Still he had carried out the purpose for which he had been chosen and he did repent.

KNOWING our loving Lord as I do, I wouldn't be surprised to meet Judas in that new heavenly kingdom.

Puny human beings that we are, cannot know the mind of God as He works out His purpose through the ages.

I think we see only a little of God's vast purpose in creating the earth, the universe, including this small earth and us. But thank God for that little glimpse of His kingdom and our small part in it.

WE FEEL PRETTY small and inadequate, but His purpose for us is to love Him where we are and to carry on His will for us.

We have to pray and get close to Him to know that plan for us and we only see a little at a time. That is why we need to meet with Him every day early to get His plans for that day.

It is so good when we can feel His holy protection all the time and to know we will have the strength and power to daily face the problems of life.

and again. If you and I, as small businessmen, are to survive we have got to stand up and say, "OK, so I am Motherhood and Apple Pie, if this is what it takes. But I cannot afford to lose any more of my freedom. I cannot afford to pay any more marvelous schemes... in the name of convenience, in the name of decency, in the name of compassion or in the name of humanitarianism!"

Now that's Square Shootin'.

Physical fitness buffs have long maintained that their regimen not only made them feel better—it actually was adding years to their lifespan. A California study has now given a strong scientific boost to those claims.

"Men can add 11 years to their lives and women seven years by following seven simple rules of clean living," found the study, as reported in the January newsletter of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. The study was conducted by the California Health Department's Human Population Library.

1. Get the right amount of sleep—seven hours a night for women, eight for men.
2. Eat a good breakfast each day.
3. Eat three meals a day at regular times and avoid snacks.
4. Exercise regularly, preferably by participating in sports.
5. Control your weight.
6. Drink moderately—no more than one or two drinks daily.
7. Don't smoke cigarettes.

"A man of 45 who observes six or all of the rules can expect to live, on the average, to age 78," says Dr. Nedra Belloc, one of the authors of the study's report. "The man who observes three or fewer rules will be fortunate to reach 67," she adds.

The Dean of the School of Public Health at UCLA says this about the study's findings: "The daily habits of people have a great deal more to do with what makes them sick and when they die than do all the influences of medicine. A man at age 55 who follows all seven good health habits has the same physical health status as a person 25 to 30 years young who follows less than two."

Ponce de Leon and others sought but failed to find the Legendary Fountain of Youth. Following these seven rules of health, individual citizens have the opportunity to succeed where Ponce de Leon failed.

-Bicentennial-

said response thus far shows that this Bicentennial Celebration parade looks like the largest and best parade Littlefield has ever hosted.

The newly selected Miss Lamb County will ride at the head of the parade. Almost every club, organization, business and many individuals are making plans for floats for the parade.

A noted patriotic speaker will talk on LaGuna Park Saturday afternoon, and 4-H awards will be made after the speech.

Further details will be announced as final plans are made by various sponsoring organizations.

Steering committee members for the Bicentennial Celebration are Hubert Henry, Tom Tollett, Tom Hilbun, Benny Zahn, Paul Carmickle, Carol Black, Sarah Tollett, Marty Mangum, Bill Adams, and Herschel Randall.

-cloud seeding-

counted for in the target area.

Witnesses for those opposing cloud seeding included three Littlefield farmers, Robert Bolton, Ross Lumsden, and Dean Elms; Rex Faulkner from Causey, N.M.; Clyde Hancock and Nolan Henson from Happy, and E. L. Schlottman from Pep.

Schlottman presented rainfall statistics from one station in that area showing rainfall had decreased 5 inches over an eight-year period, and an increase of 3 inches over the last 12 years due to some unusually wet years. Schlottman attributed no evidence of his seeing AI planes seeding outside the target area in 1975 to the monitor which kept the program honest.

Most of the farmers testified that they had seen weather modification planes breaking up clouds which, in their opinions, would have brought rain if left alone.

Ross Lumsden said he had seen AI planes taking off from the airport at Littlefield and breaking up good clouds.

Nolan Henson showed rainfall charts showing extreme fluctuations in rainfall in area towns in the Happy area. He said some of the statistics were from official National Weather Service records and some from private rain gauges.

Dr. Scoggins' report was introduced which showed that cloud seeding had no effect on hail nor on rainfall. Scogging was commissioned by the TWDB to make an analysis.

A good bit of the testimony centered around holding an election and allowing a popular vote before a permit could be issued.

Tom Henderson, president of AI, said he would go along with a vote if that were limited to the target area of operations and didn't include peripheral counties.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Helpful input

MUCH OF THE STRENGTH and much of the usefulness in human behavior come from the various expressions of appreciation which are so much part of the best of human relationships.

These expressions of appreciation comprise what is probably the most "helpful input" of all that goes into making living as successful and desirable as it is.

IT IS IMPERATIVE that we learn to give the proper credit to people for their faithful performance of essential work. We cannot afford to take for granted or overlook the persons who are doing the necessary jobs.

We must be very diligent to identify everything worthwhile, and give full recognition to the people who support and maintain all that is worthwhile. This is the "helpful input" we need.

ALL OF US LOSE, to whatever extent we ignore, or downgrade, or treat with indifference the responsible and dependable workers. We lose because such unwise action causes serious imbalance in our social order.

The hurtful ramifications are many, and are spread out in many different directions. This is so much more than the discouragement of the persons who are not appreciated. We cannot afford the damage that is caused when thousands of useful people are made to feel that they are second-rate persons.

THERE IS MORE. It is common knowledge that many essential jobs and service areas are being deliberately shunned by our people. The loss is obvious, the loss we cannot afford.

The situation can be improved by doing two things. The generation to downgrade some areas and service should be discouraged; each individual can learn to secure in himself, because his work is essential and well.

WE MUST BEGIN by recognizing the status to the salary people receive for the particular job itself. Doing one's work, regardless of the status, has been unwisely given its greatest needs.

We must do everything we can to help everybody have a justifiable of being appreciated, every person is doing any kind of helpful work is a contribution which all of us make to the common good. Then our social structure is "helpful input" that we need.

IN OUR HIGHLY competitive, national structure, there is a need for downgrading or discouraging one who is behaving badly. Some persons are not interested in seeking status or power or position. They just want to be good and good citizens, and it is our duty to say or do anything that causes people to seem to be second-rate.

Let us make a significant contribution their way and in their work.

EXPRESSED appreciation "helpful input" that is needed.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHO

AGRICULTURE Commissioner John C. White urges all Lamb County farmers who use 2,4-D and other hormone-type herbicides to be especially careful this spring and observe regulations for application of that material.

This county is one of 76 in the state which have elected to operate under the regulations administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

White reminded farmers that they must have a permit to use hormone-type herbicides on plots of 10 acres or more. On smaller plots, the operator must notify the Texas Department of Agriculture of his intent, prior to spraying.

"These hormone-type herbicides are essential in production plans of some farmers, but they can be a serious problem to others if wise practices are not followed," White explained.

Herbicides can drift during application from the target area and will affect susceptible crops such as cotton and other broad-leaf plant. In addition, fruits, vegetables, and ornamentals can be damaged severely by herbicides.

Before applying them, the farmer should check the surrounding fields for susceptible crops, White advised.

He also suggested that a spray pressure of 20 to 30 pounds is best for applications of these herbicides.

"Proper pressure for ground rigs is one of the best ways to assure safety. Spraying is best done when winds are from 0-3 mph, and temperatures are less than 90 degrees F. When winds reach 10 mph, and temperatures exceed 90 degrees F., the operations

Caswell-Shannon vows repeated at Anton

Marriage rites solemnized for Virginia and James Russell Shannon Saturday March 20, in the sanctuary of Central Baptist Church.

The bride and groom were escorted to the altar by her father, Mr. Russell Shannon.

The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Cletus Spradley, pastor of the Union Baptist Church.

Jim Copeland played a medley of traditional wedding songs, including "The Theme from Romeo and Juliet" during the ceremony. She accompanied by Mrs. Jim Ritter, soloist, sang "Twelfth of Annie's Song."

The matron of honor was Betty Spradley, sister of the groom, and the bridesmaids were Laura Caswell, of the bride, Meadow, of Brazil, Anton.

The gowns were designed empire waistline and a long skirt of pink tulle over pink satin with wide-brimmed hats. Each carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

The best man was Doak Shannon, brother of the groom, Levelland. The groomsmen were Pete Caswell, Anton, brother of the bride, and Larry Harder, Levelland.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

The bride's gown was of white organza and white Chantilly lace featuring a high fluted ruffled collar. The long organza sleeves were cuffed with white Chantilly lace and organza. A wide beaded panel edged with Venice lace scallops made up the front of the gown. The back panel was gathered at the waist and fell into a train.

Building relationships is more than wishing

Strong relationships with family and friends takes more than wishing. Mrs. Dorothy County Extension suggests that to build relationships with family and friends while developing potential more fully, follow these guidelines:

- Be willing to share experiences, ideas and feelings with others. We will gain as much as we are willing to give of ourselves. Through sharing and cooperation, a deeper closeness with loved ones develops.
- Be sensitive and responsive to family and community concerns. Listen carefully to better understand the needs and desires of others. Be alert to what is said as well as what is not said.
- Make decisions and assume responsibility for what happens. Remember you and your family can accept the idea, reject the idea, or adapt it before making a final decision. Consider the possible consequences of each alternative—and then make a decision.

THE DANCING DOLLS of Littlefield will participate in the Library Follies on March 25. Members of the group are Melete Blackwell, Dana Clayton, Michelle Jones, Shawnda Masten, Ann Maria King, Lucretia Terry, Leslie Lowe, Lisa Bishop, Ray Ann Sebring and Laura Powell. # A RIP ROARING SPRING SALE

Spring cleaning comes but once a year and so does Stacy's Spring Sale! This sale comes at a time to help you with the big spring cleaning task. Look closely at your carpet in the doorways and trails, is it looking like Winter got the best of it? Don't despair, Stacy-Mason has carpet at real low sale prices during the Rip Roaring Spring Sale. How about the sofa? Lets look at it too. Is it soiled, a few holes and sagging in all the wrong places? Great! You can save some money on a new one at the spring sale. Every sofa and sleeper is marked way down to rock bottom prices.

While we are on the subject of Spring and Spring cleaning, years ago folks had to take their mattresses outside for a sunning and a beating when spring came. You should also take a few minutes to check your bedding, and your kids bedding too. If you can rub your hands over the top of the mattress and feel the springs on the inside, "yep," you need a new one. Does your mattress sag towards the middle? You know that place in your bed where you both roll to, in the middle of the night, leaving you working and climbing all night long to get out of that middle sag! "Yep", you need a new mattress and foundation. Do you wake up in the morning with a little backache or feel so tired you wish you could sleep another couple of hours? "Yep," you need a new Sealy Posturepedic set of bedding. Now, go over to the drawers on your dresser and open each one. Do they stick, hang or the drawer fronts pull off or are you just afraid to try to open one? Yep, you need a new bedroom suite. That's alright, they are on sale and you can save some money now at Stacy's.

Look! whatever your spring house cleaning tasks may be. We at Stacy-Mason can help you by saving you some money on new home furnishings during the Big Rip Roaring Spring Sale.

Iota Eta holds meeting

SUDAN—The Iota Eta Chapter of Sudan's Epsilon Sigma Alpha met Thursday, March 11, with Felice Bryant serving as hostess and Susan O'Rear as co-hostess.

The meeting began with the Jewel Pin Ceremony by Beverly Scott, Lou Boyles and Susan O'Rear. They were each presented a corsage and their jewel pins.

The program was given by Margaret Smith, who told some facts of how Sudan began and of her experiences here. The members presented her with a gift, thanking her for the program.

Nancy Davis, president, began the business meeting with the opening ritual.

The members voted against having the spring style show this year in order to exert all their efforts to the Bicentennial Fourth of July weekend. Ideas for the weekend were discussed.

After the closing ritual, the hostesses served a meal to the 11 members present: Mary Kay Baker, Nancy Baker, Jan Brown, Lou Boyles, Felice Bryant, Nancy Davis, Connie Fisher, Kathy Gatewood, Tanya Hanna, Susan O'Rear and Beverly Scott.

The Interlibrary Loan is a free service provided by the Texas State Library Communications Network. Requests are often received for a specific book or material not in stock locally.

A collect phone call to the Lubbock City-County Library may result in the material being mailed that day.

Should the Lubbock Library not have the books they will in turn call other larger libraries in the state including University Libraries, until it is located and notify the librarian when, and from which source the request can be filled. Material is loaned for a month and can be extended if necessary. This service is especially helpful to

Debbie Sorley to go on tour

Debbie Sorley of Littlefield is a member of the 50-voice A Capella choir at The College of the Ozarks which will leave March 24 on a 10-day tour of Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

The 2,500 mile tour will make a total of over 40,000 miles the choir has traveled during the past ten years, singing primarily in Presbyterian churches.

A junior social science major, Miss Sorley is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Clem G. Sorley, former Littlefield residents.

A four-year liberal arts college, Ozarks is affiliated with the United Presbyterian Church.

students needing material for school reports. It is a very effective program of making almost any book available to the library patron.

Other special services of the library are talking books for the blind, obtained from the Texas State Library; books with large print for people who cannot see well; an extensive magazine section; an excellent reference book section and some phonograph records.

Each Thursday at 10 a.m. the library has a "Story Hour" for pre-school children. A volunteer tells a story with audio-show 'N Tell machine aids. Refreshments are served on special occasions.

A fund-raising committee is working now for a new library building.

A lot on East 9th Street was donated as a building site. Hopefully, funds can be provided to incorporate such necessities as a ramp for the handicapped, adequate parking space and a room for use of audio-visual material (which is already available through Texas State Library). Such a room would be useful for lectures, book reviews and meetings.

The new building would also allow more flexibility in setting the hours the library could remain open.

Present hours are 10 to 5 Monday through Friday (holidays excluded).

JOE MEDINA

New manager at J.C. Penney's

Joe Medina has been named manager of Littlefield's J. C. Penney store. Medina succeeds Armin Perrin, who was manager here eight years before resigning early this month.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged and all sang the fellowship song. The meeting was dismissed with all saying the pledge in unison.

TEXAS TOPS NO. 102

Texas TOPS 102 met in Medical Arts dining room Tuesday, March 16.

Juanita White read an invitation from Brownfield. They invited Texas TOPS 102 to come to their 12th anniversary party April 8.

Juanita asked that all members remember the awards night March 30, when secret pals will be revealed, gifts exchanged, and new names drawn.

Not reported last week was the fact that the secretary will be Lola Wasson and the treasurer will be Janice Pollard for the coming year.

Thirteen members were present and two new members. Texas TOPS 102 wants to welcome Roxey Baber and Diana Stewart.

Queen for the week was Shirley Cox with a loss of 2 3/4 lbs.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged and all sang the fellowship song. The meeting was dismissed with all saying the pledge in unison.

A Banker's Viewpoint....

One billion seconds ago, give or take a few, Japanese airplanes bombed Pearl Harbor and thrust this country into World War II.

If you are not startled by the time it has taken for this billion seconds to reel off, you should be. Think about it. If you spent a dollar a second, night and day, since December 7, 1941, it would have taken you until just about now to run through a billion dollars - at $60 a minute, twenty-four hours a day.

The fact that each billion dollars spent by the federal government costs the average taxpayer $14.06 should give you pause.

Also all of us should be scandalized by the fact that while it took 185 years for the U.S. government to reach the point where it was spending $100 billion a year, our politicians were able to double that figure, to $200 billion in only nine years more. And four years later they had spending going at a rate of $300 billion a year.

Fifteen billion of this goes for federal paperwork. Another $36 billion pays interest on the national debt. And both debt and interest continue to climb.

All of this wouldn't be half so scary if such stupendous federal spending paralleled the growth of the U.S. economy. But it doesn't. An ever-escalating proportion of federal spending is made from pure debt, against the future earnings of American taxpayers.

As of now the federal government is taking about 40 per cent of all the wealth produced in this country.

This, of course, fires inflation, and in turn recession. All of us suffer the consequences.

Can the United States save itself from eventual economic collapse?

The answer is yes.

A bipartisan determination in Congress to level off the total of federal spending at the point it is today, and hold it there for the years it would take for federal income to catch up with spending, would do the job.

Whether politicians could discipline themselves to such an extent is an unknown question. But it's a certainty that if we the people do not force our politicians to adopt a sound attitude about spending by the federal government, this country cannot continue to survive as a nation of free people.

MRS. BEN PIERCE was able to return home Monday, after spending a week in the Littlefield Hospital.

MRS. ADELE COLE and niece, Keri Bars of Carlsbad, N.M., visited Saturday with the Nolan Harlans, then on to Amherst for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary Britt.

MRS. H. M. BLACK and son, Donald, visited Sunday afternoon at Pettit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dupler.

MR. AND MRS. Raymon Maxwell are visiting this week at Caddo Mills with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Drum and children.

tions— in positions of leadership— that more women could somehow humanize public affairs. Others think that we should not make such generalizations about one sex being able to do a better job than the other if we really believe what we say about equality of the sexes.

"Whether the country would be better off if more women were involved is open to debate. We would lose some of our traditional gentleness, softness. There is a faster rise in alcoholism among women now; crime is increasing among women— cheating-type crime. You can't have your Bella Abzug and Barbara Jordans without taking a chance on getting your Lynette Frommes and Bonnie Parkers— maybe. But whatever our future is, it promises to be an adventure. Let's live it!"

"Women have a new sense of identity, integrity, self-confidence. We are deliberately taking charge of our lives. We have more freedom of choice. We do not have to apologize about the choices we make or how we spend our lives, whether it be personal fulfillment in home and family, work outside the home, or participation in politics. The important thing is to do something."

"We have too much to offer to fritter the leisure hours away pointlessly. There is a difference of opinion among women as to just how women will play their role. Some believe that the world could be better off if there were more women in policy-making posiinal charge of having voted without the lawful right. At the trial, she was not allowed to testify in her own behalf, was fined $100 plus cost, but she never paid the fine nor went to jail."

Judge Kirby concluded her talk with a look at woman's lot today and she sees her "as a person who is not content just to sit by and let things happen— not to let the world just pass by. We have many examples of strong women who became involved in public life in the past," she said, "and there are better chances for the modern woman to be actively involved. The woman's movement has made all of us more aware of our own individual worth."

her home lovely; her company was delightful; her guests prestigious. She laughed and chatted but she could also listen. With these qualities she won James Madison, who became president.

"Susan B. Anthony, another great woman in public affairs, is long to be remembered. She, too, was from a Quaker family. She was very precocious, learning to read and write by age three. She grew up to be a straight-laced woman. Her attention was first turned to reform— first, to abolition of drinking and slavery and then to get the right to vote for women."

"At one time, she and a few others voted in New York and were arrested on federal crimoutspoken husband and his adversaries. She had been a farmer, a horsekeeper, a nurse and then a diplomat. What she set her head to do, she could do.

"Another outstanding example of the strong American woman participating in public affairs is Dolly Madison. She was unofficial First Lady during Jeffersons presidency, then officially the First Lady during her husband's two terms. She wasn't bred to such a life. Her family were Quakers, and their life was simple, but she was very regal and was often called Queen Dolly; some even called her Majesty. She was open-hearted, genial, thoughtful, friendly, and gay. She made was finally rescued by some white settlers only to learn that her husband had been murdered in a Mexican political intrigue. Later, this stalwart widow ran a boarding house.

"The third woman on the list of heroines is Ma Ferguson. She qualified for this distinction, even though she was a complex person and not completely admirable, for she was strong enough to show some independence and act on her own convictions.

"In 1924 she announced her candidacy for governor and, although all of Texas and the entire nation are said to have broken out in a broad grin, she won, running against five candidates.

"She was an intelligent, person, nobody's fool. Some of her outstanding achievements were: the signing of a bill, making it possible for the University of Texas to become a first-rate educational institution relatively free from the whim of the state legislature; the passing of laws prohibiting the wearing of masks in public, thus dealing the Ku Klux Klan, her old enemy, a death blow; the pardoning of prisoners, many of them violators of prohibition laws.

"When Franklin D. Roosevelt's measure to end depression came to Texas in an attempt to bring Texas oil production under federal control. Ma, the lady governor, showed her independent spirit and the free Texas spirit by fighting Roosevelt's program. Of course a lot of oil and gas were lost in the resistance, but she showed her spunk. Whether we approve or disapprove of Ma Ferguson, we shouldn't forget her, should we?"

Judge Kirby said she wished to give credit to two First Ladies who were characters in their own right— Abigail Adams and Dolly Madison. "There were good reasons for Abigail to be ready to fill the role she did in our history," she said "She was the daughter of a Congregational Minister. Her childhood was austere. She was too frail to go out to school, so she studied her father's severe books and soberly pondered over the subject of "duty". She married John Adams and helped him to build up his law practice, and when he went to the Continental Congress, Abigail was left to manage their little farm.

"That was her work, her duty, and it included everything from facing Indians and illness to doing every kind of farm work there was to do in early days, plus educating her children. She was a great help to her husband in political life.

"Her simple ways and sincere tact served as a buffer between her irritable, too-patient with the woman who think it is a woman can be independent, a real life," she said. "In this state's history this nation's very strong women would like to take a look back over my past, look here she inserted her name— "I hope I can turn into a little bit of a few women— because they were women, but because of somebody."

LIFE IS A BIRTHDAY CAKE

At a birthday party a cake was served. It was announced that throughout the cake valuables had been added to the batter—so many that every person receiving a piece of cake would receive a present. And they did! An unforgettable occasion!

Life is a birthday cake. Valuables are scattered all through the years. So many that surely every person receiving his days from the hand of God will also receive a beautiful gift from Him.

When a group of businessmen compared answers to the question, "What is the most important decision you ever made," they were pleased and surprised that almost one third of them replied, "The decision I count most important was my acceptance of Christ as Savior."

There among presidents, vice presidents and other high corporate affairs was the shining jewel of faith in Christ.

A visit with an old black friend many years ago turned up the same happy cry of joy. "What makes me so happy?" he asked. "Not money or position in my community. I have precious little of either. But I found the pearl of great price, and I sold out in this world to claim the precious Jewel as mine!" Then he broke into song, "I have a friend in Jesus, He's everything to me."

Life is like a birthday cake, 70 layers high, and here and there, throughout the days, are precious treasures. But when you meet the Master, Jesus Christ, you'll find He wasn't laying there waiting for you to happen along. He was pursuing you, and found you and made you His!

"I am the Lord thy God, who teacheth thee to profit," Isaiah 48:17.

A short article in the Readers Digest illustrates this truth. It tells of a zoologist who designed an experiment in which an ape was introduced to the profit motive. To accomplish this, he taught the animal to draw and paint, and he found him to be capable of some pretty admirable things. Then he started rewarding him by giving him peanuts for his work. soon the ape was doing 'any old scrawl' to get the peanuts. The experimenter wryly observed, "I had introduced commercialism in to the ape's world and ruined him as an artist."

In a related way, it may seem at times like happiness and satisfaction will increase along with our possessions, but it doesn't work that way.

Earthy values are and can be lost in a time.

Thought- The world all its treasure and leaves the soul empty. So, weary, after heart, I turn to Thee.
