Tag Sales Slow, Deadline Near

License tag sales in Lamb County were reported very slow this week, indicating that there will be a last-minute rush to beat the midnight April 1 deadline.

If the sales so far are an indication, with only about 4,000 tags issued thus far, many motor vehicle owners will be standing in lines as the deadline nears to get their 1971 license tags.

According to last year's records, over 18,000 sets of tags were issued in Lamb County. That leaves about 14,000 vehicles yet to be registered within a little more than two weeks.

When vehicle owners bring in their computerized, three-part forms mailed to them from Austin, it takes less than one minute to get their new tags.

Tax assessor-collector deputies report that some people are coming in for tags without this form, and this slows the process of issuing tags. Without the form, vehicle owners must present their title and last year's license receipt, then deputies type up a form. With the three-part form, nothing else is needed.

In addition to the tax office in the Lamb County courthouse, license plates are being sold at sub-stations at Amherst, Earth, Olton, Sudan and Sprnglake.

Six Jailed Over Weekend

Six persons were jailed by county authorities over the weekend, including an Olton woman convicted of murder.

Clara Ashly O'Neal, 45, who was sentenced last week to 10 years in the state penitentiary after being found guilty in the murder of her husband, was jailed Monday awaiting transportation to the correctional institution at Huntsville.

Tom Ivey, 53, was jailed on a driving while intoxicated charge Saturday and sentenced to a fine of $100 plus $42 court cost and 30 days in jail with the jail time probated for one year.

Pearl Jones, a 56-year-old Littlefield woman, was arrested for liquor law violation Saturday. She appeared before County Judge G. T. Sides Monday and entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to a $200 fine plus court cost.

Charles McGee was arrested Sunday for carrying a pistol and entered a plea of guilty Monday and was fined $200 plus court cost.

Friday night two others were jailed. A Littlefield man was charged with drunk and disturbance and was released Sunday after paying a $20 fine, and a 16-year-old was arrested on a drunk charge and was released to his parents the following day.

Order Determined On School Ballot

A drawing was held in the school tax office at 5 p.m. Monday to determine the order names will appear on the ballot for the April 3 school board election.

Incumbent E. D. (Buddy) Bingham and Jackie Heffington, one of the six candidates for the two places, drew for ballot placement. Names will be listed in this order: Dick Hopping, Jackie Heffington, F. L. Newton, Glenn Batson, E. D. Bingham and Arlen Simpson.

6 CASES SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Defendant Favored In Insurance Case

One civil jury trial was settled this week in favor of the defendant. Six other civil suits were settled out of court, one case was passed, and one will be tried Friday.

In a civil case styled John A. Humphreys, et ux, et al, versus Dewey J. Haragan, the defendant was favored. The insurance case involved a fire at the Haragan home last year that resulted in the death of one of the small Humphreys boys and critical burns to another son of the Humphreys.

Cases settled out of court were: Albert Lockwood, et ux, versus International Security Life Insurance Company; J. M. Machen versus International Security Life Insurance Company, both for hospitalization insurance claims; Avis Schroeder, et vir, versus Guy Hufstelder, collision injuries and property damage; and Goulds Pumps, Inc. versus Leroy Sawyer, account.

Also settled were a case filed by Jose M. Sanchez against Texas Employers Insurance Association for workmen's compensation, and a case filed by International Security Life Insurance Company against Albert Lockwood for rescission of insurance policy.

Passed was a suit filed by Olan Wharton, et al, versus Ruben Brock, et al, for collision and property damage.

A workmen's compensation suit filed by Duane Stow, plaintiff, and Methodist Hospital, intervenor, against Liberty Mutual Insurance Company is set to be heard Friday.

RABID SKUNK FOUND IN AREA

A positively identified rabid skunk has been found in Lamb County on the Carrell Patterson farm, nine miles north and two east of Littlefield.

The skunk was taken to Levelland to Walter Cummings of the Hockley County Sanitation Department Saturday, who sent the animal to Austin.

Cummings notified Littlefield Veterinarian Charles G. Nace Wednesday morning that the report came back positive.

A dog, owned by the Pattersons, was put to sleep after it had been injured—possibly in contact with the skunk.

Bowman Boy In Traction

Steve Bowman, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Bowman of Rt. 1 Amherst, remains in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock with leg injuries after he was accidentally struck by a car March 5.

Doctors said skin grafts may be required and that they will probably set the fractured right leg March 28. Meantime the boy remains in traction and is being treated to prevent stiff leg muscles.

The youngster was struck by a car near the Palace Theatre on Phelps Ave. while crossing the street after a Friday night show.

Coach's Progress Reported Good

Coach Deverelle Lewis was reported to be walking up and down the halls at the Methodist Hospital Monday following heart surgery March 8.

Heart specialists at the Lubbock hospital told the football coach's family that Lewis was making better and faster recovery than anyone on their files who had had this type surgery.

A vein was taken from his leg and used to by-pass a heart blockage.

County Residents More Heavily Insured

Residents of Lamb County, reacting to the economic downturn during the past year, have set about putting their finances on a sounder footing. Understanding the fact that their assets have been on the rise, most have been affected by the increase in their non-essential spending.

The report states that a sharp increase in the number of young families "with bigger incomes and often greater responsibilities" may have been another major factor behind the 1970 surge in insurance coverage.

For the average family in the State of Texas, the amount of insurance carried is found to be equivalent to its net earnings, after taxes, for a period of 27.2 months.

In Lamb County on this basis, for the average level of income prevailing in the local area, ownership of life insurance now comes to approximately $18,750 per family.

The average elsewhere in the West South Central States is $17,400 per family.

STUDENTS AT 21 FIRMS

Local DE Program Recognized

DAVID RODGERS
News Staff Writer

Eighty-eight Littlefield High School and senior students in the distributive education program are doing on-the-job training at 21 city business firms that have taken them into careers following high school graduation.

The distributive education program has been in the Littlefield school system 23 years and in this time has trained hundreds of young people in retail sales jobs.

The National Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) and the 28 Littlefield DECA Clubs are saluted this week for their role in the on-the-job educational program.

Students are engaged in sales work ranging from Cokes to cars.

Many of the DE jobs, students are getting first-hand looks at careers they may follow after high school graduation or during and after college.

One such student is Joey Batson who is learning the insurance business from the bottom up in her dad's insurance office.

Three of the DECA students are training under former DE students. Gene Williams is working at A&B Office Supply, training under Lloyd Champion who took DE when he was a Littlefield High School student.

Lewis Pate is employed at Chisholm Floral under Kip Cutshall, another former LHS DE student, and Len Wright works at Cox Furniture under Calvin Jones who began his career in the DE program.

Mrs. Joycelyn Henry, teacher-coordinator, was in the business world for several years. Her first experience in sales work was when she worked for her dad in the feed and seed business. Other business experiences included office work, cotton, income tax and hospital jobs and she majored in business management.

Students attend class an hour each day, then work in the afternoons. A minimum of 15 hours on-the-job training per week is necessary, but most students work 20-30 hours per week.

Only junior and senior students are eligible, and a first year student must be 16 or older to enroll.

Students are under the supervision of the school while on the job.

Some educators maintain that vocation training should be for all high school youth, since the vast majority ultimately end up earning a living in a vocation, and not one of the professions. Whether a student's schooling ends with graduation or continues through college, DE is an aid, since it is hard to find a field where a person is not stronger in his profession from having had experience in a related vocation.

Most professional people pay their way through school with a parttime job in one of the vocations, so DE is for the college-bound.

Recent research shows that about one third of all young people never graduate from high school. Of those who do graduate, approximately half enter college and only half of that group complete four years of schooling. Analyzing these figures, less than 20 per cent of the youth are completing the training required for the professional goals they claim to have as career objectives.

Although it is said a person must aim high to go far, some say that professional goals have kept young people from gaining necessary vocational training needed to help them pay for the career they seek.

The DE program in Littlefield is trying to fill the need of students who will never step inside a classroom again after graduation as well as those who use the training as a stepping stone into college and further training.

DECA STUDENTS Kathy Bryson, Cyd McKinnon and Linda Horn discuss plans for the breakfast that was held this morning for their employers. The annual get-together of students and their employers is held in March, the month designated to honor Distributive Education Club of America members.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Individual Rights

Dear Sir,

We feel the school board made a hasty and unnecessary decision on the hair styles, for the simple fact it gets a little close to imposing on individual rights.

It was unnecessary because the situation isn't that extreme. There isn't a student that goes to Littlefield Public School that could be considered a hippie. Fact is, you couldn't find a nicer group of young people anywhere.

Long hair is the style now, and who can deny that the latest styles and fashions don't influence all of us (even the squarest of us). This too will pass, as did the zoot suit and the duck tail. Have you ever considered that some may dislike the upcoming fads even more than the long hair?

As for a boy being bad because he has long hair or trying to imitate someone bad, I just don't see it. There are still boys with short hair, as well as the long, that get in trouble.

What causes some boys to go the wrong way has been pondered on through the years, but as for me, I never considered the hair causing it. It seems that a mind that works well and a heart that is free from prejudice and evil would make a good boy whether his hair be long or short. In other words, it's what's inside that really counts.

But there is hope for the parents that are afraid their son will imitate a "long hair". There were George Washington and Abe Lincoln who had long hair and even a few whiskers.

Who can deny that Carl Sandburg's white locks aren't becoming? In all his pictures "The Great Man from Galilee" has long hair. I doubt that he bathed every hour but he doesn't look dirty.

Samson was noted for his super strength, his moral weakness and his hair. Maybe, just maybe one of our boys that is going to school today will try to imitate one of these—nice thought isn't it?

Then there is Santa Claus and Captain Kangaroo who have helped mother everywhere. I especially like Captain Kangaroo because he taught my youngest to tie her shoes—not which shoe went on the right or left foot—she had to learn that the hard way, but just learning to tie her shoes was enough to make us friends for life.

Some people are worried about not being able to tell the long haired boy from a girl. That is truly bad.

Not meaning to sound pert, I can relieve them that worry, at least, for my part. I have known the sex of my children since they were born.

Their father and I have worked hard to pay for their keep, without so much outside help, so I can't see that it is really any concern of anyone else.

To the mother of three small boys with short hair, I would like to say "a fast tongue sometimes eats crow." Little boys grow up to be teenagers, and by a funny turn of nature, most of the "odd little critters" have a mind of their own. Which is really for the best you know.

Let's hope that all mothers that have three small boys with short hair today won't have a more serious problem than a head of long hair in a few more years.

For a closing thought, let us suppose the issue was reversed and in next week's paper there would be an announcement that all short-haired boys must grow long hair or that all the men should have a bald spot because my husband has one and I like it.

Ridiculous? Of course it is.

Mother & Son,

PAUL HARVEY

X-Ray

ON THE MEDICAL front a symptom of something serious.

The Kansas Medical Society has surveyed X-ray machines in that state and found more than a hundred of them "defective." That means many hundreds of people have been exposed to an overdose of those potentially lethal rays.

WHEN A WARNING is too repetitious it becomes nagging, loses its effectiveness. The few of us who were sounding warnings about cigarettes 30 years ago probably irritated more people than we influenced.

Here we go again!

FIFTEEN YEARS ago, Paul Harvey was sounding warnings about the misuse of X-ray.

The effects of X radiation on the human are altogether as difficult to specify as is the effect of smoking on humans. We have varying tolerances for both.

IT IS KNOWN that the effects of exposure to X ray are cumulative. That is to say each exposure, however minute, adds up and piles on and accumulates until—if the burn becomes sufficient—disability may result, genetic changes—cancer—may result.

Each year Public Health officials learn a little more about this cumulative effect and almost every year they decide the "safe limit" is somewhere this side of where it was the year before.

When a nonmedical man begins experting any technical area, he is likely also to alienate a lot of technicians in that area—who are convinced that they know more about their science than he possibly can.

THAT'S NOT ALWAYS SO. Some of us have watched research and development and studied cause-and-effect and listened to assorted specialists for enough years to have a better perspective than the dentist whose comprehension comes mostly from the fact sheet furnished by the manufacturer of that expensive gadget in his office which must be paid for by frequent usage.

And let the record recall that it was some of us—laymen—who got those dreadful X-ray machines removed from shoe stores where they were played with like toys in the hands of children!

NOW THERE ARE about 3,500 X-ray machines in use in the state of Kansas. Only 2,000 are registered with the state, though registration is required by law.

Of the registered machines, 1,400 have been inspected over the past 24 months and more than 100 of them were found to be "defective." That means that some patients in hospitals and in offices of physicians, dentists and chiropractors were exposed to excessive radiation.

DEFECTIVE MACHINES and the too-casual use of any such machine are two different things.

But at the known risk of rousing the wrath of radiologists and X-ray equipment manufacturers, I will read to you some day soon from my files of acknowledged authorities in this field their judgement that X ray as prevalently misused has been more an enemy than a friend.

HOMINY GRAYS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WELL, THE NATION'S all abuzz over the recent bombing of our capitol. Me too!

Makes me sore as dude cowboy after a hard day's ride.

THE GALL OF some people—to think that they can get by with such!

Of course, the idea of bombing of some private enterprise is something else. The burning of a bank, store, or, some such.

BUT, TO BOMB OUR nation's capitol is the limit!

At least, I hope so.

Maybe, now, we can get some legislation to put the pinch on such lawbreakers. Something with teeth in it!

SURE, AND I THINK that it may have done more good if it'd been the Supreme Court building. Those guys have done more to hobble Justice than any other organization in the country.

Could have been, they'd have had some close-up evidence to look at.

AT ANY RATE I hope they don't render the building useless. The thought of our Legislators having to meet out in some cowpasture to take care of our nation's business is too much!

And, surely, not in West Texas. Our dry topsoil is touchy enough, now.

ANYWAY, I HOPE they catch the culprits. They may even slap BOTH his hands!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

In Balance

By BOB WEAR

A LIFE THAT FLUCTUATES from the mountain top of happiness to the valley of despair is not as stable as a life should be.

Of course, there will be some variance in our state of being, but, as nearly as possible, we must learn to live balanced lives.

THERE WILL BE successes and there will be failures in our experiences; however, we must not permit either to knock us very far off center.

We can be happy about success without being overjoyed about it, and we can be unhappy about failure without being overly discouraged.

WE MUST SEEK and then be diligent in our efforts to maintain the proper balance. Students of human behavior say that this is one quality of maturity.

We know that it is a very necessary life quality.

WE MUST ALSO LEARN how to take criticism and praise. Failure to do so accounts for much of the misery and ineffectiveness of many persons.

Let us remember that those who criticize are not always right, because they don't always know. We must also remember that those who praise us, even though they be sincere, may not always know how to make correct evaluations.

THERE IS ONE dependable principle of conduct, and someone expressed it this way: "Be not unduly discouraged by criticism or overly elated by praise."

Extremism seems to be the popular concept now, but extremism is just a way of being off-balance. Surely we can see the harm being done by so much extremist talk and action. One end of extremism is usually just as undesirable as the other.

"BOTH IN INDIVIDUALS, and in masses, violent excitement is always followed by remission, and often by reaction.

We are all inclined to depreciate what we have over-praised, and, on the other hand; to show undue indulgence where we have shown undue rigor."—Macaulay.

KEEPING OURSELVES in balance is essential to our well-being, and our effectiveness in the living experience.

We can do this.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Paying Basis

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has some far-out ideas this week, but that's his responsibility, not ours.)

Dear editor:

As I understand the plan to reorganize the postal system, according to an article I read last night in a newspaper somebody mailed me a couple of weeks ago and I received yesterday, the idea behind the move is to put the post office department on a paying basis, managed by a commission of business experts.

They're going to cut out wasted effort and antiquated methods, mechanized and streamline the system, raise the rates right and left, and generally operate the thing like it was any other business designed to pay its own way.

I got to thinking about this and I guess it's all right, provided the business managers go all the way.

For example, if they decide it ought to cost 8 cents instead of 6 cents to deliver a letter from Littlefield to Amherst in 24 hours, and it turns out it takes 48, shouldn't the sender be entitled to a rebate for the delay in transit? Business is business, isn't it?

Or if they raise the rate on magazines, shouldn't they bind themselves to get say a copy of Newsweek to a reader before one of its Periscope predictions is proven by the turn of events to be inaccurate? Shouldn't Time magazine have a chance to get to a reader before somebody it interviewed has a chance to point out he was misquoted?

If they shut down more and more small post offices because they find they don't make a profit, what's going to happen if they find out the post office in Lubbock is losing money? Can't be letting sentiment get in the way of tough business decisions.

It seems to me they have a hard row to hoe, but if they succeed, will there be a move on to put other government services on a paying basis?

How about the Weather Bureau? Why don't they make it pay and charge for forecasts instead of giving them away free? With a rebate of course when they miss.

How about highways? The courts? The police? The Army? Congress?

If they can get all these on a paying basis, that wouldn't leave anything in the red except maybe the railroads and the airlines and the space program and marriage licenses, and we could get taxes down to practically nothing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Travel

By PEARL BRANDON

HERE I AM in Dallas at the Baker Hotel at the Odd Fellows Grand Lodge state convention with my husband. We came down having a real west Texas sand storm.

At least the news commentators were calling it a "West Texas sand storm," and blaming us with it.

"SO AND SO over at the realtor's office has about three inches of West Texas soil you can buy cheap this morning...." and... "If it's like this here today what do you reckon it's like in Amarillo or Lubbock?" "Why did you bring this with you?" when they learned we were from West Texas.

I'D JUST LIKE to show them what a real sand storm is like, especially like the ones we used to have—blasting right out of north pole with nothing between but a barb wire fence. They were really something.

There are several hundred Odd Fellows from all over the state here with their ladies, the Rebekahs. You'll have to admit some of them are acting a little "odd" or a little "quare" as my grandmother used to say, but they are a grand lot of men and women who stand for what is best for their communities and state.

WE DROVE the off roads through the country sides on the way down instead of taking the main highways. It was a nice ride but we were disappointed. It is so dry that very few wild flowers are blooming.

About all we saw were Wild plums. The only red bud we saw was in someones yard after we got to Dallas. The dryland wheat needs water badly.

WE ARE SEEING old friends here, among them the Rev. J. Henry Cox who lived in Lamb County and was pastor of the First Baptist Churches in Amherst and Olton several years. He was also County chairman of the Red Cross five years. Such fine people, he and his wife.

We are having fun in Big "D" but just "betwixts you and me" I like West Texas best.

Gayle's BAKERIES
By GAYLE MILLS
LEADER-NEWS SOCIETY EDITOR

FOR INSPIRATION, come with me on a short European tour—for a bit of piquant (appetizing) salad making.

First stop is Italy—green salads are loved by the Italians. Added to their green salads, you will find cubes or slivers of salami, wedges of tomatoes and cucumbers, chopped celery, finely chopped onion and cloves of garlic. Most always their salads are tossed with olive oil, wine vinegar and a whiff—or more—of garlic.

Next take a boat to an enchanted Greek isle and discover a fabulous mixed salad made with chopped fresh tomato, cubed cucumber, whole pitted black olives and chunks of cheese. The Greeks use Feta cheese, but you may substitute your own favorite cheese, whether it be Cheddar, Swiss or Gouda.

From France, known for their reputation of being the best cooks in the world, let's borrow the idea of a mixed green salad using at least three different greens. They may be iceberg, romaine and endive. Or the mixture of American lettuces such as iceberg, Boston and Bibb. Let's not forget the bit of watercress and the deep color and flavor contributed by tender young leaves of spinach. If you like, you might add artichoke hearts, cut small; avocado, in thin slices; cheese, crumbled; ham, in slivers; radish slices; shrimp, whole or broken in pieces, tomatoes, wedged; or whatever you like—toss lightly before serving with your favorite garlic French dressing.

HERE ARE a few suggested salad recipes. Hope you enjoy them.

- | | |
|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| APPETIZER SALAD ITALIANO | GREEN SALAD |
| 1/4 cup salad oil | 1 head iceberg lettuce |
| 2 tsp. olive oil | 1 head chicory (curly endive) |
| 1 clove garlic | 2 tomatoes, cut in wedges |
| 3 tsp. lemon juice | 2 green onions, finely chopped |
| 1/4 tsp. salt | 2 dozen whole pitted black olives |
| 1 tsp. paprika | 1/4 cup olive oil |
| | 1/4 cup salad oil |

3 tablespoons white wine vinegar
1/2 tsp. salt
Freshly ground pepper to taste
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/8 pound Feta cheese, or any other favorite, cut into 8 squares
6 anchovy fillets
Tear the lettuce and chicory into bite-size pieces and place in a large salad bowl. Add the tomatoes, onion, and olives. Shake together the olive and salad oils, vinegar, salt, pepper, and mustard until blended. Pour this dressing over the greens and toss. Serve on individual salad plates. Put a square of cheese on each portion and top it with an anchovy. Serves 6.

SALAD GREEN TIPS
ALWAYS CUT away any discolored or wilted parts of the greens. Wash gently but thoroughly. Dry with a clean soft towel. Chill. If you are not using all the greens right away, store, unwashed, in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator and wash them as you need them.

BOSTON (HEAD) LETTUCE
ICEBERG LETTUCE and cut in halves. To separate the leaves, follow instructions on lettuce or allow water run briefly through. The lettuce cups will last once.

ROMAINE
watercress, parsley, dandelion. Separate leaf. Remove any discolored part. Wash.

ENDIVE
Belgian, and French under running water. Let stand in water. Separate the leaves in half lengthwise.

TOSS GREEN SALAD
wooden or pottery bowl with a clove of garlic. Toss a chapon (traditionally, the crusty French loaf) a cut clove of garlic.

Switching to Caparol is easy. In fact, it's one of the reasons for switching.

If you've held off buying a pre-plant cotton herbicide this long, or haven't treated all your acres yet, you've done the right thing. You've kept your options open. One of those options is banding Caparol® herbicide pre-emerge. It makes a lot of sense with money tight, and cotton cheap. Caparol can give you the weed control you need, while saving you the expense of broadcasting and incorporating a pre-plant herbicide.

Perhaps, you're a bit hesitant about switching to a new practice. Everyone is. But switching to Caparol is easy, because it's so easy to apply.

Caparol goes on behind the planter. Even right from the planter if you like. Just mount a spray nozzle behind each press wheel, and you can plant and spray Caparol in one trip.

Caparol needs no incorporation. Moisture is all that's needed to move it into the weed root zone. So when you spray Caparol, you don't have to do anything else. It's the last thing to go on the seed.

The treatment can't be disturbed planting the way a pre-plant treatment.

What's more, banding Caparol pre-emerge at planting keeps your crop open till the seed goes in the ground. You won't be paying for weed control months before you need it.

You can rotate to sorghum or cotton back with cotton. Carryover isn't a problem with Caparol. Neither is control of carelessweed. Caparol gets it and annual morningglory too, along with the bulk of the weeds, and many grasses in your field.

So you've done the right thing by waiting. Now, check out Caparol with your supplier. See why the switch is so easy to Caparol, and how easy it is to switch.

For more information, write to Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, New York 10502. Caparol by Geigy

Thursday, March 11, the Littlefield High School choir participated in the UIL concert and sightreading contest at Brownfield High School.

The choir departed shortly after fourth period and performed in Brownfield at approximately 3:15 p.m.

The numbers presented by the choir were "Brahm's Folk Songs," "Ave Verum" by Mozart, and "Libera Me" by Gabriel Faure.

The three concert judges awarded the choir with a division I rating.

The choir then went to a room where they sightread a number for another judge, who also awarded them with a division I rating.

The choir director is Mrs. Marsha Martin.

Members of the sweepstakes choir are Chuck Blevins, Pam Brannon, Meloni Brantley, Jo

Emerald Isle Banquet Setting

The "Emerald Isle" was the theme for the All-School Banquet held Saturday, March 13, in the junior high cafeteria. The banquet's purpose was to honor all clubs and athletic fields in Littlefield High School. Jay Trammell opened the banquet with the invocation.

The meal was served by the freshman boys, and after-dinner entertainment was presented by Wally Sanders, a former LHS student, who sang several selections.

Wendell Horn, Kim Hill, Marty Mangum, and Jay Trammell, members of the Student Council, presented the different clubs and organizations with "Lucky Pennies." Basketball honors were also presented to: Allen Mackey,

Most Valuable J. V. Matt Giles, Most Valuable Varsity player; and Wally Horn, Fighting Heart.

The banquet was closed with "Maroon and White" dance followed, featuring "Underground Railroad."

LHS Speaks Out

PAM BRANNON, JOAN TIMIAN, PATTI FOLEY and JANNA GILBERT

This week the students voiced their opinion on the new hair code.

Jerry McCary, (Jr.)-In the constitution it says you are entitled to life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. The school board telling us how to cut our hair deprives us of some of our liberties. If having long hair is your way of pursuing happiness, you should be able to have it. Our government was founded on the idea of freedom for the individual. Why can't we be free individuals?

Gary Roberts, (Sr.)-I don't like the new hair code. People should not have the right to tell others how to wear their hair. People should have the right to think for themselves.

Beverly Tiller, (Jr.)-I think if the parents approve of their son's hair, well, the school board should stay out. This decision that has been made, will cause a lot of trouble and problems at school.

Vickie Elliott, (Sr.)-I think a person is entitled to wear his hair the way he wants. The way one looks has nothing to do with his learning ability. Everyone has the right to express himself, the way he wants to. This is a free country, why not live it as being free.

Sandra Johnson, (Sr.)-I think the new hair code has gone too far. It would have been better if the School Board would of had some kind of meeting with the parents or students. Give them a choice. One can not judge a book by its cover.

Vera Moya, (Jr.)-It's unfair. Some adults are unwilling to admit that this world is changing. If hair doesn't interfere with the way the brain works, why should the boys have to cut it off? Must we look like adults in order to be liked by them?

Junior Castillo, (Jr.)-It's rotten! If our parents don't mind, I don't see why the school board does. We can do just as good of grades with long hair as we being bald.

Jackie Howel, (Sr.)-I think it stinks. The rule is too strict. Sure, I think some of the student's hair is too long, but the majority is about the same and this rule will effect too many people!

Mary Wilson, (Sr.)-Gross, it is very stupid. Boys, men, and girls should be able to wear whatever they please, just as long as it's decent. I haven't seen one boy with hair down to their back, so we are considered lucky, considering other schools.

Leann Parson, (Sr.)-Parents should allow their kids to wear their hair as long or short as they want it. It is not up to the school to decide, but to the parents to decide the length.

Linda Clark, (Sr.)-I think it is ridiculous. Everyone on the school board is bald and they are just jealous.

Sharon Gray, (Jr.)-I think the boys should be able to wear their hair the way they want to. I don't think the school board has the right to tell them how to wear their hair.

Joanna Rogers, (Sr.)-I think it stinks. How long a person's hair is does not affect his education. The hair has not been a problem, but now this new code will create one.

Kay Armistead, (Sr.)-I think the new hair code is a "slap-in-the-face" to the students of LHS. In Littlefield High School, students have never gone to extremes or done anything disruptive to bring about this code. It is very unfair and will probably result in trouble.

Doris Ashley, (Sr.)-I think it is very low and really a disgrace. If the boys did have long hair, I could understand the school board for passing this code. It is unnecessary.

Keith Slaughter, (Sr.)-It stinks. The school board has just brought trouble by making these rules. There has been no trouble whatsoever about the hair situation. Looks as if we'll be wearing uniforms pretty soon.

Dena Reast, (Sr.)-The new hair code reflects on the home life of the students. The school has no right to move to decisions over to home life as this hair code does. Our parents should be the ones to decide on the length of our hair. Society accepts long hair now and so do we.

Marsha Starnes, (Jr.)-I think kids should be able to wear their hair as they please. It's their hair not anybody else's. This isn't an army camp, not yet anyway.

Robert Rodriguez, (Sr.)-I think the dress code is terrible. It shows that human beings still cannot accept each other. It reflects a sick society which is punishing individuals for being themselves. We should all go home and pray that the people who brought about this code will open their eyes and not be so prejudiced against people with long hair.

Gary Thompson, (Jr.)-Why should some people who don't even know me tell me to cut my hair? My parents support me, not the school board. If my parents think my hair is OK then nobody should say different. The school board hasn't given any sound facts for their new rule. I've heard three but it was things like: 1. We don't want hippies. 2. They might have lice. 3. You wouldn't believe the things they are doing. Does this sound like good reasons?

Pam Stafford, (Sr.)-I don't care how the boys wear their hair, but I think that if the parents don't tell the kids how to wear it, the school board sure doesn't have the right to.

Dixie Carter, (Sr.)-I think the new hair code is stupid and I believe it will cause more problems. I don't see what was wrong with it the way it was. The school board just wants to show people that they have the authority to what they want to. We were having no problems with the hair code as it was before, but now the school board is in for it.

Coach Gathright, -I believe lines must be drawn somewhere. Codes of this nature reflect the attitudes of the community. I do feel it is unfair for teachers to be put in the position of doing what parents should be doing.

Food Storage Advice Given

Lady Clare Phillips, County Home Demonstration agent reports that many requests come into her office for information on the length of storage of foods in the home.

She states that "Thiamin, one of the B vitamins in canned fruits and vegetables is well retained when stored for one year at 65 degrees F. When stored at 80 degrees F. for one year, a loss may increase to 15 percent in canned fruits and to 25 percent in canned vegetables."

She hopes this information may be helpful for people to understand why they should try to use their canned fruits and vegetables within a year, and to store the products at a cool temperature.

"The products may be good to use but may have little food value after a long storage," reports Lady Clare.

Pigweed (carelessweed)? Cocklebur? Sunflower? Morning glory?

BANVEL GETS TO THE ROOT OF YOUR WEED PROBLEM

More and more grain sorghum producers find certain deep-rooted weed populations building up. Neither other weed killers nor cultivation give effective control of extra-tough and resistant pigweed (carelessweed), sunflower, cocklebur, morning glory, lambsquarter, purslane, other costly broadleaves.

Banvel, the post-emergent herbicide, does control them. For one simple reason. Banvel translocates. Absorbed by foliage and roots, Banvel moves with plant fluids from leaf tip to roots, and back again. Destroys as it goes.

Cost of Banvel? As little as $1.90 per acre broadcast. Spray 10 to 25 days after emergence of sorghum, when weeds are young, growing most actively. Sorghum, when used as directed, is completely tolerant to Banvel. Ask dealer or custom sprayer for full information on Banvel. Every container of Banvel carries the Velsicol guarantee of sorghum tolerance to Banvel.

Whitharral Coeds Win District Awards

Three Whitharral High School students taking cosmetology courses won recognition in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) at the district meeting in Amarillo Saturday.

Cynthia Dukatnik, a Whitharral senior and a senior cosmetology student at the Levelland Vocational School, won four first places in the district meeting. Miss Dukatnik won first in the district competition for skill, speed, and hair styling. In addition she won two first places in wig styling and another blue ribbon on her notebook.

Two other Whitharral cosmetology students also won blue ribbons. Senior WHS coed Rita Avery won first on her notebook, and Sylvia Cardenas, a junior at Whitharral, was named district secretary at the district contest.

This is Miss Dukatnik's second year to win the local hair styling contest and district competition. "I couldn't have done it without my cosmetology instructor Mrs. Laverne Palmer," she said. Mrs. Palmer and her district first place winners will attend the Texas VICA meet at San Antonio May 30.

Junior and senior high school students can take the cosmetology courses. They not only receive high school credits in the vocational training, but are licensed beauticians and ready to enter the business world after high school graduation.

Ohio Lad Wins Rabies Battle

MAKING MEDICAL history comes to few people, but this distinction has come to an Ohio boy who medical authorities say has survived a case of human rabies.

Rabies in man is considered a fatal disease, but the six-year-old Lima, Ohio, youngster defeated the odds in the astounding medical event.

HE WAS ASLEEP last Oct. 10 when bitten by a bat, which was captured by his father and submitted to a laboratory, where the tests were positive for rabies. The boy received a 14-day series of inoculations.

On October 30 the youngster complained of neck pain and over the next several days experienced lethargy, general discomfort and loss of appetite.

WHEN HIS CONDITION worsened, the lad was admitted to a Lima hospital with 104-degree fever. Although the fever decreased, he became more lethargic, developed stiffness of the neck, lost the ability to speak or understand, had a weakness of the left arm and other symptoms and finally lapsed into a coma.

To facilitate breathing, a surgical opening (tracheotomy) was made in his throat.

AFTER A WEEK, the boy gradually began to improve. Steady but slow progress continued and before Christmas he was able to walk with assistance and speak in short sentences. Later he was able to leave the hospital.

From the time the boy entered the hospital, test after test was run in an effort to pinpoint the cause of his illness. Blood tests were made—with negative results—for encephalitis and other diseases. Other tests also were run.

USING INFORMATION concerning circumstances of the original bite, illness and laboratory findings, authorities said the evidence suggested that the boy had an active case of human rabies. His case still is watched closely.

The child's clinical improvement significant and unusual, said authorities. Humans with rabies have known to survive for up to 133 days, says the Center for Disease Control, Atlanta, Ga., there has been no laboratory confirmed case in which the patient showed actual physical improvement the first month of illness.

DURING THE BOY'S treatment and breathing functions were maintained continuously. Prevention of oxygen starvation—was accomplished through the throat operation and careful care.

While this youngster is considered first to survive human rabies, there is speculation that the future holds hope for other rabies victims.

The Texas State Department of Health advises all animal owners to have pets vaccinated against rabies to avoid contact with any "friendly" wild animal.

VANDALISM INVESTIGATION

Littlefield High School Coach Gathright reported to city police Tuesday night that someone had broken a window to the Field House, entered the building, tore up foam mats and scattered around the place.

A light bulb was broken, a window was put through the window and the left running.

Police are now making an investigation.
