Political Views Aired

Littlefield residents speculate anyone from Archie Bunker to George McGovern will be named as the Democratic presidential nominee at the national Demo convention this week.

Tom Hilbun said he wouldn't have any idea who the Democrats will name to their ticket. "But I haven't heard any names mentioned that I'd be willing to support actively," Hilbun said. "Until I do I'll just go along with Archie Bunker," he added, pointing to a larger than life size colored poster of the tv star. "In your heart you know he's extremely right!" Hilbun said, mimicking the inscription on the poster. Then Hilbun solemnly handed out bumper stickers advocating Archie Bunker for president before admitting that Bunker is as big a farce as the Pat Paulsen campaign a few years ago.

Many Democrats think George McGovern for the Democratic nominee is every bit as ridiculous as Bunker or Paulsen.

"Who do I think will be nominated or who do I hope will be nominated?" Glenn Batson, Democratic chairman for Lamb County, repeated when he was questioned. "I think McGovern will be named. And I think it will be a disgrace to this country." Like several others,

Batson said he thinks Nixon will be named to head the Republican party again and that Nixon will win the election.

Jack Wicker expressed the opinion that McGovern will be named by the Democrats. "And he'll want Kennedy to run as vice president if he can get him," Wicker added. "But I think Nixon has the inside track. Agnew will probably be named vice president again. I think Nixon will win the election."

"Anybody but McGovern," Kenneth Ware and Rev David Hamblin declared, almost simultaneously. With McGovern on the Demo ticket they think Nixon will be a shoo in for the next term.

Several said they would like to see George Wallace nominated by the Democrats, but none had much hopes of seeing their wish materialize. Rev. J.B. Cagle is one who favors the Alabama governor, but he thinks Senator Kennedy will get it as the favorite son. The preacher thinks Muskie might accept the vice presidential slot on a ticket with Kennedy. But when all the November 22 votes are counted, Rev. Cagle is expecting Nixon to be the chief executive with Agnew still in the vice president seat.

Some women interviewed admitted they don't keep up with politics too well. "I say we'll keep the president we've got," Mrs. Curtis Chisholm said. I don't have any idea who'll be nominated by the Democrats; you'll have to ask my husband. He keeps up with everything political move made, and I vote like he figures it out.

"If I say who I think will be named by the Democrats, everyone will say I'm a Martha Mitchell," Mrs. Roy Wade laughed. "I don't have the slightest idea, anyway."

"I'd like to see Wallace get the nomination," said a Littlefield insurance man who asked that his name not be used. "I would vote for Muskie, but I don't think he'll get it so I imagine I'll vote a split ticket for Nixon."

Alma Achee, a Littlefield teacher, said she certainly hopes Kennedy won't be nominated. "I suppose McGovern is the best choice," she said, "but I believe Nixon will win the election."

Even dyed in the wool Democrats don't hold much hope for any pair their party can name to win the election. Gene Pratt gives the thumbs up sign that Nixon will win the Republican nomination again, but he's of the opinion

Connally will be his running mate. "But nobody in the running right now will get the Democratic nomination," Pratt speculated. "There'll be a compromise."

37,000 Acres Cotton Lost Or Damaged

The Lamb County ASCS office estimates that at least 16,000 to 17,000 acres of cotton were destroyed by Monday's storm.

Richard Newman, county executive director said the Lamb County office is estimating that many acres of cotton will be plowed up. Newman estimates another 20,000 acres has been moderately damaged at one time or another but will be left.

The 1972 Lamb County cotton crop estimate was dropped 12,000 bales. That loss is derived by figuring a conservative average of three-fourths of a bale per acre.

By Friday morning, the cotton acreages on more than 400 Lamb County farms had been released and ASCS office personnel said farmers were standing knee deep at the counter waiting their turn to file cotton release applications.

Before plowing cotton acreage for replanting, farmers must get a release and have their farm inspected to protect their cotton history for program payments.

Most farmers in dry land areas indicated they plan to plant back in feed. Some producers with sufficient irrigation are replanting in soy beans.

Farmers say they are facing double jeopardy in many instances. Producers who banded in pre-emergence weed control chemicals on two in and two out cotton land call the rule "unreasonable" which won't allow them to replant feed in the blank rows. A good feed crop would come up in the blank rows considered as "set aside" but a good stand can't be obtained in the chemically treated rows unless grain is planted deep enough to get under the chemicals.

Newman said Friday morning three committees were in Washington trying JANIE JONES remained in critical condition in Lubbock Methodist's ICU Saturday following a wreck involving this car and this tractor shortly after 10 p.m. Tractor driver Bill Smith was treated for injuries and released.

Girl Injured In Mishap

Nineteen-year old Nova Jane "Janie" Jones of Olton is in the intensive care unit of Lubbock's Methodist Hospital where she was listed in "critical" condition Saturday morning with head injuries received in a car-tractor collision near Olton about 1 p.m. Friday.

W.M. "Bill" Smith, 57, Olton farmer who was driving the tractor, was brought to the Littlefield Hospital where he was treated and released.

Janie Smith was rushed to the Littlefield Hospital, then transferred to Lubbock. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Jones of Olton.

Miss Smith was driving a 1970 Oldsmobile Cutlass north on F 1072 just north of the Olton Feedlot. Smith had been home for lunch and was coming off a dirt road and was crossing the pavement going east.

According to Bill Angel, the investigating Department of Public Safety official, Smith ran a yield sign and pulled out of the intersection into the path of Miss Jones' vehicle. The left front of the car hit the right side of the tractor. The impact broke the housing in two on the 1066 IH tractor. The car traveled 45' after the impact stopping in the east bar ditch.

The Friday accident was the second serious mishap in Lamb County in less than a week. Four persons were killed and one was injured 17 mile north of Littlefield last Saturday afternoon.

Aviation Safety Clinic Slated

An Aviation Safety Clinic will be conducted in Littlefield Tuesday night, July 11, with all interested persons, including pilots and their wives, invited to attend.

The program agenda will include a discussion on "Preflight" beginning at 8, followed by a session on "Density Altitude" beginning at 9, and winding up with a session at 10 on "Wake Turbulence and Vertigo Chair."

Persons who attend the session will be given a chance to win a $30,000 airplane. Further information on the clinic may be gained by contacting Allen Purdy or Georgia Hafley at the Littlefield Airport, 385-3160.

The clinic will be free to those who attend.

MR. AND MRS. BILL DUNCAN outgrew their big house after their daughters married. Learning to like trailer living after 24 years of owning various travel trailers, decided to build a luxury trailer for their retirement home.

FOR MOBILE RETIREMENT

This Is The House That Bill Built

By NILAH RODGERS

How would you like to have a custom designed $15,000 mobile home complete with fire place, built-in stereo, refrigerated air and central heating for $7,000?

It's a neat trick if you can build it, and that's exactly what Bill Duncan did.

After Bill and Maudie Duncan's two daughters married moved away from Littlefield, the Duncan's three-bedroom brick home they'd lived in for the past 16 years was more house than the couple needed.

They started thinking in terms of a mobile home and began looking around to see what features the newest ones offered. After about three months of shopping, Bill decided to incorporate all the best liked features of the homes they had inspected into a single floor plan and build his own mobile dwelling.

Meantime they sold their original home and had to move by June 1. So Duncan built their new home from stem to rear in three months, doing all the carpentry, wiring and plumbing. The only aspect of the home he didn't do himself is laying the carpet.

The 14' x 70' dwelling has slightly less than 1,000 square feet of living space and features regular doors and windows. Duncan said he made the frame heavier than that in commercial homes and used more 2 x 4s and 2 x 6s in the general construction. The addition of the wood burning fireplace, stereo speakers in every room, and a raised dining area add touches of glamor.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan said they haven't had a bit of trouble adjusting to the smaller living quarters. Mrs. Duncan likes the compactness and ease of housekeeping. Furniture from their larger house makes them feel right at home. Extra furniture they no longer need nor have room for was given to their two girls.

Living in a trailer isn't new to the Duncans. They have owned five different travel trailers in the past 14 years. In that time they have traveled an estimated 400,000 miles and have visited all but three of the 50 states plus points in Canada and Mexico.

When the Duncans decide to travel, Duncan closes his motor shop. They strike out in a general planned direction. "But sometimes we get side tracked," Duncan admitted. Duncan closes his shop about three months out of the year for traveling, trout and bass fishing and looking for ornamental rocks.

The Duncans don't have any retirement plans for the immediate future. "But we're looking around to see where we want to go and what we want to do later," Duncan said.

Meantime, Duncan said their home will be parked at the side of his shop on the Levelland Highway where he built it. Wheels and a towing vehicle will make moving simple when that time comes.

Aerial Spraying Of City Proper Considered

In a relatively short business session Thursday night, Littlefield city councilmen discussed an aerial spraying program for mosquitoes; discussed a proposal from Bill McMorris for the addition of a storm sewer in the present Park, Highway 385 and Highway 84 area; and were informed of the Texas Highway Beautification Act which became effective June 29.

Councilmen decided to notify Marian Air Spray, Inc. of Savannah, Ga. that the air spraying method is being considered for ridding the city of mosquitoes.

City Manager Pat Bradley presented three spraying methods—two of which have already been used—and the associated cost estimates based on one application.

The aerial application proposal calls for three ounces of technical Malathion per acre at 29 cents, plus supplemental spraying of city lakes. The 4,000 acres to be sprayed would cost $1,160 and the larvaeciding (or placing of chemicals in lake water to kill mosquito larvae) would cost $150, bringing the estimated total cost per application to $1,310.

The planes fly 150 feet above ground at 60 miles per hour and cover a 150-foot swath of territory.

One method, a low concentration aerial application which uses Baytex chemical, can be applied with the city's spraying equipment at an estimated cost of $714 per application.

The other method, a high concentration ground application, which uses Baytex chemical at a higher concentration, may be applied at an

United Fund Topic For Thursday Meet

Several Littlefield residents are convinced of the need for combining the many annual fund raising drives into one.

Many who help with several drives each year think the climate is right for "giving the United Way," and the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce board of directors is initiating the organization of United Way—the new name for United Fund.

The Chamber board will have a breakfast meeting Thursday and present the opinions voiced at that meeting to the combined Thursday noon meeting of the C.C., Lions, Rotarians and "We, The Women."

Warren Dayton will give the United Way or United Fund report following the meal.

The meeting is open to the public. The luncheon fee is $1.50 per person and may be paid at the door.

Dayton will give the United Way report, and the public is invited to give its reaction to a single, united drive at the noon meeting.

Dayton is one of the community leaders who is called on to work on numerous fund drives each year. Dayton estimates that he spends about three work day weeks each year soliciting for drives. Dayton said he feels the same results could be accomplished in a couple of days in one drive rather than spending that much of

COTTON IS NATURAL

Teenagers like to be natural and they go for cotton, the natural fiber. They like cotton in two of its plainest, most rugged forms - denim and corduroy. Names of these fabrics came from France but today's denim and corduroy fashions are definitely American and definitely "in" translated into colorful mod apparel ranging from bellbottoms to hot pants.

HONEY GRAYS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WELL, NOW, MOST OF the rains were welcome, but like all good things, can be overdone. Sure, I wanted a green yard (Well, not too green). You know the kind. One where you gradually dribble a little of that high priced water on, and can cut at leisure, say about every week, or so.

However, the rains sure took care of that! Any hay-grower would have been envious of the crop of grass I've had the past couple of weeks.

AND, OF ALL THINGS, the Number-one son has gone away to straighten-out the Marine Corps, and if that wasn't enough, number-two took job out in the country.

What, I'm leadin' up to, is guess who's gettin' better acquainted with that ol' lawn-mower? Betcha I've cut enough hay off my ground to run a feed lot a couple of days!

Me? I could do with some dry weather, and the sooner, the better!

WOULD SOME ONE tell me more about that guy, McGovern? Seems he's becomin' a fellow I'd like to know more about. If he's the push-in candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, he thinks he is, we'd better look him over pretty closely.

While it looks as though that anyone put up for the democratic hopeful, at this time, will just be an "Also Ran". In this game of politics, you can never be certain!

AND, FROM WHAT I'VE read and heard of this guy, he makes me feel UNEASY! Maybe I just need "Educatin'!"

HEARIN' A LOTTA' COMPLAININ' about the high-cost of eatin', these days. A local grocery clerk told me of the constant gripin' about the cost of groceries.

Though she isn't the one that sets the prices, she IS the one with whom the customer comes in contact, and they are free with their criticisms directed at her!

AND, SO IT GOES! Sure, we want high prices for our products, and our labor, but when we start buying the same back across the grocery counter, we howl to high-heaven!

Make no mistake about it, we never had it so good! We wanted fast money, and we've got it—going out as fast as we can take it in!

Sound fair enough?

I MUST OFFER apology to fellow citizen. He corrected me on an article which I write, a few weeks ago.

I spoke of the old-time Hoboes, and Bums as bein' one and the same.

"Not so!" He says, "When I was a youngun, I did a bit of Hoboin' around, but, I wasn't a bum!" And he added, "I met up with a good many fellows, doin' the same thing, that came from families of means. They were just out seein' the country - Not bummin'."

Since he's stirred my memory, I admit he's right. I remember some of those fellows myself. Maybe I'd better apologize to them too, BUT it's STILL the "Back o' me hand to the bums!"

KEEP OUR CITY BEAUTIFUL--KEEP SMILING!--(And mowin'!)

July 10 Eclipse

AN ECLIPSE of the sun, observable throughout the United States in varying degrees, will occur July 10.

The eye hazards of direct viewing of an eclipse have been repeatedly emphasized by various scientific and health organizations prior to past solar eclipses.

Yet, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness warns, medical surveys following each recent eclipse continue to turn up hundreds of cases of eye damage - damage suffered by persons ignorant of or skeptical of the eye hazard warnings.

THE ECLIPSE of July 10 will produce a path of totality about 100 miles wide, traveling at about 2,000 miles an hour at its slowest, which will cross northern Alaska, Canada's Northwest Territories, will cut down through Quebec, through the midsection of Nova Scotia, and head out over the Atlantic.

In the United States the eastern and north central states, and to a lesser degree the northwestern states will experience the greatest degree of partial eclipse, reflecting the "arched diagonal" pattern of the path of totality in North America. The maximum duration of totality will be two minutes 35.6 seconds, near Baker Lake just west of Hudson Bay, Canada.

THE EYE-DAMAGING HAZARD of an eclipse, says the Prevention of Blindness Society, occurs as the visible rays of the sun are progressively blocked, suppressing the dazzling effect which normally prevents viewing.

But the invisible rays of the sun continue to be emitted in all phases except total eclipse, and they can cause permanent burns to the eye's retina, producing a blind spot in the victim's field of vision. The retina is not sensitive to pain, so the retinal burn is not felt as it occurs.

A SURVEY of ophthalmologists and hospital emergency rooms, conducted by the Society following the most recent solar eclipse in the U.S., March 7, 1970, revealed 134 cases of eye injury to persons who attempted to view the eclipse directly.

Of these cases, 76 suffered permanent partial vision impairment; and two persons suffered retinal burns resulting in total permanent vision impairment, with vision reduced 20/200 in the affected eye.

OF THE TOTAL CASES, 60 per cent had used no eye protection whatsoever - the sun was viewed with the naked eye. Of the so-called protective devices, sunglasses were the most frequently used.

As noted in a recent British opticians' publication, viewing through sunglasses actually increases the amount of infrared radiation reaching the retina, because sunglasses cause some dilation of the pupil, allowing more infrared rays into the eyes - though visible light transmission may be considerably reduced.

STUDIES BY ophthalmologists also point out that other devices used, such as filters, smoked or stained glass, or exposed and developed photographic film do not give effective protection and may even facilitate injury by prolonging the time of exposure.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness recommends only indirect viewing methods for all persons other than those thoroughly knowledgeable regarding solar radiation and optical transmission-reducing devices.

Suggested primarily is the pinhole-projection method, where the eclipse image is focused through a pinhole in a cardboard and projected onto another white cardboard.

SAMPLE PERCENTAGES of totality at maximum eclipse, and the time of day it will occur, are as follows:

New York City, 80 per cent at 4:42 p.m., eastern daylight time; St. Louis, Mo., 53 per cent at 3:30 p.m. central daylight time; Albuquerque, N. M., 17 per cent at 2 p.m., mountain daylight time; Spokane, Wash., 47 per cent at 12:30 p.m., pacific daylight time; Denver, Colo., 37 per cent at 2:05 p.m., mountain daylight time; Minneapolis, Minn., 64 per cent at 3:15 p.m., central daylight time.

City councilmen decided to have Bill McMorries, the city engineer, make a study of the flooding areas in Crescent Park and come up with recommendations.

The proposal which he presented for the Thursday night meeting called for 48" and 60" concrete storm sewer line plus a couple of inlets, costing about $139,100, to run a storm sewer line from Crescent Park down 20th street to Highway 385, then down the loop right of way, under 385 and into borrow pit south of the loop.

The study was made as a result of flooding of homes in the Crescent Park area during the recent heavy rains. Councilmen Chester Harvey asked that studies be made on the possible use of levies to control water in the area.

Following discussion of the Texas Highway Beautification Act which became effective June 29, councilmen decided to turn the controls over to the state highway department.

The new code deals with major thoroughfares in the area, and sign permits are required under the new State Highway Beautification or billboard control act.

Plans for enforcing sections of the billboard law dealing with illegal, abandoned and non-conforming signs, junkyards and auto graveyards will be announced later.

Councilmen discussed briefly a plan presented by owners of the Rumback Hotel for brick veneering the lower portion of the building near the sidewalk. Councilmen expressed no opposition to the plan, but took no minute action on the matter.

to get the rule changed, especially in situations which followed natural disasters. Newman speculated that if a rule change wasn't made by Friday afternoon, there would be no change this year.

Farmers are getting some consolation from the state ruling which allows producers to move over 20 inches to get out of the banded area when planting over.

Saturday, the secretary still hadn't established a percentage rate which will be used in making an adjustment rate on the cotton yield. Last year a 90 per cent rate was used, and an 80 per cent rate was allowed in 1970.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Honesty Helps

DUPLICITY, deceit and falsehood are the most common causes of imbalance in individuals and in society. The whole perspective of the life experience is distorted.

So much of everything that could be right is made wrong, and much that could be gain is loss. The interrelatedness among people, which needs to be strong, is made weak. Much of what is needed for our general well-being is destroyed.

MUTUAL TRUST, which is so essential to satisfactory and happy human associations, is a rarity. Of course, there are honest people; but, how many people do you trust?

How many people trust you? All of us must work to strengthen the element of mutual trust. Honesty will help, and we can be honest.

WE MUST NOT PERMIT disillusionment to weaken our efforts to continue to be honest. Of course, all of us would like for others to be honest with us; and some persons will be honest.

Some we expect to be honest will disappoint us, and many will be dishonest.

WE MAY BE INCLINED to distrust just about everybody, and this distrust may seem justified. Even so, it is not the best way to live; but this is not to say that being glib is the best way. We must learn to trust the people worthy of trust.

We cannot afford to trust everybody, neither can we afford to distrust everybody.

HONESTY DOES NOT DEMAND that we tell everything we know. Some things may be better left unsaid, and some people are brutally unkind in the guise of "being honest." The commendable behavior.

Of course, there will be instances where honesty hurts for awhile; even when controlled by kindness and consideration.

"I BELIEVE that honesty is the best policy" is a statement we often hear made by well-meaning people, and it is some merit in this viewpoint.

Honesty, however, must be made a policy. It, to serve its intended purpose, must be a fixed characteristic of our lives.

"HONESTY IS the best policy" who acts only on this principle is a honest man--No one is habitually honest by it in practice--An honest man is always before it, and a knave is behind it.--Whately.

TRUE HONESTY includes thought, honest speech, honest action and honest responses. It requires discarding of all pretense and affectation, but this does not mean that it can be crude, and harsh, and ungraciousness, and love, or any desirable human traits.

WE MUST BE HONEST with ourselves, and about ourselves, does not mean that we downgrade ourselves.

Honesty with ourselves will recognize the opportunities for improvement, and enable us to make the best of life. Whatever we are going to do, honesty will help.

Bull Lake Project Revenue Totals $2,672 First 2 Months

Through July 3, the city of Littlefield took in $2,672.50 from the Bull lake project.

The city assumed the operation of the lake on May 1 and charged on a weekend basis only June 14. The lake has been open to the public on a 7-day-a-week basis since the 14th.

Peak day on the lake was Sunday, June 25th, when 90 boats and 604 customers paid in. Sunday, July 2, 60 boats paid in and there were 324 paying customers.

One dollar per boat and 50 cents per person is charged. Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ross are operating the lake concession for the city. They have moved a travel trailer to the lake site and will be at the gate five or six months out of the year.

In addition to building the new entry road, the existing road to the lake front was widened. Electricity is being installed to Ross' trailer and two electrical guard lights are being installed at the boat ramp.

May and June rains have added an additional four feet of water to the lake.

Inquiries Roll In From City Advertising

The advertising program is continuing for Littlefield through major city newspapers in the north, and 175 inquiries have come to the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture office as a result.

As a result of the last ad which appeared June 11 in the Milwaukee Journal, Minneapolis Star Tribune, Kansas City Star, Detroit Free Press, Cincinnati Inquirer and the Army, Navy, Air Force Times, 26 inquiries have been received.

According to C-CA manager Bill Payne, "We feel as either a direct or indirect result of the advertising program, we have had several families that have looked at and are interested in Littlefield, and one family is moving here."

Among some of the most popular questions asked in the inquiries are: "Is the surrounding area flat?" and "Has the area been platted and surveyed?"

"What is the lowest winter temperature and the highest summer temperature?"

What do new apartments rent for? Many have inquired about the course, trailer hookups, church employment, and if lots are available for purchase.

Farmers Needing 500-600 Hoe Hands

Orders for 500 to 600 hoe hands had been turned in to the Texas Employment Commission (TEC) by Thursday of this week, and more hoe hands were called for daily through press time.

The unseasonable amount of rain has given weeds a boost while driving pre-emergence chemicals into the ground and leeching weed controls out of planted beds.

Many farmers are trying post emergence weed controls in an effort to keep production costs down.

Farmers say the need for hoe hands would double the amount now needed if so many thousands of acres hadn't been hail damaged last week.

Miss Smith Bride Of K.B. Bridges

Miss Phyllis Ann Smith and Kenneth Bruce Bridges pledged wedding vows Saturday evening, July, in First Baptist Church of Springlake.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Bridges of Earth and Rev. and Mrs. Glen C. Smith of Springlake.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony were Rev. Smith, father of the bride, and pastor of First Baptist Church, Springlake, and the Rev. David Hartman, pastor of First Baptist Church, Earth.

The nuptial setting was marked by spiral candelabras with yellow tapers and flanked by baskets of white gladiolus and palms. To the left was a small table, centered by a white flocked candle and two smaller candles. Surrounding the candles were white tulle and yellow pom poms.

Mid way of the service the bride and groom lighted the larger candle from the flame of the two smaller ones, thus symbolizing the union of their lives.

Miss Marian Dawson, pianist, presented the musical selections, "Clair De Lune", "Summer of '72", "Romeo and Juliet", "More" and "Till". She and Miss Karen Dear, flutist, accompanied Wayne Anderson as he sang "Color My World" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length colonial gown of silk organza over peau de soie fashioned with a natural waistline, accented by a satin cummerbund and a softly gathered belled skirt. The sheer, full sleeves featured wide satin cuffs, Venice lace enhanced the cummerbund, cuffs and the hemlines. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion and Venice lace fell from a Juliet cap of lace clusters of leaves, outlined by pearls. The bridal bouquet was of white daisies and yellow and red roses. The bride presented a red rose to her mother as she advanced to the altar. After her marriage she gave a similar rose to the groom's mother.

For "something old" the bride wore a bracelet belonging to the groom's paternal grandmother and carried a lace handkerchief which was owned by her paternal grandmother. Her gown was "something new", a diamond necklace was "borrowed" and for "something blue" she carried a small blue Bible in her bouquet and wore the traditional blue garter.

Bridesmaids were Miss Becky Smith, sister of the bride, and Miss Karen Dear. They were attired in floor-length gowns fashioned by white cotton, embossed with yellow and green daisies. They were styled with portrait necklines, Empire bodices, accented by yellow, green and white velveteen sashes, with the necks and hemlines trimmed with white eyelet ruffles. Their headpieces were velveteen bows with ribbon streamers, tied in love knots. The bridesmaids carried baskets of white and yellow daisies and yellow roses.

Candle lighters were Misses Sharman Smith of Garland, sister of the bride, and Miss Karen Armstrong of Earth. Carmen Kelley, of Earth, was flower girl. She and the candlelighters wore gowns fashioned to that of the bridesmaids.

Rev. Sorley was honored by the Student Council of Littlefield High School with the presentation of the Liaison Award for the 1970-71 school year during the annual awards assembly.

Rev. Sorley decided to enter the ministry while he was 16 years old. He attributes his decision to "being brought up in church activities and seeing the needs of people around me." His maternal grandfather was a Presbyterian minister, and he had several other paternal relatives who were active in Presbyterian leadership.

Texas pastorates have been in Lamesa, Lewisville, Ft. Worth, Lampasas. He has pastored a church in Enid, Okla. and was the field representative for the United Presbyterian Homes at Waxahachie when he came to Littlefield.

He met his future bride, Marilyn Pittman, while he was in Dallas and they were married in 1948 while he was pastoring in Lamesa.

Marilyn is a native of Dallas, and attended Phillips University at Enid, Okla.

She says her first love is singing, and likes to sing in the church choir. She participated in singing the "Messiah" at Christmas three different years, and sang solos during the program.

Besides "keeping the home fires burning", Mrs. Sorley has served as counselor for the Presbytery Senior High Conference, is secretary of the Presbytery Women's Organization, and teaches the junior Sunday school class.

She is a member of "We, the Women", a branch of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

The Sorleys are parents of two daughters and a son.

Their married daughter, Sharon, 22, and her husband, Donnie Heard, reside in Littlefield, where she is employed at Gibson's and he is a farmer.

Gordon, 20, attends Trinity University in San Antonio and is majoring in business administration.

Their 16-year-old LHS senior, Debbie, is a member of the varsity cheerleading team, a member of the Student Council, the National Honor Society, Future Teachers of American, and has been in the All-Region Band three years. She enjoys singing in the church choir and is a member of the Presbytery's Youth Task Force. She particularly likes swimming and skiing.
