Life-Saving Info Mailed

Information developed in this plan will be mailed to each of the county residents who have the lives of thousands of people in the event of attack. This information has been the result of careful and professional planning, and the people of Lamb County will read information carefully and retain it for use," Judge Sides said.

Information developed at the request of officials, is the result of a study made by members of the Lamb County defense office in cooperation with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the State Office of Civil Defense and Relief. Funds for this study were provided by the Federal Government.

Primary danger to residents of Lamb County resulting from a nuclear attack on this country would be from radioactive particles settling over the area after having been carried by high wind currents. These radioactive particles emit radiation which can cause the average building and cause illness or death to the occupants.

A normal house would offer little or no protection from this type of radiation, unless the residents knew how to increase the protection offered by that structure. Because this type of radiation decays or weakens with time, it is possible for persons who are protected from the early, intense radiation to survive with little or no ill effects.

The goal of this Community Shelter Plan is to assure that everyone in Lamb County would have this type of protection if an attack ever occurred.

Crescent Club Hearing Tuesday

Charles Ary, operator of the Crescent Club in Littlefield, has appealed the closing of the private club and the hearing is scheduled for next Tuesday, Feb. 1.

The club was to be closed for one month beginning in late January. A Texas Liquor Control Board member reportedly bought a drink in early December in the private club without a membership card and without signing a guest card as required by Texas law.

Ary appealed the case, however, and the club remains open. The appeal Tuesday will be heard before the state liquor control board in Austin.

S. A. STUART

was 89 the second of December. Ain't no use denying it. People can look at me and tell I'm no frying chicken. But I stay on the job. I didn't even get a vacation last summer."

Mrs. Stuart and her husband Arvel came to Sudan on Jan. 1, 1925, when their daughter was six years old. Stuart had been in the grocery business in Carlton before coming to Lamb County. He had decided farming would be better for his health. After just two years of farming, Stuart got back into the grocery business, though, opening Stuart's Cash Grocery in Sudan in 1927. He ran the grocery store until he retired.

"There were more people in Sudan when we first came here than there are now," Mrs. Stuart said. When the Stuarts came to Sudan, the L. E. Slaters had the general store. P. E. Bozeman had opened the Sudan bank. The land boom was on and the Sudan Hotel had been built; and Mr. Lenderson was the depot agent.

When a man the Stuarts knew from Carlton came down to see the farm land around Sudan he went to the hotel and told the desk clerk he wanted the best accommodations possible. "They told him that would be a cot in the hall," Mrs. Stuart recalled with a smile. "This country was just settling, and it was a busy place. Long about then filling stations were getting popular and they were building one on every corner. Now we don't even have a passenger train anymore — nothing but freight trains.

"I sure miss 'em. When I'm not doing anything I get out there and watch the trains. Sometimes I count the boxcars.

Mr. Stuart died 18 years ago, but the flower shop where Mrs. Stuart goes every day to keep from croaking is a result of his "piddling" before he retired. At first Mr. Stuart just had a hot house and raised flowers. Then he opened the flower shop "at least 25 years ago." The Stuart's daughter, Louise Gatewood, added the gifts when she took over the management.

"When we opened the shop I'd never made a spray in my life," Mrs. Stuart said. "I just learned from doing. I think that's the best way."

See SHELTER, Pg. 2

S. A. STUART goes by her single initial. Her first name is Addie and her husband's name was Arvel. At 89 years of age, Mrs. Stuart works six days a week in the flower shop started by her husband as a "piddling" when he retired.

C-C Section

The yellow pages inside today's Leader-News are the Chamber of Commerce section, and may be lifted out and saved as a separate section.

It includes the banquet program, menu, and introductions of the new officers for the Chamber of Commerce this year.

Band Members Named All-Region

Eight Littlefield Junior High School Band members won chairs in the All-Region Band during tryouts Saturday at Mackenzie Junior High School in Lubbock.

Those awarded positions, according to Band Director Threadgill, include:

John Richey, first chair baritone; Karen Speck, first chair bass clarinet; Julia Tomme, second chair bass clarinet; Vivian Davis, first chair alto clarinet; Carla Sanders, mallet percussion; Kathy Walker, French horn; Cindy Purcy, clarinet; and Lisa Roberts, clarinet.

Saturday Night 'Trap' Is Set

An internationally known speaker, a catchy theme, and presentation of the community's top three awards, will highlight the program for Saturday night's Annual Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet, set for 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High School cafeteria.

Citizens will be laying out the bait and pacing a trail for numerous out-of-town guests and the special honorees, in keeping with the theme for the night, "The Trap Is Set... We Would Like To Catch You."

Members of "We, The Women", Lana Wallace and Beulah Dunlap, are in charge of the decorations, and the V-8 Cocktail juice is being donated by Deb Bawcom, a vegetable grower in our area.

O. William "Bill" Hayes of Amarillo, internationally known author, lecturer and management consultant, has planned an outstanding program for the evening, when he sprinkles his informative speech with humor.

Bob Wear, minister of the Crescent Park Church of Christ, will keep the program moving as he serves as master of ceremonies. He will also introduce the special guests, recognize the incoming and outgoing C-C officers and directors, and introduce the evening's speaker.

Entertainment will be provided by "The Bargains", a witty Littlefield group that promises good music, humor, and maybe a surprise or two.

Jerry Kehoe, outgoing C-C president, will introduce the presentation of awards to the "Woman of the Year", the "Farmer of the Year", and the "Citizen of the Year."

Following the awards presentations, Jerry Kehoe will present remarks concerning his reign as C-C president for 1971, and Doyle Patton, incoming president, will present a challenge to the C-C members for 1972.

New members of the board of directors are Ernest Connell, Rev. David Hamblin, Ralph Mendez and Dr. Craig Wallace.

They replace the retiring directors, Kenneth Ware, Pat Downs, Jim Vandenburg and Doyle Patton — who will become president.

Jerry Tunnell will serve a one-year unexpired term on the board as vice president of agri-business. Others who still have one-year terms to serve are J. T. Brittain, Kip Cutshall and Bob Roden.

Members who have two years of service remaining are Jerry Kehoe, Mrs. Eloise Cox, Benny Zahn and Roger Lowe.

MRS. SEBRING NEW PRESIDENT

C-C Women's Group Outlines '72 Plans

Members of "We, The Women" received a brief outline of the plan of work for 1972, when the new president, Mrs. Janice Sebring, took the reins as the top officer of the Chamber of Commerce affiliated organization.

Immediate plans call for completion of work on the Chamber of Commerce banquet, which will be staged Saturday night in the Junior High School Cafeteria.

Lana Wallace and Beulah Dunlap presented a report on progress made toward banquet decorations, and called for volunteers to help place the decorations on the tables.

Members voted to donate $100 toward the downtown delapidated building beautification project, which will be done to improve looks of store fronts of several vacant buildings.

Proceedings on finding details on securing a building and setting up a museum in Littlefield were begun, and committee members will bring back a report at a later date.

The new president asked for permission to set up a membership committee, and members granted the permission.

Members were asked to begin thinking of possibilities for a style show sometime before Easter, and representatives were asked to begin making contacts concerning such a show, and make a report later.

Among other projects presented for consideration were:

1. Presentation of a scholarship to a worthy student;
2. Aiding the Satellite School in other ways besides the regular monthly contributions;
3. Consider arranging for sending one of our students to another country as a foreign exchange student; and

4. Pledge to work more closely with the Chamber of Commerce, in getting some of their projects done.

HOSPITAL BILL FUNDS NEEDED

Littlefield residents have started a fund for a young Littlefield woman who is critically ill with nephritis or Bright's disease.

Twenty-three year old Lana "Rummy" Anderson, was transferred from a three-week stay in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital to the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston Tuesday morning.

Miss Anderson's sister said Lana will be put on a kidney machine and if her health improves she may receive a transplant.

She is the daughter of Nig and Ruth Anderson, and is a 1967 graduate of Littlefield High School. She attended South Plains College two years.

Because of the existing disease, the family has no insurance to help with her hospitalization. While in the Lubbock hospital, her bill ran more than $100 a day, and the family deposited $200 to get her in the Galveston hospital.

A money tree has been started by Roxie Armstrong at the City Beauty Salon. Also helping with the fund are Lynn Winkler and Faye McLelland. Anyone wishing to help with expenses may phone 385-4478 or 385-4487 for further information.

HENNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WE'RE WONDERING about the implications of the decision on the unconstitutionality of the AD VALOREM tax system for the financing of our schools.

ON THE SURFACE, it may not seem so important. Yet, the possibilities become somewhat sobering. Suppose the thing does have to be rethought?

The problem, as stated, is that under our present system, the smaller and especially rural school cannot offer equal educational facilities and subject matter as the larger and richer city schools.

TO PUT IT bluntly and for example: does the student at the Bula (Rural) School have the same educational opportunity as, say, the student at Lubbock or Odessa High?

I think you'd have to answer "NO" to that one. He neither has the lab facilities, the subject matter or courses that may be offered as background to his avocation, neither the chances at scholarships to help him with his college work.

THIS THEN WOULD come short of "equal opportunity" in education. Then to rectify this situation, someone is going to be compelled to help Bula get these components installed—Besides money, they're short on help!

SO, WE TAKE ALL the tax monies and pool them at the state level. This would include ad valorem, and the whole kettle of fish. Then, we begin to distribute these funds so that ALL schools, regardless of location or size, have the same facilities and equipment and teaching personnel to work with. This would include lab, equipment, sports facilities, libraries, and the whole smear—Can you picture that? Not me! The picture gets confused.

I'M SURE THAT the pooling of authority would go with the pooling of funds. Thus we would lose the privilege of directing our own schools. They'd have to be prototypes. Equal facilities and equal management, thus, all by a common head.

Don't know if we'd like that. Besides, it's difficult to picture elaborate facilities out in the boonies as you would in a city. (Apologies to Bula.)

Let's face it, we're not born with equal opportunities in this old world. Whether by fate, circumstance or environment, our lot in life is different. We're born of poor parents, rich parents, middle class—rural or urban. More than this, WE have no control over these circumstances.—Only place we're equal is in things pertaining to God. How boring it would be if we WERE all just alike!

WE HAVE THE privilege of changing the things that we can, and want to. We're faced with the proposition of accepting the things we can't change and learning to live with them. The success and happiness of life depends upon just how well we can accept these facts.

Now, I know that I'm limited in opportunity by reason of my environment. Yet, I've no desire to change it. So what? Do I go to where the opportunity is, or, do I wait and complain because it doesn't come to me?

PERHAPS THE ANSWER to our dilemma may be the shortening our grade-school years, and the instituting of wholly state-supported junior colleges to equalize the educational opportunities for these environmental and class victims. In this way we could still have a little say-so in our local schools, without turning the whole bottle of catsup over to the state and national dictatorship.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

What Really Counts

To the Editor:

I am a student at LHS. The hair code that was recently dropped was causing the school system far more problems than it ever solved.

Most students at school put up with the hair code in order to get their education, very few accepted it.

America was founded on the idea of freedom for the individual, and the constitution also states the freedom for pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness.

Restricting anyone's right to grow hair is a breach of their pursuit of happiness and they are no longer free individuals. This hair code and others similar to it have been determined unconstitutional in our courts. That is why it was changed.

It seems to me many people in the town associate long hair with dissent and rebellion. Long hair is a style just as bell-bottom pants are a style.

Stereotyping all people with long hair as rebels and radicals is ignorant. It would be comparable to accusing everyone over thirty of being directly responsible for the Viet Nam war.

Our society involves thorough change. Long hair is a change. People have to accept change or they get caught up in a whirlwind of change and get left behind. Then they become obsolete.

My father has decided to let me grow longer hair and I am proud he is mature enough to accept change for what it is. Before you judge anyone on the length of hair, find out who they are and what they stand for. After all, it's what is between the ears, not what is on the ears, that counts.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Great Spirit

By BOB WEAR

WE MUST ACCEPT the fact that we can develop a "great spirit". This should, at least, be one of our most urgent endeavors. We may never become as great in spirit as we wish, but as long as we are moving along in this direction, we are doing very well.

WE MAY NOT LIKE the world in which we live, but here we are. Why not be diligent to equip ourselves for the best possible life experience?

LIVING, AT BEST, is not easy. Perhaps it is not supposed to be easy. Of course, it is easier for some than it is for others. Some make it unnecessarily difficult, but others live with minimal strain and stress. The "spirit" makes the difference.

THE GREAT SPIRIT is not a gift of birth. It is not reserved for a select number. It is the rich reward for personal effort in wisely planned and steadfast effort in self-perfected. It is acquired. The word we use for "great spirit" is "magnanimous", a word which describes some of the greatest personal needs.

WE CAN LEARN to bear trouble calmly. This is what we must do. We do have a choice about how we react to troubles.

We can be overburdened and upset, or we can bear it calmly. Bearing troubles calmly is being magnanimous. This is the "great spirit".

WHEN IT IS appropriate to do so, we must be quick to admit our mistakes. We must do this for the sake of better relationships with other people, and for our own good, too. Such action comes from a "great spirit". Little, mean spirits will do almost anything to cover up mistakes, and this compounds human difficulties.

LET US BE QUICK to acknowledge the merit we see in the work and actions of others. This may be the most difficult test of one's spirit. We must not refuse to congratulate, to commend, and to express appreciation, when there is reason to do so. When we do these things generously, our spirit grows, and we help other people. We also help preserve and build up the good life.

THERE ARE a hundred persons of merit for one who willingly acknowledges it in another. —Hazlitt. This may be true, but let us do our best to make it untrue. We can be "magnanimous".

WE CAN DISDAIN meanness and revenge. This is another trait of a "great spirit". In the first place, we hurt ourselves if we stoop to that which is ignoble, or abject, or sordid. Revenge must be about the most worthless of all actions, and is often the most tragic. It is better that we be "magnanimous" and forgive.

SACRIFICES for worthy ends come from a "great spirit". The human scene becomes a sad, miserable spectacle to whatever extent people refuse to make sacrifices for good purposes.

THE GREAT SPIRIT is our great need.

Firing Of Bula Teacher Upheld

AUSTIN — State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar upheld the firing of a young rural high school teacher because of his hair length Friday but urged school boards to stop trying to be "arbiters of fashion."

Edgar said the Bula school board was well within its rights under Texas law to limit teachers' hair length and fire them for not complying.

"I don't think I should substitute my judgment on this particular issue for that of the school board," Edgar said.

But, he added, "I do believe you should give consideration to getting out of the business of being arbiters of fashion and get on with the business of education."

"As long as a student or a teacher is clean and neat, that is as far as we should go," Edgar said, in an aside from his official ruling.

The case is significant because it is the first to come before the commissioner involving a teacher fired because he wore his hair long. Previously, he upheld the firing of a Kerrville teacher for having a beard, but the decision was reversed by the State Board of Education.

Edgar ruled Friday in the case of Sammy Sawyer, 24, who was fired as a high school mathematics, chemistry and physics teacher Oct. 4 — three days after a district-wide deadline for complying with a new grooming code.

The code said men and boys' hair could not fall over their ears or touch their collars.

Sawyer's blond hair covers the top half of his ears and grazes the top of his shirt collar.

U. S. District Court Judge Halbert Woodward of Lubbock ruled Oct. 20 that the school district must pay Sawyer's salary while he appealed to Edgar for reinstatement. The case now returns to Woodward for further action.

Sawyer's attorney gave notice he also would appeal Edgar's decision to the State Board of Education.

"Was there any issue involving Mr. Sawyer except the length of his hair?" the lawyer asked Bula school board president Ivan Clawson, a cotton and grain farmer.

"Only his not complying with the dress code because of the length of his hair," Clawson replied.

Clawson said the code was enacted to keep the district from becoming a haven for long-haired youngsters from surrounding districts which had dress and grooming codes.

"Before we had it, there were some boys trying to come into our schools," he said.

The attorney said all 25 students in the Bula High School signed a petition requesting Sawyer's reinstatement. Clawson told a newsmen one of his children signed the petition.

Sawyer said when he was summoned to an Oct. 4 board meeting, he told the five board members, "I felt my hair style enhanced my appearance and felt it was my own personal business."

Sawyer's attorney maintained the dress and grooming code violated Sawyer's constitutional rights and said there was an "equal protection issue" because it permitted women — but not men and boys — to wear their hair long.

He displayed copies of a number of stamps, showing world and national figures wearing long hair. Only one stamp — an Italian one from the early 1940s — showed anyone without a long hair style.

"The two people on that Italian stamp, Mussolini and Hitler, are the only ones who would meet the Bula hair code for teachers," he said.

The school board attorney said the stamps were "unrelated" to the hair issue.

"It would be to characterize almost all American servicemen in World War II who certainly were not the same side as Mussolini and Hitler," the board's attorney said.

The attorney for the school district used the same demonstration in a battle last week with trustees of the Littlefield system as he represented year-old youth who threatened with suspension for violation of the school code.

In the Littlefield case, the school board sought to have the school code abolished immediately and order that Connie Black, Mr. and Mrs. Sedell Black, Littlefield, could continue to attend classes.

The board unanimously to drop existing hair code on the day of the second semester.

Trustees also rejected a broad dress code for the coming semester which will be enforced by the administration.

(Meanwhile, the youth allowed to complete semester without cutting hair, although his parents indicated that his hair would be groomed differently.)

Author, Lecturer Named For Banquet

O. William "Bill" Hayes, 53, of Amarillo, internationally known author, lecturer and management consultant, will speak at the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet Saturday night in the Junior High School Cafeteria.

Hayes is president of Hayes Associates, a personnel development firm in Amarillo, and he has a varied background starting with 14 years in professional baseball, when he won two national awards.

He has served an elected term as a member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, and as major aide to the governor of that state.

He was twice nominated for a major political office in Texas, including that of Lieutenant Governor.

He is author of many articles on self improvement, and his book, "Your Memory, Speedway to Success" has sold nearly half a million copies.

Hayes has also written numerous articles for national magazines.

Several years ago, he received an international humanitarian honor by being knighted by the late King Peter the Second of Yugoslavia.

He served as vice president of both sales and personnel development of two Texas manufacturing companies. His firm has conducted thousands of personal surveys as to the buying habits of West Texans. "His talk, 'How to keep your business at home,' contains suggestions that can reap a rich reward for his listeners and it is liberally sprinkled with humor," says Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Payne.

Public Made Aware Of C-C By Red-Coated Ambassadors

Jerry Kehoe made the public more aware of the Chamber of Commerce "Red Coats" during his tenure as president this year.

Kehoe prodded the C-C members like he promised when he took office, and the result is some 185 Littlefield C-C members who have a keen interest in their hometown.

Red Coats were on hand for the new openings of the Goodyear Store, Clark's Restaurant, and the S&H Green Stamp Center. Red Coats flourished at parades, helped with Festivities Days and showed up at all sorts of gatherings.

A new C-C secretary, Suzanne Hunsinger, was employed in March.

Bill Payne was hired as manager in May and assumed duties here June 1.

Throngs were in Littlefield for the third annual event of Festivities Days. Miss Deana Sterling was crowned Miss Lamb County of 1971.

Hundreds of people flocked to the downtown art show. A carnival atmosphere reigned over the two day event with homemade goodies sold on the street, bazaars and contests brought out beauties and the bearded James Stedman of Littlefield won the motorcycle and Mrs. Bessie EidelGeorge of Bula won the new car. The Chamber netted $800 from the ticket sales.

Other points of interest during the year included the Pep farm dinner, the fly-in breakfast, and four industrial tours. In October the C-C sponsored a program on the methods used by hot check artists and shoplifters. Hundreds of persons attended the flea market on Oct. 16.

With the help of DE students, the C-C sponsored the Christmas promotion again and brought Santa to town.

Four new directors were named to the C-C in December. Ernest Connell, Rev. David Hamblin, Ralph Mendez and Dr. Craig Wallace replaced retiring directors Kenneth Ware, Pat Downs, Jim Vandenburg and Doyle Patton. Jerry Tunnell was elected to serve an unexpired term. Other board members are J. T. Brittain, Kip Cutshall, Bob Roden, Benny Zahn, Eloise Cox, Kehoe as ex-officio, and Bill Payne, executive vice president and general manager.

'We, The Women' Projects

Mary Beth Willey presided over the Chamber affiliated "We, The Women" organization during 1971.

August was a jam-packed month of activities for the group. The art festival held in conjunction with Festivities Days drew 400 entries and more than 1,000 people viewed the work. A concession stand filled with home baked cakes, cookies, pies and sandwiches was another attraction. Many hours were spent decorating a float for the Festivities Days parade, too.

Other "We, The Women" projects included an entry in the VFW Loyalty Day parade, buying curtains for the Lamb County Library, a bake sale, and donating $15 per month to the Satellite School.

The project for a memorial boulevard on South Phelps didn't get off the ground because there wasn't enough money for paving, but the idea helped get the Green Thumb program in Lamb County.

In April the Littlefield student on the foreign exchange student program and the group donated $75 to the council.

Throughout the growing season, the women's group presented a Yard of the Month award. Eloise Cox was sent as a delegate to the Women in C-C state wide meeting in Amarillo.

Other 1971 officers were Betty Hodges, vice president; Janice Sebring, secretary-treasurer; and Bobbie McShan, reporter.

 If you want to live in the kind of a town...
 Like the kind of a town you like.
 You needn't pack your clothes. And start on a long, long hike. You'll only find what you left behind.
 For there's nothing that's really new:
 It's a knock at yourself, when you knock the town.
 It isn't the town - it's you.
 Real towns are not made by men afraid
 Let someone else gets ahead:
 When everyone works and nobody shirks,
 You can raise a town from the dead:
 And if while you make your personal stake,
 Your neighbor can make one too,
 Your town will be what you want it to be:
 It isn't the town - it's you.

*New C-C Prexy
Sets High Goals*

Incoming Chamber of Commerce President Doyle Patton has high hopes for the new color brochures and advertising program planned by the Littlefield C-C this year.

Patton said a lot of good ideas came out of the retreat, and working toward some of these specific goals plus the advertising program tops his plans for the coming year.

In the past the C-C has concentrated on bringing in industry. Through the new brochures and advertising, the C-C will concentrate on people and hope that industry follows.

Littlefield businessmen will display the full-color folders. Through inquiries and tourists, it is hoped the descriptions and photos will attract people and new businesses.

In addition to the brochures, businessmen will be given a supply of letters telling about Littlefield.

These letters are to be inserted in each piece of out-of-town correspondence.

Patton and his family came to Littlefield from Atoka, Okla., when he was named vice president and cashier of Security State Bank. Patton is a native Texan, growing up and attending public school at Midland. He attended Oklahoma University and Oklahoma City University.

Patton and his wife Sonja, have three children, Pat, 9, Elizabeth, 8, and Jennifer, 6.

Patton has a list of able vice presidents backing his chairmanship. David Hamblin is in charge of the membership, budget, finance, laws, ambassador and special projects committees.

Agriculture will be focused on this year, under the leadership of Jerry Tunnell. This will include seeking ways to help farmers find new and better markets for established crops and encourage new crops. This committee will sponsor a farmer-merchant appreciation day, support local stock shows and youths involved in showing livestock, and work toward educating people on the Texas water plan.

Community development is headed by Elouise Cox. This includes beautification, recreational programs for the youth, work toward establishing a museum, and creating appreciation for talented persons in and around Littlefield. Festivities Days will be better organized, and another fly-in breakfast will be promoted.

Ernest Connell is over the industrial, retail and tourist committee. This team will help existing industry expand, answer mail and make personal contacts. Credit reporting, improvement of community Christmas decorations, including homes and vacant buildings, and continued upgrading of the free overnight campsite are included in this work, also.

JANICE SEBRING

Janice Sebring Is New Head 'We, Women'

Janice Sebring cares about Littlefield and feels that everyone else should. That "caring" feeling is more or less her theme this year as she takes over as president of the Chamber of Commerce affiliated "We, The Women."

Mrs. Sebring, her husband Ray, and their three children have lived in Littlefield since 1962. Mrs. Sebring is an Amherst girl, attending and graduating from Amherst. Ray is a Lamb Countian likewise, growing up in the Sudan community.

Janice's plans for "We, The Women" call for the organization to work more closely with the C-C rather than numerous new projects of their own. In addition to the annual art show and the parades, the new president does hope, however, that the group might offer the women of Littlefield a really outstanding fashion show just before Easter.

There are approximately 35 members in the group and additional members are hoped for during the membership drive in February. "We, The Women" meet at noon every fourth Tuesday in the Reddy Room.

Carol Black is vice president of the organization this year, and Ray Lynn Britt is secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Sebring is girl Friday at Garland Motor Company where she has worked as bookkeeper and office manager for the past 10 years. In 1966 she was awarded a life time membership in the Texas honor society of accountants by the Chrysler Corporation.

Mrs. Sebring is active in scout work. She has been treasurer for the XII Neighborhood for the last two years. Before that she was an adult leader. She says she has enough hobbies for everyone in her family. "You name it, I do it," she said of her sewing, embroidery, knitting, bead and leather work.

Sebring is an installer-repairman for General Telephone. The Sebrings and their children DeLinda, 14, Paul, 11, and Ray Ann, 8, attend Crescent Park Church of Christ.

Golf Team Starts Work

Littlefield High School's golf team began practice Monday. This year the team will only consist of four members: Brent Whiteaker, Glenn Short, Randy Dayton, and Dennis Cowan. Golf coach for this year will be Coach Jerry Blakely.

Drivers' Ed Class Started

The first driver's education class of the year began early Monday morning, Jan. 20 at 7:15 a.m. in Room 10 at LHS. The instructor for this course is Coach Jim Weaver. Charge for the class is $30. There will be another class starting in the spring. The class is selected from the oldest students that sign up for the non-credit course. This summer the students will start driving with Coach Weaver for a total of six hours of in-car instruction. After completing the course, the class members will take tests for restricted licenses.

Rehearsals will begin Thursday, Jan. 27, at 7 p.m. at Estacado High School. Friday rehearsals will start at 9 a.m. and last until mid-afternoon. A concert of all the region bands will be presented Saturday night.

James Lee was elected sophomore class favorite in 1946.

Buster Owens played end on the 1946 football team that won regional.

James Lee was president of the Student Council in 1948.

Connie Hopping was FFA Sweetheart in 1948.

LHS SPEAKS OUT

No Hair Code

In a recent meeting of the school board, the traditional hair code of Littlefield High School was dropped. With the exception of facial hair, the boys may grow their hair to a "reasonable length."

Here are some of the opinions of LHS students on the dropping of the code:

JERRY McCARY (SR.) — "I think that the hair code was arousing more problems than it ever solved. It was proven unconstitutional and it was only right that it was changed."

BRENT WHITEAKER (SR.) — "I think it is great. But there is still part of the faculty trying to take over a parent's responsibility."

DEBBIE SORLEY (JR.) — "I think it's about time some people wised up. If a guy doesn't have restrictions, like athletics or something, I don't see any reason why a guy shouldn't have long hair. Also, if a guy keeps it clean, I think it's fine. As far as school and learning goes, hair doesn't clog up their ears or their minds, it won't change how much they learn."

MARTHA BROWN (SR.) — "It is about time we got a little bit changed. Maybe sometime this town will quit telling itself how conservative it is and live in the present."

TIM WALKER (JR.) — "I think it's a good deal. There never was a great deal of long hair in the school anyway. The hair code did nothing but cause trouble."

ANN COFFMAN (SOPH) — "I think it is great! It is everyone's right to wear their hair, clothes, etc., anyway they please. It shouldn't have taken this long to decide this."

R. V. ARMSTRONG (JR.) — "I think they should drop it in football, too. But otherwise it's GREAT!"

DAVID BARTON (JR.) — "It won't change me much because my mother and Coach Blakely still say it'll be short."

LINDA McANALLY (JR.) — "All I can say is IT'S ABOUT TIME!"

DAVID COATES (JR.) — "I believe that if a person wants to grow his hair he should. I don't believe he should grow it just to rebel against society or against his parents. Many people are judged because of appearance, and many people look on the outside instead of the inside. Smile, JESUS LOVES YOU!"

BARBARA McBRIDE (SOPH) — "I am glad. I think how a person wears his hair is his own business."

SCOTT SHEPPARD (SOPH) — "I think it's very intelligent since the girls wear their hair down to their..."

NOEL GRIZZLE (JR.) — "Beautiful."

CAROL SANDERS (JR.) — "It's fantastic! School board finally got smart. Wish they'd drop a few more codes."

WAYNE DEBUSK (SOPH) — "I think it now lets the students have more rights that they need."

JACKYE GREGG (JR.) — "I think it was a very good idea! It was just causing unnecessary trouble."

TINA RUSSELL (JR.) — "It's great, but I think they should revise the dress code. Let boys wear their shirt tails out and girls wear hot pants if their parents approve."

MARI LOUISE BENNETT (SOPH) — "I'm glad they dropped it, but I think they shouldn't wear it too long. I think the coaches should have the say so about it in the athletic department."

NEW TEACHER

Big Blakely

How does it feel to be coach of the year for two years? Probably very busy, if Jerry Blakely is an example.

Coach Jerry Blakely received his college degrees at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N. M. He has a BS in secondary education and an MA in physical education.

Blakely's coaching started in Clovis, N. M. There he was head backfield coach and head track coach for Clovis High School. He was there for seven years.

Oilton was the coach's next stop. He was head coach and won coach of the year, one out of two years. There he taught economics and American history.

Then the decision was made to come to Littlefield. He said that he came with determination to develop a winning team. Coach Blakely led the Littlefield Wildcats to an 8-2 season record.

South Plains Coach of the Year award was presented to Coach Blakely in December.

Blakely teaches American history and world history in LHS. His wife, Tiddly, teaches world history, but she majored in English. She is one of the sophomore sponsors and is noted for her spirit and her almost famous saying, "Yea, Yea, Yea!"

The couple has three children, De Enna, 10; Scott, 8; and Barbara Jan, 18 months old.

They are members of the First Baptist Church.

One Act Play Set For April

This year's one act play will be given at Friona, April 13. The purpose of a one-act play, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Ayres, LHS speech teacher, is to satisfy a competitive, artistic spirit with friendly rivalry among schools, to foster appreciation of good acting, good directing, and good drama, and to learn to lose or win graciously.

No more than ten individuals are allowed to perform in the play, and it may not exceed 40 minutes.

All LHS students are eligible. Try-outs and the title of the one-act play will be announced at a later date.

Schedule Changes Handled Smoothly

Schedule changes at midterm were down to 150 this year, according to Mrs. Ima Roycroft, LHS counselor.

Health and physical education were the two courses emptied because several students had taken their required amount, Mrs. Roycroft explained.

"Things went rather smoothly and I appreciated the patience of the students," Principal Beryl Harris noted.

CATHY COMMENTS

MEMORY

By CATHY GILES

Many of us have a tendency to worship or live on memories. Sweet remembrances crowd our minds in an effort to blot out the many confusions of today.

One begins to feel lost in our present complex world which we have built toward our very own destruction. Most can keep up with the fast rate, but there are a few who wish to cling to bygone days. They create their own individual fantasy world based on memories and old friends. There, they eventually become totally secluded from our present world and there they choose to remain.

Memories can create or destroy. If uncontrolled, they can rule the mind; yet if memories are utilized, they can teach valuable lessons. We must not live in the past, but look to the future where new experiences await us.

Student at LHS. The hair code that was recently dropped by the school system far more problems than it ever solved.

Students at school put up with the hair code in order to get a haircut; very few accepted it.

It was founded on the idea of freedom for the individual, but the constitution also states the freedom for pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness.

REX GILSTRAP

JACK OF ALL TRADES

Gilstrap Far Out

By JERRY McCARY

One of Littlefield High School's business teachers, Rex Gilstrap, is probably what one would call a "Jack of all trades."

For the past 17 years he has been a teacher here at Littlefield. Before coming here, he taught two years at Centerville, Okla. and one year at Rama, N. M.

When asked about his favorite pastime, Gilstrap immediately answers:

"Eating, all kinds of eating."

He also enjoys playing the organ. When asked where he learned to play the organ, he calmly replied:

"I taught myself during my spare time at the funeral home."

"I also used to be a photographer, but it was too expensive," he adds. "I learned bird calls from my cousin who was a Ranger Naturalist for the National Park Service. He has a bird call record out, but he has expired now."

Gilstrap has had quite a few pets over the years. He now has a 2-year old Chihuahua named Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City, where he was an inventory clerk.

This led to his enrollment in Uncle Sam's Army where he became an M.P. While in the army he went to school and became a pharmacy technician. He later became a pharmacy technician at William

Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso.

Gilstrap then decided he wanted to go to college. On the GI Bill, he enrolled at Wewoka Jr. College for one year then went three years to the University of Oklahoma. He majored in business education.

When asked about his favorite pastime, Gilstrap immediately answers:

"Eating, all kinds of eating."

Next on the agenda came a "surprise." While waiting for one of the Dallas Cowboys to arrive, Grant asked a "football scout from WTSU" to say a few words. After quite a bit of coaxing, "the scout" gave a somewhat unusual speech.

As it turned out, "the scout" was actually Cecil Hunter, a professional speaker.

Concerned groups will be meeting weekdays prior to the revival. A prayer vigil is set for Saturday, Jan. 29.
Rev. Al E. Jennings, pastor, extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the services.

Fire Department Commended

Littlefield's Volunteer Fire Department has been commended "for the dedicated service of an outstanding group of men," in a letter from Mayor Chisholm City Manager Pat Bradley, and City Councilmen Paul McCormick, Chester Harvey, James Shotwell and Paul Carmickle.

The letter continues, "Time and time again, you have responded unselfishly to the needs of others, not only to fight fires, but also to watch for storms, aid the police department, and assist in activities too numerous to list."
"Your efforts have and will continue to help make Littlefield an ideal community in which to live and raise a family," the letter concludes.

READ, FILE PLAN

Life-Saving Info Mailed

Information developed in this plan will be mailed to each household in the county. The plan, developed at the request of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers State Office of Civil Defense and War Relief. Funds for this plan were provided by the Federal Government.

Primary danger to residents of Lamb County resulting from a nuclear attack on this country would be from radioactive particles settling over the area after having been carried by high wind currents. These radioactive particles emit radiation which can cause illness or death to the occupants.

A normal house would offer little or no protection from this type of radiation, unless the residents knew how to increase the protection offered by that structure. Because this type of radiation decays or weakens with time, it is possible for persons who are protected from the early, intense radiation to survive with little or no ill effects.

The goal of this Community Shelter Plan is to assure that everyone in Lamb County would have this type of protection if an attack ever occurred.

Crescent Club Hearing Tuesday

Charles Ary, operator of the Crescent Club in Littlefield, has appealed the closing of the private club and the hearing is scheduled for next Tuesday, Feb. 1.

The club was to be closed for one month beginning in late January. A Texas Liquor Control Board member reportedly bought a drink in early December in the private club without a membership card and without signing a guest card as required by Texas law.

Ary appealed the case, however, and the club remains open. The appeal Tuesday will be heard before the state liquor control board in Austin.

A recent survey conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers at the request of local officials revealed that there is only a limited amount of public shelter available in Lamb County.

All of this shelter space is located in the cities of Littlefield and Amherst. Judge Sides reported that proposals have been submitted to local city governments to give consideration to the possibility of incorporating shelter space in any new public buildings constructed in the future, but, unless and until such future shelter space becomes available most Lamb County residents will have to seek the best protection they can find in their own homes.

Studies show that storm cellars and basements would be best, but that interior hallways protected from windows and doors, and crawl spaces, which may be improved, could also offer important protection at home.

Detailed suggestions for improving the protection offered at home will be included in the official publication "In Time of Emergency," a citizen's handbook on nuclear attack and natural disasters.

This handbook is one major step toward assuring that everyone in Lamb County would have this type of protection if an attack ever occurred.

Saturday Night 'Trap' Is Set

An internationally known speaker, a catchy theme, and presentation of the community's top three awards, will highlight the program for Saturday night's Annual Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet, set for 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High School cafeteria.

Citizens will be laying out the bait and pacing a trail for numerous out-of-town guests and the special honorees, in keeping with the theme for the night, "The Trap Is Set... We Would Like To Catch You."

Members of "We, The Women", Lana Wallace and Beulah Dunlap, are in charge of the decorations, and the V-8 Cocktail juice is being donated by Deb Bawcom, a vegetable grower in our area.

O. William "Bill" Hayes of Amarillo, internationally known author, lecturer and management consultant, has planned an outstanding program for the evening, when he sprinkles his informative speech with humor.

Bob Wear, minister of the Crescent Park Church of Christ, will keep the program moving as he serves as master of ceremonies. He will also introduce the special guests, recognize the incoming and outgoing C-C officers and directors, and introduce the evening's speaker.

Entertainment will be provided by "The Bargains", a witty Littlefield group that promises good music, humor, and maybe a surprise or two.

Jerry Kehoe, outgoing C-C president, will introduce the presentation of awards to the "Woman of the Year", the "Farmer of the Year", and the "Citizen of the Year."

Following the awards presentations, Jerry Kehoe will present remarks concerning his reign as C-C president for 1971, and Doyle Patton, incoming president, will present a challenge to the C-C members for 1972.

New members of the board of directors are Ernest Connell, Rev. David Hamblin, Ralph Mendez and Dr. Craig Wallace.

They replace the retiring directors, Kenneth Ware, Pat Downs, Jim Vandenburg and Doyle Patton — who will become president.

Jerry Tunnell will serve a one-year unexpired term on the board as vice president of agri-business. Others who still have one-year terms to serve are J. T. Brittain, Kip Cutshall and Bob Roden.

Members who have two years of service remaining are Jerry Kehoe, Mrs. Elouise Cox, Benny Zahn and Roger Lowe.

C-C Section

The yellow pages inside today's Leader-News are the Chamber of Commerce section, and may be lifted out and saved as a separate section.

It includes the banquet program, menu, and introductions of the new officers for the Chamber of Commerce this year.

A NEW BROCHURE in full color is to be released here Saturday during the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet in Littlefield. Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Payne examines one side of the informative fold-out brochure which promotes Littlefield.

MRS. SEBRING NEW PRESIDENT

C-C Women's Group Outlines '72 Plans

Members of "We, The Women" received a brief outline of the plan of work for 1972, when the new president, Mrs. Janice Sebring, took the reins as the top officer of the Chamber of Commerce affiliated organization.

Immediate plans call for completion of work on the Chamber of Commerce banquet, which will be staged Saturday night in the Junior High School Cafeteria. Lana Wallace and Beulah Dunlap presented a report on progress made toward banquet decorations, and called for volunteers to help place the decorations on the tables.

Members voted to donate $100 toward the downtown delapidated building beautification project, which will be done to improve looks of store fronts of several vacant buildings.

Proceedings on finding details on securing a building and setting up a museum in Littlefield were begun, and committee members will bring back a report at a later date.

The new president asked for permission to set up a membership committee, and members granted the permission.

Members were asked to begin thinking of possibilities for a style show sometime before Easter, and representatives were asked to begin making contacts concerning such a show, and make a report later.

Among other projects presented for consideration were:

1. Presentation of a scholarship to a worthy student;
2. Aiding the Satellite School in other ways besides the regular monthly contributions;
3. Consider arranging for sending one of our students to another country as a foreign exchange student; and

4. Pledge to work more closely with the Chamber of Commerce, in getting some of their projects done.

HOSPITAL BILL FUNDS NEEDED

Littlefield residents have started a fund for a young Littlefield woman who is critically ill with nephritis or Bright's disease.

Twenty-three year old Lana "Rummy" Anderson, was transferred from a three-week stay in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital to the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston Tuesday morning.

Miss Anderson's sister said Lana will be put on a kidney machine and if her health improves she may receive a transplant. She is the daughter of Nig and Ruth Anderson, and is a 1967 graduate of Littlefield High School. She attended South Plains College two years.

Because of the existing disease, the family has no insurance to help with her hospitalization. While in the Lubbock hospital, her bill ran more than $100 a day, and the family deposited $200 to get her in the Galveston hospital.

A money tree has been started by Roxie Armstrong at the City Beauty Salon. Also helping with the fund are Lynn Winkler and Faye McLelland. Anyone wishing to help with expenses may phone 385-4478 or 385-4487 for further information.

S. A. STUART

89-Year-Old Stays On Job

As soon as croak as sit and hold steady," Mrs. A. Stuart said.

Mrs. Stuart works at the flower shop in Sudan every day, six days a week. She doesn't have time for holding hands. And with a constitution like mine, I'm not likely to croak.

"I tell my age," Mrs. Stuart said. I was 89 the second of December. Ain't no use denying it. People can look at me and tell I'm no frying chicken. But I stay on the job. I didn't even get a vacation last summer."

Mrs. Stuart and her husband Arvel came to Sudan on Jan. 1, 1925, when their daughter was six years old. Stuart had been in the grocery business in Carlton before coming to Lamb County. He had decided farming would be better for his health. After just two years of farming, Stuart got back into the grocery business, though, opening Stuart's Cash Grocery in Sudan in 1927. He ran the grocery store until he retired.

"There were more people in Sudan when we first came here than there are now," Mrs. Stuart said. When the Stuarts came to Sudan, the L. E. Slaters had the general store. P. E. Bozeman had opened the Sudan bank. The land boom was on and the Sudan Hotel had been built; and Mr. Lenderson was the depot agent.

When a man the Stuarts knew from Carlton came down to see the farm land around Sudan he went to the hotel and told the desk clerk he wanted the best accommodations possible. "They told him that would be a cot in the hall," Mrs. Stuart recalled with a smile. "This country was just settling, and it was a busy place. Long about then filling stations were getting popular and they were building one on every corner. Now we don't even have a passenger train anymore — nothing but freight trains.

"I sure miss 'em. When I'm not doing anything I get out there and watch the trains. Sometimes I count the boxcars.

Mr. Stuart died 18 years ago, but the flower shop where Mrs. Stuart goes every day to keep from croaking is a result of his "piddling" before he retired. At first Mr. Stuart just had a hot house and raised flowers. Then he opened the flower shop "at least 25 years ago." The Stuart's daughter, Louise Gatewood, added the gifts when she took over the management. "When we opened the shop I'd never made a spray in my life," Mrs. Stuart said. "I just learned from doing. I think that's the best way."

Band Members Named All-Region

Eight Littlefield Junior High School Band members won chairs in the All-Region Band during tryouts Saturday at Mackenzie Junior High School in Lubbock.

Those awarded positions, according to Band Director Threadgill, include: John Richey, first chair baritone; Karen Speck, first chair bass clarinet; Julia Tomme, second chair bass clarinet; Vivian Davis, first chair alto clarinet; Carla Sanders, mallet percussion; Kathy Walker, French horn; Cindy Purcy, clarinet; and Lisa Roberts, clarinet.

Kay Graham, first place winner; Debbie Green, fifth place; Vic Allcorn, third place; James Black, fourth place; and Shorty Pugh, VFW commander. Mary Elizabeth Shotwell won second place and was unable to attend due to illness.

STUART goes by her single initial. Her first name is Addie and her husband's name was Arvel. At 89 years of age, Mrs. Stuart works six days a week in the flower shop started by her husband as a "piddling" when he retired.

HENNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WE'RE WONDERING about the implications of the decision on the unconstitutionality of the AD VALOREM tax system for the financing of our schools.

ON THE SURFACE, it may not seem so important. Yet, the possibilities become somewhat sobering. Suppose the thing does have to be rebated?

The problem, as stated, is that under our present system, the smaller and especially rural school cannot offer equal educational facilities and subject matter as the larger and richer city schools.

TO PUT IT bluntly and for example—does the student at the Bula (Rural) School have the same educational opportunity as, say, the student at Lubbock or Odessa High?

I think you'd have to answer "NO" to that one. He neither has the lab facilities, the subject matter or courses that may be offered as background to his avocation, neither the chances at scholarships to help him with his college work.

THIS THEN WOULD come short of "equal opportunity" in education.

Them to rectify this situation, someone's going to be compelled to help Bula get these components installed—Besides money, they're short on help.

SO, WE TAKE ALL the tax monies and pool them at the state level. This would include ad valorem, and the whole kettle of fish. Then, we begin to distribute these funds so that ALL schools, regardless of location or size, have the same facilities and equipment and teaching personnel to work with.

This would include lab, equipment, sports facilities, libraries, and the whole shebang—Can you picture that? Not me! The picture gets confused.

I'M SURE THAT the pooling of authority would go with the pooling of funds. Thus we would lose the privilege of directing our own schools. They'd have to be prototypes. Equal facilities and equal management, thus, all by a common head.

Don't know if we'd like that. Besides, it's difficult to picture elaborate facilities out in the boonies as you would in a city. (Apologies to Bula!)

Let's face it, we're not born with equal opportunities in this old world. Whether by fate, circumstance or environment, our lot in life is different. We're born of poor parents, rich parents, middle class—rural or urban. More than this, WE have no control over these circumstances.—Only place we're equal in is things pertaining to God. How boring it would be if we WERE all just alike!

WE HAVE THE privilege of changing the things that we can, and want to. We're faced with the proposition of accepting the things we can't change and learning to live with them. The success and happiness of life depends upon just how well we can accept these facts.

Now, I know that I'm limited in opportunity by reason of my environment. Yet, I've no desire to change it. So what? Do I go to where the opportunity is, or, do I wait and complain because it doesn't come to me?

PERHAPS THE ANSWER to our dilemma may be the shortening our grade-school years, and the instituting of wholly state-supported junior colleges to equalize the educational opportunities for these environmental and class victims.

In this way we could still have a little say-so in our local schools, without turning the whole bottle of catsup over to the state and national dictatorship.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

What Really Counts

To the Editor:

I am a student at LHS. The hair code that was recently dropped was causing the school system far more problems than it ever solved.

Most students at school put up with the hair code in order to get their education; very few accepted it.

America was founded on the idea of freedom for the individual, and the constitution also states the freedom for pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness.

Restricting anyone's right to grow hair is a breach of their pursuit of happiness and they are no longer free individuals. This hair code and others similar to it have been determined unconstitutional in our courts. That is why it was changed.

It seems to me many people in the town associate long hair with dissent and rebellion. Long hair is a style just as bell-bottom pants are a style.

s/Jerry McCary

Stereotyping all people with long hair as rebels and radicals is ignorant. It would be comparable to accusing everyone over thirty of being directly responsible for the Viet Nam war.

Our society involves thorough change. Long hair is a change. People have to accept change or they get caught up in a whirlwind of change and get left behind. Then they become obsolete.

My father has decided to let me grow longer hair and I am proud he is mature enough to accept change for what it is. Before you judge anyone on the length of hair, find out who they are and what they stand for. After all, it's what is between the ears, not what is on the ears, that counts.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Great Spirit

By BOB WEAR

WE MUST ACCEPT the fact that we can develop a "great spirit". This should, at least, be one of our most urgent endeavors.

We may never become as great in spirit as we wish, but as long as we are moving along in this direction, we are doing very well.

WE MAY NOT LIKE the world in which we live, but here we are.

Why not be diligent to equip ourselves for the best possible life experience?

LIVING, AT BEST, is not easy. Perhaps it is not supposed to be easy. Of course, it is easier for some than it is for others.

Some make it unnecessarily difficult, but others live with minimal strain and stress. The "spirit" makes the difference.

THE GREAT SPIRIT is not a gift of birth. It is not reserved for a select number. It is the rich reward for personal effort in wisely planned and steadfast effort in self betterment.

It is acquired. The word we use for "great spirit" is "magnanimous", a word which describes some of the greatest personal needs.

WE CAN LEARN to bear trouble calmly. This is what we must do. We do have a choice about how we react to troubles.

We can be overburdened and upset, or we can bear it calmly. Bearing troubles calmly is being magnanimous. This is the "great spirit".

WHEN IT IS appropriate to do so, we must be quick to admit our mistakes.

We must do this for the sake of better relationships with other people, and for our own good, too. Such action comes from a "great spirit". Little, mean spirits will do almost anything to cover up mistakes; and this compounds human difficulties.

LET US BE QUICK to acknowledge the merit we see in the work and actions of others. This may be the most difficult test of one's spirit.

We must not refuse to congratulate, to commend, and to express appreciation; when there is reason to do so. When we do these things generously, our spirit grows, and we help other people. We also help preserve and build up the good life.

THERE ARE A hundred persons of merit for one who willingly acknowledges it in another.—Hazlitt.

This may be true, but let us do our best to make it untrue. We can be "magnanimous".

WE CAN DISDAIN meanness and revenge. This is another trait of a "great spirit". In the first place, we hurt ourselves if we stoop to that which is ignoble, or abject, or sordid.

Revenge must be about the most worthless of all actions, and is often the most tragic. It is better that we be "magnanimous" and forgive.

SACRIFICES for worthy ends come from a "great spirit". The human scene becomes a sad, miserable spectacle to whatever extent people refuse to make sacrifices for good purposes.

THE GREAT SPIRIT is our great need.

Vandalism, Theft Checked By Police

City police are investigating a case of vandalism and attempted breaking and entering, and a case of theft, both of which were reported this weekend.

A Pep resident reported to police that two rear hubcaps were taken from a 1965 Chevrolet Impala, while it was parked at the Optimist Club building Saturday night.

Police have jailed two adult males this week, charged with drunk in public.

One was jailed Sunday, was tried, fined and released on his own recognizance.

Another was jailed Tuesday afternoon, was tried Wednesday morning, fined and released.

Trailer Law Hampers Some

Various officials are calling for a portion of the "Rules of the Road" involving trailers to be considered in a special session of the Legislature later this year.

Meantime senate bill 183 is working hardships on thousands of Texas trailer owners behind their vehicles. The law requires trailers over 3000 pounds to have brakes on all wheels which are operated on the towing vehicle. The emergency brakes for the trailers, new bill requires more lighting on trailers, too.

Many complaints are lodged by farmers and ranchers who have to haul products and livestock and sportsmen who pull boats and trailers. They say they are being penalized in a manner that was not the intent of legislature, since these safety additions run from $250 to $800 per trailer.

Stock and boat trailers affected on all trailers exceeding 3000 pounds, total weight includes the weight of trailer plus the weight of livestock, motors, etc.

Two Wrecks Investigated

City police have investigated two wrecks in Littlefield since press time last Saturday.

Damages to the Oldsmobile were to the left fender, hood and bumper, and damages to the Pontiac were to the right front fender, hood, and right front wheel.

Tuesday night, Sam Baker of Littlefield was backing a 1967 Chevrolet from a private drive on Dallas Avenue, crossed the street and struck a parked 1968 Pontiac, owned by Matthew Hodge of Littlefield.

Firing Of Bula Teacher Upheld

AUSTIN — State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar upheld the firing of a young rural high school teacher because of his hair length Friday but urged school boards to stop trying to be "arbiters of fashion."

Edgar said the Bula school board was well within its rights under Texas law to limit teachers' hair length and fire them for not complying.

"I don't think I should substitute my judgment on this particular issue for that of the school board," Edgar said.

But, he added, "I do believe you should give consideration to getting out of the business of being arbiters of fashion and get on with the business of education."

"As long as a student or a teacher is clean and neat, that is as far as we should go," Edgar said, in an aside from his official ruling.

The case is significant because it is the first to come before the commissioner involving a teacher fired because he wore his hair long. Previously, he upheld the firing of a Kerrville teacher for having a beard, but the decision was reversed by the State Board of Education.

Edgar ruled Friday in the case of Sammy Sawyer, 24, who was fired as a high school mathematics, chemistry and physics teacher Oct. 4 — three days after a district-wide deadline for complying with a new grooming code.

The code said men and boys' hair could not fall over their ears or touch their collars.

Sawyer's blond hair covers the top half of his ears and grazes the top of his shirt collar.

U. S. District Court judge Halbert Woodward of Lubbock ruled Oct. 20 that the school district must pay Sawyer's salary while he appealed to Edgar for reinstatement. The case now returns to Woodward for further action.

Sawyer's attorney gave notice he also would appeal Edgar's decision to the State Board of Education.

"Was there any issue involving Mr. Sawyer except the length of his hair?" the lawyer asked Bula school board president Ivan Clawson, a cotton and grain farmer.

"Only his not complying with the dress code because of the length of his hair," Clawson replied.

Clawson said the code was enacted to keep the district from becoming a haven for long-haired youngsters from surrounding districts which had dress and grooming codes.

"Before we had it, there were some boys trying to come into our schools," he said.

The attorney said all 25 students in the Bula High School signed a petition requesting Sawyer's reinstatement.

Clawson told a newsmen one of his children signed the petition.

Sawyer said when he was summoned to an Oct. 4 board meeting, he told the five board members, "I felt my hair style enhanced my appearance and felt it was my own personal business."

Sawyer's attorney maintained the dress and grooming code violated Sawyer's constitutional rights and said there was an "equal protection issue" because it permitted women — but not men and boys — to wear their hair long.

He displayed copies of a number of stamps, showing world and national figures wearing long hair. Only one stamp — an Italian one from the early 1940s — showed anyone without a long hair style.

"The two people on that Italian stamp, Mussolini and Hitler, are the only ones who would meet the Bula hair code for teachers," he said.

The school board attorney said the stamps were "unrelated" to the hair issue.

"It would be to characterize almost all American servicemen in World War II who certainly were not the same side as Munich Hitler," the board's attorney said.

(The attorney for the school board used the same demonstration in a battle last week with trustees of the Littlefield system as he represented year-old youth who threatened with suspension violation of the school code.)

(In the Littlefield case sought to have the school code abolished immediately order that Connie Black, Mr. and Mrs. Sebelle Black, Littlefield, could continue attend classes.

(The board unanimously to drop existing hair code on the day of the second semester 17. Trustees also spelled broad dress code restrictions for the coming semester will be enforced by the administration.)

(Meanwhile, the year allowed to complete semester without cutting hair, although his presence indicated that his hair be groomed differently.")

Author, Lecturer Named For Banquet

O. William "Bill" Hayes, 53, of Amarillo, internationally known author, lecturer and management consultant, will speak at the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet Saturday night in the Junior High School Cafeteria.

Hayes is president of Hayes Associates, a personnel development firm in Amarillo, and he has a varied background starting with 14 years in professional baseball, when he won two national awards.

He has served an elected term as a member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, and as major aide to the governor of that state.

He was twice nominated for a major political office in Texas, including that of Lieutenant Governor.

He is author of many articles on self improvement, and his book, "Your Memory, Speedway to Success" has sold nearly half a million copies.

Hayes has also written numerous articles for national magazines.

Several years ago, he received an international humanitarian honor by being knighted by the late King Peter the Second of Yugoslavia.

He served as vice president of both sales and personnel development of two Texas manufacturing companies. His firm has conducted thousands of personal surveys as to the buying habits of West Texans. "His talk, 'How to keep your business at home,' contains suggestions that can reap a rich

reward for his listeners and it is liberally sprinkled with humor," says Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Payne.

Public Made Aware Of C-C By Red-Coated Ambassadors

Jerry Kehoe made the public more aware of the Chamber of Commerce "Red Coats" during his tenure as president this year.

Kehoe prodded the C-C members like he promised when he took office, and the result is some 185 Littlefield C-C members who have a keen interest in their hometown.

Red Coats were on hand for the new openings of the Goodyear Store, Clark's Restaurant, and the S&H Green Stamp Center. Red Coats flourished at parades, helped with Festivities Days and showed up at all sorts of gatherings.

A new C-C secretary, Suzanne Hunsinger, was employed in March.

Bill Payne was hired as manager in May and assumed duties here June 1.

Throngs were in Littlefield for the third annual event of Festivities Days. Miss Deana Sterling was crowned Miss Lamb County of 1971.

JERRY KEHOE

Hundreds of people flocked to the downtown art show. A carnival atmosphere reigned over the two day event with homemade goodies sold on the street, bazaars and contests brought out beauties and the bearded. James Stedman of Littlefield won the motorcycle and Mrs. Bessie EidelGeorge of Bula won the new car. The Chamber netted $800 from the ticket sales.

Other points of interest during the year included the Pep farm dinner, the fly-in breakfast, and four industrial tours. In October the C-C sponsored a program on the methods used by hot check artists and shoplifters. Hundreds of persons attended the flea market on Oct. 16.

With the help of DE students, the C-C sponsored the Christmas promotion again and brought Santa to town.

Four new directors were named to the C-C in December. Ernest Connell, Rev. David Hamblin, Ralph Mendez and Dr. Craig Wallace replaced retiring directors Kenneth Ware, Pat Downs, Jim Vandenburg and Doyle Patton. Jerry Tunnell was elected to serve an unexpired term. Other board members are J. T. Brittain, Kip Cutshall, Bob Roden, Benny Zahn, Elouise Cox, Kehoe as ex-officio, and Bill Payne, executive vice president and general manager.

Our Kind Of Town

If you want to live in the kind of a town

Like the kind of a town you like,

You needn't pack your clothes And start on a long, long hike. You'll only find what you left behind,

For there's nothing that's really new;

It's a knock at yourself, when you knock the town.

It isn't the town — it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid Lest someone else gets ahead;

When everyone works and nobody shirks,

You can raise a town from the dead;

And if while you make your personal stake,

Your neighbor can make one too.

Your town will be what you want it to be:

It isn't the town — it's you.

'We, The Women' Projects

Mary Beth Willey presided over the Chamber affiliated "We, The Women" organization during 1971.

August was a jam-packed month of activities for the group. The art festival held in conjunction with Festivities Days drew 400 entries and more than 1,000 people viewed the work. A concession stand filled with home baked cakes, cookies, pies and sandwiches was another attraction. Many hours were spent decorating a float for the Festivities Days parade, too.

Other "We, The Women" projects included an entry in the VFW Loyalty Day parade, buying curtains for the Lamb County Library, a bake sale, and donating $15 per month to the Satellite School.

The project for a memorial boulevard on South Phelps didn't get off the ground because there wasn't enough money for paving, but the idea helped get the Green Thumb program in Lamb County.

In April the Littlefield student on the foreign exchange student program and the group donated

$75 to the council.

Throughout the growing season, the women's group presented a Yard of the Month award. Elouise Cox was sent as a delegate to the Women in C-C state wide meeting in Amarillo.

Other 1971 officers were Betty Hodges, vice president; Janice Sebring, secretary-treasurer; and Bobbie McShan, reporter.

Involve Community

Two major concerns of the Chamber of Commerce were threshed out in group discussions when 20 members of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce attended the C-C "Retreat" at the Holiday Inn in Clovis, N. M. Jan. 11 and 12.

In the closing session of the meeting the members present were divided into two groups to make recommendations on "Industry" and "Community Improvement" projects.

Recommendations from the "Industry" session began with:

A committee of four Littlefield businessmen were asked to contact General Telephone to see if the company would consider maintaining operations in Littlefield, rather than moving operations to Levelland with the coming of Direct Distance Dialing service.

Members named to that committee were J. E. Chisholm, Dr. B. W. Armistead, Doyle Patton and Truitt Sides.

Another committee, composed of Pat Bradley,

Charles Duval, Jack Peel, Jerry Tunnell, Richard Newman and A. C. Bridwell, were asked to serve on a committee to see if the C-C can do anything to help existing businesses maintain and expand their business.

Others named to call on new industrial prospects, to provide needed information on Littlefield, and make the required contacts—whether by telephone, letters or personal contact—were Warren Dayton, Arthur Duggan, Charles Ary, I. D. Onstead, James Settle, J. L. Marcum, Dale Walthall, Kenneth Day, Tommy Thrash, J. E. Chisholm, Joe Montgomery and James Lee.

The group discussed "Community Improvement", recommended six items for consideration by the Chamber members in the upcoming near future, and appointed chairmen for each of the committees to be concerned with each item.

A beautification committee, utilizing the Green Thumb project and involving both the city and county toward urban beautification, will be headed by co-chairmen Bill Armistead, Pat Downs and a representative from "We, The Women".

Named co-chairmen for a housing improvement committee were Rev. Joe

James, Charles Duval and J. E. Chisholm.

A community response committee (to make a survey and stimulate the attitude of businesses in stocking items or services found outside Littlefield) will be headed by Dr. Craig Wallace.

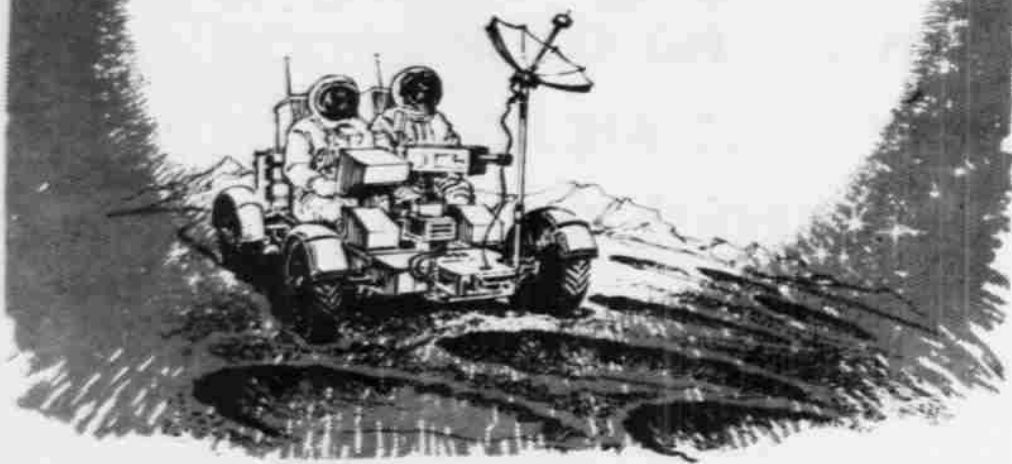

Jack Peel and Jerry Tunnell will serve as co-chairmen of a committee to work out details in improving the businessman-farmer relationship, and Judge Truitt Sides was to check with representatives from other cities in working out an appreciation barbecue for farmers to be sponsored by Littlefield businessmen.

Rev. Joe James will head a community awareness committee, which will make recommendations to stimulate attitudes and involvement in the community.

Dr. Craig Wallace and Pat Bradley will serve as co-chairmen of a teenage action committee, to begin planning for youth activities in the city.

Doyle Patton and Bill Payne were to begin work on recommendations for tourist attractions, and members of "We, The Women" were to be asked to begin working on arrangements for the establishment of a museum in Littlefield.

PROGRESS

A Study in Growth

There's no magic secret to it. Just a lot of faith and hard work. That's what it takes for progress. That's what makes a community grow. You start where you are, you do what you can, you never give up. And you grow.

We need to grow together in 1972 . . . boost our local economy, protect our environment, define our common goals, and work for them.

LITTLEFIELD FEDERAL

New C-C Prexy Sets High Goals

Incoming Chamber of Commerce President Doyle Patton has high hopes for the new color brochures and advertising program planned by the Littlefield C-C this year.

Patton said a lot of good ideas came out of the retreat, and working toward some of these specific goals plus the advertising program tops his plans for the coming year.

In the past the C-C has concentrated on bringing in industry. Through the new brochures and advertising, the C-C will concentrate on people and hope that industry follows.

Littlefield businessmen will display the full-color folders. Through inquiries and tourists, it is hoped the descriptions and photos will attract people and new businesses.

In addition to the brochures, businessmen will be given a supply of letters telling about Littlefield.

These letters are to be inserted in each piece of out-of-town correspondence.

Patton and his family came to Littlefield from Atoka, Okla., when he was named vice president and cashier of Security State Bank. Patton is a native Texan, growing up and attending public school at Midland. He attended Oklahoma University and Oklahoma City University.

Patton and his wife Sonja, have three children, Pat, 9, Elizabeth, 8, and Jennifer, 6.

Patton has a list of able vice presidents backing his chairmanship. David Hamblin is in charge of the membership, budget, finance, laws, ambassador and special projects committees.

Agriculture will be focused on this year, under the leadership of Jerry Tunnell. This will include seeking ways to help farmers find new and better markets for established crops and encourage new crops. This committee will sponsor a farmer-merchant appreciation day, support local stock shows and youths involved in showing livestock, and work toward educating people on the Texas water plan.

Community development is headed by Elouise Cox. This includes beautification, recreational programs for the youth, work toward establishing a museum, and creating appreciation for talented persons in and around Littlefield. Festivities Days will be better organized, and another fly-in breakfast will be promoted.

Ernest Connell is over the industrial, retail and tourist committee. This team will help existing industry expand, answer mail and make personal contacts. Credit reporting, improvement of community Christmas decorations, including homes and vacant buildings, and continued upgrading of the free overnight campsite are included in this work, also.

JANICE SEBRING

Janice Sebring Is New Head 'We, Women'

Janice Sebring cares about Littlefield and feels that everyone else should. That "caring" feeling is more or less her theme this year as she takes over as president of the Chamber of Commerce affiliated "We, The Women."

Mrs. Sebring, her husband Ray, and their three children have lived in Littlefield since 1962. Mrs. Sebring is an Amherst girl, attending and graduating from Amherst Ray is a Lamb Countian likewise, growing up in the Sudan community.

Janice's plans for "We, The Women" call for the organization to work more closely with the C-C rather than numerous new projects of their own. In addition to the annual art show and the parades, the new president does hope, however, that the group might offer the women of Littlefield a really outstanding fashion show just before Easter.

There are approximately 35 members in the group and additional members are hoped for during the membership drive in February. "We, The Women" meet at noon every fourth Tuesday in the Reddy Room.

Carol Black is vice president of the organization this year, and Ray Lynn Britt is secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Sebring is girl Friday at Garland Motor Company where she has worked as bookkeeper and office manager for the past 10 years. In 1966 she was awarded a life time membership in the Texas honor society of accountants by the Chrysler Corporation.

Mrs. Sebring is active in scout work. She has been treasurer for the XIT Neighborhood for the last two years. Before that she was an adult leader. She says she has enough hobbies for everyone in her family. "You name it, I do it," she said of her sewing, embroidery, knitting, bead and leather work.

Sebring is an installer-repairman for General Telephone. The Sebrings and their children DeLinda, 14, Paul, 11, and Ray Ann, 8, attend Crescent Park Church of Christ.

LHS SPEAKS OUT

No Hair Code

In a recent meeting of the school board, the traditional hair code of Littlefield High School was dropped. With the exception of facial hair, the boys may grow their hair to a "reasonable length."

Here are some of the opinions of LHS students on the dropping of the code:

JERRY McCARY (SR.) — "I think that the hair code was arousing more problems than it ever solved. It was proven unconstitutional and it was only right that it was changed."

BRENT WHITEAKER (SR.) — "I think it is great. But there is still part of the faculty trying to take over a parent's responsibility."

DEBBIE SORLEY (JR.) — "I think it's about time some people wised up. If a guy doesn't have restrictions, like athletics or something, I don't see any reason why a guy shouldn't have long hair. Also, if a guy keeps it clean, I think it's fine. As far as school and learning goes, hair doesn't clog up their ears or their minds, it won't change how much they learn."

MARTHA BROWN (SR.) — "It is about time we got a little bit changed. Maybe sometime this town will quit telling itself how conservative it is and live in the present."

TIM WALKER (JR.) — "I think it's a good deal. There never was a great deal of long hair in the school anyway. The hair code did nothing but cause trouble."

ANN COFFMAN (SOPH.) — "I think it is great! It is everyone's right to wear their hair, clothes, etc., anyway they please. It shouldn't have taken this long to decide this."

R. V. ARMSTRONG (JR.) — "I think they should drop it in football, too. But otherwise it's GREAT!"

DAVID BARTON (JR.) — "It won't change me much because my mother and Coach Blakely still say it'll be short."

LINDA McANALLY (JR.) — "All I can say is IT'S ABOUT TIME!"

DAVID COATES (JR.) — "I believe that if a person wants to grow his hair he should. I don't believe he should grow it just to rebel against society or against his parents. Many people are judged because of appearance, and many people look on the outside instead of the inside. Smile, JESUS LOVES YOU!"

BARBARA McBRIDE (SOPH.) — "I am glad. I think how a person wears his hair is his own business."

SCOTT SHEPPARD (SOPH.) — "I think it's very intelligent since the girls wear their hair down to their..."

NOEL GRIZZLE (JR.) — "Beautiful!"

CAROL SANDERS (JR.) — "It's fantastic! School board finally got smart. Wish they'd drop a few more codes."

WAYNE DeBUSK (SOPH.) — "I think it now lets the students have more rights that they need."

JACKYE GREGG (JR.) — "I think it was a very good idea! It was just causing unnecessary trouble."

TINA RUSSELL (JR.) — "It's great, but I think they should revise the dress code. Let boys wear their shirt tails out and girls wear hot pants if their parents approve."

MARI LOUISE BENNETT (SOPH.) — "I'm glad they dropped it, but I think they shouldn't wear it too long. I think the coaches should have the say about it in the athletic department."

NEW TEACHER

Big Blakely

How does it feel to be coach of the year for two years? Probably very busy, if Jerry Blakely is an example.

Coach Jerry Blakely received his college degrees at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N. M. He has a BS in secondary education and an MA in physical education.

Blakely's coaching started in Clovis, N. M. There he was head backfield coach and head track coach for Clovis High School. He was there for seven years.

Olton was the coach's next stop. He was head coach and won coach of the year, one out of two years. There he taught economics and American history.

Then the decision was made to come to Littlefield. He said that he came with determination to develop a winning team. Coach Blakely led the Littlefield Wildcats to an 8-2 season record.

South Plains Coach of the Year award was presented to Coach Blakely in December.

Blakely teaches American history and world history in LHS. His wife, Tiddy, teaches world history, but she majored

Art Class Paints Mural At Primary

Micky Mouse, Jimmy Cricket, Donald Duck and many other cartoon characters are invading LHS! The evidence of these funny characters may be found in the art class of Mrs. Hazel Ward's. These characters are going to be sketched on the walls of the primary and elementary schools.

"I think it (the cartoon characters) is going to be fun to do and very interesting, also," Velva Lee commented.

Melvin Johnson added: "I feel that I will like it. I think it will be great experience for the art class." Jennifer Robison agreed:

"I think it's fun and I also think the primary kids will be proud of it." Mrs. Ward noted: "The class has had extensive practice in free-hand drawing and enlarging characters. I also feel that the class be rewarded for doing this project when they see the joy it brings to the primary children." She added that Mrs. Lou Driskill has been especially helpful to the art class in locating story-book pictures to be used in this project. Mrs. Driskill is curriculum coordinator for Littlefield schools.

Senior art students are Beverly Kemp, Jennifer Robison, Velva Lee, Freeda Rudd, Bridget Patterson, Patricia Critten, Erlinda Villafranco, Mary Lou Thompson, Francis Hernandez, Leslie Lehouef, Cindy McNeese, Josephine Herrera and Carolyn Gray.

Juniors are Sheryl Goss, Pam Cross and Melvin Johnson. Floyd Trevino is the only sophomore.

REX GILSTRAP

JACK OF ALL TRADES

Gilstrap Far Out

By JERRY McCARY
One of Littlefield High School's business teachers, Rex Gilstrap, is probably what one would call a 'Jack of all trades.'

For the past 17 years he has been a teacher here at Littlefield. Before coming here, he taught two years at Centerview, Okla. and one year at Rama, N. M.

At Rama, Gilstrap was comparable to an Indian chief. His students included Zuni and Navajo Indians. He also taught basketball and baseball at Rama. When asked about his win-lose record, he said, "Basketball was terrible, but baseball was better."

Gilstrap's father owned a furniture store in Wewoka, Okla. Wewoka means "barking water" to a Seminole Indian. Later, Gilstrap became an apprentice embalmer in a funeral home where he also drove the ambulance and directed funerals.

He then went to work at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City, where he was an inventory clerk.

This led to his enrollment in Uncle Sam's Army where he became an M.P. While in the army he went to school and became a pharmacy technician. He later became a pharmacy technician at William Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso.

Gilstrap then decided he wanted to go to college. On the GI Bill, he enrolled at Wewoka Jr. College for one year then went three years to the University of Oklahoma. He majored in business education.

When asked about his favorite pastime, Gilstrap immediately answers: "Eating, all kinds of eating."

He also enjoys playing the organ. When asked where he learned to play the organ, he calmly replied: "I taught myself during my spare time at the funeral home."

"I also used to be a photographer, but it was too expensive," he adds. "I learned bird calls from my cousin who was a Ranger Naturalist for the National Park Service. He has a bird call record out, but he has expired now."

Gilstrap has had quite a few pets over the years. He now has a 2-year old Chihuahua named Frippy. Frippy's name is a condensed version of two of his predecessors: Fritz and Tippy. When asked about Fritz and Tippy, Mr. G. sadly replied: "Fritz was run over and Tippy was eaten by a coyote. We found his little sweater with a big hole in it."

He sat and thought about this tragedy for a moment and said: "By the way, I was a ventriloquist in high school. I had a dummy named Joe. He had red hair and a Black Tux."

"Well, whatever happened to Joe," this reporter asked. "Oh, Joe is bald now and stored away."

Gilstrap has a married daughter in Houston and one going to school in Amarillo. He also boasts about his nine step grandkids.

All in all, Gilstrap is very easy going and a good teacher. Anyone who is lucky enough to be in his class will never forget him. How could they?

Next came the crowning of the 1971-72 football queen. Miss Debbie Hafley, daughter of Mrs. Georgia Hafley, was crowned queen by her escort, Scott McNeese. Her attendants were Miss Shelly Grant and Miss Mary Davidson.

Following the presentation of awards, James Lee, a QB Club member, gave presents to the cheerleaders as a token of the club's appreciation for the work they have done and the spirit they have displayed throughout the year.

Next on the agenda came a "surprise." While waiting for one of the Dallas Cowboys to arrive, Grant asked a "football scout from WTSU" to say a few words. After quite a bit of coaxing, "the scout" gave a somewhat unusual speech.

As it turned out, "the scout" was actually Cecil Hunter, a professional speaker.

Next on the agenda came a "surprise." While waiting for one of the Dallas Cowboys to arrive, Grant asked a "football scout from WTSU" to say a few words. After quite a bit of coaxing, "the scout" gave a somewhat unusual speech.

As it turned out, "the scout" was actually Cecil Hunter, a professional speaker.

CATHY COMMENTS

MEMORY

By CATHY GILES

Many of us have a tendency to worship or live on memories. Sweet remembrances crowd our minds in an effort to blot out the many confusions of today.

One begins to feel lost in our present complex world which we have built toward our very own destruction. Most can keep up with the fast rate, but there are a few who wish to cling to bygone days. They create their own individual fantasy world based on memories and old friends. There, they eventually become totally secluded from our present world and there they choose to remain.

Memories can create or destroy. If uncontrolled, they can rule the mind; yet if memories are utilized, they can teach valuable lessons. We must not live in the past, but look to the future where new experiences await us.

One Act Play Set For April

This year's one act play will be given at Friona, April 13. The purpose of a one-act play, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Ayres, LHS speech teacher, is to satisfy a competitive, artistic spirit with friendly rivalry among schools, to foster appreciation of good acting, good directing, and good drama, and to learn to lose or win graciously.

No more than ten individuals are allowed to perform in the play, and it may not exceed 40 minutes.

All LHS students are eligible. Try-outs and the title of the one-act play will be announced at a later date.

Schedule Changes Handled Smoothly

Schedule changes at midterm were down to 150 this year, according to Mrs. Ima Roycroft, LHS counselor.

Health and physical education were the two courses emptied because several students had taken their required amount, Mrs. Roycroft explained.

"Things went rather smoothly and I appreciated the patience of the students," Principal Beryl Harris noted.

Revival Is Slated At Olton

OLTON—Revival services are being planned at the First United Methodist Church and will begin Sunday, Jan. 30 and continue through Friday, Feb. 4th.

Rev. R. L. Kirk Jr., pastor of Aldersgate United Methodist Church in Abilene, will be the evangelist. Music director and youth leader is McMurry ministerial student David Black. Black is pastor of Capps United Methodist Church.

Services are slated for the regular worship hours Sunday, 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Weekday services will be at 7 a.m. breakfast meetings, and 7:30 p.m. preaching services.

Concerned groups will be meeting weekdays prior to the revival. A prayer vigil is set for Saturday, Jan. 29.

Rev. Al E. Jennings, pastor, extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the services.

Fire Department Commended

Littlefield's Volunteer Fire Department has been commended "for the dedicated service of an outstanding group of men," in a letter from Mayor Chisholm City Manager Pat Bradley, and City Councilmen Paul McCormick, Chester Harvey, James Shotwell and Paul Carmickle.

The letter continues, "Time and time again, you have responded unselfishly to the needs of others, not only to fight fires, but also to watch for storms, aid the police department, and assist in activities too numerous to list."

"Your efforts have and will continue to help make Littlefield an ideal community in which to live and raise a family," the letter concludes.

GOOD ADVICE

Early detection and prompt treatment saves lives from cancer. Have an annual health checkup including cancer tests, your American Cancer Society urges.

Littlefield and area 4-H and FFA Club members are accepting $1 donations to help with the upcoming Littlefield Area Junior Livestock Show and Sale. The holders of tickets for these donations are eligible for a prize of a top steer carcass.

The beef will be fed by a local 4-H or FFA feeder and will be processed, cut, wrapped and frozen.

Donations may be made to any of the club members or adult leaders. The drawing will be held prior to the sale and it is not necessary to be present to win.
