Spring Trash Round-Up To Begin Here Monday

A program of concentrated trash collection will be conducted by the City of Littlefield's Refuse and Street Departments during the month of April.

"In order to better co-ordinate our efforts in assisting residents in cleaning yards and alleys, we have divided the City into four areas," stated city manager Jim Blagg.

"Our crews will be scheduled to be in each of the four areas as outlined below. We would like to urge our citizens to make full use of the new refuse containers now in the residential areas.

"All items such as grass clippings, brush, small tree limbs, and small pieces of lumber may be placed in the containers. We do ask that heavier objects such as brick, rocks, concrete, dirt or tree stumps be placed at the edge of the alley and they will be picked up during the scheduled clean-up campaign," he emphasized.

"All residents wishing to retain their garbage cans for home or yard use should immediately remove the cans from the alley, or the usual pickup location. As the City crews reach each area during the clean-up campaign, they will pickup all garbage cans which remain in the alleys and former pickup locations.

"With the kind of cooperation that we have received from our citizens in the past, we feel certain that this Trash Round-Up will be very successful and help to make Littlefield a cleaner and better place in which to live and work," he concluded.

TRASH ROUND-UP SCHEDULE

AREA 1, Mar. 31-Apr. 4— East of railroad and East of Hall Ave.

AREA 2, Apr. 7-11— Crescent Park and Duggan Additions.

AREA 3, Apr. 14-18— West of Phelps, South of Hwy. 54, and West of Westside North of Hwy. 54.

AREA 4, Apr. 21-25— Triangle bordered by Hwy. 54, Westside Ave., and Hwy. 84.

Cancer Crusade Dollar Explained By Chairman

"Where is the money spent? The public has an absolute right to know the answer to that question," said Betty Clare Phillips, chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1975 annual fund-raising crusade, here in Lamb County.

"These days of inflation and the rising dollar, I want to assure you that money given to the ACS is used in such a way that it furthers our fight on many different fronts."

Phillips explained that in the most recent year, 29 percent of all ACS income went to support a wide variety of cancer research programs.

"But while we are waiting for basic answers from research, we are also trying to teach people now to recognize cancer's Warning Signals and the importance of early detection and prompt treatment," she continued. "There are many lives that could be saved without learning anything new from the research if people understood that. Hence, the public education programs which took another 17.2 percent of our budget.

"ACS services to the cancer patient, which include rehabilitation activities, required another 12.7 percent of ACS income.

"Professional education for physicians and nurses on the front lines of the cancer fight took another 10.5 percent and community service 9.3 percent. The latter includes cancer detection programs, mass screening and cancer registries.

"That comes to 78.7 percent of our budget and I am proud to say that we keep our management costs to 9.6 percent and fund-raising to 11.7 percent. We are able to do that because of the energetic and dedicated people who volunteer to do much of the work of the ACS," she concluded.

The crusade at Pep, headed by Mrs. Frank Sinnacher, was begun Monday, March 17, and a portion of their fund money has already been deposited in the bank.

Sherry Campbell will head the Littlefield business drive which will begin Monday, and the Littlefield residential and rural campaigns are scheduled to begin Wednesday, April 2 and continue through April 11, with Jeni D. Brunson and Lucy Moreland serving as chairmen of those drives respectively.

The crusade at Amherst will begin Monday, April 7 and continue through April 19, with Dorma Nell Weaver serving as chairman. The crusade at Earth begins Sunday, April 13 and continues through April 19, with Jodi Ellis serving as chairman.

Workers at Spade will be soliciting funds April 2 through the 11th, under the leadership of Martha Parks.

Crusade dates at Sudan and Olton haven't been announced. Mrs. Gene Bartley will lead the effort at Sudan and Peggy DePrang will serve as chairman of the Olton crusade.

Total goal for the county this year is $8,000.

Council Sets Public Hearing On Oil Well Drilling Permit

In a relatively brief meeting Thursday night, Littlefield's City Council took action on six items of business.

Councilmen set April 3, their next regular business meeting date, as the date for a public hearing on an application from Texaco, Inc. for an oil well drilling permit; passed an amendment to the well drilling ordinance; appointed Leon Durham as fire marshal; approved the annual report of the City Development Commission; discussed the need of 50 additional refuse containers; and adopted a resolution for participation in the Regional Crime Prevention program.

Present for the meeting were Vernon Dyer and Dave Leverton, representatives of Texaco, Inc. who presented legal documents and papers regarding the application for the oil well drilling permit. The matter will be fully discussed in the Thursday, April 3, meeting.

Regarding the amendment to Ordinance No. 132, City Manager Jim Blagg advised the councilmen that City Attorney Ted Sanson had reviewed the ordinance, and found that the wording was sufficiently broad enough, and that the attorney had recommended two changes in Section 7. Councilmen voted to adopt the amendment as the city attorney had recommended.

Leon Durham, who is currently serving as fire chief, was appointed to serve as fire marshal, to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Johnny Gregg.

Councilmen were informed by the city manager that the city ran short of refuse

New Textile Mill Represents Important 'Export' Business

The new textile mill will represent a very important "export" business for the Littlefield trade area according to Paul Bennett, industrial vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. He ranked it second only to our farming industry as an "export" industry in Littlefield's trade area.

In response to asking what he meant by an "export" industry, Bennett said,

"It doesn't mean we're a little nation!... but one can apply the export-import terms in relation to our local trade area."

"EXPORT" INDUSTRIES
By 'export' industries, I mean in-industries that primarily sell their goods and services outside our trade area, he continued. This means the salaries and profits are paid by money sources outside the area.

This is especially important to us when the product is produced or manufactured locally, but it's also important when it's a wholesaler with distribution outside our trade area.

"These 'export' industries are the source of new money in our local economy, Bennett continued. "And, unless I've overlooked one, we only have five industries in the 'export' category. Those five are: the farming industry, the textile mill, Nipak Fertilizer, the feed yard, and R&W Supply," he said.

"IMPORT" BUSINESSES

"By 'import' businesses," Bennett said, "we're talking about business concerns that import their goods and services from outside the trade area, and sell their service within the trade area." The salaries and profits are paid on the margin between the imported cost of the product, and the selling price to businesses and people in the trade area.

These "import" businesses represent the bulk of concerns in any trade area. They include retail stores, auto and implement dealerships, housing, banks, utilities, gins, service stations, and well drilling operations. "Even the county, school, and city governmental units are 'import' concerns," Bennett continued.

These "import" businesses are not to be criticized at all because they provide us all with goods and services we all need like clothes and medical services. "But," Bennett added, "the economic facts are that 'import' businesses dwindle down-hill without 'export' industries to bring in outside money."

For instance, he continued, the major part of the price one pays for a car is

First Presbyterian Church To Hear Guest Speaker

Dr. Louis J. Powers, professor of Mechanical Engineering at Texas Tech University, a member of First Presbyterian Church, Lubbock where he is a Ruling Elder, will be the guest speaker at First Presbyterian Church during this coming Holy Week, March 23-27.

"Dr. Powers has distinguished himself professionally and serves as Chairman of the Electric Utility Board of Lubbock, and on the Policy Board (Education) of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers," says the pastor, Rev. Clem Sorley.

In his churchmanship, Dr. Powers is equally proficient. In 1974 he was the Ruling Elder Commissioner of Palo Duro Union Presbytery to General Assembly which met in Louisville, Ky. A member of the coordinating council of the Presbytery, he serves as chairman of the administrative task group. Dr. Powers is a preaching layman and serves churches without ministers in the Lubbock area or as guest when pastors are absent. Presbytery has trained him to lead "goal setting" processes in local churches, and during this past year Dr. Powers led the local church in this process.

Margaret Rose Adams of Levelland, became Mrs. Louis J. Powers in 1935. Four children were born to the couple: Patrick Powers, Mrs. P. S. Bolton (Ann Powers), Mrs. Hills Snyder (Genevieve Powers) and Frank L. Powers (deceased).

In the Holy Week Services, which begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening, Dr. Powers will develop a personal witness based on Biblically related events, beginning with Genesis and culminating with the Crucifixion. Titles will conform to "How, When, Where, Who and What" with a different question posed and answered each evening.

Club Members Learn About Gardening

At a regular meeting of Littlefield Woman's Club, members heard an illustrated talk on the subject of gardening, given by Kip Cutshall of Chisholm Floral.

Cutshall's opening remark was: "Gardening, as such, is really not my specialty. I work almost exclusively with flower arrangements." But he then proceeded to tell the group things about gardening that, very likely, few of those present knew. "Gardening," he said, "like everything else, is changing. The first step in planning a garden, naturally, is landscaping, and that has undergone as sharp change."

As proof of this statement, he illustrated with drawings the old method used for the front yard, featuring large column shrubs placed at the corners of the house which soon grew so large and tall that they over-powered the house.

"This, plus an outline of the house in flowering shrubs, soon created a jungle. This mass-planting is hard to manage, difficult to shape, and leaves very little of the house visible," he said.

The old-style back yard was mostly grass with flowering shrubbery along the outer edges.

"Modern landscaping tends to change from the all-flowering back yard to one of greenery," said the speaker. His sketch of a typical modern back yard showed a good sized patio, kidney-shaped, and group plantings of live oaks or red oaks with multiple trunks. Also you can have dwarf-growing pines were placed in the outer part of the yard, and if one so desired, a tree might be planted in the outer part of the patio. Shrubbery was confined to tubs or pots.

Kidney-shaped or u-shaped flower-beds, railroad ties planter boxes, or a water fountain were also attractive features. The trend is greenery-hanging baskets on tree limbs, on the patio, inside the house.

Spanish type gardens are quite popular, using desert plants, lava rock, and white gravel in eye-catching locations.

The effort is to give a good, long-lasting effect to a yard without overgrowing and to limit the grass plot and make use of the ground cover, thus cutting down on hours of hard work.

Unfortunately this new, attractive landscaping is very expensive, costing from $100 to $300 in the lower bracket to $1,000 and up in the higher.

In closing, Cutshall named several kinds of bedding plants adapted to this area. Among them are: geraniums, which do very well here, periwinkles, alyssum, petunias, and salvia. He urged the use of fertilizer and said there is a time-release fertilizer available now which prevents over-fertilizing. Also the use of peat moss helps to make a garden flourish, but he warned that garden pests are becoming more numerous every year and spraying has become a way of life.

Hostesses for the meeting were: Mmes. Doss Maner, Winnie Hogan, Arthur Jones, Ora Martin, B. F. Helms, R. M. Smith, Fred Lichte, and Stella Edwards.

For Every Family

FAMILIES in more than 40 million homes will get a quiz to do this April. But this is a special kind of quiz. The answers to the questions can save your life.

It's a cancer quiz for every family. It gives you a chance to test your knowledge about a disease which is the nation's second biggest killer.

The Cancer Society volunteers are not encouraging idle speculation. This quiz asks questions—and gives answers—about measures you and other members of your family can take to protect yourselves against cancer.

THE EXPERTS say that some types of cancer can be prevented. They also tell us that cancer is a deadly disease when it has become very widespread in the body, but that in its early stages it is a highly curable disease.

There are a whole series of tests that can detect cancer in the early and curable stages: the Pap test for women, breast examination, the procto for men and women—especially those older than 40. And there are the Seven Warning Signals on the leaflet which tell you, if you have one, to go to a doctor. Only your doctor can tell if a warning sign is cancer.

THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY volunteers who bring you this quiz deserve your generous support for the Cancer Crusade.

And if you heed the advice in that little folder, the life you save may be your own.

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

THIS MORNING the sun is shining beautifully and all seems well with God's lovely world.

However, we know many people have heavy hearts today. It seems everyone you come in contact with has some kind of burden to bear. This is so all through life.

Growing up, children look on the youth a few years older and think, "When I get that age, I'll have it made." We go on from there and every time we reach the place we are trying to attain we find problems are there also.

IF WE CONTINUE to push and strain we will suffer all our life trying to live ahead, instead of taking time to enjoy the sunshine, or the beautiful world we live in.

Even in pain or trouble there is something to warm the heart.

AS YOU KNOW my husband has been in the hospital. He had a window with ivy growing around it. We could sit there and watch the little brown birds building their nests.

They seemed so happy going about their business of preparing a home for their little family to come.

IF WE COULD see our problems as God sees them we would not worry so much; or if we could be aware of Him very near us we would feel secure.

In Psalm 33 we have this, "From His place of His habitation He looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth. He fashioneth their hearts alike; He considereth all their works."

THIS SAYS He fashions our hearts alike. Doesn't this mean that all of us are similar and have like problems?

When trouble comes into our own lives it seems much worse, but all of us are subject to hurt in some manner.

We all have the same God to love us and to hold us up. All we have to do is to attune ourselves to His presence and be aware of His concern.

"But," you say, "how can the great God, looking down from His habitation, care about a tiny creature like me? With all the great problems of earth to solve, how can He care for one small person?"

MY MOTHER had a large family of children (nine of us). She had much work to do—cooking, keeping house, washing, ironing, scrubbing.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Hostility Hurts

By BOB WILLIAMS

WE KNOW that "hostility" is widespread, and that there are different degrees and different manifestations of this feeling. At this time, let us be concerned with the insidious and subtle workings of the feeling as a festering condition in the individual life.

Reference is made to the generalized condition, in which it is said that a person is filled with hostility; the life is under the dominance of "hostility". It is the condition in which all life elements are discolored by this self-destructive feeling.

THE "ANTAGONISM, opposition, and resistance in thought or principle" so prevalent in human associations are seldom justified. Some that may be justified are not entitled to be allied with hatefulness, harshness, and uncharitableness.

If opposition or resistance are justified, we, if we wish to function at our best and for the best of others, must not permit the overt expressions to assume any kind of ugliness.

"HOSTILITY HURTS", because it is essentially unfriendly, unkind and ugly. Perhaps the worst of all that must be said about it is that it is "destructive".

Some of the balanced posture we must seek is found in the observation: "We must learn how to disagree without being disagreeable." Of course, there is more involved in the complete displacement of hostility.

HOSTILITY IS fundamentally ruinous, in both the person who harbors and nourishes it, and in the person who may be the object of its venom.

It embitters and blights the mind and the spirit.

THE INWARD-DIRECTED hostility is one of the perplexing problems. The individual hostility often turns it toward itself of its manifestations.

This involves self-hate or self-destruction. It involves a very poor image, always; and poisons the personality with a number of self-causing traits. The feedback adds hostility.

HOSTILITY WILL USUALLY "a sense of frustration, or even intimidation. The general attitude likely be one of suspicion and denunciation."

People so afflicted are "against everybody, and demand that everybody should comply with their wishes fulfill their expectations.

"HOSTILITY" IS one of the active sources of trouble in the home and in all other spheres of association.

It may be expressed in physical assassination; in destruction of the property; and in most other possible human actions.

THE PROBLEM OF HOSTILITY be solved by most of us. We can do some of the "wrong-headed" actions we can reform concepts; and we can may have to use some sublimation.

The best action will be the improvement of our self-image. Things can be done.

IF HOSTILITY HAS become seated, we must obtain good selling.

Unless we are so far gone that we actually "sick", we can take the initiative to rid ourselves of "hostility".

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVIN

A COUPLE OF DAYS AGO, I was reminded of a fad, long past, that was quite enjoyable to many motorists. It was the roadside jingle, made popular by the Burman Shave people. Once you started reading them, there was no stopping until the last sign came into view. It always carried the trade name BURMA SHAVE, written in script.

They were placed in sequence along the side of the highway at regular intervals, with no more than three to four words per sign. Thus, while you blazed down the highway, at a scorching 45 miles per hour they were very readable, and always enjoyable. You kept looking forward to coming on to the next set.

TO QUOTE a few: WHEN YOU DRIVE—IF CAUTION CEASES—YOU ARE APT—TO REST—IN PIECES—BURMA SHAVE. AT INTERSECTIONS—LOOK EACH WAY—A HARP SOUNDS NICE—BUT IT'S—HARD TO PLAY—BURMA SHAVE. CAUTIOUS RIDER—TO RECKLESS DEAR—LET'S HAVE LESS BULL—

AND LOTS MORE STEER and that usually fit me; SPEED HIGH—WEATHER WAS HOT—WERE THIN—X MARKS THE SPOT—BURMA SHAVE.

Don't really know whether Birds' highway beautification program caused the demise of these signs, whether a 70-mile-per-hour speed made them impractical. In any case, nearly forgotten them. When I came back the familiar thought: "That's the good of days!"

TIME WAS, when you weren't prised, if a youngster called you "S"

ANOTHER REASON mother cookin' was so great: You were and had the appetite of a lumberjacks Brides, remind him of THAT!

SAW WHERE a columnist was getting about Congress takin' a ten-day holiday. From the way things were going, we might be in luck if they find the way back to Washington.

COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHO

SPRING HAS SPRUNG, and the gaiety of life seems to be budding almost everywhere. Fruit trees are beginning to bloom, grass is turning green, off-springs from our cattle, sheep and horses can be seen frolicking near their mothers, and the smell of fresh plowed soil really makes you aware that spring is here.

You know, we really have a lot to be thankful for. At present we are not in the middle of huge job lay-offs like our neighbors in the more industrial areas of the country, and for sure we don't have a government that has abandoned us and given our land and our homes to the Communist forces.

It is a real heartbreaker to see on the tube the thousands of people who are having to flee their homes to find safety in some other section of the country, and I'd be willing to bet that they won't be safe after they reach their destination.

Here in the land of plenty, we have people protesting against the war in Indo-China, and at some times, I guess they are right, but in taking another look at this situation, they could be wrong.

After seeing the film strips on those poor abandoned people, I think that someone needs to be "His Brother's Keeper". Of course their local government won't help these people a whole lot. I noticed that the officials are the ones with the fat bellies full of food, wear the clean clothes and ride instead of walk.

And we don't want to get involved, because of the loud minority (many of these have not contributed one cent to the support of the government and have free-loaded off of the taxpayer and want to become the patron saint to all mankind). I'm not smart enough to know what should be done, but the people abandoned by their government does weigh heavy on me. We make mistakes, but we now have the fact that the "commies" will not be behind their agreements and that we are hungry for power and possession, well as the domination of all nations and will do anything to fill this ambition. (And we gripe about our local government.)

It is the trend today of not to get involved, and in many ways it is a way to live ones life, but again we feed stray dogs and cats that come on our back door and as a rule, the people here at home that are less fortunate than we are, but have difficulty trying to feed the poor in our country who are all but doomed because of the greed of their own local government as well as being clawed by power hungry neighbors to the north.

BULA NEWS

MR. AND MRS. Fred Frost of Wolbach, Neb. were over night guests Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones. They were enroute to California for a visit with their three daughters. Their acquaintance was made about three years ago when several men, representing the Farmers Union organization, flew in from Nebraska for a few days of looking at the farming practices in our part of the country, and Frost spent the nights in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones. Several other friends and members of the Farmers Union met with them in the evening and all enjoyed visiting.

JOHN LATHAM returned home Wednesday from spending several days in the St. Mary's of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock, suffering from a back ailment. His doctor feels like his problem will necessitate surgery in the future.

WMU MET Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Williams in charge of the study. Lesson was taken from the current mission study book. Each read and discussed a portion of the lesson study. Mrs. Richardson, prayer chairman, read the call to prayer calendar, with Mrs. Williams offering the opening prayer and prayer for the missionaries. Mrs. Pierce closed the study with prayer. Attending were Mrs. C. A. Williams, Mrs. P. R. Pierce, Mrs. J. R. Teaff, Mrs. Rowena Richardson, Miss Vina Tugman and Mrs. E. O. Battles.

Abolishment Of County School Superintendents' Pay Pending

The office of C. Roy Stephens, county school superintendent, may be abolished after his current term of office expires Dec. 31, 1978.

A bill to terminate all state fiscal support for officers of county school superintendents or ex-officio school superintendents has been passed by the House and sent to the senate.

The bill hopes to end the $3.4 million in state support for the offices.

If the measure passes the senate, county school superintendents' pay could only be continued through local funding through ad valorem taxes.

Rep. Wayne Peveo of Orange sponsored the bill to do away with the state support of county superintendents and county school boards. He said duties of county superintendents are few or non-existent.

This is a feeling shared by many persons. Only 105 such posts now exist in Texas, since many counties have asked legislators to introduce legislation to do away with the county superintendents offices in various counties.

C. Roy Stephens is paid an annual salary of $10,136.40 plus traveling expenses. Expenses on his report for the past year totaled $628.76. There are no dependent schools in Lamb County; all are independent.

In the House, Rep. Phil Pampa made an attempt to fund until 1986 to allow a period to "work out the transition." This was tabled 29 vote.

"Is it going to take your county superintendents 10 years to get off their desks?" asked Jim Pasadena.

containers when they were distributed throughout the city in the new collection system set-up. He said that an additional 50 boxes are needed, and that with the sale of some of the old trucks and boxes to Earth and Kermit, those funds could be used for the purchase of the new ones.

Councilmen advised him to draw up the specifications for bids for the additional boxes.

In reviewing the financial statement of the Littlefield Board of City Development for the period of Oct. 17, 1973 to Nov. 1, 1974, councilmen learned that total deposits for the period were $2,790 and total disbursements were $2,118.69, leaving a balance of $1,609.19 on hand.

Councilmen unanimously adopted a resolution to participate in the Crime Prevention program, which will be funded through an action plan of the State of Texas, Criminal Division, and which is sponsored by the South Plains Association of Cities.

The police department will be an officer to be trained in the techniques of crime prevention. The Prevention Coordinator, who will provide information and assistance to the citizens of the community regarding the prevention of crimes against their property, will speak to schools about crime.

'Gas Supply Is Plentiful', Promises Pioneer President

"Pioneer Natural Gas Company irrigation customers should have no gas supply problems this year," K. B. "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president, told a group of irrigation farmers meeting in Hereford Friday.

"The Federal Power Commission ruling, changing the priority on natural gas for irrigation from Category 2 to Category 3, should not effect our customers," Watson assured.

"However, it is a dangerous precedent and all effort should be made by citizens of West Texas to try to have the ruling reversed. The change in classification should be of concern to all citizens, because the agricultural activities of this area are important to every citizen, not just the farmer," Watson said.

In his discussion with the farmers, Watson said that last year Pioneer provided a record amount of gas for irrigation during July and August. He pointed out that since new gas acquisitions by the company during 1974 exceeded gas sales for the year, he assured the irrigation farmers that Pioneer's service area that is not for adequate watering this year.

Watson went on to say that he anticipated that the cost of gas to a customer will continue to rise because of the higher cost in the field. Pioneer is paying more for new gas than it averages it receives from any customer. He said that the increase in amount to approximately one and a half to two cents per MCF during 1975.

Watson concluded his discussion with the farmers by saying that Pioneer's position with regards to gas supply to the farmer, as well as for the consumer and industrial use, is to provide an additional intervention and we feel that Pioneer will have the energy we need today and in the future.

In keeping with the program theme for the year, "Wonders of Our Nation", Mrs. K. O. Lynn gave a book review on "One Man's Dream" by Ruth Calar. This is the true story of Jim White and his discovery of the Carlsbad Caverns.

Mrs. Lynn told how a young cowboy, Jim White, had been riding the range searching for strayed cattle. He had just about decided to call it a day and return to the ranch house when suddenly he noticed a strange sight against the horizon. He stared in puzzlement at what appeared to be a dark cloud of smoke, spiraling funnel-shaped toward the heavens.

and then decided to do some investigating. After some 20 minutes of walking he stopped in a clearing to get his bearings. Looking up he gasped in amazement as he saw what the dark clouds consisted of. It was millions of small black bats. They seemed literally to boil out of a big black hole in the side of the mountain.

The hole itself was not an unfamiliar sight, but the bats were. Jim White, like other rangemen, had known of its existence, but also like them he had felt no desire to see what was hiding in its darkness. Now he began to wonder about it, for he realized that any hole big enough to house that many bats must be a whale of a big cave.

He went back to the ranch but told no one of his experience. For the next couple of days he could think of nothing but the cave. On the third day he decided to set out alone to explore it. He took with him a homemade lantern and a ladder made with rope, wire and sticks. After some difficulties he found himself standing at the entrance of the tunnel. For an instant he wanted to turn back, but his curiosity was greater than his fear and the courageous young cowboy forged ahead.

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask Sharon McDuffee, meter reader . . .

Sharon, that looks like a complex piece of equipment there...

"Yes, it is. It's accurate and dependable, but it costs money."

"Seven years ago, it cost $15.18 and now it costs $18.30, over 20% more. And that meter is just one of the things we use to serve a home."

That's part of the reason your electric bill may be higher these days . . . our equipment costs more, and to give you good service, we have to buy new things to replace the old . . . to keep your electric service dependable.

The Future IS Electric!

WOMEN HEAR BETTER

Studies indicate that from early teen years through the late 60's women generally have better hearing than men. Because this seems to be true from the ages of 20 through 65, one of the reasons could stem from the fact that women are generally less exposed to men to occupational noise during these working years.
