5 DAYS BEFORE SPRING

Snow Piles Up In Area

Heavy Fall Stalls Traffic

Seven inches of snow, accompanied by sharp winds, brought the Littlefield area to a near standstill Saturday morning.

The blowing snow came only five days before the first official day of the spring season.

Travel was virtually at a halt at mid-day Saturday as snow drifted into piles on streets and highways, blocking traffic in some instances.

The Texas Highway Department warned that persons should use area highways only in emergencies.

Numerous vehicles stalled during early hours Saturday, but no serious traffic mishaps were reported.

Sleet and snow rode into the area Friday night, along with sub-freezing temperatures. By noon Saturday, the mercury had risen to 31 degrees, but snow was continuing to fall.

Road conditions were expected to go from bad to worse with a temperature drop expected Saturday night.

General Telephone Company reported unusually heavy loads of phone traffic Saturday morning, but to that time the company had no communications problems.

State highway maintenance crews began working on highways at 3 a.m. Saturday.

A spokesman for the highway department said conditions were extremely hazardous on Highway 385 all across Lamb County, but from Castro County north, less snow had fallen.

Highway 84 from Muleshoe to Lubbock was clear Saturday morning, but right in Lubbock, 84 was blocked, the spokesman said.

Highway 54 from Bula to Spade was open, but extremely hazardous. FM 168 from Spade to Olton was closed for a time.

"We've cleared the road between Olton and Spade," the highway department representative said, "but the snow is bad about drifting back in."

Wreckers from Littlefield firms were busy throughout Saturday morning, pulling out stalled cars.

At the city police station, no accidents had been reported before noon Saturday.

The snow varied from 3 to 4 inches in the Olton area to 7 to 8 at Muleshoe. General area of the storm was from 40 miles south of Amarillo to 40 miles south of Lubbock, with conditions worse in the south portion.

NEVER ON SATURDAY!! "Gosh, weather like this on our day out of school! Why couldn't this have happened in the middle of the week. Maybe we could have stayed at home then." Those were probably the sentiments of hundreds of children when the heavy snows piled high over the area, yesterday bringing most activities to a halt. Snow men are expected to be built in regimental proportions today.

Classes For Retarded Seek Volunteer Help

Officials and teachers of Littlefield Classes for Retarded Children are making a plea for additional volunteer help, someone to help with refreshments, and someone to help with transportation of the students to and from school.

Rev. Clem G. Sorley, chairman of the advisory board, states there are 18 students in two classes, ranging in ages of 5 to 33.

Persons who would like to volunteer to assist with the classes are asked to contact Mrs. Bess Coen and persons who would like to provide refreshments or donations for refreshments are asked to contact Mrs. Albert Perkins.

Mrs. Ken Largent may be contacted if volunteers wish to provide transportation—either to school in the morning before classes begin at 8:30, or after school at 12:30.

Another special need of the school is donations for funds to purchase classroom supplies. Sid Hopping, board member, or Mrs. Frank Jordan, secretary-treasurer, will receive any donations groups or individuals wish to make.

Supplies the school needs include yarn, burlap for rug backing, plastic glue for sealing rug backs, large round ice cream cartons, colored paper, paint, shellac, confection sticks and numerous other materials which would be good for hand crafts.

Jim Kelly, Littlefield Chamber of Commerce executive vice-president, initiated the work in Littlefield to start the satellite school from the Lubbock State School for Retarded Children.

Classes are being conducted at St. Martin's Lutheran Church for pre-school ages, 5 to 12, with Mrs. Hazel Mackey as teacher.

The post school for ages 12 and over meets at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Mrs. W. B. Richardson of Olton is the teacher.

MOONLIGHTING FARMER Lowell Westmoreland has turned to chinchilla ranching to supplement his income. The soft fur-bearing animals have earned the slogan, "the precious fur for the precious dollar." Westmoreland displays one of his beige mutations and Mrs. Westmoreland holds a blue-grey female chinchilla.

FARMER BOOSTS INCOME

His Moonlight Job: Raising Chinchillas

Littlefield farmer Lowell Westmoreland is "moonlighting" in chinchilla ranching for the precious fur. Farmers are turning to a second means of making a profit more and more as net gains are cut by production costs. "And after all the time and hail the last two years," Lowell Westmoreland said, "I was looking for something I could put a dollar on."

His search ended when he decided to turn to the timid little fur bearing chinchilla which has a history older than man. The chinchilla is so light and soft that the human hand is not sensitive enough to feel the fur at first touch. The furry little animal is odor free, clean, and never has fleas or lice due to the luxurious thickness of their coat and their favorite sport—the dust bath, which he likes to take every day.

The first record of chinchilla coats dates back to 900 A. D. when an Indian tribe called Chincas discovered the inviting warmth and durability of the fur in their cold mountain climate. Later the wealthy Incas used chinchilla fur in their ceremonial robes some 200 years before Columbus discovered America.

During the next 400 years, demand for the pelts was so great that the animals were hunted with such zeal that they almost became extinct.

By 1914 chinchillas were so scarce that the Chilean Government imposed a ban on the trapping and export of the animals. In 1920 an American received special authorization from the Chileans to trap 11 of the animals. These were taken alive to California.

From such a meager beginning, the modern chinchilla industry, of which Westmoreland is a small part, began.

Westmoreland tried his hand at hog production as an FFA member in high school. Later he tried some calves, "but they took too many acres of land and ate too much for any profit," he said.

"Windy" March is here. Pedestrians and drivers can be temporarily blinded by blowing dust or sand—long enough for a hazardous situation to develop and lead to an accident.

The reduction of visibility can cause a head-on collision, a rear-end collision, or a run-off roadway type of accident.

The wind itself can exert a powerful force on your vehicle and force it across or off the roadway.

Sudden changes in wind velocity can cause you to lose control of your vehicle. Be sure to have both hands on the steering wheel to help maintain control of your vehicle.

The sergeant said, "Be alert and prepared for these dangers of gusty winds and reduced visibility."

What The Leader-News Thinks

No Surprise

WHAT IS A NEWSPAPER like in a country where there is no freedom of the press, no advertising, no dissent; a country where the press is but the sounding board of a dictatorship. The answer can be found in the comment of a U. S. writer, Rebecca Tarshis, recently returned from the Soviet Union, who had an opportunity to visit the headquarters of Pravda, official newspaper of the Soviet communist party.

IN AN ARTICLE in the Portland, Oregonian, she says, "Pravda...is not attractive by our standards. It has no comic strips, advice to the lovelorn, household hints, recipes, advertising, or any of the numerous other features that brighten American newspapers."

She was told the primary function of Pravda is to crusade for the principles of communism. It is published in a giant government printing establishment. Its profits are turned over to the communist party.

THERE CAN BE NO free press in Russia, since there is no free enterprise to support it. The color and diversity of the U. S. press—and its independence—are products of the very things we hear criticized so often—advertising, promotion, private enterprise, the free market, competition, profits—things which do not exist in Russia.

And without which there would be no free press. That Pravda is dull should come as no surprise.

"I'd like to read THAT sermon! He's already blown two fuses with his electric typewriter!"

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Persistence Pays

By LIBBY MUDGETT

It finally happened. Oh, the joy of it! The sense of accomplishment! It proves that persistence DOES pay off.

After years of plowing through those economics and business and finance columns, I finally understood one. Without help, either.

It was a column about how people buying government bonds really LOSE money because by the time the bonds mature, the value of the dollar has gone down faster than the interest rate accumulated.

Or something like that.

HOWEVER, my exhilaration soon gave way to downright dejection. After the government has been mouthing all this time about truth-in-lending, truth-in-advertising, truth-in-packaging, how dare they be deceitful enough to call those things Savings Bonds? Or to make us think we're coming out ahead?

It may be hard to believe, but there's lots of people (well, a few) who cannot figure interest any better than I can, much less the devaluation of money at the same time.

And how about all those advertisements showing some poor slob of a soldier sloshing through dirty rice paddies or a heavy overgrowth of jungle with the slogan "Buy government bonds where you work. He does."

Just how truthful have they been?

Well, I'm still patriotic and forthwith suggest the following letter to our servicemen for their employer.

DEAR SOLDIER, Sailor, or Marine, as the case may be, What are you doing with all of your spare cash? Tch, tch, and for shame! Well, you will no longer get to do that. Please find enclosed your overseas orders.

As long as you will now not have the time or the places at which to throw away your hard earned cash, may we sweetly suggest a way by which you can rest assured it will be there upon your hoped for return?

Oh sure, it's true it's value won't increase like some other places at which you could invest it, but look at it this way—you'll actually be loaning it to yourself and if you lose a little this way, you'll have only yourself to blame.

Besides, by buying government bonds, you'll keep yourself from blowing it all on your R and R's.

Please sign the enclosed form authorizing us to take the money for as many government bonds as you can afford out of your pay check. Only someone extremely interested in your welfare would go to all the trouble to remove temptation from you like that.

If this plan does not suit you, see your chaplain.

With love, Your Uncle Sam.

THEN FOR the civilians:

Dear Mr. Mrs. or Miss Working Stiff, as the case may be,

For quite a few years now, your government has been experimenting with a new system of operation.

It's called deficit financing and we highly recommend it to you.

The best way for you to get in on this is to buy government bonds. Quit complaining that you are losing money and look at it this way: If you don't loan it to us by this method, we'll get it by another.

This plan of operation DOES WORK! We have proved it.

Why, we were able to raise all of our salaries just last year!

With love, Your servants, the government.

PAUL HARVEY

Without Samples

YOU HAVE WONDERED about President Nixon's recent trip.

With so many campaign promises unfulfilled at home you have questioned the usefulness, perhaps even the wisdom, of his hopscotch around Europe. And, ever hopeful, you perhaps decided he knew what he was doing.

If Western Europe demonstrating some togetherness can hasten an end to the hostilities in Vietnam, certainly it will have been worth it.

Probably that is wishful thinking.

INDEED, while our President was in conference with Britain's Prime Minister, Britain's former Foreign Secretary George Brown was on British TV criticizing the United States.

He said we, the United States, are "patronizing" our allies in Europe.

He said, "It is not much use for a President occasionally visiting Europe to see what he would be likely to think. This is a situation that's got to be changed.

"THIS," said Mr. Brown, "is why we've got to have a Western Alliance which consists on the one part of the Americas and on the other part Europe."

Our NATO ambassador, Harland Cleveland, promptly explained that until there is a United States of Europe we have no choice but to confer with those nations one at a time.

AMBASSADOR CLEVELAND said he would like to see unity in Europe and if unity is achieved "obviously it will require major changes in our relationship."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Spirit Upheld

By BOB WEAR

MUCH THAT IS HAPPENING today is calculated to break or destroy the human spirit.

These multiplied efforts are for the purpose of discouraging, downgrading, degrading, frightening and otherwise devitalizing us.

IF WE CARE about ourselves, our condition of life; about our children, their welfare; about our country and its future; about our cherished and necessary institutions; homes, churches, schools and such like; the human spirit must be upheld.

THIS SPIRIT INCLUDES our courage, our willingness to work, our readiness to sacrifice, our willingness to put first things first, our recognition of and adherence to wholesome and upgrading moral standards, and our sensible concern for our fellowmen.

The foundation for all of these great elements of the human spirit is in our trust in God, our Creator; properly expressed by our manner of life. Thus, our spirit is upheld, given proper direction and blessed with rewarding controls.

"SPIRIT", in this writing, is being used to refer to the temper, or disposition; the mood. All of us know that many of the things we see and hear do not indicate a right mood.

It is not the purpose of this writer, however, to identify all of the symptoms, or diagnose the undesirable spirit which they reveal. It is enough, for the time being, to emphasize the great need for upholding our spirit to its highest possible level.

THIS GREAT NEED MUST be one of the essential guidelines in all of our choices.

The books we read can either build up or tear down our spirit. The kind of entertainment and recreation we choose can do the same. The places we go can strengthen or weaken our spirit.

Our sense of values also influences our spirit.

The God or gods we worship will affect our spirit. The objects of our devotion can and will make a difference, too. Self-control or lack of self-control will have much to do with our spirit.

Self-control is essential to a strong, vibrant spirit. Self-abandonment will completely corrupt the spirit.

WE MUST NOT PERMIT the overwhelming technological accumulations to depress us. The ease of living which seems to be so much the aim of most people is damaging to us, too.

In fact, easy-living causes degeneracy. The feeling of personal insignificance, which is another real possibility of technological pile-up, can weaken us; but we must not let this happen.

MATERIALISM, THE SOCIAL and political climate in which we live, does much to stifle our spirit.

Its influence tends to distort our sense of values, and blind us to much that would help uphold the spirit and make it strong. "Man shall not live by bread alone."

IN ORDER TO UPHOLD the spirit, we must know and constantly remember who we are. We are made in the image of God, and this must become the basis for our self-concept.

In this self-concept, we will find the proper spirit and the source of understanding that will help uphold this spirit.

OUR PURPOSE FOR BEING, which is to glorify God who created us, must be clearly understood and accepted.

Knowing why we are here, and being able to successfully fulfill this purpose for being will be a strong support for the spirit required for victorious living.

We must work diligently to uphold the human spirit in its very best internal and external structure.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Policy Criticized

Lamb County Leader
Littlefield, Texas

Dear Sir:

I am writing to you in reference to the unsigned letter printed in your paper last week criticizing the Springlake-Earth Wolverettes and their coach, Dallas Clynych. Although I strongly disagree with nearly every aspect of the letter, I think you, the editor, should be criticized for allowing an unsigned letter of this kind to appear in your newspaper. It is my opinion that the letter was written by a person holding a grudge against Coach Clynych, who did not have the courage to identify himself.

As a student of Springlake-Earth High School, I wish to say that Coach Clynych is admired and respected in our school as a person as well as a coach.

I question the motives both of the writer and editorial policy of your paper. Freedom of the press carries with it responsibilities of integrity, fairness, and true awareness of the situation.

Sincerely Yours,
Kent Coker

Longer Lunch

DEAR BILL:

I'm not real smart, don't go around telling people I am smart, or that I even I'm smart.

However, I do understand I can vote. I am over 21. I am not in favor of minutes. I am not in favor of minutes.

Let's have 12 'till 1:30. Then if someone has 12:00 til 1:00 for dinner someone has from 1:00 til they can still pick up children for lunch.

So what if some kids around during lunch hour? they could not ride after school.

Stop and think: How does it take to put up boxes to car, (if you have a school,) drive home (NO time it takes to eat). START THE TIME OVER AGAIN. How long does it to get back to school, get into the school? PLEASE ADVISE?

Now, subtract that from minutes tomorrow. You eating in that time. And call at 5289. And 30 days from call again. Let's see if you gained or lost.

Babe And

THE PHILOSOPHER

Too Much TV

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm doesn't seem bothered by a problem that bothers some people.)

Dear editor:

I don't know how he arrived at his figures unless maybe he clocked his own children but a child expert has reported in a newspaper I read a few weeks ago while waiting for Gunsmoke to come on that the average child in America, by the time he reaches 16, has spent 17,472 hours watching television and he wants something done about it.

I have struggled with this problem while my tractor stood idle, while I was hunting for a newspaper to read, during commercials and once even into part of Gunsmoke itself before I realized what I was doing and came to at the clink of Festus' spurs on the board walk outside the Long Branch, but I can't think of a thing anybody can do about it, or even possibly why he should.

What I mean is, I suppose by the time Daniel Boone was 16 he'd spent 17,000 hours hunting squirrels, and how many hours did Ted Kennedy spend sailing his boat, and has anybody done research on the first 16 years of the president of General MacArthur or Charles DeGaulle or the editor of The Leader-News?

As the twig is bent the tree grows, or however that phrase goes, doesn't always work that way.

I know there's a lot to be said against television, but there's a lot to be said for it, particularly if you have a house full of kids and it's Saturday and it's raining.

Of course one of the sound objections to television-watching is that it results in kids' being unable to explain to you, instead of the other way around, why they're taking place these days. And bad as the jokes are on television they're even worse when the kids catch on to them before you can say "I'll agree. Kids shouldn't be watching television so much. They ought to be out playing hop-scotch and marbles like us responsible people did."

Yours faithfully,

Purpose Of Calvary

Scripture: Galatians 4:1-7.
"In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of his grace." (Eph. 1:7)

EACH YEAR during Holy Week, all Christendom focuses attention on the cross of Christ. Thousands, however, fail to realize the real purpose of the death of Christ. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins..."

REDEMPTION is the most glorious work of God. It is greater than His work of creation. It is the greatest miracle known to man. Paul delighted to dwell upon this theme. The reason was that he himself had experienced Christ's redeeming love.

He had been redeemed from the error of his ways, from the curse and bondage of the law washed in Christ's blood, empowered with His Spirit and made an Apostle of the cross--well might he glory in his Redeemer.

TO REDEEM MEANS to buy back, to pay the ransom price. This is what Christ did for us when we were captive under sin.

1. The sinner is a captive to sin. "Jesus answered them: Verily, verily, I say unto you, whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin." (John 8:34)

2. His father is the Devil. "Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do."

3. The sinner is in bondage, a slave to all matter of filthy habits. Paul speaks of sinners as, through Christ, "recovering themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will." (2 Tim. 2:26)

4. The sinner is a captive under the law. "For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse." (Gal. 3:10) "The scripture hath concluded all under sin." (Gal. 3:2) The literal meaning is, "shut up in prison." The idea being that justice has put us under arrest for violation of the law. An imprisoned captive is in a state of darkness. "Having their understanding darkened." (Eph. 4:18).

5. Sinners are "in the gall of bitterness and bonds of iniquity." (Acts 8:23).

6. Sinners are in a state of wretchedness and misery, "poor and miserable, and blind and naked." (Rev. 3:17).

OH, HOW GREAT is our need of redemption! But, thanks be to God, He does not leave us in this condition but provides for our redemption!

"In whom we have redemption." The person is Christ our Saviour.

"For even the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." (Matt. 20:28).

1. "He offered himself through the eternal Spirit without spot unto God. (Heb. 9:14) "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us; for it is written, cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree: (Ga. 3:13).

2. "He suffered for sins, the just and the unjust, that He might bring us to God." "Thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." (1 Peter 3:18), (Matt. 1:21). "We are not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold...but with the precious blood of Christ." (1 Peter 1:18-19). "For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh: How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? (Heb. 9:13-14). "So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation." (Heb. 9:28).

3. He stood charged with our sins and paid the penalty with his blood. Grace is unmerited favor, and his forgiveness is according to his abounding favor, without limit by our demerit.

4. He casts our sins behind his back. He blots them out of the book of his remembrance.

5. He sinks them into the depths of the sea--the deepest places, where they never can be reached or brought up again to face us.

6. He forgives "according to the riches of his grace."

A KING ONCE OFFERED a subject a very expensive present for some service. The subject said: "This is too much for me to receive."

The King replied: "But it is not too much for me to give." He was rich and gave according to his ability to give. God is very rich and very loving and when he gives it is "according to the riches of his grace."

LET US RECEIVE and estimate at their true worth God's gifts of redemption, love and forgiveness of our sins, knowing that out of this manifestation of his grace there comes also justification, sanctification, peace, adoption, hope and heaven.

something that didn't need too much space and didn't eat much, and the chinchillas filled the bill.

They are housed in a 12 x 15 foot house he bought just for this purpose.

Time Running Out On '68 Auto Tags

More license plates will have to be sold in the next two weeks than have been sold the previous six weeks in order to register vehicles in Lamb County before the April 1 deadline.

Herbert Dunn, County Tax-Assessor-Collector, reports a total of 3,593 tags sold in the Littlefield area through last Friday.

This is a little ahead of sales for this time last year, Dunn reported, with 3,413 recorded for the same period in '68.

Dunn urges owners to register their vehicles as soon as possible, bringing their titles and last year's registration receipts when they come in.

License can be purchased at the Littlefield Court House and at five stations over the county: Amherst, Earth and Springlake City Halls, and Jones Cotton at Sudan and Loveless Appliance in Olton.

and they only need a small amount of food once a day. A tray of lava dust pushed into their cages occasionally for their baths, and a pop bottle of water is the care they need.

Westmoreland became interested in chinchillas about three years ago from some television advertising. He bought 10 of the little rodents about two years ago, and has his stock built up to 51 now.

"I started out to raise them for the end product," Westmoreland said, "but as in most livestock, there is more money in selling them alive. It takes about three years to build your stock up," he said. "I've only pelleted seven."

Westmoreland is fortunate to have seven beige mutations. Beige chinchilla is the newest color to hit the market and is bringing the highest price.

The beige is so rare that only enough beige animals have been pelleted to make one coat and this one is being premiered throughout the world.

Westmoreland took seven animals to the Fort Worth show and won five ribbons. "Any new color commands a premium price the first several years after it comes out," he said.

Chinchilla is a precious fur and comparable to mink. The national average for one chinchilla pelt is about $20. One hundred to 125 pelts are used in one coat. "At this price it isn't hard to tell where the 'precious fur' for the precious few' slogan originated."

Westmoreland has polygamous cages, five high and eight long, set up inside the building which houses the chinchillas. A long hallway allows one male access to all eight cages in his row. Females wear collars to prevent them from leaving their individual cages.

In addition to the 40 breeding cages, he has 60 pelting cages.

The Chinchillas reach their natural prime about this time of year, and when they are about eight to 10 months of age.

Big chinchilla ranchers have a "cold room" that is kept at 50 degrees so pelts can be kept in their prime year round.

Westmoreland hopes to be able to justify a cold room and become a big chinchilla rancher some day.

Another rash of thefts and vandalism reports were cleared up in the middle of this week with the arrest of three more Latin Americans.

Rene Trevina, Manuel Cruz Sierra and Willie Cruz Sierra are in the Lamb County jail and have been placed under $5,000 bonds.

According to Lamb County Sheriff E. D. McNeese, these arrests clear up a number of thefts of tractors and malicious destruction of numerous irrigation wells and farm machinery in this area.

Sheriff's officers also arrested one man for disturbance and two for being drunk in public, bringing the total number of persons in jail to 17 late Thursday.

Earlier this week five area burglaries were cleared with the arrest of Louis Martinez and Ramon Ysasaga.

Women Just Not Given Credit!

Are Lamb County women freer than their husbands?

Is their life one of relative leisure, with plenty of time each day for luncheons, card games, back fence conversation, naps and general time killing?

That's what the men think. But, according to their wives, that is a very distorted picture. Actually, they claim, they are so busy with their household tasks that they have very little more free time than their husbands have.

To sort out these conflicting views and set the record straight, the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research conducted a survey among a representative sampling of people in each section of the country.

It sought to find out just how the average married person spends his day. On the basis of these general findings, it appears that the typical working man in Lamb County devotes 9.2 hours per day to work-connected activities.

This includes eight hours actually on the job plus about 3-4 of an hour on work breaks. The rest of the time is taken up with traveling to and from his place of employment.

If he drives to work, it takes about 20 minutes, on average, but nearly twice as long as that if he uses public transportation.

According to the latest government statistics covering Lamb County, less than one percent of the people use public transportation to get to work.

As for the average housewife who has no outside employment, her household chores take 5 1/2 hours a day, with 30 percent of the time taken up with cooking and dishes, 40 percent with cleaning, 25 percent with laundry and 5 percent, miscellaneous. Then there is marketing, mending, caring for the children and incidental duties.

For the 1,490 or so working wives in Lamb County, equivalent to about 26 percent of all married women

Don Beck May Not Be At Olton Next Year

Olton may or may not have Coach Don Beck back for another football season.

The highly-successful Mustang mentor submitted his resignation at Tuesday's regular meeting of the school board. It was accepted.

But a turn of events took place following that, and the board met in special session Friday night. Out of the meeting came a two-year contract offer for Beck, with a salary increase from $9,004 to $9,300. This board vote was unanimous on the contract.

Beck said Saturday he had verbally accepted the Sunray job, but when the contract was mailed to him to sign, the arrangements were not as agreed in a previous telephone call.

"I have called Sunray back, and they have told me that everything can be worked out like we talked about," Beck said. "I am supposed to meet with the Sunray board Monday night."

Beck said he was unsure Saturday afternoon about his decision, "but I'll know by Tuesday morning."

The Olton coach said he felt like his verbal commitment with Sunray was null and void after the mailed contract varied from arrangements agreed to by telephone.

The Sunray board chose Beck after a two-week study of applicants. No salary offer has been learned by the Leader-News, but it is known that Sunray pays its classroom teachers $1,000 above state scale.

Sunray is a Class A school located northeast of Dumas in Moore County. Beck, 33, is a native of Canyon. He was graduated from West Texas State in 1957.

Rumors had come out of Olton that a few Mustang fans were unhappy with Beck after his two District 3-AA teams had gone undefeated through regular season the past two seasons, and then lost to Denver City in bi-district.

His three-year record at Olton is 24 wins and 7 losses. Combining this with his four-year carding at Wellington, which was 17-12-1, his career record stands at 51 wins, 19 losses and one tie.

Olton Superintendent, Ray Schultz when contacted by the Leader-News, was outspoken in his opinion about Coach Beck. "I want him, and Olton needs him," he stated.

Beck confirmed there had been criticism from "four or five people in Olton" after the Denver City loss, but that after news broke of his resignation, "we had a jillion calls from people backing us up."

Beck said the reaction had convinced him and his staff that the "large majority" of Olton fans supported him and his coaching staff.

Babe Ruth League Signup Set April 1

Babe Ruth League baseball players will sign up April 1, probably in the Pioneer Natural Gas Building, according to Clayton Cowan, president.

Officers and parents of the organization met Friday night to outline the newly-formed league's season. Arthur Hedges was assigned the task of drawing up a schedule which will open April 25.

Babe Ruth takes in boys 13, 14, and 15 years old. It now replaces two leagues, Pony and Colt. Sixteen-year-olds usually playing in the Colt League, will now play in American Legion.

Cowan said he felt six teams could be formed in Littlefield, with a 15-member maximum. Added to the League will be a team each from Amherst and Sudan, making a maximum team league of eight. Four is the minimum.

Hedges was asked to make a schedule for both eight and seven teams, in case the expected number of players did not sign up.

Cowan emphasized the importance of players signing up on the date designated. "Those who don't sign up until later will have to be put on a player's waiting list, if all teams are full," he said. "This is a first-come, first-serve signing up."

Though not all the sponsors have been contacted, listed Roden Drug, Security Bank, Dairy Queen, Ware-Rice C Pump and Stateline Irrigation REA as their probable sponsors.

Officials said they would play games on the American Legion which has the required baseline, but lengthening the old Pony field was also considered.

The group voted to remain Littlefield Baseball Association. Early games on the schedule played on Friday and Saturday, not interfering with school.

Though no official action was obtained on umpires, Cowan felt the league would probably pay the plate umpire, and volunteers to call the bases, with teams responsible for obtaining
