team," Blakely asserted. "They're quick and pursue the ball as well as any team we've played.

The stage was set for the game last week, when the Cats, defending district champs, rolled over the highly-regarded and previously unbeaten Roosevelt Eagles 27-0. The win, called by Head Coach Jerry Blakely as "possibly our best total effort of the year," but the Cats at 4-2 for the season, and perhaps established some momentum that will carry the Cats through the district race.

"Offensively, they have tremendous speed in their backfield. They have two or three people who can break the grid and score if given the opportunity. Their halfback, Robert Mayberry, is one of the area's leading scorers, goes about 175 pounds, is a junior and has run the 100 in 9.8. We'll be faced with the same problem we had against Roosevelt: we must contain Dimmitt's offense to stay in the ball game."

Last week in the Bobcat's 27-0 win over Kress, Mayberry sat out with an injured ankle. But Blakely expects him to be at full speed in tomorrow's clash.

On the other hand, the Bobcats, led by a defense that has allowed only 19 points, come in with a 5-1 record, their lone loss to Dalhart two weeks ago. "They have a great defensive football

Immunizations

GET VACCINATED!
Does this sound like something you've heard before? Many, many times? Well, you have. And you'll hear it again and again.

ESPECIALLY will you hear it again this fall, with renewed emphasis. Both the Texas Medical Association and American Medical Association are pushing immunizations against disease with renewed vigor. Also, the Center for Disease Control of the U.S. Public Health Service has set October for a vaccination drive.

Despite all the combined efforts of TMA, AMA, public health officials, school leaders, voluntary health agencies and others, there still are countless thousands of Texans facing unnecessary risk of disease, crippling and even death—simply because they have procrastinated about immunizations for themselves and their families.

TARGETS for this fall are polio, rubella, measles, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. Immunization levels against polio have declined to a dangerous low, making a renewal of the epidemics of the 1940s and 1950s possible.

THERE ARE STILL cases of tetanus, or lockjaw, every year. Almost every one is unnecessary.

Tetanus toxoid offers excellent protection.

Diphtheria is still dangerous and by no means wiped out, despite the fact that a vaccine has been available for years.

Whooping cough is so common in childhood that most parents don't consider it serious. But whooping cough can be dangerous. It can be prevented by vaccination.

VACCINES AGAINST measles—both the rubella and rubeola types—are available. Immunization of school children, particularly girls, and of preschool children is recommended, along with women of child-bearing age (who are not pregnant) who missed vaccination in childhood.

Smallpox vaccination no longer is recommended for everyone. The disease has been eradicated in the United States. Smallpox inoculations now are urged only for a few select groups, such as hospital and medical personnel and travelers to areas of the world where the disease still threatens.

THE TMA has adopted a formal policy statement encouraging county medical societies to support campaigns for physicians to review the immunization status of their patients and increase the immunization level of children.

Your doctor and public health clinics are ready to protect you and your family with vaccination. They can do so only if you and your family go get your shots.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Not All At Once

THE WORLD WAS NOT CREATED in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye; but many of us seem to think that we can do everything "right now".

There is so much of the attitude that we must do everything "all at once". Eagerness to get things done is understandable, and, wisely controlled, is even commendable; but we must consider reality and facts; and learn how to apply good judgment and common sense.

TRYING TO DO TOO MANY things at the same time is a rather common mistake. Although some folk do seem to be unusually well-equipped for a limited amount of such activity, most of us cannot function in this way.

If we try to do so, we don't get anything done well. In fact, we create a most unwholesome life situation for ourselves; one that is filled with discouragement, frustration, nervousness, and almost everything else that is destructive of our well-being.

If we persist in trying to do it "all at once", the growing sense of failure will eventually overwhelm us.

MOST OF US CAN DO the things that should be done by us, but not "all at once". One job at a time, done well, is the best procedure for us. This action should reflect our respect for the principle of "putting first things first".

In this manner, we will be able to get more done; we can have the help that is derived from the sense of accomplishment; we will be reasonably successful.

MORE THAN THIS, in this way, the steady growing personal confidence, doing what we are according to a sensible arrangement, is far superior to the misconception view that "all directions" at the same time.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to do "all at once". We must be given to us; one day at a time.

Even while we make plans for the future we anticipate, we must realize that "today" is the time to act.

WE CANNOT DO ALL at once, but there will be some service that we can do that we can do it successfully.

Tomorrow's work can wait until tomorrow.

"I WILL TRY TO LIVE day only, and not tackle my problem at once.

I can do something for you today, but I feel that I would appreciate it if I felt that you would keep it up a lifetime."

SOMEBODY CAN OUTDO me, but difference does this make? Can get more things done than I can, but this does not matter, just do, "my best".

ALL OF US CAN DO more than we think we need to do, but "not all at once".

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

October 8, 1973

Dear Sir:

Dear Editor:

The Childbirth Without Pain Education League of Lubbock is sponsoring a free film showing Thursday, Oct. 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the Mesa Room at the Texas Tech University Center.

The film, "The Story of Eric", shows how childbirth can be a beautiful, exciting experience that both husband and wife can share. The movie takes a young couple enrolled in Lamaze childbirth classes and follows them through labor and delivery.

After the film, a discussion will be led by a local couple and a Lamaze teacher who will answer questions about the Lamaze method of prepared, family-oriented childbirth.

For more information concerning the film showing or childbirth classes, call Sue Morrow, registrar, at 792-9060.

Thank you for any assistance you may give us in publicizing the film showing.

Personality Quiz

ARE YOU A TYRANT?

There may be a little bit of the tyrant in all of us. When such attitudes play a predominant part in our lives, however, our popularity among friends and associates often suffers a sharp decline. So, if you're trying to minimize your tyrannical impulses, more power to you. The test that follows will give you a good idea of how you're doing.

1. When a child asks his parents for an increase in his allowance, parents should (A) Grant it automatically, (B) Ask the child to explain why he needs more money, or (C) Refuse to give him the increase under any circumstances?

2. If a friend borrows money from you which he has forgotten to return, you should (A) Ask that he return it immediately, (B) Talk to an attorney, or (C) Ask him to return it at his earliest convenience?

3. When the relative of a close friend of yours dies, you should (A) Send flowers to his home or chapel, (B) Send a condolence card to his family, or (C) Make sure that you attend his funeral?

4. If a friend of yours makes an appearance in a new suit or dress, you should (A) Compliment him on his taste, (B) Ask how much the garment cost, or (C) Mention that you recently purchased some new clothing, too?

5. If you're invited to a house-warming by friends who have recently moved in, you should (A) Ask them if there's any way you can help them adjust to the new neighborhood, (B) Determine how much they paid for the house, or (C) Make sure that you present them with a gift.

For the correct answers, see below.

ANSWERS: 1. (B) Asking a child to justify his request for more money builds a sense of responsibility in a youngster. If he's proven his point on why he needs more money, don't hesitate to grant it. 2. (C) Sometimes, people with the best of intentions let money matters slip from their minds. When they do, it's best to give a tactful reminder. 3. (A) Attending the funeral and sending a card should be done whenever possible, but flowers are the universally approved way of expressing such sentiment and are always appreciated by the bereft. 4. (A) Compliment him for his good taste first. After doing so, you may then say that you bought some new clothing, too. 5. (A) Ask them if there's any way you can help them adjust to the neighborhood. A gift is also appreciated, but you may not know what they prefer until you are better acquainted.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, I'm plenty proud of our Wildcats. They did a superb job on those Roosevelt Eagles!

They're about all I've had to cheer about (sports-wise) these last few days.

THE DEBACLE of the Texas Longhorns, and Dallas Cowboys at the hands of their respective opponents was about enough to make me want to hurry the basketball season into action.

BUT, THEM WILDCATS are really going strong—Shux, we're goin' Bobcat huntin' this coming Friday night, and I'm very optimistic about the outcome!

LOOKS AS THO we're about to get a new president in charge of vice. Where'd this feller FORD come from?

Do hope that those in charge do a thorough job of inspecting his linen, before he's inaugurated. Even Watergate might run outta water if we have to go through ANOTHER session of washing?

BIG JAWN? (Connally) Naw, he's not quite ready yet. They say his appointment would have stirred up too much of a fight at this time. Anyway, he's too new to be considered a bonafide Republican by those of the inner sanctum.

Shux, we don't even know if he owns a tape-recorder, yet!

JUST HEARD MR. AGNEW'S speech of departure, followed, closely by the (In) famous instant-analysis by the CBS know-it-alls.

Was about to shed a tear of Agnew's farewell, only to be reminded of the unrelenting indictive of the news men.

WOUND UP in a state wonder at the whole picture—the hurt air of a youngster—the game rules changed, right in the middle of the action. Perhaps they're not so bad after all.

Of course the newsmen (though they wouldn't say so) what he said, had he been the dead!

I'VE GOTTA RETAIN a sympathetic understanding admiration for Mr. Agnew's time you can't fault a system hawking that can be misdemeanors out in the light they're committed by the places.

We can always hope that a whole sorry mess, may our purer breed of office-holders always been somewhat suspicious political system, but we suspicions are confirmed, very unpretty.

FOR THE PAST several years we've been bombarded with the suggestions and laws, while at the time, being stuffed by the "Pollution", and that in high school.

WAS GETTIN' PRETTY about this "New Moral" someone pointed out that we're any!

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL

HARVESTING WAS DELAYED by rains in Central and South Texas and in the San Joaquin Valley of California during the week, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

The Arizona harvest was gaining momentum. In Oklahoma, New Mexico and in the El Paso-Pecos and Plains areas of Texas the harvest was in the early stages. Most current ginnings were being delivered into marketing pools or against contracts made earlier in the year. Demand was good for uncommitted cotton. Buyers were active bidders on cotton offered by growers.

Contracting of the 1973 and 1974 crops continued in some locations. Domestic mills purchased San Joaquin Valley, California growth at 85.00 cents per pound, basis grade 31 staple 35. Merchants offered 58.00 to 60.00 cents per pound for 1974 crop San Joaquin Valley growth but most growers were holding out for 65.00 cents, basis grade 31 staple 35. In the El Paso, Texas area growers received 60.00 cents per pound for 1974-crop, Acala varieties, basis grade 31 staple 37. Medium staple varieties brought 52.00 to 56.00 cents per pound, basis grade 31 staple 34.

Some Arizona growers rejected offering prices of 80.00 cents per pound for early ginned, mixed lots of mostly grade 31 staple 35. South Texas growers were offered 40.00 to 60.00 cents per pound for small mixed in-grade lots and 25.00 to 30.00 cents for below grade lots. Growers were reluctant to sell at these prices.

Some 1974 acreage was worth 62.00 cents per pound in the area. Central Texas growers up to 70.00 cents per pound in lots of grades 32 and 42, staple 33. Most mixed lots brought 55.00 cents per pound, however. On plains a limited volume quality, early ginned cotton 60.00 to 68.00 cents per pound.

LOOKS LIKE the little ginners are getting closer to Texas. First seen in Florida and Louisiana. I'm sure that if this part of the country, and the rest of the country, and the rest of the world, they could get a job to work, they could get a job.

Seems like the demand is for gin hands, truck drivers, drivers and various types of jobs might even get a job as a shop hmmm.

 for a loss of 15 yards. In the two games before that, the Cats were penalized 19 times for 201 yards. "Naturally, we're tickled to death to cut down on our penalties," Blakely said. "But we're still concerned with fumbles. We lost only three fumbles in our first four games, then in the last two we've lost six. We're going to work on that, and hopefully correct it before Dimmitt."

Blakely had special praise for the Cat defense for their overpowering play against the Eagles. "There was not a single person on our defensive team that did not play a good game," he said. "When you play that well, naturally you're going to have a number of individuals who played great. Our entire secondary (Terry Bryson, Pat Henderson, Bill Turner and Benny Williams) played extremely well, as did our outside linebackers (Craig Ratliff and Gary Lichte). Since this is the containing part of our defense, most of the pressure of Roosevelt's speed fell on their shoulders, and they were able to do their job.

"Offensively, our line has to be commended for a fine job blocking Roosevelt's multiple defense. David Blevins and Skip Smith, both guards, had exceptionally good games. Pat Henderson (13 carries, 170 yards, two touchdowns) had a very fine night running the ball, but we were most pleased with his outside blocking. He made the crucial block on many of our quarterback sweeps, and has turned into one of our very best lead blockers. Tight End Chris Pope made three catches for 36 yards, and blocked well on the line and also downfield.

"Overall, it may have been our biggest win so far," Blakely concluded.

Kyle Jones Wins Guessing Contest

Kyle Jones is the winner of this week's Leader-News Football Contest. Jones wins the $5 first prize by predicting 14 of 16 games correctly, and then beating Elaine Turner on the tie-breakers.

Miss Turner, who won first place in the second week at the contest and captured second prize last week, also picked 14, and wins $3. She now holds the lead in the season long race for two tickets to the Cotton Bowl with 69 correct predictions.

Tommy Patterson broke out of a pack of 15 contestants to win third prize. Patterson picked 13 games, and wins $1.

Whitharral's upset win over Cotton Center was one of the most often missed games in the contest, along with Cincinnati's win over Pittsburg.

Behind Miss Turner in the seasonal race is Bonnie Stephens, Dennis Jackson, Kim Hill and Larry Price, all with 68.

WILDCATS OF THE WEEK for the Roosevelt game are Pat Henderson (20), David Blevins (63), and Chris Pope (85). Henderson was the Cats most prolific rusher with 170 yards on 13 carries and two touchdowns, and earned Head Coach Jerry Blakely's praise for his "tremendous pass coverage in the defensive secondary along with helping to stop the run." Blevins filled in at offensive guard for Jerry Soria, and, according to Blakely, "did a remarkable job blocking. It was behind him that Henderson was able to break his two long early touchdowns." Pope was the leading Cat receiver with three receptions for 36 yards, and was singled out for his blocking. (Staff Photos)

Homecoming Preparations Made

LHS HOMECOMING QUEEN WILL BE CROWNED from one of these three candidates: Mari Bennett, Jill Owens or Barbara McBride. (Staff by Cena Stowers)

By CINDY WAT-TENBARGER
Final plans and preparations have been made for tonight's homecoming parade and bonfire. Many LHS clubs have contributed to the parade by entering a float or a car. They will be decorated according to the theme, "Wildcat Memories".

National Honor Society,

Future Teachers of America, Quill and Scroll, Distributive Education Clubs of America, Future Homemakers of America, Choral class and Business Club have entered automobiles in the parade.

the Student Council will present the winners with awards.

The parade will begin at 7:30 p.m. behind the courthouse. It will proceed down XIT Drive and then back up Phelps Avenue. Featured in the parade will be the Wildcat Band marching.

The bonfire immediately following the parade will begin at 8 p.m. at the Wildcat Stadium. The Wildcat Band will play and the traditional Dimmitt population sign and outhouse will be "featured" atop the fire. The Littlefield Fire Dept. will be present to supervise.

Wood for the bonfire will be collected today. Any persons having wood to donate are asked to contact someone at the high school.

The Wildcats will kick-off their first district game against Dimmitt Friday at 7:30 p.m. During half-time of the game, one of the three candidates, Jill Owens, Barbara McBride, and Mari Louise Bennett, will be chosen Homecoming Queen. She will be crowned by Donny Heard, president of the Ex-Students Association.

Following the game, the Baptist Church will host a fellowship for all high school students. This will conclude the activities for the 1973 Homecoming festivities.

Man, Wife Cheer Way To Marriage

By CHERYL WEST

Neil and Carolyn West cheerleaders? Yes, but back when they were wearing bobby socks and bulky letter sweaters at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla.

Mrs. West had been a cheerleader four years in High School before she went to college. "I had enjoyed being a cheerleader in High School so I decided to tryout for college cheerleader my freshman year." The tryouts were similar to high school tryouts. The girls tried out in front of the faculty and student body. Mrs. West was a cheerleader all four years of college and head cheerleader her senior year. "I loved being a cheerleader," she said.

When asked how West got to be cheerleader, he said, "I was going with Carolyn who was a cheerleader at the time. There was an opening for a boy on the squad, so my fraternity elected me unanimously without my consent." Neil was a cheerleader for the Barkers (the cheerleading group) for three years. He said he really did enjoy being a cheerleader, although he was scared to death for about a year. The boys mainly led yells, but they did have one stunt in which they flipped the girls, he said.

School Budget 'Not Elastic'

By PAT SEVIER

Operating budget for all schools for the 1973-74 year is $1,394,077. The money coming from local sources is $602,265, and the money from state sources is $791,812. The money from local sources is procured from collection of real and personal property values, tuition, fees, and short term loans. The money from state sources is from the State Minimum Education Program. Other sources are supplemental special education and general funds and primary and secondary education funds through the State Education Act.

Expenditures for the school are divided into five areas:

- Instructional services - $115,811
- Instructional related services - $109,000
- People services - $97,000
- General administration - $254,000
- Planned maintenance and construction - $93,400

Budget is based on total tax roll values of which $27,200,000 is collected for the school budget. The 55% is established by the school board. According to law, this figure could go up to 100 per cent, but up to the option of the school board to decide on how this percentage will be.

Funds from the state are based on the number of students and this determines the amount of state money for which we qualify. State provides payment for classroom teacher for 25 students in perfect health for every school year. In addition to teacher-student quotient mentioned, vocational remedial courses receive funding according to their accreditation.

In the Littlefield system, there are 11 teachers above the teacher level whose salaries are entirely funded through revenue. These teachers are those who teach elective courses that are not funded as necessary by state educational system. That is to say, courses are necessary but there is no funding system set up to pay for their salaries. These teachers are the choral director, band director, typing and word processing teachers.

The amount of the budget for Littlefield High School is $1,025. This figure does not include the prices of books, audiovisual aids, magazines, these being purchased separately. The expenditure in the school is $2,400 yearly supplies, repairs on the buses and the purchase of uniforms. On the other hand, our schools in our district supply all of their expenses with almost the amount of money delegated to the various districts in our school system.

There are not any more married students today than there were 10 years ago. Though student marriages are becoming more common, few public schools have changed or revised their policies to parallel the changing times.

year. If the population increases, and, hence, the number of students in perfect attendance in our schools, grows or the property values rise, we cannot hope for an increased budget for the Littlefield Schools.

In the opinion of Paul I. Jones, Littlefield School Superintendent, "Our budget is not elastic enough to allow us to do all of the things we would like to. We will soon require funds to make needed repairs but we would have liked to have applied this money in some other area requiring attention."

The school board sets the rate of 55 per cent of the actual values of local property. This rate determines the amount of local funds which goes into the school budget. It is feasible that this rate can be increased as much as 45 per cent but the decision to increase this rate as yet has not been made. As necessity calls for extra funds, the decision to increase this rate may be required. Until that time, the current budget amount will remain unchanged and unenlarged. This figure will have to suffice for the time being until the situation improves or the funds are increased.

Wildcats Open District Play, Host Bobcats At Homecoming Game

By BRUCE PEEL

The Littlefield Wildcats, defending District 3-AA Champions, open defense of their district title against the Dimmitt Bobcats Friday night at Wildcat Stadium before what will surely be a packed homecoming crowd.

"Dimmitt is a good football team," said Wildcat Head Coach Jerry Blakely, "But we'll be ready to defend our title as true champions should." Dimmitt runs the wish bone triple option offense similar to that of Texas and Oklahoma, and with Robert Mayberry, who can sprint a hundred yards in 9.8 seconds, in the backfield, Blakely feels they "can score from anywhere on the field."

The Bobcat defense is a great pursuing defense. They are not big overall, but "their main asset is quickness" contends Blakely.

"We're going to take dead aim on Dimmitt and try to play our best game all year."

Last week the Wildcats upset Roosevelt, demolishing the state ranked Eagles 27-0. They will need to repeat their outstanding performance against Dimmitt, who possess a 5-1 predistrict record.

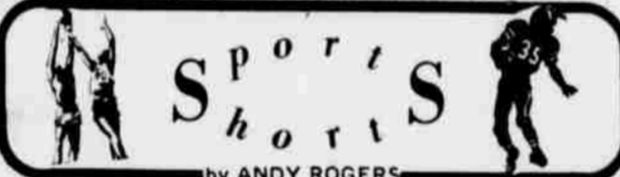

In last year's Dimmitt encounter, the Cats slid past the Bobcats on a rainsoaked field 34-6.

Pollsters have picked the Bobcats as the team Littlefield will have to beat in order to capture their third straight district championship. "As far as we're concerned," said Blakely, "this week, Dimmitt's the only team to beat."

In other district games, Friona meets Olton and Morton is open. Each week a team in district 3-AA has an open date. Prior to the season, the coaches drew and Littlefield's open date occurs in the last week of the season, which means that providing the Cats win district, they will have an extra week to prepare for bi-district.

A GIANT HELMET will provide the backdrop for the Homecoming Queen candidates in Friday's pep rally before the Dimmitt game. The helmet, made from cardboard and covered in aluminum foil, was the brainchild of Mrs. Tiddy Blakely, an LHS teacher, and shown are some of the students who helped make it.

by ANDY ROGERS

Lately, there has been much discussion about the turn the Pro-football game has been making away from exciting offense and to boring defense. A 25-yard drive and 40-yard punt is cause for jubilation, and touchdowns are on Congress's endangered species list.

With the emphasis turning toward the easy points, via the field goal, NFL revolutionists have come up with many rule-changes that would take away some of the field goal's importance. For instance, to make the field goal count two points inside the 20, three points from the 20 to the 50, and four points past the 50. More radical critics have advised the abolition of the field goal altogether, and I tend to agree with them.

The field goal is a boring play. Twenty-one men bump into each other while one five foot Greek plasters the ball with his toe. The ball goes up and through the uprights, and the man in the stands wakes his wife and tells her that Miami has scored another three points.

There is one aspect of the game that has added excitement and interest in the game. The dance in the end zones. On the rare occasions that a touchdown is made, the scorer goes into an intricate and original dance, that usually ends in slamming the ball into the turf.

So instead of the field goal and extra point kicks, why not give points for the dances? An ordinary or uninspired dance would be worth one point. A slightly more imaginative step would make two points, and a really good dance would give the team three points. The possibilities are unlimited.

All the NFL teams could hire another coach to teach the players how to dance. The scouts would be on the lookout for any young athlete who showed a particular talent for ballet. And Arthur Murray could become Commissioner and instruct special referees on how to evaluate the "touchdance."

But this may seem cruel to all of the foreigners who have found prosperity and fame in America as place-kickers. I have a solution for this, too. Whenever a team is close to a touchdown, or needs nine points to win instead of six, they could borrow a rule from baseball and put in a "designated dancer". After a player makes a touchdown, the DD could take the player's place in the end zone and perform the dance. Foreigners could be used as DDs, and some especially good ones would be Arabian belly dancers or Spanish flamenco dancers.

EDITORIAL

By TANDY TALBURT

A survey concerning the news issues of today was recently conducted among a group of Littlefield High School students, and while there were the usual number of students who considered Ann Landers and the comic page the most important part of the newspaper, the majority of students seemed very well informed on the top news stories of today.

This knowledge of what is going on in today's world indicates a real interest and concern on the part of the LHS students, and they are to be commended for their awareness.

At workshops and conventions where students from different schools are brought together, one cannot help but compare the attitude of the students to that of students from one's own school. On the whole these students seem to have a real interest in world and national affairs, and the students of LHS compare admirably with them.

High school students are at an age where they are still forming habits and attitudes that they will have the rest of their lives. If we get in the habit of keeping informed on world affairs when we are in school, then we will probably be informed and concerned adults.

Those students who consider the comic page the most important part of the paper should take a long look at their values and realize that they are going to have a part in our nation's government in a few years. Although "Mary Worth" solves some interesting problems, is she more important than the affairs of our nation that influence our lives?

Some students would do well to follow the example of their peers and begin to realize what is really taking place in our world today.

Married Students Face Restrictions In Activities

By KAREN WALKER

What are the rights of a married student in high schools today? That's a question for school administrators throughout Texas who are more and more faced with and are concerned about the problems that go along with married students in high school.

According to a recent article in the Texas Outlook magazine, "There are more married students who are attending school now and they all want to participate in all the activities." In Littlefield High School however, Mr. Jack York, principal, said

"There are not any more married students today than there were 10 years ago."

Though student marriages are becoming more common, few public schools have changed or revised their policies to parallel the changing times.

"A married student cannot participate in extra activities such as football, or girls' athletics, but they can excel in their school work."

Counselor Ima Roycroft said, "A student can be in band and choir classes but they cannot participate in any University Interscholastic League events. It is not a rule that they have to drop these classes. Most married students just drop them usually anyway, because they usually have to work and go to school both." Mrs. Roycroft added.

It is a local school policy that married students have these restrictions on their activities. "It helps to discourage early marriages," said York, "and I think this is good."

"Three Texas schools, not mentioned in the article, have adopted a policy of not allowing married students to attend the regular school day.

In each of the three cases, the policy applies only to married couples attending the same school. According to policy regulations, if both students are enrolled in the same school at the time of marriage, either the boy or girl must withdraw. The decision is left to the married couple as to which will withdraw," reports B. B. Brown in the same Texas Outlook article mentioned above.

Littlefield High School is among the 83.8 per cent of schools that do allow married students to attend the same school but not to participate in extra curricular activities.

In the spring of 1972 the parents of a married student challenged the Channelview, Texas, school board rule and won. At the time the rule simply states that "Married students are allowed to attend the regular day school but are not allowed to participate in co-curricular activities." The court ruled this policy as invalid in this school, thus allowing students to participate in co-curricular activities.

"There have not been any cases against the school board rule here in Littlefield, or anywhere that I have ever been," York said. Our school board rule for married students says, "A married student cannot hold any office in any organization, and if holding an office while the student is married, the marriage is taken as a resignation to that office."

When asked about the relations between the married student and the teacher, York said, "The only time a married student is different than any other student is when the married student lets his or her marriage interfere with his or her grades. Then we try to do all we can to help the married student work out his or her problems and help get the grades back up. I don't think that any of our teachers have a different attitude toward married students than any other student. When they are in the classroom, they are all treated as equal students."

York also added that he thought that the school board rule was fair because when the student gets married he or she "has to give up something."

A total of four students were married in the 1972-73 school year. They were Connie and Boonie Smith, Dana Ogletry, Francis, and Smith, Gletnee. None of these students are attending school this year.

In the 1973-74 school year, so far only one student is married and attending school. Sharleta Grimes Ellis, an LHS junior was married during the summer to Ronnie Ellis, a 1973 graduate of LHS. "I plan to go to LCHS next summer and graduate," Sharleta said.

"I admire Sharleta for coming back to school," said Mrs. Roycroft "She has a full schedule of solid classes and then goes to work. I would think that she would feel somewhat different from the other students because she doesn't go down town and drag main, but rather goes home and cooks dinner."

Sharleta said that she enjoys going to school and being married too. "I don't think the teachers or students treat me any differently, but they seem to respect me because I did come back to school after I got married."

All JUNIORS who are taking the PSAT/NMSQT are reminded that the test will be given from 8 a.m. till noon on Tuesday.

BUSINESS CLUB pins were chosen and ordered and decorations for a car for the Homecoming Parade were decided on at the Oct. 9 Business Club meeting.

Christian Youth Group To Visit Littlefield

A group of Christian youth, the "Renaissance" formerly known as the "New Californians" will be the guests of First Baptist Church this Sunday. They have performed in more than 1,500 concerts travelling more than 250,000 miles across the United States.

In June the group presented concerts in many churches of West Germany sponsored by the World Evangelism Foundation.

One of the unique features of the "Renaissance" concerts is their puppet show.

The puppets present humorous musical numbers and Bible truths. Children from ages 1-100 enjoy the puppets.

Sunday morning they will sing for Sunday School groups in the auditorium beginning with the children at 9:45 followed by a program for the youth at 10:15 and will present special music for the 11 Worship Service.

Area Teams Prepare For Tough Games

The Witharal Panthers broke out of a season-long tailspin with a 22-20 victory over Cotton Center to lead the area teams in football action Friday.

In other games, Olton won their fourth in a row, 44-14 over Idalou, Littlefield pulled off a stunning 27-0 win over Roosevelt, Sudan had their win skein stopped at four in a 32-14 loss to Hart, Anton bowed to Lubbock Christian 13-0, and Springlake-Earth dropped one to Farwell 33-19. Amherst, 4-1, did not play.

The Panthers, who lost their first five games, found Cotton Center to be just what they needed.

Sudan had a hard time against Hart. They needed the win to keep pace with District 3-A leader Vega, but the loss put them at 1-1 in league play. They host Bovina tomorrow in their Homecoming game. The Mustangs are 0-6, and suffered a 27-0 loss Friday to Vega.

Anton starts their district action tomorrow against Plains, a team that went to the state semi-finals last year. This year, the Cowboys are 4-1, and had an open date last week to prepare for Anton. Two weeks ago, they swamped Bovina 48-16.

The S-E Wolverines are 1-5, 0-2 in district. They go to Kress next, with hopes of knocking the Kangaroos off and getting back in the district picture Kress is 1-0 in district, beating Farwell 6-3 two weeks ago. They lost to Dimmitt last week 27-0 in a non-district game. Amherst will have a stiff test tomorrow when they host Matador. The Matadors are undefeated, and a win over Amherst would drop the Bulldogs out of district contention.

ANTON BULLDOG cheerleaders will be leading the cheers for their homecoming game Friday night, when the Bulldogs meet Plains. A bonfire will start the activities tonight at 8 and a pep rally will begin at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon in the gym. Standing are Mary Fisher, Michelle Jones and Tami Brazil.
