South Pacific' Opens Tonight

South Pacific," the famed Broadway musical, comes to Littlefield for a two-night stand.

A man fools you to get money, it's called fraud... fools you to get your vote, it's called politics.

Primary primaries Saturday will be the end of the trail for many candidates, but for the first round of the year, which is climaxed by general elections in November.

When the political lightning strikes is unknown, but none of the candidates seem to be in a lull. This is as it should be, for there is a need of getting into a campaign battle if you don't think you can win.

Although most voters may not be urging, we'd still like to see potential voters to have their say Saturday by casting their vote in either the Democratic or Republican party primaries.

Absentee voting, which usually is a fair barometer of the interest in a given election, has been heavy here in Lamb County. A total of 122 absentee ballots had been cast in the county clerk's office at deadline time Tuesday.

A few still come in the mails, indicating a good turnout Friday, but even the weather makes a difference.

So important to the person with a real interest in the elections are the precinct conventions Saturday. Official date for casting your vote is June 3, but the only way to be certain you have your say in who is elected next is to become one of the 10 delegates in each political party to participate in a precinct convention.

Delegates for the May 9 county conventions are named at the precinct level, and delegates to the state conventions are named in the county conventions. Delegates to the June 16 state conventions are named and instructed delegates to the national convention.

September meeting will see delegates writing a party platform and selecting state executive committees.

Put it briefly: When you go to the precinct convention to elect the county delegates, elect the state delegates, elect the presidential electors, who then elect the president.

So you can make a lot of young people happy by turning out to "South Pacific" at the Littlefield High School Auditorium tonight or Friday night. All reports, the school has put much sweat and tears in preparing the time Broadway musical for presentation here.

Director Don Thorp bit off more than he could chew when he decided to stage the famous musical play. He's real pleased with the challenge he's taken up to challenge to turn out a top-notch amateur production.

He has a feeling the local scenery will be pleased too. How about you?

When the Littlefield High School Choir, under direction of Don Thorp, present their version of the big time production on the stage of the LHS Auditorium tonight and Friday night.

When the curtain opens on the musical play at 8 o'clock tonight, the ambitious and talented school group will bring to life the now familiar characters of the show along with such song hits as "Some Enchanted Evening," and "Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair."

For the uninitiated, the action takes place on two islands of the South Pacific and the time is a lull during the fighting of the war with Japan. The characters are chiefly marines, seabees, nurses, sailors and islanders.

The plot revolves around two romantic themes. Most important is the love affair between English Nellie Forbush, the charming nurse from Little Rock, Ark., -- played by Sue Hevel -- and the gallant middle-aged French planter, Emile de Beque, played by Tim Chambers.

The secondary romantic theme is that of the likeable American marine, Lt. Joe Cable, and the lovely Tonkinese girl, Liat, played by Jackie Heffington and Janie Anderson.

Other leading roles are taken by Brenda Perkins who portrays Bloody Mary -- Liat's shrewed mother, and Bob Badger, who takes the comic role of Luther Billis.

Advance tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.25 and 75 cents.

Economy Step Outlined By Post Office

Some limited adjustments in postal services, as ordered recently by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski, will begin to take effect in Littlefield and other cities Monday, Postmaster T. A. Henson said Wednesday.

Henson emphasized that no essential major services are affected under the orders. Primarily, the changes involve window service on Saturday morning and parcel post delivery--one day a week only.

The money order window will be closed on Saturday, Henson stated, and there will be no meter settings, no box collections and no inquiries or claims will be handled. Rural carriers will not accept money order applications on Saturday, either.

Parcel post delivery will go on a 5-day week, with Thursday deliveries being eliminated. There will be no change in home delivery or special delivery, and regular business mail deliveries will continue as usual. Letters and other first-class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

The economy step is expected to save $12.7 million in a year's time.

Public Invited To Library Tea

A silver tea in observance of the recent launching of the Multi-County Bookmobile program will be held Sunday afternoon at the library headquarters in Muleshoe.

The events, sponsored by Friends of the Library, will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at 113 E. Ash in Muleshoe. The general public from all four counties in the bookmobile program is invited to attend.

An open house of the library building which serves the bookmobile operation will be held and, Mrs. Georgia Pena, librarian; Larry Hartzell, driver, and Charles Gholz, field consultant of Texas State Library, will be on hand to meet visitors.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE!-- Saturday is election day in Littlefield and Lamb County with party primaries slated for both the Democratic and Republican parties. Mrs. C.O. Stone made certain of her vote by casting an absentee ballot Tuesday afternoon at the county clerk's office. A total of 122 absentee votes were cast by 5 p.m. Tuesday, indicating good interest in the elections. Lamb County recorded 5,936 paid poll tax receipts this year.

Parties Slate Precinct Conventions For Saturday

Precinct conventions for both the Democratic and Republican parties of Lamb County have been scheduled Saturday, according to announcements from the executive committees of each party.

Glenn Batson, Demo executive committee chairman, announced that all precinct conventions will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday. Conventions are scheduled in all 17 precincts.

W.H. Carter, Republican chairman, reported times and places for 12 precinct conventions. Both county parties have also filed notice of county conventions, which will be held May 9.

The Democratic County convention will be held in the district courtroom, beginning at 2 p.m. on May 9. The Republican County Convention is scheduled in the county courtroom at 3 p.m. on May 9.

To take part in a precinct convention, a person must first become a "qualified member" of a party by voting in the primary Saturday. The election judge will stamp "Democrat" or "Republican" on the poll receipt. This qualifies the person to attend the precinct convention.

In the precinct conventions, a delegate for each 25 votes cast in the precinct for the party's 1962 candidate for governor will be elected to the May 9 county convention.

Elections are the business of this week in Lamb County whose voters will climax a quiet spring campaign with party primaries, Democratic and Republican, this Saturday.

One new feature will mark Saturday's voting, the first full-scale Republican party primary in Lamb county in recent history. In almost all of the county's 17 voting precincts both parties will have polling places, the Democrats in all and the Republicans with some consolidations of smaller boxes.

As traditionally, in Texas, most of the voting will be at the Democratic party polls where a complete ballot will be voted. Republicans will have primary candidates for most state offices and for U.S. Senate and Congress, but none below the regional level. Few of the GOP offices, however, have contests in the primary.

This is true in perhaps half of the offices on the Democratic ballot. On the county level only three offices have contests, a four-man race for sheriff and two-man contests for tax assessor-collector and county Democratic chairman.

About half of the state and regional offices on the Democratic ballot have more than one candidate.

Most active of the county races is for sheriff where the 4-man field includes Dick Dyer, the incumbent, W. D. "Dick" Retliff and Loy Dalton of Littlefield and V. L. Smith, Jr., of Earth.

Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor and collector is opposed by Bill Jeffries, Littlefield, a former county commissioner. County Democratic Chairman Glenn Batson of Littlefield is opposed by Guy Walden of Sudan.

For the Democrats the most active statewide race is for U. S. Senator where U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough is opposed by Gordon McLendon of Dallas.

This race has generated some old-fashioned mud chunking with McLendon accusing Yarborough of receiving $50,000 from promoter Bille Sol Estes several years back, while Yarborough charges McLendon, a Dallas radio executive, with being a "bankrupt huckster."

McLendon was the organizer and head of the old Liberty radio networks that went into bankruptcy in 1952.

The governor's race is at its quietest for years with Gov. John Connally opposed for a second term by Don Yarborough of Houston, runner-up to Connally in 1962, and by M. T. Banks of Jefferson County and Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Harris County.

The only other statewide Democratic race with much action is for railroad commissioner where Jim C. Langdon, El Paso County, incumbent, is opposed by Jesse Owens of Wilbarger County.

In the court of civil appeals race, seventh district, former Littlefield attorney Herbert C. Martin, now of Amarillo, is running against Ernest O. Northcutt of Randall County, the incumbent.

Among incumbent Democrats who are running unopposed for new terms are Cong. George Mahon, District Attorney Jack Young, State Representative Bill Clayton, County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson, county commissioners A. J. Spain of Olton and J. L. "Roy" Yeager of Littlefield for places one and three; Peace Justice A. B. Jinkins of Sudan and Constable J. L. Drake of Littlefield.

The Republican ballot lists only two contests, both fairly active. Four candidates for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator are Dr. Milton V. Davis of Dallas, Jack Cox of Harris County, George Bush of Harris County and Robert Morris of Dallas.

In the first Texas vote for Presidential nominee preference four candidates are on the Texas ballot, U. S. Senators Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Harold Stassen of Pennsylvania.

Generally, the Presidential nominee choice has stirred less interest and activity than in other states, perhaps because some leading candidates are not contesting in Texas. These include former Vice President Richard Nixon, Henry Cabot Lodge, former U. S. Senator from Massachusetts and presently ambassador to Saigon, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Goldwater is conceded a lead in the Texas voting and certainly in Lamb county where strong Goldwater support is voiced.

Another "first" for Lamb county and Texas will be the voting by "free" poll tax receipts, compliance with a new U. S. constitutional amendment. Under it voters may participate in elections for federal officers--in the primary for U. S. Senator or for Congressional places--without payment of the $1.75 Texas poll tax.

This type receipt was issued to 52 persons in Lamb county this first year. Voters for all other races must have regular poll tax receipts.

Activity on the city and county law enforcement scene was relatively quiet this week. Police arrested several drunks. W. W. Clark, 58, was charged in county court with a checking law violation and paid fine and costs totaling $32.75. Another man was charged with driving with license suspended.

B. T. Klesner has some Cocker Spaniel puppies he'd like to give someone who likes and wants a dog. Phone him at 385-3947 or see at 217 E. 16th St.

Election Party Set

Interested citizens are invited to join in an "election party" Saturday night when the Leader-News and KZZN will report up-to-the-minute election returns on the county and statewide level.

Democratic primary returns will come directly to county Demo Chairman Glenn Batson and County Clerk Charles Jones at the Leader-News office, and GOP Chairman Bill Carter will relay Republican totals from his home, where he will receive returns from voting precinct chairmen.

Demo election judges will bring returns to Batson at the news office. Here a running total will be maintained and broadcast by KZZN, which will also have state returns from the wire service.

A large display board at the newspaper office will reflect votes from over the county in several races of interest, particularly the two contested county office contests.

Plans call for both a radio and television set to be hooked up on either side of the display board. Free coffee will also be available and citizens are invited to visit and mingle with friends while waiting for the election returns.

Readers are invited to join in the Saturday night "election party" at home by your radio or at the posting place in downtown Littlefield.

Crouch Earns 'Eagle'

Mark Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Crouch of Littlefield, received the highest honor of Scouting -- the Eagle Scout badge -- in special ceremonies at Lubbock Sunday.

Mark, a 16-year-old junior at Littlefield High School, is a member of Boy Scout Troop 638 here. Tom Hilburn is Scoutmaster.

He was one of 38 boys who received the coveted Eagle award in the South Plains Council Eagle Scout of Honor ceremonies Sunday afternoon in the Second Baptist Church at Lubbock. About 600 persons, including relatives and friends of the honored boys, were on hand.

Mark has been in the Scouting program for eight years. He holds the Order of the Arrow and has earned 34 merit badges enroute to the Eagle award. His much-decorated uniform also includes a Transatlantic Council patch -- a long-term camper award he earned on a trip to Germany in 1958.

Requirements for the Eagle award form a long list under three broad fields -- proficiency, leadership, and character. The Eagle Court of Honor ceremonies are conducted twice a year. Ken Flagg, council advancement chairman, presided Sunday. Roy Bass made the presentation of awards.

Support For Dalton Urged

straight - from - the - shoulder sort of man. A man we feel will play no favors if elected as sheriff.

Loy came to Littlefield as a teenager and has spent the past 28 years here. He was married in 1938 to Miss Lucy Elnore Stephens of Roperville. To this union were born two children who were educated in Littlefield Public Schools.

A daughter, Mrs. Tony (Gwyndolyn) Zahn, presently lives in Unna, Germany, and a son, Ronald Loy, is married and residing in Floydada.

As a young man, Loy was employed at Weeks and Bagwell Gin west of town. Later he joined the staff of the local Piggy Wiggly store. He proved himself alert and courteous in serving customers there for 10 years. In 1956 he purchased Loy's Cafe, and he and Mrs. Dalton operated the cafe to great satisfaction of all customers for three years. He later joined the staff at Foust Food.

We realize most of you know Loy and of his fine reputation. He has always been found to be a good citizen, a loyal husband, and a wonderful father. We feel that our county needs new blood in the sheriff's office, and we feel Loy Dalton is the man for the job.

He is putting forth every effort to call on each of you in person, but we know this will be impossible. So friends, let's all go to the polls on May 2 and cast our vote for your friend and mine, Loy W. Dalton. He is a man that pledges full time as your public servant toward an honest, clean, and impartial administration for all.

Wildcats Capture 3rd Place In Region Meet

Littlefield High School captured third place in the Region track and field meet at Odessa Saturday, qualifying a relay team and one individual to the state meet in Austin.

The Wildcats' fine mile relay team finished second to Fort Stockton, although both were timed in 3:19.7—the best of the year in Class AAA. Grover Pigrum won second in the broad jump to grab the other state meet spot for Littlefield High.

Kermit won the team trophy with 112 points, followed by Dumas with 77 and Littlefield with 58. Dumas, the district 1-AAA champ, qualified only two individuals to the state meet, however.

Dumas had edged the Wildcats in the mile relay in district competition, but the determined LHS crew turned the tables on the Demons at the region meet.

Both Pigrum and winner Freddy Cox of Colorado City broke the old regional broad jump record. Fox won with a leap of 23-8 3/4 while Pigrum tabbed a jump of 22-4.

Littlefield's other points at regional came on a third-place finish by Richard Funk in the pole vault, 3rd by Willie Johnson, 3rd by Pigrum in the 220-yard dash, 4th by Manuel Davila in the 880, 5th by Ronald Sitton in the 100, 5th by Larry Wood in the pole vault, and a 4th by the 440-yard relay team (Coffman, Sitton, Schovajsa, Pigrum).

Coach Ernie Davis reported that Funk hurt a foot while warming up for the vaulting event, otherwise he might have captured a second place. Sitton got a bad start in the century, too.

The mile relay event was the feature of the Class AAA division, where any of four teams figured to be in the running — Kermit, Fort Stockton, Dumas and Littlefield.

Misfortune struck the Kermit team on the first lap, however, when runner George True accidentally bumped Littlefield's Larry Schovajsa with his baton and dropped the all-important stick.

Schovajsa, who recently took over for the ailing Larry Coffman, ripped off a fine 50.8 opening lap to put the Wildcats in first place along with Dumas.

Sudan Tennis Tourney Slated

SUDAN—The 5th annual Sudan Jaycee Tennis Tournament gets underway today and continues through May 3.

The tourney is open only to persons living in the Sudan School District. Provided at least four entrants entered, the following divisions were scheduled:

Veterans singles and doubles, men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles, mixed doubles, men's novice singles, high school boys' singles and doubles, high school girls' singles and doubles, grade school boys' and girls' singles and doubles.

Sitton followed with a 50.1 quarter, and Wood turned the oval in 49.9 seconds to give anchorman Grover Pigrum a step's lead.

Pigrum zoomed around the final lap in 48.8 seconds, only to be nipped at the tape by Eloy Carrillo of Fort Stockton. Pigrum fought off the challenge of Dumas' fleet Johnny Collier and finished in almost a photo-finish with the Fort Stockton runner.

The 3:19.7 clocking broke the old region mark of 3:21.1 set by Andrews in 1958.

Coach Davis will enter his mile relay team in the Red Raider Relays at Texas Tech Saturday in a warmup for the state meet.

Finishing behind Littlefield in the region meet were Fort Stockton with 52 points, Monahans 38, Colorado City 26, Lamasa 26, Phillips 20, Brownfield 19, Andrews 19, Pecos 16, Ector 16, Perryton 7, Hereford 6, Lake View 2, Sweetwater 1.

Hall Named Sudan Coach

Henry Charles Hall, 30, of Menard was named last week as head football, basketball and track coach at Sudan High School.

Hall, selected from a field of 44 candidates, will assume his duties this fall. The coaching vacancy was created when football coach R. L. Brown was given a full-time assignment in girls' physical education and basketball, and former basketball coach Dempsey Watkins was reassigned as head of the math department.

Hall is married and the father of two children. In four years as head basketball coach at Menard, his teams won 48 and lost 25. In three years as head grid coach, his teams won 22, lost 9 and tied 2—winning district twice and bi-district once.

The new Hornet coach was a three-letter man at College High School in Bartlesville, Okla., winning varsity awards in football, basketball and track. He also lettered in the same sports at Lamar Junior College in Colorado, and attended the University of Colorado where he played football and baseball.

OLTON GOLF CHAMP

Anton 3rd In Regional Track

Lamb County athletes didn't fare too well in the Region 1 track and field meet in Lubbock Saturday, but Olton High School salvaged some honors on the sport scene by capturing the golf championship.

Olton's foursome carded a 316 score to edge Olney by five strokes for the Class AA title. Rusy Sherman and Roger Thompson each fired 74s to tie for runnerup spot in the medalist race, while Darrell Glover shot an 85 and Billy Cox an 83.

Amherst's Neil Duffy was medalist in the Class B tourney, shooting an 88. Amherst did not have a team in the meet. The Whitharral team was sixth in the tourney.

Anton made the best showing in the track contests, placing third in the Class B meet. Anton's 440-yard relay team and Melvin Bell qualified for the state meet. The relay team, composed of Bell, Bluffe, Eaton and Conkin, placed second, while Bell was first in the 100-yard dash.

McLendon Bilked Creditors Through Legal Loophole

By W. H. GRAHAM

Gordon McLendon, candidate for the Democratic nomination to U. S. Senate (opposing Ralph Yarborough), looked me straight in the eye Friday afternoon and told me the company in which he was a large stockholder beat the American Telephone and Telegraph Company out of thousands of dollars in 1952.

"I'm sorry it wasn't more," he added. "They had it coming."

This was accomplished by way of bankruptcy of the Liberty Broadcasting System, which owed AT&T and other creditors approximately $700,000 when the walls fell in.

Under law, an incorporated company, such as Liberty was, is a legal entity itself, and as such its liabilities are limited to its assets. In event of failure of the company, creditors have no recourse to the shareholders, but must satisfy their claims from a partitioning out of the assets of the company when it is liquidated.

McLendon, who said he owned 50 per cent of the company when it went under, struggled against enormous odds to build a radio network in the late 1940's. He recalled that the business lasted for about four and half years.

The principal stock in trade for Liberty at that time was its baseball broadcasts. McLendon, one of sportsdom's better known commentators, was doing the ball games for Liberty, and his colorful portrayal of the action was the main reason 458 stations contracted with the network.

As "The Old Scotchman" recalls it, Liberty lost its vitality and failed when it lost the major league ball games in 1952. McLendon says the company took both the American and National Leagues to court for pulling out, and that "about $200,000" in judgments was won.

Just how much was paid to whom isn't clear. It's all a matter of record at Dallas, where the bankruptcy petition is duly recorded, but McLendon is a little vague on the details.

Yarborough, McLendon's free-swinging opponent, alleged at a Democratic rally in Amarillo the day before our conversation that Liberty's debts were around $1,000,000 and that about $300,000 was paid — with the remaining $700,000 going down the drain.

As best as he can recall it, these figures are approximately within the range of reality. McLendon confirmed when I discussed it with him.

What's more, he emphasized, "I'd say that 30 cents on the dollar in a bankruptcy is pretty damned good."

It was my feeling that as the major shareholder in Liberty, and its principal "ramrod" McLendon might feel some personal responsibility for the debts which his company welched on through bankruptcy. However, he doesn't.

McLendon said the company did everything it could to "protect the little guys who couldn't afford it," and paid them off as much as possible before bankruptcy descended. I didn't get it straight if the bankruptcy was voluntary or forced upon them by their creditors, but as he explained their actions, I assumed it was voluntary. It sounded as if certain liquid assets of the company were paid out as far as they would go and the hull of Liberty was then abandoned in bankruptcy to the remaining creditors.

McLendon didn't remember the names of any creditors other than AT&T, but said that the huge communications firm was "far and away the biggest creditor." There were some others but he couldn't recall them. He said the line leases to AT&T ran on the order of $125,000 a month.

It was obvious that the Dallas radio man didn't think he was getting through to me about the bankruptcy question. He emphasized that he was not personally involved (legally, this is correct).

"I'm a businessman," he said. "I failed in business. But I'm kinda proud that I got up and came back." He repeated "I'm a businessman" two other times in our conversation, suggesting that this classification washed away any taint of moral turpitude.

McLendon talked freely and openly. He answered all questions directly. He was not the least hesitant to discuss any subject. He cooperated in stepping from a room filled with noisy people, where I met him, to another room where we were alone, except for Bob Hamilton of the Plains Farmer, who followed us out and asked some questions of his own.

McLendon was quoted Monday in the Dallas News (which has endorsed his candidacy), in a story under the byline of the usually reliable Wick Fowler as saying in Brownwood Sunday "I have never declared bankruptcy. I have always met my payroll."

Depending on how you look at it, that could be a technicality.

sidewalks of New York a variety of meanings and missions but to Rev. Stanley Crocchiola, Priest at St. Philip's Catholic Church in Pep, an Evening School art student at South Plains College, it is one impression in particular, murder.

in New York City, Oct. 1908, Rev. Crocchiola decided as a teenager to do what would abolish hate, bitterness and suffering after witnessing five murders on the New York sidewalks during liquor law prohibition days. The was so impressed by the derous acts, and their igit cause, that he could never be it from his mind.

ev. Crocchiola's parents other plans than the Priest-ship for their son, the sixth of a family of nine children. They planned for him to become a physician. This would not have been difficult as young Stanley was a good student and his parents were financially able to send him to the very best of schools.

The Priesthood seemed the logical avenue to help in the effort to bring about the ideals that had been implanted in the young man. When he announced to his parents that he wanted to become a Priest, his father said the decision would be entirely up to him; then he would have only himself to blame if he did not succeed.

Friends were shocked that he should make such a decision. Young Stanley was considered a rather prankish youngster. For example, on one occasion he drove a parked beer wagon around a block in the city on a nickle bet as the team was innocently waiting for the driver. His personality, plus other things, caused his parents to doubt whether or not their son was serious about his decision. His mother had been a school teacher in Italy and his father, who studied under St. Gaudens, America's foremost bronze sculptor. He worked in New York City and did much of the sculpturing which is still an elegant part of Radio City.

Young Stanley went to New York's public schools, to high school and on to college at the Catholic University in Washington, D. C. He spent some of his early school years in boarding schools at Nanuet and Catskill, N. Y.

He was reared by a mother who was very strict about her son's environment. Once at Greenwich Village where Eugene O'Neill was putting on a play, "Agatha Christi," at the Province Town Play House, the young man wanted very much to see the rehearsal; but the mother said "stay out of the filthy place, it will corrupt your morals." He attributes much of his satisfaction in his life's work to his 86-year-old mother, whom he visits annually in Westwood, N. J.

The young student took philosophy and theology at Washington University, plus majoring in English Literature. After his ordination in 1938, he taught at St. John's College in Garrison, N. Y.

A very full schedule, consisting of twenty-seven classes a week proved too much for the young Priest and the doctor advised that he go to a dry climate, after finding spots on his lungs. He was sent to Hereford, Texas, where the Priests of the school had connections. He was sent there only with the understanding that he would come back to teach at St. John's. He returned in about six months and taught two more months when he had a recurrence of the illness. He was told again to go west where he has remained.

He became Priest of the Catholic Church at Taos, N.M. "This opened new horizons for me," said Rev. Crocchiola, "it opened my eyes to the hospitality and the generosity of the people of the southwest." So much so, that he has devoted his spare time to the writing of books on the Southwest. At present Rev. Crocchiola is the author of twenty-five books and forty-two pamphlets on the Southwest. He uses the pen name of F. Stanley. The writings are so regional, so dedicated to the southwest that Harvard University, Colorado University, University of Texas, Texas Tech, University of Chicago, Denver University, California University, Huntington Library in California and numerous other colleges and universities have a standing order for one copy each of his books.

They are placed in research libraries of the institutions. Also a few collectors are owners of his books. His writings, according to Rev. Crocchiola, have been anything but profitable. He gives many of his editions as gifts. He feels that each book placed in another's hand is another source of spreading the history of the southwest, the region that has been so kind to him and where he has been able to fulfill his ambitions.

The Priest showed a flair for writing as early as a seventh grade student when he wrote a short story entitled "East Side, West Side." From that time on he decided he would like to write, and in college he took a course in journalism. In both high school and college he served as editor of the school papers.

How he started to write on a larger scale? He was sitting in a cafe in Pecos, N.M. when the owner began telling that the bullet hole in one of the windows was made by Jesse James. Rev. Crocchiola was almost positive that Jesse James had never been to Pecos; and he felt a sense of responsibility of giving the true facts which are far more interesting than the false ones people were forced to hear. After much research, Rev. Crocchiola compiled material for his book on that section of the country.

Most of the patterns of his books follow the Royal House of Spain, including the color scheme of red and gold, which are also the colors of the State of New Mexico. Each book contains from 300 to 800 pages and the pamphlets are from 18 to 34 were working in the fields at the time and the young women helped with the construction as their organization's service project. The school was a little monument to the efforts of the group.

Lamb County Leader, Littlefield, Texas, Thursday, April 30, 1964

Many nights Rev. Crocchiola rode horseback to visit the sick and on many occasions he was not familiar with the road, only hoping that the horse knew the way better than he. Two times in his life he was lost in the snow, once when he was seven years old, when he fell from the back of a sleigh and because of the noise of the sleigh bells, he was not missed for some time. He was lost three days at that time but was well taken care of in a farm home.

The second time was near Taos as he was enroute to a burial at a small mountain village, Tres Montes. Something happened to his car and he became partially frozen as he attempted to repair the car from underneath. He passed out in the 20 below zero weather and a young man bringing a load of lumber in a wagon to his uncle found the young Priest and took him to his uncle's home. He still suffers from the severe frostbite he received during that experience. In spite of the hardships he experienced during the years he resided in Taos, he still holds a very warm spot in his heart for Taos and its people.

Rev. Crocchiola has been at the Pep church since Feb. 11, 1963, and prior to that time he served Catholic churches at St. Francis, Hereford, White Deer, Rotan, Dumas, Canadian, and Lubbock, in Texas; and in New Mexico, at Socorro, Taos, Villa Neuva, Raton, Pecos and Sabello.

He has celebrated the 25th year of his ordination and the 24th year of being a resident of the Southwest.

He is very interested in his study of oil painting at South Plains College under the direction of Don Stroud and says that his only regret is that he does not get to attend more classes.

Rev. Crocchiola, in reiterating over his youth in New York City, says there was always an atmosphere of defiance and hostility. "If you defied a thing strongly enough, somehow you conquered it," he said.

"There seemed never to be a hospitable or charitable approach to a friendship. People suspected one who wanted to do a good turn. I found in Texas and the southwest, open heartedness. I have become a converted yankee. I learned to see the other side of the problem in which there was always a selfish motive. I am now a very happy and contented person with my ministry and my hobbies."

as the people in the east; consequently he has discharged any feeling of guilt for not having returned to the east for his ministry.

During the time he was serving the church in Pecos, with only the help of five or six young women, members of the organization "Children of Mary," he mixed adobe and built a two-room building which served as a school for the children in the area. The men

New Bidrin Insecticide lies in wait inside cotton—knocks out thrips, fleahoppers, aphids, mites, lygus wherever they attack tender foliage

Above: magnified cross sections of cotton leaves. In left picture, Bidrin (dark strip, top) kills cotton insect with contact action, covers and protects leaf surface. 24 hours later, Bidrin has entered leaf tissue (picture right). Insect attacking from below where spray didn't reach—sucks up Bidrin with juices. This systemic action keeps protecting 7 to 14 days.

Magnified cross sections of cotton leaves (above) show how one application of new Bidrin keeps working 7 to 14 days, rain or shine.

BIDRIN is the new phosphate insecticide that kills cotton pests with both contact and systemic actions.

- It kills all major cotton insects on contact, at time of spraying—even weevils and worms.
- It enters and spreads through plant tissue, makes cotton deadly to thrips, aphids, fleahoppers, mites, lygus.
- When insects attack, they die—even if they pierce bottom of leaves where spray doesn't reach. This is systemic action. It keeps working 7 to 14 days.

Proven by growers
New Bidrin's amazing two-way action paid off for thousands of cotton growers in '63. They grew more cotton. And, thanks to early insect control with Bidrin, a higher percent of their crop was early, high-quality, bottom cotton.

Weather resistant—economical
Soon after spraying, Bidrin enters your cotton plants. Once inside, rain can't wash it off. Sun can't break it down. Bidrin has practically eliminated weather as a cause for re-spraying.

Bidrin costs little compared to insecticides that can't begin to do the same kind of job. Bidrin's long-lasting effectiveness means fewer sprays. With Bidrin you avoid buying early insect control at seeding before you know whether or not insects will come. Bidrin gives you systemic control, yet it lets you wait and see. Result: maximum insect control at minimum cost.

Get Bidrin from your pesticide supplier. Many brands available.

Always read and follow label directions. For more information write: Shell Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemicals Division, Post Office Box 2099, Houston 1, Texas.

Maintain control with endrin-methyl parathion
During squaring and fruiting, stay ahead of insects with endrin-methyl parathion. It knocks out bollworms and weevils plus many other insects—quickly and surely. Gives you maximum length of control per spray, minimum number of sprays to do the job. Send for free, full-color booklet.

New Prometryne herbicide works wonders for Texas cotton

Prometryne® 80W brings a new dimension to cotton weed control in the South Plains. It offers a one-herbicide program that will take care of most weeds from planting to picking. Apply Prometryne preemergence or post-emergence or at layby, or at all three times if weed conditions so dictate.

Gets tough weeds...including carelessweed

Three years of research by State and Federal researchers in Texas proved the effectiveness of Prometryne in controlling most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton. It does an outstanding job, for example, in handling carelessweed (pigweed).

Versatility of application

Prometryne is extremely versatile. You can use it as preemergence spray at planting. You can use it as a directed postemergence spray after both weeds and cotton are up. You can spray it at layby to control weeds through the rest of the season. Use it once, twice, three times...whatever weed conditions dictate.

How Prometryne works

Applied preemergence, Prometryne is carried into the soil by rainfall or overhead irrigation. It is absorbed by germinating weed roots and soon after weeds break ground, they die. No need to work Prometryne into soil. Applied after weeds are up, Prometryne kills by direct action on weed foliage and through roots.

tryne kills by direct action on weed foliage and through roots.

Safe to use

Prometryne is safe to cotton when used according to label directions. It leaves no residues in cotton seed. It is safe to handle and non-irritating to humans and animals. A fall seeded crop should not be planted in the same year following the application of Prometryne 80W.

Available this spring

Since this is the introductory year for Prometryne, only limited quantities are available. Plan to make a preemergence application to at least a portion of your acreage at planting. Then follow through with postemergence and/or layby treatments if necessary. See what outstanding, economical weed control you can have.

To order Prometryne, or for more information, contact your supplier, or: Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N.Y.

AT ODESSA, PLAINVIEW Mike Sanders Wins Optimist Contest, Second In UIL Event

Mike Sanders, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sanders of Littlefield, made a flying trip to Plainview Saturday to capture the first-place trophy in an oratorical contest sponsored by the Optimist Clubs of Zone C, District 38.

Representing the newly-formed Optimist Club of Littlefield, Mike won the zone contest in competition with nine other boys representing clubs in the zone. He also earned an expense-paid trip to Dallas to compete in the district Optimist contest.

The accomplishment marked the second award-winning talk of the day by the Littlefield High School sophomore. Saturday morning Mike was runner-up in prose reading at the University Interscholastic League contest in Odessa.

And that's where the "flying trip" came in. Mike entered the UIL contest, representing LHS, at 8 a.m. Saturday. Following the critique and presentation award about 10 a.m., Mike was whisked away by Doss Maner for his first airplane ride. Littlefield Optimists arranged for Maner to fly Sanders to Plainview so he could make the 3 p.m. contest in that city. "It was real exciting," said Mike of the airplane ride. "Mr. Maner said the weather was a little rough, but I enjoyed every minute of the ride."

It must not have been too upsetting, because Mike's five-minute speech on "Optimism—Formula for Freedom," won the contest. He received an attractive gold trophy as well as the trip to Dallas.

Second-place winner in the Plainview contest was Don Malcik, 14, of Lubbock. Dennis Graham, 15, another Lubbock youngster, took third place.

A senior from Fort Stockton edged Mike for top honors in the prose reading competition at Odessa. Mike will be alternate for the state contest.

test in Plainview; at right is a medal for runner-up honors in the Regional UIL prose reading competition at Odessa. Mike, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sanders.

ON LATIMER FARM Whirlwind Gets Barn

A tornado-like whirlwind ripped off one side of a barn on the E.L. Latimer farm north of Littlefield Monday, causing extensive damage to the building and battering two cotton trailers.

The strong wind lifted one side and top of the metal barn off its wooden frame. The metal frame knocked over one cotton trailer and came to rest against another.

Latimer, who farms land 5 miles north and 1/2 mile east of town, said the whirlwind whipped out of the northwest and just missed his house as it passed through an orchard. The incident occurred about 11 a.m. Monday at a time when strong gusts of wind were prevalent.

Latimer has been farming the land for a number of years. It is owned by Charles and Marcus Mesecke of Smithville.

The incident reminded Latimer that a tornado dipped down over the farm on July 13, 1956, completely destroying a barn. The concrete foundations of the old barn still stand near the recently damaged building.

"This was no tornado Monday, but it was sure a strong whirlwind," Latimer observed. Latimer added that strong winds Sunday damaged his son's garage not far away. No other major wind damage was reported, but the strong gusts lifted some shingles on roof tops and left other minor marks of its passing.

Miss Sandra Stout, bride-elect of James Ray Hyatt, will be honored with a bridal shower Saturday, May 2 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Elmer Moore.

It's the Law in TEXAS

To make the Texas Safety Responsibility Law as effective as possible, the 1963 Legislature enacted several amendments. The strengthened law became effective January 1, 1964.

To protect your driver's license and motor vehicle registration, you should know the Thursday - Pinto beans, ham chunks, spinach and relish cornbread and butter, peanut butter cookies, milk.

Friday - Sandwiches, tuna and pimento cheese, potato chips, sliced pickles, ice cream bar, milk.

following facts about this new law:

In any accident in which a person is killed or injured or where there is damage to the property of any one person to an apparent extent of at least $25 or more, the operator of every motor vehicle involved is required within 10 days to report the accident in writing to the Texas Department of Public Safety. If the accident involved death, personal injury or damage to one person's property of at least $100, the accident then comes under the Safety Responsibility Act and its requirements must be met. Accident report forms can be obtained from any law enforcement officer.

The Department of Public Safety is required by the new law to suspend the driver licenses and all motor vehicle registration plates of both the operator and owner of vehicles involved in an accident coming under the Safety Responsibility

Law. UNLESS:

Evidence of liability insurance coverage in the minimum amounts of $10,000 where one person was injured or killed, $20,000 where more than one, and $5,000 for property damage is reported to the Department of Public Safety, OR a release signed by damaged or injured persons is filed with the Department of Public Safety. Other evidence of financial responsibility is covered by the new act. In addition, the operator and owner must file proof of financial responsibility for the future and maintain it for five years.

(This newfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)
