Newton was an easy out. One hit, one run, no errors.

Al Mueller went out to first, Mick Ratliff beat out a hit to short, but was called out by McGavock, who was calling bases for the Cats. Gaither grounded out. One hit, no runs and no errors.

Comment on the Game
The base hits were about even on both sides, the visitors getting 12 to the home team 11. Littlefield made six earned runs, while the Cats made five, the other five being accounted for by errors and bad plays.

The Fort Worth boys left stating that Littlefield had shown them the best time anywhere on their trip. They most thoroughly enjoyed the luncheon given them by the Littlefield Rotarians, as well as other courtesies extended them while here.

The game was a success financially as well as otherwise, and the management of the home club wishes to express their sincere thanks to every person for their support in making the game a success.

The total attendance was estimated at about 700, about 400 paying admission.

SHERIFF LEN IRVIN GETS A CHEVROLET AND THREE QTS.

Sheriff Len Irvin last Wednesday brought in a Chevrolet cabriolet, containing three quarts of whiskey, the car being recovered about four miles north of Littlefield, on the state highway.

Investigation proved the car belonged to a man by the name of Cone, who was a painter living in Lubbock. It had been stolen from Lubbock, the thieves running it until it was out of gas, when discovered by the sheriff.

Jones Given Fine

M. H. Jones, residing in the northwest part of town, was arrested Sunday night by Sheriff Len Irvin and taken to jail at Olton.

He was charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, several citizens of that section complaining, according to Irvin. He paid a fine of $95.10.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

Monday afternoon a group of high school girls met at the home of Miss Vesta Henson to organize a club, which was named the O. G. S., club. Miss Vesta Henson was elected president and Miss Kathryn Dunagin as secretary-treasurer.

After the business of the club was discussed, salad, cake and punch was served to the following members:

Misses Josephine Glenn, Bernice Wales, Kathryn Dunagin, Mattie Middleton, Pauline Courtney, Fern Thornton, Vesta Henson and Maurine Irvin.

C. R. SINGER WAS BURIED IN THE LFD CEMETERY O'N FRI.

The funeral services of C. R. Singer, who died suddenly in his home Thursday of last week, were held Friday afternoon. They were held by Rev. Geo. Turrentine, of the Methodist church, and Rev. Roy Kemp, of the Baptist church, Smith-Hammons Undertaking Co., being in charge of funeral arrangements. Interment was in the Littlefield cemetery.

Mr. Singer had been a citizen of Littlefield for about three years, and during the past two years was the very efficient manager of the State Telephone Co., here. He was widely known throughout this section and had a large circle of friends who regret his sudden departure from this life.

Death was evidently due to heart failure. The body was found lying across the bed in his home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. G. Singer, living near by, made the discovery. His wife had been away visiting friends in Memphis and Plainview, and was not due to return until Sunday. Wednesday night she talked with him over the telephone from Plainview. He was also seen late that evening by several fellow citizens, who reported him in good health and spirits. From the manner in which he was found lying upon his bed, he was either just arising or preparing to retire. Apparently death came instantly and without any suffering at all.

Mrs. Singer stated that while the death of her husband came as a terrible shock, yet she felt that he had anticipated that he would go in such a manner. It was not his first attack of heart trouble, and, only a few days before she left for her visit, he talked with her regarding his funeral arrangements should he pass this life during her absence. "Ours was indeed a happy married life," said Mrs. Singer. "I had known him since I was a girl fourteen years of age, and we had been married more than three years. Hence he was almost a brother to me as well as becoming my husband. We had planned on a big dinner in celebration of my twenty-first birthday. Mr. Singer did not attend church very regularly, but I believe there was scarcely a day passed but he did not read his Bible. We often conversed upon religious matters, and he has frequently stated he had no fear whatever of the future when his time came to meet it."

Besides his wife; father, A. R. Singer, of Littlefield; and son, Verne, who is in the U. S. Marine service, in Nicaragua, Mr. Singer is also survived by one sister, Mrs. A. C. Hendricks of Lubbock, and six brothers, as follows:

V. A. Singer, Guyton, Okla., W. C. Singer, C. E. Singer, Jimmy Singer, A. C. Singer, Littlefield, and O. L. Singer, Lubbock, also numerous other relatives.

The deceased was born April 14, 1888, at Terrell, Texas, and was therefore past 40 years of age at death.

WEDDED AT THE CHURCH

J. J. Greuel, of Littlefield and Miss Alma Peters, of Rosebud, were married Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock in the Sacred Heart Catholic church by Rev. Charles J. Dvorak, local minister.

The wedding ceremony, which was also accompanied by a short and appropriate discourse by the minister, was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Gully, of Slaton, and other friends of the contracting parties, also some of the parishioners attending the early morning service.

They will make their home in Littlefield.

METHODISTS EAT MELONS

A watermelon social was given Friday night for the Methodist membership and their friends.

Games were played and everyone had a good time.

The melon eating seemed to be the feature of the evening, judging from the amount consumed.

Rev. Turrentine, pastor, stated that this would not be the only affair of this kind that would be held at the Methodist church. He intends that the congregation get together often for parties and social gatherings.

L F D. WINS FROM AMHERST IN FIRST GAME OF FOOTBALL

The Littlefield High school football team won its first game of the season last Friday afternoon when Amherst High school team took a 6 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Wildcats.

Unfortunate misunderstandings among the officials who were calling the game resulted in a slow game but Coach J. R. Tucker had a chance to see the weak points of his men while under fire and the men themselves found wherein they were lacking and gained much valuable experience. The playing field was in poor condition, and it was difficult for either team to play fast football. The defensive work of both teams was commendable but Amherst failed to show any marked offensive, while that of the Littlefield lads showed flashes of real football.

Littlefield scored early in the first quarter and continually threatened to score until the last whistle found them on Amherst's three yard line with four downs to go. The Wildcats carried the ball over the goal line a couple of times in addition to the first touchdown, only to be called back for penalties.

There is no doubt but the Littlefield team is going to develop into a real football machine this year and be a dangerous contender for district honors. Next Friday is an open date and if a game is scheduled later in the week, notice will be given by posters and handbills.

G. D. Daugherty, of Olton, representing the South Plains Poultry association, including six counties of this section, was here Tuesday in the interest of that organization.

A depot has been established at the Littlefield Coal & Grain Co., for receiving member eggs produced. There are four other depots in the county; Olton, Amherst, Sudan and Earth.

J. T. Elms, of this city, is a director in the association.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Vernie V. Wright, Mrs. Bessie Tuttle, Mrs. Susie Rowe, Mrs. Blanche Dodgen, Mrs. S. J. Farquhar and Miss Lulu Hubbard.

LAMB CO. EXHIBIT READY FOR PLACE AT LUBBOCK FAIR

The Lamb County agriculture exhibit is all ready to be taken to Lubbock for the South Plains fair, according to D. A. Adams and Prof. Helweg, who have been gathering in the fine specimens during the past two weeks.

Mr. Adams states they were able to entirely fill the score card, many of the items being exceptionally good, and expects to be able to bring home some money after the awards have been made.

The exhibit will be set up Friday night at the old skating rink, and local citizens are invited to come see it and offer any suggestions they may have for improving the arrangements.

A good homemade furniture polish is made by mixing one part of raw linseed oil with two parts of turpentine. A little melted beeswax may be added.

THE CITY MARSHAL COLLECTS FINES OF $103 DURING WEEK

"What you wants dis time o' night Mr. Fred?"

The voice came from a negro winch on the inside of the door, and she was addressin City Marshal Fred Hoover. The said "law" had reasons to believe everything was not according to the Texas statutes on the inside of that house, and he was making an official investigation.

Opening the door he found two black negroes lying in the bed, and a vacant place between them from which a third person had evidently crawled out. "Who are those two people," asked the marshal. "Dey's my two little brudders," replied the woman. But Fred wasn't entirely satisfied with the explanation, and requiring the men to dress, brought them down to the City hall, where the proper charges and fines were duly assessed.

Another negro that same night surrendered a perfectly good mandolin and banjo in lieu of sufficient cash to square with the "law." Two white men, also, contributed their bits on preferred charges.

During the week the City Marshal collected fines amounting to $103.05, an amount the boys of the Fire Department will be glad to use in buying some needed hose equipment.

FOLKS INTERESTED IN HOME AGENT TO A S K COMMISSION

Miss Myrtle Murry, district home demonstration agent, with headquarters at College Station, was in Littlefield Tuesday in the interest of establishing a home demonstration agent in Lamb county.

During the early part of the week she visited various parts of the county, everywhere finding the greatest favorable enthusiasm in behalf of this work. It is stated that most of the County Commissioners are in favor of putting on the work and making financial appropriations required for the agent's salary. In all sections of the county the women are heartily in favor of it. This week petitions are being circulated in Olton, Spring Lake, Littlefield and other sections of the county asking for a favorable consideration of the Commissioners Court at its next meeting.

According to Miss Murry, it is important that action be taken as soon as possible, so as to get on the waiting list, since the supply of state money for this department of work is limited.

SNOWDEN BUYS THE LFD. COAL AND GRAIN CONCERN

Homer Snowden has purchased the Littlefield Coal & Grain Co., business taking charge of same last week. He states the new firm will continue to handle the same reputable lines of grain and feed stuffs as heretofore.

This week they are building a loading conveyor, something unique and different from anything of its kind on the South Plains. The fact that it will dump a load of grain from a farmer's wagon in 45 seconds and load an entire car of grain in two minutes time demonstrates its value during the season of rush business. They expect to have the new machine in operation within the next 10 days.

Mr. Snowden has been a citizen of Littlefield for the past five years, while his assistant, E. G. Courtney, is one of the town's oldest citizens, having resided here for the past 15 years.

The Lamb County fair will be held in Amherst, Friday and Saturday, October 12 and 13. Great preparations are being made for the event, and it is anticipated there will be a large attendance and an excellent display of products on exhibition.

TWO RECIPES FOR HOMEMADE CANDY

Can Be Tried at Next Candy Pull by Young Folks.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
Here are two recipes for homemade candies that can be tried at the next candy pull given by your young people. The United States Department of Agriculture supplies the recipes.

Peanut Brittle.
1 cup white corn syrup
1 cup freshly roasted peanuts
1/2 cup fine sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cook the corn syrup, vinegar and salt in a saucepan until a little dropped in cold water forms a soft ball. Put the peanuts and stir until the syrup becomes a golden brown. Remove from the fire and stir in the vanilla. Have ready a shallow buttered pan, pour candy in and spread out in a thin sheet. Allow to cool, then remove from pan and crack into pieces.

Nut-Coated Marshmallows.
1 cup blanched almonds
1 cup English walnuts
1/2 cup medium brown sugar
2-3 cup water
1/2 cup pecan kernels
1/2 cup fresh soft marshmallows
1/2 teaspoon salt

Chop the nuts very fine, and shake through a sieve to get the pieces uniform. Add the salt to the chopped nuts and stir well.

Make a syrup of the brown sugar and water, boiling it to 108 degrees C., or 226 degrees F. If no thermometer is available the syrup should be boiled until it "threads" from the spoon; but this method of determining the right moment to take it off the fire is not so accurate or satisfactory. Remove the saucepan from the flame when the temperature of 108 degrees C., or 226 degrees F. is reached, and set in a larger vessel of hot water. At once drop the marshmallows one by one into the hot syrup, using forks to handle them. Remove promptly and roll at once in the chopped nuts. Place on oiled paper to dry. If the syrup gets so cool that it begins to harden, place it over the flame to reheat, but do not allow it to come to a boil.
If there is a coating of loose starch or powdered sugar on the marshmallows brush or shake it off before dipping them into the syrup.

WORMS A MENACE TO LAMB CO. POULTRY

When the poultry flock gets to looking dull and unthrifty and the combs and wattles become shriveled, rough and colorless, the flock is the victim of worms. Such infestations have spread to such an extent that worms are now considered one of the greatest handicaps to profitable poultry production in Texas," said D. A. Adam, county agent, who has made that a major portion of his program for the coming year.

"A severe infestation," he says,

Would You Know One If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers — washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borzone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borzone at Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.

may altogether stop egg production, for worms slowly poison the birds, inflame their intestines and sometimes completely clog the intestinal tract. Worms so lower the vitality of the flock as to make it easy prey of such ailments as colds, roup and chicken pox."

"Round worms are much more common than tape worms, but both species are best controlled by sanitary measures, such as sanitation of the soil around the poultry premises by plowing at least three times a year; cleaning drop boards and poultry houses weekly; and by avoiding dirty, sloppy water vessels and wet grounds on the poultry premises. Feed troughs should be designed to keep birds from getting in with their feet and from standing where droppings fall in the feed. Since young stock is more easily and fatally affected than mature birds, brooder houses should be located on grounds separate from the rest of the flock and pullets should be wormed before placing them in the laying houses or yards.

"While preventative measures are most effective, Mr. Adam, finds in carrying on his program that worms can be gotten rid of by the use of "Nema" capsules, very effectively, and there are several other remedies that can be used to a great success. In turkeys the doses are doubled. For other information on this matter the farmers of this county are urged to get into touch with the County agent and arrange for a demonstration to be held at their farm to help put over the most vital program.

G. S. UNDERWOOD TO HAVE CHARGE OF LOCAL COMPRESS

G. S. Underwood, new manager of the Union Compress & Warehouse Co., located here, has arrived to become manager of that concern, taking the place of J. H. Eidson, in charge last year. He is also one of the stockholders of the enterprise.

Mr. Underwood has moved his family here, bought a lot and will build a home in the near future, becoming one of the city's bona fide residents.

For 16 years he was in charge of the compress at DeLeon, and is therefore a man of large experience in his particular line.

He states that the prospects for the cotton crop in this immediate section are much better than that of last year while the acreage is also, considerably increased.

GROW FINE MELONS

Anyone who thinks watermelons of the big luscious type don't grow around Littlefield has another think coming.

The Leader is in receipt of two; one a 50 pounder from Roy Gattis, and the other weighing 60 pounds from Zeb Robinson, and they were as fine flavored as one ever lapped their lip over.

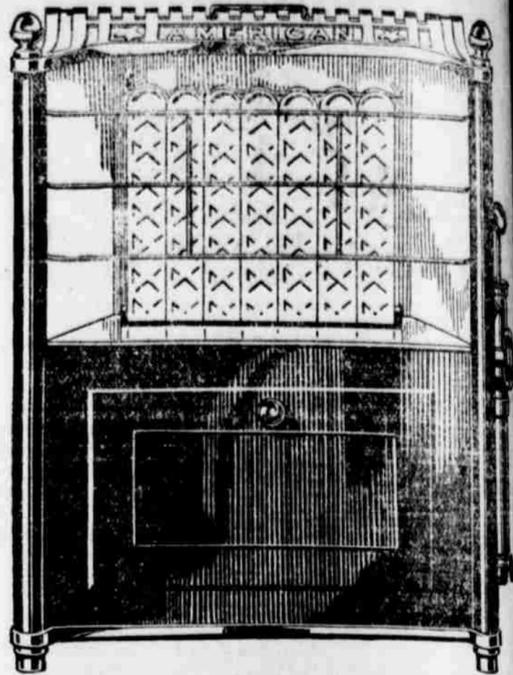

Mr. Gattis had only a few rows in his garden, but they were all topnotchers. Mr. Robinson planted one acre of the melons. He stated he had already sold $45.00 worth from the patch, given away lots to the neighbors, and had about $40.00 worth more to sell.

MORAL EQUIPMENT IMPORTANT FACTOR IN LIFE SUCCESS

By S. W. STRAUS, President
American Society for Thrift

No one, at the beginning of life, ever expects to fail. The lamp of hope burns brightly when one is young. But hope alone cannot bring success. There must be concrete action along right lines. Steadily step by step, the desired ends must be attained. Where there is persistent effort with freedom from wrongful methods of conduct and living, there can be no such thing as ultimate failure.

Thrift keeps one constantly within the bounds of prudent living. Failure in a general way, moral soundness, as well as economic stability, therefore, are inevitable accompaniments of thrift practice.

Thrift is a character tonic. It develops the will and strengthens the moral fibre. Through it one is better able to forego those habits of life that are harmful. It equips us both for the temptations and the vicissitudes of life.

No man can practice thrift without being not only independent financially but a better citizen in general. It is these aspects of thrift which should appeal strongly to parents and to all persons engaged in educational duties.

Let us send forth our young men and our young women into the world with a thorough appreciation of the moral as well as the material values of thrift.

Success in life is not to be measured by material standards, but by moral ones.

Learn the value of thrift. No better safeguard against failure can be provided than such an equipment.

Ancient Order Survives

The Order of St. John, which dates from the year 1048, is the sole survivor of the many orders of knight hood formed in connection with the Crusades.

But for cork

There are some things in the world, a President of the Dairy States can work a year and not save enough to buy a set on the New York stock exchange.—Hartford Courant

The DAIRY

TERMS COMMONLY USED IN DAIRYING

Dairying is practically a new line to many farmers, and it is well that they become familiar with the terms commonly used in dairying practice, says M. R. Tolstrup, associate professor of dairying at Clemson college, South Carolina, who explains below some of the common terms.

The Babcock test is a quick, simple, inexpensive and accurate means of finding the butter fat content in the various dairy products; namely, butter, cheese, ice cream, cream, whole milk, skim milk, buttermilk and whey.

The sediment test is a simple device, by use of which it is possible to find the amount of impurities contained in milk. The purpose of the test is to improve cleanliness in producing milk.

The moisture test is a simple test to determine the amount of moisture contained in butter. The federal government limits the amount to 16 per cent or less.

The salt test is an easy and inexpensive means of telling how much salt there is in butter.

The acidity test is a particular, inexpensive and rapid means of telling whether milk and cream are sweet by determining the percentage of acidity that it contains.

Over-run in butter making means the difference between the number of pounds of butter fat put into the churn and the number of pounds of finished butter made from same. The difference is made up of water, salt and casein (or curd).

Standardization of dairy products means bringing them to a certain desired composition. It is used especially in ice cream making, in market ice cream, and in some places in market and modified milk.

Lining Tank With Cork

Saves Milk-House Ice

Great savings in ice can be made by dairy farmers through the use of cork-lined cooling tanks, states E. R. Gross, agricultural engineer at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture, New Brunswick.

The construction of such a tank is comparatively simple and the additional expense is quickly offset by the saving in ice. When finished, the tank is really three boxes fitting snugly into each other. The outer of concrete, the middle of cork and the inner of concrete.

First a pit of the necessary depth is dug. A three-inch floor of concrete is then laid and over that is placed the cork board. The sides are then built up of cork board, leaving space enough between the side of the pit and the cork so that three inches of concrete can be poured to form the outer shell. Thus the cork acts as the inside form. All the cork board should be painted with tar before it is placed.

To place the inside shell of concrete an inside form is built, leaving a three-inch clearance from the cork. The sides and bottom are then poured. When the concrete sets the tank is finished.

A good tight lid will complete a tank which will save about one-half the ice ordinarily used for milk cooling. Such a lid may be filled with ground cork or a layer of cork board and should fit snugly on the tank. A strip of felt between the lid and the tank makes an airtight job.

Exceptional strength can be given the tank by placing reinforcing rods in the outside concrete shell at the time of pouring.

Ground Grain for Cows

Grain that is fed to dairy cows should always be ground. When whole grain is fed to cows too much of the grain goes through the cow undigested which causes a lot of wasted energy which the cow should use to make milk.

Ordinarily it will make very little difference whether the corn is shelled and ground or the corn and cob ground. The essential thing is to have the grain ground fine in either case.

Dairy Squibs

A dairy cow's feed requirements are measured by her body weight and milk production.

What a sow is fed affects profits more than any other element in her care and keep.

It is said the product of a really good cow averages $142.45 a year above the cost of her feed.

Start culling out the boarder cows. Set a standard of production not below 200 pounds of fat per year.

Dry pastures and dry milk cows go together. A good soiling crop—green growing corn, for instance—is the dry pasture's most efficient assistant.

The average cow in milk may be expected to eat approximately 30 pounds of silage each day in addition to some additional dry roughage and concentrates.

Curbing the Growth of Weeds

This picture illustrates a process invented by a Hawaiian planter that may bring the weedless garden to every yard. The up-to-date crop producer applies paper to the floor of his garden, which shuts off the growth of weeds between rows and permits the real crops to obtain the full benefit of the moisture and plant food contained within the soil. Charles F. Eckart is the inventor of the unique method shown in this picture. The heavy paper is impregnated with asphalt. Among other advantages, this process eliminates the hoe.

Since 1880 the annual value of mineral production in Texas has increased from about $1,000,000 to some $300,000,000 today. It spoils a favor if you are asked to return it.

A NEW ALARM

Reports that a successful cotton-picking machine, one that actually picks it cleanly and quickly and as fast as a small army of hand-pickers could do the same job, are now appearing in the daily press. Hundreds of attempts to perfect an invention of this kind have failed, and this may be just another instance. There are millions of people who hope it is a failure, for millions believe that anything that would replace the cotton-pickers of the south would be a disaster instead of a blessing.

But maybe there isn't any good reason for fright after all. Older Littlefield residents can remember that when the self-binder first came out farm laborers were alarmed. They thought it was going to drive the farm-hand to starvation, and many binders were actually burned in the wheat fields by those who claimed to see in them a device for reducing the number of farm jobs. The printers thought the same thing when the typesetting machine came out, a machine that sets type as fast mechanically as five compositors can set it by hand. And yet there are more printers today than ever before—and all earning two, three and four times as much as they were getting before.

The cotton-picking machine may be a blessing in that it will drive a certain number of jobs that pay more. It will not be a success if it deprives anyone of a living, however, because the people themselves will not endorse a machine that does that. It may, after all, like the self-binder and the typesetting machine, prove a blessing in disguise. We can only wait and see.

Now that they've discovered that William Tell didn't shoot the apple and Washington didn't cut the cherry tree we suppose they'll soon be telling us that Sitting Bull did his sleeping standing up.

OUR WINTER WEATHER

Weather prophets, who many months ago predicted this would be "another year without a summer," seem to have sneaked into a hole and pulled the hole in after them. At least we're not hearing any predictions as to what kind of a winter we're going to have.

One brave soul, however, bobs up in Chicago with the statement that "a long, hot summer is always followed by a severe, cold winter." That's about the only chirp we've seen in the papers, and if Littlefield citizens generally are as sensible as we believe they are, they will refuse to place very much faith in it. The corn-husk and the goose-bone prophets haven't yet come forward with their usual announcements of what the winter is going to be like. And yet we will manage to struggle along without such forecasts, and take what comes. We're all entitled to a guess. So it is our guess that old Mother Nature is going to send us the kind of weather she wants us to have, regardless of prophets and prognosticators.

It seems all political candidates were reared by strict parents, but somehow or other they got into politics.

WHO GETS IT?

Getting around to coal-burning weather again Littlefield citizens will do well to think a little before placing the blame for prices that are higher than they consider just. Last week a miner's strike was settled, and in the Illinois mines, when the men returned to work, it was at a scale that nets them 91c a ton for the coal they dig. Pause and think what a wide spread there is between the 91c the miner gets and the price you pay for it in your cellar. But don't blame the local dealer—for if he is making a profit of a dollar a ton he is doing well, and having a hard time keeping his head above the water at that.

Mine operators and transportation lines must then be reaping the harvest. There are several dollars between what the miner gets for a ton of coal and what your dealer and you have to pay for it. Since the coal you buy from will tell you what coal costs him it ought to be easy for you to learn just what that wide spread actually amounts to, and just as easy to figure out where the difference goes.

We'll have to grin and bear it. But there is one thing very apparent in this country just now, and that should be investigated at once. Either the coal mine operators and the railroads are getting too much or the miners are getting too little.

Why is it people always believe what others say about you quicker than they believe what you say about yourself?

FIRE PREVENTION

Fire prevention week has been officially set to begin October 7, at which time a general clean-up of all premises will be in order.

Littlefield is very much in need of such efforts. The accumulation of trash this year plus the noxious weeds still standing give the city an unfavorable appearance and increase disease hazards.

The Leader would like very much to see a day set apart by the City Commission, at which time all business houses would be closed for certain hours while a general clean-up campaign is waged.

Such a campaign would decrease fire dangers, and a city that has a low fire record, that is clean and orderly, always gains in favor of prospective residents.

We are all, more or less, children of our environments, and a town that is kept sanitary has its influence upon better citizenship.

The man who once said that "conversation is a lost art," evidently hadn't been married very long.

HERE'S THE LATEST

Littlefield motorists, who have learned not to be surprised at anything, will be interested in knowing that a line of "sleeper buses" has just been inaugurated between Los Angeles and San Francisco. "Nite-coaches," they are called, and while they are just a big auto bus in daytime, capable of carrying 40 people, at night they are converted into sleepers, the seats being so arranged that beds to sleep 26 passengers can be made. All space is utilized, even the hood of the bus being dispensed with. By drawing curtains each compartment becomes a private berth at night. The bus as a whole measures 335 feet in length, is 6 feet wide and 10 feet four inches high, the chassis being dispensed with since the frame and body are built as a unit. It is drawn by a 110-horsepower motor, and costs $30,000. Now who will say there isn't anything new under the sun?

Don't place too high a value on the man who talks too much. A penny can rattle around and make more noise than a thousand dollar bill.

HURRAH FOR RADIO

Credit radio with still another achievement—it is going to knock out the flood of political documents that have heretofore been sent through the mails at the expense of the taxpayers of the country.

Politicians have found that speeches go into the waste basket, but that people will, to a large extent, listen to the same thing over the radio. So the government free franking privilege, which has cost taxpayers millions of dollars in the past in that the postoffice department never receives a cent for carrying such mail, is not going to be overworked in the future.

Some congressmen and senators will of course, continue to flood the mails with political matter because they can send it out by the ton without having to pay postage on it. But the wise ones, who actually want to reach the voters, are turning to radio. And the taxpayer's pocketbook is sure to feel it when Uncle Sam's postal books are balanced.

An exchange says everybody is waiting expectantly for the new paper money. When did any of us quit waiting for the old kind?

LITTLE LEADERS

The trouble with most Littlefield husbands is they always want a lot of praise from their wives that they don't deserve.

Every Littlefield man can learn a lot of things at home, but they are not the things the correspondence schools charge you so much a lesson for.

A Littlefield father wouldn't mind spending money on his daughter's wedding if he was sure that it wasn't going to mean a son-in-law to support.

Thomas Edison says people should eat the same thing every day, and some Littlefield boarding house ladies probably agree with him.

It's a wise Littlefield man who realizes that Providence has a way of looking out for those who look out for themselves.

There are some excellent women drivers around Littlefield but none of them can change gears as easily as they can change their minds.

Another thing the average Littlefield man can't understand is why his running expenses never stop to get their breath.

JESS' JOSH

Prof. Chisholm says, "Why worry, one can still find modesty in the dictionary."

"People want credit for what they do," says W. W. Gillette, "but too many of them want it for what they get."

With the streets torn up and blocked for paving, motor traffic continually gets worse and worse. Really it isn't safe to be a Presbyterian.

Reading that Paris style experts say it will be fashionable next summer for girls to go without stockings, Earnest Williams says it ought to make a big hit with the mosquitoes.

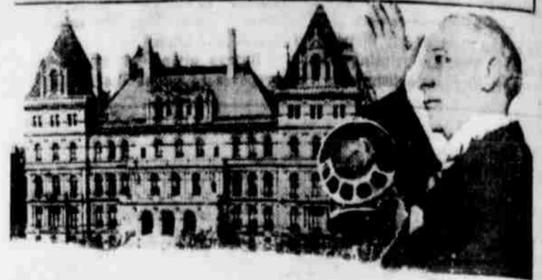

Two autos ran together Monday near the post office. When asked the cause of the collision, a bystander said he thought both drivers were after the same pedestrian.

Holding a handkerchief over his nose and approaching the City Marshal the other day, a man asked Fred Hoover what was the best way to prevent nose bleeding. "Keep it out of other folk's business," replied Fred promptly.

Sam Rombak says the following is the best home brew recipe he has found:

Chase three wild bull frogs three miles, then gather up the hops, to these add 10 gals. of tanbark, 1/2 pint of shellac, 1 bar of laundry soap, boil 48 hours, strain through an I. W. W. sock, to keep it from working, add a grasshopper to give it a kick, pour a little in the kitchen sink, if it takes the enamel off it is ready to bottle. Wash bottles before and after using.

ROTARY ENTERTAINS CATS
 The Fort Worth Cats were the guests of the Littlefield Rotary club at luncheon, Thursday of last week.
 The program was very entertaining and the visiting baseball players were at once made to feel at home by the snappy songs led by E. A. Bills, and the welcome talk given by T. S. Sales.
 Mrs. J. H. Lucas, pianist, and Conrad Lam, cornetist, gave several numbers that were thoroughly enjoyed.
 The luncheon was planned and serviced by the ladies auxiliary, of the Probyterian church, and was delicious to the very last bite.

As the meal progressed, several talks were made. Mr. Sales introduced Jimmy Walkup, manager of the Cats, who, in turn, introduced each of his associate players, explaining their different places on the team. Near the end of the meal, Joe Boniwitz, one of the visitors, rendered several numbers on the saxophone that was greatly enjoyed, and several Rotarians made talks.
 After the luncheon several of the baseball fans accompanied the players to the ball park where the game was to take place.

RODEO WELL ATTENDED
 The rodeo held here Saturday afternoon was the scene of some very interesting events, such as steer riding, goat roping, calf roping and horse racing. Several prizes, consisting of various amounts, were given the contestants showing the greatest skill in the events they participated in.
 Prizes were given as follows:
 Jack Anders, calf roping, first prize, $15.00.
 Pal Keeling, calf roping, second prize, $10.00.
 Dudd Arnett, goat roping, first
 prize, $15.00.

BOTTLE OF GLUE PURCHASED AT A LOCAL FURNITURE STORE PROVES BIG CURE-ALL

In re. diversification, the Leader man believes he has discovered the name of all perfections.

Very innocently, last week, Pryor Hammons sold a customer a small bottle of furniture glue. It was purchased to repair a phonograph record a very classical reproduction of a well known soloist. It did so, though afterward some of the pyrotechnical inflections, professional screams and artistic embellishments strongly flavored of a midnight feline serenade on the back yard fence, while some of the pure English was changed into a jargon of unknown tongues resembling the lungal explosions and guttural utterances of a bunch of holy rollers.

The record repair was made during the nocturnal period. Just prior to the customer's retiring to peaceful slumbers, he was forecably reminded by a feminine member of his family that said record had not been repaired and, dutiful head of the house that he is, proceeded immediately, clad only in his pajamas, to make the necessary rectification. Incidentally, in doing so, he spilled a drop of the concoction on a corn which for years had reposed, not always peacefully, upon the north east toe of his starboard foot. The medicinal compound at once hardened and for the past three weeks has furnished a perfect armored protection against the inconvenience of his darned socks.

Naturally of a humanitarian nature and embolden with the idea of a great service to his fellowman, the said customer at once began to "no-rate" about the community the almost miraculous virtues of this particular apothecarial preparation.
 A gentleman who had a bunion on one of his pedal extremities was induced to try it. The bunion is still there, but he is happy in the thought that without pain he can wear shoes two sizes smaller than was his previous custom.

A certain charming young lady of this community has discovered it will produce a permanent complexion.
 After the proper amount of tale and rouge has been applied to her pulchri-tudinous physiognomy, a very thin coating of this transparent liquid makes it entirely lasting and impervious alike to tears and slobbers.

Another young lady has discovered that an almost infinitesimal drop of this marvelous solution, when applied to a "run" in her silk stockings, will make a pair of $2.00 hose look and last like the $4.00 kind.

A popular shoe shine in one of our tonorial parlors has offered the information that this same recipe in action, when duly applied over the regular polish to a customer's shoes, will keep the gloss and glisten reflecting its highest refugence and properly burned on super-eminent brilliance until the shoes are practically ready for Lilly's hospital. (For purely business reasons, this senagambian tradesman is not recommending its usage.)

Two of Littlefield's pasture pool fiends, one of whom is an electrical wizard, the other a movie proprietor have found this substance, when applied to the exterior contour of a golf ball gives it a certain radiosity, dexterity and range-finding ability that directs the overgrown pellet in perfect juxtaposition with the desired hole, regardless of the drivers lack of mechanical cansanguinity or the synchronizing of his club.

A mechanic who lost a section of his epidermis, while working on a model 1921 Ford, learned that the application of a small decoction of this concoction was more efficient in its coverage, healing and wearing qualities than "New Skin."

While a local veterinarian has declared if a small film of the substance be brushed over the teeth of a three year old colt the animal's mouth will never change in appearance, and, regardless of its general physical indications of age and worldly experience may be sold by an honest auctioneer 15 years later for a five year old.

Verily, the wonders of science are not yet done. But just why a furniture man should be picked upon as the victim of such a versatile preparation remains an unsolved mystery.
 Surely such an ingenious conglomerate of ingredients, while good to make furniture more adhesive, has no proper place in such an establishment, nor even in a variety store;
 but rather in that particular mart of commerce where people are wont to travel when in search of currealls and other what-nots found in no other department of commerce—the drug store.

P. S. Should this simple story of merit resolve itself into an unsolicited advertisement, thereby increasing the sales of this wonderful family remedy, customers are expected to deposit 10 per cent of the cost per bottle with the Leader before obtaining their purchase. Nor is this suggestion a frame-up.

MEMBER OF THE DEADLIER SEX PROVES HER PROWESS

The editor of this newspaper had occasion to journey to Dallas not long ago. It was a business trip, and, as is his custom when riding on a train, he was fortunate enough to secure a seat near one end of the coach, which was promptly reversed so he might observe the other inhabitants of the car.
 Human nature is quite a study anywhere and to observe the different expressions, contours, actions and dresses of folks taking a trip is among the most interesting.

No sooner had the train pulled out of Lubbock than the affair began.
 Seated opposite us and a few seats down the aisle, was a gentleman of rather stern visage. He was immaculately dressed, and, judging from his demeanor and type of features, rather prided himself upon the skill with which for more than a quarter of a century he had eluded the wiles of the predatory sex. He had hidden himself behind a Star-Telegram, but not before he had been made aware of a pair of saucy eyes, whose owner only too evidently was out for all the fun she could get on the journey east.

What more tempting prey could be imagined than this wholesome looking properly attired gentleman in the prime of life, and whose very nervousness betrayed his consciousness of unaccustomed perils? As the train shot through Snyder those saucy eyes were positively dancing in anticipatory glee.

The speed of the Santa Fe is pretty good, but it never begins to compare with the hot-footed stride of romance which, when it visits the middle aged, seldom stands back at all on ceremony. Apparently this was to be no exception, and the old adage, "no fool like an old fool," was about to be exemplified in its fullest aspect.

By the time we had reached Sweetwater the victim was visibly in the toils. At Abilene he capitulated.
 Those saucy eyes and the fascinating smile creeping out from those coral lips that would have melted granite had done their deadly work.

The kiss she gave him to signalize her triumph was shameless in its publicity and marked by a shocking absence of maidenly reserve.

But you know how girls are now-days. And she was only three years old.

Judge Thyself
 Turn those eyes back upon thyself and take heed from Judge not the doings of others. In judging others a man labors in vain, often errs, and easily sins; but in judging and looking into himself he always labors with fruit.—Thomas a Kempis.

Nine-Tenths Preventable

Nine-tenths of all the diseases of the American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which thicken and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases, with their consequent pain and financial losses. Herbine, the good old vegetable cathartic, will prevent constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. Get a bottle today from

THE FIRST TERM OF LFD. COLLEGE BEGAN ON TUESDAY

Littlefield college opened its first term Tuesday morning, the initial exercises being held in an extemporized auditorium that was crowded to its utmost capacity with students, interested members and citizens.

The opening program was largely impromptu, beginning with vocal music, followed by prayer, which was led by J. Frank Copeland, professor of music and voice in the college.

President John R. Freeman made the principal address, in which he stressed the purpose of the college and its aims, telling something of the plan of operation, affiliation and courses of study.

He was followed in address by R. O. Conner, business manager for the college. Mr. Conner has been one of the tireless workers of the institution from its very inception, and much credit is due him for the present status of the institution.

Elder R. F. Duckworth, editor of the "Apostolic Way," a church newspaper published in Dallas then spoke. Other addresses were given by Elder Alva Johnson, Turkey; J. T. Carter, Tulla; Omer Kirk, Floydada; Elder Van Bounear, and L. W. Hayhurst, of Tech College, Lubbock; all speaking in glowing terms of the bright prospects of the institution.

A large number of students were enrolled the first day, and the entire week is being spent in enrollment and classification.

It was stated that the enrollment had been somewhat affected temporarily on account of the recent loss of the boys dormitory by fire, and the further fact that because building operations were delayed accommodation could not be furnished many who wished to enroll at the beginning of the first term. Several of these are planning to be present for enrollment after January first.

Community Building

Owners of Property Real City "Boosters"

Homes can be bought practically on a rent basis and no one can conscientiously boost a city who deliberately refuses to become a property owner and taxpayer, the Atlanta Constitution remarks editorially. "Atlanta spirit" is noted all over the world, it should not be known locally as a tinkling symbol, but firm on stern realities of citizen loyalty, demonstrated by actual investment.

A property owner has more weight in a community than one who rents, and as long as a man rents and does not own property he is not in a position to sell others home development ideas.

Nothing is more dignifying or convincing or forceful to man or woman in attracting others, than the fact of possession. Therefore, if people who would boost to others with a view of attracting them for residential and business purposes, do not break the ice by demonstrating their own faith they cannot hope to impress outsiders with the sincerity of their motives.

The "forward Atlanta" movement deserves every encouragement. It was a happy thought a year ago—a happy thought now. It has paid enormous dividends.

Suggestions for Good Use of "Waste" Land

A new use for land in the rights of way of railroad companies and that adjacent to public highways has been found by Dr. L. H. Pammel, chairman of the Iowa board of conservation.

Doctor Pammel proposes to use this "waste" land as a pasturage for bees, by planting wild flowers in perpetuating types of flora native to the states.

The plan has the triple purpose of conserving wild flora, augmenting the honey supply and making travel a delight because of the pleasant floral aspects of scent and color.

Trees also are in the project, including wild plum, red haw, Washington thorn, choke cherry and elderberry.

Among railroad companies which have come to the support of the scientist in his plan are the Chicago and North Western and the Wabash.

Good Design Not Costly

The idea that cost is the primary fundamental of good design and beauty seems to have fastened itself upon the average person—a conception that has done infinite harm and caused our cities to become in many places monstrosities. The smallest of homes, with the same amount of material, with no more work can be made beautiful, well proportioned and convenient.

All that is needed is a knowledge of conditions to be met, a full understanding of the materials and their proper application together with a sense of proportion and design. When this fundamental is properly understood by the people our cities and homes will be beautiful, sensible places to live in, for along with this idea follows the desire for more fitting surroundings, having beauty, comfort, convenience and utility working hand in hand, in place of the unscrupulous real estate's idea of profits and a quick turnover.

High Price for Neglect

The neglect tax on the home is more than double the fire loss, about which so much is written. This matter of depreciation is not given the dramatic attention which is accorded the fire loss because its slow accumulation leads people to overlook it.

The fable of the hare and the tortoise teaches that it is the slow and sure that win the race against the sprightly and occasional. Decay moves on with the dread certainty of the glacier which plows its way through the mountains. Its daily progress is not noticed by the eye, but it is as certain as the rising and setting of the sun.

Build Your Own Home

Every good American wants a home of his own. There is a satisfaction in owning a home that cannot be measured by its cost. And the best way to secure a home is to build it. Only in this way can a home owner secure the kind of residence that will exactly suit the needs of his family and fulfill his ideas of what a home should be in exterior appearance and interior arrangement.—Exchange.

Have A Good Laugh With The Camera Man

Don't run for a doctor—you're not seeing things,—the camera man did. Calm down. Pretty Metzger, at the extreme right, seems to have made the camera man go wrong. The first picture film beauty, Raquel Torres—it's easy to see where the naughty camera man was looking. Johnny also of the films, is the only male sufferer in this cameraman's spree. His legs are certainly long to reach the ground. The second picture is of a young lady who may have got that way eating in houses. When Tex Rickard sees this, he may try to sign her up—hee reach beats anything "seed" before. No, you don't need new eyeglasses—but somebody needs a new camera.

COLOR IN A CAN

Don't mean paint, but pineapple. For the pineapple also comes to you in cans to which it lends the beauty of color just as surely as an artist had taken his skillful hand to provide the charming in hue.

Of course, every housewife is or less of an artist in color when she plans her meal, for a meal in color-emphasis will just that much in interest. Pineapple is an invaluable asset in trying out the color scheme of yellow and white luncheon would be equally appropriate for golden wedding feast.

Stuffed Mutton Chops

In the luncheon, Hawaiian pineapple-stuffed mutton chops would be unusual. Wipe six chops cut one and one-half inches thick, and make slit in center, cutting to the bone. Melt tablespoons butter, add one spoon finely minced parsley and cook five minutes. Add two spoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt and one cup well-crushed pineapple. Cook minutes longer. Press this into slits made in chops and together with tooth picks, chops in shallow pan, bake in oven (450° F.) twenty-five to thirty minutes. When partly done, brush with salt and pepper. If not brown sufficiently in place under broiling flame, broil five minutes. Garnish with Pineapple and endive salad is appropriate for a luncheon, too. To make it, separate stalks of two heads of French endive. Slip two or three endive stalks through the center of each of six slices of canned pineapple and arrange around the outer edge of a plate covered with lettuce leaves. Combine one three-ounce cake of cream cheese, one tablespoon Roquefort cheese, a pinch of salt, dash of pepper and paprika. Press through coarse sieve or ricer and arrange in tiny lettuce leaves in center of salad. Pour French dressing over it.

A Golden Cake

For the golden wedding, what could be more appropriate than a fancy cake made with the golden pineapple? Cream one cup butter and one cup confectioner's sugar and add two and one-fourth cups flour sifted with three and one-half teaspoons baking powder. Fold in eight stiffly beaten egg whites and bake in two layers in a slow oven, 325° F., for twenty to twenty-five minutes. Put the following filling between the layers: beat six egg yolks, three-fourths cup sugar and three-fourths cup butter in the top of the double boiler until thick and creamy. Add three-fourths cup each of chopped nuts, dates and crushed, drained pineapple, and cook again until thick. Cool before spreading between the layers. For icing, mix three tablespoons pineapple syrup, two and one-fourth cups confectioner's sugar and two tablespoons butter. Cover top and sides of cake; decorate as desired.

DOCTOR FRANK CRANE SAYS

EMPLOYING THE DEAF

What people want, most of all, that is, the self-respecting kind of people, is not charity, but employment.

A man who can work at all wants to do his bit.

The most commendable trait in a human being is a desire to stand on his own feet and get himself off other people's backs. When you give a man a job, therefore, you give a boost to his personality. You help him respect himself.

When you give a man charity it depresses his personality and encourages that spirit in him which makes him a pauper.

We are all sorry for deaf people and none of us would object to giving them a quarter now and then to help them along. But this is the cheapest thing we can do. It is mere sop to sentiment. It is giving a little of our surplus money to relieve ourselves of the responsibility of giving our time and interest and effort.

The American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing with headquarters at Washington, D. C. is seeking to help the deaf by finding them jobs. The New York League for the Hard of Hearing has done a great deal for the unemployed deaf.

These organizations are investigating constantly occupations in which the deafened can make good, giving advice as to chance of occupations or as to training for available occupations.

For instance, it suggested to a deafened fur salesman that he give up salesmanship of fur for fur cutting and he is making a success in that line, where as he was failing in the former line.

A New York store employed hard of hearing cash girls with success because the crash of noise of the carriers does not distract them.

There are many occupations which a deaf person can pursue, although he is handicapped in many.

The public should realize that the best way to help deaf people, as well as other crippled or impaired people, is to give them employment, and the employers of the country would do a great deal more good giving work to people than they could do in giving them charity or dispensing largess in any way.

It is not urged that people should let their sympathy interfere with their business, but where their business can be carried on just as well by those who need it the job should be given them.

The deaf of the country appeal to you not for occasional charity, but for a chance to work and support themselves.

FLUSHING EWES TO INCREASE LAMBS

Those who have ewes to breed this fall may well be thinking about getting them in good physical condition before the mating time arrives. It is a well-known fact that when ewes are in a gaining condition at the time of breeding that the lamb crop will not only be larger, but the individual lambs will also be stronger and healthier. Putting ewes in a gaining condition is spoken of as "flushing" them.

Some years ago the United States Department of Agriculture carried on a number of tests with flushing ewes just before the breeding season and came to the conclusion, after six years of experimentation, that flushing increases the lamb crop about 20 per cent. The Kansas experiment station calls attention to lambs it has secured in tests with 17 groups of ewes. The ewes that were not fed grain during the breeding season gained about 1.7 pounds per head and had a lamb crop of 119 per cent, whereas those that received one-half pound of grain a day prior to breeding gained 8 pounds per head and had a lamb crop of 147 per cent. In other words, on that basis every hundred ewes that were flushed produced 28 more lambs than those that were not liberally fed prior to breeding. It isn't so important that a ration of a definite composition be fed. Any good feed that will cause the ewes to gain in flesh will turn the trick. A good bluegrass or alfalfa pasture without grain is all right.

A very good grain ration, however, is composed of one-third part by weight of corn, oats and bran. One-half corn and one-half oats will also make a good ration or oats alone will do very well indeed. Nor should a great deal of grain be fed. One-half pound per day per head is usually enough, although ewes that are in a run-down condition will do better if fed as much as three-fourths of a pound per head per day for a period of 14 to 18 days before breeding.

There are other advantages in flushing the ewe flock aside from getting a larger and stronger crop of lambs. Flushing tends to cause the ewes to come in heat. Thus the flock can be bred in less time and the lambs will come within a range of about two weeks of each other. A short lambing season in the spring is preferable to a long season because it lessens the labor of caring for the youngsters. Besides, as the lambs grow up they will be more uniform in size, which is an advantage when running together in one flock. They will also be ready for the market at the same time and practically all will be uniform as to weight when sold. These are factors of considerable importance.

Avoidable Waste in Hog Raising in Kansas Huge

"Kansas raises four hogs per litter and eight pounds of pork per bushel of corn," said Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the animal husbandry department at the Kansas State Agricultural college, in his talk before the Kansas swine breeders' associations.

"Kansas can raise eight hogs per litter and 10 pounds of pork per bushel of corn," he continued. "Kansas loses more hogs than she raises. For every four pigs raised nine are farrowed. About 88 per cent of the deaths may be traced directly to the farmer. It may be due to neglect or to ignorance. In either case it can be avoided with a reasonable amount of care and precaution.

"Poor management can be superseded by good management. Poor feeding can be avoided by a study of what types of food a hog must have, what proportions it should have, and how these qualities can be obtained satisfactorily and economically.

"If the breeder chooses he can, by proper management, careful feeding, and wise selection, grow strong, thrifty, vigorous hogs."

Junior Scales

Bath was fond of music, and wished to take piano lessons, but her mother thought she was too young. "I might begin with Junior Scales," urged the little girl. "With what?" asked her mother, greatly perplexed. "Oh, Junior Scales," corrected Bath. "Surely I am big enough to learn to play Junior Scales."
