Hoover's Talk Puts Him In Line As A Possible Republican Choice

Russia Restores Working Week Of Six Days

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP)—Because of increasing war danger and the need of greater production, the Soviet Russian government adopted today a new working week—six days of work and a day of rest—to replace its revolutionary week of five working days and a day of rest on the sixth.

Row Develops On A Foreign Policy Plank

Former President Issues A Challenging Call To Party

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 26 (AP)—Its pace slowed by a foreign policy row, a republican convention into which the name of Herbert Hoover had been projected as a possible nominee assembled today to determine policies it will advocate for the nation.

Hoover followed up his rallying call to the party last night to "save America for free men" with a press conference statement he was not seeking public office. But he said there should be no interference with selection of the nominee and did not say he would not take the nomination if it was offered by the convention.

The foreign policy dispute in the resolutions committee already had thrown the convention schedule out of joint. Members of that group argued much of the night over the form their declaration against intervention in foreign wars should take.

Delegates were streaming into the big convention hall before the dispute was finally settled. Even then the resolutions committee had to put some hurried final touches upon the platform. Its general tenor was the slogan "preparedness and peace."

The battle of candidates went on unabated. Wendell Willkie continued his round of visits to state delegations. The forces of Senator Taft of Ohio and Vandenberg of Michigan, and Thomas E. Dewey of New York sought to hold fast to their delegate strength.

The Illinois delegation rejected a resolution which members interpreted as binding it to Dewey. Nebraska, however, decided unanimously to vote for the New Yorker on the first ballot.

Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, the convention keynoter, told his state delegation his vote would be cast for Wendell Willkie.

For the moment, though, the delegates were intent upon Mr. Hoover when he took the platform last night. They shouted, blew whistles and marched up and down the aisles waving banners for eight and a half minutes after he had asked the question: "Republicans are you willing to go into this fight?"

He was referring to a fight to save America from the "suicide road" down which he said the new deal was taking the nation—the same "suicide road," he declared, that had led to loss of liberty and disaster in Europe.

The former president analyzed his view of what was wrong with President Roosevelt's policies.

Upon those policies he poured sarcasm and ridicule and such epithets as "stabilizing depression," "the fibbiness of the new deal," and "totalitarian liberalism."

Texas Freight Rate Slash Is Delayed

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—A freight rate slash of approximately 15 to 20 per cent on certain commodities which was to become effective July 1 was postponed indefinitely today by the railroad commission, Ernest O. Thompson, commission member, announced.

The West Texas chamber of commerce, in lengthy hearings last year, obtained current rates were discriminatory and unfair.

"We have granted further hearings in the freight rate reduction case," Thompson said, "for the reason that the carriers, both rail and truck, brought before us a petition which shows a change in economic conditions that has resulted in a drop of some 11 per cent in business and additional cost in operation."

Need More For Rural Dinner

More registrations by local men were needed Wednesday on the eve of the date for the Richmond goodwill dinner, D. D. Douglas, chairman of the chamber of commerce goodwill committee, announced.

Only slightly more than 50 have made reservations for the affair when at least 80 are needed.

Meanwhile, the program was being drafted to include these features: Pat Kenney, presiding; Schley Riley, master of ceremonies; Dr. Lee O. Rogers, responses to welcome, vocal selections by the Melody Maids, a vocal solo by Edith Gay, and a duet by Orren and Mary Hughes.

Names added to the list of those registering were C. W. Norman, Walter Morrison, Jess Blaughter, Charles Creighton, Carl Strom, Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Dr. Lee O. Rogers, Dr. E. O. Ellington, and Thomas J. Coffee.

All Of French Coast Being Occupied

Every Continental Atlantic Harbor Will Be Closed To British

BERLIN, June 26 (AP)—Occupation of France's entire Atlantic coast by the German army proceeded swiftly today under terms of an armistice agreement which authorized sources said eliminated the republic as a military factor and paved the way for a final reckoning with England.

When the occupation is completed, these sources said, every continental Atlantic harbor except those in Spain and Portugal will be barred to British ships. In view of Spain's "extremely friendly" attitude toward the axis powers, German commentators declared, this means that all Europe is in effect closed to British trade.

Tightening aerial and naval warfare on the British Isles was reflected in a communique of the high command, which reported successful bombing of "several airports and the torpedoing of three armed merchant ships southwest of Ireland."

Furthermore, the high command said, a transport of 7,000 tons was bombed two days ago off Bayonne, France.

The Germans announced further British air raids on northern and western Germany last night, said that no military targets were hit but that at least four persons were killed.

Two of three British planes which attempted a raid yesterday on the Stavanger, Norway, airbase were reported shot down and the third driven away.

Authorized sources said the armistice terms imposed upon France were designed solely to meet war conditions and in no respect foresaw the peace-time reorganization of Europe which Adolf Hitler envisaged.

The purpose of the terms, which were published here last night, was to render France incapable of giving further aid to England rather than to inflict permanent injury or dishonor upon the conquered republic, these sources declared.

They pointed out that Germany went so far as to assure France that occupation of her entire Atlantic shores by Nazi troops—an important condition of the armistice—would continue only so long as necessary to conclude the war with Britain.

"In the order granting the additional hearing, we prescribed that these additional hearings must be held before September 1."

Commissioner rate officials said the hearing dates would be announced later.

Raiders Take A Toll Among Nazi Units

Coastal Attacks Decried To Check Any Invasion

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—British landing parties actually have stabbed into the continental coastline front behind which Germany is preparing for the battle of Britain, it was reported today, and the stories mark "a new phase of aggressive action."

Casualties were inflicted on German troops yesterday by naval and military raiders, it was announced, and some of the German dead fell into British hands along with "much useful information."

The clashes between the heavily armed British raiders, supported by the Royal Air Force, and their Nazi foemen appeared to herald a far-flung guerrilla campaign to harass German coastal bases and obtain information on preparations for the invasion of Britain.

Reuters, British news agency, hinted at this in commenting on the strategic position of the Germans in the light of the raids, the German burden of patrolling and placing thousands of men on the European shores, from Norway to the Spanish coast "to ward off the risk of raids made possible by dominant British sea power."

Contributing to Germany's disadvantage, Reuters said, was the depletion of German naval forces in past engagements with the allies and the wrecking of defensive works and harbor establishments by the British and French before they were yielded to the Nazis.

The British forays were described as "successful reconnaissance of enemy coastlines."

Neutral military observers expressed belief the coastline raids by British expeditionary force shock troops might become so active as to keep the German armies diverted from invasion of Britain.

No one regards the raids as prelude to a large-scale thrust against the German army which now holds North sea, channel and Atlantic coastlines.

But these neutral sources emphasize the damage which the R. A. F. and the shock troops could do in repeated attacks.

"British observers said it is quite possible that the first raiding parties included demolition groups specially schooled in destruction of supply depots, docks and quays."

"Our parties may have attacked one of the numerous submarine bases which the Germans have constructed in Belgium, as they did in the last war," said a naval informant.

Another commented that "the Germans obviously are rating the crack troops who fought steadily for almost a month."

Ford Won't Make Fighting Planes For The British

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Plans for faster expansion of the air force and simultaneous aid to Britain struck a snag today in the collapse of negotiations with Henry Ford for mass production of aircraft motors.

Ford, who has said he could turn out 1,000 complete planes daily, refuses to manufacture any engines for Great Britain, the national defense commission announced, and this stand forced abandonment of arrangements for a joint U.S.-British order.

William S. Knudsen of the defense commission, who disclosed this last night, said "cooperation in the production of this important military equipment will be sought elsewhere."

This statement gave rise to belief that services of other automobile manufacturers might be enlisted. It was recalled that when Ford made his "thousand-planes-a-day" prediction, Knudsen, then head of General Motors, "guessed" that General Motors could do likewise.

Ford said at Detroit last night that he stood pat on his offer to produce motors and planes for defense purposes, but only for the United States government.

Announcement of the Ford break came several hours after President Roosevelt had outlined a program for building up a reserve of officers to help man the enlarged fleet under construction.

The chief executive described at his press conference yesterday the navy's intensive plans for training 5,000 young volunteers annually for reserve commissions. Enrollment of the embryo officers would start Friday, he said, and the first actual training period would begin in mid-July.

Later today, a defense council commission spokesman said the present breakdown in negotiations with Ford did not affect possible future orders for his factories on production of planes and engines for the United States.

Receivership Action Is Instituted Against Western & Southern

District Judge Cecil C. Collings Wednesday set July 15 as the date for a hearing on a petition by the State of Texas to force the Western & Southern Oil Corp. into receivership preparatory to cancelling its charter and liquidating its affairs.

William J. Fannin and William J. R. King, assistant attorneys general, lodged the petition in 70th court for the order against the company at the request of M. G. Flowers, secretary of state.

Flowers, in a memorandum made a part of the petition charged that "properties turned in to the proposed corporation" at the value of $35,000 were "false."

Filing of the petition was another step in the state's move to conclude affairs of the company. Two more complaints were lodged against R. M. Huff, Big Spring, one of the original incorporators of the unit; one alleging irregular sale of 150 shares of common stock to Twila Lomax and the other on a charge of declaring an illegal dividend to J. R. Phillips in the amount of $10. Huff posted $500 bond set in each case by Justice of Peace John Ratliff and was released. Previously he had posted $500 bond on a charge of irregular securities sale.

Bigham Case Due To Go To Jury Today

MIDLAND, June 26 (AP)—Defense objections to the court's charge to the jury today delayed the case of Gordon Bigham, former railroad commission employee on trial on charges of accepting a $5,000 bribe.

Judge Cecil C. Collings re-wrote some of the charge and it was to be given the jury this afternoon. Arguments will follow and the jury indications were, should get the case tonight.

MIDLAND, June 26 (AP)—A district court jury today will receive the case of Gordon Bigham, former state railroad commission deputy accused of accepting a $5,000 bribe.

Testimony was finished yesterday after Bigham had put eleven character witnesses on the stand. They testified to knowing him a long period of years prior to March 12, 1940, date of the alleged offense, and that he bore a good reputation.

Judge Cecil C. Collings prepared his charge to the jury for opening of court today.

Among state witnesses was Mrs. R. J. Silberman, bookkeeper and stenographer for the Shasta Oil company, who testified as to a conversation she said she took by ear-phones from a dictaphone when R. J. Kelly, Shasta vice president, allegedly paid $5,000 in twenty dollar bills to Bigham to prevent cuts in allowances of the company's wells in the Iatan-East Howard pool.

Kelly had said he paid Bigham the money with the full knowledge of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, state and county law enforcement agencies. Two Texas rangers were in an adjoining room and arrested Bigham as he stepped into the corridor, Kelly testified.

Nazis Busy In S. America

BUENOS AIRES, June 26 (AP)—Germany has already opened a strong "trade offensive" in lower South America designed to swing such nations as Argentina and Uruguay away from close economic and military cooperation with the United States, a well-informed source said today.

Standard Oil Official Dies In California

BURLINGAME, Calif., June 26 (AP)—William H. Berg, 38, president of Standard Oil of California, died at his home here early today of a heart attack.

He began his career with Standard Oil as a stenographer in 1902 and rose steadily to the presidency, which he assumed in 1937.

He was a director of the American Petroleum Institute and of the Anglo-California Bank in San Francisco.

Japan's Moves Are Watched

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Secrecy thrown about the sudden departure of the main United States fleet from Hawaii heightened uncertainty today over official intentions toward Japanese moves in the Far East.

Japan meanwhile was reported preparing for a sweeping proclamation that would be tantamount to an Oriental Monroe doctrine.

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi said that the proclamation would warn all powers against interference of any kind in all territories in East Asia.

Both White House and state department turned aside questions about the fleet with cryptic remarks that they had no news. Other sources were equally non-committal.

Undetermined was whether the big battle force was steaming toward the United States mainland, for South American waters, or farther out toward the Orient.

Navy fliers in hiding their families goodbye at Honolulu intimated they were going to the Panama Canal.

Sane Driving On July 4th Urged

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—State police today exhorted drivers to reduce their speed, remain sober and observe driving rules on the Fourth of July to curb a statistically indicated death toll of 50.

"We hope each driver makes it his personal responsibility to see that his own name and that of others does not appear on the casualty list appearing July 5," Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., said.

Garrison recalled 42 lost their lives in last year's Independence Day highway violence and pointed out rising tolls of carelessness this year pointed to half a hundred deaths.

He urged motorists to plan their trips so as not to become fatigued, to take other than main routes wherever possible and to examine their cars mechanically before starting.

The director urged extreme caution on swimmers and boaters.

POSTAL GAINS UP AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—The University of Texas bureau of business research today reported postal receipts in 45 Texas cities during May totaled $1,443,843, a gain of 1.5 per cent over April and 5

Turkey Won't Enter The War

ANKARA, Turkey, June 26 (AP)—Premier Refik Saydam of Turkey told parliament tonight that his government has definitely decided not to enter the war.

Turkey, which once considered herself a non-belligerent ally of Great Britain and France, however, is "alertly continuing defense preparations," the premier said.

The address which was the first official announcement of Turkish policy since Italy entered the conflict came amid grave concern over the future of French-protected Syria and the possibility of a Bulgarian attack on Turkey from the north.

Taylor Resting After Operation

ROME, June 26 (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's representative at the Vatican, underwent an operation today which lasted two hours. His condition was described as satisfactory.

The operation was performed by Dr. Allan O. Whipple, New York surgeon, assisted by Prof. Raffaele Battistoni, one of Italy's most famous surgeons.

Mrs. Taylor was at the hospital. The envoy became seriously ill while in Florence and was brought to Rome two days ago. Dr. Whipple and Mrs. Taylor came to Italy from the United States by air.

The operation was for removal of gallstones.

MORE AMERICANS GET OUT OF FRANCE

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, June 26 (AP)—Eighty-six more Americans, hungry and thirsty but cheerful, crossed the international bridge from France here today. They were taken immediately to Bilbao, where it was reported yesterday a United States warship might come to take them away.

The remainder of a group of 147 Americans held for forty last night were expected in the course of the day.

MISS LANEQUOUS NOTES

By Mary Whaley

Since price is no object when you are just planning, we have traced the most super-super trip for this summer and can be found at most any time of day reading vacation literature and poring over road maps.

Every few days, we add another stop and another point that must be seen until from the looks of the map, we plan to cover all of Texas from one end to another.

It is only when we start inquiring into ticket prices and hotel reservations that we begin to go conservative.

But this doesn't spoil the fun of planning and we have taken a thousand trips from an armchair. The best part about it is that we always stop at the best places and travel the most luxuriously when we are just planning.

With folders that describe places in glowing terms we feel almost as if we had been there and when we hear somebody talk about a place that we have visited in a mental sort of way, we find ourselves agreeing with them and nodding wisely about places and things we know nothing about except via the "Travel Now" folders.

But the best part of planning such trips is that you have only the fun and none of the discomforts that sometimes beset a real trip. We don't get chigger bites or sunburn or overfed or too hot.

In fact, when we take off on this fine trip of ours, it is going to have to be mighty good to be more fun than the planning has been during the spring.

Cecile Lillian Wilson Has Party On Her First Birthday Anniversary

Cecile Lillian Wilson was entertained with a party on her first birthday anniversary Tuesday in her home and the rooms were decorated with balloons and happy birthday doliies.

Range Conference Continues Study

MARFA, June 26. (AP)—The National Range conference of 200 persons from 17 states visited ranches in this section today and will go to Del Rio tonight.

In the Marfa area they inspected spreader dams and terraces.

This afternoon the 60-car motorcade will go through Brewster, Terrell and Val Verde counties.

The traveling conference, headed by ranking agriculture department officials as well as agricultural adjustment administration representatives, visited the Odesa-Pecos area yesterday, stopping at the 30,000-acre Glenn Allen ranch between these two cities, then looking over a 2,240-acre contour furrowing demonstration near Poyote.

They were guests at a barbecue given at Pecos by the Pecos Valley Livestock Protective Association.

Poultry Movements Show Big Gain

AUSTIN, June 26. (AP)—Still small, the 18-car turkey shipment last month doubled that of May 1939 and contributed to an 18.9 per cent gain in poultry movements from Texas to other states, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported today.

Seventy cars of chickens showed a 7.7 per cent gain over May last year and turkeys and chickens combined totaled 88 cars as compared to 74 last year.

Egg shipments gained 37.1 per cent to total 122 cars. Six cars of eggs were received from other states, three from Kansas, two from Missouri and one from Tennessee, as compared to 18 carloads from Kansas in May, 1939.

No Delay In South Texas Harvesting

AUSTIN, June 26. (AP)—Weather conditions the first half of June were only fairly favorable for the development of Texas truck crops and harvesting was retarded in some sections, the U. S. agricultural marketing service reported today.

The service pointed out important commercial truck crops remaining were cantaloupes, onions, potatoes, tomatoes and watermelons.

No delay in harvesting occurred in the early districts of South Texas.

Indicated cantaloupe production in Texas was 382,000 crates as compared to 275,000 last year and 364,000 over a 10-year average.

An increase of 37 per cent was indicated in watermelon yield with crops in all sections, except Falfurrias and Sandia, making good progress.

The Big Spring Daily Herald

PAGE FOUR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1940

The Sports Parade

By Hank Hart

Lefty Lucas, eccentric three-year pitching veteran of the Lamesa Lobos of the WT-NM league, is about to get his walking papers from Manager Jodie Tate.

Lucas hasn't been in top shape since the season started, only recently was suspended from active duty because Tate had too many veterans.

Lucas is best remembered here for the many lickings he gave the Big Spring club in 1938-39. The finest game he ever pitched in the local park, however, resulted in a loss, Jodie Marek besting him in a pitcher's duel, 1-0, in 11 innings. The run he surrendered was unearned.

Al Berndt, former Big Springer now on the Lamesa roster, calls Joe Beeler, Lobo third sacker, the finest prospect in the WT-NM league.

Joe Seemingly has no pitching weaknesses, plays a fine third base. He's but 17 years of age.

Tate Thursday expressed confidence that Big Spring would regain a franchise in the WT-NM league, at least by 1941, was dubious of Odessa's chances "to make a go of it."

A crowd of 2,000 or more is expected to attend tonight's game between Midland's Cowboys and the Odessa Oilers in Odessa, the first home game for the ex-Big Springers.

Will Ramsdell, scheduled to work for the Odessans tonight, recently became embroiled in an argument with Ben Levine, freshman umpire, brought his choice "cuss words" into play against the arbiter without hint of admonition, returned to the mound convinced that for once he had disciplined an umpire only to discover later that Levine was deaf, could not hear a word he was saying.

Rego is letting both Woody Lundberg and Wyman Hunnicutt, rightfielder and second sacker, respectively, go, may add strength at other spots once he gets settled in the new home port.

BROOKLYN HITS THE SKIDS, LOSES THRILLER TO CUBS

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

There is no time like midnight to unmask a miracle.

The Chicago Cubs did it last night, revealing even to the stout-hearted Flatbush fans that the Brooklyn Dodgers are no wonder-workers and that it will take a long and bitter battle to bring the National League pennant to Ebbets Field.

Of their last nine decisions the Dodgers have dropped seven. That scarcely is a championship pace. The fact that it took 26 innings in two games to beat Brooklyn in the seventh time, 8-3, couldn't cloak the Dodgers' disappointing slide.

They had a better chance than the Cubs to win last night. Trailing by one run as they went to bat in the last of the ninth, the Dodgers got a three-all tie when Babe Phelps opened with a home run. Pitcher Hugh Casey was called out on strikes, but Pee Wee Reese tripped.

Then Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs came up with what looked like strange strategy. He ordered Cookie Lavagetto and Dixie Walker purposely passed to fill the bases so old Charley Root could pitch to Joe Medwick.

Imagine choosing, voluntarily, to pitch to Medwick with the bases loaded. The Cubs did. And on the first pitch Medwick dribbled a double play grounder to short. That was the ball game. The Dodgers made five errors and virtually gave the contest to the Cubs.

The Cubs didn't need any urging to grab what was offered. Dominic DiMascandro hit a triple, two doubles and a single to pace a 14-hit attack and relief pitcher Claude Passeau held the Dodgers hitless through the four extra innings.

The only other game in the National League saw the Phillies to win 9-7 and rise into fifth place again.

The day was a big but generally ineffectual interim in the American League, where the Cleveland Indians stopped the New York Yankees again while Boston and Detroit were standing each other off in a doubleheader.

Hal Trosky hit his 16th and 17th homers of the year to lead the Indians to a 5-3 triumph over the world champions before rain halted the game at the end of five innings.

The Red Sox routed Schoolboy Rowe for his first defeat in taking the first half of their doubleheader 11-7, but in the second game Hal Newhouse stopped the Red Sox 5-1.

The St. Louis Browns downed the Philadelphia Athletics 12-10.

The Washington Senators staged off a four-run rally in the ninth by the Chicago-White Sox to win 7-4.

Johnny Burke Is Medalist

MANCHESTER, Vt., June 26 (AP)—The National Collegiate A. A. golf championship moved into the first round at Ekwonak today with Johnny Burke of Georgetown, yesterday's medalist and the 1938 champion, paired against John Leidy of Michigan.

Burke shot a pair of sparkling rounds to lead the qualifiers with a 71-72-143.

NEW RECORD

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—A new distance gliding record for the middle west was claimed today by Stanley Corcoran, 24, who said he piloted his craft yesterday 125 miles from the take-off point, the airport of the Lewis School of Aeronautics near Joliet, Ill., to Roann, Ind. The American distance gliding record is 240 miles.

Quito, capital of Ecuador, was once the most important art center in America and its churches still contain the works of immortal sculptors and painters.

Lobos Beat Mohrlock, 6 To 0

By HANK HART

LAMESA, June 26 — Superb in the clutch, Lloyd "Pat" Patterson earned his ninth pitching triumph of the WT-NM league season by blanking the Odessa Oilers, 6-0, behind some lusty hitting of his Lamesa teammates.

Patterson's wildness got him in trouble at times but he always bore down in the clutch and pulled through. The opposition had 11 men stranded on the sacks.

The Lobos got their runs in bunches off Andy Mohrlock, Odessa righthander, beginning with a pair in the fifth. They added a brace in the sixth, then closed home with another pair in the seventh.

Eddie Guynes' seventh inning home run with Mal Stevens on the base paths was the highlight blow of the evening. Patterson aided his own cause along with two streaming doubles.

The Oilers nicked Patterson for four blows, two of them by Stan Bolton. The former Big Spring hurler hurled hitless ball until Stan led off with a single in the fourth.

The Oilers play their first game in Odessa this evening, meeting the Midland Cowhands at 8:30 o'clock.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Beleive it or not, up to today the St. Louis Browns had won more games than the Yankees—and with Yankee castoffs, at that—also: Carl Snavey of Cornell will conduct a coaching school at Colorado U. this summer. One of his pupils will be Dutch Clark, coach of the Cleveland professional team.

Even though he has been retired for the season, Van Mungo will be cut in for a full share of any series dough the Dodgers collect.

A Newark sportsman who lost 40 grand on Max Baer when he fought Bradlock, has offered Tony Galento $1,000 for every tooth he knocks out of Baer's head Tuesday night.

His ear was bent.

They say poor Mr. Ford C. Frick fell out of his easy chair Monday night when one of the radio fellows calmly announced, "All the other games in the major leagues, also the National, were rained out."

St. Louis writers say Ray Blades really got tough last spring and soured the Cardinals with his iron-handed methods.

Milwaukee has offered Ken Overlin, the N. Y.-California-Virginia middleweight king, $2,500 to meet the winner on tonight's Tony Martin-Tony Bruno winner in an over-the-weight go.

Baseball trend.

If you want more hits and passes, get yourself a pair of glasses.

Old Freddie Fitzsimmons appointed himself ambassador without portfolio to talk "hot potato" Hamlin off his post and back into the Dodge line-up.

El Galento got sore at Jimmy Frain, his trainer, and threw a punch. It missed Frain, but caught a character named Blackie (the camp chaffer) flush on the kisser and knocked him stiffer than an Andalusian goat.

We could scarcely believe our eyes when one of the N. Y. papers today called Joe Di Maggio "just another center fielder."

Joe Louis (who doesn't go for that sort of things) is making his ballyhoo of the Baer-Galento camp under orders from higher up.

Today's guest star.

Tom Haney, New York P. M. Ben Chapman is now wearing glasses. Undoubtedly they will enable him to do a better job of umpiring.

Ouch Dept.

The club standings column in one of the New Orleans papers has the Washington Senators 104 1-3 games behind in the American league race.

Tournament Netters In First Round Tests

Hope To Stage S'finals, Finals By July 4th

The Big Spring Tennis association planned Tuesday evening at a meeting of its members at the city hall to stage semi-final and final matches of its 1940 ladder tournament July 4.

New pairings were announced and play is expected to get underway today at the city park courts. All first round matches must be completed by Tuesday, July 2, Harold Harvey, club president, announced.

The 32 players of the men's division are all scheduled to play. No byes were drawn.

Seven women will compete for women's honors.

A bracket board will be posted at the Munny golf course clubhouse and all players will be urged to report results of their matches on the board.

The two courts at the Munny park are in excellent shape. The floor has been balanced, all holes eliminated and the boundary lines re-drawn.

Work on the other courts is nearing completion.

First Round Pairings: (Men's Division)

Jo-Jo Eldrod vs. Hank Hart. Jimmy Jones vs. H. R. Haygood. Glen Atherton vs. Bryon Johnson.

Tiremen Play Anderson At Park Tonight

The Anderson Devils can go a long way toward clinching the second half title of the Major-City softball league tonight by defeating the Phillips Tiremen this evening at the Munny diamond.

The Devils are leading the pack at the present time but the Tiremen have given every indication that they cannot be shoved around.

With their ace pitcher, Lefty Morris on the hill, the Tiremen rule as slight favorites to cop the duke. Morris blanked the Standing Oilers for six innings Monday evening only to lose out in the eighth.

The Standard team will be making its third start in three nights this evening following the Anderson-Tiremen's game. They are scheduled to square off with Vaughn's Tiremen.

Tuesday evening the Oilers smashed Coahoma, 17-11, with Howard Hart's home run and brace of singles leading the attack. The victory kept the Oilers' chances alive for a second half title.

Montgomery Ward stopped Carnetti, 17-15, in another bout on the Tuesday evening program.

Excluding pitchers, the eight players who gave the American League a 2 to 1 victory last year entered that game with a collective plate average of .325. The current mark of those same players is .278. The National League team average before that game, .315, now has become .284.

The Continental Divide runs through New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming and forms the boundary between Idaho and Montana.

REDS BID 50 G'S FOR HURLER BUT HE'S TAGGED FOR BOSTON

LOUISVILLE, June 26 (AP)—In lanky six-foot-three Pitcher Cecil Carlton Hughson the Louisville Colonels of the American association believe they have money in the bank.

Recently after Hughson, who hails from Kyle, Texas, pitched the Colonels to a 3 to 0 win over Indianapolis Jewell Ens, scout for the Cincinnati Reds, hurried into the office of Executive Secretary Bruce Dudley of the Colonels and said:

"Call Donie (Donie Bush, manager and part owner of the Colonels) and tell him I will give $50,000 for Hughson."

Dudley thanked the veteran baseball scout and promised to keep his offer in mind but privately Bruce says "Hughson's worth more."

Hughson, a graduate of Texas university, where he played varsity baseball from 1933 to 1937, broke into professional ball immediately after his graduation when he signed with the Boston Red Sox. He was sent to Moultrie in the Georgia-Florida league where he won eight and lost six with an earned run average of 2.37.

The next year with Canton in the Mid-Atlantic league Hughson won 22 and lost seven for an earned run average of .390. In 1939 he was with Scranton of the Eastern league and won 12 and lost six. He worked as a relief pitcher in 41 games.

The big right-hander has a fast ball and is developing a troublesome curve.

At present he has a tendency to become irritated when opposing batters start smacking his offerings. Recently against the hard-hitting Kansas City Blues he was hit for a single, double, triple and then two home runs by successive batters, before being near to the showers. After the triple he appeared bewildered with an "these guys can't do this to me" expression on his face.

During the winter, Hughson and his wife, Rowena, whom he married in Texas three years ago, run a cattle ranch he owns near Kyle.

Local baseball experts say don't be surprised if Hughson gets a chance in the major league next year and most likely it will be with the Red Sox, parent club of the Colonels.

Tony Actually Training For Baer Test

By SID FEDER

SUMMIT, N. J., June 26 (AP)—Tony Galento, at 240 pounds, is a mere shadow of his former self. And every inch of his 42-inch circumference bristles with a grudge.

The grudge is against Madcap Maxie Baer. And if you've never seen One-and-a-Half Ton's wildcat bristling, you really should come up and see him some time.

Tony tangles with Madcap Maxie in the Jersey City ball park next Tuesday for 15 rounds or less in a brawl for the championship of the screwballs and presidency of the whackers. It seems the keg-shaped gent from Jersey hasn't felt the same about Maxie ever since he, himself, took all of Joe Louis' Sunday stuff last June and then recalled that Baer had been accused of "quitting" to the Brown Bomber back there five years ago.

"Imagine any bum quitting" to Louis," he shouted. "And imagine that bum of all dem dems!"

So Tony collected himself a home-made grudge because of it. Now, some cynics may say this is only part of the build-up for the fight, but no one, today, has ever accused the roly poly of being that subtle.

He took the Baer bout against the best judgment of his advisors. They pointed out the match could mean nothing to Tony, that by his stand against Louis last year he was a cinch to get the title shot anyway.

"I gotta bait dat bum out," said the man with a purpose. "And," he added today, "I'll do it in 'free rounds, too."

So Tony is getting into some kind of shape for Tuesday's fight. Don't be alarmed, now—he's still on a bear diet. He's inhaling more, if anything, of the brew, his handlers tell you. But, despite this intake, he has shed 30 pounds since he started training. What's more, he has actually taken an inch from around his middle, which is a major operation.

WICHITA, Kas., June 26 (AP)—As a result of the recent series of "beaning" of major league baseball players, Ray Dumont, president of the national semi-pro congress, has decided to give head protectors for batmen a thorough trial during the national tournament here August 18-28.

"The use of protective bonnets will not be compulsory among the 500 players at the tourney," Dumont said today. "However, if the headgear proves of definite protective value, the question of making it a regular part of our tournament equipment will be voted on at the board of directors meeting next winter."

Excluding pitchers, the eight players who gave the American League a 2 to 1 victory last year entered that game with a collective plate average of .325. The current mark of those same players is .278. The National League team average before that game, .315, now has become .284.

The Continental Divide runs through New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming and forms the boundary between Idaho and Montana.

Glasscock Co. Test Staked

Location has been staked for a wildcat test in a new area south of Garden City in Glasscock county by the Moore Exploration Co.

The test will be known as the No. 1 H. S. Currie and will be 600 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 25-34-S, T&P. It is scheduled to go to 4,200 feet or pay at a lesser depth.

In Dawson county the Ray Albaugh No. 2 John Robinson reported a good showing of oil in lime from 5,206-14 feet Tuesday. The oil came through 4,000 feet of sulphur water logged from 4,983-91 feet and which increased below 5,010 feet.

The original contract called for 5,000 feet but a new one was signed for an additional 200 feet of hole. The test has been shut down for orders at 5,214 feet. It is located 860 feet from the north and west lines of section 54-M, EL&RR in northwest Dawson.

Magnolia 1-40 M. H. O'Daniel, south outpost to the Snyder pool of southeastern Howard county, drilled to 3,353 feet in lime with no changes. It is in the southwest quarter of section 40-30-1a, T&P.

The C. T. McLaughlin No. 1 Pete Johnson, three miles northeast of Big Spring, was reported below 2,250 feet. Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 34-32-1a, T&P.

40 Couples At Club's Ladies Night Picnic

Forty couples joined in an evening of fun at the Scenic Mountain pavilion Tuesday evening as the Lions club observed one of its "Ladies Night" affairs.

A basket picnic dinner was spread in the pavilion by Lions and their guests, after which Schley Riley directed a program of music and stunts. On the program were the Melody Maids, Beatrice Peck, Marie Clark and Clarinda Mary Sanders and an ensemble from the high school band arranged by Dean Conley.

After the regular program, the evening was spent in a series of colorful folk and current dances. The function replaced the regular weekly meeting of the club Wednesday noon.

Turkey And Iraq Sign New Pact

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—An agreement between Turkey and Iraq for the joint defense of Iraq and French-mandated Syria in collaboration with Great Britain was concluded today at Ankara, Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) reported today in a dispatch from Istanbul.

The accord was the fruit of consultations between the Iraq ministers of foreign affairs and justice, now in Ankara, and Turkish cabinet members.

Since France surrendered to the axis powers both Iraq, which maintains close treaty relations with Britain, and Turkey, which had mutual assistance pacts with France and Britain, have shown increasing anxiety lest Syria become a battleground.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Unconfirmed peace rumors, drifting through the boardrooms of Wall Street, pushed all varieties of shares lower today.

Steels and aircrafts felt the brunt of the pressure, but displayed resilience after losses of around two points. Near the close they improved from their worst. Transactions today were about 700,000 shares.

TO BUILD DIP ON ROAD TO LAKE

A decision to replace a dump and metal culverts across Beal's creek on the Moss Creek road was reached by county commissioners court here Wednesday.

Plans are to replace the dump and "cans" with a 150-foot concrete dip. Heavy flow of water coursing down the creek channel after heavy rains in the Big Spring area office damaged the dump and Monday carried it out. Refuse clogging the cans was given as the reason for the washout.

CCC LISTS OPEN TO THREE IN COUNTY

Three youths will be taken from Howard county on July 11 to fill the current CCC enrollment quota, Marjorie Whiteaker, district department of public welfare supervisor, said Wednesday.

The youths will be enrolled at the Lameas camp. However, applications will be received at the county welfare office from boys eligible for CCC enrollment through July.

City Moves To Buy Birdwell Tank Area

City commissioners Tuesday afternoon authorized the city manager to negotiate for purchase of the area containing the Birdwell tank in eastern Big Spring.

The tank is included in the city's master flood control program and would be used as a detention dam, water impounded to be released slowly. A price of $100 an acre was allowed.

Authority to proceed with condemnation against an unknown owner for property adjacent to site for another detention dam in the south part of the city was granted by the commissioners.

Meanwhile, construction of the first detention dam at 14th and Gregg streets was underway in an effort to mitigate over-flow damage after brick showers.

Masonic Officers To Be Installed

Officers to be installed are W. B. Sullivan, worshipful master, O. L. Nabors, senior warden, R. M. Londe, junior warden, D. Foster, treasurer, Lee Porter, secretary, T. E. Rosson, senior deacon, O. C. Hart, junior deacon, H. C. McPherson, steward, Joe B. Harrison, steward, and J. N. Cowan, tiler. Dr. E. H. Hoppel will be the installing officer and will be assisted by R. E. Stringfellow as marshal. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies, said Low, who urged members and visiting Masons to attend.

IRISH PREPARE FOR POSSIBLE INVASION

DUBLIN, June 26 (AP)—Ireland has become "attack conscious" and the term "invasion" is frowned upon by the censor.

Irish newspapers do without the word altogether.

But from whom an attack might come, or on which side of the little shamrock isle, official sources decline to say.

Some weeks ago there was "sovereign" talk by members of the government. The "man in the pub" just winked a knowing wink and turned back to his pint of stout.

Now that is changed.

Every gathering in pub, hotel lobby or on the street discusses "attack"—and the talk is serious.

Through Dublin streets where the only men in uniform a month ago were police, soldiers swing along in forest green. They carry swagger sticks—but wear bandoliers of cartridges and have rifles easily accessible.

Airplanes drone overhead and watchful eyes scan the Atlantic and Irish sea approaches to every coastal town.

High officers promise an "Irish welcome" for any attacking force.

FT. WORTH CHEMIST AIDS IN ADJUSTING WATER SUPPLY

W. H. Mahlie, chief chemist for the water department of Fort Worth, was here Wednesday assisting N. S. Meyers, in charge at the filtration plant, to regulate the treatment of the surface water supply being pressed into service here.

Meyers studied water treatment at Texas A. & M. college and under Mahlie before assuming charge of filtration activities here.

The Powell Creek supply was being pumped steadily Wednesday.

City Receives New Garbage Truck

Two specially equipped trucks for use in the collection of garbage by the city arrived here Wednesday.

City officials said that alleys were now being cleared so that trucks can have ready passage along routes that are to be mapped out when an ordinance is submitted to the commission on July 9.

The trucks, with enclosed bodies, are equipped with hydraulic compressors which pack refuse and permit the trucks to carry much larger loads than an ordinary transport.

DWAN WILL GO TO GALVESTON CHURCH

The Rev. J. F. Dwan, pastor of St. Thomas Catholic church for the past four years, is to leave June 30th for Galveston where he will assume duties as pastor in the Our Lady of Guadalupe church in Galveston while the pastor there, the Rev. Clarence Duffy, will arrive to take over the local church.

The change was effected by the Rev. Father Arnold, provincial, following a custom in the Catholic churches of transferring the pastors every few years to another diocese. The Rev. Paul Hally, assistant pastor here, will remain. The Rev. Clarence Duffy was educated in San Antonio and New York.

State Housing Act Affirmed

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—Constitutionality of the state housing act, intended to further slum clearance in cooperation with the federal government, today was upheld by the supreme court.

The opinion answered certified questions propounded by the Dallas court of civil appeals in a case styled the housing authority of the city of Dallas against Will Higginbotham.

In a Dallas county court the authority had sought to condemn property belonging to Higginbotham and others for the establishment of a low rent housing project.

MILE-DIAL? FREE!? WHAT FOR?

FREE OF ALL COST your Conoco Mile-Dial is installed in two seconds at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. A smart, neat new instrument; means nothing.

WITHOUT "BOOKKEEPING" or memory work, your certified Mile-Dial handily reports your true gasoline mileage.

YOU START with your present total car mileage showing on your Mile-Dial, and you have your tank filled, simply because that's how to begin with a known amount of Conoco Bronz-z-z. (You "even things up" accurately by refilling to this same known amount each time you ask your free Mile-Dial for its latest mileage report.)

NOW SUPPOSE YOU'VE GONE 449 MILES since the day you started Mile-Dialing. And suppose your Mile-Dial shows a total of 26 gallons bought since you first filled up for your test. Then just imagine a simple twist of the wrist that'll make your "lightning calculator" Mile-Dial give you its automatic answer...17 1/4 miles per gallon is what you'd read in the "little window" of the certified Conoco Mile-Dial, according to the example just given.

THAT'S HOW EASY it is to discover all the mileage your own car may roll up on every gallon of Conoco Bronz-z-z. If you're driving mostly in traffic for the next few weeks your Mile-Dial will show you what Bronz-z-z can do despite such adverse conditions. Or if you are starting at once on a 1000-mile trip cross-country your Mile-Dial will be showing you how much higher your mileage from Conoco Bronz-z-z can bounce. Effortlessly, your Mile-Dial keeps on "telling you true." Bronz-z-z gamely urges you to accept this revealing Conoco Mile-Dial—free—because Bronz-z-z wants you to get your own answer.

NEVER HAS THE CONSUMER been able to make a straighter check. Start checking Bronz-z-z in all your own ways—today. Go now, before Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station is all out of Mile-Dials, and get yours—FREE. Continental Oil Company

The Checkup Is Urged To Curb Accident Toll

After nearly two and a half years' use on the cars of average Americans under all types of driving, survey and test records have shown, declares Troy Gifford, local Goodyear dealer, that the Marathon tire, has piled up billions of highway miles proving itself an entirely satisfactory product.

"This is important now, when a large percentage of the middle-class group of Americans is thinking about a trip, or about putting new casings on their cars to insure against accidents in Summer traffic when the failures may be the beginning of a great deal of trouble.

"Opportunity to spread the application of new tires to older cars with an attractive proposition is provided in the two and four-tire sets which we are offering," Gifford continued.

"Largest percentage of the replacement is either for two or four tires, seldom for one or three he pointed out, and figures show that the majority of tire buyers would prefer to purchase either two or four rather than just one, which is usually all they can afford, if they buy a good grade tire made by a recognized manufacturer.

"That's why our two or four Marathon offer is important to those who are watchful of their budgets and who want at the same time to buy tested merchandise."

The Effect Of Liquor Cannot Be Repealed

Regarding the prohibition of present evils, Roger Babson declares:

We should stand firm on our historic ground of demanding that the liquor traffic and other evils should be prohibited. We must vigorously resent criticism of the word "Prohibition." It is the basis of law and order. To attempt to run a nation without prohibiting certain evils is absolutely fatal. One of the greatest crimes of our past decade has been the attempt of certain commercial interests to laugh at Prohibition and the principles for which it stands. On the other hand, we must not let people think that we believe the liquor evil is the only evil to be eliminated. We should also include commercialized gambling, harmful narcotics, social diseases, cruelty to children, indecent publications, dangerous movies, misleading broadcasts, political graft, and injustices of all kinds. We should commend the work of those organizations combating all these evils and especially those fighting the labor racket and the school committee racket. An earnest attempt should be made to have these organizations join us in our fight for sympathetic legislation and courts. (Submitted by and published at the request of the local WCTU.)

Enjoy the Feel of a GROWN-UP ENGINE!

Own an "8," not just a "6" Get top economy, too!

More miles per gallon than any other standard-equipped car at its price... that's the amazing record of the big, 85 h.p. Ford V-8 in this year's official, impartial Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run! Also... Ford owners report no oil added between regular changes. YOU don't even have to "look under the hood" to know that the Ford V-8 engine is the greatest engine ever offered in a low-priced car! When every maker of fine cars in America today uses 8 or more cylinders, that fact becomes important. And the "feel" of this engine under your toe will tell you in a minute why it is important! It takes an "8" to match an "8"! And it takes a Ford to match that engine with such big-car quality throughout! With a level, gentle big-car ride that's one of the year's big surprises. With greater kneeroom than in any other low-priced car. With the kind of clutch and gearshift and drive that cars far higher-priced use and boast of. You don't want to miss what this car has! See a Ford Dealer and see money!

Editorial

The Monroe Doctrine has always been regarded as a unilateral declaration. Its enforcement has rested chiefly on the United States, and the United States has assumed full responsibility for its application. This is one of the "harder" facts of American international politics.

All-American Doctrine

With the governments who have declared their independence, and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition towards the United States.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—What Washington is saying: Wonder if the influx of job-seekers is going to drive the cost of living higher? ... Capital living costs have been gaining steadily and now are only about 18 percent under the 1929 high.

Just think, all those people with jeans full of folding money and nothing to do but up and go home.

LADY SHARPSHOOTERS

Whodoyou know about these rifletotin', sharpshootin' women? ... Hear the Columbia chapter of the Woman's National Rifle association ... And when they get good enough on the range, they're gonna practice on dummies dropped in parachutes.

The story just won't die down that Mayor LaGuardia of New York City is going to be the next secretary of war ... Remember the old line about smoke and fire ... but have you heard that Secretary of Labor Perkins may retire too and that if she does AFL Don Tobin may be called to her chair in the cabinet?

'Sfunniest town. You can walk down the block-long war department building and see generals of all ranks, colonels, majors, captains, lieutenants ... You can walk down the block-long navy building and see admirals, captains, commanders and ensigns ... and not once a month will you see a uniform ... If you ever do, put it in your book that he's a stranger to the nation's capital.

You know what they're saying about Senator Pepper, the Florida fire-eater, in the present great defense campaign? ... They're saying Senator Pepper's slogan is "a speech-a-day keeps Hitler away."

BOOM IN MARRIAGES

Do you suppose it could be war jitters that has sent capital marriages up 40 per cent above normal? Boys figuring maybe a wife will add to their exemptions, if exemptions are needed—girls figuring it may be now or never.

Boy, it's hot ... but I wouldn't trade places with a guy in the Alps ...

Italy's entrance into the war has added to the capital hostesses' mess ... That's Senator Reynolds who just went around the corner. He's been here at the state department a number of times lately ... Trying to get his daughter, Frances, out of Italy ... She's 25 and an sculptor ... Been studying over there.

Say, Pal, has anybody ever thought how some Chicago is going to be if the democrats do nominate President Roosevelt on the first ballot?

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—There was once a psychologist whose powers of persuasion were so extraordinary that he could argue the birds down out of the trees. So smooth and compelling were his lines of reasoning that after listening to him a few minutes you automatically would change your opinions, irrespective of how firm your convictions had been.

One day this man was fishing in a river, and as his canoe drifted near a bridge he observed a man on top of the bridge who was about to leap into the water.

"Why are you doing this?" asked the psychologist.

"I'm going to commit suicide," explained the man.

"Don't jump till I get up there," cried the psychologist, making for shore. As his paddle bit into the water he thought, "I'll talk that poor man out of committing suicide in a jiffy."

Five minutes later, after the psychologist and the despairing man had spoken a few words, they both jumped overboard.

This story, in a way, is a close parallel to an important incident in the career of Mrs. Maria Kramer, who is one of New York's best known women executives and who, among other things, owns and operates two large midtown hotels, the Lincoln and the Edison.

Before she became Mrs. Kramer she owned Lichtensteins, a woman's tailoring establishment on Fifth avenue. Max Kramer, a New York business man, wanted to buy the property. To obtain title to the property he had to buy up all the leases held by the tenants in the building. It wasn't long before he had bought up all the leases with the exception of one. This was held by a woman who had made up her mind that she wasn't going to sell at any price.

she wasn't going to sell at any price. Kramer, a smooth talker and a good business man, decided to handle this case personally. After all, she was merely a woman.

Some time later, friends met him on the street and inquired after the success of his mission.

"Well," replied Max, "you see, it's like this. While discussing the situation we fell in love and got married."

It seems incongruous, but Marjorie Lawrence will tell you herself that her ambition once was to become the foremost girl jockey in Australia. In her earlier teens she was a "stock girl" and equivalent of our western cowgirl, riding herd on the range and practically living in the saddle.

Now, however, she is one of the leading sopranos of the Metropolitan opera company and thinking in terms of Wagner's Götterdämmerung. But even a diva may dream of the range. "Soon," says Marjorie, "soon in Texas I will start a kangaroo ranch."

Miss Lawrence has a prize coin collection of which she is quite proud. It isn't a collection of rare coins—just lucky ones. Before going on stage, Director Leopold Saches always gives her a penny a "lucky" penny. These she keeps. It is she says, the only superstition that she has.

Eimer Rice, Pulitzer Prize playwright and now president of the Dramatists Guild, saves his fellow dramatists many expensive legal headaches. For Rice started his career as a technical adviser in a law office and every new problem that comes before the Guild he examines thoroughly for legal snafus before allowing the guild to make a decision.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—"The Ghost-Breakers." Screenplay by Walter DeLeon from play by Paul Dickey and Charles W. Goddard. Directed by George Marshall. Principals: Bob Hope, Paulette Goddard, Richard Carlson, Paul Lukas, Willie Best, Pedro de Cordoba, Virginia Brissac, Noble Johnson, Anthony Quinn, Tom Dugan, Paul Fix, Lloyd Corrigan.

Here's a picture for that evening when you can't stand it any more war talk, worry, or whatever has you down and you want to get away from things for a scare-and-laugh spree.

If you found "The Cat and the Canary" diverting, this one is of the same pattern, only more so. (If you didn't care for the first Hope-Goddard mystery comedy, then stay home and mope.)

As in their first film, the comedy talents of Hope, once less appreciated than at present, are allowed to sparkle in a setting that includes the able and decorative presence of Paulette, once again the heiress to a haunted house, the haunted precinct this time is a Cuban castle—complete with sliding panels and doors, secret halls, fluttering bats and a potent pipe organ. Undertaking to clear the place of its assorted ghosts, Hope is equipped with a valet (Best) who is not fond of ghosts, which—like much of the material here—is no great departure from formula.

However, after they've thrown in a zombie (Johnson) and other terrifying effects, and larded the whole framework with comedy.

"Earthbound" Screenplay by John Howard Lawson and Samuel G. Engel. Directed by Irving Pichel. Principals: Warner Baxter, Andrea Leeds, Lynn Bari, Charley Grapewin, Henry Wilcoxon, Elizabeth Patterson, Russell Hicks, Christian Rub, Ian Wolfe, Reginald Sheffield, Pedro de Cordoba.

For some reason the dead on the screen lately have been having a tough time breaking away from mortal surroundings. This story in its silent version preceded by years the recent "Topper" comedies, the rambling Beyond Tomorrow, and the most excellent of them all, "Rebecca."

The new "Earthbound" finds Baxter as the shade of a murdered man whose sudden passing left such a mess of human affairs behind that he stuck around to straighten things out before applying for his wings. It's his problem to persuade his murderess (Bari) to confess and save her husband (Wilcoxon) who has taken the blame. With the aid of a mysterious old gentleman (Grapewin) who alone is able to converse with the ghost, and after some powerful straining to "break through" the barrier restraining him from the living, the hero attains his end.

"Earthbound" is off the routine track, a curious and often powerful piece, and not too somber.

"Private Affairs" Nancy Kelly, Hugh Herbert, Roland Young, Robert Cummings.

Although he is "one of the Boston Bullfrogs" (as this Walton Green story was called originally), Roland Young is quite happy as a Wall Street brokerage concern's "board boy" until his grown-up daughter from Boston seeks his help in romance. Thereupon Roland, aided by an ex-taxi driver pal (Herbert) must bestir himself, and a generally diverting farce is the result. Young and Herbert, of course, carry the major burden in laugh-getting.

High Tide

Chapter 31 HOPE FOR LANCE

Jan kept the check for two days, just to look at, before putting it in the bank. "It makes me feel so rich and expensive and arrived," she explained to Norma, laughing; serious, too.

The check brought about new enthusiasm for work, new faith in herself. A few days after she arrived home she visited a pet shop in Santa Monica and wherded the proprietor into renting her three fluffy, orange Persian kittens for a short while. She put them in a wicker basket and carried them up on the roof where she spent the afternoon sketching their antics. She found, employing her talent for something besides portraits, that her facility and technique had improved enormously during her period of trial on Olivera Street. A confidence and sureness had come to her slender fingers.

By the end of the week the sketches were finished and signed and sent off by mail to New York City and Neptune was again feline ruler of the house.

With all of her heart Jan wished to write and thank Derek for helping her, but she had no idea where a letter could find him. It hurt to know he had not cared enough to write her, to tell her what he was doing, where he was, even though she had told herself all along that he would leave some day, and it would be the end.

The ocean, at high tide, had brought her strange salvage which she had kept for a little time—a pitifully little time.

And now, excitement dying down, work for the moment at a standstill, she felt her own high tide of emotion ebbing. After the summer's gay and carefree experiences, Sea Tide, after blissful rest, seemed dull and unexciting. Before Derek had come she had been content with her house and her painting and her boat, but now they weren't enough. Everything was strangely flat and empty and routine. Lance, was now accustomed to Norma's care, so Jan let it stand that way.

Angus wrote, beseeching her to come back to the only true, artistic existence and she found herself laughing, knowing that, at least for her, it was not by any matter of means the true existence. "I guess I'm not a real bohemian," she thought, "whatever that is."

She dropped Angus a note assuring him, implicitly, that she was far too old-fashioned to enjoy the sharing of his crust in an atmosphere of "mutual understanding."

However, she had made one real friend in the city. Ruth Cronin did drive her little coupe down for a week-end and Frank brought in cold meats and ale and all of them made a gala event of it in the cool living room. On Sunday afternoon Jan persuaded her into the sailboat after Frana promised to keep an eye on them and come to the rescue if anything happened.

Dr. Murray As Norma helped Jan prepare Sunday night supper Ruth came into the kitchen and closed the door behind her.

"I know I'm poking my nose into your private affairs," she apologized with a wry grimace, "but I'm the sort of person who has to have her say, regardless."

"I want you to," Jan assured her warmly.

"It's about your brother, Lance. I've been talking with Frank about the nature of his injury," she said "I heard of a case similar to his just a short time ago. The boy happens to be the son of our stur manager, Mr. Sobel. He was in a bad automobile crash-up. They were determined to leave no stone unturned to help him and of course they have money. The mother took the boy to a famed surgeon in Edinburgh. A Doctor Frederick Murray. He operated on the knees and in a short time the young man was able to be about on crutches, with every indication of final recovery."

"But Edinburgh?" Jan asked. "We haven't enough money, Ruth."

"I know, that's why I'm telling you this, Doctor Murray is now visiting in New York, doing a few special surgeries, I believe. I thought, if you could manage to take Lance to New York, I'd get Mr. Sobel to use his influence in helping you see Doctor Murray."

"We must do it, Jan," Norma cried, her eyes brilliant with sudden, shining hope. "Lance must have this chance. He must!"

Jan, catching her excitement, tried to be reasonable and matter-of-fact. "The aircraft people here had the best specialists in the country look at Lance two years ago, Norma. You know that; Ruth doesn't. They said not only were the knee caps completely shattered, but the tendons and ligaments were torn and pulled beyond mending."

"Still—" Norma insisted.

"What I fear most of all," Jan went on doggedly, "is arousing Lance's hopes for no reason. He's resigned himself to a great extent and it would be pretty terrible if he had to go all through that particular agony again. I'm almost afraid to chance it, Norma. Besides, I have only a little over a thousand dollars and no definite assurance my latest sketches will sell and this Doctor Murray will probably ask a fabulous sum if he should decide to operate."

Ruth looked from one girl to the other and said nothing. Norma remained silent a moment, then said quietly, "I think, Jan, we should put the whole case before Lance and let him decide. As to money, we'll see what I have in addition to yours. I've saved a little over two thousand and I want Lance to have it. He mustn't know, of course. No matter what it means, he must have this chance." She broke off, her hands clasping and unclasping, and Jan divined her pathetic thought. She'd been going to say: "No matter what it means to me," thinking that Lance, whole again, walking, flying once more perhaps, might seek the pleasures he had had to forego so long and that those pleasures might include gay, lovely women who, attracted by the glamour of his vocation, would seek him out.

Guilty Secret "Norma, do you remember the picture 'Treat Pilot'?" Do you realize if Lance can ever pilot a plane again he'll probably be a test pilot?"

"Yes, Jan. But it's life to him," "And maybe death?" Jan reminded soberly.

Norma's lips set into a firm line. "He should have his chance."

"Then it is settled," Jan smiled. "Let's tell him after supper."

During the meal, Lance, observing Norma's perturbed face and Jan's obvious nervousness, demanded: "What's got into you women, anyhow? You both look as if you were hiding a guilty secret. Did you break the company dishes or burn the potatoes?" Frank, are you in on this? Your sister looks worried enough."

"Don't know a thing," Frank shrugged. "No telling what sort of plot these three gals have hatched up."

Jan said, "You may as well tell him, Norma." For a moment, before the other girl put her words in speaking order, she looked long into her brother's somber, beautiful face, not so bleak as it once had been, yet still reflecting the hopelessness, the sense of futility, which even his rare smile never quite erased. Her reluctance to concur with Norma's plan was predicated on the thought that Lance, his hopes raised once more, would be plunged only deeper into melancholy if he were disappointed.

But it appeared she was wrong. Apprised of their scheme, Lance said soberly: "I'd like to have him look me over, of course. I don't need to go into that, you all know too well how I feel. Nevertheless, I'm not hoisting the flag of hope just yet. I promise you I won't go to pieces if he agrees with the others that mine is a hopeless case."

By the time Ruth left for town it was decided that Jan would go in to meet the next day for a supervised shopping tour. Ruth, reality cared about me, Johnny, you'd have liked me the way I was—or maybe I'm wrong, or maybe I read too much romantic fiction." She straightened up a moment to take a kink out of her back and pushed her hair back from her tired face.

Other Scouts In N. M. Camp

WEED, N. M., June 26—Camp Wehnhappay was filled to overflowing today as 134 scouts and scouters poured in from Odessa, Monahans, Pecos, Wink, Big Spring, Midland and Lamesa. It is the first time that a large number of scouts have attended camp from the western end of the Buffalo Trail Council in many years. Last period there were 125 scouts and leaders from the eastern end of the council embracing Big Spring, Sweetwater, Colorado, Rotan, Snyder and other towns.

Though it has rained a great deal since the scouts arrived all are comfortable in cabins and are enjoying the warmth of a fire in the recreation hall and plenty of good wholesome food in the dining hall.

Though the camp cannot be rented for another ten day period indications are that over 100 would attend. Other camps will be held in August at two other sites.

Earl Scott of Big Spring is in charge of the Pioneer group which numbers 23. These boys have already started two log cabins and many lean-tos and will sleep in them. One built the first period by Charles Canfield's pioneers uses only native boughs and shelters the entire period. They have proven very satisfactory since the beginning. Fires are made only by rubbing two sticks together.

Overnight horseback trips, pack trips, day hikes to rim rock, adventure trails, nature trails, and a great deal of rustic handicraft have already been started. There is no sickness to date nor have any of the boys been hurt in any way.

A Gal In A Prowl Car Finds Crime On A Holiday, But There's Plenty Of Personal Excitement, Anyway

By MARY WHALEY

One drunk, one crying child, one complaint concerning sale of gasoline and five "gentlemen of the road" investigated totaled the business transacted by the police prowler in two hours of prowling on one afternoon. It was a dull day, the obliging driver, A. W. Crocker, pointed out but it was an exciting two hours for us.

The child case was a disappointment unless you don't believe in "sparing the rod and spoiling the child." Anyhow, one spanked child was hardly "our" business so we toured on Down Main street, to the city limits, through the park over into Mexican town, Jones Valley, the railroad tracks. We covered the town and tried hard to look for wanted license plates but achieved a minimum of success.

We drove and drove and it looked like crime had taken a holiday until we heard the call signal and took off in a burst of speed. We got so excited that our shoestrings untied. The fact that it was just a bay rum sipper trying to get home and having difficulty didn't ruin the excitement. We gave him a lift to the front door of his house. It seems he had been trying all afternoon but just couldn't get over the Settles hotel. Which would be some high flying at that.

So, next we met the hobomen. It seems they were all either going to Midland or Arizona. They had to identify themselves and produced letters, social security cards and a variety of signed papers. We got slightly hysterical thinking what a good thing nobody asked us. On investigation in our purse we found 1 compact, 1 handkerchief, 1 pencil, 1 ticket to a luncheon and 1 door key. We couldn't have proved we were us for anything.

After that, the only excitement was watching the horrified looks on our friends' faces as we toured the town. We even got an offer from one friend to go bond for us. Before the day was over we learned that business picks up on Saturday night and we wrung a promise from Eugene Williams to go with him sometime. And that's one date we intend to keep!

'General Mud' Was An Ally Of Texans At San Jacinto

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—Add General Mud to the list of Texas saviors, says Harbart Davenport, Brownsville attorney and Texas historian.

He gives Houston full credit for defeating Santa Anna's army of 1,500 at San Jacinto but adds it was plain Texas mud and rainy weather that demoralized the major Mexican force of 4,000 troops within easy striking distance of San Jacinto.

Had this force under Vicente Filisola attacked the Texans on the afternoon of their victory at San Jacinto, the whole history of Texas might have been changed, the historian says.

Instead, Filisola chose to take his army on a march through the Bernard river region adjoining the coast where it bogged and slogged in mud the memory of which probably put the damper on later invasions of Texas.

Davenport, president of the Texas State Historical association, is a member of the summer school faculty at the University of Texas.

INCOME TAX BOOST CARRIES BIG SHARE OF DEFENSE COST; 'NUISANCE' LEVIES HIGHER

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Income tax payers will bear the heaviest part of the tax increase signed into law this week by President Roosevelt to pay for the expanded defense program. Income levies will be boosted $319,000,000 in the next fiscal year and $580,000,000 in each of the next four years.

After them will come the millions of Americans who will pay an extra penny or extra dollar on such things as cigarettes, playboy cards, theater admission, automobiles, radios, toilet preparations, liquor and beer.

Part of the income tax changes are permanent. Such changes include a reduction from $2,500 to $2,000 in the exemption for heads of families and from $1,000 to $800 for single persons. Permanent also were changes in the surtax rates on incomes from $4,000 to $100,000. An extra one per cent was added permanently also to corporation rates.

On top of all other income taxes was added for 5 years a "super tax" of 10 per cent. Under this tax, a taxpayer will figure out what he owes the government, and then add a flat 10 per cent. Thus, if he figures his bill is $100, he will pay $110.

Because millionaires are subject to surtaxes up to 75 per cent plus normal income taxes of 4 per cent, congress wrote in an escape clause for them saying that the "super-tax" must not amount to more than 10 per cent of the income left after paying the regular income taxes. This means that if you pay a federal income tax of $600,000 and have $400 left, your surtax will be only an additional $40,000, instead of $60,000.

The tax boosts will be effective July 1 on all commodities, such as liquor and cigarettes and will last for 5 years. The income tax changes are retroactive to 1940 income, and will be payable March 15, 1941. Minor increases also were made in inheritance and gift taxes, effective on deaths or gifts occurring after the president's signature.

Here are the commodity increases:

Commodity	Old Rate	Old Rate
Distilled spirits, per 100 proof gallon	$22.25	$30.00
Brandy, per 100 proof gallon	2.00	2.75

Second U.S. Warship On Way To Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, June 26 (AP)—The 10,000-ton U. S. cruiser Quincy stayed overtime in Montevideo harbor today and anxious Uruguayans, investigating possibility of a Nazi-planned revolt, cheered the news that a second U. S. warship is on the way.

Orders from Washington to keep the Quincy here and word that the seventh squadron flagship Wichita will arrive Saturday from Rio de Janeiro came within a few hours after the chamber of deputies acted in secret session last night to stamp out subversive activities.

Three other units of the U. S. warfleet, the battleships Arkansas, Texas and New York, arrived last night at La Guaira, the port for Caracas, Venezuela. They were reported to be on a training cruise, with a large party of midshipmen aboard.

Observers in Montevideo interpreted the presence of the Quincy and expected arrival of the Wichita as signs that the United States would back up the government in whatever safeguards are adopted.

There has been concern that Germany might take reprisals if stern measures were adopted on a special commission's report that Uruguay Nazis, influenced from abroad, planned to set up a little Nazi state in this vulnerable section of South America.
