

1961 Cotton Crop Estimated At 200,000 Bales, Rains Are Needed On Dryland

TOWN and COUNTRY by Wendell Tooley

OFFICIAL cotton crop is published in this issue of the Lamb County Leader and needless to say, it looks too good to be true. It is a quality report based upon how much rain has fallen in the next 15 days.

Living in Plainview many years, there's nothing that would please me more than to see Lamb County get Hale County's place spot in cotton production.

It could very well happen with the Lamb County cotton prospects so good at this time.

Time to start looking at that first area operation and we'll be running a picture of some of the near future of some open cotton. Exciting isn't it!

Batson Is Colt President

Glenn Batson was elected president of the PONY and COLT Baseball Leagues for the coming season. The election was held Monday night during an organization meeting held in the City Courtroom.

The new COLT League will be comprised of boys who are 15 and 16 years of age and will compete for the first time next summer.

Also elected at Monday's meeting were two vice-presidents, one for the PONY League and one for the COLT League. Delbert Ross was chosen vice-president of the COLT League and Roy Allen Hutson vice-president of the PONY League.

Named to be umpire in chief of the two leagues was Charlie Duval with Paul Hyatt as secretary-treasurer and Jack Christian as player agent.

The two vice-presidents and the umpire in chief will compose a coaching committee to enlist and screen coaches for the two leagues for the coming year.

Judd Walker, commander of the local Legion Post spoke to the group and offered the facilities of the American Legion Baseball park to the COLT League if the league so desired. Walker told of plans for the completion of the ball park before next season.

Walker said the Legion team used the park two or three times a week and the outsider men's team had use of the park one time a week thus leaving the COLT League the park three times a week. He

OUT OF IDEAS AND ALTITUDE -- An engine failure was blamed on the crash Tuesday afternoon about 4:30 of this H & H Spraying Service plane which came down in the edge of a grain field about 4 miles east of Littlefield. The pilot, Owen Hughes, was not even scratched in the accident which almost tore the right wing off the plane. Hughes had been spraying cotton when his engine quit. He attempted to land the aircraft in an open place but the right wing caught a fence post and skidded sideways for about 150 feet before stopping. Another foot or two and Hughes would have cleared the fence and made his landing.

Tabbed For Two Bale Production

Lamb County's million dollar cotton crop is in the best condition ever in the past five years according to most agriculture observers. Estimates at this time call for the crop to climb well above the 200,000 bale mark.

About all that is holding most observers back on setting figure higher is the need for additional moisture on the dry land area within the next two weeks. If the dryland cotton does receive a good rain during that period the estimates will go much higher.

Barbecue For SCS Is Saturday

Final plans have been made for the Chamber of Commerce barbecue supper honoring the Lamb County Soil Conservation District Saturday night beginning at 7 p.m.

H. N. Smith, state conservationist of Temple, will be the featured speaker. W. T. Moon, assistant state conservationist also of Temple, will present the award to the Lamb County SCS for being the first place work unit in the state.

Kenneth Reast, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will be the master of ceremonies. Marshall Howard, member of the Chamber agriculture committee will make the welcome with the response by Thurlo Branscum, supervisor of the SCS District.

Tickets to the barbecue are available from any member of the agriculture committee or from the Chamber office for $1.25 each.

Complimentary tickets have been mailed to SCS members and are being paid for by the local chamber.

Bill Kimbrough, county agent, commented that the cotton all over the county is in the best shape it has been in the past five years.

"If we get a rain in the next week to two weeks, we'll have it made", he stated. "We have wonderful prospects to make well over 200,000 bales this year."

Lubbock cotton specialists set Lamb County's cotton production at 203,000 and placed the county third in the state behind Lubbock and Hale Counties.

Kimbrough added that some of the dryland would be hurt if it doesn't receive moisture by the latter part of this month. The irrigated cotton is in the best shape possible and there are no reports of insects at this time.

He stated that the late June cotton is catching up under almost perfect cotton weather and most of it will probably bloom in the next week or 10 days.

In summing up the cotton situation Kimbrough said, "If we ever have any two or two and a half bale cotton, we will have it this year."

L. D. Aten, county ASCS manager, said the cotton he has seen is best since he has been here. Some is even chest high and should make at least two and a half bales, he commented.

He said there was just one spot, near Hart Camp, that shows signs of some damage and is not as good as others but it will still make a good yield.

Buster Owens at Western Cottonoil said their estimates for the county crop are between 195,000 and 200,000 bales.

Kimbrough said spotted showers Friday and Monday nights helped some of the dryland areas but there was some hail reported Friday west of Earth that hurt the crop in that area.

The feed grains throughout the county are in excellent shape according to Kimbrough who stated that the yearly dryland feed will make a lot better than last year. Some areas should begin harvest the last of this month, he added. The late feed needs another rain to insure a bountiful crop.

BACK - TO - SCHOOL

Very much in evidence as we visit around town stores and watch others already buying new jeans, shoes, and necessary items to get the children properly dressed for another year.

Telegram From Ike Read Leaders Attend Barbecue

With a theme of "the Republican party is the Conservative party" the Lamb County Republican club heard Jack Porter of Houston issue a welcome to membership in the party at a barbecue rally in the Littlefield Sports Arena Monday night.

A highlight of the rally was the reading of a telegram received by chairman Jack Barton from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Describing himself as a "native born Texan, proud of the state as well as proud of our party," Eisenhower said he was delighted to see this growing evidence of the two-party system generating in Texas. Eisenhower concluded by giving "warmest regards to your speaker, Jack Porter."

Master of ceremonies Ray Keeling kicked off the meeting with a short talk describing the threat of socialism and said "we must not let Washington leaders put us in the welfare state," and added that Barry Goldwater was the great statesman to lead the Republican party.

Republican state chairman Tad Smith of El Paso was present and he said the Littlefield movement to Republicanism was one of the first of many similar stands all over the state.

Porter told the group that he was a Democrat (Continued on Page Five)

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Wendell: Despite the misleading propaganda concerning what the Texas Highway Department will or will not do unless we fix our drainage problem, I personally feel that the City of Littlefield has plenty of time to take care of the drainage without a bond issue.

Just a little bit of economic planning is all that we need. There is absolutely no reason in the world why the City cannot tighten its belt and set aside enough money for the program. It does not make any sense at all to pay interest on $130,000.00 plus the expenses that go with all bond issues, when past records show that the City can be operated in the black.

This bond issue is deficit spending and deficit financing just like the deficit spending and deficit financing in Washington, D. C.

I wonder if you could tell me how many of the so called "conservative" Republicans are going to vote against this bond issue. Yours very truly, Jerry Jerome W. Kirby

Dear Mr. Tooley: Some of our editorials made me think you are a church going person and possibly a Christian. I am also a Christian or maybe I should say that I believe that Christ died for me as my Savior and with love I want to serve Him. With this one thing in common, I feel like you are a friend. And I also feel free to express my concern for Americans and our beloved America.

There are some citizens in Littlefield who are trying to do something about the problems that Americans have made. I'm glad. But where are the rest?

America is called a Christian nation. It is called the land of the free and home of the brave. America can be all these things.

Americans? There are less honorable names for them. Americans are a glib, greedy and selfish bunch of people. Americans will not question promises that involves money. We would even risk freedom for a little more money.

I'm a farmer's wife and am more familiar with problems pertaining farmers. When the President of the United States signs a bill into a law restricting farmers, you can be sure there will be a line of farmers somewhere thoroughly investigating ways to evade the law, not caring whether they hurt their neighbor or government so long as they can make more bales or pounds and a lot more money. Americans Christians? What can you call people who worship money other than idolators? (Certainly not Christians.)

Can you just see with your minds eye the Lord looking down upon this nation of idolators with disgust. Don't you wonder what He is thinking? Maybe, this terrible threat of Communism and war could give us a clue.

Mr. Tooley, I believe there are people who still don't understand what Soviet Communism really is. Our Church has a magazine that has been criticized as being communistic by a member of the "John Birch Society." We have this magazine and its morals are high. There are no unbecoming pictures or unfit language. Christ is exalted as God and Savior of the world. This magazine is keenly aware of the threats of communism. Anyone who wouldn't know very much about Christianity or Communism would be thoroughly confused by such people. It makes one wonder whether some members of the "John Birch Society" know what communism is. It is good that there are people who want to fight the bad. But we better be sure that we fight the bad and leave the good alone to survive.

I firmly believe we Christians better let our light shine brightly, so that our friends, neighbors and loved ones will wonder what Christianity has that is so wonderful instead of Communism which will bring an everlasting deathly blow to the soul that gets into its clutches. Sincerely, Mrs. Hubert Gohlke

FROM THE BOARD OF CITY DEVELOPMENT

We, members of your Board of City Development believe that you are entitled to a personal understanding of the Tax Bond election the City Council has called for Tuesday, August 22, at the City Hall. After considerable deliberation and consultation with the City Engineer, local and district State Highway Department Engineers, as well as, several of our local citizens, we have concluded that the best possible present and long-range solution to some major municipal problems is to pass the Bond Issue at the polls.

It is general knowledge that water drainage on U. S. Highway 84 has been a major problem for motorists, residents and businesses for 30 years. The results of this problem is that the road has been almost continuously in ill-repair.

The Highway Department has stated that they will expand to 64 feet where possible and recondition Highway 84 if we will assume our drainage responsibilities.

Observe the difference the widened and reconditioned Highway made in Muleshoe.

We propose to begin a storm sewer at XIT Drive laid on the North side of Highway 84 to the Junction of U. S. Highway 385. From this point the storm sewer will run from the intersection of Highways 84 and 54; will run under the railroad track and continue down the North side of Highway 54, ending in the vicinity of the city dump ground. Additional curb and gutter will be added where none exists on Highway 84. Property owners will bear this expense.

Please keep in mind that in the near future, the State will begin construction on a four-lane alternate route to by-pass Littlefield, if Littlefield is to retain area and transit business traffic, it is imperative that an equally wide and well improved route be established throughout city. The facts are: If we construct the proposed drainage, we will have the essential improvements; if we fail, we will not have them.

While working here, the State has agreed to cooperate on some much needed improvements on Highway 54. This would enable us to solve our drainage problem there; as well as, South Phelps Ave.

The plan is to re-condition South Phelps Avenue from Highway 54 to 14th Street. The State has agreed to lower Highway 54; draining water to Park Avenue, North on Park to Laguna Lake. In addition, this will eliminate the water that stands on Highway 54 after rains.

To make this drainage effective and keep it out of yards, etc., Park Street must be paved, curbed and guttered.

The property owners on Park must pay for their paving, curb and gutter. The increased value of their property will more than offset this expense. Phelps Avenue residents will not pay for the replacement of their paving, curbing and guttering, because they have paid for it once; it is not their fault that it was not installed for proper drainage.

Residents on Highway 54 will also be assessed for their curb and gutter, where none presently exists. In turn the State will re-condition the road from curb to curb. Sealed bids will be taken on all of the work to be done; this will insure the low- est possible price for ev- eryone.

The total cost of the pro- posed Bond Issue is $130,- 000.00 for these much needed improvements. The tax increase to property owners will be 10%. For ex- ample, if you presently pay $50.00 per year in city tax- es, you would pay an addi- tional $5.00 or a total of $55.00 for a period not to exceed 20 years.

We believe that the ben- efits derived from these projects would far more than offset the cost in- volved; both economically and for convenience.

May we urge you to sup- port this Bond Issue, Aug- ust 22.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Amid the sound and fury of the tax battle in the Legislature, Texans—new to the idea of far-reaching sales taxes—could be heard trying to get to the bottom of things by calculating their effect upon such things as baby's diapers.

The key to many discussions, both in the Legislative chambers and in the Capitol corridors, was the term "outer wearing apparel," to be exempt from sales taxes.

It seemed simple enough at first when the proposal was to exempt such articles costing less than $10, the intention being to exempt work clothes. But many a question popped up when the tax writers went into details and spelled out that this exemption would not include accessories like "cuff links, belts, ties, scarves, bill-folds, handbags, canes, unattached buttons, ornamental jewelry of any type, bathing suits, sleeping garments, bathrobes, lingerie, negligees and lounging pajamas."

Clearly, baby's diapers are outer wearing apparel. But, do they remain in that status when covered with rubber or plastic pants? Nobody could readily answer the question. That was something to be decided later.

And what about bathing suits? These certainly are not undergarments—except, of course, when worn under street clothes. And who ever wears anything "outer" than a bathrobe?

Then there was the more serious talk about the definition of work clothes. The exemption was confined to those made of cotton, twill, poplin, denim, and chambray. Suppose, somebody questioned, a man ran across a pair of blue denims with nylon knees?

And why, a white collar worker asked, shouldn't his wool trousers be exempt, too, since he works in them?

During the Sales Tax debate, Senator Wardlow Lane of Center quipped, "I'm personally not for any kind of tax. . . Just like I'm not for pneumonia, death or anything else bad."

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—An Attorney General's opinion holds that the state's admission tax does not apply to tickets to baseball, football and basketball games, but is applicable to horse races, dog races, motorcycle races, auto races, dance halls, night clubs, skating rinks, "and any and all like places of amusements, contests, and exhibitions."

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who asked for the ruling, was advised that horse races are subject to the tax because they are specifically mentioned in the tax law, while baseball, football and basketball games are not.

REFERENDUM ON HORSE RACE BETTING SOUGHT—Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio, who got nowhere with his bill to legalize horse race gambling in Texas and another calling for a statewide referendum on the question, doesn't plan to give up.

Representative Berry said petitions are being circulated by members of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association asking support of a Democratic party referendum from 10 per cent of the qualified voters in Texas. He estimated 155,000 signatures will be necessary to cause the State Democratic Executive Committee to submit the proposition to the voters in the first Democratic primary election next May.

The petition, he said, calls for submission of a constitutional amendment to the electorate.

HISTORIC DOCUMENT ON WATER PROBLEM -- "If Texans cannot change the weather, they can at least, through sound, far-sighted planning, conserve and develop water resources to supply their needs."

So said the State Board of Water Engineers as it turned in to Gov. Price Daniel the state's first comprehensive, projected plan for meeting the industrial, municipal and other water needs in 1980.

Governor Daniel termed the 200-page document, which envisions the construction of 45 new reservoirs over the state, "one of the great things in the life of our state."

The board made the observation that the people of Texas have not yet been "aroused to the dire consequences of inaction or to the consequences of building projects which at best provide for only small increases in water needs. . . in relation to long term future needs in many areas, water is the least abundant of Texas' important natural resources; certainly it is the most indispensable."

The board said that through proper development, Texas has adequate water to meet its municipal and industrial needs in 1980 and sustain agriculture and other uses. A significant statement in the report was to the effect that such a program as outlined "appears to be within the financial capability of the state and local interests, with federal participation in projects containing flood control."

In short, the so-called "Master Plan" for development of the state's water resources is at least an outline of what can be done, and might be done, to meet one of the state's most crucial problems.

ATTACK ON "SOFTNESS" LAUNCHED--Physical education teachers from over the state at a meeting in Austin have come up with a plan to turn talk into action and do something about physical fitness in the schools.

The plan includes 15 minutes of strenuous body exercise in physical education periods; teaching the right way to walk, sit, climb, pull, push and all the other ways the body obeys the laws of physics; teaching games and sports people can use throughout their life including tennis, golf and swimming and other popular sports; teaching the history of games; fitting activities such as folk dancing into social studies; emphasizing sportsmanship as part of social behavior; accomplishing social control through release of tension in athletics; and promoting a favorable attitude toward physical activity both as children and as adults.

BUS RATES GO UP--Bus travel in Texas is costing the operators more and so it will be costing the passengers more. No one objected at a hearing which resulted in a general hike of five per cent in bus fare rates approved by the State Railroad Commission.

Operators testified expenses increased 8.9 per cent in 1960 over 1959, against a revenue increase of only 4.6 per cent. The last time bus fares were increased was in 1958.

The increases will be in effect no later than September 1. There were some exceptions to the general five per cent increase, such as an approved boost of 10 per cent for Texas bus lines operating between Galveston-Beaumont and Port Arthur-High Island, and a 10 per cent increase for Texas Electric Bus Lines.

GOVERNOR FOR A DAY --One of the nicer traditions in Texas politics is that which permits the man who is third in line to the Governorship officially to take over the reins of state government for a day.

By custom, the Governor and Lieutenant Governor absent themselves from the state for a 24-hour period so that the Senator who has been elected by his colleagues as President Pro Tempore of the Senate can step into the Governor's chair.

The honor went to easy-going, well-liked Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock last week. He signed proclamations, as Acting Governor, got in little plugs for his area of the state, and was feted at a banquet which rounded out the festivities in the evening last Friday.

MOONSHINING still goes on. . . The Texas Liquor Control Board reports seven illicit stills were taken by inspectors during the month of June with a capacity of 710 gallons. Inspectors seized 590 gallons of mash and made nine arrests. The stills were located in Lamar, Bowie, Marion and San Jacinto Counties.

Texas Business Review reports retail sales in Texas for the first six months of 1961 increased steadily, but still fell behind the first half of 1960. One reason--consumers using current income to catch up on old debts.

Construction industry reached near record levels with substantial increases over 1960, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Authorized construction this year so far is less than one per cent below the record reached in 1959.

C-C Board control policy, proposal from the retail council on slogan contest, and report on the Latin - Anglo relations committee.

The discussion on establishing a solicitation control program will include establishment of a city-wide community chest plan.

Batson continued that the Legion was going as far as it could with the money they had available to complete the park. He pointed out that the park was meant for use by boys from 14 years and up.

Bob Falk, Legion coach, said he favored the added league since his team limited to the number of boys they could use during the season and more than half of the boys who came out to practice didn't get to play much during the season and this would allow many of these boys the opportunity to continue playing.

Wesley Pigg of Amherst said he thought they could get enough boys to make up a team from there. He said they would do their best to field a team in the COLT League.

Batson served as president of the PONY League this past year and was highly praised for his outstanding work.

Wheat the crop. In setting the August 24, referendum date, Secretary Freeman said; "The decision that farmers make is extremely important to them and to the rest of the Nation not only for 1962 but also for many years to come. The program available with quotas in effect would be far different from that which could be operated without quotas."

If quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of the farmers who vote in the August 24 referendum, co-operators will be eligible for 1962 wheat price support at a level to be determined later. If quotas are not approved by the necessary percentage of votes, there will be no limit on marketings and price support -- at 50 per cent of parity -- will be available to those farmers who comply with their acreage allotments.

Ballots will be cast at Sanders Elevator, Olton, Earth Elevator, Earth, and the ASCS Office in Lamb County.

Before wheat is seeded without an allotment this fall, be sure and check at the ASCS Office because there are new wheat regulations which would possibly affect you. 13.5 acres will be the most wheat that can be planted without an allotment, provided that wheat was seeded on the farm during 1959, 1960 or 1961.

Penn Point

By D. H. P.

After two weeks with Uncle Sam about all I can say is this, one of America's most trying times, is that I am glad to be back here sitting behind my typewriter again. I wish I could honestly say that I am sure of sitting right here for the next year or so, but the situation as I see it and as it was explained to me by a high ranking general, the chances are fairly good that I'll get called back into the service. This same general said the build-up would come through an enlarged draft and the recalling of individual reservists. Everything should be known one way or the other in the next two or three months.

While we are on the subject of summer camp, I would like to state that the 36th Division, Texas National Guard, is probably one of the best trained and most ready divisions in the nation. I served with the 1st Battle Group of the 141st Infantry. The group moved to the field Monday and returned late Friday, they returned to the field Sunday afternoon and came back late Thursday evening. There was nothing but training going on for the two weeks and the morale of the men was just about as high as could be expected under the present conditions. This may sound true but it is nevertheless true "Sleep well, the National Guard is awake". If all the units of the 36th are as able, well-trained, and devoted to defending our country, as the 141st we can all sleep well. This is the first contact that I have had with the 36th or with any other National Guard unit and I was very impressed with the amount of training that went on in the two weeks. Needless to say there were many sighs of relief after President Kennedy's speech because many of the men felt they would be frozen on active duty. The citizen soldiers of Texas composing the 36th Division should be highly commended for their excellent and earnest willingness to defend this great land of ours. Personally I don't think I could have learned more with any other unit regardless of what or where it was.

During one of the various meetings held during camp, there was more high ranking brass than you could shake a stick at. Five generals all at the same table, plus a few colonels.

The weather was very pleasant the first week and a half. The days weren't very hot and the nights were cold. If you have ever been to Ft. Hood in the summer than you know how dead and brown things are about this time of the year, but not so this year. Things were green and Hood looked very good. It began getting hot Thursday and stayed that way until I left.

And there were plenty of chiggers down there making living quite interesting, for both man and insect.

Holy Mackarell! The things one can learn just half trying. For instance, an expert says, chiggers are not naturally red. They are straw colored, and turn red only when they fill up on blood.

Chiggers are not the adult of the specie. The chigger is the larva of the mite. First comes the egg, then the larva, then the nymph and finally, the adult mite. The adults, or the mite, do not feed on human beings.

There are 70 different kinds of chiggers. The only way you can tell them apart is the distance between their eyes. That's what the man said. The next time you have a chigger cornered, take a good look at his eyes. Besides being blood shot, they have character in the eyeball separation.

Humans have little - that's it, little - to complain about when it comes to chigger bites. Birds and animals are the real victims. The next time you

Otherwise he wouldn't be out in the road trying to end it all under the wheels of a car.

Closely cropped lawns are a good means of whipping down the chigger menace. These demons prefer high grass and weeds where chances are better of coming in contact with birds and animals.

If you want to fight, not scratch, chiggers, apply one-fourth pound per acre of dieldrin, aldrin or lindane to the area treated. Also, for your personal comfort, don't scratch. Rough up your skin and the chiggers go to work on the blood.

If everything else fails, try trapping the chiggers between two boards. That sometimes pays off. They seldom understand the names you call them.

Upland Hills Philosopher Looks Over Russian Offer Of Free Food

Philosopher's note: The Sand-Philosopher on his grass farm examines the latest Russian promises, Mr. Khru- without enthusiasm.

What little I know, I've always understood a Russian dictator has to run for office just stayed in as his aim was accurate judging by the campaign promises. Mr. Khru- put out a few days he must be having a trouble on the home 1980, if not sooner or later, will have free housing, free food, free gas, free transportation.

I have examined these promises carefully, and as an expert in listening to campaign promises a lot of- tenger than benefiting from them, I can detect several flaws.

For example, is this free food going to be cooked or raw, and what will it consist of? How long will you have to stand in line to get it? Who's going to raise it? I've got free food already, if I want to work hard enough to raise it, but that's not my notion of free.

Also, is their gas they're talking about cooking and heating gas, or car gas? If it's car gas, that's just like a politician. What's free gas worth if you haven't got a car to use it in? And if the gas is free, who're they going to get to stick around a filling station to pump it out for you and check your oil and water? Seems to me everybody'd be cruising.

And also, how many hours a day will you have to work, whether you feel like it or not, to pay for this free housing they're going to furnish?

After they get all this free food, free housing, free gas and free transportation, who's going to decide how much you have to work, where you have to work, when you have to work, to produce it?

If you live in the South Sea Islands, I understand, you can get free food if you can live on coconuts and bananas, but I doubt if the Russian climate is suited for those kinds of crops, consequently somebody is going to have to grow it, and even if somebody furnished me a free tractor and free gas and fixed all the flats, there'd be times when I just didn't care about going up one row and down another, even if Mr. Khrushchev himself was standing at the turn-row with a basket of free food for me.

As I understand it, Russia is promising to abolish everything except work. That system will never suit me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bacterial Blight Most Serious Plant Disease

Bacterial blight of cotton causes more damage than any other plant disease in Texas. It generally is most severe on the Plains and the Coast in the irrigated areas of the Trans-Pecos and in the sprinkler irrigated areas on the Rolling Plains.

Bacterial blight causes more than one-fourth of the estimated cotton yield loss in Texas. Losses vary from $35,000 to $40,000,000 per acre. Too, additional losses occur in the form of ginned and spot grades of cotton and fiber. Losses in 1960 were slightly less than in former years.

Small, angular, brownish blackish spots occur on lower leaves. Later the spots may spread to the upper leaves. Only a few are necessary to drop leaves. Yield reduction results from the premature dropping of leaves. Small, circular, dark-green spots on bolls. These spots dry up, stain lint and prevent normal opening of the boll. Under severe conditions limbs or bolls may die-back. Bacterial disease causing bacteria enter through air breathing pores (stomata) in the leaves, bolls and stems. They also may enter the plant parts through wounds.

The blight organism overwinters in the soil on old plant trash and on or in planting seed. Wind-driven splashing rains, sprinkler irrigation or whirlwinds spread the bacteria from plant to plant in the fields.

The only known practical prevention is the growing of resistant varieties. Acala 1517 BR, Acala 1517 BR-1 Blightmaster, Austin, Rex and Mebane B-1 have some resistance and are available for commercial production. New resistant varieties are being developed.

The planting of known disease-free seed will give control if there is no soil carry-over. Acid delinted seed, adequately treated with a seed protectant fungicide, will reduce early season infection. This practice does not necessarily prevent later epidemics. Correct amounts of nitrogen fertilizer will help make susceptible varieties more resistant.

Cover Crops Can Save Soil And Cash

by B. T. Kisner
Soil Conservationist

Cover crops are becoming recognized around the area as one of the better ways to save both soil and money.

Getting a good cover on the ground where there is not adequate residue to protect it from wind erosion can save from two to three times the plowing that would otherwise be required to keep it from blowing. Not only will a cover crop help keep the land from blowing, but it will hold the drifting snow, and slow down the runoff water from rains, giving it more time to soak into the soil.

A cover crop is any close-growing crop that will give protection to the land that has been left without cover to prevent wind erosion between the cropping seasons. At the same time, such a crop will improve the physical, chemical and biological condition of the soil.

Several crops are suitable for cover crops—small grains, Austrian winter peas, vetch or a combination of the last two with the small grains. These crops are the most suited on cotton land and can be planted with a broadcast seeder with the last cultivation of the cotton, sometime between August 15, and November 1. (See photograph)

Best results can be obtained from cover crops planted between August 15 and September 15; the earlier the crop is established, the better protection it will give. If the cover crop can be left on the land until about April 1, better results will be obtained.

Cover crops are not limited to dryland. They do a much better job on irrigated land. Where a sprinkler system is used, cover crops can be handled the same way as on dryland, but for a flood irrigation system, a good furrow should be maintained so that the crop can be irrigated or pre-irrigation can be done before the land is prepared.

There are several combinations as to how this can be done, depending on the previous crop, whether or not the crop is to be grazed, and how long it will take to cover the land with the pre-irrigation.

Several area farmers are already making arrangements to plant cover crops of small grain this year. This, too, should be planned in advance and arrangements made for the equipment to work it with.

The amount to plant per acre is dependent upon the type of soil, kind of crop and whether it is planted by itself, or as a mixture with some other type of crop. Anyone desiring more information on any kind of cover crop program may contact any of the SCS personnel and the office in the courthouse basement.

These crops. Any producer in conservation use and receive payments.

(3) A price support level determined at the discretion of the secretary of agriculture, but not less than 65 percent of parity. Under similar provision in the 1961 program the secretary set support of corn at $1.20 a bushel or 74 percent of parity, and grain sorghum at $1.93 a hundred-weight or 78 percent of parity. The corn support in 1960 was $1.06 and grain sorghum, $1.52.

(4) As a condition of eligibility for price support a producer of corn, grain sorghum or barley (except as provided for malting barley) must participate in the acreage reduction program for these crops in 1962, to the extent prescribed by the secretary. To be in compliance with the program, a producer of corn or grain must not increase his acreage of barley and a producer of barley must not increase his acreage of corn or grain sorghum.

Cotton was not treated in this legislation.

(1) A voluntary retirement of acreage previously devoted to corn, grain sorghum, and barley. The 1962 program would add barley to the grain program in operation for corn and grain sorghum in 1961. A special exemption is provided for producers of malting barley.

(2) Payments to producers on retired acreage up to fifty percent of the normal value of production on these acres, at the current support rate, for the first twenty percent of the corn, grain sorghum, and barley acres retired to a conservation use and payment up to sixty percent of the normal value of production on land retired above twenty percent of the previous acreage in

New Farm Program

The new farm program is thoroughly explained in the Sunday edition of the Herford Brand in a special release from Walter Ebers, Member of Congress. The facts printed are taken from the Sunday edition of the Herford Brand in the hopes it will shed some light on the new bill.

1962 Wheat Program provides:

(1) A mandatory reduction of ten per cent in acreage and offers incentives for producers to reduce acreage voluntarily their thirty per cent maximum forty per cent acreage curtailment on individual farms.

(2) A producer could retire up to forty per cent of his acreage or ten acres, whichever is greater, and receive payment for such retirement. Secretary Freeman stated that "under the program it would be the judgment that the support price (for wheat) would be fixed at a national average of $2 a bushel."

(3) The support price this year is $1.79 or 75 percent of parity.

(4) An exemption from marketing quotas is limited to 13.5 acres per farm and the highest acreage planted for harvest in 1959, 1960, or 1961. The present exemption is 15 acres.

(3) Price support is limited to producers who do not exceed their reduced 1962 acreage allotment and who divert an acreage at least equal to ten percent of their previous acreage allotment to conservation uses, with payments in cash or in kind on up to 45 percent of normal production for such diversion.

(4) Payments in cash or in kind up to sixty percent on normal production on wheat acres voluntarily removed from production above the mandatory ten percent diversion.

(5) Authority for producers to plant castor beans, guar, sunflower, safflower or sesame, if designated by the secretary, subject to the conditions that no payments shall be made with respect to diverted acreage devoted to any such commodity.

(6) Increases the marketing penalty from 45 to 65 per cent of parity price and establishes stricter computation of amount subject to penalty in cases of noncompliance with allotments.

(7) Provides that where producers can prove their 1959 and 1960 acreages and

Contemporaries Are Saying

Perryton Herald
 For Barry Goldwater, the Arizona Republican political philosophy is catching fire all over the nation, recently came up with an examination of the illusions fostered by the liberals in politics. The liberals are those who fear big business far more than government and are working hard to bring about complete control of all business by the federal government in order that everybody may "share in the wealth. The liberal illusion usually takes the form of taking from the rich and giving to the poor—at least in theory.

Sen. Goldwater makes a rather clear-cut distinction of the liberal illusions, as follows: "The liberal illusion is that government money is free money and that a government can continue being paternalistic. We know that the only money government has is that which it takes from the citizens.

That government laws can make men good and honest, honest and just. Laws are obeyed, not evaded. Behavior of a society is no better than the moral standards of the individual members of that society.

The welfare state can make a better world tomorrow. Shifting of responsibility from the individual to the government weakens character, lessens initiative and destroys opportunity. If tomorrow is to be a better tomorrow, it will only be so if the individual encounters a greater opportunity than is available today.

Economic problems are at the root of all our failures. All families will be good and moral if only they're given some government money for subsistence. All children will become educated, productive and creative if only they are given government-sponsored education. The truth is that all men should be given an opportunity to use their talents to the maximum of their ability to prosper themselves.

The welfare load has constantly increased until it is many times greater than during the depths of the depression. The habit of dependency creates laziness. Human nature being what it is, there are some men who will never provide for themselves so long as they can shift the burden onto the shoulders of other members of their society.

Security in a material sense is the only worthy thing men seek. The truth is, there is no security on earth beyond which each man finds in his own ability to become a creative, useful citizen.

There can be no real security in life because life is temporary. You and I do not truly own anything. We may have temporary possessions and we may be able to hold these in our greedy grasp so long as we live, but in time we do not even own tomorrow. It's good for the nation to pay high taxes and support the government in every endeavor. The truth is that when the tax burden takes away incentive from people becomes sufferers and stagnation sets in.

A little inflation is desirable. Inflation is the result of robbing the rich and poor alike, creating a climate where the desperate citizen becomes an easy victim for the promises of a totalitarian government. In every nation which has fallen to communism since the end of World War II there has been a calculated debauchery of the currency. Only the liberals have a compassionate outlook toward their fellow men. How false this is and how clearly apparent its sophistry, when we see the charges and ambitions of men destroyed by the overbearing paternalistic influence of government.

How honest are we? Most Americans will assert that our church-going, business conduct, credit system and many other evidences prove our basic honesty.

The double standard which governs our conduct, however, will make many conscience-stricken after objective study of our own acts. We too, are guilty. Examine the rule by which we live in our relationship with local, state and national laws and regulations. It is shockingly different from the honest rules our personal lives.

The workman, hired for one day, asks the employer for cash and keep no record, so he may continue to draw unemployment compensation. "To collect unemployment insurance benefits while working is illegal but few workers see it this way," says a discussion of the problem in Harper's magazine.

The doctor who receives a cash fee forgets, on purpose, to report it as taxable income.

The auto driver spends $39.95 for a device invented to permit him to detect radar traps on Texas highways and violate the speeding law.

Statistics alone should make us treat our government honestly as we do other individuals. Honesty is not enough, we must be honest because it's good business. Wrongdoers are expensive. We pay for investigators to check our income tax returns. We pay for chiseling on unemployment compensation. We hire enforcement officers to off-road cheaters.

These are the government. Dishonesty weakens our moral fiber and the system which we have set up to govern ourselves. When we cheat, we cheat ourselves. — Dallas News

Littlefield Boy To Attend Most Unusual Reunion

Attend the Church of your Choice Regularly

AS YOU LIKE IT

Some folks talk as though they want life to be a downhill race without obstacles.

But God, who made man in His own image, never meant it to be so. For the muscle becomes helpless which is never tensed; the mind grows dull which is never challenged. There is no courage without threat of battle.

This life was meant to be a succession of goals . . . each the more inspiring because of the hazards along the way. And who among us, worth his salt, would want a life any different?

It is the uphill, the hazardous, course of courageous living that makes spiritual strength a must. You and I need the Church. We need the Church because we see divine as well as human purpose in our existence.

Life—as we like it—gains deeper meaning with each new discovery of our need of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PICTURE OF A LADY ADJUSTING HER BRAKES
Back up! Put your foot down! Presto! Your brakes are adjusted if they need it!

The '61 Ford is so beautifully built...the brakes adjust themselves automatically! Another example of the sensationally sensible engineering beneath the Classic Ford Look for '61

One of the world's most expensive imported cars has this self-adjusting brake feature and so does Ford! Just one of many new built-to-be-more-service-free improvements! Here's another surprise--you can normally drive 30,000 miles before your Ford needs lubrication of major chassis components. Then a quick, inexpensive, Ford Dealer lube job will get you set for another 30,000 miles. And the '61 Ford has a new optional 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 waiting for you to test-drive. You can't get that in any other car in Ford's price class. Nor can you get the Classic Ford Look in any other car. The Straight-Line design of the '61 Ford steps out in front and stays there. But, seeing is believing, so pay a visit. See for yourself that the 1961 Ford is... Beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look!

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD SAVES BECAUSE IT'S BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO BE MORE SERVICE-FREE
Save on Lubrication--You'll normally go 30,000 miles between lubrications of major chassis components, and saves you time and money, because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.
Save on Oil Changes--You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you clean oil through fibers, and filters all the oil at the same time.
Save on Brake Adjustments--New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
Save with Extended Muffler Life--Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminumized to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
Save with Protective Body Coating--All vital body parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath the body.
Save with Special Body Finish--Ford's new Diamond Lustre Enamel never needs waxing.
