Nearly News

When writing our editorial of last issue about what a mild rate increase Southwestern Public Service was asking, we didn't know a tenth of it. Instead of one mill increase to very half cent rise in their fuel cost, the electric company actually asked only one-fifth of a mill. So instead of an increase of between three and four percent every time their average fuel cost rises half a cent, the company will get only a third of one percent increase, and that on commercial accounts only, and only if and when the price they pay for gas goes up.

That's getting into such small figures we didn't know how to figure them. In fact it's so small we don't know why they even bother. But they say that with a four million dollar gas bill and gas going up, they've got to get prepared.

(They did win again but Sam already had all the King's Men there was, so they gave him a set of "rabbit ear" TV antenna instead. Sam doesn't believe TV is here to stay, so he's looking for a rabbit who'll trade him a loaf of bread for 'em.)

Firemen Answer Two Trash Fire Calls This Week

Littlefield firemen answered two fire calls this week, and extinguished both.

The first fire was Saturday afternoon. It consisted of some trash burning in an alley behind a warehouse in the Duggan Annex of town.

The other fire call was on the highway at the edge of town. This was a trash fire also. Workmen tearing down some shacks were burning trash which got out of control.

No damage to property was reported in either fire.

Members of the Lamb County Commissioners Court and the Littlefield City Commission jointly approved a plan Monday afternoon to pave and landscape the town square at the head of Phelps Avenue.

The plan, which calls for curb and gutter, plantings, sidewalks, and asphalt paving will provide parking space for 116 cars. The central drive between the postoffice and city hall to the front entrance of the new county courthouse will be paved and will be 48 feet wide.

Parking areas have been designated in a square at the rear of the city hall with walkways to the east entrance of city hall. The northwestern corner will be removed, and the city parking area will enclose this space.

Other parking areas will extend along the rear of the post office property and along the east entrance to the county courthouse. Parking will be provided at the east side of the city hall on city hall drive and other official areas. Customer parking, city hall will be in the rear of city hall. Parking will be provided at the front and rear entrance steps of the courthouse and along a walkway over at the east corner in the courthouse. Eight mercury vapor street lights will be erected around the square.

The removal of the square at KIT and Seventh streets will be completed in about a month. Traffic will not be hindered from either direction.

Meeting with the new commission Monday was the design engineer, Wilbur Ash, Odessa, who estimated that cost of the project would total approximately $21,000.

By making some changes in the city part of the project, the cost to the city was lowered from the original estimate.

The two commissions will meet again Monday to receive technical data for the project and set a date for advertising and opening bids on the paving and other improvements.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance. The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stop-and-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soon.

Rotary, WOW Tied For First In LL Race

The WOW team pulled into a tie for first place Tuesday night when they beat the Lions team, 5 to 2, in a pitching duel between Tom Lewis of the Lions and Jerry Connell and Max Ball of the Woodmen. Lewis allowed only two singles, one each by Jerry Kohler and Max Ball and the Lions collected only four hits off the two Woodmen pitchers.

Both Rotary and WOW has two wins against no losses and are the only two teams left in the League undefeated. WOW tangles with the VFW tonight in their third contest.

WOW Takes Lions By 5-2 Tuesday Nite

By Charles Duval
Getting only two singles thru the ball game, the WOW team overpowered the Lions 5 to 2 by superb playing Tuesday night at Little League park.

In the top of the first inning, the only man to reach base and score for WOW was Roger Morris, who got on base through being hit by a pitched ball. Morris stole second and third and stole home on the catcher's error.

Jackie Brooks and Mac Osborn both slugged out hot singles in the Lions turn at bat but Brooks was tagged out trying to reach second and Osborn was thrown out at home. Johnny Weaver was given four balls and sent to first. However he had failed to score when the side went down.

George Cox's took a four ball count for the WOW club in the top of the second. Cox stole second and tried to reach third but was tagged out. No other players reached the sacks.

Although runners were getting on for the Lions through walks and singles, solid WOW team work prevented them from scoring. Tom Lewis got on the first base after the third sacker dropped his hard-to-hold single. Gene McAllister and Troy Myers were given a free ride to first because of four balls, and Spike Jones hit a high single to speed the runners on toward home. However, Lewis was thrown out trying to reach second, and the side was retired, leaving all the men on the bags.

WOW continued their hitting stunts as no runners came across the plate to score in the top of the third. Jerry Kohler walked but was left on base as the side was retired.

The Lions, however, managed to bring a runner home in the bottom of the third. Max Osbourne, who got on base on a walk and stole second and third scored after the third sacker failed to catch the ball. The score was now tied.

WOW saw the Lion threat and brought three runners of their own across the plate in the top of the fourth. Keith King was hit by a pitcher's throw and trotted to first. Ray McKinney also reached first but on a count of four balls. Max Ball drove the runners around and is home with his single which the first baseman had a little trouble holding. Ball scored himself on a steal.

The Lions managed to stay in the hitting column with one run in their turn at bat. Spike Jones, Jim Bankston, John Bankston and Mac Osborn were walked by the opposing pitcher. Jackie Brooks slugged batted a hard, rolling single out through the infield. However, Jones scored after the third sacker goofed and the rest of the runners were left on base.

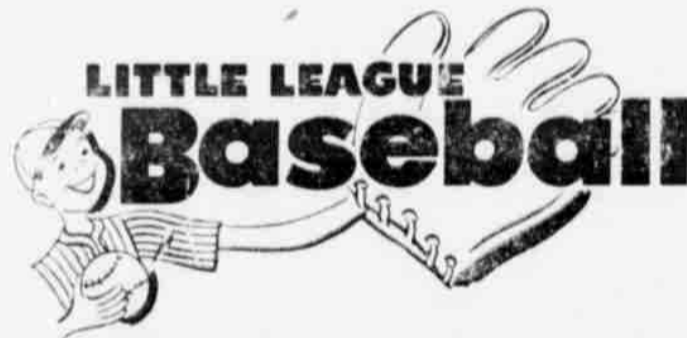

Shoggin slugged in the top of the fifth for the WOW club. Kohler managed to reach first sack safely after an error was committed on the other side. Kohler stole second and third and scored on the third bagger's mistake.

WOW, in the top of the sixth had no runs as they were up and down in order.

The Lions likewise had no runs in the bottom of innings five and six. Johnny Weaver and George

Jaycees Down Smith-Badger 6-4 Monday

The little Jaycees came from behind to overpower the S & B ball club 6-4 Monday night at the racod arena.

Ronny Waldon got on first base free after being walked by the opposing side. However, the next three batters went down swinging and Waldon was left on base as the side was retired.

The Jaycees likewise failed to get more than one man on in the bottom of the first. Tony Estrado got on the first sack safely after the shortstop failed to field the ball. Estrado however, was tagged out while sliding to third, and the side was retired.

Nickelson both banged out one base hit in the fifth, but failed to score. In the sixth Jim Bankston was walked and reached third, but failed to score.

The final score: WOW, 5—Lions 2.
Winning Pitcher—Max Ball.
Losing Pitcher—Tom Lewis.

ged out while sliding to third, and the side was retired.

Four runs came across the plate for the S & B buns in the top of the 2nd and 3rd. Phillip Sellers got the fourball count and trotted to first. Billy Bankston then hit a terrific three-base line drive which landed just inside the foul line and which drove Sellers in home. Bankston scored himself after the third sacker goofed. Roger Sellers also walked and tried to reach home, but was thrown out, thus retiring the side in the top of the second.

Waldon was given a free trip to first and scored on the second sacker's error. Dwayne Jones also walked and slid home after the catcher missed a bad throw. Ray Edwards hit a high fly into right field but a great catch was made by the Jaycees' Pete Conterres to retire the side.

The Jaycees were unable to match S & B's slugging power in their turn at bat in the bottom of the second and third inning. Max Blessig was given four balls and sent to first sack. Blessig was later tagged out as he tried to reach home. Tony Estrado slugged-banged a hot double-bagger and reached third.

was later tagged out as he left for the third base. Allen Dunn dummyed out a one-base hit. However, none of these men reached home partly because of the sensational ballplaying of S&B's Terry Jones. Jones was only a relief catcher for the night but played superb ball all through the game.

In the top of the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, the S & B ball club failed to bring any boys over the plate to score. Bankston got on base in the fourth, but failed to get an opportunity to score. Roy Edwards smashed out a high two-bagger, but alert fielders threw him out at second. In the sixth, Phillip Sellers slugged out a one-sacker, but was left on base as the side was retired.

The Jaycees in their time at bat got five runs in home to pull ahead. Dwayne Williams banged out a hot one-sacker but was thrown out at second. In the fifth the Jaycees unloaded their slugging power to drive five runs across. Pete Con-terres and Billy Holton got free tickets to first base, and Max Blessing and Pete Estrado drove them in with their one-base hits. To drive in the remaining runners, Tony Estrado and Mike Steffey both whammed terrific double-baggers against the fence. The climax of all of this hitting came with Allen Dunn's high hard hit home run, over which there was some argument.

The final score was:
Jaycees 6
S & B 4
Winning Pitcher—Alan Dunn.
Losing Pitcher—Roy Edwards.

first quarter of 1955. John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock, District office of the Social Security Administration, has answered some of the most frequent questions along these lines as follows:

Only certain farmers will be required to file any kind of quarterly returns. They are required only if the farm employer's total social security tax liability from January 1 to the end of any one of the first three calendar quarters of the year amounts to $100 or more. Thus the farmer would file a quarterly report only if by April 1, July 1, or October 1, he has paid taxable wages of $2,500 or more. A farm employee's wages become taxable for social security purposes as soon as he is paid $100 or more in cash during a year.

"I love the time-saving advantages of my ELECTRIC RANGE!"

says Mrs. James Russell,
1009 BALTIMORE STREET
PLAINVIEW, TEXAS

Reddy Kilowatt just loves to take the work out of cooking, as he has for so many homemakers like Mrs. Russell. "Preparing breakfast for my husband, James, is a snap. The controlled heat of our electric range turns out perfect pancakes every time." Start the day right—cook breakfast electrically.

The modern range? Of course, it's electric. Mrs. Russell points out the "plus values" on her electric range. "The minute minder—convenience outlets—grill—automatic timer—and well-lighted work surface are all wonderful! They give me a big bonus—extra time for other things."

Perfection comes from accuracy—and the heat of an electric range is pre-set, no outside force—a breeze, for example—can affect it. In Mrs. Russell's words: "I can put my pie in the oven, set the timer, and go about my other household tasks while my electric range bakes the pie perfectly."

Yes, in ranges, as in all other appliances, to be modern, it must be electric. And it's electric so convenient and time-saving, like Mrs. Russell's all-electric kitchen. "My all-electric kitchen affords more leisure time for my family and friends." Yours will, too.

Sudan OES Install Officers

Sudan (Special)—Rosie Pinkerton was installed as Worthy Matron Friday night when officers of the Sudan Order of Eastern Star were installed for the ensuing year.

The installation was held in the Masonic hall with Noel D. Lumpkin as installing officer.

Other officers installed were: Worthy Patron, Jack Engram; Associate Patron, Melvin Walker; Secretary, Hazel Gaston; Treasurer, Corlye Walker; Conductress, Bill Olds; Associate Conductress, Lois Brown; Chaplain, Willie Terrell; Marshall, Ramona Engram; Organist, Virginia Rome; Adah, Lora Blanchard; Esther, Wanda Fields; Martha, May Fair Graves; Electa, Araceli Solomon; Warden, Ima Olds; Steward, Cella Dryden.

Appearing on the program were Corlye Walker and Virginia Rome who sang a duet. Another duo, composed of Carol Ann Watkins and Elvann Bottoms, presented a vocal selection.

Assisting the installing officer were Levin Chester, installing Marshall; Vesta Terrell, installing Chaplain; Stella Chester, installing Organist; and Ruth Newman, installing Secretary.

Worthy Matron Pinkerton chose as her motto for the year "Kindness."

The keynote will be "Service With A Smile". Her chosen colors are pink, gold and purple. The flower — white carnations. The Scripture "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hands to do it." Proverbs 3-27. She chose for the opening ode, "I Am Thine, O Lord" and the closing ode, "I Need Thee Every Hour."

Following the program refreshments of cookies and punch were served to approximately 35 members and guests.

ORDINANCE NO. 1

AN ORDINANCE ENACTED AND ADOPTED BY THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE TOWN OF SPRINGLAKE, TEXAS, FIXING AND LEVYING RENTALS AND CHARGES ON GROSS RECEIPTS TO BE PAID BY PERSONS, FIRMS AND CORPORATIONS ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS OF SELLING AND DISTRIBUTING WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE TOWN OF SPRINGLAKE, TEXAS OF ELECTRIC CURRENT, POWER AND ENERGY, AND FOR USING THE STREETS, ALLEYS, BRIDGES AND OTHER PUBLIC GROUNDS IN SAID TOWN FOR POLES, TRANSMISSION LINES AND OTHER FIXTURES, AND PROVIDING FOR THE TIME AND MANNER OF THE PAYMENT OF SUCH CHARGES AND OTHER INCIDENTAL MATTERS, MAKING IT A MISDEMEANOR TO FAIL TO COMPLY WITH SAID ORDINANCE AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR SUCH FAILURE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE TOWN OF SPRINGLAKE, TEXAS THAT:

Section 1: Each and every person, firm or corporation owning, operating or maintaining any electric light plant, transmission line or electric distribution system, the whole or any part of which plant, line or distribution system is located, operated, maintained or used within the corporate limits of the Town of Springlake,

Texas, and used for the distribution and sale in said Town limits of electric current, energy and power and charging for the same, and using in any manner either on, along, under, over or across any street, alley, highway, park or other public place or ground for the purpose of locating, placing, erecting, operating, maintaining or using any electric transmission or distribution line or system, conduit or other fixtures or equipment for the transmission, distribution and sale of electric current, energy or power, shall from and after the effective date of this ordinance pay to the Town of Springlake, Texas, quarterly each year a sum equal to 2% of the gross receipts (as said term "gross receipts" is hereinafter defined) derived by such person, firm or corporation from the sale and distribution within the corporate limits of said Town of all electric current, energy and power, which said sum is found to be reasonable and a reasonable charge for the rental and use of the streets, alleys, highways, park or public grounds within the Town of Springlake, Texas. Such payments shall be in lieu of any and all other franchise, license, privilege, pole, wire or instrument, occupation, excise or revenue taxes and all other exactions (except general ad valorem property taxes and special assessments for local improvements) upon the business, revenue, property, poles, wires, instruments, conduits, pipes, fixtures, or other appurtenances of the Company, and all other property or equipment of the Company, or any part thereof, in said Town during the term of this franchise: Provided, that anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, said payment shall continue only so long as said Company is not prohibited from making the same by any lawful authority having jurisdiction in the premises, and so long as the Town does not charge, levy or collect, or attempt to charge, levy or collect other franchise, license, privilege, occupation, excise or revenue taxes or other exactions hereinafter mentioned, and if any lawful authority having jurisdiction in the premises hereafter prohibits said payment or the Town does levy, charge or collect, or attempt to levy, charge or collect such other franchise, license, privilege, occupation, excise or revenue taxes or other exaction or charges, the obligation to make such payments hereinafter provided for shall forthwith cease.

Section 2: The term "gross receipts" upon which such rentals and charges are based is defined and shall be computed and determined as follows: From the total gross receipts from the sale of such electric energy and power within the corporate limits there shall be deducted the receipts from sales of electric current, energy or power to the Federal Government, Federal Government Departments and Agencies, the State of Texas, all Departments and Agencies of said State, the County of Lamb using electricity or power within the corporate limits of the Town of Springlake, the Springlake Independent School District, and sales to industrial users as that term is hereinafter defined, and the balance remaining after such deductions shall constitute the gross receipts upon which such rentals and charges shall be paid. "Industrial user," as that term is herein used, is defined as a customer who is engaged in manufacturing, extractive, fabricating or processing activities and who is to be charged in accordance with the published industrial rates which each person, firm or corporation selling electricity within the corporate limits of the Town of Springlake, Texas, shall file with the Town Secretary. Sales to any customer heretofore or hereafter qualified as an industrial user as that term is hereinafter defined who shall thereafter become disqualified as an industrial user shall not be exempt from such 2% gross receipts rental charge.

Section 3: The quarter payments provided for herein shall become due and shall be collected and paid as follows: On the first day of January, April, July and October of each year, providing that an application of any person, firm or corporation, furnishing electric energy and power to the inhabitants of the Town of Springlake, Texas, may pay such sum semi-annually or annually. All past due rentals and charges shall bear interest from and after the due date at the rate of 10% per annum, and any suit instituted for the collection of any past due rental charges may be instituted and venue shall lie in Lamb County, Texas. No charges are fixed and no charges shall be collected or paid hereunder or any receipts from this sale of merchandise or any receipts of any character except those derived from the sale within the corporate limits of the Town of Springlake of electric current, energy and power.

Section 4: All persons, firms or corporations furnishing or selling electric power, energy or current within the corporate limits of the Town of Springlake, Texas, shall at the time of making such payments file with the Town Secretary a full and complete statement showing the gross receipts, and showing the exemptions thereunder exempt by the terms of this ordinance, and the Town of Springlake shall have full right and authority to inspect the books of any such person, firm or corporation selling and distributing electric energy, power and current to determine the correct amount owing as such rental charge.

Section 5: Any person, firm or corporation who shall fail to comply with all of the terms and provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine not to exceed $100.00, and each and every day shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 6: All persons, firms or corporations furnishing or distributing electric power or energy shall erect, construct and maintain the same in a safe and suitable condition and in accordance with the National Electric Code.

Section 7: This ordinance shall take effect from and after its publication.

The above and foregoing ordinance was duly introduced by Alderman Roy Bryers, Jr., and duly seconded by Alderman Jesse G. Watson, and upon being put to a vote was unanimously approved, passed and ordered filed this 3rd day of June, 1955.

s/V. T. TANNER, MAYOR, Town of Springlake, Texas,

ATTEST: A. A. PARISH, Town Secretary. (Legal Seal)

It's the new kind of hardtop— The 4-Door Riviera!

THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm . . .

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the wallowing might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

PROUD TRADITION
STAUNTON, Va. (AP)—This city which claims to have given birth to the city manager form of Government, is also proud of its mayor, William A. Grubert.

Mayor Grubert, now 85, has been mayor since 1943, a member of the city council since 1932 and the only living man who had a hand in the formation of the city manager form. He was president of the Board of Aldermen from 1906 to 1908 and it was on January 13, 1908, that the city manager was adopted.

Joe Peterman from Amherst and Kenneth Hutchins of Spade raised and lowered the flags each day. Betty Byars from Spade was song leader for all assemblies and vesper services. Kenneth Griffin of Littlefield, Joe Peterman and Kenneth Hutchins were in charge of some of the games at Tuesday night's party.

Betty Byars and Joe Peterman lead a game at Wednesday night's party. Betty and Joe were also members of the exhibition square dance team which showed the group how each square dance was done.

On Thursday morning before their camp ended, each girl and boy was asked to write a theme on "My Trip to Conservation Camp." The boy and girl whose themes are judged best will receive a year's subscription to the National Geographic magazine. The camp closed Thursday at 12:30.

Those attending from Lamb county were Mrs. Hazel Hickman Bob Haney, Mrs. J. B. Davis, Diane and Tommy Davis, Kenneth Griffin, Kenneth Hutchins, Joe Peterman, Mike Eaton, Lu Stubblefield, Betty Byars and two other 4-H club girls from Amherst.

Films of the camp will be shown on "Plainsman Parade," Channel 13, Friday at 6:15 p. m.

County 4-H Members Attend District Conservation Camp

Ten Lamb Co. County 4-H club boys and girls attended the first district joint camp at the Lubbock Fair Grounds, May 31 to June 2.

The daily schedule included skating, folk games, swimming, night parties, flag ceremonies, leadership group meetings, and vesper services.

This camp theme was Indian style with everyone attending belonging to either the Arrowhead, Teepee, Tom-Tom or Feather group. The groups rotated in attending classes on recreation, soil conservation, social education and wild life study.

Each Wednesday there is a special table for each such things as baby no. thum, oysters on the half shell, frog legs, Provençal, baked boneless squab stuffed with wild rice, hisque tortonia and crisp suzette; are some of the items that have been served.

Chisholm says studies and appetites fall off during the year and the special meals are a stimulant for students. No extra charge is made and the idea has proved popular.

Mrs. Louis Nellie Heard of Lynwood, Calif., returned to her home Saturday after an extended visit in the home of her son, Curtis Heard.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
 BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
 Background Scripture: II Chronicles 24
 Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:9-16
Teen-Age Faith
 Lesson for June 12, 1955

WE do not expect teen-agers to have the same outlook on life, or the same kind of clothes, or looks, or digestion, or habits, or occupations, as their grandmothers. Why should we expect them to have the same kind of religion? This is not saying that young people should have one religion and old people another. It is saying rather that the way a teenager thinks and acts is enough different from the way his elders think and act, so that we might reasonably expect that he will take the same religion with a different slant. Not all grown-up Christians are made in the same mold; and certainly it is a mistake to try to force the religious expression and ideas and beliefs of growing boys and girls into the precise pattern of Grandma, let alone St. Paul.

Dr. Foreman

Teen-agers Make Top-notch Christians
 Most people who are converted are converted in their teens. Most young people who have been brought up in Christian homes and have since childhood never thought of themselves as anything else but Christians, join the church (or are confirmed) during their teens. Most ministers first felt the call to the ministry before they were 20 years old. Most missionaries first thought of being missionaries during their teens. The fact is, the teens are just the time when religious reception is good. Just as there are days when radio reception is good and other days when it is bad, so it is with what we can call religious reception; there are times in life when it is better than at other times. As the teen-age is the waking-up time all along the line, so it should not be surprising that the heart of boys and girls, just at the time when they begin not to be boys and girls any more, but men and women, should be specially open to the vision and the voice of God. Teen-agers can make top-notch Christians.

But They Need Help
 We have a case in point, in the story of the young king Josiah. He was eight years old when he came to the throne. His father, King Amon, had been a bad man and a bad king, so bad that his own servants had a palace revolution and killed him. There must have been something promising about little Josiah, because we read that the people of the land "made him king,"—as we would say, elected him. This was remarkable, because in the ancient Near East it was just as it is in some of our neighboring countries today: if a king or a president is assassinated, one of the plotters is generally the next king. But the people picked out little Josiah and made him king. Boy-like, he did nothing particularly worth mentioning for eight years. Then, when he was 10 years old, he "began to seek after the God of David." Now whenever a boy with worthless parents turns out to be a fine character with a sincere faith, it is safe to guess that some one has been there influencing the boy for good. Boys and girls seldom develop into mature Christians without help. Later we read that Josiah was acquainted with the best and most God-fearing men of his time, and we can be reasonably sure that this young king's wise and steady leadership, his growth in faith, his constructive reforms, were "sparked" by some of these priests and prophets who were his close friends.

Teen-agers Are the Church of Tomorrow
 Whenever a boy or girl who has been confirmed or "joined the church," stops going to church and perhaps slips down from good to bad and from bad to worse, thoughtful persons will ask, "Who's to blame?" The fault may very well be in the church, not in the young people. Boys and girls need wise help from older Christians. Young people coming into the church are always "commended to the fellowship" of the church or words to that effect. But how much fellowship do they get? An officer in a church once complained that his church paid too much attention to young people. "Young folks don't contribute," he said. Not in money, of course! But don't teen-agers contribute anything?

Ought To Know

Year, a hundred and four Texas counties not bother to submit their budgets to the state auditor, although this is required by law. Why? In the case of Lamb County, officials did not know they were supposed to do so. The state auditor has no power to make them do it, and apparently makes no effort to get them sent in for his inspection. So, nobody but the commissioners' in those counties knows what became of their tax monies collected.

There is no reason to believe that the majority of these local governing bodies do anything with county funds that haven't been done; we are attacking the principle of the thing—the idea that the public needn't know what the county government does with its hard-earned tax dollars.

County commissioners' courts handled over a billion dollars in assessed property taxes last year. Texas counties have gross debts of over a billion 500 million dollars. We believe the people should know exactly where this money goes, and how these debts accumulate.

Public attendance at meetings of the commissioners' court is notoriously small, and when the public attends, it does not understand a great many of the court's actions. Newspapers are not financially able to employ a reporter to the job attending all the meetings of the court. They meet frequently for several hours at a time. So that is the answer.

The answer lies in complete publication of minutes of county commissioners' court meetings. This is not unreasonable—local courts have just been granted four-year terms by Texas voters, and in return the state is entitled to a more thorough knowledge of the actions of our grass-roots government.

There is now in the legislative hopper at Austin a bill (H.B. 12) which will provide for publication of such proceedings. It depends upon the support of every citizen who values his right to know.

STICK LOGIC

By LOUISE C. ALLEN

Last week as we drove to a neighboring county we noted a cattle truck filled with trailers just big enough to cram a horse into—and one was crammed into it. We saw a pair of the torture device each loaded with a pretty bay. We need the bunting and posters on Main Street to tell us a rodeo was about to take place.

On television the next morning, we saw the horse trapped out in fancy harness, his good horse sense to shake his head, his teeth and kneel, at the command of a fish-looking cowboy crooner.

Too many years ago he furnished man's means of transportation besides his two feet (even those were called Shank's horses). When the first automobiles came along they had such-and-such 'horsepower'! Power is still the 'gold standard' of the days.

In the last generation the horse has been displaced in the fields and on the roads. Today, at least in the United States, little more than a plaything. He appears in parades, polo matches, circuses and shows. A few well-to-do families keep a horse for pleasure riding. But if he travels a distance he is lifted off his four sturdy legs into a motor-drawn trailer.

Other domestic animals have held their own. The hog still furnishes pork; the cow, milk and beef; the sheep, wool and mutton. The dog, a psychiatrist before we knew the word, was and still is his master's alter ego, his loyal friend, silent confidante. But the horse has been reduced to the rank of a plaything. It's enough to frustrate a less noble

Through A Glass Darkly

The vernal equinox has passed and the summer doldrums have set in. We are lost in the horse latitudes of lethargy, half way between Morpheus and Ft. Mudge. This is just beyond Earshot, Earshot is a small town in northeast Arkansas or Arizona.

The sun shines, the night falls with a thud and the voice of the whirlwind is heard through the land. Disenchantment stalks the sandy streets and the happy voices of gutted mosquitoes rise and fall on the evening smog. The snores of the siesta-bound citizen mingle with the drip drip drip of the air conditioner, and civilization crawls blindly forward into the maw of eternity.

It has been suggested that this column title be changed to through a mirror dimly. We have also received several other suggestions about what to do with the column, but fortunately, space will not permit, nor postal regulations allow, our printing them in a family newspaper.

The Bachelor Barrister, Willard Street, Jr., epitomized the feeling of the audience at City Commission meeting the other night when he pointedly stopped looking at his watch and began checking his calendar to see if it had run down.

KOGHE, in his usual bumbling fashion is late in mentioning some of the changes made around the editorial sanctum sanctorum. We first want to welcome Ginny Chambers to our staff as society editor. Ginny, in the short time she has been here, has done a marvelous job, and we are proud to have her. Secondly, we sadly take our official farewell of Bernice Douglas, as Soc Ed, and Wilda Stone, whose title is nebulous. Nebulous Editor is her title. Both these fine ladies are departing these confines for others and we sincerely hate to see them go. They have added much to the confusion rampant at all times, and unabated around these offices.

Hunger Fighters

When we speak of mass-production, we automatically think of industry. Few of us connect it with agriculture as well. Yet, as an Eastern bank points out, "Recent developments in farm machinery have been so rapid that the farmer has outstripped other segments of our economy in mass-production methods."

The farmer now has available combines capable of harvesting 30 acres of wheat a day; mechanical corn pickers that can harvest two acres in a single hour; cotton pickers that do the work of 40 men, and all manner of other machines and appliances that do the work of agriculture swiftly, efficiently and economically, and with a minimum of human sweat. And modern equipment does more than just handle the crops. It makes it possible for the farmer to conserve the land for future generations.

We have over 30,000,000 more mouths to feed than in 1940. We eat better than ever. Yet, in those 15 years, some 2,500,000 farm workers have left the farms and entered industry. The machine, by bringing mass-production to agriculture, made that possible.

Moreover, American farm equipment doesn't all stay home. Since 1946 we have exported $2,000,000 worth of it. The Eastern bank says, "Abroad, American farm machines are known as 'hunger fighters.'" They are helping to solve the grave food problem that has plagued much of the world since history began.

THE ANCIENT GREEKS . . . HAD A CURE FOR THIS

The current issue of The Readers Digest describes a parliamentary custom of the ancient Greeks which, in view of the current log jam in the Texas Legislature, might be worth considering.

It was the Greek custom, according to The Digest, when a member of the assembly wanted to propose a law to require him to stand on a platform with a rope around his neck. If the law was approved, the rope was removed. If it was rejected, the platform was removed.

In Texas legislatures, where many laws are proposed and few adopted, an application of the Greek principle would accomplish one of two things: either the number of laws proposed, or the number of legislators proposing them, would be speedily reduced.

'FREE EVERYTHING, NO WORK' IS TEXT OF UNION DEMANDS UPON PHONE CO.

This newspaper has just received a news item released jointly by General Telephone Company of the Southwest and the Communications Workers of America—CIO.

This item illustrates how impossible it is becoming to operate a large business.

Read it.

When you finish you'll think (as we did) that the solution is for the telephone company to toss the keys to the labor union and walk out while it still can.

We note that while the federal government is expressing great concern over the merger of banks, hotels and other corporations, there is no concern shown over the recent merger of the CIO and American Federation of Labor. Could borrowing all our money from one bank restrain trade any more than hiring our labor from one big super union?

Fifteen million workers are now united to enforce impossible demands upon management. Either the company gives in (in case another drastic phone rate increase is due) or else it goes out of business (and you get no telephone service at all).

—Ralls Banner.

Whether one likes the way Governor Shivers operates or not, his statement of the dilemma of the legislative and executive departments of the state at the moment, it must be admitted, is concise and to the point. Last week end he told legislators it was not an optional matter whether provision is made for the eleemosynary institutions, highways, education and welfare. The only option is how it will be done. Accordingly, some accord must be reached and some type of property or industry tapped for the money that will be needed over and above the revenue that is in sight.

In one of her columns, Dorothy Thompson made an unusual and thought-provoking point. She wrote: "There is an odd contradiction in our own propaganda about the Soviet Union. On the one hand we say that the rigid monolithic structure of communism is unable to produce for basic human needs, and, on the other, that it is capable of launching a third world war—war being the greatest imaginable consumer of goods and services. Both views simply cannot be correct."

Price Support Wheat Must Meet Minimum Requirements

Farmers who put wheat under the 1955 price support program must be prepared to meet more specific standards of grain sanitation.

Under the revised program of the Food and Drug administration, wheat does not meet the minimum requirements for food if it contains more than two rodent pellets per pint, or comparable amounts of contamination, or contains two per cent or more, by weight, of kernels visibly damaged by insects. Wheat not meeting these standards must be disposed of for non-food uses.

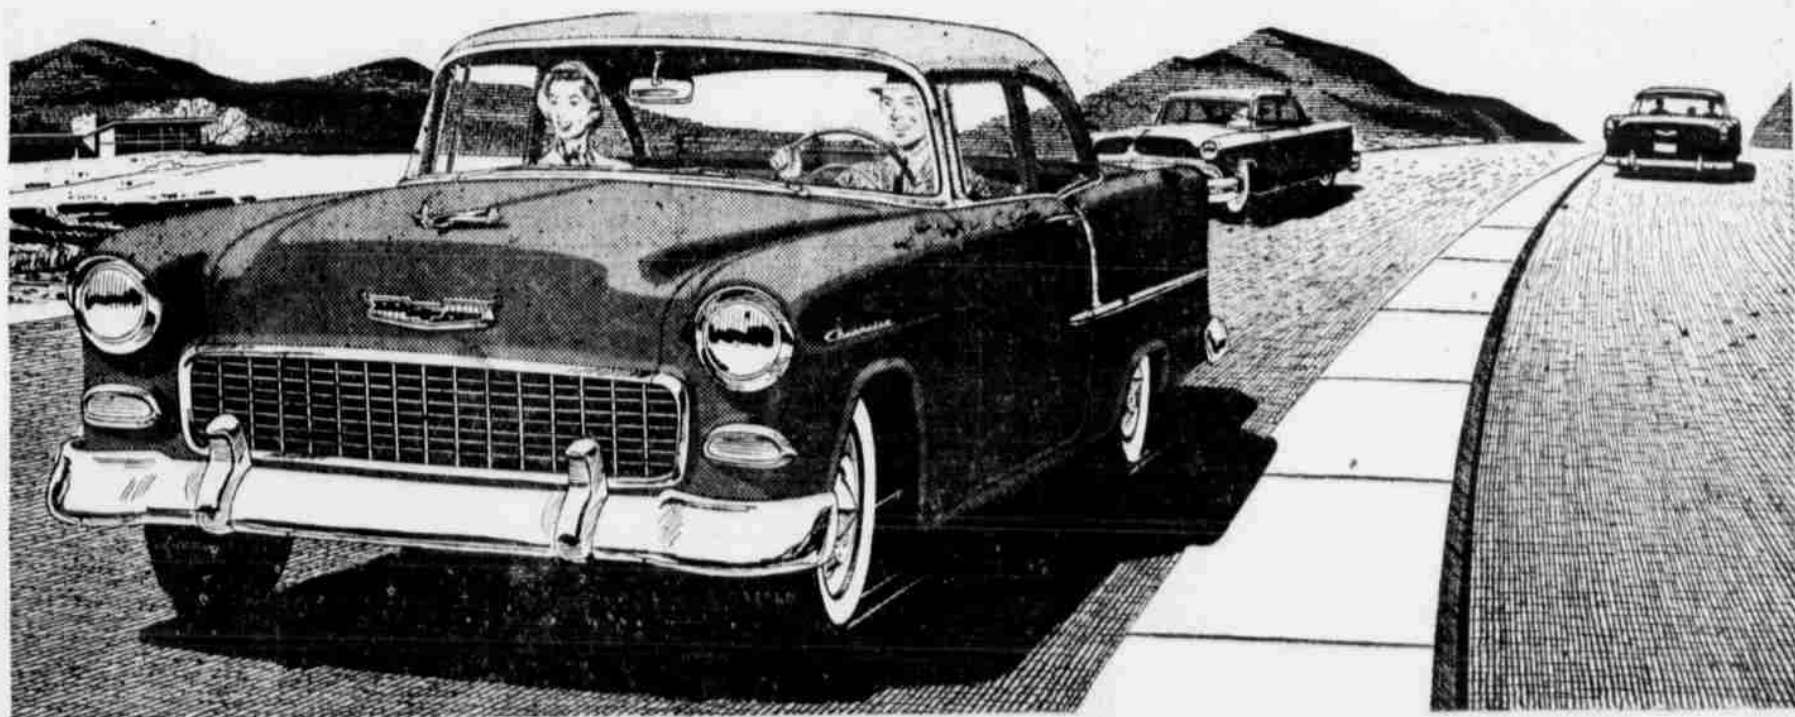

The same program based on minimum sanitation standards was in effect several years ago.

Most of the wheat that leaves Texas farms is clean grain—well above these standards. W. E. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, points out. The trouble lies with a relatively few exceptions, resulting from careless handling and storage.

Farm stored wheat offered as security for price-support loans will be sample-tested at regular intervals and at time of delivery to the CCC. Except for the question of resale eligibility, the new requirements do not apply to 1954 loan or purchase wheat. If last year's wheat does not make the standards, it is not eligible for resale but can be delivered to CCC under provisions of the 1954 loan and purchase-agreement program.

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

IT'S STRAWBERRY DESSERT SEASON

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

CALL THE ROLL of strawberry desserts! Everyone's waiting to bite into luscious concoctions featuring this favorite berry.

First on the roster, of course is strawberry shortcake. Want a quick and wonderful way to make it? Add an egg and cream. Instead of milk, to biscuit mix for the base. Drop or cut out the dough to make biscuits; slit them as they come out of the oven and slather with butter. Fill with the rasp-berried berries, sliced and sugared; pile on more of the berries over the top. A puff of whipped cream, a whole berry for a garnish, and there's a strawberry shortcake no mother of yours ever made better.

STRAWBERRY TRIFLE—An airy concoction of soft custard, sponge-cake, strawberries and whipped cream.

Next, who wouldn't vote for a strawberry roll? Make the sponge cake base for this dessert just as you would for a jelly roll. Spread with cream cheese-whipped (tuff) with a little light cream. Spread again with sliced strawberries, roll up and chill. Bring the roll surrounded with green leaves and whole unhalved berries. To the table. Want your eaters to swoon? Serve with a bowl of extra sweetened cream sliced berries.

Third, an airy Strawberry Trifle. For this the berries are teamed with sponge-cake layers, soft custard sauce and whipped cream. We're giving you the recipe—a Method: Place a layer of sponge cake in a 2-quart glass bowl about 8 inches in diameter. Wash, hull and slice strawberries. (Save 8 whole berries for garnish.) Sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar and distribute half the berries and 1 cup of the custard over the cake. Top with the second layer. Cover with remaining berries. Pour remaining custard over all. Chill overnight or 10 to 12 hours. Top with whipped cream sweetened with the 1 tablespoon sugar just before serving. Garnish with whole berries.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Despite the big news about final passage of the huge tax bill, news about Bascom Giles stole the spotlight from the Legislature the past week.

This time events took quite a different turn.

The climax came when a 75-year-old, retired mail carrier, John Cass Adrian, was arrested and charged with attempting to extort $800,000 from the former land commissioner.

Filing of the charge against Adrian was preceded by a series of events, all kept secret, dating back to Feb. 1.

Giles reported receiving two letters, prior to the one Adrian is charged with mailing, in which the writer each time asked for $5,100.

Travis County Sheriff T. O. Lang revealed that the first letter, received by Giles before he was indicted, threatened to expose documentary evidence unless $5,100 was paid. With this letter was a crude drawing. It directed Giles to a culvert south of Austin where he was to leave money, wrapped in a burlap sack. He was to drop the money there at 4 p.m. on Feb. 4. Included was a promise to return the money in 30 days—after using it "to pull a deal on the border" that would net $100,000.

As Giles was out of town, he did not receive the first letter in time to act.

When the second letter arrived, dated Feb. 9, it directed Giles to leave the money in the culvert by 4:30 p.m., Feb. 11, or "the evidence could not be bought at any price."

A trap was set, Giles drove to the drop site and left $70 in a burlap sack, as deputies watched the area. No one stopped to pick up the sack. But a man later identified as Adrian drove by. After 36 hours of waiting, Giles returned to the culvert and picked up the money.

A third letter then came. It was dated Feb. 11. It advised Giles that the writer was aware of the trap. It read "All three of us was watching you with field glasses when you placed the law on both sides of the culvert..."

This letter directed Giles to prepare $800,000 in $20, $50 and $100 bills for delivery at a place and time to be designated in a future letter. But the promised instructions were never received.

When arrested, Adrian flatly denied knowing anything about the extortion attempt. He was released after posting a $1,500 bond. Trial was set for June 13.

MORE TAXES COMING
Jefferson Davis' birthday was celebrated by the Legislature. The solons handed Governor Shivers a tax bill! It levied an additional $49,000,000 a year. Thus ended another bitter tax battle.

As finally voted, the measure provides $57,038,000 added revenue for general purposes during the next two years. Also $41,069,000 additional for road work. Tho it furnishes the funds to unblock the $56,000,000 new money requirements of the $1,525,000,000 appropriations bill already passed.

Its biggest take was from beer, and a bitter-end fight by beer partisans nearly wrecked the measure in its final stages. Their argument was based on fact that conferees dropped out of the final bill the Senate's "token" $2,000,000 levy on "dedicated" natural gas and an intangible assets tax on gas pipelines.

On final passage the tax bill cleared the house only by a 72 to 67 vote and the Senate by a scarce 18 to 13 margin.

Included in the tax bill was a one-cent increase in the present four-cent gasoline tax; a one-cent increase in the present four-cent cigarette tax; and an increase of $2.30 per barrel, or six mills per bottle, on beer.

Senators voted a $3.30 per barrel beer increase while representatives favored small increases in beer and wine dealers license fees.

Dropped on the final round were the House taxes on cigars, tobacco, trading stamps and an increase in the natural gas production tax.

Rejected were numerous Senate proposals for gross receipts levies on manufacturers, hotels, motels, department stores, metals and chemical industries.

A $6,500,000 cushion was given the general revenue fund for the next two years. This permitted passage of several small appropriation bills for new courts; for putting state employees under federal social security; another $475,000 for legislative expenses; and grants to state agencies for further investigation of the Land Office and Veterans' Land Board affairs.

DIFFERENT MONEY PROBLEM
An entirely different money problem faced the State Board of Education.

Where to find eligible securities in which to invest a cash surplus of $12,060,025 of its permanent fund was this board's problem.

SPENDING BILLS
Wrapped up near the close of the session was Sen. George Moffett's bill appropriating $7,000,000 for the construction of a new state courts building and a state office building in Austin.

It also provides $500,000 for repairing and air-conditioning the Capitol; and $500,000 for operation of the new State Building Commission.

All the money comes from the surplus of the Confederate Pension Fund, as authorized by a Constitutional amendment approved by the people last year. The pension fund will further $1,000,000 surplus all Confederate widows' pensions are paid for the next two years.

Governor Shivers appointed Maurice Acers, as a member of the Texas Employment Commission. He succeeds Col. M. Horton of Blanco.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

A Welcome Summons

Down through the centuries bells have been used to summon people, to peal out joyful news and when needs be to sound alarm. They have often proclaimed liberty, as did our own Liberty Bell in 1776.

Centuries before the Liberty Bell sounded in Philadelphia the churches were striving to elevate man to his rightful position—were striving to make him free. In many instances the bells in their steeples called him to his only hours of peace and to services which gave him the comfort and strength to endure his lot.

The institution that has done so much for man, down through the ages, has something for you. Find the church where you derive greatest peace and strength and attend it with consistency.

BELTS MAY SLASH AUTO DEATHS

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT—Scoffed at for years as impractical and unwanted, the automobile seat belt may yet become standard equipment, Edward R. Dye of Cornell University testing laboratory, says its universal use would cut auto crash fatalities in half.

A 350,000 annual death toll on the nation's highways is making more motorists conscious of safety. National and state legislation is being proposed for the installation of safety belts. However, even proponents of the belts say safety cannot be legislated into motorists and motoring. It will have to come, they say, through a prolonged course of education.

DISPUTE CONTINUES

Probably nothing suggested for the automobile in the last quarter century or more has stimulated as much argument as the seat belt. The automobile industry's spokesmen say it can be installed in a car with relatively little added cost. But they add, few persons want the belt until they have been involved in a serious traffic accident.

They add also that the belt alone may not be the complete answer to safer driving. It may have to be supplemented with a shoulder harness. Relatively few persons, they say, want to be strapped into an automobile.

Also proposed are a chest guard over the steering post and paddling over the dashboard. The former would save many drivers from chest injuries; the latter would absorb head blows that might be suffered by the occupant of the so-called "suicide" seat alongside the driver.

All these things have been tested exhaustively by the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory, an affiliate of Cornell University. And the safety belts have been unqualifiedly endorsed by a group of surgeons who participated recently in a panel discussion of the car

MUST BE SOLD

Alvin C. Smith, writing in the laboratory's "Research Trends," says that to be really effective the belt "must be attached to the primary structure (frame) of the car" that the belts should be arranged with one person per belt.

What happens to driver and passengers in an average automobile collision: head-on with another vehicle or crashing into an immovable object? Many of the car companies have joined in the effort to find out.

Generally they are coming up with almost identical answers. Simulating various types of crashes, with driverless cars occupied by dummy figures representing children and adults, they learn:

HEADS BASHED

The majority of passenger fatalities are a result of head blows.

In a front-end collision the driver will invariably receive a potentially injurious blow to the torso against the steering wheel; where the rate of deceleration is beyond a certain point the driver, if not impaled on the steering wheel post, will also receive a head blow against the upper windshield or windshield molding.

For the adult in the front seat, the head initially strikes the upper windshield molding region, followed by a secondary head blow, usually glancing against the windshield and a facial blow on the upper instrument panel shelf.

Describing its tests the Cornell Laboratory reported:

"Rear seat occupants frequently ended up in the rear compartment, although photographic records disclosed they had traversed the length of the compartment—rear to front and then back again."

Out of the tests may come modification of automotive interiors. And because acceptance of seat belts on a wide scale may be slow in coming, the researchers are exploring other methods of body restraint.

Among these other methods are such things as pull-out panels, crash bars and special seat design. It is agreed, however, that these devices, requiring major redesigns of the vehicle itself, are restricted to the car of the future.

Drouth Causes Reduction In West Texas Cattle Numbers

A 50 percent reduction in livestock numbers has been noted in the Edwards Plateau and Trans-Pecos areas of Texas since drouth began in 1943. Many ranchmen who prior to 1950 did little supplemental feeding were averaging $25 annually for feed expenditures for each animal unit at the end of 1953.

These findings have grown out of a study by two agricultural economists at Texas A & M College on the economic effects of drouth on the resources of West Texas ranches. Most of the 162 ranch operations studied by C. A. Bonnen and J. M. Ward were within 100 miles of San Angelo, the area hardest hit by the drouth. At San Angelo, a 60-inch rainfall deficiency accumulated in the 41-year period, 1943-53.

Grass clipping studies at the Sonora Ranch Experiment Station yielded only 20 pounds an acre of air-dry forage in 1951 and none in '52 and '53.

Between 1950 and 1953 the economists found a 37.5 percent decline in net worth among one group of ranches. At the end of this period, short-term debts of the same ranches amounted to 103 percent of the value of their livestock. They had reduced their livestock numbers 20 percent, cash 90 percent, and total assets were down 20 percent, while liabilities, including a 10 percent rise in land mortgages, were up 38 percent and life insurance, 42 percent.

Another group of 92 ranches which received special livestock loans from the Farmers Home Administration owed in short-term debts 206 percent of the value of their livestock. This group represented the more extreme financial conditions among ranchmen. Sharp changes in prices of livestock during the period complicated the drouth problems for both ranchmen and credit agencies. Menden and Ward reported. As prices rose, ranchmen were reluctant to reduce stocking rates, probably speculating on a break in the drouth. This led to heavy use of high-priced feed in expectation of continued high prices, and expanded borrowing when the expected prices did not come about.
