WILDCATS LOSE TO MIDLAND IN REGIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

By A. B. Sanders
Superintendent of Schools

On last Friday afternoon something like 300 persons went from Littlefield to Midland to see the game for the regional championship of this region between the Midland Bulldogs and the Littlefield Wildcats. A beautiful day made the occasion a pleasant one and the crowd large.

During the first quarter of the game the Wildcats had the best team. The first three downs the Bulldogs were unable to gain through the line or around the ends. These Littlefield boys were on this Wafford for losses right along.

Midland scored first as a result of a long pass completed for about 30 to 40 yards. Soon after this the Wildcats scratched for the first and only time after an intercepted pass. Lee received a pass and dashed over the line for a touchdown.

Toward the close of the first half the boys were about to score and a pass into the end zone was incomplete. The opposition took the ball on the 20 yard line and this seemed to have stopped the offense of the local boys. After that time the Wildcats never threatened again.

The boys fought hard and represented the school and town in a very acceptable manner. They were in there fighting them all the time. Fighting against odds of weight and considerable speed made it an uphill battle. Loyd Neeley was the outstanding star of the visiting team.

Neeley failed to gain when carrying the ball. Clyde Lee held his ground and reputation as being not only a good ground gainer but a good tackler and punt receiver. Several times this 200 pound Wafford made it through the line of scrimmage and on into the field to be met by Lee and stopped. It was a nice sight to see a 130 pound man stop a 200 pounder every time he tackled at him.

The fans from the Littlefield side seemed to be reasonably well pleased with the way the team accounted for themselves.

The fresh details and, of course the charm and grace of the uninterrupted shoulder to hem princess lines make this the frock voted "tops" by Miss America and her mother. And you can make it yourself.

Its lines are congenial to both junior and mature sizes in a way that no other style is: the wide shoulders and beautifully flared skirt reduce the calorie-conscious waistline to a flattering degree while the saucy sleeves and long line of buttons gives this frock a distinction that wins youthful fancies at first sight. Velvetene or silk and wool alpaca will serve prettily as the material.

CAR AND TRUCK OPERATORS WARNED

Attention of all passenger car and truck operators directed by school officials and officers to state laws requiring them to safeguard the health and life of school children being transported by bus.

Lon Smith, president of the board of the Littlefield Independent School district, and Constable L. A. Ratliff Wednesday asked the Lamb County Leader to point out certain laws regulating the conduct of passenger car and truck operators in connection with safeguarding the health and life of school children. Passenger car drivers and truck operators must come to a stop when a school bus is parked on a road. This must be done whether or not children appear to be entering or leaving the bus.

Mr. Smith and Constable Ratliff said that a strict watch will be maintained and that prosecution will follow failure to observe the laws.

They stated that a boy was knocked down by a passenger car last Friday on Oklahoma Avenue, just after he had alighted from a bus. His head was cut and a leg was bruised. He may have walked into the car, but it was pointed out that the machine should not have been in so close proximity to the bus.

The local board, through Constable Ratliff, who is truant officer, will start January 1 to enforce the compulsory school law which requires that every child from eight to 16 years of age must attend school a minimum of 100 days in a school year.

In Waco, Texas, the Methodist Home is giving these three young ladies another chance at life. Their lives might have been another story except for the Superintendent of the Home, Mr. Hubert T. Johnson. The picture at the left shows the children as they were found surrounded by filth and squalor. The oldest was acting as a little mother, obtaining the meager food from "somewhere," preparing and cooking it for the little family. Her problem was a tremendous task for one so young, as you can imagine.

Looking at the picture you can realize that if these three children were permitted to live by themselves through the winter, a thousand dangers might have swamped them and cast their lot among the hundreds who die of pneumonia and malnutrition every year.

The picture at the right shows the marvelous transformation which has occurred within the last few months. Now they are normal children enjoying a bed and wardrobe for each. Many opportunities will be open to them for advancement and proper education.

This case is only typical of hundreds of duplicate cases which are handled by the Methodist Home in Waco, Texas. Hundreds of boys and girls find new life in the Home which is supported by Methodism. Taking care of these children would require about $600,000 a year, but because the children, as they grow older, take turns at farming, raising cattle, gathering crops and fruits; do their own laundry, help wait on table and do the many other things which train them to become efficient and self-dependent, their needed financial assistance is only $100,000 a year.

Rev. Marvin B. Norwood of the First Methodist church, Littlefield, would like to answer any questions about the Methodist Home for children if anyone in the community is interested. Rev. Norwood says that the month of December has been set aside by the Church for donations toward the annual budget. Members of the Methodist Church are intensely interested in the Home and hope that many more transformations such as the above photographs show will be made possible by the continued support of the Home.

For a number of years the women of the local Methodist church have clothed a boy in the Home. Next Sunday a special offering will be taken to help feed and care for the 399 other boys and girls there. The offering will be presented in connection with the Christmas program Sunday night, to which the public generally is invited.

Plans are for Christmas to be observed at the church in observance of our Lord's birthday. B. & P. W. CLUB
SPONSOR COMEDY
THURSDAY NIGHT

"Coast To Coast" To Also
High Friday Night

"Coast to Coast," the entertaining comedy, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club for the benefit of the Littlefield Student Loan Fund, is to be produced at the Littlefield high school auditorium tonight, Thursday, December 17, at 8:07, and at the Amherst high school auditorium Friday night. The cast and the club have been working hard to present an outstanding show to the people of Littlefield. Miss Fern Hoover, president of the B. & P. W. club, has marshalled every member of the club into action. Mrs. Emma Wood, Miss Laura Sue Bass, and Miss Mary Bell Montgomery comprise the publicity committee. Dr. Hazel Neims, chairman of the casting committee, has been assisted by Mrs. Esta Mae Hopping and Mrs. Mary Jones. Miss Eunice Stanfield has charge of the reserved seat ticket sales at the Texas Utilities Light and Power office.

Mrs. W. F. Stubbs makes a Lovable heroine, Jean Bosworth who owns a music store doubly handicapped by lack of business and a thousand dollar mortgage. The part of Titus Pennyback, a tight hard-fisted old skinflint, who threatens Jean with foreclosure if the mortgage is not paid immediately, is ably handled by F. O. Boles. W. F. Stubbs, who is undoubtedly a double of the famous movie star Fred MacMurray, with the assistance of Tom McFarland in the role of the collegiate joker Pete Perkins, rescues Jean from Pennyback's clutches.

Miss Patti Hopping as a dizzy little friend of Jean leads James and Jack Norman, two fast talking radio contest promoters, a merry chase. William Street, in the role of Percival Snell, attempts to teach Miss Hopping how to speak English correctly. He also writes most sentimental love letters to Mrs. Esta Mae Hopping, who has the leading comedy part, Lizzie Lullerlittle, one of Bob Burns' cousins from Arkansas.

Mrs. J. D. Dodgen, as Madam Hyecenia, the ex-opera star who is giving singing lessons in the Bosworth Music Store, reveals the secret of successful singing in a hilarious scene. Dr. J. E. Neims, playing Sampson the colored porter, builds up a side-splitting climax with his mysterious bag. In the last act, Attorney J. R. (Billy) Hall outmajors Major Bowes in his interpretation of Colonel Bowes who has charge of the unusual amateur contest.

Tickets are 25 cents and 15 cents with 10 cents additional for reserved seats. Reserved seat tickets may be secured at the Texas Utilities office.

call, this is in line with the statement made by H. R. Tolley at the time the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program was announced.

"For the 1937 program, additional emphasis has been placed on soil building and more money will be available for soil building practices. Such practices, together with the shifting of acreage to soil-conserving crops on land previously devoted to soil-depleting crops, are essential to any sound plan for restoring soil fertility and preventing erosion.

"The new program should not only improve the soil but it also should protect the interests of consumers and help to preserve the economic grains which farmers have made during the past four years.

"The fact that funds for the 1937 program are not yet available should be pointed out. The Congress, at the time Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act was passed in 1936, authorized an annual appropriation of $500,000,000 for carrying out a program under the Act. The actual appropriation for 1937 remains to be made, however. The program we have drafted, therefore, is dependent upon the action of Congress."

Oldsmobile Report Largest Number Bank Orders In 40 Years

Oldsmobile delivered to retail purchasers 5,420 new Sixes and Eights during the last ten days of November. It was revealed by D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile vice president and general sales manager.

In addition, the company now has on hand the largest bank of advance orders in the forty years of its history, Mr. Ralston said.

To answer the rapidly increasing public demand for the new Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights, production has been stepped up to more than 1,000 cars daily — the highest sustained daily level ever maintained by Oldsmobile.

During the month of December, Oldsmobile production schedules call for more than 25,000 cars, as compared with 18,000 during the same period a year ago, an increase of nearly 40 per cent.

Dalmon & Wilemon are local dealers for the Oldsmobile, and are located on Highway No. 7, just west of Phelps Avenue.

NYA WORKERS ARE BEING EMPLOYED ON PRIVATE JOBS

Lubbock, Texas Dec. 10—The Campaign stated recently by the National Youth Administration for the purpose of placing young men and women now employed on NYA work projects in private employment is meeting considerable success in District 17 according to A. V. Bullock, District Supervisor.

Numerous employers of young people in the various counties in the district have been contacted regarding the employment of these youths who have received work experience and training on NYA projects and indications are that a good number of youths will be placed. The youths themselves are eager to get a regular job and those that have been placed have been very appreciative, Bullock stated.

Agricultural Program For 1937 Has Been Planned

General plans for the 1937 Agricultural Conservation program have been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture after conferences of representative farmers and Extension staff members had gone over the 1936 work and suggested needed changes.

Cotton and wheat, peanuts and rice, the crops listed as soil-depleting in which Texas is most interested, have been subject to very few changes in the revision.

Cotton is again rated at five cents a pound and the base will be determined in about the same manner as in 1936 but with provision for adjustments such as those indicated by measurements made in 1936. The maximum cotton acreage upon which payments will be made for soil-conserving crops is 35 per cent of the base.

Peanuts have a 15 per cent limit and a 1.25 cent per pound payment.

Rice has a 20 cents per hundred pounds payment which will be conditioned on carrying out certain practices or growing certain specified soil-conserving crops or both.

Reduction from general soil-depleting base will be approximately the same; with the 15 per cent limit still applying.

No farm will be eligible to earn a payment for diversion from the general soil-depleting base except upon approval of the County Conservation committee. This approval must include the fact that home consumption needs of the farm are

Each state will have a handbook giving details of the program as they apply to that state with no reference to exceptions applicable to other states. This will enormously simplify the administration of

Trial Of Suit Is Postponed Month

A suit by the Bankers Life Insurance company of Des Moines, Ia., against the City of Littlefield, which was scheduled to come up in United States district court for the northern district of Texas, Wednesday, December 16, has been postponed until January 13. The case will be tried at Dallas, due to the fact that the court adjourns at Lubbock this week.

The purpose of this action is for the collection of unpaid interest and past due bonds, as well as to insure protection to the company for holding bonds by the city.

Petition filed by Coker, Rhea and Vickery, Dallas, in the Littlefield case sets forth that in 1925 bonds, 75 $1,000 ones in all, were voted to construct a water works system.

One bond was due in 1930; three in 1935; six are due in 1940; eight in 1945; 10 in 1950; 12 in 1955; 15 in 1960 and 20 in 1965.

The company holds bonds Nos. 26 to 75 inclusive. It also claims unpaid interest coupons due October 15, 1935; April 15, 1936 and October 15, 1936, amounting to $4,500. Suit was filed October 14.

In an interview with W. G. Street, City Secretary, Wednesday, Mr. Street said that Brown-Crummer Co. of Wichita, Kans., represent the majority of the other bond holders, and will answer and defend the above action.

Mr. Street also added—"The city is not particularly interested in this suit, as it is a squabble between the bond holders. I don't know that we will be represented, although we may. There is nothing serious about the case. The Bankers Trust Co. are trying to get a judgment against the city, and the other bondholders are using every endeavor to keep them from it."

The coaches, Sanders and Jones together with the business manager, Leach, come in for their share of the honor of the achievement.

We wish to mention further that the cooperation of the adults of the community have had a distinct part in the success of the team. The parents have furnished the boys who have received excellent training. The fans have helped to make the season a success by assisting materially with the details of the games and looking after the necessary arrangements.

BRITISH MONARCH CHOOSES BETWEEN THRONE AND LOVE AND LOVE TRIUMPHS

The British empire gave up Edward VIII as king Friday, and placed his eldest brother, Albert Frederick Arthur George, on the throne.

In three swift hours, the houses of commons and lords approved the abdication of the 327-day sovereign who chose marriage to a twice-divorced American, Mrs. Wallis Simpson, in place of his ancient crown.

Then, with quick precision, a royal commission gave royal assent to the act. Edward the eighth ceased to reign, and the quiet Duke of York became king of England and the dominions beyond the seas, emperor of India, defender of the faith.

Leaves for Switzerland
Saturday, 12 hours after becoming a private citizen, the former monarch dashed by automobile to Portsmouth, where he embarked.

Arriving at Boulogne-Sur-Mer, France, Edward, who henceforth will be His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor, boarded a train for Switzerland.

Before his departure from England, the former monarch announced that it might be some time before he returned to his native land.

At Cannes, France, Mrs. Simpson was in seclusion. Through a spokesman she intimated that Edward would not come there.

First Voluntary Abdication
Edward's reign of less than eleven months as King Edward VIII passed into history, and his brother, Albert, became automatically King George VI sovereign of some 500,000,000 subjects in a realm covering almost one-third of the globe.

In action swift for all its solemnity, parliament required only two hours and two minutes to give the reign of Edward VIII to another generation to judge, and to give the 42-year-old man freedom to marry the woman he loves.

The first voluntary abdication bill in the long history of the British empire was passed into law with only five members of the house of commons voicing opposition.

Christened Albert Frederick Arthur George, the second son of the late King George V, the new King will reign as King George VI.

Edward David Windsor—the man who once was King of the mightiest realm on earth—must wait until April 27 at least before marrying Mrs. Simpson because her divorce does not become final until then, although her spokesman in Cannes said she expected no hitch in completing severance of the tie which once bound her to Ernest Aldrich Simpson, former officer in the king's own Coldstream guards.

If Mrs. Simpson and Edward ever have children, the boy or girl could never sit on the throne of his father and grandfather before him.

And in deference to the new sovereign Edward David Windsor probably will never return to the land of his birth, to avoid possible popular demonstration on his behalf.

Queen Issues Statement
The sorrowing Queen Mary, widow of one King, and now mother of two others, issued a simple message tonight opening her heart to the realm and world.

"I need not speak," she wrote, "of the distress which fills a mother's heart when I think that my dear son has deemed it to be his duty to lay down his charge and that the reign which had begun with so much hope and promise has so suddenly ended.

"I know that you will realize what it has cost him to come to this decision, and that, remembering the years in which he tried to serve and help his country and empire, you will ever keep a grateful remembrance of him in your hearts.

"I recommend to you his brother summoned so unexpectedly and in circumstances so painful to take his place. I ask you to give him the same full measure of generous loyalty which you gave to my beloved husband and which you would willingly have continued to give to his brother."

Addresses Former Subjects
Subsequent to his abdication, the former king addressed his subjects over the radio. He said:

"At long last I am able to say a few words of my own. I have never wanted to withhold anything but until now it has not been constitutionally possible for me to speak. A few hours ago I discharged my last duty as King and emperor and now that I have been succeeded by my brother, the Duke of York, my first words must be to declare my allegiance to him. This I do with all my heart.

"You all know the reasons which have impelled me to renounce the throne, but I want you to understand that in making up my mind I did not forget the country or the empire which as Prince of Wales and lately as King, I have for 25 years tried to serve. But you must believe me when I tell you that I have found it impossible to carry the heavy burden of responsibility and to discharge my duties as King as I would wish to do without the help and support of the woman I love. And I want you to know that the decision that I have made has been mine and mine alone. This was a thing I had to judge entirely for myself. The other persons, those nearly concerned, have tried to the last to persuade me to take a different course. I have made this serious decision of my life only upon the single thought of what would in the end, be best for all.

"This decision has been made less difficult to me by the foreknowledge that my brother, with his long training in the public affairs of this country and with his fine qualities, will be able to take my place forthwith without interruption or injury to the life and progress of the empire. And he has one blessing, enjoyed by so many of you and not bestowed on me, a happy home with his wife and children.

"During these hard days I have been comforted by Her Majesty, my mother, and by my family. The ministers of the crown and most particularly Mr. Baldwin, the prime minister, have always treated me with full consideration. There has never been any constitutional difference between me and them and between me and parliament. Following the constitutional tradition of my father I should have never allowed any such issue to arise.

"Ever since I was Prince of Wales and later on when I occupied the throne I have been treated with the greatest kindness by all classes of the people wherever I have lived or journeyed throughout the empire. For that I am very grateful. I now quit altogether public affairs and I lay down my burden. It may be some time before I return to my native land, but I shall always follow the fortunes of the British race and empire with profound interest and if at any time in the future I can be found of service to His Majesty in a private station I shall not fail. And now we all have a new King. I wish

THIRD INSTALLMENT

SYNOPSIS: Detective Dan Colwell of the Graber-Vael private detective agency is assigned the job of shadowing lawyer Arthur McDonald whose wife fears gangster enemies are plotting to murder him. McDonald is murdered in spite of Colwell's watchfulness. Dan is hot on their trail and suspects a sinister plot.

It was not a new idea for a ruse but it was a good one. As Colwell expected, Bradshaw came hastily and closed the corridor door. Already he had some gleaming object in his hand which he had whipped out of the lining of his coat. Already Quillen was on his feet, the heart attack forgotten, his long oval face that ended in a lantern jaw wearing the crafty, sneaky look which proved they had merely wanted to get rid of that girl.

Each time an elevator neared, Colwell wandered around the elbow of the corridor. Then he returned, his hawk-like vigilance on that McDonald suite masked as again he shifted weight and stared at the elevator signals or paced impatiently up and down.

He did not care to go into the office. That wasn't his game. He wanted to follow these fellows and their movements. A hard smile wrinkled the crow's feet at the outer corners of his eyes. Dan sensed what they were up to. Something was in McDonald's office that they wanted and they intended to get it before investigators of the murder arrived.

He felt a slight tremor. It slid along the floor and shocked his ankles just a little. Chance was, no one else in the building particularly noticed it. He was not even sure he heard an explosion. It was neatly, beautifully done.

As a red light flashed overhead, Colwell lounged again to the elbow of the corridor. The car delayed its arrival by a long halt at the floor above. The door of McDonald's office opened and Quillen came out. He carried a square package done in brown manila paper and corded, a package roughly six or eight inches by five by eight. The faint pungency of the explosive they had used to crack the hinges and lock of McDonald's safe rafted to Colwell's keen nostrils, smelling like a disinfectant. The outside office window was open. The suite would be fresh as ever when the girl returned from the pharmacy.

Quillen's furtive eyes found the corridor vacant. He stood motionless, his back half-turned to Colwell. When the elevator at last reached the floor Dan heard the operator and Quillen talk.

"Say Jack, want to earn a buck? Take this package down to the newsstand fellow in the lobby, see? Ask him to hold it for a Mr. Sweeney. Sweeney—get the name. He'll call for it in a few minutes. He doesn't know just where I am and I got a conference on—haven't time to wait down there for him myself. You got it straight—Sweeney?"

"Sure, boss. I getcha: leave it at the newsstand for Sweeney. Thanks!"

The boy accepted the package by its cord. Colwell pictured the lad's happiness at so easily earning a dollar. The care door clanged shut and Quillen turned away. The car and the package were gone.

Dan waited. This time the McDonald suite door was left ajar as it had been when the men first entered. There was a hum of talk between them, and as Colwell finally walked for a red down-light he saw Bradshaw—a temporary name, of course—stooping in the inner office. The safe was closed as if it had not been tampered with. Dan went down in the next elevator.

He reached the street through a haberdashery but walked back into the lobby. This was necessary to effect a proper entrance. He stepped near the newsstand and seemed to scan all persons who came off elevators. He kept an expectant, somewhat irritated expression on his face. As a matter of fact, he was exceedingly apprehensive lest Bradshaw surprise him.

Quillen, of course, must wait up there for the office girl's return. He would be "feeling better." Protesting, he would accept a powder and a glass of water, rest awhile, and finally, when McDonald still failed to arrive because of course he was stretched out on a morgue slab, Lefty would tell the girl he could wait no longer. His friend Bradshaw had been unable to wait even as long as Quillen.

Dan stepped to the newsstand "You don't know a man named Quillen in the building, do you? I'm expecting to meet him and wonder if he's in or out. Thought you might have noticed him pass."

The old fellow peered over thick glasses. "No, mister, I don't know any Quillen. Sorry."

"Well, he was to bring a package here. Some samples. I've—"

"Oh, You Sweeney?"

Colwell smiled and nodded. "Yes. Did he leave the samples with you, by chance?"

The grey haired chap ducked out of sight. He came up with the manila package which he laid atop a pile of magazines. "There you are, mister. Elevator boy told me to hold it for Mr. Sweeney and Quillen—Irish, hey? I'm Irish myself, name of McNamara."

"I'm obliged for your trouble. When he comes along just tell him Sweeney got the package all right. Thanks." Dan seized it and hurried out. Going through the doorway he cast a backward glance that found Bradshaw. The man stepped from an elevator wearing a Cheshire cat look of complacency and satisfaction.

He would have a sad awakening when he asked the newsstand man about that package.

Dan hurried down the street aware that he must quickly get rid of this burden. It was worth thirty thousand, probably, and it was too hot to carry around. Thirty thousand! He was walking on air.

There was a cigar store on the near corner and he turned in there, heading straight for the telephone booth. He dropped his nickle. "Central 0576."

"Hello, Irita, please." He waited a moment. "Irita? Dan again. Say, I've got a test shipment. That's what it must be, and I'll bet a hat McDonald deliberately forgot to mention it. He did?" Colwell grinned and nodded. "Lefty caught on somehow. He killed Mac to get it. Tell you later. Anyhow, I got it now. Good snow comes in small packages, eh? Yes. Send someone to the cigar store corner of Alton and Market right away. This thing is burning my fingers. So long!"

He hung up but loitered a moment in the booth pretending to look up a number. Then he stepped out and purchased a pack of cigarettes. He smoked and chatted awhile with the clerk until a Western Union boy entered. Dan took the lad outside, put a few sharp questions, surrendered the package, and walked away.

He felt exultant at the coup. It was a worthwhile capture of narcotics, loss of which would give Lefty Quillen and his pal a severe headache!

Grinning happily, he yielded to the impulse to walk back to the Lawyeds and Doctors Building. It would be good sport to see Quillen's face, and Bradshaw's. Probably they would be having plenty of altercations, calling each other liars and double-crossers and dirty sneaks.

He crossed the alley and walked on. Two thickest men brushed past him with the air of knowing where they were headed and being in a hurry. Colwell recognized two city plainclothes men, Harry Deane and Joe Harper. He realized they were on their way to the office of Arthur McDonald on a routine checkup. The body had been identified, then. A sympathetic cloud crossed his face at thought of Miss Jennings, the office girl. The poor kid was soon to get a heavy blow, news of her employer's murder. It would mean the office closed and her job gone.

Neither Quillen nor Bradshaw was in the lobby. Colwell turned back the way he had come and slowly became aware that people hurried past him with an air of excitement and curiosity. Then a squad car siren whined and the vehicle twisted in a sharp right angle to plunge down the alley. Dan moved faster.

Sure enough, deep in the alley was a close-packed knot of people. By standing on tiptoe Colwell could see over the heads of his neighbors two uniformed men who rose and stood aside for the squadmen.

"Soup Catterby," one growled. "Somebody jammed a knife right through that pretty striped tie. Say, that's the niftiest tie I seen today, and it's my birthday. Thirty-nine. I got two swell ties from Clara, and from—"

"What the hell—Catterby?"

"How come Coup went out from a knife? Who did it?"

"One of the policemen shrugged.

"Where's the quack? I told Sarg. to shoot over one of them doctors. Not that he could do much; Soup was plenty dead when we found him."

"Mail Early" Is Again Advice Of Local Postmaster

Postmaster W. D. T. Storey this week issued the seasonal and annual "Shop Early—Mail Early" plea and stressed the importance of the public cooperation.

"The volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent during the holiday time and it is a physical impossibility to handle this mass of mail efficiently and promptly within a few days," he said. "So why not shop early and mail early this year?"

By shopping early you are assured a better selection of merchandise, the clerks can more efficiently serve you, and by mailing early, your parcels can be more efficiently handled, and reach their destination before Christmas day. When you wait until the last minute, when holiday mails are congested at every point, you run the risk of your parcels being delayed at various points.

Glassware, fragile toys or crockery must be packed to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material. Cigars must be in good shipping condition.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "Fragile."

Parcels containing perishable articles must be marked "Perishable" and packed in suitable container, according to contents.

Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for the transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Use special delivery stamps for rush delivery on such packages.

Water Conservation Meeting To Be Held At Amarillo Dec. 19

Amarillo, Texas, Dec. 15.—Special to the Leader—The future of a water conservation and flood control program in the Panhandle-Plains region of Texas and Eastern New Mexico, may be determined at a special meeting of a committee representing this large area to be held in Amarillo on Saturday, December 19.

Purpose of the general committee's parley is to unite 32 Texas counties and those in New Mexico on a water conservation and flood control project and at the same time devise some plan for financing the region-wide undertaking. It is probable that some government agency will be petitioned to place the plan in operation.

Following the initial meeting of Panhandle citizens here last Tuesday, the various delegates are now engaged in arousing interest in their own communities and organizing representations for the forthcoming rally.

John McCarty of Amarillo, present committee chairman, was appointed by W. A. Warren, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. Serving with McCarty are W. L. Helton, Canadian; Wileson Cowen, Dalhart; H. V. Honnon, Hereford; Nool McDade, Dumas; B. C. McCasland, Tullia; K. C. Lea, Clovis, and Mr. Warren. This committee chose Amarillo as the next meeting place because of its central location.

Chairman McCarty has warned the people against confusing such a program with WPA and PWA construction of school houses, etc., pointing out that this would be strictly a farm and ranch proposition.

Next Saturday's meeting will be held in the Club Room of the Amarillo Hotel. The committee will assemble at 10 o'clock, with a general meeting beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

The Resettlement Administration, the Soil Conservation Service and the WPA are expected to have official spokesmen at the afternoon session.

INCREASE IN LEASING ACTIVITY AT MORTON

Morton, Dec. 15.—Perhaps the best price paid for an oil and gas lease to date was paid to Mrs. Carrie Slaughter Dean, according to a transaction that went on record here the past week in which she leased to E. W. Anguish 570 acres. The instrument carries $9.00 in internal revenue stamps and indicates that approximately $16.00 an acre was paid. More accurately described as 160 acres in the southwest corner of the north 1969.3 acres of the west 3-569.3 acres of league 58, Martin County School land, 160 acres in the extreme south west corner of league 93, Mills County School land, and 250 acres out of league 92, Lipscomb County School land.

All of these tracts lie north and northwest of the Duggan tract, the discovery location, still bringing the leased territory nearer to Whiteface and Morton.

There has been quite an activity in mineral deeds or royalties in connection with leases.

A heavy increase in leasing activities are looked for after the first of the year.

agony etched lines from his twisted nose to his mouth, from the corners of his mouth downward, and in parallel grooves in his gaunt cheeks. He had the same terrible expression McDonald had worn.

A knife, its handle slimy with blood, was sunk to the very hilt in his chest.

"Betcha it's his own?" one of the policemen exclaimed. "Look, he's wearin' the scabbard under his pants, and it's empty!"

Colwell threaded his way out of the crowd. It appeared that Quillen thought his pal had tried to doublecross him—that he figured Bradshaw, alias Catterby, had obtained that package from the newsstand by the magic name Sweeney, and had sent it to some hiding place by a confederate.

Dan felt genuinely sorry for Soup Catterby. It was his fault that he had been murdered by the revengeful Quillen jumping at conclusions. Although the dead man himself had participated in a murder an hour or so ago; he was a rat.

"I am very sorry, Mrs. McDonald," Dan reported over the telephone later. "I have some very bad news and I don't know how to tell you. Brace yourself, Mrs. McDonald. It's very bad indeed.

"If you want it straight out then, something has happened to your husband. I thought perhaps the police had been there? Something very serious. I'm sorry, Mrs. McDonald, but your husband was murdered an hour or so ago."

He waited. Several gasps came to his ears and a wailing "Oh dear! Oh dear!" She went through her act, but it did not strike Colwell as a very good act. She never could earn a living in the smallest stage part that required emotion. Of course, when one poses as the wife of a man who lived and died a bachelor.

There was no Mrs. McDonald and never had been. Colwell had been aware of that from the first.

He listened attentively, putting in a word here and there. Gradually the lady's impetuous wife calmed her turbulent grief that should, to be convincing, have been a trifle less turbulent and a bit more hysterical.

"I know who the murderers are, Mrs. McDonald."

That stirred her! Colwell had thought it would. She was breathless—in an instant. "You do?"

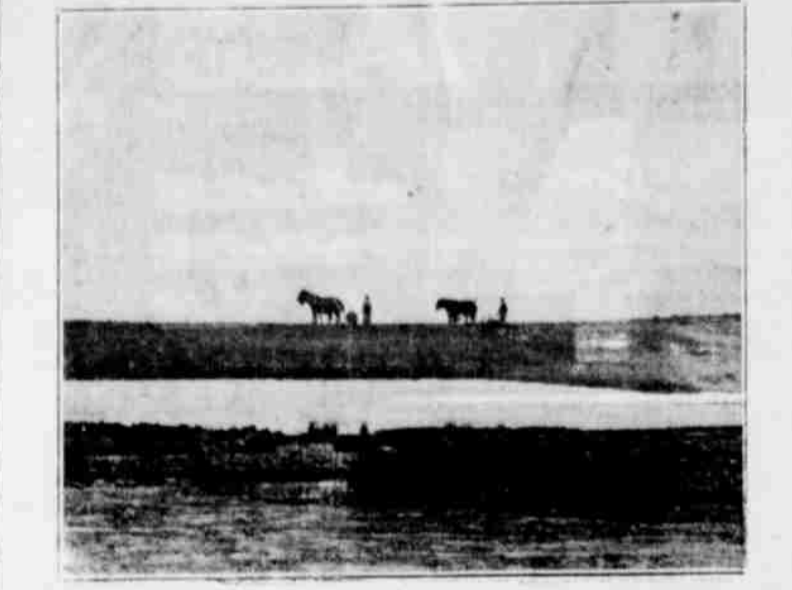

"Yes. But I haven't informed the police yet. We'll have to, soon, of course, but your instructions in Mr. Graber's office—Yes, there were two. It was with a knife, in a taxicab during a traffic stop. Corner of Broadway and Alton.

"What's that No, but I'd know them. Later, one killed the other with his own knife. Both desperate characters." Dan's eyes roved to the corners. That jarred her too! "I thought there might be some little thing, unimportant, of course, which you might not care to have put out?"

Mrs. McDonald was very disturbed that he knew the remaining killer—Colwell had the impression she paused to confer with someone at her elbow, although he could not be cer-

This work may be a forerunner to a gigantic construction program of farm ponds, lakes, dams and reservoirs throughout the Great Plains region. Equipped with a newly developed outside aerial designed to provide maximum reception efficiency, the improved Ford radio for 1937, is expected to set a record for new car installations in the coming year. The percentage of Ford cars equipped with radios in 1936 was considerably greater than in 1935, and a continuance of this upward trend in the popularity of the Ford car radio is anticipated for 1937.

Chevrolet Dealers Set New All-Time Record in Sales

Chevrolet dealers' retail sales during the month of November totaled 108,093 units, setting a new all-time record both for the month of November and for the 30-day period following any new model introduction, has been announced. Hewlett Chevrolet company are local dealers.

The previous record of 92,065 units was set in November 1935, following introduction of the 1936 Chevrolet. This year's November sales were 17.4 per cent greater, although the new 1937 models were brought out five days later in the month, concentrating the heavy selling within a considerably shorter period.

"Chevrolet plants throughout the country are operating at full capacity of approximately 6,000 units a day in an effort to keep up with the dealers' orders," said the announcement. "Even with the record-breaking sales, there are 96,328 unfilled orders on hand at the present time."

PARKING METERS BEING DISMANTLED; APPEAL IS PLANNED

Free-for-all parking returned to Lubbock's parking meter zone at 10:45 o'clock Friday, the effect of a temporary injunction issued Thursday afternoon by Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd district court.

At that hour Chief of Police H. L. (Bud) Johnston, notified service of a writ enjoining the city from enforcing the parking meter ordinance was being effected following the posting of a $5,000 bond by a group of plaintiffs who had brought the injunction action, instructed enforcement officers to cease tagging cars parked in violation of the measure.

Whiteface Cagers
Beats Levelland;
Score 26 To 8

LEVELLAND, Dec. 17.—(Special) Considered "underdogs" because of their 26 to 8 reversal last week at the hands of Levelland, Whiteface cagers tonight upset the Levelland applearc here in a thrilling 27 to 26 game that saw fast-breaking squads ring the basket from every angle—and from near and far distances alike.

Levelland, which led, 8 to 7, at half time, was paced by Sari Langley, who canned 8 points, and Whiteface's Bettenfield and Cookston accounted for the same number each.

Starting lineup: Whiteface—Bettenfield and Scott, forwards; Dutton, center; Cookston and Cooksey, guards. Levelland—Jackson and Mellwain, forwards; Langley, center; Bates and Jones, guards.

Westerners Win
At Sudan; Score
Is 41 To 26

Lubbock High school's knights of the maple wood Friday night initiated their season with a well-earned 41 to 26 decision over Sudan High school's cagers, at Sudan.

The Westerners solved Sudan's zone defense sufficiently to work the ball down nicely for "crip" shots and to keep ahead at each quarter except the first, when Sudan led, 7 to 3. At the end of the half Lubbock led, 21 to 16, at conclusion of the third period 31 to 23.

Simmons, center whose floor work and eye was "very good," according to head basketball Coach Goober Keyes, led the Lubbock scoring with 17 points, and Ford, a forward tossed 7 points through the hoops to share second honors with Sudan's Shuttles.

Letsinger's two long goals from center opened the Lubbock scoring in the second period and started the Westerners off to a lead they did not relinquish.

MORTON CHURCH TO STAGE PAGEANT "THE

The First Convention Baptist church of Morton will stage a pageant—"The Bethlehem Inn," with Mrs. Leonard Taylor in charge, Sunday evening, at 7 p. m., December 20.

There will be 35 young local people taking part and the scene will be the inn where Joseph asked for lodging and the stable where Jesus was born.

At the close of the pageant, girls in white attire are to present gifts to the spirit of Christmas.

FORD
advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase—to the same advanced design—with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

years ago until located a short time ago. This reunion, even though made at the declining period of life, will no doubt be a happy one.

It is now authoritatively announced by members of the Morton Volunteer Fire Company that the organization will sponsor a Ball to be given on the night of December 31 when they will dance the old year out and hail the new one in the same spirit.

They expect to have Jack Ward's 6-piece orchestra from Plainview and the affair will be held at the skating rink.

Four families from Brownfield, a man and four sons, H. C., C. D., H. D., and J. L. Griffith, all fine farmers, recently purchased five labors of land from the Campbell Land Co., out of the Campbell ranch, west of Morton, near Oasis, and will move on the land next year.

Last week there were 33 men, four caliche trucks, one service truck, 2 four-horse teams at work hauling and spreading caliche on Highway 24 west of Morton to the State Line.

Approximately 3 1-2 miles of this road has been topped, and 5 miles is finished with caliche base, awaiting settling of the road for topping, and it is believed that around forty men will be continually at work through the winter on this end of 24.

After acting as road foreman in Cochran county for the past year on highway 24, L. S. McMillian left yesterday for Quitaque, where he will take over the duties as superintendent of a section of state highways there. V. R. Head took over Mr. McMillian's duties.

Mr. W. L. Burton, of Quail, Texas, has purchased Newt's Store at Maple, from Mr. W. H. Newton, and will assume charge of the grocery business on December 23.

Mr. Newton will begin the erection of another business house at Maple within a short time, and will enter another line of business there shortly.

Mr. Burton and family have moved to their new home.

The two gins at Morton are reported to have ginned about 2200 bales this season.

FEED WANTED—Will buy several carloads headed feed. See S. D. Wiginton, Box 95 Whitharral, Texas. 37-11p.

An ironing board pad and cover given with two years' subscription—75 cents a year in Lamb and adjoining Counties only.

SANTA FE IS BUILDING NEW LINE, MORE EQUIPMENT IS BEING BOUGHT

A general upward trend in both freight and passenger traffic in territory served by the Santa Fe has marked the present year, according to S. T. Bledsoe, president. Various factors have contributed to this. Industries, such as building, mining, oil, lumber, and manufacturing, have become more active. Another season of deficient moisture east of the Rocky Mountains curtailed such crops as grain, cotton, and hay; however, prices for these and other farm products have improved. Livestock is doing well. The increase in travel has been due to the attractiveness of air-conditioned cars, faster service and low fares, coupled with the improved financial status of the general public. Prospects for the coming year are favorable. A large acreage of winter wheat has been planted and much of it is up to a good stand. In Western Kansas and the adjoining territory, timely rains and snows will be needed as that region has no moisture reserve; but elsewhere the ground is well supplied for the present. Citrus fruit promises an excellent yield during the winter and spring. General business is on the up grade. The Santa Fe is completing a new line from Las Animas, Colorado, south to Boise City, Oklahoma, to provide a direct line from Colorado to Texas and the Gulf. Incidental to this and other improvements, orders have been placed for 155,000 tons of new rail and fastenings. A stainless steel light weight passenger train of nine cars is now being built to be delivered shortly, and contracts have been let for the immediate building of 27 locomotives and 3,025 freight cars. These capital expenditures mean employment for thousands of men in fields where employment has been lagging.

Nervous, Weak Woman
Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
