SHERIFF AND HIS DEPUTY KILLED IN FISHER CO., SAT'Y

Much interest has been manifest in Littlefield this week over the shooting of Sheriff Bob Smith and Deputy Jack Owens, of Fisher county, last Saturday afternoon. Several Littlefield citizens, formerly living in and near Roby, of that county, expressing their indignation over the untimely death of these two well known officers who met their fate in the line of duty.

Littlefield officers were notified of the murders Saturday afternoon and have been on the watch ever since. According to reports, apparently uncalled for in both cases. Bill Smith and Earl Conaster, of Roby, are being wanted by officers in connection with the killing.

Smith and Conaster, both young men about 23 years of age, were arrested on a charge of stealing a bale of cotton, the officers being unarmed at the time of arrest. Going past their place of residence they requested permission to change clothes before being taken to the county seat, the request being granted. Returning to the car, the officers failed to search them for concealed weapons, and as the four were coming on to Roby, one of them is alleged to have drawn a weapon shooting Sheriff Smith twice in the back.

Deputy Owens, who was sitting in the rear seat with one of the prisoners, is said to have leaped for the steering wheel of the then unguided car and as it tumbled through the heart, his body falling from the auto and later found about ten feet from the machine which had run into a shallow ditch and stopped.

Following the killing the two men were taken to the county seat and later buried in the cemetery. One report has it that they were seen in the neighborhood of Hamlin, another that they were seen Sunday afternoon on the highway between Littlefield and Lubbock.

Following the shooting a posse of about 100 men was organized under the direction of former Sheriff Parker of Fisher county and started in search of the fugitives. Poses were organized also at Rotan, Hamlin, Sylvestor and McCauley, and within a few hours following the tragedy, it is said more than 1,500 people were engaged in the man hunt. Feeling that vicinity is said to be running high. Both slain officers were in favor with the public in Fisher and adjoining counties.

Sheriff Smith was about 30 years of age, a World War veteran, and was leaving his first term as sheriff. He was married and had several small children.

Deputy Owens was about the same age as Smith, and is also survived by a wife and a number of children.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

The Chrysler roadster stolen from John Blair, while at the carnival grounds last Saturday night, was recovered in Lubbock Sunday night.

Information regarding the theft was broadcasted Sunday morning by Mr. Blair and Sheriff Irvin. Lubbock officers immediately began looking for the missing car, and late that night found it parked on one of the main business streets. No clue to the thief has been found.

METHODISTS HAVE ALL ROUND MEET AND CHURCH NITE

Last Monday night was an eventful occasion in the history of the Littlefield Methodist organization, when more than 100 people gathered on the lawn of the church for a four-square meeting—spiritual, mental, physical and social natures all being inspired.

The occasion began with a fine supper, for which had been prepared oodles of fried chicken, salads, pie, cake and lots of other good stuff to go with it. It was served cafeteria style by the ladies of the church, apparently putting everyone in fine physical and mental condition for the further part of the program.

Following the supper, Rev. Don B. Doak, presiding elder of the Lubbock district, delivered an inspiring sermon upon the subject, "Citizenship for two Worlds." Using the fifteenth psalm as the basis of his homily he emphasized the fact that citizenship in this world was preparatory for citizenship in the world to come; what we are in this life we will be in the future life on an even larger scale. "Good here; good there," he said. "Bad here; bad there." The first letter of "here" is the first letter of "hereafter," and the last letter of "time" is the first letter of "eternity." There is no void nor vacancy, no intermediate plane—human life beginning in this world is merely transferred to the next where it goes on through eons unknown.

The preacher emphasized the fact that religion was an asset to every person, enumerating the various qualifications necessary for good citizenship. "While we are mere sojourners in this life," he said, "we shall have a permanent abiding place in the life to come."

Following the sermon, a brief business session of the church was held, after which the treats were on. Rev. Ed Tharp, local pastor, who invited the congregation outside again, where everyone present filled up all the empty spaces of their corporations with delicious watermelon, fresh from the fields of local growers.

As an all round occasion, representative of the various fostered interests of the church, it was one with few equals in this community, many present commenting upon the complete enjoyment of the event.

IRVIN GETS MAN IN HASKELL AFTER 18 MONTHS CHASE

Sheriff Len Irvin returned Tuesday night from Haskell bringing back with him V. H. Wyatt, whom he arrested on a charge of swindling in the disposing of mortgaged property. He was placed in jail at Plainview.

There are two grand jury indictments against Wyatt, according to Irvin, who has been after him for the past year and a half, locating him once in Canada, and a few days ago getting a clue that he was back in Texas, he found him in Haskell county last Monday.

LITTLEFIELD MOVIE MAGNATE TELLS HOW HE GETS BUCK PASSED HIM BY PRODUCERS

"Running a picture show in a small town is a regular he-man's job," exclaimed Max L. McClure, local movie magnate, just as a Leader representative popped his head into Max' sanctum, finding him sitting before a desk wallowed full of letters, pictures, advertisements and a heterogeneous indescribable mass of other stuff, and the patron of Paramount wearing his glasses cock-eyed and both hands grabbing out chunks of hair from his agitated dome.

"What the d— is the matter now," replied the inquisitive reporter, his nose scenting a hot story right off the reel. "Oh, these darned contracts," replied the Palace wizard, "are enough to make one's great-grandmother turn over in her grave and slit a silver sheet to shreds. You see when I buy a picture I have to buy a whole bunch of them at one time. That's the only way they sell 'em. Those guys up at New York City paying these $10,000 a week here and heroines to do their stunts before the public dope this stuff all out to suit themselves and we little chaps in the small towns just have to take our medicine and if it's bitter go ahead smiling just the same as if it was chocolate dipped marshmallows or—caramel nut sundae fresh from Stokes' soda fountain, but believe me, if I keep up this business much longer I'll either die of splachnic neurosthenia or wind up in some psychopathic ward in the middle of Patagonia.

school stuff, but gets stung nine times out of ten, just like all the rest of the movie birds who are running kaleidoscopic reels in the small towns. It was my understanding some time ago when Will Hays, that well known Presbyterian elder, was elected head of the movie business, that he was to clean up the whole works. I think he did some pretty good things for a while, but I've about come to the conclusion recently that Hays has gone a fishing, and—probably fell in the creek. The Leader reporter ventured the suggestion that he had seen some pretty good pictures in the Littlefield theatre, some that ought to be eminently satisfying to any of the modern W. C. T. U., or Pely Roller mothers. "Sure," replied Max, who by this time had got his feet back on earth, his hair combed out straight and a fresh cigarette soothing his frazzled nerves. "Sure," we have lots of good pictures. In fact, the general run of them are pretty good. Sometimes the whole series of reels will be good with the exception of 10 or 15 feet that happens to slip by the censors in some unexplainable manner. The advance advertising stuff these producing concerns send out plays them all up as fit to run in a revival meeting; but when the strips of celluloid themselves come in, the Duke of Devilry only knows what is going to shine out of the nose of the Motiograph when the current is turned on. Ministers, fond mothers and dotting fathers some times call upon me and ask regarding such and such a film. The only thing I can tell them is what has been told me by the producer in his advertising stuff. I lay the cards on the table and try to explain the whole situation, which is about as clear as mud. I have asked some of our best citizens to come to my office and help me make out programs to purchase. A few of them have accepted my offer, and they turn out as poor judges of films as myself. And the worse thing about the whole business is: whatever we order we have to use, generally because we don't have any substitute and particularly because we have to pay for it whether we use it or not. "Nobody would like to give the recreational seeking/public nics, clean, inspirational and educational pictures any more than your humble servant, and no one tries harder to get that kind. Of course, I know there are lots of people, even in this burg, who like the salacious, triangular, co-resident stuff, and I could have audiences twice what I do, and make

TO GRAVEL MAIN STREET

That Main street in Littlefield is to be put in better condition for traffic, is the statement of City Clerk E. C. Cundiff this week. Just what will be done has not yet been decided by the commissioners, but it is stated that the chock holes are to be filled with gravel, and possibly other gravel will be laid. Cundiff declares it is only a matter of time until this street must be paved, as it is the only economic manner in which it can possibly be maintained.

CHEVROLET TRUCK CARAVAN WILL BE HERE, OCTOBER 4

The Chevrolet auto and truck caravan, touring through West Texas, will be in Littlefield at two o'clock, on the afternoon of October 4th, according to information received this week by Bell-Gillette company, local Chevrolet dealers. The tour is being made for the purpose of acquainting the auto buying public with the different models of cars put out by the Chevrolet company, said Mr. Gillette, who is planning making the caravan a gala affair in Littlefield. The first feature of the occasion, will be a parade through main street, winding up at the Bell-Gillette suite rooms, where an exhibit space will be roped off, the different models made, speeches regarding the merits of this particular make of auto will be heard, and prospect customers will be given detailed information. It will be an "open house" occasion, the visitors being guests of the local concern, and everyone who is a Chevrolet owner, driver or prospective driver is invited to attend.

OFFICERS GET BOOZE

That the officers were on the job last week during the celebration probably accounts largely for the fact of so little disorderly conduct on that occasion. Deputy Sheriff Walraven and City Marshal Anderson raked three different places, obtaining about 125 bottles of beer. One gunny sack containing the home brew was found in a maize field near town. It is stated by officers that while several persons were found in a more or less state of intoxication, yet no drunk arrests were made either Friday nor Saturday. Misses Louisa Magge and Esther C. ... of Lubbock, visited friends in Littlefield the latter part of last week.

LFD. GOOD WILL FETE DREW LARGE CROWDS LAST WEEK

Friday and Saturday of last week were celebration days in Littlefield, and people came from many miles around to enjoy the occasion of pleasure prepared for them by the local committee in charge of the arrangements. The attendance was said by many to have been the largest of any of the celebrations held in this part of the state this fall.

The Cooper State Carnival company was shown throughout the entire week, furnishing interesting amusement and entertainment for the visitors. There was also rodeo, horse races of different kinds, bronco riding, goat roping, auto races, wild cow milking, and numerous other similar stunts attracting expert lariat men and skilled equestrians from four different states. A baseball game between the Morton and Whitharral teams Friday morning drew many fans of the game, and a battle royal among the members of the senegambian race Friday night was a full show within itself. There was music by the Littlefield band and special pictures for the occasion, everyone attending the event seemingly enjoying themselves to the utmost. About $1,200 in prizes and premiums were awarded various contestants, as follows:

- Calf-roping: Joe York, time 20 seconds.
- Wild cow-milking: 1st—Joe York, 29 seconds; 2nd—B. C. Sheppard, 29-1 seconds; 3rd—Joe Barber, 55 seconds.
- Business Men's roping: Len Irvin.
- Goat roping: 1st—Dud Arnett, 15.5 seconds; 2nd—Joe York, 16 seconds; 3rd—Walter Lunde, 16.5 seconds.
- Calf roping: 1st—Joe York, 29 seconds; 2nd—Carter Arnett, 39 seconds; 3rd—Dud Arnett, 41 seconds.
- Goat-roping: 1st—Joe York, 14.2 seconds; 2nd—Dud Arnett, 14.4 seconds; 3rd—Homer Arnett, 15.2 seconds.
- Business men's roping: Les Cooper.
- Friday horse race, 1/2 mile: 1st, Clower; 2nd, Norfleet; 3rd, Tom Anders.
- Horse race, 3/8 mile: Anders, Norfleet, Clower.
- Horse race, 1/4 mile: Anders, Swan, Nichols.
- Saturday horse race, 1/2 mile: Clower, Norfleet, Anders.
- Horse race, 3/8 mile: Anders, Norfleet, Anders.
- Shetland pony race, 12 year old boys: Lester Moulton 1st; 2nd not reported.
- Shetland pony race for 5 year old boys and girls: Virginia Walker, 1st; Pat Boone, jr., 2nd.

A. L. LIGHT IS INJURED

Last Sunday afternoon, while A. L. Light was riding a horse on his ranch 12 miles west of Littlefield, the animal became frightened and ran into a barbed wire fence. Mr. Light's arm and legs were badly lacerated and bruised as a result. He is reported recovering.

Anyone can say FRESH GROCERIES—but delivering them to the trade—day in and day out, throughout the entire year—ah—there's the trick in it.

Our groceries are always fresh, from the simple fact of our large turnover. With the large patronage enjoyed by the "M" System stores in Littlefield we have new stocks constantly arriving—rather we are more likely to run out of some things than to have to much of them on our hands to become stale.

Fresh groceries, together with the attractive low prices in vogue at "M" System stores has made our stores headquarters for all thoughtful housewives.

NOTED PIANIST TO BE AT LUBBOCK IN
RECITAL, SEPT. 6th

Lubbock, Aug. 31.—Seven years ago, Mme. Matule Powell, the late famous violinist was in Texas and discovered a courteous young musician with talent. She offered him the position of accompanist on her tour which he accepted and made a big success.

After seven years of experience which has carried him to the four corners of the earth, the young artist Francis Moore, formerly of El Paso, is coming back to his native state for a tour and he will be in Lubbock to give a piano recital Tuesday, September 6, during the South Plains Teachers institute.

The artist is coming to Lubbock under the auspices of the South Plains Music Teachers association. Miss Mary Dunn, president of the organization has announced that the program will be held at the Tech pavilion. Over 2,000 teachers from 18 surrounding counties will be in Lubbock for the institute and a majority of the teachers will be expected to attend in addition to Lubbock and South Plains music lovers.

"His debut recital established Francis Moore as a pianist we love the rank and file," the New York World stated October 11, 1921, following the recital which took the artist from the accompanists rank to a popular concert pianist. Other press comments written by the critics from the Evening Sun, Tribune, Herald, Evening Mail, Globe-Times and other New York papers paid high tribute to the success of the new artist.

DAIRY FACTS

GRASS FAILURES
SHRINK YIELDS

Nine-tenths of the cows in the Middle West suffer from lack of feed, some time during the summer, because of the failure of blue grass pasture. It is estimated by W. J. Fraser, dairy farming specialist at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

This lack of feed, coupled with the heat and flies, results in a loss of milk which continues, even if good feed is supplied later in the year, because it is extremely difficult to get cows back to good production in the same lactation period after they have once fallen in milk flow. The growing of sweet clover instead of blue grass for dairy pasture would solve this feed shortage, which Fraser says is one of the serious troubles in dairy farming throughout the Middle West.

"A good productive pasture supplies the feed for a dairy herd for practically one-half the year, and so is entitled to as much consideration as all the other crops, combined, that make up the winter half of the ration. However, the value of a really good pasture is little realized on most farms. Blue grass is the kind of pasture commonly used, and during dry weather this crop becomes practically worthless. In tests made by the agricultural college, there were two seasons when 30 acres of blue grass afforded scarcely enough pasture for one cow. Not only would a great acreage have to be provided in order to make it possible for a cow to maintain her milk flow on such a pasture, but also the cow would have to be endowed with certain characteristics as yet unknown to dairy cattle. She would need a muzzle 18 inches wide and would have to walk 24 miles a day, cropping the grass clean as she went like a lawnmower run by a gas engine, in order to get her full feed.

"Absurd as may be the mental picture of such a gaunt, broad-visaged animal, she would be just the ideal type of cow for our blue grass pastures in the Middle West where summer droughts are so frequent and severe. For this reason, dairymen must set to work to breed this kind of cow or find other more productive and dependable pasture than blue grass. The latter is, no doubt, the more practicable.

"The growing of sweet clover pasture results in a great saving of land, as it requires only half as much acreage per cow as is usually devoted to blue grass. In addition, only a small acreage of other crops is necessary to supplement it, while blue grass requires from an acre to an acre and a half of supplementary crops per cow in addition to pasture in order that sufficient feed be supplied during dry weather. It is evident that the use of sweet clover pasture would greatly lessen both the cost of feed and the labor on the farm during midsummer.

"In addition to this, it saves the cow's energy, as she does not have to forage over so large an area of land nor keep working all day, as she does in grubbing for blue grass. On sweet clover pasture, she can fill up in a few minutes and lie down and contentedly chew her cud.

"The most successful management of sweet clover pasture requires seeding it each year in the small grain. The cattle begin in the spring on the second year's crop which comes on early. They graze on this until the middle or last of August, when they are turned on to the new clover in the grain stubble, and use it until the latter part of October. The old clover and the new seeding are growing on the farm each year, and the six months' pasture is partly from the one and partly from the other. The pasture requires but one year's use of the land, however, because a crop of small grain is cut from the same land on which the clover grows the first year.

"Sweet clover has not come to the front as a dairy pasture crop without encountering some objections. One of these is that cows will not eat it readily. This is true if the clover has become large and tough and the cows have an abundance of other good feed, but not one of the 100 men I have had correspondence with in regard to sweet clover pastures has had any trouble getting his cows to eat it freely after the first two or three days. As proof that sweet clover is relatively palatable, one but needs to consider the enormous amounts of milk given by the cows pastured on sweet clover. To give such yields of milk a cow must eat extremely large amounts of the pasture, which she would not do were it an unpalatable feed.

"Troubles have been found and failures have occurred in growing sweet clover and, for this reason, many imagine that sweet clover is a difficult and uncertain crop to produce."

Prepared Calf Meal

There are well-prepared calf meals on the market, which many prefer. Feeding directions usually accompany these products, which it is well to follow as they have been carefully worked out and are based upon practical experience. It is also important to see that the manger or feed box in which the grain is fed is kept scrupulously clean and sweet. Spoiled feed in the feed box is not only apt to result in scours, but is certain to throw the calf off feed.

J. T. Bellomy has bought the home occupied by Buck Lorange, and expects to move there within the next few days.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

An eye for an eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.
—Deuteronomy xix:21.

Revenge, we find, is the abject pleasure of the mind.—Juvenal.

LOOKING TOWARD WINTER

There are two peaks to the canning season in this country, in the early spring and along about this time of year. Busy days are here for the housewives of Littlefield and vicinity, and many of them are making the most of it. Gardens and orchards are now unloading their harvests of food-stuffs, in fairly generous quantities, and there is no reason for any family going hungry during the long winter days now soon approaching.

True, the summer canning season is losing some of its prestige in the eyes of the younger set, for it is now possible to buy at the store nearly everything in the fruit and vegetable line already canned. It is not like it was when mother was a girl. But even with the modern ways of doing things—making a meal off of store-bought canned goods—local women are preparing for well stocked larders through the winter.

Reports from various parts of the country indicate that the fruit crop has really turned out better than expected along in the spring. And while the corn crop is short of normal, it is also not to be sneezed at. Taken all in all, we have approached the fall season with the country as a whole in far better shape than we have seen it at various times in the past, and we seem to have about as little cause for complaint now as we have had for a good many years.

A chicken never stops scratching because the worms are scarce.

GOOD RADIO AHEAD

News dispatches state that the Federal Radio Commission has completed its work of assigning wave lengths and its program of weeding out stations that have been guilty of cluttering up the air has started.

Twenty stations have been eliminated in New York City alone. Others have been forced to reduce their power so they will not drown out everything near them. Air pirates are realizing for the first time that the Commission means business and that it is backed by laws that are going to be strictly enforced.

All of which brings a smile to the faces of radio fans around Littlefield. To them it forecasts the best fall and winter radio conditions they have ever had. It means that the family now putting its money into a radio set is going to get more satisfaction out of it.

Everything comes to those who wait and goodness knows radio fans have waited long enough for the air pirates to be put out of business.

Faith once moved mountains, but that was before one could flinger around them or fly over them.

JAILING THE MACHINE

A justice of the peace in Berkeley California, has hit upon the idea of jailing the machine for automobile traffic violations. This would seem like quite a clear way of handling people who violate the automobile laws.

The average driver is not much troubled by a small fine, and public sentiment, has not probably arrived at a point where it would have the majority of these violators sent to jail. But if the machine was locked up somewhere so that the owner and his family had to walk such treatment would have a very powerful deterrent effect. Such a plan might have quite beneficial results on the speeders of Lamb county.

A girl who listened to a proposal in an automobile accepted it in the hospital.

A NO NEWSPAPER TOWN

What town would be if your newspaper should go out of business? It would soon be known as a city of the dead. It would grow backward so fast that in a short while your streets would be a good grazing place for cattle, and the only traffic you would have would be the people who are moving away or those passing through from one live city to another. News as well. As they progress so will the home city progress. It is money in your pockets to see them grow, for papers are modern builders of cities the better they are the better your city will be.

White lies are often used to get out of black situations.

THE DOLLAR AT HOME

Start a dollar bill out early in the morning on its mission of service and if kept going it will pay ten, a hundred or more dollars worth of obligations and nine times out of ten it will find its way back into your own business. Same is true of the bills of larger denomination. Put them to work in community service.

But what about the mail order dollar? Once it is started on its journey it never sees the old home town again. It usually travels from 1,000 to 2,000 miles away and that is too far for it to ever get back. So far as the local community is concerned it is out of circulation.

Flattering a fool only makes him more so.

LITTLE LEADERS

Everybody in Littlefield shaves nowadays except just a few old ladies.

No Littlefield man can serve two masters—so why be a bigamist?

In Littlefield—a kiss is nothing divided by two.

The average Littlefield man ought to be happy now while he can. He may be rich someday and can't.

For the average Littlefield driver to honk his horn doesn't help half so much as steering wisely.

Littlefield business forecast: Less speculation, less grumbling; more real business.

If all the fish stories Littlefield fishermen told this year were true there would be no food shortage.

The thing the average woman sees in a Littlefield show window that she likes best, is the reflection of herself.

Instead of cutting off her nose to spite her face, we know a Littlefield woman who cut off her hair to spite her relatives.

Just a few years ago when Littlefield men chewed tobacco, a girl didn't kiss her beau unless she really loved him, passionately.

The truth for today: Most of us, if we are going to succeed at all, are going to succeed in towns about the size of Littlefield.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THERE IS A LAW BREAKER WITHIN YOU

The great law-breaker is greed. Of course, men break laws because of other passions, such as love, revenge, vanity and the like.

But greed breaks the law 20 times to where other feelings break it once. The mainspring of the burglar's and pickpocket's career is greed. They want the "dough," and they want it quick. Hence the blackjack and the breaking and entering.

Old people are waited for with impatience and not waited on with love, because of greed.

Many an unhappy marriage has its cause in greed.

Families are separated on account of it, and ancient grudges are founded.

Laws are passed at its instigation.

The passage of a passport law and of an income tax law had no foundations in justice, but took place simply because there were occasions of graft. The money could have been raised in a much better way by a simpler process of justice.

Greed was equally behind the activities of Robin Hood of yore and the modern legislator. The principle upon which they acted is the same.

They took money from those who had it as an excuse that they were protecting those who had it not. The rise of all opposition to the prohibition law is greed. Bootleggers do not exist so much because people have an unholy appetite for profits there are in the eladestine liquor as because of the immense business.

A barber was recently arrested in New York for shaving a man on Sunday. He could not resist the temptation to make 15 cents, notwithstanding it involved the violation of the law.

All laws will be broken to an extent where there is an attempt to run counter to an acquisitory instinct of the individual.

We have laws against theft, arson, murder and the like, and have had them for lo, these thousands of years. But they are all as steadily broken as the law against alcoholic liquors.

Wherever you find a predominance of greed, you will find law-breaking. Greed is the chiefest of our anti-social vices, and ranks first as our law-breaker.

ple upon which they acted is the same. They took money from those who had it as an excuse that they were protecting those who had it not.

The rise of all opposition to the prohibition law is greed. Bootleggers do not exist so much because people have an unholy appetite for profits there are in the eladestine liquor as because of the immense business.

A barber was recently arrested in New York for shaving a man on Sunday. He could not resist the temptation to make 15 cents, notwithstanding it involved the violation of the law.

All laws will be broken to an extent where there is an attempt to run counter to an acquisitory instinct of the individual.

We have laws against theft, arson, murder and the like, and have had them for lo, these thousands of years. But they are all as steadily broken as the law against alcoholic liquors.

Wherever you find a predominance of greed, you will find law-breaking. Greed is the chiefest of our anti-social vices, and ranks first as our law-breaker.

This Week's Poem

THE BACK SEAT DRIVER

A disciple of auto-suggestion My wife is, without any question. Whenever we ride, she sits by my side

And directs me through traffic congestion.

She says, "To the left! Use your brake dear!

Lock out! Straight ahead is a lake, dear!

Go slow! Have a care! You've stalled it—now there!

I knew you would make a mistake, dear!

She tells me of motors behind me, Of headlights approaching that blind me.

I say, "Oh shut up! Who's driving this Hup?"

But never have known her to mind me.

Day by day she gets steadily worse, With her comments so needless and terse,

'Till I fully expect when she's dead she'll direct

The man at the wheel of the hearse!

—ZEP.

GWENDOYLN IS SO DUMB—

She thinks that Bradstreet is a popular novel.

She thinks Oliver Twist is a brand of chewing tobacco.

She thinks "The Bat" is Babe Ruth's play.

She thinks a football coach has wheels.

She thinks Bonar Law is a new amendment.

She thinks a flying tackle is some kind of trout bait.

She thinks poaching game is like poaching eggs.

Interesting minds are far rarer than pretty faces, probably because they are less in demand.

New Shipment of Ladies Novelty Shoes

Just received—a new shipment of the very latest styles and lasts of Ladies Novelty Shoes. The classiest things in feminine footwear that ever came to Littlefield. We have them in patent leather, high and medium heels, in straps and the step-ins, and all priced very reasonable.

The workmanship of these new shoes is supreme, the mark of skilled craftsmanship being discernible in the careful making and detail of each shoe.

BAPTIST W. M. SOCIETY NOTES
The dinner and food sale held last Saturday in the Sadler building, proved a financial success, with over $60 dollars in the treasury. Our women responded in a great way, and we appreciate the many courtesies extended by many friends.
Tuesday morning, the day set apart for a real outing, at the beautiful home of Mrs. E. Mueller, dawned bright and fair, and ten o'clock found an eager crowd of women on the steps of the church, all waiting for the signal, "go." After much parlance as to ways to accommodate the crowd, lunches, etc., satisfactory arrangements were made and we were off.
On arrival, the house soon overflowed, and many found their way out to the attractive shade trees and beautiful blue grass lawn, entirely surrounded by a veritable bower of flowers of every hue and color, a feast for the eyes, and soon, followed by a feast fit to appease the appetite of a king—fried chicken, pans full—salad, a variety—tomatoes, pickles, olives, ice tea and real honest-to-goodness creamy milk, followed by ice cream and cake galore, and best of all, the only limit was one's capacity for enjoying it.
The afternoon was spent in songs,
music, contests and a general good time for the more than 40 who registered in the guest book.
The storm cloud began to gather and the loath to depart, a hasty farewell was said, and thus passed into history another pleasant day spent in this hospitable home.
Long live Mother Mueller and all her clan! —Contributed.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY
The ladies auxiliary, of the Presbyterian church, met with Mrs. K. F.
Ailbright, Tuesday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. W. G. Street, in the chair.
Following the business session and roll call Mrs. M. M. Brittain led the devotional, assisted by Mrs. E. A.
Bills. The second chapter of the book, "See Yourself," was given by Mrs. Bob Smith, assisted by Mrs. C.
A. Dugger, and was very interesting and instructive.
At the close of the program a social hour followed, and two guests were introduced: Mrs. A. D. Steed, of Amarillo, and Mrs. M. V. Cobb, of Littlefield.
The birthday cake with 16 lighted candles was then carefully cut by the honoree, Mrs. R. S. Thomas and Mrs.
W. G. Street, whose birthday anniversaries were during the month of August.
The hostess, assisted by Mrs. W.
D. Arnett, Mrs. J. C. Hilburn, and Mrs. Robert Steen Jr., served dainty refreshments to 20 members and three guests.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. A. Bills, and the roll call will be with a verse beginning with the letter "S."
Plans were made and favorably voted upon to hold the annual bazaar
the first Saturday in December.

GUESTS FROM LUBBOCK ATTEND ROTARY HERE
The regular meeting of the Rotary club was held last week with 19 members present, also, seven guests.
H. B. Yates, of Lubbock, head of the Boy Scout work on the South Plains, was present and addressed the membership, urging the appointment of a scout master in Littlefield and the reorganization of the work here.
R. J. Murray, of Lubbock, colonization agent for the Santa Fe railroad company, talked on Rotary International, emphasizing what was being done by this organization toward world wide peace among the nations.
J. S. Hilliard made a classification talk on "Farming."
The next meeting will be in charge of Prof. B. M. Harrison, who will make a classification talk on "Education."
Mrs. Jess York, who for the past week has been here visiting her mother, Mrs. Yohner, left Sunday for her home in San Angelo.

County Clerk A. H. McGavock, of Olton, was in Littlefield Tuesday on business. He is quite proud of the Olton base ball team, of which he is manager. He says out of 36 games played this year, they have only lost seven.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday night, in addition to the regular preaching service, there will be a junior vested choir and processional music. The sermon will be of a popular nature.
Quite a number of men have managed to climb the ladder of fame by hanging on to the coat tails of others.

Community Building
Care and Cultivation of Grounds Important
Where it is not possible to build the new house on a lot having good trees,
the first step toward an attractive home is tree planting. Even with trees already established, plants of smaller growth are required in addition if a home atmosphere is to radiate from the house. A proper combination of these gives the most pleasing result.
Locating the walk and the drive, if there is to be one, is a necessary preliminary to planting the grounds.
The less conspicuous they are the better for the general effect. If the house is close to the street a straight walk is the least obtrusive and cuts up the lawn less than a curving one;
but if the house is farther from the street than the width of its own front, an unbroken lawn may be provided by curving the walk from one corner or the other. When a drive is needed it may often be used as a substitute for a walk. Walks and drives should be kept as few in number and as limited in area as conditions will permit.
Proper location of shade trees is probably the most vital of all the planting details. Where the house is placed close to the street the street trees are usually the only ornamental trees that can be used, but where there is room some are needed near each corner of the house as a frame,
but none in front to obstruct the view.
On a large lot additional trees provide welcome shade, but must not obstruct the picture of the front.

Tenants Seek Beauty
in Business Building
So far as its ability to make its rent is concerned, a commercial building of architectural beauty will out-live its neighbor of ordinary lines and proportions.
There are several reasons for this,
any one of which ought to convince the owner of a commercial building:
he it a single store or an office skyscraper, that it pays actual dollars to create the beautiful rather than the ordinary or ugly.
The building that has been erected for commercial purposes should contain elements in its makeup that will insure for its owner a continuation of its profitability as time goes on. At first, a building's newness and location usually warrant the investment being made without fear of its becoming a white elephant instead of a bag of gold to the original investor. But when a new building goes up alongside, or across the street or the busiest portion of the thoroughfare moves away, then there is a great liability of a decline in the ordinary building's value as a profitable investment.
The modern buying public will patronize that shop which does not grate on its esthetic nature. Consciously or unconsciously, the present-day shopper will discriminate between the beautiful and the ugly. Wise is the investor who realizes this tendency before he commits the mistake of erecting an unattractive building.

Consideration in Building
There are a lot of things that cannot be and should not be regulated by law, but should be governed more successfully than they are by good taste and proper consideration for others of good taste. This applies in a particularly conspicuous way to architecture. To break into a street of generally good building standards with a freakish, garish or otherwise incongruous structure is not only a manifestation of bad taste, but a selfish disregard for the rights and interests of those who exercise good taste and good business judgment.
The same is true of the architect or builder who puts a freak dwelling in a beautiful and harmonious neighborhood of homes. Such an architect or builder discredits himself and offends
and injures persons of better taste.—
Kansas City Star.

Take Inventory of Trees
Some Eastern cities take an inventory of their trees yearly. Hartford, Conn., values the trees on Washington street, the main street of the city, at $138.41 each. Newton, Mass., values each of its street trees at $120.50; Newark, N. J., at $30.72 replacement value; Springfield, Mass., at $100; Ann Arbor, Mich., at $100. The minimum value of a street tree is fixed by the forestry department of the University of Michigan at $15, plus an increment for each year of its life.

Home Owner Is King
The man who builds in the small-home class today is a monarch of rank beyond the aspirations of the feudal baron, with his ancestral castle and his army of retainers. The home builder of today has catering to his needs a host of eager slaves incalculable and impossible in feudal days
—the myriad manufacturers of building products.
Paint a Great Transformer
The season of the year is here that seems by its very brightness to throw our homes into a dingy, shabby relief. Paint is a magical transformer that will go a long way toward changing this condition, for its application will replace the worn appearance with one of pristine freshness.

The Women's study club will have their assembly day at the home of Mrs. A. P. Duggan, next Wednesday.
Weeds are just like bad habits:
easiest to kill while they are young;
before their roots get a firm hold.
Because of this, frequent and thorough stirring of the soil is the best way to kill weeds.
If a husband foots his wife's bills

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE

The State of Texas: County of Lamb.

Whereas, by virtue of a certain alias execution issued out of the Justice Court, of Precinct No. 1, Lamar County, Texas, on a judgement rendered in said court on the 14th day of June, 1926, in favor of L. P. Katz Manufacturing Co., and against J. B. Coursey, and being No. 1368 on the docket of said Court, I did, on the 10th day of August, 1927, at 10 o'clock a. m., levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated lying and being in the County of Lamb, State of Texas, and belonging to the said J. B. Coursey, to-wit:

Lots Nos. 5 and 6, in Block No. 28, in the town of Amherst, Lamb County, Texas; also, the East One-half (1/2) of Labor No. 1, League No. 637, in Lamb County, Texas.

And on the 6th day of Sept., 1927, being the first Tuesday of said month between the hours of ten o'clock and four o'clock p. m., at the court house door of said county, on said day, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right, title and interest of the said J. B. Coursey in and to said property.

Dated at Olton, this the 10th day of August, 1927.

—LEN IRVIN,
Sheriff of Lamb County, Texas
Aug. 18, 25, Sept., 1, 1927.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb county, Greeting:

WHEREAS, on the 14th day of June, 1926, L. P. Katz Manufacturing Company recovered a judgement in the Justice's Court of Precinct No. One, Lamar County, against J. B. Coursey for the sum of Ninety-two and 20/100 Dollars, with interest thereon from the 14th day of June, 1926, at 6 per cent per annum, and all costs of suit; And whereas, an execution thereon issued to Lamb County, on the 16th day of August, 1927, and was returned indorsed as follows: not executed.

THEREFORE, YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, as you have been heretofore commanded, that of the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of the said J. B. Coursey you cause to be made the sum of Ninety-two and 20/100 Dollars, with interest thereon from the 14th day of June, 1926, at the rate of 6 per cent, per annum, together with the sum of Nine and 05/100 Dollars, cost of suit, and also the further costs of executing this writ.

Herein fail not, and have you said moneys, together with this writ, before me, at my office in Precinct No. One, Lamar County, within sixty days from the date hereof.

This is the second execution issued upon the above mentioned judgement.

WITNESS my hand, this 1st day of August, 1927.

—CHARLES RANOTT,
Justices of the Peace, Precinct No. One, Lamar County.
Aug. 11, 13, 25, 1927.

FARM BUREAU IS ADVANCING $80 A BALE ON COTTON

Eighty dollars per bale for new cotton is now being paid by the Farm Bureau Cotton Association to its members for consignment of this year's crop, according to J. W. Hammock, Lamb county representative. "With this much advance payment we farmers can begin paying up some of our debts, and still have some more money coming in later on," said the agent.

Hammock says he is officially advised that the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas has gone solidly and emphatically on record in urging the orderly marketing of this year's cotton crop, and to that end is placing its financial resources at the disposal of member banks for rediscount.

All cotton consigned to the Bureau, said Hammock, is fully protected against loss by the Bureau, as it is kept fully insured from the time it leaves the gin until it is sold. Bureau members also have the advantage of selling direct to the consumers, eliminating considerable middle men's profits which are saved for the farmer-grower and his family.

More than half the cotton grown in Lamb county this year, said Mr. Hammock, is already signed up for the Bureau, and with the fine prospects now before us, many are looking forward toward a big liquidation payment on their fine farms bought here a few years ago.

C. Russell Cook, a farmer residing north of Littlefield, was displaying in the First National Bank, the first of this week, some very fine heads of millet raised on his place this year. He has 10 acres of it which is pronounced by his neighbors to be as fine as they ever saw.

Mr. and Mrs. Muri Ramsey, of Cisco, are here this week visiting relatives and friends.

Perfect Comfort
for the woman driver

An Adjustable Steering Column to Suit Your Convenience

Buick for 1928 is extremely thoughtful of feminine comfort. One indication of this consideration is Buick's new steering column, which may be adjusted to the most comfortable position for women, as well as men.

And in addition, Buick for 1928 has a new steering wheel—slender to fit feminine fingers—yet deep and solid to provide the firm grip men demand.

Buick for 1928 pleases women because it is easier to drive—because it is more comfortable to ride in—and because it is the acknowledged style-leader among motor cars. That's why you see so many Buicks at fashionable gatherings and on the smartest boulevards.

twice as much money from my pictures as I do if I would cater to that kind of stuff; but I don't. Occasionally I get one put over on me, and, unconsciously, pass it out to the public unawares, and then get blessed from Dan to Beersheba by some long-tailed ultra-orthodox gink who ought to be turned into an eunuch, or some goody-goody sister with a tongue long enough to lick grape nuts out of the bottom of a soda pop bottle, and I am immediately consigned head-first to the demolition bow-wows; but thank the good Lord most of the folks living in this town have a good bunch of common sense crammed into their craniums; they have disappointments and troubles of their own, got lied to and falsified about, and keep on coming and telling the boss of this house they appreciate the pictures he is showing and complimenting his untiring efforts to provide them with the best the market affords. Thank heavens, there are some folks who realize a movie picture man is human the same as the people who come to see the peels he hashes up for them. ## A Sample Testimony

Littlefield, Texas
August 27th, 1927

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have been farming in Dallas county for twenty-five years prior to 1926, and still own a good black land farm in that county, which is on the market. In August, 1925 I came to the Littlefield section of the South Plains, prospecting. One of my neighbors in Dallas county having already bought a farm from the Yellow House Land Company, I rented same and moved here October 25th, 1925.

After spending the winter here, I decided this was where I wanted to make my home, and bought two farms out of the Yellow House lands, broke out 250 acres of this raw land which, added to the land I had rented, made a total of 425 acres, that I cultivated in 1926 without hired labor. I made a good cotton and feed crop my first year, and from one ten acre patch of corn I gathered and sold 500 bushels.

I have a splendid crop this year, and am now offering my Dallas county land at a less price than I paid for same seven years ago, in order to buy more of the Yellow House lands. I am now living on my own land in the Littlefield section and think this the best diversified farming country in Texas.

Yours very truly,

C. E. PENDERGRASS.
