Student Teachers Are Honored As Professors Of The Week

"Study now for tomorrow may bring tests", advises Miss Carolyn Vines. Miss Neita Hewlett warns students to "watch out for 'Spring Fever'". This disease is sometimes fatal, especially where exams are concerned.

Miss Vines and Miss Hewlett are student teaching in the homemaking classes. They are both attending Texas Tech.

"I am very impressed with LHS. Both the students and the faculty are exceptionally friendly. I feel honored and privileged to be student teaching in your school stated Miss Hewlett when asked how she liked it here. To the same question Miss Vines answered, "I am so pleased to be in a high school where everyone is so friendly and pleasant."

Miss Vines, who will work in freshmen foods, is 21, has brown hair, blue eyes, and stands 5' 5 1/2". She was born at Bryan, Texas on May 27, 1940. She attended Albany Elementary School and Albany High School. Band majorette, basketball and volleyball teams, FHA, Student Council, annual staff, and newspaper were only part of her activities.

She was reared on a ranch near Albany where she fed calves and showed them in the Abilene, Fort Worth, Dallas, and Albany Fat Stock Shows.

She now breaks their colts for the halter.

Among her many hobbies are: sports, horses, cooking, sewing, fishing, hunting, trying new recipes, designing her own clothes, and traveling. She wants to go to the World's Fair this summer.

Blue is her favorite color and out of all foods she picks broiled steak as tops. She dislikes people who are habitually late.

In college her activities have included: Home Economics Club, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Junior Council, Mortar Board, Tech Supreme Court, Phi Beta social sorority, Who's Who, 60 - 61, 61 - 62, and Tech Home Economist of the Year.

Miss Hewlett is also 21, has brown hair, brown eyes and is 5' 3" tall. She was born at Slaton, Tex. on June 30, 1940. She will teach child care, home safety, and girl's bedroom.

Raised in a family of six, she has four sisters and only one brother but she says to feel sorry for the girls, not him.

She attended Wilson Public Schools where she was in band, FHA, basketball, annual staff, paper staff and the junior and senior plays.

Watching the Red Raider basketball and football teams, water skiing, sewing, cooking, bowling, swimming, knitting, reading, and watching television keep her time occupied.

Fresh tomatoes are her favorite food and red captures the high spot in colors. But, she can't stand "calories."

At Tech she is in the Home Economics Club, Young Democrat's Club, and Phi Upsilon Omicron.

They will teach for the last six weeks.

low students, I come before you in all humbleness, begging my extreme faults. In the past I have allowed this man to degenerate at times in an extremely shallow leveller lack of material. This never happen again, I have seen the true calling and responsibility which my fellow students placed in me when appointed me to this station. Therefore I must answer to all.

ledge I have at my possession to aid my fellow students and loyal comrades in their preparations for their finals. The first subject which we will take up will be Modern World History. Although most authorities agree that modern history would begin in January of 1962, in order to give history teachers something to talk about between the Fall of the Roman Empire and the abdication of Edward VII, we start this age with the Renaissance. This period is begun by the publication of a book by a group of authors, including Karl Marx, Prince Metternich, and Machiavelli, entitled "Profiles in Courage." This book was the story of an obscure map maker named Christopher Columbus. Chris sailed bravely out on the uncharted ocean in order to find new and better locations for his chain of Italian Piazza restaurants. Since his New York branches weren't doing so well, he sold his Manhattan interests to the English for considerations in their other colonies, and 24 Dutchmen.

Things continued smoothly until the Hapsburgs decided to give a party in Vienna. They invited everyone including the representatives from the young country of America. Many of our famous statesmen came, including Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Stephen Douglas, Robert Taft, and Cabot Lodge. In fact so many of our congressmen were there they called it the Congress of Vienna. After the

FHA Tea Honors Guests

FHA girls hung posters in LHS announcing FHA week.

Friday, April 6, the girls attended a Musical Carousal at Lubbock Christian College. Those attending were: Miss Neita Hewlett, and Miss Carolyn Vines, student teachers, Gennie Baker, Flobeth White, Annette Dutton, Janice Arnett, Martha McQuarters, Evelyn Martin, Linda Jennings, Kaye Dolle, Kathy Steed, Joyce Green Susan Nail, Paula Field, and Mrs. T. J. Jones, Homemaking teacher.

Saturday, April 17, as a joint project of the Jr. and Sr. Chapters, they gave a Mother-Daughter tea in the Homemaking lab from 2:00 until 4:00. Receiving the guests were Sr. Chapter president, Linda Jennings, and Jr. Chapter president Lora Smith, and Mrs. T. J. Jones, Mrs. Roy McQuarters, Jr., and Mrs. Fields are chapter parents.

party they all slept late and awoke refreshed enough to start the Crimean War. The U. S. did not take part in this war because we were too busy mass-producing our own. Continued next week.

Wildcats Capture Third

The Dumas Demons won the district crown Saturday at the district track and field meet at Levelland. Levelland was second and Littlefield was third with Phillips fourth and Hereford fifth.

The Wildcats qualified four boys to the Regional meet next week. Dagwood Conley won first place in the mile run in 5:03.4. This was the only first place win for the Wildcats. Larry Wood tied for first in the pole vault with a vault of 11 feet 2 inches. Gary Schovajsa won a second place in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 10 inches. Gary Fitzgerald and Billy Thompson tied for second in the high jump with Fitzgerald winning the flip of a coin to go to regional.

The Wildcat mile relay team placed a third place behind Dumas and Levelland. Larry Wood also placed third in the high hurdles. Grover Pilgrum placed third in the broad jump.

This was the last meet for the Wildcat Track team. The Wildcats have had a good season and we are proud of them.

Science Show Set At Tech

A giant Mercury capsule will be exhibited for Texas Tech students and the public at the 30th Annual Texas Tech Science and Engineering Show April 13 and 14. The capsule is similar to that in which Lt. Col. John Glenn recently made three orbits around the earth.

Viewers will be permitted to climb inside the capsule and investigate its interior. An engineer from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will be stationed at the level of the escape hatch in order to answer questions from people inside the capsule.

The capsule -- which is 26 feet tall, 6 feet in diameter and weighs 750 pounds -- will be erected in the foyer of the West Texas Museum, unless technical difficulties arise, according to Kenny Abraham, junior industrial engineering major and general manager of the show. Congressman George Mahon and the Air Force cooperated in arranging the display of the capsule at the Engineering Show.

A Minuteman missile will also be displayed behind the Museum along with various weapons supplied by the Air Force, Abraham said. The Minuteman is a solid-fuel giant rated second to the Atlas.

Numerous other exhibits will be at the Engineering and Science Bldgs. The latest scientific and engineering developments of the following departments

GUESS WHO - This week's guess who is presently involved in getting a cold one out of the trunk. He, like most LHS students, is very interested in world affairs, particularly in the realm of international science. Some of his chief interests in this field are astronomy, study of Shakespeare, advanced physics and paleontology. He is a Senior but he can't remember his locker number. After graduation he plans to write a book on the causes of bones and how to cure them, and "How to get rid of Your Bones in Six Easy Steps."

LHS Sends Three To Odessa Meet

A trio of LHS students, Larry Shipp, Jim Nelson, and Keith King, have been selected to go to Odessa, Friday to compete in the Interscholastic League Literary events.

Larry, a junior and the son of Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Shipp, won first place in Original Writing at the district contest at Borger two weeks ago. Larry won this event with his essay entitled "Africa Awakes."

Jim and Keith, seniors, were both chosen to represent the school in the journalism contest. Both have been active on the Skat staff this year, Keith as editor, and Jim as assistant editor. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nelson, and Keith is the son of Mrs. Jack W. King.

If any of the students win first place at this contest, they will receive the opportunity to go to Austin to participate in the state literary events. Bob Murphy, a graduate of this school, won first place at the state meet in poetry reading, last year.

Career Day Set April 18 For Frosh, Sophomores

April 18, freshmen and sophomore students will meet with various representatives from different professional fields to discuss training and opportunities in the different professions.

Representatives and their fields will be:

- Medical Doctor - Dr. J. R. Fain.
- Beautician - Consultant from Jesse Lee Beauty School.
- Engineering - Consultant from Highway Department.
- Agriculture - Earl H. Collier.
- Teacher - Miss Linnie Campbell.

NEW STUDENT -- This week's new student is Carol Fleming who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foust, Jr., of 708 East 11th Street. Carol attended school in Ruidosa, N.M., before entering Littlefield High School, where she is classified as a sophomore.

Carol likes Littlefield High School very well and her favorite food is chocolate covered sour pickles.

Honor Society Plans Steven Foster Night

National Honor Society members from Springlake will present "A Night of Steven Foster" at Littlefield High School Auditorium, Friday at 8 p.m. The variety program will include such Foster favorites as "De Campdown Races," "Old Folks at Home" and will be performed by the students.

This program is sponsored by the Littlefield Chapter of the National Honor Society, and all proceeds will go to the club's scholarship fund. Tickets are on sale now and may be purchased from any society member or at the door that night. The tickets are available from Honor Society students and at the door Friday.

FFA SPOTLIGHT -- The light shines this week upon a third year student of Mr. Branham's, Paul Keeling. He is on the Land Judging Team, and was 10th high individual in the Land Judging contest at Canyon last Saturday. Paul participated on the Radio Broadcasting team in the fall which was very successful.

Writing this column is just as enjoyable as anything I can think of. Every now and then one of our subscribers read it and for this I'd like to say thanks. This column is going to be as serious as the line, so if you are seeking, the humor you are seeking, the stop is now.

Two subjects which cause about much controversy and feelings, besides additional, are the problems of alcohol and gambling. They are problems which can affect the lives of us.

I learned, the hard way, several years ago that alcohol drinking could lead to trouble. In this week's mail I received information about both, in opposition to these two "evils," now, the way I look at this is "isn't much that can be done until somebody is found to away with the humanness in us." It is all well good to have this country of alcohol and where drinking is "illegal," but there going to be drinking and gambling as long as there are humans.

ask you "Which is worse?", bootlegger who will sell his to anyone regardless of or a package store that is rolled by the Liquor Control and the bookmaker who bets on anything, anytime, day or the controlled gambling either at the race track in gambling houses.

you probably answered all questions, after you gasped breath, that none of them good and that one is just bad as the other...and you probably right...but are you really that naive?

you know that wherever there humans, there is going to liquor and gambling... and which one is the worst is only matter of opinion.

Texas are going to have decide if they want pari-mutuel betting at the polls May 30, you had better get on thinking cap real soon, gambling is a weakness of us, then you had better vote near the question.

The state government put on its spending shoes during the month of March but just couldn't quite spend as much money as they took in during that month. The receipts were $123,990,612 and the expenditures were $105,807,140, according to a bulletin put out by the office of the comptroller.

However, the back deficit spending by the government still exceeds the total receipts through March 31. Expenditures are shown as $761,572,278 and receipts are $747,049,124. (In the red ink department is the figure of $14,523,154, or just a little more than Sol Estes owes... and you know what they did to him.)

Are we becoming a nation of "softies." I really hadn't thought much about the word "soft" until it came to light a few months back when President Kennedy said that our nation's youth were becoming physically "soft." If this is so, then something should be done to correct it.

A week or so back, General Edwin Walker said several of our top officials in the State Department were "soft" on communists. If this is so, then something should be done about it.

In today's mail was a bulletin from J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, who said we were giving (or some courts and administrators were giving "soft justice." He was talking about the number of criminals who are paroled each year, and immediately turn back to crime. He said there are more than 21,000 parole and probation violators listed on "fugitive stop notices" maintained by the FBI for local police. If this is correct, and I am sure that it is, then we need to do something to make this situation better.

Most of us are just a little bit "soft" and those which aren't are considered as misers, cruel, hardhearted, etc.. The problem with most of us is where we are "soft" and too many are "soft" in the head.

Enough serious thoughts for today. Best turn to a little humor before the tears flood the place.

The elderly lady was getting more eccentric every day, but her hopeful heirs dutifully humored her. One afternoon when a thunderstorm raged, she decided she would like a ride in her son's convertible with the top down.

Her son dutifully escorted her to the car, climbed behind the wheel, and, without ever budging from the garage, went through the motions of taking her for a drive.

When their "trip" was over the two of them returned to the family in the living room. "Sonny is a fair enough driver," admitted the little lady, "but I think he's off his rocker. Here we were driving through a terrible downpour with the top down, and the darn fool never put on his hat."

terminal growth from sucking pests. You don't have to put machinery in the field when plants are small. Di-Syston is unaffected by the weather—it kills when it's rainy, when it's windy, when it's hot or cold. It can't be weathered off because it's inside the plant. Di-Syston doesn't harm beneficial insects because it kills only the pests that suck the plant juices. When your young plants get such a good start, you get a higher yield—a more uniform stand of straight growing cotton and earlier maturity.

BLUESTEM GRASS -- Pictured above is sand bluestem grass on the Troy Moss farm three miles north of Littlefield. The grass is clipped as it should be grazed. It yielded 18,500 pounds dry weight per acre and 43,000 pounds per acre of green weight.

Grasses Can Be Used For Multi-Purpose Ranching

Grasses come often in agriculture on the South Plains of Texas. In 1950, grassland was mowed out. In 1955, a few farmers started planting imitative grasses for seed. By 1960, there was a surplus of grass seed produced or less flood the market.

It came the change to a diversified farming of row crops and stock. Some producers going the stocker route through the mother cow and a combination of stocker-cow-calf method.

type program works well in area for there is very little change of cultivation, but in the cow-calf program, pens, land and troughs are needed. It results. There probably be some changes made in methods of irrigating it is used.

the feed grain program effect there are a lot of farmers going into or planning into the livestock program using the time that the is out of crops to get pastures established and for production when it comes out of the diverted acres.

Some of the farmers that have already started their diversified program are Walter Gray, Cecil Johnson, Harvey Neal, Sonny Whitmire, F. M. Smith, T. L. Dent, Ivan Fowler, and Richard and Charles Cade. There are several that plan to be in operation next year. They are planting their grasses this spring.

Gray grazed, hayed and harvested his grasses last year by using the rotation method. Some was used just for grazing, some for grazing and hay while the other was used for a short period of grazing, harvested for seed and hay and they used for winter grazing.

Gray's goal is for 400 cow-days per acre when he gets into full operation.

The Lamb County District Board of supervisors urges anyone that plans to have grasses and livestock to contact the Soil Conservation Service office for information and technical help in planning the pastures.

Philosopher Says Government Economy Some Place Else Is What Most People Want

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses economy, the United Nations, and a few other things this week.

Dear editor:

One of the advantages of having a farm problem is the satisfaction you get out of realizing you aren't by yourself, practically every other form of enterprise has its problems, too.

Take the United Nations. According to an article I read in a newspaper last night between Westerns, the United Nations is financially embarrassed; well, it's broke. Hasn't got enough money to finance its activities and is doing the only thing any man or nation in its right mind would, namely, ask Washington for a loan.

Actually, this shouldn't be embarrassing, it happens all the time. I know a lot of people with fine, beautiful ideas who can't pay their bills.

Now this shouldn't be interpreted as an attacked on the United Nations, that outfit has enough troubles worrying about countries all over the globe without being bothered by this Johnson grass farm, and I might point out I know some people also who can pay their bills, whose ideas ain't so fine and beautiful, not according to my notion.

One of the complaints over the financial plight of the United Nations is that some nations vote to send help to some country in trouble, then refuse to pay their share of the assessment.

As long as the U. N. is run by people, it might as well expect this sort of thing. Two thirds of the people who clamour for economy in Washington will vote for a Federally-financed project for their own neck of the woods, and I know some big shots from cities whose idea of economy is to make one trip to Washington to appear before some Congressional committee asking for money for their city on one hand and economy for the rest of the country on the other.

What most of us want is one-footed economy. When economy shows up on the other foot too, then's when we holler. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Weed Control Studied In Onion Plants

Tests in weed control with transplanted onions was conducted in 1961 by the staff of the High Plains Research Foundation. The highest yield was 176 fifty-pound bags per acre. This was obtained where parallel burners were used for each double row of ammonia. Transplanted onions with no weed control produced only 40 fifty-pound bags.

Eighteen and one-half hours of hoeing per acre was necessary to remove weeds where no flaming was used. This method produced 160 fifty-pound bags per acre.

Cross flaming onions was not as successful as the parallel method. The yield using this method was 5,350 pounds or 107 fifty-pound bags per acre.

The first flaming was done with four burners per row set in a parallel position side by side directly over the row at a 45 degree angle to the ground.

The report issued to Foundation supporters stated that additional flaming can be made if necessary after the onions are 10 to 12 inches high with 3 or 4 burners per row set parallel without damaging the plants or slowing growth. Tractor speed is determined by the size of the weeds. For example, one and one-half to two miles per hour when the weeds are 3 to 4 inches high; three and one-half to five miles per hour when the weeds are small.

The report also emphasizes the importance of flaming when the weeds are small. The one-half inch weeds can be easily killed by operating the flame cultivator at speeds of 5 to 6 miles per hour. At these speeds the flame is not on the onion plants long enough to harm the onions.

Water District Passes Rules On Open Wells

The Board of Directors of the High Plains Undergruond Water Conservation District has recently passed a new rule and the District began enforcement the first of April.

According to Tom McFarland, General Manager of the Water District, the new rule deals with the closing of abandoned, or unused wells.

McFarland states that hundreds of wells in the District are uncovered, or covered inadequately, and represent a threat to the safety of children and even adults.

The new rule provides that in cases where the landowner refuses to cover a well properly the Water District may come on the land and close the well. The expense of closing the well will be charged to the landowner by means of attaching a lien to the land. These charges may never exceed $100.

May Assigned To Training

LACKLAND AFB, Tex. -- Airman Basic Harold W. May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie E. May of Route 5, Muleshoe, is being assigned to the United States Air Force technical training course for radio and radar maintenance specialists at Keesler AFB, Miss.

Airman May, who has completed his basic military training here, was selected for the advanced course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

The airman is a 1959 graduate of Sudan (Tex.) High School.

McFarland says that the rule was passed by the Water District's Board to protect life and the underground water from possible pollution from the surface.

He encourages landowners to close or cover in some substantial manner any wells on the land that are either abandoned or not being used at the present time.

McFarland states that personnel of the Water District will be happy to discuss individual cases with landowners or their agents. Many satisfactory methods of covering wells adequately are available to be used.

Richey's Joins National Group

Richey's Inc., John F. Richey, Littlefield, has signed the Code of Ethical Practices issued by the National Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association. He is the 965th tire dealer in the nation to sign the Code.

"This new retail tire industry Code of Ethical Practices is designed to help reduce confusion over tire purchasing, to identify ethical retail tire selling practices and to provide consumers with another yardstick for judging where to buy tires," W. W. Marsh, Association Executive Secretary said.

Adherence to the Code will be enforced by N. T. D. R. A. with the help of local Better Business Bureaus and Merchants Association.

Rural Housing Loan Program Is Expanded

...lles living in small communities and in rural areas though not engaged in farming may now be eligible for housing loans made by the Farmers Home Administration according to Truman J. ...the agency's supervisor in Lamb County.

Housing Act of 1961 ...the eligibility re- ...As a result owners of farm tracts in rural areas and in small rural communities of not more than 2,500 ...as farmers, may be eligible for this type of credit. ...this program is an important tool in promoting the development of rural areas," ...said. "Rural housing will not only help families better homes but will put carpenters, plumbers, electricians to work, and increase the sales in lumber and building supply."

...ing loans are made for re- ...ction, repair, and re- ...ing of dwellings and es- ... farm buildings and to ... water for farmstead and ...old use. In addition to ...construction, funds are ...able to modernize homes, ...bathrooms, central heating, ...in kitchens, and other ...improvements, as well as enlarge and remodel farm service buildings and put in related facilities as paved feedlots, yard fences, and driveways.

Rural housing loans may also be used for construction of fall-out and storm shelters. The interest rate is 4 per cent per year on the unpaid balance of the loan. Loans may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 33 years.

The proposed housing must be adequate to meet the family's needs yet modest in size and design.

To be eligible an applicant must own a farm or a housing site in a rural area; be without decent, safe and sanitary housing; be unable to obtain the needed credit from other sources and be without sufficient resources to provide the necessary housing on his own account. He must also have or be able to obtain sufficient income to meet payments on existing debts, take care of his other expenses, and make the payment on the proposed loan. The local county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration will review building plans and inspect the housing construction as it progresses in order to make certain that the borrower obtains sound and acceptable construction.

The local county and area committee of the Farmers Home Administration determines the eligibility of applicants.

Farmers who need to enlarge or develop their farming operations in order to obtain enough income to pay for housing loans may obtain farm enlargement and development loans and farm management help from the Farmers Home Administration. More than $400 million has been authorized for rural housing loans over the next four years.

The Housing Act of 1961 also authorizes the Farmers Home Administration to insure loans for housing and related facilities for domestic farm labor. These loans may be made to farm owners, associations of farmers, state and local government units, and non-profit associations.

Funds for these insured loans are provided by private investors. The Farmers Home Administration will make and service the loans, and insure their repayment. The total volume of insured loans may not exceed $25 million in any one year.

Further information on rural housing loans may be obtained at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration located in the basement of the Post Office Building.

...ASLES POPPING OUT ...OVER -- A remarkably ra- ...spread of measles was not ...the Texas Department of ...last week when 99 coun- ...reported 4,316 new cases, ...re than a third of the ...total was reported by ...officials in Jefferson, ...es, Dallas, and Travis ...es, Jefferson County ...479 new cases; Nueces ...y, 470; Dallas County, 282; and Travis County, 263.

During the first quarter of 1961 the measles outbreak totaled only 4,441 new cases. First quarter this year a total of 32,538 outbreaks have been reported.

Dr. Van Tipton of the Health Department's communicable diseases division said the epidemic followed a trend of light incidence one year and heavy the next. He said enough children seem to escape the highly-infectious disease one season to catch it the next time around.

EMPLOYMENT HITS NEW HIGH -- Unusually mild weather caused employment in the State to reach a record high for February. Texas Employment Commission announced 3,346,900 jobholders that month, as compared to 3,330,100 in January and 3,312,300 for February of 1961.

Warm weather was favorable for construction workers, agricultural employees and other outdoor workers, and helped reduce the number of unemployed from 230,900 to 189,900. The commission predicts an even better employment picture by mid-April, if prospective manpower needs reported by employers hold true.

FARM BUREAU NAMES REPRESENTATIVE -- Texas Farm Bureau appointed Charles H. Huff of Taylor as its new legislative director. Farm Bureau President J. H. West said Huff will move to Austin soon, to replace Bob A. Lilly.

The new director is well-seasoned in Capitol contact work. He served as full time assistant legislative director during the regular and special session of the Legislature last year.

Huff is a graduate of Texas

A & M College. He served as associate county agent in Panola County prior to joining the Farm Bureau staff as field representative in 1959.

COUNCIL DEFENDS SYSTEM -- "How do you deal with the extremely aggressive, hostile student?" asked Dr. James A. Turman when the Texas Youth Council conferred with members of the Texas Citizens Committee of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Youth Council's executive director referred to criticism from the committee's vice chairman, Mrs. Edmund P. Williams of Corpus Christi, who earlier had called the barbed wire fence around Gatesville's Mountain View School "the only one of its type outside Nazi Germany."

Dr. Turman said two such security units in California are fenced. He joined council chairman Robert W. Kneebone in informing the committee that Gatesville inmates include 387 boys who have committed serious crimes -- 45 convicted on murder charges.

The citizens committee proposed a statewide study of community services for delinquent children, which the Youth Council said it would welcome. However, it already has retained a prominent authority, Dr. Austin McCormick, to survey the five detention institutions it oversees.

STATE ARCHIVES OPEN -- Invaluable historical documents which tell the story of Texas' history have finally found a safe and permanent home. For more than a century they have been placed and misplaced in various temporary quarters.

Now they are housed in the $2,500,000 Texas State Library and Archives Building adjacent to the State Capitol. Prior to the April 10 deadline, researchers and librarians had been collecting and classifying the precious documents in a quonset hut in North Austin.
