MARRIED IN LUBBOCK

Local Lumberman Claims County Nurse as Bride.

Miss Grayce Kelley and T. T. Garrett were married Saturday afternoon at Lubbock, only a few close friends witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. Garrett is the efficient manager of the Whaley Lumber Co., in Littlefield, while the bride is the county health nurse.

Last week Mr. Garrett closed a deal for some choice resident lots in Littlefield and will immediately begin the erection of a modern bungalow which, when completed, they will occupy as their future home.

The newly weds have a great many friends in this vicinity who extend to them their very best wishes for happiness and prosperity.

"ANTON" IS NAME OF NEW TOWN LOCATED ON SANTA FE RY.

With the opening of the Spade ranch, the switch on the Santa Fe railroad, 12 miles east of Littlefield, is to have its name changed. "Danforth" was alright for a country siding, but now that city airs are to be assumed, the name of "Anton" is deemed more advisable.

Not that Danforth is too common a word, or that Anton is more significant in its municipal application, but the fact that is given as a mark of honor to J. F. Anton, of Slaton, is the reason the painting crew of this system has been ordered out to change the name on the sign board.

J. F. Anton is the popular division superintendent of the Santa Fe System, with headquarters at Slaton. Coming here in the fall of 1920 he has bossed the freight and passenger trains running through Littlefield for about four years, and done a good job of it. Little did he ever realize as he whizzed past Danforth switch on the tail end of an observation car, and waved his hand at an irate freight conductor who lay in on the siding cussing the whole "high collar" bunch because he was behind running time, that some day this wild spot on the Santa Fe System would be graced with his own name, and, surrounding the depot soon to be built would be 320 acres cut up into town lots with a husky little city built on it; but such seems to be the destiny of this new burg, as selling of the fine Spade acres surrounding it will, in a very short time, insure the building of a thriving little city in their midst.

Not only is Superintendent Anton a good railroad man, but he is also a good soldier. During the World War he served as a first lieutenant in the 69 Engineer regiment, doing a year's work overseas. He is now in the army reserve, carrying a commission as Major of the 608th Santa Fe Ry. Battalion.

CARD OF THANKS

The real test of true friendship always comes in the time of need, and for that friendship so freely expressed to us during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother that we sincerely express our deepest appreciation. That we thank all of you for your kindly help and sympathetic actions barely expresses the gratitude of our hearts.

D. F. Beisel and family.

COMMERCIAL BODY TAKES ACTION FOR SECURING SECRETARY

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors was held Monday evening in the offices of the Yellow House Land Co., at which time several questions of vital interest were discussed.

It was consensus of opinion among the directors that the time had arrived when the local commercial body should employ a secretary who would devote his entire energies to this special work, and, on vote of the directors A. C. Chesher was appointed chairman of a committee of his own selection to solicit funds to guarantee the salary of a paid secretary, the president at the time being instructed to take preliminary steps toward finding an acceptable personage to employ for this position.

The matter of repairing the highway into the Pop neighborhood was discussed, and Messrs. A. P. Duggan, E. S. Rowe and A. C. Chesher were appointed a committee to take prompt action on the matter.

MRS. D. F. BEISEL SUCCUMBS AFTER A LINGERING SICKNESS

Mrs. D. F. Beisel, residing about one-half mile west of Littlefield, died Monday evening, following an illness of some three months duration. The funeral services were held from the family home, J. T. Street director and Rev. C. Schneider, pastor in charge. This service was conducted in the German language, and afterward a second service was held in English at the Lutheran church, the building being crowded with the many friends and acquaintances of the deceased, after which interment was made in the local cemetery.

Mrs. Beisel's maiden name was Katherine Niedens, and she was born in Turkistand, Asia, in 1869. Early in life she was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith by her pastor, Rev. John Schridder. In 1890 she was married to David F. Beisel, and one year later they immigrated to America, bringing with them their eldest son, David Jr. Since their marriage eight children have blessed their home, with the exception of the eldest all were born in Canada.

The family moved to Littlefield January 10th, 1916, and since that time have resided on their farm near town and conducted business here. During their residence here Mrs. Beisel has proved herself a most excellent woman. She was a kind neighbor and beloved wife and mother. Her church was always her first thought outside of her family, and her pleasant disposition and excellent Christian character was unimpeachable. Many were the friends who surrounded her bier with the family in sadness at her death. All the family was present except one daughter, Mrs. Mary Wilson, of Nainville, Canada, who was enroute here at the time of her death.

The deceased was nearly 55 years of age.

SUDAN TEACHER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

Sunday morning about 3 o'clock, Miss Dixie Carver, one of the teachers in the Sudan schools, was the victim of an attempted attack by some person who has not yet been positively identified.

While asleep in her room in the teacherage adjoining the school it is alleged a man punched through the screen of the window to her bedroom, releasing the hook, then propped it open and entered through the window the sash having been left open about six inches for ventilation purposes.

Miss Carver was aroused by feeling the fingers of a man's hand on her forehead, and throwing her hand back caught him by the wrist. He told her not to scream and he would not hurt her, but if she did he would cut her throat. He then proceeded to pull back the covering of her bed, whereupon she screamed and began to fight to free herself. He slashed at her with a knife, but missed her throat and cut a gash about an inch long in one hand.

The other inmates of the teacherage were aroused by her screams and came to her relief, but the man had made his escape through the open window. Citizens were aroused and began searching. An unoccupied automobile was found in the rear of a restaurant there, and the owner, a Frenchman, who had been cooking in a restaurant claimed he had just returned from Muleshoe, his lights giving out and lost his way. It is reported however, that he immediately set out for Littlefield, where he was later taken into custody by Sheriff-elect H. J. Carter, and Deputy Sheriff F. Z. Payne. He was taken before Miss Carver, who is said to have identified his voice, and later taken to jail at Olton, where he is being held pending further investigations.

AUTO PAINT SHOP

Messrs. Jess and Fontaine Parker have opened an auto paint shop in the rear of the quick service station building, where they will do a general repainting and redecorating of automobiles of all kinds.

The elder member of the firm has had considerable experience in this particular line, and that they can turn out an excellent quality of work has already been demonstrated by the first cars they have painted.

This is a new line of business of Littlefield, and one that no doubt will enjoy a lucrative patronage.

W. G. TERRELL FINDS BEES WILL PRODUCE FINEST HONEY HERE

Seldom a week goes by but Littlefield adds another new leaf to her laurel crown, the same time it comes from rather unexpected sources.

This week W. G. Terrell, a farmer residing about five miles west of town, carries the honor of furnishing the new embellishment, as he brought into market some samples of as fine honey, both as to taste and appearance, as any one could ever desire.

Mr. Terrell came from Ellis county a few months ago. Back in his old home county he had been handling bees for several years, and still has about 50 stands of these hot footed little insects that are making a good living for him. He had a curiosity to know if they would prove as profitable out here as they were back there. He didn't even know what a bee could live in this altitude, or if there was anything on the bill of fare out here that would furnish a satisfactory diet for these thifty little beings. But he thought anything was worth trying once, so he just brought along three stands to try them out.

That they are a success there is no doubt. Mr. Terrell took from these three hives 400 pounds of fine honey in the comb, which he sold at the rate of $3.00 per gallon, realizing from the season's work $120. He left about 100 pounds in each hive for the bees to live on during the winter.

Mr. Terrell says that there is no doubt but bees will do well in this country. They feed on horse mint, cat-claw and cotton blossoms, and wild flowers that grow in profusion over the prairie, and the honey, a beautiful amber color with exquisite flavoring, is all that one could desire.

SMILE, DARN YOU!

When the gorilla goes into the fray he beats his breast to work up a rage. Once in a fighting mood he finds the actual fighting easy and natural. Whether there is any kinship between the breast-beating gorilla and man we will leave to Darwin and Bryan to argue, and to the archeologists to determine, but it is interesting to note that man can work his face into a smile without any strenuous effort as the gorilla exerts in arousing his anger. Another thought that interjects itself at this point is that only the trained actor can feign anger and sorrow. There is a popular office maxim which tells us how many hundreds of muscles react to produce a frown and how many less for the face that smiles.
If for any reason you begin the day with the conviction that everything is rotten, and this conviction is adverted by the expression your face wears, the members of your family and the persons you do business with greet you with countenances as cheerless as your own and thus intensify your woe.

The big idea is to smile. To a man with a frown this will seem an absurd idea, but even a man with a frown will strain a point to increase the dividends.
Well, if a smile pays a profit and a profit is much to be desired, how can one smile if there is nothing to smile about? The process is simple. The muscles used to produce a smile are involuntary. They are under complete control. One may smile at will. It is a simple art long since mastered by every lady who has good teeth.

Once the smile is produced and the face relieved of its gloom, all persons out in front are affected by the change. They forget their troubles they greet you as a friend, they smile in return and willingly sign on the dotted line.

Is one justified in faking a smile? Well, consider the gorilla. The motion used to express the emotion may be effected, but the practice of the motion produces the emotion. The artificial smile that fools the passerby begins in a little while to fool the man who produces it. He forgets that the world is rotten and himself friendly. He has become the fortunate victim of his own hypocrisy.

Try this on the corner of your mouth and see if it don't work just that way. In other words, darn you, smile. Yes, I can see you smiling now.

LOCOED FARMERS

Nearly every person has heard the expression, "locoed," but very few of them, especially back east, know that the term originated in the west and from a little gray plant that has a peculiar effect upon cattle and sheep when they eat it. Anyone who has seen a locoed cow or horse, recalls the queer antics they cut. Occasionally the term is applied to folks who act different from the common herd. The other day we read an article in an East Texas newspaper which spoke of folks back there becoming locoed regarding the West. They had probably been loosing some of their citizens who came out to Lamb County, liked it and stayed.

But, a man may depart from the general rut in which his fellows have been traveling without being locoed. In fact, his actions may indicate that his fellows are the ones who are really locoed, and he is simply exercising superior sense and extraordinary good judgement by leaving the old worn out land he has been farming for several years past, where he has to work from early dawn 'til late at night, fighting the weeds, crab grass, and boll weevil, and coming out to the South Plains where the soil is far more fertile, the climate vastly superior, the weeds a minimum and the weevil unknown. The South Plains is a wonderful country and welcomes with wide open arms all the "locoed" farmers who wish to come here. Indeed, we think they have mighty good sense.

THE ORDINANCES

The City Administration is certainly entitled to considerable commendation for the admirable way in which they are starting off the new town of Littlefield. Up to date there have been six ordinances published, every one of which is equitable and advisable.

In the sidewalk ordinance published last week it is the desire of the Administration to create a sidewalk area in the business district, and especially on Phelps avenue as soon as possible. A concrete walk, 12 feet wide, extending from the depot to the park would not only be a great convenience during the winter months with their rain and mud, but would mean much in the added attractive appearance of the city.

The occupation tax ordinance published last week has been a matter of serious consideration by the officials for nearly a month. It means much to the present business men of this town, and is one of the most equitable ordinances of this character ever given to any city.

This week the Leader publishes an ordinance relating to the carking of stock within the municipal limits. Already there have been numerous complaints of hogs and cattle which have been breaking loose from their pens or lair moorings and creating depredations of various kinds. This ordinance therefore, is commendable, and should be rigidly enforced.

The planting season will soon be here again, and every citizen of this town should begin laying plans to beautify their homes. If every property owner of this town would plant a few trees and shrubs, think how beautiful the town would be in just a few years to come.

If Littlefield would escape having strands and bunches of cotton scattered all over town, a marketing place will be absolutely necessary. Cotton should not be allowed to be sampled on Main street.

LITTLE LEADERS

Even the half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, it can make a pretty good guess.

An optimist may be a pupil who expects to get an election without study.

If we could see ourselves as others see us, we'd never speak to them again.

Indications are Ma Ferguson will have some job mothering the 5,000,000 people of Texas.

Now that football is on the scrimmage line, business is booming for the arnica mills.

Some folks lose their lives by inhaling gas, but many more are killed by stepping on it.

It used to be that the three R's stood for "readin' ritin' and rithmetic," but the modern daughter has changed it to "rouge, ride and rest."

It will soon be time when one will hesitate to open their mail lest it contain a suggestion to do their Christmas shopping early.

It's all wrong! The Dempsey-Firpo fight lasted 15 minutes and took in $1,000,000, while the world war lasted four years and ran up a huge deficit. The Olympic contests lasted a month and only drew $361,900, while General Pershing retires on half pay.

City Manager McGuire Gives Information To Pedestrians.

"Automobiles drive on the right side of the street, but pedestrians should walk on the left side," said City Manager Max L. McGuire this week, when interrogated regarding some of the phases of the traffic laws.

Continuing, the City Manager said, "It is against the law for pedestrians to walk on the right side of state highways, and when one stops to think about it, the ruling is very reasonable. No traffic moves in their direction from the rear on that side of the road, since motor vehicles keep to the right. On the left side would be facing any vehicle on that side of the road, while on the right side the vehicle would be behind them where they could not see them. Unless a fellow is walking along with his eyes shut there would be very little danger of getting run over if he keeps on the left side of the road."

Speed Up as You Stop
Twice as much traffic could be handled by the average city if speed could be doubled—with safety. This would obviate the necessity of straining the imagination for fanciful solutions to the present traffic problem. There is no doubt traffic could move faster than it does, but such extra speed is not going to be sanctioned until there is assurance that cars can stop twice as promptly as they do at present. The paradox offered to motorists is that they will be permitted to travel faster just as soon as they can stop quicker.

Magnetic Coil Controls Air Supply for Motors

Automatic control of the air that should be mixed with fuel to produce maximum efficiency for the automobile motor is achieved by an ingenious magnetic coil device attached to the generator of the car, and containing an air intake that leads through a pipe to the intake manifold.

Magnetic Coil, Connected With Generator and Manifold, Controls Air Supply.

ture that works against an adjustable spring. When the engine speeds up, the generator increases the power of the magnet, opens the valve, and admits more air into the intake. Similarly the valve closes as the motor slows down. This apparatus, it is claimed, will increase gasoline mileage from 30 to 90 per cent.—Popular Science Monthly.

Examination of Brakes Frequently Important

Next to the tires on a car its brakes are subjected to the greatest wear and tear. It is well to remember this and to watch them carefully. Brakes require readjustment from time to time. Both the service brake bands and the emergency brake shoes, in operating against the brake drums, must form true circles or they will not take hold evenly all the way round and will drag when released. The one fault reduces the effectiveness of the brake, the other the speed and economy of the car's performance. It is well to have the brakes examined regularly by competent mechanics to make sure their adjustment is exact. They may need new brake linings. The brake bands and shoes are covered with a wire-woven asbestos fabric which comes in direct contact with the brake drums and has to withstand the violent friction which stops the car. These linings, naturally, wear out in time and unless they are replaced make sudden stops or slow-downs impossible. In many states it is a penal offense to drive a car with worn brake linings. They endanger not only the driver, the passengers and car, but the public as well. Their replacement is an immediate duty. It is a simple operation, performed quickly, at slight expense by a reliable service station.

The Basilisk in Legend
The basilisk is a fabulous creature resembling a serpent, and supposed by the ancients to inhabit the Libyan desert. It was described as being of a yellowish color with spots of white and as having a pointed head, when stood on one or more prominences, also white, resembling a diadem. Its breath was considered to be especially poisonous and its glance fatal. The word basilisk is now applied to a sort of lizard.

Poem by Uncle John

Since Ma's been nominated, she's commenced to show some speed; she can tell the errant voter what our country seems to need,—she's a powerful fluent speaker, we are happy to confess—an' she makes a splendid showin' while deliverin' an address. . . . An' she jes' dotes on politics—the worst you ever saw—and, there's no two ways about it, we are goin' to vote fer Ma.
Of course her coffee aint so good, an' the cakes aint quite so brown. . . . Of course our buttons aint sewed on—an' the house is upside down,—and of course we're feelin' sorry for our poor, old, lonesome Pa, be'—we're all plumb patriotic, so we're goin' to vote fer Ma!
We reckon she can show 'em what the world is waitin' fer, and, as to bein' "progressif" why, there aint no 's' in her. We may be feelin' a little when we eat our vittles, but we cant side-step our raisin' so—WE'RE GOIN' TO VOTE FER MA!

MARTYNIAS CAN BE MADE INTO PICKLES

Fruits Are Especially Desirable for Mixtures.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
If you have martynias in your locality, either growing wild or in the garden, you can make them into very good pickles, says the United States Department of Agriculture, by first putting them in brine for about three weeks.
Martynias grow wild and in great abundance in the semi-arid regions of southwestern United States, but they can be grown successfully in other localities. The plant grows from two to three feet high and bears large leaves and a purplish flower. It may be planted for ornamental purposes. The seed-bearing pods are used for pickling. They grow close to the stem and should be picked for pickling when two inches long. They are curved in shape and covered with a fuzzy growth which exudes a gummy substance, irritating to the skin.
It has been found that these fruits respond very readily to the action of brine. A 40 per cent brine, made by dissolving one pound of salt in nine parts of water, is the most satisfactory strength to use for martynias. As the brine must be maintained at the same strength throughout the entire process of curing, and as juices which dilute the brine are drawn out of all products, it is necessary to add salt from time to time. A salthometer, which is a simple, inexpensive piece of apparatus, is the best means of determining when the brine is of the required strength. Its use is recommended whenever possible, especially if any quantity of fruit is being handled.
A keg or stone jar is satisfactory for brining. Kegs must be well washed with hot water, and soaked overnight with fresh water, to be sure they are watertight. Round board covers, coated with hot paraffin are used to keep the vegetables submerged in the brine. Clean bricks are used as weights. Another large round wood cover over the top of each keg is necessary to keep out dirt and dust.
When the martynias have been in the brine from two to three weeks they are sufficiently cured, and ready to be freshened by soaking in fresh water overnight. They may then be pickled, either in plain vinegar or in a sweet spiced vinegar. Martynias are especially desirable for combining with mixed pickles.

Motors Move Millions

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Master Carl Logan and little Miss Mildred Wiseman celebrated their fourth birthday anniversaries September 30 at the E. A. Logan home, a large number of their little friends being present to help in the merriment of the occasion.
Games and frolice was the order of the occasion. In the center of the dining table which was decorated, stood a fine birthday cake with four lighted candles decorating it. Tom Arnett Stein was successful in cutting the ring piece, while Miss Camille Arnold cut the thimble and the dime.
Balloons were given the youngsters as souvenirs, and they were served ice cream cones as refreshments.

If you happen to know about it and it isn't in the Leader, don't blame us for it. We publish all the news we can get. The more the better, is our motto.

Dust Is Easily Removed by Using Homemade Tool

After a drive along hot, dusty roads, the depressions of the auto cushions, as well as the folds of the back and sides, will be found packed with dust. A tool which can be made in a minute is made by cutting off most of the handle of an old shaving brush and, in the center of the cut just made, driving an ordinary headed nail. This should be centered as near as possible. Place the end of the nail in the jaws of a hand drill, and with this dust out the depressions as fast as you come to them. Due to the high speed of the drill the dust is quickly removed.—Automobile Digest.

THE RUNNING STREAM

FROM the shaded woods, the granite hills and the running streams leaping in their joy to touch the flowers that line the sod along the way, peers Wisdom with her shining face and modest eyes.

If, while roaming through leafy paths you stop a while, you may hear her voice on the breeze, trying to make plain to you the priceless precepts which have to do with life here and life to come.

She will coyly tell you that the running stream never becomes stagnant that it is a constant joy to the roaming herds, the feathered flocks and those human bipeds called men, who stop and stoop by the grassy banks to quench their thirst.

And what Wisdom tells you about the crystal stream applies to lazy man, loath to accept the truth, but unable in his perverted logic to move it from its imperishable base.

So, in one way or another, as we reason we find that the man who is ever doing, ever planning and creating is the man who seldom becomes dull or impure.

It is he who is the builder, the great adventurer, the prospector in new fields, whose penetrating judgment aways the destinies of dependent men and nations, who soon learn to look upon him as their leader.

Such a man cannot be kept down. He remains bright and luminous by contact and hard rubs against flinty substances and critical tongues.

Unlike the sluggard, he refuses to mope and become stale.

He has an easy politeness in his manners, a luminous eye, a firm grip and a steady step.

He may not be learned in letters, but he knows what to do with them at his first introduction and how to use them to advantage in his particular sphere of usefulness. He is the running stream, watering the soil, turning the wheels of mills and sending down to the seven seas mighty ships, creating wealth for himself and the whole world.

GOOD THINGS TO PUT UP

IF THE family is fond of beets the small ones put up in sweet pickle are most attractive and tasty. Take a pint or more of very small beets about the size of a large hickory nut. Cook until tender. Dash cold water over them and remove the skins and pack while hot in sterilized jars; cover with equal parts of vinegar and water, adding a tablespoonful of sugar and one clove to each pint jar. Seal and serve as pickles.

If one does like chutney he usually likes it very much; here is a good reliable recipe:

Chutney.
 Take twelve green sour apples, two green peppers, six green tomatoes, four small onions and one cupful of seeded raisins, all well chopped. Boil one quart of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls each of mustard seed and salt, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar and two cupfuls of brown sugar. Boil the vinegar, sugar and spices, add the apples and other ingredients and simmer until the apples are soft.

Pickled Onions.
 Use small white onions, remove the ends and skins and wash thoroughly. Cover with brine, allowing three-quarters of a cupful of salt to one quart of boiling water; let stand twenty-four hours. Drain off the brine and cover with a new brine half as strong; boil the onions in this for three minutes and then drain. Pack the onions in jars with small strips of red peppers, a few cloves and bits of whole mace; fill the jars with scalding vinegar in which has been boiled one-half cupful of sugar to each two quarts of vinegar. Seal while hot.

Mandon Catsup.
 Remove the stem end of a bushel of ripe tomatoes but do not peel; add one quart each of brown sugar, vinegar, one cupful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of mustard, one tablespoonful each of cloves, allspice and cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of black pepper and one-fourth teaspoonful of cayenne. Boil slowly, stirring often until reduced one-third, or as thick as desired.

LITTLEFIELD SQUAD WINS FIRST GAME AT LAMB COUNTY FAIR

The Littlefield Wild Cats, playing their first game of the season, defeated the Lockney eleven, at the Lamb County fair last Friday, in a hard fought game, full of squabbles and brilliant broken field running by the local squad, the score being 14-6.
 Littlefield received the kick-off. Porter carried the ball from the 10-yard line to the 25 yard line before being tackled for a down. The first downs were well made, but an off side penalty prevented a third down, and Porter punted 35 yards to Robinson, who was downed almost instantly. Lockney made one first down and was forced to punt on the next, Mueller receiving and running to his own 35 yard line before being tackled.

A series of line bucks and sweeping end runs put the ball in striking distance of the goal. Porter made a tackle buck for four yards and a touchdown. The trusty toe of Mueller put perfect drop kick between the goal posts for an extra point.
 The second quarter went scoreless with the ball in Lockney's territory most of the time. Lockney received in the third quarter. They carried the ball to the 50-yard line. A long pass, Johnson to Edgar, netted them 20 yards, then avoiding the safety men, they ran 30 yards for Lockney's only score. A place kick for the extra point was missed by a few inches.

The Wild Cats became furious in the last quarter. With their fur standing on end, snarling and spitting as though they were on the neighbors back fence at midnight, they opened a series of passes and end runs that completely baffled the defense and added another touchdown. Staggers wiggled through the defense for a score without being tackled, and again Mueller drop kicked like a varsity veteran for the extra point.
 The game was clean fought throughout and free from penalties, only a few being assessed for off side plays. Both teams conducted themselves admirably, most of the squabbling being with the officials.

The features of the game included the good defensive work of the Lockney ends and the perfect team work of the local lads. There were no stars in the local squad, but everyone seemed to be fighting for the glory and honor of the "Wild Cats."
 The officials were: Referee—Duncan, Umpire—Brittain, Head linesman—Cundiff.

Olton school continues to grow new pupils, mostly from a distance, are enrolled every Monday morning. Miss Lola Dee Bell has a nice music class, and a class of 35 has been organized, under Miss Biers, and is known as the Glea Club. The only thing that is lacking in our school, as this writer sees it, is an expression teacher; and we are sorry to say this for we would like to say that Olton school did not lack for anything.

A new town named "Fair Lawn" is being built on this land, twenty miles west of Olton. A finigin and a modern hotel is already erected, and in use. With a fine, smooth highway from Plainview, Texas, to Clovis, N. M., and a fast stage line, driven by Happy Miller, connecting the two, Olton and Fair Lawn don't need a railroad. However, some company will be wanting to put one through pretty soon.

HOT STUFF for the Greeks!

The Marathon bearer paid for speed with his life—which was all very glorious—but quite unnecessary, even then as now—if scientists of that day had used their brains instead of their athletes' legs and endurance powers.
 Since then, thank goodness, your Yankee brains have been at work and now almost every one daily spans thrice the miles and gets a reply in less minutes than it then took hours.

It costs so little that no one can afford to be without a telephone. Are you an ancient Greek or a 1924 American?

The telephone directory is the answer, so let us put you name there.
