Elizabeth Schovajsa to Represent Tech at College Station Meet

Miss Elizabeth Schovajsa, Amherst, student at Texas Technological College, Lubbock and a member of Tech's Student council is one of a 10-member delegation to represent the college at the annual Texas Intercollegiate Student association convention to be held at Texas A and M College station Thursday, (today) and Friday and Saturday.

Among the main points of discussion at the convention will be the question of allowing Negro schools to become members of TISA. "There has been some misunderstanding as to what the question in consideration really is," Bob Schmidt, council business manager, explained. "It has nothing to do with the admission of Negro students into state colleges. Rather it is a question of whether Negro students can be members of TISA.

When the question arises at the convention, the Tech delegates will probably vote affirmative, Russell said. But they also have the authority to vote no if something unexpected arises, he pointed out.

Vehicle Turns Over Several Times in Accident

Injured Picked Up After Five Hours Of Exposure

A business trip at near midnight Saturday night, had a tragic ending about 5:00 a.m. Sunday morning, when a passing truck finally stopped at the scene of a truck crash, about two miles this side of Amherst on the Clovis Highway, and picked up two badly injured men, E. B. Blair, aged 22, of Whitharral, and Burton Harper, 25, of Smyer, and brought them to Payne-Shotwell Foundation Hospital in Littlefield, where both are pronounced in critical condition, with the former, given only a 50-50 chance to recover.

Hit Air Pocket

A freak air-pocket, or sudden gust of wind, is believed to have been responsible for the practically new Ford pick-up in which they were returning to Littlefield about midnight, suddenly careened, and then turned completely over three or four times, toward the railroad tracks at the left. Blair, most seriously injured, who was driving, was thrown from the car, almost to the rails of the Santa Fe. His companion, Burton Harper, was pinned in the truck for a time, but was finally able to extricate himself from the wreckage, due to the fact that one door was completely (Continued On Back Page)

New Treatment Administered Heart Patient With Outstanding Success

John H. Walker has been released from the Payne-Shotwell Hospital, after being a patient several days. Mr. Walker was suffering from a heart condition in which the fluids of the blood seeped out into his legs and lungs, causing asthma and dropsy. This was accompanied by high blood pressure and a poorly functioning heart resulting in difficult breathing and walking. A new method of treatment was instituted for Mr. Walker at the hospital, using an old physiological principle. This method was theorized by Dr. F. B. Faust's Professor of Medicine, Dr. Robertson of Philadelphia. The cerebrospinal fluid represents an end product of manufacture in which one drop was produced out of approximately 1000 parts of blood. The withdrawal of this fluid causes the blood to manufacture more, and to get the fluid it picks it up in the lung and dropical portions of the body. This was the first case to be treated like this at the Payne-Shotwell Foundation. The results have been miraculous, and now Mr. Walker may roam the range again. Dr. F. B. Faust is the heart specialist at the Payne-Shotwell Hospital.

Hinchey Named Chairman of Board of Directors, West Texas Gas Company

C. I. WALL

R. F. HINCHEY

R. M. CURRY

R. F. Hinchey, West Texas Gas Company president, was named chairman of the board of directors at a meeting in Kansas City Tuesday afternoon. C. I. "Stony" Wall was named to succeed Mr. Hinchey as president.

Simultaneous announcements were also made about four other promotions within the company: T. S. Whitis was named vice president, transmission; H. F. Heath, vice president, distribution; J. J. Wiley, vice president, accounting and budget control; and R. M. Curry, assistant to the president.

These six men have a total of more than 100 years service with West Texas Gas Company. Mr. Hinchey came to West Texas Gas Company from Okmulgee, Okla., June 1, 1927, as vice president and general manager. His first task was to supervise construction of a gas transmission line from the Panhandle Gas Field down into the South Plains and of distribution plants in the various cities and towns which were to be served.

The entire working life of Mr. Hinchey has been spent in the natural gas business. This year he will complete his 47th consecutive year with the industry. His first job with the industry was that of water boy, during his early teens, with a construction crew building a natural gas pipe line from Bradford, Penn., to Buffalo, N. Y. He has been employed in the gas industry ever since with the exception of about one year spent serving in the armed forces during World War I. His work with the industry has led him from New York and Pennsylvania to Ohio, Virginia, Oklahoma and finally to Texas.

Known as "Ray" to his many friends, he has been actively identified with the progress of West Texas. His work with the Lubbock Airport Board, Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, Lubbock Rotary Club and many other civic organizations has been noteworthy.

It is interesting to note although his father was employed in an executive position in the natural gas industry, he literally pulled himself up by his own boot straps into his present position. His career reads like that of a person in Who's Who, and in fact is recorded in Who's Who in The South and Southwest.

Mr. Wall, new company president, has a background in the industry that almost parallels that of Mr. Hinchey except that practically all his working life has been spent with West Texas Gas Company.

Except for a "slow arm" Stony might today be with one of the major league baseball teams. Failing to get the nod from Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals during a summer training school—Stony was told that he might obtain a job with West Texas Gas Company which had just been organized.

This job he soon found out was that of chinking pipe for the line being laid from the Panhandle Gas Field to the South Plains. His rapid rise from pipe checker to the company, including such jobs as assistant purchasing agent, purchasing agent, Plainview local manager, superintendent of city plants and vice president in charge of operations, is not surprising to his business associates. His ability to "turn out" work has won him the confidence of his business associates and the company's directors.

Stony is a member of the Lubbock Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, and he also is well known for his active participation in civic work and his promotion of West Texas athletics. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas, where he achieved national renown for his participation in collegiate football. T. S. "Thurman" Whitis, new vice president, transmission, began his career with West Texas Gas Company in 1930 as rod man and instrument man on construction of Littlefield city distribution plant. His other work with the surveyor and draftsman in the engineering department on city plant and main line construction, clerk in Lubbock city office superintendent of the gas measurement department in Lubbock, engineer, and general superintendent transmission.

Thurman has been actively associated with the Southwestern Gas Measurement Short Course, held annually at the University of Oklahoma, for many years. He is chairman of the publication committee this year. Papers presented at the short course are compiled in a publication which is used as a textbook by several colleges in the south. He also is an active member of South Plains Chapter Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

He studied engineering at Texas Tech, where he was one of the first to register when the college opened in 1925.

H. F. "Herman" Heath, new vice president, distribution, started to work for the company in 1928 as clerk in Lubbock city office. In 1930 he was appointed Brownfield district manager and remained in Brownfield until 1945, at which time he transferred to Midland as Midland district manager. He returned to Lubbock as superintendent of city plants in 1948. He was made general superintendent distribution in 1950, the job he held at the time of his recent promotion.

Herman is a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Lubbock Lions Club. He was president of the Brownfield Lions Club while stationed there. He attended West Texas State College, Canyon.

J. J. "Bill" Wiley, new vice president, accounting and budget control, started to work for the company in 1937 as clerk in Lubbock City office. He was transferred to the company's general offices in 1940 to assume more responsible positions.

Bill was called back to active duty with the Navy in 1941. As Supply officer of the USS Corregidor, he participated in five invasions in the Pacific theater of war, which included the Gilbert Islands, Marshall Islands, New Guinea, Salpan and Guam.

He returned to work for the company on his release from the Navy. In 1948 he was appointed assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of the company and in 1950 he was made chief accountant, the job he held at the time of his recent promotion.

Bill is secretary-treasurer of the South Plains Society For Crippled Children and a member of the Lubbock Optimist Club. He was graduated from Texas Tech in 1937 with a B. B. A. degree.

R. M. "Rod" Curry, assistant to the president, began his career with the company in 1927 as draftsman. In 1932 he was appointed resident engineer and in 1950 he was made chief engineer distribution. He will continue to serve as chief engineer distribution.

Rod is well known in the industry for several of his regulator installations. Executives of the company give him credit for having designed distribution systems, buildings and regulators now used in West Texas Gas Company's operations.

He is a member of the Lubbock Rotary Club, South Plains Chapter Texas Society of Professional Engineers and the Masonic Lodge. This year he was elected to serve as vice president of the engineer's club. He is a graduate of Meridian College.

All six men will continue to make their headquarters in Lubbock.

D. F. Beisel, Old Time Resident, Is Taken by Death

D. F. Beisel, 81, a former Littlefield resident, died Monday morning at 7:30 a.m. at his home in El Paso. The body was shipped here by rail and arrived Wednesday morning.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, (Wednesday) at St. Martin's Lutheran Church with the pastor, Rev. Carl Schulte officiating. Burial was in Littlefield Cemetery with Hammons Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The Beisel family are old time residents of Littlefield, having lived here in 1915 where they lived until 1935, when they moved to Springdale, Arkansas. However, several of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Beisel remained here. One son, Fred Beisel is still a resident of Littlefield. Mrs. Beisel preceded her husband in death in 1924.

Deceased made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Bill Yeager at El Paso. He had been in ill health for several months.

Survivors include five sons, and three daughters. The sons are Dick Beisel, Richmond, Texas, Fred Beisel, Littlefield, and Ed Beisel, Bledsoe, Texas. The daughters are Mrs. Bill Yeager El Paso, Mrs. Chester Chambers, Longview and Mrs. J. R. Wilson, Manitoba, Canada. All were expected to be present for the last rites, with the exception of the daughter who resides in Canada.

Corporal Flores Is Enroute Home On Furlough

Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif.—Among the first group of Korean veterans to return from duty with the First Marine Air Wing is Corporal Jose P. Flores.

The Leatherneck, whose home address is at Littlefield, Texas, is now at El Toro Marine Air Station near Santa Ana, Calif., where he is being processed prior to being given a 30-day leave.

He was among the first group of Flying Leathernecks to be sent overseas for combat duty last August, when General Douglas MacArthur requested reinforcements for his meager defense force.

Following his leave, the Marine will be assigned duty in the States for an as yet undesignated period. Place of his next duty station has not been made known.

U. S. Blamed For Indecent Books

Chuter Ede has ordered a country-wide drive against indecent publications. They are said to be mostly of American origin.

They are reprinted by small-town printers in this country, and are believed to be circulated through a lending library which spreads indecent literature throughout Britain. Some of the books are typewritten and leave little to the imagination.

Traffic in indecent literature and pictures is said to have had a startling increase in the past two years.

256 Billion Dollars Spent On Flying To Present Time

By JAMES J. STREBIG
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON—A British scientist has figured that from Dec. 17, 1903, the day the Wright brothers flew, up to 1949, the world spent 256,000,000 on aviation.

That is almost exactly the federal debt today and nearly four-fifths of the military costs of World War II to the United States.

The estimate was made by Sir Richard Fairey, founder in 1915 of the British airplane company of that name and holder of most of the aeronautical honors attainable in England. He served with various British commissions in Washington during the war.

Russia Is Only Guess

Sir Richard achieved his total with a painstaking year by year study of government reports and translation of national currencies into dollar equivalents at the time of the spending. The largest possible element of error, he said, lies in the estimates of Russian military aviation spending.

The study was made for the 38th Wilbur Wright Memorial Lecture before the Royal Aeronautical Society in London last spring.

Sir Richard computed world spending for military aviation at $245,000,000,000. That, of course, does not include the money being spent for building air power since fighting began in Korea. Of the military total, $188,000,000,000, or 76 per cent, was spent during World War II.

Civil Flying's Share

Global spending for civil aviation, including the Berlin airlift, was figured at $11,500,000,000 for the 48 years. This is only about one dollar in 25 of the grand total.

Sir Richard noted, in tracing the spending for civil aviation, that before the first world war it included only sports flying and public entertainment or exhibitions. Air transportation had its beginnings soon after World War I and grew slowly in the 20 years before the next conflict.

By 1939 the world was spending around $390,000,000 a year on civil aviation. But in the last year of the study—the fiscal year ending in 1949—the total was $2,250,000,000. The yearly rate was equal to nearly one-fourth of the grand total for civil aviation for all the years before it.

Military spending had an earlier start and a faster growth. It amounted to $90,000,000 in 1913, the year before World War I, and hit a peak of $3,000,000,000 during the war. The total for the war was placed at $7,000,000,000.

Ready Shops for Easter

With an eye to the calendar in view, thousands of Littlefield women are buying their spring Easter outfits, which will be hung in closets and packed in boxes until the temperature of Easter morning is still speculative, as this is the latest for the commemorative 1940.

Ever, the feminine world is excited by the prospect of child-rearers, and spring dresses, and hats are rapidly being changed from stores here.

Milady steps proudly into the Easter Yarde spotlight, her eyes will, on an average, cost $55 and $125. This price is for her suit or dress, hat, shoes, bag, jewelry and accessories.

Also Buy Coats

There is a 50-50 tie between the purchase of dresses and the purchase of light-weight suits for the season, said a saleswoman in a Littlefield apparel store.

A woman buys a dress for $15, she also buys a top coat, to play it safe. In the event of a "flood" the coat for future use.

Popular shades for spring according to several Littlefield women, are navy blue, rose shades of beige. Trim is of a smart, smart, smart.

Some of the choices of materials are shantung and crepe.

Dresses have plain, simple lines. Some of the more "fussy" have back drapes, adding of liveliness and bounce.

Hats Are Feminine

Spring suits, also popular in shades of beige, and shades of pink to tangerine red, tied with pencil-slim lines and light drape. Some suits are

Mr. Sloop and Mrs. Sloop, who is also a Grand officer, being Chairman of Chapters under Dispensation, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Boone to Littlefield late Wednesday night, where they are guests in their home.

The Grand Patron and his wife will be honor guests at an Easter Program given by the local Chapter at the Masonic Hall tonight.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Sloop and Mr. and Mrs. Boone will go to Gruver, Texas where they will constitute a new chapter Friday evening.

Hopes For Sunny Sunday

fashioned with plain front and drape back.

New spring hats are visions of loveliness. They are soft, feminine creations in cool hues of pink, lavender, rose and beige. Adorning the hat are artificial flowers, from the tiniest of buds to the largest of full-blossoms and an abundance of veiling which may be worn over the flowers for a "misty" effect—or over the face for a "mystic" effect.

Darker shades of navy and brown are available for the more conservative woman. While pequet trim adds a tailored touch to the "top". However, some darker hats also have flower trim.

Tradition and present buying trends prove that a majority of fashion enthusiasts buy white gloves to set off any spring ensemble. White kid or string nylon head the "favorite" list. Some women, however, still prefer gloves that match their chapeau.

Shoes, Bags Match

New shoes and matching bag are a "must" for a spring outfit. Navy blue shoes, some with white trim, brown, and brown and white spectators, and purses are what most Littlefield women will wear and carry with their Easter frocks.

Earrings add a finishing touch of smartness and glamour to any outfit, either spring or fall. Using observation as a means of survey, about three out of five women complete their fashion picture with earrings, of all shapes, sizes and colors!

Small clusters of artificial flowers of colorful silk scarves may also be used to advantage, especially with suits or bolero dresses.

So, come March 25, Littlefield women will be smartly attired in the most fashionable spring frocks—ignoring the possible sub-freezing weather in awareness of the endless array of spring dress combinations.

Donnybrook creates a handsome three-piece virgin ensemble of 100 per cent virgin wool. Its topper is of a fine-checked weave and gives emphasis to the muted pastel tones of the monotone suit. Trimly tailored and superbly detailed, it is the perfect, go-everywhere suit for Spring.

... it emphasises the full, turned-up or push-up sleeve for ¾ length showings.

New versions of the pyramid coat point up curved, diagonal or fastenings take oblique directions to accent pyramid contours.

Rounded, small shoulders... are keynotes of newness in coat styles.

The slimmed-down long coat has a free and easy look... it boasts a lithe look with turnback revers suggestive of the tuxedo coat. Or, it takes on the fitted waistline that gently swings to controlled fullness at the hemline.

You'll find huge, huge pockets on many of the coats... fabric contrast... adjustable revers, and a host of interesting details and trims that make this year's crop of coats a rich harvest in fashion excitement

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this means of thanking all of you who were so kind and sympathetic during our recent bereavement. We are so appreciative to those who sent the beautiful floral pieces—to the nurses and doctors who ministered to him during his last days—to the neighbors who brought food—and to the kind friends who sat with him while he was a patient in the hospital—and to the ministers of various churches who were so kind to give words of encouragement—and to all those who in any way helped to make his passing easier for us to bear. May God bless each and everyone of you, in our wish.

Mrs. R. H. Kyzer And Children

Forward-looking and very pert is this Spanish-mood tricorne. Created by Brewster, its fine white swiss milan straw takes on black patent piping for accents. The fine mesh veil has chenille dot trim for a note of piquancy.

Variety of Styles, Fabric Excitement Marks New Coat and Suit Groupings

Spring 1951 heralds hip lines, neatly tailored lines and silhouette. It points up, too, collarless packet styles and equal importance on large styles.

The new season's suits high—the costume look to establish themselves as basic settings, little furs and topper result of the season has natty shoulders with either arduan front, or midway, low or high closings.

Result of the season belittles belittles and gives button or detail to emphasize the arched hip-line look. Sleeves are neatly cuffed, frequently designed to turn back to three-quarter length.

Skirts are red-slim but designed for free and easy movement, and accepted suit length is 14 inches from the ground.

Although the shorter jacket looks new and has a pert look, the bulk of the collections favor the 25 to 27-inch length.

Slim to full are capital features of the coat fashions of the season. The pyramid coat, an established favorite, has a little collar or no collar at all. It tapers slowly to controlled fullness at the hemline

"Youth With Talent" Show To Be Staged

A "Youth with Talent" show will be staged at the high school auditorium Monday night, March 19, at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Music Department of the Woman's Club.

The deadline for filling out registration blanks will be today, (Thursday), March 15th.

St. Martin's Ladies To Conduct Bake Sale March 24

Ladies of St Martin Ladies' Aid met in the annex of the church on Thursday, March 8. Twenty-four members and two visitors were present. They were: Mrs. Lang, mother of Mrs. Henry Sager of Littlefield, and Mrs. Mike Gueterstoh of Levelland.

Mr. W. C. Stewart and Mrs. O. H. Weize were hostesses, serving a delicious refreshment. Mrs. J. W. Wells of Hart Camp presented the topic on "Home Missions—Now More than ever."

A playlet was presented, entitled, "Combining Business with Pleasure." It explained the Life Membership and Memorial Department of the Women's Missionary Federation of the American Lutheran Church, which chief project is to support the Missions among the Latin Americans in Texas. Those participating in the playlet were: Mrs. B. D. Birkelbach, Mrs. Cecil Price, Mrs. Homer Garms, Mrs. W. C. Stewart, and Mrs. Henry Sager.

Discussed in the business meeting were projects connected with

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

The differences in the names applies to diseases are frequently confusing. Someone may speak of a "catching" disease as an infectious disease, a communicable disease or a contagious disease because they are all three "catching" but the method of getting the disease may vary slightly.

Disease you catch when the air, food or water are the source of infection make up the broad classification of infectious diseases. If the infection that causes disease originates with animals or man, either contact with the animal alive or the eating of any part of the diseased animal, it is known as a communicable disease. If the disease is caused by direct contact with a person, usually from germs that do not live long in the air or on food, it is a member of the contagious family.

Diseases are changes in the normal manner in which you develop. When a germ causes the change from normal, it is an infectious disease. When you are born without normal function of some part of you, it is a congenital disease; when you are born with some variation from normal that is not evident at birth but is likely to show up during some phase of growth, it is a hereditary disease. When some organ of your body fails to function in the normal manner, due either to a defect you were born with or a defect created by germs, it is called an organic disease.

There are many different classifications of diseases, but the infectious family is the most numerous. Infections are today pretty well under control, however, with the many new miracle drugs and are not as frequently the cause of death as other forms, such as the organic disease that affect the heart.

Keeping the germs of infection from food and water by sanitation methods has been one of the major controls of infectious diseases. The reporting of communicable diseases by public health officials has meant they can seek the source of a disease and by eliminating the source can cut short its spread. The airborne diseases remain as the greatest threat because the air is more difficult to sanitize and isolate, through the new medicines and vaccinations, immunizations and inoculations can protect the body to some extent even if the infection does enter the body.

That period while the infection is in the body trying to grow and overcome the body's defenses is known as the incubation period. When you have been vaccinated for smallpox, there are smallpox defenses present in the blood stream and perhaps other parts of your body; when they see a smallpox germ in your body, they call out the guards and destroy these germs before the germs can gain the improvement of the Annex. The ladies decided to conduct a Bake Sale at Piggly Wiggly's on Saturday, March 24. Family Night was also discussed and set for April 3, in the Annex of the Church.

Mrs. Edna Bourlon of Roundup is Chairman of the St. Martin Ladies' Aid.

a goothold. You may have natural immunity to some other disease germs which work the same way, but the shots you get to prevent disease are shoved into you just for that purpose.

If your bodily defenses are not strong enough to keep the invader down with something, the disease has the upper hand for a few days until the body (plus maybe some outside help in the form of medicine) bats it down and you are all right again. If the disease is short and snappy it is known as an acute attack of something or other. If the disease sticks around for a long stay and the body does not seem able to overcome it, it is a chronic disease. If the disease is not too short and not too long and fails to produce the usual reaction but eventually get under control, it may be branded a subacute attack.

Tuberculosis is no longer the leading killer that is used to be, though it is still a serious disease. Undulant fever and tuberculosis have not been brought more under control since the destruction of cattle infected with tuberculosis and Bang's disease has become a necessity. Further protection is provided in the pasteurization of milk.

The control of breeding places for mosquitoes has cut down on the number of persons afflicted with yellow fever, malaria and dengue fever. Rabies, anthrax, glanders, trichinosis, tularemia and Rocky Mountain spotted fever can all be traced to animals and controlled to some extent when the specific source is located.

Tracing the source of infection in the social diseases of syphilis and gonorrhea has contributed to a cut in the number of people infected such as the common cold and influenza are much more difficult to trace, perhaps because like pink eye, the it, measles, mumps and chicken pox, you usually have "got it" before you knew it was anywhere around.

VISITS NEPHEW AT VALMORE, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hay of Sudan visited at Valmore, N. M. last week with Mrs. Hay's nephew, Bill Caton, whom she had not seen for more than 27 years.

Canton is in a sanatorium in the New Mexico town, where he was sent for a rest by the International Harvester Company, with whom he had been employed in Belgium for several years.

Mrs. Hay's nephew has spent most of the past 20 years in Europe, first as a student at Heidelberg, Germany, and later as an employe of International Harvester.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays report that Canton was interested in the Southwest from an agricultural point of view. There is a vast difference in farming methods used here and those used in Belgium, he says.

"Bear Fishing" New Sport At Jasper National Park

(Above) Rising to the bait, Bruin rears up in preparation of striking at the tasty morsel of bacon on the end of the line.

(Right) Open for business—stretched to his full height and with mouth wide open, Bruin prepared for the final "strike".

(Below) Bruin has the bacon and is going to work on it, blissfully unaware that there's a string attached to the meat.

TAKE a 6-ounce rod, attach a suitable reel and silk line; remove the leader and fish hook or fly and affix a choice slice of fresh bacon; then find yourself a 500-pound-black bear and you have the ingredients for "bear fishing", the gamest game fishing on the continent and the newest thrill in angling.

"Bear fishing is lots of fun but you've got to watch your step as the tempers of black bears are unpredictable," says Billy Robinson, dean of Canadian photographers who, with two trout fishermen just back from Maligne Lake, introduced the sport at famous Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies last summer.

The veteran Canadian National Railway photographer's recipe for "bear fishing" baiting: Cut inch-square blocks of bacon making hole size of pencil through the center. Remove leader, hooks or fly from line. Tie bacon on line and cast in general direction of bear. Bears like bacon and will immediately rise to the bait.

"Then", Robinson says, "when the bear has the bait count ten fast and raise your rod. Nobody ever tried to take his grub away before, so Bruin is puzzled. He looks at the 'fisherman' and the 'fisherman' should keep a sharp eye on the bear. Bruin's usual action is to tug a little, then sit down rubbing his huge paws along the line.

"When the bear has performed this and other maneuvers to free the bacon (all of which make good photographs) he usually gives up and lumbers off into the woods."

This is how Robinson "fishes" for bear in Jasper National Park and he says it's "fun."

Your Child Today: PLAY IS VITAL TO GROWTH

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
 AP Education Editor

Play is as vital to a child's growth as food and shelter. It is not merely something he does when he has nothing better to do. We would not dream of planning for children without food, and so by the same token, we cannot plan for children without play; both are essential to their development.

Mrs. Monica B. Owen, National Association, recently addressed these remarks to the Child Care Institute of the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, in New York City:

"Play is the child's natural way of learning; about himself and his relationships, learning to solve problems, to plan and to create. Through play children digest some of their experiences, their relationships with others, their places in their world, their hopes, their fears and their anxieties. They tell us in their play about their loves and hates.

"The child who sticks pins in his clay doll or pokes its eyes out is telling us of his feelings; the child who plays hospital and clinic or the child who plays baby or mother over and over, or policeman—each one is working out through play some basic emotion, jealousy or fear, love or hate, and through it is learning to handle this emotion and to drain it off safely."

Play also adds to social experience, says Mrs. Owen. Watch three or four boys building a complicated roundhouse with blocks, listen to their joint planning, their sharing ideas. Or watch children in their development of a play or a party together, or building a tree-house or a dam, where imagination, skills, and experience must be shared—all are a natural way of gaining experience. And the more a child is able to cope with relationships with others the more inner security he gains.

In a good play program, says Mrs. Owen, children need the kinds of experiences and outlets which are possible in the family setting as well. And these are not too difficult to provide. They need time to do something they really want to do, a place to do it in, the raw materials with which to do it and the leadership of an outstanding and imaginative adult.

TELEVISION ADVENT INFLUENCES MODERN FURNITURE DESIGNS

With the advent of television into the American home, people are staying at home and entertaining at home, more than ever before. The living room or den where the television set is located has become the focal point of family and social activity.

Television calls for a new type of room planning. The furniture arrangement should be flexible to provide seating capacity for an audience of varying size, and give each person an unobstructed view of the screen.

This has created a demand for light weight furniture that may be easily moved about, and that looks well in a variety of groupings.

Chairs with swivel bases that may be turned toward the television screen for viewing, or in another direction to form part of a conversational grouping are also proving popular.

Folding chairs that may be brought into use or stored away provide extra seating. These are appearing, this Spring, in a number of attractive new designs and a wide selection of colors to complement other furnishing schemes.

Entertaining television guests, has fostered the development of new ideas in the design of tuck-away hostess tables, folding tables, and dual-purpose occasional tables. Some of the latter feature pottery inset dishes for party tidbits. "Lazy-Susans," now available in a wide variety of smart designs and in various sizes, are high in favor as they lend themselves perfectly to the easy, informal type of entertaining that makes a television evening enjoyable.

FRANCES ANN JOHNSON SUSTAINS BACK INJURY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Frances Ann Johnson, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson of Muleshoe is convalescing at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Brown of the Spade community.

Miss Johnson suffered two fractured vertebrae in a car accident last Thursday night, when she was home; pots and pans and materials for simple cooking, books, puppets, records, sewing materials for doing simple science experiments, and for out of doors the raw materials through which meaningful play can be developed include packing boxes, barrels, kegs and boards which can turn into boats, houses, forts or corrals at a moment's notice.

Children Need Leadership
 One of the problems in play is intelligent adult leadership. Many of us are afraid to try such a play program. We think we haven't the "know-how," and that we must "teach" play. Parents and teachers alike should remember, says Mrs. Owen, that expert or highly developed skills are usually needed only in specialized fields, such as ceramics or book printing.

By and large, children do their own planning, inventing and developing their own way of playing, and that in itself is one of its values. Through these experiences, intelligent leadership can help them to "grow in the creativity that brings new life, new relationships, new values, and new things of beauty and usefulness and cherishes them for their worth."

enroute from her home in Muleshoe to Farwell. She was taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital, where she was a patient until Sunday, when she was brought to the Brown home. She will remain in a cast for four weeks.

Mrs. Johnson, a sister of Mrs. Brown, and a former Littlefield resident, is a teacher in the public schools at Progress, near Muleshoe. Frances Ann is a senior student in the Muleshoe schools.

EX-STARS COACH TIGERS

Lakeland, Fla.—(AP)—The Detroit Tiger rookies should be fairly familiar with baseball fundamentals by the time they leave this spring training base. Red Rolfe's three coaches include a crack pitcher, veteran catcher and a fine shortstop. Dick Bartell spent 16 years in the majors as a shortstop, Ted Lyons pitched 21 seasons with the Chicago White Sox and Rick Farrell caught 18 seasons in the American League.

Bula School Lunch Room Serves 140 Pupils Daily With Well Balanced Meals

The Bula Lunchroom, under the supervision of Mrs. Jerome Cash and Mrs. H. A. Reynolds has been progressing effectively this year.

The chief aim of this lunchroom for the year has been to serve well balanced, inexpensive, hot and attractive meals. This has been accomplished through careful planning and cooperation of the persons connected with the lunchroom.

Some of the things that have been accomplished this year are as follows:

The average number that has been served per day for the year is approximately 140 out of 169 average daily attendance.

The amount of garbage left from the plate is decreasing as the year progresses. A considerable effort has been made to serve attractive and hot meals. The homemaking teacher, Mrs. Alkey, and the homemaking girls have cooperated with the problem of planning the meals.

Since the meals are well planned, hot and served attractive the cheerful atmosphere is naturally created during the lunch hour.

Cut flowers and pot flowers, provided by the homemaking department also added to the cheerful atmosphere during the noon hour.

Menu for the week beginning March 12, 1951 are as follows:

MONDAY

Sourkraut and Wieners
Buttered Black Eyed Peas

Charles Heathman, soloist rendered a special number as requested, by the deceased, and a hymn, "Will the Circle be Unbroken," also a poem Mrs. Lowe lover, and read often, by Johnnie Barber Bradford, (Rev. 3:8) was read by the officiating minister. It was as

There is a door that leads to God—
No Man can block or bar
For God alone holds the key
And keeps the door ajar.
Faith is our strongest vision—
The door stands open wide
And prayers are the steps
That take the soul inside.
Mrs. Lowe had planned her funeral several months ago—and again went over last minute details shortly before she passed away. One of her last requests was that Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jeffries sit with the family at the service. Interment was in Littlefield Cemetery.

Mrs. Maud E. Lowe was born January 21, 1877 in Comanche County. Her mother, Mrs. John T. Simmons, aged 93 of Abilene survives. Her father died when she was a small child, and her mother re-married. A large number of brothers and sisters and half brothers and sisters survive.

She was married to L. C. Lowe December 1, 1900 at Comanche, and where they made their home until Mr. Lowe's death in 1922, when Mrs. Lowe and family moved to Taboka. They lived there for two years, and then moved to Littlefield in 1925.
Five children were both to the union, two sons and three daughters. One son Leland Lowe predeceased his mother in death, having died February 1, 1933. Thomas E. Lowe survives and lives at Ontario, California, and was unable to attend the last rites.
The daughters are Mrs. W. M. Petricolas, 2411 21st Street, Lubbock, Mrs. Roy Martin, San Angelo, and Mrs. E. H. Johnson of Rankin.

be used in setting up a district: Association members, largely composed of landowners and irrigation well users, will petition the board of Water Engineers to be used in setting up a district: The State Board then must give full notice throughout the area affected of a hearing at which the board will determine whether the district shall be created. The hearing will be held somewhere within the 21-county area, possibly in centrally-located Plainview. Underground water users and any other citizens affected will be given an opportunity to offer testimony on the desirability of a district.
If, after the hearing, the State Board decides that a district should be created, the board will enter an order creating the district and appointing five directors from five different precincts. The primary function of these appointed directors will be to call an election within a short period, after proper notice has been given throughout the territory.
At the election, the people will decide whether to accept the district, and they will elect five directors from five precincts designated by the state board. In designating precincts, the law provides that no town or city may be in more than one director's precinct.
The Texas legislature in 1949 approved the farmer-sponsored underground water conservation district law as an alternative to a state-control measure offered. The enabling act provides that the districts shall protect, conserve and re-charge the ground water supply.

State Junior

Oved Essary, 1950 president of the Houston Junior Chamber, will serve as Banquet Chairman for the event.
Speaking on behalf of the Houston organization, Mr. Essary said, "We feel this is a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate Houston's capabilities as a host city. The Houston Junior Chamber has pointed nearly its entire strength in the past several months towards arranging for this convention."
Mr. McLemore said, due to the heavy demand, Convention Reservations have been set up on a "first come, first served" basis with April 5 as cancellation deadline.
"We hope to make this one of the most successful as well as most enjoyable conventions in the history of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce," Mr. McLemore added.

Dr. Woods has served as president of the organization for a two year term. He will be succeeded by Dr. Herman T. Lomas of Dallas.
Others from here to attend will include Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Burke and Dr. B. W. Armistead. The latter will attend the Sunday meeting only, when he will lead in a special forum. He will be in the local office Monday morning. The other delegates will return home Tuesday night.

Students Can

Act can now enlist in the Marine Corps, Master Sergeant W. N. Burnette, NCO in Charge, Lubbock Marine Corps Recruiting Station announced Monday.
Previously, the receipt of a notice to report for pre-induction physical examination or induction barred a student or a recent graduate from enlisting in any branch of the service.
The new order, Master Sergeant Burnette warned, applies only to high school and college students or recent graduates. Anyone else receiving pre-induction notices still cannot be enlisted, he said.
Students or recent graduates who have received only their orders to report for pre-induction physical and mental exams can enlist without reference to their draft board.
Recent graduates or students who have received their orders to report for induction and have had them postponed may have their classification reopened by their draft board in order to volunteer for service with the Leathernecks.
The student or graduate can have his classification reopened by sending a written request to his draft board asking them to cancel the induction notice, so that he can join the Marine Corps. The letter must contain a statement from the recruiting Office that the man will be accepted for immediate active duty. Master Sgt. Burnette added.
"We don't want students to drop out of school to join the Marine Corps," Master Sgt. Burnette said. "The more education a man had, the better Marine he makes. But if he has already decided to leave school we want him to know that he can enlist in the Corps if he can meet our high physical and mental standards."

Luther League Meets Sunday

The Luther League of St. Martin Lutheran Church met Sunday night at the Church for its regular March meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harper were in charge of the devotionals and Topic, which centered around the subject of the Second Coming of Christ. An interesting discussion of this subject followed the presentation. Most of the members were present, including Aubrey C. Neinst, Private in the U. S. A. F. who was home on leave. He is stationed at Craig Air Force Base at Craig, Alabama.
Business centered around suggestions for improvement of the Annex for a meeting place for all organizations of the church.
The next meeting of the Luther League will be held on April 8. Edgar Schulz is chairman of the Luther League.

Collins Rites

Home, who were called to the scene first, were Dr. C. E. Payne, Lamb County Health officer and S. J. Farquhar, justice of the peace.
Mr. Collins, subject to light heart attacks the past year, according to Mrs. Collins, was finishing the evening chores Saturday night, while Mrs. Collins and children were in the house, preparing supper. He was discovered by his daughter who went out to call him to supper.
Funeral services were conducted from the Littlefield First Baptist Church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with the pastor Rev. Lee Hemphill assisted by Rev. F. N. Allen pastor of the Rocky Church Baptist Church, officiating. Hammons Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
Pall bearers were Frank Lehman, A. B. Enloe, Jr., R. J. Rhoten, Merle May, Floyd Caffen and Robert Butler. A number of close friends and neighbors served as honorary pall bearers, Zed Robinson, also a close friend, sang a special favorite hymn.
Deceased was born August 8, 1893, Panola County. He had been a resident of Lamb County since 1923, and had been a resident of Lamb County, and had lived in the same location for the past 27 years.

ESCAPE: FLORIDA PRISON WITHOUT WALLS PROVIDES A SPIRITUAL FREEDOM

Newsfeatures
BY ANDERSON

A prison without being paying off on a bribe in human re-

an attempt to help spiritually rather to help the soul through the body atmosphere possible with. Every attempt to help the prisoner feel so far from hometion is Florida State 40 miles southwest. It has a population between 1,800 and 2,000. Prisoners wear as a uniform a skirt with a white side. Headgear coats can be what ever the prisoner wishes. You can find them in anything from brilliantly striped T-shirts to leather Jackets.

Fence Eliminates Wall
Instead of a wall, the prison has a triple wire fence. The center, a few feet higher than those on either side, is topped by a charged wire and stands in cement which goes down to water.

Superintendent L. F. Chapman—a huge man with rippling white hair and as gentle a voice and disposition as could be found—is responsible for the experiment.

Texas-born, he was a citrus packer and grower in DeLand and a state legislator.

Electric Wire Respected
"I had a hard fight to get this fence built instead of a concrete wall," Chapman said "Now those inside can look out. The fence has torn away the mystery of what the other side looks like. Of course they respect that charged wire.

"We have some prisoners now and then who have to be disciplined. Any prison has. But we think our experiment in trying to rehabilitate prisoners by giving them this atmosphere is paying off.

"We figure it's paying off because of the small number who come back—our percentage of repeaters is far under the national average. We have very few escapes, even of trustees outside the fence. And we have no riots or strikes."

Any prisoner can talk to Chapman any time. They can stop him as he walks through the grounds, but few do. Some remove their hats. He always has a pleasant word for them.

There is an easy, informal atmosphere at the prison. Not a gun or blackjack in sight.

The canteen, which does a $1,000 a week business, has a dozen or so tables where prisoners can entertain friends and relatives at visiting time with coffee, soft drinks and sandwiches.

The prison conducts a grade school so that illiterates may learn.

It operates a huge farm. It has a sawmill, carpenter shop, machine shop, license plate stamping shop, athletic field and hospital.

At mealtime, prisoners march to and fro from the dining room in columns of twos—but if anyone is in step with another it's sheer accident.

Each Man Has Specialty
"Every man has a job to do" Chapman points out. "Many have hobbies and get a fair amount of money selling things they make. We believe in every inmate having whatever chance possible to better himself."

One prisoner, a native of Los Angeles, is serving five years for forgery. He is 41 and has held many good newspaper editorial and advertising jobs. He has written for magazines. He edits the Rainford Record magazine—and is teaching three pupils English.

Substance Is Spiritual . . . Not Material, Therefore Enduring, Theme of Sermon

The Golden Text is from Psalms 105:31, and reads, "The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works." Further explaining that what God made cannot decay is this verse from the Bible, Psalms 93:1, included in the Lesson-Sermon: "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved." Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay" emphatically states Mary Barker Eddy on page 463 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." This positive assertion that substance is spiritual—not material—therefore enduring, is the theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, March 18.

Here's Brannan Plan for Home Gardeners

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, after surveying the food and seed supply situation, has approved a 1951 home garden campaign. Secretary Brannan said these home gardens would "help improve the diets and the health of our people."

Agriculture Department officials emphasize that no shortages of food are in sight today. But they say the future is so uncertain they believe it advisable to begin the development of a national home garden program, such as the Victory Garden campaign of World War II.

Many gardeners may find it will take a year or two to get their garden plots into efficient production. If a garden program is started now, and thousands of home owners participate, Agriculture officials say these thousands of gardens would be a major asset if a food crisis should develop.

Officials of the Agriculture Department's Extension Service were given the assignment of developing the program.

These officials canvassed the seed, insecticide and fertilizer situation and report sufficient supplies of each appear available for home gardens.

Insecticides May Be Substituted

Supplies of some insecticides and fungicides will depend upon availability of raw materials that may become scarce because they are needed in defense items. But the officials say that if one type of insecticide or fungicide disappears from garden stores, substitutes probably will be on hand.

As for fertilizers, home gardens probably will not require more than two per cent of total U. S. consumption, experts explain. And there seem to be adequate quantities for this.

The Department of Agriculture estimate of supplies of seeds this year is ample to take care of expanded gardening activities.

Officials say the present situation does not justify the tearing up of lawns or ornamental plots for vegetable growing. On the other hand, poor garden sites should not be used. There is too much danger of crop failure on such land, with a resulting waste of seed, fertilizer and labor.

Often the success or failure of a garden is determined before a spade of earth is turned—when the gardener makes his choice of a site. Some ground won't grow a crop under any conditions.

Pointers on Garden Site

The latest edition of the Department's garden manual, Growing Vegetables in Town and Country, makes these suggestions about selecting a site:

1. It should have at least six hours a day of direct sunlight with no obstructing trees or buildings.
  2. It must be well drained. If it is wet for days after a storm, or if water washes over it during storms, it is not suitable.
  3. The best gardening soil is a deep, dark sandy loam that can be spaded into a loose, crumbly condition. If possible avoid thin and stony and heavy, clay-like soils.
  4. Usually land that is the most level is the best garden site. It will be less damaged by hard storms.
  5. In most parts of the country the garden should be near the house, or a water supply, so that it may be irrigated if or when necessary. In wet areas this is not a problem.
- The acid test for any prospective garden is this:
If weeds don't grow upon it, a garden probably won't either. So if you are choosing a vacant lot, or an untried plot, and it hasn't been seeded before, a rank growth of weeds is a good sign.
If many a weed grows, eye it with suspicion.

BULL LAKE, PHILOSOPHER SAYS RURAL AREAS WON'T LOSE CONTROL OF STATE, THEY NEVER HAD IT

Editor's note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bull Lake seems to be ratifying the state redistricting bill, with some amendments, in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

I was in town Saturday and borrowed a newspaper off the counter at Hayes Cafe and will return it next week if they insist on it and took it home and got out of earshot of my wife, ain't nothing worse than trying to read a newspaper and take orders at the same time, and read where the Texas Legislature after 30 years, they're like me, ain't no use being in a hurry about things, has passed a re-districtin bill.

I ain't seen the bill, but according to an article in the paper it means, among other things, that the rural areas of Texas has lost control of the Legislature to the city people, on account of the city people gettin more representatives under the new bill. "Rural domination of the Texas Legislature, which has prevailed through 105 years of statehood, will be gone forever," the article said.

Now I don't like to argue with an expert, but it hadn't never occurred to me us country folks had control of the Legislature, even for a few minutes, not to mention 105 years. Don't believe we could have run up 241 different bureaus and departments in Austin without some help from the city people.

Furthermore, what I would like to know is, if the country people have had charge of the Legislature up to now, how come all the plums, the state hospitals, schools, medical foundations, etc., are located in cities? How is it there ain't a city in the state that ain't may-poled with concrete highways running out in every direction, while I'm still workin on my commissioner just to get him to drag the road running by my house to get the ruts out of it?

Nope. We might have had em out-voted when it come to openin and closin the squirrel season in Lamb County, but when it got down to vital matters like good roads, a lot of us was left in the dust.

I'm in favor of re-districtin the state, but I don't look for no great change in things. I ain't afraid of cities' havin control. They had it all the time, and I ain't sufferin too much.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Balkans Are World's Historic Trouble Spots

By SHERRY BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures

Trouble in the Balkans:

That cry has been heard for thousands of years. Both geography and peoples have had a part in making the area a source of trouble. Both Europe and a large part of Asia have been involved. In the Balkans are passes through which invaders easily can strike north or south. But there are also rugged mountains to which the people can flee and from which they can war on anyone who tries to dominate the area.

Confusion of Peoples

The result has been a confusion of peoples. There are now in the Balkans, among others, Albanians, Greeks, Serbs, Bulgars, Turks, Croats, Vlachs, Romanians and Magyars.

In Romania until recently were important colonies of Germans. Some of these, it is believed, were descendants of crusaders who stopped off there to guard Europe against barbarian invasion. Through the centuries, they maintained their language, customs and links with Germany.

Variety of Religions

The Balkans are also a center of clashing religions. There is an important Moslem element besides two major and several minor varieties of Christian. The Serbs and Croats, for example, are related peoples. But the Croats are Roman Catholics and the Serbs Orthodox Catholics. That difference still troubles the rulers of Yugoslavia.

But trouble in the Balkans really started long before the dawn of history and continues to the present day. This is the area where strong Mediterranean peoples moving up into Europe and Asia meet strong peoples moving down toward the inland sea. They clash. They have always clashed.

Clash of Strong Peoples

One of the first such clashes that archeologists see back through the mists of time was that between the Hellenes moving down and the Minoans moving up. The Minoans lost. Some of them fled and are supposed to have been the Philistines of Biblical fame.

The Hellenes set up the great civilization of ancient Greece. They turned back the Persians who were trying to move up. But the Greeks never were able to get along with each other. After bitter wars among themselves they were conquered by Macedonia, another Balkan power. But the empire of Alexander the Great fell to pieces by the Romans, another Mediterranean power moving up.

Northern Pressure on Rome

—And Rome had trouble with northern peoples moving down. There was a strong Kingdom in Dacia (modern Romania). The Dacians were always raiding into the empire. For a time, mighty Rome actually paid tribute to Dacia to prevent the raids. Then between 101 and 103 A.D., the Emperor Trajan moved in and made Dacia a Roman province.

But in 256 the Goths drove the Romans out of Dacia and in 275 the last Roman troops left and arrangements were made for Roman colonists to move to other areas. Modern students dispute whether or not they really left. Some insist that the barbarian invaders merely submerged the Romans and Dacians for a time and that modern Romanians are mostly descendants of the Romans and Dacians.

Origin Of People Disputed

That is typical of disputes about the origins of most peoples in the Balkans. For the Goths were only one of many peoples to sweep down out of Asia into the Balkans. There were Huns, Gepidae, Avars, Slavs, Vandals, Bulgars, Magyars, Mongols and others century after century of them. There were conquests, reconquests, revolts, raids, burned towns, refugees, oppression and heroism.

Meanwhile the western Roman empire fell to pieces and the eastern or Byzantine empire tried to control troubles in the Balkans. There were hundreds of years of that trouble. Sometimes it exploded into Europe. For instance in 797 Charlemagne crushed the Avars in a great battle which changed the Balkan balance of power.

The Fourth Crusade

And in 1204 the powers represented by the Fourth Crusade intervened. They captured Constantinople and set up a European kingdom there for a while. They also set up a number of other kingdoms, duchies and other states in the Balkans. Among others was the Duchy of Athens where medieval knights held tournaments until the Turks moved in.

Watch Out For The "Blind-Spot"

Stopped by Squint Miller's farm the other day and saw a vinegar bottle in his kitchen with an oversized cucumber inside it. The cucumber filled the whole bottle.

"What's a cucumber doing in there?" I asked him. "That's my 'blind-spot' reminder," says Squint. "My grandmother kept one in her kitchen to remind her to take stock of herself now and then."

"I slipped that bottle over the cucumber when it was just starting to grow on the vine," he went on. "And like certain viewpoints, not noticed, it just grew—now it's there in the bottle. From where I sit, we a cue from Squint and our own "blind-spot" dices before they get rid of. ### Task of American Newspapers Seen As Difficult, But Vital

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—The American newspaper's task is becoming "increasingly difficult but constantly more urgent," Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute of Life Insurance, said Thursday.

Addressing the New York chapter of the American Association of Newspaper Representatives, Johnson said that "what most homes think and do depends in large part on what they 'read in the papers.'"

"And more than in any country in the world," he continued, "it is urgent that public thinking be kept on a sound basis in this nation where every act stems from public will."

To keep this majority will on a sound footing, he said, calls for a high degree of integrity in objective news reporting and a keen sense of editorial responsibility in appreciating the impact of the news on the public and the motive behind the news.

Interest On Stolen Property

Grand Junction, Col.—(AP)—More than three years ago some one stole a pair of skis from Le Roy Wiler's front porch. The next day Wiler ran a classified ad in the Daily Sentinel:

"If party who took the skis off the front porch of my home will return and check the back porch, they'll find the boots that go with the skis."

But Wiler's offer never was accepted. Recently he came across the long missing skis tossed just inside the backyard fence. Tucked in one of the bindings was a $5 bill.

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

Most furniture used during the Colonial period in New England was painted dark red—a favorite color for tables, desks and chests. Often the authenticity of antiques can be established by theod paint film.

Sudan Style Show Is Outstanding Success

"Forecast in Fashion," the spring style show sponsored by the three Sudan study clubs, far exceeded the expectations of an appreciative audience, Thursday night, March 1 in the high school auditorium.

From the moment the spotlight was turned on the stage, which was a replica of a beautiful spring flower bedecked window, to the last "still" scene of two lovely mannequins, the audience realized here was an entertainment not to be excelled anywhere.

With the right jewelry and accessories, even the most inexpensive cottons took on a glamorous and festive appearance.

Fashions of play clothes, casual dresses, suits, coats, evening dresses, millinery and jewelry, furnished by Salem's and Minyard's of Sudan, were modeled.

The musical program which included selections from the Sudan Choral Club, piano numbers by Mrs. Robert Downs and Miss Fredda Lou Patterson, a solo by Miss Laquinta Hefflin, the gifted Sabino Galvan and his trumpet, also met with the approval of the audience.

The two commentators, Mrs. Eldon Nichols and Mrs. Kenneth Fields told of how clothes will look this spring—the details, the colors and fabrics—the millinery and the accessories.

Dimmitt Girl Basketball Team Wins Cotton Center in Finals; State Champions For Second Time

Dimmitt Bobbies, Girls All-Star School Basketball team, for the second time, won the Cotton Center State championship finals in Waco, last weekend, to again become State Champions for the second time. They defeated Cotton Center by a score of 36-30.

Dimmitt won the championship in 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951, to better the showing made by Dimmitt, statistically, but does not in the least detract from the fine record made by the Dimmitt girls.

This is the 12th successive season that the final tournaments have been held. The Dimmitt girls had to come behind four times in the quarter, as Cotton Center led ahead of them in that many games in the quarter. At that time they were trailing 10-8 at the end of the quarter.

The two teams fought on fairly even terms in the second stanza, but Odum broke loose for three baskets to help Dimmitt to a 15-12 advantage at the intermission.

In the third quarter the Bobbies led at a seven-point scoring margin, with Godfrey and Odum leading the way. The Bobbies soared to a 27-16 lead and then coasted to a 29-19 advantage as the last period began.

In the four minutes remaining in the game, Cannon hit a field goal and led Cotton Center to within six points of the Bobbies. Cannon scored 118 points. Cannon took scoring honors for the tournament, getting 118 counts in four games.

Both players made the all-tournament team for the second consecutive year. Sandra Arrant of New Deal, Gene Smithson, Dimmitt and Gene Shadden, Cotton Center, named to the team, along with Jo Ann Ryan, East Chambers; Griffin, Slocum; Jo Head, Patsy Pharr, Seagoville; Shanks, Knott; Mildred Stratford; and Vera Patton, Seagoville.

Seagoville Takes Third
W. Elaine and the Bobbies took the lead to the Iowa capital. Seagoville took third place in the tournament by defeating Robertson in a surprising display of play.

Seagoville finished second when it lost to Dimmitt in the finals. The East Texans were edged out of the championship in this year's tourney when they fell before Dimmitt, Friday.

Rotary Golf Reduces Walking

AP Newsfeatures

Baltimore—The sport of golf has been described as 98 per cent walking and 2 per cent playing—too much walking for an enjoyable game and too much of a game for a pleasant walk.

Edward M. Fallon, 75-year-old Baltimore gold architect, thinks he has the solution in what he calls "rotary golf"—an adaptation of the sport which would reduce the walking by about a third.

A Square Course
Further, the entire basic nine-hole course-square in shape—would require only a 25-acre tract, much less than half the area needed by a regular nine-hole layout.

To get an idea of Fallon's game, picture a square with an "x" inside it. The "x" represents two long fairways and the sides of the box represent four shorter ones.

Here's how the golfer proceeds: He tees off down one arm of the "x." Instead of following his ball, however, he looks to a caddy down the fairway to call or signal the nature of his lie and the yardage of the drive (there is a distance marker every ten yards along the fairways).

Shorter Fairways at Side
The golfer then moves to one of the shorter fairways at the side, subtracts the distance of his drive from the official distance of the hole, places his ball down at a point that far from the hole in the same sort of lie and plays the hole out.

To illustrate with figures, say a hole is carded as 380 yards. The golfer tees off down the "x" and gets 200 yards on his drive. He then walks over to the subsidiary tee at his right drops a ball at the marker that's 180 yards from the pin and plays this ball out.

He has saved himself most of that first 200 yards of walking and also the time it would have taken. After holing out on the first green, the golfer goes a few steps to the next arm of the "x" and plays the second hole just as he did the first.

Twice around the "x" gives the golfer eight holes. Then he moves to a short hole which he has not played before and which is fitted into the layout specifically as a ninth or finishing hole.

Variety of Play
Although the course has but four fundamental holes, Fallon says great variety of play can be obtained merely by altering the official yardage of the holes and thereby forcing the golfer to shoot his approach shots from different spots on the curving subsidiary tees.

Fallon figures that in playing 18 holes of his "rotary golf," the golfer probably would walk about 2 3/4 miles instead of the 4 or 5 miles tramped over an ordinary 18-hole round.

Another advantage, he says, is that the small size of the layout makes possible its lighting for night play.

Fallon feels that the reduced size of the course makes it suitable for private estates, clubs, hotels, schools or service posts, or as adjuncts to real estate developments.

Hungry Porcupines Like Canoes, Too

Pittsburg, N. H.—(AP)—Omnivorous means "eating everything." And that, says a Connecticut Lakes camp owner, is what porcupines are—omnivorous. He came to that conclusion after the spiny rodents ate part of his aluminum canoe, portions of thwart, seats, handholds at the ends used in carrying the craft. State Fish and Game Director Ralph G. Carpenter thinks it wasn't so much the aluminum that the rodents liked but the salttraces left in perspiration deposits.

TCU EXPECTS THE "GRANGER GHOST" TO SET NEW RECORDS

AP Newsfeatures

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Barring a call from the Navy, look for the busiest football player in the nation next fall to be a blond young man with powerful legs and 163 pounds packed onto a 5-10 frame.

Bill Bartosh, the "Granger Ghost," has Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian chortling in his coffee.

They are confident out at TCU that Bartosh will surpass the records of the greatest Horned Frog offensive footballers of all time—Sam Baugh, Davey O'Brien and Lindy Berry.

A Sensation As Soph
Bartosh as a sophomore in 1950 came pretty close to those worthies. Although he didn't win a starting quarterback post until the second game and didn't play at all against Mississippi because of a knee hurt, Gil ran and passed for an average of 209.4 yards per game. That was almost two yards better than O'Brien's great record compiled in 1938.

However, Bartosh has some ground to cover before he can take over as the Frogs' "gainingest back," especially in the throwing department. For instance, in 1938 O'Brien set the record of 110 completions for 1733 yards, 20 touchdowns and a .567 average. Berry hit 106 times in 1918 for 1445 yards and Baugh completed 109 for 1371 yards in 1936—his best year in college.

Against this Bartosh completed only 77 passes last fall for 1023 yards but his average of .513 is topped only by O'Brien's 1938 record.

A Good Runner, Too
On the other hand, Bartosh supplements his throwing with great running—a department in which the others were only fair.

In short, Bartosh, called "The Granger Ghost" because he hails from Granger, Tex., where he was great shakes as a grinder, had a total offensive mark as a sophomore of 1885 yards which is topped only by O'Brien's 2286 in 1938. It's no wonder Meyer is optimistic. Of course, things could happen. Bartosh has been active in the Naval reserve and is due to be commissioned an ensign upon graduation. In fact, he could go to Annapolis if he wished.

Had Knee Operation
There had been some worry over Bartosh because of a torn knee cartilage. But an operation was performed and although he will miss spring training, physicians say he will be ready to go at full speed next fall.

In Meyer's opinion, Bartosh may become the best "all-around" back in TCU history. By that, he means passing, running and play selection.

Injured In Fall
Emmett Barton is under treatment in South Plains Hospital at Amherst after falling at his home recently.

Mr. Barton sustained a laceration on the head and a slight fracture at the lower back of the neck. His condition is reported as "slightly improved."

Lexington, Ky., was the scene of 17 harness races or time trials in which a sulky puller covered a mile in two minutes or better during 1950.

Fashion Dramatizes WHITE for New Importance this Spring and Summer

White linen takes a dramatic look with its black velvet collar, cuffs and belt. Hannah Troy adds glittering rhinestone buttons to adorn the front and set off the large hip pockets that soften the sheath-skirt. Hat by Mr. John.

The "White Look" is the right look for the Easter parade this year, as white comes to the fore in all of the new exciting fabrics from cotton to woollens.

White breaks into print with black and deep-hued overtones . . . discreet geometric patterns . . . navy, green or red dots . . . or exotic florals.

Black and white checks—large or small patterns . . . bold or sedate plaids; stripes from fine-lined stringings to brilliant multi-colored wide stripes, go on white grounds.

The short white coat is destined to top everything this Spring for 'round the clock wear and you'll find it in suede cloths, tweed mixtures and fleecy woollens.

Look for flip white linen dusters to make fashion headlines in smart wardrobes again; this year they're enhanced with velvet trimmings at sleeves and necklines.

Daytime white are excellent dressed-up looking with stiffened hipline jackets over slender skirts and they make real news in fine . . . crisp fallies and rich shantung.

Deep-hued log-coat ensembles with either silk or cloth coats, top simply-detailed all white frocks or white ground prints.

Little white jackets, capelets, and boleros . . . bright in faille, faffeta, linens and others, give a crisp, brisk look to jet and jewel-toned talleur frocks.

White and off-white silks in crisp and tissue-weight shantung, honans, silk shirtings with white grounds for sharp, keen stripes and lots and lots of white sheers in stiff, and soft, filmy fabrics—are all destined for Spring smartness.

The newest cottons wear that white, bright look in textured fabrics . . . with extra emphasis on novelty piques . . . batistes and voiles . . . dotted swisses and other perennial cotton favorites.

For nights, too, white takes on a fresh sparkle and vivacity in bouffant, draped or slender formal wear. White lace gains dramatic impetus over the full . . . of velvet underskirts. They are gay, billowy cocktail-length and long-gown classies scored and dramatized with glitter . . . braid . . . fringe and other high-fashion notes. White lends itself well to the colorful accessory groups of the new season and invites itself into every woman's wardrobe for around the clock, around the season wear.

The first patent on FM type of radio transmission was issued in 1902, but this method as a means of broadcasting did not come into general use until later.

Look what the Smart Money's buying

Now that the 1951 offerings of the motorcar industry have had a chance to strut their stuff, we ask you—can there be any doubt which is the really smart buy?

If you want a "new look"—Buick has it. That sturdy push-bar forefront says "1951" to all who see it—and provides unsurpassed front-end protection to boot.

If you want power that you can live with through many moons to come—Buick has that too. Years of expert engineering have made Buick's thrill-packed Fireball engine just about as dependable as a power plant can be.

If you want features that combine present pleasure with long-time durability, consider this:

Buick's level-going ride stems from coil springs on all four wheels which are virtually break-proof and never need servicing.

Buick's Dynaflo Drive* takes the strain out of every mile of driving—and pays off by eliminating any need for friction clutch repairs and replacements, by reducing engine and transmission upkeep, and lengthening life of tires.

If you want room and comfort and handling that make any trip a breeze—there's no simpler way to find them than to take over a '51 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—relax and enjoy yourself.

And if you want all this at a minimum outlay of dollars—one look at Buick prices will settle this point.

So the smartest thing you can do is get in touch with your Buick dealer. How about doing that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models
- Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, StepOn parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

Nine Candidates To Be on School Ticket at Olton

Both city and school elections in Olton promised sharp contests last week as filing deadlines passed.

G. H. Bley, well-liked service station operator, has entered the race for mayor against Lefty Hollinsworth and D. Y. Ray has announced for the council seat occupied by Pink Lawson.

The school ballot will have the names of nine candidates, although one of them has asked the Olton Enterprise to announce that he has withdrawn.

School Secretary B. A. Dodson says that petitions have been filed for incumbents Truitt Sdies, Tom McGill and Tom Sluder, as well as Glen Exter, I. V. Fent and C. L. Anderson on one ticket and Chury Phillips, Wallace Hackler and Lee Green on another. Green has asked that his name be removed from the list of candidates, however.

Only Anderson, Fent and Exter have released policy statements in the school board race.

Members of the present city government say they feel the policies of the present administration speak for themselves. They have asked public to consider these policies and return the administration to office only if they approve them.

Bley, contacted for a statement last week, said that he had decided to announce only after several persons urged him to run.

Supplies Deficient With Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron

Elmer Hisel, 3225 2nd Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children. And when little four-year-old Lucille Hisel wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should, she decided to try HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress by deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin. It was so much that now Mrs. Hisel gives HADACOL to both of her children.

As what Mrs. Hisel says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and she is better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who don't have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before HADACOL, my daughter had a bad stomach and she was hurting. I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach is better. I think HADACOL is wonderful. It is giving HADACOL to my four-year-old daughter."

HADACOL is so effective that you get Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron in liquid form which means that they are absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go to work. HADACOL helps to increase the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is present) to carry these precious minerals to every part of your body.
