New 'Clue' In Phares Case Adds No Light To Mystery

New clue that was added to Phares case fizzled this week. When man found a car mat north of the spot in eastern county where Jack Phares, brother, told officers earlier had taken him and gazed out the sand hills. The man was on gravel when he found the mat in a barrow ditch. Officers at the time it might have been knocked out a car during unloading of a barrow. Phares was thoroughly searched and nothing was found to add light to the case of the missing man. Phares has proclaimed his innocence from the first. Bill, who is charged with the murder of his wife, and Jack, who is charged with perjury, in connection with the case remained in the Hale county jail. No word has been received by officers on a release on bail for either of the men. Officers feel that the mat has no significant connection with the case, said it was just one more lead they felt had to be followed in hopes of learning something new. The men have appealed Judge Bill's denial of a writ of habeas corpus to the state court of appeals but no date has been set for the hearing.

We hear a water witcher has been offering to find the Phares body (if any) with his divining rod if officers will come along and dig it up after he locates it. Haven't heard whether anyone took him up on the deal.

One of the interesting items mentioned in the story about Wilford Moore being named head coach of Lubbock's Westerners is that Moore is a graduate of Littlefield High school (1936), and was an outstanding athlete here. He lettered more than once in almost every sport while here.

One of the problems of local integration may have been solved this week when Maurice Powell, principal of Dunbar almost ever since there has been a Dunbar, accepted a teaching position at Amarillo Air Force Base. More white citizens seemed more concerned about firing him than almost any other facet of the integration move. He told reporters, however, that he would return if the school board asked him to.

Lamb County Teachers To Hear Dr. Hill

Dr. Lebn Hill, Baptist Evangelist of Amarillo, will be guest speaker at the Lamb County Teachers' Meeting at Olton, Monday night. Mrs. Grace Smith, program chairman of the local unit, said she felt very fortunate in being able to secure such a renowned speaker. Dr. Hill appeared in 27 states last year in carrying out 167 speaking engagements, including the Baccalaureate address at the University of Missouri.

Dr. Hill, sometimes referred to as the "rock and roll" type speaker, prepares for each engagement by adapting his program to the interest of the audience. The evangelist is a humorous speaker of 25 years' experience in addressing national associations and societies. A resident of Amarillo for the past 15 years, Dr. Hill pastored the San Jacinto Baptist church in that city for eight years. He will not be new to this type audience, having recently appeared before the Missouri State Teachers' Convention.

Bulletins On Vaccine Are Sent To Parents

Howard Horne, Lamb county chairman for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has announced that a special bulletin regarding polio vaccination has been sent home by every school child in Lamb county. He urges parents to read the bulletin. The bulletin advises parents to ask their own doctor's advice. Bulletins from the National Foundation have been sent to all doctors.

Local hospitals have Salk vaccine for their patients. The government has set aside funds to purchase vaccine for distribution to states and territories. Each state determines how this vaccine is to be used. Therefore, plans vary from place to place. The local price for shots is $3.00 per shot. As long as supplies are limited young children must have priority. Age limits vary from one to 14 years of age receive vaccine first. More than two-thirds of paralytic polio occurs in this age group each year.

It is believed that there is enough vaccine available, before the polio epidemic period starts, for every infant and child through the age of 14 for whom vaccine is requested.

Condition Of Mrs. Pharris Remains Serious

Condition of Mrs. Charles Pharris, who was injured East of Littlefield Friday afternoon in a head-on collision, remains serious. Highway patrolman, Martin Peterson, reported that patrolmen and sheriff's deputies are still investigating the case. He did say however that charges of excessive speed and being on the wrong side of the highway would be filed against the driver of the 1956 Mercury that hit the Plymouth driven by Mrs. Pharris.

The accident occurred one and one-half miles east of town Friday afternoon when Mrs. Pharris was returning to Littlefield from Wilson, Texas, where she teaches school. The driver of the Mercury, registered to B. L. McQuire, attempted to pass a pick-up driven by E. J. Brandt and hit the Pharris' car head-on.

Burglars Carry Off Safe From South Plains Creamery Monday Night

Burglars entered the back door of the South Plains Creamery, 514 Phelps Avenue, in Littlefield some time Monday or early Tuesday and took a safe that was approximately three feet square. They evidently carried the safe out of the building the same way they entered.

The safe contained very little money, but did contain valuable papers, company records, etc., according to Viggo Peterson, owner of the creamery. Peterson also said that he had just recently dropped the insurance on the contents of the safe because he did not keep large sums of money in it.

The loss was discovered when Peterson went to the creamery before daylight to help load the trucks. He found that he had only one glove and went to the office to get the other glove. He discovered the loss when he started out of the small office behind the front where ice cream is served. Sheriff Dick Dyer said that the burglars could easily load the safe without being noticed since three trucks and two pick-ups were backed up to the loading docks.

Sheriff's deputies spent all day Tuesday searching caliche pits and other places where the safe might have been abandoned, but no trace of the safe has been found.

In the round discussion Tuesday it was indicated that the area-wide organization will get away as much as possible from county organizations and will remain separate and apart from other farm organizations.

Some counties reported they were assessing growers and ginners and others in the industry. 15 cents a bale so as to finance local promotion as well as come into the area growers' group.

There will be no county organizations, as such, of the Plains Cotton Growers.

Directors voted to issue membership from the central office and give contributor members exact receipts for their contribution.

Associated Plan Discarded
They discussed associate membership status but held to the idea of maintaining strictly members.

It was recommended by the finance group that a special committee be appointed to contact business firms for contributions.

The press, radio and television stations will be asked to help National Cotton Week, May 14-19, this year.

News media will be invited to sit in on all meetings of the Plains Cotton Growers. The directors voted unanimously for this at the meeting.

Articles of Incorporation for the organization were explained to the group by attorney Gordon Treadway. This instrument was signed by officers of the group. Treadway explained that Lloyd Croslin, another Lubbock attorney, had assisted in drawing up the papers for incorporation, which will be sought under requirements and regulations of the secretary of state as a non-profit organization.

Forming of the corporation is to give the organization a business-like direction and to eliminate personal liability, it was explained. Incorporation will be sought immediately.

Named incorporators are Fortenberry, Wilmer Smith, Wilson, M. A. (Rip) Elms, Jr., Littlefield. All are officers of the organization.

LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS
February 17, 1956
TO LITTLEFIELD INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD:

We, the undersigned patrons of the Dunbar School do hereby petition the Littlefield Independent School District Board, that if the Dunbar boys and girls are integrated with the white students during the next school term that Negro teachers also be hired in proportion as the need requires. If the Negro teachers are denied this consideration, we petition that the Dunbar School remain as an elementary school, and the high school students be integrated in the Littlefield High School. We further petition that if an elementary school is maintained in this community that Negro teachers be hired as staff members. We feel it justifiable to integrate students and necessary Negro teachers, or go on and build an elementary school for the Negroes. Humbly submitted,

For Commissioner

I hereby announce my candidacy for Commissioner, Precinct 3, Lamb County, Texas. Because my farming interests are in this precinct, I recognize the importance to myself and my neighbors of a progressive county administration. As a citizen, I realize that I have a responsibility to work for those things which will improve our area. For that reason I have decided to become a candidate for this office.

I pledge myself to work for more farm-to-market roads, the development of U. S. Highway 84, as a major artery, and the promotion of a program to create a better market for farm products. I came to Lamb county in 1929, living in the Sudan community until 1936, when I moved to Littlefield. Seven years later I moved to Spade, serving on the school board while I made my home there. In 1944 my family and I came back to Littlefield, living here until 1949. We then moved to Colorado, but in February, 1955, we bought our home at 314 E. 14th here, and returned to make this our permanent home. Our farm is located at Spade.

My wife is the former Evelyn Garlington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Garlington. We have one son, Bill, 13 years of age, in the 7th grade of the Littlefield schools.
In the near future I will announce my complete platform. In the meantime, I will appreciate any suggestions that the people of this precinct can give me. (Adv.)

By MAXINE CLARIDA

We have been making a survey since the Chamber of Commerce banquet last week. Our ex-teacher, Burl Huffman said, "Let's declare a moratorium on criticism in 1956." We got to thinking about that. Naturally we thought of the saying, "Sweep around your own door then clean around your neighbors." We got up the other morning and started taking notes on people and their criticism. Do people actually mean what they say, or are they just passing the time of day? The first persons who came in contact with were the boys. They were eating cereal they dearly love most of the time, but wanted oatmeal and cream of wheat instead. Couldn't help think that is like most critics, just plain onery.

Next we met the milkman, Jack Hardin, he up set the applecart. He said that it was a beautiful day and he was having a very easy time. We got down in time to answer the telephone to a woman telling us that the delivery boy had thrown her paper in water, and would we please deliver her another???

Our next observation was a woman who was in the ten cent store buying tape, it wasn't as dark a navy as she wanted. Navy is only one color???

We went on down and were fixing to buy a piece of material that we liked for a new dress, but the clerk was so busy telling all we could do and had done on the paper that she didn't make the sale. Just decided to buy it someplace where we were appreciated.

Perfection For Pork Chops

At today's prices, it's hard to beat pork for economy and good nourishment. Mrs. Hazel P. Hickman, Lamb county HD agent says that pork, like other lean meats, provides high quality protein as well as iron and niacin. It is especially important as a source of vitamin B1, or thiamine.

Pork does require very thorough cooking. The secret of proper cooking is not to dry it out before it is completely cooked. Mrs. Hickman says braising, or cooking in moist heat, is the best solution for cooking pork chops and steaks.

It's easy to do—simply season chops with salt and pepper. Flour or "bread" if desired and brown slowly on both sides. Add a small amount of liquid. This may be water, orange, pineapple or apple juice, tomato juice or sauce, or other fruit juice. Cover pan tightly and simmer on top of range, or in slow (225 degree F.) oven, until meat is tender. More liquid may be added as needed. It requires at least 1 hour 30 minutes to fully cook and tenderize the pork chops.

Pork spare ribs, tenderloin filets, or whole tenderloin are also delicious when braised. The moist heat and low temperature makes

4-H Club Week Is March 3-11 In Texas

Governor Allan Shivers has called attention to the scope and activities of the State's 4-H club organization through a special proclamation issued on February 6.

The Governor said, "There are now 121,044 4-H club members and more than 10,600 adult leaders engaged in work of the 4-H club in Texas.

This organization provides voluntary training for boys and girls between the ages of 9-21, not only in agriculture and home economics but in preparation for better citizenship. For more than four decades the state of Texas has profited from the 4-H club training given its young people.

This voluntary youth program has a nationwide enrollment of more than 2,000,000 and 42 foreign countries now have organized 4-H clubs.

In Texas 4-H club work is directed by the Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M College system. The 691 county extension agents are responsible for developing and directing 4-H clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Angeley and daughter, Jody, Leroy Hicks, and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Angeley were in Morton the first of the week, filling out their income tax forms. While there they all visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Angeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hicks attended the funeral services of Mrs. A. J. Jones in the West Camp Baptist church, southeast of Farwell last Thursday. Leroy is a nephew of Mrs. Jones.

The regular community meeting that was to have been held Tuesday night, Feb. 14, was not held due to lack of attendance. The next meeting will be February 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Free are parents of a son, born Feb. 14, at a Lubbock hospital. Mrs. Free and new son returned to their home in the Pleasant Valley community Thursday. Her mother, Mrs. Wedel of Littlefield, is staying a few days with the Frees. The Frees have a daughter, Gyneth.

club work in the 254 counties. They work with young people, parents, volunteer leaders and friends of 4-H.

As agriculture is important to the welfare of Texas, so better agricultural and home economics practices and more highly trained leaders are important to the future of our state.

Now, therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 3-11 as 4-H Club Week and recommend the County Judges join with me in proclaiming this week throughout Texas, and urge all our citizens to participate in its observance.

All Texas 4-H members also extend an invitation to the public to share with them their observations.

A fixed point on the crankshaft of a standard truck revolves about three billion times every 100,000 miles. It travels a distance about 16 times around the earth.

Root knot disease can be controlled in garden soils by fumigation. Local county agents can supply information on how to do the job.

Wayne Wicker To Assist With Revival Services

Rev. Dave Crow, pastor of the Cotton Center Baptist church, has announced that Carlos McCloud, pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church, will conduct revival services beginning February 22nd and continuing through March 4th. Wayne Wicker of Littlefield will lead in the song services.

We refuse to mislead the public by lowering the price only on the model you seldom ask for... and make up the difference on the models you like best. Remember... EVERY NEW FORD COSTS YOU LESS AT HALL'S.

19th annual nationwide survey of car owners—by independent research organization*—shows Mercury leads its price class as "best value for the money." Whether you pick a Montclair, Monterey, or Custom, you get more car in four big ways!

- 1. NEW REFLEX-ACTION PERFORMANCE—Go, stop, pass, climb, turn. THE BIG M responds instantly to your every command, adjusts instantly to every road. We call it "reflex action"—a new kind of performance that makes all your driving easier, safer—and far more comfortable than ever before.
- 2. NEW BIG M BEAUTY—Here is fresh, clean, graceful beauty for the young-minded. Mercury's lines are long, sleek, road-hugging. New Flo-Tone color styling is radiant and dramatic. You enjoy a distinction in THE BIG M that is unmatched in Mercury's price class.

- 3. NEW SAFETY-FIRST DESIGN—You get the widest choice of safety features in the field. At no extra cost, there's an impact-absorbing safety steering wheel (an exclusive in Mercury's field) and triple-strength safety door locks. And optional features such as seat belts and padded instrument panel.
- 4. PROVABLE VALUE—Here's value you can see, and measure! Low first cost. Low operating costs. High resale value. And Mercury trade-in value has remained consistently high. No wonder Mercury was voted "best value in its field." Better see us soon.

For 1956—the big move is to THE BIG MERCURY

Cadillac

Stepping Out...With His Two Loves!

It's the hour of twilight!
And what happier prospect could a man ask for a wonderful evening. For tonight he's stepping out with his two favorite companions—the lady in his life . . . and the car in his life!
And you can rest assured that the "car of cars" will make a contribution all of its own to his evening's enjoyment.
First of all, there will be the inner satisfaction a man always feels as he steps into his Cadillac and settles behind the wheel. All about him will be the inspiration of Cadillac's luxury . . . and beauty . . . and graciousness.
Then there will be the thrill of Cadillac's marvelous performance. Driving will be so easy and so effortless that every mile will be a mile of relaxation and pleasure.
There will be the contentment that comes with Cadillac's great safety . . . and the comforting knowledge that he—and his lady—are surrounded with every comfort and safeguard known to automotive science.
And, finally, there will be the joy of arriving in the "car of cars" . . . and of catching those glances of admiration that will come his way as he pulls to the curbstone at journey's end.
Little wonder, then, that Cadillac owners have so great an affection for their motor cars.
And their sentiments etch themselves all the more deeply in the light of Cadillac's great economy and practicality. For how wonderful it is to know that the satisfactions of Cadillac ownership are coming from motordom's soundest and wisest investment.
Why not come in soon—with your lady—and "step out" for an hour or so at the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac? The car is waiting for you . . . and we'll be delighted to do the honors!

Cotton Ginners Course Is Announced

Cotton ginners are being given an opportunity to pick-up information which Howard W. Zuch, extension cotton gin specialist, will help keep the quality of the state's number one crop.

The Texas Cotton Ginning Course is scheduled for February 28-29 and is the first of annual short courses sponsored by the Extension Service of the Texas A&M College System.

On the second day, participants will go to selected gins in the area where engineers and personnel from the companies which furnished the machinery for the particular gin will discuss the use, care, maintenance and general operation of the equipment. Manufacturers participating include the Continental Gin Company; Hardwick-Etter Company; Lummus Cotton Gin Company; John E. Mitchell Company and the Murray Company of Texas.

Zuch says registration for the short course should be made thru the Ginners' Association. There is no registration fee.

Eight Religious Leaders Will Visit Russia

A deputation of eight Protestant leaders from six American denominations, headed by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake (Presbyterian USA), president of the National Council of Churches, will leave New York for Moscow, Russia, by plane on March 9, returning on March 22. In June, a group of Russian churchmen will visit the USA. The visit, the National Council says, "will afford an opportunity for extended talks and exchange of views on the life and work of the churches, including the efforts of the churches toward achieving a just and durable peace." Besides Dr. Blake, the delegation includes: the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, New York, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church; the Rev.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America; Charles C. Parlin, New York lawyer and Methodist lay member; the Rev. Dr. Herbert Gezork, Newton Center, Mass., Baptist, president of Andover-Newton Theological Seminary; the Rev. Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, associate general secretary of the National Council; the Rev. Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, executive director of the Department of International Affairs of the National Council; and Dr. Paul B. Anderson, secretary of the International Committee of the National Councils of the U. S. and Canada YMCA.

People are becoming increasingly impatient. The other day when a California motorist came upon a house being moved across the street, he drove right on through it. In some cases an ounce of prevention may be worth only a pound of cure, but with reference to a hangover, it's worth a ton of cure.

Corn Yield To Increase Plant Hybrids
Farmers who plant corn should set as their objective maximum production at the lowest possible cost per bushel. The planting of an adapted corn hybrid, says L. C. Coffey, associate extension agronomist, is a mighty important step toward achieving the objective.
Coffey reports that Texas farmers last year averaged 23.4 bushels of corn an acre, the highest average acre yield on record. Over the past 20 years the average has been approximately 16.5 bushels. Last year approximately 5 percent of the acreage planted was seeded with hybrids.
However, he says, the late March 1955 freeze caused many farmers to go to their cribs for planting seed because the supply of adapted hybrids was exhausted. The results from planting second-generation hybrids or open-pollinated seed were good because of the excellent growing conditions but Coffey warns that such yields cannot be expected under more adverse conditions.
He says that neither second-generation hybrids nor open-pollinated varieties will produce yields comparable to adapted hybrids. Research studies and tests show that adapted hybrids produce from 35 to 75 percent greater yields than the best open-pollinated varieties with even greater differences under good conditions. Second-generation hybrid seed will produce about the same yields as open-pollinated varieties, says the agronomist.

Coffey advises farmers who plant corn to make their usual purchase of an adapted hybrid. "Don't," he adds, "take a chance on harvesting less corn per acre in 1956 by planting seed which under normal growing conditions will not produce top yields."
Corn breeders, over a 75-year period, have developed hybrids which are adapted to the corn producing areas of the state and Coffey strongly recommends checking with the local agent for information on the hybrid for your area.
Lathyrism is a deformation of domestic animals, humans in some parts of the world, which is caused by eating seeds of common vetch or some other related plants.

Plentiful Foods
List Released
For March

Homemakers will find more than a dozen favorite foods on the March plentiful list. Pork, beef and broilers and fryers top the meat list. Supplies of all are heavier than a year ago with broilers up almost 50 percent.

Sharp increases in carryover mean that offset production cutbacks in the past. Supplies of domestic and export demands.

Sizable stocks of potatoes are available a year ago with heavier supplies in the east and lightest in this area, says the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Fresh and processed grapefruit continue in heavy supply with the last crop report showing an increase of a million boxes over the previous month.

Canned and frozen cherries are in heavy supply with the prices below any recent year except 1950-51 season.

The date harvest was delayed because of weather and the crop is above the average.

Milk and other dairy products are on the March list. Milk production is at record levels with the flush spring season ahead.

Other foods include peanuts, canned tuna in oil, vegetable fats and oils, and pinto beans.

Drive Is Started On Know & Obey
Traffic Laws

"The deliberate traffic violator who takes the life of an innocent person in a traffic accident is not far removed from the crime of murder."

This statement was made by Mr. E. C. McFadden of Dallas, vice president of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., today as he commented on the importance of the Texas Safety Association and Department of Public Safety's Know and Obey Traffic Laws program, which is being conducted in Texas this month in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"Traffic accidents are a serious problem—serious to each and every one of us," Mr. McFadden said. "National Safety Council records show that 56,000 persons were killed and 1,250,000 persons were injured in motor-vehicle accidents in 1954."

Pointing out that more than half of the drivers involved in all accidents in 1954 were violating one or more traffic laws, Mr. McFadden emphasized the increasing need for more stringent laws relating to traffic violations and stiffer penalties for traffic offenders. Suggesting increased vigilance on the part of law enforcement officials, he indicated how the motor vehicle licensing bureau and the traffic court might help solve the traffic accident problem by more effective methods of controlling the number of traffic violators. One of these would be by the revoking of the driver's license. Another by stiffer fines and jail sentences.

"The traffic violator is a detriment to our society," Mr. McFadden said. "When we learn to deal with him by more effective corrective measures and to cut down on his reprehensible indifference to human life on our highways and city streets, we shall begin to make strides toward the solution of our traffic fatalities problem."

More than a dozen favorite foods are listed on the March plentiful list. Included are pork, beef, broilers and fryers, rice, potatoes, grapefruit, canned and frozen cherries, dates, milk and other dairy products. Also peanuts, canned tuna in oil, vegetable fats and oils and pinto beans.

Deserve A Kind Word

School boards never have it easy. At times like this they especially hard. The seven dedicated men who make up the board are devoting a great deal of time and effort and at right now to the problem of how best to integrate our schools, and they are taking an awful beating from the various factions.

There are those who oppose integration in any form, and want to put it off until the law points its finger directly at them and says, "You integrate now."

There are those who want to integrate next fall and hire teachers to replace the colored ones now in the system, and the course the board adopted at its last meeting.

There are those who want the schools completely integrated and one or more of the best qualified colored teachers.

The board members have each spent dozens of hours and the arguments of each of these groups. They have weighed them and have made a decision based on collective best judgment. But after hearing the despicable of the colored citizens Monday evening, they are rethinking the whole thing.

The compromise plan to seem to be drawing some support from all three of the above factions. It would integrate the schools but would continue to operate a grade school in the town using colored teachers. Children could attend either school they wished.

Our seven trustees are giving this plan careful consideration with all the others. We may feel confident that their final decision, it will represent what these men believe to be the best interests of Littlefield children white and black, and it will have been arrived at only after giving careful consideration to every alternative that has been suggested.

Whatever their decision, they deserve our support. They are making a determined effort to serve our community well, and a considerable personal sacrifice. Let's let them know we appreciate their efforts, and not make it any harder for them than necessary.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

President Eisenhower's platform out from the Republican Party in his Democratic support in the Lone Star State, he vetoed the now famous gas bill.

"The bill," said the President, "would risk creating doubt in the American people concerning the integrity of government processes." This statement cost $2,500 campaign contributions offered a Senator, probably for his vote favoring the bill.

Support was given Ike in when the native son ran for office, because of his State's stand. Another factor was action. Jack Porter, the Republican party's national committeeman from Texas, said that he disagreed with the advice upon which the President's action was based. The veto will make Porter's job in Texas more difficult.

Public officials and oil men in general seem in agreement that passage over the President's veto is impossible. Therefore, Texas' next move may be a campaign to bring industries to Texas. This, because gas produced in a state and used by manufacturers located within that state is not subject to control by the Federal Power Commission.

Ike's veto was a set-back to Senator Daniel who promised to report his future political plans by March 1. "Delay in passage of the farm bill, and the Presidential veto of the natural gas bill, may mean that I will not be able to reach a decision as early as I had planned, regarding the governorship race," said Daniel. "But we may have to fight this out on the home front in Texas," he added—still paying the way for entry in the governor's race.

Two Question Marks

Two big question marks remaining in Texas' current political scene are the intentions of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey. No one seems to know what either will do.

Shepperd, only recently regarded as definitely planning retirement to private business, again is being discussed as a possible candidate, either for re-election or for governor. His only comment has been that, "The frost is still on the dogwood," interpreted as "it's too early for political announcements."

A growing number of editorials urging him to continue in public office have appeared in several Texas dailies. The latest have been the Lufkin Daily News and the Cuero Daily Record. It was the latter newspaper that broke the veterans' block-land-sales story. The Cuero Record commended Shepperd on his work in the veterans' land investigation.

For Ramsey the suggested possibilities include (1) running for governor, (2) running for re-election, (3) waiting for a possible U. S. Senate race, or (4) retiring to San Augustine. He has given no public hint.

Insurance Story

Texas' once-explosive insurance story is beginning to lag. Industry spokesmen hopefully termed the new stage a "curative period."

Both legislative investigating groups have adjourned. Though more hearings are expected, predictions are that they have about run their course in making headlines.

Carbons of 11 letters written by A. B. Shoemaker, head of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty Co., to the then Insurance Commissioner Garland Smith, made headlines. However, the commissioners had reported earlier that they knew the firm was selling securities. What they didn't know was how to get them stopped.

Insurance commissioners are urging companies to file replies to solvency questionnaires ahead of the May 31 deadline, if possible. Those passing the test will be announced in groups, starting perhaps in March.

One company, which failed before the test, Texas Union County Mutual of San Antonio, was placed in permanent receivership by an Austin district court.

Newest name in the insurance picture is that of State Treasurer Jesse James. He is reported to be "dumping private ventures for which he might be criticized." He owns 1001 share of stock in the International Life Insurance Co., which leases the major part of its building to the state. He also has been criticized for selling boats to the state.

James says he knew nothing about the International lease; and that he already has sold his boat dealership to his daughter and her husband.

According to the State Treasurer, he now can afford to get rid of all his private ventures since the legislature increased his pay from $4-19 a month take home, to an annual $17,500.

Legislative Code Sought

Former Gov. Dan Moody of Austin heads a special state bar committee named to work out a code of ethics for lawyer-legislators. Serving with Moody will be Bill Kerr of Midland, Page Keeton, dean of the University of Texas Law School, and probably three others.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, chairman of the house investigating committee, requested the bar study. He also suggested the Texas Legislative Council do similar research, including an evaluation of lobby laws and whether lawmakers are paid in proportion to their responsibilities.

Water Fight Hot

San Antonio and some 26 nearby towns are squabbling over rights to one of the state's most controversial resources—water.

San Antonio wants an appropriation of some 100,000 acre feet of water per year from the proposed Canyon Dam and reservoir near Now Braunfels. Officials in communities in a 10-county area in the Guadalupe River Basin have organized an opposing campaign.

A hearing on the San Antonio application is scheduled by the State

Sandhills

Philosopher . . .

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is needlessly worried over an idea this week, but he'd rather worry than work any day.

Dear Editor:

I never have been afraid of a new idea, doesn't make any difference if most of the new ones aren't any improvement on the old ones, but I ran across one the other night that has me worried.

According to it, there's a move on to eliminate paying government employees by check. Under the proposed system, say a man was working for the government. Instead of being issued a check every week, he'd just be given credit at the bank. This, they say, would eliminate the tremendous job of writing checks for millions of government workers each week, and eliminate long lines at the bank, etc.

I don't know about this. About the only time actually a lot of people have any money is the interval between the minute they get their pay check and the minute they deposit it at the bank, on account of they've already written enough checks to take it up. They're not depositing money, they're covering checks.

Also, if this system worked for government employees, it wouldn't be long before it was expanded to private business, and it would not be long before somebody thought of the wasted time in paying taxes by check. Just have this government, city, county, state or Federal, send a memorandum to the bank docking the tax payer for taxes due, whether property or income, and when he got his bank statement at the end of the month he could find out how much the government's take was.

This idea could also be expanded to take in grocery stores, dry goods stores, filling stations, etc.

Board of Water Engineers for March 26.

And sending out monthly bank statements could be eliminated too. Just send out a yearly statement, and to further eliminate figures, the bank could adopt the same system schools now use, don't give exact figures, just say "Satisfactory," or "Unsatisfactory," which would indicate whether you were even or over drawn.

As you can see, this thing can lead to the elimination of some of life's happiest moments. As far as I'm concerned, there's just not anything more pleasant than a check made out to me, one I can hold in my hand and look at.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

LOUISE C. ALLEN

A bunch of us who were teenagers during World War I got into an animated discussion of "war effort" not long ago. In those days, the ladies recalled, one took part in the war effort by knitting khaki socks, making gauze bandages and eating cornbread.

"I've often wondered what one-legged giant got the sock I knit," one woman observed. Seems she was about fifteen, had no knack whatever with knitting needles. The sock grew and grew until the Red Cross chairman finally offered to take it and "finish off the toe." More than likely, its creator said, she finished off the sock instead, by ravelling it and salvaging the yarn.

Certainly, no one could ever have knit another to match it. So if it got into the mainstream of war action at all, it would have had to go to an amputee.

"I got one of those pairs of khaki socks," one of the men recalled. "They had a note inside with a name and address. Evidently the woman was sure it would go across the sea, so she put the note in as a morale booster. Only I got the socks and the note, and was stationed at San Antonio, about 100 miles from her hometown."

He said he borrowed his CO's coupe one weekend and drove over. The woman was about fifty years old, had a daughter his age. He said she was the most embarrassed woman he ever saw, sent him dancing with her daughter, "and nobody had a good time." But as long as the war lasted, she wrote him letters and sent candy or cake almost every week.

If we all had it to do over, we agreed, we'd stick to eating cornbread as the surest way "to help the cause."

Social Security Representative To Be Here March 1

A representative will be in Littlefield, Texas, on March 1, 1956, at 10:00 a.m., in the Employment Office. He will be glad to answer any questions in regard to Social Security.

Social security beneficiaries under age 72 during any part of 1955, whose earnings from active employment and/or self-employment exceed $1,200 for the taxable year, must file an annual report with the Social Security Administration according to John G. Hutton, District Manager of the Lubbock, Texas, Social Security Office.

These reports must be filed within two months and 15 days after the close of the taxable year. That date is March 15, 1956, for those who file their tax returns on a calendar year basis. This should not be confused with the income tax return deadline which is April 15th. Those who file their returns on a fiscal year basis must file their annual reports within the 2 1/2 month period following the end of their taxable year.

In those cases where a beneficiary has a taxable year of less than 12 months, being caused by death or by a taxable year change approved by the Director of Internal Revenue, an annual report is required if the earnings from active employment and/or self-employment exceed $100 times the number of months in such short taxable year.

Annual report forms will be mailed to those beneficiaries who told the Social Security Administration that they expected to earn more than $1200 in 1955. Failure to receive a report form does not relieve an individual beneficiary of his obligation to make a timely report if his earnings exceed the $1200. The law provides penalties for failure to file within the time limit. Forms will be available at your Social Security Administration District Office early in 1956. Mr. Hutton pointed out that the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act provide that ALL earnings will be counted in determining whether or not the $1200 has been exceeded. This includes earnings from excluded professions as well as earnings from employment not covered by the Social Security Act. Investment income such as rentals and royalties is not included as earnings except in the rare instance where received during the regular operation of real estate business. Interest on money loaned is excluded unless the person is in a loan business. Please remember that these rules apply for social security purposes only, not as a guide for filing tax returns.

Council Discusses Medical Aid Distribution

"There is no question that there are superior medical services in the United States—stillful doctors, nurses, and dentists; well-equipped hospitals; outstanding teaching and research institutes," says Miss Marion K. Craine, of the Social Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago, speaking to church social action leaders. "But neither is there any doubt that such seemingly irrelevant matters as geography, race, economic status, and even type of employment have something to do with whether or not a person's health needs are met. . . . Certainly the rural areas, especially in sparsely populated states, know the price paid for health and medical services because the nearest doctor is miles away or the nearest hospital is one hundred miles distant. . . . Only in a matter of short personnel and facilities, which had enough, but even medical is the uneven distribution of doctors, dentists, nurses, hospitals, etc. . . . In the New England Central Atlantic states (1950) ratio of doctors to population about one physician per 3,000 population. At the extreme were the southern states where the ratio was about one per 11,000 population.

Driver Education Classes Get First Driver Trainer Car From Hall Motor

Thursday morning, Mancil Hall of Hall Motor Co. delivered the first car to be used in Driver Education to Gene Mayfield, instructor of the course and Glen Reeves, principal of Littlefield High School.

Automobile dealers drew last Fall to see which dealer would furnish the first car for the class. Mancil Hall drew the lucky ticket. The other dealers will furnish cars in rotation. The car is furnished at no expense to the school.

The course stresses safety, good judgment and alertness at all times as well as developing proper driver attitudes and skills.

The program was offered to students in the Littlefield High school for the first time at mid-term. Approximately 32 students are now enrolled in the course. Senior high school students who have not already been through driver education may enroll in the classes.

Minimum age for driver education students is 14 years old and they must have the written consent of their parents to enroll.

Students are given written tests which they must pass to get a restricted license, allowing them to drive while accompanied by a fully licensed driver. The tests are given by a member of the Texas Highway Patrol following successful completion of a driver education class.

To enter the behind-the-wheel driving phase, a student must pass the first six weeks of ninth grade social studies which is based on the laws and theory of driving.

Students are then given lessons introducing them to a car—from checking the gauges to following the fuel line and recognizing parts of an automobile.

Behind-the-wheel lessons then begin. Students are taught to drive in low, second, and high in sequence; then to shift back to lower gears and to back up.

Later they are permitted on little traveled streets to learn to turn around giving proper right and left hand signals, parallel park, make U turns, and turn in the middle of the street.

The course is arranged so that one teacher can teach 16 students. 32 students, 15 boys and 16 girls are now enrolled. Superintendent Ralph Schilling urges parents to co-operate with the plan and not to seek to obtain by other means licenses for drivers under 16 years.

Insurance Companies Favor Driver Training

Another item favoring the program is a credit of 10 per cent on premiums on car insurance now charged when a person under 25 is a member of the family and a driver of the car. This credit is to be allowed on the insurance premium each year as long as the youth who has school instruction in driver education (both in classroom and in behind-the-wheel) is a member of the family and drives the car.

The same credit would apply to insurance carried by a car owner-operator who is under 25 years and who has had the training, if he pays for his own insurance.
