NO. 30

ANNEX TO LITTLEFIELD WILL OPEN THIS WEEK

P. Duggan is this week for sale a fine body of land known as "Duggan Annex." It comprises nearly 50 acres, occupies a beautiful location adjacent to the original townsite on the east but three blocks from the square.

The property has been cut into 248 lots averaging 50x140 feet each, and the prices from $100 to $400 will be a restricted residential business concerns not being within its borders. It will be restricted as to cost of houses erected therein. The first tier calls for houses costing not over $2,500; the second tier, the third tier, $2,000; while the fourth tier permits dwellings cost- $1,000 or more.

Duggan, manager of the Littlefield townsite, owner and promoter of the Duggan Annex, will be in charge of the selling of this annex. He states that all streets in the annex, leading both ways have been fully graded. The streets have been numbered, also the lots have been numbered, so that anyone with a plot can determine the exact location of any particular lot. City water mains have been laid into the addition ready for purchasers to make connections to their homes as rapidly as they are built.

Duggan states that several lots have already been contracted for, but no sales will be made until the opening, which appears in an advertisement elsewhere in this newspaper.

IN COUNTY COURT

Cases of Local Interest Ground Out Last Week.

Cases in County court were heard last week, as follows:

Hand charged with the theft of four auto castings and tubes from Otto Geisler, alleged that the property was stolen about October 18th, was held on the charge. Lonnie Hogans charged jointly with Sand, coming up for trial next Saturday.

Case of G. M. Mason vs. J. C. Lubbock, wherein Mason is suing for damages on alleged breach of contract regarding the sale of cotton during the month of November last year. Mason demanded damages to the amount of $50. A. E. Bills was attorney for Mason, while Ben & Klett, of Littlefield, handled the case for Street. Barksdale tried on a charge of wherein it was alleged he had sold differential oil from L. B. some months ago, was acquitted on the charge by the jury. Barksdale defended by E. A. Bills.

RED LETTER DAYS

By A. B. CHAPIN

THE DAY YOU CAUGHT THE KICK-OFF ON YOUR OWN ONE YARD LINE AND RAN AND DODGED AND SIDE STEPPED THROUGH THE ENTIRE OPPOSING TEAM FOR THE WINNING TOUCHDOWN — AND THE TOWN PAPER CAME OUT THE NEXT DAY WITH A LARGE SPREAD THAT YOU WERE A SECOND RED ORANGE — OH, BOY — THEM WERE THE RED LETTER DAYS!

WHAT CAN BE DONE, SHOULD BE DONE

It is within the realm of possibility for the members of the local Chamber of Commerce to make all roads lead to Littlefield. The one thing necessary is to persuade the outside buyers to turn their cars in this direction.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAD A FEAST AND SPEAKFEST AT GOLD STAR CAFE; 60 MEMBERS PRESENT SATURDAY NIGHT

One of the most interesting and profitable meetings of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce was the one held last Friday night in the spacious dining room of the Gold Star Cafe.

There were 60 business men who sat down to the banquet tables spread with the sumptuous menu prepared by Mrs. Maude Foster and her corps of efficient assistants. The repast was delicious, every member present enjoying himself to the utmost of his anatomy, some of them, apparently having to put on the sidboards for dessert.

Judge E. A. Bills, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster of the occasion, and a good one, introducing each speaker with appropriate remarks and interspersing with numerous sketches and stories to the enjoyment of all present. He declared that the his time of introductory speech-making was limited to 10 minutes, yet if he had ten million minutes he could not begin to tell all the wonderful development of Littlefield during the past few years. He pointed with pride to the large numbers of new brick business houses now being erected here, told of the city water works now being completed and the sewer bonds soon to come up for voting, recalled the fact of the good roads being finished in this vicinity through the activity of the Chamber of Commerce and stated as fact that the $300,000 recently granted Lamb county for highway improvement in this county came through the endeavor of the local organization.

Rev. L. L. Cooper spoke on the subject, "How Littlefield appears to an outsider." He said he first heard of Littlefield through some Yellow House Land Co., literature that came to his hands, and every since reading it had been interested in the town and its growth. The things that impressed him here most was the fine public schools and the high degree of integrity and aggressiveness of its citizenry.

W. H. Badger told of some things

Littlefield needed. Among those things enumerated were a good lighting system, better roads leading into town, a big hotel, cotton compress and oil mill, better sanitation, plenty of co-operation and with these, he said Littlefield will soon become a city known far and wide. Mr. Badger has unbounded faith in the future of Littlefield—the kind it takes to develop great cities.

G. M. Shaw emphasized the need of a more concentrated effort on the part of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce, and declared there were two things he was always thankful for—one that he lived in Littlefield, and the other that he was only 38 miles from Lubbock. He told of having received about 50 letters as a result of his broadcasting last week over WBAP radio, Fort Worth, Littlefield's wide famed chicken barbecue recipe.

A. P. Duggan, one of Littlefield's oldest citizens, took the members present back to 1913 when the townsite was first laid out, telling of the development of this little city up to the present time. Block 55 was laid out for school purposes, he said, and the house J. E. Brannen now lives in was the first schoolhouse. John Kling, W. G. Street and A. P. Duggan were the first school trustees. In 1914 the second teacher was added and the next year a $15,000 school building constructed. At that time it was thought that would be all that would ever be required. The transportation of children was begun at that time, also. This was the first school in this part of the state to start such an undertaking. The townsite and surrounding land was taken off the market during the World War. In 1921 it was put back again, and the second addition to the present grammar building, totaling a cost of about $60,000 was made. Last year an $88,000 high school was erected, and this year a $66,000 primary school building was put up. Littlefield has made a record in the transporting of her pupils. The cost

MARRIED AT KRESS

"Jimmie" Timian Slipped Away Last Thursday and Wedded.

Thursday of last week Herman (Jimmie) Timian slipped out of Littlefield after dark, accompanied by Miss Helen Stockgenger, going to Kress, where they were united in marriage by Rev. Wilms, pastor of the Lutheran church, at that place.

The newly weds returned home sometime during the wee hours of the morning, the bride and groom returning to their respective former places of abode just as though nothing unusual had happened. For several days they succeeded in hoodwinking the public regarding their nocturnal visit, but it remained for a news sleuth of the Leader to pick up the trail of their actions. When Jimmie was faced with the evidence he immediately pleaded guilty.

The wedding ceremony was performed at 11:35 p. m., by the minister but it has been reported since, that shortly after the young couple left the preacher's home the minister discovered his watch was 30 minutes slow, which raises the question as to whether the legal papers were really properly filled out or not, and whether Jimmie is actually married, or just thinks he is. At any rate Jimmie is going ahead and building a nice little home on property adjoining that of his father, A. Timian, opposite the Methodist church.

FOOTBALL GAMES

The Football game, which was played here Friday between Lubbock high school and the local high school team resulted with a score of 17-0 in favor of the visiting team.

The team went to Idalou, Armistic day, where a tie game was played. The score was 13-13.

ALL OVER UNITED STATES INTEREST IS AROUSED OVER OUR BARBECUE RECIPE

Since the broadcasting at Fort Worth of the recipe for the Littlefield famous barbecued chicken by G. M. Shaw, vice-president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, this organization has received about 40 letters of appreciation for the program and the recipe.

Inquiries and requests for the recipe have come in from Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Ohio, Iowa and, of course, Texas.

Great interest is expressed in these letters in regards to this method of barbecuing chicken, and thanks are expressed to Mr. Shaw and the Chamber of Commerce.

This is heralded as the most unique method of spreading interest and publicity in a community that has ever yet been put over. Littlefield stands alone as being original in its forms of advertising. These letters are being answered by the local Chamber of Commerce, and publicity about this section of the country is being enclosed in each letter.

DAVIS TO HEAD BIG CAMPAIGN OF COMMERCIAL BODY

A luncheon of members of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening at the Gold Star Cafe, President E. A. Bills presiding, introduced A. B. Davis, secretary of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, who gave an exceptionally interesting address on the "Value of the Chamber of Commerce to Any Community."

The meeting was held as a preliminary for introducing a big membership campaign here, and there was much interest manifest among the members present over the prospective outlook for a very successful consummation of the plan.

Mr. Davis expressed his gratitude at being of assistance to Littlefield in the proposed campaign, and told of the fine feeling existing between citizens of this town and his own city. He declared that the keen competition existing between growing towns all over this portion of the state made it mandatory that every ambitious place set forth in the most attractive manner its various assets and attractive features.

"The Chamber of Commerce is a community-wide organization," said Mr. Davis. "It is the only really wide community functioning in America today. The Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs represent specific classes of business and individuals, but the Chamber of Commerce represents all classes of people. It is a purely democratic organization, interested in the prosecution of all legitimate business."

"There are always two problems connected with any commercial organization," continued Mr. Davis. The problem of selling the idea to the public and that of financing it is always present. No group or class of people should run such an organization. Sometimes it is charged that such is the case, but upon investigation it is invariably found that the lead in such matters is taken by those highly patriotic citizens, while the complaints registered usually come from the ultra-conservatives, the tight-wads and the constitutional grouches of the community."

"For a Chamber of Commerce to be successful it must have a working membership," said Secretary Davis. In fact, man-power comes ahead of finances, while plenty of both represent the ideal condition. "Cities do not happen, co-operation builds them," he said. "Every such organization needs a certain amount of the proper committees. It needs to maintain a financial budget and have a regular office system. And always remember this: just as long as there is a margin between what Littlefield now is and what it ought to be there is need of a Chamber of Commerce in this town."

Mr. Davis told of how the business men of Lubbock got out and raised $150,000 in three days time. On another occasion they raised $175,000 in four days time. Last week they raised $5,500 in a couple of days.

Following Mr. Davis' address a committee composed of A. P. Duggan, A. C. Chesher, Chas. L. Harless, T. Windsor, G. M. Shaw and Jess Mitchell, was appointed to work out details of the campaign in collaboration with Mr. Davis.

Still, an argument is profitable if you really enjoy hearing yourself talk.

CORNERSTONE OF BAPTIST CHURCH LAID ON SUNDAY

An estimate of 550 people were in attendance Sunday afternoon at the Corner Stone Laying service, of the new Baptist church, now under construction, which was held in the basement of the new structure.

J. D. Sandifer, president of Simmons college, at Abilene, was present and delivered a message to the congregation and an excellent program was rendered.

At the foot of the corner stone, the church history which was prepared by Mrs. R. L. Speight, was buried, also a list of members on roll, of teachers and officers of the Sunday school, deacons, executive committee, building committee and a new 1925 penny, it's significance was in bearing the date of the erection of the new edifice.

Mr. Sandifer also delivered a sermon at both morning and evening services.

A total of $11,500 has been contributed for immediate use for the construction of the new building.

Religious services were well attended here Sunday. The Methodist organized a church here yesterday, which will probably be in the Level-land circuit. Rev. Dixon preached his farewell sermon yesterday afternoon. Brother Dixon has many friends here among the people of all denominations and their best wishes go with him. Miss Alexander, of Littlefield, and Miss Pierce, of Lum's Chapel were guests of the Misses La Rue Saturday night.

Grandma Woodruff, her son, Henry Woodruff, also her grandson, of Byers, Oklahoma, came inlast week and will be at home here for a while. Gingers from Anton were here yesterday.

Walter Haralson, of Lubbock, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Langford Wednesday. Mr. Haralson wishes to rent a farm here for next year.

Mr. Hicks and family, who have been visiting Mrs. Hick's father, John Rogers, moved to Lubbock this week where he has a position in a cafe.

Many farmers say their cotton crop has been cut short from 1-4 to 1-2 owing to the recent freeze. The early varieties of cotton are yielding best.

Messrs. Lee Crownover and Edd Langford have been ginning about 1250 to 1300 pounds of purebred cotton, their average turnout has been 525 pounds of lint.

Rev. Claud Keeny, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Rufe Keeny, attended the services at the Baptist church in Littlefield Sunday afternoon.

C. B. Edgars was a Lubbock visitor Monday.

Dudley Lac and Earl Edgar were Lubbock visitors Friday.

Mr. Pendergraft and C. B. Edgar went to Lamesa on business Friday.

A bond election, also an election for the purpose of raising the special school tax to $1 will be held here Tuesday, Nov. 10. The bonds voted last spring were rejected by the attorney general on account of a flaw in the election notice. The bonds will be sold and the architect employed Wednesday, Nov. 11.

The box supper here Saturday night was a decided success, the cold weather and all things considered. The boxes brought $65. The box of chocolates for the prettiest girl went to Miss Irene Armstrong and brought $58. Dudley Lac bought a box of chocolate for $2.50. The entire proceeds was about $125. Miss Larene Vickery received the complimentary box of chocolate for having the highest priced box. Our popular Sunday school superintendent Rogers received the pipe and tobacco for being the ugliest man. We wish to congratulate Dewey Moss, (the defeated candidate) of Littlefield on his escape and to console them both with the old adage "Beauty is as beauty does."

Music was furnished by Mr. Lawhorn and Mrs. Langford.

Helps Fruit Grower Pick Prize-Winners

Specialist Gives Some Valuable Suggestions.

Selection of fruit for exhibition purposes is a real sport for farmers in these days of many shows, fairs, etc. A. F. Mason, fruit specialist of the New Jersey Agricultural college, gives here some valuable suggestions to help the fruit grower pick out prize-winning specimens.

Exhibition fruit is best selected in the late summer while still on the tree. At this time the picking crew has not handled it, nor has it lost its bloom by being jumbled about on a sorting table, where bruises are bound to be acquired. Also, if the fruit is still on the trees when selected, the color can often be improved by the removal of a few leaves and consequent exposure to the sunlight.

Fruit is judged for perfection in several particulars. All judges follow the same schedule, although their opinions may differ widely on the comparative importance of the different points. In the order of their importance they are as follows:

Condition—Specimens should be absolutely free from insects, diseases and mechanical injury, and should be in proper state of development for the season.

Color—Specimens should have at least the normal color, and a little more if possible, but all specimens should have exactly the same degree of color. Poorly colored and highly colored specimens should never be mixed.

Form—Should be typical of the variety and absolutely uniform among specimens. Place the fruit stem end up and observe uniformity of top and sides, then turn them over and compare blossom ends and sides.

Size—Should be typical of the variety and most desirable for the market. For instance, a small Delicious is neither typical nor desired, while a very large York Imperial is equally lacking in type and desirability for trade. Average to slightly above average, rather than the very large specimens, are usually best for exhibit purposes.

Crank Case Oil Used as Cure for Mange in Hogs

Mange in hogs, a parasitic skin disease, is quite common and is on the increase, a recent survey indicates. Replies to questionnaires sent out to farmers all over Iowa last year estimate that mange is present on 90 per cent of the farms and is becoming more intense, states Dr. C. B. Rice, veterinary, Iowa State college.

Loss from this affliction is due to lowered gains from feeding and also to the lower valuation placed on many hogs by the packer, because the roughened skins detract greatly from the appearance of the meat. In severe cases, carcasses have to be skinned before they can be sold at all. A conservative estimate places the annual loss through reduced selling value of many hogs at $1,978,000 for the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Yet mange can be easily and completely controlled by the use of waste crank case oil because it is both cheap and effective. Mix 1 per cent of kerosene or other standard disinfectant with the waste oil and either dip or spray the hogs, but do it thoroughly. Repeat the treatment if necessary. Keep treated hogs out of the sun for a day to prevent sun scald.

Start New Strawberry Patch After Third Crop

Renovation of the strawberry patch should receive attention as soon as harvest is over. This consists in cutting out all of the plants except narrow rows 4 to 5 inches wide and about 36 inches apart. If this is carefully done and the soil between the rows given good cultivation, sufficient plants are left to set new runner plants for the production of the second crop next spring. In general, only two or three crops should be expected from a patch and when the second or third crop has come on a new patch should be planted for the production of the next year's crop, the old patch plowed up and the land put to some other use immediately after harvest.

Farm Hints

Sell the males and produce infertile eggs.

Arsenate of lead and lime—dust or spray—gets cabbage worms.

Dynamite is a better explosive than swearing when the plow hits a stump.

Pocket gopher damage in Kansas alfalfa fields amounts to $2,000,000 annually.

A persistently broody hen ought to mean a culled hen—unless you like a feed star boarders.

Sell the best type of birds at the early breeds and retain the alert busy hens with the refined heads. Discard the crow-headed hens, and hens with hick heavy skulls.

A half ton of weeds require twenty tons of water for their growth. When water is scarce, as it has been this season, the wise farmer will allow as little tonnage to grow in his cultivated rows as good tillage will permit.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb county, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Millard Farden, a non-resident of the state of Texas, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Sixty-fourth judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said Sixty-fourth judicial district, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Lamb county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Olton, Texas, on the fourth Monday in November, A. D. 1925, the same being the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1925, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 20th day of October, A. D. 1928, respectively, payable to the order of George W. Littlefield, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from date to maturity, and from maturity until paid at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and stipulating for ten per cent on the amount of principal and interest then due as attorney's fees if suit is brought or if same are placed in the hands of an attorney for collection; whereby defendant became bound and liable and promised to pay to George W. Littlefield the sum of money in said notes specified, together with all interest and attorney's fees due thereon, according to the tenor and effect thereof.

II. That said notes were given for a part of the purchase money of the following described real estate and premises, situated in the county of Lamb and State of Texas, to-wit: All of Labor No. 7, Capitol League No. 687, Abstract No. 361, containing 177.1 acres of land.

III. And for further cause of action, plaintiff represents to the court that heretofore, to-wit: On or about the 18th day of June, A. D. 1918, the defendant, Millard Farden, made, executed and delivered to George W. Littlefield his ten several vendor lien notes, each for the sum of Three Hundred Seventy-one and 91-100 dollars ($371.91), bearing date on the day and year aforesaid, and due on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1919; June 18, A. D. 1920; June 18, A. D. 1921; June 18, A. D. 1922; June 18, A. D. 1923; June 18, A. D. 1924; June 18, A. D. 1925; June 18, A. D. 1926; June 18, A. D. 1927, and June 18, A. D. 1928, respectively, payable to the order of George W. Littlefield, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from date to maturity, and from maturity until paid at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and stipulating for ten per cent on the amount of principal and interest then due as attorney's fees, if suit is brought or if same are placed in the hands of an attorney for collection; whereby defendant became bound and liable, and promised to pay to George W. Littlefield the sum of money in said notes specified, together with all interest and attorney's fees due thereon, according to the tenor and effect thereof.

IV. That said notes were given for a part of the purchase money of the following described real estate and premises situated in the county of Lamb and State of Texas, to-wit: All of Labor No. 8, Capitol League No. 687, Abstract No. 361, containing 177.1 acres of land.

V. That said property, Labor No. 7, League No. 687, was heretofore, to-wit: On the 8th day of May, A. D. 1918, conveyed by George W. Littlefield to the defendant Millard Farden by his deed of writing of that date, in consideration, among other things, of the ten notes herein described; and that said Labor No. 8, League No. 687, was heretofore, to-wit: On the 18th day of June, A. D. 1918, conveyed by George W. Littlefield to the defendant, Millard Farden, by his deed of writing of that date in consideration, among other things, of the ten notes herein described, and that in both of said deeds of conveyance a lien was reserved thereon to secure the payment of said notes.

VI. That notes No. 4, No. 5, No. 6, No. 7, No. 8, No. 9 and No. 10 of each series are due and unpaid, and the defendant, though often requested, has failed and refused to pay said notes or any of them or any part thereof, but the same remain still due and unpaid.

VII. That on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1920, defendant, Millard Farden, conveyed all of the above described land to J. C. Whicker, who assumed the payment of all of said notes. That on the 3rd day of November, A. D. 1920, J. C. Whicker conveyed all of the above described land to E. M. Davis, who assumed the payment of all of said notes, whereby he became liable and bound to pay to George W. Littlefield or his order the sum of money in said notes specified, together with all interest and attorney's fees due thereon.

VIII. That E. M. Davis is now deceased, and left surviving him his widow, Mollie Davis, and the following children, to-wit: Winnie Hogan, Minnie Matthews and Troy Davis, all of whom are of legal age; also the following minor children: Roy Davis, May Davis, Bobbie Fay Davis and Pauline Davis.

IX. That notes No. 4, No. 5, No. 6, No. 7, No. 8, No. 9 and No. 10 of each series above described have by assignments and transfers been conveyed to the plaintiffs for good and valuable considerations, and the plaintiffs are now the legal holders and owners of notes No. 4, No. 5, No. 6, No. 7, No. 8, No. 9 and No. 10 of each series.

X. That said notes have been placed in the hands of E. S. Rowe, an attorney, for collection, and plaintiff has contracted to pay him the ten per cent attorney's fees stipulated therein, the same being reasonable and the usual and customary fee.

Wherefore, plaintiffs pray the court that all of the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that a guardian be appointed to represent the minor heirs, and that they have judgment for the foreclosure of their liens on the above described land and premises to satisfy their debt, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit; and that the same be decreed to be sold, according to law. That the sheriff or other officer executing said order shall place the purchaser of said property sold under said order of sale in possession thereof within thirty days after the date of sale; for and other and further relief, special or general, in law and in equity, which they may show themselves justly entitled.

E. S. ROWE, Attorney for Plaintiffs. Herein fail not, but have faith in said court, at its aforesaid regular term this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Olton, Texas, this 20th day of October, A. D. 1925. (Seal) M. R. CAVETT, Clerk, District Court, Lamb County, Texas, Oct. 22, 29, Nov. 5, 1925.

One isn't really a success until he begins to get letters from creditors.

is 2-3 cents per pupil per mile, the lowest record in the United States. Fifty one per cent of her school children, now numbering 1104 are carried to and from school in auto trucks daily. Prof. R. L. Speight, superintendent of the local schools, launched out in to a wide vision of Littlefield's future school. He spoke of courses in vocational guidance, a foreign language department that would admit the pupils to college courses, complete vocational course of commercial, manual training, art, domestic science, field agriculture, music department, including voice, piano, violin, etc. He recommended the churches give courses in Bible study, and thought the school ought to become a greater social center than it is now. He spoke in favor of night courses of certain studies and vocational work for men and women who were too old and too busy to take day work in school and he was highly in favor of the busier college.

H. L. Jordan told when he arrived here there was but one church building and all denominations were worshipping together, and now there were seven organizations and six church houses. He highly commended the fine spirit of co-operation existing here among the various churches.

Rev. W. B. Phipps spoke of the intrinsic and commercial value of church buildings to a community, citing proof that loan companies were always more willing to place their money in towns that had fine and commodious church buildings than they were in those otherwise situated.

Hon. E. S. Rowe told how everyone coming to Littlefield commented upon the great activity going on here. He declared his favor in good roads, good churches and good schools. "Here is a territory 13x30 miles extent," he said, "and practically every citizen in that scope comes to Littlefield for their social, religious and educational advantages. It is a great community center, he said. He told of how the State Highway Department had just allotted $300,000 to Lamb county for hard surfacing highway purposes and urged that the citizens of District No. 1 take immediate steps toward securing their proportionate part of that allotment.

T. S. Sale said he first heard of Littlefield through a wholesale house in St. Louis, Mo. He came here and opened his business and was more than pleased with the town.

Mr. Adams told of how he was looking for a gin location and merely stopped off here to visit a friend. He became attracted to Littlefield and was here for keeps.

C. D. Smith, who was introduced as the second oldest citizen of Littlefield declared he came here broke in 1913, had always wanted to get away was never able to do so, and now he couldn't be driven away.

At the close of the speakfest a rising vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Foster for the feast of good things to eat furnished at her personal expense, and for the high spirit of loyal local patriotism which she has always manifest in Littlefield.

FIVE ACRE TRACT ADDITION

Wm. Trondson to Erect and Sell Several New Houses.

C. J. Duggan reports the sale of the five acre tract adjoining the original townsite, at the southwest corner from Claud Gray, of Austin, to William Trondson, of Littlefield.

Mr. Gray purchased this tract from George W. Littlefield in 1913, being sale number one, and has realized a nice profit on his purchase.

Mr. Trondson is having the five acres divided into 24 lots, extending between 9th street and Montecillo avenue, so that each lot faces on a street, with an alley at the rear of each, and the city water mains lie on two sides of the tract.

Plans are being drawn by C. J. Duggan, and construction will start this week on a number of modern homes, which will be for sale or rent by Mr. Trondson.

The residence to be erected will be a handsome home to be occupied by L. E. Key.

LOCAL BAND PLANS FOR ANNUAL MEET OF W. T. C. OF C.

At the regular Monday night rehearsal of the Littlefield Band, Nov. 9th, the officers for the fiscal year of 1925-26 were elected as follows: Alvin Hendricks, general business manager; Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., secretary-treasurer; Amel Timian, librarian; Clayborne Harvey, director.

It has been said and found to be a fact, that after a small town band is organized that it generally stays together for a possible period of three or four months and then that is the last heard of it, many of its members having been "stuck" for some instruments that they have on hand and are not able to dispose of them under any circumstance. But, it has also been found out that after such an organization stays together for a year or better, that as a rule, it is permanent.

Such is the case with the Littlefield band. It has been a year ago last October 12th, when the Littlefield Band had its first rehearsal, and since that time, it has improved steadily. The membership is not as large at times as would be desired by some of the boys but the band always stays intact and is ready at any and all times to lend a helping hand to any phase of civic, school, or church entertainment for which its services might be demanded.

Among some of the things discussed at the Monday night rehearsal, were the possibility of the Littlefield Band having their own uniforms, and another, the giving of regular weekly concerts and programs, absolutely free to the public. Both of these accomplishments have been attained in bands in towns much smaller than Littlefield and there is no reason why such should not be the case here. The boys are going to buy their uniforms themselves and pay for them. They are going to see that the organization reaches a point in the quality of music rendered that the public will enjoy a concert and program rendered by them. This last resolution is going to take some hard work and an unlimited amount of determination but the members of this band has an abundance in store.

The Crockett-Blair Motor Company has given its consent for their sales-room to be used by the boys as a rehearsal hall. From now on, the regular weekly rehearsals, which are held on Monday and Thursday nights, will be held in this place. It will be warm and comfortable and every one who plays is urged to come out and be with this lot of boys in their work.

It will not be long before the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention will be held at Amarillo, and if Littlefield ever does want to shine it will be at this world renown gathering. This is going to be the greatest convention of this nature ever held before, according to the authorities on the subject, for West Texas in general, and for Littlefield in particular. One reason for Littlefield in particular, among several reasons, is due to the fact that a Littlefield man is going to be put up for presidency of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the next to the greatest Chamber of Commerce in all the world. If Littlefield gets this honor, and it must not fail, the Littlefield band is going to have to play a big and outstanding part, let the loyal citizens of our glorious little municipality do all they can to encourage them.

Well, well; a woman talked to us on the phone yesterday and never once used the word "listen".

DIRTY MAGAZINES

The women of Chicago are united to banish salacious magazines from the newsstands of that city. If they mean business they will have little difficulty in drastically curtailing a business which should never have been allowed to achieve such a growth.

For three or four years there has been a rush into the market of periodicals whose only stock in trade was suggestiveness or smut. It is time that all lovers of decency everywhere should arouse to their extermination. Many news dealers are now refusing to peddle their stuff, and there is still room for more of them, who claim to be good moral citizens to follow suit.

It is a matter that civic organizations, women's clubs and parent-

PLAIN'S MUSIC ASSOCIATION TO MEET HERE, 1926

Hero

The gold Boy Scout medal for heroism has been recommended for Charles Rupert Clay, of Blaine, Washington. Charles, a boy of 12 years, weighing only 81 pounds, rescued an older and much heavier boy while they were in swimming. Dragging the big fellow ashore and rendering first aid saved his life.

Lois Presley, of Tahoka, the high school orchestra from both Lubbock and Slaton.

The program of the association was resumed again Saturday morning in the First Methodist church, at Ralls. Mr. Waghorn made a talk on harmony illustrating his talk with a percussion orchestra made up of members of the association. Mrs. Gladys Marsalis Glen of Amarillo, read an interesting paper on relation of psychology to music. Mrs. Dana T. Harmon Trent explained the library to the members, its requirements for membership and its contents.

The Parent-Teachers Association, of Ralls, served a well appointed luncheon to the visitors at noon. Where an interesting program was carried out, H. T. Holmes, was toast master, Rev. Kelly, Mr. Wilkins and Miss Mary Scott appearing.

The afternoon session was opened with a talk by Wallace R. Clark, of Canyon, on coral work. Mr. Clark said that America would never be musical until all Americans began singing. Mr. Waghorn made another interesting talk on theoretical work in high school.

The following officers were elected Miss Mary Dunn, president; Miss Ramsey, first vice-president; Mrs. Carl Scoggins, second vice-president; Miss Bailey, secretary; Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, third vice-president; Miss Nannie T. Wardlow, treasurer.

Edwin Hughes, noted pianist, and a pupil of Leschetisky, will be presented in Lubbock by the South Plains Music Teachers Association, at the spring music festival which will be held from the 25th to 27th of March inclusively.

Those who participated in the program given Friday evening at Ralls have been asked to repeat the program at the Technological college, at Lubbock, Friday evening, and in all probability they will accept the invitation.

"Where Quality and Price Meet."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M.D.

The Table Your Foe

Of the many sins against right living, overeating is perhaps the chief, especially in cases of individuals in whom age has laid its restricting hand on bodily activity. Many men have retired from business, only to inaugurate a system of dietary that is an infinitely worse burden. In such cases, a protein, or, proteins, become the invisible foe. "Baked beans" and "dressings" are heavy protein foods. Fresh meats are laden with protein. Highly-seasoned foods owe their evil effects to protein in excess. Enough for you to know, that protein is stimulant and if pushed, a dangerous intoxicant.

Age brings in many people, torpor of the eliminating channels of the body. Obstruction and over-supply of food become a deadly enemy. Stupor after meals, dizziness, hardened arteries, heightened blood-pressure, auto-intoxication, apoplexy, not a very enticing chapter. Many fatal cases of brain hemorrhage can be traced to overeating. People just won't stop and think! That neighbor of yours, that died suddenly of paralysis at sixty years of age; he should have lived to eighty—had he lived right!

Within the past year, I have known of a half-dozen men, found dead in bed after having eaten a heavy six-o'clock dinner, and retiring "in good health and spirits." Will we never take warning? Increased blood-pressure is a symptom of protein poisoning. Lessen the amount of protein, and it falls. Serious disease of the kidneys may be traced to the banquet-table. Over-work doesn't deserve half the blame it gets, while the innocent-looking sugar-bowl, the seductive mince-pie, and the rare beef-steak are working their havoc.

LESSONS LEARNED TOO LATE

Why is it the average young man when near maturity, has an intense longing for life in the big city?

Why is it that millions of men of maturity in the city have an equally intense longing for the peace and quietude of the rural districts they left in their younger days?

The country town does not blaze with the bright lights of life as do the big cities. It is quiet and subdued in comparison.

Its citizens' words are as good as their bond and their reputations stand high in the variety and excitement that appeals to youth is too often missing. Hence young men and women become fretful and impatient of restraint, and finally break the home ties and rush into the maelstrom of metropolitan existence.

Once in the large city, possibly one in ten meet with a comfortable measure of success as the world views it, and a few forge gradually to the front. In time these few are known to the world as self made men. The other nine are not so fortunate.

Opportunities are numerous, it is true, but where there is one opportunity, there are scores of young men waiting to grasp it. Competition is highly developed.

Thus the great majority of young men from the country who go to the city expecting to set the world on fire find that about the best they can do is to burn the candle at both ends.

Too proud to go back home and confess failure, they plug along and do the best they can, disillusioned and wiser, but no better off.

They are the millions who later in life long for the peace and quiet of the home town they left in their youth.

The remedy is simple enough. Every small community can hold its young people by supplying some of the things that lure them away; by not expecting them to work any harder than they would have to if they went to a city for employment; by making the hours of employment no longer than the city's.

Young men and women will keep "up with the times." They demand the convenience and the recreations that their big city brothers and sisters enjoy. If they are not supplied at home, they will see them elsewhere when they grow old enough to support themselves.

Life is full of changes and there is only one end for people who are not willing to change with the times.

Pure-Bred Meat Animals Bring Better Returns

In every important point of comparison, pure-bred meat animals show superiority over grades and especially over scrubs, according to reports from farmers received by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

In the experience of stock owners who are in a position to make comparisons, pure-bred animals produce better meat, develop more rapidly, are more uniform in quality and appearance, sell better on dull markets, cost but little more to raise, and bring better prices. The following typical comments illustrate the success which many breeders have had in disposing of pure-bred stock as meat animals:

"I always find that pure breeds are ready for market in far less time than scrubs and grades."

"Our bull veals at two weeks old as large as scrub calves at six weeks."

"I find I can get around 2 cents a pound more, live weight, for pure breeds, as they are more uniform."

"With hogs, pure-bred litters are more uniform in size, develop more evenly, and put on fat more quickly."

White Diarrhea Is Not Due to Disease Germs

Much of the so-called white diarrhea among little chickens is not due to the germs of the disease, but to overheating, chilling, or overfeeding, according to G. L. Stevenson, professor of poultry husbandry at South Dakota State college. There is a tendency, he says, to call all bowel troubles white diarrhea, when, in fact, many of them are due to poor management and are preventable.

The prime factor in brooding chicks successfully is to keep them comfortably warm. They should be kept in light, well ventilated quarters that are sanitary and free from vermin. At first, a temperature around 95 to 100 degrees should be maintained in the brooder; but, as the chicks feather out and as the weather moderates, this may be gradually reduced though not entirely discontinued, as the chicks would then be apt to pile up on cool nights, and heavy losses result.

MORE GIN TALK

Ordinarily gins do not have to resort to newspaper advertising in order to get business. Unfortunately for us and fortunately for the newspaper man we happened to select a location that is not quite as convenient to the principal roads leading into the town as are the other gins, and, as a result, we are taking advantage of newspaper advertising to get before the public.

We would much prefer to let our ginning do its own advertising; but up to the present time it has not been our good pleasure to demonstrate our plant and service to a very large number. We repeat that we have a gin plant that is second to none, and add the statement that there are few as good; and we know how to operate it.

If we cannot give you as good sample and turnout as you can get anywhere your ginning will cost you nothing.

Please don't think we are complaining or feeling sore at anybody. We are very thankful for the patronage that we have already received, and shall adjust ourselves to conditions as they are, and be content with whatever business comes our way.

Just remember we are here to serve you and will appreciate an opportunity to do so.

Respectfully,

Adams & Bigham

Are You Fixed FOR WINTER?

Are you going to try to get through another winter—maybe a harder one than last—with that same old heating stove?

Are you going to expect good meals and meals on time if you insist upon the good wife preparing them over a stove or range that she has told you a dozen times is no longer serviceable?

WHY NOT DO THE SENSIBLE THING AND INVEST NOW IN COOK STOVE OR RANGE THAT WILL GIVE YOU COMFORT AND SERVICE?

We are equipped to make this winter more comfortable for you and your family. Come in and make your wants known—and don't buy if you think our prices and our goods are not exactly what they should be.

FARM POULTRY

CHARACTERISTICS OF NON-LAYING CHICKEN

August and September are the best months in which to cull flocks. Hens that have the characteristics of good layers and that are laying in August and September have been invariably the best producers throughout the year. In order to cull a flock properly it is necessary to handle each hen and put her through some tests such as the following, suggested by G. A. Schmidt, Colorado Agricultural college.

One of the outstanding characteristics of a non-laying hen of the yellow-skinned varieties is the deep yellow color found on the shanks, on the beak, around the vent, around the inner edge of the eyelids and on the ears of the white-lobed varieties. When these hens are laying, this yellow pigment is all needed to form the egg yolk and none is deposited on the body, and consequently the parts just enumerated are faded or whitish in color.

The pelvic or pin bones of non-layers are thick, curved in and close together. On laying hens they are thin, straight, flexible and wide apart, three fingers' breadths or more. Measure each hen for this distance between the pin bones when culling.

When a hen is laying heavily her body is deep, a condition brought on by the enlarged intestines and egg mass. This depth of body is measured from the pin bones to the end of the keel and a good layer shows a depth of more than four finger breadths from the pin bones to the keel. Test each hen for this depth.

Non-layers generally have a firm, drawn-up, meaty or fleshy abdomen and differ from high producers such as a fat beef cow differs from a good dairy cow. Feel the abdomen of each hen.

The vent of a good laying hen is large, open and moist, while that of a non-layer is small, closed, puckered and dry. Look at the vent of each hen when you handle.

The comb of the non-laying hen is dry, pale, hard, and often covered with small scabs. On a laying hen it is red, soft and larger. Look at the combs and feel them.

Contrary to popular opinion the early molting hen should be culled. Under normal conditions, hens that molt early are not very high producers. The early molter is much like the cow that goes dry three months too soon. Mark the hens that start molting first and get rid of them.

At all times cull all sickly, inactive hens. Good layers are active healthy birds always looking for something to eat. In careful culling all the factors mentioned should be considered and only the best birds held over the winter for breeding. If flocks are carefully culled each year, and if the birds are given good care egg production can be considerably increased.

STATUS OF TECH. COLLEGE

The personnel of the student body of Texas Technological college.

Up to the present time eight hundred and ninety pupils have enrolled in the Texas Tech. The majority of the students are enrolled in the man Liberal Arts school but are students in the three other colleges. The Home Economics department has about sixty-seven girls. Agricultural college has about hundred and fifty boys and engineering school makes up the balance of the enrollment.

The majority of the student pleases associates coming plain but refined homes. They almost all working at something pay expenses of their education they always have time to say they are ready to assist any one and make him feel welcome.

Although the college has recently opened its doors to the press club has just been organized and has reported for work. It is reported the Toreador, our first college paper, and it has received mission from the faculty to publish a yearbook.

For those who are interested in dramatics our public speaking club originated the Dramatic Club. About fifty-five enthusiastic students jumped at the idea and paid initiation fee. Now the club is to present a clean, wholesome act play once each week.

Since we have seen the manifested in the literary line it hadly necessary to say that the spirit is great. We have three games of football and one line hasn't been crossed.

Hence the spirit manifested students combined with the which has already been shown West Texas makes a great out of the college. By the time our seniors our enrollment is to exceed two thousand.

SEES A NEED FOR UNIVERSAL RULES IN COTTON TRADE

Standardization of cotton trading rules and contracts in the world's cotton markets would iron out many of the difficulties now experienced by American shippers and place the world cotton business on a more uniform basis, Dr. A. B. Cox, Department of Agricultural economist declared following a year's study of European cotton markets.

"Much time and money are lost in international cotton trade through the need to arbitrate disputes arising out of differences in trading rules, contracts and practices in the various markets," Dr. Cox said. "No two cotton markets are alike in methods of calculating cotton tare and net weights, in the wording of contracts and as regards length of staple on which the contract is based. It is difficult for the smaller firms, and especially those just getting into the business, to compete successfully because of the difficulty of getting this information.

Dr. Cox's recommendation for the elimination of these difficulties is to encourage the movement for the standardization of rules, practices and staple length description. These reforms he thinks will be greatly promoted by the cooperation of the European cotton trade with American shippers.

Discussing the present European textile situation, Dr. Cox said that textile production in England has been very much reduced since the war on account of decreased buying power of India and China, but is now increasing. Italy, on the other hand, is taking more American cotton, to meet the demand for lower grade products. Production costs, also, in Italy are much lower than in England because of cheap labor.

The German mills, he said, made money up to June, when production began to outrun sales. Switzerland has about the same situation as in England, the demand for high class goods for embroidery and laces having declined, while the cost of production is high. Spain is manufacturing mainly for home needs.

France is almost back to pre-war production, having taken nearly 1,000,000 bales of American cotton this year. Costs of production in France are low because of cheap money. Belgian mills have also made money. Mills in both France and Belgium show a considerable improvement since the war, much modern machinery having been installed and many new manufacturing methods adopted.

Baileyboro Buzzings

The program and box supper given in the church house here Friday night by the school was a very successful and enjoyable affair. After the boxes were all sold a cake of soap was given to the ugliest man who received the largest number of votes. John Williams was the lucky man, winning over Ed Hulse by a small majority. In the pretty girl contest, Ellen Coffman won over Alice Ragsdale and was awarded a box of candy. The entire proceeds amounted to $78.45. Everyone present is heartily thankful for their co-operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Tribble, of Bomerton, Texas, arrived here Friday to assist J. F. Nickols in gathering his crop.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Brannen entertained a number of young folks with a Hallowe'en Party Saturday night. Several unique prizes were given the winners in various games while Linnie Hulse and Clifford Wallis were presented with an "al-day sucker", for making the quietest journey through "Spook-Land." Needless to say everyone present spent an enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blair and daughter, Cloa, of Littlefield, spent Saturday night and Sunday in the H. B. Brannen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dyre, Mr. and Mrs. Nudie Moore, Blanche Blackshear and Charlie Durham spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Warren.

Willis Lee and Sam Young are both improving rapidly now. Their complete recovery is expected soon.

Jack Henderson and Harley Blanton of Ralls, Texas, spent last weekend in the G. F. Henderson home.

J. W. Slone, Delman Ragsdale and Marshall Blackshear spent Thursday night in Mr. Slone's home near Causey, New Mexico.

A number of the neighbors gathered several tons of feed for Sam Young Thursday.

APPALLING DISCOVERY

Another appalling discovery has been made by British scientists, this time in Australia. Fossil man has been unearthed in that far away country, and Sir Arthur Keith of the British museum says that the fossil man shows conclusively that Australia was peopled more than 25,000 years ago.

This discovery is said to be much like the anthropoid ape, and 25,000 years ago the people he represented made their way from Asia to Australia, as the sea belt at that time was only 30 miles wide.

Sir Arthur Keith takes time to remark that the art of navigation had usually been supposed to be no more than 5000 years old, but the recent discoveries compelled scientist to believe that the first settlers of Australia had mastered the art of navigation either by accident or forethought, 25,000 years or more ago.

You are hereby commanded to summon Sallie Tomlinson by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Sixty-fourth judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said Sixty-fourth judicial district, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Lamb county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Olton, Texas, on the 4th Monday in November, A. D. 1925, the same being the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1925, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1925, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court as No. 139, wherein F. P. Tomlinson is plaintiff and Sallie Tomlinson is defendant, and said petition alleging as follows, to-wit:

1. Plaintiff shows to the court that he is an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has been for more than a period of one year and has resided in the said county of Lamb, State of Texas, for six months next preceding the filing of this suit.

2. Plaintiff represents that about four years ago in the town of Groesbeck, in Limestone county, Texas, he was legally married to defendant and continued to live with her as her husband until on or about the 1st day of January, 1922, when defendant abandoned plaintiff as hereinafter shown.

3. Plaintiff alleges that on or about the 1st day of January, 1922, said defendant and plaintiff were living together as husband and wife in Limestone county, Texas, and that while they lived together plaintiff was kind and forbearing toward defendant in every respect and always provided well for her support and never at any time gave defendant cause for complaint or abandonment; that on said date defendant then and there voluntarily left his bed and board and voluntarily abandoned him and for more than a space of three years said defendant has lived separately and apart from plaintiff and refuses to live with him with the wilful intention of permanently abandoning him.

4. That the actions of defendant complained of above are of such nature as to render plaintiff's living with her as her husband wholly insupportable.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited in terms of law to appear and answer this petition that upon final hearing hereof plaintiff have judgment dissolving the marriage relation now existing between him and defendant, and for such other relief as to the court may seem proper to grant.

Herein fail not but have before said court, at its aforesaid next term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Olton, Texas, this the 19th day of October, A. D. 1925.

POSTMASTER ASKS COOPERATION IN HOLIDAY MAILING

Association with the gold in autumn leaves, chill in morning air, and bountiful harvests, come thoughts of the approaching holiday season.

Christmas is looked forward to as a time to promote happiness. Throughout our country this spirit is manifested by sending gifts, greeting cards and other remembrances. As a result of this custom the volume of mail during the month of December will be greatly augmented. Each postmaster should rejoice in the spirit of that glad time and be pleased to assist in making many people happy when Christmas comes.

To give to Christmas mail its sentimental value it should reach the addressee in ample time to be in keeping with the spirit for which it is sent, giving its full measure of happiness and cheer. The cooperation of patrons in the preparation and presentation of Christmas mail and other matter to be mailed just prior to the holiday season, is, therefore, according to Wm. J. Wade, Littlefield's postmaster, necessary in order that the large volume can satisfactorily be handled.

In connection with the arrangements for handling mail during the holiday season attention is renewed to the importance of obtaining the cooperation of mailers, and patrons should be asked to observe the conditions enumerated below and the fact emphasized that compliance therewith will not only be helpful to the Postal Service in facilitating the prompt handling, dispatch, and delivery of their mail but result in more satisfactory service to the advantage of all concerned.

Prepay postage fully on all mail matter.

Address all mail matter plainly and completely in ink, giving street address or box number whenever possible. Place sender's return card in upper left corner of address side.

Pack articles carefully in strong, durable containers.

Wrap parcels securely, but do not seal them except when bearing a printed label or indorsement reading: "Contents: Merchandise. Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary," together with name and address of sender, as sealed parcels not so labeled or indorsed in printing are subject to postage at the letter rate.

Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas," this being permitted in order to encourage early mailing.

Insure valuable parcels. Do not enclose letters in parcels, as doing so would subject entire parcels to letter postage.

Written greetings, such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With best wishes," and names, numbers, or symbols for the purpose of description, may be inclosed with third or fourth class (parcel post) mail. Books may bear simple dedicatory inscriptions not of a personal nature. Other written additions subject parcels to letter postage. Communications prepaid at the first-class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at the third or fourth class rate by securely attaching the envelopes containing the letters or other written matter to outside of parcels. (See art. 55, p. 14, July, 1925, Postal Guide.) Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail.

HOW TO MAKE CANE SYRUP

All phases of the production of sugar cane sirup from the growing of the cane to the marketing of the sirup are discussed in a new bulletin prepared by the Bureau of Chemistry United States Department of Agriculture.

The various methods of clarifying the juice are described in detail, these descriptions being supplemented by cost data and a discussion of the relation between the method of manufacture and the quality of the sirup. Descriptions of model plants and equipment are given, accompanied by drawings and a complete discussion of the cost of making sirup by different methods.

The bulletin discusses the relation between the cultural conditions under which sugar cane is grown and the quality and yield of sirup. The factors which determine the most economical size of a new sirup plant are set forth in detail. The prevention of sugaring by use of invertase, a process developed by the Bureau of Chemistry, is fully described. Data on the composition, food value, and keeping quality of cane sirup are also given as well as information regarding the production of uniform grades, the canning of sirup, and the question of marketing.

A copy of Department Bulletin 1370, Sugar Cane Sirup Manufacture, may be had as long as the supply lasts by writing to the office of Publication United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

BLANTON HAS THE FIGURES

Bert C. Blanton, a consulting engineer of Texas, has the figures. Bascom N. Timmons had them a month ago. Bert C. Blanton says the net increase in the number of industries in Texas for the 25-year period 1899 to 1924 inclusive, approximates 35.8 per cent and the aggregate capital investment is nearly $800,000,000, while the value of products of Texas industries now exceeds $1,000,000,000 per annum.

He estimates the total capital investment in seven major groups of industry in Texas today as about $695,365,000. These industries are power and light, petroleum refining, cotton compresses, gins and cotton seed oil mills, ice and cold storage and cement manufacturing plants.

His survey shows the power and light industry leads all other classes or groups in Texas with a total capital investment of $175,000,000.

It must be true that the giant among all the states is coming out of its trance. Texas is a billion dollar agriculture state, a half billion dollar live stock state and its annual production of lumber is a very important item.

Willie at the cabinet maker's:—"When will our sofa be fixed, Mr. Wilkins?"

"Oh in a day or so, I sent it away for a new leg."

Willie:—"Well, my sister says she'll pay you a dollar extra if you'll have the sofa ready by eight o'clock Wednesday evening."

An average citizen is one who thinks his respect for law makes it all right to break one or two.

As the Editor Sees It

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God who giveth us richly all things to enjoy.—1 Tim. 6:17.

When wealthy, show thy wisdom not to be to wealth a servant, but to make wealth serve thee.—Sir J. Denham.

FARMER DISAPPEARING

Time was when the farmer was a typical figure and he bore his trade mark so prominently that he was easily identified. Stage representations of him were so like the actual man to appearance that their naturalness could not be denied. Paintbrush whiskers, top boots and old-time family "umbrell" proclaimed his presence to the goldbrick seller every time he appeared in the big city.

That man has passed. The present-day farmer is no more to be recognized by his attire than an oyster would be to one who never saw one except in the shell. In fact, the farmer appears to be passing out of the picture altogether.

Progress practically has done away with the innocent rube of other days and economic causes are gradually removing his successor. Automobiles, electricity, telephones and magazines have made the country resident about as sophisticated as the city dweller. These and other modern things, supplemented by pests and nature are making even his present number less.

The farmer is becoming a big business man and he is reaching out and expanding. When he combines several farms into one as it is indicated he is doing, former owners drop out of our greatest otherwise commercial industries. Out in this country a farm of 1600 acres is quite common, and there are farms running up into the thousands of acres, many of them strictly modern in every detail. The farmer's home is modern and has practically all the twentieth century conveniences of the city homes. When the farmer and his family come to town, they mingle in the very best of society, just as it should be. His children have good education and good manners. They are refined and cultured. His wife has been emancipated from much of the former imagery which characterized her home life, and she is every bit the lady she ought to be. It is well that it is. The farmer man has more solid sense than lots of city men. He needs it just as much as the city worker. His business is as important—yes, more so than lots of city business. He

THIS STORY WON THE BOOBY PRIZE

A friend met a friend and during the ensuing conversation the subject of false teeth was brought up.
"I wish I could find a good dentist that I could depend upon," said the one with poor mouth.
"Look here," said the other pointing to his bridge work, "how's that? These were put in a year ago. You go to my dentist, he will fix you up right. Just tell him I sent you."
A week passed before they again met.
"Well did you see my dentist?"
"Yes, and everything was fine until I said I was a friend of yours—then he made me pay for a new set."

questions of the coming campaign. At any rate, we are in favor of anything that will help the farmers. For when the farmer is aided we are all assisted.

DEPENDABILITY

Rev. C. C. Curtis, the evangelist who is holding a meeting here for the Christian church, remarked in his sermon Sunday night that "Success comes to those who stand in their appointed place."

Perhaps the trouble with many people is that they have not yet discovered their appointed place in life. Humanity generally is subject to vacillation. It is here today and somewhere else tomorrow. Today they are in one line of business, next week into something else. They shirk responsibility, in affairs, social, moral and commercial.

Of course there are some who are of an aggressive nature—they are the savor of any community. But if the masses could only be depended upon to merely "stand in their appointed place" the problem of carrying the world forward and higher would be much easier.

That old apostle to the Gentiles one time said something about girding one's self and then standing. It is a big thing to be able to stand. It is no small matter to stand. Every soldier who went across the pond during the World War will vouch for that fact. It is the men who stand and stick that accomplish the great things of life.

Steadfastness and sticktoitiveness are admirable qualities that every citizen should cultivate more diligently.

WIRE THE DEPOT

As the days grow shorter, more and more the public is inconvenienced by the lack of sufficient lights at the local station. At this time of the year the west bound train generally arrives at dusk, and if it should be late, as is frequently the case, dark has fallen before it whistles for the station.

Numerous and frequent complaints have recently been heard from the traveling public because of the poor lights in the waiting rooms and none whatever on the depot platform. Sometimes the coal oil lamps burn so dimly that it is even difficult for passengers to recognize one another across the small space of the little waiting room, to say nothing of being unable to read their railroad tickets.

Littlefield now has a good electric light plant which is liberally patronized by all business interests here with the exception of the railroad; but it would seem that the Santa Fe is now getting sufficient business from this town to afford an adequate lighting system for the old Canyon depot that was ignominiously forced upon this rapidly developing town.

GENERAL WARNING

There is a Masonic lodge in Ohio that is likely to consider the endorsement of the prohibition laws with a new respect.

According to a report recently carried in the Christian Monitor, this lodge, which is located in Cincinnati, has had its charter forfeited by the grand lodge of the state and cannot petition for reinstatement until next year's meeting of the state body. All this because it failed in the opinion of the grand lodge, to punish adequately, a member convicted of violating the prohibition laws.

The lodge suspended for two months a member sentenced to the penitentiary; a punishment which the grand lodge refused to treat as commensurate with the seriousness involved. So it comes to pass that a lodge 60 years old, with a membership of more than a thousand, finds itself without a charter.

It is the opinion of this newspaper that there are several Masonic lodges in Texas that should be more strict with their membership. The tenets of Masonry come next to that of the church—it is a holy organization, and the moral character of its membership should at all times be in keeping with its teachings.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

"I've seen a lot of things in my day," says Phelps Walker, but I've seen very few people who were profiting by their mistakes."

A public benefactor, according to T. Windsor, is a man who pulls out of a crowded parking place just as you want to pull in.

Mrs. Bessie Baze says she thinks one reason most folks like babies is because babies don't go around repeating the smart things their parents say.

E. A. Logan says "money may bring happiness, but he has also noticed that it gives a fellow a wider choice as to what he is going to worry about."

Josh Cogdill says "a penny isn't worth much when it comes to buying something these days, and there was a time when a yard of goods wasn't considered enough for a dress"

It is reported that an absent minded farmer who came to Littlefield to trade last Saturday, was run over and knocked down by a mule. Getting up he followed the animal two miles to get its license number.

LITTLE LEADERS

Littlefield's painters may not be superstitious, but they certainly do believe in signs.

The coal strike that a Littlefield man notices most is the one when he strikes the bottom of the coal bin.

Littlefield business men talk much of the "go-getter," but the one of greater importance is the "come-back-er."

The reason it is better for the average Littlefield man who has loaned you money or sold you something on a credit has the best memory.

Fall is generally the nicest time of the year, but this year indications are that the politicians are going to start in where the mosquitoes left off.

Sunspots are said to be thousands of miles in diameter, and yet some Littlefield girls make an awful fuss over a little freckle.

The rising generation of Littlefield may not do very much worrying, but it will do its full share when the next rising generation comes along.

The luckiest man in Littlefield is the one whose wife has just as good an opinion of him as he has of himself.

Littlefield's greatest asset is the "good pay" men and women who buy at the local stores. The town's growth and prosperity in a very large measure depends on them.

Some of Littlefield's girls may know what it means to be popular, but there are also some of them who don't know what it means to be embarrassed.

After he has spent several years answering mail order ads, even the dumbest man in Littlefield learns that one can't get something for nothing.

Probably the reason some Littlefield parents think their children haven't much sense is because they know when they were that age they didn't have very much either. There is such a thing as heredity.

WHO SAID

"Methods are the master of masters"

THE man who uttered these words owed his success in life to his methodical way of doing things.

Charles Maurice de Talleyrand-Perigord—better known as Talleyrand—was a man of methods and a man who so thoroughly studied the problems that presented themselves before him for solution that he became one of the leading statesmen in the France of his day. He was born in Paris, February 13, 1754, and died there May 17, 1838.

In the year 1792 Talleyrand was sent to London on a diplomatic mission. While there his enemies at home brought charges against him of being involved in royalist intrigues and he was proscribed. In 1794—he had remained in England because of the proscription awaiting him in France—England passed the famous alien act and Talleyrand was forced to seek asylum in America. After two years spent in the new republic, Talleyrand returned to France.

On his return to his native land he was appointed minister of foreign affairs, but being suspected of being in communication with the agents of Louis XVIII he was forced to resign in 1799.

Talleyrand was one of the first to recognize in Napoleon Bonaparte one of the great leaders of the time, and from this time forward for some years he devoted himself unflinchingly to the service of the "Little Corporal."

In 1807, following the peace of Tilsit, a coolness arose between Talleyrand and the emperor and in the following year Talleyrand secretly joined a royalist committee. The year 1814 saw him active in procuring the abdication of Napoleon and working to place Louis XVIII again on the throne.

After holding numerous positions under the government, he retired in 1834 and died in 1838 in private life.—Wayne D. McMurray.

HARVE JOURDAN ON COTTON

Harvie Jourdan of Georgia is the managing director of the Southern Cotton Association. He is touring Texas and making speeches to the farmers of Texas. He asserted at Mineral Wells that southern cotton growers through antiquated methods are losing $150,000,000 a year.

How? Well, it is his firm conviction that the plantation bale of today is the same type of package as that turned out from the old-fashioned horse-powered gin of half a century ago. It typifies the days of the tallow candle and the stage coach and the bale is only partially covered, thrown about in trash and dirt and is delivered to the spinners in a disgracefully economic condition.

Continuing, he said there is a fixed charge of 5½ per cent of the gross weight of the Texas bale deducted for bagging and ties and he asserted no cotton grower ever sold a pound of bagging and ties and never will under existing conditions.

Harvie Jourdan has a solution of this problem. It is a higher density and compression, and it lies in the adoption of the new system. Moreover, he says, the charges for freight insurance, storage, tare and losses in weight are higher against American cotton produced in any country in the world.

Texas produces a third of the cotton crop of America and the amount lost by present methods of handling according to the calculations of the Georgia expert, amounts to $50,000,000 a year. Why not get away from the tallow dip and stage coach period of civilization?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE BLEDSOE DISTRICT BY THE WHICKER LAND COMPANY

1. Where is the Bledsoe district?
The Bledsoe district embraces a large area of good agricultural cat-claw land located in the central west portion of Cochran County.

2. Where is Bledsoe?
Bledsoe is the terminus of the Santa Fe Railroad running west from Lubbock. It is a beautiful town site and is from ¼ to 7 miles distant from the Whicker Land Co., holdings.

3. What is the nature of the soil?
The soil is very rich. It is from 3 to 6 feet deep, and varies from a chocolate color to a red sandy loam, with a clay subsoil. There is just enough sand in this loam to scour a plow. There are absolutely no rocks or gravel.

4. What is the altitude of the Bledsoe district?
It averages about 3300 feet above sea level.

5. Is it hot there in summer?
No. According to Government statistics the AVERAGE TEMPERATURE through a period of ten years for June is 72 degrees; July 79.1 degrees; August 76.4 degrees. There is no humidity and the sensible temperature is less than the thermometer indicates. In this thin atmosphere the summer nights are always cool and invigorating, cover being necessary for comfortable sleeping.

6. Are your winters long or severe?
For this altitude the winters are exceptionally short. They may be considered mild, since a winter seldom contains more than 48 hours altogether, of weather as cold as 10 degrees above zero. The thermometer rarely reaches zero, and then only for a few hours. There is occasionally some snow, but it has never covered the ground more than a day or so that stock could not graze.

7. What is the length of your growing season?
Six to eight months.

8. Is your section generally healthy?
Remarkably so. But few sections of the country have as low a death rate. The sanitary conditions are such that there is practically no danger of any epidemic.

9. Do you have malaria, tuberculosis or asthma?
The only cases are those which have come here from some other locality to be cured, and they are usually successful.

10. Do you ever have cyclones in the Bledsoe district?
Not within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

11. What are the disadvantages of this country, if any?
The only one that could be found is perhaps 10 to 15 windy days in February, March and April, when the wind blows sufficiently hard to make it disagreeable to work in the fields. With over 325 sunshiny days every year this small discomfort amounts to nothing.

12. What is your rainfall, and when does it come?
Twenty-two inches per annum for a period of the last 25 years. Most of the rain comes between April and October, during the growing season.

13. What is the depth of your water?
One hundred and fifty to two hundred and forty feet.

14. Is there any alkali in the soil or water?
None.

15. Have you good drinking water?
The water both from the shallow wells operated by windmills and the deeper wells is approximately 90 per cent pure. It is soft, cold and practically the same as rain-water.

16. Can fruit be raised on your land, and what varieties?

This section is ideal for fruit growing. Practically all the leading commercial varieties of apples, peaches, plums, pears, cherries, berries, grapes, prunes and apricots flourish here.

17. Do vegetables do well there, and if so, what kinds?
Experienced truck growers get almost incredible yields from such crops as strawberries, cantaloupes, water-melons, pumpkins, asparagus, beans, peas, cabbage, sweet and Irish potatoes, beets, parsnips, carrots, turnips, onions, tomatoes, celery, pepper, cauliflower, artichoke, rhubarb, cucumbers, eggplant, radishes, kale, lettuce, mustard, okra, parsley, spinach, squashes, sugar beets, etc. It seems that practically all vegetables do well here, and it is almost impossible to overtax this virgin soil.

18. Do you grow any corn or cotton?
Both make very satisfactory yields. Indian corn has averaged 40 to 75 bushels per acre—1 to 1½ tons of maize or kaffir are not uncommon. Especially adapted to cotton growing and wonderful possibilities for this crop. Owner of this land will make affidavit to the fact that there has not been a crop failure on his farm of 250 acres for the past TEN years.

19. Have you a successful stock raising country?
This section has always been famous in that respect. Feed is plentiful, horses, mules, cattle, hogs and sheep are extremely healthy, and they neither suffer from heat in summer nor do they have to be housed during our mild winter months. Every well-rounded farm contains sufficient live stock to consume the surplus and waste from truck, fruit and general farm crops.

20. Do hogs have cholera in the Bledsoe district?
No case has ever been known here. Should infected hogs occasionally get through Texas' strict quarantine laws, the disease can easily be stamped out, as the health conditions are as near perfect as possible.

21. Have you the dairy cow in your country?
Within the past few years large numbers of fine dairy cows have been imported, and dairying is becoming one of our most important industries. Tuberculosis never bothers the herds.

22. Does poultry do well in the Bledsoe district?
This is one of the most profitable poultry raising sections of the United States. Poultry is practically free from disease, and all varieties of fowls thrive here.

23. Have you good railroad and marketing facilities?
The best there is, as we are on the Santa Fe Railroad.

24. What is the nature of the country roads?
The Bledsoe district has the best natural roads in the United States. They are kept in perfect condition by the country.

25. How are your farms located with reference to railroads?
Every farm offered for sale by the Whicker Land Company, is situated from ¼ to 7 miles from the railroad depot.

26. How about rural schools and churches?
The townsite of Bledsoe is donating land for the purpose of churches and independent schools. Both will be developed to the high standards of Texas people.

27. Are your lands increasing in value?
At the present rate of increase, land here should double in price in less than 5 years.

28. What are some of the popular varieties of shade trees?
Locust, maple, elm, walnut, cottonwood, poplar and cedar.

29. How is this land divided?
Surveyed in tracts of 123 acres each. One to four tracts make a fine farm.

30. What are the prices and terms?
$30.00 to $35.00 per acre. Some few pieces at $25.00. Cash payment $10.50 per acre. Balance of consideration divided into 14 equal notes. First note due two years after cash payment, and one note due each year for 13 more years. Each note due December 1st, at 6 per cent interest, on or before. This gives a chance for TWO crops before a payment is due. Cheaper than rent.

31. Can a man pay in full for his farm at any time?
Yes. All notes are payable "on or before."

32. Are there any livery charges while inspecting your lands?
No, we have a number of good automobiles free for your service, and will be glad to meet you at the train if you will notify us as to the date of your arrival.

We raise more cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry at less expense than any state.

Texas land never decreases in price. Why not get the increase which is sure to come soon.

Goodland Gleanings

Yes, there is still more proof that Goodland community spirit is being developed. The people not only express their belief in wholesome spiritual life, but also take their stand for spiritual growth, the foundation of true character building. The citizens of Goodland, and the people of Figure 2, and Maple Wilson schools met Sunday, Nov. 8, at Goodland School House, and made preparations for the organization of a community Sunday School. The three communities decided to organize one Sunday School, to study the Bible until suitable literature could be obtained, to secure more seats at once, and that services would be held at Goodland.

A. E. Robison is building on land he recently purchased in the Maple Wilson community. He will leave Monday, Nov. 9, for his home in Frederick, Oklahoma, in order to move his family to this new farming district.

Friday night, November 13, the patrons of the Goodland, Figure 2, and Maple Wilson schools will organize a parent-teachers association. This time the meeting will be held in the Maple Wilson school house.

THE HOME TOWN SPIRIT

I put the pep and ginger in the burg that I inhabit. I try to drive away the wrong. I see the good and grab it. I pave the streets and light 'em up and keep 'em nicely laundered. I guard the public budget so the money won't be squandered. I make a large and joyful noise that all the world may hear it. Please let me introduce myself—I am the Home Town Spirit.

I advocate each enterprise to benefit the people. I build the bridge, the better roads, the smoke-stack and steeples. The factory and hospital arise at my suggestion. I force the righteous settlement of every public question. The churches, schools and reading rooms I boost by word and action, and drop my money in the hat with joy and satisfaction. The best is not too good for this community I live in, for I'm the Home Town Spirit and I'm not afraid of givin'.

I gladly do my super-bit and I hustle like tarnation to spread the glad-some news abroad I'm tireless in my labors.

I pound my drum and cymbals and arouse enthusiasm and drive the pessimistic blues from anyone who has 'em. Success is ours—it's bound to be; there's nothing that can queer it. Three cheers for me, for I am the good old Home Town Spirit.—Clipped.

You Have Heard of Our Crop Payment Plan

This Plan Is Sweeping the Country
It Is the Safest and the Best

This Plan Provides a Way to Make "Your Dreams" Come True

The New 18,000 acre subdivision of Enochs lands gives you another chance to acquire a home by this most unusual plan.

This 18,000 acre subdivision is the last of Enochs lands, and will likely be your last opportunity to own a home on our crop payment plan, so you must act quick.

More Than One-Half Million Dollars Worth of Land Sold to Real Dirt Farmers Is Our Sales Record for One Month

With our crop payment plan yet in effect you still have the same opportunity given those who bought the above one-half Million Dollars worth of land within a thirty day period.

In this last subdivision we have some farms which contain both agricultural and grazing lands at very attractive prices ranging from $7.50 per acre up.

In this crop payment plan you are required to make only a small cash-down payment, which is one-sixth the total purchase price. For example:

- 160 acres of land $30.00 per acre amounts to $800.00 down
- 160 acres of land $22.50 per acre amounts to $600.00 down
- 160 acres of land $15.00 per acre amounts to $400.00 down
- 160 acres of land $ 7.50 per acre amounts to $200.00 down

Some of the tracts contain 177 acres or more, and the cash-down payment is in proportion to the size and price of the farm.

The crop payment feature of our plan gives a period of 20 years, if necessary, within which to pay for your home

After making the cash-down payment as shown above, you apply one-third and one-fourth of your crops each year on the interest and principal due until your home is paid for in full.

Improvements: None required.

You must act at once if you are going to buy land on our crop payment plan. Don't wait to finish gathering your crop before coming to buy. If you don't have the full cash-down payment come on just the same and make your selection, and we can arrange to take care of the cash-down payment to suit your convenience. Come in and let one of OUR OWN REPRESENTATIVES explain our plan to you.

The Blalock Company

NOTICE: If for any reason small annual payments are preferred instead of crop payments you may buy under contract, paying one-sixth of purchase price in cash.—Make two crops, then begin paying the balance due us, at $1.00 per acre annually, beginning January 1st, 1926, as per our contract.

Cisco—The most unique fish hatchery in the world is to be built at Lake Cisco by the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Contract has been let for the first unit and when complete the hatchery will represent an investment of $30,000. The unusual feature rests in the fact that the hatchery is to be built inside the big dam and it will enable the plant to turn out millions of fish. Rainbow trout, yellow cat, bass, beam and crappie will be propagated.

Plainview—The highway from Lubbock to Canyon a distance of 115 miles is to be oiled by the State Highway Department. The entire road will be graded and rolled and treated with special asphalt oil by a method similar to that employed in Illinois. Cost of the work is estimated at $1,000 per mile and will be paid for with road maintenance funds. If this proves successful a number of Panhandle highways will receive similar treatment.

Robert Lee—Preliminary steps looking toward the great Colorado River irrigation project in this county were taken at a meeting here. Porter A. Whaley manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Gib Gilchrist and J. Nagel prominent engineers and a committee of Coke County citizens spoke on the project. An extended discussion was held and another meeting to be held here Nov. 14 when Frank Kell, C. M. Caldwell, A. Lincoln Fellowes, Porter Whaley and R. Q. Lee with other prominent builders will discuss the project thoroughly with Coke County property owners and a definite decision will be reached as to whether the project will be pushed.

Quanah—A solid train load of cement plaster was shipped from a local plaster mill this week. The commodity will be sent via train to Savannah, Ga., from whence it will go via steamship to Florida. Florida is at present buying enormous quantities of cement plaster and west Texas gyp mills are reaping great benefit from the building boom in Florida.

Lubbock—A whirl wind campaign for six thousand dollars is being waged by the local chamber of commerce. This money is needed to pay off outstanding debts and continue operations to January 1st. An election will be held before Jan. 1st. to vote an amendment to the city charter providing for a board of city development.

Abilene—The Abilene Chamber of Commerce is preparing a booklet giving the names of all contributing members of the organization and naming those citizens who have been active in putting over civic programs. This is intended to stimulate Chamber of Commerce activities and support as well as give proper credit to the workers.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb county—Greeting:

D. 1925, the same being the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1925, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 7th day of October, A. D. 1925, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 134, wherein Grace Tice is plaintiff and Orville Tice is defendant, and said petition alleging that on or about the 8th day of December, A. D. 1924, plaintiff was married to defendant in the county of Palmer, in this state, that at the time of said marriage plaintiff was an infant under the age of eighteen, to-wit: of the age of about sixteen.

That for a short time after said marriage plaintiff cohabited with defendant, but plaintiff and defendant have not cohabited as husband and wife for any time or in any manner since defendant left the plaintiff, to-wit: on or about the 5th day of January, A. D. 1925.

That plaintiff is desirous of having said marriage between herself and defendant dissolved and declared null and void by a decree of this court.

That soon after plaintiff and defendant were married as aforesaid defendant commenced a course of harsh and unkind treatment toward this defendant without cause or provocation on the part of this plaintiff. This plaintiff was at all times kind and affectionate to defendant and managed the household affairs with prudence and economy, but defendant unmindful of his marital vows and disregarding his obligations to treat plaintiff with kindness and affection caused her great mental anguish and humiliation by his misconduct and was arrested on numerous occasions for various offenses and placed in jail and now has several felony charges against him and has among other charges the offense of forgery, swindling by means of giving bad checks and has gone away and left this plaintiff and she does not know of his whereabouts and have not heard from him since said time he left her.

That on the account of the cruel and mistreatment of this plaintiff by the defendant, and his total failure to regard her in her feelings and causing her unbounded mental anguish and suffering as aforesaid has made their living together as husband and wife insupportable. And plaintiff has been compelled to return to her parents and depend upon them for her support and protection and that it is impossible for plaintiff to live again with defendant as her husband.

Wherefore plaintiff prays judgment of the court that defendant be cited in terms of law to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving said marriage relations, and that said marriage and for other and further she be granted a divorce dissolving ther relief, special and general, at law and in equity to which she may be justly entitled, etc., and that she be restored to her maiden name of

The Texas Utilities Company

It Supplies Light and Power
Without Effort on Your Part

That is one of the reasons why service of electricity is growing so fast. It meets the definition of "an essential public service."

No community that expects to grow can get along without electric light and power. No community can grow unless its electric service grows ahead of it to make its growth possible.

Supplying electric power and light is not selling a commodity. It is a service. This service must be ready every minute of the day. It must be able to meet all demands. It must be supplied to all alike.

These things about this service lend it the great public interest that attach to it. They are the things that make it desirable for the community and its people to have electric utility management to understand each other fully and be perfectly frank with each other.

This company seeks that kind of co-operation with the people that it is essential to its success.
