Is New Pastor Of Local Church

Rev. Carter McKemy, who has served as pastor of Anglin Street Presbyterian Church of Cleburne since May, 1943, will arrive in Littlefield next Wednesday and take over the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, preaching his first sermon Sunday, July 13.

The local church has been without a regular pastor since the resignation of Dr. A. B. Haynes, and Rev. McKemy will be welcomed to Littlefield by a large number.

Rev. and Mrs. McKemy have a four-year-old daughter, Mary Martha. Rev. McKemy went to Cleburne from a depot, where he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church for three years and also taught in the Depot High school.

He was a former resident of Denison, Texas, and attended school there, though he was graduated from the Granite, Okla., High school. He attended Austin College at Sherman and received his theological training from San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, Calif., from which he was graduated in 1940.

Mrs. McKemy was the former Miss Frances Diefenderfer. She was secretary of the Presbyterian Church at Denison for a number of years, and took special work offered to women students while her husband was attending the seminary.

The Leader is in receipt of a letter from Rev. McKemy stating he was leaving for Junior Hi Camp at Buffalo Gap, Texas, but planned to arrive in Littlefield July 9 and occupy the pulpit for his first service July 13.

Dr. Newton Gets 30-Day Reprieve

That the lives of his patients might not be jeopardized, Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron Tuesday won a 30-day emergency reprieve from beginning immediately his two-year assault to murder sentence.

Dr. Newton was convicted of assault to murder on Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield. The Court of Appeals Saturday had refused his application for rehearing of his appeal.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester granted the emergency reprieve on recommendation of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Jester said that Dr. Newton has some 12 to 15 patients who have been scheduled for major surgery, "one of whom is said to be in a critical condition and has received six or seven blood transfusions preparatory to a necessary major operation."

The request for the thirty-day emergency reprieve was also for the purpose of permitting Dr. Newton to get his medical practice in such condition that his patients may secure adequate attention elsewhere, as well as to arrange his personal affairs before entering upon his sentence," Jester commented.

VFW Grabs Two This Week

Softball fans saw the High School boys run rough-shod over the Firemen, 12-2, in Thursday night's starting game. Bridges spurted in ahead of Lavender by a Margin of 13-12.

Friday night, VFW won over the American Legion, 10-9, while Morrow trounced the JayCees, 21-14.

Monday night, Morrow lost their touch and went down before Bridges to the tune of 13-9. In the final game, VFW chalked up 14 to the Firemen's 2.

Tuesday night the High School made 11, the Legion 7, in a cozy little contest which, in spite of the implications of the score, was played with a ball and bat—not with small cubes, and remarks about somebody's infant being urgently in need of presentable shoes. Same night, the JayCees spat on their hands, rubbed their hirsute symbols of old western virility and romped on Lavender, 10-2. And, pardners, that's the tall for this week out at the old softball corral. All the hands are restin' up Wednesday for next week's games. Which are:

July 3, VFW vs. JayCees, and American Legion vs. Firemen; July 4, Morrow vs. Lavender, and High School vs. Bridges; July 7, Morrow vs. High School, and Lavender vs. VFW; July 8, American Legion vs. Bridges, and Firemen vs. JayCees.

WEDDING GIFT IS PRESENTED TO MR. AND MRS. JOE DOUGLASS

In appreciation of the services of Joe Douglass as Avalanche Journal carrier for the past year, a representative group of his customers called on Mr. and Mrs. Douglass at their home at 2510 Third Street, Lubbock, and presented them with a lovely silverware set.

Mrs. S. F. Crenshaw of 3007 Walnut Avenue and Mrs. Frank Cox of 3016 Walnut Ave. were instrumental in obtaining the contributions from Joe's customers out in Arnett-Benson addition.

An article in the Lubbock Avalanche of Tuesday morning, very complimentary to Mr. Douglass, is being published by the Leader as follows:

"This probably should come under the heading of Believe It Or Not, but there are 125 families who are quite satisfied with the service they are receiving from a young businessman in Lubbock—and what's more they've done something about it.

Joe Douglass, Avalanche-Journal carrier-salesman on the Arnett-Benson route for the past year, has delivered papers to approximately 125 customers morning and night, whether the sun was boiling down at 100-degree-plus temperatures, or if miniature cloudbursts had created small lakes in his customers' front yards.

"Joe, a student at Texas Technological College, suffers the same threats to his job of seeing that Mr. and Mrs. Lubbock find their paper where they want it each morning and each afternoon as do the many other young men handling routes in the city—playful dogs who apparently tear the paper apart to read about the five pups in the Blondie cartoon strip in the Morning Avalanche each day, and the hundred and one other mishaps that can happen to a paper from the time it leaves his hands until it is picked up sometime later by the person for whom it was intended.

Recently, Joe was married. And Joe's customers read about that in the paper. So . . .

Monday night a representative group of them called on Mr. and Mrs. Douglass at their home at 2510 Third Street, and made a bit of the news which Joe delivered this morning.

"In appreciation of the service he has given them the past year they presented him and his wife with a gift, a silverware set. Mrs. S. F. Crenshaw of 3007 Walnut Avenue and Mrs. Frank Cox of 3016 Walnut were instrumental in obtaining the contributions from Joe's customers out in Arnett-Benson addition.

"The incident was as big a surprise to Joe's employers as it was to

And They Forgot to Roll Out the Pavement

Some civic-minded citizens have expressed regret for the negligent action of the crew which rolls up the streets on Sundays. Last Monday morning they forgot to roll Phelps Avenue down flat, leaving an ominous bulge at the intersection of Fourth and Phelps Avenue. This deplorable oversight is in the process of reconstruction.

A more scientific explanation of the buckling of the concrete pavement is the excessive temperature Sunday which leaped up around the 107-mark.

The buckling street is just another indication of these uncertain times: even a concrete street is not dependable any more. Some people, a bit unsteady because they were so full of spirit (or maybe spirits) thought it might be the devil poking up a subtle reminder of their erring ways.

But it was just the heat.

TRICK ROPING ON SLACK WIRE TO BE SPECIAL FEATURE AT COMING RODEO

The JayCees announced Wednesday that a special feature which would be carried out at the second annual rodeo to be staged here July 25, 26 and 27, would be a trick roping act on a slack wire by Calgary Red.

The above will be in addition to the regular show.

There will also be plenty of good clowning, according to those in charge.

Excessive Heat Cracks Phelps Ave. Pavement

Hottest Since 1939 West Texas Gas Records Show

The temperature hit an all-time high here Sunday about 5 p.m., when the thermometer broke through to a record of 114 degrees, highest temperature recorded in Littlefield since the summer of 1939, when the mercury hit 112 degrees.

Since last Thursday the temperature has hovered around the 100-mark, with medium and low temperatures in the early hours.

Expansion, due to moisture under the concrete and excessive heat, was credited with cracking the pavement on Phelps Avenue at Fourth Street. The steel-reinforced street buckled up like cardboard under the pressure caused by the heat.

While Littlefield sweltered, the mercury was steadily creeping upward. A tabulation of temperatures since June 26 shows:

Thursday, low 70, and high 108 (2:30 p.m.); Friday, low 72, and high 106; Saturday, low 74, and high 106; Sunday, low 72, and high 114 (6 p.m.); Monday, low 76, and high 100; Tuesday, low 70, and high 92; Wednesday, low 68, and high 100 (3 p.m.).

Mrs. Annie Lucinda Keithley, 64, widow of J. W. Keithley, Sr., passed away Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Keithley residence on West Fifth Street, following an illness of about five months' duration. Bright's disease and complications were the cause of her death.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock at the First Methodist Church here, with Rev. S. M. Dunnam, pastor, officiating.

Interment, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home, will take place in the Littlefield cemetery.

As Annie Lucinda Hoover, deceased was born February 3, 1883, at St. Jo, Texas, where she was reared and where she was married to J. W. Keithley on May 2, 1905. After living at St. Jo for sometime, the Keithley family moved to Gainesville, where they made their home about six years. They later lived at Wellington about seven years, locating in Littlefield in 1926, where they had continued to make their home.

Keithley of Bremerton, Washington. The daughters are Mrs. A. R. Hendricks of Littlefield and Mrs. Harold Roberts of Brownwood, Texas.

Thomas' Conviction Reversed Again

Jim Thomas, 51-year-old paroled convict, may face trial a fourth time on a charge of murder in the slaying of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield.

Judgment was reversed and his case remanded for the fourth trial Saturday by the Court of Criminal Appeals on a ruling that evidence was insufficient to sustain the last previous conviction which had carried a life imprisonment sentence.

Two previous convictions on the same charge had carried death sentences. New trials had also been ordered in both previous convictions, one on jury irregularities and the second on insufficient evidence.

The ruling came shortly before the appeal court adjourned for the summer until Oct. 6.

The Thomas case has been in court since shortly after Thomas' arrest Oct. 26, 1943, one day after Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were found slain, slashed and bound in their bedroom.

Thomas, on parole to Galvestor county, was arrested in Galveston after it was found that he had left that county in violation of his parole requirements, court records showed. The trial subsequently brought out, records said, that he had visited in the S. L. Veazey home in Amarillo and was seen in Littlefield on the night of the crime.

"It will be noted . . . that appellant's connection with the horrible crime depends entirely on circumstances," Judge Charles G. Krueger wrote in the appeal court's opinion.

The state had relied for conviction principally on foot prints at the scene of the crime made by shoes to which Thomas had access, a piece of string which "almost" fit with a piece found at the scene of the crime, car tracks similar to those of a car borrowed by Thomas, and damage to the car which could have occurred at the scene of the crime.

" . . . It is not sufficient that the circumstances coincide with, account for and therefore render probable the guilt of the defendant; they must exclude every other reasonable hypothesis except that of the defendant's guilt, and unless they do so beyond reasonable doubt, the evidence is not sufficient to warrant a conviction," the opinion held.

District Attorney Harold M. LaFont said Saturday night that he will not decide on what future action to take in the Jim Thomas case until he receives and studies the full opinion of the court of criminal appeals in reversing and remanding the conviction at Sweetwater.

LaFont is district attorney of the 64th district court, in which the charge against Thomas was filed.

INTERESTING AND EDUCATIONAL TALK IS GIVEN HERE BY NATIONAL HEAD OF WOW

Woodmen of Lamb County, visiting Woodmen and Circle members, together with large numbers of friends of the Woodman organization, thoroughly enjoyed the visit to Littlefield Friday night of Farrar Newberry, of Omaha, Nebraska, president of the fraternal order.

Mr. Newberry was welcomed to Littlefield by Mayor A. C. Chesher, Judge Otha Dent and local and state officials of the Woodmen. Mr. Newberry was a dinner guest of the reception party; at 7:15 delivered an address over KVOW; from 8 to 9 witnessed the initiation of a group of candidates, and at 9 p.m. addressed a gathering in the auditorium of the Littlefield High school.

The fourth president to head the 57-year-old home protection and fraternal order, Mr. Newberry delivered an interesting and educational talk, following his official welcome to Littlefield by Mayor Chesher and an address of welcome by Robert Kirk, Littlefield attorney and advisor-lieutenant.

While the initiation was in progress in the high school gymnasium, the high school band gave a concert in the auditorium for the entertainment of Circle members. Always active in promoting the welfare of civic activities, the Littlefield camp gave the band a nice check in appreciation for their concert and the work being accomplished by the band in the development of young musicians.

Among prominent Woodmen present for the visit of the national president were George W. Hine, state manager for Northwest Texas; R. N. Dossman, San Antonio, head consul for Texas, and Mr. Langley of Mineral Wells, head banker.

The keynote of Mr. Newberry's address was a short poem: Four pillars must the temple have To hold the structure high; Financial strength for confidence And real fraternity.

And leadership of able men, of undisputed worth. And members filled with loyalty, best people on the earth.

Mr. Newberry reviewed the growth of the Woodmen and some of their fraternal and civic activities. He said that the Woodmen have total assets of $160,000,000.

Mr. Newberry said that in the past four and one-half years the Woodmen had gained 60,000 members and that it is hoped that the fraternal order will have a total of 400,000 members within the next few months.

United Nations Two Years Old

Two years ago this week the United Nations was born in San Francisco.

Its birth was signalled when the representatives of 50 nations attached their signatures to the leather-bound parchment document entitled simply, "Charter of the United Nations." (A space was left for the signature of Poland, whose government had not yet been reconstituted).

In the two years since then, the Organization, representing more than four-fifths of the world's inhabitants, has gained four new members, set up more than a score of international bodies to deal with special problems, rounded out its own structure and begun work in nearly every human concern from agriculture to child welfare.

The growth has not always been easy, but the United Nations can look back on its first two years with the assurance that the political situation has sustained international organization. And in non-political fields, it can survey undramatic but substantial progress toward a fuller and more secure life for the peoples of the world.

U.N.'s organizational stage began immediately after the Charter was signed and, after six months of intense effort on the part of a Preparatory Commission and the latter's Executive Committee, all was ready for the first part of the first session of the General Assembly, which met from January 10 to February 14, 1946, in London.

-ROME WASN'T BUILT IN A DAY EITHER-

I, B. Holt and see if he voted for this law and if he did how he figures it's gonna work.

In the first place, if I had a new car and it was scraped by a woman backin her car out, I would appreciate it if she would just keep on drivin, as sure as thunder if she tries to get back into her parkin place to write a note tellin me she done it, she'll take off more paint and smash more fenders goin back in and comin back out, doin three times as much damage as she would of done before the law was passed. Nope, I say when a woman with two or three babies in the front and back seats and a cigarette needin the ashes flicked gets her car started and out into the middle of the street, regardless of how many fenders she took with her the thing that's needed for peace and tranquility is to keep her goin and get her out of town as quick as possible without no time to stop and write notes. Or else pass a law limitin one car to a block, and even then some women I've heard of could hit that one without half tryin.

Also, men is guilty some too and if I backed out and dented somebody's shiny new fender doin it, I know enough about human nature to know leavin a note ain't gonna settle nothin or pacify the owner. But he's gonna be mad as a wet hen in the first place, but if he don't know who done it his fury can just sort of dissipate in all directions at the human race generally, but when I leave a note sayin I done it, it only builds up his fury directly, concentratin on me, and he harbors it for months and it from the finance company, but what I started out to say was that the members of the recent legislature in Austin seems to be more limited than me when it comes to knowin anything about human nature and automobiles.

For example, accordin to a article I read in a copy of the Avalanche-Journal I pulled in on my line Monday, the legislature passed a law requirin anybody who hits a "unattended vehicle" to leave a written notice givin their name and address.

As I understand this, if a woman backs her car out from the curb in Littlefield on a crowded Saturday afternoon and knocks the paint off of the side of the car parked to her right and the car parked to her left and maybe off the back end of the car parked on the opposite side of the street, the new law requires her to write three notes with her name and address on them and leave them in the three cars.

I wish you would get hold of Rep.

Dear Editor:

My experience with drivin automobiles ain't too wide, as there is too many things to go wrong with a car for a thinkin man to fool with very long, as if the battery ain't dead a tire is flat or the license is due or the gas tank is empty or a hen is settin in the back seat and a man don't like to disturb her, and I have been around enough to know in ordinary times drivin a car ain't no sign you own it, you may be just rentin

State Winners Announced

State winners of the 1947 National 4-H Frozen Foods awards program have the opportunity to win a $200 college scholarship, in addition to a Chicago 4-H Club Congress trip, the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work has announced.

"To further encourage learning how to freeze foods, four national scholarships of $200 each have been added to the 4-H awards provided by International Harvester," the committee announced. "Last year the state winner could compete for only a national award, which was a Chicago trip. The trip is now a sectional award, and the winner also receives the national award of a scholarship. County and state awards remain the same as in 1946."

In this activity, club members learn the foods best adapted to freezing, and to develop skill in preparing, packaging and freezing. They are also encouraged to demonstrate that an ample supply of home-grown food is one of the advantages of living on a farm, and to show the desirable variety that frozen foods can add to the home-raised supply.

County extension agents will provide information and suggestions for carrying on the activity.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

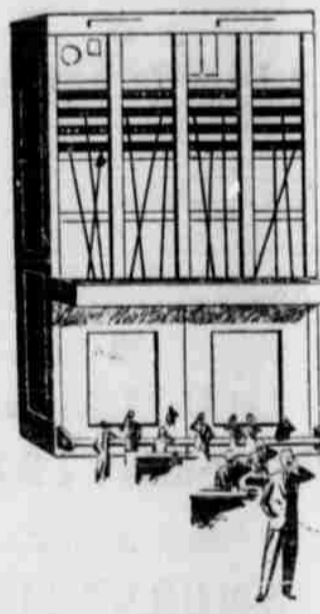

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

The story behind the switchboard

The switchboard is the hub of all telephone communications. Before a telephone can function, it must be connected to a central office switchboard. Our present facilities cannot accommodate all the telephones requested by those on our waiting list.

We have ordered new switchboard equipment, but nationwide demands exceed manufacturers' production capacities for months to come. Meanwhile, we must use our present facilities to serve as many as possible.

COLD FACTS about HOT WATER

by Margaret Mallaby

Considering that the average American family has to wash a full acre of dishes and launder three miles of clothes every year . . . the present enthusiasm for automatic laundries and dishwashers is not surprising.

What is surprising is the general lack of knowledge about the kind of hot water supply necessary to make these new labor-saving devices do their jobs efficiently.

The situation is so serious that one of the leading manufacturers of laundry equipment asked the Gas Industry to double its promotion of automatic Gas water-heaters for private homes.

The reason why Gas is preferred for water-heating . . . particularly by washer makers . . . is simply this: Gas heats water faster than any other agent; A 30-gallon automatic Gas water-heater provides as much constant high-temperature water as a 100-gallon heater of any other type.

The secret, of course, is the way Gas immediately replaces and stores hot water as it is drawn off . . . a vital point when you realize that the most popular do-everything laundry requires 18.3 gallons of 160 degree water to soak, wash and rinse nine pounds of clothes.

Furthermore, clothes washing is just one of the many modern hot water requirements. The new automatic dishwashers need plenty, too. In doing the complete job they use three fillings . . . clean-off with lukewarm, actual washing with extra hot, and steam rinsing with 180 degree water . . . all of which must be instantaneously on tap! Add to that the dozens of house-cleaning tasks, baths, showers, shaves and cooking needs and it's easy to see why the reliable temperature control and super abundance of an automatic Gas water-heater is the only answer today.

There's one more point without which no Gas water-heating story is complete. Economy! I like to save it for last because it seems all the more remarkable that a Gas water-heater could give so much with so little effort and yet cost so little to run. Frankly, haven't you found that's true with all Gas appliances?

Faithfully yours,

Margaret Mallaby

FBI Sends 11,873
Persons To Prison

Forty-five escaped prisoners of war were still at large in the United States at the end of 1946, according to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and author of a report on the FBI written for the Encyclopaedia Britannica 1947 Book of the Year.

He reveals that between October, 1942, and December 31, 1946, 2,802 prisoners of war escaped. Of these, 2,757 were located or returned to the custody of military authorities by the FBI.

Ninety-seven and three-tenths per cent of the people brought to trial by the FBI in the fiscal year of 1946 were convicted. The FBI sent 11,873 criminals to prison for terms totaling more than 26,000 years and collected over $68,000,000 in fines, savings and recoveries during the fiscal year ended in 1946. More than $31,000,000 was recovered from anti-trust cases alone. The FBI obtained 140 convictions for anti-trust violations during the 1946 fiscal year, when it assumed responsibility for the investigation of such cases.

All of the 13 kidnappings that occurred during the fiscal year were solved, Hoover points out in his article. No demand for ransom was made in any of these cases. Kidnapers were sentenced to a total of 297 years, plus one sentenced to a life term.

Of 292 kidnappings investigated by the FBI since the enactment of the Federal kidnaping statute in 1932, 290 have been solved, Hoover states. The two remaining cases continue under active investigation.

Increases are noted in the number of convictions for extortion, bribery and theft of motor vehicles. Almost 11,500 automobiles were recovered in cases investigated by the FBI, Hoover says.

There were only half as many convictions for violations of the White Slave Traffic Act as in the previous fiscal year.

On June 30, 1946, the identification division of the FBI had a total of 101,578,578 fingerprint cards in its files, Hoover states.

Latest On DDT Is Released

Latest recommendations for the use of DDT to kill cotton insects have been released by the entomologists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

To control flea hoppers, the entomologists recommend a mixture of five per cent DDT and sulphur, with at least 75 per cent of the mixture consisting of sulphur. Applied at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre, one application is usually enough to get the hoppers.

The bollworm takes a 10 per cent DDT and sulphur mixture, consisting also of 75 per cent sulphur. Ten to 15 pounds of this mixture per acre at five-day intervals is the recommended rate of treatment. Stink bugs and plant bugs can be controlled, the entomologists say, with the same poison mixture recommended for bollworms.

Thrips, another cotton pest, are controlled with a five per cent DDT and sulphur dust, applied at 10 pounds per acre.

Texas Voters To Decide On Nine Amendments

Shall Texas colleges and universities build $60,000,000 worth of new buildings?

Should the state's legislative districts be reapportioned every 10 years on the basis of population?

Should counties be permitted to levy the property tax now collected by the state?

These are among the issues Texas voters will be asked to decide when they go to the polls to vote on constitutional amendments.

The 50th Legislature approved the nine constitutional amendments by two-thirds vote, but they must still be approved by popular vote to become a part of Texas' fundamental law.

The college building program will be submitted to the people on Saturday, Aug. 23, 1947. It would allow the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. College to float a bond issue on the permanent university fund to raise $15,000,000 for new buildings. The other 14 state colleges and universities would be allocated five cents of the ad valorem tax on which to float bonds for a total of $45,000,000.

All the other amendments will be submitted at the general election in November, 1948.

These provide:

- (1) For a board composed of the lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, land commissioner, attorney general and comptroller to redistrict the state after each federal census if the Legislature itself fails to do so.
- (2) Abolish the general ad valorem tax for state purposes and allow counties to increase their property tax rate up to 30 cents on the $100 valuation, limiting the county revenue thus raised to flood control and farm-to-market road use. It would not become effective until 1951, giving the Legislature time to replace the estimated 12 to 15 million dollar revenue loss to the state.
- (3) Correct an oversight in the ad valorem tax amendment. It would preserve the $3,000 homestead exemption on such taxes collected by counties.
- (4) Permit the Legislature to provide by law the line of gubernatorial succession when not specified by the constitution. The constitution now provides only that the lieutenant governor and the president pro tempore of the Senate shall fill a vacancy in the governorship.
- (5) Authorizing the establishment of a judicial retirement system, leaving specific rules for retirement up to the Legislature.
- (6) Authorize counties to provide workmen's compensation insurance for county employes and permit the counties to set up their own insurance plans.
- (7) Abolish the fee system for paying county officials and provide that their pay shall be on a salary basis to be set by county commissioners' courts.
- (8) Permit partition of community property of husband and wife to avoid federal inheritance "double-taxation" in event of either's death.

On-the-Job Training
To Be Handled by State From Austin

Veterans Administration regional office at Lubbock announced this week that the State of Texas has assumed complete responsibility for inspection and approval of all facilities for on-the-job training of World War II veterans under Public Law 346 (GI Bill).

In addition, the state has taken over the supervision of 6,043 West Texas firms, establishments and shops presently conducting on-the-job training for veterans.

VA advised that all future requests for inspection and approval of concerns to train veterans on the job under the GI Bill should be addressed to State Approving Agency for Veterans Education, Land Office Building, Austin, Texas.

The Veterans Administration regional office emphasized that it had not relinquished supervision of some 4,000 veterans engaged in job training but that sufficient funds have been allocated to the State in order that it may inspect and supervise the facilities which provide the training.

This arrangement will enable the VA to intensify its efforts toward rehabilitating disabled or physically handicapped war veterans. Formerly, VA's own training facility officers made surveys and forwarded reports to Austin for approval or disapproval.

VA further pointed out that it would continue the inspection and approval of all educational institutions, as well as all facilities where veterans are being rehabilitated under Public Law 16. At present, more than 2,000 disabled veterans are pursuing courses of vocational retraining under supervision of the Texas VA regional office.

The first Federal grants extended to agricultural colleges were made in 1862 under an act of Congress known as the "Morrill Bill."

College Cabin Built At Wayland

With even the college president... a Wayland College cabin has been constructed in the past few days at the Baptist encampment in Palo Duro canyon near Wayside. It is the first housing shelter to be erected on the grounds.

The idea, proposed by Dr. Bill Marshall, college president, was put into action Saturday when a crew of Wayland boys and two truck loads of material were sent up to the canyon to start work on the building so that it might be completed in time for the boys' and girls' encampments this week.

Among those pressed into service on the rush job were Burl Henderson, Wayland student from Amherst; Rev. Manfredi Ronchi, pastor of the Via Teatro Valle Baptist Church of Rome, Italy, who arrived Monday to speak at the camp; Dr. Eugene Colton, head of the Wayland Bible department; and "Smilin'" Sam Allen, newly-elected track coach.

The cabin, which is 14 by 16 feet and has eight windows, will be used as Wayland headquarters at the camp, and as a house for guest speakers.

Fish Bites Woman!

Willie Wells was coming home from Seward's Creek the other evening with a string of trout, when a stern looking lady (visitor at the Backwood Inn) stops him, and tells him a man his size could be better occupied than catching fish.

anything but trouble. Nobody who knew the facts would ever criticize Willie's right to go fishing on his one day off—any more than they'd deny his right to come home to a mellow glass of beer.

From where I sit, the slower we are to criticize—and the quicker we are to recognize another's tastes, the better we'll get along together—whether those tastes apply to beer or fishing.

Dairy Industry Progressing In Lamb County

The Lamb County Dairy Herd Improvement Association was started in April of 1946. At the present time Bill Workman is the DHIA supervisor. There are seven dairymen who are having their herds tested once a month. They are: H. E. Gohlke, Walter Grey, V. M. Peterman, Bob May, A. L. Berry, Roy B. McQuatters and Lester Johnson.

Mr. A. L. Barry of Fieldton was the first to complete the year test.

Leading cow of the association for the first year is Dreaming Valentine Lucy, born in May, 1940. She produced 579.9 pounds of butter fat and 11,972 pounds of milk in 369 days. The first 305 days, which is a normal period of production, she produced 10,973 pounds of milk and 522.6 pounds of butterfat. This is 630 pounds of butter, or better than two pounds of butter per day for each day that she produced milk. Its Dreaming Valentine Lucy made $322.17 net profit.

Mr. Berry has 13 cows on test and 11 cows or heifers from his herd sire of the eleven test daughters. These seven daughters averaged 383.2 pounds of butterfat and 7576 pounds of milk. Three of these cows started milking before they were two years old and the others were only three years old. Only one daughter failed to produce as much as their mother produced and she was only 21 months old when production started, and her mother was Lucy, who produced 579 pounds of butterfat.

A summary of each month production will be given to the papers. Other counties have developed dairying, and all leading counties have done this through testing.

Lamb county led the state in the production of grain sorghums in 1945 but failed to make much showing in either pork or dairy production. It takes feed to produce milk and pork. Lamb county farmers have a chance to be leaders in several other enterprises.

Report On Trial Of Shuichi Shimizu

The following information has been sent the Leader from General Headquarters for the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, Legal Section, Tokyo, Japan, under date of June 13, which may be of interest to the Leader readers:

Subject: Report on the trial of Shuichi Shimizu et al (by S/Sgt. William Cox).

An interesting note in the Shimizu trial June 12 was the testimony of a former American prisoner of war, who came from the 437th Air Service Group, Camp Temperhaag, Germany, to testify regarding his internment by the Japanese. Taken prisoner on April 10, 1942, at Bataan, S/Sgt. Dominic Prospero was held captive by the Japanese army until liberated at Kamloka prisoner of war camp, Japan, September 6, 1945.

Sergeant Prospero was used in the capacity of medical orderly at the camp. There were approximately 341 Allied internees confined there, he stated on direct examination. From among the accused, the witness identified accused Osoi, nicknamed "The Wolf"; Shimizu, Morita, "the Screaming Demon," and defendant Kayahara by sight. According to Prospero, a resident of 1911 Lancel-ter Street, Wilmington, Delaware, the food provided the prisoners was quite meager. The average prisoner ration consisted of 500 grams of cooked rice; later, a few pieces of fish were added sometimes every other month or so.

One incident of mistreatment reported by Prospero was the abuse of sixteen prisoners of war who were caught with contraband items in their quarters. Among the lot was tobacco, rice and beans. These men were lined up in a semi-circle in the headquarters office and slapped across the faces with belting. Following this, they were led outside in the snow and beaten. One Japanese, using a wooden bayonet practice rifle, began to jab the injured men. According to the testimony, they were slapped with a sword, causing blackened, bleeding faces. Following this brutal treatment, many of them were confined naked to the guard house and burned on the neck and hands with the okyu treatment.

A second report from the general headquarters in connection with the trial of U. S. vs. Shimizu, et al, has also been received as follows:

Witness S/Sgt. Dominic Prospero continued on direct testimony June 13 before an Eighth Army commission, when he described the beating of prisoners of war by the four defendants. One accused Hosoi, Prospero witnessed striking internees to the ground, thereafter, kicking them viciously. These beatings, following confinement in the guard house without clothing, were administered to a group of prisoners in whose quarters contraband items were discovered.

These men, upon release from the guard house, were secretly administered treatment by prison medics for the cruel injuries inflicted by the accused. Their faces were unrecognizable due to disfigurements resulting from the beatings.

In March a prisoner with a bad eye was working for one accused, Masoichi Mirita. "I kept him off from work illegally," said the medic witness Prospero, "and was severely reprimanded for this." The Japanese told him they were running this camp, not the prisoners. Without warning, while he was leaving the office, he was struck from behind on his head. Then the accused Morita brutally beat Prospero for approximately five minutes. A large knot and a bloody ear and face resulted from this unwarranted attack.

Prospero recalled one day in June while working on a mountain vegetable picking detail an incident regarding Robert L. Robinson of 127 "B", Lawton, Oklahoma. This man was caught dealing with Koreans in the mine. He was tied to an upright ladder and an extremely severe beating was administered, by the accused Hosoi, "The Wolf." When he passed out water was used to revive him. His agonized screams soon changed to hysterical laughter as he escaped the clutches of the fiendish tormentors. Robinson was again caught and dragged down to the guard house by his feet, where he was confined for ten days without medical care and without clothing. While being dragged down the steps leading to the guard house his head bumped the wooden step supports and cinders. He was completely unbalanced mentally by this time, stated witness Prospero. Following the ten-day confinement he was forced to go back to work.

Another instance of punishment occurred to William Thomas of Route No. 1, Jackson, Mississippi, an American prisoner of war, who had stolen a bag of charcoal sitting outside the commanding officer's office. He was taken to the office and "worked over," says witness Prospero. Later, the man was compelled to stand at attention in approximately three feet of snow. With bamboo sticks, the accused Hosoi commenced to hit him about the shoulders.
