Bringing the Lindbergh Pictures to You

LAMB LEADS IN ARBITRATION OF FARM HEARINGS

J. C. Whicker Chairman Of Conciliation Body

Lamb County led seven other South Plains counties in amount of business done through various county farm debt conciliation committees in a program to aid debt-ridden farmers through arbitrary action with their creditors, it was announced following a recent survey.

Lamb County's Farm Debt Adjustment committee includes J. C. Whicker, Littlefield Chairman, O. E. Dickson, Amherst, D. J. Dunlap, Amherst, G. M. Vann, Littlefield, and Fred Schreier, Olton.

Of the 37 cases of impending debt foreclosures on farms, involving some $267,691 to arise against Lamb County farmers, nearly $63,405 has been charged off farmers' debts through efforts of the county committee, according to J. E. Whicker, who is assisting the chairman in his county work.

Farmers heavily in debt may apply for Federal Land Bank loans in instances where their indebtedness can be reduced without reducing their assets. The conciliation committee aids in getting this indebtedness reduced.

Since September, 1934, when J. C. Whicker was appointed by Federal Judge James C. Wilson to serve as conciliation commissioner in Lamb County, some forty farmers have filled debtor's petitions, asking for more time in which to pay their debts. Twenty-seven of these cases have been completed, involving about $204,902 and affecting a savings to county farmers of $84,188.

C. of C. Luncheoners Act On City, County Problems This Week

Further action on widening of the railroad crossing on Highway 7 near the city and a discussion of highway work, the proposed shelterbelt project, Littlefield's Trades Day program, floating stores and proposed changes in the Bankhead Act administration for West Texas, provided fare for luncheoners at the Chamber of Commerce meeting in the Presbyterian Church basement Tuesday.

About 25 people were present. J. S. Hilliard, who presided, presented a letter requesting further action on the Highway 7 Railroad crossing just east of Littlefield. The letter, addressed to the county commissioners was read and signed by President A. R. Hendricks and Secretary Joe Hale.

Mr. Burdette, vocational agriculture instructor here, outlined the federal shelterbelt project now under consideration, and pointed to the advantages of increased rainfall and a windbreak to allow development of

WHEELER MAN CONFERS WITH BOOSTER GROUP

Meeting of Farmers in This Section Called To Discuss Plans

A possibility that Littlefield will soon have a cotton oil mill loomed closer Tuesday when local chamber of commerce members voiced interest in a called meeting of farmers set two weeks hence for the purpose of discussing a stock plan to finance the mill in part.

M. A. Wadsworth, operator of a mill in Wheeler, was in Littlefield Saturday to discuss the stock idea with the Chamber of Commerce oil mill committee headed by A. R. Hendricks and including J. T. Elms, Pat Boone and Homer Crews.

Wadsworth believes that $100,000 would cover complete costs of installing the mill. His plan to issue $100 worth of stock for sale to some 400 farmers in this territory is being considered by the committee. Under this plan, Wadsworth would raise the remainder needed to finance the mill

While no definite date has been set for the called meeting, it is to be held either Friday, Jan. 25, or February 1.

COTTON ACT PENALIZES WEST TEXANS, BELIEF

"Under its present administration the Bankhead act penalizes West Texans, especially newcomers wishing to settle in this area," declared W. H. Badger, Manager of the Yellow House Land Company, following a recent meeting of the Pioneer Land Owners Protective Association at Lubbock.

Badger, one of about 12 land company representatives and prominent West Texans who gathered in the Hub City to help suggest changes for the Bankhead Act's administration believes that the present allotment of cotton acreage made to West Texas discourages the newcomer "because he is cut down on alleged acreage and must take his chances on the amount he may raise."

"We met in Lubbock to seek a more equitable arrangement for both established and new West Texas farmers," Badger pointed out. "The present distribution discourages farmers from coming to this area. The Association hopes to send a list of suggested changes of the administration of the act to Congressman George Mahon soon."

A committee appointed to draw up the changes includes Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech; Dean A. Leidigh of Tech's division of agriculture; Don L. Jones, state experiment substation official; R. C. Hopping, sales manager of Ellwood farms, and W. P. Soash, general manager of the Loan Star Land Company.

J. D. Hamlin, Farwell, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting as representative of the Texas Freehold Land and Investment company.

Among others present were Francis E. Miller, Sudan, city commissioner and sales manager of E. W. Miller and Son; and Clifford B. Jones, Spur, representing S. M. Swenson and Sons interests in Texas.

UNCLE SAM'S INCOME

In spite of all the political opposition to anything called a "Sales Tax," the surprising fact is disclosed in recent reports from Washington that the principal source of revenue for the Federal Government today is from sales taxes.

Estimates submitted to Congress by the executive departments show an expectation in the next fiscal year, of $1,900,000,000 income from sales taxes of various kinds, and only $1,200,000,000 from income taxes, which have heretofore been the chief source of national revenue.

Under the head of sales taxes we must, of course, include the processing taxes on agriculture commodities, out of which benefit payments are made to farmers. These taxes, like all other taxes, are naturally passed on to the ultimate consumers. They are estimated for the next fiscal year at $570,000,000. The tobacco tax comes next with an estimated $466,000,000; then the liquor taxes of $430,000,000, more than half for beer; the gasoline tax of $170,000,000, and all of the sales taxes on automobiles, tires, radio sets and a hundred other items of commerce.

From all other sources the Government expects to collect less than $900,000,000, a third of that from customs duties, $215,000,000 from estate and gift taxes, $100,000,000 from capital stock and excess profits and about $250,000,000 from miscellaneous sources.

The total tax expectations for the fiscal year are about 4 billions of dollars; the total proposed to be spent in the same period is about 8 1-2 billions. The difference must be borrowed, unless new taxes are imposed to provide for the excess. It is hard to imagine any additional taxes that would raise enough to cover the total proposed expenditures, without starting a riot of large proportions.

It is that sort of an impasse that gives strength to the various projects for currency inflation. We look for some wild schemes to be offered and perhaps discussed before this session of Congress ends.

COUNTY AGENT ADAM TELLS OF WORK OF VARIOUS FARM ORGANIZATIONS

Editor's Note—Last week we published a portion of the annual report of D. A. Adam, County Agent. This week we bring to you the balance of this report.

LAMB COUNTY FARM ASSOCIATIONS

On June 5, 1933, the County Agents held the first meeting on Rural Community Work, and this meeting was attended by 20 interested farmers from 8 communities and 3 members of the Commissioners Court. Plans were made here which were never carried out in 1933 due to the plowup program which began on June 26.

Following the recommendations adopted at this meeting, the County Agents, D. A. Adam and G. R. Schumann, and Bernice Westbrook, C. H. D. A., began holding community meetings on May 28, 1934. At each of these meetings the purpose of the Farm Association, and their relation to the Extension Service was discussed in full detail. 8 meetings were held in the Spade, Olton, Spring Lake, Amherst, Littlefield, Sudan, Fieldton, and Hart Camp communities with 7 of these going into formal organization by electing a president, vice-president and secretary.

On June 7, 1934, officers of the 7 community organizations gathered in the County Agent's office for the County Farm Association by adopting a set of by-laws governing the formal organization of the Lamb County Farm Association, and the election of officers for the year 1934. J. W. Hulsey of Olton was elected president, Mrs. W. E. Bentley of Spade vice-president, and Dewey Walker of Amherst secretary. At the same time Educational Executive Committees were elected and are as follows: H. G. Walker, Olton, Commissioner Precinct No. 1, M. M. White, Amherst, Commissioner Precinct No. 2, Roy B. McQuarters Anton, Commissioner Precinct No. 3, and W. H. Cunningham, Littlefield, Commissioner Precinct No. 4.

The Farm Associations have been very active in their respective communities as evidenced by the number of educational meetings held and reported to the County Agent by the various secretaries. 7 communities reported a total of 35 meetings with a total attendance of 5,250 for the period since final organization on June 7. As typical of one of the meetings we cite the report of K. W. Wells, Secretary of the Spade Community Farm Association. "On Monday night, June 11, a Farm Association was held at the Spade school house for a discussion of the A. A. A. Record Books. Committee in charge of discussion was Mrs. W. E. Bentley, J. R. Kuykendall and K. W. Wells. 102 were present in addition to the officers. Interest was very high and much good was accomplished. 75 Record Books were distributed.

Reports show that meetings were held on the following items: A. A. A. Record Books, Community Work Centers, Pink Boll Worm Quarantine, Corn-Hog contracts, cotton contracts, election of terracing, meat curing, 4-H club, and various other committees for the advancement of Extension and A. A. A. work in Lamb County.

The County Agents have found that the Farm Associations are indispensable as a direct medium of passing information to farmers and their respective communities, and also, possibly more important, the passing of the communities problems to the County Agent's office for consideration.

The Executive Committee of the Lamb County Farm Association held 4 meetings in the County Agent's office in regard to several emergencies, with a total attendance of 28. The Committee was essentially helpful in getting Lamb County designated on the Emergency Drouth list whereby we were able to sell our distressed cattle to the Government under the Emergency Drouth Relief Program. This committee selected the County Drouth Committee which handled all the County Drouth sales and was composed of J. A. Carruth of Olton, W. H. Cunningham of Littlefield, and Clyde Robertson of Sudan. In addition to the cattle sales the Emergency Drouth Committee will handle what feed problems that may come up in the near future. The Executive Committee also elected delegates to the Texas Agricultural Association meeting in Dallas, selecting M. M. White, Amherst and J. N. Hulsey of Olton as the Lamb County delegates.

DROUTH RELIEF CATTLE BUYING

Lamb County was designated in the Emergency drouth area during the month of August, and cattle purchases were begun at once. In order that the most distressed cattle could be bought, the County Agent requested that each community select three Drouth Committeemen for each community who would route the Veterinarian and Appraiser in each community, and allot the cattle to the individuals. Later when buying was stopped the Executive Committee of the Lamb County Farm Association selected a County Committee composed of W. H. Cunningham of Littlefield, Clyde Robertson of Sudan, and J. A. Carruth of Olton, who were to distribute the various quotas as to needs of the communities and easiest local committeemen in routing buyers.

The Drouth Committee and County Agent's office have handled 2481 individual applications for 11,916 head of cattle for a consideration of $135,093.00 and the inventories show that 14,000 cattle are left on the farms.

Farmers are very grateful for the Drouth Relief Program, and appreciate the opportunity to dispose of their cattle for good prices rather than let them die or sacrifice them on the open market. The situation was very serious and the buying of these cattle put all farmers in a better condition to go through the winter, as well as aiding them financially.

Farmers will need much grain to make the 1935 crop with, and the county drouth committee is now making plans to relieve this situation through co-operative shipments of grain for farmers.

The Lamb County Farm Association Drouth Committee and Executive Committee are due credit for the efficiency of this program.

TURKEY DEMONSTRATION

During the year 1934, ten days were devoted to work with turkey demonstrations and co-operators in Lamb County. 6 demonstrations were started and 3 were completed with the demonstrators making reports at the end of the year.

In conducting the demonstrations this year one purpose was kept in mind all the time: that was "to raise better quality turkeys by better feeding, by better breeding stock, and other improved methods, and then to sell on a quality basis through the Panhandle Plains Turkey Improvement Association," with this purpose in mind, Paul Cunyus, Assistant State Extension Poultry Husbandman, and G. R. Schumann, Assistant County Agent, visited the turkey demonstrations on two occasions to encourage these demonstrators to follow practices advocated by the Extension Service, and finally holding a turkey killing and quality of turkeys produced. The work started in 1934 with the demonstrators will be continued in 1935 with an increased number of demonstrators, with a goal of further improving the quality of birds produced in Lamb County.

The results were that these demonstrators did improve the quality of the birds raised by them. Out of 32 birds entered in the Plainview Dressed Turkey Show by Mrs. A. F. Wedel, Littlefield, Texas, 25 were graded as prime birds, 38 out of 45 birds produced by Mrs. E. M. Nance were graded as prime birds.

32 birds produced by Mrs. A. F. Wedel, Littlefield, Texas, valued on a live weight basis, and at the maximum local market price, 15c per pound, weighing a total of 471 pounds, would have brought $70.65 if sold on the local market, but were farm dressed and sold on a quality basis through the Panhandle Plainview Turkey Improvement Association for $87.24, or an average with a total dressed weight of age price of 22-4-10c per pound, paying Mrs. Wedel $16.90 above what she could have gotten on the local market, besides the increased value derived from having raised better quality birds by following Extension Service methods. $30.00 in premiums were won at the Plainview Dressed Turkey Show by Mrs. Wedel. "In the growing of these birds, there were no extra feed costs or expenses other than those that normally occur, but in feeding these turkeys the feed was kept available before them all the time in the form of a balanced ration; the balanced rations being made up from home grown feeds and milk when available. This was getting away from the old method usually followed of letting the turkeys rustle for their feed around the grain stacks and fields. By following the practice of keeping feed out for the turkeys all the time more mature birds were produced in a shorter period of time and more birds graded prime were produced. I am so well pleased with my turkeys during the past year that I am keeping my best hens for breeding, which will be mated with a good tom, and with a small portion of alfalfa I expect to raise some good birds this next year," states Mrs. A. F. Wedel, Littlefield, Texas.

Further results from these demonstrations have been in the improvement of breeding stock. The best hens are being kept as breeders instead of the usual practice of selling the good hens and retaining culls for breeding stock. High grade toms are also being purchased for using in these flocks, thus it is hoped by combining good breeding stock with good practices and feeding, further progress can be made toward the quality of turkeys produced. The work started in 1934 with the demonstrators will be continued in 1935 with an increased number of demonstrators, with a goal of further improving the quality of birds produced in Lamb County.

Again at the Lubbock Meat Show Lamb County demonstrators were very successful, winning 2nd place in the County Group of ten hams and 1st place in the County Group of ten bacons. The County group of ten hams being made up from entries by the following demonstrators: I. V. Fent, Paul Nefzgar, B. J. McGee, R. L. May, and B. D. Birklebach. The County group of ten bacons being made up from entries from the following demonstrators: I. V. Fent, Paul Nefzgar, B. J. McGee, R. L. May, and B. D. Birklebach. Continued On Classified Page

Members of Alliance Meet At Amherst

The Ministerial Alliance of Lamb and Bailey Counties met in the First Methodist church of Amherst, Monday Morning, Jan. 14, at 10 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by chairman Hendrix. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Rev. Mr. Pipes, secretary of the organization and were approved by the group. The regular order of service was reversed as the devotional talk was to be the sermon for the eleven o'clock service which was to be the opening morning service for the Amherst Methodist Meeting. Therefore the business was brought forward.

The Rev. Mr. W. E. Peterson of the First Methodist Church of Anton was welcomed into the Alliance. Then each minister reported on his part of the Mystery work Sunday. The reports were good and all seemed pleased over the results although some of the ministers regretted that they did not get the correct information from one of their informers.

At eleven o'clock the meeting was turned over to the Rev. Mr. Lee of Amherst who introduced the Rev. Mr. Haynes of the First Methodist Church in Sudan as the speaker for the morning service. Mr. Haynes' subject was, "God and the Sinner". He read from the 7th verse through the 16th verse of the 33rd chapter of Ezekiel for his scripture lesson and he took the 11th verse as his text. The sermon was enjoyed and will be remembered by many.

The meeting then adjourned for lunch which was held in the basement of the church. The ladies know how to serve us men and we did well. The next meeting will be in Sudan on February 4, at 10 o'clock.

EACH SLOW START MAY COST YOU 2 MILES OF GASOLINE

AREN'T you amazed to learn that 50 warm-weather starts of the average car take as much gasoline as driving it for 20 miles!

Slow cold-weather starting uses up still more of your gasoline mileage. Recent tests indicate that each slow start may consume as much motor fuel as driving your car two miles.

Hence the way to increase miles per gallon and save money, right now, is obvious. Switch to Phillips 66. In any weather, cold or warm, your motor performance is protected against climatic changes by Phillips pioneer achievement, CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. This method of refinery control so perfectly matches your gas to your weather that Phillips 66 is recognized as the 100% custom-tailored gasoline.

F. O. BOLES IS DISTRICT SCOUT CHAIRMAN

Local Council Favors Plan To Get Scouts Into Uniform

At a recent meeting of the Littlefield Boy Scout Council F. O. Boles was elected chairman of this district composed of Lamb and Bailey counties. Mr. Boles is to work with Commissioner A. B. Sanders in servicing the troops of the district and in the organization of new troops over the district as the need may arise.

Mr. Boles expressed an interest in the organization of a Cub Pack in Littlefield. This organization is composed of boys from nine to twelve years of age. It is the little brother organization to scouting. When the boys become twelve they become scouts. Each pack of Cubbs will have its Cubmaster and mother advisor and its meeting in the afternoon at some convenient hour.

The local council composed of Jimmie Ware, Joe Grizzle, C. O. Stone, Dr. C. C. Clements, W. T. Hanes, Carl Arnold, Earl Hobbs, Gene Lattimore, Jimmie Singer, and A. B. Sanders went on record as favoring a plan for getting the local scouts into uniform.

Joe Grizzle was elected chairman of the court of honor. A Court was set for Feb. 22. Brother Grizzle is working hard on the idea of making a court of honor a very impressive meeting. The public in general is invited to attend this meeting.

METHODIST CHURCH

John W. Hendrix, Pastor

During the sabbath the church makes for offerings to the public, and here they are:

CHURCH SCHOOL, opens at 9:45 p. m. This institution offers to those who attend the instruction of some dozen and a half teachers. They give their services free. They teach those from four years of age on up to ripe old age. More officers and teachers will offer their services Sunday morning in America alone than all the officers from all the nations, both allies and entente, in the World War—and more pupils will turn their feet toward this institution than all the soldiers, on both sides, in the World War to the Western front. Big! all of that.

PUBLIC WORSHIP — 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. The choir will make their offering of select music at both of these services, and the pastor will deliver a sermon.

At the morning hour we will observe COLLEGE DAY. Isn't it time we should think through some of our educational system? Who got us started on education? To whom do we owe our inspiration to learn, to endeavor to be educated? To this service we are especially inviting the public school teachers of our persuasion, of which there are a number. As teachers let's think through together Sunday morning. At the evening hour — 7:15, the subject will be "CALL THE DOCTOR." You might enjoy these services, lots of people say they do.

LEAGUES: 6:30 p. m. To this service comes a number of different ages, from 10 to the young people. But they meet according to age in different programs. Of later these meetings are better and better attended, those appointed on the programs have resolved to be more conscientious in performing their part. It opens with a big sing all together. Get the hour—6:30 p. m. All present on time.

Has Car Trouble Returning From Jal

F. M. Burleson in returning from a trip to Jal, N. M. Sunday had the misfortune to have car trouble about ten miles south of Brownfield, and was obliged to stay in that city over night, returning home Monday. He was accompanied by Preston Brazial.

Mr. Burleson said the distributor points burned out, and they were stalled for two hours, the low temperature further adding to their discomfort. A couple of boys from Amherst passing by took Mr. Burleson to Brownfield, where he employed a wrecker whom he sent after the car, getting it repaired and continuing his trip home Monday.

FOURTH INSTALLMENT

SYNOPSIS . . . Ellen Church, 17 years old, finds herself alone in the world with her artist mother's last warning ringing in her ears, to "love lightly." Of the world she knows little. All her life she had lived alone with her mother in an old brown house in a small rural community. All her life, first as a new baby, then a bubbling child, then a charming young girl . . . she had posed for her talented mother who sold her magazine cover painting through an art agent in the city . . . Mrs. Church's broken life . . . the unfaithful husband, his disappearance . . . and after seventeen years of silence announcement of his death was at last disclosed to Ellen. The news of the husband's death killed Mrs. Church. . . Ellen, alone, turned to the only contact she knew, the art agent in New York. Posing, years of posing, was her only talent so she was introduced to two leading artists, Dick Alven and Sandy Macintosh. Both used her as a model and both fell in love with her . . . Ellen, trying to follow the warped philosophy of her mother to "love lightly" resists the thought of love. Her circle of friends is small, artists and two or three girl models. NOW GO WITH THE STORY.

"How," he asked, a trifle gruffly, "about love? Doesn't that enter into your scheme of things? Doesn't it, at all?"

Ellen met his eyes with a chill little expression of withdrawal.

"No Dick," she said, "it doesn't. Not at all!"

The man's hands dropped quite suddenly to his sides. He turned sharply away.

"It's the party of the year, The Six Art Ball" Sandy had told Ellen, a few days later. "The one mad revel of twelve whole months. I don't know exactly, why I'm asking you, either, Ellen. Gay is much madder to revel with!"

Ellen had spread out two slender, careless hands.

"Take me or leave me, Sandy, she said, the young man, indifferently. "And if you don't take me, get it out of your head that I'll spend the evening home alone, bending over the washtubs."

Sandy groaned. It was a stage groan.

"That's the desperate point of the whole thing," he told her. If I don't take you, some hated rival will. And I'll have to watch you as you have a good time, instead of being the guy who's giving it to you—the good time, I mean! Really, I don't know why I want to give you good times, Ellen, or why anybody else does, for that matter. Except Dick, who is of course, an idealist. You never give anything in return. Not even friendship. How do you get that way child?"

Ellen was posing for an illustration. She was, in the illustration, a young mother. Sitting before a fireplace, rocking a baby. The fireplace was a real one—Sandy's studio was de luxe. But the baby was a round-headed, flat-faced doll. Holding it, Ellen looked like a small girl playing house. But she didn't sound that way, when she spoke.

"I play a system, Sandy," she said. "A system that I'm beginning to think is fool-proof. I take everything that comes my way, and give the least possible of anything back. If I find that anyone is too interesting to me, I cut that person off the list. The fact that I'm willing to go to the Six Arts with you, Sandy, shows how you stand in my—shall we say, affections?"

Sandy sketched deftly for a moment.

"Sometimes baby," he said at last, "I'd like to smack you. Other times I have a wild desire to take you up in my arms and kiss a little warmth into you. It might as well be me, you know. It will be somebody some day."

Ellen thought back to her talk with Dick. Thought back to other talks, with other men. Thought back to a lost hour, in a garden. And then answered.

"It won't be somebody, some day!" she answered, and her mouth was clamped into a firm, straight line.

"Anyway," he said, after quite a long while, "you'll go to the Six Arts Ball with me. Won't you, darlin'?"

Ellen sat down again in front of the fireplace, and lifted the doll in her arms, and laid her soft cheek against the round top of its hard porcelain head. Over that head her eyes surveyed Sandy almost somberly.

But she nodded her assent. For, after all, it was a good party—the Six Arts Ball, A Good Party!

Streamers of colored silk and snapping balloons, and hurrying waiters—their black suits standing out, like blotches of ink, against the vividness of the crowded room—two of them!—at either end of the long dancing space. And slender girl bodies in costumes of flame and rose and green and yellow. Hour and Apache, Columbine and Civil War belle, Spanish dancer and Russian peasants, all jumbled together in a noisy, rhythmic, barbaric composition.

Here an author—known for his gift of laughter—sat in a box. There a great painter. Making the world, and himself, forget that he had once won the Prix de Rome. Here a woman whose voice raised in song brought tears to the eyes of thousands. There a financier who could toss off a check for a million dollars without giving it more than a passing thought. Being bohemian, and having his own rough bit of going for a few hours out of a crowded life.

Streamers of colored silk and popping balloons and perfume and jazz. And the throb of feet, the buzz of voices.

And, in the middle of it all, Ellen Church. Dancing with Sandy and smiling her chill, provocative little smile, across his shoulder, at any man who passed. Ellen advertising her slim, lovely legs in the brief costume of a page boy. Ellen with one of her much-in-demand hands spread out, on Sandy's broad back, so that other artists might see how pretty her fingers were and remember them if ever they had a nail polish account to do.

Sandy—he was a pirate. Nothing startling about that. But cool, with a tattered shirt, and picturesque with gilt ear hoops and a scarlet silk handkerchief, and the eternal Vandike.

"Somebody'll cut the whiskers off, before the evening's over," Ellen had warned. "And then what a Samson you'll turn out to be!"

"I'm a Samson, anyway, as far as you're concerned!" Sandy had assured her. "Sandy S. Samson, that's I'm. Without either strength of will, or of character!"

Ellen laughed and danced with Sandy, and was glad that he danced well.

The cartoonist tapped Ellen on the shoulder.

"Yessir, you're my baby!" he told her, and Ellen danced with him. He relinquished her ruefully when the financier, following him, demanded an introduction.

Ellen danced with the financier and tried not to hate his hot, fat fingers on her bare arm. After all, those same fingers could write a check for a million dollars.

The author who built laughter spied her in the crowd, and forgot that he had lost his own girl.

The evening went on. Ellen had removed the cap that was a part of her brief page costume.

"You're not a page—you're less than a paragraph!" Sandy had thrown at her once, from over the heads of the dancers who passed to and fro between them.

She had removed the cap because her head was warm and tired, and ached a little. As she danced—passing from hand to hand, like some pretty, mindless toy, she felt suddenly older than all the rest of the room, put together. Suddenly more weary, more tired. Certain remarks that she had made to Gay came back to her. Also certain things that her mother, three years ago, had said.

"I'm different from the rest of you!" she had told Gay. And her mother had said— "I'd rather have you sit on the window-sill, separated from the world by bars . . . then be jostled by the crowd . . ."

Ellen, with hot steaming bodies and sharp elbows and sliding ankles, all about her, was realizing that if one is different, one can be a part of the crowd—and, at the same time, be sitting on the window-sill!

The most popular illustrator of the year claimed Ellen for a dance, tried to keep her for more. A radio star, prancing by crooned something about "I kiss your hand, mam'selle"—only she didn't give him a chance to do it.

An actor—world weary, with four wives in his background, started toward her, across the floor. Started as one who seeks, who thirsts, after youth. Ellen, seeing him come, felt a swift nausea.

"I'll find Sandy," she said. "He's got to take me home. I'm tired of being pawed and patted, and treated like something that's cheap. What—"

But she never finished the thought or the sentence. For suddenly he had loomed up, out of the crowd in front of her. A tall young man, with wide shoulders and the brown of the sun on his face. And looking out of that brown, the bluest eyes that Ellen had ever seen. He smiled down at her—very far down—for a moment, before he took her, unresisting, and without even so much as a by-your-leave, from the arms of her partner. Ellen, with something odd and disturbing in her heart, with something hot pounding against temple and wrist, smiled back at him.

Ellen's partner, scarcely able to stand, but extremely voluble withal protested.

"Say, how'd you get that way?" questioned the partner. "I had this waltz with the lady—"

But the young man, still smiling down at the tousled, curly top of Ellen's head, danced away. Ellen, feeling his arm grow tight about her body, knew that she should have resisted that embrace. Even during the free and easy atmosphere of the Six Arts Ball, there were certain conventions—especially when the conventions concerned the tawdry business of picking up! She should have made some sort of a protest, whether it rang true or not. But oddly, it wasn't possible for Ellen to draw away from this young man's clasp. Not that he was holding her in a rudely tight manner—but because she seemed to lack the strength, both physical and mental, to draw away! Why, she had scarcely the strength to speak, to answer coherently his opening sentence. As she made an effort, a real effort, to find words, her mind was saying jumbled things.

"Miracles don't happen," her mind was saying. "They can't happen! One didn't allow them to happen."

The young man was speaking again. Repeating himself, as if he couldn't think of anything else to say.

"Where" he questioned again, "have you been? All of this time?" Ellen had caught hold of her speaking emotions. She found it possible, at last, to answer in kind.

"Why," she answered, "I've just been sort of waiting around. Knowing that if I waited long enough, you'd find me. Knowing that—"

The thrill that shot down all through her spine, to the very soles of her feet! It was because the young man had kissed her. Kissed her ever so gently upon the very top of her head. Ellen pulled back in his arms to survey him. She'd put him in his place! She'd be cool and scornful and—

But her eyes didn't reflect scorn!

They dwelt instead upon that brown face. Upon the crumpled Pierrot ruff, under the brown square chin. They rested a moment upon the broad shoulders. And then they traveled up, to be lost in the blue, blue gaze that was bent down upon them. To be lost for so long that the young man's voice sounding huskily brought with it the crash that comes at the end of a falling-through-space dream.

"Let's cut away from this place," said the voice. "See? We—we've got to get acquainted, you and I. And we can't, in this mad house."

Ellen danced in silence half way round the crowded floor. She needed that breathing space of silent motion, in which to think.

ANTON BOYS AND MULESHOE GIRLS WIN AT SUDAN

SPORT WORLD

By BILL NORRIS

Breaking the ice this week, we noticed the pickup in playing of teams in this school district. The League was organized? Monday night's first game, Wildcats vs. Sunnydale, was fast enough anybody's entertainment. And the game was closely refereed, only one player went off the floor on personal fouls.

The second game, Firemen vs. Flyers, while not so closely contested, was the most closely called affair in several weeks, yet, as in the first game, only one man was called off the floor on personals.

Beyond a doubt, basketball has begun to assume a status bordering on the softball of last summer, as evidenced in part by increased game attendance. It's running smoothly and bids fair to be soon on a par with other sports in Littlefield.

The high school gymnasium, erected in good faith in 1924, is a monument to the worthy cause of physical education. The intentions behind the building of this gymnasium were absolutely of the best. Littlefield citizens back of this construction are to be congratulated for their work.

But the style of basketball play in past years has changed quite a bit. A fast break is the stuff, and a whirlwind passing game with a minimum of dribbling makes today's coach rub his hands and grin. But when two fast and equally matched teams get on the floor, and neither can slip through the other's defense, then only one thing will bring home the potatoes—a shot from back of the double line.

The long try of today is a high arched affair, a shot heartily endorsed by virtually every good coach in the country. But a lofty ceiling, with beams out of the way, is needed. Since Littlefield's gym has no high ceiling, players here are forced to resort to a hard, flat pass, inaccurate at best, and unpopular with visiting teams who, at home have the higher ceiling.

Another slight difficulty experienced at present appears to be accommodation of the crowds at local games. While not large, the gym is filled to capacity the first three nights of each week. Incoming fans are constantly being struck with the ball, or being run into by players because the boundary line is too close to the first tier of gallery seats.

As things now stand, basketball here is progressing by the proverbial leaps and bounds. And as things now stand, we may well be pointers-with-pride to our cage activities. But, naturally pessimistic anyhow, this dept. is a viewer-with-alarm of the first and second waters.

Smokies Show Way To Flyers in Slow 36-13 Tilt Monday

Showing the way the full hour, Bob Cox's Firemen closed Monday evening's cage fare by grounding Dunn's Flyers in a listless 36-13 affair featured by the smooth scoring eye of a Smoky tribesman called Woody.

The hook-and-ladder boys led 7-2 at the quarter, 19-4 at the half, and 29-13 at the end of the third. The aerial five, ordinarily providing salty competition, couldn't seem to get under way. Woody's 16 points brightened an otherwise dull hour.

Kitties To Meet Shallowater Six Here Friday Eve

Shallowater girls, a stumbling block for more than one aspiring cage sextet this season, will pack up their bag of basketball stratagems and motor to Littlefield Friday evening for a joust with the Littlefield Kitties, twice runners-up in recent tournaments. A 7:30 tip-off is scheduled.

Coach Eobnette, Kitty mentor, was seeking a match for her B team late Wednesday and plans to conduct a double-header to round out the evening. The Kitties, rested from punishing matches at Sudan with such fast crews as Muleshoe, Ropesville, Fieldton, Spade and Lazbuddy, will be in top condition for an anticipated close affair.

Flyers Drop 19-8 Tilt to Sunnydale Wednesday Night

Sunnydale put on steam in closing minutes to win a rough and fast cage game Wednesday night over Dunn's Flyers, 19-8, on the high school court.

Both teams had trouble in finding the basket, and eight minutes of the game had been played before either quintet tallied. Claunch then sank a free throw to start the scoring for Sunnydale who led 7 to 4 at the midway mark.

Scoring honors were divided. For Sunnydale, Blue made 6 points, Claunch countered five, D. Pepper was good for four, and Jordan and N. Pepper each made two points. Gill sank two baskets for the Flyers, Dunn made two points, and Porterfield and Morgan each got a free toss.

Wildcats Lose Hot Overtime Battle to Sunnydale, 33 to 32

A volley of goals and free shot exchanges in a thrilling three minute overtime period gave the Sunnydale cagers a 33-32 League noseout over the Littlefield Wildcats in one of the most closely fought basketball games this season.

Dunlap's floor shot forged a tie, in the game's final 30 seconds. Cape, Dale center, broke the tie with a basket in the first overtime minute, and Yantis sank a penalty toss after Claunch, fast little Dale guard, drew his fourth personal. D. Pepper, Sunnydale, made it 33-30 for his team with a set-up tally. Hall, big cat guard, rushed in for a long goal in the last 15 seconds, but the final whistle nipped the spurt.

All Lamb County coaches or representatives should be on hand at a special meeting at Amherst Saturday, Jan. 26, to lay preliminary plans for the county basketball tournament slated to be held soon at Sudan, urged County Athletic Director E. J. Moore, Olton, Wednesday.

Faculty Wins 39-26 From Sunnydale

Faculty cagers continued their winning streak by getting the nod, 39-26, over Sunnydale in Tuesday night's initial League match. Too much Barksdale was the chief Sunnydale detriment.

Teachers Hanes and Barksdale piled up some 29 points between them, Barksdale annexing 17 of them. Thaxton, lanky Faculty center, managed for seven points, and Layfield, who picked them off the backboard quite handily for the professors, promoted three points. Stansell and Bryant alternated at the other guard slot.

CROSS CHILDREN MAY HAVE WORMS

Watch for upset little stomachs, bad breath, fretfulness, loss of weight, itching around nose and arms. They may have pin or round worms. Whites Cream Vermifuge has safely and for years, reliably expelled the worms and toned the delicate tract. Whites Cream Vermifuge recommended by druggists.

Anton's boys and the Muleshoe girls carried off first honors at the Sudan basketball tournament held Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Littlefield Kitties, nosed out in the finals by Muleshoe 60-57, were second in the girls division. The Wildcats were eliminated in the first round in a close 29-27 battle with Spade.

Almeta Edwards, guard, and Oma Carpenter, forward, were awarded gold basketballs as members of the all-tournament team chosen Saturday night. Other girls on the all-tournament were Nuttall of Sudan and Farrel of Muleshoe, forwards, and Crow of Ropesville and Sterling of Muleshoe, guards. On the boys all-tournament five were Taylor and Stephenson of Anton, Garth of Muleshoe, Fowler of Spade and Hair of Olton.

The Kitties after upsetting tourney dope with a brilliant 54-45 win over the highly touted Ropes girls, easily disposed of Spade and Lazbuddy. Ropes had gone undefeated through 22 games, including four tournaments, this year, except one match against the Kitties early in the season.

Although hampered in the final game by the loss of Opal Carpenter through personals, the Kitties pulled up to within three points of Muleshoe in a last-minute spurt but were cut short by the final whistle.

Anton's boys defeated Muleshoe, 73-50, in the finals of the boys division.

Wildcats Hit Stride; Firemen Given 38-16 Drubbing Wednesday

Working in perfect unison for the first time this season, the Littlefield Wildcats hit the net accurately and often to roll over the Firemen 38 to 16 in their League game Wednesday night on the high school court.

Passing well and timing their shots the high school quintet looked like a new team in their handy victory compared to their showing the previous night against Sunnydale. McGavock was the spearhead of the Schoolboys' offensive attack, ringing up fifteen points to grab individual scoring honors.

Yantis, McKnight and Dunlap each countered six points, Hall accounted for four, and Pierce sank a free toss. Woody led the Fireman score with five points, Smith and Scott contributed four points each. Howton was good for two and Aldridge made a charity toss good.

Flyers Drop Furious 25-18 Fray To Exes

Furious cage fun involving Dunn's Flyers and a mixture of Spade and Littlefield Ex-Students resulted in a 25-18 victory for the former scholars in the final League game Tuesday.

Tipoff Walker's six goals, O. Porterfield's two baskets and a couple of charity throws by R. Gill failed to stop the bookworms who went into the last period only one point ahead and clinched a win largely through the efforts of Stevens, Duffy and B. Howton.

Ex-Students scores: Stevens 7, B. Howton 6, Duffey 5, Jones 2, Tremain 2, Edwards 2, and Kendrick one. Other Exes were Dorman, McCurry and Yeager. Other Flyers were L. Gill, H. Walker, Kimmel, Henderson, Graham, G. Porterfield and Dunn.

Star-studded, laugh-packed, love-thrilling 1935's romantic delight!

Several Clubs Here Hear Dr. W. C. Holden Deliver Lecture

The members of the Woman's Study Club and their guests, the members of Business and Professional Women's Club, the Junior Study Club, the Faculty, Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club were delightfully entertained on Wednesday evening, January 16, in the Court Room at the City Hall with a lecture by Dr. W. C. Holden of Texas Tech. Dr. Holden, who was the leader of the expedition to the Yaqui country in Mexico a year or so ago gave an interesting and instructive lecture on the Yaqui Indian, his history, his customs and culture.

The Yaquis are a primitive race of Indians who live in Western Mexico in the mountains near and on the shores of the Yaqui River.

In his lecture Dr. Holden explained how the geography of that region had affected the development of the tribe, its characteristics, customs and progress. He described in detail the physical and mental characteristics of the Yaqui, his mode of living, his customs, the weird burial service, his method of administering justice and his method of farming. Dr. Holden made his lecture more interesting by displaying many articles which he had brought from the Yaqui country, most of which were very hard to secure as the Yaqui is a warlike tribe. The crude farming implements, costumes or devil chasers and dancers who take part in the funerals, primitive musical instruments, and bows and arrows used for hunting food were especially interesting.

As the Woman's Study Club has been studying the Civilized Indian before the discovery of America this year, the lecture was especially interesting to them, and they, as well as their guests, were very grateful to Dr. Holden for giving them the opportunity to get this information from a man who had seen and studied the Yaqui Indians.

Mrs. Pat Boone was hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained members and guests of Past Matrons club at her home.

Green prevailed in the scheme, being carried out by table decorations and refreshments.

At this show individual honors were won by I. V. Fent and Paul Nefzgar, when their bacon entries were awarded 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 5th prizes in the Show, and also 2nd, 3rd and 4th prizes in the light ham class, and 2nd place in the heavy ham class. B. D. Birklebach, Littlefield, Texas, also winning 5th place with a heavy ham.

A typical Lamb County Meat Demonstration was conducted by I. V. Fent and Paul Nefzgar, Olton, Texas. In conducting this demonstration, 8 hogs were killed with 4 averaging 240 pounds per head, and 4 averaging 225 pounds per head, with a total live weight value of $60.46. 16 hams and 16 bacons were exhibited and sold at the Amarillo and Lubbock Meat Shows, selling for a total of $111.23, plus $44.50 premium money, making a total of $155.23 received for 176 hams and 16 bacons. 320 pounds of cured shoulders, Canadian and Brisket bacons valued at $48.30 were consumed at home. 30 cans of sausage, 21 cans of liver paste, 44 cans of mince-meat, 20 cans of scrapple pork, 30 cans or roast, 8 cans of pickled pigs feet, making a total of 154 No. 2 cans of cured meats and 30 gallons of lard valued at $48.30 were other products produced, this making a total value of $241.93 received from killing 8 hogs valued at $60.45, or a net return of $181.48 above the amount that would have been received in a live weight basis.

Another typical Lamb County Meat Demonstration was conducted by B. D. Birklebach, farmer in the Littlefield community. 9 hogs with an average weight of 200 pounds were killed with a live weight value of $60.00. From these 9 hogs 16 hams were sold for $42.81, 3 bacons for $4.00; 67 pounds sausage for $15.75, 253 pounds of lard for $23.98, 2 shoulders for $1.98, making a total of $88.40 worth of cured meat sold. The following products were consumed at home; 2 hams, $4.80; 15 bacons $13.65. 6 shoulders, $5.40. 250 pounds sausage, $55.00, 112 pounds lard, $8.00; making a total value of $86.85 worth of products consumed at home, and a total value of $175.25 for meat sold and meat consumed at home from hogs worth $60.00 on the market, or a net return of $115.25 through killing and curing pork by Extension Service methods. (Expenses of killing and curing not included.)

Due to the illness of D. A. Adam, County Agent, and the amount of A. A. A. work required to do, it was impossible for the County Agents to conduct killing and cutting demonstrations during the past year, but the work of holding these demonstrations was carried on by the farmers and local committeemen previously trained by the county agent. Seven demonstrations were held by the community leaders which were attended by 115 farmers and other interested parties.

All meat work in 1935 will be conducted through committeemen appointed by the Community Farm Association and trained by the County Agent. Demonstrations will be held in all communities by the county agent with the assistance of the local meat committeemen.

TERRACING
During the year 1934, 18 days were devoted to terracing and contouring farm lands in Lamb county by G. A. Schumann, Assistant County Agent, during which time 6 terracing demonstrations and 5 contouring demonstrations were held. At these demonstrations 1210 acres of land were terraced and rows contoured on 665 acres. These demonstrations were attended by 75 farmers who were taught how to use the Farm Level and how to build terraces.

In addition to the above, lines were run on 60 farms comprising 8100 acres by terracing committeemen, farmers trained by the county agent, under the supervision of the County Agent, thus making a total of 9985 acres on which lines were run during 1934.

Due to the extreme drought during the past year, the benefits of terracing and contoured rows were not very noticeable, but all farmers that have had this work done report that they would not be without it again. S. E. Hite, farmer in the Spring Lake community, states "that this was a bad year to test the value of my contoured rows, but I would not be without them." Albert Neuen-schander, farmer in the Littlefield territory, reported "that he was well pleased with the results on the terraced land this year and I am ter-

...racing my other farm now."

In 1935 all terracing and contouring will be conducted on a community wide basis through the terracing committees appointed by the Community Farm Associations. In each community, a two day demonstration will be held under the direction of the County Agent for the purpose of training terracing committeemen and farmers. After these demonstrations the terracing committeemen will do all terracing within their community under the supervision of the County Agent's office. By using this plan it is hoped that more farmers will be trained to do this work and that more land can be terraced.

FARM CREDIT

The County Agents have been quite busy in addition to the regular A. A. A. duties in assisting farmers to receive financial help for the production of crops, the refinancing of farm loans, and assisting in the organization of the Production Credit Association, in assisting the drouth and cattle organization in handling emergency feed loans during this drouth period.

A total of 86 Farm Credit Administration Feed and Seed Loans were handled through the County Agent's office with 86 farmers receiving a total of $11,765.00 for financial help in producing the 1934 crop. Up to the present date, even in the face of extreme drouth and with practically no production of cash crops, these 86 farmers have repaid a total of $6,302.43, or 53-5/100 of the initial amount borrowed. After these applications were handled by the County Agent, they were passed on to the County Feed and Seed Loan Committee composed of J. C. Hilburn, Littlefield, Texas, R. L. May, Amherst, Texas, and J. O. Garlington of Littlefield, for final approval, and they in turn forwarded them to the Farm Credit Administration officials at Dallas, Texas.

A total of 315 initial applications and 256 supplemental applications for Emergency Feed Loans have been handled by the County Drouth Relief Committee with the assistance of the County Agent, with a total of $21,387.87 loaned to 315 farmers to purchase feed for their livestock during this period of drouth.

In February of last year a meeting was called by the County Agent at Littlefield in co-operation with Mr. Owen Sherrill, of the Farm Credit Administration, for the purpose of explaining the Production Credit Association setup, its purposes and benefits, and finally the election of two directors from Lamb County for the Muleshoe Production Credit Association. Mr. M. M. White, Sudan, and B. J. McGee, Amherst, were elected in open meeting to be directors from Lamb County and represented the county in the final organization of the Association at Muleshoe. 75 farmers of Lamb County availed themselves of this particular type of credit. Recently the Muleshoe Production Credit Association has been consolidated with the Plainview Production Credit Association of Plainview, Texas.

1000 pieces of literature have been handed out in regard to the refinancing of Farm Loans and an estimated number of 500 Federal Bank Loans have been approved for Lamb County farmers.

PINK BOLL WORM CONTROL

During the harvesting of the 1933 cotton crop, a slight infestation of Pink Boll Worms was discovered in 8 West Texas Counties, which included the Southern part of Lamb County as far north as what is commonly known as the Sand Hills.

As a result of the discovery of the Pink Boll Worm in this area, a limited quarantine was placed on this county, together with 7 other West Texas Counties, and certain regulations in regard to the shipment of cotton seed from these counties were laid down.

Further results therefrom were that in the Spring of 1934, the State Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of Entomology co-operating, certain plans were made to eradicate the infestation of Pink Boll Worms from this area. D. A. Adam, county agent, and G. R. Schuman, Assistant County Agent, meeting with officials in charge of the work in this county, and assisting in making plans for the eradication of the Pink Boll Worm from this county. As a result of these meetings, Millard Phillips, farmer, Littlefield, Texas, was appointed to serve on the State Pink Boll Worm Commission, and further plans were made for a series of community meetings within this county.

Six community meetings were held at Amherst, Fieldton, Hart Camp, Spade, Littlefield, and Sudan with 500 farmers present under the direction of the county agent's office. At these meetings the seriousness of the Pink Boll worm infestation, regulations pertaining to the quarantine and means of eradicating the Pink Boll Worm were discussed by either G. R. Schumann, Assistant County Agent, or D. A. Adam, County Agent and by some members of the Bureau of Entomology. As a result, 95 percent of the farmers in Lamb County sterilized their cotton seed, which greatly benefited the work to eliminate the Pink Boll Worm from this county.

The injured man was taken in an ambulance to the West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, where he is reported this morning as resting nicely. L. B. Stone accompanied his brother to Lubbock and was still with him this morning. No information was available as to the extent of his injuries as the Leader is going to press.

Mr. Stone had been to Littlefield to visit his brother, and was on his way home to Portales when the accident happened.

Local Scouts to Attend Meeting In Washington

The Littlefield Scout Council was represented at the Annual Area meeting in Lubbock Tuesday night by Earl Hobbs, Joe Grizzle, Rev Travis, and A. B. Sanders.

These men met with the other representatives of towns in the area for the annual scout report and get together. The business meeting was held in the Hilton Hotel at 4:00 to 5:00 P. M. The general officers of the council were elected at this meeting; Dr. F. B. Malone was re-elected President of the council with K. N. Clapp succeeding himself as Area Commissioner and J. Edd McLaughlin as national Councilman. These men are to see to it that the boys on the plains have a chance to scout during the coming year.

The council officials took up the matter of getting the area represented in the National Jamboree at Washington this August. The Area is entitled to have as many scouts attend this meeting as there are troops in the area. This means that something like thirty scouts could be made eligible along with a scout master and assistant scoutmaster and a senior patrol leader. This Washington meeting will last ten days and scouts from all over the country will be there.

Littlefield will be entitled to send two boys on this trip if they care to. The boys who go must be first class scouts. The Scoutmasters who go must be experienced in the work.

LAMB COUNTY WILL BENEFIT UNDER SHELTER BELT PLAN PROPOSED FOR PANHANDLE

The proposed federal Plains Shelter belt tree-planting project intended to cover an area 100 miles wide and 1,000 miles long, will include Lamb County, according to a recent announcement by S. W. Dillingham, Lincoln, Nebr., assistant field agent for the project, who is now in the plains area.

The project is intended to include Sherman, Moore, Potter, Randall, part of Deaf Smith and Castro counties, as well as a large part of Lamb County, with Levelland as the southern edge. From there, it extends east through Lubbock into Crosby, part of Briscoe and Hall counties through Childress into Northeastern Oklahoma.

Plans are to plant about 200 million trees annually in 100 to 130-foot strips at one-mile intervals in this 1,000-mile "protective zone". The result is intended to discourage soil erosion and to form a mulch which will aid in moisture conservation.

"Government plans are to buy the 100,000 square miles outright or take a lease on it. This is not a relief project, but a public improvement effort", Dillingham declared. "While some sections are in condition to begin planting any time, in other sections it will take years to make the soil ready."

"The entire project is based on the provision that the government shall own, or control by lease, the land on which the trees are planted, the lessor in the latter case having no vested interest in the trees so long as the lease is in effect, "Dillingham pointed out."

"This provision is justifiable, because, under private control, trees are seldom given protection needed

Life Savings Lost After Hiding In Can in Cellar

Putting money in a tobacco can for safe keeping cost Rube Jeter of Olton to lose $400.

Mr. Jeter had his money, in $10 and $20 bills, hidden in a tin can in his cellar. It represented the savings of several years. A large quantity of canned goods was also there. The door was locked all the time.

The Saturday before Christmas, Mr. Jeter unlocked the cellar door to insure a long life, even though they may be given much care and cultivation while yet young."

and went into the place to get money for holiday purchases. The can was missing and some of the canned goods had been moved. For three days that week no one had been at home. The cellar door lock had not been broken.
