Chamber manager Gene Garrison, chamber president Kenneth Reast and Dr. D. J. Stafford, also visited with representative Jess Osborn and senator Andy Rogers. They visited with Fred Huskins of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and had lunch with other members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Garrison reported that many delegations of chamber boards were present at a committee hearing Monday night to present their resolutions for a general sales tax. He said the State's chambers were actively showing more interest in current legislature than has ever been noted before.

This tax bill would cut the state's deficit in half. It was the first tax bill to clear the House this year. The bill raises taxes on air conditioners, juke boxes, and auto registrations; changes school fund income and raises the state franchise tax.

The front of the safe had been chisled off so the locks could be opened. About $50 was taken, according to Carroll Cox, company manager, who discovered the burglary when he opened the store early Monday. Apparently nothing else was taken.

City Election Set Tuesday

Candidates Give Views

Tuesday is election day for the city of Littlefield. Three men have filed for two council positions and the present mayor, E. J. Foust, Sr., is unopposed in seeking re-election.

Candidates for councilmen are Paul McCormick, local businessman, Jarrell Giles, farm implement dealer and John Alford, manager of the Coca Cola office.

Polls will be set up in the city hall and all persons who are eligible will vote there. They will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

As a public service, this newspaper has attempted to help voters by seeking opinions held by each of the three candidates. Each was given a questionnaire, prepared by the newspaper, and asked to fill it out. It was explained to each candidate that he could or could not answer any or all of the questions as he saw fit.

Two of the candidates chose to prepare statements expressing their feelings rather than answer the questions. Giles was the only one to answer the specific questions.

John Alford returned the following statement.

"I moved to Littlefield in 1947 and have been manager of the Coca Cola Bottling Company here since 1951. I am married and father of two children, a son, 14, and a daughter, 11."

"I am a veteran of WWII a member of the Littlefield Rotary Club, the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, the VFW, the American Legion and the WOW.

"I am a native of Barboursville, Kentucky, having been born and raised there.

"Business, city and governmental affairs are not new to me. At an early age I watched my family move into the public service field. They were active in city, county and state government having served in nearly every office from judge to the state representative."

Alford states his reason for running for city councilman is because he "strongly believes in the City of Littlefield and conscientiously care about the future growth and progress of Littlefield, keeping in mind the problems and needs for the citizens of the town."

"I believe strongly that cooperation of every law abiding citizen in the city working together can enjoy the many advantages that are offered in this city can enjoy them today and in the future."

PENN POINT

BY D. N. P.

This Saturday and again Tuesday each of the eligible voters in the county has a responsibility to go to the polls and express our opinions as free Americans. If and only if each of us votes do we have the possibility of keeping our nation free. By not voting in every election we lose a small part of this freedom. In Littlefield we have a school trustee election Saturday as do all other county school districts. On Tuesday there are two elections here. One for city councilmen and a special state election for Senator from Texas. Who you vote for or who you vote for is our own business, but the important thing is that each of us vote. Go to the polls and vote.

More than 60 federal agencies now collect information on 4,717 different forms from American businessmen, according to a recent House of Representatives subcommittee report. The study showed that one small company with 300 employees filed 1,523 governmental reports in 1951. Back in 1933 when the company was founded, only six governmental forms were required annually. A large manufacturing company estimated that it files 37,683 reports each year for the federal government, 1,145 for state agencies and 385 for local governments and private groups. Have you ever figured up how many government forms you have filled out in any given year or how much time it takes to fill them out?

It wouldn't be Easter without baskets of brightly colored eggs. but how did they come to be associated with the great holiday of the resurrection?

It is reported that eggs represent the new life that begins in the spring about Easter time. The ancient Persians believed that the Earth had hatched from a giant egg. Persians and Egyptians used to exchange colored eggs with their friends. Early Christians adapted the custom of coloring eggs to Easter.

Your Neighbor Uses LIQUID FERTILIZER How About You?

MAURICE CAIN, who lives 3 miles south west of Roper is a booster of Liquid Fertilizers. "To me it's the SOLUTION to the fertilizer problem. I am putting down 60-lbs. of Nitrogen, 48-lbs. of phosphate and 8-lbs. of Potash on my irrigated cotton land. I feel that SOLUTIONS will give as good or better results than types of fertilizers if used properly. I particularly like the application I get with my tail-wheel drive squeeze pump. I'm rigged up so that I can side-dress and cultivate in one operation later in the season. I can also see a big labor and time-saving in being able to apply more acres per day as compared to other fertilizers," said Mr. Cain.

Cain is farming 1200 acres—500 acres of cotton and 700 acres of grain. He averaged about 1 1/4 bales per acre... "and I would have made more if I had dressed at the right time. I feel very strongly that in order to realize the full benefit of fertilizers they must be applied at the right time. I was late on side-dressing consequently I didn't get the full benefit that I would have gotten had I been earlier," said Cain. Why don't you do as Cain has done—see your local Liquid Phos LIQUID FERTILIZER dealer... he has a SOLUTION for any Fertilizer problem.

because the moon determines the date of the holiday.

Lighting candles at Easter was a custom in Rome back in the 200's. One Church father declared that "on the night of the resurrection no one should sleep and everyone should have a light, for on that night the Redeemer made everyone free from the darkness of sin and the grave." The large paschal candle used in Roman Catholic services represents Christ risen from the dead as the light of the world. It is blessed and studied with five grains of incense, symbolizing Christ's wounds.

One of the traditional Easter foods and a figure in many decorations for the holiday is the lamb. This symbol comes from the Jewish Pesah, or Passover, celebration. The Jews used to sacrifice a paschal lamb in the Temple at Jerusalem during Passover. Early Christians saw in this sacrifice a forecast of the sacrifice of Christ. They referred to Him as "The Lamb of God, which tak-eth away the sin of the world." (John 1:29).

The most ancient of the ancient peoples, the Egyptians, Assyrians and Greeks, considered the lamb a symbol of the time of Christ. The lamb is a symbol of the death of Christ and the resurrection. The lamb is a symbol of the death of Christ and the resurrection.

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE—This was the scene Tuesday morning at the intersection of two dirt roads 3.7 miles west of Littlefield as autos driven by M. A. Elms, Sr. and Cam Otis Renfro collided. The accident occurred at 9:50 a.m. as Elms was driving north and Renfro was going east. They entered the intersection at about the same time and the above results occurred. Renfro was apparently trapped in the overturned auto but threw his keys out and Elms unlocked the tailgate of the station wagon and Renfro crawled out. Both men were hospitalized overnight in a Littlefield hospital but neither was seriously injured. (STAFF PHOTO)

From Your Chamber Office

At the request of some of our businessmen, I would like to re-emphasize the clarification of Littlefield's parking regulations. As the last issue of this newspaper pointed out, there have been no changes in the regulations: the city simply intends to enforce the existing ordinance.

If you receive a ticket for overparking in front of a meter, your fine will be 25 cents - if you pay the fine within the month the ticket is given. After the first of the month the fine becomes $1.00.

The reason for re-writing the ordinance was that there were some technical changes to be made.

This seems to be an appropriate time to explain the philosophy of parking meters. Meters are set up for one purpose: to regulate parking; not as a source of revenue.

Meters are as much a headache for the city officials as for you and I. It is doubtful if the income from them, any more than to re-install the meters. The elections carried by a big majority.

I wish we had ample parking space for all of our customers and business personnel that would permit us to be without parking meters. It is noticeable that we perennial "parkers" can find off street parking when we have meters: too bad our vision is as good when the meters are not in front of our stores. One good thing is that most of us hunt our private

Did you sell your home in 1960?
Uncle Sam wants to know about it - by April 15 at the latest. That is unless you sold the house at a loss, in which case you can forget about it. Such a loss is not recognized by the tax law and therefore can not be deducted. But if you sold the house at a gain, a much more likely circumstance these days, you may have some income tax figuring to do. If you bought another house at a higher price than the selling price of the old one (or equal to it), you need pay no capital gains tax on the transactions. To be in this no-tax category, you must purchase the new residence and occupy it within one year before or after the sale of the old one. You get 18 months to occupy the new house if construction of it was started within the one-year period. If you bought another home at a lower price than the selling price of the old one, you must pay a tax.

Letters To The Editor

March 27, 1961 Mr. Wendell Tooley, Publisher, County Wide News, 506 Phelps Ave., Littlefield Texas.

I certainly enjoyed your editorial of March 26 in the County Wide News.

It was not only well presented, but being the Senator's campaign manager for Cochran County, I enjoyed the editorial from top to bottom.

I believed the Senator when he said: "This country has been good to me. Far more than I deserve. I would like to vote the rest of my life to preserving its traditions and protecting its freedoms."

I have no children. The least I can do, for the children of today and tomorrow, is fight for the real America that permitted me to grow. Its free enterprise must flourish. Its ideals must not be perverted. Its Constitution must stand as a fortress, never to be assaulted. This is my challenge, and I accept it with vigor and courage.

Best of luck. Sincerely, Bill Glassford, Morton Tribune, Morton Texas.

Dear Editor, In the group of questions asked the candidates for trustee on the school board, one question was, "how do you feel about Federal aid to education?"

Each of the three candidates who attempted to answer the questions, stated they were opposed to Federal Aid. Federal Aid to education isn't a new thing; Congress has passed many acts which grant Federal Aid to education, one in particular is the Smith-Hughes Act of 1917. This Act provides payments to the states to help train teachers and pay their salaries. Littlefield and all other schools in this part of the state have accepted this Federal money for thirty years or longer and have used it to pay these agricultural and home economics teacher salaries.

Do these candidates, if elected, intend to reject this Federal money we have received all these years? Many thousands of dollars in surplus commodities is given our school each year in helping to furnish cheap lunches for our children. do they plan to discontinue this help?

The major political parties have each pledged Federal Aid to schools. No doubt Congress will pass legislation carrying out this pledge. If Federal money is appropriated by Congress and made available to all local schools in the nation, will these candidates who are offering their services refuse to accept our children's pro-rata share of this money.

Yours truly, Paul Lewis. March 27, 1961 Mr. Wendell Tooley, Publisher, Lamb County Leader, Littlefield, Texas.

Dear Mr. Tooley: When you, Mr. Garrison, and the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Committee were in Austin last week in behalf of various legislation, you were enjoying a sacred right guaranteed by our State and National constitutions. Further, you were fulfilling an equally sacred duty to participate in affairs of your government. Only broader and consistent action by our citizens in government will save our "American Way of Life."

One of the subjects you and others discussed with me was taxation. It is my understanding that you and the Chamber of Commerce delegation were here to promote the passage of a general retail sales tax this year to retire the State's deficit, and provide whatever monies for new spending as necessary. I was not able to tell you that I would vote for a tax of this kind. After reading your column of Thursday, March 23rd, in the Lamb County Leader, I find that you left favor with the impression that I favored a state income tax. It was not my intention to give you or the others that impression. I would appreciate the opportunity to restate my position on this important matter of taxation:

First, I believe a candidate for the legislature should do his or her best to inform the public of possible important matter likely to come before the legislature. This I tried to do in my last campaign in 1958. Here are a few quotes from my campaign literature of that time: "Andy Rogers opposes a State Income or Sales Tax" - "There is no need for, and I am opposed to, a SALES OR INCOME TAX for Texas"; "ANDY ROGERS' SOLUTION: More economy in Austin and an HONEST gas and gasoline tax."

The above was based on the fact that most of the natural gas leaving our State does so with little or no taxes on it. Every major gas producing state levies a much higher tax than Texas. The same applies to gasoline. Texans pay their taxes on these and other items, but unlike other states send our products to outsiders, even communists, without the same taxes.

This led me to state in my 1958 campaign literature that - "No state has ever abused its own citizens as has Texas."

I feel that I have a firm obligation to stand by my campaign promises. An even deeper obligation, of course, is to try to represent the majority will of the citizens of our 30th Senatorial District. If I were convinced that a majority in our District wanted me to vote differently than I had promised in my campaign, I would certainly be willing to reconsider my position.

Basically, I feel that many elements of our Texas economy have not been carrying their fair share of our state tax burden. When new tax money is needed, I believe these people should be called upon first.

Until these sources of taxation have been used, I am opposed to a broad-based tax such as a general sales or income tax. If either of these are passed now without getting those who have ridden so cheaply before, they will probably continue their unfair advantage for a long time to come.

Whatever taxes are passed this year I will do my best to see that they are as fair as possible to all of our citizens. I wish to encourage one to take an interest in government, call, visit, and write, that in which they believe. My sincere thanks for this opportunity to clear up any misunderstanding.

Yours truly, ANDY ROGERS, 30TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

We endorse and urge the candidacy of WILL WILSON for United States Senator. For his service to the people of Texas as Chief Attorney, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court and Attorney General of Texas. For his knowledge of the governmental economic problems of the entire State. Because his efforts and the efforts of his won the Tidelands case. Because his career has shown a continuing interest in education of our school children and college students. For his positive stand urging cost depletion allowances to the owners of underground water who use such water in irrigation. For his full support of present depletion allowances to the oil industry and its investors. Because of his effective prosecution gambles, loan sharks, and unorthodox practices of medicine. For his fine character, his active work as a workman and civic worker. Because he brought honor to Texas with National Association of Attorneys General, being in convention in 1960, named him the outstanding State Attorney General of the United States.

THE DISTRICT COMMITTEE FOR WILL WILSON GEORGE W. McCLESKEY, CHAIRMAN, HIL & A. SKULL, CHAIRMAN, WOMEN'S COMMITTEE

Farm Facts

Although you may own no more land than the fraction of an acre on which your home is located, you are enjoying the output of several acres. In fact, each of us each year receives the production of 7.4 acres.

Food production, directly or indirectly, accounts for a large part of this total. An estimated 875 million acres in the United States are used for grazing.

It is estimated that crops were planted on about 337 million acres in 1960. These ranged in variety from avocados to cranberries and from mint to artichokes.

Much of the acreage, however, was used to produce feed for livestock and poultry. Corn was grown on 84 million acres, hay on about 70 million, and oats, barley, and sorghum grains on another 60 million.

The food grains - wheat, rice, and buckwheat - used about 52 million acres, soybeans about 24 million, and cotton about 16 million. Vegetables, nuts, and fruits are among other products listed in the acreage for crops.

Privately owned commercial forest lands in the United States total almost 260 million acres, producing trees for lumber, paper, and a wide variety of uses.

statement.
 "Are you sure," he asked the owner, "that I have interviewed everybody on the payroll? Have I missed anybody?"

"Well, yes," said the owner. "There is one. He has been here about 15 years. He makes about $2 a day, works 18 hours a day and obviously isn't very intelligent, because he stays on any way."

"Show me to him," said the agent.
 "You are looking right at him," said the owner.

DAD has served around 20 years on the school board, and he is now on the Swisher County School board. Seems like some of my earliest thoughts about his being a trustee centered around getting a rest from field work.

Back in the thirties it wasn't unusual for as many as 20 school teachers to make the rounds and visit each board member, trying to get the one opening.

I used to look forward to their coming and parking at the end of the rows. I always enjoyed a good rest in the shade while Dad and the teacher talked.

TRUE there were more school teachers than jobs in those days, but the ones who did have jobs had a little spending money, and a school teacher was usually seen driving a pretty good car.

Of course school board meetings are similar everywhere, in that it takes nearly all night once a month to handle the school's business. Of course it's mighty easy for a group of men to let their conversation stray from school problems, and before they know it, they're talking fishing, cars, telling stories etc.

NOWADAYS a board member really earns his pay (the whole sum of nothing) . . . he takes a lot of criticism, and usually gets very little praise for his efforts. All of this is not to discourage the four who are seeking two places on the Littlefield board, rather, it is meant for the many who have nothing but criticism for the ones who must make the decisions and see that our schools progress, and that they operate in a businesslike manner.

FOR MANY years a Texas rancher had employed a Chinese cook. As a reward for an unusually fine meal, the rancher decided to take notice of the cook's efforts and give him a raise in wages. The next payday the cook noticed the extra money in his envelope.

"Why you pay me more, boss?" he asked.
 "Because you've been a good and faithful cook all these years."
 The cook considered that thoughtfully. "You been cheating me long time, eh?" - Jim Harget.

TOMORROW is "Good Friday", and a fine time to start your gardening. Since my neighbor and I already have onions and strawberries set out, we've planted corn, okra, peas, butter beans, and generally have a head start on everybody else. We think we're set to challenge the Littlefield garden club for a contest. Pirkey and I admit we don't know "beans" about gardening, but we'll still challenge the garden club that we can raise more and better vegetables than it can.

"I am a member of the Church of Christ and worship with the Ninth St. Church in Littlefield, and a member of the Chamber of Commerce."

"As one of the city councilmen I will stand for honest and fair dealing to every one."

"The decisions I would make would be what I honestly believe to be best for Littlefield."

"I am for keeping Littlefield a good clean community to live in and a good clean place to raise our families."

"I believe we should have a well planned program for city development."

"I believe the tax money should be spent where it will do the most good for Littlefield and with the least possible waste."

GILES gave the following statement and then answered the questions.

"I grew up and attended school in the Crews school near Winters. I spent two years in the Army with one year overseas in the Pacific. After my service I finished a three year course in business management, business law, book-keeping, math and public relations."

"I farmed in South Dakota and in Runnels County, Texas. I moved to Littlefield in 1955 and was in the used car business until 1957 at which time I purchased an implement dealership."

"I am a past commander of the local VFW and am president of the country club. I am a member of the First Baptist Church. I am married and have two daughters and one son."

Here are the specific questions and answers:

1. What type of city government do you favor? Explain.
 GILES: "Council-Manager as presently in effect in Littlefield, in order to have full time manager of City's business and so that there won't be a complete change of administration every two years."

2. Do you feel that the city should pass ordinances zoning specific areas for business, industry and residences?
 GILES: "Yes, in order to promote industry and protect residential areas to homes and provide for specific locations for various type businesses."

3. Do you think the city should set certain building standards in the residential areas?
 GILES: "Yes, in order to protect the property owners within the areas."

4. Do you think the city should engage in a long range planned program for city development? This plan will cost the city some money.
 GILES: "At this time I am not sufficiently informed on this to express a qualified opinion."

5. How do you feel about Federal Aid to cities as far as Urban Renewal is concerned?
 GILES: "Generally speaking, I am opposed to Federal aid, however, as stated above, I don't know enough about this to express a qualified opinion. In this connection, however, I do believe that we can run our city without any interference from Washington."

6. Explain your concept of tax incomes and expenditures on the city level? Where should money be spent?
 GILES: "Obviously the money should be spent where it will do the most good. I will try to run the City's business the same way I run my own, and spend the City's money as if it was my own."

7. Do you think the city taxes are enough to meet the present and future needs of the city? Explain.
 GILES: "Yes, it would appear that the taxes are high enough. As the City grows it will obviously provide more taxes and at this time I certainly do not believe in any tax increase."

8. What changes would you make in the current city program?
 GILES: "At this time I have no specific changes in mind, as I would have to find out more about the City's operation before making any recommendations."

9. Why are you running for city councilman?
 GILES: "I have been here over five (5) years, during which time I have been operating my own business in the City and I am interested in its growth and development. I think my record and experience in civic affairs will stand me in good stead to serve as City councilman."

10. What, in your opinion, improvements do you think the city should make in the next four years?
 GILES: "As stated above, at this time I do not know enough about the city's business to have any specific improvements in mind. I do believe, however, that development of the City should be maintained as the needs of the people require."

Jesus was sentenced to death by crucifixion, a common Roman form of execution. The crucifixion took place on a hill outside the city called Golgotha. Jesus died and His body was taken to a new tomb.

On Sunday morning Mary Magdalene went to the tomb. The stone had been rolled away and the tomb was empty. But an angel told her that Jesus had risen.

Later Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene and to Simon Peter. For the next 40 days He taught His 11 faithful disciples. Then He rose to heaven.

The multi-million dollars lost annually by the livestock industry because of animals being bruised is an unnecessary waste. Care in working, loading, unloading and transporting livestock will protect animals from costly bruises, reminds Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist.

The last week in the life of Jesus Christ is remembered by Christians with special services and great solemnity, for it was a time of betrayal and suffering that led up to the resurrection of the Son of God.

Jesus arrived in Jerusalem on Sunday, cheered by hopeful throngs who showered His path with branches of palm trees. It was dangerous for Him to enter the city because of the high priests who feared and resented Him, but He believed it was His duty to preach there.

Galilee. Herod mocked Jesus. Without the approval of Pilate, Jesus could not be executed. The condemned murderer named Barabbas was before the people and told Him. He brought Jesus and a condemned murderer named Barabbas before the people and told

Sandhills Philosopher Philosopher 'Shocked' At Idea Of Letting Farmers Write Their Own Ticket

Editor's Note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is upset this week, but he'll probably get over it. Dear editor: I have seen some strange and hard-to-believe things come out of Washington in my time, but the one I have now found out about has bowled me over. That is, it would have if I hadn't been sitting down already at the time. These days, a man has to be in a position to handle any new idea, and the best position I know is sitting. At any rate, as I understand it, and I checked it in three different towns and paid money for two of them, Washington has come out with the proposal that the farmers themselves figure out the answer to the farm problem. "Let the farmers themselves write their own farm program," is the way the idea goes, and I don't mind admitting I'm in a state of shock. Up to the present, one of the real and I thought enduring satisfactions of farming was the realization you could always explain away an unsuccessful year by saying: "What did you expect me to make, under the farm program we got? Them birds that write the farm programs don't know anything about farming. We haven't got a chance." But now some smart alec has fed the President the idea that the farmers themselves ought to write their own farm program, and I'm calling on you right now to help put a stop to it. It's the most outrageous thing I ever heard of.

You don't hear doctors asking patients to do their own diagnosing and write their own prescriptions, do you? You don't hear bankers asking their customers to set their own interest rate and borrowing limit, do you? You let the government turn the farm program over to the farmers, and farmers then wind up in the same shape they're in now, and who're we going to point our finger at? No, sir, it's the government's job to figure out the farm problem solution. If us farmers could have figured it out, we'd have done it long ago. The tried and true method is for the farmers to create the problem, and somebody else handle the answer. Everybody to his own job. This new idea is government interference at its worst. J. A.

WORLD COVERING If all the cotton feed and flour bags used in the U. S. last year were placed end to end, they would reach around the world 19 times. Statistics show that in 1960 alone 259,500,000 yards of cotton fabric were made into feed and flour bags in this country. These handy cloth containers, made from both plain and printed fabrics, provide today's budget-wise homemaker with a ready source of inexpensive material for sewing.

About Your Health

Diphtheria managed to strike down 95 young Texans in January and February, State Health Department records show, despite the fact that measures for controlling it are well-known and effective. The 1960 toll reached 239. That's 76 cases above the 5-year median, and 63 cases more than were reported during the previous year. While worrisome to state and local health officials, the 1960 figure is by no means a record, even for recent years, but it is highly significant when individual cases are studied: 164 of the victims had had no immunizing shots whatever, and 38 had been inadequately immunized. Only 16 had received the full course of protective shots. Therein lies a basic truth concerning communicable diseases and their control; out-breaks are products of neglected immunizations. Other parts of the world are having similar flare-ups. An out-break is reportedly in progress in Santiago, Chile. Is diphtheria dangerous? Certain types can be quickly lethal. In some epidemics the death rate may reach as high as 12 per cent, but it is more commonly two to five per cent. In communities where immunizations have been neglected, studies show that about one-fourth of all cases and one-half of all deaths are among children under five. On the other hand, when childhood immunizations have been adequate but reinforcing shots neglected, older persons are more often the victims. Diphtheria today is probably the same disease which cut down great numbers of children in Egypt during the second century. Its germs characteristically invade the body's mucous membranes—usually in the throat. They remain localized but grow and multiply and exude a poison which produces typical symptoms. Recovery from one attack of diphtheria usually, but not always, confers an immunity against a second attack.

Testimony was heard on two bills. One by Rep. Tony Korioth of Sherman, would repeal the present corporate franchise tax for a loss of $48,000,000 a year and substitute a three per cent corporate income tax (for a gain of approximately $96,000,000 a year.)

Also heard was a bill by Rep.
Maco Stewart of Galveston which would levy a 10 per cent corporate income tax, repeal the oil well servicing tax and reduce the sulphur tax.

A bill to provide for a $1 charge for taking a state driver's license examination was passed by committee and sent to the House. It would raise an estimated $1,250, 000 a year.

Meanwhile, Speaker James Turman, addressing a teachers' group said he felt Texas was close to resorting to the "last resort"— sales or income taxes.

CAMPAIGN LIMIT PASSED
Senate passed 26-to-4 a bill that would limit to $25,000 the spending of any one candidate in a race for the U. S. Senate.

Sen. Martin Dies, Jr. of Lufkin is sponsor of the bill. Limit would apply to money spent for newspaper, radio or television advertising with the candidate's knowledge. All other means of advertising would be exempted.

Attorney general would be responsible for enforcement.
If the bill should be finally passed and take effect before the present special senatorial race is over, it could put a lid on spending of candidates in the runoff campaign next month.

FIREMEN'S BILL KILLED—House killed by a 73-to-66 vote a bill that would have set up a procedure for arbitration of wage-and-hour disputes between firemen and city governments.

Passage was urged by firemen but opposed by city officials.
Bill would have provided for an arbitration board and if necessary an election once a year to consider firemen's requests. Supporters contended it would have enabled firemen and city officials to settle their problems on the local level instead of battling before the Legislature, as in years past.

Opponents objected to the possibility of frequent, costly elections and argued that it would give firemen a privilege not enjoyed by other city employees.

"KID" DRIVERS TARGET—House Highways Committee is considering a bill that would take 14-year-olds off the road—as drivers of cars or motor scooters.

Rep. Maco Stewart, sponsor, urged the measure to "take the cars out of junior high school... and get the students' minds on their books." His measure would raise the minimum age at which a driver's license may be issued from 14 to 15 years and would set up the same licensing requirements for motor scooters. In some towns youngsters of 12 and 13 are allowed to ride motor scooters.

A motor scooter seller objected on grounds that many working youngsters, such as newspaper carrier boys, needed scooters for their jobs.

On Feb. 27, 1879, Congress authorized the Secretary of the Navy to accept the Jeannette, a yacht offered by James Gordon Bennett, for use in Arctic exploration.

Seed Bargains May Cost Farmers In Low Yields

Seed bargains, like other so-called bargains, can end up being very expensive. Farmers who buy a quantity of seed to plant a variety of seed may lose all or part of their investment in land, land preparation and fertilizer.

In the overall cost of producing a crop, seed is a minor item whether it is the cheapest seed or the most expensive. There is no possible way to justify the loss in yield and quality that results from using poor seed, when for only a few cents more per acre, good seed of known quality and performance, can be planted.

Will you look for a "bargain" or, more important, will you buy good quality seed? Before you answer, consider the time, labor and money you have invested in the preparation of your land. If you are going to plant poor seed, all of this other work and money may be wasted. Give your land a chance—plant only quality seed.

Now you may ask, "How will I be sure that I am getting good seed?" The Texas Seed Act re-

'60 Cotton Test Results Given

Results of the 1960 Cotton Variety Test at the High Plains Research Foundation, in which nineteen varieties were evaluated, were released recently to Foundation supporters by Dr. Earl H. Collier, Chief Agronomist.

The yield of the varieties ranged from a low of 861 pounds of lint per acre to a high of 1,272 pounds of lint per acre. There was no significant yield difference between the top six varieties. Of these top six, Austin produced 1,272 pounds of lint per acre; Paymaster 8890, 1,256 pounds; Rex, 1,229 pounds; Dixie King, 1,198 pounds; Paymaster 54-B, 1,164 pounds; Fox-4, 1,134 pounds.

The cotton was irrigated pre-plant and three additional irrigations totaling 14½ inches. Rain, in the amount of 23.55 inches, was received from April 1 to October 1. All plots were fertilized at planting time at the rate of 300 pounds of 13-39-0 per acre. The fertilizer was sidedressed about 4 inches to the side and 4 inches below the seed. TWO MASTERS

Marvin Bishop had been in an automobile accident and felt that he should be able to recover damages from the driver of the other car, in the course of telling Smith his story, it developed that the driver of the other car was insured by a company represented by Smith.

As soon as Smith learned this fact, he stopped Marvin from telling him any more about the case and explained that he could not represent him. Smith pointed out that the "conflicting interest" resulting from his representation of the insurance company prevented him from representing Marvin. He said he owed it to Marvin not to hear anything from him which he might use against him if the matter were taken to court.

THE SITUATION outlined above illustrates one of the basic principles in the ethics of a lawyer, namely, that he cannot represent "conflicting interests."

Basically, this is but the lawyer's way of phrasing the old axiom that a man cannot serve two masters. A lawyer's duty is to give his full and complete efforts to his client and he cannot do that if there is a conflict between the interests of two of them. The reasoning behind this rule is that a lawyer should not appear in court representing both sides of a controversy.

IF ATTORNEY Smith is one of a group of lawyers practicing together as a partnership, then he must be careful not only of avoiding a conflict of interest between the clients he is personally serving, but between his clients and other clients of the partnership as well.

There are, of course, cases where a lawyer may represent more than one of the parties to the same transaction without violating the rule of professional conduct against serving interests which conflict. Such a situation might develop where two old clients of the same lawyer were purchasing and selling a piece of property. If both clients so desired and understood, the lawyer might, with complete propriety, look after the interests of both in such a transaction.

Varieties tested were Austin, Paymaster 8890, Rex, Dixie King, Paymaster 54-B, Fox-4, Bightmaster, Auburn 36, Lockett 4789, Storm King No. 1, Parrott, Storm King No. 35, Arizona Acala No. 44, Storm King No. 41, Gregg, Lockett 88 A, Storm King No. 6, Paymaster 101, and Finck.

(This news feature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)
