

Sudan Farmer Sells Year's First Cotton

T. Fife Handed Bonus

Littlefield and Lamb County's first 1960 bale of cotton arrived in downtown Littlefield at 2:15 Monday afternoon. T. Fife, Box 123, Sudan was the grower and the Lumsden Gin Co. was the ginner.

The 480-pound bale was graded as 29-32 strict middling, and the Lumsden Gin Company paid 50 cents per pound for the first bale.

The bale was pulled from approximately 15 acres of irrigated Gregg cotton. It was planted the 15th of April. Fife estimated the crop would make around a bale and a half per acre.

Fife is marketing under the "B" plan and he has around 95 acres of cotton. The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce gave Fife a bonus of 230 silver dollars for producing the first bale.

Fife said that he had pre-irrigated the crop before planting and it had one irrigation after coming up. Very good rains were all that was necessary from then on.

This year's first bale was later that last year's which arrived in Littlefield on (Continued On Page Seven)

THE WEATHER

FORECAST — Generally fair today, tonight and tomorrow. TEMPERATURES — Sunday low 66, high 88; Monday low, 67, high 86; Tuesday low 70, high 85; Wednesday low 65, high 12:30.

Chamber Groups Set Meetings For September

Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, which is squarely in the middle of a revitalization program, is keeping busy on other fronts, too, a check of the chambered.

Tonight the chamber is sponsoring the second in the series of farm - town dinners, this one at Pleasant Valley.

Retail merchants committee will meet Friday at 10 a. m. to consider fall and winter activities, including Christmas business promotion. Joe Fenn is chairman.

The board of directors of the chamber is to hold its September meeting next Tuesday night at 7:30 in the chamber headquarters in the City Hall.

The Chamber's board of city development will meet for breakfast at Thornton's cafeteria at 7 a. m. Wednesday, Sept. 14.

The chamber's safety committee, headed by Tom Hilburn, will meet Sept. 23 when plans will be laid for the chamber's participation in National Fire Prevention Week, set this year for Oct. 9-15.

CHAMBER BREAKFASTS—Here is a typical scene this week in Littlefield as the Chamber of Commerce holds a series of breakfasts to "sell" the chamber program to business and professional men. ### 40 To Attend Pleasant Valley Dinner Tonight

Forty Littlefield business and professional men will journey to Pleasant Valley tonight for a barbecued beef supper, second in the fall and winter series of town and country suppers sponsored by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Jack Barton will be the principal speaker with Marshall Howard as master of ceremonies. Total attendance will be around 100 persons.

Barton will discuss the agricultural problems of the day in a program that promises to be of aid to both business men and farmers.

Under the plan, Littlefield merchants buy two tickets for $3, one for themselves and one for a farmer. First dinner, a German sausage and sauerkraut dinner held at Pep, recently, had 100 in attendance.

At the dinners, the farmers and merchants discuss their mutual problems with the farmers telling the Littlefield men how they may help the farmers in solving those problems. Pep asked for help in its telephone toll rate fees.

Firestone Starts New Store Here

Construction has begun on a new Firestone store for Littlefield just off the southwest corner of the Lamb County Courthouse.

Merle Beard is the contractor who will build a haydite block and brick building approximately 40' x 70'. The lot was furnished by Morley Drake.

The store will be a complete Firestone operation with all lines on display.

Tentative plans call for the opening of the new store about November 1.

The owner - manager of the store will be in Littlefield next week and the Leader will have a more complete story at that time.

Cats Meet Mules In Grid Opener

Littlefield's Wildcats, the club which sharpened by three weeks in 1959, will share the honor with Levelland in 1960.

Coach Don Williams has been leading his charges through contact drills for several practices now, anticipating the lid opener with the Mules.

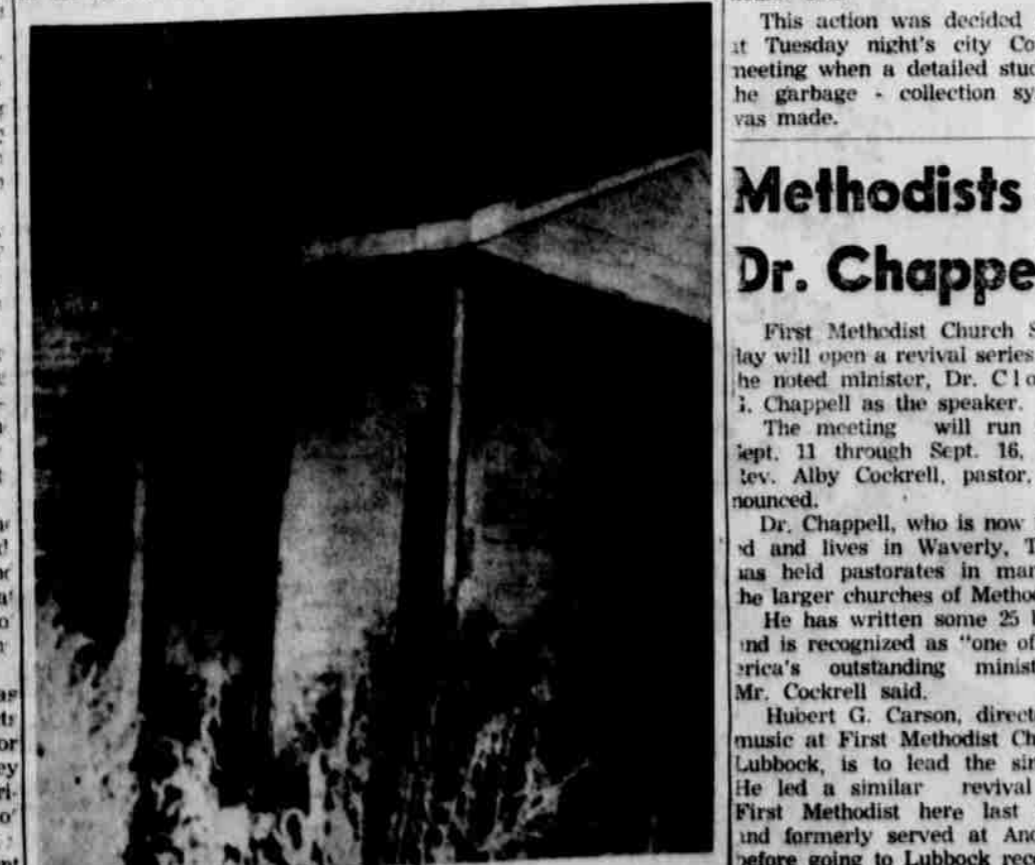

"It is going to be a tough game," Williams said. "Of course, the first one of the season always has the 1-AAA championship after it.

3 Boys Face Arson Charge

Three teen-age Littlefield boys gave the chief the license number were being questioned late Wednesday by County Judge Paul Boone Sr. in connection with a blaze Tuesday night which severely damaged a three - room house.

The house, unoccupied, was located just south of the cemetery, and was owned by a man in Fort Worth named Haney.

Police Chief F. A. Fitzgerald said Wednesday a man saw the boys set the place on fire and flee in an automobile. The informant

City Council Studies Garbage Fees Increase

City of Littlefield probably will boost its garbage collection rates one - third, starting Oct. 1, in an effort for offset a prospective $14,000 loss in that department for the next fiscal year.

This would mean a raise of residence collection fees from $1.50 per customer and a scheduled increase for downtown regions served by Dempster Dumpsters, based on use of each particular box.

This action was decided upon at Tuesday night's city Council meeting when a detailed study of the garbage - collection system was made.

Under the proposed action, each of the 32 Dempster dumpsters would be set up on an individual basis, the boxes used the most paying the higher fees.

The council was told that some of these boxes are emptied every day, while others are picked up only twice a week. Some boxes, too, serve several firms while others serve only one or two customers.

All this will be taken into consideration in determining the individual fees to be set.

The council will pass an ordinance at its Sept. 15 meeting dealing with garbage fees, and J. W. Harrison city manager, said anyone interested could appear.

Garbage collection men were on hand at Tuesday night's meeting to explain the system of collection. "Some of these boxes," Harrison said, "serve as many as 15 persons or firms and are jammed full each morning, making it necessary to pick up garbage every day."

He said he believed the only equitable basis for charges would be on a use basis, those who use the service more paying accordingly.

The garbage department has been under study for some time since it has consistently shown a loss. The increase in residential fees from $1 to $1.50 has been an (Continued On Page Seven)

Methodists Set Revival, Dr. Chappell To Speak

First Methodist Church Sunday will open a revival series with the noted minister, Dr. Clovis Chappell as the speaker.

The meeting will run from Sept. 11 through Sept. 16, the Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor, announced.

Dr. Chappell, who is now retired and lives in Waverly, Tenn., has held pastorates in many of the larger churches of Methodism.

He has written some 25 books and is recognized as "one of America's outstanding ministers," Mr. Cockrell said.

Hubert G. Carson, director of music at First Methodist Church, Lubbock, is to lead the singing. He led a similar revival for First Methodist here last year, and formerly served at Andrews before going to Lubbock recently. Carson, a McMurry graduate, formerly taught band.

Dr. Chappell has held pastorates in Dallas, Washington, D.C., Memphis, Birmingham, Houston, Jackson, Miss., and Oklahoma City.

Services will be at 7 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. each day.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A family trying to get all slicked up to make a good impression on important company can't take time out for a domestic squabble.

On this premise, the Texas Industrial Commission, whose job is to lure new industry to Texas, voted to steer clear of political hassles and concentrate on putting the best foot forward.

Vote on this decision was 5-to-1. Voting no was Al H. Chesser, railroad brotherhood representative who has urged the Commission to sponsor a legislative program including repeal of the state's "right to work" law.

"Our job is to sell Texas," said E. B. Germany, Commission chairman. He said he felt the Commission would be hampered in doing so if it got involved in controversial legislation.

Reviewing two year's progress Germany reported that 475 new plants had located in Texas since the TIC was formed in March, 1958. Plans have been announced for 500 more plants to be located in the past two years.

For the future, Walter Dickerson, TIC executive director, said factory managements are considering a move to Texas. A number of these, he said, would make products for which Texas now sends $2,500,000,000 out-of-state.

HANDS OFF HOUSTON — A local believer of local control to local matters, Gov. Price Daniel said he would not intervene in affairs of the Houston Public School system.

For weeks Houston school have been in a squeeze between a federal court order to begin gradual integration and a state law which says it will lose state if it does.

As a last resort, the Houston School Board asked Governor Daniel to "interpose" in its behalf. Under the theory of interposition, the state has, under the Tenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, the right to interpose against any federal act by which it believes the federal government is exceeding its constitutional powers.

Daniel pointed out that this course had been tried without success in other states. Expressing confidence in the Houston board and its attorneys, Daniel said, "The Texas policy of local operation and control of public schools is far better than an attempted control by the government of state."

TAX BITES UNCLE SAM — It was a sort of man-bites-dog story when the Attorney General Department ruled the federal government would have to pay a $400 state inheritance tax to Texas.

In her will Mrs. Susan Vaughan Clayton made a bequest to "the United States of America, to be used for the retirement of the national debt." Mrs. Clayton was the widow of the late Will Clayton of Anderson, Clayton & Co.

A federal attorney proposed keeping the money in a special account in Texas since bequest to Texas and its citizens are exempt from the inheritance tax. But the AG ruling said other states would benefit just as much as Texas from national debt retirement. In effect, the federal treasury will have to take the bitter with the sweet.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Hot

not rivalries between neighboring Texas towns used to center on who would have the courthouse. Nowadays it's usually over who has the best high school football team.

But two Central Texas towns, San Marcos and New Braunfels, are having a lively contest over the naming of a park to be built between the two cities.

State Parks Board, back in July, designated it as "San Marcos State Park." Civic-spirited San Marcos had raised $2,500 for park equipment with the request that it be named after their town.

New Braunfels folk raised a storm. They claimed it would be scarier their town, that their county would have to maintain a road to it, etc.

Recognizing the touchiness of the situation, the State Parks Board, says it will re-consider the whole thing at its October meeting. Both sides are to be given a chance to present their views.

PISTOL TOTIN' CURB UR — Legislation to close the loopholes in present state law governing sale and possession of pistols may be offered in the next session.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the law requiring the presentation of a certificate of good character before buying a pistol is not enforceable.

In 1958, the opinion pointed out the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that this part of the law was unconstitutional because the caption of the bill passed by the Legislature did not sufficiently explain what was in the bill.

Local peace officers were quick to call for corrective legislation. "Women feel there should be curbs on who can buy concealable weapons and records of the purchases so the police can check on who made them."

OLD AGE ROLLS DWINDLE — Though the number of oldest in the state is increasing, the number receiving state old age assistance checks is declining and is expected to drop still more.

This conclusion was contained in the report of a subcommittee of the state Conference on Aging. Drop in the state pension rolls was attributed to more Social Security benefits, more company retirement plans, more older workers working or receiving other support.

AUTO INSPECTION BEGIN — Period for having official safety inspections made in Texas begins this month.

Deadline for getting a new inspection sticker on your wind shield is not until next April 15, but with 4,500,000 vehicles to be checked, lines will be long in the final weeks.

Cost of an inspection is $1 plus any needed repair for motoring safety. Average cost to each vehicle owner, including the repairs, is $2 last year.

SHORT SPORTS — Commission on Higher Education has announced that the 13 state-supported colleges and universities (earning 38 per cent above present spending). To make the 100 cap reader's job easier, the State Highway Commission has given a single route number to the most direct highway connection between Huntsville and Paris. Now named State Highway 19, the route formerly had five different numbers.

Get Permission To Hunt, Specialist Suggests

College Station. —Have you ever asked, and been refused permission to hunt on someone's farm or ranch? If you have, you probably could not understand why the landowner refused you a request. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says that you were probably the victim of some earlier hunter's discourteous or irresponsible actions. You have a chance to prevent this same thing from happening to you.

Landowner - sportsman relations need improving, and the next few months — the hunting seasons — are the best time to accomplish this. Cooper offers a few tips on hunting courtesy that will help you and the landowner become friends.

Ask permission to hunt on any land or water.

Respect property.

Obey the laws on bag limits.

Inform the landowner when and where you will be hunting. Do not invite friends to hunt with you unless the landowner has given permission.

Handle firearms in a safe manner at all times. Make certain that you do not fire toward people, buildings or livestock.

Offer to pay for any damage done to the property of the landowner.

Offer to pay for the privilege of hunting.

Make sure that all gates are closed behind you.

Be courteous and friendly.

Cooper concludes by saying that the hunter should remember that the farm or ranch is a place of business for the owner. He will appreciate your respect and interest in treating his property as a means of livelihood.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Genesis	28	15
Monday	Psalms	139	7-10
Tuesday	Philippians	2	3-8
Wednesday	Matthew	7	7-8
Thursday	Romans	8	27-29
Friday	Psalms	5	7-8
Saturday	John	14	1-4

A familiar sight — men with briefcases daily throng airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find.

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest — and our ultimate destination — begin to make sense.

Grain Sorghum Field Man Joins Producers' Group

AMARILLO — The research market development and service program of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association gained added impetus this week with an announcement of expansion of their work in two important directions.

In one expansion move, Frank Moore of Plainview, the Association's president, announced that J. M. McGinley is joining the staff of the organization to enlarge the field service activities. Moore pointed out that this is in order to give greater service to the expanding potentials for live stock feeding in the area, the need for closer relationships with other feeding areas such as the California market, and the need for close attention to legislative matters affecting sorghum.

McGinley, former Anadarko, Okla., businessman, will give special emphasis to work with county sorghum producer association directors and local grain elevator operators in organizational matters.

The second area of expansion, according to Moore, is the naming of a local grain elevator operator to the board of each county grain sorghum producer association. Such officials have in the past worked closely with Association leaders in all phases of their program but this marks the first time they will be serving on the board of the organization. These added directors as well as other officers for the coming year, will be elected at county meetings which will be held throughout the

Letter To The Editor

Editor: The Southern Baptist Churches of the West Plains Association and representative from the Tierra Blanca and the Staked Plains Associations met in Littlefield August 26, and organized a new Association. This new Association adopted the name "Llanos Altos," (meaning High Plains). Also adopted were resolutions with a request for the newly organized body to sponsor the resolutions be sent to each of the News Offices in the area.

As Associational Clerk, I am enclosing a copy of the resolutions trusting that you will print them in your publication.

We are thankful indeed for your News Offices and that we have opportunity of using this method of keeping the people informed.

Be it resolved that we, the Llanos Altos Association offer our gratitude and sincere appreciation to the host church and her pastor for the privilege of meeting with them and the hospitality extended to us.

Be it resolved that we, the Association support our leaders in their ever increasing struggle against such prevalent evils in our area as alcoholic beverages, dancing, obscene literature and other evils threatening the morals of our people.

Be it resolved that we as an Association here and now take a sorghum producing area during the ensuing weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinley and their 14 year old daughter, Donna Jean, will establish their home in Amarillo September 1st.

No Need to Wait Any Longer!

There are literally thousands of people across our land who are presently in a position to own a Cadillac car—and whose hearts incline them to Cadillac—but who have not as yet taken the step up to the "car of cars".

If you are among them, we believe that you have now lost your last logical reason for reluctance.

Listen but a moment—and see if we aren't right. If, for example, you have been waiting for an especially rewarding Cadillac year—then certainly this is it! In everything that contributes to motoring pleasure, this latest creation stands alone.

Or if you have been waiting for an unusually practical Cadillac—then you need delay no longer.

Cadillac for 1960 represents a wiser investment than ever... its sound design and careful craftsmanship assure maximum dependability... and its ability to retain its value remains unchallenged among motor cars.

And if you have been waiting for the most logical and sensible moment—surely the time is at hand!

Your dealer is now particularly anxious to welcome new owners—and he has some very pleasant news for you about today's actual delivered cost.

So regardless of your reason for delay—we believe you owe it to yourself to visit your Cadillac dealer soon.

The Cadillac of your dreams is waiting for you in his showroom now.

Water Recirculated Level Conservation Trial

J. R. Belt, Jr., farmer and vice-board of directors of Plains Under Conservation district, installed a recirculating pump in a 10-inch concrete pipe, three pieces were used. When joined together vertically they made a sump twelve feet deep.

The pump consists of a one-stage 10-inch bowl assembly and 10 feet of 6-inch column pipe. It is powered by a 5-horsepower electric motor that starts and stops automatically through the use of a switch controlled by a float in the sump. When the sump fills, the float cuts the motor on — when the pump empties the sump, the float cuts the motor off.

The discharge of the pump is turned to a steel riser that in turn is connected to 8-inch plastic pipe buried beneath the land surface. The plastic pipeline extends approximately 600 yards to one of two irrigation wells on the farm. There it joins a previously installed concrete pipeline system.

Irrigation water from the two wells is distributed to the crop through the older underground pipelines and surface gated pipe. The recirculating pump coming from the intake of the pump system.

one length of 3 foot by 4 foot concrete pipe, three pieces were used. When joined together vertically they made a sump twelve feet deep.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

On a clear moonlight night last week, a group of us watched the satellite Echo move across the peaceful sky with "deceptive speed. As we sat and dined at the supper in the backyard, this object that appeared at first to be a red star cut a path through the firmament as though it knew where it was going and from whence it came. In a couple of hours or less, it would reappear, mounting having circled the earth!

It was indeed a message from the future to earthbound thinkers like ourselves. What did it mean? Was it good? We were made smaller by our ignorance, and were a little frightened by it. And so the light banter of the evening took on a sober note. What would the conquest of outer space mean to us? In case of atomic warfare, could we survive? Should our town have bomb shelters enough to protect everyone? How long did the danger from fallout last? Were the inroads of communist thinking in Cuba a more immediate threat?

The everyday concerns — bank statements, and plumbers, and doing over the kitchen, getting Johnny ready for school, and the driveway repaired before the next rain — were dimmed by these bigger ideas.

The satellite that is visible to all of us may be the hope for America's future. It may wake us up. In a language we do understand, this vision in the sky reminds us that the world of knowledge is "amoving along." If we are to survive, we'd best inform ourselves. Knowledge breeds confidence; ignorance, fear.

A horse that bucks high or stands on his hind feet and paws the air is said to be "chinning the moon."

Flemming Has Message For American People

By G. K. HODENFIELD AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an office next door to Arthur S. Flemming at the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, there are several dozen stacks of letters.

All the letters take sides, some violently, in the recent "L'affaire Cranberry." All will be answered, signed personally by Flemming.

At last count the letters were running about 18 to one in support of Flemming's warning Nov. 9 that some cranberries had been sprayed with a weed killer known to induce thyroid cancer in rats.

Aides say Flemming expected to be criticized for his action, but felt the average American consumer would be in his corner.

The cranberry episode is only one of several issues on which Flemming has spoken out.

Although he is a loyal member of the Eisenhower budget-balancing team, he has several times urged that teacher salaries be doubled over the next five to seven years — something most educators say can't be done without federal aid.

Ernest T. Guy, executive director of the Texas Heart Association, will be the principal speaker accompanied by James Blozie, state consultant. Blozie will present campaign organization details and will be available for personal consultation on any local problem.

Dr. Joe Arrington, president of the Lubbock County heart association, and Dr. Robert L. Carr, president of the South Plains district heart association, together express an earnest desire that a joint effort between laymen and physicians, to make our area well-informed and organized in our fight against heart disease.

to prevent tooth decay. He took a strong stand against air and water pollution, and backed his words with court action to clean up several rivers.

Shortly before Christmas, he warned that chickens fed still-besterol, a female hormone, were unsafe because tests showed such use of the drug might cause cancer.

And he warned private insurance companies to "take care of the needs of the people or see the government move in."

In Office 1-2 Years Despite all the controversy he has caused since he took office in the summer of 1958, Flemming is perhaps best known in Washington as a man with a knack for soft-talking Congressional committees into giving him pretty much what he wants.

In a total of 19 years in Washington, Flemming has held 10 federal posts. He has made a lot of friends, influenced a lot of people, and learned to walk through the political jungle and bureaucratic swamp of the nation's capital without breaking stride.

Flemming leads a spartan life. Six days a week, when he is in town, he keeps office hours from 8:30 a. m. until 7 or 7:30 p. m., and a recent vacation was his first in more than a decade.

Sometimes, just to keep ahead of a mountain of detail, he'll get up before dawn and work at home for several hours before breakfast.

He neither smokes nor drinks (although he isn't stuffy about people who do) and avoids the Washington cocktail circuit.

Weather permitting, he tries to get in a 40-minute walk every morning.

This regime keeps the 6-foot-1 1/2-inch secretary at or near the 150-pound mark, and is probably in favor of fluoridation of water the reason why he looks much younger than his 54 years.

Works in Church Outside his official duties, much of Flemming's time is devoted to his work in the Methodist church.

Aside from an occasional baseball game on Sunday afternoon, he has no hobbies.

Flemming never uses profanity and seldom raises his voice. Though one newspaper reported that at the peak of the cranberry hassle he did explode with a lusty "dog gone."

Before entering government service he held various posts at American University in Washington, and for four years was on the editorial staff of U. S. Daily (now U. S. News and World Report).

From 1939 until 1948, during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, he was a member of the Civil Service Commission, and also served on other commissions and agencies.

In 1948 he was the first alumnus ever named president of Ohio Wesleyan, but three years later President Truman called him back to Washington as assistant to the director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, in charge of manpower.

In 1953 he was named director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and as such participated in meetings of the National Security Council and President Eisenhower's cabinet.

Returned to Washington He returned to Ohio Wesleyan in 1957, but resigned as president there the next year when he came to Washington to take his present post.

He is the only cabinet officer with a listed telephone number, and reporters feel free to call him at home any time it's necessary.

During the cranberry fuss I wouldn't talk to them anyway. But he expected to get a lot of I would have."

WEST TEXANS SAY OF P-A-G MAN...

that's sorghum!

The way P. A. G. Sorghums look in the field makes everybody who sees them exclaim "Man, that's Sorghum!"

P. A. G. has earned the confidence which farmers have in this sorghum. Each exclusive variety is researched, tested, and proved before it is offered for sale. Then when you plant P. A. G. you can be confident that not only will it look good in the field, but it will provide top yields. Careful quality control through triple isolation and seed production pays off in your field when you plant P. A. G. Sorghums. Hundreds of tests have proved it.

Now is the time to look your P. A. G. seed.

See Texas FIRST

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

A full-sized replica of the Alamo and parts of old San Antonio as they looked in 1836, has been built on a ranch near Brackettville. This Kinney County town is located in southwest Texas, near the Mexican border.

Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estates of persons having no heirs who die intestate revert, or "escheat," to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or State), having been the original owner of all lands before they were parceled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands when the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also applies in the case of a person absent for a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State by default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of a catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your property would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality.

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your wishes.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accordance with out statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical partition of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for a settlement.

The setting is now open to the public so that tourists may see the lifelike replica of this historic event. Old Fort Clark has been converted to a guest ranch to house the flowing tide of visitors.

Sam Said It
Fort Worth often is referred to as "Where the West Begins."

Know where this saying originated?

It started after a meeting held with the Indians by Sam Houston, where Houston promised them everything west of Fort Worth.

Fort Worth is a good place to start, or end, your trip through intriguing West Texas, as interesting in its modern facilities as it is exciting in its history.

Brownsville's Jose is First

Jose Ayala is its name and its number is No. 1. Jose is a miniature, but honest-to-goodness, railroad locomotive.

Today it is a tourist attraction at Brownsville, in Cameron County, on the southern tip of Texas on the border of Mexico.

Around the end of the 1800's, it wanted to get the notion that by next year there'll be a pipeline running by our farms with a hydrant ready to turn on, but the fact Washington has made a start is something to dream about. After all, you've got to remember that while billions of dollars are being spent on space exploration with thousands of men at work at it, this new water plant will cost only one and a quarter million dollars and will employ exactly 10 men. You can't go hog-wild over improving this earth while the backside of the moon is still untouched.

However, I'm not complaining about this. Everything should be in the right proportions, and everybody knows our space is more important than this earth, but at least they've made a start.

Who knows if we've made a start toward using all that waste salty sea water for the benefit of a man, some day you may pick up a newspaper and find out we've started work to on eradicating misquitos, house flies, chiggers and dented fenders, and are working steadily toward salt shakers that don't clog up in damp weather and children's shoes that last longer than three months.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

Sea Water May Become Boon To Dry Farmers

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found some welcome news, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

You can hardly pick up a newspaper these days without reading something about who's winning the race for space, and I guess it's important, we have to race faster, but nobody has conquered that life in space as yet. Johnson grass farm, and consequently I was amazed to read an article last night that proves Washington hasn't abandoned the earth altogether.

According to it, the government has now set up an experimental plant to convert sea water into drinking water, and any water good enough to drink is good enough to irrigate with, and you can see what this could lead to.

You give me all the water my crops want, at the time they want it, and you can have the moon filled with running water. Plenty of moisture, and a good farm program which both candidates are promising, is all any farmer could ask.

Of course, us farmers don't
