Camp Hill Named After Uncle Of Mrs. Bigham

The many friends of Mrs. Robert A. Bigham will be interested in learning that Camp A. P. Hill, a military camp recently constructed at Fredrickburg, Virginia, has been named after Mrs. Bigham's great uncle, General A. P. Hill, a prominent figure in her Civil War.

A number of men in military service from Littlefield have been stationed at Camp A. P. Hill, including Ewing Thaxton.

Gen. Hill was Mrs. Bigham's grandmother's brother. According to Mrs. Bigham, all her relatives were born and reared in Virginia. Her name was Davis prior to her marriage; her mother's name was Jackson, and her grandmother was a "Hill," all which names represent prominent Virginia families.

On her death Mrs. Bigham's mother intrusted to her care a number of letters written by Gen. Hill, during the Civil War, to his sister, Mrs. B. F. Jackson, who was also Mrs. Bigham's grandmother. These letters are very interesting, and it is the plan of Mrs. Bigham to exhibit them in a history museum, so that many others may have the privilege of reading them.

Mrs. Bigham is hoping to take a trip to Virginia and view the military camp that is named after her relative, Gen. A. P. Hill.

Poppy Sales To Be Held On Saturday

One thousand poppies will be sold by members of the American Legion Auxiliary on the streets of Littlefield Saturday, commemorating the traditional Poppy Day, on the Saturday before Armistice.

Mrs. Neal Douglass, Gold Star Mother, is chairman of the drive, and she will be assisted by members of the auxiliary. This year will mark the 15th year for the sale of poppies on the streets of Littlefield.

Mrs. W. H. Rutledge, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, stated that the sale of poppies had a two-fold purpose this year. Since the little red flowers are made by veterans of wars in hospitals now, a part of the proceeds will be sent to them, while a portion of the amount received will be used to assist service men in this war, and their families.

Fire Burns Over Large Section Of Geo. White Pasture

15 Citizens Fight Blaze From 4:30 Until 9:30 P. M. Sunday

A group of 15 local citizens fought fire about five hours at the George White pasture Sunday afternoon.

Fire, believed started by some small children, broke out in the middle of the George White pasture about 2:30 o'clock, and burned to the east side, which adjoins Bob Smith's pasture. The fire started in the grass and burned over from eight to ten sections of the White Ranch pasture. There were no cattle in the pasture, they having been shipped to Hereford about two weeks ago.

About 15 people fought fire with brooms and sacks from 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon until 9:30, when they got it under control. The fire-fighting group included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, Mrs. Loredo McKnight, Mrs. Ray Smith and Miss Dorothy Shore.

Junior Red Cross To Stage Enrollment Campaign

During the first two weeks of November—November 1 to 15—the nationwide enrollment for Service in Junior Red Cross is taking place in the schools. The 14,000,000 young people who are already members will re-enroll for the calendar year 1943, and many thousands more are expected to join up to participate in the opportunities for service which are offered.

Since the local school has closed for cotton gathering, the enrollment campaign has been put off until the school re-opens. The first two weeks after school is assumed has been designated as the period for enrollment for service of the local students in the Junior Red Cross of Littlefield.

Mr. Potter added: "When we get the hangar built, we expect to get the Civil Aeronautics Society to designate the field as a designated airport; and that would be the first step towards securing a government project for this area."

No extra payment will be made for bagged quota peanuts, according to B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA war board.

LEGISLATIVE REDISTRICTING IN TEXAS STUDIED

More Representation Declared Warranted

There has been much agitation in Texas for legislative redistricting on the general proposition that there have been such population changes since the present districts were set up that a fresh distribution is needed.

J. B. Callicoate of Austin, however, has gone into the matter more thoroughly. The last apportionment was made in 1921 and is based upon the 1920 census. Callicoate compared population figures for 1920 and 1940 and found that Gregg, Nueces, Webb, Tom Green, Lubbock and Potter counties are suffering gross lack of representation.

For instance, he cited the 119th Representative District. The district includes Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Gaines, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties and was so sparsely settled in 1920 that the combined population of all of them in 1920 was about 30,000. The 1940 census shows 130,204 people in the district. Lubbock county, alone, has more people now than the whole district had when it was created.

Callicoate contrasts Lubbock county with Bastrop county, which has a district to itself with 21,610 people.

After taking out the population of Harris, Dallas and Bexar counties, which are entitled to seven representatives each, Callicoate divided the other 5,149,123 people in Texas by the 123 districts that are permitted in addition. He computed that a fair redistricting would provide one representative for each 40,000 people.

Under present district boundaries, 28 counties with less than 40,000 population have a representative unshared with other counties.

Callicoate said these counties with excess representation are: Cass, Panola, Nacogdoches, Shelby, Lavaca, Washington, Houston, Wood, Red River, Hopkins, Cooke, Montague, Wise, Denton, Van Zandt, Henderson, Freestone, Limestone, Falls, Robertson, Milam, Fayette, Gonzales, DeWitt, Johnson, Parker, Eastland and Bastrop.

If his computations are correct, Nueces county would be entitled to two members of the House of Representatives. Other counties which he cites are entitled to additional representation on a population basis:

Jefferson county, now with two members and a floater member shared with another county, he says, is entitled to three and a floater; Galveston county, with one member and a floater, is entitled to two itself; Harris and Bexar, with five each, are entitled to seven each; Dallas, with five and a floater, is entitled to seven for itself alone; Tarrant, with four and a floater, is entitled to five and a floater; El Paso, with two and a floater, is entitled to three for itself, and Cameron, with one, is entitled to two.

Callicoate has investigated the legal side of the matter, also. He asserts that if the Democratic Executive Com-

Applied Cooperation

So pleased was the Office of Defense Transportation with a plan of volunteer cooperation put into effect by four wholesale florists of Dallas, Texas, that it published the story to the world for inspiration.

In order to save tires and trucks, so that their transportation facilities will last longer, the four firms divided the entire area served by them into four delivery districts. Each store had its day, in turn, to deliver exclusively in each of the districts—delivering its competitors' orders as well as its own. The districts are served in rotation by each company, so that tire and truck wear is evenly distributed. Thus the public is fully served and there is no meeting and crossing of delivery wagons, duplicating and repeating the same routes.

This is a striking example of the value of eliminating waste. Defense Transportation is encouraging, and even ordering, similar savings through cooperation in many other lines and places. The lessons we thus learn will be of inestimable value to us as a Nation when we return to a peace-time economy.

It's Sabotage

If you should happen to get real peeved about something . . . just anything . . . don't take your spite out on your tires and tubes . . . it's sabotage . . . and the Federal Bureau of Investigation can get after you in a big way.

Here's what happened recently at Fort Dodge, Iowa:

The Federal Bureau of Investigation filed a charge of sabotage against a business man in connection with the alleged dumping of 12 usable automobile and truck tires into the Des Moines river.

The complaint charged that the man threw the tires into the river and also slashed a number of inner tubes with a knife until they were beyond repair.

An FBI agent said the charge against the Fort Dodge man was based on federal statutes which include destruction of such vital war-time necessities as rubber tires among crimes defined as sabotage. Maximum penalty for sabotage is $10,000 fine or 30 years in prison.

Ten of the tires were recovered by men who saw them floating down the river.

Remember, $10,000 is a lot of money to raise all at one time and 30 years is a long time behind prison walls. And more important is the fact that we have a war of win and it is going to take the individual and united effort of all of us.

mittes in the deprived counties would nominate representatives in accord with the new census, they could enforce their rights in court. So far the past legislatures have construed the provision for redistricting after each decennial census as directive rather than compulsory.

Modern Drill Sergeants Gentle But Gold-Bricking Out In Uncle Sam's Service

SAN ANTONIO.—(UP)—Loud-mouthed, red-faced and hard as his fists—that's a fair description of the classic old-fashioned army drill sergeant.

But that's not the type of man who is drilling the aviation cadets, the glider pilots and others training at Randolph Field.

Instead, the drill sergeants are a combination of master psychologists and personnel experts. They possess a human understanding of the problems which face the average cadet or enlisted man when he plunges into the unfamiliar routine of army life.

"New men form their opinion of the army by the treatment they get in the first few weeks," says Sgt. Eddie Kvapl, one of those who put men from all walks of life and every part of the nation through their first military paces.

"Raising Cain with a rookie at the outset may cloud his entire army career and make him carry a grudge throughout his service rather than make him a good soldier."

Men are no longer lined up and put in a state of fear, while an eagle-eyed, tough sergeant tells them what they'll get if they don't obey orders.

"Instead they are told that drill and discipline are the backbone of a successful army," Sgt. Kvapl says. "Without drill and discipline, any army would be a mob. They know that everyone taking aviation training must first learn the rudiments of being a soldier. In other words, he must learn to walk before he can fly."

Rookies discover that they are not publicly censured by Sgt. Kvapl when they miss out on a command. Instead he takes the man out of line and explains the step to him. Then, after a little practice, the man goes back into the line with the others, does the right thing next time.

"I'd rather explain steps to a rookie every day than to have him flustered and nervous because of severe criticism," the sergeant believes.

But this consideration is not to indicate that any foolishness or laxity in the ranks is tolerated. Men found out quickly that just because the sergeant doesn't swear at them or sound off threats, doesn't mean they can take it easy.

Lack of knowledge is one thing that can be excused at first, but laying down on the job, or, as the sergeant puts it, goldbricking, never.

More than 300,000 persons have registered at the Panhandle-Plains Museum in Canyon since it was opened in 1933.

Levelland Scores Over Olton Friday

A last quarter rush gave Levelland a 13-12 victory over the Olton Mustangs at Olton Friday night in a thrilling grid battle. Trailing by 12 points at they entered the final stanza, the Lobos turned on the pressure, with Tibbitts taking a 30-yard pass for a touchdown, then Marshall Hefner returning an Olton punter 22 yards for the game-winning marker after Levelland had pushed the Mustangs deep into their own territory. Tibbitts also caught a pass for an extra point following the first touchdown to provide the game-winning margin.

Olton had gotten off to an early lead on a 40-yard drive which netted a touchdown in the first quarter, and Mike Finney boosted their lead to 12 points in the third quarter when he returned a Levelland

Mickey Rooney Comes To Palace In "A Yank At Eton" Saturday Midnight, Sunday, Monday

Mickey Rooney comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, in "A Yank at Eton."

Voted Rooney's best, "A Yank at Eton" takes you into England, where Rooney enrolls in Eton College, where he is out of place, and where the laughs come thick and fast, when he begins being misunderstood, at least in his mind—and the fun really gets started when Tina Thayer, Mickey's new girl friend, comes into the thing. "A Yank at Eton" is pleasing film fare for children and adults.

Armistice Day

Wednesday, November 11th

This Armistice Day—24 years after the valiants of the first World War flung the Torch of Liberty into the hands of future generations for safe keeping—finds the entire world in another turmoil of strife!

Our fathers, our sons, our husbands, brothers, and sweet-hearts are scattered to the "far corners" of the world, helping to preserve "The American Way" of living . . . fighting for the Statue of Liberty that stands so beautiful, so erect, with a torch in her upraised hand, ready to throw it at anything that enters the crossroads of the world to do harm. We won't lose that statue, either!

As we pay tribute to the heroes of the last war, we also salute these men of our country who are today making sacrifices to protect their families and their homes, their hopes, ideals, faith, ambitions, freedom to achieve life's highest standards!

*All America Knows
Budweiser... but Few Know This*

THEY'VE PASSED THEIR 'PHYSICAL'-TOO

America's feathered and four-legged armies are very much on their toes these days. Yeast vitamins used in fortifying animal feeds have done wonders in recent years to better the quality and propagation of livestock and poultry. Did you know that the Home of Budweiser is America's biggest single source of these vitamins?

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentology and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—for manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products. Our plant is one of the world's largest sources.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

BAKER'S YEAST—We are one of America's biggest suppliers of standard and enriched yeasts and malt syrup used to make bread.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

Cotton Acreage Allotment Outlined

Approximately 90 per cent of all Texas cotton farms will receive the same cotton allotment in 1943 as they did in 1942.

According to B. F. Vance, administrative officer of the AAA in Texas, allotments will be available to individual growers by Nov. 20.

Under the present law allotments can be changed from last year's allotments under only two circumstances, the AAA official explained.

Citing the reasons for changes, Vance said that some individual allotments would be increased or decreased if the 1942 measured cropland increased or decreased over the 1942 measured cropland, or if the 1942 planted acreage was materially increased over the acreage planted to cotton during the three year period, 1939-41.

He said that the majority of individual cotton allotments could not be changed unless the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 also was changed.

Producers who do not receive regular 1943 cotton allotments may request a 1943 new grower allotment by contacting their county AAA committees by Feb. 1, 1943. Farms on which cotton is planted in 1943 for the first time since January 1, 1940, are eligible for new grower allotments.

To date, approximately 31,000 cotton farm allotments under next year's AAA program have been calculated for 26 counties. Texas' cotton allotment under the 1942 AAA program was approximately 9,947,819 acres and the same acreage is expected under the 1943 program.

taxicab, or other commercial motor vehicle who has not yet received an application for a Certificate of War Necessity should report this fact at once, Mr. Wood said today. Local operators are asked to come by in person for their application blanks. Other operators in this section of the state will be served by mail.

Because there is so little time left—all carriers must have the actual Certificates of War Necessity in their hands by November 15, or they cannot lawfully operate—carriers should be certain that all applicable questions on their applications are answered fully and correctly and that the applications are returned in the shortest time possible, Mr. Wood said.

due to the fact that the weather has been very favorable, and the use of the students in the fields is proving very helpful to the farmers. This change in plans, however, will not be effective in case cold, freezing or wet weather should set in this week end. In that case school will re-open."

John W. and Paul McCormick. A lease was secured sometime ago on this acreage adjoining the golf club property for five years, and an effort got started to secure the shed that was left by the CCC Camp on the College Addition, with the idea of moving it to the Duggan property, and converting it into a hangar.

A letter was received last week from Mrs. Arthur P. Duggan stating it was agreeable, as far as the Duggan interests were concerned, for the building to be moved, and converted into a hangar.

The consent of the city officials to move this building, and convert it into a hangar, with the understanding that it should still remain in the possession of the city, has also been obtained.

Work got underway the latter part of last week in the tearing down of the building, moving it and the erection of a plane hangar. Ab Taylor is the contractor on the job.

With many other cities the size of Littlefield with government or defense projects, it is hoped that with the securing of a designated airport it would place this city in line for some government or defense project, which would mean added revenue to the city.

It has been pointed out that inasmuch as there is a ruling by the Government that all planes operated by civilian flyers must report to a designated airport every 72 hours, and since there has been no hangar in Littlefield, local flyers have been obliged to report to Lubbock with their planes. The local planes have been kept on an open field, and since bad weather with high winds such as might be expected before long could easily seriously damage the planes, a hangar is badly needed, and will be much appreciated by the members of the local flying clubs.

About 20 local business men are interested in the flying, and have been for several months trying to prepare themselves for the purpose of entering the war effort. It is understood there is a great demand for instructors and skilled flyers in the Defense Air Patrol.

It is also pointed out that L. W. (Cotton) Dobbs and Quin Henry, both local young men who had received their preliminary training through the local flying effort, were two of five men in this area selected to attend an instructor's school at Dagley Field, Lubbock, and these two men were sworn into the Army Air Corps last week. Mr. Dobbs is president of the Littlefield Club and Mr. Henry owns his own plane.

O'Neal Service Station; County Agent's office.

In order to obtain gasoline rations for a passenger car each applicant should obtain one of these forms for the "A" book with the tire inspection record attached.

It is necessary for each motorist to execute this application and the inspection record and particularly the applicant should fill in the serial numbers of the five passenger tires he wants to keep. This is the application form which the motorist must take to the registrar at the schoolhouse nearest his home on Nov. 12, 13 or 14. The motorist should sell all more than five passenger tires to the government through the nearest Railway Express Agency Office. If you have more than five passenger tires for your car, gasoline rations will be denied.

When application is made out be careful that you read it first so that you will not make a mistake, take it with your registration receipt to the school nearest you and you will be granted a basic "A" book which will entitle you to 240 miles per month and if you need supplemental rations or more mileage than the "A" book you can secure an application blank at the schoolhouse and fill it out and the application mailed or delivered to the local ration board, and a special gasoline panel of seven men will pass upon your application.

Gasoline rations for trucks and commercial vehicles or tractors or other engines using gasoline will not be issued on Nov. 12, 13 or 14.

Application forms for trucks and commercial or tractors have not been received yet, but as soon as they are you will find them at the above mentioned places.

seven schools in the county were enrolled 100 per cent, but that this year since so many schools have been let out for cotton picking, the enrollment might possibly be less.

The American Junior Red Cross was formed by proclamation of President Wilson in 1917 to give the school children of America an opportunity to serve in the war effort. The junior membership of the American Red Cross in the schools can now point to a 25 year record of accomplishment in many fields of endeavor. In World War I and during the years of peace that followed, the activities of the young people in this organization became a living testament of democracy. And now that we are again entangled in world conflict, the Junior Red Cross has answered the call to the colors.

In nearly every field on the home front these young people are active. They are out to surpass the record established by their mothers and fathers who were members of Junior Red Cross a generation ago. And the pace at which they are going indicates that they will.

Since Pearl Harbor the students of Lamb County schools have devoted much of their working time to production for the armed forces, assisting the senior membership of the local Red Cross chapter, and in our various civilian defense activities.

The necessity and value of the activities of the Junior Red Cross, were emphasized by the words of President Roosevelt on the Silver Anniversary of the organization this September. Said Mr. Roosevelt:

"I commend the American Junior Red Cross for so amply justifying the faith of those who were its founders 25 years ago. I am confident that the future achievements of the organization will be ever increased. The needs of our nation at war are great. The American Junior Red Cross, because it has already proved its ability, can be counted on to assist greatly toward meeting those needs."

34 seats in the United States Senate, compiled to 11:15 a. m. eastern war time, Wednesday, showed: Democrats elected 13; holdovers, 41; total 54.

Republicans elected 15; holdovers 20; total 35.

Progressives elected 0; holdover 1; total 1.

Contests undecided, 6. (Necessary for a majority, 49.) Republicans swept Democrats out of office in the state governorships of New York, Michigan, California and Connecticut in the wartime off-year election and cut heavily into administration majorities in Senate and House.

Thomas E. Dewey, former Manhattan district attorney, increased measurably his 1944 Republican presidential nomination prospects by an easy victory over Roosevelt-endorsed John L. Bennett, Jr., for the Empire State governorship, ending a 20-year Democratic reign at Albany.

An outstanding upset was the defeat in Michigan of Senator Prentiss M. Brown by his Republican opponent, Homer Ferguson.

The Republican sweep engulfed 84-year-old George W. Norris, Nebraska Independent and New Deal supporter with 39 years service in House and Senate behind him. He lost to Kenneth S. Wherry, Republican. Democratic incumbents lost out in Iowa, New Jersey and Oklahoma, and the Republicans also picked up Senatorships in Delaware and South Dakota formerly held by Democrats.

A Republican who'd wind that ripped through the Midwest cut over to the Atlantic coast and threatened an offshoot in the Rocky Mountain area, provided some surprises in the Senate races.

New Deal Democrats took it on the chin in such unexpected places as Oklahoma where Senator Josh Lee, staunch Roosevelt supporter and advocate of a proposed "bone dry" amendment to the 'teen age draft bill, was defeated by a Willie Democrat, E. H. Moore.

Total Of 560 Votes Cast In Lamb Co.

Lamb county voters calmly went through the motions of voting Tuesday, certain in their minds that their Democratic nominees would win, and only 560 votes were cast, according to an unofficial report from Otha Dent, county clerk, who stated that the above total did not include the Pep box.

Voters in this county definitely conceded their disapproval of all the constitutional amendments, as the majority ruled in the "against" columns.

Unofficial returns showed that Republicans stood by their candidates in this county, although they conceded their nominees had no chance of victory. There was one vote cast for the People's Unity Party, for Pat A. Flenniken for attorney general.

Total number of votes cast in county precincts, with the exception of Pep, were: Olton 114; Earth 29; Spade 41; Sunnydale 23; South Sudan 72; Pleasant Valley 7; North Sudan 10; Amherst 33; Fieldton 22; Sod House 8; South Olton 10; South Littlefield 115; Hart Camp 26; Spring Lake 16; North Littlefield 34.

Unofficial complete returns from the boxes reported gave:

U. S. Senator—O'Daniel, Democrat, 501; Lawson, Republican, 75.

Governor—Stevenson, Democrat, 527; McDowell, Republican, 12.

Lieut. Governor—Smith, Democrat, 526; Peasley, Republican 12.

Attorney General—Mann, Democrat, 523; Fletcher, Republican, 14.

Chief Justice of Supreme Court—Alexander, Democrat, 525; Beveridge, Republican, 14.

Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals—Graves, Democrat, 524; Currie, Republican, 13.

Railroad Commissioner (unexpired term)—Jester, Democrat, 525; Nolte, Republican, 13.

voted on, only those proposing an appropriation for John Tarleton college and for pay-as-you-go policy of state finance were approved.

Wednesday morning's returns from the election bureau, 175 counties out of 254, with nine complete, were:

Governor—Stevenson 103,323; McDowell 4,382; total 107,705.
