Calls For Laying Of 400 Feet Of Water Mains Beautifying Park

According to W. G. Street, Secretary, the City was notified Saturday that a water works WPA project, calling for additional water mains and other improvements had been approved, and were scheduled to start next Monday.

Under this project 400 feet of water mains will be laid, the City park will be beautified, bridges and culverts will be repaired, and other minor improvements in the city will be carried out.

"This work will furnish labor for forty men for about a month, and is scheduled to start next Monday, if the money is available," said Mr. Street.

Rehabilitation Applications Are Being Received

The quota of rehabilitation clients for this county has been increased to where every farm family in distress will have an opportunity of working back to independence, according to information received by R. C. Stiles of Lamb County, county supervisor of the Resettlement Administration, who says enrollment of new clients will begin at once. Long-time farm plans will be worked out as rapidly as possible, but in the meanwhile, direct grants for subsistence will be made. All families accepted for either the permanent or the temporary program must be approved by the county advisory committee.

Applications are being received at Amherst. The supervisor will be hard pushed within the next few weeks to enroll the new clients, but he expects to continue working out farm plans with the object of getting all families started on a permanent program early in the new crop season. Making the loan is merely the beginning of the supervisor's job.

The election order provides that "all persons who are legally qualified voters of the State of Texas and who reside within the limits of the incorporated town of Littlefield, Lamb County, Texas, shall be entitled to vote in such election."

The voting box will be located in City Hall, and the election judges will be J. T. Bellomy and J. H. Ware.

WPA GRANTS OTHER COUNTY ROAD PROJECTS

Should Bond Issue Fail Road Work Would Be Discontinued

The WPA County project for the building and improvement of the East-West Highway from Hale-Lamb County line to the Bailey-Lamb County Line has been approved.

The WPA project for the improvement of the highway through Fieldton to Hart Camp has also been approved.

Duane Orr, who will be engineer in charge of these projects, was notified of this at the WPA Lubbock office Tuesday.

In an interview with Mr. Orr, he stated that in all probability the work on these roads would be started about January 2nd, even before the bond issue election was called, but that should the bond issue fail to pass that work would be discontinued, as it all depended whether or not the County could put up their share of the money necessary, and in case the election failed, the County would not be financially able to go ahead with the work.

TO DECORATE PHELPS AVENUE FOR CHRISTMAS

Committee Appointed At C. Of C. Meeting To Take Care Of Work

Plans are underway to decorate Phelps Avenue, and the business houses along this main street, for Christmas.

At the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday noon, the matter was discussed, and on the suggestion of G. M. Shaw, committees were appointed to take care of this project as follows: Clay Pumphrey, Lowell Short and Otha Key to take care of the decoration of the block from the Santa Fe Depot south; Norman Renfro and T. S. Sales to have charge of the block in which their businesses are located; Sam Batton and Joe Replin to take care of the next block south; Jimmie Brittain and Mancel Hall to have charge of the block in which Walters Drug and Hall Motor Company are located; and Mayor L. R. Crockett the City Hall block.

The plan discussed was to place a large decorated tree at each intersection on Phelps Avenue; to decorate all the business houses in a uniform manner, and the street from the Santa Fe Depot to the City Hall to be made gay with streamers and other yuletide decorations.

Jim Etter, offered free of charge, to truck in the trees necessary for the decoration of the street, and left for Las Vegas, N. M. Wednesday for a load of Evergreens.

A meeting of the various committees is expected to be held at once for the purpose of organizing and getting started on the work.

THE WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Are you putting Christmas Seals on all your Christmas packages this year? Those gay little red and green emblems, which cost only a penny apiece, are the means by which money is raised to carry on the nation-wide fight against the most insidious of all the plagues that afflict humankind, tuberculosis, the "great white plague."

It is to save children that the work of the National Tuberculosis Association and its state and county branches is especially directed. Medical science has made great strides in its battle against disease, and the control, if not the cure, of tuberculosis is one of its triumphs. Yet every year more children die of this disease than from any other one cause. The cent you spend for a gay Christmas Seal to stick on your Christmas mail may help to save a baby's life.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my children, ye have done it unto me."

AMERICA AHEAD IN THE AIR

The great American flying boat, "China Clipper," has opened the new trans-Pacific air service, between the United States, the Philippine Islands, and China. Plans for a regular air service across the North Atlantic are under way, while the flying boats of our own Pan-American Airways are running on regular schedules, carrying passengers and mail between North and South America.

We hear of every airplane accident, and fail to realize that few of these occur on regular scheduled air line flights. Most of the fatalities in America aviation in the year just ending have been in accidents to private planes or those of the Army and Navy, or in test flights of newly-designed machines.

Only eight airline passengers, the records show, were killed in the past year, in some 50 million miles of flying.

Considering how young the whole art of flying is—less than thirty years—and that commercial aviation has been developed only since the war, it would seem that the airplane has already made wonderful progress in the matter of safety.

As air travel increases, rates will come down.

Americans do more flying than the people of any other nation. American air lines now link America to Asia. Let us hope they will soon bring Europe so close that we can hop to London or Paris over the weekend.

A Mental Picture OF THE FIRST CHRISTMAS NIGHT

By Mrs. R. C. Stanley, Fieldton

I can see a wondrous picture
By the moonlight in the hills,
Where the light and dark in mixture
And the sound of trickling rills
Blend and make a perfect setting
For a scene of beauty rare
As I pause in awe, forgetting
Each and every earthly care.

Ah, I see some objects moving
To and fro across the view,
So I venture near for proving
What they are or who is who.
And I find by coming nearer
It's some shepherds with their sheep;
Ah, the picture's growing clearer
There's the sheep all fast asleep.

As I watch, the shepherds wander
Here and there to keep awake.
And oftentimes they stop and ponder
On the course they ought to take,
For they do not want to bother
Any of their charges there,
For they love them as a father
Loves his children all so dear.

Now they've made their trip around
And have found that all is well
They lay themselves upon the ground
Asleep? are they? I cannot tell.
No, look they're sitting bolt upright!

And very much awakened;
It's no wonder! Oh, what a sight!
The very earth is shaken.

Ah, I gaze in silent rapture
As an angel, pure and white,
With the moonlight in his capture
And his being filled with light
Comes and bids them be not fearful,
Nor he will not do them harm;
He is very bright and cheerful
And they need feel no alarm.

"I have come to bring you gladness,"
Says the angel so divine,
"I would drive away your sadness
By these tender words of mine,
For in the town of Bethlehem
A Saviour is born tonight
And he will bring good will to men
And to every man his right."

Hark! I hear the sound of singing,
Sweetest music fills the air,
For the angel's harps are ringing
There are hosts all bright and fair.
They are singing Glad Hosanna
To the Christ child that is born
And they wave a snow white banner
Bidding all to cease to mourn.

For the Christ child in a manger
Far away in Bethlehem,
Who is now a little stranger
To the lowly Shepherd men
Will become their Lord and Master
And will save their sinful souls;
He will feed them in his pasture
Till they reach the Heavenly folds.

What Other Newspapers Say

TRAINING THE FARMERS OF TOMORROW

"No class of people and no method of making a living are receiving more attention at the present time than are farmers and farming, and one of the more interesting phases of farm cooperative work lies in encouragement and knowledge given young farm people," says the Memphis (Texas) Democrat. "In earlier days, and not so far back, much fun was made of the man who tried to get the farmer to use scientific methods in his work. The agronomist was the laughing stock of the dirt farmer, and any man who presumed to suggest that the tiller of the soil might well take a leaf from the book of the scientist was given the wild and merry horse laugh.

"But these days are gone forever. "At last the farmer is beginning to realize that there is something more to successful farming than merely handling the lines over a span of mules, plowing a furrow, planting some seed and covering them up, then praying for rain and hopping for the best.

"Actual scientific farming, demonstrated in the field, instead of on paper, has convinced the farmer that there is a better method.

"He is today much interested in crop control, soil erosion prevention, shelter-belt planting, and the hundred and one things that the scientist has contributed to the success of farming.

"And perhaps the most encouraging feature of it all is that the present day farmer is not taking chances on his son, who is going to follow in his father's footsteps, having to learn his lesson in the school of experience.

"The young folks nowadays have many things to create an interest in farming as a business. Numerous clubs of budding tillers of the soil are organized and teach their lesson of modern methods and cooperation.

"Contests are held for livestock and crops raised by these young farmers-to-be. Instruction is given them in scientific farming, marketing and distribution. Theirs is an opportunity that few of their forebears had.

"The result of this is to better the outlook for the agriculture of the future—and to make it inevitable that the farmer of tomorrow will be a better crop scientist, a better business man, and a more valuable citizen, than the farmer of the past."

Rankin began facetiously. "Mr. Seymour King, I believe," he greeted him. "I'm lucky to find you in; and I must apologize for my intrusion at this late hour."

The other frowned, then forced a smile that developed into a hollow laugh.

"Mr. King?" he repeated. "Yes, of course, that's how I rented the apartment, so my wife wouldn't find out about it or trace me — But come in, Rankin. To what do I owe the honor of this visit?"

Rankin stepped inside the door, careful, however, not to close it.

"You use a good many names, don't you, Rowland?" His voice developed a steel edge. "Perhaps you'd prefer to be called Fred Dennis or Steve Harmon."

His quarry turned white, fear mingling with anger at this provocative onset. He retreated, his eyes glaring; it was all he could do to control the savagery that crept into his voice.

"What do you mean, Rankin?" he demanded furiously. "I never heard of them. I don't know what you're talking about and neither do you."

"Oh, you understand me all right, the detective returned evenly. "You've been many places and tried your hand at many jobs, besides being a life-guard at Miami and a movie extra in Hollywood. A marine on the U. S. S. Wyoming, for instance, who deserted, and a burglar in Fort Wayne. And you know Ellen Trent there. I should have connected the sort of roving life you led before your marriage with your activities in Indiana."

Allen Rowland clenched his fists. "You must be crazy, Rankin!" he cried; his alarm betrayed the truth of the accusations. "You had better be careful; if you've come here to insult me, I advise you to get out!"

Instinctively, the detective's muscles tensed as though preparing for an attack.

"I'd stay where I am if I were you," he warned him ominously. He dug hands into his pockets. "I have a warrant for your arrest for the murder of Barbara Keith, Allen Rowland alias Fred Dennis alias Steve Harmon. And I caution you that anything you say—Stand back there, Rowland!"

The bullet caught him in mid-leap.

Simultaneously with his shouted admonition, he leaped back, ducking to the door; and from his coat came the staccato bark of a revolver. Physically no match for Rowland, he moved just in time to escape his half-anticipated forward lunge. His assailant had sprung with huge, muscular arms outstretched to pin Rankin to his side and bear him down by sheer weight. The bullet caught him in mid-leap; halted by the shock, he dropped to his knees with a groan and clapped his left hand to his right shoulder. Blood spurted between his fingers and an expression of astonishment on his face gave swift place to one of agony.

"Damn you, Rankin!" he ground out with an effort, through clenched teeth.

"You asked for it, Rowland," Rankin said heartlessly. "I warned you I had you covered; you won't escape this time as easily as you did from the American Express office and the Stager House in Fort Wayne. Now perhaps you'll behave yourself."

He turned to the two officers, who had rushed hastily from the corridor at the shot and pushed their way into the apartment anxious and alert.

"It's all over but the shouting, boys," he reassured them. "I don't believe there will be any more trouble — You can take him along as soon as I put these irons on him. And see that his wound is treated at Headquarters immediately."

He first permitted his prisoner enough time to tie a handkerchief about his shoulder. Then he produced the handcuffs; and disregarding Rowland's stream of oaths and abuse, the policemen held him, while Rankin clicked them on his wrists.

As Rankin followed his prisoner to the City Hall, he was quite satisfied with the accuracy of his solution and his ability to establish his guilt.

Mortimer Keith shook his head slowly, with the bewildered air of one who cannot grasp a fact presented to him.

"It's utterly beyond me, Rankin," he protested uncertainly, "to understand how Rowland could be Barbara's murderer. They were in love with each other; everything indicated that they were having an affair and that," a look of anguish came into his eyes and his voice dropped, "she was his mistress."

The detective waved his hand positively. "That's just the point, Mr. Keith," he contradicted, "they were nothing of the sort. I've already told you why they hated each other; from the very beginning they were enemies."

"But what of their friendship in Florida, and Barbara's many contacts with him since?" the manufacturer queried. She did go with him to that bedroom at Sunset Inn, and two weeks ago helped him obtain the evidence of Mrs. Rowland's infidelity. And she was willing to testify at the hearing."

"Yes, that is how it all looked and what Rowland doubtless intended. There were two possible reasons to account for Mrs. Keith's 'willingness'; one, a genuine attachment; the other, a very real dread. Like you, I was misled by the obvious belief that there was some intimacy between them."

For a moment the other covered his face with his hands. "Poor Barbara," he murmured sadly, "she must have suffered much from him. If she had only chosen to confide in me, instead of keeping her story a secret, I'm afraid I have been most unjust to her."

It was two days after Allen Rowland's arrest that Rankin visited Mr. Keith to discuss with him the ultimate solution to his wife's death. The two men sat in the manufacturer's private office.

Rankin lit a cigarette. "The development of the crime is quite plain," he related, "if you follow it in proper sequence. From the time Rowland — or Dennis, as he was then — escaped from Fort Wayne, and Miss Webb was arrested, they never crossed each other's paths until two years ago."

"And when did you first discover Allen Rowland was the man you were after?" Mr. Keith queried.

"Not until I recognized his photo in Dennis' service record in Washington—the picture of him in the marines as Steve Harmon," the detective answered. "The description I had of him didn't put me on his trail, despite its similarity to Rowland. Dennis was thin and had dark hair. In the last six years, he had filled out, with a really fine physique and had bleached his hair. Still, even without the photo, I would have discovered his identity, when I got around to comparing his finger-prints, with those I had collected back here."

"I suppose there's no doubt you'll make a successful case against him?"

"Oh, no, a conviction is practically certain," Rankin said firmly. "You see," he proceeded, "the most elusive factor in the evidence against him was that of motive incidentally, it was his second protection against being suspected. His

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Add Cabriolet To 1936 De Luxe 6 And 8

of a cabriolet to the De Luxe six and De Luxe eight announced by Pontiac. Production and shipping from the factory have just started. This will give Pontiac all three models; the De Luxe six, the De Luxe eight, and the De Luxe eight, on both sixes and eighties, in fine grain-trimmed with Bedford optional. All models are available in black, maroon, maple leaf, or mist gray and maroon. Also, there are three special colors at slightly extra cost in cream, dusty, and Denmark blue.

Availability of the cabriolet motor on the six line from the announcement made it high-ly desirable to include the same in the other two lines, it was decided by A. W. L. Gilpin, vice-president and general sales manager of the company. Mr. Gilpin points out that in many sections of the country, especially such large cities as New York, there is a large demand for cabriolets than for the type coupe, which Pontiac makes in its line.

REV. JNO. DENNING PREACHES SUNDAY AT ST. PETERSBURG

The members of the First Methodist church of Petersburg, through their pastor, Rev. O. C. Coppage, were hosts to Evangelist Jno. R. Denning and the Gospel Crusaders, in a special service last Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Immediately after their broadcast at Lubbock, the Crusaders, accompanied by a Littlefield group composed of Zed Robinson, Song Leader, Gertrude Stanley, Pianist, and Van Clark, sped to Petersburg, where they found a congregation awaiting them which completely filled the church auditorium, the largest in that city, and left many standing around the walls.

The service was opened with prayer by Pastor Coppage. The congregation was then led in spiritual song service by Zed Robinson. This was followed by Rev. E. P. Fullingim, Baptist minister of Lorenzo and Eastacado, who gave a most forceful testimony, and referred to the effective and meritorious work of the Crusaders over the radio.

After an appealing message by Rev. Denning on "The Living God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob," the Crusaders Quartette rendered several sacred numbers. The service closed with the entire congregation singing, "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood."

Scout Drive, Football Banquet, Benefit Dance, City Wide Cleanup Reported

At the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday noon, presided over by Pat Boone, President, several matters of importance came up for consideration.

Supt. A. B. Sanders, District Scout Commissioner, reported that L. T. Draper, Service man, representing the National office of the Boy Scouts of America, was in Littlefield Monday and met with him, and worked out plans for rehabilitating local council, and putting it on a population quota basis. He pointed out that Littlefield's allocation is 28 members to pay $1.00 each per month in order to entitle the scouts in this city to Class A service.

He stated that a committee was appointed, and a goal of 35 members set, and that 34 had already pledged $1.00 a month to the cause. Mr. Sanders explained that the money will be used in paying a full time scout executive to supervise, instruct the scoutmasters, and promote scouting in the South Plains area.

The committee who made the scout drive, and responsible for this good work are; Bob Lewis, Chairman; H. C. Arnold, Joe Hale, Dr. Max G. Woods, Bill Pass, Supt. A. B. Sanders, L. C. Hewitt and Mancil Hall.

Supt. Sanders reported that the Athletic Council was going to entertain the football boys and pep squad at a banquet Friday evening at the First Baptist Church basement. He stated the plan of financing the banquet was that each business man who attends will pay for a ticket for a football player and a member of the pep squad.

Pat Boone stated that the City's WPA cleaning project had been approved, and that work would start on Monday, next and suggested that the cleanup program now on be extended a week.

It was also brought out at the meeting that the school's athletic field project had not got started last Friday as scheduled, but was postponed until this Wednesday.

Bill Chesher, County Chairman of the Will Rogers Memorial Fund, reported on the progress attained along this line, stating that he believed between four and five hundred dollars would be raised. He stated the final check-up would be next Monday.

He reported the sponsoring of a dance Thursday evening by the American Legion and the Business Women to assist in the raising of this fund.

He also stated that Amherst had raised over $100, not including what would come from the schools, or a canvass of the business section of that city. He said that the city planned a benefit dance for Christmas week.

G. M. Shaw offered the suggestion that plans be made to decorate Phelps Avenue and the business houses for Christmas with trees and other suggestive decorations.

The beauty of such an undertaking and the benefits to be derived in a business way were mentioned. After some discussion committees were named to take care of this project. A committee was appointed from each business block to look after the decoration of that certain block. The committees appointed were; Clay Pumphrey, Lowell Short and Otha Key for the block from the depot south; Norman Renfro, T. S. Sales

SHE'S IN THE NAVY NOW!

What star in the movie firmament would not be proud of this Court of Honor? Interest professed in the Texas Centennial celebrations by Ginger Rogers, Texas girl whose next Hollywood picture is "Follow the Fleet," has been awarded by Governor James V. Allred in her appointment as Honorary Admiral in the Texas Navy. It's real commission in a real navy, Texas having once been an independent republic with its own national fleet patrolling the seas; modern statutes perpetuate the naval militia, and Ginger now becomes its first honorary admiral. Charming co-eds of the University of Texas were in the capitol when the commission was signed, and the Governor promptly appointed them to Ginger's staff. The Governor is hold-to take care of the block in which they are located; Sam Batton and Joe Replin for the next block south; Jimmie Brittain and Mancil Hall for the block in which they are located; and Mayor L. R. Crockett for the City Hall block. Pat Boone very liberally stated he would himself, take care of the placing of a large decorated Christmas tree at the City Hall.

Joe Hale, Secretary, was asked to notify the various committees.

It was reported that Trades Day extension program would be given here Christmas Eve, and awards given in the same manner as on Saturdays.

Mr. Boone also stated that the East and West Road project had been approved to the County Line.

McFarland, and others, as well as those serving upon program deserve much praise for this unusually well prepared and powerfully presented Message upon the theme of Foreign Missions At the close of the service a free will offering was taken, which met with pleasing response. Additional sums coming in from those hindered from being in the service has swelled the offering to approximately 75 dollars and by the time it is sent away, the above named amount will doubtless be exceeded by a nice margin. This offering is taken annually by the W. M. U.'s and churches of the Southern Baptist Convention, in honor of the Sacrificial life of service in China, by Miss Lottie Moon, and all of which goes to pay the salaries of 113 Missionaries and kindred objects on the Foreign Fields.

LOTTIE MOON WEEK OF PRAYER PROGRAM AT WHITHARRAL—

The Ladies of the Whitharral Baptist Church met Tuesday, Dec-10, at 10:30 for an all day of Prayer and Program in interest of Foreign Missions. Rev. and Mrs. Alfred A. Brian, Mrs. O. L. Oldham and Mrs. Viggo Peterson attended from the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Brian spoke in the morning upon a Report of the State W. M. S. which lately convened in its annual session at Houston, Texas, and Rev. Brian brought the Eleven o'clock sermon. Lunch was served at the church and the program continued into the afternoon. Mrs. O. L. Oldham spoke upon Plans for 1936, in the W. M. U. Rev. J. W. Partin of Anton closed the meeting with an inspirational message. This day was heartily acclaimed by all attending as a signal success.

METHODIST CHURCH

John W. Hendrix, Pastor

The church of our day is an institution. That is, it has a various and diverse order of service to perform. In the days of our Fathers the church was little more than a place where people gathered on Sunday, maybe once a month, was closed six days in the week, maybe more days per month than that. It was a place where the pastor came and held a service, preached and departed for home, and the people awaited his return. Now a church is a place where all sorts of religious activities are promoted, and a proper sort of social life is carried on. Nearly every church has its quota of members who seem to consider their duty done when they have been kind enough to attend "preaching service." So far so good—not far enough.

At the morning hour the pastor will continue his series of sermons of "Prayer." This Sunday he will discuss this subject, "How Does God Answer Prayer?" For a long time it has been discussed, "Does God Answer Prayer?" This is different. A number of interesting subject will be discussed. For example, Is God simply the God, good to have around in time of danger or a crisis? You might be benefitted. Then the select choir will join in the worship period in choice music.

At the evening hour the subject will be, "Wilt Thou Be Made Whole?" It seems a queer question to ask, But the way people do it isn't at all queer. The other part of the service will be rendered by the Choral club in a program of music.

The church will open its session with a devotional service. You will be accounted on time if you are present at this service. It isn't enough simply to attend the class period. So good but not enough.

The Young People have an interesting program at 6:45 p. m. A fine, big group of 'em.

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Premillennial, Missionary Evangelical

Jno. R. Denning, Pastor

This pastor enjoyed being in four good services last Sunday, and we continue to give God the thanks for His many, many blessings, and the manifestation of His Divine Grace upon His people.

And we wish to once again thank the many friends of this city who are helping us in our every effort toward the spread of the Gospel.

Next Sunday night this entire church membership is going to be challenged as to their stand concerning the defense of the Gospel, and our subject will be of interest to every Bible loving, God-fearing man and woman in this community. We shall be looking for those several dear friends from outlying communities, who said they were going to be present. A cordial welcome and an honest hand-shake awaits you at all of our services Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our appreciation and thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness, including administering to the comfort of our dear father and husband, R. M. Marshall, during his illness, and the kind expressions of sympathy at his death.

Also we wish to thank one and all for their beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. R. M. Marshall, Claude Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McQuatters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ballew and family, Mrs. W. F. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marshall and family.

Divorce Court Murder—

apparent relations with Mrs. Keith let him out completely. As her lover and protector, he would have no reason to harm her; and all his actions seemed to clear him, as being sincere and really devoted. But now that Rowland is revealed as Dennis, it is easy to establish the true situation and his motive for the crime. And there'll be no difficulty about the question of opportunity, either. More than likely, we'll manage to trace to his possession some of the money she paid him and that will prove him a blackmailer. And to top it all, he left his fingerprints in Dr. Brantman's office, on the bottle from which he stole the chloroform for the murder.

The manufacturer nodded. "Yes, that clinches the case, I should say—But what about the others, Rankin? What do you expect to do with Campbell, for instance?"

In reply, Rankin frowned and shook his head in exasperation.

"That is a big disappointment to me, I'll admit, Mr. Keith; I had counted on a really big killing in convicting such a notoriously successful criminal. But he had no connection with your wife's death. And since Riley was silenced, I can't establish his conspiracy to kidnap her. He acknowledged that to me, but without witnesses, so I can't use it in court. And Mrs. Rowland's purchase of chloroform for that purpose isn't sufficient evidence either, since Mitch never had a chance to administer it. So I'm afraid I'll have to release him, unless Gurck confesses to being hired to kill Riley. And that's hardly likely, even when we lay hands on him; he'll have an alibi a mile long and we'll never bring that crime home to anyone."

He left fingerprints on the chloroform bottle.

"And Mrs. Rowland and Mr. Willard?" Mr. Keith pursued. "Will you take action against them?"

"The D. A. will have to decide whether to disbar Willard for malpractice and his part in framing the divorce," Rankin shrugged. "It isn't the kind of offense about which I can do anything. For the same reason they and Campbell will go scot-free; actually, they weren't involved in the murder, and I can't prove their kidnaping plan. I could hold Miss Edmond for threatening to blackmail you, if you didn't mind the fresh publicity and the entangling of Mrs. Keith's name in that mess at Sunset Inn. But if you refuse to prosecute—"

"Oh, no, Rankin." The other raised his hands in quick protest. "I prefer to let that business quite alone. Whatever her reason, she prevented Barbara from being correspondent in Mrs. Rowland's divorce suit. For those services I was willing to pay."

A sardonic smile played on the detective's lips, but he nodded understandingly.

"There you see why the police have such a hard time bringing culprits to justice," he commented. The smile changed to one of satisfaction. "Still, come to think of it," he concluded, Adele Rowland and Harvey Willard won't go altogether unpunished. She has no genuine grounds for her suit, which means it will be refused. She'll still be tied to Rowland, and unable to marry the man she happens to fancy at the present moment. And Campbell won't get his hands on her fortune. At least not yet; later, she may be divorced on the legal basis that Allen Rowland is a convicted criminal. But that won't happen in time to save Willard from financial ruin and his assets from his creditors." He sniffed contemptuously. "That's very little consolation for you, I realize, Mr. Keith. But I'm human enough to derive a decided pleasure out of my
