Local Man Captured, Released In Morocco

All 11 Found Safe

JAMES GILBERT

"I'll just sit by the phone until I know for sure."

These are the words of a Littlefield mother, Mrs. Trudy Gilbert, whose son, James was one of 11 oil technicians kidnapped Saturday by a band of nomadic tribesmen in the Spanish Sahara.

"I know they said my boy, he's the baby of four children I have here, would be all right," she said "but they told me my boy was all right in the war, too. They said he had only been wounded, and it was a month before Uncle Sam told me he was dead."

Early Tuesday morning the men were reported to have been found safe and sound in Morocco according to the embassy there.

Mrs. Gilbert learned of her son's capture from his boss, E. E. Swanson, by telephone late Monday. At that time Swanson told her, "we don't know if they want ransom money or the food and clothing they had in camp or what. But, if it's a ransom, we'll pay it."

Swanson told Mrs. Gilbert he (Continued on Page Six)

Absentee Vote Begins Today In Senate Race

Absentee balloting in the special Senatorial Election is scheduled to begin today and continue until Friday, Mar. 31, 1961.

Ballots are available at the County Clerk's office and persons desiring to vote absentee due to illness or being absent from the county on the day of election, April 4, may vote.

The blanket-size ballot contains the names of the 71 persons running for the office in alphabetical order. The order in which the names appear is left up to the county election board, composed of the County Judge, Sheriff and Clerk.

In many counties election Boards have chosen to place the five or six top candidates at the top of the ballot but the local board felt this was discriminatory so elected to place the names in alphabetical order.

Harris County leads the list of entries having 16 of its citizens filing for the spot vacated by Vice-President Lyndon Johnson.

Lamb County's ballot will have the names listed in the following order, (all 71 are included):

Dr. G. H. Allen, Bexar County (Continued on Page Six)

Two Minor Accidents Reported

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated by city police the first part of the week.

Monday an auto driven by Elva Dell Hardy of Sudan and one driven by Marie White of Littlefield were in collision at the corner of Delano and Westside Avenues.

The Hardy vehicle was traveling west on Delano and the White car was going north on Westside and made a wide turn on to Delano.

No Holes Here, Buddy; Maybe In Plainview

(Editor's Note: The following story appeared in the Plainview Daily Herald last Sunday.)

"A Littlefield street caved in and into it went a Plainview truck and driver Friday.

"Don Huffine, driver for Ponca Wholesale, was driving down the street when the pavement collapsed and the rear of the truck fell into the approximately three foot hole.

"Huffine was not injured, although a tractor was necessary to pull the truck out. Cause of the cave-in was undetermined."

City manager, J. W. Harrison said none of the city employees know of any huge holes in the streets of Littlefield.

A thorough search of the city's streets was carried out Monday and Tuesday and nothing of a cave-in was discovered.

Harrison added, "If anyone knows of the cave-in, I would appreciate being contacted."

State authorities were also contacted to find out if the cave-in occurred at the edge of town but they said they knew nothing about it either.

Radar And Patrolmen . . . Keep Highways Safe

By JOHN PETTY
Press Feature Writer

"K71—black and white sedan—second car to you."

The crew-cut patrolman was speaking to his partner stationed about 800 yards down the highway. His message—a speeder had gone past the radar unit at 71 miles per hour. The results—a traffic citation.

Patrolman John Bentley replaced the radio mike on its rest and began to speak about his experiences as radar minor.

"We don't always give tickets to speeders," he said, "A lot depends on the circumstances and such, but one thing is for sure—we know limit."

Tapping the radar speed indicator mounted atop the dash in his car, he smiled.

"This little box just doesn't lie."

Bentley explained that the radar unit was set up by the patrol and then checked for accuracy with a tuning fork that hones at exactly 60 mph. For extra measure, the unit is then checked by one of the cars passing through the beam at the legal speed limit. This is done, he said, before any cars are clocked, and then repeated at the end of the day.

"The car will enter the beam of the radar between 100 and 300 yards back down the road," Bentley continued. "The range that the radar covers fluctuates in accordance with the size of the vehicle and the rate of humidity. The higher the moisture content in the air, the farther the range of the unit."

Speeding isn't the only reason that Bentley and his partner, Joaquin Jackson, stop motorists.

"I guess that the minute a driver is stopped, but it could be improper lights, turn indicator, no inspection sticker or even just a driver's license check," Bentley said.

"The other night, I was working between Muleshoe and Olton and stopped a speeder who said that he was hurrying because he had just gotten word that his father had had a heart attack."

A truck whizzed by and Bentley radioed Jackson that the vehicle has no mud flaps.

Turning to continue his story, he said that he immediately waved the man on and according to regulations, checked his story with Olton.

"I found out that his father had just been put in an ambulance and was being rushed to Lubbock so I called the city police at Earth and they routed him on to Lubbock."

Oddball cases?

"Well, I guess that I've had my share of them," Bentley grinned. "I pulled a man over one time to give him a warning and he insisted that I give him a ticket. I told him I was just warning him, but he 'had to have a ticket' because he said he wanted to show me that he could beat me in court."

"I gave him the ticket, but I guess that he changed his mind later on because he sent in his money to pay the fine."

And then he told about the motorists who was convinced that radar was illegal at night.

"He paid his fine, too."

The two patrolmen agreed that the worse kind of offense on the highways is drunken drivers.

"I don't know how they do it, but I've stopped them from driving when they were so drunk that they couldn't stand up," Jackson said.

Both men said that while they know that signaling by drivers (using the blinking headlights or the two-finger signal) up and down the road goes on, it accomplishes their purpose—to slow traffic down.

Has the new insurance law made speeders more eager to fight traffic tickets?

Bentley shook his head.

"As far as I'm concerned, they aren't. I've had to go to court on only one case since that law came in."

Both officers agree there is a way to beat radar—obey all the traffic laws.

SPEED INDICATOR—Inside the Patrol car and connected to the road side radar pick up set is this speedometer which indicates the speed of a vehicle from the instant it enters the radar beam until it leaves. Patrolman John Bentley is shown watching the indicator. In his left hand is a microphone which he uses to notify his partner of any violation. (STAFF PHOTO)

CLOCK WATCHERS

Are men becoming smaller than the clocks they watch? As we rush from plane to plane, city to city, appointment to appointment, are we shrinking rather than growing?

For centuries men have gone forth from their homes to work, either by foot, ship, horseback or in a jet that can cross a continent between lunch and dinner. Whether in the end it was "worth it" has always depended on whether a man found time as the years went by for those things even more important than success—his family, his home, and his church.

If the demands of your job—the pace of your life—have chained you to a clock that is getting bigger than you are, pause to remember: in any human life there are only so many hours, none of which may be reclaimed once they've ticked by. Pause to realize, too, that it takes only a minute to pray, only an hour to go to church on Sunday—yet the benefits reaped from even such brief dedication to God can be eternal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Conserve Your Moisture Fertilize As You Plant

USE A "STINGER"

Authorities at Lubbock Agricultural Experiment Station report that we have the biggest underground seasoning we have had since 1927. The big rains we had last summer brought moisture up to field capacity, and growing crops couldn't deplete it all, leaving a big moisture 'carry-over.' The bountiful subsoil moisture at present indicates that a lighter-than-normal irrigation will be required before planting - even if relatively dry conditions prevail in the near future. You can conserve even more of that moisture if . . . YOU

This simple little attachment will let you plant and apply SOLUTIONS, all in one easy operation. There will be only one disturbance of the soil . . . one less time over the field . . . less pneumatic packing of the soil . . . plus getting the fertilizer near the seed. And with LIQUID FERTILIZERS - Solutions - they are ready to go to work instantly, assuring you of a healthier and more productive crop. Go by your nearest LIQUID FERTILIZER dealer and let him show you how easy it is to rig-up your planter unit with "Stingers," in order that you can plant and fertilize at the same time.

From Your Chamber Office

Why are so many communities concerned about obtaining new industry?

Primarily, because when a new industrial plant goes up, there is a new addition to the income flow in the local community. The new payroll dollars roll into the cash registers of the local merchants, into the coffers of the local banks and the local economy experiences expansion. Furthermore, this economic expansion is reflected in general community growth with increases in population, school enrollment and all the rest.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has made a statistical attempt to measure the influence of new industrial payroll to a community.

The study was exclusive of what was determined as large Metropolitan areas. Neither were they adjacent to a Metropolitan area. As a matter of fact the total population of the 9 counties studied had a population of 296,877 in 1940 and 322,581 in 1950. Lamb County could well fit into this category.

The study revealed that an increase of 100 industrial employees with an average annual income of $59.00 per week is associated with a $360,000.00 in annual retail sales. A breakdown of this information into categories reveals the following sales increases per annum:

Grocery stores	$70,000
Eating and drinking places	30,000
Department, dry goods and variety stores	45,000
Clothing and shoe stores	25,000
Automobile dealers	50,000
Gasoline service stations	20,000
Lumber yards and building materials dealers	15,000
Other stores	105,000
Total	$360,000

Doubtless, this information is worthy consideration by any community. Also, it leads to some searching questions: (1) Is it possible for us to acquire industry? (2) If so, what kind? (3) What would we have to do to get ready for it? (4) Who would have to work on the project? (5) What changes would have to be made? (6) Would it be worth it? etc., etc.

These are questions the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of City Development and the Master Planning Commission and the City Council are attempting to answer. It might be wise to follow their activities: Such a program requires the efforts of many different people from many walks of life to be successful.

The factors that determine what is essential for industrial development will be reported from time to time. We may want to go out for industry or we may not. Your people may or may not want to spend the time, money and energy to get ready. Such a tremendous effort depends on far more than the efforts of the committee members; it takes the work of the people of the town as a whole. You don't get industrial development by writing a letter or making a phone call. It is simply a matter of making up our minds and then either going after it or forgetting it.

Amherst Youths Remain Critical

Jimmy Nix, Amherst youth injured in a car-train crash here on February 21, underwent surgery Tuesday in the Lubbock Methodist Hospital. Authorities there said he has not regained consciousness since the accident and listed his condition as "extremely critical."

Jimmy Love, another Amherst youth hurt in the same accident, is also listed in critical condition. Authorities said his eyes are open but he is not conscious and can not speak or see.

Neither boy is responding to treatment according to the spokesman.

Blakley Slates Lubbock Meeting

A "coffee break with Bill Blakley" will be held at Lubbock Saturday from 3 to 5 p.m. at 1010 Broadway, as the interim senator begins his bid for election to the office vacated by vice-president Johnson.

The meeting is one in a series of coffee clutches that Blakley will hold in the Panhandle during the latter part of the week.

Blakley is hitting the trail, according to a press release after "introducing major sections of his legislative program in the U.S. Senate."

"In addition to his school-aid bills," the release continued, "he proposed an increase in the amount that individuals are permitted to earn without losing part of the social security benefits."

"Blakley told the Senate that present restrictions prevent older people from contributing what they can and want the production of a stronger economy."

Patrol Report Released On February Accidents

The Highway Patrol investigated 14 rural accidents in Lamb County during the month of February, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These weeks have accounted for one person killed, nine injured, and a property damage of $7,150.00.

This brings the total for 1961 in this county to four persons killed, 17 injured, and a property damage of $16,780.00.

"Defensive driving is one of the keys to traffic safety," the sergeant added. "If all motorists were alert when driving and knew the tricks used by a professional driver, the number of monthly traffic accidents would drop sharply."

"For instance, if when passing other cars the motorist would watch closely the front wheels of the other car, he could see the other driver start a collision turn in time to take defensive action, possibly in time to prevent a tragedy," the sergeant explained.

The sergeant also pointed out that gusty March winds can cause accidents by making cars swerve unexpectedly at highway speeds. Motorists should be especially alert when driving and knew the tricks used by a professional driver.

HOW TO TELL A DODGE FROM A DODGE

Identifying a Dodge has become a problem. Because now there are two. Compact Dodge Lancer. Full-size Dodge Dart. There is an obvious difference. Size, inside and out. Dart, the lower picture, is the larger. But otherwise they are very much alike. Both have a unitized, rust-proofed body. A superb ride called Torsion-Aire. A battery-saving alternator. And both have optional three-speed push-button, automatic transmissions. Another difference is

...third in a production presents the charming Netherlands in a beautiful travelogue, visiting a number of the famous cities of that land. In and near the capital city of Amsterdam, the camera captures a flourishing cheese market and dignified daily. An unprecedented event in your old churches adjacent to orthodox sodate Holland, the 20th century architecture. In Marken, the city surrounded by the sea, men can be seen in traditional black Dutch pantaloons and wooden shoes. The women also wear a distinctive and colorful ancestral dress. In The Hague the camera records medieval pomp pageantry as Queen Juliana, in her golden carriage and with her royal court, visits the opening of the Parliament.

Shown also is the T. L. Osborn evangelistic campaign which drew crowds of over 100,000 persons daily. An unprecedented event in

About Your Health

Accidents rank third among the leading causes of death, but numerically claim far fewer lives than the two leading causes. About 92,000 persons died from accidents in the United States during 1960. In Texas last year, there were 5,439 accidental deaths, third only to heart diseases and cancer, based on 1960 provisional estimates compiled by the Records and Statistics Section of the State Health Department. Texas' death rate from accidents was 36.4 per 100,000 population during 1960 compared to 52.2 national accidental-death rate. However, 1960's rate was down from 57.9 the year before. The lion's share of accidental deaths involve motor vehicle accidents. In Texas, last year about 2,240 persons were killed in automobile accidents. Nationwide, there were 38,000 motor vehicle accident deaths in 1960, a few hundred more than in 1959. The national rise reflects the increase in the amount of automobile travel. The motor vehicle accident death rate per 100 million miles of travel in 1960 may set an all-time low of approximately 5.3 nationwide—Texas' rate for 1959 and 1958. In Texas, deaths from motor accidents actually dropped by about 190, with a corresponding drop in the rate from 26.9 per 100,000 population in 1959 to 24.5 for 1960. Accidents in and about the home took 26,590 lives in 1960, or an increase of approximately 500 for the entire nation. Again the leading cause of home accidents was falls—most were same-level falls involving people in the older age groups. Also of interest from the 1960 provisional death rate estimates is that suicides accounted for 820 Texas deaths for a rate of 8.5. Health.)

New Era --- Farm Mechanomics Developing Agriculture Picture

DEVELOPMENTS SHOWN— Advances in haymaking of a new pattern for agriculture called "Farm Mechanomics." Old-time methods, like horse-drawn cart work (upper left), went out in 1910 with the introduction of the world's first automatic pick-up baler (upper right). New Holland Machine Co. And today, "Hay-in-a-minute" one-man way is made possible by machines like the style baler and bale-throws (lower left), elevators and carriers (lower right).

ing has been moving into a new era. Great scientific advances are being made— better machinery and methods, better crops and livestock, better business management.

These developments, and others, have joined to form a new pattern for agriculture—a new progress plan for the modern, mechanized farm.

Farm Mechanomics is defined as "the effective and scientific use of mechanization in the economics of modern farming methods."

Stressing that successful farming means boosting farm profits, New Holland sees fewer farms producing more in the next 10 years.

"The farms will belong to the craftsman," a company spokesman said. "He'll be reaping the history because of bigger markets and more efficient production."

In explaining the Farm Mechanomics concept, the manufacturer said, "In only 10 years, application of new techniques has made commonplace such production miracles as 200-bushel acres of corn and six-ton per acre hay crops. Dairy cows producing 12,000 and 14,000 pounds are equally common."

"Today, the farmer feeds 25 of his countrymen. In the next 10 or 15 years, he'll be feeding more than 40. The future will require more production and the question will be how to get it."

"There's no point in producing more if you're going to end up earning less. It's not enough just to raise a good crop or run a good herd. Today, it must be done at the lowest possible cost. The alternative is a lower standard of living than today's farmer deserves."

"Profit today means industrialization in the form of large-scale production, assembly-line methods and efficient use of time, machinery and money—with the net result that the businessman farmer is able to produce more for less. That is Farm Mechanomics."

In a sale to scientific research, it was pointed out that nearly three-fourths of our farm crops are varieties completely unknown 20 years ago.

Another important phase of Farm Mechanomics is the application of good business practices to mechanization. "This is probably the single most important factor which distinguishes the earlier, simpler days of farming."

The Farm Mechanomics concept is being explained at farm meetings throughout the U.S. and Canada with the aid of motion pictures and other materials.

As you get older, the open sights of your rifle get fuzziest and won't stay on the target. You find yourself missing the target often.

Joplin Lists Conditions For Carrier Service

Like thousands of other communities across the country, Littlefield is sufficiently large in terms of postal receipts and population to qualify for city delivery service. In such communities there is generally a recurring need for increased postal services, particularly extensions of delivery service to house receptacles by foot carriers or to curb boxes of new homes by carriers in motor vehicles.

Before delivery by foot carrier can be extended to a new street, the following conditions must be met:

1. Homes or places of business must be erected on 50 per cent of the building lots.

2. Streets must be paved or improved to permit travel of post office vehicles at all times without damage or delay.

3. Continuous sidewalks must be installed in sections of the city where the traffic hazards or extreme weather conditions preclude use of the street by the carrier.

4. Street signs must be erected and homes and business places must be equipped with proper numbers.

5. Mail receptacles or door slots must be installed except in the case of business places where someone is regularly present to accept delivery when the carrier arrives.

6. Walks of any material, including gravel and cinders, passable throughout the year, between the street and sidewalk and the front entrance of the dwellings must be constructed.

"The requirements for delivery by carriers in motor vehicles to curbline boxes are the same as those shown above for foot delivery," says Postmaster Joplin, "except that sidewalks need not be installed and it is not necessary that 50 per cent of the lots have buildings erected on them."

Before a new street can receive delivery service, it must be inspected by a qualified postal supervisor. A request from one person (petitions are not necessary) is sufficient basis for initiating an inspection to determine eligibility of a street for curb or house delivery.

"Calls regarding extensions of service are most welcome at Littlefield," says Postmaster Joplin.

Philosopher Misses Paper Week But Finds News at The Same Regardless

The Sandhillsmy source of supply and I went for a solid week without seeing a paper or listening to a radio or looking at televisin.

Then I got hold of a newspaper and read it thoroughly and I have a confession to make! I can't tell any more about who's winning the cold war now than I could a week ago, and I know from personal experience, they haven't solved the farm problem.

It's like accidentally tuning in a televised baseball game somewhere along in the middle of play with the audio portion of the set not working. You'd don't know what the score is, what inning it is, or who's playing.

The Congo seems to have gotten along a whole week without me knowing a thing that was going on over there, and to save my life I can't tell you what the situation is now after I've caught up with the news.

We've shot some more satellites up, they're circling the globe on schedule, but I don't feel any different than I did before they went up and there's still as much undone work on this Johnson grass farm as there was before. Reading a newspaper is important, but if you're reading it to eliminate your confusion, you're on the wrong track. I know a man who reads four papers every day and he's as confused as I am.

I'm not suggesting I could get along without newspapers, but I have found that newspapers can get along without me, even if they don't know who's winning the cold war either.

For a while, I figure newspapers ought to carry box scores every day on the cold war, but now I know why they don't. Nobody knows what the score is.

the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and in taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation, and if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order, you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more diffrnt tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—After hours of fiercely critical debate, the House voted by a surprising 149-1 to attack the state's fiscal problems working first to retire the deficit as an emergency matter.

This is the approach advocated by Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker of the House James Turman. Several who spoke against the deficit-reducing resolution voted for it.

Agreeing to retire the deficit, however, is not the same as agreeing on how to do it. Some new measures, big and broad, have been introduced.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola has submitted an ambitious tax measure which he says will bring in $253,000,000 over a two-year period. It is backed by Governor Daniel.

Hinson's bill includes levies on natural gas pipelines, power-driven objects and parts, utilities, stock transfers, jewelry and watches, construction materials, soft more passed a law authorizing co-ops to continue to serve the same customers when a city area is annexed by a city. This year the co-ops sought permission to add new customers to existing lines in annexed areas.

Opponents charged that this would put a government-subsidized operation in competition with private enterprise. Spokesmen for private utilities declared they have to pay 27.4 per cent of their income in taxes compared to 1.5 per cent for co-ops.

Co-op leaders say that after taking electricity to areas the private companies wouldn't serve, they are now in a life-or-death struggle.

ANNEXING CURB PASSED—No longer would Texas cities be able to reach out and annex "all out of doors" under a bill passed 133-3 by the House.

It provides that cities would be enclaved by a zone in which they would have control of building and sanitation codes. But they would not have taxing powers. A portion of this zone could be annexed each year.

Also, cities would be required to get city utilities to an annexed area within three years.

LOAN LAW SOUGHT—House Banking Committee is engaged in one of its sessions' toughest and longest new regulations for the small loan industry.

MOUTHFUL—Texas A&M College eyes, famed for their fierce defense of the school's traditions, have a problem.

Sen. W. T. Moore and Rep. B. H. Dewey, both of Bryan, are sponsoring bills to change A&M's name. There's more prestige in being called a "university" than a "college," they say.

Proposed measure would change name to Texas State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, with a view eventually to making it just Texas State University.

LAST MINUTE FLOOD—Passage of the 60-day mid-point in this session ended the period when bills may be introduced without special consent. A flood of new bills came in under the wire. Among them are measures that would: allow voters to put an "X" by the name of the person they wish to vote for instead of scratching all others on the ballot; provide for a 10 per cent merit pay raise for teachers to be awarded by local districts and financed 50-50 by state and districts; provide penalties for law enforcement officers who come out of "ambush" to arrest motorists; require children entering the first grade in public schools to have polio shots; increase workmen's compensation insurance benefits to a maximum of $50 per week.
