Amherst Runners Set Two Records in Caprock Relays

Two Amherst speedsters broke records in the Caprock Relays at Slaton Saturday to lead their team to 6th place in the field of 23 teams.

Nuttall lopped a full second off the 440 yard dash record of 535.0 seconds, and Hardwick's 2:06.0 for the 880 yard dash knocked 2½ seconds off last year's time. Sager took third in the mile run to push his team's points up to 12.

Other nearby teams who did well in the two year old contest were Olton, which netted 9 points for 10th place, and Anton whose 3 points (for Detwiler's second in the high hurdles was good for 14th place.

Olton placed in more events than any other local team. The 440 yard relay team, consisting of Shelley, Souter, Bryant and Allcorn, took first place with a time of 46.0 seconds. Souter tied for second in the pole vault. Allcorn took third in the 100 yd. dash and Shelley tied for fourth in broad jump.

Springlake Junior Athletes Receive Jacket Awards

EARTH. (Special)—The girls' junior basketball team of Springlake received their jacket awards this week. The school colors of green and gold were emphasized in the design of the jackets.

The gold body and sleeves in material of rayon poplin is accented by the rich green of the chenille school letter above the left pocket.

Girls receiving the awards were Sue Neal, Linda Kelley, Jan Mc-Minn, Beverly Stine, Frances Phepps, Wanda Williams, Laverne Bibby, Pat Armstrong, Wayne Mae Rutherford, Henriann Rudd, Frances Cole, Carylu McCord, Janis Prather, Larve Glascock, Rita Sanders and Hilda Bills.

Coach Bob Hamilton received a jacket similar in style, made of light wool material.

Wayne Cunningham...

This column has always contended that athletes as a rule are more versatile than non-athletes. Somewhere, somehow, some people get the idea that it takes all brawn and no brains to be an athlete. It really takes both.

We remember a joke Jerry Coody told when visiting Littlefield last December. He said the coach suited out his squad of huge giants and took them on the practice field. It seems that they were all big and heavy and with the weight and size came 'normal' stupidity.

After trying in vain for two hours to teach the boys some football he called a halt to practice maneuvers and said, "Boys, follow me."

He took them into the massive stadium. They followed him out onto the middle of the gridiron and pointed to the grass and white marks and said, "Men, this is a football field. This is a stadium. Those are the goal posts." He pointed to the ball he was holding and said, "This is the football."

One large tackle said in a stupid drawl, "Coach, you're going too fast. You're going too fast."

We remember the largest end on any Notre Dame squad was Leon Hart. Leon was an "A" student. The majority of your top collegiate athletes are exceptional students and very versatile in campus activities apart from sports.

Versatile Wildcat
Our versatile Littlefield Wildcat for this week is James Durham. James played football, worked hard with the "B" squad in basketball and is the mile-runner on the highschool track team. James made the honor roll and the National Honor Society. He is also a member of the Future Farmers of America.

There used to be a day when the name Hoover was very unpopular in the south. I heard a man call his friend as unpopular as a vote for Hoover. However, Hoover is a good name in Littlefield next week our versatile Wildcats will be three Hoovers.

Get On The Ball

Golf Pro Moore told me how the expression, "Get on the ball," started.

The Country Club Pro said a sports writer was out on a Texas course and on the first drive hooked into the rough. He found his ball lying in the midst of a big Texas red ant hill. Bravely he chose his club like he handles a Speed Graphic and got set for a redeeming shot. He swung and swung. Each time he killed a dozen or so ants but missed the ball. One bright "Okie Ant" said to another, "If we want to stay alive, we've got to get on the ball!"

The only green in Lamb county, according to Dave Eaton, is the nine greens at the Littlefield Country Club golf course. They are looking beautiful. The tees look good, also since Les Hewitt solved the chicken problem a couple years ago for the club.

Littlefield in Baseball
Richard Bernard Littlefield is a big league pitcher playing now for the Baltimore "Orioles" or "Browns".

Littlefield was born in Detroit, Mich. in 1926. He bats left, throws left, is 6 feet tall and weighs 180 pounds when pitching. Since entering organized baseball, has played for Oneonta, Wellsville, Roanoke, Scranton, Birmingham, Boston, Red Sox, Memphis Chicks, Chicago White Sox, Buffalo, Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns.

Littlefield got to the Browns in the big trade of 1952 that involved Ned Garver. His four-year major league record runs like this: 90 games, 279 innings, 12 wins, 21 losses, Pct. of .364, 190 strike out, hits 270, and an earned run average of 5.03.

The big league pitcher hasn't done as well as the Texas city of Littlefield has done in its District highschool competition. We saw Billy Gage in town a little while ago. Billy was quite an athlete at Whitharral and went from highschool there into pro baseball as a pitcher with the Lubbock Hubbers before draft threatened him. Billy volunteered for the Air Corps.

Wouldn't it be great if the local American League could get up their good American Legion team here again this year. They had some good teams and fine boys.

Western Style Dinner Fetes Amherst Highschool Seniors

AMHERST, (Special) — The annual western style dinner, a courtesy of the Baptist W. M. U., was given in the church dining room Monday night, March 29, for members of the high school senior class. Mesdames J. P. Brantley, C. C. Craig and Randall Crawford, assisted by Mrs. James Holland, formed the committee for arrangements.

School colors of royal blue and white were carried out in decorations.

The blue booklet containing the program and menu featured a white silhouette of a cowboy on the cover.

The program was: Invocation, Mrs. John Rankin; Howdy Pardners (welcome), Rev. John Rankin; Of the Chuck Wagon, (Let's Eat!).

Three Wayland college students from Plainview furnished the program—Western Sern'ade, Bob Hartcock; Slides, Beth Dodson; Riding the Range Together, David Appleby.

The slides, in color, shown by Miss Dodson were made in Hawaii last summer while she was assisting in Vacation Bible schools there.

The clever place cards and favor combination was a blue oil cloth holster containing a white ceramic pistol, the silverware and napkin.

The decorations were ceramic boots, horses and cowboys.

The menu consisted of barbecue, potatoes out of bucks, ranch style beans, western tossed salad, lasso relish plate, rodeo bread, branded tea, and roundup pie.

Class sponsor, Lamar Kelly, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. W. O. Carpenter, Supt. and Mrs. Vance Osborne were included in the 29 attending.

THE AUTHORITY OF THE APOSTLES

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

"Whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven" (Matthew 16:19b).

A comparison of verses 1 and 18 of the eighteenth chapter of Matthew will show that this power to bind and loose was not for Peter alone, but for the other apostles as well. The message is this: whatever the apostles taught was by the authority of Jesus, and their teaching was recognized in heaven.

This does not mean that the doctrine of the New Testament originated with the apostles, then was ratified in heaven. Rather, the teaching was supplied from heaven. Jesus said in a to God, "I have given thee word" (John 17:17). He taught as they had been taught from Christ and as they were guided by the Holy Spirit (John 14:26; 16:13).

We can no more speak the words of the apostles than we can the words of Christ, because he authorized them to speak. He said, "He that receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth that sent me" (Matthew 10:40).

Let's Talk Livestock

By TED GOULDY
Cattle Are Kind With Consumers

Fort Worth—Beef finally out-ranked pork during the past year as the per capita consumption of beef soared to record heights and the crop of hogs was off. It is expected that the Nation's eaters will continue their "beef binge" at least for the rest of this year as cattle marketings continue heavy.

Cattle trade at Ft. Worth Monday indicated no slackening in the beef demand as packers seemed fairly eager for supplies and paid fully steady to stronger prices. The stocker trade was fully steady to strong on the better qualified kinds, despite the fact the dry conditions in most places remained unrelieved.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $23, the latter price best for commercially fed cattle here in about a month. Two lots of cattle brought that top, one was 44 steers at 1021 lbs. sent in by McClung Land & Cattle Co. of Johnson County. Lee Campbell, Comanche County, had a truckload at 840 lbs. at $23, too. Other representative shipments of steers and yearlings included: J. Doyle Peters, Tillman County, Okla., with some steers at 979 lbs. at $21.50; W. H. Ritchey, Hendrix, Okla., three loads of steers at $18, with a trim. J. T. Glibbreath, Deaf Smith County, had a load at $26 lbs. at $21.50; O. W. Holcombe, Earth County, a load at 747 lbs. at $21; J. B. Jagers, Hamilton County, a load at 824 lbs. at $21; B. L. Durham, Blue Ridge, a load at 860 lbs. at $19; E. H. Harkins, Sweetwater, a load at 935 lbs. at $21.

$13.00 and canners and cutters $7 to $11. Bulls $10 to $15. Best fat calves sold for $17 to $20.50, several lots in the $19 to $20.25 bracket incured sales from S. B. Atlas, Johnson County; Orville Olson, Hamilton Co. and Johnny Smith, Erath County. Most of these top calves were obviously of the crepted variety. Medium and lower grades sold from $12 to $17.50.

The better stocker steer calves and beef yearlings drew $17 to $19, and heifer calves and heifer yearlings average $2 to $3 under comparable steers. Stocker cows $10 to $13.50.

Sheep Market Next Best Thing To Rain!

Texas and other Southwestern sheep men at Fort Worth Monday could take some solace in a reliable set of prices for their sheep and lambs, despite the dry conditions. And one West Texan put it this way, "If we had some rain we wouldn't be here yet, but since we didn't get the rain, this steady market is the next best thing." The 17,500 on hand at Fort Worth Monday was the largest run of the year, and it was more than one-third of all sheep reported around the major market circle Monday.

Best milk fed lambs drew $24 to $27, medium and lower grades $15 to $23, light culls around $12. Shorn fat old crop lambs, good and choice, $20 to $23, and the medium and lower grades $12 to $18.50. Stocker and feeder shorn lambs $15 to $21, latter price mixed feeder and fat lambs.

All interests were aggressive buyers with mixed yearlings and two-year-old wethers $15 to $18.50, and aged wethers $11 to $14.50. Slaughter ewes mostly $5.50 to $8.50, some breeding ewes around $9 and better. Old bucks $4.50 to $5, some in the wool to $6.

Representative sales of the better kinds: Hubert Miller and George Etter, Valley Mills, had lambs at 93 lbs. and 65 lbs., respectively, at $27; E. R. Griffin, Curoo, had 204 lambs at 73 lbs.

at $27. E. W. Barr, Runnels County, had 368 shorn lambs at 100 lbs. at $23. R. D. Kothman, Junction, had 90 shorn lambs at 87 lbs. at $23; Gus Rust, Spring Branch, 150 shorn lambs at 89 lbs. at $23; Buck Underwood, Runnels County, had 190 ewes at 106 lbs. at $8.50.

Hogs Hiding Crest 'At Five-Year Peak

The hog has been called the "mortgage lifter" for years and years where home hogs are raised as a part of the diversified farm program. A farmer with enough hogs these days cannot only look the mortgage holder in the eye, but can give him a ride to town in a new automobile.

At the highest prices in five years, top hogs drew $27.50 and $27.75 at Fort Worth Monday. Sows were around $1 higher and sold at $22 to $25.

Some of the hog growers who cashed in Monday included Herschel Overton, J. D. Barnes and

J. W. Overton, all of them in Jacksonville, Fla., the former Leota Guest of Plainview, Harvey, a former resident of Olton, died in that city after a long illness.

Tuna-Shrimp Dish Is New Lenten Treat

Planning Lenten menus that offer both variety and fresh taste-appeal poses a real problem to many homemakers. Here's a new "meal-in-itself" recipe that's a delicious answer to the problem! Quick and easy to prepare, this Tuna-Shrimp Casserole topped with rich buttery cracker crumbs is a sure-to-please main dish for luncheon or dinner. Especially appropriate during Lent, it's a nourishing, tasty treat for the family at any season of the year.

Tuna-Shrimp Casserole

1 1/2 (8 oz.) package spaghetti
1 small onion
2 stalks celery
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 cup grated cheese
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
1 (7 oz.) can tuna fish
1 cup cooked or canned shrimp
8 Hi Ho crackers

Cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water according to directions on the package. Peel onion and chop into small pieces; chop celery fine. Melt butter or margarine, and add onions and celery. Cook until tender but not browned. Stir in the flour. Gradually add the milk; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Add cheese and stir until cheese has melted. Drain the tuna and break into small pieces. Add tuna and shrimp to cheese sauce. Place spaghetti in bottom of medium casserole and pour the tuna-shrimp sauce on top. Roll the round buttery crackers into coarse crumbs and sprinkle in wide circle around the top of the casserole. Bake in a 350° F. oven for 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Betrayal

Lesson for April 11, 1954

There would have been no crucifixion if there had been no betrayal. At this Good Friday season may help us (though it cannot be pleasant) to think a while of the betrayal of Jesus. We understand the story of the historic event, something happened once long ago, to people.

Did you there they crucify Lord? The song asks. Not only Calvary—we in the Garden of Gethsemane took part in the betrayal. Dr. Foreman says by Judas is a picture of each of us has at some other betrayed the Master. Was not alone.

Didn't Do Much
Betrayal was such a terrible thing, really, yet Peter Judas at first it did not like much. We wonder why could ever have done such a thing, and the answer may be that he did not think of it as a betrayal. No doubt the Sanhedrin urged that on him. We can imagine them say: "Now, Judas, we are not asking you anything. All we are after is the fact. Where can we find Jesus of Nazareth after hours? Does he spend his nights? Aren't you asking you to arrest or to strike him or hurt him. All we want is information. What we do with the information, that isn't your affair. Your job may turn out to be quite different from all the charges going against you. You'd like to see him, wouldn't you? We'll give you a trial; you surely don't mind justice being done! All we want is one little thing; tell us where to find him."

All Forsook Him
It is repeated: Judas was the first. All the apostles had loyalty, and Peter in particular. But given the chance to betray from that garden, they forsook him. We are told that every ALL forsook him and every disciple running away from the courtyard by the fire. The sound of running feet growing louder in the distance was sickening a sound as was his. Judas was the first but none failed to follow him. So it is with us. Like we don't intend to betray we who are Christians. Yet sin is a turning of the back. Every sin is a betrayal. Every sin is the same as "I do not know Jesus." Sin is a going over to Jesus. It is lining up with the man that would destroy Jesus. That he stood for, Jesus and his friends in the world but he also has many enemies. And sin of every sort simulates Jesus' enemies and hurts his cause. Like Judas, we don't realize what we are doing, at first. Smooth sin can make evil look almost good. It was not hard to follow him. Do we, too, make easy prey for the devil?

Too Late
Moody's imaginative story of the meaning of the betrayal had just told his disciples to preach the gospel to every creature. "To every creature?" Peter. "I saw a soldier a garden of thorns down on his head till it bled . . . to 'Yes,' replies Jesus' too all him that blood was shed on the cross, too." "To every creature," says Peter. "I saw a soldier his spear into your side you were helpless in the very hour of death . . . preach to every creature—yes, but not to Judas." "Yes," answers the Lord. "Tell him there is a way to my heart than that." "By creature—yes, but not to Judas." "For him it was too late. He was not forgiven, while you were. Was not Peter also a betrayer? Of course he was. But the difference was that Peter came back to Jesus, but Judas never did. Christian church believes that Jesus died for our sins, and we are only but for the sins of the whole world. Yet there are those who when the sacrifice of Christ on the cross does not save. Christ save Judas, it is true. But was the fault?

The Dilemma

Along with many other excises, the 20% tax on movie tickets has finally been repealed. This was long overdue. A number of theaters have closed that might have stayed open if the tax had been allowed to expire six months after it was ended, as was originally intended.

This is a stark example of the adage "The power to tax is the power to destroy." While the tax was supposedly collected from the customers, most of it actually came out of the theater's pocket. The average movie-goer will pay only so much as a show. If part of the price he is willing to pay is collected as tax, then the theater owner must lower the price by that much in order to get customers.

Very few exhibitors make anything like 20% profit in wartime, this tax wiped out their profits and threw many of them into the red. Some of them had resources to stay open, hoping for tax relief, but most of them did not. A few of those may now try to reopen, but if they will probably have to charge as much as the tax was included. And many of those who have their doors open at a loss will not be able to reduce their prices either.

Industry spokesmen were plain about this when Congress was considering the repeal bill. One spokesman told me that one man (meaning an exhibitor) will give it to his neighbor, the man across the street, will give back part of it, and perhaps some who are in a state will retain it all and still struggle."

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee conceded the industry spokesmen for their frankness. "I congratulate you," said Representative Forand, "for being so plain to kid us or kid the customers."

In other industries were being hurt badly too by the most of them will profit most by the increased volume which tax reduction is expected to bring them. Prices for furs, cosmetics, bus tickets, etc., are expected to rise to the entire amount of the tax.

And riddance. Taxes are still oppressive, but after two years of constantly rising taxes, a few steps in the opposite direction are very encouraging.

"The government pays," writes a thoughtful publicist. "The other kind but not the same people.—Boston

TRYING TO MAKE A MOLEHILL OF A MOUNTAIN

Andy Rogers Says ...

The biggest bombshell to strike the present "special" session of your Legislature has been the proposed tax on "Mrs. Housewife's" trade or merchandise stamps.

An amendment to the Governor's tax bill late Tuesday evening (March 30th) in the House of Representatives started the explosion. It was submitted by Rep. Bill Chambers of May without warning to anyone—but the House adopted it by an overwhelming vote.

By 9 o'clock next morning thousands of telegrams and phone calls had descended on the Legislature from unhappy merchants, their employees, "stamp" manufacturers and distributors.

Later, "Mrs. Housewife" began to be heard and on the second day after the House of Representatives had acted so hurriedly a considerable number of merchants and citizens who do not like the "trade stamps" began to raise their voices in support of the tax.

The proposed tax bill was sent to a Senate committee. As the House of Representatives had not allowed the "stamp" people to present their arguments as they had other groups being hit in the big tax bill, the Senate committee called for an open public hearing on Friday (April 2nd). Many irate merchants and housewives appeared. All the citizens who wanted to be heard spoke their piece.

Committee action is not conclusive but your Senator does not believe the Senate will approve the "stamp" tax.

Apparently your Legislature will not get to consider, during this 30 day session, the proposed Utility Commission plan to regulate the rates gas, phone and electric companies charge in the different towns they serve.

Present conditions prevent a city from being able to successfully fight proposed rate hikes, justified or not. Some cities have spent thousands of dollars and still lost their fight. Others, realizing the hopelessness of the situation, grant the rate hikes with little or no opposition. These at least save taxpayers' money from a losing battle.

The Governor's proposal to spend $10,500,000 on the prison system, State School for the Deaf, State Dental School, Southwestern Medical School and a pay raise for state employees has passed both the House and the Senate. This is all separate from the teachers pay raise bill.

Money for these projects is supposed to come from a surplus which State Comptroller Robert Calvert says will accumulate by next year.

Remembering that the Comptroller made a $30,000,000 error in his estimate for the Legislature last year and more than a $50,000,000 error in 1949, some legislators are worried about these projects being fulfilled.

The Senate's second anti-Communist law of this session has been accepted by the House of Representatives. The first one is feared by some to be unconstitutional but the second will cover most Communist loopholes if the first one gets knocked out by the courts.

No real fire and fury has broken out in the fight between old friends Gov. Shivers and Speaker of the House Reuben Senterfitt who also wants to run for Governor. However, Senterfitt has allowed his representatives to introduce dozens of bills not within the Governor's "call".

In a "special session" called by the Governor—such as the present one—the Speaker of the House is supposed to limit bills introduced to those dealing with the purposes for which the Governor assembled the Legislature.

Many of the bills are local in nature and scope and vital to people in the different Representative districts. Later, if Shivers has to refuse these bills which Senterfitts has unlawfully O.K.'d, it will probably prove very embarrassing for the Governor.

State Senator
Andy Rogers.

It's the Law In Texas

CONTRACT PRECAUTIONS OUTLINED

Since contracts may be entered into quite informally, many people fall into serious difficulties by binding themselves to agreements which they do not fully understand. It is very easy for the unwary individual to obligate himself beyond his intent or ability to perform, and thereby invite litigation and a consequent judgment of forced performance or damages in favor of the other party to the contract.

Contracts are absolutely essential to the functioning of modern business. In order to plan for the future—to set up a business, insure a steady supply of necessary materials and goods, set a price and a delivery date on what we have to sell, etc.—we must know that if courts will, if necessary, enforce the contracts we make with others.

Only a minute percentage of the millions of contracts annually made find their way to the courts. But by seeing that the exceptional case which reaches litigation is settled justly, the courts make it possible for the remaining multitude of transactions to be conducted with a minimum of friction.

How can we minimize the possibilities of litigation over our contracts? How can we protect ourselves in event we should later wind up in court? A clear understanding of all terms of every agreement entered into may prove the best answer to both these questions. Justice demands that we be held to the letter of our lawful contracts, lest the other party be damaged by our failure. Knowing this, we should apply a few common sense rules in our dealings with others.

First, let's take a look at the ordinary verbal agreement. Any terms about which you do not reach a specific agreement will probably be supplied by the customs of the particular business, or by a pattern set up by your previous dealings with the other party. Do you understand those customs? Do you want this contract to be carried out just like last time? If not, talk it over. Have a clear conception of your obligations and the other party's duties. And be sure that he, too, understand fully.

If you have doubts concerning the integrity of the other party, why deal with him at all? If you feel compelled to deal with him in spite of doubts, try to complete your oral agreement in the presence of other, disinterested persons. Their version of the terms may be helpful later.

One of the greatest difficulties with verbal contracts is that of proving exactly what agreement was reached when an argument over terms later winds up in the courthouse. Human memories are faulty, and we have difficulty recalling the exact words spoken six months, or even six days, ago.

A written memorandum signed by both parties at the time, or even a simple exchange of letters asserting to the material terms, may prevent trouble.

When executing a written contract without benefit of legal counsel, take time to read and understand every word, even at the risk of being considered dull. Read especially any fine print, or regulations printed on the back, forming a part of the contract.

Be wary when the other party offers a verbal explanation that seems at variance with the printed terms. When you get to court, you will probably find that the printed word means just what it says, and that the contradictory oral explanation will not be admitted in evidence.

KNOW YOUR CAR COSTS...
Ownership vs. Operation
 by CAROL LANE, Travel Authority

IF YOU THINK OF CAR COSTS ONLY IN TERMS OF GASOLINE, OIL AND TIRES, BETTER CHECK UP ON YOUR BOOKKEEPING. IT COSTS ALMOST TWICE AS MUCH JUST TO OWN A CAR AND LEAVE IT IN THE GARAGE AS IT DOES TO BUY THE GASOLINE, OIL AND OTHER THINGS YOU NEED TO DRIVE AND ENJOY IT.

HERE ARE FIGURES* FOR A NEW, POPULAR-MARK CAR DRIVEN 10,000 MILES A YEAR (ABOUT AVERAGE). BASIC COSTS OF OWNERSHIP... DEPRECIATION, LICENSE FEES, INSURANCE, INTEREST... AMOUNT TO OWN AND LEAVING THE CAR IN THE GARAGE. BUT OPERATING COSTS... GASOLINE, OIL, TIRES, MAINTENANCE AND MISCELLANEOUS EXPENSES... TOTAL ONLY AN ADDITIONAL $320 A YEAR! THAT'S THE COST OF ENJOYING YOUR FAMILY CAR. YOU CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO!

FROM THE SKYWAYS TO THE HIGHWAYS

FOR MILITARY USE Phillips originated new super-power aviation fuel components—Di-isopropyl (pronounced di-iso-pro-pull) and HF Alkylate. These made possible more powerful fuels for combat aircraft.

RESTRICTED for use in aviation gasoline, these components have for years been on U. S. Government priority. But now restrictions have been released and Phillips is able to use them in automotive gasoline.

TODAY, Di-isopropyl is available to motorists exclusively in a new gasoline called Phillips 66 Flite-Fuel. It gives increased power, higher anti-knock quality, freedom from stalling ... and it's clean-burning!

Like Tomatoes and Peas?
 If you like to raise tomatoes for home consumption and want to try a few plants of the Porter variety. It is a small tomato that is good for both eating and canning. There is a new variety developed at the Southern Great Plains Experiment Station, called Western Red, and you can obtain the seed of both varieties from Porter and Son, Seedmen, Box 104, Stephenville, Texas.

If you want a larger tomato, you might try Homestead, Urbans, or Improved Pearson, all of which are commercial varieties and may give you 10 to 14 days earlier production than Rutgers.

There are a number of new varieties of Southern peas on the market that you might want to try. They are Extra Early Blackeye, Purple Hull 40, California No. 5, Cream 40, and Cream 12. These are varieties that have been developed by the Experiment Stations, and have a good chance of being of commercial value as well as home production.

$30,000 Farms
 Farming is a billion dollar business in the West. Our farm land and buildings are valued at nearly 14 billion dollars, or an average of $30,000 per farm. On top of this, western farmers and ranchers carry a staggering inventory of livestock and equipment. Such an investment calls for an operator that knows his business inside and out... including every angle from labor relations to marketing.

Is your farm being run like a business? If not, it's time to start doing something about it. Make production plans for the remainder of the year now. Raise as much of your forage and grain feeding needs as possible. Make plans to buy what will be needed at harvest, when you will have the biggest choice and the most favorable prices. Arrange for financing well ahead of time. Buying in quantity, buying early and paying cash will save substantial sums over a year's time. Record keeping is highly important. It's easy to keep records of the monthly milk checks or payments for grain or cattle, but hard to keep track of daily business expenses. More expenses than receipts are overlooked at income tax time.

A farmer is General Manager of production, purchasing, marketing, plant and personnel, accounting, and maintenance on his farm.

Temporary Grazing
 Staggered plantings of Sudan grass can go far toward stretching temporary summer grazing for livestock.

It will soon be time to plant Sudan grass. Farmers wait until all danger of a freeze has past, however.

In addition to furnishing abundant grazing when moisture permits, Sudan grass — an important "link" in any year-round grazing program — enables livestock to lay off permanent pastures giving them time to rest and get a better foothold before their next grazing season.

We recommend planting one acre of temporary pasture for each animal unit. By commencing plantings when frost danger passes and planting at three to four week intervals as long as moisture is available, Sudan age and crop prospects, check the availability of space in local commercial elevators and consult with local officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

Existing buildings and new structures must meet certain requirements to gain the "approved" rating. They must be weather proof, constructed to keep out rodents, insects and birds and permit insect fumigation. They also must be reasonably safe from fire and wind damage, permit sampling for determining grain quality and be reasonably safe against entry by thieves.

The type of building — metal bin or large general structure — is another long-term aspect. Metal bins, for example, usually are readily available and easily erected. If several bins are planned, producers should arrange them for accessible loading and unloading.

The general type structure may be used for grain while the "pinch" is on but then converted to other farm needs when storage pressure is eased.

Loans for such bins and buildings have been extended for another year and offer up to 80 percent of the cost of new facilities. Carrying four percent interest the loans may be paid in four annual installments extended over a five-year period.

"On the Farm" Storage
 Lamb county farmers are advised to survey their individual situations before deciding whether to build approved "on the farm" storage facilities for this year's grain crops.

The extent of storage problems ahead will be governed largely by the size of forthcoming crops, says USDA officials. Based on the average expectancy, however, they believe total grains and oil seeds harvested may climb 300 to 500 million bushels higher than a year ago.

The storage situation in Texas looks dim compared to recent years. As a means of determining whether the average farmer can profitably erect additional storage buildings, farmers should consider their acre-

Ben Hogan finished in a tie for fiftieth place in a golf tournament the other day. This is like Citation winding up eighth in an eight-horse race.

The Hogan showing, however, can't be taken as an indication that the little man is through. Ben hasn't been playing much, having so much time to devote to his business interests, including the building of a golf club manufacturing concern. Rest assured he'll be laying them down the alley by the time of the Colonial National Invitation and National Open.

But this does bring into focus the somewhat startling observation that the sun may have set for the time being on Texans in golf.

Last year was a great one, with Hogan's victories in the Masters, National Open and British Open the highlights, of course. But this year we find an odd situation—no Texan has managed to win a tournament on the winter tour. That's something unheard of until now.

And you find few Texans taking ing money from the pay window in these tournaments. Lloyd Mangrum apparently has faded out almost completely, Jimmy Demaret isn't being heard from, Jack Burk is only so-so and Earl Stewart isn't winning anything much. Shelley Mayfield is the only Texan doing a regular visit to the cash register but he hasn't seriously threatened to win a tournament as yet.

The Texas women golfers are doing better than the men but they're not cutting the usual wide swath. Babe Zaharias still is the talk of the links tour because of her marvelous comeback — she won two tournaments less than a year after an operation for cancer—but the other Texas gals aren't doing anything that borders on the sensational.

Texas amateurs are not as good as usual, although there still are some mighty fine ones. Rex Baxter, the Amarillo youngster, probably is the best prospect. But it will be several years at least before Baxter turns pro, if at all.

Obviously the Texas golf slump can be laid to the matter of a changing cycle. It's the in-between period. The old stars are fading and the youngsters haven't come up fast enough to step in immediately. Texans play as much golf as ever and you can rest assured the slump is temporary.

Golf lost a champion when Fred Cobb, coach of North Texas State, died recently.

Cobb is the man who made golf important in college athletics. It didn't amount to much before the big Georgia Tech football and baseball stars, and caddy for Bobby Jones in Bobby's college days, took over at the Denton school and made the links game a major sport.

Lubbock Children's Home Open House April 18-19

The new Children's Home for West Texas is now a reality. Shown above is the first cottage of the new Children's Home of Lubbock, nearing completion.

This new home will be shown on April 18 and 19 during open house ceremonies as the work gets underway. The hours on April 18 will be from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. and on the 19th from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The open house will feature the first of a series of 20 cottages being built at Lubbock, on a 200 acre irrigated farm given as a homestead by Mrs. Ida S. Collins of Lubbock.

Each cottage will provide facilities for 18 children who will live together as a family group under carefully selected house parents. Requests have been received by the new home to care for a large number of children. Several have already been approved to be received and others are being investigated. Mr. and Mrs. Ben McMillin of Knox City, Texas have been selected as the house parents in this first cottage.

A second cottage is under construction and should be ready for 18 additional children about June 1. Minimum plans for 1954 call for the erection of three cottages with total facilities for 54 children. This new home is under the supervision of the elders of the church of Christ at Broadway and Avenue T in Lubbock. John B. White, formerly of Austin, Texas, is the superintendent.

The cost of maintaining a race horse is from $10 to $12 a day. For this sum the trainer feeds the horse and arranges for his handling and conditioning.

7 1/2 Months Old Helen Black Is 24 Inches Long

Little Helen Louise Black, seven and one-half month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Black, has doubled in length since her premature birth Aug. 19, when she weighed 2 pounds and 4 ounces and was not quite 12 inches long.

The young lady was kept in an incubator seven weeks and stayed in the hospital another three weeks while she was fed through a tube to her stomach.

Now the little girl weighs 12 pounds, 6 ounces, holds her head erect, studies everything intently with her big blue eyes, and amuses herself by playing with rattles.

Mrs. Black said "She's just gotten along fine. Right now she has a slight cold, the first one she's ever had."

The baby was featured in a story and picture in the Leader Sept. 10. The picture showed her minute size in comparison to that of a brand new eleven pound boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Black and family are from route one, Sudan.
