Fire Prevention Was Observed in the Lfd. Schools Last Week

Fire Prevention Week was observed in the Littlefield schools last week in a very educational manner.

About nine o'clock Thursday morning the fire department made a run to the school center, blowing the engine siren in realistic manner. A connection was made at a nearby plug and a stream of water turned on one of the school buildings. Simultaneously with the sounding of the fire alarm the pupils of both high school and grades, in fire drill marched out in quick and orderly time to the play grounds, where further demonstration by the department was given.

The demonstration was given for the purpose of impressing upon the minds of the pupils the necessity of care in preventing fires and of prompt action in putting them out and protecting lives after a conflagration had started.

Further impression was made up on the pupils of the grammar and primary departments by writing essays on the subject: "Fire Conditions in My Home; How to Prevent Fires and How to Put Them Out."

The City Commission offered prizes of $2.00 each for the best essay written in each of these departments, and about 100 compositions were turned in to the reviewing committee.

Many of the essays contained excellent material on the subject of "Fire" some of them going into elaborate scientific discussions regarding the chemical analysis of fire and submitting considerable data regarding fire losses, loss of human lives, manufacture of matches, fire extinguishers, etc. Some failed to touch at all upon the subject assigned by the Commissioners, tho they wrote good manuscripts about "Fire." Several of the compositions were highly commendable, and in a few instances it was difficult for the committee to determine superiority. However the awards were made as follows:

Prize Awards
William Davis, grammar school.
Louis Condra, 3rd grade, primary school.

Honorable Mention
Ruby Yeary, grammar school.
Blanton Cogburn, 3rd grade, primary school.

These four essays will be published in next week's issue of the Leader. The city officials very much appreciate the hearty response of both teachers and pupils regarding fire prevention, and state that they will offer other cash prizes for essays upon subjects of general public interest.

A. & M. GAME SOON

Lubbock, Oct. 18.—Texas Technological college now boasts of one of the best football fields in the State. The playing fields is in the shape of a hog back thickly set with bermuda, thus insuring against a sloppy field even during a heavy rain.

A seven-foot cyclone fence around the entire athletic field has just been completed. The new section of steel stands with a capacity of 4,000 seats is also practically complete.

Reservations for the A. & M. Tech game October 28 are pouring in. Officials are expecting an attendance of over 10,000.

W. S. Mitchell Says Farming on Sod in Vicinity Of Littlefield Better than Old Land in Runnels Or Bell County; Has Fine Cotton and Grain Crop

W. S. Mitchell, one of the leading farmers of the Littlefield vicinity, was in town Monday buying groceries for the 32 cotton pickers he brought in from Sweetwater last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Mitchell owns six farms around Littlefield and they are all producing fine crops this year. On the place rented to the Turner Bros., there are 200 acres in cotton, about 40 bales of which are now open and being picked. There is also about 40 acres of grain on this farm which is turning out first rate.

On the farm rented to J. T. Booker there are 100 acres of cotton with about 200 bales now open and ready for the picking which was started the first of the week. Mr. Booker also has 50 acres of good feedstuff.

On the farm rented by J. T. Knight

there are 75 acres of cotton and 100 acres of feed. All of which is first class crop.

On the land rented by L. A. Corbell there are 75 acres of cotton that is beginning to open.

On the farm where Mr. Mitchell lives there are 70 acres of cotton that was planted since the eighth of June and it is turning out fine. It is estimated to go at least one-half bale per acre. On this place there is also an 80 acre grain crop that will be hard to beat anywhere in Texas.

Mr. Mitchell came to Littlefield two years ago. He had formerly farmed for eight years in Bell county and 15 years in Runnels county, and last year on sod, he declares he raised a better crop in this country than he ever raised in either of the two counties of his former residence.

Texas Cotton Crop Value $650,000,000 Says the St. Treasurer

AUSTIN, Oct. 14.—Texas cotton farmers will take in around $650,000,000 for this year's crop, or about $250,000,000 more than the average of the last 10 years, State Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher estimated in a speech Friday night at a banquet honoring state representatives of the Cities Service Company in convention here.

Hatcher's figures, he said, were arrived at from various authorities on the cotton crop.

"The United States Department of Agriculture's figures justify estimating the value of the 1927 Texas cotton crop at approximately $550,000,000 and the Alexander Hamilton Institute estimates the value of the Texas crop in excess of $750,000,000."

Hatcher expressed his belief that the state is "entering upon its greatest era of prosperity."

"The corn and hay crops are both record breakers and other grain and feed crops exceed the average yield for the past 10 years. Cattle and ranges are in better condition and cattle prices are higher than for many years."

"Add to all of this the fact that the farmers during 1927 have not borrowed more than 50 per cent of the usual amount of money borrowed by them to produce a crop and you can readily see that, though they have suffered severe setbacks for the past two years from short crops and low prices, they have now come into their own."

A PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT

The groom's father, Master Willis Mitchell, entertained the Tom Thumb wedding party at his home Monday afternoon in honor of his son and bride-to-be.

Thirty-three guests were present and were served punch and cake by the host.

The wedding will be solemnized Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Palace Theatre. Everyone is invited to attend.

TO OCCUPY PULPIT

J. A. Hughes, lay leader of the Methodist church at Lubbock, will be in Littlefield next Sunday, occupying the pulpit of the Methodist church here both morning and evening.

Mr. Hughes has the reputation of being an able speaker and the Pastor, Rev. Ed Thayer, urges a good attendance at both services.

Rev. Dugger Gave Resignation to His Church Last Sunday

Last Sunday was "all-church" day at the Presbyterian church.

Following the regular Sunday school hour a very interesting and helpful sermon was delivered by the minister, Rev. C. A. Dugger. Special numbers on the morning program were a vocal solo by Mrs. G. M. Shaw, Lubbock, accompanied by Miss Nellie Dugger, on the piano; and two readings, "Suffering," and "Jus' Blue," by Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur P. Dugger on the pipe organ.

At the noon hour the congregation assembled in the church basement for a sumptuous feast prepared and served by the ladies of the church. It was a delightful social hour participated in by about 60 people. Following the dinner there were in formal talks regarding various phases of church work, J. S. Hilliard speaking on the "Sunday School," E. A. Bills on "Church-going," Arthur P. Dugger on the "Finances of the Church," Miss Lulu Hubbard on the "Young Peoples Work," Mrs. W. G. Street on the "Ladies Work," and Mrs. A. P. Dugger on the "Music of the Church."

Rev. Dugger dropped a bomb in the midst of the gathering when he stated he was resigning from the pastorate of the Littlefield church and would, in all probabilities, accept the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Superior, Arizona, which had been tendered him.

Rev. Dugger has been pastor of the Littlefield church for nearly two years, and, under his ministry there has been a large addition to the membership, while the general condition of the church has advanced in all its various departments. He and his estimable family have won for themselves a warm place in the hearts and homes of many people of Littlefield, both in and out of the congregation, who will sincerely regret their departure.

BUBLIN MAN NOTES CHANGE

H. J. Perkins, of Dublin, is here this week visiting his son, Joe S. Perkins and family.

Mr. Perkins has made several trips to Littlefield, and, in conversation with a Leader representative, remarked upon the continued forward movement of both town and country which he witnessed each time he came here.

Mr. Perkins was here last June before the summer rains began, and now returning this week noted the wonderful change in the country, "the greatest I have ever seen," he said. "It is remarkable the crops that are being raised out here. Your soil certainly has wonderful moisture retaining qualities," he declared.

Turkey-Bean Contest Of Chevrolet Co. is On During October

With more than 27,000 persons who make up the selling organization of the Chevrolet Motor Company involved, the unique "turkey-bean" contest inaugurated by this company a year ago is again in full swing during the month of October, according to W. W. Gillette, of the Littlefield Chevrolet agency.

The sales organization all over the country has been divided for the duration of the contest into competitive groups, of which the winners will eat turkey while the losers will set beside them and dine only on beans—also pay the entire dinner check, Mr. Gillette said.

In this section the Plainview division has been pitted against the Lubbock division, and the quota required of the Littlefield agency during the month is the sale of 12 new cars, three trucks and eight used cars. During the first 10 days of this month the local agency disposed of six new cars and five used ones, hence so far as they are concerned, they are not worrying about eating beans, but it will be the total aggregate of sales for each division that will finally tell the story.

In addition to the turkey-bean banquet at the close of the contest, a beautiful silver quota trophy, specially designed and fashioned by master craftsmen, will grace the radiators of Chevrolet salesmen selling the quotas assigned them during this month. Gillette says he is sure going to wear one of them on his private car.

Really he doesn't mean any offense at all and his friends should not take any. Other grand-dads of the community should extend to him both their sympathy and congratulations. HOW TO GET MORE EGGS DURING FALL MONTHS WHEN THE PRICES ARE BETTER

F. W. KAZMEIER, Bryan, Texas
 Now that eggs have climbed up to profitable price again, and no doubt remain there for several months, little information on this subject may be of interest.
 For the next few months, the problem will be how to get eggs and how to sell them for a good price. To get a profitable egg-production, the things stand out very prominently, chickens that know how to lay, good feed and care. In this article we will pass up the first important factor for some other time.
 Hens at this time of the year are in a moult or soon will be, hence you cannot expect many eggs from them the next few weeks. Early hatched pullets are your only chance for good producers in the Fall and early Winter.
 Early hatched pullets will lay many eggs if given good care and feeding, especially if they are from a trusted laying strain. The "know how" must be bred into them, then good feeding and feed will bring them out.
 Just what is generally meant by good feed and feeding? Some people think feeding chickens is just a question of keeping them from starvation. Good feeding calls for a variety and a balanced ration.

 A good dry mash mixture, that is properly balanced, is necessary to make hens lay. The mash hoppers should be kept well supplied with a good dry mash mixture. It should be kept before them all the time. Plenty of hopper space should be provided, about 1 foot to every 10 pullets.
 The scratch grains are largely fed to add a variety and sometimes to induce exercise. As far as actual feed value is concerned, the scratch grains do not provide anything that is not found in a good dry mash mixture or commercial egg mash.
 A cheap mash, can of course, be mixed. You can take a little corn meal, wheat bran, wheat shorts, cotton seed meal and mix it, and call it a dry mash mixture. Such a mixture is a cheap mixture and it will of course, also produce cheap results.
 The important ingredients of any egg mash or dry mash mixture are meat scraps, dried buttermilk, mineral matters and vitamins. It so happens that these ingredients are also the most expensive. For that reason many, either cut these out entirely or reduce them to insufficient quantities. At least 20 per cent of any dry mash mixture should consist of animal food, like meat scraps, beef scraps or dried buttermilk. For best results and most economical production, animal food of some kind should by all means be fed.

 Milk in any form is a wonderful feed for laying pullets. At the same time milk contains too much water, to be expected to supply all of the necessary animal food. A pullet would not be able to drink enough milk, to get enough animal food solids to keep her laying heavily for any great length of time. Our recommendation is that you give them all the milk they will drink, from early morning until late at night, then if you are feeding a dry mash mixture of your own making, include at least 15 per cent of some animal protein feed. For best results, if you grow your own grains, we recommend the feeding of a home grain mixture, and a well balanced commercial egg mash, and all the milk they can drink. The milk may be given as clabber, sour, whey or as sweet skim. The main thing is to be sure to see to it that they get plenty.

 If you wish to force for egg production, then we recommend only giving one scratch grain feeding a day and that preferably about an hour before sunset. Keep the mash before them in liberal quantities.

In a future article we will discuss a system of feeding early hatched pullets, of the small breeds, like Leghorns, to keep them from going into a so-called moult. Early hatched Leghorn pullets, if forced to much for egg production will go into a neck moult and stop laying for several weeks just when eggs bring the most money.

Green food of some kind, should by all means be provided. From now on preparations may be made to provide a green oat pasture for the flock. Collards and rape also make a good Fall green food. Anything that will grow at this season of the year, may be sown as green food; on practically all farms a green oat pasture is easily provided.

Yellow corn is better than white corn, kafir or milo.
 Oyster shells are cheap, yet important. Keep a liberal supply before the flock.

More than two-thirds of the egg is water, therefore the importance of providing plenty of fresh drinking water at all times.

Late hatched pullets may be fed one feeding of wet mash a day to help hurry them along.
 Again we caution you to make sure your flock of pullets are not infested with intestinal worms.

THE SPORTSMANSHIP CODE

Many schools have adopted the Code of Sportsmanship Brotherhood, which is the result of a great deal of careful thought on the part of the men who have tried to simplify into the plainest Anglo-Saxon speech, the spirit and the letter of sportsmanship. According to this version, the code of honor of a sportsman is that:

- He keeps the rules.
- He keeps faith with his comrade, playing the game for his side.
- He keeps himself fit.
- He keeps his temper.
- He keeps his pride under in victory.
- He keeps from hitting a man when he is down.
- He keeps a stout heart in defeat, accepted in good grace.
- He keeps a sound soul and a clean mind in a healthy body.

In England they phrase the code more briefly for use on gymnasium walls and on posters and programs.

IN THE FUTURE

The Littlefield Wildcats of 1943 expect to have a good team strengthened by the fighting of Roy Lindy Bennett, who was born Friday, September 30, 1927, to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bennett. The parents are former students of Littlefield High school Roy being a star of the L. H. S. squad.

It sometimes happens that a man is kept from buying mining stock because he hasn't got the ready cash.

It doesn't matter what planet a man is born under so long as he is able to keep on the earth.

Cooking Chats with Famous Cooks

WELCOME CHANGES FOR THE BREAKFAST MENU

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles by six of the country's famous cooks.

Hot breads are always welcome, and they don't take very long to prepare. And waffles make a big hit, although they require a little more work on the part of the cook. However, it's worth it when we see the look of pure joy on the faces of the youngsters while they eat.

Berry Muffins

Raspberries, huckleberries, raspberries—any berries in season—are delicious in muffins. Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition specialist at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, gives her favorite muffin recipe.

1 cup fresh berries
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
1 egg
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
1 egg
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
1 egg

Golden Corn Muffins

Corn muffins, crisp and golden crusted, are delicious. This is how Miss Hall makes them.

1 cup cornmeal
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup melted butter
1 cup milk
1 egg
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

New Pancakes

Pancakes? Of course! Every family likes them, sour milk, and buttermilk. But have you ever tried the new recipe? Delicious. The following recipe is contributed by Miss Lucy A. Allen, principal of the Boston School of Cookery.

Mix one cup each of rye meal and bread flour, one-fourth cup of sugar, two teaspoons of cream of tartar, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of grated nutmeg.

Rice Griddle Cakes

Rice griddle cakes have made a name for themselves down south. And there's no reason why folks everywhere should not like them. Miss Rosa Michaels, New Orleans cooking expert, gives her recipe for them.

1 cup boiled rice
1 cup milk
1 cup flour
1 egg
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Hot Waffles!

And where can you find a dish more enticing than waffles, served with rich maple syrup, corn syrup, or molasses? The following recipe is also Miss Michaels'.

1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

The Quickest Way

Many women set the table the night before, and have all cooking utensils needed for breakfast laid out, to save time in the morning. This avoids much needless early morning confusion.

Oil stove users will be glad to know of a wick cleaner which fits over wicks, and removes all char and unevenness at a simple turning. Very inexpensive and saves hands.

Washer Clothes

Did you know that clothes rinsed in hard water require very little bleaching, and are whiter than when rinsed in soft water?

all of which Fellow responded promptly and willingly.

The instructions were in the following vein: "Go to the table, Fellow. Put your head on it. Put one foot and your head on it. Sit down—all the way. Now stand up."

Here Mr. Herbert arranged Fellow in a pose and told him to hold it, which he did until told to move again. The dog has posed as a model for 30 minutes at a time, his master added. He then continued his instructions as follows:

"Jump down on that side. Look out the window. Turn your head the other way. Go over to the lady in the corner. Put your head in her lap. Now, suppose you go to the front door. No, never mind (after Fellow had started). Stand up against the wall instead. Now go on outside and wait for me."

Mr. Herbert then told Fellow to not let anyone approach a certain lady sitting in the corner. The dog followed his instructions so implicitly that he would not let his own master come near.

"He will bite me to protect anyone I tell him to," Mr. Herbert explained. "He has been taught to follow instructions to the letter and he does it regardless of consequences."

Professors' Opinion
That Fellow understands words in the human sense was doubted by Professor Warden and Dr. Lucien N. Warner, in charge of the animal psychology laboratories at Columbia and New York universities, respectively, who had examined the dog previously.

"Animals may obey commands as sounds rather than words," they explained. Personally we are of the opinion that the dog has learned to associate certain sounds, rather than words in the human sense, with the proper objects and commands. However, the large number of associations mark the dog as extraordinary."

"With dogs as with children," said Mr. Herbert, "the first lesson to have them learn is to love their teacher. I never said anything to Fellow without a purpose and never punished him or rewarded him except by saying 'what a shame' or 'good dog.'"

Fellow's audience appeared more than willing to stay all day.

Mr. Herbert says he has refused an offer of $350,000 for Fellow.

THIS TAG PROTECTS YOUR PURCHASE

You can be absolutely certain of the quality of any reconditioned used car you buy from us—for when we recondition a car, we do the job thoroughly!

All work is done by our own expert mechanics, and is subject to the regular factory tests and inspections. Some reports are used for all replacements.
