

200 Flyers Visit This City Sunday

One hundred and forty flyers landed at the Duggan Field Sunday morning in planes from a number of cities over the North and South Plains, and Eastern New Mexico, and enjoyed a breakfast at the Legion Hut, sponsored by the National Aeronautic Association. Including the local flyers, a total of 210 enjoyed the breakfast.

Sixty-eight planes carried the visitors to Littlefield. Flyers were present from Plainview, Amarillo, Lubbock, Floydada, Muleshoe, Clovis, Lovington, N.M., Pampa, etc.

Following the breakfast, a musical, with Ward Brothers playing the violin, guitar, mandolin, etc., was enjoyed.

Four prizes were awarded. Ed Yarbrough of Lubbock received an airplane radio; a pair of nylon hose was given to the lady pilot coming the greatest distance—Mrs. E. A. Elkin, of Lovington, N.M.; a pair of airplane glasses to the oldest licensed pilot was presented to Dr. D. D. Cross of Lubbock; and a cap was awarded to the youngest licensed pilot, Clyde Schneider, of Plainview.

In an interview with Jim McGuire, one of the operators of the McGuire-Miller Flying Service at Duggan Field, he stated that they hope to have the GI school going soon.

He reports that a number of ladies are taking flying lessons at the field, whom he hopes to have soloing within a week.

Murphy Byrd of Whitharral, who started recently taking lessons from McGuire and after having eight hours of instruction, is now flying around in the air like a bird in an Aronica Champion plane.

Football Game Is Set For Sept. 19

Coach J. S. Fikes has booked a game for his Littlefield Wildcats for Thursday night, September 19, on the home gridiron.

This will be the first game of the 1946 season for the Cats, and is a non-conference contest.

The first game for the Cats was planned originally for Friday night, September 13, with Dimmitt, but there was a misunderstanding, and Dimmitt booked another game for that night.

The game for Thursday night, September 19, has been booked with the Lubbock High "B" team. Coach Keyes of the Weserners has promised to bring over a good team.

Coach Fikes regrets that it was necessary to book the first game for the Cats on the night of the initial performance of the Littlefield Rodeo, but this was unavoidable, as he could not arrange a game for any other night in carrying out the Cats' schedule.

Postmaster and Mrs. W. D. T. Storey are leaving Friday for the National Postmasters' Convention at Miami, Fla., which will be in progress Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 11, 12, 13 and 14.

About 2500 People Attend Parade Tuesday Night

Miss Griffin Placed Second, Miss Smith Third in Contests

Miss Dorothy Perry is "Miss Littlefield" for the rodeo to be staged here September 19, 20 and 21, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Perry placed first in the contests staged Tuesday evening at the rodeo grounds. She represented Pope's Cafe.

Miss Ruth Griffin, representing the W-W Electric, placed second, and Miss Yvonne Smith, representing the James & McKnight Service Station, placed third.

About 2500 people attended the pre-rodeo event Tuesday night at the rodeo grounds east of town, at which "Miss Littlefield" was chosen, and at which several special attractions were featured. The affair was pronounced an outstanding success.

The queen was chosen on horsemanship, 50 points; on attire, 35 points; and "riffin", 15 points.

Others entering the contest, and the firms they represented, were:

Miss Joni Pearl Flowers, Little-Rutherford Department Store; Miss Virginia Harlan, Nelson's Hardware; Mrs. Odessa Rucker, DeLano Cafe; Mrs. Bettye Kate Smith, D. W. Holladay Holsom Bread; Miss Erlene Smalley, Yantis News Stand; Miss Syble White, Reeves Service Station; Miss Wanda Armstrong, Armstrong Plumbing & Electric; and Miss Jane Pointer, of Spade.

City Commissioner L. Campbell, who operates the Oliver Farm Machinery & Equipment Co., furnished plenty of hilarity with his entry in the evening's entertainment. Jimmie Zed Robinson, all dressed up as "Susie Somebody-or-Other", and mounted on a donkey, whenever he could stay on, made a first-class clown. Lon, in his effort in the rodeo queen contest, took "fourth place."

Representatives from the PTA, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Women's Study Club and Senior Chamber of Commerce acted as judges.

"Miss Littlefield" was presented with a good-luck horseshoe made of flowers by the Chisholm's Floral.

Each of the contestants who entered will also be presented with a pair of nylon hose by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Among the special features at the rodeo grounds Tuesday night were: calf roping, matched roping and bronc riding.

In the calf roping, the only one who roped his calf was Limey Thomas, in 20 seconds.

Others taking part in the calf roping were: Slim Cook, Rusty Gage, Lewis Fields, Leon Jones, Bob Claunch, Nowell Wood, Donald Lykes, Scrub Warren, Ray Smith, Hollis Smith, Craig Darden, Jimmy McMann and Jack Anders.

In the matched roping, Leon Jones and Limey Thomas tied three calves each. Leon roped his first calf in 16 9/10 seconds; his second in 16 1/2 seconds, and his third calf in 18 3/4 seconds.

Thomas roped his first calf in 31 2/10 seconds; his second calf in 47 seconds, and no time was recorded for the third calf.

Jack Foust and Henry Tyler (colored) took part in the bronc riding, and were presented with a donation from the crowd.

Invitations have been extended to the surrounding cities to enter a representative in the contest for the Grand Queen of the Littlefield Rodeo, and the City of Sudan, Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, Levelland Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Muleshoe, have all indicated that they will send representatives to enter the contest, which will take place Thursday, Sept. 19.

Cannibal Plant in the United States!

THIS remarkable photo shows one of the strangest botanical specimens—a meat-eating plant which catches insects by snapping its leaves upon them! Called the Venus flytrap, the plant lures insects by a sweet nectar, according to the August Science Illustrated, and then snaps its leaves shut in a quarter-second when the fly touches the delicate trigger hairs. Note leaf on right which is shut. The fly inside will be digested in about ten days. The plant is not found in Africa—but in the Carolinas!

Information For Veterans

Q. I signed a statement before my discharge that my disability existed prior to my enlistment. Does this bar me from receiving a pension?

A. No. Under Title I, Section 105, Public Law 346, 78th Congress, any statement of this nature which you may have made at discharge is considered null and void.

Q. Are insurance benefits received by the parent considered as income?

A. In determining dependency, amounts received by the mother or father from any insurance under the War Risk Insurance Act, or the World War Veterans Act of 1924 as amended, or the National Service Life Insurance Act as amended will be disregarded.

Q. Under what circumstances are parents considered dependent?

A. Dependency will be held to exist if the parents do not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and members of their family under legal age or otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical incapacity.

Q. I am in receipt of peacetime benefits for disability incurred prior to December 7, 1941. Why am I not entitled to wartime benefits for this period?

A. Since the World War II did not start until December 7, 1941, veterans with disabilities incurred in service prior to that time are not entitled to wartime benefits unless their service falls under the provisions of Public 359, 77th Congress, which provides that wartime rates would be authorized if the disability was the direct result of armed conflict or was received while the veteran was engaged in extra hazardous service, including such service under conditions simulating war.

Q. Is a veteran who has been granted compensation entitled to an increase in the severity of his disability?

A. Yes. The rate of increase in compensation depends upon the increase in disability.

He was a Master Mason, and the Masonic lodge was in charge of the funeral.

"Dad's" nearest surviving relative is A. L. Churchill of Dallas, a nephew of Mrs. Ketchum, who died in 1936. Mr. and Mrs. Churchill visited him a few days in early August—the first time he had seen them in 18 years.

"Dad" Ketchum was born in Leonidas, Mich., May 28, 1867, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lumbard A. Ketchum, both of whom died a number of years ago. He was married June 22, 1892, to Lulu E. Arnold.

He was a telegraph operator for a number of years in his earlier life in the states of Michigan and Indiana. He went to Sudan about 1925, and worked for some of the early-day land companies there for several years. Later he operated cafes for several years, but in the past few years had confined his work to representing a burial association and taking subscriptions to daily newspapers.

Cotton Gains $2 To $3 Last Week

Southwest farm products continued to find a broad demand at most markets that kept prices generally steady to strong, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Cotton gained $2 to $3 a bale last week in moderately active spot markets. Prices stood well above 36 cents a pound. Demand was strong for a wide range of grades and staple lengths.

Most Southwest egg markets reported top quality offerings firm under declining receipts and broad demand, with prices gradually working higher. Hens and fryers held steady under fair demand, but turkeys were dull and weak.

Wet fields continued to hamper fruit and vegetable movement throughout the Southwest. Most supplies already on hand met with strong demand at slightly stronger prices. However, Texas and Oklahoma watermelons brought lower prices at most consuming centers because cool weather weakened demand. Louisiana sweet potatoes gained about 10 cents a bushel at New Orleans as demand increased and haulings decreased. Colorado continued to ship peas, cauliflower, potatoes, mixed vegetables and peaches in heavy volume. Shipping point prices held steady for most offerings. New Mexico onions showed a little strength at some consuming centers but were still generally weak.

Last week saw peanuts generally at ceiling with a few prices slightly below. Rains stopped harvesting in early fields of North Texas and South Texas completed its harvesting.

Livestock producers rushed record loads of cattle and hogs to most markets early last week because of expected OPA action on ceilings and drought in some areas, but receipts dropped off during the latter part of the week when OPA indicated a boost in former ceilings and when rains broke the drought. In general, cattle prices were steady but had a tendency to drift lower last week. San Antonio and Houston reported steady prices and gains of 25 to 50 cents a hundredweight on slaughter calves and beef cows over the previous week's close. Trading remained active all week.

Southwest hog markets registered declines of $1.50 to $5 a hundredweight last week compared to the previous week's close. Top butchers were quoted at $16.50 a cwt., San Antonio and Fort Worth; $16.75 to $17, Wichita; $17 to $17.50, Oklahoma City and Denver.

Sheep, lambs and goats were steady to 75 cents a swt. higher at most markets last week. Demand was good for light receipts. San Antonio quoted good springers $14 to $14.25 a cwt. and medium and good ewes $5.75 to $7. Fort Worth moved medium and good slaughter lambs at $13.50 to $15.50 and medium and good ewes at $6 to $6.50. Wichita sold good and choice springers at $18 to $18.50 and common to good ewes $7 to $7.50. Springers closed 50 cents lower at a top of $17.50, Oklahoma City. Denver sold good and choice springers at $20.

Most grains moved considerably higher last week than the previous week's close. Rice markets were active, but trading was slow because of uncertainty of new price ceilings. Feed prices showed some evidence of weakness.

Miss Pauline Cathey and Randell Hughes Wed Sunday Afternoon

Miss Irene Byrne and Jas. E. Steffey Wed Sunday Afternoon

Miss Irene Byrne became the bride of James E. Steffey Sunday afternoon, Aug. 25, in a beautiful singlering ceremony at the Missionary Baptist Church in Ruidosa, N. M. Rev. Riley performed the ceremony.

The bride was charmingly attired in a lovely blue dress, with black accessories. Her corsage was of white tube roses.

She is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Byrne of San Angelo, Texas, formerly of Littlefield. She graduated from high school at Spade, Texas; attended CIA at Denton, and graduated from Texas Tech College in Lubbock. For the last four years she has been employed by the Shell Chemical Company of Dumas, Texas, and San Francisco, Calif.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Steffey, Sr., of Littlefield. He attended school in Littlefield and enlisted in the service in August of 1942. He served as first sergeant in the 293rd Engineers of General Patton's Third Army, being overseas for over two years.

Those who attended the wedding were Mrs. G. W. Steffey, the groom's mother, and Orville Steffey, of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Steffey of Earth; and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Steffey, of Littlefield.

The happy couple left for Carlsbad, N.M., and on to San Francisco on a honeymoon. They plan to make their home in Littlefield.

Miss Pauline Cathey of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Cathey of Welch, Texas, and Randall Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hughes, of Whitharral, were married at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in the bride's home. Bro. J. V. Davis, minister of the Church of Christ of Brownfield, officiated, with the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white wool jersey, with a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline, a full gathered skirt and three-quarter length sleeves. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. She carried a white Bible and a white linen and lace handkerchief belonging to Bettye Henley of Lubbock. For "something old" she wore a strand of pearls belonging to Miss Glona Purselly.

Miss Glona Purselly of Welch, Texas, was maid of honor. Miss Purselly wore a sky blue dressmaker dress.

Misses Taline Coor and Dorothy Jean Boyer of Welch lighted the candles.

Dale Hughes of Whitharral, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Margaret Hughes of Lubbock, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the bride's book.

The livingroom was decorated with white gladioli, banked by palms and fern. White and yellow candles in crystal candleholders were on each side.

A reception followed the ceremony. The beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was cut by the bride and groom.

Mrs. John D. Smith of Littlefield presided at the punch bowl.

The table was laid with a beautiful lace tablecloth.

The bride's mother wore a printed silk dress with lace trim. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece powder blue dress.

Those attending the wedding and reception following were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Whit Coor and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Purselly and Glona, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Haynes and Wanda, Mr. Dave Hanes, Mr. Aubrey Hanes, Mrs. C. A. Vance, Miss Dorothy Jean Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. V. Davis and family of Brownfield, Miss Eileen Davis of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hughes, Dale, Glenn and Carol Beth Hughes, of Whitharral; Miss Margaret Hughes of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Cathey and Clifton.

After a short wedding trip to various points of Colorado, the couple will be at home at 2112 - 13th St., Lubbock.

For traveling the bride wore a brick red wool crepe suit with white blouse, and white accessories.

The bride is employed as window decorator at the J. C. Penney Co., Lubbock. She is a graduate of Dawson High School, and attended Texas Tech.

The bridegroom attended Whitharral High School. He served 32 months with the Americal Division in the Pacific area and in Japan.

Lets Contract For Estimate on Paving Planned

At a meeting of the City Commission held Wednesday morning, a contract was let to Engineers Harrison and Martin of Sudan to make a preliminary estimate on paving probably to be carried out by the city in 1947.

According to City Secretary W. G. Street, the government will loan money for the expense of this engineering, and if the paving is built, the city reimburses the government for the money so advanced. If the paving is not carried out, the city need not repay the money.

Engineers Harrison and Martin have been doing some work for Lamb County and the city of Sudan.

INFORMATION FOR DEPENDENTS WHO PLAN TRAVELING OVERSEAS

Inasmuch as there are large numbers of wives and dependents joining their husbands overseas, the following information from the American Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis and handed the Leader by Mrs. L. M. Brandon, secretary of Lamb County Chapter for publication, is timely and necessary:

Dependents are permitted to join military personnel and War Department civilian employees in the Bahamas, the Panama Canal Zone, islands of the Antilles, Brail, Newfoundland, Alaska, Aleutian Islands, Hawaii, the Marianas, Ascension Island, Greenland, Europe, Philippines, Japan, Korea, Ryukyus, Okinawa, and China.

Applications of servicemen for their dependents to join them in overseas theaters will be based on the following priority:

1. A single priority list will be established for dependents of military personnel and for dependents of War Department civilian employees without regard to the rank, grade, or rating of the personnel concerned.

2. Only such personnel as volunteer or are scheduled to remain at their overseas stations for a period of at least one year from date of arrival of dependents will be included on priority list.

3. Relative priority will be based on longest cumulative overseas service since December 7, 1941.

This will supersede priority system in which individuals are given a priority based on an agreement to remain in the theater for a period of (a) two years and (b) one year or longer at a date determined by the theater commander.

Dependents are advised not to write to the War Department requesting transportation to overseas theaters. In all cases, the soldier overseas will be informed when he may apply for such transportation by the theater commander, who alone will act upon those applications within the priority system established by the War Department.

In occupied Europe each family group will be housed in a living unit appropriate for the number of dependents involved. All will be located in areas adjacent to the military posts to which the applicants are assigned. Recreational facilities will be provided and medical care and hospitalization will be furnished. The facilities of Army commissaries and the Army Exchange Service will be available.

The appropriate Army area will designate a post, camp, or station to assist dependents in arranging travel by rail between home and port of embarkation. If travel by air or privately-owned automobile is contemplated, necessary arrangements will be made by the dependent.

All personal baggage will accompany the individual to the port of embarkation and to avoid unnecessary repacking after arrival in port baggage should be segregated into the following two categories:

Cabin Baggage
Two pieces of standard luggage (suitcase or handbags) per person. Articles considered necessary during the voyage should be packed in the hand baggage as such baggage will be placed in individual's stateroom at time of boarding ship.

Hold Baggage
Trunks, lockers, boxes, footlockers, or any other luggage or container which is in addition to the two pieces of cabin baggage mentioned above. The "Hold Baggage" will not be available to dependents during the voyage.

The total weight of Hold Baggage will not exceed the authorized total limit of 350 pounds for each adult and 175 pounds for each dependent under 12 years of age. Personal baggage allowances are considered a part of the total household allowance and calculations should be made accordingly. In this connection, it is emphasized that the personal allowance and hand baggage should include linens, tableware and silverware, and outer clothing of both summer and winter types.

Army officials in Europe advise dependents to bring a full year's supply of summer and winter clothing. The climate in Bremen and Berlin produces severe winters, but in the United States occupied zone proper, the year-round climate is similar to that of Pennsylvania. The winters are cold but not severe and it does not become extremely hot in summer.

Women and children who are leaving to join their husbands and fathers in Europe are warned that living standards there cannot at the present time equal those in the United States. In some cases, it is probable that dependents necessarily will have to live under unattractive conditions from the standpoint of comfort and convenience. However, all basic essential requirements will be furnished and the health and safety of dependents will be carefully safeguarded.

American housewives may have to accept substitutes for what they have come to consider as household necessities. One item which promises to be particularly troublesome is the matter of electric appliances. Refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, toasters, irons, and other appliances brought by dependents from the United States have been manufactured to operate on 110 volt, 60 cycle electric current. Most of the military communities in Germany have 220 volt, 50 cycle electric current and, in a few cases, direct rather than alternating current is the only available power. If dependents obtain electric transformers designed to change 220 volt current to 110 volt current and powerful enough to operate the largest electric appliance they bring, the problem will not be so difficult. In any event, the Army strongly recommends that dependents hold to an absolute minimum the number and type of electric appliances they take with them.

Travel for recreation to points outside the U. S. Zone of Occupation will be extremely limited because of the difficulty in obtaining gasoline and because of the priority given for official travel on the few available trains. Hotel accommodations in both Germany and liberated countries are difficult to obtain and procurement of food from civilian sources is prohibited.

According to reports from the European theater, the military communities are being designed to include churches, hospitals, libraries, Army commissaries and post exchanges, and other facilities for dependents until such time as china, silver, glassware, and kitchen utensils are available, or until the arrival of household goods of the dependents. Essential furniture, such as beds, tables, and dining room chairs can be supplied upon arrival of dependents. Most of the Army operated stores, shops, and other installations will be concentrated in one area and will be within walking distance of the quarters. In most communities, transportation by bus or street car will be in operation.

Every effort will be made to make the sea journey to Europe a swift and comfortable one, according to Transportation Corps officials. However, dependents of military personnel and War Department civilian employees were warned not to expect "luxury liner" accommodations, since all vessels assigned to this program served as troopships during the war. Due to lack of time, only minor conversion work has been accomplished to make suitable for transporting women and children. Ships to be used are those which are presently engaged in carrying "war brides" to the United States, and will continue in this work on United States bound trips.

Trains operating out of Bremen will have diners, and an Army nurse and a hostess will be assigned to each train to assist mothers in caring for children. Facilities for warming milk bottles will be available. Sleeping cars will be provided for all overnight trips, such as those to Berlin and Frankfurt.

Dependents destined for countries other than Germany will not embark at Bremerhaven. Since there will be comparatively few going to liberated countries special trains cannot be provided, but the Army will supervise their travels.

All dependents bound for the European Theater will be processed at Fort Hamilton, an installation of the Transportation Corps' New Port of Embarkation. In most instances, baggage will be carried on the same transports which carries the dependents, and should be delivered to all military communities within two weeks after arrival at Bremen. Household goods probably will not reach final destination in Germany for several months after crating in the United States. It is likely that automobiles will reach Europe in a month or two.

Aboard ship, whatever the destination may be, the only charges for the dependents of officers and men of all grades will be for meals. The rates will be $1.50 a day for adults, 75 cents a day for children from three to eight years of age, and 25 cents a day for children less than three years of age.

Personally-owned automobiles may be shipped to all overseas theaters on Army transports at no expense to the individual provided surplus space is available. Tentative shipping schedules indicate, however, that space will be at a premium and that few automobiles will be carried.

Military personnel whose dependents join them overseas will be furnished quarters for their dependents and will therefore not be entitled to any rental allowance or monetary allowance in lieu of quarters.

The pending legislation also would authorize transportation at government expense of all dependents of all grades and ranks from their homes to their overseas destinations. As the law now stands, the dependents of the lower four grades will have to pay their own way to the port of embarkation while dependents of officers and enlisted men of the first three grades will be carried to the port at government expense. At present, officers and enlisted men of the first four grades may have their household goods transported overseas at government expense.

Dogs, cats, and similar animals may not be taken aboard transports. Movements of pets to overseas theaters requires concurrence of the theater commander. No pets may be shipped to Japan or Korea.

Family Allowances
Dependents of enlisted men moving overseas to join their husbands in the occupied area of Japan and Germany will continue to draw family allowances, which will be paid to them at their address in those countries.

Because the circulation of U. S. Treasury checks is not authorized in these two remaining blocked countries, the following plan of payment has been devised:

The ODB will dispatch each month to the theater fiscal director newly devised payment authorizations for the dependents of all enlisted men in Germany and Japan who have joined their husbands in those countries.

These "payment authorizations" will be distributed by the fiscal directors to the disbursing officer nearest the present residence of the enlisted man's dependents. The dependents of enlisted men will report to the local finance officer, sign a receipt on a "payment authorization," and their family allowances will be paid to them in cash.

Officers and enlisted men having Class E allotments during the month in which their dependents join them in Germany and Japan. When officers' dependents join them there will be no occasion for the Class E allotment, and as enlisted men will be required to occupy government quarters, Class E allotments will not be authorized for the support of their dependents. This cancellation of Class E allotments will not affect allotments in effect for other dependents remaining in the United States or for deposit in banks, or similar purposes.

Mailing Fair Catalog

LUBBOCK, Sept. 4.—Copies of the catalog and the premium list for the 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair will be mailed some time this week, officials of the Fair association have announced.

The catalog goes to all who exhibited in the last Fair in 1941, the newspaper editors, county agents, superintendents and judges for the Fair, vocational agriculture teachers, home demonstration agents, home demonstration club presidents and chairmen, and chamber of commerce secretaries.

Extra copies of the catalog are available in the office of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

The Fair this year will be held at the fairgrounds, as usual. Dates are October 7-12.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Eerg and daughter, Marcia Jean, returned home Saturday after spending a week in Denver visiting relatives. They were accompanied to Littlefield by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Korklin, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Berg, who returned to Denver with Joe Replin Tuesday. Mr. Joe Replin has been taking care of the Replin dry goods store in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Berg. Mrs. Korklin was formerly Miss Lucille Replin.

AIRPORT NEWS

By GLORIA CROW

The skies over Littlefield were real-buzzing Sunday when some 60 airplanes of all makes, colors and sizes flew into Duggan Field for the pilots' breakfast.

School buses took the crowd to the American Legion hall, where ham and eggs and all the trimmings were enjoyed by about 175 people.

When everyone had eaten, Wade later introduced Major Art Chesher, who welcomed the group to Littlefield. Each person present then introduced himself and told where he was from. Almost all surrounding areas were represented.

Prizes were awarded to Dr. D. D. Lubbock, age 50, who was the oldest licensed pilot present; E. A. Elkin of Lovington, N.M., the youngest pilot present; and Ed Yarragh of Lubbock who came the greatest distance to attend. Ed Yarragh of Lubbock also was awarded prize—an airplane radio.

Everyone complimented the Littlefield chapter of N.A.A. on the splendid breakfast, said to be the best yet, and the chapter wishes to thank all those who had a part in making it a success.

Littlefield ladies are taking to the four new women students have been flight training under Jim Mc... They are: Mrs. Hugh Rice, Mrs. Gloria Crow, Treva Jennings and Erna Mae Hill.

Hirohito's White Horse To Be in Legion Parade

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Hirohito's famous white horse will be in the big victory parade of the 28th national convention of the American Legion here, Oct. 1. The 18-year-old stallion, named Hatsushimo, will be brought here for the grand American Legion procession by Richard Ryan of Oceanside, Cal., present owner of the horse. Ryan had an extraordinary experience in acquiring ownership of "Hatsushimo" in Tokyo while serving as first lieutenant with the First U. S. Cavalry there. The horse was brought to America recently by Ryan on the transport Golden Eagle. Ryan had an imposing list of authenticating credentials testifying that Hatsushimo is straight from the emperor's Tokyo stables and had been the Mikado's favorite ceremonial steed.

McGuire-Miller Flying Service can now look back on a month and a half of operation with a great deal accomplished. Your continued interest and cooperation will be sincerely appreciated.

Return From WOW Encampment

Members of Company L, 112th Regiment, of Littlefield Camp No. 3781, of the Woodmen of the World, returned Saturday from a week's encampment at Catalena Lake, Couchdale, near Hot Springs, Ark. Allan McDonough is captain of this group, and W. D. Chapman is district manager. They report a very enjoyable time.

The local camp has the distinction of being the only group this side of Fort Worth attending, which would indicate that the Littlefield Woodmen are a progressive group.

Those attending from here were: Vincent Boring, Granville Perkins, E. N. Kyzer, Eddie Davis, Bud Young, K. J. Montgomery, W. I. Banks, Floyd Brown, H. C. Sisson, Billie Sisson, A. J. Sisson, J. P. Bean, J. D. Dodgen, L. D. Stanaford, John Sisson, Woodrow Altman, Mr. Williams, Troy Howton, W. D. Chapman and Allan McDonough.

The Littlefield group placed second in "floor" degree work. Also a member of the local group, Woodrow Altman, won first place in high jumping, receiving a $15 Parker fountain pen. The local members also took part in a softball tournament, and won against Monroe, 8 to 0, and against Winnsboro, La., 14 to 1. They met Dallas in the play-off, and were beaten, 8 to 1.

En route home, Mr. Chapman attended a WOW banquet at the Lehigh Hotel, Dallas.

Heavy Rains Fall Over Plains Sunday

Heavy rains again fell over the South Plains area Sunday night. The precipitation in Littlefield measured 1.36 inches, according to the gauge at the West Texas Cotton Oil Mill.

The rain is reported to be general over the area, and it is said to have ranged from 1 inch to 2 1/2 inches.

Dimmitt, Olten and Earth reported about 1 1/2 inches; north of Spade, 2 1/2 inches; Bull Lake, a big rain; Amherst, 1 inch; south of Amherst, 2 inches; Sudan, only a shower; Lum's Chapel, heavy rain; and south and east of Littlefield, good moisture.

shoes will go up 21 cents for the closed toe model and 10 to 12 cents for the sandal-type shoe. Shoes containing only a small amount of kid will cost about one to seven cents more per pair.

Kidskin and goatskin shoes account for about 10 per cent of total shoe production. OPA said Tuesday's action will increase the nation's total shoe bill by one per cent.

OPA also authorized a seven cent increase on shoes made with non-marking synthetic rubber soles and heels. This boost also covers higher costs to manufacturers.

Meanwhile, the agency announced an incentive price plan designed to increase the amount of low-cost wool clothing on the market. It granted a 10 per cent price boost to wool fabric manufacturers who make the same type of materials which they turned out in June, 1942.

OPA said the action would not increase the nation's clothing bill.

High Temperature For Past Week 91

Littlefield's high temperature for the week was 91, the thermometer recording this reading Sunday last.

Other temperatures for the past week were: Thursday, low 61, high 70; Friday, low 58, and high 77; Saturday, low 63 and high 82; Sunday, low 64 and high 91; Monday, low 65 and high 86; Tuesday, low 66 and high 88; and Wednesday, low 67 and high 90.

James Fish of Matador, student at the Southwestern Medical University, Dallas, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lyman, as the guest of Ben Lyman.

Certain Shoes To Get Price Hike

OPA told the public Tuesday to look for a four to five per cent increase in the retail price of shoes made from kidskin or goat leather.

It said the boost would result from an increase granted shoe manufacturers to cover higher costs for kid and goat leathers.

Men's all-kid or all-goat shoes now retailing at $5.95 will sell for about $6.25 as a result of this action.

OPA Takes Ceilings Off Fresh Fruits

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson took price ceilings off a long list of fresh, canned and frozen fruits and vegetables Saturday, at least for the month of September.

Beyond that, Anderson recommended in effect that the decontrol be put back on poultry and eggs or tobacco and its products.

He kept hands off the issue of whether dairy products should be put back under curbs, reporting merely that there are not enough of them to go around.

He took brandy out from under ceilings.

And he sent OPA thumping through lists of thousands of processed items and by-products to see which of them also come out from under ceilings. Such an item, in order to be held under ceilings, must contain at least 20 per cent of a product which itself is subject to control.

All this the agriculture secretary accomplished without directly affirmative action. All he did was put out the department's first monthly list of "agricultural commodities in short supply" as required by the new price control law.

The law itself did the rest by its requirement that ceilings automatically come off any farm item which does not appear on that list.

The "short supply" list included, among many other commodities, hogs and cattle, milk and butterfat, most fats and oils, jams and jellies, and fish. That listing made them eligible for controls.

These items appeared on the ceiling-free list:

Fresh lemons, grapefruit, peaches, apples and tangerines.

Fresh snap beans, cantaloupes, carrots, lettuce, onions, spinach, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Canned peas, lima beans, asparagus and mixed vegetables.

Frozen lima beans, corn, green peas and asparagus.

Canned apricots, plums and prunes.

Frozen fruits.

Dried apples, and other products, except canned apples, apple butter and apple sauce.

Cranberries, concord grape products, hay, tobacco, wool edible tree nuts, hops, popcorn, broom corn, gum rosin, beeswax, peppermint and spearmint oil, peanuts and peanut products, except oil and meal.

OPA officials said tobacco, poultry and eggs still might go back under ceilings.

Dairy products, from which Congress also lifted price controls, were left ceiling-free after decontrol board hearings. But Anderson included milk and butterfat in the "short supply" list.

Montana is aptly named, as the word means "mountainous."

There's Money In West Texas

Nearly Million Dollars Involved in One Cattle Deal

Sam C. Arnett, lifelong West Texas rancher, but of late years president of the Citizens National Bank, Lubbock, with Tobe Foster, oil man and cattle dealer, announced the purchase of 13,000 head of cattle on a ranch near Tucuman, N.M., consideration near one million dollars.

Arnett, reared near Colorado City, assumed charge of the Ellwood ranch near Meadow in 1903, later becoming a partner with Ellwood in the ranch of several sections, on which he lived till moving to Lubbock in 1918, when they sold out the land and cattle.

Last Rites Held For Joe Hasty

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Church, Martha, Okla., for Joe Hasty, 53, of Long Beach, Cal., brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Same Cearley, of Earth.

Rev. Mr. Wiley, pastor, conducted the service at the church, and interment took place in Blair, Okla., cemetery, with Rev. Mr. Wiley officiating, assisted by the Baptist pastor of that place.

Mr. Hasty had been visiting in the Cearley home for seven days previous to his death. He owned a farm at Earth and was on a deal for an adjoining farm when he passed away.

He had not been in good health, and was found dead in bed Monday, August 26, by one of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Cearley.

Mrs. Cearley had gone to the Jaquess Laundry in Earth to do her laundry, and on her return home was met by one of her children who told her that "Uncle Joe was still asleep and looked blue." On investigation it was found that he had passed away.

Death was caused from a heart attack.

Mrs. Cearley and Mrs. Hasty are sisters.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three brothers and a sister. The brothers are Earl, of Jackson County, Oklahoma, and two brothers in Georgia. The sister is Mrs. Paul Walker, of Woodward, Okla.

Mr. Hasty had been employed for some time in the shipyards at Long Beach, Cal.

Mrs. Hasty was notified of her husband's death and came to Texas immediately by plane.

Those attending the funeral services from Earth were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cearley and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doughty and two daughters. They returned to Earth Friday night.

Mr. Doughty is a brother of Mrs. Cearley and Mrs. Hasty.

The festival began Friday afternoon with baseball games between Needmore and Amherst and Sudan and Earth.

Drew Watkins was general chairman for the celebration.

Local Boy Scouts Attend Indian Dance

A number of Littlefield Boy Scouts attended the Indian celebration, including the Indian dance, at Sudan Saturday night.

Arbie Joplin and Eugene Latimer took the boys in their cars.

To avoid accidents, basements and basement stairs should be well lighted.

NOTED FASHION ARTIST TOURING WEST TEXAS AND OTHER AREAS

MISS JESSICA DAVON

Miss Jessica Davon, president of the Arts and Fashion Guild of the Americas, is making a personal tour of West Texas, Western Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico, seeking individual manufacturers, artists and designers. It is her aim to publicize individual workmanship through the guild and thus offer new outlets for items created by the individual and small business.

The guild, a non-profit organization sponsored by leading citizens of America and Mexico, is dedicated to furthering all works of arts, crafts and business. Realizing there are many men, women and children who are adept at making things, either by hand or small machine, the guild proposes to seek out these items, display them for brokers and agents, help improve such creations, and exchange ideas between the nations both through cultural and industrial mediums.

Miss Davon has worked closely with officials of both nations in organizing the guild. She pointed out the arts and crafts of disabled veterans, manufacturing on small scale of many commodities, and creations offered by the individual, as being the basis of the guild's foundation. She proposes to work in close harmony with industrial chairmen of chambers of commerce or through city officials of each town in the region. "I believe this is a quick way to expedite small business," she said. "The guild can at least search out such items and bring them to the attention of distributors, manufacturers, artists and brokers." She is asking all persons who make or create to register with such industrial chairman or the local mayor, in order that she may make an appointment when he visits here within the next few days. An appointment does not obligate anyone, Miss Davon said. Guild officials are hopeful this research will not only be a new outlet for the small operator but will uncover new talent throughout the Southwest. Exhibits of such items will be made in the principal cities of both nations, Miss Davon assured.

It is a good safety measure to install hand-rails on all stairs.

Firearms cause 7 per cent of all fatal farm accidents.

No Open Season On Prairie Chicken

There will be no open season on prairie chicken in Texas this year.

This has been announced by Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, in commenting upon reports circulating in several West counties that all restrictions on hunting prairie chickens will be lifted on Sept. 1.

Dodgen pointed out that the 47th Legislature, in making it unlawful to hunt prairie chickens until Sept. 1, 1946, repealed all existing laws pertaining to the hunting of prairie chickens, including a law which would provide for an open season. Hence, Dodgen said, the prairie chicken on September 1 passed into the category of a game bird on which no open season is provided.

Strict Requirements For Nurse Training

It isn't easy to become a skilled nurse.

But, despite the current shortage of student nurse enrollments, there will be no relaxation of requirements for entrance in the state's 37 accredited schools of nursing, according to Miss Lucy Harris of Fort Worth, president of the Texas League of Nursing Education.

"We have instituted many changes that give our students the same advantages and recreational facilities as college and university students, but we feel it would be unfair to the girl, the profession, and the patients to whom they eventually administer to lower our entrance requirements," Miss Harris asserted.

Spearheading a drive to secure 2,000 student nurse enrollments in September, the Texas League of Nursing Education has outlined a number of basic entrance requirements.

Applicants must be at least 17 years old, of high moral character, and possess at least a high school education. Arrangements now have been completed between nursing schools and major universities so that credits in many instances are interchangeable. For example, a nursing school graduate is credited with 30 semester hours toward a Bachelor of Science degree at most of the larger universities. Also, students who have had the two-year pre-nursing course at universities prior to admission to a school of nursing may, upon completion of the three-year nursing course, be awarded the Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing from whichever school they previously attended.

Nursing schools are noted for their well-equipped lecture rooms, laboratories, and libraries, and increased dormitory facilities in recent years have greatly enhanced the college atmosphere. An attractive feature to students has been the low cost of securing such a varied higher education, plus the training preparations for a vocation that is regarded as one of the most skilled and one of the highest paid open to women.

The year following the end of the war has been one of the worst in nursing school history from the standpoint of enrollments, but league officials are hopeful that an early end of "postwar indecision" will bring students back to school in greater numbers this fall.

Texas is an Indian name meaning "friends"—as is Dakota.

T. M. Sparkman Buys Truck From Army Surplus Sale

Camp Hood was the scene of one of the most successful sales of surplus used motor vehicles yet conducted by the Fort Worth regional office of the War Assets Administration. From a list of 219 vehicles offered in a three-day sale, World War II veterans, who had the exclusive purchasing rights, claimed 211. Remaining unsold were only eight pieces of automotive equipment, including five jeeps.

T. M. Sparkman, a Littlefield veteran, was listed among the successful purchasers. He obtained a 1943 model International two- to three-ton dump truck for $1476. All sales were at fixed prices and veterans attending the sale were quickly served in accordance with their dates of certification, the oldest dated certificate holders being waited on first.

Ralph E. Griffiths Named Veterans' Training Officer

The appointment of Ralph E. Griffiths as Veterans' Administration training officer, to be stationed at Plainview, has been announced by Robert W. Sisson, manager, VA regional office at Lubbock.

Griffiths will supervise veterans taking on-the-job training in Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Swisher, Briscoe and Floyd counties.

An announcement will be made later as to where Griffiths may be contacted in Plainview.

Our Heroes Rest In Peace

Standing uncovered before a Marine Division cemetery on Iwo Jima, a U. S. Marine gazes reverently at the neat rows of crosses that mark the final resting place of heroes. Little more than a year ago, the Third, Fourth and Fifth Marine Divisions stormed the shores of this tiny volcanic island and in the bitter engagement in Marine history, wrested it from the Japanese in a campaign that lasted 27 bloody days. Similar Marine Division cemeteries dot the Pacific wherever Marines fought.

Claims Near Million Miles In Chrysler

So far as information is available, the record for the largest number of miles ever put on a Chrysler car used by an individual for his private driving belongs to a 1926 job owned and still operated by Henry Gruene (pronounced Green), who lives in the Texas town of the same name.

Mr. Gruene bought this car in 1925 and swears that he had driven it over 900,000 miles. He says that the speedometer went through its circuit of 100,000 miles six times before it gave out, and that since then he had kept a careful daily account of his mileage.

His goal is to drive it a million miles.

The car, once a snappy roadster, is no longer the thing of beauty that it was when new, but that is the least of Mr. Gruene's worries. So long as it keeps rolling he will be satisfied.

A 1940 Chrysler sedan used as a taxicab by a Tacoma, Washington, company, is certified by its owner as having traveled over 1,000,000 miles, with a new engine at 528,000 miles. It is still in service day and night.

One thing can be said for the road hog. He meets you more than halfway.

There are no two generals in the country more famous than General Motors and General Electric.

Marines Celebrate Second Jap Landing

When the Japanese capitulated, thus ending World War II, the U. S. Marines, who were scheduled to spearhead the assault on the enemy's home island, participated in the occupation of Japan, thus making their second visit to Nippon within the century.

Leatherneck veterans of the Fourth Marine Regiment (upper right) are shown occupying the Japanese Naval Base at Yokosuka, on 30 August 1945.

The earlier landing of the U. S. Marines on Japan took place in 1853, when Commodore Matthew C. Perry, accompanied by a detachment of Marines from the ships of his squadron, under the command of Major Jacob Zellin, who was later appointed commandant of the Marine Corps by President Abraham Lincoln, visited Japanese officials.

The landing was made at Uruga and Major Zellin had the distinction of being the second American to set foot on Japanese soil.

The lithograph (lower left) depicting this landing was copied from an historic volume published in 1857

Paul Jensen Leaves For Denmark

Paul Jensen, plant superintendent for the Wayne Milk Company, and South Plains Creamery, left Wednesday of last week for Copenhagen, Denmark, to visit his father, and to take a post graduate course in dairy manufacturing. He plans to spend two months in Denmark.

Mr. Jensen has been connected with the companies here for the past four years. He left by plane from Amarillo, after receiving leave of absence from the creamery for two months.

We were a firm believer in signs until we read one that said "Drink Canada Dry." That's impossible!

State to Provide Special Drug Service to Veterans

The Veterans' Administration has signed a contract with the Texas State Pharmaceutical Association to provide "home-town" prescription service to veterans with service-connected disabilities, the VA announced this week.

Under the contract, authorized druggists will submit their bills to the state association, which in turn will be reimbursed by the Veterans' Administration, Dr. Oza J. La Barge, chief medical officer, West Texas VA regional office, Lubbock, said.

Dr. La Barge said the VA has been furnished, by the state association, with a list of local pharmacists authorized to fill prescriptions for veterans. Designated physician are, in turn, being sent a list of the authorized pharmacists. The service is available only to veterans with service-connected disabilities, he emphasized.

The program is designed to reduce the reported delays which arose when all prescriptions from fee-basis physicians had to be mailed to the nearest VA office and then sent to the veterans by mail, Dr. La Barge said.

Under the new project, eligible veterans simply take the prescription to their neighborhood drug store and the Veterans' Administration pays the bill.

Will Aid Veterans In Purchasing Surplus Property

So successful have been the field certifying visits made by representatives of the Fort Worth regional office of the War Assets Administration during the past two months that plans announced this week call for two more visits to Lubbock during the month of September.

Carlos W. Holcombe, veterans' certifying officer, and James L. Adkins, veterans' information officer, will be the field representatives to be in Lubbock Thursday and Friday, September 5 and 6, to aid veterans of World War II in obtaining necessary certification through the War Assets Administration.

Melvin M. Calvin, also veterans' certifying officer, and Howard Knightstep, veterans' information officer, will comprise the team for the next visit to Lubbock, on Thursday and Friday, September 13 and 20. Headquarters for each visit will be maintained at the American Legion Hall, 910 Texas Avenue, in Lubbock. Detailed information on items recently added to the "set aside" list for sale exclusively to veterans, and other up-to-the-minute information on surplus property can be obtained from the WAA representatives on the occasion of these scheduled visits.

Mrs. Erwin has been ill and has a patient in the South Plains Hospital, Amherst, for a week and until Tuesday, when she was released. She is much improved.

Rev. Ray, who has been living at Phoenix for the past two years, stated that he has seen a church organized each month that he has lived there. He is most enthusiastic about his work in Arizona stating that there are a number of Texans settled in that part of the country.

Wonder how much of the "take-home" pay that the strikers struck for ever reached home?

FARM MACHINERY TO BE TRIPLED IN VALUE IN 12 YEARS

Texas' cotton producers are expected to more than triple the current $44,499,000 value of their farm machinery in the next 12 years and thus play a major role in the South's vigorous farm mechanization drive, one of the nation's leading bearing manufacturers has reported.

C. W. Moore, market analyst for SKF Industries, Inc., which has been studying the expanding use of ball and roller bearings in the cotton industry, said the demand for labor-saving machinery on all of the South's 1,500,000 cotton farms had reached the highest point in history.

"Primarily responsible is the realization that cotton must be produced more economically to compete in domestic and world markets," he said, "but the demand has been strengthened considerably by shortages of both farm labor and machinery materials."

The average value of machinery on Texas' 273,000 cotton farms is approximately $163 per farm, the SKF official said, adding that by 1956 it is expected to jump $614 per farm—the current average for the nation.

Moore asserted that steady technological advances in growing and manufacturing cotton products already are offsetting pessimistic views of the industry's future.

"Cotton is still the nation's Number one money crop," he emphasized, "and lower priced mechanical pickers, flame weeders and better ginning techniques are becoming increasingly available. Meanwhile, textile mills are keeping pace by improving spinning frames, installing anti-friction spindles and tape tension pulleys and developing yarns and fabrics of consistently higher quality."

Added stimulus is supplied by intense research into unusual new uses for the staple which already are finding wide acceptance, he said.

You won't be defying the law of gravity by staying on the level, if you wish to rise.

Contract Let On Hockley County Road Program

Contract has been let for construction of 48 miles of Hockley County's 170-mile road program, according to reports from County Judge Lincoln's office. C. E. Blakeman Contracting Company of Sundown was the low bidder.

At first bid was offered on only 20 miles, but the bid of $114,140.40, the lowest of the three offered on county roads, was such an attractive one that the judge said the commissioners' court decided to let a contract for 48 miles.

Other bids on the 20-mile contract were made by a couple of Lubbock contracting firms. J. R. Fanning's bid was $116,917, and Kerr and Middleton's offer was $126,382.

Blakeman is making a sub-contract to Fanning for about half the 48-mile total.

Both companies are scheduled to begin work on these projects immediately, and machinery is being assembled in the county.

With immediate beginning of work, Judge Lincoln added that the entire 48 miles of road construction should be topped before cold weather begins.

One company, he said, will begin a five-mile project near Smyer, leading south off Highway 290. The other contracting firm will begin work at Sundown on one of the two projects—either an eleven block all-weather job at the school, or two-mile project near the Texas-New Mexico Pipeline office.

Construction on the 48 miles of road will be at least five inches of caliche base, 20 feet wide, plus heavy double asphalt topping 18 feet in width.

Jim Bridges, Supt. Of Anton Schools; D. Dennis Resigns

The board of trustees of the Anton public schools met Tuesday night, Aug. 27, to accept the resignation of Supt. Orient Dennis, and to elect his successor. Before the session had adjourned, Mr. Dennis passed out of the Anton school system and a new man had been selected to take his place.

The new superintendent of the Anton schools Jim Bridges, who has been teaching vocational agriculture during the last year. Therefore the duties of the position will not be new to him; neither are the duties of superintendent new to him, as he has had several years' experience in that field. He is a graduate of Texas A. and M., with B.S. degree; graduate of Texas Christian University, with a Master of Arts degree in public school administration.

Superintendent Dennis is going to Whiteface, where he and Mrs. Dennis have accepted places in the new and modern Whiteface school. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis have a host of friends in Anton, and the Anton schools have made good progress under his efficient supervision.

Veterans Served By Lubbock Regional Office

West Texas veterans are now served by a Veterans' Administration regional office at Lubbock.

This West Texas VA office is most certainly located to better serve its eighty-one counties, extending from the Panhandle border on the north to the Big Bend country on the south, and from Abilene on the east to El Paso on the west.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the West Texas VA regional office, has said: "We want the veteran who lives in the farthest parts of this region to feel that this office is as much his as the veteran who is living in Lubbock. Our services go out equally to the veteran from the forks of the creek and the veteran who works in the First National Bank."

Of the eleven divisions in the VA regional office, the adjudication division is possibly of most interest to those veterans who have suffered a service-connected disability, or service-aggravated disability. It is this division that decides the amount of compensation the VA may pay to these victims of war, and it also determines a veteran's eligibility for VA hospitalization.

Within this region there are some 26,000 veterans in receipt of disability compensation from this office, and new claims are coming in at the rate of 40 daily.

The responsibility of handling this tremendous task rests on the shoulders of Benjamin O. Murph, as adjudication officer. He is a veteran of both World Wars I and II, having served in the first with the infantry and signal corps in France. He was recently separated from Army after six years' service in the last war. Here is a man, who as a result of his extensive military service, has gained a deep and sympathetic understanding of the veterans and his problems. Murph is a graduate of Texas A&M, and following World War I was manager of the Veterans' Administration sub-district office, then located at Fort Worth.

"Thousands of our young men came back from this war crippled and ill. For many of them, the injuries and disease they suffered will have a life-long effect. No other group of veterans so richly deserve the help and assistance of the entire nation; and the nation, through congress, has made provisions for them. It is the job of the Veterans' Administration to translate the will of the country into real, actual benefits to our disabled veterans," Murph asserted.

The Adjudication Division, in VA regional offices like the one in Lubbock, is divided into two major sections.

The Election's Over

One of the most heated campaigns Texas ever knew has just closed—the run-off election which began July 27, and ended August 24. The political contest was hot and the weather was hot. Both seemingly were hotter than usual.

The two contestants in the gubernatorial race fought harder than in the first primary campaign. There were fourteen candidates for governor in the first primary; the fighting narrowed to two in the run-off. Both went at it in real earnest in the second round. Friends and supporters rallied to them in all parts of the state. The biggest state with 254 counties voted heavily on August 24.

When the smoke of the battle cleared away, Beauford Jester of Corsicana was the winner. The Jester family is an old and highly respected family of the Corsicana section of the state. George T. Jester, Beauford's father, was lieutenant governor when Charles A. Culberson was governor of the state. Beauford Jester was appointed to the office of railroad commissioner by Governor Coke Stevenson in 1943; was elected to that position at the general election of 1944. He will make a Great governor of the Lone Star State, in our opinion.

His opponent, Homer Rainey, has shown an admirable spirit in his statement congratulating the winner: "Now that the people have expressed their choice, we should all lay aside our partisanship, forget our personal differences and all work together for the best interests of Texas."

In the other three run-off contests there was less interest. Personally we are glad that Allan Shivers won for lieutenant-governor. We have known Senator Shivers for several years, have observed him presiding over the Senate's deliberations. We believe he will make good in the office of lieutenant-governor. Boyce House also has many friends in Kerr County.

The winners of the run-off together with other state officials nominated at the first primary have a great opportunity before them. A heavy vote should be given them all in the November election.—Kerrville Times.

The Waitress Hits The Campus . . .

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 4. — The waitress and, of all things—the lowly dishwasher are eternal sophomores these days, treading their way through campus grounds to collegiate classes.

It all started here in Austin, Texas, where the Texas Board of Health in 1937, in a desperate effort to reduce disease-spread via public food preparation and catering, inaugurated what it termed the first "Foodhandlers School" in America. Since then, schools have been firmly established in almost every state of the union, in thousands of cities and, in almost innumerable cases, organized by private industries. Attendance by foodhandlers in many cities is mandatory by municipal ordinance.

The idea was first formulated by Lewis Dodson, then a sanitation engineer for the Texas State Board of Health, and he presented the fantastic idea to Dr. George W. Cox, director of the board. Dr. Cox, a veteran doctor and currently serving his tenth term as director for a new record grasped the possibilities immediately. The first school was organized in Austin at the University of Texas. There was no paid tuition; the textbooks were free to all "students"; and a "diploma" was tendered upon graduation.

The foodhandlers' schools immediately embraced the whole field of personnel, from bus boy to chef, and introduced protective methods. Concentration was accentuated on the dishwasher, a key figure during the war. Sanitary, single-service paper cups, for example, were introduced into the health problem, thereby eliminating the need for dishwashers, that alone materially reducing the danger of disease spread. Employees were academically taught the various types of disease which they, through their own ignorance, might unintentionally spread. Highly trained teachers were engaged, movies used, and every modern tutoring device employed to quickly but efficiently train all personnel. Even after graduation, they were cautioned to renew their education every three years. All this among a student body which, on an average, had an I.Q. equivalent to the eighth grade in public school!

The school was an overnight success. Though the legislature did not officially make it mandatory to attend, Cox cleverly conducted a public education campaign that drew almost unanimous support from the public and restaurateurs alike, and secured passage of the desired law in leading Texas cities by ordinance. He initiated the issuance of "sanitation placards" to public food caterers which are proudly displayed in the restaurants. But there are not issued unless a minimum of 80 per cent of the employees have received their "diplomas" from a foodhandlers' school. The proprietor, therefore, actually becomes a sanitation truant officer.

With the war, and the myriad problems arising as a result, the foodhandlers' school really came into its own. Dodson was loaned to the University of Michigan to set up a similar school; Cox prepared a complete blueprint on his school and was swamped with requests for it. Schools mushroomed everywhere. Even the Army borrowed the system, installing two schools in Texas camps. The USS Wisconsin adopted the Texas idea aboard ship. And in every case, new ideas and innovations were added, until numbers of universities had actually included similar courses as a selective undergraduate curriculum.

Cox points out that the school, originally created for local state needs, had more than justified its "raison d'etre". Texas is bordered by Mexico, a nation without effective sanitation control, and is famed for its many rivers—all in a tropical climate. Hence, the state is continually subject to water-borne diseases, easily carried into food (perhaps the most common method transmitting disease there) by insects of all types. This danger was heightened during the war by a culmination of other factors. Experienced kitchen and catering help became scarce; dishwashers and even dishwashing equipment became completely undependable; and broken equipment of all sort, all combined to increase the daily danger of epidemic.

It is estimated that more than 125,000 foodhandlers have graduated from among the seven permanent foodhandlers' schools established throughout the state, and two "traveling schools" for small towns. Approximately 15,000 are graduating annually. The average course is six lectures, plus a final examination.

It may seem strange to see your waitress or dishwasher on the campus these days, but their higher education has resulted in greater protection to the entire population—including yourself.

VETERANS SERVED . . .

tions, the Rating Section and the Authorization Section.

In order to see how claims for compensation are handled, let us first consider the function of the Rating Section, which is made up of Rating Boards. Each Rating Board is comprised of three members—one of whom is a doctor, one a lawyer and one an occupational specialist.

Here is a typical case of a veteran who has filed a claim (VA Form 526) for a disability compensation.

The VA will obtain all of his records from the Service Department with which he served. These records will show his physical condition at the time of his enlistment and at the time of his discharge. Also they will show his complete medical history while he was in service and a statement by the department in which he served showing the dates of his enlistment and discharge and the character of discharge.

This may be all the information necessary for the Rating Board to reach a decision as to whether or not the veteran is entitled to disability compensation; however, the veteran may send along additional information that might have a bearing on his case, such as affidavits from private physicians, members of his family and others who have a personal knowledge of his physical condition. He may be called in for a physical examination conducted by the Veterans' Administration. In which event, the VA will pay his traveling expenses.

When all obtainable evidence relative to the claim is collected, it is presented to a Rating Board which, after careful examination and due deliberation under the laws, will render a decision. The board will determine the percentage of his disability and make a "percentage rating" covering the service-connected disability according to a "schedule of ratings." It is the intent of the rating boards to give exactly the same ratings to those individuals suffering from the same disabilities to the same extent. No favoritism is shown; however, these boards base their decisions on the preponderance of the evidence and resolve all doubts in favor of the claimant.

If a veteran's claim is disallowed, he may at any time request that it be reopened for further consideration by submitting new material evidence concerning his claim.

A veteran may appear before a board while his case is under consideration. He may bring witnesses to testify as to his condition, or he may be represented by an attorney of his own choice, or by an accredited representative of veterans' organizations of his own choice.

A veteran may file a claim for a disability pension at any time, but for it to be retroactive to date of his discharge it must be filed within one year after discharge.

Next, we should consider the Authorization Section, which is made up of units. Each authorization unit is comprised of one authorization officer and four adjudicators—all of whom are lawyers.

It is the responsibility of the authorization units to assemble all the facts possible for presentation to the rating boards. After a rating decision has been rendered, the Authorization Unit will prepare an award in the case and certify it to the finance officer for payment.

The unit applies the laws and regulations applicable to the particular of compensation to which the veteran is entitled on the basis of the rating made by the rating board.

In addition to the above, authorization units handle correspondence with veterans and with the public, generally in regard to claims. They also determine questions concerning veterans' dependents.

The Adjudication Division is a system of checks and balances, governed by laws and regulations, in the hands of men with technical training who, being veterans themselves, know and appreciate the problems of all veterans.

"Whenever a claim for compensation is filed, the veteran should include every bit of information he has which would show his physical condition. When claims are received in the Lubbock VA regional office, they are automatically given a claim number, ordinarily referred to as a 'C-number.' The veteran will be advised of his 'C-number' and he should always refer to it when writing to the Veterans' Administration," Murph said.

"We of the Adjudication Division in the West Texas VA regional office take our jobs seriously in rendering the many benefits and services to our disabled veterans and their depend-
