

B. SANDERS ACCEPTS POSITION AS HEAD OF DONNA, TEX. SCHOOLS

If any of the men in this community are not satisfied with the looks they might go to New York (or even the local Beauty Parlors) and do something about it. It seems that its quite the rage these days for the men to get "worked on."

For $50 now the men (in New York) can receive six treatments that are supposed to make them look like new (or something.) Each treatment takes 40 minutes and according to reports the men are going for it in a big way.

This might be the answer for the men who are having a time holding their wives. As for our $50 we think we could use it to better advantage.

CITY LOSES ONE OF STATE'S OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS WHO IS HIGHLY REGARDED HERE

Five Applicants For Job Appear Before Board, Which Adjourns After Midnight Without Taking Vote; Careful Thought To Be Given Before Successor Is Chosen

A. B. Sanders, Superintendent of the Littlefield Independent School District tendered his resignation to the School Board Monday night and it was accepted. Mr. Sanders' resignation was made due to his accepting the superintendency of the Donna, Texas, Schools in the Rio Grande Valley.

A. B. SANDERS

Shortly after Mr. Sanders' resignation was accepted five applicants for the position applied in person and each appeared before the Board for a few minutes. The job pays $2,600 per year.

The Board adjourned at 12:20 a. m. after being in session from 9 p. m. without taking a vote as to who would be the new Superintendent. The next regular meeting of the

FARMERS WILL BENEFIT FROM COMPRESS ROAD

County And Santa Fe Cooperating On Project To Shorten Distance

Plans are underway for the building of a hard surface road leading Highway No. 7, over the rail-crossing, just east of the de-to the compress.

The project is being planned by county, and city of Littlefield, with the cooperation of the Santa Fe railway.

The land necessary for the laying of such a road is owned by the Santa Fe and the Santa Fe railroad.

In an interview with Homer Hall, one of the city commissioners, Tuesday, Mr. Hall said that the owner of the property had assured the city of the right of way.

Work is now underway by the Santa Fe in moving the railway siding east 32 feet, so that trains carrying water will not block the street, and cars will be able to go

"Highlights At School Board Meeting Monday"

A. B. Sanders, "resigned Supt." of Littlefield schools advised members of the local School Board he would make all arrangements for a fishing party in the Rio Grande Valley whenever members indicated they would come down and visit him at Donna, Texas.

The five applicants for Supt. Sanders position had to "cool their heels" quite a while before they were called before the Board of Education Monday night to present their case.

Just before they were called in one at a time, they drew lots to see in what rotation they would enter the Board room. Hemphill came first, then Rankin, Haynes, Kelly and last came Groves. All of them were "shooting" at the $2,600 job just vacated by Sanders.

A question asked by an applicant by a Board member was, "can you handle 40 teachers, 17 tough bus drivers and a tough School Board." The applicants answer was lost in the laughter that was rendered by the other Board members.

After Sanders resigned and left the room he sent back into the Board room drinks for the crowd. They were soft drinks.

Clarence Thompson, 42 year old WPA worker of Amherst was seriously injured Friday morning about 9:30 when a truck, reported to have been driven by Red Norman, and owned by Roscoe Brown, backed into him and broke his back.

Thompson was rushed to the Payne-Shotwell hospital, Littlefield, by Travis Jones Supt. of the WPA project. He was reported resting very well this morning. According to the physicians in attendance, Thompson will have to stay in bed with his back in a cast for approximately five or six weeks.

The accident took place about eight miles from Amherst toward Earth. A group of about ten men were working on the highway and

Goes To Jail For Selling Wife's Pigs, Cows, Horses

Just because you are married you can't sell horses, cows and pigs from your wife's farm.

This was brought out in Dallas this week when C. F. Jones, farmer living near Seagoville, Texas, was placed in the county jail there.

It seems that Mrs. Jones is suing her husband for a divorce and on June 12th Judge Towne Young, in the Forty-Fourth District Court, enjoined husband Jones from communicating with or threatening his wife and from disposing of any other property while the divorce suit was pending.

She managed to get big-hearted and did let her husband live on the farm near Seagoville, but he was only supposed to take care of the crops and milk the cows.

What got husband Jones in bad was due to his disposing of two horses, four cows and five pigs belonging to his wife.

It just goes to show that horses, cows and pigs will get a man in bad. Especially if they belong to your wife.

DO YOU HAVE YOUR PENSION? $1,605,672 TO BE PAID OUT

AUSTIN, Texas, July 15.—A reduction of 4,183 in the pension rolls was shown by the Old-Age Assistance Commission last week in announcing that checks for 123,675 pensioners would be issued this week on receipt of Federal funds.

Reinvestigations last month resulted in trimming the rolls from 127,858 in June to 123,675 for July, said W. A. Little, acting director. The checks will be mailed this week when the State Treasury receives $1,605,672 granted by the Federal Social Security Board to match State funds during July and August.

Young America is not so dumb. David Storey, son of Postmaster Storey recently attended the Boy Scout Jamboree at Washington, D. C. and decided to send his parents a letter.

Evidently David figured that he needed his money for other things instead of wasting it on postage stamps on his parents' mail, so when Postmaster Storey received the letter it cost him 13 cents "Postage Due." What David did with the 13 cents he "saved" is not known but no doubt it was used for a good purpose at the Jamboree.

County Fair Is Brought Up For Discussion Here

Lamb County's Fall Fair was the subject of discussion at a meeting in the City Hall Monday evening, when a representative group of local business men were present.

The cost of holding a fair, and a location for such event were also discussed, and it was decided, in the event a fair was held, that it should be located on the east side of the baseball park and that tents be rented in which to place the exhibits.

After some discussion a canvass of the business men of the city was planned to find out "if they really wanted a fair," and to what extent they would cooperate.

In an interview Tuesday with Glenn Burgess, secretary-manager of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Burgess said:

"If the business men of the city want a fair, we will go to work on the catalog, secure a good carnival, etc."

On questioning Mr. Burgess on the approximate cost of such a project, he said: "It is not a question of finances, but a matter of cooperation. If we are going to put a fair over right, it will be necessary for at least ten men or women to devote their time to working on it."

REV. RAY TO CONDUCT OUTDOOR REVIVAL

IS PASTOR OF LOCAL CHURCH 1 YEAR AUG. 15

Two Weeks Meeting To Start Aug. 1 And Continue Until Aug. 15

Rev. Willis J. Ray, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, has announced a revival meeting to be held in the local church, beginning Sunday, August 1, and continuing through Sunday, August 15.

Rev. Ray took over his duties as pastor of the First Baptist church on August 15, 1936, and is observing his first anniversary here by conducting an outdoor revival meeting.

Services will be conducted twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Rev. Ray will do the preaching, with Harry W. Minor, Jr., of Pampa leading the singing, and in charge of the young people.

The services will be held in the open on vacant lot east of the church building, with a large choir in attendance. Special music, also, is being arranged for the meeting.

The committee on arrangements is composed of Otto Jones, Lon Smith and C. O. Robbins, who will take care of the lighting, seats and music for the meeting.

According to church officials, this will be the first time in several years that the pastor has done the preaching in a revival meeting.

Rev. Ray is urging the cooperation of all in the meeting, and extends a special invitation to the public in general to attend.

In an interview with Rev. Ray he said:

"We are seeking the full cooperation of the church membership and especially of the men. Our de-

Miss Terrill has no annual flowers among her shrubs as the flowers need all the food and water they can get a good strat. The ground is kept loose in the beds with a rake as this keeps the ground from packing and helps water to go in easily.

Fill in Low Places in Yard

The low places in by by Mrs. Ben Davis with sandy soil. Mrs. Davis found that the grass did the best where the had drifted across the yard and while she removed part of the sand it was impossible to get it all. She was pleased to find that the yard could be leveled so easily by adding soil on top of the grass. Mrs. Davis is the yard demonstrator for the Rocky Ford Home Demonstration club.

Summer Care of Roses

Mrs. I. V. Fent, who lives 4 miles south of Olton, has had a steady succession of blossoms in her rose garden which is located at the south of her home. The excellent growth Mrs. Fent believes is due to the care. She has kept the ground worked around the plants and she thoroughly soaked the roses when she watered them. When the roses put out growth below the graft these were promptly cut off.

The only summer trouble with the roses has been the attacks of insects that chew the leaves. The home demonstration agent advised the use of a stomach poison as a spray. One scant ounce of white arsenic mixed with one gallon of water is a good spray of that type. Care must be taken as this is poisonous to humans and animals.

Cans Beets Out of Own Garden

"We have already canned 14 quarts of beets out of my garden beside what we have used fresh," said Betty Jo McKinnon, garden demonstrator for the Littlefield Junior club, told the home demonstration agent early in July. Betty Jo expects to have more than six hundred pounds of vegetables out of her garden. She has planted white squash, okra, beans, beets and onions. Turnips will be planted for fall. This amount is needed for her family as she is allowing 200 pounds of vegetables other than green, leafy or yellow vegetables for each member of the family. Part of these will be used fresh and the rest will be either canned or stored.

The plates were manufactured by the prison system.

Correct Watering for Shrubs

Mavis Terrill, yard demonstrator for the Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration club, has found that she can water her shrub beds more thoroughly if she keeps the beds somewhat lower than the lawn. In that way she can fill the beds with water and let it soak in and then fill it again until ground will be wet for at least four inches in depth. Thorough watering done weekly is better than a little done each day as the roots will go deep-

Amerada Oilers Of Hobbs Will Play Here Sunday

Friday Night "Red Hot" Lubbock Tip Toppers Play Here

"FAST TRAVELING" TAHOKA BALL TEAM PLAYS HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

TO BE STRONGEST TEAM IN NEW MEXICO; WILL MAKE PANTHERS STEP UP TO WIN CONTEST; CROWD EXPECTED

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. the fast traveling Amerada Oilers of Hobbs, New Mexico will show up on foot, by air or in a bus, and take on the Littlefield Panthers at the local ball park.

The local club don't like for the matter to be brought out back in the spring when baseball was just getting

NIGHT GAME SHOULD BE DRAWING CROWD AS TIP-TOPPERS PLAY FAST; WON LUBBOCK TOURNAMENT IN '36

Although off to a flying start as far as night baseball concerned members of the Littlefield baseball team are biting their finger nails and scratching their heads at the game they have tomorrow night (Friday) with Lubbock Tip-Toppers.

The local boys figured the Muleshoe boys, who last week it on the chin, as a set-back rightly so as they were defeated in the first night game 10 to 2. They don't figure the Tip-Toppers any set-up and rightly so, as they are not a set-up no matter how they do the figuring.

The game will start out under a cloudy sky which hovers over the Littlefield ball park at 8:45 p. m. The local citizens time their pipes after eating and give the ladies time to get the dishes, that is if they use any. It is understood that the local ladies have discarded their paper plates and are using paper plates this summer due to the fact that washing is involved. The time will give everyone time to get out the cat and turn the lights before adjourning to the ball game.

The Tip-Toppers won the Lubbock Invitation baseball tournament last year and are playing plenty hot these days. They are all set to come over here and knock over the Panthers who have not recently "been knocked off." They figure the Littlefield team is ripe for a trimming and they may be right. After all these winning streaks can only go on just so long.

They have a new pitcher named Murule or something, and he is supposed to be a "hot-potato" if their ever was one. It is understood that the Tip-Toppers have had him out behind a barn for the past week getting him in shape by having him throw balls over a plate and into a hat. Friday night will tell the tale as to whether his practice has done him any good.

Have New Manager From Southern League And Reports Indicate That Panthers Will Have Some Trouble

They play fast and snappy baseball in the Southern League and next Wednesday night a sample of Southern League training will be shown off right here in the Littlefield baseball park.

Tahoka, Texas will send its bang-up team to this city under the management of Steve Larkin with the thought of knocking the Panthers into a tree where Panthers are usually supposed to be.

Larkin is fresh out of the Southern League and just what sort of a manager he has cannot be told here by eye witnesses. Reports floating from the village of Tahoka indicate that medicine will be served to the Littlefield team and they will have to take it and like it. The game will start at 8:45 p. m. It is the wish of all ball fans in this region (and there are plenty of them) that lovely breezes will blow for the game which should be a scrap from the word

"play ball." Littlefield is hoping that the ride up here will put the Tahoka boys off their game so they won't get beat by too big a score. The boys here are friendly and everything, but they have pledged to Capt. Dick Ratliff they will win the game or "bust a gut trying."

If Littlefield plays like they have been doing (this is written Wednesday) they will win, but after all they might lose. That's what makes ball games interesting. The idea of the home club getting whipped and whipped good.

CROWD ENJOYS FIRST GAME UNDER LIGHTS AND COOLING BREEZES;

Night baseball games are just "duck soup" to the members of the Littlefield ball team.

They proved this last Friday night when they played their first game under lights and walked off the diamond, victorious over Muleshoe by a score of 10 to 2. A nice crowd came out to see the first encounter under the stars of baseball. Murphy Burleson continued his work with the team by slapping out two home runs. One of them when two of his playmates were on base. All three of the boys were home for three runs, which looked mighty nice on the scoreboard after the name "Littlefield."

Lamb county where they play fast

To add insult to injury Capt. Dick Ratliff also smacked one over the fence for a home run. No one was ahead of him when his timely blow took place, but the run counted just the same.

The infield and outfield of the Littlefield team played heads up baseball and only one error was chalked up on Littlefield during the evening encounter with the boys wearing "Muleshoes."

Burns pitched the first four innings for Muleshoe and then some unknown went into finish the assignment. He didn't do much better, if any.

started here this same gang from Hobbs defeated the Littlefield boys 4 to 3. They have heard about the winning streak of the Panthers and thought they would be just the boys to come over and knock off the highly touted Panthers in their own back yard.

Over at Hobbs last Sunday, the Lubbock Hubbers, after a nice buggy ride from Lubbock, went out on the Hobbs field and after 11 innings they found the game was over and they were the losers 10 to 9. It was hard to take but the Oilers had plenty on the ball and did their stuff in great shape before their home town following.

The Amerada boys knocked four Lubbock pitchers from the box in short order and generally made the afternoon very unpleasant for the Hubbers. Lefty Blanchard, star pitcher of the Hubbers was knocked silly or rather out of the box in the fifth and the Oilers just didn't have any respect for the Hubbers at all. The Oilers had a lead of 7 to 0 before the fifth inning was over. They may pull the same stunt here Sunday and knock Pitcher Hall over on the Santa Fe tracks. No team has pulled that stunt to date, but it's a novel idea and may be done Sunday.

Chick Greer, Amerada short stop knocked a home run with a man on and C. W. Walker managed to get himself a home run also. These two boys may decide to do the same thing here Sunday afternoon and if they do it's going to be bad for Littlefield.

All in all things point to a potent game here Sunday afternoon when the Oilers hit the town. When two good teams get at each others throats some one is bound to get choaked. Two good teams will meet here Sunday. Be there and see the fireworks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Key and Miss Dess Key and Byron and Sam Ed Lindley left Sunday morning for Klagetoh, Ariz. for a few days' visit with Mr. Key's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Meyers. J. D. Key and daughter, Gladys of Fresno, Calif. were to join the Littlefield group at Klagetoh.

that with that prison record on his head, he had no right to ask her to marry him."

Roy snorted. "As if that'd be after making one bit of difference to Miss Mona. She's knowed, bless her heart that Slim is innocent, same as the rest of us. Shore, an' she's a fine girl. She'd stick to the man she loved regardless. But yuh have to honor the boy for his pride, which has kept him from springing the question to her just the same." At the home ranch Slim wasted no time. He shaved and cleaned up, donning his only suit of store clothes.

Out at the north end of Jericho Valley, in company with Sam Tisdale and Abe Fornachen, Mona sat in her saddle and watched the leaders of long tides of cattle flow out across her range, headed north towards those promised lands in the Kicagoo range. As soon as Tisdale had made the agreement as to price with Slim Loyale he had sent word to his trail mates to start the herd moving. And the herd was now on its way to the new promised land.

Mona turned to Tisdale. "I feel like a robber, Mr. Tisdale, taking a quarter a head for the mere passing of those cattle. I don't see where they can possibly do that much damage."

Tisdale grinned. "Don't let that worry yuh Miss Hall. Me an' the rest of the gang are glad to get by with that price. We're quite willin' to pay it. And here comes somebody that looks as if he was in a danged hurry."

Mona whirled and followed Tisdale's pointing arm. Sure enough a rider was loping steadily towards them and Mona recognized Slim. A puncher had ridden from town to tell her of the thwarted bank holdup and the part Slim and his boys had played. But she had heard nothing of Arthur's confession, and while she had expected that Slim would ride to her when the fight was over, yet she could not help the queer feeling that came over her now at the sight of him.

Slim cantered up, giving a cheery greeting. He shook hands with Tisdale and Abe, then turned to Mona. "I got somethin' to explain to yuh, Mona," he drawled. "How about a little ride? These boys can watch the cattle."

Mona nodded. "I think so, too. You'll excuse us?"

"Go 'long, young 'uns," laughed Tisdale, who guessed how things stood between these two.

Slim rode for two miles before he reined in. Then he turned to Mona, his eyes glowing. "I've got Arthur's signed and witnessed confession that I was framer," he stated. "And that makes it fair that I should say what I'm going to say, Mona." He reached in one pocket and brought out a tiny, plush bubble of a case.

"Back in Jarillo there were times when I thought I'd go crazy. At those times there was just one thing that kept my feet on the ground, an' that thing was thinkin' of yuh. Lookin' back I can see where yuh've been my guidin' star all my life. "Unconsciously I built my scheme

She looked at him, her lips parted, her eyes glistening. A woman who would hesitate over such a foolish thing, would not be worth thinking about. Your name has always been clear with me, Slim. I'll marry you tomorrow, if you wish. I've always loved you, Slim."

There was a rather dizzy interlude, during which a diamond solitaire that Slim had purchased in town that morning was unearthed from the plush case and placed on the proper finger. "There's just one argument I've got to settle," said Slim. "Why wouldn't yuh take that money from me to pay Arthur with, honey?"

"Because I didn't want to be in debt to the map I was going to marry," replied Mona daintily.

Slim chuckled. "Plumb shore of me all the time. "I had hopes." Slim reached for her again.

Five seconds later it was all over. Joe Rooney crawled to his feet, rubbing his shoulder ruefully. "What a cannon!" he muttered. "What a cannon! Shore I felt my shoulder blades touch when that damn thing went off that time I shore musta hit something!"

"I'll say yuh did, Joe," grinned Slim. Then he leaned out of the window and yelled, "Hi, Roy! Stoney; Yuh all right? This is Slim!"

"Shore an' we're coming along, Slim, my lad. Be with yuh in a minute."

Roy and Stoney Sheard were soon in the Wild Horse, both uninjured. They looked anxiously at Dakota, who was sitting in a chair while Spud Dillon carefully cut away the bloody pants leg. Dakota grinned dryly.

"Keep yore shirts on, yuh two ole ground haws. It ain't nothin' to worry about, I could stand a little jolt of liquor, though."

"Git a bottle, Joe," puffed Spud. "Yuh other boys help yourselves. My treat."

The liquor steeled them. Stoney Sheard turned to Slim. "What say we sashay up the street a bit, Slim? I kinda think I got Brockwell when they were ridin' for a getaway. I know I hit him, an' he was beginnin' to wobble just as they went

When Women Need Cardui

If you seem to have lost some of your strength you had for your favorite activities, or for your household work . . . and care less about your meals . . . and suffer severe discomfort at certain times, . . . try Cardui!

Thousands and thousands of women say it has helped them. By increasing the appetite, improving digestion, Cardui helps you to get more nourishment. As strength returns, unnecessary functional aches, pains and nervousness just seem to go away.

outa sight past the livery stable." Slim nodded and they went up the street, picking their way past groups of excited, jabbering townspeople. Sure enough, not twenty yards beyond the northern end of the street, they found Sarg Brockwell. He was sprawled flat on his back, his face to the sky. A single look satisfied them that there was nothing they could do.

As they turned back, Slim remembered George Arthur. "We got to find that crooked lawyer, Stoney. Brockwell can't talk, but Arthur can an' will, before I get through with him. Yuh didn't see him with that crowd anywhere?"

The cowboy chuckled sardonically. "Him? Why he ain't got nerve enough to get within three miles of a gun muzzle! Yuh'll find him hollerin' up somewhere, scared into fits."

They slipped past the Wild Horse, where Roy O'Brien and Spud Dillon were taking turns at explaining to a clamoring crowd, just what it was all about. It was Stoney who spied the crack of light at the bottom of the door leading into Arthur's office.

"Looks like somebody might be in there, Slim," he drawled. "We can investigate, anyhow."

Slim tried the door, but found it locked. Pressing his ear to the portal he listened intently. From inside sounded thick, measured snores. "Sounds like somebody was sleepin' off a drunk," he muttered. "Well, we're goin' in. Give me a heave with this door."

Before the combined weight of them, the door sagged, creaked, then broke open with a crash. George Arthur was sprawled across his desk, his head pillowed on his arms. The air was foul with stale whiskey fumes.

Slim nodded with satisfaction. "Close the door an' shove that chair against it, Stoney," he directed.

He crossed to the sleeping man and shook him roughly. Arthur sighed, coughed and tried to push him away. Slim jerked him erect in the chair and slapped him stingingly on both sides of his face. Arthur's eyes opened.

"G'way," he murmured gutturally. "G'way, Lemme sleep."

Slim shook him until his heels rattled. The lawyer stared at him vacantly for a moment, his jaw hanging. Then slow recognition pierced through the liquor haze which had deadened his brain.

"Loyale," he murmured. "You—what d'you want?"

"Plenty," snapped Slim. "Get yore wits together. Yuh've got a lot of explainin' to do, Stoney, pour him another drink. It'll straighten him up for a time."

Arthur gulped the liquor greedily and wiped his lips with the back of a shaking hand. A drunken truculence took hold of him. "Get out," he growled. "Got no use for you, Loyale. I hate the sight of you. Get out of this office."

Slim shook him again, half lifting him from his seat, only to fling him back again with a crash. "I'm tellin' yuh somethin', yuh drunken rat. Listen close. Starbuck an' both Brockwells are daid. Get that? Daid!"

Arthur's head came up. "Huh?" he gasped. "Daid? You're lying."

"Don't kid yourself. Starbuck an' Leo Brockwell were killed tryin' to raid my ranch tonight. Sarg Brockwell was killed tryin' to hold up the Standard Bank, not fifteen minutes ago. But before he died, Jigger Starbuck talked. He put the tag on yuh, Arthur. Yeah, yuh got a lot of explainin' to do."

Arthur sat quietly, evidently trying to arrange his hazy thoughts. Presently he looked up. "You haven't got a thing on me—not a thing. I won't say a word."

Slim dragged up a chair and sat down, so that he could stare straight into the lawyer's bloodshot eyes. "I think yuh will," he said, a deadly chill in his voice. "Consider my side of the matter. Yuh can clear my name, give written evidence to the world at large that I was railroaded to the pen on false, perjured evidence."

"It just happens, Arthur, that I got a funny idee about honor. I don't care to face the rest of my life with a jail stain on it. An' I'm plannin' a powerful lot for some happiness in the future. So if yuh think I won't go to the edges of hell itself to get complete clearance, yo're badly mistaken."

"I made the threat that yuh'd talk an' make a complete written confession, if I had to use Apache methods to wring it outa yuh. I ain't changed my mind. We've cleaned house on this range Arthur—cleaned it plenty. We didn't stop at rockin' off the Brockwells an' Jigger Starbucks. So if yuh think we'll back down from addin' yuh to the last, yo're some mistaken."

"I'm admittin' this: In a fair court yuh can probably beat a death sentence, 'cause we got no direct proof of yuh killin' anybody. But if yus ever hope to get in front of that kind of court, yuh better do as I tell yuh. Otherwise, it's a rope an' a cottonwood tree for yuh; that is, if you don't die under a little red-hot iron treatment. Yo're listenin' to the gospel truth, Arthur. I'm gonna get what I want, or know the reason why."

Still half drunk as he was, Arthur could not help but read the truth in Slim's words and looks. His head went down again. "If—if I do as you say, what assurance have I that you'll play square?" he blurted.

"My word; nothin' else. But my word's good, an' yuh know it. Are yuh ready to do yore stuff?"

Arthur gulped and nodded. "Give me a pen and some paper."

In the glowing dawn of a new day, a little cavalcade jogged its way from Pinnacle ou to the circle L Ranch. In the lead rode Slim Loyale and Stoney Sheard. Following them was a buckboard, with Roy O'Brien driving. Sitting beside Roy, with his wounded leg cushioned and propped up by wads of blankets, was Dakota Blue.

"I suppose Slim'll be after seein' the governor right away?" suggested Roy.

Dakota nodded and grinned. "He's as feverish as a hound pup after its first rabbit. Don't know as I blame him, though. The kid has been eatin' his heart out all along about Mona Hall. He's plumb loco about her."

"An' though he's never hinted of it to me, I know he's had some dang-fool idee about honor that's

A. B. SANDERS THANKS PATRONS AND OUTLINES SCHOOL PROGRAM

TO THE PATRONS OF THE LITTLEFIELD SCHOOL DISTRICT—By A. B. Sanders.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to the friends and patrons of the school district for their kind and sympathetic support of the schools for the past four years. Whatever success that the school has enjoyed has been due to the progressive attitude of the patrons and tax payers of the district. The school board and the school administrators can make progress just to the extent that the folks will support the program.

We are glad to call attention to the fact that the school board of the district is handling the affairs of the school with dispatch with the interest of every child and tax payer at heart. This high type of service and unselfish attitude on the part of public spirited citizens should not be unnoticed. The foresight and interest of these men have made it possible for the Littlefield school to go forward. This board composed of Lon Smith, Ernest Cundiff, Ben Lyman, Frank Lehman, Roy Hutson, Dr. W. N. Orr and P. S.

Hanks will continue to solve the problems of the district in an efficient manner if given your wholehearted support.

As evidence of the condition of the schools at present we are glad to give you a quotation of the report of the District Deputy State Superintendent who made his official visit a few days before close of the school term:

"Recommendation:
"1. Buildings of this system are in very good condition and are well kept. Somewhat crowded conditions are noted in the elementary grades.
"2. The work is very well organized and administered.

"3. The course of study is organized and carried on with the view of the best service of the community in mind.

"4. Teachers are doing good work under good teaching conditions. Crowded conditions in the grades indicate that more room should be provided for some of the grades in the elementary school.

"5. Specimen of work in all subjects in which credit is maintained or desired are on file and accessible.

"6. There is a need for annual appropriation to meet the needs of the now deficient library and general equipment."

In a separate letter we are notified that credit is granted this year Secretarial Training, 2 units; band, one unit; general math, one unit; commercial law, one half unit and world history one unit. The additional credits are on subjects that meet the needs of the modern day and will displace some of the old ones that we have had credit on in the past. The school now enjoys affiliation in 39 units of work as per the latest bulletin.

It will be noted that the crowded conditions in the grades is becoming acute. This problem is one of the most serious now facing the district. With the definite prospect that we will have twelve years soon, which will add about 120 more pupils to the system, it can be seen that a new building will be needed. This new building should be a Junior high school building with a modern curriculum for this level (7th, 8th and 9th years). With this addition to the physical equipment the local schools could continue to make progress.

We extend our sincere best wishes to the patrons in the solution of their problems of educating the youth of the community.

Mrs. Maurice S. Badger and son, Terry, are expected to arrive Monday for a two weeks' visit with Mr. Badger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Badger, of this city.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HERE HAS BUSY SESSION MONDAY

APPOINT TAX EQUALIZATION BOARD; DISCUSS AUDIT AND MANY OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS COME UP

Although interviewing candidates for the position of School Superintendent was the "big item" at the Board meeting Monday night, other business was transacted.

The matter of delinquent school taxes was discussed and it was decided to take the matter up with E. A. Bills, attorney who is handling the collection of delinquent school taxes.

It was brought out that a total of approximately $30,000 was delinquent, some dating back to 1920 but only about $4,000 was delinquent for the school year of 1936. This sum of $4,000 became delinquent February 1, 1937 and the longer it goes unpaid the larger the penalty. The penalty at the present time is about 7 or 8 percent.

Several nice collections were reported from the delinquent, but legal action was indicated against those who have not paid their school taxes as required by law.

The matter of "when they would get it," meaning slightly over $3,000 due from the State of Texas was also mentioned and it was reported that it would no doubt be paid into the school funds not later than August 31, this year.

When the President called for unpaid bills Secretary Arnold reported there were no unpaid bills. This brought smiles to the Board members, who should be congratulated for keeping the finances of the district in such excellent shape.

It was decided to lay off Jimmy Walker for a short period as the school grounds he had been working on were reported in good shape.

It was decided that soon several more loads of caliche would be put on the grounds as some that had been placed there had washed away, due to inferior quality of the caliche that was placed there not so long ago.

Down spouts on one of the buildings were mentioned as having worn out or disappeared and this was ordered repaired. It was thought by members that perhaps concrete slabs should be placed on the ground where some of the water from down spouts in operation emptied their water on the ground. It was stated this was causing some of the washing away of the ground.

It was also decided to ask Joe Wells to fix two of the windows in the school building which were reported out of order.

Secretary Arnold gave each member a financial statement of the Littlefield School District for his personal inspection. Several questions were asked about different items appearing on the statement; but all members indicated that the financial condition of the District was in perfect order.

The matter of electing an Equalization Board to hear the complaints of property holders about their school taxes then came up and after some discussion J. W. James, Grady Simpson and Sam Farquhar were elected with Bill Elliott and Bob Cox to act as alternates in case none of those elected would serve. Members of the Equalization Board of the School District serve without pay, and there is no provision in the laws at the present time making it possible for the Board to pay them. Members of the Equalization Board of the city each receive $25.

It was reported that the majority of the property owners in the School District had reported their property at the proper valuation for taxation purposes but there were some who had reported the valuation a goodly sum below.

This was felt by Board members

CHAIRMAN OF ROTARY REPORT LUNCHEON MEET

Rotarians heard Chairmen of Committees tell the duties of their respective committees last Thursday noon, when holding their weekly luncheon at the Methodist church.

F. O. Boles, president of the club presided and turned the program over to Pryor Hammons, who in turn introduced the various committee chairmen.

Jack Farr reported on membership; Mancel Hall outlined the aims of the program committee and said it was the intention of his committee to present interesting programs each week. He requested the full cooperation of the members.

Dave Hicks, who recently celebrated his first wedding anniversary told of the duties of the attendance committee and said it all simmered down to one thing, "you are either present or not present," he said. Hicks stressed that attendance was important and attendance should be made up at some city.

Clyde Willis reported on fellowship committee and said that fellowship was the capital of all Rotary clubs and the preservation of fellowship should be cultivated by all members.

R. T. Badger, chairman of Rotary information committee, reported on many important items out Rotary International. He brought out the fact that in the world and 175,800 in the United States. He said that in 1936 there was a new club charter issued every one half days.

Miss Fern Hoover acted as secretary in the absence of J. H. Hild, secretary of the club. McIver led the members in a weekly singing session and announced that L. C. Hemenway has charge of the program Thursday (today).

Evonia Hawthorne and T. L. Kimmel Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Evonia and T. L. Kimmel, Jr. were united at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kimmel, at 10 a. m. Sunday, July 12.

The ceremony was read by Rev. T. L. Kimmel, father of the bride, at an improvised altar of flowers.

The bride wore a beautiful pink rose gladioli, placed about the neck, provided a very fitting and lovely for the occasion. The bride's father was a picture of love in a flat suit of a lemon color with an imported jacket, and she wore a bouquet of rose buds.

The bride's attendant was Miss Newberg, who was dressed in a flat crepe frock, with a corsage, and carried gladioli.

The ceremony, dressed in a black gown, attended by Harry Hawthorne, brother of the bride. G. M. Shaw sang a solo, "Tribute," accompanied by the quartet. The bride and groom were also playing the ceremony. The bride played "McDowell's Old Rose."

During the ceremony, punch and cake were served from the dining table, laid with a white cloth, with centerpieces of gladioli. Miss Nadine, sister of the groom, presided at the punch bowl, while Mrs. Kimmel, another sister, cut and served the wedding cake.

The wedding party included: Rev. T. L. Kimmel, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. ## Who Said What?—

The boys at the C. C. C. camp here know their stuff. They look at each other all the time and no doubt get tired of it now and then. They gave a dance last Friday night and who do you suppose they had furnish the music? None other than a all-girl band from Amarillo. Along with the young ladies the boys keep company with and a few outside friends it is reported they all had a grand evening. After all, all work and no play makes "Jack a dull boy."

Every time we think of that 14 year old boy peddling his bicycle 18 miles to Littlefield and back home another 18 miles to do his family shopping — well we just put it down with a lot of other things we know kids do that deserve a big hand.

thing. He did. Over the fence went the official ball and Aldridge and Ballard both came home on a pretty home run. Burleson swung at a ball but he went down at first. Miller also went out at first on a pop fly. Two runs for Littlefield.

FOURTH INNING
Sammy Hale, manager of the Phillips team from Amarillo stepped up to the plate with that big league look on his face but just hit one gently and Walker earned his pay by catching it and putting Mr. Hale out. Littrel who made the home-run in the second inning then came up to bat. He didn't fool around either. Evidently liking the home run business he didn't do anything else but take one of Hall's pitches and lift it right over the fence again for a home run and his second one of the afternoon.

Paynter was walked and Catcher Francis also stood still until he got four balls thrown to him. Paynter went to second. Coburn then came up to bat and hit sharply toward first. Paynter was thrown out at third when he decided he didn't like to stay on second. Swafford got his bat and popped out to first. It was a relief to Littlefield for this half of the inning to be over.

Ratliff was first up for Littlefield and managed to hit one in the vicinity of third base. They lassowed the ball and threw Mr. Ratliff out at first. Walker came up with a wild look in his eye and hit one for two bases. The ball hit the "o" in Stokes which was painted on the fence. A perfect bulls eye. Hanks knocked a hot liner between 2nd and 3rd. Walker went to third safely. Hanks was safe on first. Hodges hit quickly toward first and Walker scored with Hanks going to second. Hodges went out at first. Aldridge tried to bring in Hanks but flied out.

FIFTH INNING
Pitcher Gilliland came up to bat but went out at first. Clark was next and he didn't do any better. He was also caught at first. They said that Clark's daddy used to pitch against the Littlefield team of twenty years ago and do a fair job of it. Guess it's a case of son following Dad,—just fair ball players. Thomas was walked to first and Hale went out at first, retiring the side.

Hall came up and hit sharply through the infield and landed safely on first. Ballard was walked to first advancing Hall to second. Burleson came up and hit a long home run over the fence. His longest hit since he joined the Littlefield club. Three runs crossed the plate. His wife serving pop gazed longingly at her better-half with approval. Miller flied out to first. Ratliff and Walker both did the same thing, retiring the side for the last half of the fifth.

SIXTH INNING
Home run hitter Littrel was up first and everyone in the crowd from Littlefield crossed their fingers praying for a strike out. The umpire called the first ball across the plate a strike and Littrel showed his temperament by raising a little "sand" about it to no avail. Umpire Etter meant what he said and stood by his gins. At last Littrel popped out one and went out at first. Paynter came up and went out at first by fast action by Ballard and Hanks. Francis thought he would do something but he failed to make the grade and he also was called out at first.

Hanks came up and flied out to center field. It was a long one and looked for a moment as it was going over the fence for pay dirt. Hodges decided to do something and hit himself a nice two base hit to the center field fence. Guy Aldridge came up and while waiting for a suitable pitch Hodges stole to third with the idea we suppose of stealing on home. Aldridge was walked to first. Hall popped one in the zone between first and second, but the Amarillo boys captured it before it hit the ground and out he went with Aldridge also going out by trying to steal second. Hodges was left cooling his heels on third.

SEVENTH INNING
Coburn hit safely for one base after some argument at the plate but no war started. Swofford struck out and wanted to argue about the matter but he was told to go peddle his papers. Gilliland came up and proceeded to strike out like some other boys we have heard of. Clark followed suit by getting one in the air but he went out at first.

About this time the crowds attention was called to some personal disagreements outside the fence but the game went on. Ballard was up and hit a hot one to Sammy Hale, who dropped it like a hot potato. Ballard was safe on first, Burleson hit safely and got to first but Ballard went out at second. Eddie Miller meant well but struck out. Ratliff then came up and hit a hot one down third base line which scored Burleson and left Ratliff on second. Walker hit a two bagger and went to second safely scoring Ratliff. Hanks made a hit and got on first and Walker went safely to third. Hodges took an awful swing at one and almost had a home run, but out he went.

EIGHTH INNING
Thomas came up but Pitcher Hall had his screw ball working and down he went. Hale hit a high one but Burleson pulled it down with a nice catch and that made two outs. Littrel, the home run man was next in line but Hall was plenty hot and he struck out.

Amarillo decided to change pitchers for their own protection in the last half of the eighth and in went Burke. Aldridge came up and popped out. Hall hit a stinger between second and third and was safe on first. Ballard got a one bagger and was safe on first, advancing Hall toward second, but he was caught and out went Mr. Hall. Burleson tried to do his bit but he flied out.

NINTH INNING
Paynter flied out to Hodges. Francis got a hit and parked himself on first. Coburn hit a one bagger and forced Francis to second who was put out in good shape. Swofford popped the pellet and got on first and Francis was safe on second. Burke, the new pitcher then tried his hand at pitching to Littlefield didn't have any better success at the bat than he did in the box and he was on his way to first when the local boys decided to throw the ball to first and put him out which they did and ended the ball game. Littlefield made 13 hits and no errors. Amarillo Phillips "66" made 6 hits and no errors. Time of game one hour and thirty minutes.

COUNTY MAY NOT RECEIVE $19,000 IN SCHOOL FUNDS

Although Lamb County School Officials were happy last week over the news that the county might receive $19,290 more for their operating expenses for the coming school year, their hopes may turn to tears if some of the "boys" down at Austin have their way.

Dawson Duncan, staff writer for the Dallas News who stays in Austin all the time and is known for his fair views on all matters wrote the following article for his paper and for the benefit of our Lamb County readers we reproduce the article here:

"A possibility that the Automatic Tax Board might disregard the Board of Education's action in setting a $22 per capita apportionment, which would require a 20c ad valorem rate, and lower the State school property tax was raised yesterday by Senior John S. Redditt of Lufkin.

"Redditt, who is chairman of the Finance Committee and has made a keen study of State finances, expressed dissatisfaction at the board's action and said that apparently it is trying to take over the powers of taxation and the authority of the Automatic Tax Board. Most observers, he said, had believed the board would fix the apportionment at $20, which would permit a tax reduction, and had not prepared to appear in protest of a higher rate.

"There were other indications which supported the belief that there might be a contest within the Automatic Tax Board over maintaining the State ad valorem for school purposes at 20c in order to meet the record high apportionment.

"Linked with it was the assertion of Gov. James V. Allred before the Board of Education fixed the rate that he hoped it would retain it at $19 in order that the State school tax could be eliminated. He observed that such a course would give the taxpayers a well-deserved break.

"Ad Valorem Rate, 8c"

"Allred is one of three members of the Automatic Tax Board, which will set the rate after a meeting July 20. Other members are Comptroller George H. Sheppard and Treasurer Charley Lockhart.

"Redditt said he construed the statutes as requiring the tax board to fix a rate that would yield a per capita apportionment of $17.50, citing Article 7043, which was held last year when the apportionment first exceeded that amount to fix a minimum rather than a maximum.

"The article stipulates the board shall fix a rate that will yield and produce for such fiscal year $17.50 per capita for all children within the scholastic age."

"Because funds from sources other than the ad valorem tax are sufficient to pay an apportionment of $20, Redditt expressed the belief that the property tax rate should be lowered to produce only enough revenue for free textbooks, as required by the Constitution. The Board of Education estimated about $2,000,000 will be needed for that purpose.

"The Tax Board should fix the ad valorem rate at not more than 8c, just enough to take care of books," Redditt said. Detailed calculations, he added, might show a rate as low as 6c would produce the revenue. The 30c rate during the year July 1, 1936, to June 30, 1937, the Comptroller reported, yielded $5,119,205. Collection of delinquent taxes next year might exceed also the $915,247 received in the last twelve months from that source.

"Redditt, asserting that the Tax Board is not bound by the Board of Education, said the Comptroller reported income to the available school fund during the next fiscal

Ill With Heart Ailment, Unable To Lie Down

Sitting in a chair for the past 60 days due to heart trouble and inability to get his breath when he lies down, is the sad plight of Yucum, aged 13, adopted son of Mr. S. F. Elliott of Fieldton.

Yucum Vannoy was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott some years ago, and enjoyed good health until about three months ago when he took seriously ill. Mrs. Elliott passed away over a year ago, so it leaves the care of the boy entirely to Mr. Elliott, who states that physicians don't give him much hope of Yucum recovering, and say he will never be able to work if he does get better.

year from sources other than ad valorem taxes would be $31,114,488, or sufficient to pay a 20c per capita apportionment on the estimated 1,560,000 scholastics. That revenue is derived from such special taxes as gross receipts and occupation and interest on bonds.

"While the Constitution grants the available school fund one-fourth of the occupation taxes, Redditt said that on several, notably the oil, cigarette and sulphur taxes, the allocation exceeds a fourth.

"As long as the constitutional money in the available school fund does not exceed $17.50 per capita," he said, "the Legislature can control it. Certainly if we have the power to put in more than the one-fourth, we have the power to control the surplus."

"Redditt estimated that the excess more than one fourth granted the school fund amounted to $3,500,000 on oil, $500,000 on cigarettes and $500,000 on sulphur, which would leave about $26,500,000 as the amount yielded from the funds constitutional share. An apportionment of $17.50 would require slightly more than $27,000,000, compared with $34,320,000 needed to meet the $22 apportionment.

"The Legislature, he said, at a special session to be convened in the fall for revenue purposes could change the allocations of revenue to deprive the school fund of the additional income or otherwise control it, protesting that "apparently the Board of Education wants to assume all the responsibility. If so, why did not it go to $25?"

"Redditt said he favored an apportionment of $20 per capita, which he estimated could be paid from the $31,114,000 anticipated for the school fund from sources other than ad valorem taxes. Under that arrangement, he said, the Tax Board could reduce the rate to 6c or 8c to buy books, which, under the Constitution, must be provided for through the property tax."

WIVES BENEFIT BY BIG COOPERATIVE SOAP SALE

ation of the trend in merchandising is found in of the Lamb County which the retailers of and Littlefield territory.

tell about the big cooperative soap campaign they are inaugurating in connection with Lux Toilet Soap, Lux, Rinsol and Lifebuoy—all of them popular products in this section.

Each of the four soaps fills a separate and distinct need. Fragrant white Lux toilet soap is the favorite of 9 out of 10 beautiful screen stars and countless stage stars. These women of the screen and stage always look young and beautiful. They never lose their youthful charm—never seem to grow a day older. Complexion care is their secret—and for years the great majority of them have depended on Lux toilet soap for a fascinating, youthful complexion.

Lux is especially made to preserve the fresh vibrancy of delicately colored silks, rayons and woollens. Fabrics washed in Lux stay charmingly new looking just twice as long. Silk stockings retain their elasticity and that means longer life and better fit, and Lux in the dishpan gives beauty care to hands, keeps them white and soft, at less than a cent a day.

Rinsol, housewives everywhere declare, gives whiter washes easily and quickly. In the tub this granulated laundry soap soaks cottons and linens whiter and brighter than they could possibly be scrubbed. The makers of 33 leading washing machines recommend Rinsol and 32,000 washing machine salesmen use it as the best method of demonstrating their machines.

Lifebuoy health soap, with its abundant penetrating purifying lather stops "B. O." (body odor) by cleansing the pores of odor causing waste. Washing hands often with lifebuoy removes germs, helps prevent other contact diseases, and daily lifebuoy facials stimulate dulled complexion—makes them glow with renewed radiance.

The dealers who are conducting this campaign advise their customers to stock up on these four famous soaps while their prices remain so attractively low.

MARJORIE WILSON HAS GRAND TIME AT SWEETWATER REVUE

Attends Receptions, Two Dances And Has Many Attention Showed Her at Bathing Revue Held Last Week End. Thousands Present.

Going to Bathing Beauty Contests is great business. Take it from Miss Marjorie Wilson of Littlefield who was recently chosen "Miss Lamb County" for 1937.

Saturday morning her boy friend took her to Lubbock where she boarded a bus for Sweetwater where she was entered in the contest to determine who would be selected the "Goddess of West Texas."

She had won the right to enter the Sweetwater contest by winning the Lamb county contest last week.

She reached Sweetwater about 11 a. m. and was met by the high powered reception committee, headed by Mrs. George Bennett. At 2 p. m. the twenty three young ladies, who represented 23 West Texas Counties were taken to the elegant Sweetwater swimming pool where they practiced walking out over the water on a special runway constructed for the event. They had their pictures taken and everything. At 5 p. m. the girls were the honor guests at a tea dance held at the Masie hotel.

According to Miss Wilson their were plenty of men around and from other sources we learn that the twenty three beauties were in constant demand. In fact the boys almost fought over them but didn't quite go that far.

At 6:45 p. m. the revue was on in earnest and Frank Watson, Asst. Director General of the Pan American Exposition, Dallas crowned Miss Frances Prewitt, of Stamford the "Goddess of West Texas."

Although Miss Wilson did not win the title over all the twenty three girls she didn't do bad, no sir, she didn't do bad. She was one of the last seven and when you consider that there are some pretty smart looking gals here in West Texas, and you get to be one of the seven best,—well you are ranking right up there at the top ring.

After the revue a dance was held in Sweetwater from 9 to midnight and a big time has been reported by all who attended.

When Miss Wilson was asked if she didn't miss her boy friend at the contest she replied, "yes I did but their were plenty of men down there. In fact four of them played and sang under my window all night after the dance." That's attention and no fool'in about it.

She returned to Lubbock about noon Sunday and then came on to Littlefield. She says she had a grand time and we don't doubt it one bit. If you don't think she had one grand time just ask her. Yes sir, just ask her.

Of course back in the olden days people used ox carts to go shopping and thought it tough going. We still think that riding a bicycle 36 miles is something akin to that. After all the oxen used to do the work and now the sturdy legs of a 14 year old boy has to get the job done. That is if you are like Vernon Collins and have only a bicycle to get you about.

be Glenn Burgess, manager of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, Vice-Presidents, County Judge A. R. Allison of Levelland and County Judge R. A. DeFee of Channing. T. A. Singer, owner of the Telephone company at Dimmit was selected as secretary-treasurer.

Delegations from Dalhart, Channing, Hereford, Littlefield, and Levelland were guests of the Dimmit Lions club at the invitation of Judge K. E. Turner of Dimmit.

Although the list of directors is not complete, E. O. Melver, chairman of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee will be among those selected.

Due to other urgent business, delegates from Brownfield and Vega were unable to attend.

Reports from the various delegations were that the right of way for this highway were already obtained in Lamb, Castro, and Deaf Smith counties. Hockley has easements for the right of way to the Terry county line and is working on the route north to the Lamb county line. Grading and drainage structures are practically complete in Deaf Smith and Castro counties with at least 15 miles in Lamb completed. Oldham and Hartley counties are waiting for definite locations from the State Highway Department. Terry county reports the right of way can be obtained when definite locations are made in that county.

The State Highway Department has made some tentative plans for this north-south highway. On December 22, 1936, the road was placed back on the state system. Some preliminary surveys have been made in practically all the counties concerned, but no final plans have been completed.

Highway No. 51 will begin at the Oklahoma State line and run south to Dalhart, Channing, Vega, Hereford, Dimmit, Littlefield, Levelland, and Brownfield. At Brownfield it will connect with the present Highway No. 51 with a possibility of connecting Brownfield with Lamesa also. It was pointed out that this road would link together ten east-west routes, would carry much of the Colorado tourist traffic and much of the traffic from West Texas to El Paso that is now going to New Mexico.

This road will be approximately 200 miles in length and will be unusual in that only one major bridge will be needed. At old Tascosa, the only expensive structure will be needed. This bridge will connect Amarillo with Channing over a new route and will span the Canadian river at the most historical crossing in this part of the southwest. It is the site of the Old Tascosa Trail, known to all the old settlers of the West and the modern historian. The plainsmen will also encounter some beautiful scenery between Vega and the Canadian.

The officers of the Association were extended an invitation to be guests of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce at a banquet honoring Robert Lee Bobbitt, Texas Highway chairman, sometime in August.

by while trains are waiting.

The Santa Fe, with the cooperation of county commission, and the city commission, are installing a solid board crossing at this point, filling in the bar ditch and widening this road, which will lead traffic from Highway No. 7 across the railway onto the proposed new road, which will run parallel to the railroad tracks and provide a shorter and more direct route for the farmers to take their cotton to the compress.

In discussing the new road, Mr. Hall said: "We have taken it up with the engineering department of the railway, and they have assured us we can get the right of way, and as soon as we can get title, we are planning to build it.

"The county is cooperating, and will furnish the heavy machinery for the building of the road.

"We will get it opened up by fall, and then get a W. P. A. project later to hard surface it. Within the next four or five days Santa Fe officials from the engineering department of the railroad will meet here with the city commission to try to work out plans for the right of way. I think we will have it fixed up within 30 days."

Board will be August 9 and unless a special meeting is called before that date the matter of electing a new School Superintendent will be held up until that time.

Members of the Board of Education of the Littlefield Independent School District are Lon H. Smith, president; E. C. Cundiff, P. S. Hanks, Roy Hutson, Frank Lehman, Ben Lyman and Dr. Wm. N. Orr.

Those appearing before the Board and applying personally for the position were Floyd Hemphill, principal of the Littlefield Schools; Jimmy Rankin, Superintendent of Schools, Ralls, Texas; W. T. Haynes, Superintendent of the Hermleigh, Texas, Schools; O. S. Kelly, Principal of the High School, Spar, Texas, and Forest Groves, Principal of the High School, Donna, Texas.

Each were advised that if they were elected to the position they would be notified of the Board's decision.

Sanders who has been in charge of the school system here for the past four years read his resignation to the Board at 9:45 p. m. and after laying his resignation on the table said, "I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the excellent cooperation you gentlemen have given me, and I wish to thank you for accepting my resignation. I want you to know that I value the many friends I have made in Littlefield and wish you men the best of success in operating the Littlefield schools. I feel that I am taking a step upward in accepting the position at Donna and if there is anything I can do in the next few days to help close my connection with your school I will be glad to do so."

In a joking manner the Board indicated that Sanders was leaving them in a "spot" by having to go out and select a new school head, and Sanders, also in the same joking manner said he realized that they had some thought to give the matter and expressed his sympathy.

Lon H. Smith, president of the Board got a good laugh from the other Board members when he said, "help is what we need now. Not sympathy."

The Board then passed a motion not to accept any more resignations from the teaching staff unless it was on account of sickness or injury. The thought behind the motion was they did not care to break up the fine personnel that at the present time comprises the teaching staff of the Littlefield School. They felt that the loss of Sanders was large enough without any further losses in personnel.

Board members Monday night passed on routine business, besides discussing a new school head, and stated they would be glad when they had completed the job of selecting a new man for the job. They said they had been called upon and urged to vote for several men by friends of applicants but were going to give the matter full consideration before taking any action. Applications can still be filed with the Board for the position which at the present time is "wide open."
