C-C To Sponsor Christmas Home Decorations Contest

$50 Prize To Be Given Top Entry

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a home decorations contest for this year's Christmas observance.

A total of $100 in cash prizes will be awarded to three winners of the contest. There will be a $50 first prize, $35 second prize and $15 third prize.

Homes will be judged on originality and general appearance in consideration of lighting on both the home and landscaping.

An out-of-town committee will judge the entries on Monday night, Dec. 21. All entries should be in the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce office by Friday, Dec. 18, at 5 p.m.

Persons entering the contest should call the Chamber of Commerce office at 172 or write in by the deadline date.

Announcement of the contest was made Wednesday morning by Chamber of Commerce Manager Don Page, after a meeting of the C-C board of directors Tuesday night.

Page said the board felt that the spirit of Christmas centers around the home and that the contest should be continued as in the past.

The local first place winner will be eligible to compete in a $5,000 nationwide Christmas Decorating Contest that is held annually.

The local contest has a triple purpose: to provide pleasure for everyone participating, to help beautify the city at this season, and to foster a desirable community spirit.

Winner of the contest last year was Mrs. E. J. Eussannus, 733 E. 13th. She painted a religious scene on the front window of her home shortly before the deadline for entries, and her last minute efforts paid off.

Joe Hilbun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hilbun, finished second last year, and an entry by Dr. and Mrs. B. W. Armistead was third.

FORREST MARTIN—He gets a bang out of his gun-collecting hobby.

School Teacher Martin Is Gunsmith Hobbyist

By LELAND BRYD

If you are hunting for Forrest Martin during hours when he's not at school, the spot you're most likely to find him is his workshop at the rear of the Martin home, 1315 W. 5th, Littlefield.

That is where Martin pursues a hobby that keeps a lot of his time off from school occupied—collecting and repairing guns.

The hobbyist is principal of Littlefield Junior High School.

Martin specializes in modern sporting weapons, and has no antique or hand-fired weapons in his collection. He has about a dozen and a half rifles, shotguns, and military firearms in his gun racks.

All of them are not his, however, since area hunters often bring him their guns for repairs. Also a lot of guns are brought to Martin for him to "sporterize" or change from a military gun to a sporting firearm.

He has a medium-size lathe in his shop to do the job, and hand tools necessary to whittle a sporting stock, and a bluing tank to finish the barrels.

Martin has been interested in the guns as a hobbyist for about 10 years. He started out working on guns on Mrs. Martin's kitchen table, but yielded to her suggestion about the matted-up table and built the workshop.

His first try was a sport stock for a military gun, which he made from a 2 by 4 piece of lumber. He has made several stocks since then, and has parted with the first stock he built. He now has a stock which he custom-built for a rifle, elaborately finished with a check-piece.

He comments that well-known gun stock makers will custom stock for about $250.

He said he'd take $225 for the latest one he made (pictured with story), in answer to a question.

Martin does admit making a little money from his hobby from repairs and making sporter guns.

from military firearms. The equipment he has wouldn't have been paid for by proceeds from his gun repairs. He says he could do a lot more repairs, but he's investing about as much time in the hobby as he'd care to.

Martin is popular with several Littlefield school teachers who like to hunt, for he has furnished several of them deer rifles to use.

Houk, Gronewald Are FFA Students Of Month

Jimmy Houk and Terry Gronewald have been named Littlefield High School FFA Men of the Month for November.

The two were presented plaques at a regular LHS Future Farmer meeting Tuesday night.

Wendell Tooley, representing the Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the plaques, made the presentation.

Houk is the senior boy of the month and Gronewald is the junior FFA winner.

Jimmy holds the chapter farmer degree and has been active in FFA work throughout his high school career. He is now feeding out nine hogs and has been a member of four chapter conducting teams, the FFA Quiz team, and crops team.

Terry, a freshman, is a greenhand in the FFA. He is feeding out nine pigs and has a registered Duroc sow. He was sentinel on the junior chapter conducting team.

As part of his swine project, Terry has provided a pasture with shade, self-feeder, self-waterer and shed for his hogs.

Area Schools' FFA Teams Going To State Meet

Springlake and Anton teams have earned spots in Future Farmer of America state competition as a result of victories in Area I FFA Leadership contests at Plainview last Saturday.

The two teams were among those from 49 Panhandle and Plains schools competing in the area contests. More than 300 FFA boys and their advisors were on hand.

Springlake's Chapter Farm Skills team won first, while Anton's Greenhand Farm Skills team captured top place in its contest. Both teams will participate in state contest at Huntsville Saturday.

The teams were presented banners in an afternoon ceremony concluding a day-long program. Members of the Springlake Chapter Farm Skills team are Ronnie Johnson, Jerry Jones and Shelby Bozeman. Their advisor is E. G. Gaston.

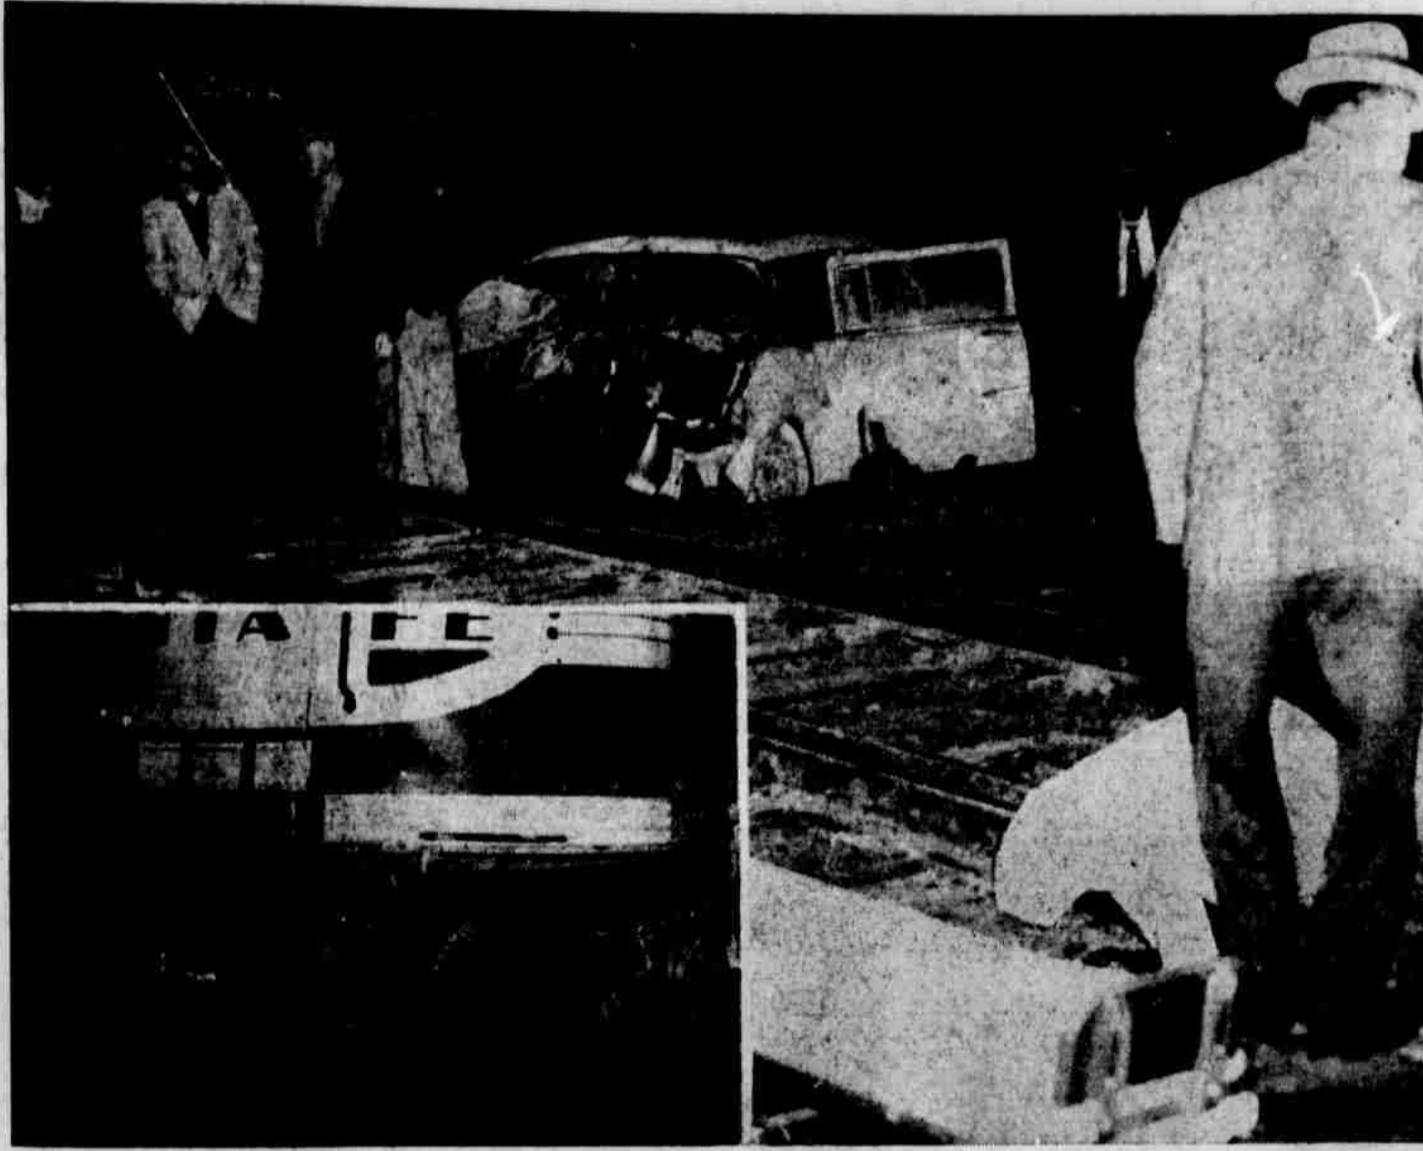

On the Anton Greenhand Farm Skills team are Mike Fowler, Vernon Birdwell and Alvin Swanson. David McVey is advisor.

Other results included: Springlake placed second in the Greenhand Farm Skills contest; Anton was second in Chapter Farm Skills; and Littlefield was third in Radio Broadcasting.

WRECK SCENE—This was the scene Saturday night, after a teenager boy and girl had been killed in a car-train crash at Anton. The car had been slammed 75 feet down the tracks. Body of the girl was thrown on the tracks, in foreground. The boy's body was hurled into the car to the side. Both youngsters died instantly. Inset is the front of the freight engine, with damage shown on right side.

Last Rites Read For Boy, Girl Killed In Wreck

SHIRLEY TUCKER

Two area teenagers, victims of a smashing car-train accident at Anton Saturday night, were buried Monday and Tuesday after funeral services at Anton and Littlefield.

The lives of Shirley Tucker, 15, Abernathy, and Douglas Eugene Taylor, 16, Spade, were snuffed out at 7:18 p.m. Saturday.

They died instantly when their auto and a 73-car Santa Fe freight collided at the Warm Road railroad crossing just west of the Anton depot.

Funeral services for Miss Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker of Abernathy, were conducted Monday afternoon at the Anton First Baptist Church.

Last rites for young Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of two miles southeast of Spade, were read Tuesday morning at Littlefield Baptist Church.

Miss Tucker was a freshman at Abernathy High School, but she attended Anton schools until about a month ago. Taylor attended Spade High School. Many Anton and Spade students were in attendance at the funeral services.

The accident occurred as Taylor, driving his 1955-model auto, and Miss Tucker were leaving Anton, traveling southwest on FM 537 toward U.S. Highway 81.

The freight, traveling south-west toward Lubbock on a Clovis-Station route, approached the intersection at a speed of about 45 miles per hour, according to Conductor D. W. Falk of Station.

"The car seemed to travel at a steady speed as it approached the tracks. I don't believe the driver saw us, because he didn't speed up or slow down," said Falk.

The left front of the freight engine slammed into Miss Tucker's side of the auto, crumpling the car from the front door forward.

The impact sent the auto about 75 feet down the track and off to one side. The body of Miss Tucker was thrown about 25 feet further down the track. The boy's body was hurled to the side of the auto, about 25 feet off the track.

The crossing has no blinking light, but the view is not obstructed and normal crossing signs.

Car Insurance Points To Cost

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of stories describing the new Texas merit rating auto insurance plan, which takes effect Jan. 1.

Up to now, the old idea of "making points" has been thought of as attempts to gain favor.

Lots of people try to make points, or gain favor, in different ways. But starting with their next auto insurance policy, people will be more interested in how not to make points.

That's because the point system under the new auto insurance plan is aimed at the motorists' pocketbook.

The more points a fellow rings up, the more he's going to have to pay for his insurance.

Briefly, here's how the new plan works:

A motorist who buys auto insurance after Jan. 1 must delve into memory (or Department of Public Safety records) and recall accidents and violations in which he has been involved in the three years ending 90 days before the date he applies for a policy.

The rate a motorist pays will be based on a sliding scale based on the number of points he has accumulated in the last three years.

Moving violation convictions will count one point and accidents, with certain exceptions, will count two points.

A driver with a spotless record has no points — and gets a 20 per cent reduction on his insurance. One point means the driver pays the base rate with no discount.

Two points will cost the driver 20 per cent more than the base rate, three points will make it 40 per cent more, four points jump it to 60 per cent, five points run it to 80 per cent, and six points will make the driver pay double. That's as high as you can go.

So a fellow with no points who pays $75 a year for car insurance will pay 40 per cent more when he gets two points. Forty per cent more of $75 is $30, which should be enough to make any driver want to stay out of an accident.

Here's how the State Board of Insurance's new "point system" will work:

Two points are given for each auto accident involving the insured or any member of his household that results in damage to property, including his own, in excess of $25; in bodily injury, or in death.

Here are the exceptions:

1. When only payment involved is for medical expenses, and not for liability injury.

2. When the insured's auto is legally parked.

3. When the other party involved accepts responsibility and pays for the wreck.

4. When the insured is struck from the rear, provided he is not convicted of a moving violation in the accident.

5. When the other party is convicted of a moving violation and the insured is not.

6. When the insured's auto is struck by a hit-and-run driver (provided the accident is reported

Tops Regional Marching LHS Band Wins Honor

Littlefield's Wildcat Band gained a measure of revenge Saturday as it stepped to its ninth consecutive first division rating in the Region I University Interscholastic League marching contest at Levelland.

Director Beryl Harris' crew was tops in its class, with both Brownfield and Levelland bands receiving second division ratings. Another Lamb County school, Sudan, won first division in Class A.

The bands did not compete against each other but were rated against a standard with ratings of I through V being given.

The Wildcat band opened its season with Brownfield, which had captured first place in a Lubbock parade earlier this year. The LHS band finished second in that parade.

After having to play second fiddle to the Levelland band here the night the Lobo football team beat Littlefield, 30-15, the Wildcat band outrated the Lobo band Saturday.

Only bands given first division ratings Saturday were Plainview, Monterey of Lubbock and Tom S. Lubbock in Class AAAA; Littlefield in Class AAA; Floydada and Abernathy in Class AA; Sudan, Hale Center and Seagraves in Class A. Twenty-nine bands participated.

The other phases are concert playing and sight reading. Both will be staged in Levelland April 23 and 30. Solo and ensemble contests also will be held in Levelland March 27.

Ratings for other area schools included: Class B, Amberst, II; Class A, Springlake, I; Class AA, Olton, II.

About 2,250 students took part in the marching contest, which lasted five hours in cold, windy weather.

The marching contest is the first of three phases of competition in which bands must win first divisions in order to win sweepstakes honors.

The other phases are concert playing and sight reading. Both will be staged in Levelland April 23 and 30. Solo and ensemble contests also will be held in Levelland March 27.

Baptist YWA Holds All-Night Mission Study

On Friday at 11 p.m. members of the Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church met in the church basement for an all night mission study. The book taught was "Missionary Assignment" by Jonni Johnson, an overall picture of the Southern Baptist Foreign mission field. The study was opened with lights lowered, leaving only a lighted man, while an amplified voice asked the question, "Whose world is this anyway? Ours to do with as we please? Or God's to be done with according to His will. . . Young Southern Baptist, what is your missionary assignment?" Mrs. Ralph Nelson was introduced as Mrs. Ais Pormes of diavarta, Java. Ais Pormes, an Indonesian, rescued five American airmen when they crashed in the sea near his home in the Spice Islands. Although he could speak no English, he cared for the men throughout a long wet night in the tropics. When they were rescued by other Americans, he begged to be taken with them. They took him to Australia where he went to college, later coming to the United States and attending a seminary here. In 1952 he returned to Java and today he is pastor of the Clavary Baptist Church in Diakarta. At 12:30 a.m. Saturday Mrs. J. L. Murdock was introduced as Wilma Chui, a faithful Christian from Bangkok, Thailand. She told of the countries "West from Tokyo," supplementing her teaching with colored slides of the Oriental countries. Following her study, the Orient was the theme as refreshments were served. At 2 a.m. Mrs. Leon Billington was introduced as Miss Mary Elizabeth Lynn, missionary from Asuncion, Paraguay. She spoke on "South from El Paso." Following her study, Mexican pralines and hot chocolate were served. At 8 a.m., Nigerian fried cakes and hot chocolate were served with napkins depicting scenes from Africa. Mrs. Kenneth Reast was then introduced as Miss Marjorie Stephens from Agbor, Nigeria. With slides on African life she spoke on the topic, "North from Salisbury."

LAYOUT OF PROPOSED NEW $250,000 FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Methodists Begin Bond Campaign

The First Methodist Church of Littlefield officially opened its bond campaign to build a new $250,000 church at a special dinner last night in the basement of the church.

The bond salesmen and their wives heard the Rev. Edwin Hall, pastor of the Methodist church at Muleshoe, speak at the "kick-off" dinner. He was introduced by the Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor of the Littlefield church. Master of ceremonies was Jack Wattenbarger, drive chairman.

Tentative plans call for beginning of the new church on Jan. 1, 1960. The church will be at 15th and Phelps Avenue.

Salesmen from the church will offer bonds which will pay the purchaser 6 per cent interest payable annually at the Security State Bank in Littlefield.

Security for the bonds is a first mortgage on the church property.

The church treasurer will deposit each week with the bank as paying and receiving agent, the amount necessary to retire the bonds and meet the interest payments.

Bonds in the amount of $100, $250 and $1,000 or more will be offered for sale.

The church reserves the right to prepare these bonds after one year.

Wattenbarger emphasized the fact that the ability to pay off bonds is gauged by past financial records of the church. The total receipts of the church are far in excess of the amount necessary to meet the sinking fund each week, a fund out of which the payments are made on interest and for the retirement of the bonds as they mature.

Wattenbarger also said that the Church bond is not a debenture bond, but a capital issue bond that carries a mortgage on the real property of the church and an assignment of a sufficient amount of the first funds received each week to meet the principal and interest payments of the bonds as they fall due.

The following salesmen not only will be selling bonds to members of the church, but also to the public at large:

Herb Helbig, Vernon Steed, Buster Owens, Jim Mangum, J. E. Chisholm, Tom Hilburn, Jack Barton, Bill Brune, Jerry Lumsden, Wendell Tooley, Ross Lumsden, Buck Oldham, I. T. Shotwell Jr., Kenneth Jackson, Huston Hoover, Clarence Davis, James Shotwell, Art Chesher, Roland Willis, George Ligon, John McAnnally, Lloyd Spencer, Ralph Schilling, Don Cihak, James Pirkey, Ed Elliot, Rhea Bradley, Lloyd Lust, Skipper Smith, James Pirkey, Frank Ohnemus, Billy Williams, Harry Woody, Bryson Kiser, Marshall Howard, W. E. Vaught, Mrs. J. T. Elms, Moreland Payne, Comer Hall, Claude Oliver, J. B. Davis, M. C. Street, B. D. Garland Jr., and Ray Koeling.

Keen Teens Leave Saturday For Chicago

The Keen Teens, a talented group of Lamb and Hockley County boys, will be in a national spotlight at Chicago next week as they compete in the American contest.

The Keen Teens won eligibility to compete in the national contest by winning the talent contest at the Texas Farm Bureau convention.

The group will leave Saturday but they have not yet decided how they will go. The state organization is paying $250 toward the group's expenses, but this would not take care of all of the needs.

Mrs. Mickey Stephens, secretary of Lamb County Farm Bureau, says that several Anton businessmen have donated money to help the boys pay for their trip, and one Littlefield business has donated money for the same purpose.

Two of the boys are Larry Cox and Mickey Jolly of Littlefield. The others, from Anton, are Duran Bishop, Kirby Williams, Max Harrington and Morris Alexanprofit. When you go in and buy a car the price is pretty well outlined on the window, but when it comes to buying drugs, there's only a little number to go by.

I've never been one to protest the high cost of medicines. Fact is, when I needed a prescription filled I was sick enough not to question the cost, because health isn't a matter of argument.

Everyone in business is entitled to a fair profit... whether or not the drug business is making undue profit off the public remains to be seen. I have always placed my confidence in my pharmacist, feeling that he is certainly necessary and mighty thankful he's there when I need him.

I enjoyed meeting with our FFA boys this week. I didn't realize that they number almost 100! Best wishes to W. W. Hall and James Pirkey on the fine work they're doing with our Future Farmers.

See where Staggs is having a slumber party Friday night at his giant Marathon "36". Here's good proof that you don't have to get out of Littlefield to get bargains. Incidentally that slumber party is at the drug store, not at Staggs' home!

Looking at other advertisements in this issue we see that Sullins has on a fertilizer sale, Penney's and Sprouse - Reitz show more Christmas gift buys, plenty of grocery bargains in Renfro's, Pioneer, Piggly Wiggly, and Furr's advertisements, the Spudnut Shop has moved out on the Clovis highway next to the Farm Bureau, Ware's is featuring gifts for the man, the Littlefield Sporting Arena has another good wrestling card.

Roden Drug is another reason for trading in Littlefield, he comes out with some good Christmas buys this issue. On the farm front, don't miss the farm sale at the Jimmie Robinson farm Saturday. This farm is located 3 miles south of Fieldton.

Photos Prove Hunter's Story

Fishermen frequent about their stories, former Littlefield, Texas, on his "kills" on his safari in Nairobi, Kenya in 1959. He went after the big five and came home with four of them — the elephant, lion, water buffalo and rhino. He didn't get to hunt leopard, running short of time.

The elephant Bill shot was the largest killed by a visitor in Kenya in 1959. It took 14 shots, seven by Bill, to bring him down. The beast was shot at the foot of Mt. Kilimanjaro, a 19,000-foot peak which is the largest on the African continent. It took four natives two and one-half hours to chop the tusks off the elephant with a hand ax and hatchet. Bill is pictured with a native and the elephant in the photo at top left. His white hunter, Harold Prowse, is shown in the photo at top center.

The two lion in the picture at top right were cattle killers shot 110 miles southwest of Nairobi.

The water buffalo (lower center) was shot 200 miles south of Nairobi near the Tanganyika border. The horns measure 44 inches.

The rhino was killed near the Ahi River 175 miles southeast of Nairobi. The horns measure 22½ and 13 inches.

Here's Bill's description of what it took to kill the elephant: "I fired just behind the elephant's right shoulder and fully expected to see him drop to the ground. But all he did was take three or four steps forward and then turn and look at me as if to say, 'Fellow you'll need something larger than that to get me.' "He turned then and apparently was about to charge when I heard the roar of Harold's 450 no. 2. The bullet struck the animal in the shoulder and broke his collar bone. I quickly reloaded and fired again into the heart area just behind the shoulder. The animal stopped and I reloaded and fired twice more. Harold fired again and the native tracker with us fired. Finally the old bull went down to his knees and just as I thought we had him down for the count, he got back up. We all hammered him again and again and he went down. We moved up on him slowly and got within 10 yards of him before he got up the third time. The native poured another one into him. I fired twice more and so did Harold and then all was quiet.

Bill describes his lion hunt this way: "I quickly brought my .375 magnum to my shoulder and fired at the left shoulder of the big male. The bullet struck full in the shoulder. The old cat partially turned around with a 270 grain slug in his heart and fell dead. Quick as a flash, his mate came to his aid and commenced to claw at the male in an attempt to get him to his feet.

"Harold leaned over my shoulder and whispered, 'The Game Ranger said for us to get the female too, if possible. But be careful, a wounded female is very dangerous!'

"Again I took careful aim and squeezed off my second shot. As the bullet struck, the female jumped into the air, came down on all four feet and then jumped again. But this time she fell back to earth and rolled over dead."

The final kill of the safari was the Rhino. Here's Bill's description:

"We had little difficulty in stalking the old bull because the rhino is practically blind and hears very little better. We stayed on his downwind side and in 10 minutes drew up to within 70 yards of him. At this point we were out of cover and could move no further without being detected. I stepped out from behind a small tree, lifted my rifle, and fired directly behind his right shoulder. The bullet smacked him solidly, but he did not go down. Another shot into his mid-section, a high shot into his lung area, and a last shot which broke his left shoulder and went into the heart sent him to the ground in a heap."

Testerman Helps Berlin Children While In Army
Specialist Four Leonard G. Testerman, of the U. S. Army's Berlin Command, is utilizing his off-duty hours repairing toys and assisting in preparations for the Christmas entertainment of orphaned children in the Berlin area. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Testerman, live on Route 1, Sudan.
Each unit of the command annually sponsors at least one orphanage for the purpose of making the children's Christmas a happy occasion.
Testerman, an engineer repairman in the U. S. Army Garrison's Service Company, entered the Army in February 1958, completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo., and arrived overseas last May.
The 20-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Sudan High School.
Officers Continue Probe Of Burglaries
Two Plainview men charged in burglaries at Olton and Spade last week were questioned further Monday in regard to other recent area burglaries.
The men, Jimmy Don Parker, 19, and Thomas C. Malone, 21, were given lie detector tests at Lubbock.
Officers said the tests cleared the men of any burglaries other than those at Spade and Olton.
Maples Grocery at Spade and Jones Drygoods at Olton were the firms which were burglarized.
Both had admitted the Olton and Spade break-ins earlier.
Investigation was continuing Monday on the burglary here last Thursday night of E. C. Rodgers Furniture, Police Chief F. A. Fitzgerald said.
There are indications that cavew-dwelling Indians lived in Utah as long ago as 1500 B.C.

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: After a long journey across the ice sea, Onnik has finally reached Santa Land. Much to his dismay, he finds Santa suffering from the Ice King's wrath as much as the Eskimos of his own village.

Chapter Six
A TALK WITH SANTA

ONNIK ran down to the barn. The door was blocked by snow. He knew someone was inside because he could hear voices and every now and then the tap of a reindeer's hoof.

Onnik went around to the side of the barn. There he found a ladder leading up to an enormous window high above. He had never seen a ladder before. He climbed it fearfully. When he was near the top he looked down and when he saw Keotuk way below he grew so dizzy he almost fell. Shutting his eyes, he went up the rest of the ladder and climbed in the window.

He found himself at the top of a vast pile of hay. At the bottom of the pile was Santa Claus. He knew it was Santa because he was fat and round and wore a red suit and had silvery whiskers. But he didn't look gay and merry the way Onnik had always pictured him. He looked sad and worried.

HE was talking to a crooked-legged dwarf with large flappy ears and the two of them were gazing unhappily at eight skinny reindeer.

"It's no use, Tweedleknies," Santa said. "I'm going to let them go. I can't keep them here to starve."

"If only they'd eat meat," grumbled the crooked-legged dwarf. "Of cookies. Or vegetables. Or something."

"They want moss," murmured Santa Claus. "They can't understand why summer has not come. I'll turn them loose. They can go somewhere where there's bound to be summer in August as it should be."

AT LAST Santa said, "Very Good, son. We will go."

"But what will you do when Christmas comes?" exclaimed Tweedleknies. "With no reindeer how will you make your rounds?"

"I don't know," Santa shook his head. "Perhaps there won't be Christmas any more. Who knows? Anyway, I'm turning them loose."

"We'll never get the door open," protested Tweedleknies. "It's blocked by snow."

"They can fly out the window," replied Santa. "That is if they still have the strength to fly."

"Come now," he said gently, patting the reindeer. "Fly away and find some summer feeding ground."

The reindeer looked around uncertainly and then, tapping their hooves three times on the floor, they flew gracefully upwards straight to the window where Onnik sat.

"Wait, wait!" cried Onnik rising to his feet. "Don't let them go! But it was too late. The reindeer brushed past him, one by one, into the sky."

Then Santa called out, "Who on earth are you?" Onnik slid to the bottom of the pile of hay. He landed with a plop at Santa's feet. "I'm Onnik the Eskimo boy," he said. "And I came to you because my people are being destroyed by the Ice King's anger."

"Ah," said Santa, "so are we everywhere. Only yesterday I had a letter from a child who said that though it was August she had not yet had a chance to use the bathing suit I brought her last Christmas. Another child wrote that he was still using the ice skates I brought to him. So you see, the whole world is cold."

"But you must stop the Ice King!" cried Onnik.

"I?" said Santa.

"Of course! You are the most powerful, the bravest, the wisest one on earth. You are the only one who can stop the Ice King."

Santa pulled his pipe from his pocket and slowly filled it. "Tell me," he said, "How shall I stop the Ice King?"

"Why," said Onnik simply, "by going to him and telling him to stop."

Now the crooked-legged Tweedleknies growled. "What nonsense! If Santa went to see the Ice King who knows what might happen to him!"

"I'll go, too," protested Onnik. "I-I could help!"

"You!" snorted Tweedleknies. "Hush, Tweedleknies," said Santa. Then he looked for a long time into Onnik's eyes. At last he said, "Very good, son. We will go."

Chapter Seven
BURNING THE TOYS

CROOKED-LEGGED Tweedleknies jumped up and down in a rage.

"You cannot leave Santa Land!" he cried to Santa Claus. "Who is going to invent toys and show the fairies how to make them? Who is going to get things ready for next Christmas?"

"Do be quiet, Patrick Tweedleknies," ordered Santa. "You know very well there may be no Christmas if the Ice King freezes up the whole world."

"But it's dangerous!" shouted Tweedleknies. He turned a and shook his tiny fist in Onnik's face.

"Oh, you! Why did you ever come here with your big fat ideas?" "Don't mind him," said Santa taking Onnik's arm. "He makes a big noise to cover up his kind

"BRING TOOLS," said the dwarf. "I have a sled to build."

heart. Come, let's be on our way." "How will you travel, may I ask?" persisted Tweedleknies. "The reindeer are gone."

Santa said, "Well, I'll think of something."

"Keotuk can take us!" spoke up Onnik. "Keotuk's my dog. He can take us anywhere. Except," he dropped his head. "Except I have lost my sled."

"Why, that's nothing!" exclaimed Santa. "I can make us a sled."

"Nothing of the sort," said Tweedleknies huffily. "I'll make the sled. I'm the chief sledmaker around here, please remember."

SANTA chuckled. "Very well. Have it ready in an hour's time. Now Onnik you go with Tweedleknies and I'll go see to Mrs. Claus."

Still grumbling, but anxious now to show what he could do, Tweedleknies crawled up the pile of hay with Onnik behind him. They started down the ladder with Tweedleknies leading the way.

Onnik found that going down the strange contraption was much harder than going up. When he had gone half way he made the mistake of looking at the ground. His head whirled, he missed his footing, and slipped down on Tweedleknies' head.

With a whoosh they came tumbling to the ground.

"I'm sorry!" cried Onnik, jumping to his feet.

Tweedleknies lay motionless in the snow. "Are you hurt?" cried Onnik in alarm. But Tweedleknies lay like one dead. Suddenly Keotuk bounded up. Eagerly he licked the dwarf's face. Instantly Tweedleknies leaped up.

"What is that thing?" he shouted in horror.

"It's Keotuk, my dog," said Onnik. "He's only trying to help you."

Tweedleknies drew in his breath. It seemed he was about to let out a torrent of abuse and Onnik's knees shook with fear. But Tweedleknies merely sighed.

"Come on," he said huffily. "But please don't walk close to me for goodness only knows what you might do next." And he marched glumly away with Onnik obediently trailing 10 feet behind. Presently they turned into the door of a long low building nearly covered by snow. Onnik gasped at what he saw.

AT one end of the room a group of silver-winged fairies huddled around a stove that held no fire. In the middle of the room there were long tables, row on row, and on the tables were such toys as Onnik had never seen or heard of.

There were kites and wagons and skates and baseball bats. There were fire engines and boxing gloves and doll houses and toy drums.

Onnik's eyes popped and he stood with his mouth wide open unable to move or speak. But Tweedleknies marched up to the fairies and said, "Bring me tools and wood. I have a sled to make."

The fairies, shivering and clattering their teeth, shook their heads. "There's no wood to build a fire to keep warm by. How can we find you wood for a sled?"

Tweedleknies snapped his fingers. "Use the toys for firewood," he said. "And I'll take these wagons apart to build a sled."

"What?" cried the Queen Fairy in consternation. "Destroy the toys we've already made?"

Santa himself is going to settle things with the Ice King," said Tweedleknies importantly. "When he comes back there'll be summer again for sure and when the ice melts we'll find wood enough for a mountain of toys."

Sunday: Onnik Builds an Igloo.

Car Inspection Reminder Given

Motor vehicle inspections should be obtained now to avoid the last-minute rushes, said Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor in this Region.

Johnson reminded all motorists that their motor vehicles must be inspected if the vehicle is registered in Texas, regardless of the age of the vehicle. The official inspection period is from Sept. 1, 1959, through April 15, 1960.

He further stated that all miniature automobiles and scooters being used by youngsters must be inspected and registered and the operator have a Texas drivers license if they are legally operated on public streets. Johnson said that since the start of the Inspection Program in 1952, the State's traffic deaths have been reduced by 10 per cent.

He said only four per cent of the fatal crashes in 1958 a motor vehicle with a defect that was a causative factor to the death crash.

Only six per cent of the non-fatal crashes involved vehicles with defects that were causative factors.

Polk, Shirley Edwards Get Awards At Whitharral Grid Fete

Shirley Edwards, daughter of Mr. E. Edwards, was a grand sweetheart, and her husband, S. J. Polk, Jr., was a grand hero at the banquet given here Monday evening.

Receiving honorable mention were Don Stafford, Charles Denney, and Ronny Grant.

Receiving the Best Blocker award (as set up by former Supt. W. M. Roberts in 1957) was Don Cheek.

Best Tackler award (set up by former Coach Willard Hedges in 1957), for the third consecutive time, was Donny Polk.

Managers Jimmy Brantley and Jimmy Johnson were also recognized.

Coach Alton Warren made a brief talk, followed by Clyde Prestwood, Dean of the South Plains Junior College, Levelland, who was introduced by Supt. Head.

Prestwood stressed "self-discipline," saying that football must be put aside sometimes, for "life is much harder than football and more and heavier responsibilities are to be assumed in life. In school we have coaches and teachers to direct us. Out in life, there aren't too many to fall back upon; so we need to study and prepare ourselves through self-discipline."

Milton Marrow gave the benediction.

Serving the menu of barbecued venison (donated by E. H. Mitchell) potato salad, beans, pickles, relish, rolls, pecan pie and tea, were Tina Phillips, Laverne Smart, Linda Kirby, Jackie Stafford, Gloria Polando, Marsha Burrus, Marilyn Gilley, and Marilyn Marrow. Mothers assisting were Mrs. E. John Waters, W. J. Crews, C. C. Overman, Edward Phillips and M. D. Durham.

Members of the football team are D. Polk, D. Cheek, R. Grant, D. Stafford, T. Sires, C. Denney, M. Marrow, Don Overman, Gary Northern, Cloyd Gilley, R. C. Cheek, Jerry Ligon, Jackie Dalrymple, Troy Harris, Barry Heard, Bob Ward, Roger Wade, Jerry Sires, Ken Polk, Leonard Bryant, Terry Gage, Gary Elliott, J. Brantley and J. Johnson.

man, Linda Bryant, Rita Avery, and Cynthia Dukatnik.

Others present were Messrs. Prestwood, Head, Mrs. Elva T. Crank, Messrs. and Mrs. Dickerson, Warren, O. L. Harris, Stillwell Russell, Wendell McInroe, Robert Avery, Jr., Adolph Dukatnik, and Allen Williams.

Olton Negro, 30, Hurt In Mishap At Springlake

SPRINGLAKE — A 30-year-old Olton Negro received treatment for head lacerations early Monday after the car he was driving overturned at Springlake at 4:15 a.m.

Carl Houston, the driver, received emergency treatment at Olton Hospital. Two passengers in the auto, Alice Carter, 36, and John Lee Porch, 32, both Olton Negroes, received minor injuries but did not require treatment.

Investigating officers said the auto, headed east on Highway 70, struck three barriers along a highway divider at Springlake, jumped a curb and overturned one time on a vacant lot. The car came to rest on its wheels. Distance from the first barrier to the point where the auto stopped was 725 feet, officers said.

Big Week Set At Cotton Bowl

DALLAS — A jam-packed Cotton Bowl Festival Week of entertainment, sports and spectacle will lead up to the 1960 Cotton Bowl Football Classic on New Year's Day. There'll be more activities than ever before in the history of the bowl game for the enjoyment of Dallas visitors.

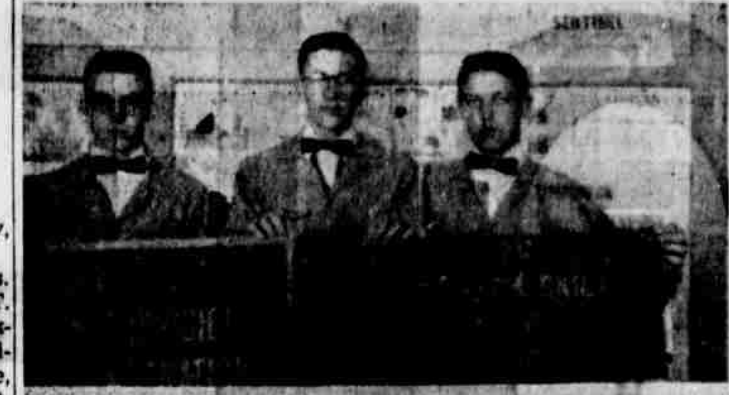

The varied calendar of events includes the first National Finals Rodeo, the musical comedy "My Fair Lady," a mammoth parade, college and high school basketball, tennis and bowling tournaments, the Texas Sports Hall of Fame ceremonies, a style show for the ladies and the Cotton Bowl Carnival.

The historic National Finals Rodeo, the first "world series" of rodeo, will be staged in the State Fair Livestock Coliseum Dec. 26-30, with ten "go-rounds" or performances at 2 and 8 p.m. daily. The rodeo is the first in history where the contestants are limited to the qualified top money-winners of the entire year.

"My Fair Lady," one of the best-loved musical comedies of all time, will have performances at 8:30 p.m. nightly Dec. 28-Jan. 2, with matinees at 2:30 p.m. Dec. 30 and Jan. 2.

The biggest and most colorful Cotton Bowl parade ever will get under way at 10:30 a.m. Dec. 31 in downtown Dallas, with more than 30 bands and marching units, the Cotton Bowl queen and princesses and many elaborate floats featuring the theme "Texas Brags."

The Korean alphabet has 24 letters.

C-C To Sponsor Christmas Home Decorations Contest

$50 Prize To Be Given Top Entry

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a home decorations contest for this year's Christmas observance. A total of $100 in cash prizes will be awarded to three winners of the contest. There will be a $50 first prize, $35 second prize and $15 third prize. Homes will be judged on originality and general appearance in consideration of lighting on both the home and landscaping. An out-of-town committee will judge the entries on Monday night, Dec. 21. All entries should be in the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce office by Friday, Dec. 18, at 5 p.m.

Persons entering the contest should call the Chamber of Commerce office at 172 or write in by the deadline date. Announcement of the contest was made Wednesday morning by Chamber of Commerce Manager Don Page, after a meeting of the C-C board of directors Tuesday night.

Page said the board felt that the spirit of Christmas centers around the home and that the contest should be continued as in the past.

The local first place winner will be eligible to compete in a $5,000 nationwide Christmas Decorating Contest that is held annually.

The local contest has a triple purpose: to provide pleasure for everyone participating, to help beautify the city at this season, and to foster a friendly community spirit.

Winner of the contest last year was Mrs. E. J. Bussanmus, 733 E. 13th. She painted a religious scene on the front window of her home shortly before the deadline for entries, and her last minute efforts paid off.

Joe Hilburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hilburn, finished second last year, and an entry by Dr. and Mrs. B. W. Armistead was third.

FORREST MARTIN—He gets a hang out of his gun-collecting hobby.

School Teacher Martin Is Gunsmith Hobbyist

If you are hunting for Forrest Martin during hours when he's not at school, the spot you're most likely to find him is his workshop at the rear of the Martin home, 1315 W. 5th, Littlefield.

That is where Martin pursues a hobby that keeps a lot of his time off from school occupied—collecting and repairing guns.

The hobbyist is principal of Littlefield Junior High School. Martin specializes in modern sporting weapons, and has no antique or hand-fired weapons in his collection. He has about a dozen and a half rifles, shotguns, and military firearms in his gun racks.

All of them are not his, however, since area hunters often bring him their guns for repairs. Also a lot of guns are brought to Martin for him to "sporterize" or change from a military gun to a sporting firearm.

He has a medium-size lathe in his shop to do the job, and tools necessary to whittle a sporting stock, and a bluing tank to finish the barrels.

Martin has been interested in the guns as a hobbyist for about 10 years. He started out working on guns on Mrs. Martin's kitchen table, but yielded to her fussing about the mess-up table and built the workshop.

His first try was a sport stock for a military gun, which he made from a 2 by 4 piece of lumber. He has made several stocks since then, and has parted with the first stock he built. He now has a stock which he custom-built for a rifle, elaborately finished with a check-piece. He comments that well-known gun stock makers will custom stock for about $250. He said he'd take $225 for the latest one he made (picture with story), in answer to a question. Martin does admit making a little money from his hobby from repairs and making sporter guns.

Houk, Gronewald Are FFA Students Of Month

Jimmy Houk and Terry Gronewald have been named Littlefield High School FFA Men of the Month for November.

The two were presented plaques at a regular LHS Future Farmer meeting Tuesday night. Wendell Tooley, representing the Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the plaques, made the presentation.

Houk is the senior boy of the month and Gronewald is the junior FFA winner.

Jimmy holds the chapter farmer degree and has been active in FFA work throughout his high school career. He is now feeding out nine hogs and has been a member of four chapter conducting teams, the FFA Quiz team, and crops team.

Terry, a freshman, is a greenhand in the FFA. He is feeding out nine pigs and has a registered Duroc sow. He was sentinel on the junior chapter conducting team.

As part of his swine project, Terry has provided a pasture with shade, self-feeder, self-waterer and shed for his hogs.

Area Schools' FFA Teams Going To State Meet

Springlake and Anton teams have earned spots in Future Farmer of America state competition as a result of victories in Area I FFA Leadership contests at Plainview last Saturday.

The two teams were among those from 49 Panhandle and Plains schools competing in the area contests. More than 300 FFA boys and their advisors were on hand.

Springlake's Chapter Farm Skills team won first, while Anton's Greenhand Farm Skills team captured top place in its contest. Both teams will participate in state contest at Huntsville Saturday.

The teams were presented banners in an afternoon ceremony concluding a day-long program. Members of the Springlake Chapter Farm Skills team are Ronnie Johnson, Jerry Jones and Shelby Bozeman. Their advisor is E. G. Gaston.

On the Anton Greenhand Farm Skills team are Mike Fowler, Vernon Birdwell and Alvin Swanson. David McVey is advisor.

Other results included: Springlake placed second in the Greenhand Farm Skills contest; Anton was second in Chapter Farm Skills; and Littlefield was third in Radio Broadcasting.

Hereford won first in Greenhand Chapter Conducting, Tulsa in FFA Quiz, Groes in Chapter Conducting, and Danwaco in Radio Broadcasting.

WRECK SCENE—This was the scene Saturday night after a teenager boy and girl had been killed in a car-train crash at Anton. The car had been slammed 75 feet down the tracks. Body of the girl was thrown on the tracks, in foreground. The boy's body was hurled out the car to the side. Both youngsters died instantly. Inset is the front of the freight engine, with damage shown on right side.

Last Rites Read For Boy, Girl Killed In Wreck

Two area teenagers, victims of a smashing car-train accident at Anton Saturday night, were buried Monday and Tuesday after funeral services at Anton and Littlefield.

The lives of Shirley Tucker, 15, Abernathy, and Douglas Eugene Taylor, 16, Spade, were snuffed out at 7:18 p.m. Saturday. They died instantly when their auto and a 73-car Santa Fe freight collided at the Farm Road 597 rail crossing just west of the Anton depot.

Funeral services for Miss Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker of Abernathy, were conducted Monday afternoon at the Anton First Baptist Church.

Last rites for young Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of two miles southeast of Spade, were read Tuesday morning at Littlefield Baptist Church.

Miss Tucker was a freshman at Abernathy High School, but she attended Anton schools until about a month ago. Taylor attended Spade High School. Many Anton and Spade students were in attendance at the funeral services.

The accident occurred as Taylor, driving his 1955-model auto, and Miss Tucker were leaving Anton, traveling southwest on FM 597 toward U.S. Highway 81.

The freight, traveling south-west toward Lubbock on a Clovis-Slaton route, approached the intersection at a speed of about 45 miles per hour, according to Conductor D. W. Polk of Slaton.

"The car seemed to travel at a steady speed as it approached the tracks. I don't believe the driver saw us, because he didn't speed up or slow down," said Polk.

The left front of the freight engine slammed into Miss Tucker's side of the auto, crumpling the car from the front door forward.

The impact sent the auto about 75 feet down the track and off to one side. The body of Miss Tucker was thrown about 25 feet further down the track. The boy's body was hurled to the side of the auto, about 25 feet off the track.

The crossing has no blinking light, but the view is not obstructed and normal crossing signs.

Car Insurance Points To Cost

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of stories describing the new Texas merit rating auto insurance plan, which takes effect Jan. 1.

Up to now, the old idea of "making points" has been thought of as attempts to gain favor.

Lots of people try to make points, or gain favor, in different ways. But starting with their next auto insurance policy, people will be more interested in how not to make points.

That's because the point system under the new auto insurance plan is aimed at the motorists' pocketbook.

The more points a fellow rings up, the more he's going to have to pay for his insurance. Briefly, here's how the new plan works:

A motorist who buys auto insurance after Jan. 1 must delve into memory (or Department of Public Safety records) and recall accidents and violations in which he has been involved in the three years ending 90 days before the date he applies for a policy.

The rate a motorist pays will be based on a sliding scale based on the number of points he has accumulated in the last three years.

Moving violation convictions will count one point and accidents, with certain exceptions, will count two points.

A driver with a spotless record has no points — and gets a 20 per cent reduction on his insurance. One point means the driver pays the base rate with no discount.

Two points will cost the driver 20 per cent more than the base rate, three points will make it 40 per cent more, four points jump it to 60 per cent, five points run it to 80 per cent, and six points will make the driver pay double. That's as high as you can go.

So a fellow with no points who

Board Elects Neumann To Head Chamber In '60

Arnold Neumann, co-owner of Caprock Fertilizer Co., was elected president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce for 1960 at a regular meeting of the C-C board Tuesday night.

Neumann succeeds Howard Horne, Southwestern Public Service District Manager in the post. Neumann will be installed at the C-C's annual banquet in January.

LHS Band Wins Honor

Littlefield's Wildcat Band gained a measure of revenge Saturday as it stepped to its ninth consecutive first division rating in the Region I University Interscholastic League marching contest at Levelland.

Director Beryl Harris' crew was tops in its class, with both Brownfield and Levelland bands receiving second division ratings. Another Lamb County school, Sudan, won first division in Class A.

The bands did not compete against each other but were rated against a standard with ratings of I through V being given.

The Wildcat band evened its score with Brownfield, which had captured first place in a Lubbock parade earlier this year. The LHS band finished second in that parade.

After having to play second fiddle to the Levelland band here the night the Lobo football team beat Littlefield, 30-15, the Wildcat band outrated the Lobo band Saturday.

Only bands given first division ratings Saturday were Plainview, Monterrey of Lubbock and Tom S. Lubbock in Class AAAA; Littlefield in Class AAA; Floydada and Abernathy in Class AA; Sudan, Hale Center, and Seagraves in Class A. Twenty-nine bands participated.

Ratings for other area schools included: Class B, Amherst, II; Class A, Springlake, I; Class AA, Olton, II.

About 2,250 students took part in the marching contest, which lasted five hours in cold, windy weather.

The marching contest is the first of three phases of competition in which bands must win first divisions in order to win sweepstakes honors.

The other phases are concert playing and sight reading. Both will be staged in Levelland April 29 and 30. Solo and ensemble contests also will be held in Levelland March 27.

LAYOUT OF PROPOSED NEW $250,000 FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Methodists Begin Bond Campaign

The First Methodist Church of Littlefield officially opened its bond campaign to build a new $250,000 church at a special dinner last night in the basement of the church.

The bond salesmen and their wives heard the Rev. Edwin Hall, pastor of the Methodist church at Muleshoe, speak at the "kick-off" dinner. He was introduced by the Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor of the Littlefield church. Master of ceremonies was Jack Wattenbarger, drive chairman.

Tentative plans call for beginning of the new church on Jan. 1, 1960. The church will be at 15th and Phelps Avenue.

Salesmen from the church will offer bonds which will pay the purchaser 6 per cent interest payable annually at the Security State Bank in Littlefield.

Security for the bonds is a first mortgage on the church property. The church treasurer will deposit each week with the bank as paying and receiving agent, the amount necessary to retire the bonds and meet the interest payments.

Bonds in the amount of $100, $250 and $1,000 or more will be offered for sale.

The church reserves the right to prepare these bonds after one year.

Wattenbarger emphasized the fact that the ability to pay off bonds is gauged by past financial records of the church. The total receipts of the church are far in excess of the amount necessary to meet the sinking fund each week, a fund out of which the payments are made on interest and for the retirement of the bonds as they mature.

Wattenbarger also said that the church bond is not a debenture bond, but a capital issue bond that carries a mortgage on the real property of the church and an assignment of a sufficient amount of the first funds received each week to meet the principal and interest payments of the bonds as they fall due.

The following salesmen not only will be selling bonds to members of the church, but also to the public at large:

Herb Holbig, Vernon Steed, Buster Owens, Jim Mangum, J. E. Chisholm, Tom Hilbun, Jack Barton, Bill Brune, Jerry Lumsden, Wendell Tooley, Ross Lumsden, Buck Oldham, I. T. Shotwell Jr., Kenneth Jackson, Huston Hoover, Clarence Davis, James Shotwell, Art Chesler, Roland Willis, George Ligon, John McAnnally, Lloyd Spencer, Ralph Schilling, Don Clark, James Pirkey, Ed Elliot, Rhea Bradley, Lloyd Lust, Skipper Smith, James Pirkey, Frank Ohnemus, Billy Williams, Harry Woody, Bryson Kisner, Marshall Howard, W. E. Vaught, Mrs. J. T. Elms, Moreland Payne, Comer Hall, Claude Oliver, J. B. Davis, M. C. Street, B. D. Garland Jr., and Ray Keeling.

Keen Teens Leave Saturday For Chicago

The Keen Teens, a talented group of Lamb and Hockley County boys, will be in a national spotlight at Chicago next week as they compete in the American contest.

The Keen Teens won eligibility to compete in the national contest by winning the talent contest at the Texas Farm Bureau convention.

The group will leave Saturday but they have not yet decided how they will go. The state organization is paying $250 toward the group's expenses, but this would not take care of all of the needs.

Mrs. Mickey Stephens, secretary of Lamb County Farm Bureau, says that several Anton businessmen have donated money to help the boys pay for their trip, and one Littlefield business has donated money for the same purpose.

Two of the boys are Larry Cox and Mickey Jolly of Littlefield. The others, from Anton, are Duran Bishop, Kirby Williams, Max Harrington and Morris Alexander.

profit. When you go in and buy a car the price is pretty well out-lined on the window, but when it comes to buying drugs, there's only a little number to go by. I've never been one to protest the high cost of medicines. Fact is, when I needed a prescription filled I was sick enough not to question the cost, because health isn't a matter of argument. Everyone in business is entitled to a fair profit. Whether or not the drug business is making undue profit off the public remains to be seen. I have always placed my confidence in my pharmacist, feeling that he is certainly necessary and mighty thankful he's there when I need him. I enjoyed meeting with our FFA boys this week. I didn't realize that they number almost 100! Best wishes to W. W. Hall and James Pirkey on the fine work they're doing with our Future Farmers.

See where Staggs is having a slumber party Friday night at his giant Marathon "36". Here's good proof that you don't have to go out of Littlefield to get bargains. Incidentally that slumber party is at the drug store, not at Staggs' home!

Looking at other advertisements in this issue we see that Sullins has on a fertilizer sale, Penney's and Sprouse - Reitz show more Christmas gift buys, plenty of grocery bargains in Renfro's, Pioneer, Figgly Wiggly, and Furr's advertisements, the Spudnut Shop has moved out on the Clovis highway next to the Farm Bureau, Ware's is featuring gifts for the man, the Littlefield Sporting Arena has another good wrestling card.

Roden Drug is another reason for trading in Littlefield, he comes out with some good Christmas buys this issue. On the farm front, don't miss the farm sale at the Jimmie Robison farm Saturday. This farm is located 3 miles south of Fieldton.

He went after the big five and came home with four of them—the elephant, lion, water buffalo and rhino. He didn't get to hunt leopard, running short of time. The elephant Bill shot was the largest killed by a visitor in Kenya in 1959. It took 14 shots, seven by Bill, to bring him down. The beast was shot at the foot of Mt. Kilimanjaro, a 19,000-foot peak which is the largest on the African continent. It took four natives two and one-half hours to chop the tusks off the elephant with a hand ax and hatchet. Bill is pictured with a native and the elephant in the photo at top left. His white hunter, Harold Prowse, is shown in the photo at top center. The two lions in the picture at top right were cattle killers shot 110 miles southwest of Nairobi.

Bill is pictured with a native chief. The male lion is at right, with the lioness at left. The picture at lower left shows another view of the lion. The water buffalo (lower center) was shot 200 miles south of Nairobi near the Tanganyika border. The horns measure 44 inches. The rhino was killed near the Ahti River 175 miles southeast of Nairobi. The horns measure 22 1/2 and 13 inches. Here's Bill's description of what it took to kill the elephant: "I fired just behind the elephant's right shoulder and fully expected to see him drop to the ground. But all he did was take three or four steps forward and then turn and look at me as if to say, 'Fellow you'll need something larger than that to get me.' He turned then and apparently was about to charge when I heard the roar of Harold's 450 no. 2. The bullet struck the animal in the shoulder and broke his collar bone. I quickly reloaded and fired again into the heart area just behind the shoulder. The animal stopped and I reloaded and fired twice more. Harold fired again and the native tracker with us fired. Finally the old bull went down to his knees and just as I a flash, his mate came to his aid and commenced to claw at the male in an attempt to get him hammered him again and again and he went down. We moved up on him slowly and got within 10 yards of him before he got up the third time. The native poured another one into him. I fired twice more and so did Harold and then all was quiet." Bill describes his lion hunt this way: "I quickly brought my .375 magnum to my shoulder and fired at the left shoulder of the big male. The bullet struck full in the shoulder. The old cat partially turned around with a 270 grain slug in his heart and fell dead. Quick as

"We had little difficulty in stalking the old bull because the rhino is practically blind and hears very little better. We stayed on his downwind side and in 10 minutes drew up to within 70 yards of him. At this point we were out of cover and could move no further without being detected. I stepped out from behind a small tree, lifted my rifle, and fired directly behind his right shoulder. The bullet smacked him solidly, but he did not go down. Another shot into his mid-section, a high shot into his lung area, and a last shot which broke his left shoulder and went into the heart sent him to the ground in a heap."
